DESAI'S

All India Century Digest

(CIVIL)

1811-1912.

VOL. I.

A

BY

B R. DESAI,

High Court Pleader,

Baroda.

(Author of Desai's Index of cases judicially noticed 1811—1909; Desai's All India Century Criminal Digest 1811-1910 in two volumes & Desai's All India Decennial Digest 1901-1910 cri. in one vol. & civil in 3 vols.) and publisher of Desai's Hand book of criminal cases being in a verbatim reprint of all Cri. cases reported in the I. L. R. four series for 1900—1906 in two volumes & for 1907—1911 in one volume).

Prices :—Rs 7 per vol. (cloth gilt).
Ans. 8 Extra per vol. for Eng. Leather-binding. } Postage Extra.

Printed at the "Vidya Vilas Printing Press" by M. V. Shah for the author Lehripura road—BARODA.

(All rights reserved)

1912.

भारती-२

क्रमिक
विभाग

DEDICATED.

With feelings of gratitude

To

The members the Legal Profession.

Whose warm appreciation and Substantial Patronage

Has emboldened me to undertake this publication.

PREF

The absence of a truly comprehensive and exhaustive Digest of Indian Case-law has been felt somewhat more keenly in the last decade than ever before. The circumstances that have created this want are but too well-known to all lawyers to require detailed notice. Years after the want was felt, I put to myself the question whether I should not undertake to supply the want, but the gigantic dimensions of the task staggered me notwithstanding that by that time I had acquired considerable experience in the line—I mean the publication of compiled works. It was only in 1908, that I was able to make up my mind--but having decided, I at once applied myself to the first and –in case of all works of reference—the most important part of my task, viz , the plan or the arrangement of the Digest. With an ambitious programme before my eyes, I looked upon the question of arrangement as one of prime importance and accordingly I devoted a good deal of time to the consideration of various plans of arrangement. But when the plan was finally settled, the work of compilation progressed satisfactorily enough, and I announced the Digest publicly. The ever appreciative public responded to my invitation to subscribe so cordially that it at once removed from my mind the last vestige of a doubt as to the success of my Digest and their continued patronage has since served to cheer my toils. I should have been able to put before the public the result of my labours in a tangible form long before this, had not my other Digests that were passing through the press at the time distracted my attention. As it is, I am today able to put before the public the first Volume of my Digest and it is now for them to Judge of it.

While I was passing through the period of indecision and uncertainty, I heard that the veteran law publisher of Trichinopoly, Mr. Sanjiva Row was also going to publish a similar Digest It is, indeed, unfortunate, that Mr. Sanjiva Row passed away from amongst us before his Digest saw the light of day. His energetic nephew is now carrying on the work, and the public have the advantage of having before them two sets of Digests to choose from.

Speaking of the other Digests it may be said that there is not one that can be truly called either comprehensive or exhaustive. Until recently a lawyer had to refer to not one, not two, but a dozen or more Digests of different Law Reports by different compilers before he could fairly acquaint himself with the authorities touching a particular law-point He must first go to " Woodman" for cases reported in the authorised Law Reports (for, of Private Reports, few have the honour of being recognised in it), then he must patiently take up one by one, the independent Digests of ten or eleven different private Law Reports and passing on with a sigh of regret for the absence of digests pertaining to other private Law Reports that have not yet published their digests, he must finally go to Digests of printed but unreported cases and rulings. Add to this the vexation caused by the different arrangements adopted by different compilers in their various digests and the reader will not stand in need of any apology on my part for ushering a new Digest in the field, which being comprehensive and exhaustive is not merely an addition to the number of already existing digests, but is an improvement in every possible way upon all the existing digests put together and much more besides.

It was originally intended to publish a mixed Digests of Civil and Criminal Cases; but an esteemed friend of mine, Mr. Ratanlal Ranchhoddas B. A. LL. B., Vakil High Court Bombay, and one of the able editors of the Bom. Law Reporter made a timely and valuable suggestion of separating the Civil and Criminal Cases and consolidating them in independent Civil and Criminal Digests. The suggestion was readily accepted for obvious reasons. My heartfelt thanks are due to Mr. Ratanlal for his valuable suggestion.

SOME SPECIAL FEATURES :--

(1) This is the only Digest which brings the Indian Case-law down to the end of 1912 in a consolidated form.

(2) This is not a mere Digest, for in it, every case that has been the subject of Judicial notice at all, has its whole history given under it, while previous cases on the point are also referred to in the head-note itself The reader is thus enabled to find, at a glance, the whole case-law on a given point collected at one place and has not to go into the several head-notes of all the cases thereon, which again are given in their proper places without any omission, notwithstanding that they are repeated in the historical notes of other cases. In other words this Digest is a consolidation of the Digest and the Index of cases judicially noticed-a feature, the value of which cannot be overrated.

(3) Arrangement of Cases-Cases are arranged in a connected form instead of throwing them together in a confused mass

All the cases belonging to a particular subject are divided into Principal Headings and sub-headings and the catch words of every single case or group of cases are noted down under the sub-heading to which it belongs with the number of that case.

In other words every subject is preceded, as it were, by a short digest of its own. This will enable the busy prectitioner to find out a required case at a moment's notice without going through the head-notes in extenso of hundreds of cases under a particular heading.

(4) Tables of contents—Very often the reader does not remember the section relating to a particular subject and has therefore to go to the Act to find it out and then only he can refer to the Digest. To avoid this inconvenience tables of contents of big Acts are given.

(5) Tables showing the corresponding sections–In order to avoid similar inconvenience as regards the corresponding sections of the new and old Civil Pro. Codes, and the Limitation Acts, comparative tables of such sections are also given.

(6) Names of parties—are given at the end of every case summarised in this Digest.

(7) As to cross-references–In almost all the other digests cross-references are made merely by vol and page of the report. This mode of giving cross-references is circuitous and therefore inconvenient to a busy practitioner.

A practical illustration will best give an idea of the inconvenience:—

Thus, a Cross-reference to a case under "Hindu Law-Alienation" is given in other digests in some such way as this—"Hindu Law-Alienation" see "Mortgage" "9 C. P. L. R. 35; 19 Bom. 363."

Now on goingito the heading of "Mortgage" the reader is confronted by a long series of cases, perhaps more than 800, out of which he has to hunt out the two cases referred to viz 9 C. P L. R. 35 and 19 Bom 363. If he, in the course of his attempt to do so forgets either the Vol or the page of either of the cases, he finds himself in the position of a mariner who has lost his compass. The difficulty increases in proportion to the number of cases referred to.

In order to avoid such a circuitous and troublesome mode of giving cross-references, I have numbered consecutively all the cases under a general heading and a cross-reference is made by referring simply to the number of the case under that heading. Thus in my Digest the above cross-reference will appear as under :—

"Hindu Law-Alienation" see "Mortgage" case No. (251) 19 Bom 363, and so on.

(8) The classification—adopted in this Digest is better suited to a busy practitioner than that adopted in other Digests. In the latter, the various cases that could be arranged under one convenient general heading are scattered at as many places as there are Imperial or Provincial Acts touching the subject.

(9) Overruled cases—As a general rule overruled cases and cases on repealed statutes are also included on the ground that by way of historical interest these are as useful as the living case-law.

I will consider myself highly obliged if members of the legal profession would inform me of any errors or omissions in this Digest.

I cannot conclude this preface without expressing my sense of obligation to the learned editors of the Bom. L. R: C. L. J; A. L. J. & M. L. T. for their kind permissions accorded to me to utilize their head-notes for my Digests and also to my brother pleaders Messrs C. J. Sutaria B. A. LL. B; G. H. Zimye B A LL B M.V. Desai B A LL B; P. V. Patel M A LL B for rendering me valuable assistance in various ways in the preparation of this Digest.

I owe a special acknowledgment to my printers for their services and I wish to put on record here my sense of satisfaction at the prompt, neat and careful work done by them. The credit belongs, of course, to the diligent and hard-working manager Mr. M V Shah of the Vidya Vilas Printing Press.

15th July, 1912.

BARODA.

B. R. DESAI.

भा

क्रां

वि

DESAI'S

ALL INDIA CENTURY DIGEST

(CIVIL)

1811—1912.

Table of Headings, Sub-headings and Cross references.

Abadi

Abandonment

Abandonment by managing Khot

Abandonment notice of

Abandonment of appeal

Abandonment of claim

Abandonment of easement

Abandonment of excess claim

Abandonment of holding

Abandonment of issue

Abandonment of partnership

Abandonment of point

Abandonment of proceedings

Abandonment of right

Abandonment of tenancy

Abandonment of tenure

Abandonment of user

Abandonment of wife

Abandonment of wordly affair

Abandonment, Relinquishment or surrender of tenure

Abated suit or appeal

Abatement of appeal

Abatement of rent

- (1) Grounds of rent
- (2) Effect of former suit for abatement
- (3) Claim to abatement
- (4) Who can sue
- (5) Form of suit
- (6) Rate of reduction
- (7) Procedure
- (8) Civil Court's decree effect of on revenue Court's decree

Abatement of Execution proceedings

Abatement of nuisance

Abatement of part of claim

Abatement of part of rent

Abatement order of

Abatement of suit.

- (1) Suit Land washed away
- (2) Death of sole plaintiff
- (3) Insolvency of plaintiff
- (4) Survival of cause of action

Abatement of appeal

- (1) Death of appellant
- (2) Death of Appellant—during pendency of appeal
- (3) Death of one of two joint decree-holders
- (4) Death of principal pending appeal.
- (5) Death of respondent

Abandonment of wrong

Abbreviation of time

Abdication

Abduction & seductions of daughter

Abkari Act

Abkari Laws

Abkari Renter

Abkari sale

Absconding debtor

Absconding offender

Absence

Absence from British India

Absence of defendant at an adjourned hearing

Absence of defendant from British India

Absence of entry of acceptance in drawer's book

Absence of foreclosure clause in a mortgage deed

Absence of intention to grant zamindari partible.

Absence of natural father at Datt—Homom

Absence of reasonable and probable cause

Absence or want of notice no ground for review by another judge

Absent co owner claiming property after seven years absence

Absentee Co sharers

Absentees

Absolute estate

Absolute grant

Absolute occupancy holding

Absolute occupancy Tenant

Absolute privilege

Abstract of title

Abuse

Abuse defamation and slander
Abuse of process of Court
Abuse suit for damages
Abusive language
Abutting or adjoining a public road
Abwab
Acceleration of Estate
Acceptance
Acceptance of an instalment over-due
Acceptance of Executorship
Acceptance of gift
Acceptance of goods by buyers
Acceptance of Patta not in accordance with Law
Acceptance of Vakalat
Acceptance or renunciation of executionership
Acceptance what amounts to
Accepting lower rent than that entitled to for long time
Acceptor
Accession
Accession to Land
Accident loss by Accidents
Accommodation acceptor
Accommodation drawer
Accord and satisfaction
Account
(1) General Cases
(a) Power of Court to order account instead of referring party to separate suit.
(b) Suit on account not signed
(c) Accounts taken in one suit adopted in another
(d) Mode of taking account
(e) Current mutual account
(f) Suit for balance on running account
(g) Court's order to furnish.
(h) Decree for contribution
(i) Caste inspection of books right of
(j) Form of an executor
(k) Judgment-debtors paying off decree against estates account
(l) Account kept in course of business
(m) Common Law right of the member to inspect books of the corporation
(n) Inventory and account
(2) Mis-cellaneous Cases
(a) Payments made by agent
(b) Partnership account
(c) Custom of trade
(d) Dishonest conversion by partner
(e) Hard and unconscionable bargain
(f) Executor's right to call for inventory and account
(g) Guardian's liability to render account
(h) Entry in Government Gazettee Account book
(i) Leave to bring suit for accounts
(j) Receiver's Accounts
(k) Commissioner to examine
Accountability
Account adjustment of Accountant
Account Books, entries in
Account made in course of usual dealing
Account mutual open and current
Accounts
Account sales
Account settled
Account settled but not signed
Account Stated
Account stated or adjusted (ruzu khata)
Account, suit for
(1) Liability to account
(2) Lumberdar
(3) Mahomedan widow in possession for dower
(4) Mother appointed administratrix of minor son.
(5) Right to an account-Person with title barred by lapse of time
(6) Landlord and tenant
(7) Principal and Agent
(8) Refusal to account
(9) Right to re-open settled account
(10) Running account for portion of which hundis are given
(11) Necessity to go into accounts in suits for profits
(12) General cases.
Accretion
(1) New formation of alluvial land
(2) Rivers or change in course of rivers
(3) Churs or islands in navigable rivers
(4) Reformation after diluviation
(5) Procedure
(6) Right of purchasers to accretions
Accrual of cause of action
Accrual of right
Accrual of right to sue
Accrual of right to sue on death of widow
Accumulations
(1) Income
(2) Right of Hindu widow

Accumulations, period upto which they may be dealt with Acknowledgment
Acknowledgment of debt
Acknowledgment of title
Acknowledgment differsfrom agreement
Acknowledgment effect of, on illegitimate children
Acknowledgment of adoption
Acknowledgment of debt after period of limitation has expired
Acknowledgment of liability
Acknowledgment of mortgage
Acknowledgment of mortgagor's title by one of several mortgagees as agent for the others
Acknowledgment of other rights
Acknowledgment of son
Acknowledgment of tenancy by receipt of rent
Acquiescence
(1) Laches
(2) Delay
(3) Delay in bringing suit
(4) Delay in enforcing rights with knowledge
(5) Delay in making objection
(6) Delay in opposing erection of building
(7) Erection of building without objection
(8) Cutivating land without objection
(9) Cutivation and changing character of land
(10) Acquiescence in title by conduct
(11) Conduct defeating title
(12) Presumption from allowing grant of certificate unopposed
(13) Not objecting to sale
(14) Pre-emption
(15) Account made in course of usual dealing
(16) Sending agent to settle rent
(17) Receipt of rent in lieu of grant in land
(18) Accepting lower rent than that entitled to for long time
(19) Long possession by tenant without lease
(20) Allowing part owner to work forfeiture of tenure as if full owner
Acquiescence in lease granted by executor
Acquiescence of landlord, effect of
Acquiescence of owner
Acquired property
Acquisition
Acquisition by Government of land subject to a mortgage
Acquisition of Easement
Acquisition of gain
Act VII of 1835
Act V of 1836
Act IX of 1837
Act XXVII of 1837
Act XI of 1838
Act XVI of 1838
Act XXIII of 1838
Act XXV of 1838
Act XXV of 1838 (Wills)
Act II of 1839
Act XIV of 1839
Act XX of 1839
Act XXIV of 1839
Act XXXII of 1839
Act IV of 1840
Act XIV of 1840
Act XV of 1840
Act XVII of 1840
Act XXIII of 1840
Act I of 1841
Act X of 1841 (Registration of ships)
Act XI of 1841 (Military Courts of request)
Act XIX of 1841 (Succession property protection)
— XX of 1841 (Collection of debts on succession)
— XXI of 1841 (Local nuisances)
— XXIX of 1841 (Dismissal of suits and appeals Bengal and Madras)
— IV of 1842
— XII of 1842
— XVI of 1842
— III of 1843
— V of 1843
— XI of 1843
— XIV of 1843
— XIX of 1843 (Registration of certain deed)
— Act V of 1844 (Private Lotteries)
— Act XIX of 1844
— XX of 1844
— I of 1845 (Sales of land for revenue arrears)
— XVI of 1845 (Re-admission of appeals, Bengal and Madras)
— XXIX of 1845 (Joint-zilla and sessions Judges)
— I of 1846 (Legal practitioners)
— IX of 1846
— I of 1847 (Boundaries)
— VII of 1847
— IX of 1847
— XIII of 1848
— XV of 1848
— XVIII of 1848
— XXI of 1848 (Wages)
— VI of 1849 (Pensions)
— VIII of 1850
— IX of 1850

— X of 1850
— XVIII of 1850 (Judicial Officer's protection)
Act XXI of 1850 (Caste disabilities removal).
Act XXVI of 1850 (Improvements in towns).
Act XXIV of 1850
Act XLII of 1850
Act VIII of 1851
Act XII of 1851
Act V of 1852 (Marriage by registrars).
Act XI of 1852
— XXV of 1852
— XV of 1853
— XVI of 1853
— XIX of 1853 (Rescusant Witness)
— VI of 1854 (Supreme Courts)
— VII of 1854
— IX of 1854 (Civil appeals)
— XVII of 1854
— XVIII of 1854 (Railways)
— II of 1855 (Evidence)
— VI of 1855 (Execution, Supreme Courts)
— VII of 1855
— VIII of 1855 (Administrator-General)
— XI of 1855 (mesne profits and improvements)
— XII of 1855 (Legal representative suits)
— XIII of 1855 (Fatal accidents)
— XVIII of 1855 (Pardens & reprieves)
— XXII of 1855 (Ports and ports dues)
— XXVIII of 1855 (Usury Laws repeal)
— XXXVI of 1855
— XXXVII of 1855
— VI of 1856
— VII of 1856
— IX of 1856
— XII of 1856 s. 3
— XV of 1856 (Hindu widow's remarriage)
— II of 1857
— VI of 1857 (Acquisition of Land for public purposes)
— XI of 1857
— XIX of 1857
— XXV of 1857 (Forefeiture)
— III of 1858 (State prisoner)
— X of 1858 (Confiscation)
— XI of 1858 (Corporal punishment)
— XXI of 1858 (Native passenger ships)
— XXX of 1858
— XXXI of 1858
— XXXIV of 1858
— XXXV of 1858
— XXXVI of 1858 (Lunatic Asylum)
— XL of 1858 (Minors)
— I of 1859 (Merchantshipping)
— III of 1859 (Cantonment Joint Magistrates)
— VIII of 1859 (C P C)
— IX of 1859 (Forfeiture)
— X of 1859
— XI of 1859
— XIII of 1859 (Workman's breach of contract)
Act XIV of 1859
Act XV of 1859 (Patents)
Act VII of 1860
Act VIII of 1860 (Electric Telegraphs)
Act X of 1860 (Custom duties)
Act XXI of 1860 (Societies Registration)
Act XXII of 1860
Act XXVII of 1860
— XXVIII of 1860 (Boundary marks)
— XXXII of 1860 (Income-Tax)
— XXXVI of 1860 (Stamps)
— XLII of 1860
— XLIII of 1860 (Amending Act VIII of 1859)
— XLVIII of 1860 (Police presidency Town amending Act)
— LIII of 1860
Act V of 1861 (Police)
Act IX of 1861 (Minor)
Act X of 1861 (Repealing Enact-ments relating to Civil Procedure)
Act XI of 1861 (Amending Act XIV of 1859)
Act XVI of 1861
Act XXI of 1861 (Income Tax)
Act XXIII of 1861 (Code of Civil Procedure)
Act XXIX of 1861
Act XXXI of 1861
Act IV of 1862
Act VI of 1862 (Annexing schedule to Act IV of 1862)
Act VIII of 1862
Act X of 1862
Act XV of 1862
Act XX of 1862 (Presidency High Courts)
Act II of 1863 (Appeals to queen in Council)
Act IX of 1863 (Amending Act X of 1859 in the Province of Agra)
Act XIV of 1863
Act XVIII of 1863
Act XIX of 1863 (Partition of Revenue Paying Estates)
Act XX of 1863 (Religious End wments)
Act XXI of 1863
Act XXIII of 1863 (Waste-lands claims)
Act II of 1864
Act III of 1864 (Foreingers)
Act XI of 1864 (Native law offi rs)
Act XIII of 1864 (Emigration f native labourers)

Act XVI of 1864 (Registration assurances)
Act XVII of 1864 (Official Trustees)
Act XX of 1864
Act XXII of 1864
Act XXVI of 1864 (small cause Courts presidency-towns)
Act III of 1865 (Carriers)
Act V of 1865
Act VII of 1865 (Government Forests)
Act VIII of 1865 (Validating Imprisonment of certain persons)
Act X of 1865
Act XI of 1865
Act XV of 1865 (Parsi marriage and divorce)
Act XIX of 1865
Act XX of 1865 (Pleaders and Mukhtears and Revenue Agent)
Act XXI of 1865 (Parsi intestate succession)
Act XXVII of 1865
Act XXVIII of 1865
Act IV of 1866
Act V of 1866 (Policies of Insurance Marine and fire assignment)
Act X of 1866 (Companies)
Act XII of 1866 (Private Water-courses)
Act XIII of 1866
Act XIV of 1866 (Post office)
Act XX of 1866
Act XXI of 1866 (Native converts' marriage dissolution
Act XXV of 1866 (Unclaimed deposit)
Act XXVI of 1866
Act XXVII of 1866 (Trustees)
Act XXVIII of 1866
Act III of 1867
Act X of 1867 (References by mufussil small cause courts)
Act XII of 1867 (Presidency jails)
Act XV of 1867
Act XVIII of 1867
Act XXIV of 1867 (Administrator general)
Act XXV of 1867 (Press and Registration of Books)
Act XXVI of 1867 (stamp-duties)
Act XXVII of 1867 (Duty Commissioner)
Act XXIX of 1867
Act I of 1868
Act VI of 1868 (N W P Municipal Improvement Act)
Act VII of 1868
Act VIII of 1868
Act IX of 1868
Act XIII of 1868
Act XIV of 1868
Act XVI of 1868
Act XIX of 1868
Act XXVIII of 1868
Act I of 1869
Act IV of 1869
Act V of 1869
Act IX of 1869
Act XIV of 1869.
Act XVI of 1869
Act XVIII of 1869
Act XXII of 1869 (Garo Hills)
Act VII of 1870
Act X of 1870 (Land Acquisition)
Act XIV of 1870
Act XXI of 1870 (Hindu Wills)
Act XXIII of 1870 (Colnage)
Act I of 1871 (Cattle Trespass)
Act VI of 1871
Act VIII of 1871
Act IX of 1871
Act XV of 1871
Act XXIII of 1871 (Pensions)
Act XXV of 1871
Act XXXII of 1871
Act XXXIII of 1871
Act I of 1872
Act III of 1872 (special marriage)
Act IV of 1872 (Punjab Laws Act)
Act V of 1872
Act VI of 1872
Act VII of 1872
Act IX of 1872
Act XV of 1872 (Christian Marriage)
Act XXII of 1872
Act III of 1873
Act IV of 1873
Act VIII of 1873
—IX of 1872
—X of 1873
—XV of 1873
—XVII of 1873
—XVIII of 1873
—XIX of 1873
Act I of 1874
—II of 1874
—III of 1874
—VI of 1874
—XIV of 1874
Act XV of 1874
Act I of 1875 (Distress)
Act IV of 1875 (merchant shipping)
Act IX of 1875 (majority)
Act X of 1875 (Advocate General's powers)

Act XII of 1875
Act XIII of 1875
Act XIV of 1875
Act XVII of 1875
Act XVIII of 1875 (Indian Law Reports)
Act XX of 1875
Act VI of 1876
Act VIII of 1876 (Native passanger ships)
Act X of 1876
Act XI of 1876 (Presidency Banks)
Act XII of 1876 (Repealing Act)
Act XVII of 1876
Act XVIII of 1876
Act I of 1877
Act II of 1877
Act IV of 1877
Act X of 1877
Act XV of 1877
—XVII of 1877 (Salt)
Act I of 1878 (Opium)
—VI of 1878 (Treasure trove)
—VII of 1878 (Forest)
—VIII of 1878 (Sea custom)
—XI of 1878 (Arms)
—XII of 1878
—XVII of 1878 (Northern India Ferries)
Act I of 1879 (General stamp)
Act IV of 1879 (Railways)
—VIII of 1879
—XII of 1879 (Registration & Limitation Act, Amendment Act)
—XIII of 1879
—XIV of 1879 (Hackney carriage)
—XVII of 1879
—XVIII of 1879 (Legal practitioner's Act
Act III of 1880 (Cantonment)
Act IV of 1880
Act VII of 1880 (Merchant shipping)
Act XV of 1880
Act V of 1881
Act XII of 1881
Act XV of 1881 (Factories)
Act XVIII of 1881
Act XXI of 1881
Act XXII of 1881 (Exercise)
Act XXIII of 1881
Act XXVI of 1881
Act II of 1882
Act IV of 1882
Act V of 1882
Act VI of 1882 (Companies)
Act XII of 1882 (salt)
Act XIV of 1882
Act XV of 1882
Act XX of 1882 (paper currency)
Act XXII of 1882
Act V of 1883 (Merchant Shipping)
Act IX of 1883
Act XV of 1883
Act XIX of 1883 (Land Improvement Loans)
Act II of 1884
—V of 1884
—XII of 1884 (Agriculturists' Loans)
—XIII of 1884
—XVIII of 1884
Act III of 1885
—VIII of 1885
—II of 1886 (Income Tax)
—IX of 1886
—X of 1886 (Criminal Law)
—XIV of 1886
—XVII of 1886
Act I of 1887
Act VII of 1887
—IX of 1887
—XII of 1887 (Bengal Agra & Assam Civil —Courts)
—XVI of 1887
—XVII of 1887
—V of 1888 (Inventions and designs)
—VI of 1888
—VII of 1888 (C P C. Amendment)
—X of 1888 (Presidency small cause courts Law)
—XII of 1888
—XIII of 1888
Act IV of 1889 (merchandise marks)
—VI of 1889
—VII of 1889
—X of 1889 (Ports)
—XI of 1889
—XIII of 1889 (Cantonments)
—XIV of 1889
Act I of 1890 (Revenue Recovery)
Act VIII of 1890
Act IX of 1890 (Railways)
Act XI of 1890 (Prevention of cruelty to animals)
Act XX of 1890
Act III of 1891
Act VIII of 1891
Act XII of 1891 (Amending Act)
Act XIII of 1891
Act XIV of 1891
Act XVIII of 1891 (Banker's Books evidence)
Act XX of 1891
Act IV of 1892(Limitation Act and C P C Amendment)

Act VI of 1892
Act IV of 1893 (Partition)
Act I of 1894 (Land acquisition)
Act V of 1894 (C P C Amendment)
Act VIII of 1894 (Tariff)
Act I of 1895
Act VI of 1895
Act XII of 1895 (Companies memorandum of association)
Act XV of 1895 (Crown grants)
Act I of 1896
Act XI of 1896 (Amending Legal practitioners Act)
Act XII of 1896
Act III of 1897 (Epidemic Diseases)
Act IX of 1897 (Provident Funds)
Act X of 1897 (General Clauses)
Act VI of 1898 (Post-office)
Act X of 1898
Act II of 1899
Act VI of 1899
Act IX of 1899
Act XI of 1899 (Court-fees Amendment)
Act XXII of 1899 (Coinage and paper currency)
Act II of 1902 (Contonment House accommodation)
Act IV of 1903
Act III of 1905 (Paper Currency)
Act III of 1907
Act V of 1908
Act IX of 1908
Act XVI of 1908
Act III of 1909
Act, construction of
Act done by husband in pursuance of common business, binding on wife
Act done in official capacity
Act done in the exercise of severeign powers
Act of Bankruptcy
Act of foreign power
Act of God
Act of Insolvency
Act of Parliament
Act of state
Act Repeal of Actionable claim
Actionable wrong
Action cause of
Action for damages
Action for deceit
Action for recission of a contract
Action for slander
Action form of
Action framed in Tort
Action in Rem
Action of public servant ultra vires not binding on government
Action of salvage
Action on contract
Actio personalis moriter cumpersona
Active prosecution of a contentious suit
Actor sequitur forum rei
Acts
Acts amounting to waiver of covenant
Acts and grant of certificate
Acts done by the defendant in his official capacity
Acts done in exercise of sovereign powers
Acts in force in the Punjab
Acts of a judicial officer protected though done erroneously, illegally
Acts of bad faith committed by applicant for declaration of insolvency antecedently to his application
Acts of mother and guardian how for binding on minor son
Acts of ownership
Acts of user necessary to establish adverse possession
Acts, Retrospective effect of
Actual pecuniary damage suit for Actual possession
Adat-kacchi
Adat pakki
Adding a defendant in a suit where have to sue under cl. 12 of the letters patent 1865 was necessary
Adding of parties
Adding parties as plaintiffs
Adding parties to suit
Additional court-fees on claim for mesne profits.
Additional District Judge.
Additional Evidence.
Additional Evidence in appeal.
Additional rent.
Additional rent for excess land.
Additional Subordinate Judge.
Additional written statement.
Addition of a defendant residing out of jurisdiction in a suit brought against other defendant under clause 12 of Letters patent 1865
Addition of a party in second appeal
Addition of a respondent by the appellate Court
Addition of a witness's signature subsequent in execution of bond is a material alteration
Addition of fixtures

Addition of parties
Address
Address sufficiency of Ademption of Legacy
Aden
Aden Civil & Criminal justice Act
Aden Court Resident at
Aden Courts Act
Adequancy of consideration
Adhiras
Adhlapi Tenure
Adhyapakam office
Adimayavana Tenure
Ad-interim injunction
Adinterim Protection
Adjective Law
Adjournment
Adjournment of attendance of witnesses
Adjournment of sale
Adjudication
Adjudication by collector as to stamp duty chargeable
Adjudication of claim
Adjudication of Insolvency
Adjudications
Adjustment not certified
Adjustment of account suit or decree
Adjustment of decree
Adjustment of decree barred by limitation
Adjustment of decree by stranger
Adjustment of decree invalid
Adjustment of decree out of Court
Adjustment of partition decree after attachment
Adjustment of suit
Adjustment of decree suit upon
Adjustment of decree without certificate of Court
Adjustment of decrees more than three years old
Adjustment of satisfaction of decree
Administration
Administration bond
Administration Certificates Act
Administration de bonisnon
Administration decree
Administration of part of claim
Administration of the estate of a Shiah Mahomedan under his will Administration pendente life
Administration Letters of Administration Reports
Administration suit
Administration with will annexed
Administrator
Administrator, decree against
Administrator General
Administrator General's Act
Administrator Pendente life
Administratrix Washing estate
Admiralty
Admiralty and vice jurisdiction
Admiralty cases
Admiralty jurisdiction
Admiralty or Vice—Admiralty jurisdiction
Admissibility of evidence
Admissibility in evidence of finding in former case not between same parties
Admissibility in evidence of judgment in former case
Admissibility of documents in evidence in former case.
Admissibility of documents in evidence compulsorily registerable
Admissibility of evidence
Admissibility of evidence of consideration of unstamped document
Admissibility of oral evidence
Admissibility of oral evidence to contradict the nature of a contract in writing
Admissibility of petition and written statement filed in a previous proceeding
Admissibility of unregistered sale-deed in evidence
Admission
(1) Admission in statements and pleadings.
(2) Admission by or against third person
(3) Miscellaneous Cases
Admission by Agent
Admission by a party
Admission by auction purchaser
Admission by co-defendant
Admission by defendant
Admission by executors
Admission by heirs
Admission by husband
Admission by lumberdar
Admission by mortgagor
Admission by not traversing allegations
Admission by one defendant relavent against other defendant
Admission by or against third persons
Admission by pleader on behalf of client
Admission by raiyat
Admission by several joint tenants
Admission by Zamindar of mokurari right
Admission effect of against person not party to suit
Admissibility of documents in evidence in former case
Admission in a mortgage as to amount of land excepted from its operation

Admission in pleading
Admission in former suit
Admission in statements and pleading
Admission in verified petition
Admission in written statement of defendant
Admission made arguando
Admission made by one co-sharer
Admission made in former arbitration proceeding
Admission not acted on
Admission not amounting to estoppel
Admission of appeal after time
Admission of document in evidence: subsequent rejection too late.
Admission of Jenmi's title
Admission of lessor
Admission of liability contained in a memorandum of appeal in different suit
Admission of part of claim
Admission of plaint
Admission of pleader recorded in judgment
Admission of rate of rent
Admission of receipt of purchase-money
Admission of tenancy
Admission of tenancy, effect of
Admission of title in pleading
Admission of unstamped in evidence on payment of stamp duty & penalty
Admission of Vakil
Admission on appeal of evidence rejected by lower Court
Admission of point of law
Admission or rejection of evidence
Admission or summary rejection of appeal
Admission general
Adna & Ala Malik
Adna Malik
Adopted son's right to impeach alienation unnecessarily made by his adoptive mother before his adoption
Adoption
Adoption a condition precedent to the boy taking under the will Adoption among Brahmans
Adoption by daughter-in-law
Adoption by deceased's widow
Adoption by elder brother's widow after younger brother's death.
Adoption by grand-mother without the consent of her daughter-in-law
Adoption by karnavan for a marumakk tayam
Adoption by last member of a Nambudri illom
Adoption by mother after the death of her son, who has left neither child nor widow
Adoption by mother who has succeeded as heir to her son after the death of his widow
Adoption by Naikin or dancing girl
Adoption by son's senior widow without consent of junior widow
Adoption by temple dancing woman
Adoption by unmarried man
Adoption by untonsured widow
Adoption by widow
Adoption by widow whose husband died while a minor
Adoption by widow relating back to her husband's death
Adoption by widow with express authority from her husband to adopt
Adoption by younger widow without consent of elder widow invalid although child selected by both widows
Adoption by zamindar in conjunction with one of his two wives
Adoption, Caste Custom prohibiting
Adoption directed by will
Adoption directed to be made not by the testator's widow but by son's widow
Adoption divesting an estate which had already vested in another person
Adoption during pollution of adoptive purent
Adoption during pregnancy of wife
Adoption from corrupt & improper motives
Adoption in a united family
Adoption in dwya mushyayana form
Adoption in Gujrat
Adoption, injunction to restrain
Adoption made by a widow to defeat the claim of her co-widow to a share in her husband's estate
Adoption made the day after the adoptive father made his will Adoption made on understanding that the Dispositions of the will be observed
Adoption, necessity of, there being gift and acceptances of the adopted child
Adoption of a girl by temple dancing woman
Adoption of an adault
Adoption of an only son
Adoption of daughter
Adoption of Devadasi for illegal purpose
Adoption of more than one daughter at a time
Adoption of sister's son
Adoptions
Adoptive mother under pollution
Adoptive parents
Adoptive son bound by the will of testrator
Adultery

C. C. III

Advalorem fee
Advancement
Advancement out of minor legatee's share for his benefit
Advances by factor on consignment
Advances by mortgagees to original mortgagor on same security
Adverse possession
Adverse possession against mortgagee when effectual also as against the mortgagor
Adverse possession against widow
Adverse possession against widow for more than 12 years bars the right of a subsequent adopted son
Advese possession by sub-mortgagee
Adverse possession for 12 years by taking fruit
Adverse possession of defendant supplemented by previous adverse possession of widow by whom defendant was adopted
Adverse possession of one member
Adverse title
Advertisements
Advocacy
Advocate
Advocate—General
Advocate—General barred by decree in prior suit brought by trustees of charity
Advocate—General's Powers Act
Affidavit
Affidavit of documents
Affidavit of documents where there are several plaintiffs some of whom are in England
Affiliation
Affiliation of son
Affirmative Commands & negative prohibitions, distinction between
After acquired property of insolvent
Agakhan
Agarwal Banias of Ludhina City
Age
Age of assured
Age of cerimonial Competence
Age of majority
Age of minority
Agency
Agency to sell, coupled with interest
Agency tract
Agent
Agent & sub Agent
Agent authority of to make payment
Agent duly authorised
Agent holding a power of attorney authorising him to act & appear for a party to a suit
Agent of a company not resident in India
Agents, pleader's Mukhtars and Revenue Act
Agent's right to execute decree obtained as agent
Agent of minor
Agent duly authorised
Agents
Agra Bengal and Assam Civil Courts Act
Agra Land Revenue Act
Agra Local Rates Act
Agra Rent Act
Agraharam
Agra Tenancy Act
Agreement
—acknowledging a debt
—adjusting suit
—admitted in pleading
—against public policy
—altering decree
—and conveyance
—as to payment of decretal money
—at Delhi to pay money in Bombay
—at marriage not to remove wife from parent's house
—at time of adoption affecting son's rights
—before decree by the decree-holder not to recover costs which the decree might award
—between adoptive mother and natural father
—between government & solicitor
—between husband and wife
—between landlord and tenant
—between pleader and client
—between pleader and person retaining him
—breach of by insolvent
—breach of, to pay a certain sum
—by a guardian to give a word in marriage on payment of a sum of money
—by correspondence
—by mortgagor to sell mortgaged premises to mortgagee
—by occupancy tenant to relinquish his holding
—by plaintiff and defendant not to bid against each other at an auction
—collteral to lease
—coming to an end with the extinction of the equality of redemption
—Contary to terms of lease
—entered into with one party to a suit by an attorney
—executed both in England and India
—exempting from liability in case of loss of carrying ship
—extending time of payment without sanction of Court
—for an undivided share in bhag
—for differences

—for division of family property in equal shares
—for not enforcing payment of instalments
—for, or to give time for satisfaction of judgment debt
—for payment by Deputy to the watandar out of the cash allowance for procuring the Deputy's nomination
—for payment by instalments
—for satisfaction of judgment debt
—for the management of a public charity, illegal
—Illegal
—in regard to the equity of redemption
—in respect of family property
—in respect of free vatan election —in satisfaction of judgment debt
—no bar to partition
—not certified to Court
—not sanctioned by Court
—not to alienate ancestral property
—not to appeal
—not to execute a decree
—not to execute decree regarded as satisfaction of decree
—not to partition
—not to partition and restraint on partition
—not to work for a rival tradesman
—of parties
—of parties to suit to refer matters in dispute to decision of Court
—of relinquishment, validity of
—of service-vatan Inam land by holder of it
—of share by a co parcener
—opposed to public policy
—or memorandum of agreement relating to the —sale of shares
—restricting right of occupancy
—running with land
—sanctioned by Court executing decree
— secret
—to become a member of association
—to carry out decree
—to compensate for services rendered during defendant's minority
—to divide, effect of
—to extend time for enforcing decree by execution
—to forego legal proceedings
—to give time to judgment. debtor
—to give time to the judgment debtor for payment of decreed money
—to lease
—to lend money on mortgage
—to liquidate decree by instalments appeal by judgment—debtor subsequent to
—to pay additional rent for excess land
—to pay interest
—to prevent acquisition of easement not document creating a right in immoveable property
—to procure marriage in consideration of money payment
—to procure re admission into caste
—to re-convey on re-payment of purchase money
—to refer
—to refer mother in dispute to arbitration
—to refer to arbitration
—to relinquish exproprietary right
—to remain united
—to renew a kanom and to credit as renewal fees a sum of money then due by plaintiff to defendant
—to rent pasture ground
—to sell
—to sell land
—to share property after litigation if successful
—to share property the subject of suit
—to supply money for another person's suit
—unregistered
—void if not sanctioned by the court
—voluntary or by Act of law
—with respect to the property of the deceased husband by his heirs pendente life
Agricultural holding Agricultural Land
Agricultural lease
Agricultural purposes
Agricultural Tenancy
Agricultural Tenant
Agricultural year
Agriculturist
Agriculturist also owner of Inam villages & persioner
Agriculturist, an Inamdar can be an
Agriculturist Bhagdar
Agriculturists Relief Act Dekhan
Agriculturists loanas Act (XII of 1884
Ahban Thakurs
Ahirs
Ahmedabad Talukdars Act 1862
Air
Air and light
Ajmere Court Regulation
Ajmere land Revenue Regulation
Akyab
Ala & Adna Maliks
Ala lambardar
Ala malik
Alien

Aliens
Alienability
Alienable interest
Alienation
Alienation of istamrari estate
Alienation by manager of religious institution
—by guardian
—by defacto manager of an endowment
—by a mortgagee
—by mulgenidar
—by widow
Alienation during attachment
—Limitation Ancestral land act
—of charitable trust
—of Endowed property
—of Lands Act Bundelkhand
—of Land Act Punjab
—Restraint upon
Alienee from widow bound to inquire if legal necessity to alienation
—of trustees not necessary parties
Alimony
Aliasantan a Law
Allegans contraria nanauditur
Allegation of fraud
Allocature
Allonge
Allotment
—on partion
Allowable deduction
Allowance to Bankrupt
—for maintenance of infant
—for maintenance of Lunatic
Allowance for spoiled stamps
Allowances Act. Toda Giras
Allowing objection not taken
Alluvial & diluvial lands
Alluvion
Almanac
Altama grant
Altamah Enam
Alteration
—of character of suit
—by party
—by the Court
—of acknowledgment
—of date
—of deed
—of document
Alteration of easement
—or amendment of decree
Alterations and erasures in a will
Altering decree on appeal where respondent makes on objection
Alternative claim
—claim on original consideration
Alternative pleadings
—pleas
—prayer
Alternative relief in ejectment suit
Alya Santan Law See Alia Santan Law
Amalnamah
Amaram Grant
Amaram tenure
Ambassador
Ambiguity
Ambiguous Documents
Ameen
Amendment
Amendment of decree
—of decree after execution
—Error in probate
—of issue
Amendment of Mukhtear-Namah
—of Patta
—of plaint by begining on a new plaintiff on second appeal
—or alteration of decree.
—of pleadings
Amin
Amins effecting partitions, remuneration of Analogous cases
Anomalous mortgage
Anandravan
Ancestor
Ancestral business
Ancestral estate, sons interest in
Ancestral estate held jointly by family under the mitakshara Law
Ancestral property
Ancestral property, assigned to wife in lieu of maintenance, devolution of on her death
—Property in the lands of the son liable for father's death
Ancestral trade
—Carried for benefit of minor by natural guardian
Ancestral Zamindari sold in execution of decree for money against the father in chiding the son's right of succession
Ancient documents
Ancient holdings
Ancient lights, obstruction of Ancient rights
Angle of 45 degrees

Animal
Animals ferae nature
Annual Jamas Tenancy
Anna chattra
Annual tenancy
Annuity —Creation of
—Value of Annulment of incumbrances
—of sale
Antecedent debts
Ante—nuptial agreement
—Contracts
—Settlement
Anticipation, Restraint on
Anticipatory attachment
Antiquities not proved to have any market value
Anubhavam tenure
Anumatipara
Apostacy
Apostate father
Appeal
(1) Appeal newly given by law
(2) Right of appeal effect of repeal on
(3) Acts
(4) Arbitration
(5) Bengal Acts
(6) Bombay Act
(7) Certificate of Administration (Act XXVII of 1860 & VII of 1889)
(8) Costs
(9) Decrees
(10) Default of appearance
(11) Exparte cases
(12) Execution of decree
(13) Grounds appeal
(14) Madras Acts
(15) Management of attached property
(16) Measurement of lands
(17) N W P Acts
(18) Orders
(19) Probate
(20) Receivers
(21) Regulations
(22) Sale in execution of decree
(23) Objections by respondent
(24) Grounds of appeal
(25) Dismissal of appeal
(26) Appeal against favourable decree
(27) Requisities of a valid appeal
(28) Attachment
(29) Consideration of appeal
(30) Costs
(31) Court fee
(32) Estoppel
(33) Final decree
(34) Judgment
(35) Limitation
(36) Parties
(37) Practice
(38-39) Reference to Collector
(40) Re-hearing
(41) Resjudicata
(42) Review
(43) Revision
(44) Right of appeal
(45) Second appeal
(46) Sale in execution
(47) Miscellaneous Cases
Appeal admission of. after time
Appeal after expiration of period fixed by decree
Appeal against an order under s. 258 Act (XIV of 1882) C P C
—Against decree by instalments, how valued —Against order that a plaintiff be made defendant
—Against order refusing leave as a pauper
—Against part of decree any —Against whole decree by one defendant only
—By one plaintiff against another
Appeal by one of several plaintiff's claiming under a joint right
—By some only of the judgment debtors
—From amended decree
—From appellate decree
—From decision of a judge exercising admiralty or vice admiralty jurisdiction
—From exparte decree
—From exparte decree wrongly admitted
—From insolvency order
—From order of High Court refusing extension —From order of Judge in Privy Council Department refusing to extend time for furnishing security for costs
—From order of remand
—From order permitting with drawal of suit
—From order setting aside sale
—From interlocutory orders
Appeal newly given by law
—On full Court fee from decree dismissing suit in part —On the question of costs
—Pending sale
—Presented meaning of
—To High Court from order of remand

Appeal to privy Council
(1) Cases in which lies or not
(a) Appealable orders
(b) Substantial questions of law
(c) Concurrent judgments on facts
(d) Valuation of appeal
(2) Practice and procedure
(a) Leave to appeal
(b) Time for appealing
(c) Miscellaneous cases
(3) Stay of execution pending appeal
(4) Effect of Privy Council decree or order
Appearance
Appellant-meaning of
Appellate Court
(1) General duty of appellate Courts
(2) Exercise of powers in various Cases
(a) General Cases
(b) Special Cases
(3) Evidence and additional evidence on appeal
(4) Rejection or admission of evidence admitted or rejected by Court below
(5) Errors affecting or not, merits of case
(6) Interference and power to vary order of Lower Court
(7) Objections taken for first time on appeal
(a) General Cases
(b) Special Cases
(8) Appellate Court (Forum)
Appellate Court defective judgment of Appellate Court duty of, to direct examination of Witnessess —Duty of, of form its own opinion on the evidence or record reasons for findings
—Judgment of
Appellate Court's power to amend plaint
Appellate Court production of additional evidence in Appellate Court remand to Application
Appointed daughter
Appointment
—Of another assessor by Judge without notice to claimant
—Of arbitrator by the Court
—Of arbitrators and umpires
—Of commissioner
—Of creditors as agents to collect rents and appropriate part towards debts
—Of daughter
—Of executors by implication
—Of guardian
—Of officers of mosque
—Of receiver
—Of heirs
Apportionment
—Of tax
Appraisement proceedings
Appropriation of payments
(1) Payment of Rent
(2) Payment of debt
(3) Appropriation towards interest
(4) Application of rules regarding appropriation of payments realisation of land revenue
(5) Appropriation by creditor of payments towards interest
(6) Appropriation of goods unascertained at the time of contract of sale
(7) Appropriation of payment towards interest without specification by debtor not saving limitation.
Arbitration
(1) Arbitration under special Acts and Regulations
(2) Reference or submission to arbitration
(3) Appointment of arbitrators and umpires
(4) Duties and powers of arbitrators
(5) Submission of award.
(6) Remission to arbitrators.
(7) Revocation of, or withdrawal from arbitration.
(8) Awards
(9) Private arbitration
(10) General Cases
Arbitration Act
Arbitration award
Arbitration award on one point only
Arbitration by Court
Arbitration order giving leave to sue under S. 18 of Act XX of 1863
Arbitration—Private-arbitration
Arbitration, Reference and award
Arbitration Rules, construction of Arbitration under Special Acts and Regulations
Arbitration under the Civil Procedure Code
Arbitration without intervention of Court
Arbitrator
Arbitrator charge of corruption against by party to suit
Arbitrator receiving evidence from one side in absence of other side
Arbitrators
Architect
Ardass

Arguments on appeal
Arhat
Ariyat, Law as to Armenian christian
Armenians
Arms Act (XI of 1878)
Army
Army Act 1881
Army discipline Act 1879
Army discipline Act 1881 (44 & 46 Vic c 58)
Army discipline Act 1888 (51 Vic c 4) S, 7.
Arrangement.
Arrangement, deeds of.
Arrangements between widow & reversioners
Arrays of parties in appeal.
Arrears.
Arrears of assessment, suit to recover
Arrears of maintenance
Arrears of maintenance due under a bond of agreement, suit for —of maintenance right to sue for Arrears of rent
Arrears of revenue
Arrears of subscription of a news paper
Arrest (Civil)
Arrest and commitment of judgment—debtor to jail
Arrest of decree
Arrest of defendant before judgment
Arrest of pleader while acting in his professional capacity
Arrest-successoin
Arrest when perfected
Articled clerk
Articles
Articles of association
Articles of association and liability of share-holders
Artificers
Artizan
Asceties
Assam
Assam Forest Regulation (VII of 1891)
Assam Land & Revenue Regulation (1 of 1886,
Assam Local Rates Regulation
Assam Regulation
Assault
Assented Taxes
Assessment
(1) Suit for arrears of assessment
(2) Levy of assessment by Government
(3) Liability for assessment levied after date of mortgage.
(4) Other Cases.
Assessment, exemption from Assessment Land Revenue Act
Assessment payment of
Assessment of price of crops belonging to an evicted tenant
Assessment of reformed land after diluviation
Assessors Assets
Assignability of tenancy.
Assignee
Assignee of decree
Assignee of interest in suit
Assignment
Assignment after decree
Assignment by official assignee
Assignment by operation of law of a share in a decree
Assignment by payee of all his property including the note whether amounts to negotiation in the absence of endorcement
Assignment of actionable claim
Assignment of administration Bond
Assignment of all his property by debtor to trustees for payment of creditors
Assignment of bond
Assignment of chose in action.
Assignment of contract
Assignment of debt
Assignment of debt for value
Assignment of debts secured on land
Assignment of decree
Assignment of equity of redemption to third person for value, but with notice of agreement
Assignment of interest pending suit
Assignment of interest under decree directing annual payments
Assignment of Land Revenue for benefit of shrine
Assignment of mortgage
Assigner and assignee
Assizes
Association
Association & dissassociation Assurance
Assura Marriage
Atel property
Attachable property
Attaching creditor
Attaching creditor of decree holder respondent seeking to be brought on to the record as a respondent

Attachment
(1) Subjects attachment
(a) Annuity or pension
(b) Books of account
(3) Building and house materials
(d) Debts
(e) Decrees
(f) Equity of redemption
(g) Expectancy
(h) Immoveable property charged with maintenance
(i,jj Joint family and Reversionary interest
(k) Maintenance
(l) Partnership property
(m) Perishable Articles
(n) Property and interest in property
(o) Right of suit
(p) Slary
(q) Trust property
(r) Wages
(s) Wearing appeal and ornaments
(2) Attachment before judgment
(3) Attachment of person
(4) Mode of attachment and irregularities in attachment
(5) Priority of attachment
(6) Alienation during attachment
(7) Attachment pending appeal
(8) Liability of wrongful attachment
(9) Striking of execution proceedings, effect of, on attachment
(10) General Cases
Attainder, Law of
Attempt by one co-sharer to mortgage his undivided share on his account
Attempted adoption of sister's son by Brahman —family settlement in purpetuity
Attempt to attach surplus after fulfilment of trust
Attempt to establish trust for claimants as to part of Talukdari estate —sell mortgaged property in execution of money decree fer rent
Attestation
Attestation & proof of wills
—of deedeffect of
—of documents by the court or its officer
Attestation of will by two witnesses
Attesting witness
Attorney
Attorney and client
Attorney-General
Attorneyship Examination
Attornment
Auction & auctioneer
Auctioneer
Auction purchaser
Auction-sale
Auditor
Aulad Dukhtari
Author
Authorised Agent
Authorities on Law of adoption
Authorities on Law of Inheritance Authority
Authority of Agents
—of counsel to compromise case on behalf of his client
—of father to give girl in marriage
—of, to bind client
—of wife to pledge husband's credit
Autrefais convict
Ava, kingdom of Average profits
Average rate of rent
Avubhavom tenure
Award
Award by arbitrators
—One arbitrator only effect of
Award made but not filed within the time specified by order of court
Award making and filling of Award not disposing of all the matters of referred Award of arbitrators for division of family property
Award of commissioners conclusive
Award of compensation
Award set aside on the ground of misconduct of arbitrator
Award, suits concerning Ayautaka Stridhan.

DESAI'S

ALL INDIA CENTURY DIGEST

(CIVIL)

1811-1912.

VOL. I.

Abadi.

See also cases under:—

(1) Landlord and Tenant.
(2) Common Land.
(3) Co sharers.
(4) Punjab Tenancy Act.
(5) Partition.

1—Building house with consent:—Right of transfer.

A person who builds a house in the village abadi with the consent of the proprietor acquires no right to the site. Such a person has no right of transferring his house and the site thereof when he leaves the village. Thakur Nihal Singh v Thakur Sardar Singh & Hira Lal. 3 C P L R 7.

2—Land-holder and tenant—Rights of tenants in village abadi-Wajibularz-Suit to remove building created by tenant without permission of the Zamindars.

In the courtyard of a tenant lawfully in possession of a house site in the Village abadi was "some sort of a thatched shed" used in fact by the tenant and other Muhammadans of the village for the purpose of religious observances. The wajibularz of the village provided that "no cultivator can build a new house outside the compound of his dwelling house without the permission of the Zamindar. He is at liberty to do so in his compound" Held that the tenant in question was not at liberty to convert the thatched shed in his court-yard into a "pacca" mosque without the permission of the Zamindars. Basa Mal and others v Ghayasuddin. 1904 A W N 176=2 A L J 27=27 All 556.

Abadi-(Contd.)

3—Abadi—Building sites—Town. There is nothing in the Wajibularz to show that the owner of a house in a place like Harda may not transfer it and purchaser may not enlarge it or rebuild it. Debi Parsad v Shalig Ram. 5 C P L R 124.

4—Non-agriculturists resident—Ground belonging to a house—Malguzar's right.

A non-agriculturist resident of a village sold a strip of the ground belonging to his house to a person living in his immediate neighbourhood. The Malguzar sued them both for possession of the site. Held that in the absence of anything to show that the Malguzar was entitled to curtail the defendants' enjoyment of the land he could not claim possession. (8 C P L R 29; 3 C P L R 7; 5 C P L R 76, ref.) Bhondusao v Jagat Ram 12 C P L R 146.

5—Adverse possession—Landlord and tenant—House in abadi.

The fact that a tenant built a house in the abadi of a village and occupied it for over 12 years, is not sufficient to establish a title against the Zamindar by adverse possession. 1 A L J R 479, distinguished. Jaikishun Singh v Motichand 3 A L J 627=(1906) A W N 258

Abadi-(Contd.)

6—Tenant—Occupying room in the abadi ouster—Adverse-possession.

Where a tenant has been occupying a room in the abadi for a period of thirty years he cannot be ejected therefrom by the Zamindar. If the room is appurtenant to his holding, he cannot be ousted during the continuance of the tenancy, and if not appurtenant thereto, he must be taken to have acquired a right of occupying it by adverse possession. Nazir Hasan v Shibba. 1 A L J 479=(1905) A W N 90= 27 All 556.

7—Village homestead land. Rights of landholders in-Sale by tenant-Acquiescence-Principal and Agent Per Knox A C J.

A person, agriculturist or agricultural tenant who is allowed by a Zamindar to build a house for his occupation in the abadi, obtains, if there is no special contract to the contrary, a mere right to use that house for himself and his family so long as he maintains the house and does not abandon it by leaving the village ; he has no interest which he can sell by private sale, except his interest in the timber, roofing and wood work of the house. 1 A W N 114 F B. and I L R 20 All 248 referred to.

The property of or rights in the property of an absentee minor cannot be given away by an agent looking on and allowing tenant to spend money. Unless it can be brought home to a principal that he knew that person dealing with his agent so dealt in consequence of their believing that all statements made by him had been warranted by the principal, and, knowing this, the latter allowed the persons so dealing to expend money in the belief that the agent had an authority which in fact, he had not, those persons can enforce no equity against the principal. L. R. 1 E and 7 All 129 followed Per Aikman J. Where the defendant at great expense reconstructed the house he had brought believing that he had a right to do so, and the plaintiff or his agent must have known that the defendant was spending money in this belief and yet allowed him to do so the plaintiff could not years after the house was finished sue for possession of the house or its removal. The dictum in L. R. 20 All 241 at 258 declaring a custom permitting tenant to transfer houses on village homestead land to be bad, is obiter and has been dissented from more than one Judge of the High Court. Rajnarain Mitter v Budh Sen. 1 A L J 673=27 All 338 =A W N (1904) 420.

Abadi-(Concld.)

Abadi—Land in the city of Lucknow obtained by Nuzal under a settlement decree Renunciation of right of Government, as to.—See 9 O C 249.

Abandonment.

See cases under.

(1) Bengal Acts (Tenancy S. 87)
(2) Landlord and Tenant.
(3) Limitation Act S. 14 arts 142, 144.
(4) Mortgage (Relinquishment).
(5) Possession.
(6) Right of Occupancy.
(7) Occupancy holdings.

1—S. 92, Proviso (f)—Registered partition deed—Subsequent disposal of property mentioned therein—Oral evidence to prove it admissible -Land suit-Long delay in suing no abandonment in law—The Punjab Courts Act XVIII of 1884, Ss. 3 and 70—The Punjab Tenancy Act XVI of 1887 S. 4-Indian Contract Act IX of 1672, Ss. 44, 62, and 63-Admissibility of evidence in question of law within S. 70.

169 P R 1883 ; 30 P R 1884. 14 P R 1889. 9 All 249; 11 Bom 47. 14 Bom 472, Fol. By Chatterji Dist. By Johonstone; 22 Mad 264 ; 26 Mad 195 27 Mad 368, Fol. By Johnstone and Diss. By Chatterji ; 5 C W N 296 Fol. By Johnstone : 62 P R 1879 Ref By Chatterji; P L R (1900), 459, Ref By Johnstone. 20 P R 1894 : C A 1190 of 1906 (unpublished), Fol 31 P R 1906, Dist 85 P R 1892: 51 P R 1898 43 P R 1901 Fol.

Choudhri Bhagwan Singh v Choudhri Narain Singh, 129 P W R 1908

See also (1) "Practice"
(2) Pleadings.

Abandonment by managing Khot.

See Co-sharers.

Abandonment Notice of.

See (1) Insurance—Marine Insurance.
(2) Utabandi Tenancy.

Abandonment of Appeal.

See Withdrawal of suit.

Abandonment of claim.

See (1) Relinquishment or omission to sue for portion of claim.
(2) Pleadings,
(3) Landlord and tenant—Abandonment, relinquishment, or surrender of tenure,

Abandonment of Easement

See (1) Limitation Act (IX of 1908) S. 26.
(2) Easements.
(3) Easement Act S. 28.

Abandonment of excess claim.

See Vendor and purchaser.

Abandonment of holding

See (1) Landlord and tenant-abandonment, relinquishment or surrender of tenure.
(2) Right of Occupancy.

Abandonment of issue.

See Pleadings.

Abandonment of part of claim.

See Cases under Relinquishment of, or omission to sue for, Portion of claim

1—C. P. C. S. 47 (1882) S. 244)—Party—Person against whom claim has been abandoned.

A person against whom the plaintiff abandons the claim, not being able to serve him with notice, is not a party to the suit within the meaning of S. 244 C P C. Venkatapathy Naidu v Subraya Mudali. 17 M L J 416.

2—A deed of abandonment executed in reliance upon the generosity of the party benefited was held to be without consideration.
Ismail Khan v Imtiazunnissa. 4 A L J 792.

Abandonment of partnership

1—Advance agreement to—A money—Refusal—Abandonment of partnership by laches.

That a mere refusal by a partner in an undertaking to advance further sums for the purpose of the taking in terms of the partnership agreement is not an abandonment by him of the undertaking and does not amount to a dissolution of the partnership. Even assuming that the subject-matter of the partnership was as precarious as a mining speculation, it is a matter of inference to be drawn from the facts of each case whether or not there has been abandonment or loss of interest by laches 19 Ves 144 (1812) ref to. Moung Tha Hnyin v Mah Thein Myah. 5 C W N 114=28 Cal 53=27 I A 189.

Notes.—Dist 11 M L J 353=25 Mad 149.

See also cases under.

(1) Partnership.
(2) Contract Act, Ss. 239—266.

Abandonment of Point.

1—Counsel abandoning a point. The suit was brought by the sons of the reversioner S of the last male owner G on the death of G's widow M. P for possession of immoveable property.

The last male owner died 40 years before suit, the widow in 1896, and the plaintiff's father through whom the plaintiffs claimed in 1889. The whole question in the case was one of plaintiff's father relationship to the last male holder. The defendant was the nephew of the last male holder who took possession of the properties on the widow's death. The first Court found that the plaintiffs had proved the pedigrees filed by them and gave a decree. On appeal the Judicial Commissioner held as follows—"The oral evidence to prove the pedigree in the plaint is in my opinion of as little value as the documentary evidence on which the plaintiffs relied and at the hearing of the appeal practically no attempt was made to support the finding of the Subordinate Judge.

The only contention was that accepting the pedigree filed by the appellant Mathura Prashad, the plaintiffs are heirs of G and according to it they are Samanodakas and therefore in the absence of other nearer heirs they exclude the defendant" and gave a decree for possession of the property on the ground that there were other persons in the same degree of relationship to the last male owner. Held that in the circumstances the plaintiffs were not estopped by what happened before the Judicial Commissioner.

Abandonment of Point-(Concld.)

Kelka Pershad v Mathura Pershad 8 C L J 447=11 C W N 340=(1908) 5 A L J 701=18 M L J 424=10 Bom L R 1088=13 C W N 1=35 I A 166=30 All 510

See also cases under.

(1) Plerder
(2) Pleadings
(3) Counsel
(4) Practice

2—Abandonment of plea in lower appellate Court—Effect in second appeal. It is not open to a litigant to practically abandon a portion of his contention in one Court, and then at his convenience to resuscitate it in another. Where the Judge of the lower appellate Court expressly stated that a plea of res judicata was not pressed on him, that plea was disallowed in the second appeal. Dalip Rai v Deoki Rai. 20 All 471 =A W N 1898, 116; on appeal 21 All 204.

Abandonment—What amounts to—See 13 P W R 1910=5 Ind Cas 840=48 P L R 1910.

3—Authority of, to bind client, abandoning issue. A vakil's general powers in the conduct of a suit include the abandonment of an issue, which, in his discretion, he thinks it inadvisable to press. Raja Venkata Narasimha v Bhashyakarlu. (4 Bom L R 543.)

Abandonment of Proceedings.

See Civil Pro Code O. 9, r. 9.

See Resjudicata—Judgments on preliminary points.

Abandonment of right.

See Estoppel—Estoppel by conduct.

„ Trade, mark.

„ Damages—Measure and assessment of damages—Torts.

Abandonment of tenancy.

See—Landlord and tenant—Abandonment, relinquishment and Surrender of tenure.

Abandonment of tenure.

See Cases under Landlord Tenant—Abandonment, Relinquishment, and Surrender of Tenure.

See Cases under Right of Occupancy—Transfer of Right.

Abandonment of User.

1—Abandonment of user—Dedication, implied—Dedication to public use as burial ground-Title to land, no necessity for passing—Reversion to owner. An implied dedication arises by operation of law from the acts of the owner and is really founded upon the principle of estoppel: it proceeds not upon the principle that a grant has actually been made but rather on the principle that the owner having allowed the public to enjoy the same for any particular purpose is estopped from denying the right of the public to the enjoyment of such use. Exclusive and continuous user by the public, with the owner's knowledge and acquiescence for the prescriptive period will raise the presumption of a grant and dedication to the public. It is one of the essential elements of a good declaration that it be made to the public, that it be irrevocable, and that the land be for ever dedicated for the designated public use. 8 C B N., S. 848; 42 Cal 541, ref. to. An owner may appropriate land to public use and yet retain in himself all such rights in the soil as are compatible with the full exercise and enjoyment of the public use to which the property has been devoted. It is not essential to constitute a valid dedication that the legal title should pass from the owner; nor is it inconsistent with an effectual dedication that the owner should continue to make any and all uses of the land which do not interfere with the uses for which it is dedicated. See 79 Bom 47; 9 Cal 75. But after a valid dedication has been made, if the use for which the property is dedicated becomes impossible of execution, or if the object of the use wholly fails, there is an abandonment in consequence of which the rights of the public therein fail and a reversion takes place, as the dedication has spent its force when the use ceases. If land is dedicated for cremating or burial purposes, and there is subsequently an abandonment, the property reverts to the dedicator or his heirs. 24 I A 177 dist. Chairman Howrah Municipality v Khettra Krist Mitter. 10 C W N 1044= 4 C L J 342=33 Cal 1290.

Abandonment of User-(Concld.)

See also cases under:

(1) Limitation Act art, 144.
(2) Adverse Possession.

Abandonment of Wife.

See cases under:

(1) Husband & Wife.
(2) Restitution of conjugal rights.
(3) Hidnu Law (Maintenance.)
(4) Marriage.

Abandonment of wordly affairs

1—Abandonment of wordly affairs—Custom-Succession—Abandonment of wordly affairs—Gossains.

A broad distinction is to be drawn as regards the powers of inheriting property between faqirs or members of a religious order who have, and those who have not, entirely renounced the world the latter class not being disqualified from succession in their natural families.

In a case where it appeared that the plaintiff, though he left his village and joined a religious order (Gossains), had not renounced the world, but, on the contrary, was the father of three children who appeared to be grown up, held, that plaintiff had never reached the stage of complete asceticism which would disqualify him from inheritance, and that he was entitled to succeed to the estate of his nephew in preference to the defendant, who, if a relation at all, was a distant one. Sadhu v Misri. 92 P R 1898.

2—Udasi faqir——Abandonment of civil rights. A man who has become an Udasi faqir, though he generally renounces worldly affairs and loses his civil rights, may yet show that though he became a faqir, he did not intend to give up worldly affairs and his civil rights. Badhawa Singh and Sochet Singh v Anaukha. 7 P R 1892.

See also cases under.

(1) Custom (Punjab) Inheritance.
(2) Gossain.
(3) Hindu Law (Inheritance.)

Abandonment, Relinquishment or surrender of tenure.

1—Abandonment, relinquishment or surrender of tenure—Abandonment—Joint holders—Survey number—Surrender—Tenancy Act s. 35-Land Revenue Act s. 67 A—67 1—Relinquishment—Merger.

The abandonment by one of two joint holders of a survey number does not necessarily enure in favour of the other joint holder. Nanha Bairagi v Mansing Gond. 15 C P L R 28.

See also.

(1) "Landlord & Tenant"
(2) Rights of Occupancy.

Abated suit or Appeal.

See costs.

Abatement of Appeal.

See (1) Abatement of Suit—Appeals.
(2) Costs—Abated Suit or Appeal
(3) Civil Procedure Code (1908) O XXII.

Abatement of Rent.

(1) Grounds of Abatement 1—33
- (a) General (1)
- (b) Dilluvion (2—13)
- (c) Damage to land by Vis-major (14)
- (d) Mis-statements as to the measurement of the land (15—19)
- (e) Mis-representation and Fraud (20—23)
- (f) Breach of Contract (24)
- (g) Reduction of rent allowed to Landlord by Government (25)
- (h) Loss of portion of land (26)
- (i) Land acquired by Govt for public purposes (27—33)

(2) Effect of former suit for abatement (34)
(3) Claim to Abatement (35)

Abatement of Rent (Grounds of Abatement)-(Cont'd.)

(4) Who can sue (36—38)
  (a) Patnidar (36)
  (b) Howaldar (37)
  (c) Tenant not entitled to occupancy (37A)
  (d) Under-tenant (38)
(5) Form of suit (39—41)
(6) Rate of reduction (42—43).
(7) Procedure (44 & 45—47)
(8) Civil Court's decree effect of, on Revenue court's decree (48—49)

(1) GROUNDS OF ABATEMENT.

(a) GENERAL.

1 Ground of Abatement-Causes beyond control—Act X of 1859, s. 18.

The real meaning of s. 18, Act X of 1859, is that the grounds for which an abatement of rent may be claimed by a raiyat must have resulted from causes beyond his control. Munsoor Ali v. Harvey. 11 W R 291.

(b) DILUVION.

2—Diluvion—Act X of 1859, s 18 (Bengal Act VIII of 1869, s. 19)—Deduction in suit for arrears of rent.

Rent of a talukh may be abated if a portion of the talukh be washed away Independently of s. 18, Act X of 1859, a suit for abatement of rent will lie by a talukhdar on the ground that part of the talukh has been washed away. A deduction may be made on such ground in a suit for arrears of rent. Afsuroodeen v Shorooshee Bala Dabea Marsh 558 Savi v Obhoy Nath Bose 2 W R Act X 27.

3 -Mokurari lease—Abatement of rent—Diluvion—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885), Ss, 52 178, 779.

A tenant holding under a permanent mokurari lease is not entitled to get abatement of rent by reason of a portion of the land in his occupation having been diluviated by the action of a river. Nunda Lal Mukherjee v Kymuddin Sardar. 9 C W N 886.

4-Onus probandi.-The onus lies on thedefendant in a suit for arrears of rent of proving to what deduction he is entitled, and of showing precisely what lands have disappeared. Savi v Obhoy Nath Bose 2 W R Act X 27

5—Landlord and Tenant—Partial eviction if operates to suspend entire rent—Diluvion loss of tenant's land by—Reformation and settlement with stranger—Eviction.

Where land forming part of a tenant's holding was lost by diluvion, but subsequently reformed and was settled by the landlord with third parties.

Held—That there was no eviction of the tenant by the landlord, and the tenant could not claim a suspension of the whole rent.

The tenant in such a case may claim a proportionate abatement of the rent.

Per Mookerjee J.—The rule that when a landlord is responsible for the partial eviction of his tenant from the demised premises, there is a suspension of the entire rent, has been adopted in England, not without considerable divergence of opinion. It would not be right to extend the application of such a rule, which may often operate harshly to cases to which the principle on which it is founded is clearly inapplicable. (3 Camp 513 (n); 1 Hudson and Brooke 449; I Cr M & R 3; 1 F & F 636, 17 Com Bench 30, 24 Cal 296, 28 Cal 188; 34 Cal 191 Ref. Rai Churn Das Mazumdar v Administrator General of Bengal. 13 C W N 853=9 C L J 578=36 Cal 856 =2 Ind Cas 169.

6. -Diluvion—Right of occupancy—A tenant, whether with or without a right of occupancy, is entitled to abatement of rent for land washed away unless precluded by the term of his kabuliat from claiming any abatement. Enayutoolah v Elahebuksh. W R 1864 Act X 42.

7.—Cause of action—When a diluvion takes place a right of suit to obtain an abatement of jumma accrues from the time when the plaintiff is compelled to pay the rent named in his pottah without the allowance of the abatement claimed by him. Barry v Abdool Ali. W R 1864. Act X 64.

8.—Talukh created before 1790.—Quære—Whether the proprietor of a talukh created before the Permanent Settlement cannot claim abatement of rent on the ground of diluvion. Ram Churn Bysack v Lucas. 16 W R 279.

Abatement of Rent (Grounds of Abatement-(Contd.)

9—Holding over, effect of — Rent kept in abeyance in kabulyat—Omission to specify reason — Oral evidence, admissibility of, to prove reason——Evidence Act (I of 1872), S. 92 and proviso (2).—

Where a tenant holds over upon the expiration of the term of his lease and pays rents, the tenancy is renewed upon the same conditions as those contained in the expired lease.

Therefore, the mere circumstance that the term of a lease has expired does not entitle the tenant to contend successfully that he has been absolved from the obligation which he may have undertaken at that time.

In a lease the rent was stated to be a certain sum, but a deduction on account of rent in suspense was allowed and a lesser sum was actually payable. The plaintiff sued upon the lease and alleged that the deduction was allowed because a quantity of land was not at that time fit for cultivation, but that there was an oral agreement to the effect that the rent in suspense would be revived as soon as the quality of the land improved.

Held, that under proviso 2, S. 92, of the Evidence Act, the oral agreement could be proved, because the lease omitted to specify the reasons for which the rent was kept in suspense and the period during which it was to continue in abeyance, and that the plaintiff might establish that the contingency upon which the rent was agreed to be revived had happened. 28 Cal 227, Ref: 11 Cal 486; 12 C L R 163 and 9 C L R 301, Ref.

Satish Chandra Basu Mallik v. Kamini Mohan Goswami, 7 Ind Cas 721.

10—Waiver of right to deduction. In a suit for arrears of rent of land adjacent to a river where defendant claims deduction on account of diluvion, and it is found that the agreement under which he holds requires measurement to be made once in three years, no account being taken of accretion or decretion occurring within that period: if the tenant has waived his right of measurement and has held over, it must be presumed that he elects to continue to hold at the same jumma as before and his claim to deduction cannot be allowed. Kristo Kinkur Puramanick v. Ramdhun Chettangia. 24 W R., 326

Abatement of Rent (Grounds of Abatement-(Contd.)

11—Kabuliat—Sale by tenant of his tenure—Suit against the purchaser—In a suit against the purchaser at an auction sale of a tenure under a kabuliat, by which it was agreed that the former tenant should not be entitled to abatement of rent on any ground and should be liable for interest at a particular rate for all arrears of rent, the defendant pleaded that as auction purchaser he was not bound by the terms of the kabuliat; that he was entitled to abatement on the ground of diluvion of portion of the demised lands, and only bound to pay interest at a reasonable rate upon arrears of rent. Held, that defendant was bound by the terms of the kabuliat entered into by his predecessor. Ishan Chunder Chowdhry v. Chunder Kant Roy. 13 C L R 55.

Notes.—Fol; 21 Cal 383. Dist: 24 Cal 37.

12—Right of tenant's transferee to abatement—A tenant has a right to claim an abatement of rent, where the area of the land under tenure, has been diminished by diluvion, and when the tenure is sold, the right passes to the purchaser. 23 W R 275 distinguished. Kali Prasanna Rai v. Dhananjai Ghose 11 Cal 625.

13-Bengal Act VIII of 1869, S.18—A raiyat cannot sue for abatement of rent simply because the lands which he holds are rated higher than those of the same description and with similar advantages held by raiyats of the same class in the vicinity. Bengal Act VIII of 1869 s 18, refers to an alteration of area owing to a portion of the land having gone away by diluvion or otherwise—not to some difference in the length of the measuring pole in use at different periods. Babun Mundle v. Shib Koomaree Burmonee 21 W R 404.

Appr:-Pertab Chunder Banerjee v. Omur Sirdar 25 W R 89.

Affirmed in Omur Sirdar v. Pertab Chunder Banerjee 25 W R 212.

(C) DAMAGES TO LAND BY VIS MAJOR.

14—Damage to land by Cyclone—Right of under-tenant to get remission of rent.—A landlord receiving remission from Government on account of damage done to his estate by a cyclone is not on that account bound to allow a remission to his under-tenants, unless he received the former on the understanding or agreement that he would allow it in turn. Goluck Chunder Mytee v. Parbutty Churn Dass. 15 W R 167

Abatement of Rent (Grounds of Abatement—(Contd.)

(D) MISSTATEMENTS AS TO THE MEASUREMENT OF THE LAND.

15—Apportionment of rent—Decree—Mukurari lease—Lessee getting possession of less land than stated in lease—Act XI of 1859 S. 54—Abatement of rent—Right of lessee-A decree had determined that lands leased in mokurari to a lessee with a fixed rent, were less in area than specified in pottahs that comprised them, the lessors not being entitled to the whole; the less estate was possessed by the lessor:—Held, that lessee was entitled to a corresponding abatement of the rent reserved. The revenue paying mehal within which were lands subject to a mokurari, such lands being shares of mouzahs therein, was afterwards sold for arrears, under Act X of 1859. The purchaser at that sale was sued by mokuraridar to make good her incumbrance under S. 54 of the Act. The decree that followed maintained the lease but only as to part of the shares specified in the pottahs, and the lessee for possession of that part only In this suit for mesne profits brought by the lessee against the heir of the purchaser who filed a cross suit against her for rent, it held that, as the lessee had not proved that she having had possession under the leases, had been dispossessed by the purchaser, there had not been an eviction in the proper sense of the term. But when, in her suit for possession, part only was decreed to her and she was precluded by the result from getting a substantial part, her position was the same as if she had been evicted. She, therefore had the same equity for an apportionment, as on eviction. On the facts it was rightly judged by the Court of first instance the leases were not taken with knowledge on the part of the lessee that the title was doubtful Imambandi Begum v Kamleswari Pershad 21 Cal 1005; L R 21 I A 118 PC.

Notes:—Ref: 10 C L J 570.

16—Landlord and tenant—Abatement of rent of portion of which tenant did not obtain possession—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885)

Abatement of Rent (Grounds of Abatement—(Contd.)

ant who did not obtain possession of a portion of the lands let out to him, pleaded that he was not bound to pay rent of that portion.

Held,—that he was entitled to say so and it was not necessary for him to bring a separate suit for abatement of rent.

That a suit under Ss. 38 and 52 of the Bengal Tenancy Act was not necessary, as those sections do not apply where the tenant has never been put into possession by the landlord. Siba Kumari Debi v. Biprodas Pal Chowdhury. 12 C W N 767.

17—Error in measurement of land—Land found to be less than stated.—A lease providing for enhancement if the lands are found on measurement to exceed the quantity stated in the lease, does not necessarily give the right to abate if the lands are found to be less than that stated in the lease. Ram Kant Chowdhry v. Bindabun Cnunder Gope 2 W R Act X, 71

18 - Construction of pottah—Default of tenant.

Though a pottah provided for an abatement of defendant's rent if on measurement the land was found to be less than 145 bighas, yet it was held that if defendant came to be in possession of that less quantity by his own default and not that of the lessor, the mere fact of defenant having been in possession of less than 145 bighas would not entitle him to an abatement.

Seetanath Bose v. Shamchand Mitter 17 W R 418.

19—Raiyat having paid no rent—Bengal Act VIII of 1869, s. 19.

A raiyat who has held his land for a few months, and paid no rent at all, cannot sue for an abatement of rent on the ground that the land, on measurement, is less than the quantity mentioned in his pottah. Brojonath Koondoo Chowdry v Unant Ram Dutt 17 W R 449.

(E) MISREPRESENTATION & FRAUD.

20—Misrepresentation as to quantity of land—In a suit by a puruidar to recover rent in accordance with the terms of a dur putni lease, the defendant claimed an abatement of his putni rent on the ground that his pedecessor had obtained such abatement in a previous rent suit, in which it appeared that the lessor's share was slightly less than what was described in the lease. —Held, that unless the defendant could show that he had been damaged by the plaintiff's misrepresentation as to the extent of his share, he could not be relieved from his contract, in this form of suit at least. Gour Mohun Roy v. Radha Romun Singh 21 W R 372.

Abatement of Rent (Grounds of Abatement)—Contd.

21——Misrepresentation as to quantity of land. Delay in suing——In 1859 G entered into negotiation with respect to the purchase of a certain talook at premium of Rs 42,411 and an annual rent of Rs. 48,070, and in January 1860 he signed a sale-bond which contained an enumeration of the mouzahs purchased, the actual sale being completed in the 2nd June following. Until his death in December 1861 he paid the stipulated rent according to the terms of the deed. Subsequently his widow brought a suit for abatement of the rent on the ground that her husband had been misled as to the amount of rent payable by the under-tenants,—Held, (affirming the decision of the High Court of Calcutta) that under the circumstances the suit could not be maintained Darimbya Debbya v. Nilmoney Singh Deo 5 C L R 465

22—Act X of 1859, ss 18 and 23, cl. 3—S. 18, Act X of 1859, is not applicable to a case in which a plaintiff patnidar sues for an abatement of rent on the ground of fraud caused by the concealment from him of the existence of an intermediate tenure created by the zemindar. Cl. 3. s. 23 of that Act, is wide enough to admit of such a suit being tried by the Revenue Courts. Shokoor Ali v Umola Ahalya 8 W R 504

23—Denial of right to assess lands in tenure A suit in which the plaintiff alleges that rent was wrongly assessed on him for lands not covered by his pottah, and contends that in assessing his rent these lands should be included, is not in the nature of a suit for abatement of rent. Obhoy Gobind Chowdhry v Kenny 8 W R 518

BREACH OF CONTRACT.

24—Breach of Contract —Jurisdiction of Civil Court—In a suit for damages by a lessee, where the plaint shows a distinct prayer for abatement of rent and also sets forth as the main ground of the suit in fraudulent breach of contract by misrepresentation and refusal of deduction and refund stipulated for, so much of the claim as refers to abatement is, by cl. 3, s. 23, Act X of 1859 beyond the jurisdiction of the Civil Court; but the rest of the suit is properly cognisable by such Court. Nilmony Singh v. Issur Chunder Ghosal 9 W R 92

Notes—Ref; 3 C L J 143

(G) REDUCTION OF RENT ALLOWED TO LANDLORD BY GOVERNMENT.

25.—Reduction of rent payable by landlord to Government—Act X of 1859, Ss. 17 and 18.

Sections 17 and 18 were passed for the benefit of the ryot, and not for the protection of the zemindar. Section 18 was intended to give the ryot a right to abatement in certain cases, but not to protect the zemindar from liability to make abatement in any other case. In a suit for abatement of rent on the ground that the jumma payable to Government had been reduced upon condition that the rents of the ryot should be reduced in a like proportion.—Held, that the right to abatement applies only to the case of rents of which the amount had been fixed before the jumma was reduced by Government, and not to rents fixed by pottahs or kabuliats entered into subsequently. Sukhawatoollah v Puthoo Goldar. 1 Ind Jur O S 7

(H) LOSS OF PORTION OF LAND.

26.—Loss of portion of land—Suit for declaration of liability to pay less rent—Equitable relief.—A suit by a tenant against his original lessors for a declaration that he is not liable to pay them the whole rent payable under his pottah in consequence of a third person having, subsequently to the grant of such pottah, by suit established a right to a share of the rent, is not a suit for abatement of rent. But where, under such circumstances, the tenant is holding more land than is covered by his pottah, it is not necessary that his landlords, if desirous of enhancing the rent, should be referred to a separate suit for that purpose. The suit of the tenant being for equitable relief, the claim of the landlords must be taken into consideration in determining what relief the plaintiff is entitled to obtain. Chandmoni Dali v. Loke Nath Chatterjee. 6 C L R., 494.

Abatement of Rent (Grounds of Abatement)-Contd.

(I) LAND ACQUIRED BY GOVT. PUBLIC PURPOSES.

27—Land taken for public purposes.—Suit to recover share of money taken as compensation for land.—In a suit to recover the proportion of money paid into Court as compensation for land taken for a railway, to which the plaintiff, a dur-putnidar, may be entitled, and in which suit the zemindar and putnidar are defendants, the plaintiff cannot claim abatement of rent under Act X of 1859, section 18, since such a claim is cognizable only in a suit instituted under that Act. Gordon Stuart & Co. v. Mohatab Chand Marsh, 490

28—Claim to deduction from rent.—A claim for rent being a recurring cause of action, a tenant is entitled to set up against it for any particular year any right which he had to a deduction or abatement, notwithstanding that he has paid full rent for several previous years. When land is taken away for railway purposes, and compensation made, which is divided between the zemindar and those holding under him, any deduction of rent claimed, from the zeminder must be reckoned with reference, not to the gross amount of compensation, but to the portion which passed into his hands. Mohatab Chand v. Chittro Coomaree Bibee 16 W R 201

29—Abatement of rent, Suit for—Suit for refund of excess rents:—In a suit brought by a putnidar for a declaration that he was entitled to an annual abatement of the putni rent in consequence of some lands comprised in the putni having been required for the purposes of a railway, and also for the refund of the excess rents which he had been compelled to pay for some years. Held: per Mookerjee, J :—That this was a claim for abatement of rent and for recovery of damages for illegal exaction of rent within the meaning of clauses (2) and (3), S. 23 of Act X of 1859. The proper course for the plaintiff, therefore, was to sue in the first instance for abatement of rent in the Revenue Court which was the only court of competent jurisdiction for that purpose. Per Harington, J., contra, treating the case as though it were one of first impression :—Although under S. 23 of Act X of 1859 a civil court had no jurisidiction to entertain a suit for abatement of rent, still the suit in so far as it related to a claim for refund of the excess rents paid by the putnidar was properly cognizable by the civil court and should not be dismissed for want of jurisdiction because one of the steps which plaintiff should have to take in establishing his right to have the money repaid to him would if it had stood alone, have entitled him to a decree in the Revenue Court. Per Mookerjee, J :—The present suit is substantially one for abatement of rent and the prayer for refund is ancillary to the prayer for abatement, because as soon as the amount of abatement is determined, the amount of refund is deducible by simple arithmetical calculation. The civil court has no jurisdiction to allow a claim for abatement, and is not competent to embark upon precisely the same inquiry for the purpose of allowing a refund. Per Mookerjee J :—The following rules are deducible from a review of the authorities on the question :—(1) A suit for abatement of rent properly so called is maintainable only in the Revenue Court. I. W. R. 299 ref. to. (2) A suit for adjustment of the receipt on the ground that the rent payable under a lease is less than the sum nominally inserted in it, is not a suit for abatement of rent, properly so-called and is accordingly maintainable in the civil court B. L. R. F. B. 95 referred to. If the tenant is entitled to sue for abatement in the Revenue Court under Rule (1), the suit for refund lies in the same Court, but if the tenant is entitled to sue for adjustment in the Civil Court under Rule (2), the suit for refund lies in the same Court. The cases which support the view that a suit for refund lies in the Civil Court assume a prior determination of the amount of abatement by a Court of competent jurisdiction. W. R. Gap. No. (Act X) 46 ; 11 W. R. 412 relied upon; 17 W. R. 73 dissented from. Ashutosh Roy v Harinarain Singh Deo. 3 C L J 143

Abatement of Rent (Grounds of Abatement)-Contd.

30—Construction of Kabuliat—Agreement between zemindar and putnidar to divide compensation in respect of land taken for public purposes.

A putni lease contained a clause by which it was stipulated that if any portion of the demised lands should be taken up by Government for public purposes, the zemindar and the putnidar should divide the compensation allowed equally.

Abatement of Rent
(Grounds of Abatement-Contd.

A portion of the land having been so taken and the compensation divided as agreed upon, it was held in a suit for arrears of rent that the putnidar was notwithstanding the fact of his having received his moiety of the compensation, equitably entitled to abatement on the ground that he had been deprived of a portion of the land covered by his putni.

Uma Sunker Sirkar v Tarini Churn Singh 11 C L R 366=9 Cal 571.

31—Ijara settlement—Deduction from rent—a kabuliat of an Ijardar who took on lease certain land, contained the following clause:—"In regard to the aforesaid rent we take upon ourselves the risk of flood and drought, of death and flight of alluvion and diluvion, of profit and loss. In no case shall we be able to claim a reduction in the rent, nor will it be open to you to demand more on account of alluvion etc.' During the lease part of these lands were taken up by Government for a railway, and the lessor was paid compensation therfore. The Ijardar claimed a deduction of rent for the lands taken away. Held, that such a claim did not come under the meaning of the word "abatement" as used in the the rent law, nor was it intended by the parties to be within the clause of the lease, but the land having been taken from the whole area demised, not by natural causes, but by vis major, the Ijardar was entitled to a deduction of rent, on his showing that there were tenants of his on the land who, before the land was taken by government, paid rent to him which they had not ceased to pay.

Watson & Co V Nistarini Gupta 10 Calc 544

32—In a suit for arrears of rent, a claim for abatement may be made by way of set-off in respect of land taken up by Government for the purposes of a road. Deen Dyal Lall v Thukroo Koonwar 6 W R Act X 24.

33—Proceedings under Land Acquisition Act, 1870—Purchase at sale for arrears of rent—Beng. Reg. VIII of 1819.—

Portion of certain land held under a patni having been taken up by the Government for public purposes under the Land Acquisition Act, the zemindar declared his intention of granting no abatement of rent, and acting upon this declaration the patnidar was allowed to appropriate the whole of the compensation. The patni was subsequently sold under Reg VIII of 1819, with notice of the amount of the original rent, and the purchaser now sued for abatement of that rent. He did not allege that he had no notice of the proceedings under the Land Acquisition Act. Held, that the plaintiff must be presumed to have had notice of these proceedings, and that it was therefore incumbent upon him to have made inquiry regarding the position of the patni, and that under the circumstances he was not entitled to the abatement sought for. Peari Mohun Mukerjee v Audhiraj Aftab Chand. 10 C L R 526.

Abatement of Rent
(Grounds of Abatement-Concld.)

(2) EFFECT OF FORMER SUIT FOR ABATEMENT.

34—Previous suit for abatement, effect of—Onus probandi.—

There is no provision in the Rent Law prescribing that suits for enhancement or abatement shall not be brought within a certain period after the determination of a similar suit on the same grounds. And there is no provision throwing upon a plaintiff in a suit for abatement of rent the burden of proof that there has been some change in circumstances since a decision in a previous similar suit was passed. Cheda v Nunhoo Beg. 2 N W 348.

(3) CLAIM TO ABATEMENT.

35—Claim to abatement—"Otherwise vary" the rent—

The words "otherwise vary" in s. 153, Act X of 1859, are meant to include abatement claimable by the ryot, and this reservation is made in respect of questions of right to vary the rent, whether raised by the landlord or by the tenant. Anund Chunder Deghee v Nubocoomar Chatterjee. 8 W R 192.

(4) WHO CAN SUE
(a) PATNIDAR.

36—Right to use—Patnidar—A patnidar can sue for abatement of rent under the Rent Act, 1859. Prosunomoyee Dossee v Soondur Coomaree Debia 2 W R Act X 30.

Man Gurobinee Dassea v Khettur Chunder Ghose. 2 W R Act X 47.

Notes—Ref; 3 C L J 143.

36 A—Patnidar—Act X of 1859, s. 23 A patnidar, or any other leaseholder, may bring a suit against the Zemindar for abatement of rent under this section. Ramnarayan Banerjee v Jayakrishna Mookerjee. 1 W R F B 299: B L R Sup Vol F B 70.

Abatement of Rent (Who can sue)—Concld.

(b) HOWALDAR.

37—Howaldar—A howaldar has a right to sue for abatement of rent. Komlakant Doss v Pogose 2 W R Act X 65.

(c) TENANT NOT ENTITLED TO OCCUPANCY.

37 A—Tenant without right of occupancy—Act X of 1859, S 18—A tenant not having a right of occupancy is not entitled to an abatement of rent under Act X of 1859, s. 18.

Nobodeep Chunder Sircar v Lalla Seeb Lal Marsh 325.

(d) UNDER-TENANT.

38—Under-tenants—Act X of 1859, s. 23 cl 2—Illegal exaction of rent—

Cl 2 s 23 Act X of 1859 relating to the illegal exaction of rent, was not limited to suits at the instance of the raiyat, but applied to any under-tenant. Gopal Paul Chowdry v Grish Chunder Pandey. 14 W R 269.

(5) FORM OF SUIT.

39—Jurisdiction of Civil Court—Act X of 1859, s 23. A obtained from B a putni lease whereby it was agreed that A. should prepare a hastabud (rent roll); that, if it should appear that there was any deficiency in the jumma stated in the potta, the correct jumma should be ascertained as therein provided; and that the rent should be made up to A. by B; and B should return a proportionate amount of the consideration-money. A sued B for an abatement of rent, for a refund of rent paid in excess, and for a proportionate refund of the consideration money. Held, the suit was not a suit for abatement of rent within the meaning of this section, and the Civil Court has jurisdiction to try the different questions together in the same suit.

Raja Nilmani Singh v Annada Prasad Mookerjee 1 B L R F B 93=10 W R F B 41.

40—Rent, ennancement of-Transfer of Property Act. The right of enhancement is not an incident of every contract of tenancy In a proceeding for apportionment under the Land Acquisition Act, no abatement of rent can be made without the consent of the parties. The compensation is to be apportioned between the parties according to the value of interest which each of them parts with. The Zemindar has a right to the fixed rent and the loss he sustained is of so much of his rent. Any other possible injury such as the chance of the putnidar throwing up the land and its being diminished in value by what has been taken by Government, and still remaining as it did, liable to pay the same revenue is not appreciable and cannot be taken into account. If there is no abatement of the rent and the patnidar continues liable to pay to the zamindar the same rent as he had to pay before, there would be nothing for which the Zemindar is to receive compensation. The same rule applies to the case of lease in perpetuity with fixity of rent. The burden of proof is on the Zamindar to make out his claim and show as to the value of a particular contingency to him. Satis Chunder Chattopadhya v Rai Johindra Nath Chowdhury 7 C L J 284.

Abatement of Rent (Form of suit)—Contd.

41—Apportionment of rent—Suit—Bengal act VIII of 1869, s 19—Certain batwara proceedings terminated, in 1877, and the portion of the estate, held by the plaintiff and allotted to the defendant was ascertained. The rent was Rs 4 per bigha. In 1881, a suit was brought by the defendants to recover rent of a larger amount than what the plaintiff admitted to be due and a decree obtained on the 31 st. May 1881. On the 20th September 1881, the plaintiff instituted a suit nominally under the provisions of s 19 of Bengal Act VIII of 1869, for abatement of rent, upon the ground that the defendants were seeking to charge him rent upon a larger amount of land than he actually held. The court found that the area of land held by the plaintiff was the same as stated by him in the plaint, and not that alleged by the defendants. Held, that the suit was rather one for the apportionment of rent after the Butwara proceedings, and not one for abatement of rent.

Durga Pershad v Ghosita Goria 11 cale 284.

Notes—Dist: 15 Mad 492.

(6) RATE OF REDUCTION.

42—Rate of reduction—Jurisdiction of Revenue Court—A granted a patni to B, to which a certain mehal appertained. The Government to which the mehal belonged, in reversion upon an ijara held by A, sold it to C. Held that B was entitled to abatement of rent from A, and that a suit for abatement, under the circumstances, was cognizable by the Revenue Court. Semble,—Where there is no specification in the original contract of the amount of rent payable for the portion of land for which abatement is claimed, such a sum ought to be deducted from the whole rent as would bear to that whole rent the same proportion as the annual value of the portion of the land which has disappeared bears to the annual value of the land originally leased.

Abatement of Rent (Rate of Reduction)–Concld.

Brijanath Pal Chowdry v Hiralal Pal 1 B L R A C 87=10 W R 120.

43—Contract–Acceptance by landlord and his heirs of rent at a lower rate—effect of–Agreement to take lower rent not proved.

The mere acceptance of reduced rent, though it may amount to a full acquittance, cannot operate as a binding contract without proof of the agreement forming the basis of the reduction granted, and such an acceptance does not amount to such an agreement or release of a portion of the rent as to have a binding effect.

Radha Raman Chowdhury v Bhowani Prosad Bhowmik. 6 C W N 60

Notes—Dist 2 C L J 338 Ref, 10 C L J 570.

(7) PROCEDURE.

44–45–Procedure—Suit for arrears of rent.

A claim by defendant for abatement of rent under remission granted to plaintiff by Government may be tried in a suit for arrears.

Boikunto Paraki v Surendronath Roy 1 W R 84

46—Plea of Abatement in suit for arrears of rent.

In a suit to recover arrears of rent it is competent to a Court to adjudicate upon a plea of abatement.

Gour Kishore Chunder v Bonomalee Chowdhry. 22 W R 117=15 B L R 35

Notes–Fol· 4 Cal 411; 11 Cal 343; 15 Cal 750.

47.—Lease deed—Possession of lands leased—Proportionate reduction for lands not given possession of—Payment of whole rent—Voluntary payment—Damages. Plaintiff brought the suit for rent upon a registered muchilika executed by defendant for a term of 5 years. Defendants contended that they executed the suit muchilika in the full belief that the entire extent will be put in their possession but that a certain tract containing 600 acres was trespassed upon by the neighbouring Talukdar who prevented defendant's occupation and that the defendant paid under protest at the end of fasli 1307 the full amount for Faslis 1305, 1306 and 1307.

Abatement of Rent (Procedure) –Concld.

Held, that the payments are not voluntary payments and the tenant is entitled to recover them. Ghanta Ramanna v G Narayanasami Naidu 7 M L T 52=5 Ind Cas 712.

(8) CIVIL COURT'S DECREE EFFECT OF, ON REVENUE COURT'S DECREE.

48.—Effect of decision of Civil Court on decree of Revenue Court—Suit for excess payments of rent after decree for abatement. A patnidar sued his zemindar and obtained a decree for abatment of the patni rent, on the ground that the assets of the patni fell short of the amount stated in the lease. While this suit was pending in the Civil Court, the zemindar brought a suit for the rent of the two years upon the full jumma; and though the patnidar objected that his suit for abatement was pending, the Collector decreed the rent suit in full. In execution the zemindar recovered the full rent, and the patnidar then sued for a refund of excess payments and of the interest realized by the zemindar thereon. Held, that the decree of the Revenue Court wes superseded and modified by the decree of the Civil Court. which was subsequently affirmed in appeal. Held, that the plaintiff's cause of action accrued on the date on which the zemindar recovered from him rent in excess of what he was justly liable for and also interest on such excess. Held (on reference to the decree) that the abatement was to take effect from the commencement of the patni lease.

Nilmoney Singh Deo v Sharoda Pershad Mookerjee 18 W R 434.

Notes:—Dist 20 W R 106.

49-Act No XII 1881(North-Western Provinces Rent Act), Chapter II Section 93 (a).—Landholder and tenant suit for rent-Plea of custom allowing deductions on account of land rendered unculturable by action of river.—Such deduction not an "abatement of Rent" within the meaning of the act.

An abatement of rent in the sense of chapter II of the North-Western Provinces Rent Act No. III of 1881, implies the reduction of the rent payable for the holding, if not permanently, at all events for an indeterminate period, the rent as abated being substituted for the original rent and continuing to be the rent of the holding until altered by agreement or by further order. A tenant cannot apply under Chapter II on any ground for a reduction or revision of rent for a particular year only and having no effect beyond that year on the rent payable for the holding.

Abatement of Rent (Civil Courts decree effect of)-Concld.

In a suit for arrears of rent under section 93 (a) of the North-Western Provinces Rent Act 1881, the defendant proved a local custom, whereby a tenant was entitled to proportionate deduction from the rent for any year for such lands as were in that year, owing to fluvial action, unculturable by being submerged by water or covered by sand. No application for abatement for rent had been made under Chapter II of the act.

Held, that inasmuch as the defendant did not by his plea seek for an abatement of rent in the sense of Chapter VI namely a reduction permanently or for an indeterminate period of the rent payable for his holding, but only a remission or deduction from such rent for a particular year and in respect of such portions of the holding as were unculturable in that year, and inasmuch as remission could have been obtained in proceedings under Chapter II, the custom did not override any of the provisions of the Act, and must be given effect by the court trying the suit.

Bani Prasad Kuari v Dakkhi Rai
23 All 270=A W N 1901 69.

Abatement of execution-proceedings.

See Execution of decree.

Abatement of Nuisance.

See.

(1) Jurisdiction of Civil Court—Public ways-obstruction of.

(2) Nuisance

Abatement of part of claim.

See Relinquishment or omission to sue for portion Of claim

Abatement of Part of Rent.

See Abatement of Rent.

Abatement order of.

See appeal (Decrees).

Abatement

(1) ABATEMENT OF SUIT. (1-88)

(1) Lands washed away (1).
(2) Death of sole plaintiff (2-16).
(3) Insolvency of plaintiff (17-18).
(4) Survival of cause of action (19-88).

(2) ABATEMENT OF APPEAL (89-165)

(5) Death of appellant (89-96).
(6) Death of appellant—during pendency of appeal (97-112).
(7) Death of one of two joint decree-holders (113-114).
(8) Death of principal, pending appeal (115—116).
(9) Death of Respondent (117—165).

See cases under Right of.
Suit-Survival of Right

See also cases under:—

(1) Appeal—Orders
(2) Insolvency Act S 36.
(3) Right of suit—Survival of right.

Abatement of suits. Representatives of one of the respondents not brought on record—Abatement of appeal—See 5 Ind Cas 325.

Abatement of suits. Pre-emption—Sale of a pre-emptional decree—No cause of action for a fresh suit—Parties—Vendor not a necessary party—Abatement of appeal—See 134 P L R 1902=94 P R 1902.

Abatement of Suits. By husband for dissolution of marriage—Death of wife pending suit—Suit against correspondent, abatement of—See 60 P R 1906=69 P L R 1907.

Abatement of suit. Partition decree—Execution—Death of plaintiff—Abatement of suit—Application to set aside—Limitation—See 13 Bom L R 517.

(1) LANDS WASHED AWAY.

1.—Lands washed away—Suit for possession and mesne profits.

Abatement of suit (Lands washed away)-Concld.

A suit for possession with mesne prosfits does not abate by reason of the lands having since been washed away. Unna Poorna Debia v Ram Lochan Ghose 5 W R 227.

2. DEATH OF SOLE PLAINTIFF.

2.—Abatement of suit on death of sole plaintiff—Revivor Civil Procedure Code. Sections 363, 365,366,371-Limitation Act (XV of 1877) schedule II, Arts 171 and 178.

Upon the death of sole plaintiff, unless an application be made within 60 days from the plaintiff's death by the legal representative to have his name substituted upon the record.the suits abate under section 366 of the Code of Civil Procedure. But under section 371 of the Code, and Art 178 of Limitation Act (XV of 1877), the court may revive the suit on the application of the legal representative within three years from the time when the right to apply accrued, if can be proved that he was prevented by any sufficient cause from continuing the suit. Bhoyrub Dass Johurry v Doman Thokoor I L R 5 Cal 139=4 C L R 374.

Notes.—Ap: 9 Bom 275 Dist: 5 C L R 108

3.—Death of sole plaintiff after conclusion of cause, but before delivery of judgment—Decree drawn up in favour of deceased plaintiff-Material irregularity—Civil Procedure Code, 1882, sections 365. 366.

In a certain case after evidence had been taken and arguments heard on the 28th and 29th September 1897, the District Judge on the 2nd November 1897 gave the (sole) plaintiff a decree for the property claimed, and at the foot of his judgment recorded the following note:

"It having been brought to my knowledge "that plaintiff has died in the interim, I deliver "judgment notwithstanding, being guided by "I L R XXI Bom 314 and the authorities quo-"ted therein, defendant's counsel agreeing." Defendant applied to Chief Court on the Revision Side to set aside the said decree.

Held, that under the circumstances of the present case there had been a disregard of the provisions of the Civil Procedure which had materially prejudiced the defendant inasmuch as she could not appeal against a dead person and had no right of appeal against his heirs who were not on the record and was moreover, deprived of the possibility of the suit being allowed to abate in consequence of no application under Section 365 civil Procedure code being made within the time allowed by law.

Abatement of suit (Death of sole plaintiff)-Contd.

Held, therefore, that the decree of the District Court must be set aside and the case remanded for dispossal in accordance with law with reference to Section 365 and 366 of the code.

Roe, C J.—A decree passed in favour of or against a dead person is not ipso facto a nullity. and all that can be said in such a case is that there has been a disregard of the provisions of the civil Procedure Code. Each case must be decided on its merits, and the decree should be set aside or maintained, as if the death occurred after decree, according as the disregard of procedure has or has not materially prejudiced the parties.

I L R XXI Bom 314, I L R VI Mad 180; I L R XV Mad 399; I L R XVII All 478 No; 31 P R 1886; No 7 P R 1889; and No 78 P R 1891 referred to. Bates v Prestage 20 P R 1898.

4.—C P C. O 22 r 3 (1) (1882 s. 365)-Appeal-Death of appellant—Representative not brought upon record—Decree. Where an appellant dies before the hearing of the appeal and his representative is not placed on the record, the decree passed by the appellate Court is a nullity: and if his legal representative applies within the prescribed period to have his name entered on the record the Court is bound, under S 365 of the Civil Procedure Code to enter his name Janardhan v Ramchandra 4 Bom L R 23=26 Bom 317.

5.—Power of Court.

If a sole appellant dies while his appeal is pending, the appellate Court cannot proceed to judgment in the appeal without the representatives of the deceased appellant being made a party to the record.

Lalji Sahai and another v Sukhi Lal and others 16 W N 91

6.—O. 22 r. 3 (1); O. 41 r. 25 (1882 Ss. 365, 566.)-Held, that a Court to which a case has been remanded under s. 566, Civil Procedure Code, has jurisdiction to act under s. 365 of the Code, and to do any act which may be necessary to carry out the order of remand. Salabat Singh v Ram Kishan. 7 O C 17.

Abatement of suit (Death of sole plaintiff)-Contd.

7—Civil Procedure Code (1859), s. 102 (1877) s, 371—Institution of fresh suit,—

Where a suit was declared abated in 1868 under s, 102 of Act VIII of 1859 for non-prosecution by the representative of deceased plaintiff,—Held that the Civil Procedure Code, s. 371, was no bar to a fresh suit instituted in 1880 on the same cause of action. Pallikunath Ramen Menon v. Mullankaji Sri Kumaran Nambudri. 3 Mad 31.

8-C P C. O 22, r. 9 (1), (2), (1882 S. 371)—Decree passed in a prior suit in favour of plaintiff after his death—Subsequent suit by plaintiff's legal representatives on the same cause of action—Whether maintainable. One R brought a suit against A and a decree was passed in plaintiff's favour, R's legal representatives brought the present suit on the same cause of action against A's representatives on the ground that R having died on the morning of the day on which judgment was pronounced the decree was a nullity.

Held, that the suit was not maintainable and that the decree passed in the former suit was only voidable at the plaintiff's instance and not void. (4 H and N 488; 19 Bom 807; 21 Bom 314 Ref to. 17 All 478: 26 Bom 317 Dist). Gada Coopooramaier v M, Soondararmall 6 M L T 271= 33 Mad 167.

9-C P C.O. 22 rr. 3 (1) 3 (2):9 (1) (2) (1882 Ss 365 366, 371)—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Art 175—Applications for abatement and revival heard together—Form of order of revival. An application for abatement and an application for revival of a suit were set down for hearing together. The latter was made after six months of the Plaintiff's death.

Held-That on the court's being satisfied that the legal representative of the deceased plaintiff was prevented by sufficient cause from continuing the suit, the proper order to pass was to declare the suit to have abated and then at once pass an order under sec. 371 of the C P C setting aside the abatement and reviving the suit. Ram Protab Chowdhry v. Lal Chand. 9 C W N 369.

10—Civil Procedure Code (1882), ss. 365, 366, 371—Revival of suit.—The plaintiff died on the 28th August 1883 and in December 1884, letters of administration to his estate were granted to the Administrator General. The defendant died in June 1884, leaving a widow and one son him surviving. By his will he appointed two executors. On the 3rd February 1885, the Administrator General took out a summons to revive the suit. Held, that notwithstanding the provisions of s. 365 of the Civil Procedure Code (XIV of 1882) and of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877), it was competent for a Judge in chambers to revive the suit by making an order for abatement under s. 366 of the Code, coupled with an order under s. 371 setting aside the order for abatement. Fulvahu v. Goculdas Vallabhdas. 9 Bom 275.

Abatement of suit (Death of sole plaintiff)-Contd.

11-C P C, O.22 rr 3 (1) 5 (1882 Ss.365 367)—Civil Procedure Code Act XIV of 1882 Ss. 365, 367, 371, 588 (18) 32-Plaintiff—Legal representative of deceased plaintiff—Objection to the legal representative—Nearest heir to the deceased—Appeal—Practice—Procedure. When a plaintiff dies the suit cannot proceed because there is none suing. The Legislature provides that his legal representative can come in his place; when he is allowed to come the defect is made up; there is a suit to proceed. The suit is then a suit on the merits. A Court has no jurisdiction after that stage has been reached to go back and enquire into the right of the legal representative to proceed with the suit side by side with an enquiry into the merits.

Where a person has once been admitted to the record as legal representative of a deceased plaintiff that person is a party and any dispute raised inter parties as to that substituted plaintiff's right of representation [not inheritance] so as to have such substituted plaintiff struck out comes properly under S. 32 and not under S. 367 of the Civ Pro Code

If S. 367 be read with S. 588 [18] of the Civ Pro Code, it becomes clear that the dispute contemplated in S. 367 is not an issue on the merits framed and recorded between a plaintiff and defendant. Balaba v. Ganesh 4 Bom L R 980 =27 Bom 162.

Notes.—Ref; 1 C W N 584.

12-C P C,O 22 r 3 (1) (1882 S.365)-Limitation-An application for the assessment of mesne profits is not a proceeding in execution of the decree, but merely a continuation of the original suit. 19 Cal 132 (F B) Fol. Debendra Nath v. Khirode Chandra 5 Ind Cas 279

Abatement of suit (Death of sole plaintiff)—Contd.

13—C P C, O 22 r. 3 (1)-O. 33 r. 2 5. 8, 75 (1881 ss. 365 403, 407 410, 413) pauper, right to be declared whether personal—Death of the applicant —Substitution right of the heir—Civil Procedure Code [Act XIV of 1882] Secs, 365, 403, 407, 410 and413 The right to obtain permission to sue as a pauper is only a personal right. So on the death of an applicant praying for such permission his legal representative cannot come in as such and ask to be substituted in his place There is a marked distinction between a right to sue and a right to make an application for permission to sue as a pauper, and this distinction is clearly indicated in section 413. of the Code of Civil Procedure. The right to make such an application is Obviously a personal right and cannot survive in the legal representative who may or may not be a pauper himself.

Lalit Mohan Mandal v Satish Chandra Das 4 C L J 234=33 Cal 1163

14—C P C, O 22 r. 5 (1882 S.367)—Abatement of suit—Appeal—Revision. Held, that where after the death of a plaintiff the Court on the application of his widow to be brought on the record in place of her deceased husband held that the right to sue not having survived to the applicant, she could not be brought on the record as the legal representative of the deceased and ordered the suit to be dismissed as having abated. The proper remedy for the widow was to appeal against that order and not to apply for the revision of the same. 18 Mad 496; 27 Bom 162 and 10 Bom 220 referred to. Mussammat Patraj Kuar v Bhaiya Janki Parshad. 9 O C 354

15—C P C, O. 22 r. 5 (1882 S.367)—Dispute as to who is the legal representative of a deceased plaintiff—Order admitting a person to be legal representative for the purpose of prosecuting the suit—Effect of such order.

S. 367 empowers the Court in a case where a dispute arises as to who is the legal representative of a deceased plaintiff, to appoint a legal representative for the purpose of prosecuting the suit, but the appointment of such legal representative is not a determination of any issue which is properly raised in the suit, and particularly (as for example, in a suit for partition of family property) such a vital issue as whether the deceased plaintiff was joint with or separate from the rest of his family. Parsotam Rao v Janki Bai A W N (1905) 206=28 All 109.

C C 3

Abatement of suit (Death of sole plaintiff)—Concld.

16.—Execution of Decree—Death of decree-holder—Abatement of execution proceedings—Admission of application to set aside abatement after time—Sufficient cause—Civil Procedure Code, 1882, Sections 365, 371, 372 A—Limitation Act, 1877, Section 5.

In an execution proceeding the decree-holder having died in September 1898, the judgment-debtor, on the 18th October 1899, obtained an order from the executing Court for the removal of the attachment on the ground that no application in accordance with the provisions of Section 365, Civil Procedure Code, had been made by the representatives of the deceased decree-holder within the prescribed period of limitation. The circumstances were that the decree-holder who was a Sikh Jat had died and left a will probate of which having been keenly contested by his heirs was not granted to the executors until April 1900. In May 1900 two out of the three executors filed an application, but the judgment-debtor contended that by sec. 365 of the Civil Procedure Code the application was timebarred.

Held, that the word "suit" includes all proceedings in a suit including the proceedings in execution, and that the executors were bound to make and capable of making the application at the time of the death of the testator, but that, under the peculiar circumstances of the case, there was sufficient cause preventing them from continuing the execution proceedings originated by the testator within the meaning of s. 371, Civ. Pro. Code and that therefore under the provisions of s. 372A Civil Procedure Code, and of s. 5 of the Limitation Act they were entitled to an extension of the time for making the application to set aside the abatement order.

(7 Bom 341) (9 P R 1901) (6 All 269) (63 P R 1900) referred to. Price v Golak Nath 39 P R 1903

(3) INSOLVENCY OF PLAINTIFF

17—Insolvency of plaintiff—Civil Procedure Code (1859), s. 106 (1882) s. 370—Order for security for costs by Official Assignee when made a party. S. 106 of the Civil Procedure Code means that a suit abates by the insolvency of the plaintiff, but that the defendant shall not plead the abatement without giving Official Abatement of suit (Insolvency of plaintiff)-Concld.

Assignee an opportunity of prosecuting the suit Where, therefore, the plaintiff after the institution of a suit, became insolvent and the defendant thereupon obtained an order that the Official Assignee should give security for the costs of the defendant within fourteen days, and should be made a party to the suit within one month, and that, in default of such security, the suit should be set down for dismissal within eight days after the expiration of the time so limited. Held that such order was irregular. Held, also, that the Official Assignee, having notice of the order was not entitled to the further notice of the setting down of the suit for dismissals he not having given the security required, and that the giving of such security was a condition precedent to his being made a party to the suit. Ibrahim Bin Mahasin v Abdur Rahiman Bin Alli. Gamble v Abdur Rahim Bin Alli. 12 B H C 257.

18—If an assignee, who has been substituted for the plaintiff under s. 106, Act VIII of 1859, declines to furnish security for costs within such reasonable time as the Court may order, the defendant may, within eight days after such neglect and refusal, plead the bankruptcy or insolvency of the plaintiff as a reason for abating the suit. Heera Lall Seal v Carapiet. 13 W R 431.

Notes:—Ref 9 B H C R 205.

(4) SURVIVAL OF CAUSE OF ACTION

19—Survival of cause of action During the pendency of a suit by a Hindu widow to recover possession of her husband's estate, the widow died.

Held, the cause of action was one which, from its very nature, survived on the death of the plaintiff, and therefore the suit did not abate.

Parbutty v Higgin. 17 W R 475
Parbutty v Brikun. 8 B L R Ap 98.

Notes—Ref 34 Cal 294; 11 C W N 501; 6 C L J 547; 12 C W N 590; Fol 35 Cal 756 F B =7 C L J 666=12 C W N 682.

20—C P C, S. 361—Suit for declaration of right as member of caste—Death of plaintiff.

Plaintiff who sued for a declaration of his right as a member of a caste to worship an idol, died and his son was entered by the Lower Court on the record as his heir.

Abatement of suit (Survival of cause of Action)-Contd.

Held, that as the claim was not based on any hereditary right, but on a right arising from membership in the caste, which by its nature vested in the son before the death of the father, no right survived to the son as he had enjoyed it independently of the father, and the suit abated. Chimanaji v Parshotam. 90 P J 219.

21—C P C, O 22 rr 1, 5 (1882 Ss. 361 & 97) -Party to suit—Death—Right to sue—Abatement.

By the terms of a consent decree it was provided that any right, title and interest which the plaintiff's grandmother, father and uncle had in certain family properties should be released and conveyed to defendant 1, their mortgagee; and a conveyance accordingly was passed in terms of the decree. The plaintiff, who was a minor then, was not made a party to the consent decree or the conveyance. He subsequently brought a suit to have his rights declared against defendant 1. While this suit was pending the plaintiff died leaving a widow and daughter. Defendant 1 contented that the suit abated by reason of plaintiff's death as plaintiff's right had passed to him. Held that the right to sue survived as it was an interest in property, Dharamsi v Narotam 5 Bom L R 1041.

22—C P C, O rr 3 (2), 5. s.104, O, 43, r. 1 (1882 Ss. 366, 367 588 cl. 18.)

The order of abatement of suit under the first paragraph of s. 366 might be treated as an order under s. 367, which is appelable under s. 588 cl. (18). Karta in a joint Hindu family must be with the consent of the adult members. If, other members of the family do not join with the descendants of a karta in carrying on the suit, the latter are entitled to carry on a suit brought by him for recovery of a property against the trespasser for the benefit of the whole family. 10 Bom 220; 27 Bom 152; 19 Mad 496; 2 N L R 7; 17 All 172; 17 Mad 209. 27 Mad 112. Ref 9 O C 354 followed. Pandit Ikbal Narain v Pandit Ratan Lal. 10 O C 121.

23A—C P C. O XXII, r 3 (1)—Suit by Hindu widow—Death of plaintiff—Begal representative—Reversioner.

Where a Hindu widow died after the institution of a suit to recover property belonging to her deceased husband, the reversionary heirs of her husband, being her legal representatives, should be brought upon the record. 9 M I A 543; 2 W R (P C) 31; 23 Cal 636; 20 All 341, Fol.

Abatement of suit (Survival of cause of Action)-Contd.

Rikhai Rai Sheopujan Singh. 7 Ind Cas 97=7 A L J 960.

24—C P C, O. 22 r 5; s 104; O 43 r 1 (1882 Ss.367, 588, (18) C P C order abating a suit s. 367, Cri. Pro. Code.)

Order deciding that the right to sue does not survive, is appealable. An order directing that a suit shall abate is not a decree nor appealable as such. Where a person applies to have his name entered on the record in place of the deceased plaintiff, and the Court decides that the right to sue does not survive the decision is to be regarded as come to under s. 367 C P C so that an appeal lies under s. 588 (18). 10 Bom 220, 17 All 172, 27 Mad 112; 18 Mad 496, 27 All 162; 11 Cal 6 ref. to. Tejnath Dube v Loknath Dube 2 N L R 7.

25-C P C, O 22 r 3 (1); The Second Schedule (1882 ss. 365, 523)—Arbitration, contract to refer to—Rule of Court—Death of one party, effect of—Revocation of contract only for just and sufficient cause—Leave of Court-Abatement of Arbitration.:—

Under the English common law the authority of an arbitrator may at any time before the award is made, be revoked at the pleasure of any party to the submission, whether such submission be by agreement in writing, bond deed or Judge's order at nisiprius. Such authority is, therefore, revoked in England by the death of any one of the parties to the submission 15 R R 580; 7 Taunt 57; referred to. This rule of English common law has not been followed in India so that contracts to submit to the decision of an arbitrator are not revocable at the mere will or pleasure of the parties. 8 M H C R 46 followed. A submission which has not been made a rule of court is not revocable without just and sufficient cause, and a submission which has been made a rule of court can be revoked only with the leave of court for good cause shown. 12 M I A 112, referred to. Where an uncle and his nephew who were members of a joint family entered into an agreement in writing to submit their disputes relating to the partition of their joint property to the decision of some arbitrators, and the uncle applied under s. 523 to have the agreement filed and the application was registered and numbered as a suit, but pending the proceedings before the arbitrators the uncle died and his daughter's son, alleging to be the adopted son of the deceased, applied to continue the suit:—Held (1) that the suit did not abate; (2) that the contract of submission not being personal to the deceased, was not revoked by the death of one of the parties; and (3) that the procedure prescribed in s.367, C P C, was the one that should have been adopted. Venkata Satyanarayana v Venkata Rangayya. 13 M L J 311= 27 Mad 112.

Abatement of suit (Survival of cause of Action)-Contd.

Notes:—Ref. (1908) W N 228=30 All 505= 5 A L J 658.

26—Suit by son to set aside father's alienation of ancestral property—Death of son—Hindu mother.

Where a Hindu minor, governed by the law of the Mitakshara, on whose behalf a suit to set aside his father's alienation of ancestral property had been instituted, died,—Held that no right to sue survived in favour of his mother, but the suit abated. Padarath Singh v Reja Ram 1882 W N 29=4 All 235

Notes—Ref 19 Mad 345; 9 All 121 F B 26 Bom 597, 24 All 211, 217, 12 C W N 815.

27—C P C, O 22 r 1 (1882-S.361)-Abatement-Redemption suit by an unmarried daughter—Plaintiff suing as sole heir—Death of plaintiff—Right of married sister to continue the suit.

One Mussammat Prabhawati, sister of the respondent Mussammat Durga sued the appellant for redemption of a mortgage, executed by the Mussammat's father in favour of the appellant on the ground that she as an unmarried daughter, had obtained the sole right to the property of her father to the exclusion of her married sister to whom along with herself, when a minor, the mortgaged property had, in a previous litigation between the parties interested in the mortgage, been surrendered by the order of the court, which had held the mortgage debt to have been satisfied. In the present suit, Mussammat Durga was made a Pro forma defendant. Mussammat Prabhawati having died during the pendency of the suit, Mussammat Durga applied to have her name removed from the array of defendants and substituted as plaintiff.

Held, that the right claimed by Mussammat Prabhawati being a personal right and adverse to that of her sister. Mussammat Durga, the suit abated after Mussammat Prabhawati's death and Mussammat Durga could not get her name substituted as plaintiff and continue the suit.

Abatement of suit (Survival of cause of Action)-Contd.

Balak Puri v Mussammat Durga. 4 A L J 783=30 All 49=1908 W N 6= 3 M L T 181.

28—Mother, share of—Reversion—Right to sue, survival.

The right of the mother to a share of the father's properties, on a partition among the sons, is in lieu of maintenance, and such share on her death, reverts to the sons. Where the mother brought a suit against the sons for her share of certain Government Promissory Notes, which had been partitioned amongst themselves by them.

Held, on her death, the right to sue did not survive in her executor. 13 Cal 336, Fol 31 Cal 497 Ref. Tripura Sundari Debi v Dakhina Mohan Roy. 5 C L J 310= 11 C W N 698

29—Suit by son contesting alienation by father of ancestral land—Death of son pending suit—Suit does not abate-Right of reversioner to continue suit—Civil Procedure Code ss. 351 and 367—Jats of Amritsar District—Migration from Rajputana-Customary Law of Punjab & not the Hindu Law governs the parties,

Held, also that the restraint on the alienation by a father of ancestral land applied equally to alienation by him to ancestral houses, gardens and shops. 27 Bom 162,(168-169) Fol 10; I A 150 97 P R 1893, 18 P R 1895; (F B), 55 P R 1903 (F B)=117 P L R 1903, 27 Mad 588: 15 I A 156 22 All 33 F B and 382 and 24 Mad 405 Refd. to. Ram Rakha v Balwant Singh 59 P L R1905 =58 P R 1905.

30—Personal cause of action,

Held, that under the circumstances the suit which had arisen on account of some illegal act of the widow, had abated on her death pending the suit and the question as to the plaintiff's reversionary right which was raised by an intervenor, must be decided in a separate suit. Ramjun v Lachee. 1 Agra 49.

31-Abatement of declaratory suit brought by reversioner on his death—Reversioner, death of—Hindu Law—Declaratory suit.

A suit was brought by a reversioner for a declaration that certain alienation made by a Hindu widow had been made without necessity and were ineffectual beyond her life-time. The reversioner died during the pendency of the suit and the name of the son of the reversioner was entered on the record in place of his father. Held, that there being no privity of estate between one reversioner and another, each must claim in his own right from the last male-holder of the estate. Held also, that the right of a contingent reversioner to maintain a declaratory suit does not survive to the person who on the plaintiff's death becomes the next reversioner and that such a suit abates on the death of the original plaintiff. Bhola v Mussammat Moona. 8 O C 124.

32.—B—Hindu Law—Reversioner's suit-suit for declaration of invalidity of alienation decree in favour of reversioner—Death of plaintiff Reversioner pending appeal—Abatement.—A reversioner brought a suit for possession of properties and in the alternative for a declaration that certain alienations by the widow will not bind the reversion. The lower courts declared the alienations invalid and gave a decree, for possession. The plaintiff reversioner died pending appeal by defendant. Held, that the suit for the declaration did not abate, the suit being on behalf of all the reversioners.

Muthuswami Mudli v Masilamani. 20 M L J 49.

33—C P C O XXII. r. 1—'Right to sue'-Meaning of—Application for probate by executor—Death of executor—Right of leagal representative of executor to continue proceedings and obtain letters of administration—Abatement of suit. S, the sole executor as well as the residuary legatee under the will of A, deceased, applied for probate of the said will. On a caveat entered by N, the cause was set down as contentious and pending the hearing, S died, and P, his sole widow and heiress, applied that her name, as his sole widow and heiress, might be substituted for his name, and that the petition for probate might be amended by substituting a prayer for letters of administration with copy of the will annexed instead of a prayer for probate.

Held, that the right to sue did not survive to the widow of the executor and that the suit abated.

Abatement of suit (Survival of cause of Action)- Contd.

The right to sue, in O XXII, means the right to bring a suit, asserting a right to the same relief which the deceased plaintiff asserted at the time of his death, and that a right to obtain probate of a will is a right different in its nature from a right to be appointed by the Court to administer the deceased's estate.

Sarat Chandra Banerjee v Nani Mohan Banarjee. 36 Cal 799.

34.—C P C S. 367. K, a Mahant, brought a suit against his disciple N to have deed of gift executed by him in favour of N declared null and void. Before the defendant filed his reply, K died and B applied to be substituted for the deceased. The lower Court held that the cause of action had not survived and struck off the case. Held, that the cause of action did survive to B if he proved himself to be the legal representative of K and the Court must proceed under section 367 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

Ballabh Das v Narain Das 1885 A W N 7.

35.—Act VIII of 1859, section 100, (1882) Sec 362.—A and B, as joint owners of certain land, brought an action for damages on account of trespass. B died after action was brought. Held, that the cause of action survived to A. Semble.—The words " cause of action " in sec. 100 of Act VIII of 1859 mean right to bring an action Chundermohun Dutt v Bishwambhur Laha: 1 B L R, O. C. 42.

36.—Abatement of suit.—Joint vendees—Suit by both—Death of one of the vendees pending suit—Representative—C P C 363—Where certain property was purchased by two vendees, each taking a half share, and a suit was brought by them jointly for possession of the property, but during the pending of the suit one of the vendees died and his personal representatives were not made parties to the record. Held (per Banerji, J) that the surviving plaintiff was not entitled to obtain a decree for possession of the portion of the property to which he had no right. (Per Richards,) That he was entitled to carry on the litigation and to obtain a decree for the whole, the rights of the heirs of the deceased plaintiff being ascertained by an agreement or a suit between those heirs and the surviving plaintiff. Kanjumal v Gauri Shanker. 3 A L J 30.

Abatement of suit (Survival of cause of Action)—Contd.

37-C P C, O 22, rr.3 (1), 3 (2), 5 (1882 Secs. 365 366, 367)—An objection that a person is not the legal representative must be taken at the earliest opportunity and before he is entered on the record as the legal person's name representative. When once the name of a person is entered on the record under S. 365, C. P. C. in the place of the deceased plaintiff as the latter's representative, the court is bound to proceed with the suit. No order for abatement can be passed after the legal representative's name is entered on the record. Meenatchi Achi v Ananthanarayana. Aiyar. 12 M L J 380= 26 Mad 224.

38—C P C, O. 22, r. 1 (1882 Sec.361) -Abatement of suit—Principal and Agent—Suit by Agent on behalf of undisclosed principal—Death of Agent —Agent's representatives not brought on record —No right to Principal to continue the suit :— Where an agent, suing on behalf of an undisclosed principal, dies pending the suit, the suit should, after the death of the agent, be continued, if it can be continued at all, by the agent's representatives and not by the principal. Cause title does not suffice to make the suit one on behalf of the principal (22 Bom 672 Dist.).

Periannan Chettiar v Rangachi Reddy. 17 M L J 116.

39.—Advances by partners—Rights regarding the advances made by him to the partnership—Account—Plaintiff's death—Defendant becoming plaintiff—Practice and Procedure.—A firm, owned by a joint Hindu family consisting of father and son, plaintiff and defendant 2, made advances to a partnership of which defendant 2 was one of the partners. Plaintiff brought a suit to recover the advances made from all the partners and the surety including defendant 2 The lower Court passed a decree against the defendants. One of the partners and the surety preferred an appeal to the High Court : and while the appeal was pending plaintiff died. At this, defendant 2, who thereby became the sole owner of the firm, was substituted in plaintiff's place :

Held, (1) that the fact that defendant 2 was partly interested both as creditor and debtor rendered the suit unmaintainable so far as his share was concerned, but it could not stand in the way of the Court's adjusting the rights of the parties in accordance with the rule of justice, equity and good conscience.

Abatement of suit (Survival of cause of Action)-Contd.

(2) that as defendant 2 became the sole creditor and plaintiff owing to plaintiffs death pending the appeal, he was entitled only to such relief as would have been possible and he occupied that position at the institution of the suit; that therefore, defendant 2 was only entitled to credit in the partnership account his share as well as the share which descended to him at plaintiff's death but not entitled to any decree in the present suit either against the partners or the surety. Rustomjee v Purshotamdas. (3 Bom L R 227.)

40.—C P C. O XXII, r. 6—Death of plaintiff—Case adjourned for arguments—Arguments heard without plaintiff's heirs as parties—Decree passed therein is a nullity. After evidence on both sides in a case was adduced. the case was adjourned for hearing arguments. Between those two dates, the plaintiff died. The arguments in the case, however, were heard without making the heirs of the plaintiff parties to the suit, and the suit proceeded to judgment and decree. The defendant appealed against the decree but the appeal was subsequently withdrawn. When the decree was sought to be executed against him the defendant contended that the decree was a nullity and therefore incapable of execution. Held, (1) that the decree was passed without jurisdiction, and therefore, a nullity; (2) that the withdrawal of appeal by defendant did not in any way validate the decree. Vishvanath Dnyanoba v Lallu Kabla. 11 Bom L R 1070

41.—In a suit to recover possession of timber, the first defendant had ceased to have any interest, and after the settlement of the issues he died. Held, that the cause of action against the other defendants survived, and that the first defendant having no interest in the subject of suit, it was not necessary that the suit should be revived against his representatives.

Moung Khine v Burn. 6 W R, Civ Ref. 2

42.—Lunatic Defendant—Abatement of suit until appointment of Manager—Act XXXV of 1858. The defendant was sane when he contracted the debt sued upon, but became insane before the suit was instituted. Held, that his wife could not be summoned as his legal representative to appear and defend until she had been appointed manager of her husband's estate under Section 9 of Act XXXV of 1858, and that until the appointment of a manager, the suit must abate. Ghassee Khan v Eldred. P R 89 of 1869.

Abatement of suit (Survival of cause of Action)-Contd.

43.—C. P. C. O. 22 rr. 3 (1) 10, (1)—Ss. 365, 372) —Legal representatives—"Pending suit" —Consent decree for sale:—In a suit a consent decree was made which provided that a certain sum of money should be paid by a defendant to the plaintiff within a specified time, that the same should form a charge on certain property mentioned, and that in case of default, the property should be sold for the realization of the money. The defendant, the promisor, having died the plaintiff applied to have the names of his representative substituted in the place of the deceased defendants. Held: (1) that the decree was similar to a mortgage decree, viz, directing property to be sold on non-payment of the amount due within a specified time. (2) that such a decree was not a final one, (3) that plaintiff had to apply in the same suit for a sale order, (4) that therefore, the suit was pending one, and (5) the application for substitution can be made and sucessfully entertained in the same suit. Where an order is not final, liberty to apply to the Court is implied without its being expressly reserved in the order. Kissory Lal Chowdhury v Raja Sewbux Bogla. 13 C W N 787.

44.—C P C, O. 22, r. 4; O 1 rr. 8 (2), 10, (2) (3) (5), 11 (1882 Ss. 368, 32)—Application for substitution to deceased defendant—Substitution of heirs under S. 368—Subsequent knowledge of probate of will—Substitution of executors in place of heirs—Bona-fides—Limitation. Where an applicant obtained substitute of names of the heirs of a deceased defendant under Sec 368 C P C, through want of sufficient information that probate of the will of the deceased had been granted, and subsequently applied, more than 6 months after death, to have the names of the said heirs struck out and that of executors substituted:—Held, that the application was one under S. 32, C. P. C. and that even under S. 368, C. P. C., it was not barred as the applicant has throughout had a bona-fide desire to effect substitution of the proper legal representatives and had shown sufficient cause for delay.

Syed Hossein Ali v Abdur Rahim 7 C W N 529

Abatement of suit (Survival of cause of Action)-Contd.

45—Act X of 1859, s. 20 (Beng Act VIII of 1869, s. 21).—

A cause of action accruing against an agent for money received and accounts kept, falling within the class mentioned in s. 20, Act X of 1859, survives the death of the agent. Hills v Shokhee Monee Dossee, 10 W R 59.

46—C P C, O. 21 r. 16; O. 22 r. 4 (1882 Ss. 232 and 368)—Application by transferee of decree to bring in defendant's representative on record—Limitation Act, Art. 179, cl. 4—Step-in—aid of execution.

There is nothing in S. 232 of the Code to prohibit the transferee of a decree, from applying for and obtaining an order, under s. 368 of the Code, to bring in the representatives of defendant on record. Such an application is a step-in-aid of execution. Mahalinga Moopanar v. Kuppanchariar, 17 M L J 485=3 M L T 21.

47—Suit by original mortgagor against mortgagee and sub-mortgagee—Death of mortgagee pending suit — Civil Procedure Code (1882), S. 368.—

Plaintiff sued to redeem a mortgage passed by his deceased father to defendant No. 1, and joined defendant No. 2 as being the sub-mortgagee of defendant No. 1 and in possession of the property. After suit, defendant No. 1 died, and no steps were taken by the plaintiff within time to make his legal representatives parties. The suit was, however, allowed to be continued against defendant No. 2, and a redemption decree was passed in plaintiff's favour:—Held, on second appeal, that defendant No. 2 being the sub-mortgagee, and not the assignee of defendant No. 1, on the death of the latter, no cause of action survived to the plaintiff against defendant No. 2, and the suit abated under s. 368 of the Civil Procedure Code.

Padgaya v. Baji Babaji Moholkar. 20 Bom 549.

Notes:—Con: 20 Mad 35. Ref: 10 C L J 470.

48—C. P. C. O. 22 rr. 3, 5—Representation of deceased defendant—Executor not substituted—Decree passed against heirs if binding on the estate:—

B, one of the defendants in a money suit brought by P, died during pendency of the suit leaving a will in favour of the plaintiff in the present suit. On P's application the heirs of B were substituted as defendants in her place and the plaintiff's application for substitution of his own name was rejected as he had not obtained probate of B's will. A decree was passed ex parte and the property sold in execution thereof:—Held, that the estate of B was not properly represented in the suit and so far as the estate covered by the will was concerned it was not affected by the decree or the sale. (9 Bom 86; 9 C W N 201 S C. 32 Cal 296; 32 I A 23; 22 Cal 903 Fol: 4 Cal 342; 30 Cal 1044 Dist) Harish Chandra Biswas v. Praidas Das, 14 C W N 1041.

Abatement of suit (Survival of cause of Action)-Contd.

49—C P C O. 22 r. 4 (1882 S. 368)—Legal Representative—Person brought on record—Wrong person—Effect of:—

Under S. 368 of the Civil Procedure Code, a person whom the plaintiff alleges to be the legal representative of the deceased defendant and whose name the court enters upon the record in the place of such defendant sufficiently represents the estate of the deceased for the purposes of the suit and a decree passed in such suit will in the absence of fraud or collusion bind the estate though the person entered on the record is not the true representative or is only one of several representatives. A person prosecuting or defending a suit of a deceased party will be accountable to others who like himself are also the legal representatives or to the true legal representative.

Kadir Mohideen Marakkayur v. Muthukrishna Aiyar. 12 M L J 368=26 Mad 230.

Notes:—Fol: 28 Mad 420. Ref: 19 M L J 671.

50—C P C, O. 22 r. 4; S. 104; O. 43 r. 1 (1882 Ss. 368, 588 cl. 18.)—Penultimate clause—Order of abatement—Appeal—Death of one of several defendants—Election to proceed against survivors.

Though the penultimate clause in S. 368 does not in words require an order of abatement by Court, an order is necessary declaring that the suit has abated: and an appeal lies from such order under cl. 18 of S. 588. A mortgagee is entitled to waive his right to proceed against a surety and restrict himself to his right against the mortgagor and consequently when the surety dies after being impleaded in the suit along with the mortgagor, the mortgagee need not bring in the legal representatives of the deceased surety on record, but may proceed against the rest.

Mehdi Hussain v. Sughra Begam, 1903 A W N 15=25 All 206.

Abatement of suit (Survival of cause of Action)-Contd.

Notes:—The new code does not allow an appeal against an order of abatement.

51—C P C. O. 22 r. 4 (1882 S. 368)—Death of defendant—Time for joining his representatives—Dismissal of suit—Whether appeal lies.

Where in the course of an action the defendant died and the Munsiff dismissed the suit without giving sufficient time to join as defendants the representatives of the deceased defendant.

Held, that the course taken by the Munsiff was not an order under sec. 368 or any other section of the Civil Procedure Code, and that the proceedings of the Munsiff amounted to a decree and an appeal lay to the District Judge. 18 Mad 496 Fol: Muthu Alagappa Chetti v. Selia Pillai, 3 M L T 327.

52-C P C Ss.362, 368—Redemption suit-Parties.

In a redemption suit, defendant No. 1 the mortgagee, assigned all his rights under the mortgage to defendant No. 2, and died. Held, that his representatives were not necessary parties to the suit, and s 362 and not s 368 applied.

Nagesh v. Waman....., 88 P J 191.

53—C P C O 22 r. 4 (1882 Sec. 368)—Dispute as to who is legal representative—Procedure in execution applicating—Validity of sale.

Where there are two or more claimants to the estate of a deceased judgment-debtor, held that the decree-holder may apply for execution against any one of them whom he honestly and reasonably believes to be the same legal representative and if his interests in respect of the proceedings are identical with that of his rivals and if he acts without fraud or collusion he represents the estate even though it is decided subsequently that he has not the proper representative. (14 Mad 454; 20 Mad 230; 30 Cal 1044 Ref. to; 32 Cal 296 Expl 17 Mad 186 Dist 15 Mad 399 at 400, Not Appl)

Ramaswami Chetiar v. Oppilamani Chetti. 6 M L T 269=33 Mad 6=19 M L J 671= 4 Ind Cas 1059.

54—C P C. O 22 r.4; S 50 (1882 Ss 368, 108, 234)—Ex parte decree against a defendant—Application by representatives of the defendant to be brought on record, maintainability of. An exparte decree was passed against a defendant in a suit. An application was made, after the death of such defendant, by his representatives, praying to set aside the decree under S. 108 of the Code and to add them (the representatives) as the legal representatives of the original defendant. Held, where a defendant dies before a decree, S. 368 of the Code provides for an application by the representatives of the deceased defendant to be brought on record. In this case, the defendant died after decree. The section applicable after decree is 234 of the Code, which does not authorise any application to be made by the representatives of the deceased judgment-debtor to bring them on the record but only authorises the plaintiffs to make such an application. S. 108 of the Code only authorises applications by the defendant against whom an ex—parte decree has been made. Therefore, the application could not be entertained. Sambasiva Chetti v. Veera Perumal Mudali, 28 Mad 361.

Abatement of suit (Survival of cause of Action)-Contd.

55—Mother's interest on—Partition — Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) S. 361 ill (c).—D, a Hindu Mother was allotted a one-third share of certain properties on partition. A suit was brought by her for a relief, restraining the defendant from encroachments on her share. The defendant compromised by an agreement to purchase her share of the property. The question of the value of her share was to be decided by the arbitrators. After the award of the arbitrators was filed but before a decree could be drawn thereon, D died leaving two sons. The sons obtained an ex parte order to revive the suit in their own names. On the defendants application to set aside the ex parte order as the suit abated on the death of D it was, held, that on account of the death of D the suit did not abate, and the right of action on the award survived to the sons. 4 C W N 280 Affirmed in appeal in.

Chooney Money Dassee v. Ram Kinkur Dutt, 28 Cal 155=5 C W N 242.

55A—C P C. O. 1, r. 10-Partition-decree-Execution—Death of plaintiff — Abatement of suit—Application to set aside abatement — Limitation Act (IX of 1908). Art. 171 — Court — Inherent Powers—All parties to be before Court in partition-suit—Addition of parties.

In a partition-suit, a decree was passed on the 5th April 1892 on a compromise One Revchand who was a defendant in the suit died on 18th October, 1893, leaving him surviving a minor son named Lukhmichand who attained majority on the 7th February 1907. He made an application on the 16th April 1910 for bringing him on the record and for issuing a commission to effect a partition according to the rights declared in the partition-decree

Abatement (suit)

4 SURVIVAL OF CAUSE OF ACTION-Contd.

Held, (1) that the suit abated, as soon as the C P. C. of 1908 came into force, so far as regarded the applicant's father who was a party, and the application to set aside the abatement by adding the applicant as the legal representative, not having been made within sixty days, was barred by article 171 of the Limitation Act of 1908.

(2) that, in a partition suit, all the parties should be before the Court, and there was nothing in the C. P. C. (Act V of 1908) limiting or affecting the inherent power of the Court to make such orders as might be necessary for the ends of justice, and under O. 1, r. 10, the Court might, at any stage of the proceedings, order that the name of any person, whose presence might be necessary in order to enable the Court effectually and completely to adjudicate upon and settle all the questions involved in the suit, be added.

Lakhmichand Rewachand v. Kachubhai Gulabchand, 13 Bom L R 517.

56—Plaintiff sued R for damages for wrongful arrest and prosecution. R died pending the suit. Held, that the suit was not one to which Act XII of 1855 could be applied, the alleged wrong having been committed more than a year before R's death, and that as the wrong did not benefit the estate of R, the remedy could not be pursued against his representative, but the suit must abate. Haridas Ramdas Lakhasa v. Ramdas Mathuradas, P J (1889), 53= I L R 13 Bom 677.

Notes:—Dist: 26 Bom 597. Ref: 8 M L J 180. 31 Cal 406. Fol: 28 Mad 487.

57—C. P C. O. 22. r 10 (1882 S. 372)—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) Sec. 372—Parties, Substitution of-Assignment of the rights of a plaintiff—Substitution of assignee—Limitation Act (XV of 1877). S. 22.

When the name of the plaintiff is removed from the record and that of his assignee substituted in its place, the provisions of section 22 of the Limitation Act are applicable and the suit must be dismissed if it is barred at the date when such substitution takes place. (25 Cal 409 Appr: 5 Cal 720 Disapproved and Distd.

Abdul Rahaman v. Amir Ali, 5 C L J 486= 11 C W N 521 (F B)=34 Cal 612= 2 M L T 312.

58—C. P. C. O. 22 r. 10 (S. 50) (Ss. 372, 234) —"Assignment, creation or devolution of any interest"—Transferree of interest—Pending suit—Execution against assignee of personal decree against assignor:—

A & Co were sued by B and pending the suit the business of A & Co were sold to C, but A & Co continued to manage the business of C as C's agent. A personal decree was obtained against A & Co. and execution was sought to be had against C as A & Co's representative. Held, that neither S. 234 nor S. 372 applied, there having been no assignment, creation or devolution of any interest, within the meaning of the section, the liability not being a proper subject of an assignment. (30 Cal 261 Fol).

Arbuthnot Industrials Ltd. v. Muthu Chettiar, 31 Mad 464.

59—C.P.C. S. 368—Suit for damages for malicious prosecution-Cause of action accruing in Foreign State, but suit instituted in British India—Discharge of plaintiff in former proceedings-Death of defendant pending appeal — Abatement of appeal — Civil Procedure Code, 1882, Sections 368, 582, and Act XII of 1855, Section 1—"Reasonable and probable cause".—

Upon a charge of theft, brought by defendant in the Courts of the Kalsia State, plaintiff was arrested and kept in custody for about six weeks, but was subsequently discharged after full enquiry had been made into the truth of defendant's allegations. Thereafter plaintiff instituted a suit in the District Court, Umballa, within the jurisdiction of which defendant was resident, for Rs. 3400 as damage for malicious prosecution. Defendant traversed the allegations in the plaint, and further pleaded that plaintiff could not sue in a British Court on a cause of action which had arisen in Kalsia State. The Court overruled this objection and awarded plaintiff Rs. 610 as damages, whereupon both parties appealed to the Chief Court. Pending the appeal, defendant died, and his son was brought on the record as his representative, and at the hearing it was contended on his behalf, (i) that plaintiff's appeal had abated on defendant's death; (ii) that plaintiff had not proved that the alleged malicious prosecution amounted to a tortious act lege loci delicti commissi (i. e., of the Kalsia State) as well as lege fori (i. e., of British India); (iii) that the former proceedings had not resulted in the acquittal, but merely in the discharge, of the plaintiff; and (iv) that, in any event, defendant had not acted without "reasonable and probable cause" in charging plaintiff with theft.

Abatement (suit)
4 SURVIVAL OF CAUSE OF ACTION-Contd.

Held, as to (i), that plaintiff's appeal did not abate on the death of defendant as aforesaid, as to (ii), that the plea not having been raised in the Lower Court in this form, could not be raised in the Chief Court on appeal; and as to (iii), that a discharge after full inquiry is better proof of the innocence of an accused person than an acquittal.

But held, upon the facts of the case, that plaintiff's suit for damages must be dismissed, inasmuch as defendant had not acted without reasonable and probable cause in charging plaintiff with theft.— Bhagwan Singh v. Pandit Joti, 4 P R 1897

60—C.P.C.O. 22 r. 10. 3 (1) (1882 Ss.372 and 365)—Meaning of 'other cases' in S.372-Mortgage decree—Order absolute for sale—Death of decree-holder pending suit—Application for substitution by legal representatives of a decree-holder if under S. 372, C. P. C. The words 'other cases' in S. 372, C. P. C., mean cases other than those specifically mentioned in the previous sections in Chapter XXI. If, therefore, the preceding sections, though they may have dealt with the event of death, have dealt so with particular cases only, other cases will fall under S. 372. S. 395, C. P. C., refers to death only as occurring before decree. A mortgage suit, even after a decree has been made and an order absoltute for sale has been passed, is a pending suit until the sale actually takes place, and an application made before sale by the legal representatives of the deceased decree-holder for substitution would fall within S. 372, C. P. C. 23 All 331, 334 ref. to.

Bhugwan Das Khettry v. Nilkanta Ganguli, 9 C W N 171

Notes:—Fol. 2 C L J 288; 13 C W N 787.

61—Where the Court appoints a receiver of the property of an insolvent judgment-debtor, it cannot discharge the insolvent until the receiver has made his report.

Chanmalapa v. Hari, 1887 P J 79.

62—C.P.C. O. 22 r. 10 (1882 S. 372) — Decree in mortgage suit assigned before passing order absolute for sale—Assignee of mortgage decree.

An assignee of a mortgage decree order absolute can be made a party under S. 372, C. P. C., to an appeal against his assignor; but he cannot raise any defence of the plea of limitation to the appeal which could not be raised by the assignors.

Chunni Lal v. Abdul Ali Khan, 23 All 331.

63—C. P. C. O. 22 r. 10 (1882 S 372) — C. P. C. —Pendency of mortgage suit—Objections under S. 372 not appealable.

No appeal lies against an order allowing objections under Section 372 C. P. C. A mortgage suit is to be considered pending within the meaning of S. 372, C. P. C, until the conditional decree is made absolute. 9 C W N 171 and 23 All 331 Ref. to. Fana v. Tetka, 2 N L R 178.

64.-C.P.C.O 22 r 10 (1882 S.372)-"Assignment creation &c., of interest"— "Interest".The assignment by a judgment-debtor company of its liabilities to another company, the transaction is no assignment, creation or devolution of interest within the meaning of S 372. The interest referred to in the section is interest in the property which is the subject matter of the suit.

Harsih Chandra Tewary v Chandpore Company Limited 30 Cal 961.

NOtes:—Fol: 31 Mad 464=4 M L T 190.

65.—Reversioners—Contingent reversionary heir. Where a cause of action accrues to a contingent reversionary heir and is barred as against him, it is barred as against all the successive reversionary heirs. Jamnabai v Dharsey 4 Bom L R 893.

Notes:—Dist: 13 M L J 360.

66—Res judicata.—The abatement of suit under S 371 of the Civil Procedure Code has no other effect than that of preventing the plaintiff or those claiming under him from suing again on the same cause of action. The section does not say that the title of the plaintiff or those claiming under him is extinguished by such abatement and that in any suit, brought not by but against him, the plaintiff cannot defend his possession or rights by relying upon his true title. The abatement of a suit under S 371 has not the same effect as res judicata under S 13 of the Civil Procedure Code. Jayasing v Gopal 6 Bom L R 638

Abatement (suit)
4 SURVIVAL OF CAUSE OF ACTION Contd.

67.—C P C O 22—Substitution application for —Privy Council Appeal—Death of parties after final admission and before transmission of record After the final order for admission of an appeal to His Majesty in Council has been made by the High Court, and before the transcript of the record has been transmitted to England, the High Court has power to entertain an application for substitution of the legal representatives of parties who have died meanwhile. Order 22 of the Civil Procedure Code, 1908, has no application to this matter. No question of limitation can consequently arise. Any order for substitution made by the High Court, however is subject to the rules of the Judicial Committee and such directions as may be given by their Lordships at the hearing of the appeal.

The history of the practice in this matter reviewed. Jadunandan Koer v Ramjiban Lal 10 C L J 331

68.—C P C O 22 r 10 (S 372)—S 372 not applicable to execution proceedings. Mumotha Nath Mitter v Rakhal Chandra Tewari 11 C W N 752.

69.—C P C O 22 r 10 (1882 S. 372)—'Devolution of interest'—Interpretation. The phrase "devolution of interest" in S 372 of the Civil Procedure Code is not confined in its meaning to devolution by death. The legislature intended by this section to provide for all cases not falling within the foregoing sections as to devolution by assignment marriage or death. Macleod v Kisson 6 Bom L R 995.

70.—(Act XIV of 1882),—S. 366—Legal representatives—Wrong representative brought on record—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908). Order 22, rule 3, cl. [1]—Abatement. A bona fide application to bring the legal representatives (though the wrong persons) of a deceased defendant on record is an application made to the Court within the meaning of section 366 of the old Code, Order 22 rule 3, sub-rule [1] of the new Code, as not to cause the suit to abate. 22

Abatement (suit)
4 SURVIVAL OF CAUSE OF ACTION-Contd.

Mad 125 Appl. 26 Mad 230; 27 Bom 162 Ref. Mallaprajadu v Veeraragava Row 7 M L T 43=5 Ind Cas 514.

71.—C P C O 22, r 4 (1882 S 368) Ejectment suit against several trespassers—Death of one of the defendants-Abatement of suit-Withdrawal of suit with consent of surviving defendants. In a suit for ejectment against several trespassers, the death of one of the defendants, does not cause the suit to abate against the surviving defendants. The right to sue survives against them so far as their interests are concerned.

Where, after the death of one of the defendants, the suit was withdrawn with the consent of the remaining defendants and the Court granted leave to plaintiff to bring a fresh suit: Held, that the leave was not non est by reason of the second defendant's representatives not having consented to the withdrawal, but was operative till set aside on review or revision. 33 Cal 580; 34 Cal 1020, 11 C W N 1100, 6 C L J 715; Fol. 31 Cal 487; 8 C W N 442; 31 I A 71 Dist. Perumal v Pichan 8 Ind Cas 268.

72.—Abatement of suit— C P C O 22 r. 10 (S 372) Insolvency pending suit on mortgage—Official Assignee not made a party not bound—Devolution of interest of judgment-debtor or Official Assignee.

Sec 372, Civil Procedure, applies to the devolution of interest by operation of law or in invitum and an Official Assignee in whom the rights of the insolvent are vested during the pendency of a suit can be properly made a party under Ss 32 and 372, Civil Procedure Code (18 Cal 43 Dist).

Where a person is adjudicated an insolvent pending a suit brought against him, which is a purely an action in personam the Official Assignee is not a proper party. S. 372, Civil Procedure Code, has no relation to such a case as the section only relates to the case of an assignment pending suit of an interest in the subject matter of the suit. (18 Cal 43; 22 Cal 259) Appr. Punithavela Mudaliar v Bhashyam Aiyangar 12 M L J 282=25 Mad 46.

Notes—Dist; 26 Mad 230; Ref 9 C W N 14; Dist: 12 M L J 368.

73. C P C O 22 r 4 (1882-S 368)-Death of defendant—Power to adjourn. A Court has no power to adjourn a suit for trial when it is shown that one of the defendants died leaving legal representatives and cause of action did not survive solely to the surviving defendants. The Court cannot proceed further with the suit until the course prescribed in S 368, C P C, which is applicable to such a case, is taken (or until the time fixed by law for taking such a course has elapsed).

Abatement (suit)
4 SURVIVAL OF CAUSE OF ACTION-Contd.

Purushottama Patnaik v Chaitana Naiko 12 M L J 188.

74.-C P C O 22, r 4 (1882 S 368)—Decree passed by mistake against a deceased defendant-Decree declared incapable of execution-Remedy open to plaintiff. When a decree is allowed by a plaintiff to be passed exparte against a sole defendant who is not alive at the time of the passing of such decree, but of whose death the plaintiff had at the time no knowledge, it is competent to the plaintiff, on the decree so obtained being declared incapable of execution to apply under S 368 C P C., to have the case reopened after bringing upon the record the legal representatives of the deceased defendant. Qutub Ali v Dwarka Das 1904 A W N 44

75.—C.P.C. O 22 r 10 (1882 S 372)-Devolution meaning of. 'Devolution of interest' referred to by C P C, S 372 is not confined to devolution by death, but to all cases of transfer from one to another. Rajah Sowundra Mohan v Rani Shiromoni 5 C W N 307=28 Cal 171

Notes;—Ref; 30 Bom 250; 6 Bom L R 995 Dist: 7 O C 78.

76-Abatement of suit against joint tort-feasors-Compromise between plaintiff and one defendant —Such compromise no bar to a decree against the other defendants.

The plaintiff sued several defendants jointly to recover damages in respect of an alleged assault committed on him by the defendants, but entered into a compromise with one of the defendants. Held, that this compromise did not preclude the plaintiff from recovering damages against the other defendants. (7 S and L. 547, Dist.)

Ram Kunwar v. Sheikh Ali Husain,(1908) A W N 190.

77.—Leave of Court. The original plaintiffs in this case were H L, J A and M A, the two latter claiming as the assignees of a moiety of H L's share. Subsequently L A and U A were subsituted for J A and M A on the ground that the latter had transferred their interest in the peoperty sued for the former. Held, that in order to maintain the suit J A and M A should have proved the purchase and the payment of the consideration. That no proceedings having been taken under s 372 of the Code of Civil Procedure, in respect of the substitution of L A and M A, there was no assignment within the meaning of the statute which could enable them to go on with the action. Ramji Mal v Hazari Lal. 5 W N 242.

Abatement (suit)
4 SURVIVAL OF CAUSE OF ACTION-Contd.

78—C. P. C. O. 22 R 1 (S. 361)—Act XII of 1855 (The Legal Representatives suits) S. 1 cl 2-Suit for damages for malicious prosecution against prosecutor himself—Death of prosecutor pending suit—Right of plaintiff to bring in his legal representatives.

This Suit for damages for malicious prosecution was instituted against the prosecutor, when he was alive, and, on his death, before the final hearing, plaintiff sought to bring his legal representative on the record. Held, that the suit abated on the death of the defendant and that plaintiff was not entitled to proceed against the legal representatives of the deceased defendant under cl 2 of S. 1 of Act XII of 1855 since that clause had no application to an action commenced against the wrong-doer in his life-time. but could govern only actions, commenced against the executors, administrators or other representatives of a deceased wrong-doer. 13 Bom 677 Fol . 31 Cal 405 Appro. Ramchode Doss v Rukmany Bai. 28 Mad 487 also 8 C W N 329 also 26 Mad 499.

79.—C.P.C.O. 22 r 10 (1882 S 372)-Appeal. An appeal lies against an order directing substitution of parties under section 372 C. P. C; such an order amounts to an order disallowing objections to substitution. Sourindra Mohan Tagore v Rani Shiromoni. 5 C W N 307= 28 Cal 171.

Notes.—Ref. 30 Bom 250=6 Bom L R 995. Dist: 7 O C 78.

80—C P C O 22 rr 10, 4 (1882 Ss. 372, 368)-Limitation Act, S. 178-Decree directing accounts pending suit—Limitation;

Where a decree was made declaring that a party was entitled to a share in a certain property and directed the taking of accounts of that property, and the said party applied to have the death of certain defendant who had died after the decree to be recorded and the name of his heirs substituted before the final decree:—Held.—That S. 372 C P C applied and that the right of the petitioner to apply for such substitution accrued from day to day and was not barred under Sec. 178 of the Limitation Act. The ratio in such cases is not

Abatement (Suit)

4 SURVIVAL OF CAUSE OF ACTION-Contd

whether the decree directs a partition or a taking of accounts, but whether there is a pending suit. 5 Cal 731:8 Cal 420; 3 C W N 757 followed.

Surendro Keshub Roy v Khetter Kristo Mitter. 7 C W N 517=30 Cal 609.

81A-C P C O 22 r 4 (1882 S. 368)-Suit, institution of, in a Civil ourt-Death of defendant before presentation of plaint-Court's power to substitute his representatives—Jurisdiction.

Held, that when a plaint is presented by plaintiff for the purpose of instituting a suit against a defendant in accordance with the provision of the Civil Procedure Code, 1882, and it afterwards turns out that the defendant had died before the presentation of the plaint, the Court has no jurisdiction to substitute the representatives of the deceased as defendants and allow the suit to proceed as against them. (16 Mad 319, Ref: and 12 W R 45 approved & followed.)

Not only is there nothing in the Civil Procedure Code to authorize the institution of a suit against a dead man as distinct from a suit against his legal representative but the death of the defendant puts an end to the suit within a preseribed period unless steps are taken within that period for bringing in the legal representatives.

Veerappan Chetty v Tindal Ponnan. 3 M L T 12=17 M L J 551=31 Mad 86.

82-C P C O 22 r 4 (1882 S 368).—Application.

Held, that the provisions of sec. 368 can only be applied, where the applicant is the legal represenative, and not when he is merely a person alleging himself to be such representative. (8 Mad 306, Cons). Vemulapati Polamrazu v Uggumadi Subbarama Reddy. 4 M L T 227=19 M L J 33=2 Ind Cas 479.

83—C P C 0 22 r 10 (S 372)—Receiver—Suit in ejectment by receiver—Discharge of receiver pending suit—Devolution of interest—See:— 30 Bom 250.

84—Code of Civil Procedure (Act XIV of 1882) Secs 13 and 43—First suit for revocation of agency-Second suit for dismissal for mis-conduct -no bar-Meaning of 'Irrevocable Agency'-Abatement.

The plaintiff brought a suit to revoke the authority given to the first defendant as agent for a time of 18 years under a power of Attorney, which was dismissed on the ground that the agency was irrevocable. The present suit was instituted by the plaintiff for the dismissal of the first defendant on the ground of mis-conduct. The defendant pleaded that the suit was barred by res judicata.

Held, that it was not barred. In every contract of service there is an implied condition that if the service be not faithfully rendered the employer is entitled to put an end to the contract. Mayil Kolta v Kumdur Kultala. 7 M L J 87=33 Mad 162=5 Ind Cas 758.

85—C P C Act XIV of 1882, S 503—Receiver—Appointment of new Receiver in place of Receiver

Civil proceedings instituted by original receiver and pending at date of appointment of new Receiver. Necessity for making new Receiver party.

Where a Receiver appointed under section 503 of the Code of Civil Procedure, institutes Civil proceedings and is then replaced by another Receiver it is necessary that the new Receiver should be made a party to those proceedings. Observations on the mode and circumstances in which a new Receiver will be made a party. S. 372 of C P C is only and enabling section.

Akula Paradesi v Dhelli Jugannadha Row. 28 Mad 157.

86—C P C, 1882, ss. 366, 367—Application by alleged adopted sons of deceased plaintiff to be brought on record—Appeal from order rejecting application and order declaring suit abated.

On the death of the plaintiff in a partition suit, an application was made on behalf of a boy alleged to be the adopted son of the deceased to be brought on the record in his place. The Court of first instance dismissed the application and declared the suit abated. Appeals were preferred against both the orders. Held, that the adopted son was the legal representative of the person to whom he was adopted and under s. 366 it was not competent to the Court to order that the suit should abate. Appeals lay against both the orders.

Subbayya v Saminadayyar. 18 Mad 496=5 M L J 63

Notes.—[F., 10 O C 121; 3 M L T 327, 30 All 348=5 A L J 363=A W N 1908, 139; R., 27 Bom 162, 5 Bom L R 1041, 2 N L R. 7, 9 O C 351, 12I P R 1907, 587=51 P W R 1907; D., 26 Mad 224=22 M L J 380].

87—Suit for dissolution—Necessary parties - Party, death of—Substitution of heirs, not made in time—Abatement of suit:

A suit for dissolution and winding up of a partnership involves the determination of the plain-

Abatement (suit)

4 SURVIVAL OF CAUSE OF ACTION-Contd

tiff's share and the taking of accounts, and the plaintiff's share could not be determined definitely without making all the parties interested in the partnership parties to the suit, and the accounts could not be properly taken in the absence of any of them If on the death of one of the defendants his heirs are not made parties to the suit by substitution in time, the whole suit is to be dismissed even where no relief against the deceased defendant or his heirs was asked for specifically. 14 Cal 791 ref to and foll. Srinath Pal v Hari Charun 7 C L J 266.

88—Death of defendant pending suit—Cause of action, when survives against his legal representative—No assets

Where the manager of a temple sued the pedda jiyyangar of the temple to recover compensation for loss of income and for expenses caused to the temple by his alleged refusal to give up the keys of the temple and have worship duly performed therein and, on the defendant dying pending the suit, his successor in office was brought in as his legal representative, held that, whether the misconduct on the part of the deceased defendant was regarded as a tort or as a breach of contract of personal service, in neither case the cause of action survived against his legal representative, for the reason that the misconduct was one purely personal to the deceased and did not in any way benefit his estate. Satagopa Ramanuja v Mahabir Dossji 8 M L J 180.

Notes:-13 Bom 677 Ref

88 1—Abatement—Suit to declare invalidity of relinquishment deed as against one's reversionary rights—Death of plaintiff—Cause of action—Whether survives in favour of legal representatives.

A suit to declare a deed of relinquishment invalid as against one's reversionary rights abates on the death of the plaintiff, and the cause of action does not survive to his legal representatives. 27 Mad 588, Fol.; 33 Mad 342, expl.: 29 Mad 390; 11 M L J 70 & 33 I A 156, Ref.

Kommeneni Chinna Veerayya v. Kommeneni Lakshminarasamma, 11 M L T 184.

88*B*—Pre-emption—Wajib-ul-arz—Interpretation of document—Custom or contract—Abatement of suit—Share of each vendee specified in sale-deed—Death of one such vendee.

In a suit for a pre-emption based upon the wajib-ul-arz, the plaintiff relied upon an entry in the wajib-ul-arz of 1870, which gave a right of pre-emption to (1) a real brother, (2) a near brother and (3) other co-sharers in the village. The defendants, on the other hand, produced the wajib-ul-arz of 1860, in which the right was given in these terms. "If any co-sharer wishes to transfer his proprietary rights by sale or mortgage, first let him transfer it to a real brother or a near brother or to other co-sharers, and in case these refuse or decline to pay the proper price, the owner may transfer to whomsoever he pleases". Held, that this being the whole of the evidence in the case, the existence of the custom was not disproved and that the later wajib-ul-arz explained the ambiguity in the earlier one.

Held, also that, where the sale was made to three sets of vendees, the share of each of whom was specified, and one of them died and his heirs were not brought on the record till after six months, the suit did not abate in respect of the shares of the other two sets. Hukam Singh v. Thakur Das. 8 A L J 1135.

2 ABATEMENT OF APPEAL.

(5) Death of Appellant.

89—(5) Death of appellant.—Death of appellant.—The death of an appellant was held to be no reason for the abatement or postponement of a case which was being conducted by an agent of the deceased defendant, and was not in any way prejudiced. Jugomohun Singh v Dabee Pershad. W R 1864 Act X 47.

89A—S. 99 O XXII, rr 3, 4—Sole appellant dying pending appeal—No application made to bring representatives on record-Vakalatnama filed on behalf of the representatives-Abatement-Irregularity not affecting merits.

An appellant died after filing his appeal and no application was made to bring his representatives on the record, but a Vakalatnama was filed by a Pleader on behalf of the representatives and the appeal was heard and the suit decreed in the name of deceased appellant:

Held, that this was not a mere irregularity which could be cured by S. 99 of Code of 1908 and that the appeal had abated. Badal Khan v Murtaza 9 Ind Cas 977.

90—Death of pro forma defendant.

The death of a pro forma defendant, who had appealed along with the other defendants who could have maintained their appeal independently of the said pro forma defendant, does not serve to abate the appeal of other defendants.

Ashiq Husain v Asghari Begam. 4 A L J 809 =30 All 90=1908 W N 21.

Abatement (Appeal)

5 DEATH OF APPELLANT-Contd.

91—Code of Civil Procedure (Act XIV of 1882), Section 588 cl. 18—Order rejecting an application for substitution—Appeal.

Held, that an order rejecting an application made by persons claiming to be the legal representatives of a deceased appellant is an order within the meaning of section 588, clause 18 of the Code of Civil Procedure, and it is not necessary that the dispute referred to in section 367 of the Civil Procedure Code, must be one between rival claimants as legal representatives.

Hanwant Singh v Ramgopal Singh.
5 A L J 363=30 All 348=1908 A W N 139

92—Suit for malicious prosecution—Second appeal by defendant in a suit for malicious prosecution—Death of defendant-appellant—No abatement—

Where pending an appeal against a decree passed against a defendant in a suit for damages for malicious prosecution, the appellant dies, the appeal does not abate and can be prosecuted by his legal representative—26 Bom 597, opinion of the majority followed.— Paramen Chetty v Sundararaja Naick. 26 Mad 499.

93—C P C O 22 r 1 (1882 S 361)—Abatement of appeal—Right of next reversioner to prosecute appeal:—An appeal by a plaintiff reversioner against a decree passed against him dismissing his suit abates on that reversioner-appellant's death, and his son, though the next reversioner, cannot prosecute the appeal. Sakhyahari Ingle Rao Sahib v Bhavani Boyi Sahib 27 Mad 588.

Notes—Disap. 29 Mad 390 F B=16 M L J 307=1 M L T 183.

94—An appellant having died and no application having been made before the lapse of two months to enter appearance on behalf of the representatives, the appeal was held to have abated Khettronath Dey v Gossain Dass Dev. 11 W R 543.
Bhagian v Palmer 20 W R 267.

95—On the 15th April, 1886, at the adjourned hearing of this appeal, the counsel for the appellant stated that he had been informed that his client was dead, and had been dead since the beginning of 1885. Held, that under these circumstances the first paragraph of s 366 Code, of Civil Procedure applies, and as no application has been made by any one claiming to be the appellant's legal representative, to be brought upon the record under s 365, the appeal abates. Gregor Grant v The Oudh and Rohilkhand Railway Company. 6 W N 90.

96—Civil Procedure Code ss. 102 (1882, ss 365 366) and 348 (1882, s 561) and Act XXIII of 1861, s 37 (Act X of 1872, s 582)—Issue based on objections by respondent—Where the special appellant died after the High Court had referred for trial to the Court below an issue based upon objections taken by the respondent under s 348 of Act VIII of 1859—Held that the appeal must abate in accordance with s 102 of Act VIII of 1859 and s 37 of Act XXIII of 1861: and that the respondent does not require that it should proceed, in order that he might have an opportunity of taking objection to the decree of the Court below. If the respondent desires to secure the right of asking for decision on his objection, he must file a separate appeal. Jaita Bin Kalu v Balu Bin Raghu 3 B H C 81.

Notes—Ref: 10 B H C R 397; 23 Bom 692.

(6) DEATH OF APPELLANT DURING PENDENCY OF APPEAL.

97—S.366 C P C—Application for substitution—By one only of several representatives.

When a sole appellant died during the pendency of his appeal leaving three legal representatives, and only one of such legal representatives was brought upon the record in the place of the deceased appellant within the prescribed period of limitation. Held that the appeal must abate. Either all the legal representatives of the deceased appellant should have been brought upon the record as appellants, or, if any had refused to be joined as appellants, they should have been brought on as respondents. Ghamandi Lal v Amir Begam. 16 All 211, 14 W N 92.

Notes:—Con: 23 Mad 125, 25 All 27. Ref: 22 All 222; 26 Mad 230; 235. Dist: 12 M L J 368; 25 All 27. Fol. 30 All 117=(1908) W N 41=5 A L J 62.

98—Sections 365—556 558—Legal representative of a deceased appellant—

When the legal representative of a deceased Plaintiff or Appellant applies under section 365 Civil Procedure Code within the period allowed by Law, the Court shall place him in exactly the same position (supposing of course that the right to sue or appeal survives) as the Plaintiff or Appellant held at the time of his death, in respect of the suit under litigation.

Bhopat Singh v Gayaram. 4 C P L R 183.

99—Death of sole appellant-Nullity of decree—Remedy—

F., the sole appellant before the Divisional Court, died while the appeal was still pending, but after the death of F, the sons of F applied to have their names placed on the record in the room of their deceased father This application was rejected by the Divisional Court for default When the appeal was heard on the merits no objection was raised by either party and the appeal was decreed in the deceased appellant's favour

Abatement (Appeal)

6 DEATH OF APPELLANT-DURING PENDENCY OF APPEAL-Contd.

Held on the revision side, no appeal being competent that the proper order to pass was one setting aside the decree of the Divisional Judge as a nullity leaving either party to make any application which he might be advised to make to that Court with a view to re opening the case

Chaunni Lal v Farida 78 P R 1891

100—C P C O 22 r 2 (1882 Sec 362)—Parties —Death of sole appellant-All representatives not brought upon the record—Abatement of appeal —The sole appellant a Muhammadan, died pending the appeal leaving him surviving a widow two sons and two daughters The two sons applied to have themselves brought on the record as appellants but did not ask that their mother and sisters should be made parties to the appeal An application to that effect made by the respondents was not acted upon by Lower Appellate Court. Held that it was the duty of the sons to have brought upon the record, either as appellants or respondents the other representatives of their father and, as they had not done so the appeal abated

Haidar Husain v Abdul Ahad 3 M L T 207=5 A L J 62=30 All 117 =1908 W N 41

101—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) Sections 366, 372—Death of appellant during pendency of appeal—Suit against sovereign as Ruler of State—Public Functionary-Evidence Act (I of 1872) Section 57 (8)—During the pendency in the Chief Court of an appeal from a decree given against the Maharaja of Kashmir during the lifetime of the late Maharaja the Maharaja died and as no application was made within 60 days to put a representative of the deceased appellant upon the record it was contended for the respondent that the appeal abated under Section 366 Civil Procedure Code It appeared that the suit was not to enforce any liability contracted by the defendant personally but that the decree must be taken to have been passed against the Maharaja as Ruler of Kashmir, and that he must be regarded as having appealed against it in that capacity

Held, that as the Court was bound, under Section 57 clause 8 of the Evidence Act, to take judicial notice of the facts that the State of Kashmir existed, and that the Maharaja was its Sovereign recognized as such by the British Crown, and as the decree was against the Maharaja in his capacity as Ruler of the State, and was appealed from by him in that capacity the appellant must be regarded as a public functionary who was sued under, and appealed by his official designation and the appeal did not therefore abate under Section 366 of the Code as the true appellant was not dead the decree not being against the Maharaja in his private capacity, and the State which he represented for the purposes of the suit still existing

Maharaja of Kashmir v Mohanlal (51 P R of 1886 Civil)

102—One of the appellants dying pending the appeal—Representative of the deceased not brought on record—All persons interested not before Court—Abatement of appeal

One of the appellants against a joint decree died during the pendency of the appeal in the High Court His representatives were not brought on the record Held that the appeal must abate as the Court had not before it all those persons whose interest might be affected by the decree (22 All 233 Pol) Ram Lal v Debi Singh 4 Ind Cas 385

See also cases under C P C (1908) O 22

103—Appeal—Civil Procedure Code 1882 366—Application by legal representative to carry on appeal—The appellants father having died during the pendency of an appeal lodged by him a notice was served upon the appellants two adult brothers but they having failed to apply within sixty days the appellant who was a minor applied several months afterwards to be put on the record in his deceased father's place as his legal representative which was done The assistant Judge who heard the appeal was of opinion that in consequence of the omission on the part of the brothers of the appellant to apply the appeal abated and he passed an order accordingly Held that the application having been made by the minor son within the time limited by law the order of abatement made by the Judge was wrong Although the complete legal representation vested in the minor son and his two brothers, s 366 of the Civil Procedure Code only required an application to be made by a person claiming to be the legal representative, in order to prevent an order of abatement being made If neither of the brothers was willing to have his name placed on the record, the respondent was entitled to have them made defendants, so that they might be bound by the decree. The minor son could then proceed alone with the appeal. Bhikaji Ramchandra v. Purshotam 10 Bom., 220.

Abatement (Appeal)
6 DEATH OF APPELLANT-DURING PENDENCY OF APPEAL - Contd.

Notes:—Diss: 17 All 172. Con: 23 Mad 125; 12 M L J 368. Ref 18 Mad 496; 16 Bom 23; 27 Bom 164.

104-C. P. C. O. 22 r.1 (1882 S 361)-Right to sue-Appeal—Death of appellant—Auction for libel—Legal representative. The words 'right to sue' in S. 361 of the Civil Procedure Code must be interpreted in their ordinary meaning, namely, the right to obtain relief by means of legal procedure. It does not follow that the right to appeal against a decree partakes of the nature of the original decree. Plaintiff sued to recover damages on account of a libel, and obtained a decree for damages against defendant. Defendant paid the amount of the decree and filed an appeal in the High Court after which he died; his son was then brought on the record as his heir and legal representative. To this it was objected that at defendant's death the appeal abated and his son had no right to continue the same:-Held, by Fulton and Crowe. J. J., (Candy, J., dissentient) that the appeal did not abate. Where the claim has been perfected by judgment, the nature of the relief claimed on appeal stands on a different footing and there can be no abatement. Gopal v Ramchandra 4 Bom L R 325=26 Bom 597.

105—Abatement of suit—Sections 365, 366—Death of sole appellant—Abatement of appeal—Legal representative--Right to sue.

Held, that the words "legal representative" in Section 365 of the Civil Procedure Code must be read in connection with the "right to sue" which is involved in the case before the Court and that unless the person applying to be considered the "legal representative" can show that he is the person to whom the "right to sue" involved in the case descends or survives by law, he is not qua that right the "legal representative' within the meaning of Section 365, Civil Procedure Code. Harnam Singh v Bachatar Singh 23 P R 1889.

106—Abatement of suit—S. 365-Civil Procedure Code, Sections 365, 366, 367 and 382—Suit by widow with life-interest to recover from collaterals property of her deceased husband—Legal representative of such widow for the purpose of continuing the suit or appeal on widow's behalf—Dat Brahmins of Kanjrur, tahsil Shakargarh, Gurdaspur District.

Abatement (Appeal)
6 DEATH OF APPELLANT-DURING PENDENCY OF APPEAL—Contd.

The plaintiff, who was the widow of one H. R., sued to recover from the defendants, collaterals, of H. R., a portion of her husband's estate, of which it was alleged they had taken wrongful possession. During the pendency of her appeal in the Chief Court, the plaintiff died, and applications by the widows of other collaterals of H. R. who claimed to be brought upon the record and to continue the appeal as representatives of the deceased appellant, were resisted by the defendants on the ground that, as the deceased had only a life interest in the property and practically left no heir—the succession going to the heirs of her deceased husband—the right to appeal did not survive, and that the appeal ought therefore to abate.

The deceased H. R. was a Dat Brahmin of Kanjrur, tahsil Shakargarh, Gurdaspur District.

Held, that the right to appeal survived to the heirs, whoever they might be of the late H. R.

Held, also, that as all the parties interested in the result of the present application were parties to a new suit brought in order to determine the question of the right to succeed to the property of L. R the proper order to pass at the present stage was to direct under Section 367, Civil procedure Code that the appeal should be stayed until the fact as to who was the legal representative of Mussammat L had been tried and determined in such suit. Mussammat Lachmi v Amin Chand 97 P R 1898.

107-C. P. C. Ss. 365 and 366:-Death of appellant—Two out of four representatives substituted for appellant—The other two made respondents after time—Abatement—Limitation Act, Art, 175-A

All the legal representatives of a deceased appellant should, if possible, join in the application to the court to be made parties in place of the deceased. But if, by reason of the ignorance of the existence of other representatives or of the unwillingness of some of them to join in the application or of the bona fide belief on the part of some, of exclusive title, or for any other like cause they are not able to join, those who agree may apply. within the period limited by Art 175 A of the Limitation Act, to be made parties so as to save the proceedings from abatement under S. 366 C P C 10 B 220 and 16 All 211 considered. Musa'areddi v Ramayya 23 Mad 125=9 M L J 313

Abatement (Appeal)
6 DEATH OF APPELLANT-DURING PENDENCY OE APPEAL—Contd.

Notes—Ref 26 Mad 235; 8 C W N 843. Dist 26 Mad 230; 12 M L J 368.

108—C. P, C. s. 368—Cross appeals—Substitution of names.] Where in a suit decreed in part in the first Court and pending cross appeals, the plaintiff died, and a party was substituted as his legal representative in the plaintiff's appeal, but no application was made by the defendants for substitution in their appeal, and both appeals were subsequently decided in the plaintiff's favor, Held that the title of the person added as legal representative in the plaintiff's appeal to execute both decrees as such legal representative was res judicata and was not affected by the defendant's omission to bring such person on the record in their appeal under s 368 of the Code of Civil procedure. Saonli Bibi v. Kapur Chand. 8 W N 83.

109—C.P C. O 22 rr 1,2,3 O 41 r 4 S 107 (2),O 22 r 11 1882 Ss 361 362, 363, 544, 582—Appeal -Parties-Death of one of several appellants—Survival of right of appeal—Abatement of appeal.

Where several plaintiffs or defendants jointly appeal against a decree to which s 544 of the Code of Civil Procedure applies, the death of one of such appellants, if no legal representative of the deceased appellant is brought upon the record within limitation, can only have the effect of causing the appeal to abate so far as the deceased appellant was concerned: it cannot have the effect of causing the appeal as a whole to abate 22 Bom 718 ref. to: 16 All 211 dist: 22 All 222 overruled. Ram Sewak v Lambar Pande 1902 A W N 171=25 All 27.

Notes—Ref 5 C L J 393.

110—Guardian and Wards Act VIII of 1820 ss 7 (3). 8 (a) 13—Mother and grand-mother contesting guardianship of a minor, grand-mother leaving her claim on a will—Death of grand-mother pending the proceedings—Brother of grand-mother applying to continue the proceedings—Proceedings abated on her death.

The guardianship of a minor was contested by the mother and by the grandmother of the minor basing her claim upon a will. The Court of first instance decided in favour of the mother. The, grandmother preferred an appeal, and while this appeal was pending she died. Her brother applied to have his name entered on the record as her representative and to be allowed to continue this appeal.

Held, that the brother had no right to continue the appeal, as the objection raised by the grandmother to the appointment of the mother to the guardianship was purely a personal one it was based upon her own appointment by the will of the minor's father and it ceased on her death. Gangabai v Kashibai 1 Bom L R 363 =23 Bom 719

111—Gift of land—Suit for cancellation—Death of one of the appellants—Effect—Want of landlord's consent to gift—S. 34 Punjab Tenancy Act.

After the filing of an appeal against the decree of the Lower Court setting aside the gift by one defendant in favour of another, one of the appellants, the donor—defendant died. Held, that the appeal did not abate even though no legal representatives of the deceased were brought on record as the donee could alone have instituted the appeal independently of the donor. Held also, that where the landlord is no party to the suit and does not choose to contest the tenant's action s. 34, Punjab Tenancy Act will not empower strangers to question the tenant's alienation on the ground of want of landlord's consent. Karim Din v Ismail 109 P R 1881

112—C P C O. XXI, rr.10, 21, s.48 (=s.230,Civ. Pro. Code, 1882)—Abatement of appeal—Calculation of time.

An appellant died while his appeal was pending in the High Court. The High Court made an order to the effect that the appeal had abated and that the respondent was entitled to his costs. Held, that the order was in effect an order confirming the decree of the lower Court, and the decree-holder was entitled to the benefit of twelve years, limitation calculated from the decree of the appellate Court. Muhammad Razi v. Karba-Lai Bibi, 7 A L J 58=32 All 136=5 Ind. Cas 473.

Notes—23 All 124 Dist; 34 Cal 874 Fol.

Abatement (Appeal)

(7) DEATH OF ONE OF TWO JOINT DECREE-HOLDERS.—Concld.

113—If one of the appellants dies and his representatives are not brought on the record within the prescribed period, the appeal abates. 14 W.N.23 referred to.

Kamalpat v. Baldeo 22 All. 222= 20 W N 24.

Notes—Dist: 23 All 22. Over. 25 All 27. Ref: 5 C L J 393.

113A-C P C S. 544—Joint decree—Joint appeal-One of the appellants dying during pendency of appeal—Representative of deceased not brought on record—Abatement.

Where several defendants jointly appeal against a joint decree, to which S. 544 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1882, applies, the death of one of such appellants, if no legal representative of the deceased appellant is brought on the record within limitation, can only have the effect of causing the appeal to abate so far as the deceased appellant is concerned. It cannot have the effect of causing the appeal as a whole to abate 25 All. 27, F. 22 All. 222 overruled. Ram Lal v. Debi Singh 10 Ind Cas 27

114-C P C O.22 r.4 S.107 (2); O. 22 r. 11 (1882Ss 368, 582)-Out of six decree-holders, four filed a suit under s. 283 Code of Civil procedure, and, having lost in the first two courts, appealed to the High Court. Pending this appeal the other two decree-holders, who were made defendants in the suit, died, but their representatives were not brought on the record. Held, the appeal did not abate. Chander Singh v. Khimadhat 22 Bom 718 ref. to. Kamlapat v. Baldeo, 20 W. N 24 distinguished. Alla Baksh v. Madho Ram 23 All 22= 20 W N 163.

Notes.—Ref: 28 Bom 153.

(8) DEATH OF PRINCIPAL PENDING APPEAL.

115—Death of principal pending appeal—Principal and agent.—The plea of abatement on account of the death of the principal, pending the suit in appeal before the Lower Appellate Court, was disallowed, it being shown from the circumstances of the case that appellant, though an agent, intended himself to be the plaintiff. Had he acted as an agent, the whole authority was determined on the death of the principal, and the appeal must have abated until resumed by substituting the heir of the deceased principal as a party to the suit. Thornhill v. Taylor I Agra, 215.

Abatement (Appeal)

8 DEATH OF PRINCIPAL PENDING APPEAL—Concld.

116—Abatement of appeal.—Where one of the defendants in a mortgage suit died pending appeal and no application was made to bring on record his legal representative as a party to the appeal, the appeal did not necessarily abate. It abates only in cases in which the litigation can not proceed without the representative of the deceased party to a final and complete adjudication. Renga Srinivasa Chari v. Gnanaprakasa Mudaliar. 2 M L T 36=30 Mad 67.

(9) DEATH OF RESPONDENT.

117—Appeals.] One of 4 respondents died, but no application was made within 6 months to bring his representatives on the record. In their application that was eventually made the name of a wrong person was inserted. Held, that the right of appeal did not survive against the surviving respondents alone but against them and other representatives of the respondent who had died. Therefore the proper order was to have directed this suit to abate. Held further, that when the order as to abatement was embodied in the judgment and decree, objection was properly taken thereto by way of second appeal against the decree. 18 All 19. 20 W N 109, 19 W N 136; 14 All 221, 22 Bom 718. referred to. Hem Kunwar v. Amba Prasada. 22 All. 430. 20 W N 136.

Notes.—Dist: 33 Cal 580. Ref: 5 C L J 393.

118—C P C. O. 22 r. 4 S. 107 (2); O. 22, r. 11 (1882 Ss 368, 582)-Revenue Sale Law (Act XI of 1859).—Sale of joint residuary estate, suit to set aside—Plaintiffs, respondents, death of one of several — Substitution not made within time—Abatement of appeal. Where a decree which had been obtained by several plaintiffs, proprietors of a joint residuary estate, set aside the sale of the said estate held under Act XI of 1859, and two of the plaintiffs, respondents died during the pendency of the appeal by the defendants against that decree to the High Court, and their representatives were not brought on the record within the time allowed by law.

Held, that the decree could not be reversed in appeal without the representatives of the deceased proprietors being placed on the record, and that as the decree set aside the sale of the entire joint estate, under no circumstances should that decree be affirmed as to the unascertained shares of some joint share-holders and reversed as to the unascertained shares of other joint share-holders.

Abatement (Appeal)
9 DEATH OF RESPONDENT—Contd.

Held further, that as sufficient cause was not shown by the appellant as to why application was not made within the time allowed by law to bring in the heirs of the deceased respondents and as the right of the appeal did not survive against the surviving respondents alone, the appeal had abated under the provision of section 368 read with section 582 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Chandreswar Persad Narain Singh v. Dharamjit Narain, 5 C L J 393= 11 C W N 504.

119-C. P. C.—S. 368—Death of respondent during pendency of appeal—Legal representative—

During the pendency of an appeal in the Chief Court in a pre emption suit brought by the pre-emptor as appellant against the vendor and the vendee as respondents, the vendor-respondent (who was a childless widow) died; whereupon an application was duly made by the appellant under Section 368, Civil Procedure Code, to substitute as the legal representatives of the deceased respondent, certain persons who were the reversionary heirs of the husband of the said deceased. It was objected at the hearing on their behalf that they were not the legal representatives of the deceased respondent, as there was a sister and a sister's son of the deceased in existence.

Held, that the term "legal representative", as used in Section 368 of the Code, clearly does not necessarily mean "legal heirs"; that it is not the intention of the section that an elaborate inquiry and decision should be given, in case of nice questions arising as to exactly who, under particular rules of law, is the legal representative, and that looking in the present case to the obvious practical interest which the reversioners had in the property, and the great probability (to say the least) that they were as much the next heirs and representatives as a sister or a sister's son, the objection taken by the respondents must be disallowed.— Charanjit Mal v. Mussammat Mitho, 29 P R 1888.

120-C. P. C. O. 22, r. 4 (1882 S. 368)—Deceased defendant's representatives not brought on record—Decree against defendant who was dead and others—Decree indivisible—Abatement of entire suit.

During the pendency in the High Court of an appeal in a pre emption suit, one of the respondents died, and his representatives were not brought on the record within limitation. Judgment was passed against the respondents in ignorance of his death. Execution was applied for by the successful appellant and was allowed as against the surviving respondents.

Held, that the decree being one for pre-emption, in which possession of the entire property might have been taken in execution, and the representatives of one respondent not having been brought on the record, the cause of action did not survive as against the remaining respondents. 3 Cal 487 (P C) relied upon; 17 All 478 dist. Imam Uddin v. Sadarat Rai, 7 A L J 228= 5 Ind Cas 797.

Notes:—See also 31 Cal 487=1 A L J 145 =8 C W N 442. But see the new section 121-C. P. C. O. 22 r. 4 (1882 S. 368)—Appeal. Joint and several liability of the respondents—Non-substitution of the representatives of a deceased respondent, effect of.

On the preliminary objection, taken on behalf of the respondents in this appeal, that it should abate on account of appellant's failure to get the legal representatives of a deceased respondent substituted on the record under S. 368 of the Code, it was held, that since the liability of the respondents in the present case was joint and several, the death of one of them without his legal representatives being substituted in his place could not exonerate the others from liability and the appeal would abate only so far as the deceased respondent was concerned. (32 All 130. Distd.)

Joy Gobind Laha v. Monmatha Nath Banerjee. 33 Cal 580.

Notes:—Dist: 5 C L J 393. Ref: 11 C W N 504.

122—C. P. C. O. 22 rr. 2, 3, 4; S. 107 (2); O. 22, r. 11 (1882 Ss. 362, 363, 368 and 582)—Suit, right of— Substitution, application for.

A, B and C, members of a joint Hindu Mitakshar family, applied for registration of their names under the Land Registration Act. The application was opposed and refused in 1883. In 1894, they sued for declaration of title and obtained a decree. During the pendency of the appeal against such decree, A died, and more than six months after the appellant applied to have B and C noted as legal representatives, who had taken the estate by survivorship.

Held, that the application for substitution was governed by S. 362, C. P. C., and not S. 368, S. 362 is not limited in its application to cases in which the right of suit survives against the surviving defendants, by reason of some circumstance antecedent to the suit. Shyamanand Das v. Raj Narain Das, 4 C L J 568 = 11 C W N 186.

Abatement (Appeal)

9 DEATH OF RESPONDENT—Contd.

123-Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), Ss. 368, 371—Abatement of appeal owing to death of respondent—Application to set aside order of abatement.—

Section 371 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1882, does not allow an application by an appellant to set aside an order of abatement, where the appeal has abated by reason of the death of the respondent in the case; nor is there any provision in the law for setting aside such an order, though, under the last clause of Section 368 of the Code of 1882, explanation of delay in applying to substitute on the record the representative of a deceased respondent may be offered at the hearing of the appeal. Sham Singh v Sant Singh. 22 P R 1885.

Ghasita Mal v. Mul Singh, 22 P R 1885.

124—Defendant— A respondent is not included in the word "defendant" used in art 171 of the Limitation Act, 1877. Udit Narain Singh v. Hargouri Prosad, 12 Calc 590.

Notes:—Fol: 10 Bom 663. Dist: 10 All 223 F B. Ref: 29 Mad 529 F B = 16 M L J 475 = 1 M L T 348.

125—C.P.C.O. 22, r. 4; S. 107 (2): O 22. r. 11 (1883 S. 368)—Suit for possession—Death of two of the respondents—Interest of one vesting in the surviving respondents—Another respondent not a necessary party—Survival of cause of action.

One B died bequeathing by his will certain portions of his property to plaintiff, and defendants 4, 5, 6, respectively. Plaintiff sued on the will for the recovery of the possession of her share from defendants 1, 2 and 3, who were alleged to be in possession of the property in suit improperly. Defendants 4, 5, 6, refused to join plaintiff, so they were made defendants, but they did not appear either at the hearing in the Court of first instance or an appeal.

Defendants 1, 2, 3, joint brothers, and related to B as cousins, opposed.

The suit was dismissed An appeal against it was admitted and adjourned sine die; at the hearing after nearly two years, it was found that defendants-respondents Nos. 2 and 5, had died in the interval, and no steps had been taken to bring their legal representatives on the record. It was alleged that defendants-respondents Nos. 1, 2, 3 were joint and the interest of respondent No. 2, merged into those of 1 and 3, and that respondent No. 5 was not a necessary party. The appeal was still ordered to abate.

Held, that it could abate only as regards defendants-respondents Nos. 2 and 5, and should proceed against the rest, on the merits.

Bai Full v. Adesang, 3 Bom L R 736 = 26 Bom 203.

Notes:—Ref: 5 C L J 393; 6 C L J 715.

Abatement of suit—This is also the view taken by the Allahabad High Court. See 23 All 22.

126—On the 12th December 1881 the Court passed an order declaring the appeal had abated as no application had been made within sixty days from the death of the deceased to bring his representative. On the 30th January 1882, the application was presented under S. 371 Civil Pro. Held, that the application must be disposed of under the law as it stood when the application was presented and so it was not competent to the petitioner to prefer it; and that S. 371 does not apply to a case in which a defendant or respondent died but to the case only in which the plaintiff or defendant dies. Suri Bhatta v. Sittarama Bhatta, 7 Mad 195.

127—Sufficient cause-Sine die postponement. An appeal was filed in April 1891. In June 1891 it was adjourned sine die pending the decision of a certain case by the High Court. The case being decided, the appeal was set down for hearing in 1896 when the appellant informed the Court that the respondent had died three years ago and asked the Court to substitute his heir in his place. Held that the Court was wrong in ordering the appeal to abate, that the appeal being adjourned sine die there was nothing to draw the appellant's attention to it, and his ignorance of the death of the respondent in the interval was sufficient cause within the meaning of section 368 of the Civil Procedure Code. The Collector of Broach v. Balvantrai, 96 P J 674.

128— C P C—O. 22, r. 4: S. 107 (2); O. 22 r. 11 (1882—Ss. 368,582,)—Limitation Act. Art 175 C.—Death of respondent—Legal representative necessary for prosecution of appeal—Application for substitution of legal representative made within six months of obtaining probate of deceased respondent's will, but more than six months after his death—Abatement of appeal—Sufficient cause. In a suit which was in substance one for taking the accounts and winding up the affairs of a partnership which had subsisted between the plaintiff and several defendants to that suit, a final decree was made binding the plaintiff and some of the defendants to contribute in certain proportion a sum of money of which a portion was directed to be paid to another defendant A. Pending an appeal before the High Court preferred by some of the former, A (respondent) died leaving a will. About four months after A's death, A's son obtained probate of the will. The appellants applied for substituting the name of A's son for A within six months of his obtaining the probate, but more than six months after A's death. Held, that the appeal could not have proceeded in the absence of a representative of A, and no sufficient cause having been shown for not applying for substitution within six months of A's death the appeal had abated under Ss. 368 and 582 C P C and Art 175 C of Sch II of the Limitation Act. 14 M L J 147.

Abatement (Appeal)

9 DEATH OF RESPONDENT—Contd.

Raj Chunder Sen v. Gangadar Seal 1 A L J 145=31 Cal 487=8 C W N 442=31 I A 71 P C.

Notes —Ref: 11 C W N 698; 5 C L J 310.

129—Civil Procedure Code, ss. 365, 582—Substitution of second applicant as respondent—A respondent having died, a conditional order was, on the application of the appellant, made substituting the name of his alleged representative on the record. That order was cancelled upon the application of another person who satisfied the Court that he and not the person whose name had been conditionally substituted was the real representative and who asked to have his name put on the record—Held, that the Court had no power to substitute the name of the second applicant upon the record and no further application having been made by the appellant to complete the record the appeal was ordered to abate. Sadhu Sarun Singh v. Dwarka Singh 12 C L R 45

130—Practice — Procedure Parties-Death of respondent pending appeal—Application by appellant to have certain person brought on record as deceased's legal representative—similar application by third party who alleges himself to be deceased's legal representative—Duty of Court—

Abatement (Appeal)

9 DEATH OF RESPONDENT—Contd.

Civil Procedure Code 1882, Sections 367, 368—One of two respondents having died pending an appeal, the appellant applied to have one Mussammat T.D brought on the record as the deceased's legal representative. Thereupon one H N applied under Section 368 of the Civil Procedure Code 1882, to be accepted as the legal representative of the deceased instead of Mussammat T, D. The Divisional Judge, without inquiring into the truth of the allegations held that he was bound to accept as the deceased's legal representative, the person indicated in the application of the appellant H N having appealed to the Chief Court.

Held, that although Section 368 of the Code does not make any express provision for the case of a dispute in such matters, it follows ex necessitate rei, that when a dispute does arise, the court should have the power of deciding it by an interlocutary order for the purposes of proceeding with the case or appeal. I L R IX Bom., 151, and I L R X All., 223, cited; 5 P R 1890, distinguished —

Har Narain v. Tulsi Ram 66 P R 1894.

131—C P C 582—No application for substitution of deceased's representative—Act XV of 1877 (Limitation Act), sch II, art 171 B—

Held by the Full Bench (Mahmood, J. dissenting) that s 582 of the Civil Procedure Code does not make the provisions of chapter XXI, relating to the death of a defendant in a suit, applicable to the death of a plaintiff-respondent in an appeal so as to render it obligatory on the defendant-appellant to make an application to the Court praying that the legal representatives of the deceased be made parties to the appeal; and that, where there has been no such application, the appeal does not abate. Per Petheram, C J —The words "so far as may be," in the second clause of the first paragraph of s 582, must be construed as meaning "so far as may be necessray to carry into effect the remedies contemplated by chapter XXI." Per Mahmood, J., contra, that the object of s. 582 of the Civil Procedure Code is to obviate the necessity of repeating the provisions of chapter XXI, so as to make them applicable to appeals, and the words "appellant' and " repondent" as used in the section include both plaintiffs and defendants in an appeal; that the whole Code maintains the analogy between the position of a respondent and that of a defendant for the purposes of being impleaded and brought before the Court; that chapter XXI applies to cases where a plaintiff-respondent has died; and that, in such a case, and where no application has been made, within the period prescribed therefor, praying that the legal representatives of the deceased be made parties in his place, the appeal abates. Also per Mahmood, J—The word "defendant," as used in art. 171 B of the Limitation (XV of 1877), must be taken to include a respondent, whether plaintiff or defendant in the suit I L R., 4 Bom 654 I L R 8 Calc 440 and I L R 9 Bom 56. referred to. Naraindas v Lajja Ram. I L R 7 All 693=5 W N 169

Abatement (Appeal)

9 DEATH OF RESPONDENT—Contd.

Notes—Fol 10 All 264 F B 12 Cal 590 F B: 10 All 260 F B Dist: 7 All 734; 10 All 223 F B.

131A—Art 175 C – For substitution of names – Death of plaintiff-respondent. Held that art 171 B of Act XV of 1177 does not apply to an application by a defendant appellant to have the representative of a deceased plantiff-respondent made a respondent (I L R 4 Bom 654) (I L R 8 Cal 440) (I L R 9 Bom 56) referred to. Narain Das and others v Lajja Ram. 7 All 693=5 W N 169.

132.-C.P.C.S.368-Abatement of application under s 368 as one under s 372.

Held, that an application made under s 368 of the Code of Civil Procedure to bring upon the record the legal representatives of a deceased defendant, which was made after the expiration of the sixty days allowed by art. 171 B of the Limitation Act (prior to its amendment by Act VII of 1888) could not be treated as an application under s 372. (I L R 8 Calc. 837) dissented from on this point. Nor could it be regarded as an application under s32 Athiappa v Ayanna, (I L R 8 Mad 300) dissented from.

Ojagar Mal and Another v Niamat Bibi. 10 C W N 21.

133.—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) S 368—Death of respondent--Ommission to apply within 60 days to place representative of deceased on record—"Sufficient cause" for not applying within such period.

Where, pending an appeal, one of the respondents died and it appeared that the right to sue did not survive against the other respondents alone and no application was presented within the period allowed by law to substitute the legal representative of the deceased on record in his stead, held, that the excuse that the heir was not put on the record because the plaintiff-appeallants did not know the requirements of the Code and the Limitation Law, could not be accepted as "sufficient cause" in the terms of Section 368 of the Civil Procedure Code for the appellant's omission. Allanditta v Ziadat 39 P R of 1885

Compare Mussammat Bhain v Uttam Chand P R 39 of 1885

134.—Appplication to implead the legal representative of a deceased respondent—"Sufficient cause" for not applying within the prescribed period—Ignorance of law.

In a suit in which there were numerous defendants, it appeared that after the plaintiff had filed his appeal in the Court of the Divisional Judge, one of the respondents died leaving minor sons, and (it was allegeed) a widow, and also a brother who was also a respondent. At the hearing of the appeal it was objected that plaintiff had not applied within 60 days of the death of the deceased respondent to have his sons made legal representatives, whereupon the plaintiff explained that he considered it unnecessary, as the deceased's brother was alive and a party to the suit. The Divisional Judge held that this was merely pleading ignornance of law and the excuse was not sufficient.

Held, that the explanation was sufficient, the plaintiff being an uneducated zamindar, who, it might easily be believed, would consider the adult surviving brother to be the proper representative of the deceased in preference either to his widow or his minor sons in a suit regarding immoveable property.

It is not necessarily a ground for rejecting cause shown for omitting to apply for legal representatives to be brought on the record in place of a deceased party, that the cause shown involves a mistake of law (See No 81 P R 1886 F B, Amir Bakhsh v Dula 43 P R 1889.

Ghulam Shah v Malak Muzaffar Khan 43 P R 1889.

135 —Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882, Section 362, 368—Death of respondent during pendency of appeal—Omission to apply within time to substitute legal representatives of deceased—Right to sue surviving against surviving respondents alone—Suit for partition of undivided estate of joint family--Necessity for placing divided brothr or widow of deceased co-parcener on the record.

During the pendency of an appeal by plaintiff in Chief Court, arising out of a suit for partition of what he (plaintiff) alleged to be the undivided estate of a Hindu joint family, one of the defendant-respondents died, and no application having been made within the 60 days prescribed by Article 171 B, Schedule II, Act XV or 1877, to put his heirs on the record, it was contended on behalf of the remaining respondents that the appeal abated. It appeared that after the period of limitation for such an application had expired the appellant did put in on application, praying that, in addition to one B D., brother of the deceased already on the record, one R C. another brother, and also the widow of the deceased should be placed on the record as respondents, but in a subsequent application it was pointed out that neither R C who had separated from the family, nor the widow were entitled to be regarded as the lengal representatives of the deceased and the appellant therefore prayed that the suit be proceeded with, under Section 362, Civil Procedure Code without adding any parties to those already on the record.

Abatement (Appeal)

9 DEATH OF RESPONDENT—Contd.

As regards R C., held, that the suit having hitherto proceeded on the footing that he would have no claim to a share in the property on division, the Court would not be justified in assuming in a case where no custom modifying the Hindu law had been pleaded or proved, that a custom allowing separated brothers to share with associated brothers in the property of a deceased brother was applicable to the parties, and that R C was not therefore a necessary party to the appeal. (No 44 of 1884. Civil) referred to.

As regards the widow held, that in a suit for partition brought by one member of an undivided family against another, the widows of deceased brothers and cousins are not necessary parties though in many cases it might be convenient that they should be made parties, in order to ascertain what provision should be made for their claims against the estate.

The right to sue was therefere held to survive against the surviving respondents, against whom the appeal was directed to proceed under Section 362, Civil Procedure Code. Budha Mal v Bhagwan Das P R 86 of 1886 Civil.

136.—O 22 r 2 (1882 S 362)—Limitation—Application to bring the surviving respondents entered as legal representatives of the deceased respondent—Limitation Act Art 178;—S 362, C P C is not limited in its application to cases where the right to sue (or appeal) survives against the surviving defendants (or respondents) not as the legal representatives of the deceased, but by reason of a right vested in them antecedent to the suit. Chowdhury Shamanund Das v Rajnarain Das 11 C W N 186.

Abatement (Appeal)

9 DEATH OF RESPONDENT—Contd.

137.—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882 Section 368—Application to make the representative of a deceased respondent a respondent—"Sufficient cause" for not applying within the prescribed period—Ignorance of law.

The question referred for the decision of the Full Bench was whether, for the purpose of ascertaining what is "sufficient cause" within the meaning of Section 368, Civil Procedure Code and other similar provisions of the Code it is necessary to exclude altogether from consideration mistakes arising from ignorance of law

Held, by Burney Tremlett and Smyth, JJ that it cannot be laid down as a general proposition that ignorance of law can never be considered : but that the principle laid down in (No 39 of 1885, Civil), (viz that the excuse that the heir of a deceased respondent was not put on the record within the prescribed period, because the appellant did not know the requirements of the Code and the Limitation Law, could not be accepted as "sufficient cause" in the terms of Section 368 of the Code for the appellant's omission) should only be departed from under special circumstances.

Held, per Barkely, J., (while otherwise concurring in the reply to the reference made) that it is inexpendient to lay down any general rule to control the discretion of the Court in dealing with each case with reference to its particular facts. Ghulam Shah v Mallik Muzaffar Khan 81 P R of 1886 Civ.

See also Lakmi Dass v. Mahant Gobind Bakhsh P R 81 of 1886 Civil.

138.—Civil Procedure Code (Act X of 1877), SS 368 372 Death during pendency of appeal of defendant-respondent—Appellant omitting to apply within the 60 days to place deceased's legal representative upon the record—Suit for immoveable property—Abatement of appeal—Limitation Act (XV of 1877), Schedule II Arts 171 B,, 178.

During the pendency of an appeal by the plaintiffs in a suit for cancellation of a mortgage of immoveable property, one of the defendant-respondents died and no application was made till after the lapse of 60 days from the date of the respondent's death by the appellants to place the names of the legal representatives of the deceased on the record in his stead, nor was the case one in which the cause of action could be held to have survived against the surviving respondent alone.

Abatement (Appeal)
9 DEATH OF RESPONDENT—Contd.

Held, by the Full Bench that S 368 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1877 and not S 372 was applicable to the above case, as the expression "cause of action" in Chapter XXI of the Code means any cause of action whether the suit be for damages, or for personal property or for immoveable property, or for some peculiar relief, and the expression "a cause of action which survives" means a cause of action which is not extinguished by the death of the plaintiff or of the defendant as the case may be. (10 Calc L R 449) not followed.

Held therefore, by the Division Bench (Plowden and Smyth JJ) that Art 171 B and not Art. 178 of the 2nd Schedule of the Limitation Act applied to the above case, and accordingly under S 368 of the Code the appeal abated.

Jafar v Jawaya P R 76 of 1884.

139—C. P. C. Section 582—Appeal—Local representative of respondent.

In the case of the death of a respondent, the Court has no authority to inquire as to who is the legal representative of the deceased or to refuse to accept the person designated as such by the appellant. Section 368 leaves it to the appellant to apply that a certain person whom he alleges to be the legal representative be brought on the record. If he wilfully omits to bring the right person on the record he will bear the consequence, as the proceedings will not bind the true heir. Kutba v Mussammat Umri.

5 P R 1890.

140—Civil Procedure Code, 1882, Sections 361, 368—Death of one of several defendants pending appeal—No application by plaintiff within prescribed period to put legal representative of deceased on the record—Abatement of appeal—Amendment of appeal—Cross-objections, abatement of—Contract—Act, 1872, Sections 42, 43.

Plaintiff sued for recovery of Rs. 48, 400, principal and interest due on a mortgage-bond executed by a Muhamadan lady, widow of one R A., on the 2nd June 1881. The said lady having died in 1883, the persons sued were the brother and nephews of R A., they having succeeded to R. A's property on the death of the widow and the claim was based on the grounds that the defendants were the heirs and representatives of the widow, and that in any event, as the debt was incurred for necessary purposes, it was recoverable from the estate of her husband in their hands. Defendants pleaded that the deed was fictitious and without consideration, and that it was not executed for necessary purposes, and did not therefore bind the estate of R A.

Abatement (Appeal)
9 DEATH OF RESPONDENT—Contd.

The District Judge found necessity proved to the extent of Rs. 3,000 only, and, gave plaintiff a decree for that amount with interest at one per cent. up to date of suit or Rs 7,260 in all, with proportionate costs, against the property sought to be charged, and dismissed the rest of the suit with costs.

Plaintiff thereupon appealed to the Chief Court for the portion of his claim disallowed by the Lower Court and defendants filed cross-objections under Section 561, Civil Procedure Code, in regard to the amount decreed against them.

When the appeal came on for hearing, respondents' counsel pointed out that one of the respondents had died more than six months previously, and that no application had been made to put his representatives on the record, and contended that the appeal had therefore abated under Sections 368 and 582, Civil Procedure Code. On behalf of appellant, it was admitted that the facts were as stated, but it was urged that appellant had nevertheless a right to proceed against the remaining respondents.

Held, that the appeal abated as against the remaining respondents, inasmuch as under Section 42 of the Contract Act, the obligation to perform the promise of the widow devolved on her death, on all her representatives jointly, and as on the death of one of her said representatives, the heirs of the latter were not discharged, but took their place with reference to the liability, Section 368 was applicable to the suit though founded on contract, and no act on the part of plaintiff could take the case out of the operation of the said section.

Abatement (Appeal)
9 DEATH OF RESPONDENT—Contd.

S. 43 of the Contract Act which gives a creditor a right to proceed against any one of his joint debtors, deals with substantive law, and the right so given must be exercised before the creditor institutes his suit. After the suit is filed the creditor is in the hands of the Court, and his option under s. 43 of the Contract Act is subject to the provisions of the Code of, Civil Procedure. He cannot therefore, defeat the provisions of s. 368 of the Code by resorting to his right under s. 43 of the Contract Act after the Limitation prescribed for putting the representative of his deceased debtor on the record has expired, and he has no explanation to offer for the delay.

Held, also, that even if appellant's prayer to proceed against the remaining respondents could be regarded as tantamount to one to amend his appeal, the appeal having at the time abated, it was too late to ask for such amendment in the form proposed, whatever might have been the decision on such application, if it had been made within six months of the death of the deceased respondent

Held, further, that as there can be no hearing on the merits after abatement, the cross objections had also abated. Rao Ghulam Muhammad Khan v Nahar Ali. 53 P R 1896.

141—Insolvency proceedings.

The decree holder respondent, in an appeal from an order refusing an application by the judgment debtor for declaration of insolvency under S. 344 Code of Civil Procedure, died. No step was taken to implead his representative. Held that the appeal abated.

Rameshur Singh v 'Bisheshar Singh 7 All 734, 5 W N 217,

Notes—Over 10 All 264 F B

142—Judgment before death.

A suit was brought for recovery of a share of ancestral family property, which had been sold in execution of a money-decree for a debt contracted by the plaintiff's grandfather. The plaintiff obtained a decree in the lower appellate Court, from which the defendant appealed to the High Court. During the pendency of the appeal, the plaintiff died, and on her own application, his widow was brought on the record. At the hearing it was contended that upon the plaintiff's death, the right to sue did not survive, and that the suit should be dismissed. Held by the Full Bench that, judgment having been obtained before the plaintiff's death, the benefit of the judgment or the right to sue, would survive to his legal representative. Muhammad Husain v Khushalo. 9 All 131.

Notes—Ref 19 Mad 345. Fol 26 Bom 597.

143—C. P. C. O 22 r 4 (1882 S. 368).

Held, that in case of the death of one of the defendant-respondents an appeal abates altogether, if the plaintiff (appellant) fails to substitute legal representatives within time in case of joint possession. 22 All 430 Ref. Shive Bin v Ma Thein. 3 L B R 168.

144—C.P.C. O 22 r 4 (1882-s. 368)-Death of one of two respondents alleged by appellants to be members of a joint Hindu family—Application by widow of deceased respondent to declare the appeal to have abated, and by appellants to bring the widow on to the record—Widow added by the Court.

The plaintiffs sued two defendants alleging them to be members of a joint Hindu family. Their suit having been unsuccessful, the plaintiffs appealed and during the pendency of the appeal one of the respondents died. After the lapse of more than six months the widow of the deceased respondent applied to the Court to have it declared that the appeal had abated. The appellants contested this application, but at the same time themselves asked that the widow might be brought on to the record if the Court thought it necessary that she should be a party. The Court accordingly ordered that the widow should be made a respondent. Held, that, under the peculiar circumstances of the case, the plaintiff's appellants having pleaded that the respondents were joint, whilst the Court of first instance had held that they were separate, the plaintiffs were excusable in not having applied to have the widow made a party to the appeal and the appellare Court had used a proper discretion in joining her Sher Singh v Hari Singh 1902 A W N 152.

145—The plaintiff-responent in an appeal, pending before the High Court, died on the 17th of September, 1885, subsequently D applied to the High Court, to be brought on the the record as legal representative of the deceased. On the 15th of April. 1886, he was referred to a regular suit to establish his title as such representative, and on the 25th of February 1887 such suit was dismissed. On the 8th of February. 1886, the defendant-appellants applied to the High Court for judgment, but the application was dismissed under the decision of a full Bench in 10 All 260.On 24th July,1888,they applied to bring certain persons on the record as the legal representative of the deceased plaintiff-respondent. Held that the appeal abated.

Abatement (Appeal)
9 DEATH OF RESPONDENT—Contd.

Chajjmal Das v Jagdamba Prasad, 11 All 408=8 W N 111

146- C. P. C. O 41 r 4 (1332) S 544)—Death of defendant—Right to appeal—Appeal—Practice.

Where a decree is passed against defendants. and one of them dies, it is open to the rest of the defendants to appeal against the whole decree, if the ground of appeal is common to all the defendants, Chintaman v Gangabai. 5 Bom L R 90=27 Bom 284.

147—S. 371 C. P. C.—Sufficient cause.

An order having been made under s. 366 of the Code of Civil Procedure for the abatement of a suit an application was made to set aside the abatement and to substitute, the applicant in the place of the deceased plaintiff. The application was made several months after the period of sixty days allowed by art 171 of sch (ii) of the Limitation Act ; and the only cause alleged by the applicant for not continuing the suit related to a period of thirteen days only. The Court set aside the abatement, brought the applicant on the record and decreed the claim. The defendants appealed and in their memorandum of appeal objected to the order setting aside the abatement as illegal. Held, that the Court of first instance had committed an error in law in making the order setting aside the abatement, inasmuch as that order was time-barred and without sufficient cause being shown within the meaning of s 371 of the Code : that the error was one which affected the decision of the case within the meaning of s 591 ; and the defendants were therefore entitled to set it forth in their memorandum of appeal in the lower appellate Court. Dudhraj v Parbati, 9 W N 70, Chajjandas v. Jagdamba Prasad. 11 All 408=8 W N 111.

148—C.P.C. O,22,r 9 (1)(2);S.107 (2);O,22 r.11 (1882 Ss 371 and 582)—Death of one defendant

Abatement (Appeal)
9 DEATH OF RESPONDENT—Contd.

—Withdrawl of suit against surviving defendant, pending appeal by him—Restoration of appeal upon application by heirs of deceased defendant. Where two defendants, who were jointly interested in a suit, preferred an appeal to the district Judge and the appeal being dismissed, one preferred a second appeal. the other having died, and on remand by the High Court, the plaintiff withdrew the suit as against the surviving appellant by arrangement with him and the appeal was dismissed.

Held. that an application by the heirs of the deceased defendant for restoration of the appeal ought to be allowed, inasmuch as it was not necessary for them to prosecute the appeal so long as the other defendant was prosecuting it. Chandra Kumar Majhi v. Sandhyamoni, 13 C W N 338=36 Cal 418= 2 Ind Cas 412.

149—Abatement of suits—Suit for redemption—Decree for—Appeal—By first mortgagee—Death of mortgagor-Legal representatives—Not brought on the record-Abatement.

In a suit for redemption by the mortgagor and second mortgagee a decree was passed. The first mortgagee appealed and claimed a larger sum than was allowed. The mortgagor died pending the appeal and his legal representatives were not brought on the record. Held, the appeal has abated. Seshu Patter's son v yakanath Easwaran Unni Valia Kaimal 9 M L T 356

150—Art. 175C—Death of a respondent, a co-sharer landlord. on appeal by tenant in rent—Suit—Abatement of suit. When a respondent in a second appeal dies during the pendency of the appeal, and application by the appellants to substitute his heirs on the record is governed by Art. 175, cl. (c) of Sch II of the Limitation Act Sec. 587 of the Code of Civil Procedure must be read in conjunction with Sec. 582 of the Code and Art. 175, cl (c) of Sch II of the Limitation Act. I.L R 29 Mad 529 Mad (1906).dissented from. Upendra Kumar Chakravartti v. Sham Lal Mondol 11 C W N 1100=6 C LJ 715.

See also:—

Limitation Act

Art 175 C.

151—C.P.C. S. 3 8 (6)-Application to place legal representative of deceased defendant respondent

Abatement (Appeal)
9 DEATH OF RESPONDENT—Contd.

on the record-Sufficient cause for not applying within prescribed period-Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) Section 368.

Held, that the period for applying in the case of a deceased defendant-respondent to place his legal representative upon the record is 60 days under Art. 171 B. of the Second Schedule of the Limitation Act. (No. 133 P. R. (No. 1884) 133 P. R. 1886) followed.

Held, further, that ignorance by an appellant of the fact of a respondent's death may be a sufficient excuse for not applying within 60 days, within the meaning of the last clause of Section 368 of the Civil Procedure Code. Gaman v. Baksha 42 P R 1887.

152—S. 363 C. P. C.——Onus.—H and G plaintiffs in the suit, preferred this second appeal. After the appeal had been filed, H died, and an application was made no behalf of his sons to have their names substituted for their ewased father, in which ita,edei stated that he pp'son or about the 15th June last." Held, that it was for the petitioners to prove that the application was made within the period of limitation provided in art. 171; that they having failed to do so the application must be refused and the appeal as regards H must abate. Harnandan v. Durga. 7 W N 60.

153—C.P.C O. 22 r. 4 S. 107 (2) r. 11 (1882 Ss. 368 and 582)-Decision before expiry of six months. The sole respondent died leaving a son and two grandsons. On the application of the son his name was brought on the record without any objection. The appellant did not apply to have any one's name substituted in the place of the deceased father. The court decreed the appeal. The respondent appealed on the ground that the appeal in the Court below ought to have been held to have abated. Held, that inasmuch as the appeal in the Court below was decided before the expiry of six months from the death of the sole respondent's death, it could not be held to have abated and the appeal was remanded to the lower appellate Court. Inayat Ullah v. Gopal Narain Lal 1901 W N 187.

154—C.P.C O. 22 r. 1 S 107 (2); O. 22, r. 11 (1882 Ss 361, 582)—Act XIV of 1882) ss 361 and 582-Suit for injunction-Dismissal—Appeal—Death of defendant, pending appeal-Abatement A.

Abatement (Appeal)
9 DEATH OF RESPONDENT—Contd.

personal action would not survive. The parties sued or suing and a party mulcted in costs in such an action dismissed and incompetent to prosecute his appeal for the damages is not entitled to maintain an appeal for the setting aside of a decree for costs, which was consequent on the dismissal of the action. If an action fails what is incidental to it must fail also. 26 Bom. 597; 24 ch. D. 439; 9 All. 131: 9 Q B D 170; 31 Cal 409 Ref Josiam Thiruvengada Charlar v. Sami Iyengar 7 M L T 195= 5 Ind Cas 937=20 M L J 760

155—C P C O 22 rr. 3, 4 (Ss 365,368)—"The legal representative may apply"—Court's duty:—The provisions in Ss 365 and 368, C P C (Act XIV of 1882) that "the legal representative may apply" do not mean that the Court is to accept as legal representative of the deceased party any person who choses to apply, The provisions of S 368 can be applied only when the application is made by the real legal representative Mamraza v. Subbarama Reddi 19 M L J 33

156—C.P.C. S. 372-Transfer of interest pending suit or appeal-Registration-Notice-Verbal mortgage for over Rs. 100—Plaintiff sued for possession under a registered sale-deed, Defendant pleaded a verbal mortgage for over Rs. 100 with possession and of which plaintiff had notice. The first Court decided in favour of the defendant's mortgage, but the Devisional Judge passed an unconditional decree in favour of plaintiff. Defendant appealed to the Chief Court. While the appeal was pending, the defendant sued the plaintiff, for pre-emption of the same land and got a decree At the hearing of the appeal the plaintiff objected in limine to the appeal being heard, on the ground, that he had no longer any interest in it; that all his rights had passed to the defendant under the pre-emption decree, and that consequently nothing was left to decide. Held, that this contention was not correct. It was material to the defendant to get a decision on the question whether or not he held a lien on the land as mortgagee, as this would effect the amount of money he may have to pay as pre-emptor.

A registered purchaser with notice of an oral mortgage takes subject to the latter. Najmuddin v Akbar Din 143 P R 1889.

Abatement (Appeal)
9 DEATH OF RESPONDENT—Contd.

157—C P C S. 368 & 582—Section 168—Death of a respondent—Limitation for application under section 168 Civil Procedure Code.—

When an appellant predeceases a respondent the period of limitation prescribed for making an application under sections 168 and 582 Civil Procedure Code is computed from the time when the names of the legal representatives of the deceased appellant are entered on the record.

Nil Kanth Talatuley v Govind Rao Desh-Mukh. 16 C P L R 78.

158-159-C.P.C. O 22,r 4 (1882-S.368)-Penultimate clause-Abatement-Absolute—Limitation-Act S. 7—Per Daries J:

The abatement provided for in the penultimate clause of S. 368 is absolute and cannot subsequently be set aside. A minor cannot seek to set aside the order of abatement after the appeal has been ordered once to abate through the negligence of the former guardian, to apply to bring the legal representative of the deceased respondent on record. S. 7 Limitation Act, will not help him, there being no appeal pending at the time.

Paru v Variangatil Raman Menon. 28 Mad 359.

160—Abatement—Appeal, incompetency of-Privy Council appeal—After final admission and before transmission of record—High Court duty of.

After an appeal to His Majesty in Council had been admitted but before the transmission of the transcript record to England, it was objected by the respondent that he had attained the status of a Sovereign Prince, so that the suit could not be continued against him in any Municipal Court, and he prayed that the appeal may be declared to have abated.

Held, that although the High Court retained jurisdiction over the appeal for interlocutory matters; it would not make the order for abatement, but would transmit the petition with a report upon the truth or otherwise of the allegations made therein, to be dealt with by the Judicial Committee upon the hearing of the appeal.

Samarendra Chandra Deo v Birendra Kishore. 10 C L J 330.

Abatement (Appeal)
9 DEATH OF RESPONDENT—Contd.

161—C. P. C. O 22 r 1 (1882 S.361)—Appeal-Defect of.

When during the pendency of an appeal against a decree for rent one of the plaintiffs, respondents, died and his heirs were not brought on the record. Held.—That the appeal ought to be dismissed. 6 C W N 196 foll. Tarip Dafadar v Khotejannessa Bibi. 10 C W N 981.

162—C. P. C.O 22, r 9 Sub-r. (2)—Abatement-Sufficient cause-Negligence or forgetfulness:—

Negligence or forgetfulness on the part of the agent specially appointed by the appellant to look after the appeal and to receive notices and information from his vakil, is not a sufficient cause within the meaning of O 21, r 9, sub-rule 2. When the time for reviving proceedings in a court is once passed, a very valuable right is secured to the successful litigant and the court must therefore be fully satisfied of the justice of the grounds on which it is sought to obtain an extension of the time for attacking the decree. 30 Bom 329; 31 Bom 333 Ref. Tarini Kumar Datta v Gopeswar Pal Chowdhury. 12 C L J 615=7 Ind Cas 391.

163—C.P.C. O 22. r 4 (1882 s.368.) Abatement of appeal as against one of the respondents.

Appeal continuing as against the remaining respondents. Where there are more respondents than one, and one of them died pending the hearing of the appeal, and an application to substitute the name of his heir was rejected.

Held, that the appeal has abated so far as the deceased respondent was concerned, but the appellate Court will proceed against the remaining respondent. Upendra Kumar v Sham Lal. 6 C L J 715=11 C W N 1100.

164—Defendant.—

The word "defendant" in art. 171 3 of the Limitation Act, 1877, does not include a respondent.

Udit Narain Singh v Harogouri Prasad. 12 Calc 590.

165—Suit for redemption—Appeal—Mortgagor's death pending suit—His legal representatives not brought on record—Abatement.

Abatement (Appeal)

9 DEATH OF RESPONDENT—Contd.

Where, in a suit for redemption, a decree was passed, and pending an appeal preferred by the first mortgagee and others, the mortgagor (Jenmi) died and the legal representatives of the mortgagor were not brought on record, held that the appeal abated. Seshu Pattar v Unni Yalia Kaimal. 9 M L T 356.

166—C P.C. O. 22. r. 1 (1882 S. 361)-Partition suit——Death of co-partner pending appeal—Abatement—Widow's right to represent:—

Where a co-partner dies after decree for partition in first court, but pending appeal, his widow was allowed to be brought on record as his representative for purposes of appeal —Quære.— Whether she can claim her husband's share. Narayan v. Durgaji, 28 Bom 201.

Notes·—Ref: 19 M L J 70, 9 C L J 133= 13 C W N 309, 32 Mad 271.

167—C. P. C. O. XLIII r. 1 (k)—Order of abatement-No application made to set aside—No appeal—No revision—Punjab Courts Act, XVIII of 1884, S. 70 (1) (a).

Where no application to set aside an abatement was made, held that no appeal would lie under O. XLIII, r. 1 (k), Civ. Pro. Code.

Where an applicant fails to avail himself of the remedy by way of application to set aside the abatement, the Court will refuse to interfere under S. 70 (1) (a), Punjab Courts Act, 1884. Thakur Das v. Perma Nand, 95 P R 1911.

168—(21) O. XXII r. 4 (3)-Death of respondent--No application to bring in legal representatives on record made within 6 months—Abatement—Ignorance of death till after expiry of 6 months.

Where one of the respondents appointed under O. I, r. 8, Civ. Pro. Code, to represent a body of numerous respondents, died, and where no application to bring on record his legal representatives was made within 6 months from the date of his death.

Held, that the appeal abated.

Ignorance of death until after the expiry of the period of limitation is not such a ground that would justify a departure from the rule laid down in O. XXII, r. 4 (3), which is imperative in its terms. Sayad Mir Nawab v. Hardeo. 60 P R 1911.

Abatement (Appeal)

9 DEATH OF RESPONDENT—Concld.

Abatement of suit—General cases.

See (1) Parties—Adding parties to suits.

See also cases under C P C O XXII.

Abatement of wrong.

See Damages—Suit for damages—torts.

Abbreviation of time.

See (1) Mortgage—Redemption.

,, (2) Possession—Adverse possession.

Abdication.

See Hindu Law—Interitance—Impartible estate.

Abduction.

Abduction.—See Contract Act 1872 s.3. 82 P R 1904.

Abduction & Seduction of daughter

See Damages—Suit for damages-Torts.

Abkari Act.

See Bombay Acts.

Abkari Laws.

1—Abkari license—Licensee taking a partner in violation of Abkari Rules-Fort St, George Gazette Notification No. 58, dated 4th February 1890 and 29th September 1896.

The taking of a partner by an Abkari licensee is not illegal, though it is in violation of rule 27 of the license forbidding a sale or transfer of the privilege, as the rule is ultra vires of the notification No. 58 Fort Saint George Gazette and the subsequent notification of the 29th September 1896 did not have a retrospective effect. Jayanti Bhimappa v Seshanna, 6 M L T 345.

Abkari Renter.

See Stamp Act XXXVI of 1860.

Abkari sale.

1—Madras Act (Abkari) S. 28,—Sale for arrears under—Prior encumbrance by defaulter, effect of such sale on.

Abkari Sale-(Concld.)

Certain lands were sold under S. 28 for arrears of Abkari revenue due by its owner. They were purchased by the seventh defendant in this suit and the question for decision was whether he took it free of incumbrances or subject to the mortgage which, prior to the sale, the defaulter had created it in favour of the plaintiff in this suit. Held, that the seventh defendant took the land subject to the plaintiff's mortgage, that, in cases under the old Abkari Act it has been decided that the purchaser at such a sale did not take the land free of all incumbrances, that between the words "in like manner as for the recovery of arrears of land revenue" in S, 10 of the old Act and the corresponding words "as if they were arrears of land revenue" of the present S. 28, there is no real difference in the meaning and, that to hold otherwise, would open a wide door to fraud on bona fide mortgages (7 Mad 434; 25 Mad 57; 26 Mad 230 Fol.) Ibrahim Khan v Rangasami 28 Mad 420.

Absconding debtor.

See Attachment—Attachment of person.

Absconding offender.

1—Power to try claims of third parties—Criminal Procedure Code,1882' ss. 88 89-Proceedings of magistrate—"Judicial proceedings."

There is no provision of law requiring a Magistrate, who has attached property under s. 88 of the Criminal Procedure Code, to investigate the claims of third persons to the ownership of such property. 7 W. R, Cr, 35, followed. The proceedings of a Magistrate under s. 88 of the Criminal Procedure Code are therefore not "Judicial proceedings" in the sense of s. 4 (d) of that Code. Sheo Lihal Rai 6 All. 487

2-C.P.C. S.88-Attachment of property as of an absconding person—Claim a property attached —Procedure. When a claim is made to property attached under section 88 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, the Magistrate should stay the sale to give the claimant time to establish his right. If the Magistrate errs, the remedy of the aggrieved party is by civil suit and not by criminal revision petition. Kandappa Goundan, 20 Mad. 88.

3—Attachment by magistrate—Priority of attachment—Criminal Procedure Code Act X of 1872 Secs, 171 173, 173—Disposal of Government

Absconding offender-(Concld.)

The proprietor having absconded certain immoveable property belonging to him was attached on the Seventh August 1878 by the Magistrate under s. 172 of the Criminal Procedure Code Act X of 1872. While this attachment was still subsisting the plaintiff attached the same property in execution of a decree and at the sale in execution became herself the purchaser on the 15th January 1879. The original proprietor not having appeared within the time specified in the proclamation issued under s. 171 of the Code, the Magistrate in April 1880 at a public sale sold the rights of the Government to the defendant.

Held, that so long as the attachment by the Magistrate subsisted no title could be conferred by any subsequent attachment, and that the plaintiff's title could not prevail against that of the defendant. Golrm Abed v Toolseeram Bera 9 Cal 861=12 C L R 411

4—Criminal Porcedure Code, ss. 88 and 89—Property of alleged absconding offender attached and sold under an illegal warrant—Suit for recovery of such property.

Held that where the property of an alleged absconding offender is attached and sold by a Court purporting to act under s. 88 of the Code of the Criminal Procedure, and it turns out that the proclamation of sale is irregular and illegal there is nothing to bar a suit by the owner of the property so sold to recover such property in the hands of a purchaser. Abdul v Kazim Begam A W N 1904, 159

5—Criminal Procedure Code, 1882 ss. 87 88, 89—Proclamation and attachment-Sale of attached property-Title of purchaser. Where property was attached and sold as property of a proclaimed offender under ss. 87 and 88 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, it was held that, although the proclamation was irregular. yet the property having vested in third parties, strangers to the proceedings in which the proclamation was made the sale could not be set aside. Abdullah v Jitu 22 All 216=(1900) A W N 28

Notes—Ref 9 P R 1908, 29 P W R 1908= 8 Cr L J 260.

Absence

See Resjudicata-judgments on technical points.

C. P C. O. 9 r. 9 and O 17 r. 3

Absence from British India.

See Cases under

(1) Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 13

(2) Dismissal of Suit

1—Absence by reason of transportation

During the plaintiff's absence by reason of transportation, the defendant took possession of land which previously belonged to him as a tenant, and the landlord allowed the defendant to hold as his tenant He held possession for more than twelve years In a suit by the plaintiff on his return to turn the defendant out of possession, in which the landlord was made a defendant, —Held that the suit was barred there being no exception in the Limitation Act with regard to plaintiffs who are beyond the sea in consequence of transportation. Domun v Sudunkoolah.
1 B L R S N 25=10 W R 253

Absence of defendant at an adjourned hearing.

See C. P C. O. 9 r 13 and O 17 r. 3

Absence of defendant from British India.

See Limitation Act 1877 Ss 13, 9

Absence of entry of acceptance in drawer's books.

See Bill of exchange.

Absence of foreclosure clause in a mortgage deed.

See Mortgage Foreclosure.

Absence of intention to grant Zamindari partible.

See Grant-Construction of grants

Absence of natural father at Datt-Homom.

See Hindu Law Adoption

Absence of reasonable & probable cause.

See Malicious Prosecution.

Absence or want of notice no ground for review by another Judge.

See-Review Grounds for review Review Review by Judge other than judge in original case.

Absent Co-owner claiming property after seven years absence.

See (1) Evidence Act Ss 107 and 108.

(2) Hindu Law Presumption of death.

(3) Mahomedan Law presumption of death

Absentee Co-sharers.

See Co sharers

Absentees.

See (1) Limitation Act art 144 (Adverse Possession)

(2) Landlord and Tenant (Abandonment or Relinquishment of Tenure)

(3) Right of Occupancy

(4) Adverse Possession

Absentees

Long absence—Presumption of relinquishment—Presumption not affected by the conduct of the persons holding adversely

Long absence by an absentee, who though residing near the land takes no steps to assert his claim, raises a strong presumption that the absentee has relinquished all claim to the land recorded in his name and this presumption is not affected by the conduct of those who permit the absentee's name to be borne in the settlement papers (78 P R 1875 Fol)

Shera v Qutba 38 P R 1878.

Notes—Cited 38 P R 1887 Fol 141 P R 1887 Ref 120 P R 1905.

Absolute estate.

1—Will—Construction of—Absolute estate—Restriction upon alienation—Validity of—A Hindu testator directed by his will "The house I give after my decease to my son Ramabhau and to the sons and grandsons that may hereafter be born to him. As to the property mentioned above which I have given as recited above to my said son Ramabhau, his wives Manjulabai and Taibai and their lineal sons and grandsons alone shall be entitled to the said property after the death of the said Ramabhau. No one else besides these shall be entitled. Held, (1) that Ramabhau acquired, under the will, an absolute estate in the property bequeathed to him; (2) that the restriction put upon the estate by the latter provision was void. Chimanrao v Bamabhau. 4 Bom L R.509.

Absolute estate-(Concld.)

See also cases under—

(1) Will.
(2) Hindu Law (Will)
(3) Hindu Law (Stridhan)
(4) Hindu Law (Widow)

Absolute grant.

See (1) Will—Construction Grant-Construction of grants.
(2) Mahomedan Law—Endowment.

Absolute occupancy holding.

See Landlord and tenant—Nature of Tenancy.

Absolute occupancy Tenant.

1—Mortgage—Pre-emption.

A mortgaged his absolute occupancy holding to B without the consent of the malguzar. The holding was put up to sale in execution of a money decree subject to whatever encumbrances existed upon it and it was purchased by C. Before sale the Collector gave C an opportunity of pre-emption; but the Commissioner set aside the transaction on the ground that the right of pre-emption had not been exercised within a month. B now sued to enforce his lien against the holding. Held, that the proceedings taken by the Collector and by the Commissioner under section 38 Tenancy Act must be left out of consideration altogether as in no way affecting the rights of the defendant. The mortgage was void as against him, II C P L R 16 referred to. Ramlal v. Hasan Bibi, 7 C P L R 89.

See also Cases under:—

(1) C. P. Tenancy Act, S. 38
(2) Limitation Act Art. 10

C. C. 7

Absolute occupancy Tenant-(Concld.)

(3) Mortgage (usufructuary and mortgage by Conditional Sale)

2—Absolute Occupancy Tenant—Malguzar—C. P. Tenancy Act. 1883 Sec. 38 —Mortgagee—Possession—Sale Deed— Specific Relief Act. An absolute occupancy tenant mortgaged his holding by a registered deed which was void as against the malguzar under Section 38 of the C. P. Tenancy Act 1883. The mortgagee sued the tenant on the deed, obtained a decree and got possession in March 1896. In June 1896 the malguzar with the knowledge of the above facts got a sale deed executed by the tenant and forcibly ejected the mortgagee who again got possession by a suit under the Specific Relief Act.

The malguzar then sued the mortgagee on his sale deed. Held that at the date of his purchase the malguzar had a right to take over the holding at a price to be fixed by the Deputy Commissioner but that as he chose to purchase for a price arranged between himself and the tenant and to pay the whole of that price to the tenant his suit could not succeed. 5. C. P. L. R. 125. 6 C. P. L. R. 131, referred to. 7 C P L R 89; 18 All 354.

Seth Laxmichand &c. v. Thakur Raghuraj Singh. 12 C. P. L. R. 127.

Absolute privilege

See (1)—Evidence Act 1872 S. 126.
(2)—Privileged communication
(3)—Privilege

1.—C. P C. O 11 rr. 12, 13 (1882—S. 130).

Indian Evidence Act (1 of 1872, S 126—Document, production of—Privilege attaching to documents—Legal adviser—Court—Discretion.

Under the Evidence Act. in regard to certain documents—when they are absolutely privileged the court has no power whatever to order production. But under S. 130 of the C. P C. 1882. the court does possess the discretion, and the discretion is to be exercised according to the practice of the Court. And although a document may not be such as passed directly between the legal adviser and the client yet if it is of such a nature as to make it quite clear that was obtained confidentially for the purpose of being used in litigation and with a view to being submitted to legal advisers then the Court will not compel the production of such a document 7 Q B D 769 Ref to. Vishnu v. New York Life Insurance Co. 7 Bom L R 709

Absolute Privilege-(Concld.)

2-State proceedings-Communications between Ministers of State—Production in a Court of law.

All communications between Ministers of State with regard to public matters or public functions all expressions of opinion in the conduct of public duties by the officers of State, and all records and documents in which the opinions, or order of public officers are contained, are absolutely privileged, and cannot be compelled to be produced in a Court of law

If prima facie a document purports to be an official communication which would be privileged, no allegation of malice would be allowed and no proof of malice would take away the privilege.

Jehangir v. Secretary of Stste 5 Bom L R 30.

Abstract of Title

See Vendor and Purchaser (Warranty of title)

Abuse

See—(1) Slander.
(2) Damages-suit for damages-tort.
Jurisdiction of Civil Court—Abuse defamation and slander.

Abuse, defamation and slander.

See—Jurisdiction of Civil Court

Abuse of process of Court.

1—T. P, Act S 90—Abuse of process of court—Fraud—Purchase benami for decree-holder—Estoppel Where upon an application for sale the decree-holder obtains leave to purchase in the property upon the undertaking to pay the full decretal amount for it and the property is purchased benami for him, at a less sum, and the judgement-debtor does not object at the time Held, upon the decree-holder applying for a personal decree for the balance, that the judgement debtor having the remedy to get the sale set aside in due course of law cannot object to the decree-holder executing his decree for the balance, although the purchase by the decree-holder was an abuse of the process of the court. Durga v Bhagwan Das, 1 A L J 486

2—C P C O. 16 r. 1, (1882 S.159)—Summons to witnesses—Jurisdiction inherent in Court to prevent abuse of process.

Although on application of a party to a legal proceeding summons to a witness will ordinarily issue and a court is bound to issue a summons under S. 159, except in cases governed by s. 386, C. P. C., a Court has an inherent right to prevent an abuse of its own process,and where it is shown that the process is applied for not bona fide for the purpose of obtaining any material evidence, the Court will be justified in declining to issue process. Veerabadran Chetty v. Nataraja Dasikar. 14 M L J 329=28 Mad 28=9 C W N 421=32 Cal 582 also 15 M L J 569=28 Mad 560.

Abuse of process of Court-(Concld.)

Abuse, suit for Damages—

See—(1) Jurisdiction of Civil Court—Abuse, Defamation and Slander, Suits For.
(2) Slander.
(3) Defamation.

Abusive language

See—Cases under defamation-Jurisdiction of Civil Court-Abuse defamation and Slander.

Abutting or adjoining a public Road.

See—Jurisdiction of Cvil Court-Public ways, obstruction of.

Abwab.

See also Cases under.—
(1) Cess.
(2) Batta,
(3) Bengal Tenacy Act (VIII of 1885) S. 74.

1-Beng. Tenancy Act S. 74—"Abwab"—Stipulation made before Act.

"All impositions upon tenants under the denomination of abwab," etc., and "all stipulations and reservations for the payment of such," referred to in sec. 74 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, relate to both past and future stipulations ; such stipulations made before the passing of the Bengal Tenancy Act are therefore void.

Jotindra Mohan Tagore v Chandra Nath Safui, 6 C W N 860.

Abwab-(Contd.)

2—Abwab—Puja expenses.

Puja kharach or expenses for a puja agreed to be paid in excess of the rent is an abwab and cannot be enforced. Road cess is not abwab within the meaning of S. 74 of the Bengal Tenancy Act (4 Cal 576; 3 C L J 337 Ref. 22 Cal 214 Expl).

Narandra Kumar Ghose v Gora Chand Joddar. 3 C L J 391=33 Cal 683.

Notes.—Ref: 12 C W N 154, 8 C L J 525.

3—Abwab—Promise to supply wood-Not forming part of rent—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885), S. 179-Reg. (VIII of 1819), S. 5.

A patni lease, executed before the Bengal Tenancy Act came into operation, provided that the patnidar should supply wood for the cooking of the bhog of certain idol. On his default, the Zamindar sued him for the price of the article.

Held, that, as the value of the wood was not incorporated with and did not form an integral component of the rent of the patni, it should be considered as an abwab and not recoverable.

The original patnidar having died, his representatives the present defendants, were called upon in 1903 by the Zamindar to execute a security bond, and they complied with the requisition agreeing to remain bound by the terms of the original patni lease.

Held, that the execution of the security bond did not amount to a new lease, and that, therefore, s.179, of the Bengal Tenancy Act was of no assistance to the plaintiff. 3 C L J 301: 33 Cal 683; 4 C C L J 527, 10 C W N 527, 12 C W N 175. Rel on 3 C W N 608; 26 Cal 611, Dist. Ranjit Singh v Bahadur Singh. 9 Ind Cas 47

4—Abwad——Mokurari lease——Zemindari selami.

In a mokurari lease, executed before the Bengal Tenancy Act came into force, there was an agreement to pay a certain sum as rent and a certain additional sum as Zamindari selami, holi &c, expenses, which latter were found to be arbitrary and extra charges imposed on the tenants on account of work done in the Zemindari sherista and for other purposes.

Held, that the additional sum was an illegal cess or abwab and could not be recovered from the lessee by the zamindar. 17 Cal 726. Bepin Behary Mitter v Prokash Chandra Sarkar. 13 C L J 148.

Abwab-(Concld.)

5—Abwab—Delivery of 10 seers of chilli part of consideration for which tenant was allowed to take lease—Kabulyat—Construction.

If a particular sum is specified in a lease or is agreed to be paid and is the lawful consideration for the use and occupation of the land, that is to say, if it is really part of the rent, although not described as such, the landlord is entitled to recover the same.

Where in a patni kabulyat executed before the Bengal Tenancy Act, it was stipulated that, besides the money rent agreed upon, the tenant would deliver 10 seers of chilli 5 days before the Puja to the landlord

Held, on a construction of the kabulyat, that the delivery of the chilli was a part of the consideration for which the tenant was allowed to take the lease, and that it was a part of the rent and not an abwab. 4 C L J 529, 10 C W N 529 rel. upon. Sarada Kripa Lala v. Mostafizar Rahman, 12 Ind Cas 37.

Acceleration of Estate

See also cases under —

(1) Hindu Law (Widow)
(2) Hindu Law Reversioners

Acceptance

See (1) Contract-Construction of contracts.
(2) Hundi
(3) Debtor and creditor
(4) Bill of exchange

Acceptance of an instalment overdue.

See Limitation Act Arts 74, 75
„ Limitation Act Art 179 Order for Payment at specified date.

See also Bond—Bond payable by instalment.

Acceptance of executorship

See (1) Probate
(2) Executor

Acceptance of gift

See Hindu Law.—Gift

Acceptance of goods by buyers

See (1) Contract Act s 108

Acceptance of goods by buyers-Concld.

(2) Vendor and purchaser-Completion of transfer

Acceptance of Patta not in accordance with Law

See Landlord and tenant

Acceptance of Vakalat

See pleader

Acceptance or renunciation of executionership

See (1) Probate
(2) Executor

Acceptance what amounts to

See (1) Contract—Construction of contracts
(2) Contract Act s 4
(3) Negotiable Instrument Act

Accepting lower rent than that entitled to for long time.

See.—acquiescence

Acceptor.

See (1) Hundi
(2) Bill of exchange

Accession.

See (1) Lease
(2) Landlord & tenant
(3) Accretion

Accession to Land.

1—Accession —Transfer of Property Act s 63 The meaning of the term accession in section 63.

By virtue of his mortgage the mortgagee steps into the shoes of the landlord and in such capacity acquires rights which as a stranger he cannot acquire. The holding acquired by him therefore is an accession and the mortgagor is entitled to such accession on payment to the mortgagee of the cost of acquiring it X C P L R 103. Distinguished. 10 B H C 369, 5 Cal 198, referred to

Mohan Lall v Chaodhri Jalandar Singh 14 C P L R 169

2—Accession—Building on mortgaged land

When a mortgagor builds on mortgaged land after mortgage, the mortgagee is entitled to treat the building as an accession to the mortgaged

Accession to Land (Concld.)

property and it is part of his security as if the building had been on the land at the date of his mortgage. Krishna Gopal Sadhani v A B Miller 29 Cal 803

See also cases under
(1) Building on another's Land.
(2) Landlord and Tenant
(3) Equitable relief
(4) Accretion

Accident, loss by.

See Cases under (1) Carriers
(2) Railway Company
(3) Shipping law
(4) Damages suit for Accidents.

See
(1) Carriers
(2) Shipping Law
(3) Gas plant

Accommodation acceptor.

See
(1) Bill of Exchange
(2) Negotiable Instruments
(3) Principal & Surety
(4) Hundi

Accommodation drawer.

See Principal and Surety—Discharge of Surety.

Accord & satisfaction.

See
(1) Waiver
(2) Debtor discharge of

Account.

(a) Power of court to order account instead of referring party to separate suit (1)
(b) Suit on accounts not signed (2)
(c) Accounts taken in one suit adopted in another (3)
(d) Mode of taking account (4).
(e) Current mutual account (5-5a).
(f) Suit for balance on running account (5b)
(g) Court s order to furnish (6).
(h) Decree for contribution (7)
(i) Caste inspection of books right of (8).

Account-(Contd.)

(j) Form of an executor (9)

(k) Judgment-debtors paying off decree against estates account (10)

(l) Account kept in course of business (11-12)

(m) Common Law right of the member to inspect books of the corporation (13).

(n) Inventory and account (14-15).

(2) Miscellaneous Cases

(a) Payments made by agent (16)

(b) Partnership account (17-18)

(c) Custom of trade (19)

(d) Dishonest conversion by partner (20).

(e) Hard and unconscienable bargain (21)

(f) Executor's right to call for inventory and account (22).

(g) Guardian s liability to render accounts (23).

(h) Entry in Government Gazettee Account Book (24)

(i) Leave to bring suit for accounts (25)

(j) Receiver s Accounts (26).

(k) Commissioner to examine (27).

(a) During inquiry suit

(b) Acknowledgment of debt

Account—See Copyright

Account—See Cases under Decree — Construction of Decree—Account.

Account—See Decree — Form of Decree—Account.

Account—See Cases under Mortgage — Interest-Accounts.

Account—See Onus of Proof—Account

Account—See Pledgor and Pledgee

Account—See Principal and Agent — Duty of Agents to Account

Account—See Variance between Pleading and Proof—Special Cases—Account

Account—See Special and second appeal.

Account—Right to an — See Cases under

Account-(Contd.)

Hindu Law—Partition — Right to Account on Partition

(a) POWER OF COURT TO ORDER ACCOUNT INSTEAD OF PREFERRING PARTY TO SEPARATE

1—Power of Court to order Account instead of referring party to separate suit —

In a suit by the heirs of a deceased Mahomedan to recover from his widow landed property of which she claims to be in possession as absolute owner under a mokurari deed alleged to have been executed in lieu of her dower where she wholly fails to prove execution of the deed, it is competent to the Court, instead of referring the plaintiffs to a separate suit, to direct an account to be taken of the mesne profits received by the widow and of the amount due to her on account of dower with a view to the settlement of the claims of both parties

Asloo v Umdutoonissa, Umdutoonissa v. Asloo, 20 W R 297

Notes —Fol 21 Mad 27. Ref 15 All 29

(b) SUIT ON ACCOUNTS NOT SIGNED.

2—Suit on accounts—Account not signed—Limitation.—

An account settled must be signed by the debtor and the creditor has three years from its date for the institution of the suit

Chinnasawmi Naidu v Venkatasami Naidu 7 M L T 372=6 Ind Cas 719.

(c) ACCOUNTS TAKEN IN ONE SUIT ADOPTED IN ANOTHER

3—Accounts taken in one suit adopted in another, Practice as to —

Where the accounts actually taken and completed in one suit are adopted in another, the ordinary practice is to allow the result of those accounts and enquiries to be questioned in the suit wherein they are adopted Advocate General of Bombay v Kuramally, 4 Bom L R 857

(d) MODE OF TAKING ACCOUNT

4—Mode of taking Account.

In orders relating to the taking of accounts it is irregular to direct the amounts to be taken irrespective of the plea limitation Asghar Ali v. Kurshed Ali, 3 Bom L R 576=24 All 27

Account-(Contd.)

(e) CURRENT MUTUAL ACCOUNT

5—Current mutual account—Limitation.

Where the dealings between the parties are such as to create independent obligations in favour of one party against the other, the account between them is a mutual account. Article 85, Limitation Act of 1877, applies to a case of this nature giving rise to reciprocal demands, and limitation begins to run from the close of the year, in which the last item was entered in the account. 22 Bom 606 Fol. A W N (1895) 186 relied on. Chittiar Mal v. Behari Lal, 6 A L J 921=32 All 11=4 Ind Cas 261

See also Limitation Act, Arts. 85, 89 and 57.

5*A*—Account, mutual, open and current—Reciprocity of dealing—Settled account—Signature.

The reciprocity of dealing and the right to mutual demand form the essential ingredients of a mutual, open and current account.

Haji Abdul v. Haji Bibee. 7 Bom L R 151.

(f) SUIT FOR BALANCE ON RUNNING ACCOUNT.

5*B*—Suit for balance on running account.

When an account between a principal and his agent shows what balance is due from either party at different times, but is never finally settled, it is a running account, and the limitation begins to run from the date of its being closed under Art. 85, Limitation Act. Prem Kaur v. Mohan Lal, 128 P L R 1909= 115 P W R 1909=4 Ind Cas 960.

(g) COURT'S ORDER TO FURNISH.

6—Accounts, Court's order to furnish—Company transferring its business to a limited Company—New Company not bound by the order.

Where a decree directs a company to furnish accounts, and the company in the meanwhile transfers its business to a limited company, the latter company is not bound by the decree as it is a distinct legal person; and the decree does not operate beyond the date of such transfer.

Fraser & Co. v. Bombay Ice Manufacturing Co. 7 Bom L R 107=29 Bom 107.

(h) DECREE FOR CONTRIBUTION.

7—Decree for—Satisfaction—Apportionment —Contribution.—

Account-(Contd.)

When a decree for mesne profits was satisfied by some out of the entire body of persons liable thereunder by payments made from time to time and a question arose as to the principle which would regulate contribution amongst the parties themselves:

Held, that the correct principle was to allow interest on the sums paid from the date of payment, and then to apportion rateably the whole sum crediting interest on each amount paid in favour of the party on whose behalf it was paid, from the date of payment until the final satisfaction of the decree for mesne profits. Judgment of the Judicial Committee in 31 Cal 597 explained. Guru Prasanna Lahiri v. Jotindra Mohun Lahiri, 7 C L J 454=35 Cal 303=35 I A 32.

(i) CASTE INSPECTION OF BOOKS RIGHT OF.

8—Caste, not a corporation — Inspection of books—Right of members to.—

The right to inspect account books kept in connection with caste funds and properties is not in any sense a caste privilege. It is a legal right. It is preliminary to a right to assert a claim to property and is incidental to the right to recover property which may be lost to the caste by misuse or misappropriation. A suit brought by plaintiffs on behalf of themselves and others as members of Cutchi Memon Jamat to have full and free inspection of the books of account kept by the defendants in their capacity as trustees of caste funds and properties is maintainable in Civil Courts. It is the assertion of a pure legal right and it in no way affects the internal autonomy of the caste "or" its social relations. There is no analogy whatever between a corporation as known to English Law and an Indian caste. The principles governing the rights of members of caste to inspection of accounts of caste properties must be governed by considerations very different from those governing the rights of members of corporation seeking inspection of documents of such corporation.—Haroon Haji Vahedina v. Haji Adam Haji Oosman Nurani, 11 Bom L R 1267=4 Ind Cas 569.

(j) FORM OF AN EXECUTOR.

9—From an executor—Filing of accounts.

It is the duty of an executor to file his accounts without compelling the parties interested in the estate to take out an order to compel him to do so. If an executor improperly and without sufficient reason fails to file the accounts, he will have to bear the costs of the order for compelling him to do so.

Account-(Contd.)

An executor is not justified in declining to file his accounts simply because there may be a dispute as to the period from which the accounts should begin. But a party interested in the estate will be ordered to bear his own costs of the order if his application is frivolous or vexatious or if he has been guilty of long delay or laches or if he has acquiesced in the executor not filing the accounts.

Jetha Padamsi, 7 Bom L R 451.

(K) JUDGMENT—DEBTORS PAYING OFF DECREE AGAINST ESTATES ACCOUNT

10.—Judgment-debtors paying off decree against estate—Accounts. R, the 12 annas share holder of an estate, and after his death his successor-in-interest remained in wrongful possession of the remaining 4 annas share from 1826 to 1854 when the true owners recovered possession. In 1862, they instituted a suit for mesne profits from 1826 to 1854 against "the co-sharers, zemindars of 12 annas share" and got a decree in the first Court in 1875 against persons who were co-partners in the estate at the date of the decree. On appeal, the High Court merely reduced the amount decreed (in 1882). Between 1854 and 1882 several changes had taken place in the distribution of interest amongst the different branches of R's family. On a question subsequently arising as to what amount each co-partner was liable to contribute in paying off the decretal amount, the High Court held that this was to be determined according to the share which each of them had in possession from 1826 to 1864: Held (reversing the judgment of the Court)—That the cause of action in the suit was the wrongful enjoyment of the 4 annas share by the 12 annas shareholder collectively as part of their family estate and the decree which followed being in effect one against the estate, was against those who were co-parteners when it was passed and they were bound to contribute according to shares they then held in the estate. The decree was satisfied by payments made from time to time on behalf of the several co-partners from 1883 to 1889 and during this period interest ran on so much only of the amount of the decree as for the time being remained unsatisfied. In a suit for contribution instituted by one of the co-partners against the others in respect of the amounts so paid: Held—That inasmuch as each payment, so far as it went, stopped the running of the interest of the decretal amount, the benefit, of that cessation of interest ought to go in relief only of those who made the payment and not of those who continued in default. Accordingly accounts were directed to be taken on the following principle, viz., interest was to be computed on the total principal of the judgment-debt to the date of the final extinguishment without regard to the sums from time to time paid on account, and interest at the same rate on each amount so paid from the date of payment until the final satisfaction of the decree was to be credited in favour of the party on whose behalf it was paid, decree depending on the result. One of the items paid on account consisted of a sum of money held by the Government Treasury to the credit of the co-partners in separate accounts and derived from a portion of the estate which lay in the Garo Hill District. This amount was drawn in 1883 but one of the co-partners, H, proved that before that he had by suit established his right to a larger share in the estate than was represented by the amount held by the Treasury to his credit. The High Court in passing accounts held that H was entitled to a credit out of the sum drawn from the Treasury proportionate to his share in the estate: Held (reversing the judgment of the High Court)—That the money not having been held on joint account, H was not entitled for the purpose of the present suit to credit for a larger sum than that which stood to his account.

Jotindra Mohun Lahiri v Guru Prosunno Laniri 8 C W N 625=31 Cal 597=31 I A 94.

(L) ACCOUNT KEPT IN COURSE OF BUSINESS.

11-12.—Account kept in course of business.

A person used to enter all his receipts and all the advances he made to his amlahs first in a khata book. The amlahs used to submit furds embodying the expenses incurred by them and these used to be regularly checked by him. He used to prepare his monthly and other accounts from the khata book and the furds. Held—That these accounts having been kept regularly in the course of business, were admissible under sec. 34 of the Evidence Act even though the khata book itself was not produced. 4 C W N

Account-(Contd.)

147, s. c. I L R 27 Cal 118 (1899), referred to.

Raja Peary Mohon Mookerjea v. Narendra Nath Mookerjea. 9 C W N 421.

See also.

(1) Evidence Civil cases.

(2) Accounts & account books

(m) COMMON LAW RIGHT OF THE MEMBERS TO INSPECT BOOKS OF THE CORPORATION.

13.—Register of shareholders—Member of the Corporation—Common-Law right of the member to inspect books of the Corporation—Presidency Banks Act (XI of 1876)——Bank of Bombay—Shareholder—Suit by shareholder against the Bank to enforce inspection of the register of shareholders.

On the application of a member the King's Bench Division will in general grant a rule for a limited inspection of the documents of the corporation, if it be shown that such inspection is requisite with reference either to an action then instituted or at least to some specific dispute or question depending in which the applicant is interested; but, even in this case, the inspection will be granted to such an extent only as may be necessary for the particular occasion. The rule was formerly sometimes laid down broadly, and the language ascribed to the Court in one or two cases might almost lead to the inference that members of a corporation have an absolute right, whenever they think fit, to inspect all papers belonging to the aggregate body. But any such doctrine is now exploded; and the privilege of inspection is now confined to cases where the member of the corporation has in view some definite right or object of his own, and to these documents which would tend to illustrate such right or object.

These principles were extended to the case where a shareholder applied to inspect list of shareholders, and registers of their addresses, of a bank incorporated under the Presidency Banks Act, 1876. The Bank of Bombay v. Sulleman Somji. 10 Bom L R 636= 12 C W N 825=32 Bom 466. Reversing 9 Bom L R 165. Restored 9 Bom L R 169.

Account-(Contd.)

(n) INVENTORY AND ACCOUNT.

14-15.—Inventory and Account.

District Judge, power of, to call for inventory or account—High Court, decision of, if binding on lower court—Construction of Act—Reference to proceedings of Legislative Council:—Under S. 98 of the Probate and Administration Act, the District Judge has no power to institute a judicial enquiry by an audit of the inventory and account at the expense of the executor or administrator, nor can such an authority be implied from the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure as to the appointment of a commission to examine the accounts. All that the District Judge has to do under S. 98 of the Probate and Administration Act is to see that the inventory and account prima facie satisfy the requirements of the section, that is, that the inventory appears on inspection to be a full and true estimate of all the property, credits and debts, and that the account on inspection appears really to be a true one shewing the assets and their disposal. To ascertain this the inventory and account should be passed under some examination by the judge's staff so as to detect manifest mistakes or errors: if such were detected the papers could not satisfy the section, and for this purpose the section empowers the judge to extend the time to the executor or administrator to amend the account. Where the testator enjoined on his executor to prepare accounts annually; held, that that did not enlarge the Judge's power and empower him to exact an account annually although it would authorise a person interested to take action against the executor. S 98 of the Probate and Administration Act does not give a Judge power to call for a revised account, if an account has already been exhibited as required by the section and has been accepted as prima facie true, but if it appears that the account is materially untrue the Judge may take action under its fourth subsection. Where once an account had been filed and accepted shortly after the expiry of a year from the grant of probate —Held, that the judge had no power to call for further accounts of subsequent years. Maharani Sarat Sundari Barmani v. Uma Prosad Roy Chowdry. 8 C W N 578= 31 Cal 628.

(2) MISCELLANEOUS CASES.

(a) PAYMENT MADE BY AGENT.

16.—Payments made by agent.—

How proved—Moneys taken to pay illegal

Account-(Contd.)

gratification must be accounted for. When an agent's account is being taken, items of payment alleged to have been made by him cannot be passed without a voucher or a clear account of the facts. An agent is bound to prove that moneys drawn by him for payment as illegal gratifications reached their destination.

G R Fox v Beni Pershad Koer. 13 C W N 212

(b) PARTNERSHIP ACCOUNT.

17.—Art 106—Suit for partnership account and share of partnership assets.

A suit by the heir of a deceased partner against surviving partner for an account and share of the deceased in the partnership assets, including the good will and trade marks of the partnership business, comes within the class of suits dealt with under Art 106. The fact that there were unrealized assets outstanding at the death of the deceased partner which were still outstanding at the date of the suit would not alter the nature of the suit. Mohit Lall Dutt v Raj Narain Dutt. 9 C W N 537

18.—Accounts—Expenses incurred for partnership not allowable if unseparably mixed up with private affairs.

In taking accounts, it is not possible for a court of justice to allow expenses to the accountable party, even though honestly incurred for the partnership, where, by mixing up his private affairs with those of the partnership and by his omission to keep clear accounts of any kind, he has made it impossible even to conjecture what those expenses are. Moung Tha Huyin v Mah Thein Myah. 5 C W N 114=28 Cal 53

Notes—Dist; 11 M L J 353=25 Mad 149.

(c) CUSTOM.

19—Indent form—Inconsistency between printed and written provisions-Custom of trade in Bombay—Indentor—Foreign manufacturer—Liability to account.

Where in an indent form in which the usual conditions of contract are printed there exists some inconsistency between the printed and the written provisions, the Court cannot discard the print, but must as far as possible discover the real contract of the parties from the printed as well as from the written words.

Account-(Contd.)

According to the custom of trade in Bombay when a merchant requests or authorizes a firm to order and to buy and send goods to him from Europe at a fixed price net free godown including duty, or free Bombay Harbour, and no rate of remuneration is specifically mentioned, the firm is not bound to account for the price at which the goods were sold to the firm by the manufacturer, and it does not make any difference that the firm receives commission or trade discount from the manufacturer either with or without the knowledge of the merchant. 38 L J Q B 111. ref. to. Beir v Chhotalal. 6 Bom L R 948=30 Bom 1.

Notes.—Ap: 29 Bom 310=7 Bom L R 282.
Ref: 30 Bom 205=7 Bom L R 611.

(d) DISHONEST CONVERSION BY PARTNER.

20-Criminal breach of trust-Dishonest conversion by partner—Liability of partner to account for partnership money. In a partnership it is open to a partner to spend the money he receives and to account for it in dealing with the partnership, and such a partner is plainly entitled to be called upon for an account of the expenditure of the money which he has received.

In a case where it was not satisfactorily made out that this was not done, and it could not be made out in the absence of a proper demand for an account, it was held that no dishonest conversion could be found, which would justify the conviction of the partner under S 406 Penal Code

Debi Prasad Bhagat v Nagar Mull. 35 Cal 1108.

(E) HARD & UNCONSCIONABLE BARGAIN.

21.—Hard and unconscionable bargain-Relief—Exceptions—The general rule is that neither excess of interest nor exorbitance of charge will suffice for a court to relieve parties from the incidents of their contracts unless the element of unfair dealing, such as, that the debtor has been overreached, tricked or deceived, or that the money lender has taken an unfair and undue advantage of his weakness and necessities, is shown. The mere fact that a person is in urgent need of money is not sufficient in itself to raise a presumption that the person to whom he applies for the loan will take unfair advantage of his necessity. Undue influence or unfair dealing must be proved before a presumption of pressure can arise. A bargain not in itself hard and unconscionable can not be held to have become so by reason of delay on the part of the creditor in suing though wilful. 9 All 228 dissented from. The exceptions to the general rule are female debtors standing in a fiduciary relation and expectant heirs 21 W R 352 4 Cal 137; 20 Cal 366; (1901) 2 K B 110 followed 1 B L R O C 31 (note); 7 Cal 245 26 Cal 891, 918 5 C W N 505, 12 Cal 225 (12 I A 215) dist

Account-(Contd.)

Umesh Chandra Khasnavis v Golab Lal Mustafi 31 Cal 233.

Notes. —Ref: 5 C L J 542.

(F) EXECUTOR'S RIGHT TO CALL FOR INVENTORY AND ACCOUNT.

22.—Executor's interest—Executor's right to call for inventory and account from co executors. An executor to whom leave to apply for probate has been reserved has an interest, or at any rate, an appearence of interest so as to entitle him to call for an inventory and account from his co-executors who had already obtained probate.

Obiter:—Probate is made operative as the authenticated evidence and not at all as the foundation of the executor's title and an executor derives all interest from the will itself and the property of the deceased vests in him from the moment of the testator's death. 1 Phill. 239 at 241: 1 Phill 241—1909. Phill. 22 foll.— Jehangir v Bai Kukibai 27 Bom 281.

(G) GUARDIAN'S LIABILITY TO RENDER ACCOUNTS.

23.—Guardian's liability to render accounts-Suit for accounts.—Where a previous guardian failed to deposit the process fee, which he was required to put in, for the purpose of notice being given to the succeeding guardian to come in and inspect the accounts, and the Court has made no order declaring the previous guardian to be discharged under S 41. cl 4 of the Act, a suit lies for the purpose of calling upon the previous guardian to render accounts. The mere fact that the succeeding guardian has neglected to inspect those accounts, although they were paying in the Court for about a year, is no legal bar to the suit being maintained.

Although a question, as to whether certain properties in respect of which accounts are claimed, really belonged to the estate of the minor or to the previous guardian personally, is a question of right, which cannot properly be gone into in such a suit, still for the purpose of taking an account, it must be seen what are the properties, which the previous guardian took possession of, as guardian of the minor under the orders of the Court; and he is bound to render an account, in respect of all the properties, of which he received charge as such guardian. Kaniz Fatima v Sajjad Hosain 34 Cal 211.

(H) ENTRY IN GOVERNMENT GAZETTEE ACCOUNT BOOK.

24.—Hindu Law—Adoption—Proof of onus Entry in Government Gazettee Account Books, Non—examination of the parties—English and Indian Practice

Their Lordships also based their conclusion on the non-production of the accout books.

Having regard to the wellknown and often proved habits of the Indian people with regard to the keeping of accounts recording their most minute transactions the non-production of such books (in whose possession they are) covers that party's cause with suspicion.

Mussamat Lal Kunval v Chiranji Lal 7 M L T 57=14 C W N 285= 11 C L J 172=12 Bom L R 244= 32 All 140=20 M L J 182= 5 Ind Cas 549 P C.

(I) LEAVE TO BRING SUIT FOR ACCOUNTS.

25—Leave to bring suit for accounts—Grant of leave—Order, if a decree — Civil Procedure Code (Act, XIV of 1882), section 2—Appeal, Act XX of 1863 (Religious Endowments Act) makes no provision for appeal and an order granting leave to bring a suit for the purpose of having the accounts of a certain religious encowment not being a "decree" within the meaning of section 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure, no appeal lies against such an order.

Mojaffer Ali v. Mirza Hedayet Hossain, 5 C L J 641=34 Cal 564.

Notes —Ref: 10 C L J 505.

(J) RECEIVFR'S ACCOUNTS.

26.—O 40 rr 1 to 3 S.104; O 43 r 1. Ss 22; 23 (3) (1882 Ss 503 and 588 cl.) Receiver's accounts, order in passing appeal. The directions which a Court gives in passing a Receiver's accounts are not appealable under cl of S 588 of the Civil Pro Code. Rani Keshabati Kumari v W O Mac Gregor 12 C W N 648=35 Cal 568.

Account-(Contd.)

(K) COMMISSION TO EXAMINE

27-Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), Sec. 398 Amount, Commissioner to examine—Commissioner's duty—commissioner, when to take evidence under section 398, Civil Procedure Code—Commissioner, not a Judge or an Arbitrator—Decision of commissioner, value of.

On an application by the parties, the appellate court ordered a certain vakil to be appointed commissioner with powers under section 398, Civil Procedure Code, to examine the accounts and objections to the same, and it was further ordered that the vakil should submit to the court his report on the said accounts and objections.

Held that the object of the order was to refer to the commissioner the examination of the accounts for the purpose of enabling the court to see what the accounts were, and duty of the commissioner was to make out an account showing to the court exactly, what the accounts in the books stood and nothing else. The business of the commissioner was practically to place himself in the position of an assistant to the court, so as to give the court all the information which the accounts gave and thus to enable the court to come to a decision.

Held further, that under section 398 of the Code of Civil Procedure, the commissioner is entitled to take evidence in the matter referred to, so as to be able to report to the court for the purpose of enabling it to give a judgment on the points at issue.

The commissioner cannot deal with the case as if he is the Judge or an arbitrator appointed by the parties.

If the commissioner's report does not show what the accounts are, but merely contains a decision in favour of one party, the report is waste paper and is of no assistance to the court, whatever. Tincowri Debi v Suttya Doyal Ranerji. 6 C L J 105

28—Direction to take, not contained in a decree.

A decree contemplated an account being taken between the parties but it was silent on the question as to how that account was to be taken, whether by the Commissioner of the Court or by some person selected by both the parties. The Court of first instance decided that where the direction as to account ought to have been incorporated in the decree when passed it was competent to the Court at any stage of proceedings to direct necessary inquiries or accounts to be made or taken

Held, on appeal, that as some account was taken under the decree by a person appointed jointly by the parties a new agreement had come into existence superseding the decree and the Court was not competent to make the order appealed against. Sir Jehangir Cowasji Jehangir v The Hope Mills, Ltd. 33 Bom 273 =10 Bom L R 488; reversing 33 Bom 216 =9 Bom L R 1380.

29—Negotiable Instruments—Object of parties having dealings with each other—Presumption.

Prima facie the object of a promissory note is to show that the particular transaction represented by the note is a separate transaction, and it is intended that the remedies in respect of that transaction, should be separately pursued, even though the parties had several dealings with each other and there is a running account between them. Issur Singh v G Bergamaun. 30 Cal 627.

Account—During inquiry of suit plaintiff found entitled to sum in excess of court's jurisdiction not ousted thereby. See 8 C P L R 86

Account—Duty of party impeaching settled account. See 15 C P L R 61.

Account—Whether balancing of an account is account stated. See 7 Ind Cas 270.

Account—Acknowledgment of debt. See Limitation Act arts 64, 115.

Account—Right to inspect account books relating to caste property. See 11 Bom L R 1267 =4 Ind Cas 569.

3. OTHER CASES.

Account—Suit on accounts—Best evidence available to be produced. See 63 P R 1897

Account—Suit for, against deceased guardian's representatives—Maintainability. See Guardians and Wards Act 1890 S. 41.

Account—See Limitation Act 1908 S. 22 Art 120.

Account—Suit for—against widow of a deceased Hindu—Non-joinder of parties. See 12 P R 1905=73 P L R 1905.

Account-(Contd.)

Account—Suit for—jurisdiction of Court—Valuation of suit—Course of appeal—Limitation for suit for, after dissolution of partnership. See 87 P L R 1909=4 Ind Cas 929.

Account—Plea as to the taking of—raised for the first-time in the High Court maintainability of. See 2 A L J 485=A W N 1905, 125

Account—Admissibility of Mashkabari and rokhar books in evidence—Absence of khata books. See 9 C W N 421=32 Cal 582.

Account—Unstamped entry in account book—Admissibility in evidence. See A W N 1881, 115.

Account—Order for production of, for inspection—Disobedience to order—Dismissal of suit—Wrong exercise of discretion. See 9 A W N 1905, 62.

Account—Agreement by mortgagor not to claim accounts—Effect. See 9 Ind Cas 978

Account—Partner spending honestly for the firm, mixing his—with partnership accounts—Effect. See 28 Cal 53 P C=27 I A 189=5 C W N 114.

Account—Adjusted account—Settlement on basis of—Final adjustment not signed—Cross demands in partnership account—Limitation. See 15 C W N 882.

Account—Objections to report of Commissioner for examination of—See 2 I A 34.

Account—Direction for—Validity—Hindu Law—See Mortgage—General. 7 Ind Cas 921

Account—Cross-suits between parties one on pro-note and the other on accounts in different Courts—All transactions dealt with in suit for account—Question of procedure becoming one of convenience rather than of right. See 30 Cal 627.

Account—Liability of executor and administrator to accounts—Suit—Limitation—Effect of delay in suing—See 13 C W N 557=9 C L J 383=1 Ind Cas 289.

Account—Admissibility in evidence:—See Evidence Act S. 34

Account—Accounts settlement—Re-opening:—Mc Kellar v Wallace (5 M I A 395) Ref See 10 Bom L R at 490

Account-(Concld.

Account—Agreement by mortgagor not to claim accounts—Effect. See 9 Ind Cas978

Account—Adjusted account—Settlement on basis of—Final adjustment not signed—Cross demands in partnership account—Limitation. 15 C W N 882.

Account—Suit for, against deceased guardian's representatives—Maintainability. See 78 P L R 1911.

Accountability.

See Account, suit for

See Mortgage—Accounts.

Account adjustment of.

See cases under:—

(1) Limitation Act (IX of 1908) art 64.

(2) Partnership suits respecting partnership.

(3) Contract Act S. 25.

(4) Limitation Act Ss. 19, 20, 64 120.

1—Contract to purchase land—Necessity to sell land for arrears.

Where an estate was sold under a contract at 10½ years' purchase of the net annual rent collections, and various sums of money were left in deposit with the vendee to meet various charges which were expected to arise, and the amount of these charges was regulated by the vendor's expectations, and formed portions of the stipulations of which the contrat was composed. but the net annual collections eventually fell short of those expectations,—Held that the agreement at the root of the contract viz., that the property was taken at 10½ years' purchase, should govern the whole transaction, and that the accounts between the parties should be adjusted accordingly. In a suit to have an account taken of what was payable. and had been paid by either of the two parties in pursuance of the contract and to have a decree for any balance found to be due to either—the contract distinctly providing for an adjustment after the net annual collection and containing a stipulation that any injury accruing to the interests of one party by any laches in the payment of rent by the other should form a ground for compensation :—Held that it was not necessary that the land should be sold up for

Account Adjustment of-(Concld.)

arrears in default of payment before the account could be adjusted, and that even a decree, taken out by the zemindars against defendant for the rents of the land in suit, did not affect plaintiff's claim to the money owing under the contract

Opender Narain Mookerjee v Gudadhur Dey 25 W R 472 476

2—Proof of adjustment—Parol evidence

The adjustment of an account may be proved by verbal evidence, and need not necessarily be in writing signed by the party to be bound

Purnima Chowdrain v Nittanand Shah B L R Sup Vol 3 W R F B 82.

Accountant.

See Bankers

Account Books, entries in.

See Bankers' Books Evidence Act

See Cases under Evidence—Civil Cases—Accounts and Account Books

See Onus of proof

1—Inspection of account books—Right of a member of a caste to inspect documents and books of account relating to caste property—Injunction where such inspection refused

Where a member of a caste, who was also a trustee of the caste property, was refused inspection of books of accounts, documents etc, by the President of the managing committee of the caste —

Held that an injunction could be granted restraining the President from refusing such inspection.

Every member of a caste, being interested in its affairs, has a right, incidental to his membership, to every information which the books, records, and documents of the caste can give him to enable him to discharge the duties he owes to the caste It is a right similar to that of a partner in a firm to the partnership books and can be taken away from him only by an express caste rule, resolution, or usage. But a trustee or a member of a caste has such right to inspection only for the bona fide purpose and in the interest of the caste and not for any purpose hostile or injurious to those interests.

Though a Court will not interfere with the jurisdiction and discretion of a caste as regards its internal purposes and management with reference to which it is its own master to frame rules and regulations, yet it will interfere in favour of any individual member of the caste as against any other member or members of it, where the Court is asked to give effect to any rule, resolution, or usage, of the caste if the right claimed in virtue of such rule, resolution, or usage, is a civil right congnizable by the Court In giving relief in such cases, the Court so far from interfering with the autonomy of the caste, or encroaching upon its jurisdiction as to its internal affairs, recognises them by giving effect to its rule, resolution, or usage

Account Books, entries in-(Contd.)

Chapsey v Jethabhai (9 Bom L R 569 reversed on appeal 11 Bom L R 1172)

2—Account books, Copy of an extract from stamps—Civ Pro Code, 1882, ss 141-A and 142-A—Stamp Act 1899 sch I art 24.

A copy of an extract from an entry in an account book filed under the provisions of ss 141-A and 142-A of the Civ Pro Code, 1882, does not require to be stamped under art 24 of schedule 1 of the Stamp Act 1899 Kastur v Fakira. 4 Bom L R 293=26 Bom 522.

Notes—Ref 27 Bom 150

3—Books of account, Presumption as to

According to the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, books of account which have been regularly kept, may be appealed to, not only for the purpose of refreshing the memory of a witness, but also as corroborative evidence of the story which he tells Books of account containing entries referring to a particular transaction are not entitled to the same credit that is given to the books that record that transaction in common with other transactions in the ordinary course of business.

Bhoy Hong v Ramnathan 4 Bom L R 378.

Account books, recovery of—(2) Suit for recovery of account books—Maintainability—Subsequent prayer for recovery of moneys due from defendant—Amendment whether allowable

10 M L T 557

Account made in course of usual dealing.

See acquiescence

Account, mutual, open and current

See Account, suit for and Limitation Act S 5

Accounts

See (1) Decree—Construction of Decree-Account.
(2) Decree—Form of Decree—Account
(3) Mortgage—Accounts. Keeping two sets of.
(4) Bombay Tolls Act, s. 7. Mutual Accounts.
(5) Limitation Act, (1908) arts 85, 89 and 57.
(6) Mortgage (Redemption).

1—Procedure.

Procedure to be observed in a Judicial enquiry into accounts laid down. Alaiahmad alias Boolaki v Nusibun. 24 W R 70.

Account sales.

See Evidence—Civil Cases—Account Sales.

See Principal and Agent—Commission Agents.

Account settled.

1—Reopening of.

When a plaintiff sued on a deed which recited that accounts had been settled the defendant may by pointing out existence of irregularities and mistakes in the book of the plaintiff justify reopening the account. Girdharlal v Hiraji 91, P J 337.

2—Accounts—Expenses incurred for partnership not allowable if unseparably mixed up with private affairs.—In taking accounts it is not possible for a Court of justice to allow expenses to the accountable party, even though honestly incurred for the partnership, where, by mixing up his private affairs with those of the partnership and by his omission to keep clear accounts of any kind, he has made it impossible even to conjecture what those expenses are. Moung Tha Huyin v Mah Thein Myah. 5 C W N 114=28 Cal 53

Notes—Dist: 11 M L J 353=25 Mad 149.

3—Settled account—requisites of—Acquiescence—Accounts settled to be reopened when—Proof—Leave to amend—Suit for account, procedure to be followed.

The requisites for making an account settled depend on the circumstances of each case and mode of dealing between the parties.

Account settled—(Contd.)

Although acquiescence in accounts furnished may not, by itself, amount to settlement, when acounts have been delivered with opportunity for inspection where they have been duly examined and no exception has been taken, and where they have been acquiesced in, they cannot be opened unless upon distinct and specific averment of errors proved or of fraud, mistake or collusion proved.

If a settled account is impeached for errors, particular errors must be stated and proved and the same rule holds even where the account is settled "errors excepted."

Where the plaintiff commenced an action on the assumption that no accounts had been rendered, and the case proceeded on the question of the liability of the defendant to render an account and the appeal was argued on the same footing, leave ought not to be granted to convert the suit into one for re-opening the accounts on the ground of errors contained therein.

Where a person seeks an account from another alleged by him to be his agent the first question to be decided is the factum of the agency. If that question is decided in favour of the plaintiff the next question to be tried is whether the defendant as agent is liable to be called upon to account. If he answers that accounts have been settled between him and his principal, that question ought to be tried next. If the accounts have not been settled, they have then to be taken. In suits of this description, if the liability to account is denied, that is the fundamental question to be tried first It is only after an adverse decision upon this question against the defendant, that he may be called upon to render an account.

Mohesh Chunder Bose v. Radha Kishen Bhatta Charjee. 6 C L J 580.

4—Accounts—Limitation Act Sch. II. Arts 57 and 85—Account-current-Account, open mutual.

An open account is one, which is continuous or current, uninterrupted or unclosed by settlement or otherwise, consisting of a series of transactions.

An account-current is an open or running account between two or more parties, or, an account which contains items between the parties, from which the balance-due to one of them is, or, can be ascertained.

Mutual accounts are such as consist of recip rocity of dealings between the parties and do not embrace those having items on one side only though made up of debits and credits.

Account settled-(Contd.)

An account, under which one party has merely received and paid moneys on account of the other, is not a mutual account properly so-called. Each party must receive and pay on account of the other.

A shifting balance, sometimes in favour of one side, sometimes in favour of the other, is a test of mutuality but its absence is not conclusive proof against mutuality.

The mere circumstance that, on one solitary occasion there was a sum to the credit of the defendants in the books of one plaintiffs, does not make the account, between the parties, a mutual account in which there have been reciprocal demands between the parties. 6 (M H C R 142 and 17 Mad 293=4 M L J 140 Ref: 18 Beav.575 (579); 52 E R 225; 23 L J Ch 657: 18 Jur 763; 2 Phillips 7: 8; 3 Drewry 183 (192) 61 E R 873 (876) 2 Y and C. C. C 620; 9 Harg 471; 68 E R 596: 79 N Y II 35, Am Rep 490 Ref: 2 Ind Jur N S 241; 3 All 523;5 Cal 759=6 C L R 112; 6 Bom 134 Ref: 5Cal 759=6 C L R II2, Fol.) Ram Pershad v Harbans Singh 6 C L J 158.

Notes:—Fol: 32 All 11=6 A L J 921=4 Ind Cas 201.

5—Suit for—Procedure—Principal and Agent.

In a suit for accounts all that is necessary for the plaintiff to show, to entitle him to a decree, is that the defendant is a person bound to account. When this is established, the Court ought to fix a date for the furnishing of the accounts under S. 215 A C P Code, and order accounts to be taken. The law does not impose any duty on a plaintiff, who calls on his agent to account, first to satisfy the Court that there is, or ought to have been some surplus in the hands of the agent. A W N (1883), 218, Refd.) Ram Das v Bhagwat Das A W N (1905), 1.

5A—An account to be a settled account need not be signed, provided it is submitted to the party sought to be made liable on it and he has by words or conduct acquiesced in its correctness. Haji Abdul v Haji Bibee. 7 Bom L R 151.

6—Accounts—Accounts settled—Omission of plaintiff to party for re-opening of accounts on the basis of fraud—Plea of defendants that no accounts were rendered—Finding that plaintiff accepted payments after hearing accounts read—Whether amounts to a finding that accounts were.

A finding, in a suit for settlement of accounts, that plaintiff accepted payments after hearing accounts read, is not finding that accounts were settled between the parties.

Where the defendant, in such a suit, admits that he had not rendered any accounts to the plaintiff and was not liable to do so, the Court should presume that there was no settlement of accounts, and plaintiff's suit is not liable to dismissal on the ground that he did not pray in his plaint for re-opening of accounts on the ground of error or fraud. Pattath Manakkal Narayanan v Manakkal Narayanan. 8 M L T 424=7 Ind Cas 853

7—Mode of taking.

In orders relating to the taking of accounts it is irregular to direct the amounts to be taken, irrespective of the plea limitation. Asghar Ali v Kurshed Ali. 3 Bom L R 576= 24 All 27.

8—Account suit for—Suit for accounts against executor—Accounts on the footing of wilful default.

In an action against executor for accounts, it is not necessary, when making a reference to the Commissioner to take accounts, to give leave to the plaintiff to make an application to have accounts taken on the footing of wilful default pending the reference.

Modern practice allows of an order charging wilful default being made at any time during the continuance of the action on a proper case being shown. Ayshabai v Ebrahim Haji Jacob. 10 Bom L R 117=32 Bom 364.

9—Settled accounts—Error—Re-opening—Surcharge and falsification—General words of release—What passes.

B and S, partners, had the partnership accounts strictly adjusted, and Rs. 39,465-7-0 was found due to B. By a deed of assignment, B, in consideration of Rs. 34,000, assigned and released his share in the firm to S. By common mistake, Government promissory notes for Rs. 7,000 were omitted from the accounts. On discovery of the mistake, B sued for a share of the notes,

Account settled-(Concld.)

Held, either the whole account may be re-opened, or leave may be given to B to surcharge and falsify. The latter is the more proper course on the facts of this case.

General words of release in a deed can only operate to pass what the parties had in contemplation, and not something with which they had no intention of dealing. (5 M I A 372, 9 Beav. 503, 9 Ch D 547, Ref: 4 H L 610, 14 Ch D 829 Fol. Baney Madhub Mullick v Subal Chunder Law. 11 C W N 776

10—Account settled—Suit on—Account not signed—Limitation.

An account settled must be signed by the debtor, and the creditor has three years from the date of the debtor's signature.

Chinnasawmi Naidu v Venkatasami Naidu. 7 M L T 372=6 Ind Cas 719.

Accounts Settled.—Accounts settled—Hypothecation bond for balance due—Obligor preventing registration thereof—Suit on accounts stated—See 11 All 13=A W N 1888, 280.

Account settled but not signed.

See Limitation Act Ss. 2, 19, 20.
„ Limitation Act Art 64.

Account Stated.

See (1) Accounts.
(2) Contract Act (IX of 1872,) S 25.
(3) Limitation Act (1908) S 19. and Sch II, 62.
(4) Pleadings.

Account stated—See Limitation Act, (1908) S. 19.

1.—Account stated—Limitation Act, sch ii art. 64.

When account shewing reciprocal demands between two parties is made up, a balance is struck, and the debtor signs an acknowledgment that the balance is due, there is an account stated within the meaning of art. 64 schedule ii of the Indian Limitation Act which evidences a new contract and upon which a suit may be brought. Musammat Jhapkan v Ram Dayal. 7 O C 166

2.—Suit on account stated—Hypothecation bond for the amount due—Obligor presenting registration of bound denying execution.

The plaintiff sued (i) for registration of a hypothecation—bond executed by the defendant; (ii) in the alternative, for recovery of the amount of the bond upon an account stated. The defendant denied execution of the bond, and that she had any dealings or stated any account with the plaintiff. The Courts below disallowed the first claim as barred by limitation, and disallowed the second on the ground that the bond had effected a novation of the contract implied by the statement of accounts :—Held, that this decision was wrong, and that the plaintiff was entitled to sue upon the account stated. 4 All 30 Dist. Kiam-ud-din. 11 All, 13=8 W N 280.

Account stated-(Contd.)

3.—Cause of action—Evidence of the existing debt—Fresh contract interest—Damdupat.

In June 1883, the plaintiff's father advanced a loan to the defendant at compound interest. The account of this debt with interest was adjusted and signed from time to time. In June 1893, it was adjusted and signed, the amount found due being Rs. 28-8-0. In February 1896, the plaintiff sued to recover this amount. Held, that the account (ruzukhata) was merely an acknowledgment of the debt and of the correctness of the calculation of interest upon it. Held, also, that the plaintiff was not entitled to treat the amount so found due as principal and to claim interest upon it. The debt to be sued on was the amount originally advanced, and the interest recoverable was limited by that amount according to the rule of damdupat. By English law an account stated could be sued on as implying a promise to pay. Formerly this was the rule also in Bombay (as shown by the earlier cases), where the account was signed. If, however, it was not signed, it could not be sued on as a new contract. The Indian Limitation Act required an acknowledgment or admission of a debt to be signed; and an admission not made in the manner prescribed by law (i. e. signed) for the purpose of preventing a debt from becoming barred does not imply a promise to pay it if it should become barred. According, however, to the later authorities, an account stated or adjusted (ruzukhata) cannot be sued on as a fresh contract. The suit must be brought in respect of the original transaction, and the subsequent stated or adjusted accounts are only evidence of the debt arising from them, and serve to prevent the operation of the Act of the Limitation. Shankar v Mukta. 22 Bom 513.

Account stated-(Contd.)

Notes.—Fol: 23 All 502. Con: 26 Mad 186; 12 M L J 441 Dist: 24 Bom 394, 25 Bom 387. Ref: 32 Mad 284; 19 M L J 372.

4.—C. P. C. O. 2 r. 2 (1882 : S. 43)—Cause of action—Account stated—Mortgage transaction.

The defendant traded in Zanzibar as the agent of one Khimji, who owned five shops within the German jurisdiction. To release from attachment these shops, the defendant obtained from the plaintiff a sum of Rs. 7,000 out of which he applied Rs. 5,859 in discharge of the attachment, and returned the balance to the plaintiff. As a security for the repayment of Rs. 5,869, the defendant became personally responsible for the amount, and as part of the same transaction, he got a mortgage in his own favour from Khimji of the five shops and in turn sub-mortgaged them to the plaintiff. As a result of these transactions, the plaintiff debited Rs. 2,753 in the general account which was in the name of the defendant. The plaintiff then brought Suit No. 193 of 1899 against the defendant to recover the balance due on this general account; and a few days later he brought another Suit No. 196 of 1899 for the purpose of enforcing certain rights under the sub-mortgage. The first suit was decided in the plaintiff's favour, but the second was thrown out on the ground that it was barred under Section 43 of the Civil Procedure Code.

Held, that the second suit was not barred by Section 43 of the Civil Procedure Code, since the two claims were not in respect of the same cause of action. The cause of action in the earlier suit was an adjusted account, in respect of the transaction arising out of the mortgage; and the mortgage constituted a cause of action in itself in the second.

An account stated respecting a debt constitutes a new and distinct cause of action, the consideration being the ascertaining of the previously uncertain state of the transaction between the parties, while a promise to pay is implied by the admission of the balance.

Hansraj v Lalji. 6 Bom L R 454= 28 Bom 447.

5—Acknowledgment—Limitation Act, s. 19 & Art. 64 of schedule II—Promise to pay—Account stated.

C. C. J.

Account stated-(Concld.)

A bare acknowledgment under s. 19 of the Limitation Act, does not imply a promise to pay on which a right of suit could be based.

An account so acknowledged is not an account stated within the meaning of article 65 of schedule II of the Limitation Act. 1 Bom 590 . 2 Bom 230 ; 13 Moo I A 37 ; 6 Bom 683 ; 8 Bom 405 ; 9 Bom 516 , 7 Bom 414; 15 All 1 & 10 Cal 284, referred to. Beohar Raghubir Singh through the Courts of Wards v Udechand Agarwal 11 C P L R 65.

6—Limitation Act s. 19—Acknowledgment of debt—Stamp duty.

The mere fact of a document being an acknowledgment of debt within the meaning of s. 19 would not make it liable to a stamp duty, under Sch I Art 1 of Act 1, of 1879. It should be intended to supply evidence of a debt.

Ambica Dat v Nityanund Singh. 30 Cal 687.

7—Guardians & Wards Act, VII of 1890—Minor—Guardian—Debt—Acknowledgment of liability—Limitation of time]

A guardian appointed under the Guardians and Wards Act can sign an acknowledgment of liability in respect of, or pay part of the principal of a debt so as to extend the period of limitation against his ward in accordance with ss. 19 & 20 Limitation Act, provided it be shown in each case that the Guardian's act was for the protection or benefit of the ward's property.

Annapagauda v. Sangadigyapa. 26 Bom 221; See 20 Bom 61, 17 All 198.

Account stated or adjusted (ruzu-khata).

See 1 Account Stated
2 Limitation Act S 19.
3 Mortgage—Accounts.
4 Limitation Act Art 64.

Account, suit for.

See 1 Bengal Rent Act (VIII of 1869), s. 30.
2 Costs.
3 Dekhan Agriculturists Relief Act. s. 15 D.
4 Guardian and Wards Act s 41.
5 Mortgage—Accounts.
6 Principal & Agent.

Account suit for-(Contd.)

6 Partnership—Suits Respecting Partnership.
7 Plaint—Form and Contents of Plaint—Frame of suits Generally.
8 Small Cause Court, Mofusil—Jurisdiction—Account, Suit for.
9 Valuation of Suit—Suits.

Account, suit for

(1) Liability to account (1)
(2) Lumberdar (2-3)
(3) Mahomedan widow in possession for dower. (4)
(4) Mother appointed administratrix of minor son (5)
(5) Right to an account—Person with title barred by lapse of time (6)
(6) Landlord and Tenant (7)
(7) Principal and Agent (8-19)
(8) Refusal to account (20-21)
(9) Right to Re open settled account (22-26)
(10) Running account for portion of which hundis are given(27)
(11) Necessity to go into accounts in suits for profits (28-84)
(12) General Cases. (85-88)

(1) LIABILITY TO ACCOUNT.

1—Liability to account—Administrator General as Executor of the surviving trustee of religious endowments.

An account was decreed against the Administrator General, who had been appointed the executor of the last surviving trustee under the will of the founder of a religious institution.

Thacoor Dass Sett v Hogg. Cor 68

(2) LUMBERDAR.

2.—Lumberdar—Account of rents uncollected.

Held, that a lumerdar is ordinarily bound to account for rents not collected if he does not exercise his power of distraint with due diligence. Sees Ram v Chait Ram. 2 Agra 266.

3—Account of rents uncollected.

Held, that a lumberdar is not liable for the rent which he, without any wilful default on his part, has never received, if he shows that he has done his duty in endeavouring to collect the same.

Enayet Hossein v Gholam Ally. 2 Agra 276.

Notes:—Ref: 12 All 301 F B.

Account suit for-(Contd.)

(3) MAHOMEDAN WIDOW IN POSSESSION FOR DOWER

4—Mahomedan widow in possession for dower—Suit not framed for an account.

In a suit by the only brother and heir-at-law of a Mahomedan of the Shiah sect, claiming the whole of the deceased's estate, and for mesne profits, the issues raised by the pleadings were, first, whether a marriage had taken place between the deceased and the party in possession, who claimed to be his widow, and secondly, the validity of a deed of dower executed by the deceased in her favour. The Courts in India found these issues in favour of the widow, and dismissed the suit. The Judicial Committee, in affirming the Court's decrees upon these points, held further that, although the estate of the husband was hypothecated for the dower, yet as the heir-at-law would be entitled to the residue after satisfying the widow's claim, he was by right entitled to an account, but as the plaint was so framed as not to admit of an account being taken, the appeal was affirmed, without prejudice to a suit being brought for administration of the deceased's estate upon the footing of the marriage and deed of dower being admitted in the suit. Ameeroonnissa v Moradonnissa. 6 Moore's I A 211.

(4) MOTHER APPOINTED ADMINISTRATRIX OF MINOR SON.

5—A mother appointed under Sec. 6 of Act XX of 1864 administratrix of her minor son's estate is not bound, as is a curator appointed under Sec. 9, to present accounts. After the minor's death the only way in which she can be called to account is by a suit instituted by a person interested. Narmadabai. P J (1883) 308= I L R 8 Bom 14.

(5)RIGHT TO AN ACCOUNT-PERSON WITH TITLE BARRED BY LAPSE OF TIME.

6—Right to an account—Person with title barred by lapse of time—Hereditary Office, administration of trusts of.

The Plaintiff brought a suit to establish his right to and for possession of the hereditary office of dharmakarta of a pagoda and to remove the defendant, but it was held that his title was extinguished by lapse of time. Held that plaintiff, having no longer any title to the property, was not in a position to treat defendant as a trespasser and to call upon him for an account of the past administration of the trust upon that footing; and further, that the suit being substantially one to remove the defendant from the trust and establish plaintiff's title to the hereditary office, or on failure of this, to secure the appointment of a fit and proper person to fill defendant's office, the account was only prayed for on that understanding, and, therefore, the plaintiff was not entitled to call for an account of the past administration of the trust, as a person interested in the religious trust. Manally Chenna Kesavaraya v Vaidelinga. 1 Mad 343.

Account suit for-(Contd)

(6) LANDLORD AND TENANT.

7—Tenancy—Advanced set off against the account of rent due—Suit for rent—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) arts. 85, 89 sch. II—Form of decree.

The plaintiffs executed a lease in favour of the defendant No. for nine years. An annual rent was fixed payable by instalments. The defendant as instructed by the plaintiffs, paid on their behalf from time to time Government revenue, cesses, expenses of litigation etc. The defendant used to set off those sums against the rent due to plaintiffs under the lease. The plaintiffs instituted this suit for an account against the defendants after the lease had expired:—Held that the suit for an account was not maintainable, the lease created between the parties the relationship of landlord and tenant and the only relief which the plaintiffs could not ask is a decree for rent if any still remains due. Bhekdhari Lal v Badhsingh Dudharia. 27 Cal 663.

(7) PRINCIPAL AND AGENT.

8—Account—Agent—Civil Procedure Code, Act X of 1877 Sections 394 and 395.

Procedure to be observed in taking accounts discussed. Annoda Persad Roy v Dwarka Nath Gangopadhya. 6 Cal 754= 8 C L R 321.

9—Sch II Art. 85—Suit for balance on running account.

When an account between a principal and his agent shows what balance is due from either party at different times, but is never finally settled, it is a running account, and the limitation begins to run from the date of its being closed under Art 85, Limitation Act. Prem Kaur v Mohan Lal. 198 P L R 1909.

Account suit for-(Contd.)

10—Arts 89, 116, 132—Contract of service in writing registered-Principal and agent-Accounts, suit for.

Art 89 of Sch II of the Limitation Act expressly applies to the case of a principal suing his agent for an account, whilst Art. 116 applies to a suit 'for compensation for the breach of a contract in writing registered'. To ascertain which article of the schedule applies, it is necessary to see what is the relief which the plaintiff claims. The expression "moveable property" in Art 89 of Sch. II of the Limitation Act includes money. 27 All 27; 8 C W N 113: 1 C L J 147: 1 C L J 232. A suit not merely for an account, but also to enforce in the plaintiff's favour the charge created to secure the moneys which might be found due from the agent to his principal on his account, falls within Art. 132 of the 2nd Schedule of the Limitation Act, and the period of limitation is twelve years from the time when the money sued for becomes due. Hafezuddin Mandal v. Jadu Nath Saha. 7 C L J 279=35 Cal 298 =12 C W N 820.

11.—Arts 89, 120.—Suit for accounts by Zemindar against naib—Principal agent. A suit by a principal against his agent for an account and for money that may be found due upon such account being taken is governed by Art. 89 Sch II of the Limitation Act. Jogendra Nath Roy v Deb Nath Chatterjee. 8 C W N 113.

Notes:—Fol: 32 Cal 719=1 C L J 232; 35 Cal 298=32 C W N 820=7 C L J 279= 14 C W N 121.

12—Principal's suit for accounts — Distinction between a decree for an account and a decree made upon the hearing—Costs.—

A principal brought a suit against an agent, who was employed as a dewan for drawing and expending the money of the principal, alleging that the agent has drawn more than he had spent for him and the balance was misappropriated by the agent. He also claimed any other sum which might be found payable to him The agent denied having received any money and also his liability to an account thereunder The court found that the relation of agency subsisted between the parties The Appellate Court dismissed the suit on the ground that though an attempt has been made to prove a balance due, still from the evidence adduced at the hearing, it was impossible to decide, how much of the principal's money was unaccounted for:—Held, that such a suit was essentially a suit for an account and the Lower Courts should have ordered an account to be taken of the defendant's dealings with plaintiff's money. This was without any expression of opinion that, in a suit for an account, an issue may not be raised, at the outset, so clearly as to be ready for decision. But the general rule being the other way, this suit was an example of it. Hurrinath Rai v. Krishna Kumar Bakshi.14 Calc 147=L R. 13 I A 123

Account suit for—(Contd.)

Notes:—Dist 32 Cal 719=1 C L J 232: 20 Mad 418: 13 C W N 212 Fol. 1 A L J 722 Ref: 27 All 371=(1905) W N 3: 6 C L J 580: 12 C W N 28.

13—Form of suit for account—Procedure on taking accounts—Civil Procedure Code (Act X of 1877), ss. 250, 395, and 396, sch. IV, form 157—Form of keeping accounts of joint property in mofussil—

In a suit for an account by a principal against his agent, the plaintiff should ask in his plaint that a proper account may be taken. If the defendant is found liable to render such account for a certain period, the Court should make an interlocutory decree declaring that he is so liable, and direct him to file an account in Court within a fixed period. This decree may be enforced under s. 260 of the Civil Procedure Code. After an account has been filed, the plaintiff should be allowed reasonable time to examine it. If the objections are numerous, the procedure prescribed by ss. 394 and 395 and form 157 of Sch IV of the Code should be followed. When the accounts have been taken, the court must determine the amount due, and the final decree should be for the payment of this amount and also, if necessary, for the delivery of any papers, vouchers, or other documents which have come into the hands of the agent in the course of his employment. Form of keeping accounts of joint property in the mofussil considered.

Degamber Mozumdar v. Kallynath Roy, 7 Cal 654=9 C L R 265.

Account suit for—(Contd.)

14-C P C O. 22, r 4, S. 107 (2), O, 22r.11 (1882 Ss. 368, 582)—Limitation Act. Art.175 C.—Death of respondent—Legal representative necessary for prosecution of appeal-Application for substitution of legal representative made within six months of obtaining probate of deceased respondent's will, but more than six months after his death—Abatement of appeal—Sufficient cause.

In a suit which was in substance one for taking the accounts and winding up the affairs of a partnership which had subsisted between the plaintiff and several defendants to that suit, a final decree was made binding the plaintiff and some of the defendants to contribute in certain proportion a sum of money of which a portion was directed to be paid to another defendant A. Pending an appeal before the High Court, preferred by some of the former, A (respondent) died leaving a will. About four months after A's death A's son obtained probate of the will. The appellants applied for substituting the name of A's son for A within six months of his obtaining the probate, but more than six months after A's death. Held, that the appeal could not have proceeded in the absence of a representative of A, and no sufficient cause having been shown for not applying for substitution within six months of A's death, the appeal had abated under Ss. 368 and 582, C. P. C., and Art. 175 C. of Sch. II of the Limitation Act. 14 M. L. J. 147. Raj Chunder Sen v. Gangadar Seal 1 A L J 145=31 Cal 487=8 C W N 442=31 I A 71 P C=14 M L J 147.

Notes.—Ref: 11 C W N 698 ; 5 C L J 310.

15—Fraud or specific error in account, Allegation of.—M sued for an account of all moneys received and paid on his behalf by T, deceased (represented by his widow), and F as his agent from 1st August 1859 to 30th April 1865. It was alleged in the plaint that M "left India in 1858, and has since resided in Scotland; that at the time he left he was, and still is, possessed of extensive property in the Province of Bengal, chiefly landed property;" that T and afterwards T and F were his agents and managers. In his written statement, M stated that "in the month of June 1861, the deceased rendered an account to the plaintiff showing that all moneys due to him by the plaintiff in respect of his salary and commissions up to the 31 st January 1861, being the whole of deceased's claim against him up to that date under their above mentioned arrangements, had been duly paid by the plaintiff. In the month of April 1865, the deceased transmitted to the plaintiff the agency accounts of himself and his firm with the plaintiff in continuation of the accounts rendered by him as mentioned in the preceding paragraph brought down to the end of February 1865; and again in May 1865, the deceased transmitted the continuation of the said account brought down to the 30th April preceding, being the date of the termination of the agency. The said accounts rendered have been examined by the plaintiff, who verily believes that the true balance now due to him thereon exceeds Rs: 1,00,000. without including interest." There was no allegation in the plaint, written statement or opening of counsel, of fraud or specific error. Held that M, in his plaint and written statement had not disclosed any cause of action.

Account suit for-(Contd.)

Mackintosh v. Temple 2 Ind. Jur N S 333

16—Suit against gomasta—Duty of Court to look into accounts.

In a suit against a gomasta to obtain accounts of moneys which had come into his hands, it was held that it was not enough for the Lower Courts to make a decree ordering the defendant to render nikash papers to the plaintiff; it was the business of the Court to have these papers brought before it and examined, and to determine whether they were correct and fair accounts between the parties. Shushee Shekhur Audhikaree v. Suleem Biswas 22 W R 191.

17—Decree for account against agent.—

Where a decree requires an agent to render accounts, he can only discharge himself by accounting for all the moneys that have come into his hands,and it is always open to the decree-holder to show that this has not been done. Woomanath Roy Chowdhry v. Sreenath Singh 15 W R 260.

18—Principal and agent—Specific sums of money credited by agent to himself, suit for, if one "for account"—Cognisability by Provincial Small Cause Courts, Act IX of 1881, s. 31.—

Account suit for-(Contd.)

Where plaintiff sued for specific items of money due by his agent, on account of moneys, with which the agent wrongfully credited himself, and an objection was raised that it was a 'suit for an account' and as such not cognisable under art. 31 of Act IX of 1887. Held, that it was not a suit for "an account" and was cognisable by the Court of Small Causes, Sankara Reddi v. Errama Reddi 19 M L J 113.

19—Execution proceedings transferred to a Collector—Court's power under S. 324 A—Collector's duties.

A Collector acting under S. 320 of Civil Procedure Code has power to include on the debit side only such charges as can be incurred under the provisions of the chapter; and the Court is perfectly justified under S. 324 A in regarding as at its disposal, the balance which is left after such charges have been deducted; and if there be any charges which have been not so incurred, but which have been inserted in the accounts, such charges, being improper, cannotiaffect or restrict the disposing power of the Court over the balance. The power of the Court as to the application of the balance is complete although the fund itself remains in the hands of Collector as trustee.

The amount of maintenance to be determined for the judgment debtor is a matter for the Court to consider and decide and one which it cannot allow the Talukdari Settlement officer (acting as a Collector) to decide.

The Collector, like an agent, though bound under S. 324 A to render accounts, cannot be compelled to give up the account books into Court nor does the section require him to pay the balance into Court. Rupali v. Kalyansing: Rupali v. Gambhirsingji (6 Bom L R 825).

(8) REFUSAL TO ACCOUNT

20—Refusal to account—Destruction of account books—Where a defendant refused to render accounts, and there was evidence of spoliation of the banking books, the Court charged him with the principal sum for which he was accountable. with interest at 12 per cent per mensem in lieu of the profits he failed to account for.

Rampershad Tewarry v. Sheo Churn Doss; Thookra v. Rampershad Tewarry 10 Moore's I. A., 490.

Account suit for-(Contd.)

21—Limitation Act Arts 85 116—Account, suit for, limitation—Demand-Breach-Limitation Act (XV of 1877), Sch. II. Arts. 89, 115, 116.

When there is a contract to render accounts year by year, Art, 116 of the Limitation Act applies if the contract is registered, and Art. 115 if it is unregistered.

Neglect to comply with the demand to render accounts is tantamount to a refusal within the meaning of Art. 89.

Where the contract was to render accounts year by year and there had been successive demands and breaches at the end of every year, and plaintiff brought a suit for accounts within three years of the last breach.

Held, whether Art, 89 or Art. 115 applied, he was entitled to accounts for one year only. I C L J 211, Fol, 3 L R 446, Relied on. Easin Sarkar v Baroda Kishore Acharyya Cnowdhury 11 C L J 43=5 Ind Cas 186.

(9) RIGHT TO REOPEN SETTLED ACCOUNT

22-Right to re-open settled account-Principles of Court of Equity in re-opening accounts—Principles which regulate a Court of Equity in opening stated and settled accounts—Accounts of long standing and great complication of a mercantile firm at Calcutta one of the partners of which afterwards acted as agent in England, involving charges for agency and partnership transactions were mutually agreed to be investigated and closed. After long negotiations and discussion respecting some of the charges, an agreement was come to, the parties agreeing to strike the general balance at a given sum, reserving one item of the account amounting to a considerable sum, for future investigation This reserved item was subsequently settled by the acceptance of a bill of exchange for a lesser amount, as such reserved-item, if re-opened would have disarranged the settled general account. The bill of exchange was dishonoured and an action brought to recover the amount. A bill was then filed for an injunction for the cancelment of the bill of exchange, and praying that the accounts so settled might be opened. The Supreme Court at Calcutta held that the reserved item being left open was evidence that the account was not finally closed, and decreed the accounts to be opened, referring the cause to the Master On appeal, held by the Judicial Committee (reversing such decree, and dismissing the bill with costs) that the transaction amounted to an adjustment of the general account between the parties, subject to the reserved item which was subsequently settled, and that the accounts so settled and closed could not, in the absence of fraud be re-opened Mc. Keller v. Wallace 5 Moore's I A 272

Account suit for-(Contd.)

23—Examination of accounts, waiver of—settlement of account—No fraud or undue influence used in settlement—Promissory note for the amount found due—Re-opening of accounts, not allowed.

Where two persons have mutual dealings and accounts and one of them of his own free-will and accord and without any fraud practised or undue influence exerted by the other waives his right to an examination of the accounts for the purpose of ascertaining the balance due and agrees to treat a gross sum as due from him and executes a promissory note for the amount, the promissory note must be treated either as the result of a settled account or as a settlement by compromise, and in either case it cannot be re-opened.(5 M I A 395 Fol) Magniram Khupchand v Laxminarayan Rampratap 10 Bom L R 281=32 Bom 353

24—Hindu Law—Partition-Account-Account for partition nature of-Mitakshara joint family—Manager's liability to account—Settled account when to be reopened or impeached-Right to correct account-Pleadings. When accounts have to be taken with a view to a partition of joint family properties, the account which has to be taken of the entire family property in the hands of the different members is mainly an enquiry into the existing assets: the head of the family cannot, in general be called upon to defend the propriety of the past transactions of the family.

Although the Court is always reluctant to re-open account which has been settled with deliberation and with tolerable fairness, relief will be granted where fraud or mistake is established; and it does not matter whether the error in the accounting occurred by accident or design: nor is it necessary that the error or mistake should be mutual If an item has been omitted in the account by mistake it may be recovered.

Account suit for-(Contd.)

A settled account is only prima facie evidence of its correctness; it may be impeached by proof of unfairness or mistake in law or in fact ,and if it be confined to particular items of account it concludes nothing in relation to other items not stated in it. But the right to correct an account is confined to cases in which no element of estoppel has intervened or where there is no obligatory agreement between the parties as upon settlement and mutual compromises.

Ordinarily, where a party seeks to open a settled account, there must be some direct, distinct and specific averment of errors to entitle the party to open the accounts, but where no objection was taken by the defendant to the frame of the suit and even after the preliminary question of the liability of the defendant to render an account had been decided in favour of the plaintiff, and the accounts had been elaborately examined without any objection as to the course adopted being taken, the Court will not allow an objection of this character to prevail when it is not suggested that the defendant has been in any way prejudiced by the omission of the plaintiff to specify the errors in the plaint.

Bhowani Prasad Shaha v Jugger-nath Shaha 13 C W N 309= 9 C L J 133=3 Ind Cas 241.

24 A—C P C S. 2 (2) (1882 S. 2)—Decree—Settled accounts, order directing reopening of.

Plaintiff, a solicitor, advanced money to a client on a mortgage bond and three further charges. The consideration for the third further charge was not paid in cash, but was made up of (1) amounts due to the plaintiff on several promissory notes in the plaintiff's favour (2) certain promissory notes executed by the client in favor of a third party, which the plaintiff is said to have "taken up" (3) balance of amount due as interest on the mortgage and 2 further charges and (4) a certain amount stated to have been found due to the plaintiff as costs for acting for him in various suits, upon a settlement made of amounts due under various taxed and untaxed bills, a large remission having been allowed in consideration of all the bills not being taxed. In a suit by the plaintiff against the heirs of his deceased client to realize the amount due on the mortgage and the three further charges, the plaintiff obtained a decree on the 1st three bonds, but the 4th bond was ordered to be reopened and it was directed that the plaintiff "do get all his bills of costs upto the 3rd August 1903 taxed by the Taxing officer of the High Court, and then refile the bills in this Court, that then a Commissioner be appointed to take accounts in the light of the observations in this case, that after the Commissioner's Report is received and the parties are heard thereon the final decree will be drawn up under s. 89 of the Transfer of Property Act. Held, that this order was a decree. The fact, that the Subordinate Judge intended hereafter to adjust the equities arising out of the contract, did not in any way do away with his adjudication that the contract, as it stood, was not binding on the defendants. 9 Bom 183 dist and doubted 15 Bom 155 s c L R 18 I A 6 at p 8.

Account suit for-(Contd.)

Shamuldhone Dutt v Srimutty Susila Bala Debi. 12 C W N 1102=36 Cal 493= 2 Ind Cas 553.

25—Where the Court is asked to reopen accounts on the ground of fraud, at least two or three instances of particular items must be established which the Court can take as false and fraudulent. Boo Jeenut Boo v. Sha Nagar Wallab Kanji, P J (1886), 175=11 Bom 78.

Notes:—Ap: 16 Mad 311. Fol: 17 Bom 755. Ref: 14 Bom 279; 16 Bom 186; 21 Bom 424 F B; 7 Bom L R 836.

26—Settled accounts — Suit for accounts—Pleading—Procedure.

The requisites for making an account a settled account depend on the circumstances of each case and the mode of dealing between the parties. 1 Ball and Beatty 420 at 428; L R 2 H L 1 (1867); 5 Moo I A 372; 8 Moo P C 378 (1858), referred to. If a settled account is impeached for errors, particular errors must be stated and proved and the same rule holds even when the accounts have been settled errors excepted. Where the plaintiff made no averment in his plaint that accounts had been settled but commenced action on the footing that no accounts had been rendered. Held—That the plaintiff could not after the suit had been tried out on that footing be allowed to convert the case into one for reopening of accounts on the ground of errors contained therein. Procedure in account suits indicated, and that adopted in the present case condemned. In a suit for account, if liability to account is denied by the defendant the question of accountability is to be tried first It is only after an adverse decision against the defendant upon this question that he may be called upon to render an account (LR 14 Cal 147(1886)

Account suit for-(Contd.)

referred to Mahesh Chandra Bosu v Radha Kishore Bhattacharjee 12 C W N 28

(10) RUNNING ACCOUNT FOR PORTION OF WHICH HUNDIS ARE GIVEN

27—Running account for portion of which hundis are given—Obligation to sue on hundis —

Where there is a running account between the parties, a portion of which relates to an amount due upon dishonoured hundis plaintiff is not bound to sue upon the hundis but may base his claim upon the running account

Ram Chand v. Punna Lal 3 N W 323

(11) NECESSITY TO GO INTO ACCOUNTS FOR PROFITS

28—Necessity to go into accounts in suit for profits,—

The mere fact that in a suit for profits by a co-sharer it is necessary to go into the accounts will not alter the character of the suit and make it one for settlement of accounts Dabee Deen v Doorga Pershad 3 N W 49.

Notes —Ref 16 All 28 F B

28A — Usufructuary mortgage constituting mortgagee Agent and Receiver — Mortgagor's rights to demand accounts—Suit for redemption — Construction of deeds — Amount for which mortgagee liable to account —

Where a usufructuary mortgage-deed constitutes the mortgagee the Agent and Receiver of the mortgagor the mortgagor is entitled to call upon the mortgagee to furnish accounts of receipts and payments. The amount for which the mortgagee is liable to render an account is not the gross rental of the lands but only such amount as was actually received by him or on his behalf and such sums, if any, as might have been received by him but for his own neglect or fault

Banarsi Prasad v Ram Narain 7 C W N 514 =25 All 287=30 I A 66 (P C)

29—Plaintiff in possession of account papers, it may be allowed to sue—Relief in equity to be granted only to honest plaintiff—

Account suit for-(Contd.)

A plaintiff who is in possession of the account papers, cannot be allowed to sue the defendants for accounts unless he produces the papers in Court with a succinct of statement what they contain and what the balance is whether in his favour or against him Until he does that it is impossible to call upon a defendant to answer a charge of misappropriation of money or being liable to the estate on the accounts A person who seeks equity must do equity (19 W R 14 Fol)

Upendra Kishore Rai Chaudhury v Ramtara Debya Chaudhurani 13 C W N 696=4 Ind Cas 542

30—Oudh Rent Act s 108 cl (15)—All co sharers necessary parties to suit—Mis joinder of parties—Act XIV of 1882 s 28 —

The plaintiffs being sharers in a village brought a suit against all the other sharers for settlement of accounts —Held that there was no mis joinder of parties—Held further that in a suit for settlement of accounts under s. 108 cl. (15) Oudh Rent Act all the co sharers in the estate (whether it be mahal thol patti or other subdivision of a mahal) to which the suit relates and in respect of which accounts are to be settled are necessary parties to the suit (Ref 7 O C 84 13 O C 251). Thakur Baksh v Bhagwan Din 1 O C 215

31-C P C. s 372 Partition suit Preliminary decree, death after—Right of substitution accruing from day to day—Limitation

Where a decree was made declaring that a party was entitled to a share in a certain property and directed the taking of accounts of the property and the said party applied to have the death of certain defendant who had died after the decree to be recorded and the names of his heirs substituted before the final decree Held, —That Sec 372 of the Civil Procedure Code applied and that the right of the petitioner to apply for such substitution accrued from day to day and was not barred under Sec 178 of the Limitation Act. The ratio in such cases is not whether the decree directs a partition or a taking of accounts, but whether there is a pending suit I L R 5 Cal 731 (1880), I L R 8 Cal 420 (1882), 3 C W N 757 (1899), followed.

Surendra Keshub Roy v Khetter Krista Mitter, 7 C W N 817=30 Cal 699.

Account suit for-(Contd.)

32—What is an open and current account—With reciprocal demands — Indian Limitation Act, IX of 1908, art 85 —

Held, that it is an open mutual and current account with the reciprocal demands where one party supplies the other with capital by Hundies, and the latter in turn supplies the former with goods, and there is sometimes a balance against the one and sometimes against the other and the formal balance struck within three years from the close of the account between them is a balance contemplated under art 85 of Limitation Act. The fact that the parties used to as certain every year a balance in order to see how the account stood between them is immaterial and does not alter the nature of the account

(11 Bom 134, Fol.) Imrat Lal v Lal Chand, 99 P W R 1910=75 P R 1910= 7 Ind Cas 715=124 P L R 1910

33—Debtor and creditor—Only relationship —Right to sue for account —

The mere relationship of creditor and debtor is not enough to enable the creditor to sue the debtor for an account. (Ref 186 P R 1882)

Gurditta v Azam, 122 P R 1881

34—Court fees-Accounts, suit for—Property laid in Munsiff's court as originally valued—Petition to increase valuation after finding by commissioner—Valuation increased to amount exceeding court's jurisdiction—Return of plaint for presentation to the proper court — Material irregularity —

A suit for account was filed in a Munsif's court The Munsif appointed a commissioner to take an account, and it was found that the plaintiff would be entitled to a larger sum Plaintiff amended the plaint with the leave of the court, and the valuation of the suit was accordingly increased The Munsif returned the plaint for presentation to the proper court Held that the Munsif had acted with material irregularity in permitting the valuation of the suit to be revised and that he ought to have tried the case —

Arogya Udayan v Appach Rowthan, 12 M L J 35=25 Mad 543=L D 9 C L J 367=13 C W N 493=5 M L J 360

35—Arts 123 127—Suit for partition Misjoinder—Liability of heirs of Karnavan—Receipt of assets.

Account suit for-(Contd.)

Where 6 divided branches of a Malabar Tarwad and a seventh divided branch sued for their shares of the property which had belonged to an eighth branch which became extinct held, that the suit was one for a distributive share of the property of an intestate and that Art. 123 and not Art 127 applied to the suit The Karnavan of the defendant's branch came into possession of the properties of the extinct branch and was apparently managing the same till his death on behalf of all the branches entitled to them held, that the defendants as his heirs were not liable to account for such properties to the plaintiffs' branches unless they came into possession of his assets or he spent any of the properties for their benefit held also that the six branches of the plaintiffs were entitled to institute a single suit for their six seventh share of the properties and the suit was not bad for misjoinder of cause of action Ammu v Kunhuni Menon. 4 M L J 43

36—Claim based on account—Arbitration

Held, that claims based on account were proper subjects for reference to arbitration or assessors Goona Mull v Khema Mull 5 P R 1866

Acounts suit for See Decree form of 3 W N 218

37—Suit for balance of accounts—Evidence-Account stated—Acknowledgment—Act XV of 1877 Sch II Art 64

A mere acknowledgment signed by a debtor in the account book of his creditor showing a balance standing against the debtor on an account which is not a mutual account, is neither an account stated to which Article 64 of the II Schedule of the Limitation Act applies, nor is it evidence of a new contract which can be the basis of a suit 15 Bom 1 & 22 Bom 513 followed Ganga Prasad v Ram Dayal 23 All 502

38—Contract Act S 25 (3) Account Balance—Promise to pay interest—Bond—Limitation

Held that a balance of account struck by a debtor in his creditor's books, which contains a distinct promise to pay interest thereon is more than a mere acknowledgment of pre existing debt and amounts to a bond, and consequently is a good contract under S 25 (III) even if it consists of time-barred items. Nanak Chand v Diwan Chand. 135 P W R 1910.

Account suit for-(Contd.)

39—Evidence Act s. 34—Accounts-Proof and corroboration of.

Where there are entries in plaintiff's bahi account book, which, according to the report of the Commissioner, is correct and regular according to village custom in the part of the country to which the parties belong and their is also the plaintiff's own statement on solemn affirmation that the account is correct, held that certain disputed items interested in the account should not be disallowed simply because they were not admitted by defendants and no specific evidence was adduced in regard to them, as there is no reason why such fictitious items should have been interspersed in an otherwise true account.

Hanwanta v Akbar Khan 80 P R 1910= 147 P L R 1910=117 P W R 1910

40—Accounts Suit for—Procedure—Fixing date under Civil Procedure Code, S. 215 (A)—suit for accounts—Procedure.

When once the plaintiff establishes that the defendant is his agent and that he is an accounting party, defendant ought to prove his receipts and disbursements. Where the agency is established, the Court ought to fix a date directing the defendant to furnish accounts If he fails to furnish the accounts within the time fixed, the plaintiff may take advantage of the provisions of S. 260, Civil Procedure Code. 13 I A 123 (P C) and A W N 1905, Refd to Ragunath v Ganpatji. 1905 A W N 3=27 All 374.

41—Taking of accounts in partnership suits—Set off.

In suits for account, as in partnership or partition suits each party however arrayed formally becomes in turn either plaintiff or defendants, although he has not claimed a set off. Nanchand v Mussa. 6 Bom L R692.

42—Maintability of suit for—Receiver appointing Tahsildar—Agent and sub-agent—Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872), Ss. 191 & 192.

A suit for accounts is not maintainable by the owner against Tahsildar, who was appointed by receiver to his agents.

Account suit for-(Contd.)

The Tahsildar (defendant) as a sub-agent under the receiver, who may be regarded as the agent of the principal (plaintiff), and, as sub-agent, he is liable to render accounts to the receiver, and not to the principal. Jotindra Narain Acharja Chowdhury v Rajendra Kishore Das. 8 C L J 114=12 C W N 1035

43—Mortgage held by banker against customer—payment from customer's current account-Banker's duty—Interest;

In the absence of special direction to that effect, a banker is not bound to pay off a mortgage which has against his customer from the latter's current account, and interest is properly charged upon it until the customer directs that the principal should be paid off.

Thakur Jawahir Singh v Lachman Das, 9 C W N 745 P C

44—Accounts, suit for-Valuation-Larger sum found due—Additional duty demanded-Dismissal for non-payment-Relinquishment :

In a suit for accounts, the valuation which the plaintiff puts upon his claim determines the jurisdiction of the court and the amount of court-fees. In such suit a decree may be passed for a larger amount, though the decree cannot be executed until the fee is paid for the additional amount. In a suit for accounts, on finding that a larger sum might be due than was claimed in the plaint the court insisted on the payment of additional duty in the course of the suit. The plaintiff offered to relinquish the claim and dismissed the suit for default in paying the fee :—Held, that the order was erroneous and that the relinquishment made in consequence of such erroneous order was not binding on the plaintiff, especially as he had not been permitted to relinquish his claim.

Sellamuthy Servagar v Ramaswami Pillai 12 M L J 66.

44A—Jurisdiction-Account suit valued at less than ten thousand rupees before Munsif—Final decree exceeding pecuniary limit—Appeal.

In a suit for accounts and recovery of papers brought before a Munsif who had pecuniary jurisdiction to try suits upto Rs. 1,000 in value, the claim for recovery of papers was valued at Rs 80 and that for accounts at Rs. 180, with a prayer that additional court-fees would be paid for any amount to be found due in excess ; after the preliminary decree the amount due was ascertained to be Rs. 8, 424 ;

Account suit for–(Contd.)

Held that the Plaintiff cannot obtain a decree for a sum above Rs. 1,000 i. e. in excess of the limit of the Munsif's pecuniary jurisdiction.

That the plaintiff ought to be called upon to relinquish the excess and thus place the case formally within the pecuniary jurisdiction of the Court of his deliberate choice or the Court may in such a case remit the excess or presume the excess to be remitted. Galap Singh v Indra Coomar Hazra 13 C W N 493.

45—Practice—Court—Decree—No specific direction as to accounts—Decree contemplating accounts.

Direction can be given at a subsequent stage. Where there is no existing direction as to accounts in a decree , but the decree does contemplate an account (which direction ought to have been incorporated in the decree when passed), it is competent to the Court at any stage of the proceedings to direct necessary inquiries or accounts to be made or taken. Sir Jehangir Cowsaji Jehangir v Hope Mills, Limited. 9 Bom L R 1380

Notes:—Ref: 10 Bom L R 1057.

46—Principal and agent—Accounts—Agent's liability—Extent—Limitation:

It is the duty of an agent to be constantly ready with his accounts (1819 J & W 135) ref to: he must further be always ready to explain them and produce vouchers 6 Cal 754 and 7 Cal 627 ref to ; and not only that, but also to be constantly ready to pay the money that may be found due by him. 3 T L R 689 ref to. Shib Chandra Roy v Chandra Narain Mukerjee. 32 Cal 719 at 725=1 C L J 232

Notes:—Fol: 9 C L J 107 , 14 C W N 121 : 4 C L J 198 : Dist 35 Cal 298=12 C W N 820=7 C L J 279.

47—Minor—Principal and Agent—Accounts—Advances made by agent—Benefit of minor—Application of advances.

He who seeks equity must do equity.

Account suit for–(Contd.)

When a minor on attaining majority comes to court to have an account taken as between himself and his agent and it is found on taking that account that the agent has made certain advances to the guardian, the only person to whom he could make them as representing the minor-and this have been applied for the minor's benefit the agent ought to be allowed those advances in taking the account. A guardian cannot bind his minor by a personal covenant. Surendra Nath Sarkar v Atul Chandra Roy 7 C L J 87= 34 Cal 892.

48—Presumption in taking, when account cooked.

When the accounts of a party are found cooked everything should be presumed against him in taking accounts. Sakharam v Krishnaji. 90 P J 350

49—Held, that Judicial Circular of 14th March 1859, regarding a day-book as well as a ledger, was not to be too strictly construed or enforced. Sheokurn v Khoda Baksh P R 93 of 1866.

50.—Jurisdiction of court—Valuation of suit—Accounts, suit for—Course of appeal-Contract Act (IX of 1872), s. 253 (10) partnership—Dissolution of, by death of a partner who is member of a joint Hindu family—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) sch. II Art 106—Accounts, suit for, after dissolution of partnership—Evidence Act (I of 1872), s. 92. Evidence—Oral evidence as to contents of a document.

In a suit for accounts, where, the plaintiff has valued his claim at a sum not exceeding Rs.5,000, the appeal against the preliminary decree passed in favour of the plaintiff lies to the Divisional Court and not to the Chief Court.

Where in a case, appeal lies to the chief court, but is filed in and heard by Divisional Court, and a further appeal is filed in the Chief Court, the further appeal may be converted into a first appeal, if this course does not prejudice any of the parties.

In the case of a joint Hindu family carrying on a trading business, the ordinary rules of partnership do not apply in toto: the concern must be governed also by rules of Hindu Law, and one of such rules would be that the death of one member of the family cannot operate to dissolve the family partnership. But it is equally clear that, where a partnership is composed of certain individual members of a joint Hindu family and outsiders, the relations of the parties are governed by the ordinary law of contract and not by Hindu Law.

Account suit for-(Contd.)

Some of the members of a joint Hindu family entered into a partnership. The deed did not show that the members of the family were acting on behalf of the family. It was contended that, on the death of one of the members of the family the partnership was dissolved. Held, that the contention was valid.

Held, also, that no extraneous evidence was admissible to prove that the members of the family were acting on behalf of the family in the concern and not in their individual capacity.

A suit for accounts after the dissolution of a partnership is governed by Art. 106 Limitation Act (1877).

Copies of documents required by s. 78 or s 86 of the Evidence Act to be certified are not admissible in evidence when they are not duly certified.

The Chief Court held that the several acknowledgments relied on by the plaintiffs did not extend the period of limitation, as they did not fall within the purview of s. 19 of the Limitation Act. 58 P R 1902 and 46 P R 1906=94 P L R 1906; 31 Cal 365 distin; 25 All 378; 21 Mad 344, ref. Ram Pershad v. Rattan Chand. 87 P L R 1909.

51.—Account stated—General account.

Held that where a suit on accounts stated failed because the plaintiff could not establish it, the plaintiff was not on such ground debarred from recovering such sums of money as had been advanced by him to the defendant within three years next before the institution of the suit.

Ram Prasad v. Jamna. 2 W N 93.

52.—Arts 145, 120—Suit to recover Government securities deposited by way of loan—Limitation—Debtor taking possession of the estate of his creditor as executor—Death of such executor—Appointment of new administrator—New cause of action. Art. 145, Sch. II of the Limitation Act governs the case of a deposit of Government securities, even if the transaction is considered as a loan of such securities and not mearly as a deposit. A debtor taking possession of the estate of his creditor as executor, is accountable for the amount of his debts to the estate as assets. On the appointment of a new administrator after the death of such debtor executor, a new cause of action arises rendering the estate of the said debtor executor accountable both as regards his own said debt as also regarding the general estate of the said deceased creditor remaining in his hands at the time of his death, and a suit by the new administrator to recover from the executor of the deceased debtor's estate, the property and effects of the deceased creditor—to which Art. 120, Sch. II of the Limitation Act applies—would not be barred within 6 years of the death of such debtor executor.

Kristo Kamini Dassi v. Administrator General of Bengal. 7 C W N 476.

53.—Accounts.

A suit framed as one for a settlement of accounts should not be dismissed because the plaintiff fails to prove the settlement. Evidence into the items composing the account ought to be gone into. Kishun Pershad v Bhagwanee Din. Agra F B 47.

Ram Sahay v. Seethoo. 1 N W P 28.

54.—Ss. 257, 258—Partnership—Suit for account only. One partner may sue another for account, during the subsistence of the partnership without asking for its dissolution, if there exist certain circumstances which excuse a departure from the general rule under which account and dissolution should be asked for together; what those circumstances may be will depend upon the facts of each case. Raghubar Dayal v. Sheoram Das. 1 A L J 94.

55.—Account between debtor and creditor—Special directions as to sums borrowed by an agent in collusion with creditor—Restriction of the principal's liability to those debts only which were shown to have been just—Burden of proof.

Fraud and undue influence having been found, with the result that a decree cancelled transfers executed in favour of a creditor by a talukdar whose manager had received in his name money forming the consideration for the transfers, an account was directed to be taken of the sums actually due and payable by the principal Directions were given for the payment not of all the money received from the creditor by the manager but only of sums (a) shown to have been lent by the creditor to the principal himself personally and of those (b) received by the manager on behalf of the principal in the course of a prudent management. The burden of proof lay on the creditor of showing that any particular advance fell within the class (b); and where the advance having been received by the manager had been partly used in payment of Government revenue, due on the estate managed by him: held, that the Court below had rightly presumed that the rents should have covered the revenue due; and this presumption having to be met, it was for the creditor to bring proof to overcome it.

Account suit for-(Contd.)

Partap Bahadur Singh v, Chitpal Singh. 19 Cal 174=19 I A 33.

56.—Accounts—Whether bound to account for a period antecedent to his executorship—Obligation to account is continuous—Stale claim.

It is the duty of an executor when he comes of age to take the accounts of the administrator durante minoritate and the beneficiaries are entitled to call upon the executor to render an account not only for the period of his executorship but also of the period during which the estate was in charge of the administrator durante minoritate. When the administration determines by reason of the cessation of the minority of the executor, the administrator durante minoritate may be and ought to be called upon to account by the executor or other person who succeeds him in the administration, and it is the duty of the latter to get the whole of the estate of the testator into his possession, to call upon the personal representatives of his predecessor in office to render account of the estate and to recover damages, if necessary, for waste and mis-appropriation by his predecessor, and, if required, by the institution of appropriate judicial proceedings. If he fails to do so, he must be held liable to the extent to which the estate would have been benefitted if he had faithfully performed his duty.

3 Atlkyns 603.
1 Modern 175.
1 Cas. Temp. Lee 15.
1 Strobh Eq (S C) 393.

Account suit for-(Contd.)

3 Cranch C. C. 355; 22 Fed, Cases 456.
60 Texas 704; 1 S. W 803.
160 III 203; 43 N. E. 385.
117 Ind 139; 19 N. E. 758.
115 N. C. 415; 20 S. E. 516.
130 Alabacna 436, 16 Southern 25.

So far as an executor or administrator is concerned, his obligation to account may be treated as continuous and the person who is entitled to call for an account has the right to demand an account at every moment of the time during which the administrator acts as such; his right to demand an account runs with the duty of the administrator and may be asserted as long as it remains unperformed.

If a person entitled to an accounting delay for a great length of time, his right may be barred by the presumption that the estate has been fully administered or by the rule of equity which discountenances stale claims. This effect of the lapse of time may, however, be obviated either by the facts of the case or by the evidence shewing a subsisting right in the petitioner and a corresponding obligation on the part of the executor or administrator; for instance lapse of time may not bar an accounting delay if it is proved that there are assets in the hands of the executor or administrator, or if no account has ever been filed.

1 Bradf. N. Y. 24.
2 Curties 919.
2 Strobh Eq. (S.-C.) 27.
13 Peter 381.

Baroda Prosad Banerjee v. Gajendra Nath Banerjee. 9 C L J 383= 13 C W N 557=1 Ind Cas 289.

57.—Guardians and Wards Act S. 34—Obligations of guardian—Accounts—Majority—Summary powers of court, limits to.

The summary powers created by S. 34 of the Guardians and Wards Act cease as soon as the minority of the ward ceases. The object of that section is to give the court as representing the interest of the minor certain summary powers for the protection of his property during minority.

Nabu Behari v. Sheik Mahomed. 5 C W N 207.

Notes:—Diss: 16 M L J 286.

58.—Plaintiff's claim was on a bond, unregistered. The bond was held therefore inadmissible. He kept no daybook, and the amount of the bond was not brought down as a balance in any subsequent account. Roberts, J.. dismissed the suit. Missuroo Dhera v. Bhugwan Singh, P R 81 of 1866.

Account suit for-(Contd.)

59—Account Books—Evidence.—

In a suit for balance of account, account books kept in the ordinary course of business are admissible only as corroborative and not as independent evidence of the balance claimed as due. But to let in the books as corroborative evidence, it is not essential for plaintiff to show that defendant attested or acknowledged the balance; it is sufficient for plaintiff himself, or some one else acquainted with the fact, to testify that the balance claimed was due by the defendant to plaintiff. Mohkum Dass v. Buldeo Dass. P R 61 of 1868.

60—Hill owned by several persons—Lease granted by some co-sharers to cut and quarry stones in the hill—Suit by remaining co-sharers for account, damages and injunction for cutting and quarrying stones, maintainability of—Action of trespass, trover as between co-sharers when maintainable.—The defendants, second party, were the plaintiff's co sharers in a hill. They granted a lease to the defendant, first party, to cut and quarry stones from the hill. Hence the suit by the plaintiff for accounts, injunction and damages for cutting and quarrying stones from the hill.

Held, that the suit was not maintainable, inasmuch as the act of the defendants did not amount to ouster of the plaintiff, the cutting and quarrying stones was the proper mode of enjoying the hill, and the hill was not affected in any appreciable degree by the act of the defendants in cutting and quarrying stones.

Mohesh Narain v Nawbut Pathak 1 C L J 437=32 Cal 837.

61—Liability to keep—Trustee of Durga liable to keed accounts:— Miyaji v Sheik Ahmed. 18 M L J 205.

62—Limitation Act Art 89-Account suit for—Principal and agent-Death of principal-Agency termitation of-Indian Contract Act, Sec 201—Limitation Act, Sch II, Art 89-Period from which limitation runs. The defendant was a gomasta of the plaintiff's father, and after his death in 1901 of the plaintiffs. He was dismissed in 1902. The plaintiffs instituted a suit for accounts from 1892 to 1902, in 1905.

Held, that the suit for accounts up to the time of the death of the plaintiffs' father was barred by Art 89. Sch. II of the Limitation Act. That as regards agency under the plaintiff's father, limitation began to run from the date of the plaintiffs' father's death. 1 C L J 232=39 Cal 719 Fol. Mohendra Nath Ghosh v Jadu Nath Mullik 9 C L J 107=8 Ind Cas 684.

63—Suit for accounts—Plaintiff—Settled account—Plaint—Surchrge—

A plaintiff who seeks to open a settled account must specify in his plaint the grounds on which he claims permission to surcharge or falsify, otherwise he will not be allowed to prove errors at the hearing. The proper procedure is laid down by Justice Filed in 7 Cal 654. 7 Cal 654 referred to. Moulvi Nizamuddin v Seth Kasturchand. 15 C P L R 61.

64—Re-opening accounts stated.-The defence that accounts have been taken and settled is a good one: but it is open to a party to show error in the accounts, the onus of proving the error resting on the party who alleges it. Kokoo Mull v. Sheikh Nutha P R 47 of 1866.

65—Mortgage accounts—Mode of taking accounts—Duty of court in taking them-Practice—Accounts, accuracy of—Onus of proof—

Per Fulton, J—A mortgagor seeking to redeem must prove how much of the debt and interest has been repaid. It is the duty of a mortgagee in possession to keep full, true and accurate account of the actual receipts and disbursements. When an account is presented the judge of fact on whom rests the responsibility of coming to a true decision must examine it and before arriving at a conclusion as to whether it is such an account as a prudent man ought to accept, he must consider the detail and ascertain whether it has been kept on principles which indicate that it is probably correct. Before accepting or rejecting accounts in suits between mortgagor and mortgagee it is usually necessary to examine them critically. The omission of the mortgagor to assist by criticising the items may of course be taken into consideration. In some cases such omission may be accepted as showing that the accounts cannot be attached, or, in other words, are known to be correct. But in other cases it may merely indicate ignorance of the proper course to take or inability on the part of the client to give suitable instructions to his pleader. No general rule can of course be laid down. While it is true that no general rule as to the value of accounts can be laid down, still it is clear that in such a case all the circumstances must be considered, such as the relative positions of the parties to each other, the trade or caste of the mortgagor and any other matters likley to be material. It is for the party who puts forward the accounts to explain them and support them in such a way as to convince the judge that there is such a probability of their accuracy as to make it reasonable for a prudent man to accept them—

Account suit for-(Contd.)

Kundammal v Kashibai.

4 Bom L R 42; 26 Bom 363.

66—Account suit for—Pro-Small C C Act art 31. A suit was brought to recover a specified sum alleged to be due by the defendant on a settlement of account between the parties. Held, that merely because it is necessary to look into the accounts it cannot be held that the suit is one for account within the meaning of art 31 of the Pro small C courts Act. Konduru v Subbiah Seth. 98 Mad 394.

67—Partnership—suit to enforce a term in the partnership agreement—Maintainability of a such a suit without a suit for dissolution.

Held, that, a partner can maintain a suit to enforce a particular term of a partnership agreement or to restrain its breach without bringing a suit for dissolution of the partnership.

(15 M L J 142; 18 Mad 134; 26 Cal 254 Ref; 39 E R 427 and 428 Ref. and Fol. 67 E R 432 Fol. 2 M H C R P 28 Cons and Dist.; 2 N W P H C R 90; (1862-63) M H C R P 341; 1 C L R 545 Ref.) Kari Venkatareddi v Kollu Narasayya. 4 M L T 456=19 M L J 10=32 Mad 76=1 Ind Cas 384.

68—Decree against estate—Effect on co-parceners—satisfaction in parts from time to time by different judgment-debtors—Decree, payment of

Account suit for-(Contd.)

by person holding money derived from estate on behalf of co-partners, but on separate accounts effect of. R, the 12 annas share-holder of an estate, and after his death his successors in-interest remained in wrongful possession of the remaning 4 annas share from 1826 to 1854 when the true-owners recovered possession. In 1862, they instituted a suit for mesne profits from, 1826 to 1854 against the "co sharers Zemindars of the 12 annas share" and got a decree in the first Court in 1875 against persons who were co-partners in the estate at the date of the decree On appeal the High Court merely reduced the amount decreed (in 1882). Between 1854 and 1882 several changes had taken place in the distribution of interests amongst the different branches of R's family. On a question subsequently arising as to what amount each co-partner was liable to contribute in paying off the decretal amount the High Court held, that this was to be determined according to the share which each of them had in possession from 1826 to 1854.

The decree was satisfied by payments made from time to time on behalf of the several co-partners from 1883 to 1889 and during this period interest ran on so much only of the amount of the decree as for the time being remained unsatisfied. In a suit for contribution instituted by one of the co-partners against the others in respect of the amounts so paid.

One of the items paid on account consisted of a sum of money held by the Garo Hill Government Treasury to the credit of the co-partners in seperate accounts and derived from a portion of the estate which lay in the Garo Hill District.

This amount was drawn in 1883, but one of the co-partners H, proved that before that he had by suit established his right to a larger share in the estate than was represented by the amount held by the Treasury to his credit. The High Court in passing accounts held that H was entitled to a credit out of the sum drawn from the Treasury proportionate to his share in the estate.

Held, (reversing the judgment of the High Court)—That the money not having been held on joint account, H was not entitled, for the purpose of the present suit, to credit for a larger sum than that which stood to his account.

Jotindra Mohan Lahiri v Guru Prosun Deo Lahiri. 8 C W N 695=31 Cal 807=1 1 A 94 P C.

Account suit for-(Contd.)

Notes—Affirm 7 C L J 484 P C=35 Cal 303 P C.

69—C P C s. 586—suit of the nature cogni zable by a Court of small causes—Appeal.

The plaintiff sued as widow of a deceased Brahman priest to recover from the defendant certain books containing lists of the clients of her late husband and also a sum of Rs. 60, on the allegation that the defendant had been enstrusted with the books and had realized the money as her agent for the purpose of carrying on the business of her deceased husband and contrary to the terms of the agency, had not handed over the money which he had obtained from the clients to her- Held that this was a suit of the nature cognizable by a Court of small Causes within the meaning of s. 586 of Code of Civ. Pro and that the suit was not a suit for account within the meaning of Art 31 of the Provincial small Cause Courts Act. Hans Raj v Ratni alias Jwala Dei. 1904 A W N 227 also 15 M L J 142.

70—Pleadings—Suit for share of property—Point not raised in the pleadings-suggestion before Court below that account should be taken—Separate suit for that purpose necessary.

In a suit for recovery of a share of a deceased Muhammadan's estate by right of inheritance the plaintiff alleged that the dower-debt amounting to Rs. 40 due to the widow who was in possession, had been satisfied out of the usufruct, and also asked for a conditional decree in the event of anything being found as due to the widow. The reliefs asked for were (1) delivery of possession of the share, (2) mesne profits for three years and (3) cost of the suit. The widow contended that her dower was a lakh of rupees and that she had been in possession of the property in lieu thereof. The suit was dismissed. Upon appeal to the High Court it was argued that at all events, an account ought to have been directed to be taken of the profits set off against the dower-debt.

Held that the contention could not prevail. If the plaintiff was desirous of claiming an account of this kind, she ought to have done so in the prayer to her plaint. The question would be best raised in a suit for an account. 14 M. I A. 377 fol. Humera Bibi v Zubeda Bibi 2 A L J 485=1905 W N 125.

71—S. 50 Revocation of Probate-Section how far exhaustive—The explanation of the words 'just cause' in S. 50 is not merely illustrative but exhaustive. B G Tilak v. Sakwar bai; Ganesh v. Sakwarbai. 4 Bom L R 637; 26 Bom 792.

72—Re-opening of account.—In a suit to recover money due on a San-Mortgage, defendants asked that plaintiff's books might be inspected to show that nothing was due from them to plaintiff when he got them to execute the deed. The joint Subordinate Judge decided that the existence of several irregularities and mistakes in plaintiff's books justified the account between the parties being re-opened.

Held, that though the Joint Judge did not act according to the strict rule of the Court of Equity, which requires grand or specific errors to be stated in the plaint, as plaintiff had had opportunity of explaining the mistakes and irregularities, there was no reason for interfering with the decree on second appeal. Girdharlal Hargovan v. Hiraji P J 1891. p. 337.

73—Jurisdiction of Munsif—May pass decree for over Rs. 1000—Bengal Civil Courts Act, S. 19.

The Court of the Munsiff is not competent to make a decree in a suit for accounts valued at less than Rs. 1000 for an amount in excess of Rs. 1000 which is the pecuniary limit of its Jurisdiction. (83 Maine 568, 22 Atlantic 476; 25 Nebraska 103; 41 N W 134; 28 L T N S 441 Ref: 21 Cal 550; 25 Mad 543 Expl and Dist. Gopal Singh v. Indra Kumar 9 C L J 367=13 C W N 493

74—Decree—Preliminary—If may be questioned in appeal from final decree:—

In an appeal against the final decree in a suit for account, the propriety of the preliminary decree may also be questioned. Golap Singh v. Indra Kumar 9 C L J 367=13 C W N 493

75—Evidence,—Account books were admissible as corroborative, but not as independent evidence, under Act II of 1855, (PR 37 of 1867,) (P R 61 of 1868,) The force or utility of Judicial Circular of March 14th 1859 ("no account books shall be accepted as evidence which do not comprise a day-book as well as a ledger") questioned.—Gunga Ram v. Kishen Lal P R 34 of 1866 Civil.

Account suit for-(Contd.)

76—Accounts, Court's order to furnish-Company transferring its business to a Limited Company—New Company not bound by the order.

Where a decree directs a company to furnish accounts, and the company in the mean-while transfers its business to a limited company the latter company is not bound by decree as it is a distinct legal person; and the decree does not operate beyond the date of such transfer. Fraser & Co v. Bombay Ice Manufacturing Co. 7 Bom L R 107= 29 Bom 107.

77—Sch. 11, Art. 85—Current mutual account—Limitation.

Whether the dealings between the parties are such as to create independent obligations in favour of one party against the other, the account between them is a mutual account. Article 85, Limitation Act of 1877, applies to a case of the nature giving rise to reciprocal demands, and limitation begins to run from the close of the year, in which the last item was entered in the account. 22 Bom 606 Fol: A W N (1896) 186 relied on. Chittiar Mal v. Behari Lal, 6 A L J 921=32 All 11= 4 Ind Cas 261.

78—In an action against executor for accounts, it is not necessary, when making a reference to the Commissioner to take accounts, to give leave to the plaintiff to make an application to have accounts taken on the footing of wilful default pending the reference. Modern practice allows of an order charging wilful default being made at any time during the continuance of the action of a proper case being shown.

In a suit brought by the plaintiff against the executors of the will of her grand-father praying for a declaration that in the events that had happened, she was entitled absolutely and solely to the property left by her grand-father and for account of the property in the hands of the executors, the plaintiff is only entitled to accounts from the defendants for six years preceding the suit as she took no interest under the will and the executors were not trustees for her and the property did not vest in them for any specified purpose in her favour. Such a suit is not a suit for the purpose of following such property in the hands of the executors and trustees.

Account suit for-(Contd.)

Ayshabai v. Ebrahim Haji Jacob 10 Bom L R 117=32 Bom 364= 3 M L T 379.

79—This was a suit for money due on an account stated which was instituted on the 16th July 1880 The account was stated on the 27th July 1877. It was not signed by the defendants or by their agent duly authorized in their behalf. The Court observed that the law applicable to the suit was Act XV of 1877; and, as the account on which the claim was based was not signed by the defendants or any agents duly authorised on their account, art 64 sch II of that Act would not apply.

Baldeo v. Chandan Singh 1 W N 29.

80—Deceased wife's sister marriage with—Illegitimate child—Maintenance—Account.

In a case where a decree for nullity of a marriage is decreed, on the ground that the wife happened to be the sister of the deceased wife of the husband, the child would be the illegitimate child of the wife who would be entitled unless a strong case is made out for the custody of the child.

Maintenance for a child may be rightly and properly spent for the purpose of maintaining a joint house for the infant and his or her parent and an account of the amount allowed for the maintenance will not be ordered so long as the infant is properly maintained. Bom Setsch v Bom Setsch 35 Cal 381.

See—also cases under:—

(1) Hindu Law

(2) Mahomedan Law

(3) Betrothal

81.—S 19 Balance of account suit on acknowledgment.

Where the defendants had money dealings with the plaintiffs and borrowed money from time to time and on several occasions N as manager of the family acknowledged the amount remaining due by striking the balance and signing in plaintiff's account book, held that the plaintiff was entitled to recover the balance due inasmuch as the acknowledgment is an acknowledgment of the accuracy of details of the account as appearing in the plaintiff's account book. (23 All 502 Distinguished) Bhola Nath v Net Ram 3 A L J 800=1906 A W N 185.

Account suit for-(Contd.)

82.—Held, that a suit for settlement of accounts against the collecting co-sharers, based on a balance sheet prepared and produced by the defendants, could not be successfully defended by their asserting that some of the items entered in the balance sheet were for years previous to that for which they were entered, and therefore barred by time. Baldeo v Ranjit and others 6 W N 144.

83.—Evidence, importance of, in evidence—Practice of Indian people to keep accounts.—See 11 C L J 172=14 C W N 285 at 292= 20 M L J 182=12 Bom L R 244= 30 All 104=36 I A G; P C.

84.—Suit for account by one partner—No prayer for dissolution or winding up:—

An action can be brought by a firm against one of the partners to account for a certain sum of money received by him without bringing a suit for dissolution of the partnership, under circumstances which render it equitable to allow such a suit to be preferred. Fagadisa Aiyar v Cuppusamy (1905) 15 M L J 142.

85.—Express trust—Trustee de son tort,

If express trusts are created, and some outside trespasser who has no business to interfere does interfere then he becomes a trustee de son tort, and as such the Court will make him account as if he were the rightful trustee. Lapse of time will not act as a bar to the action against such a trustee, in virtue of s. 10 of the Limitation Act. Moosabhoy v Yakubbhai 7 Bom L R 45= 29 Bom 267.

86.—Balance—Acknowledgment-Basis of suit—Examination of previous dealings-Amendment—Interest——Equitable claim—Laches——Revision (Civil)—Failure to exercise jurisdiction—Narrow interpretation of rulings—Punjab Courts Act (XVIII of 1884) S 70 (1) (a).

Account suit for-(Contd.)

A brought a suit on a balance claiming the amount acknowledged as due as well as interest. The first Court held that the plaint should be considered as amended so as to include the previous dealings between the parties, and the previous accounts were filed to enable the Court to deal with the claim. The Appellate Court, on the authority of certain rulings, dismissed the suit as not maintainable being on the basis of a balance.

Held, (1) that the Appellate Court was in error in holding that it was bound to dismiss the suit.

(2) that the narrow interpretation of the rulings by the Appellate Court amounted to a refusal to exercise jurisdiction which justified revision under cl (a) of S 70 (1) of the Punjab Courts Act.

(3) that, as the balance included a good deal of interest and A allowed nearly the full term of six years to run before putting defendant into Court, A was not equitably entitled to charge interest on the balance.

There is no hard and fast rule that a suit brought on a balance is in all circumstances not maintainable. The striking of a balance may in itself merely serve to bring a claim within limitation. But in each case it will be a matter for consideration whether the form of suit requires the Court to go behind the balance and to determine whether the items from which it was made up should be examined. Where the first Court considers a suit brought on a blance as amended so as to include the previous dealings, the suit should not be dismissed as not maintainable. 68 P R 1904=123 P L R 1904 and 119 P R 1908 Expl. Amir Chand v Sundar Mal 7 P L R 1912.

87.—Account, suit for—Preliminary decree passed, after taking evidence of defendant on commission, if an ex parte decree—Order, setting aside such decree, if made without jurisdiction-Remedy where fraud is alleged—Final or supplementary decree settling the account in the absence of defendant, if ex parte—Order setting such decree aside, if without jurisdiction—Account, decree for, nature of.

Where the evidence of the defendant was taken and considered by the Court or, in other words, the case of the defendant was partially entered into, and the Court passed its judgment on the merits of the case, such decree cannot be held to be ex parte.

Account suit for-(Concld.)

If the decree was obtained by fraud, the defendant would have his remedy by way of review or by a suit properly framed for the purpose.

A decree for accounts is not a mere direction to enquire and report the proceeds and must always proceed upon the assumption that the party calling for it is entitled to the sum found due. It is a decree affirming his rights, only leaving it to be enquired into how much is due to him from the party accounting, and such a decree directing the defendant to account is a final decree and one which is appealable to the Privy Council.

A final decree setting the amount due, if passed in the absence of the defendant who was unavoidably absent and was unrepresented at the final hearing, is a decree passed ex-parte and is liable to be set aside, and opportunity should be given to the defendant to be heard on the question of how much is due from him. 35 Cal 1023: 3 Moo I A 175: 18 I A 6 Fol. Jasod Dassi v. Rameshwari Dassi 14 C L J 603.

88.—S.11—Suit for account-Procedure when amount decreed exceeds amount claimed—Extension of time fixed for payment of Court-fees—— Power of Court.

The final provision of S 11 of the Court Fees Act does not apply to the conditions set forth in toe first paragraph of that section. 30 (Mad 32: 16 M L J 543. 2 M L T 23 relied upon.

Ganesh Chandra v Promotho Nath 11 Ind Cas 73.

Accretion.

(1) New Formation of Alluvial Land. (1-30)

(1) Beng Reg XI of 1825 (1-11 & 41)
(2) Suit for possession of Chur Lands (12).
(3) Land forming bed of canal (13 & 13A)
(4) Accretion to estate on opposite side of River (14).
(5) Gradual accretion (15-15A).
(6) Right of Zamindar to accreted Land (16-17).
(7) Accretion to riparian Village (18-23).
(8) Evidence (24-26).
(9) Accretion by washing away Lands of another (27-30).

Accretion-(Contd.)

(2) Rivers or change in course of rivers (31-61).

(10) Gradual accretion from river receding (31-34).
(11) Gradual accretion from river (35-37).
(12) Bed of Navigable rivers (38 & 38A).
(13) Land dry only in dry season below high-water mark (39).
(14) Beng Reg XI of 1825 (40-41 & 1—11).
(15) Land accreting from bed of Khal (42).
(16) Change in course of River (43-52).
(17) Lands bounded by River (53-61).

(3) Churs or islands in Navigable Rivers (62—86)

(1) Accretion to chur (62 -66).
(2) Formation of chur (67-71).
(3) Fordable River (72-75).
(4) Reformation on old site (76-77).
(5) Navigable River (78).
(6) Unfordable stream (79).
(7) Formation of island in river adjacent to Zamindari (80).
(8) Land forming in river and gradually accreting to land on bank (81).
(9) Formation of Land in navigable river.(82)
(10) Island in Large river (83-86).

(4) Reformation after Diluviation (87-115)

(1) Ownership in reformed land (87-115).

(5) Procedure (116—119.).

(1) Procedure where rules under Beng Reg XI of 1825 are inapplicable (116).
(2) Chur lands, re-formation on old site (117).
(3) Suit for alluvial lands (118-119).

(6) Right of Purchasers to accretions. (120—125).

(1) Reformation since purchase (120).
(2) Increments not mentioned in certificate of sale (121)
(3) Lands taken on settlement from Government (122).
(4) Purchase of Land from Government—Right to increments (123-124)
(5) Property not attached because submerged (125).

Accretion-(Contd.

See also cases under —

(1) Evidence—Civil Cases Maps.

(2) Evidence Act Sec 36.

(3) Thak Maps.

(4) Maps.

(5) Landlord and Tenant-Accretion to Tenure.

(1) New Formation of alluvial land.

(1) Bengal Reg XI of 1825.

1—Custom—Reg XI of 1825.—Questions of ownership, in the case of two adjoining estates separated by a river, arising from accretion of dereliction in consequence of the action of the stream, will be decided primarily by the custom of such villages where a custom is clear and recognized but where it is uncertain, then by reference to Reg XI of 1825.

Shera v Sahiba. 53 P R 1867.

Chungar v Bahadoor Singh. 47 P R 1868.

Hug Nowaz Khan v Khanum 72 P R 1869.

Rama v Shere Shing. 15 P R 1872.

1 A—Bengal Reg XI of 1825.-Bengal Regulation XI of 1825 regards accreted land as the right of that party to whose estate the land is an accretion, and does not divide the accreted land according to the extent of each party's loss by diluvion. The mere fact of lessee having received a malikana allowance from the Collector during the period of his temporary lease will not bar the right to a permanent settlement of any party who, under the law of alluvion, is entitled to settlement. Cally Chunder Chowdhry v Manikurnika Chowdhrain.

W R 1864, 149.

Bissessuree Dossee v Kalee Koomar Roy.

18 W R 198.

2—Beng. Reg. XI of 1825, Sec 4 application of.—Cl. 1, Section 4, Regulation XI of 1825. applies only to lands gained by alluvion either gradually or suddenly, and not to lands existing as waste lands subject to inundation and in one year rendered culturable by a deposit of earth by the action of the river. Ramjeeawan Rai v Deep Narain Rai Agra, F B 78 Ed 1874, 60.

3.—Alluvion and diluvion Act (Bengal) XI, 1825 Sec 4, cl 1.

A non occupancy raiyat can claim a newly-formed land as an accretion to his holding under cl (1) Section 4 of Reg XI of 1825 (16 W R 95 Ref.) Ahmed Bepari v Toki Mahomed. 8 C L J 538 = 13 C W N 267.

4.—Alluvion and Diluvion Reg XI of 1825 Bengal Sec 4 cl (1) Non—occupancy raiyat—Accretion.

A non-occupancy tenant can acquire a right to hold a newly-formed land as an accretion to his holding under cl (1) of Sec 4 of Regulation XI of 1825 8 C L J 538, Fol, 4 W R 57 : 4 C L J 63 = 33 Cal 444 Dist. Amjad Ali v Kaderjan Bibi 8 C L J 537=13 C W N 269

5.—Alluvion and Diluvion—Bengal Reg XI of 1825 Section 4 gradual and sudden accession—Rights of owners—Gradual accession.

Alluvion is an imperceptible increase and land is said to be acquired by alluvion when it is acquired so gradually that one cannot say how much is added at any particular moment of time.

Where there is an acquisition of land from the sea or a river by gradual, slow and imperceptible means, there the accretion by alluvion is held to belong to the owner of the adjoining land. But where by a sudden change in the course of the river the land emerged on the side of the defendants, held that they did not acquire any title to it (13 M I A 467, L R 2 I A 28 Fol.)

Krishan Chandra v Saidan Bibi

2 A L J 821=(1905) A W N 971

6—Beng. Reg. XI of 1825 cl. 1 s. 4—The appellants owned a two-annas share in a village called A and the respondent owned a village called D. The river Rapti flows between the two villages. The appellants sued the respondents to be maintained in proprietory possession of certain lands alleging that such land had appertained to their village A, that it had been submerged by the Rapti, and that it had reappeared and accreted to their village. The respondents on the contrary alleged that such land had appertained to their village D; that it had been cut off by the action of the river; and that it had gradually been recovered by them. The lower appellate Court held that the land in suit had been the subject of fluvial action for ten years and in the course of that time had gradually accreted to D, and that therefore under cl. 1 of s. 4 of Regulation XI of 1825 the defendant-respondents were entitled to it. Held, that the judgment of the lower appellate Court proceeded on a misunderstanding and misapplication of the law of gradual accession, in cl. 1, s. 4 of Regulation XI of 1825. That the Regulation referred only to cases of gain, of acquisition by means of gradual accession, which an individual proprietor might make from that which was part of the public territory, the public domain, and not to the confiscation or destruction of any private person's property. Diluviated lands re-forming on their old sites remain the property of their original owner and it was immaterial whether the lands have reformed gradually or otherwise. The case was remanded for a finding as to whether the site on which the alluvion has appeared is part of village A or D. (13 Moo; 1 A. 467); (1. L. R: 3 Calc 796); (S. A. No. 618, decided on the 3rd December, 1879) followed. Ramcharan Tiwari v Jasai Pandey. (1882) 2. W. N. 8.

Accretion

1 New Formation of Alluvial Land—Contd

7—Regulation XI of 1825 applies only to land gained by gradual accession from the recession of a river or sea, and has no application to land formed by the drying-up of a bhil or marsh. Suroop Chunder Mozoomdar v Jardine, Skinner & Co. Marshall's Rys. 334, relied on Khondekar Abdul Hamid v. Mohini Kant Saha. 4 C W N 508

Notes—Ref: 10 C L J 458. Doub 13 C W N 635.

8—s. 4. cl. 1 Alluvion—Title to land acquired by gradual accretion—Limitation.—Cl. 1 of s. 4 of Regulation XI of 1825 does not depend for its operation on the capability of identification of the accreted lands. Whether the accreted lands are capable of identification or not, the clause applies where the lands have been gained by gradual accession by the recession of a river. In the case of gradual accretions, the ordinary rule of acquisition by prescription does not apply, but each accretion as it occurs comes under the same title as that upon which the land to which it is made is held. Debi Bakhsh Singh v. Tirbhawan Singh (1897) 17 W N 39= 19 All., 238.

9—Suit for accreted land—In a suit for possession of alluvial land, which plaintiffs claimed by right of accretion under the provisions of Regulation XI of 1825 and in which the question of accretion was put in issue, the lower Court's judgment was held not to be good in law, because it contained no clear finding as to whether the lands in dispute had re-formed on the original site of diluviated lands of plaintiff's estate, or whether they were accretions to that estate by recession of the river. Wise v. Juggobundoo Bose 12 W. R. 229

Accretion

1 New Formation of Alluvial Land—Contd.

Affrmed on review, Juggobundoo Bose v. Wise 12 W. R; 409

10—S. 4 Cls. I and 3. In a suit for possession where certain lands were decreed to plaintiff on the ground that, having formed opposite to his villages, they subsequently became contiguous thereto by the gradual silting up of the bed of the river which had previously flowed between. Held, that the decision was not in conformity with cl. I or cl. 3, s. 4, Regulation XI of 1825, and that is was necessary to determine how the land formed, whether it was thrown up as an island in the bed of the river, or was formed by gradual accretion to an estate; and if by gradual accretion, to what lands it so accreted. Unnopoorna Debia v. Sreemutty Dassee 14 W R 254.

11—Proprietor of resumed mehal.—The Government, when it holds a resumed mehal on its rent-roll as its khas property, holds it as, and with all the rights and liabilities of, a private zamindar, and is therefore entitled, under Regulation XI of 1825, to claim accretions to the khas estate. Collector of Pubna v. Surno Moyee 17 W. R 163.

(2) SUIT FOR POSSESSION OF CHUR LAND.

12—Suit for possession of chur lands.

The plaintiff sued for possession of a chur which he alleged had accreted to the remnant of the plaintiff's original estate, which had been left when all the rest of his estate was washed away, —Held that the Court must decide what particular parcel (if any) was the remnant of the original estate, an must also decide whether the chur claimed was formed by accretion to that remnant. Rashmonee Dossee v. Bhubonath Bhuttacharjee 12 W R 252.

Notes.: Ref: 2 Bom 19.

Accretion

1 New Formation of Alluvial Land—Contd.

(3) LAND FORMING BED OF CANAL

13—Land forming bed of canal—Beng. Reg. XI of 1825 s. 4 cl. 4.

Land forming the dry bed of a canal belongs to the estate in which the canal itself was included, in cl, 4, s. 4, Regulation XI of 1825, the words, "subject to the provisions stated in the first clause of the present section" do not apply to the formation and position of the newly-accreted land, but to the owner's rights in them in relation to the Government. Syoollam v Bhutton alias Buttessur. 10 W R 68.

13 A—Ss. 17,4 cl (1)-Adminissibility Dastak-Registration Act (III of 1877) S. 17 cl, (d)—Non-occupancy raiyat—Accretion.

An unregistered dastak which merely allows the plaintiff to take possession of the land and to cultivate it, is not a lease for any term exceeding one year, or a lease from year to year or a lease reserving a yearly rent, within the meaning of cl (d) of S, 17 of the Registration Act, and is, therefore, admissible in evidence.

A non-occupancy raiyat can claim a newly, formed land as an accretion to his holding under cl (1) s. 4 of Reg. XI of 1825. 16 W R 95 Ref.

Ahmed Bepari v Toki Mahomed 8 C L J 538 = 13 C W N 267.

(4) ACCRETION TO ESTATE ON OPPOSITE SIDE OF RIVER

14—Accretion to estate on opposite side of river-Accretion on one side of a river is not claimable as belonging to an estate on the opposite bank. Punchanun Mullick v Heera Lall Seal. 1 W R 173

(5) GRADUAL ACCRETION

15—Gradual accretion—Lakhirajdar.

Gradual accretion may be claimed by a lakhirajdar as his property. Puthuram Chowdry v Kuthenarain Chowdhry 1 W R 124.

Notes—4 Ref; 2 Bom 19.

15A-Diluvion—Gradual accretion explained.

Alluvion is an imperceptible increase; land is said to be acquired by alluvion when it is acquired so gradually that one cannot say how much is added at any particular moment of time. But if by the violence of a river, a portion of land is added to the estate of an adjoining owner, the land continues to be the property of the original owner. (13 M I A 467 2 A L J 821 27 All 65 Ref.) Narendra Bahadur Singh v Achhaibar Shukul. 3 A L J 453= 28 All 647=A W N 1906, 169.

(6) RIGHT OF ZAMINDAR TO ACCRETED LAND

16—Right of zamindar to accreted land.

As long as any portion of an estate is in existence, the zamindar is entitled to claim the land accreting to it as forming by law part of that estate. Bhoobunmohun Sircar v Watson & Co. W R 1864, 64.

17—Mortgage—Foreclosure——Redemption.

When the usufructuary mortgage of a property during the continuance of his mortgage, took a conditional mortgage of the holding of a tenant and after the expiry of his own mortgage foreclosed the tenant, his mortgagor is entitled to treat the holding as an accretion and recover possession upon payment of what is due on the usufructuary mortgage by way of conditional sale.

Musst Ketki v Dinbandhu Patnaik 10 C L J 83=3 Ind Cas 395,

(7) ACCRETION TO RIPARIAN VILLAGE.

18—Held that the ownership of land acquired by alluvion rests upon the title upon which the original village is held, so that if the riparian village is ancestral the other property must be ancestral too. Ram Prasad Rai v Radha Prasad Singh 7 All 402=5 W N 65.

19—Hereditary cultivator.

About ten years before suit the land of the plaintiffs (hereditary cultivators) was carried away by the river with the exception of a small piece of banjar which the plaintiffs gave up. Two years afterwards land appeared in the same place where the plaintiffs' land had been submerged and accreted to the piece of banjar The defendants took possession of and cultivated the newly formed land and held possession for eight years, when plaintiffs sued. Held, that plaintiffs were estopped from claiming the land, as having relinquished it—(P R 19 of 1876) observed upon. Bakhtawar v Sultan Ahmed P R 83 of 1876

Accretion

1 New Formation of Alluvial Land—Contd.

20—Hereditary Tenants – Abandonment—Estoppel.

Where land has been submerged and forms by accretion part of a particular estate, hereditary tenants have the right to take possession of the land. Delay in taking possession or in asserting occupancy rights may operate as an equitable estoppel, and bar the claim, without regard to the law of limitation. Ruttu v Mal Singh P R 122 of 1876.

Notes:—Fol. 8 P R 1901 Rev=54 P L R 1901

21.—Hereditary cultivator.

Where land which has been submerged reforms and forms by accretion part of a particular estate, the owner of that estate is entitled to it. This rule refers to accretions to the land cultivated by a tenant with right of occupancy and gives the tenant the right to take possession of and cultivate the land so re-forming. Such tenant has distinct rights of property, qualified though they be, in the land of which he is tenant. The fact that the land remained submerged or unclaimed for several years, held, not to affect the tenant's right: for, though cultivating rights are lost by abandonment or voluntarily ceasing to occupy, ordinarily the only legal bar is the twelve years, limitation. Sahib Rai v Khair Shah P R 19 of 1876.

22—Rule of "mahaz."

The meaning of the term "mahaz," as used in a rule laid down in the Settlement Record that in cases of alluvion each of two or more adjoining villages is entitled to the land in front of (mahaz) such village discussed. P R 67 of 1887, ref. to. —Fazal v. Ghulam Ali Shah 45 P R 1888

23—Custom—Alluvion and diluvion—"Deep stream rule"—Mauza Mianwal, tahsil Phillour and Mauza Bholewal, thasil Ludhiana—Riwaj-iam.

Found that by custom obtaining in the villages of Mianwal, tahsil Phillour, and of Bholewal tahsil Ludhiana, if any area, though capable of identification, lying on one side of the river (the Sutlej) is in consequence of a change in the course of the river, washed up and thrown on the other side, the proprietors of the village to which it has been so annexed come into proprietary possession thereof.

Accretion

1 New Formation of Alluvial Land—Contd.

The weight to be given to the Riwaj-i am discussed. Hashim v. Nathu 13 P R 1900= P L R (1900) 347

Notes—Ref 107 P R 1901=117 P L R 1901 =63 P R 1903=131 P L R 1903.

(8) EVIDENCE

24—Evidence—Alteration of surface of land —Obliteration of landmarks.

The question whether land is formed by gradual accretion depends on evidence; but it would be an error in law to consider it as conclusive of that fact that the surface of the land had all been changed, and the marks all obliterated, so that no old houses, or trees, or mounds, or vestiges of boundary could be found, and that all the surface of the land was fresh land which had been brought down by the river. 6 B L R 121, commented on. Pahalwan Singh v. Mahessur Buksh Sing v. Megburn Sing 9 B L R 150 16 W R P C 5.

25—Lands gained by alluvion—Hereditary cultivators, right of, to share in—Practice—Absence of provision in wajib-ul-arz as to rights in alluvial land.

Plaintiffs, hereditary cultivators, held 16½ ploughs and defendants, proprietors, 18 ploughs of the village of Jodhwal, the revenue of the village being assessed on ploughs. On several previous occasions plaintiffs obtained a share of the land added to the area of the village by alluvion, the revenue payable by them being proportionately increased, but there was no provision in the wajib-ul-arz or settlement papers as to the distribution of alluvial lands.

The proprietors having now refused to divide the land added by alluvion, according to former practice, plaintiffs sued for a share, alleging that they were entitled to it by the custom of the village and surrounding locality. Held, that the practice hitherto followed was insufficient, in the absence of express provision in the wajib-ul-arz, to raise a presumption of right in plaintiffs, hereditary cultivators, to share in the land added by alluvion and that the proprietors were competent to object to division, discontinuing at the same time the rule to charge plaintiffs with additional revenue. Jharra v. Kashi Ram P R 52 of 1879.

Accretion

1 New Formation of Alluvial Land—Contd

26—Alluvion and diluvion—Rights of adna maliks in submerged land—Custom—Mauza Bullewahan, tahsil Muzaffargarh—Effect of entry in Wajib-ul arz—Burden of proof.—The plaintiffs, who were adna maliks in mauza Bullewahan, tahsil Muzaffargarh, sued to recover from the ala maliks certain lands which had been submerged by river action, and on their reappearance had been taken possession of by the ala maliks. The defendants pleaded that under the provisions of the Wajib-ul-arz of 1879 the plaintiffs' rights had been lost in consequence of the submersion. The first Court finding the custom set up by the defendants not to be ancient, and against justice, equity and good conscience, decreed plaintiffs' claim. The Divisional Judge found that the entry in the Wajib-ul-arz being in favor of defendants, held that the onus of burden of contradicting and setting aside its provisions was on the plaintiffs, and finding that they had failed to discharge it dismissed their claim.

Held, that as the rule, that the owner of land which is under water retains his right to the site, is a principle not peculiar to any system of Municipal Law, but is one founded on universal law and justice, the burden of proving the custom under which deluviation works forfeiture was on defendants, and that the evidence produced in its support which consisted chiefly of the provision in the Wajib-ul-arz, which was a one-sided entry opposed to all principles of law and justice, was quite insufficient to establish it.

An entry in a Wajib ul-arz should not be considered as conclusive of a custom, especially where the custom set up is one opposed to the principles founded on universal law and justice. (V Beng. L. R. 521) (59 P R 1877. F. B.) (96 P R 1879) (102 P R 1883) (XXIX Calc 518) followed. (98 P R 1894, F B.) and (125 P R 1889) dist Mohay-ud-din v. Faiz Bakhsh 97 P R 1902.

(9) ACCRETION BY WASHING AWAY LANDS OF ANOTHER

27—Accretion by washing away lands of another.—The party to whose lands new formations accrete is entitled to them, though the accretion may have been caused by the washing away of the lands of another person. Adoo Mean v. Shibo Soondooree 2 W R 295.

Notes—(J V B) Ref; 9 W R I F B.

28—Terms of holding accreted land.—The person to whose land the accretion is formed is entitled to hold the accreted land on the same terms as that by which the land to which it is an accretion is held. (4 C L J 63=33 Cal 444 Expl. 21 Cal 233 Fol:) Miajan v. Akram Ali Bhuiya 8 C L J 541.

Notes—Ref: 8 C L J 537.

29.—Receiver, accretions to property, if vest in—Accretion, title to, prevails against all persons not claiming under prior title—Bona fide tenants under a de facto proprietor, if acquires raiyati rights—Non-occupancy raiyat, if entitled to possession of accretions-Crim. Pro. Code, (Act V of 1898), Ss. 145, 146,—Receiver appointed under S. 146, rights of.

As a general rule, a receiver takes no title in property acquired by the person formerly in possession.

But a receiver is entitled to any accretion to the property vested in him, upon general principles and the policy of the law by which a proprietor acquires a title to accessions to his property.

Where a receiver has been appointed under S. 146 of the Crim Pro Code, in respect of any property in dispute, the receiver is entitled, unless some special circumstances is established, not only to the subject-matter of the proceedings under S 145, but also to the accreted land, and gives good title to a tenant under him.

Such title will prevail against a trespasser, but not against a person who establishes a title to the accreted land acquired prior to the vesting of the lands in the receiver.

Semble.—Whether a tenant, who enters upon a land held under a de facto proprietor, can acquire a raiyati interest therein, even though the de facto possessor ultimately turns out to be no real owner, in case the tenant should have entered on the land in good faith.

Where a tenant has acquired the status of a non-occupancy raiyat in respect of any land, he is entitled to possession of land which has accreted to his holding. 10 C L J 55 Ref; 20 Cal 708; 8 C W N 315=5 C L J 9; 21 Cal 233; 4 C L J 63 =33 Cal 444; 13 C W N 269=8 C L J 537; 13 C W N 267=8 C L J 538; 8 C L J 541 Ref. Madhu v Sabar Ali 14 C W N 681=6 Ind Cas 177

Accretion-Contd.

1 New Formation of Alluvial Land Contd

30.—Alluvion and diluvion—Practice-Claim for land subject to river action-Decree in respect of land under water.

The plaintiffs claimed possession of 13 Kanals 10 marlas of land subject to river action. It was found that nearly half of the land was under water and the Divisional Judge was of opinion that decree should be given only for the land which was above water.

Held, that, since plaintiff's title to the whole land was established they were entitled to a decree for the whole. Khan Mulk v Pir Bakhsh 152 P L R 1906.

Accretion —to mortgaged property—what is not—Transfer of Property Act.

11 Ind Cas 808

(2) RIVERS OR CHANGE IN COURSE OF RIVERS --(31-61)

(10) GRADUAL ACCRETION FROM RIVER RECEDING.

31.—Gradual accretion from river receding-Riparian proprietors—Beng Reg XI of 1825, s. 4, cl 5 —

In a suit for lands gradually gained by recession of a river the plaintiffs and defendants are equally bound to prove their titles, and where they fail to do so the accretion under the 5th clause of s. 4 of Regulation XI of 1825 should be so divided that the owners of the land forming each bank of the original bed of the river must receive the land newly formed opposite their respective holdings. Bhageerattee Dabea v Greesh Chunder Chowdhry 2 Hay 541

32.—Alluvion—River—Accretions in a river-Neighbouring owners—Rights over accretions.

The plaintiff and the Government (defendant) were neighbouring owners of land each possessing a village and lands on both of the banks of the Godavari river, the defendant's village Tatapudi being higher up the stream than the plaintiff's village Kapileswarpuram. At some time not precisely ascertained an island was formed commencing at a point in the river between the banks which were owned by the defendants, and extending gradually till its lower extremity protruded between the banks which were owned by the plaintiff. The defendant took possession of this island. This island went by the name of Tatapudi lanka, and ever since it had been the property of the defendant without dispute. The plaintiff now brought a suit to recover the latter formation which was in contact with Tatapudi lanka, alleging that it was within the village of Kapileswarpuram. The defendant alleged that it was an accretion to Tatapudi lanka:—

Accretion-Contd.

2 Rivers or change in course of Rivers-Contd

Held, that the plaintiff had no right to bring this suit, because the disputed lanka was not formed by gradual accretions to definite visible portions of her land. It was found by both the lower Courts that the lanka was an accretion to Tatapudi and not a vertical accretion in the bed of a river.

If the terra firma of Tatapudi pushed out a promontory by gradual imperceptible deposits that would, in the absence of special circumstances to show title in another, enure to Tatapudi. The same could be said of an island which was part of the Tatapudi estate. Balsu v Collector of Godavari 1 Bom L R 696 = 22 Mad 464 - 26 I A 107 = 3 C W N 777.

Notes—Fol. 1 M L T 101.

33.—Alluvion diluvian—Gradual accretion explained:—

Alluvion is an imperceptible increase, and land is said to be acquired by alluvion when it is acquired so gradually that one cannot say how much is added at any particular moment of time. But if by the violence of a river, a portion of land is added to the estate of an adjoining owner, the land continues to be the property of the original owner. 13 M I A 467; 2 A L J 821; 27 All 655 Ref.

Narendra Bahadur Singh v Achhaibar Shukul. 3 A L J 453 = 1906 A W N 169 = 28 All 647.

34.—Alluvion and diluvion—Title to land transferred by gradual accretion—Custom with respect to land bordering the Sutlej river between Jullundur and Ferozepore Districts.

Riwaj-i-am—Found, that by custom prevailing in respect of land bordering the Sutlej river between the Jullundur and Ferozepore Districts the proprietors of village become entitled to any area of land whether it is the whole or a portion of a village, which, in consequence of a change in the course of that river is thrown up by gradual accretion.

Accretion-Contd

2 Rivers or change in course of Rivers-Contd

Held, that as in the river Sutlej, between the Jullundur and Ferozepore Districts, the changes of deep-stream are more considerable and sudden than in English and Italian rivers, the rules applicable to gradual accretions of the descriptions contemplated by the English and Roman Law should not be followed.

All disputes relating to such accretions should be decided by giving full effect to the provision of the Riwaj-iam of the villages concerned.

(97 P R 1902) (13 P R 1900) (36 P R 1898) and (5 Beng L R 521 P C) referred to.

Bandu Khan v Mussammat Umri. 63 P R 1903=131 P L R 1903.

(11) GRADUAL ACCRETION FROM RIVER

35-Gradual accretion from river.—Land gained from a river by gradual accretion belongs to the owner of the adjacent soil by the title of occupancy. Nasavanji v Nasarvanji Darasha B H C 366 2nd Ed 345.

36,—Alluvion—River bank—Alluvion—Gradual accretion—New land—Right of the owner of adjoining land.

Accretions, by alluvion from the sea or a river by gradual, slow and imperceptible means, of land being new land and not merely old land reappearing, belongs to the owner of the adjoining land. (22 Mad 464 Fol. 13 M I A 467 Fol. 27 Cal 768 Dist). Kasakurti and Vaka Nara Reddy v Pooloori Sreeramulu 1 M L T 101.

37.—Nadi bharati.—

Nadi bharati, or land raised out of the river is not an accretion, and belongs to the person to whom the river was released by the Resumption Authorities. Hari Kishore Dutt v Collector of Dacca 3 B L R Ap 116.

(12) BED OF NAVIGABLE RIVERS.

38—Bed of navigable rivers.

The East India Company as representing the Indian Government had a freehold in the bed of navigable rivers in India, and to the land between high and low water mark. Land formed by gradual accretion belongs to the owner of the adjacent soil. Doe d Seebkristo v East India Company. 6 Moore's I A 267.

Accretion-Contd.

2 Rivers or change in course of Rivers-Contd

38A—1847 IX, ss 3, 5, 6—Assessment of revenue—Lands, formerly part of the bed of the Brahmaputra, if included in the Permanent Settlement—Onus of proof—Presumption—Public navigable river, bed of, if can be presumed to have been permanently assessed.

Thak and survey maps, value of, as evidence, generally, and also when the question is as to the land being included in the Permanent Settlement. Act IX of 1847 has no application to lands included in the Permanent Settlement of 1793; and no new assessment of such lands can be lawfully made. In every case, the question what lands were included in the Permanent Settlement is a question of fact which may or may not be satisfactorily proved by subsequent survey maps. The onus of proving that any particular lands were so included is on those who affirm that such was the case. The question was whether certain pieces of land which were in the year 1881 assessed with Government revenue as fresh additions and surplus accretions to the Appellant's estate under Act IX of 1847 were or were not lands which were included in his permanently-settled estate: the revenue and survey maps of 1851-53 shewed these lands, which were then under water in the bed of the Brahmaputra, as forming a part of the Appellant's estate: Held—That the onus still lay on the Appellant to shew that the lands were included in the Permanent Settlement of 1793, and the thak and survey maps of 1851-53 could not have the effect of shifting that burden on to the other side. That supposing that the lands had formed a part of the bed of the Brahmaputra in 1793, the Brahmaputra being a public navigable river, the Court could not properly assume that its bed was included in the assessment then permanently fixed. Nor could the Court assume that a state of things existed different from what appeared from any evidence before the Court, viz., that the lands were dry lands in 1793. It was consequently competent for the Court to decide that they were new accretions and as such properly assessable under sec. 6 of Act IX of 1847. Maps and surveys made in India for revenue purposes are official documents prepared by competent persons and with such publicity and notice to persons interested as to be admissible and valuable evidence of the state of things at the time they are made. They are not conclusive and may be shown to be wrong: but in the absence of evidence to the contrary. they may be properly judicially received in evidence as correct when made. Where the lands are admitted not to be within the Permanent Settlement, the last survey made under sec. 3 of Act IX of 1847 is to be taken as the starting point for deciding, when the next survey is made, whether the lands are within secs 5 and 6 of that Act. But when the question is whether lands shown on a particular thak or survey map made since 1793 were or were not included in the lands charged with the assessment permanently fixed in 1793. the enquiry is enlarged and a Court dealing with the evidence ought not in all cases to act on those maps as decisive in the absence of evidence to the contrary.

Accretion-Contd.

2 Rivers or change in course of Rivers-Contd

Maharaja Jogadindra Nath Roy Bahadur v The Secretary of State for India in Council (P C.) 10 C W N 103—30 Cal 291.

(13) LAND DRY ONLY IN DRY SEASON-BELOW HIGH-WATER MARK.

39—Land dry only in dry season below high-water mark—Private property.

A strip of land which. in the dry season only, is left dry between the permanent bank and the river cannot be private property until it rises beyond high-water mark, so as to become fit for cultivation; and when it does so rise, the public will be entitled to the same access to the river as before. Odhiranee Narain Koomaree v Nawab Nazim of Bengal. 4 W R 41.

Notes:—Ref: 8 C W N 676.

(14) BENGAL REG. XI OF 1825.

40—Beng Reg XI of 1825, s. 1, cl. 4 -Right of jalkar.

Before cl. 4, s. 1, Regulation XI of 1825, can have the effect of depriving a party of the title given by cl. 1, the opposite party must prove that the land in question was the bed of a small and shallow river which, with the jalkar right of fishing over it, was recognized as the property of such opposite party. Ram Shurn Shaha v Bhote Kinkur. 14 W R 268.

41—Alluvion—Acquisition—Regulation XI of 1825—Adverse possession—Increment. Hindu Law.]

Accretion-Contd.

2 Rivers or change in course of Rivers-Contd

In the case of gradual accretions by alluvion the ordinary rule of acquisition by prescription does not apply, but each accretion as it occurs comes under the same title as that upon the land to which it is made is held. (13 Moo I A 467; 18 W R 113; 23 W R 8; 25 W R 242; 22 Mad 464, referred, 19 All 238 Appr.) Krishna Bhaoo v. Ganpat Singh. 14 C P L R 97.

(15) LAND ACCRETING FROM BED OF KHAL.

42—Land accreting from bed of khal.

Land which accretes to an estate from the bed of an adjoining khal, not being a canal, but a river. belongs by law to the owner of the estate.

Dataram Nath v Eshan Chunder Law. 11 W R 116.

Notes:—Ref: 2 Bom 19.

(16) CHANGE IN COURSE OF RIVER.

43—Change in course of river—Alluvion and diluvion.

Land gained by the gradual accession of a river, and added by the operation of nature to A's tenure. must be held to be A's property although it be also established by evidence that this land has re-formed on a site which was formerly part of B's property. If it should be proved that the river flowed over the original site, and, receding, left the new formation and a fordable channel between it and B's property, B would be entitled to retake possession of the newly-formed land on the old site, and he would not be deprived of it because the river was either fordable on A's side, or had wholly dried up. Maseyk v Hedger. W R 1864. 306.

44—Alluvion and diluvion—River changing its course—Ownership of formation—Regulation XI of 1825. S. 4 (2).

If by the irruption of the waters of a river, tidal or non-tidal. a new channel is formed in the land of a subject. although the rights of the Crown or of the public may come into existence and be exercised in what had thus become a portion of the river, the right to the soil remains in the owner, so that if at any time thereafter the waters shall recede, and the river again change its course leaving the new channel dry, the soil becomes again the exclusive property of the owner, free from all rights whatsoever in the Crown or

Accretion-Contd.

2 Rivers or change in course of Rivers Contd

in the public. Thakurain Ritraj v Thakurain Sarfaraz 7 Bo n L R 879=15 M L J 349= 9 C W N 889=27 All 655=2 C L J 185= 32 I A 165 (P C)=2 A L J 693=8 O C 293

Notes.—Ref: 28 All 617=3 A L J 453=A W N (1906) 169.

45—Public navigable river, fishery in—Arm of the river ceasing to be an arm of the flowing river, effect of.

When, on account of a change in the course of a public navigable river, an arm of the river ceases to be an arm of the flowing river, the person who had a right of fishery in the river ceases to have any right to it; it becomes the property of the adjacent owner. 21 W R 27; 32 Cal 1141; W R (1864) 108 Ref. Ishan Chandra Dass Sarkar v Upendra Nath Ghosh. 12 C W N 559.

46—Sutlej river—Lahore and Ferozepur districts—Mauzahs Machiwaia and Gholam Hoseinwala—Kishtibunna Custom.

Certain land belonging to Mauzah Gholam Hoseinwala, on the Ferozpur side of the Sutlej river, was thrown up in a recognizable form before Mauzah Machiwara on the Lahore side of the deep stream, which the proprietors claimed to retain. Found that the Kishtibunna custom, or deep stream rule, did not prevail at the part of the Sutlej where the land in dispute was affected by the action of the river, and held therefore that the original proprietors of Gholam Hoseinwala were entitled to recover the land.

Bhana v Balanda. P R 48 of 1879.

47—Nalla running between two neighbouring fields—Change in its course—using bed of old streamlet.

A nalla ran between the fields of plaintiffs and defendants but outside their boundaries. By inundation it changed its course and ran through plaintiffs' field. The plaintiffs applied to and got permission from the Collector to cultivate the old bed of the streamlet which was now dry. The bed was entered in Survey Records as Government waste. The plaintiffs took possession of it but were subsequently resisted by the defendants. Held, that this was not a case of alluvion by gradual accretion and that the plaintiffs were entitled to succeed. Govind v Mahadu. 92 P J 191.

Accretion-Contd.

2 Rivers or change in course of Rivers-Contd

48—The custom of dhardhara applies to lands thrown up or formed by fluvial action either in one year or in the course of a number of years. Whether it is equally applicable to chuckee formations or tracts of land severed by a sudden change in the course of a river, and yet preserving their identity of site and surface after the severance, must be determined by proof of the extent of the custom. Musammat Ranee Katiaynee v Sheikh Mahomed Shurf-ood-deen. 3 Agra 189.

48A—Bengal Regulation XI of 1825, s. 4—Alluvion—Gradual accession—Change of course of a river within a short space of time.

Certain land belonging to village P on the river Gomti, was submerged, and, after remaining submerged for a not very lengthened period, again re-appeared. But, on its re-appearance, it was found to be on the opposite side of the river and adjoining village T. Held, that the land thus cut off from village P could not be said to have become part of village T by "gradual accession" within the meaning of s. 4 of Bengal Regulation XI of 1825, but was rather land merely separated from the village of which it formed a part by a sudden change in the course of the river, and this being so, no change of ownership had occurred. "Gradual accession" or "alluvion" means an imperceptible increase and land is said to be acquired by alluvion when it is acquired so gradually that it cannot be said how much is added at any particular moment of time. (13 M I A 467, 2 I A 28, Ref:) Rai Krishna Chandra v Saidan Bibi. A W N 1905 271=2 A L J 821= 28 All 256.

49—Land capable of identification.—Semble.

That the general law of alluvion in India, as well as in Europe, does not entitle a landholder to land which is annexed to his estates by a sudden change in the course of a river, and is still capable of being identified as part of the estate of another.

Isree Singh v Shurfoodeen 1 N W 142 Ed 1873, 224

Pragdutt Raoot v Luchmun Pershad 3 N W 111

50—Identification of land-Regulation XI of 1825—If there be no custom to the contrary land carried away to the opposite bank of the river may be followed by its owners, provided it be identifiable.

Accretion-Contd.

2 Rivers or change in course of Rivers-Contd

(P. R. 15 of 1872,),and (P. R. No.12 of 1870). The re-forming of land which has been removed by sudden alluvion in a river to which Regulation XI of 1825 applies, does not render the land re-claimable unless its identity is proved; and it is not to be presumed that land lost to an owner by the erosion of the river bank is recovered when an equal quantity of land is left dry by the river taking another course. Independently of custom, a title to such reformed land is not necessarily established by mere proof of general inclusive boundaries at a time long preceding the reforming of the land, but if a custom is proved it is to be followed.——(P. R. 72 of 1869,). P. R. 47 of 1868,), the Chief Court held that land could not be identified by the laying down of survey boundaries; the mode of identification was indicated in Clause 2. Section 4 of the Regulation.

Plaintiffs, zemindars of Mouza B, on the Sialkote side of the Chenab, sued the defendants (zemindars of Mouza M, on the Gujrat side of the river) for alluvial land situated on the Sialkote side. The parties admitted that the case was governed by Section 4, Regulation XI of 1825. The land had been carried across from Mouza M but not bodily, and its identity was destroyed. The defendants as well as the plaintiffs were entitled to take by accretion any land which was thrown up between their land and the main stream. Another piece of land besides that in dispute had come bodily across from Mouza M to Mouza B., of which the defendants still kept possession. The land in dispute did not lie between this piece of land and the river. Held, that plaintiffs were entitled to the land sued for. Noordeen v Futteh Ali.

P R 65 of 1869,

51—Submersion.

Village Kalu-wal was entirely submerged about nine years before suit, and the river (Sutlej) flowed along the boundary of village Ajayab Singh-wala. cutting away a portion of that village. Three years before suit, land began to reappear as the river receded from village Ajayab Singh-wala. To this land plaintiff laid claim alleging that it formed a part of village Kalu-wal. The Lower Courts found that the land was identified as having belonged to village Kaul-wal, and that by custom plaintiff (proprietor of the village) was entitled to it.

Accretion-Contd.

2 Rivers or change in course of Rivers Contd

The Chief Court (Lindsay and Melvill J.J) remanded the case, not being satisfied with the evidence as to the custom and holding that by law the land belonged to village Ajayab Singh-wala and that, if it belonged by custam to village Kalu-wala, still village Ajayab Singh-wala was entitled to a portion of the land equivalent to that which it had lost.

Found after remand (by Boulnois and Lindsay JJ), that by custom as well as law plaintiff had no right to the land. Shere Singh v Kalu P R 7 of 1873.

52—Beng Reg XI of 1825. s. 4, cl. 2—Land separated from estate.

When a part has proved that land which formed part of his estate has by a sudden change in the course of the river, been separated, he is entitled to recover such land under cl 2, s. 4, Regulation XI of 1825. Rai Manik Chand v Madhuram 3 B L R, P C, 5=11 W R, C P 42=13 Moore's 1 A 1.

(17) LANDS BOUNDED BY RIVER.

53—Lands bounded by river— Custom of dhardhoora—Riparian proprietors.

Held that the mere fact that the river forms the constant boundary between two district cannot, in the absence of any dhardhoora custom affect the rights of riparian proprietors.

Dhoolhin Hurpaul Koonwaree v Ubruck Singh. 3 Agra 18

54—Custom—Kishtibunna — Alternation of custom by contract.—

The parties to the suit were proprietors respectively of Mauzah Soomrao and Mauzah Thalee, between which the Beas flowed. From annexation up to the commencement of 1867 claims to alluvial land between villages on opposite banks of the Beas were uniformly decided by the Courts of both districts according to the Kishtibunna or deep stream rule, i. e., the transfer both of proprietary right and of cultivating possession followed the transfer of the land from one bank of the deep stream to the other, and this change of property and cultivation took place even when the land was transferred bodily to the opposite bank by a sudden change in the course of the river which did not carry away the surface of the ground or destroy its identity. On the 5th February 1867, a meeting was convened by the

Accretion-Contd.

2 Rivers or change in course of Rivers-Contd

Deputy Commissioner at Noushera Ghat of the zaildars of other villages similarly situated, but none of the lambardars or proprietors of either Soomrao or Thalee were present at this meeting. From the answers of the zaildars thus assembled to questions put in reference to the Kishtibunna rule, it appeared that the rule had existed from time immemorial. The zaildars agreed that the rule was bad and should be abrogated; and they put their seals and signatures to a document agreeing to lay down boundaries for themselves which they would abide by in future irrespective of changes in the course of the river.

Held, that the custom of Kishtibunna was established, and that it governed this case: and that the agreement of the 5th February 1867 was not in any way binding upon the parties to the suit.

Held, also, that the custom of Kishtibunna could be altered by contract between the parties interested, i. e., the proprietors of two coterminous villages on apposite banks.-Sodha v. Futteh Khan, P R 56 of 1869.

55—Plaintiff's village was on the west side of an old bed of the river Indus, and this old bed was made the eastern boundary of the plaintiff's village long after the river had changed its course, in proceedings taken in 1859. Defendant had for many years cultivated the land situated between this old bed and the main stream. Plaintiff in this suit claimed this land on the ground that it had accreted to his village by change of the course of the river. — Held, that under the circumstances the question was not one of alluvion and diluvion, but one of boundaries only.— Mullick Sohara v. Gholam Mahomed, P R 23 of 1869.

56—River boundaries between British and Independent Territory.—

With regard to river boundaries between British and independent territory, in the case of alluvion, the main stream forms the boundary irrespective of other circumstances; but in cases of avulsion, the boundary question should in each case be determined on its own merits.—

Yoosuf v. Sirdar Dewa Singh, P R 12 of 1870.

57—Boundary fluctuating Agreement as to

Accretion-Contd.

2 Rivers or change in course of Rivers Contd

mode of fixing boundaries—Riparian proprietors—Custom—Beng. Reg. XI of 1825. S. 2.—

The plaintiffs sued to obtain possession of land on the ground of the existence of a custom in the district that where land which had once been alluvial lies between two branches of a river or two rivers, and from time to time the volume of water shifts, so that alternately one of those channels is deep, and the other is fordable, then the whole of such intermediate land belongs to the land-owner on the side of the channel which at any given time is fordable. Held, (without deciding whether such a custom falls within s. 2, Regulation XI of 1825), no clear and definite usage had been established. A fluctuating boundary between zillas does not necessarily affect the rights of landed riparian proprietors. An ikrarnama between two zamindars as to the mode of determining the boundaries of their estates, in the event of changes in the channel of river, cannot bind persons claiming under one with whom the perpetual settlement was subsequently made as to the lands in his possession, he being a stranger to that ikrarnama.

Bissessurnath v. Mohesour Buksh Sing Bahadoor, 11 B L R 265=18 W R 160=L R, I A, Sup Vol 34.

58—Custom—Reg. XI of 1825.—

Where two adjoining estates are divided by a river, questions as to proprietorship arising from accretion or dereliction by the action of the stream will be decided primarily by the well established usage of those two villages; but if the usage be doubtful, then according to the rule laid down by Regulation XI of 1825. (33 of 1867, 47 of 1868, 72 of 1869. Rama v. Shere Singh. P R 15 of 1872.

59—Accretion by gradual accession — Riparian proprietors — Effect of sudden change in course of boundary river—Beng. Reg XI of 1825, S. 2 and s. 4, cls. 1 and 2.—

The lands in suit in Tirhoot were settled under Regulation XI of 1825, s. 4, cl. 1, with the plaintiff's predecessor in 1837, as the proprietors of an estate to which the lands had become an accretion by gradual accession, and the plaintiffs continued in possession thereof till the expiration of the settlement in 1847, which was made on

Accretion- Contd.

2 Rivers or change in course of Rivers Contd

the same principle. Prior to the renewal of that settlement in 1857, the river, which was to the south of the plaintiff's zamindari in Tirhoot, and to the north of the defendant's in Sarun, had suddenly and so completely changed its course that the lands in suit, which were formerly on the north side of the river. were capable of being identified on the south side of it, and were, notwithstanding, summarily settled with the defendant, who obtained possession of them: — Held. that, in the absence of proof of usage within the meaning of s. 2 of the Regulation, that the river should be not merely the boundary between the two districts of Tirhoot and Sarun, but also the boundary between the two zamindaries, the plaintiffs were entitled to the lands —

Raghoobur Dyal Sakoo v. Kishen Pertab Sahee. 6 I A 211.

59*A*—Land formed by alluvion—Recession of river—Land "annexed"—Reg. XI of 1825 (Bengal), s. 4—Riparian and accreted lands, titles to.-

The plaintiff and the defendant were riparian owners on the same side of a river and the question in the suit was whether the plaint lands which had been formed as an "accretion" within the meaning of s. 4, Reg. XI of 1825, was "annexed" to the land of the plaintiff or of the defendant The Court of first instance, on remand by the lower appellate Court, found (1) that the land formed gradually during the period that intervened between the last preciding quinquennial settlement and the institution of the suit and that it formed as an accretion to the defendant's land, (2) that the river remained stationary at the quite westerly point of plaintiff's land, while it receded from time to time to the south of the defendant's land and formed a great piece of land in connection with it. Held, accepting these findings, that the plaint lands formed as an "accretion" to the defendant's land under s. 4 of Bengal Regulation XI of 1825, because the plaintiff's village had no frontage in these lands. in the sense of the law of alluvion and diluvion at the time when the lands began to be accreted Accretions to a riparian village must, when gradual, in a legal sense, be governed by the same title as the village itself. Kishen Dat Pandey v. Permeshuri Prasad, A W N 1885, 173

59*B*—Accretions—— Law relating thereto—Blocks of land originally formed as islands but subsequently joined to mainland——Whether they belong to Crown or to the owner of the mainland.

Where the plaintiff claimed a certain block of land situated on the coast near the mouth of a river as an accretion to the mainland which belonged to him but where it was found that it was first formed as an island, separated from the mainland by a strip of water of greater or less breadth, which gradually dried up, with the result that it was added on to the mainland, held, it cannot be treated as an accretion to the plaintiff's land and that it belongs to the Crown.

The accretion must be gradual and imperceptible. When it is sudden or preceptible, the land gained belongs to the Crown. 33 Mad 1; 22 Mad 464; 13 Mad 369 Ref. Raja Venkata Kumara Mahipati Surya v Secretary of State for India 2 M W N (1911) 261.

60—Formation of alluvial lands-Character and change in a tidal navigable river. Cause and nature of a change in High-water line—The principles of English Law as regards the alluvial lands affecting the rights of the Crown and riparian owners are applicable to British India unless included by some law or usage. Hence when the tenants of riparian owners by some unlawful Acts caused a change in the natural high-water line in a tidal navigable river in Madras, held that the accretion caused by such variation belonged to the crown against the riparian owners. Secretary of State for India v. Kadirikutti 13 Mad 369.

60*A*-Distinction between accretion and alluvion—Rights of riparian owners—Changes in the channel of a river—Ben. Reg XI of 1825, S. 4, cls 1 and 5—The current of a river alternately encroached upon either bank The effect of this change of current was that land was detached from one bank, at the same time it added to the opposite. The river followed a course more eastern than the original one. The area of the defendant's village which was till then partly on the western side, inasmuch as the river traversed it throughout, now appeared entirely in the west bank. The river continued its eastward tendency and so some land of the plaintiff's village on the eastern side was also carried away. By another change in the opposite direction, the current resumed its original channel more westwards with the effect that the piece of land that had belonged to the defendants village, and had been submerged when on east bank during the above change in the river's course, emereged in the end on its former site on the east bank. This restored land was such as could be identified. But the owner of the village on the eastern side now laid a claim to it as an accretion by alluvion to his property adjoining which it stood. Held, that the right of property remained in the original owner, the defendant. The owner of the adjoining village on the eastern side could not make out a title to it either under cl., 1 under cl. 5 of S. 4 of Regulation XI of 1825, or in virtue of any known principle. The custom of giving land account of contiguity was not proved, and and there had been no gain to him from the river by alluvion within the meaning of the Regulation. Jaggot Singh v. Brij Nath Kunwar 27 Calc 768; L R 27 I A 81; 4 C W N 555

Accretion-Contd.

2 Rivers or change in course of Rivers-Contd

Notes—Dist 1 M L T 101.

60 B—Chur lands—Alluvion—Limitation—Possession—Dispossession—Limitation Act (XV of 1877), Sch II Arts 142, 144.

In a suit for declaration of title to and recovery of possession of chur lands which had been diluviated more than twelve years before the suit, the plaintiffs proved their title and possession up to the time of diluviation, and alleged that the disputed lands had re-formed within twelve years of the suit. The defendants alleged and it was found that the lands in question came into existence some 30 years ago and have been gradually forming since then. How much was formed yearly and whether the chur was fully formed in five year could not be determined:

Held, that the case should not be treated as though it were one of adverse possession falling within Article 144, Limitation Act, whereas the appropriate Article was article 142 7 Cal 225. 8 C L R 126, Fol) Bilash Chandra Mukhopadhya v. Amjud Ali Patwari 9 Ind Cas 554.

Accretion-Contd.

2 Rivers or change in course of Rivers-Contd

61—Accretions—Alluvial lands——Re-formations in situ—Possession, recovery of, suit for settlements made by Government with defendants—Government, right of, as lords, paramount of the soil, to be put in possession, on defendant's refusal to take settlement—Government, right of, to assess and settle lands, in the absence of title—Declaratory decree, changing character of suit, it may be made—Act IX of 1847.

Where Government brought a suit to recover certain alluvial lands on the allegation that it was the proprietor of them and was put out of possession by the defendants, but it appeared that the Government had no right to them as proprietor, and that on the contrary the "maliki" or proprietary title in them was in the defendants, and that they were alluvial lands which accreted to the estate of the defendants and the right of the Government to assess revenue upon them was declared long ago, and they were converted in separate estates, and temporary settlements in respect of them were made by the Government with the defendants, and, on their expiry, held them khas, in its own hands adversely to the defendants Held, that, having regard to the allegation of title on which the Government based the suit and the past conduct of the Government in reference to those lands, the Court ought not, at this stage of the case in appeal, to change the entire form of the suit and to make a declaratory decree, in the event of the Court deciding the question whether the lands appertained to the plaintiff's or to the defendant's estate in favour of the Government, to enable it to take hereafter the necessary steps for assessment and settlement. When alluvial lands appertaining to a parent estate are converted into separate estate solely for purposes of assessment and settlement and never lose their relation to the parent estate but are made the subject of temporary settlements, and are treated for fiscal purposes only, as separate estates, and any of the alluvial lands disappear by reason of submergence under the river, they can no longer be treated as constituent parts of those estates, and in the event of their reappearance, they will have to be dealt with as new alluvial formation to which the provisions of Act IX of 1847 would be applicable. Sarada Prasad Gangully v. Secretary of state for India in Council 14 C L J 98.

Accretion- Contd.

3-CHURS OR ISLANDS IN NAVIGABLE RIVERS (62-86)

(1) ACCRETION TO CHUR

62—Accretion to chur—Fordable channel—An acretion to a chur belongs to the owner of the chur whether the channel between the main land and the chur is fordable or not. Kallynath Roy Chowdhry v Lawrie 3 W R 122

63—Under Reg XI of 1825, chur land belongs to the proprietor of the estate to which it accretes, provided it is not separated from such estate by an unfordable stream. Shibchunder Ghuttuck v Collector of Tipperah 5 W R 139

64—Formation of churs—Beng Reg XI of 1825, s. 5, cls 1 and 4—Right of fishery.

According to cl 4 s. 4 Regulation XI of 1825, churs thrown up in small and shallow rivers, the beds of which are private property, belong to the proprietor of the bed of the river : but by cl 1 of the same section churs thrown up in rivers, not small and shallow, the ownership of the beds of which remains in the public, are an increment to the tenure of the riparian owner to whose land or estate they are annexed. The fact of the right of fishery being in another person, does not take the case out of the operation of the former clause. Chundermonee Chowdhrain v Chowdhrain 4 W R 54

65—Diluvion—Reformation-Title-Beng. Reg. XI of 1825, s. 4—

Where a chur formed in the middle of a river, and was settled with A, and by the recession of the river new land appeared, which was really a deposit on the ancient site of B's lands, though adhering to the chur, it was held to be B's land. The first rule established by s. 4. Regulation XI of 1825, does not apparently contemplate land other than that commonly known as alluvion, viz., land gained by gradual and imperceptible accretion, the incrementum latens of the civil law. There is no express provision in the Regulation for the case of land which has been lost to the original proprietor by the encroachment of the sea or a river, and which, after diluviation, re-appears on the recession of the sea or river, and there is nothing to take away or destroy the original proprietor's right; such a case is to be determined by the general principles of equity and justice

Accretion-Contd.

3 Churs or islands in navigable Rivers-Contd

under the 5th rule contained in s. 4. A title founded on the original ownership and identification of land re-appearing is to be confined prima facie to the reformation on that site. 4 Moores I A, 403 ; 6 B L R 121; 2 B L R P C 5 commented on. Nogender Chunder Ghose v Mahomed Esof. 10 B L R 406: 18 W R 113.

66—Beng, Reg XI of 1825 s. 4 cl. 3—

If alluvial land be surrounded by water fordable at any point, the owner of the land to which the chur adjoins has a prima facie title to it under cl. 3, s 4, Regulation XI of 1825. Wise v Ameerunnissa Khatoon 2 W R 34
Wise v Abdool Ali. 2 W R 127
Poresh Narain v Watson 5 W R 283.

Notes—Fol. 2 W R 127 ; 5 W R 283 Dist. 3 W R 122; 7 W R 513. Ref. 9 W R 259; 2 Bom 19.

(2) FORMATION OF CHUR.

67—Formation of chur—Alluvion—Beng. Reg. XI of 1825 s. 4—Re-formation on old site—

Under Regulation XI of 1825, a right of property in land gained by alluvion from a river (the bed of which is not the property of an individual) is acquired in two modes; first, where the land is mined by gradual accession by the recess of the river, in which case it becomes the property of the person in possession of the estate to which the land is an increment; and secondly, when a chur or island is thrown up in a large navigable river, and the channel between such chur and island is fordable at any season of the year, the accession is an accession to the land or tenure most contiguous. Mohini Mohun Doss v Juggobundoo Bose. 9 W R 312.

Notes—Fol. 12 W R 252; 21 W R 115. Dist. 14 W R F B 25. Ref. 22 W R 52.

68—Gradual accretion—Land "most contiguous."—Beng Reg. XI of 1825, s. 4, cl. 3—The land "most contiguous" to a chur, as that phrase is used in Regulation XI of 1825, s 4, cl.3, is intended only to comprise the state or estates with which the chur comes into contact along the length of the fordable part of a channel : and the whole

Accretion-Contd.

3 Churs or islands in navigable Rivers-Contd

chur becomes an accession to the land and part of the tenure of the party to whom such estate belongs, and no portion of it will cease to belong to him merely by reason of the deep water between it and the estate of another becoming shallow and fordable. Held, also, that after the chur had, by the first occurrence of the fordable channel, become part of A's property, all further accretions to it, if gained by "gradual accession," would also belong to A, even though the result would, in the aggregate, be a prolongation of the chur in front of estates on the river bank not belonging to him. Golam Ali Chowdhry v Gopal Lall Tagore. 9 W R 401.

Notes—Fol. 12 W R 534.

69—Navigable river—Rights of riparian proprietors—

Where a chur or island is thrown up in a large navigable river, originally surrounded by deep, unfordable water, but between which and the estate of the zemindar a fordable channel has since been created, the criterion for deciding whether the Government has the right of disposing of that island, or whether the owner of the land to which it is most contiguous has that right, is to consider the state of circumstances at the time of the formation of the island,—that is, at the time when it was thrown up, and not the state of things at any subsequent or fluctuating period, such as the subsequent silting up of the bed of the river between the island and the contiguous estate so as to form a fordable passage.

Budrunissa Chowdhrain v Prosunno Kumar Bose. 6 B L R 255=14 W R F B 25 Cannon v Bissonath Adhicaree. 15 C L R 154.

Notes:—6 Bom L R 255 See 33 Bom 22.

70—Custom prevailing in villages on the Soan river in the Una Tahsil of the Hoshiarpur district—Kishtibunna or deep stream rule—

Plaintiffs, who represented the proprietors of Panjawar, a village on the right bank of the Soan river in the Una Tahsil of the Hoshiarpur district, sued to obtain from the proprietors of Bhera, a village on the left bank of the same river, certain land which had been transferred by avulsion from the Bhera to the Panjawar side. Defendants pleaded, inter alia, that though the rule that the deep stream should be the boundary was prevalent on the Soan, the rule was only applicable as regards land which had been transferred from one bank to another by gradual accretion, and that it was not applicable when the land had been transferred by avulsion.

Accretion-Contd.

3 Churs or islands in navigable Rivers-Contd

Held, that the general custom in the tract in question was proved to be in accordance with a strict observance of the deep stream rule, whether or not the land had come over by avulsion and was indentifiable. Mahar Singh v Achra. P R 164 of 1883.

71.—Limitation Act. 1877, Section 13, and 2nd Schedule, Articles, 142. 144—Alluvion and diluvion—Custom of Bias river—Land taken over by avulsion—Dispossession or discontinuance of possession—Exclusion of time of defendants' absence from British India.

Plaintiffs, the proprietors of a village on the Amritsar side of the Bias, claimed certain land lying between their village and the present deep stream, alleging that the said land originally formed part of their village, but was transferred in Sambat 1923 to the Kapurthala side of the river, returning to the Amritsar side in Sambat 1927-28, but remained part of Kapurthala territory till Sambat 1937 or 1938. The transfer on each occasion was found to be by a sudden change in the course of the river or what is generally called "avulsion," and it was found by the lower Courts (and the finding was accepted as correct by the Chief Court)that by the custom of the Bias, when land is transferred from one side of the river to another by a sudden change, there is no disturbance of proprietary right; but the lower Courts considered that the plaintiffs had lost their rights because they had not been in possession of the land, or any part of it, within twelve years before suit.

On the question of limitation, held that the case was governed by Article 142 of the 2nd Schedule of the Limitation Act, as plaintiffs were certainly dispossessed or discontinued of possession in Sambat 1923 when the land went over to Kapurthala.

But held further that in reckoning limitation plaintiffs were entitled to deduct the period from Sambat 1923 to Sambat 1937-38, during which the land remained part of the Kapurthala territory under Section 13 of the Limitation Act, as the defendants were certainly absent from British India during that period, and the fact that the subject-matter of the suit was also so absent was rather an additional than a less reason for holding that the section applied.

Accretion-Contd.

3 Churs or islands in navigable Rivers Contd

Gulab Khan v. Peera. 34 P R 1889.

(3) FORDABLE RIVER.

72.—Fordable river—Bengal Reg. XI, Sec 4. cl. 3—Island in navigable river—Right of riparian proprietor to.

Under cl. 2, S. 4, Regulation XI of 1825, a riparian proprietor has no right to an island thrown up in a large navigable river, when the channel which intervenes between his land and the island is, under ordinary circumstances, and at the most favourable seasons, unfordable for sixteen out of twenty-four hours. Nobin Kishor Roy V Jages Prasad Gangopadya. 6 B L R 343=4 W R 352

73.—Bengal Reg. XI of 1825, cl. 3.

A river that can be crossed from one side zigzag in the dry season only, when the water is breast-high, and the main stream of which is indubitably on the other side, is not a "fordable" stream within the meaning of cl. 3, Sec 4, Regulation of XI of 1825.

Issurchunder Sein v Kalee Doss Hajrah. 3 W R 95.

74.—Formation of Chur.

The fact that, under certain circumstances, a river is in some places, and at extreme time of low water, fordable, does not warrant the presumption that the river was a fordable stream at the time of the formation of the chur.

Wise v Ameeronissa Khatoon. 3 W R 219.

Notes:—Ref: 1 C W N 682.

75.—When the Government sues for alluvial land as an ordinary riparian Zamindar, it is bound to prove, under the latter part of cl. 3, s. 3, Regulation XI of 1825, that the stream between the chur and the main land is fordable at some time of the year, and that it was fordable when the alluvium formed.

Tabira v Government. 6 W R 123.
Affirmed on review Government v Tabira. 7 W R 513.

Notes: Ref 2 Bom 19.

Accretion-Contd.

3 Churs or islands in navigable Rivers-Contd

(4) REFORMATION ON OLD SITE.

76.—Reformation on old site—Bengal Reg. XI, Section 4, cl. 3—Island in navigable river—Right of Government.

Under cl. 3, section 4,, Regulation XI of 1825 Government has no right to land thrown up as an island in the bed of a navigable river, when such is formed on the site of land which had been washed away. Mani Lall Sahu v Collector of Sarun. 6 B L R Ap 93= 14 W R 424.

77.—The Government is not entitled, under cl. 3, s. 4, Regulation XI of 1825, to take possession of land which has re-formed on an old site of land belonging to another, although the reformation forms an island, and is surrounded by a channel which is not fordable. Collector of Rajshahye v Shamasoonder Debea. 14 B L R 219=22 W R 324.

(5) NAVIGABLE RIVER.

78.—Navigable river—Bengal Reg. XI of 1825, S. 4, cl. 3.

The words "a large navigable river" in cl. 3, s. 4, Regulation XI of 1825 are not applicable to the Goomta, but to such rivers as the Ganges and the Megna, upon which navigation can always be carried on. Mohinee Mohun Doss v Assanoollah. 17 W R 73.

(6) UNFORDABLE STREAM.

79.—Unfordable stream—Land cannot be legally proved to be an accretion to a talukh, or a re-formation of diluviated land of that talukh on its original site, where the stream between the land in question and the talukh is found to be an unfordable stream, nor can possession under such circumstances give a plaintiff a right to a declaration of his title. Nobeen Kishore Roy v Jogesh Prokash Gangooly. 10 W R 272.

(7) FORMATION OF ISLAND IN RIVER ADJACENT TO ZAMINDARI.

80.—Formation of island in river, adjacent to zamindari—Zamindars, Right of—Waste lands—

Where an island was formed in a river, the lands adjacent to the banks of which were part of zamindari,—Held that the island was not the waste land of any village, or a portion of the holdings of any raiyats in the zamindari, but that the zamindar possessed in it all the incidents of ownership, including the power of making leases. Subbaya v Yarlagadda Ankinidu 1 M H C 255.

(8) LAND FORMING IN RIVER AND GRADUALLY ACCRETING TO LAND ON BANK.

81.—Land forming in river and gradually accreting to land on bank—Beng. Reg XI of 1825—Right of Government.

Where land came up originally from the river as a small island, and gradually joined on to the plaintiff's estate after having been taken possession of by the defendant.—Held, by Trevor J., that the Government alone was entitled to the land, and not the plaintiff, to whose estate the land had joined. Held, contra by Glover, J, that as the land was an accretion to the plaintiff's estate, he was entitled to take possession of it under Regulation XI of 1825, the defendant's possession notwithstanding. Mohineemohun Doss v Juggobundoo Bose 7 W R 103.

Notes: Ref: 18 Cal 188; 29 Mad 426 F B= 16 M L J 372=1 M L T 145.

(9) FORMATION OF LAND IN NAVIGABLE RIVER.

82.—Formation of land in navigable river—Proof of title.

The re-formation of land in the bed of a navigable river is not prima facie to be ascribed to a loss from any particular riparian estate, nor is the land which has been removed from an estate by sudden avulsion reclaimable, unless the circumstances supply evidences of indentity. A title by accretion is not established by mere proof of general inclusive boundaries at a time preceding the formation of the chur, but there must be proof of the nucleus of accretion. The land gained will follow the title of the particular land forming the nucleus. Ekowri Singh v. Hiralall Seal 2 B L R P C 5=11 W R P C 2 12 Moore's I A 136

Sham Chand Bysack v Kishen Persad Surma. 18 W R 4 =14 Moore's I A 595.

(10) ISLAND IN LARGE RIVER.

83.—Island in large river—Proprietorship of alluvial land—Beng Reg XI of 1825 S. 4.

Though an island or land thrown up and surrounded by a river may become vested in Government, under the provisions of Regulation XI of 1825, S. 4, cl. 4, it does not follow that, if the river which separates the island from the main land dries up after the island has been resumed by Government, the bed of the river becomes the property of Government in cases in which the bed of the river is not gained as an accretion to the island by gradual accession within the meaning of cl. 1. Surnomovee v Jardine. Skinner & Co; Surnomoyee v Watson & Co 20 W R 276

84—Formation of lands—Beng Reg XI of 1825.

In a suit brought on the 11th March 1872 to recover certain plots of land (a) as re-formations after diluviation of lands which had belonged to the plaintiffs and as accretions thereto; (b) under a title by prescription, it appeared that the lands had formed in the bed of a river in 1859, and that the plaintiffs took possession thereof as of reformed lands, and had been maintained in possession under awards under Act IV of 1840, but that in 1868 they were ousted by the Collector, who assessed the same under Regulation XI of 1825 and settled them with his co-defendants.—Held that, whether or not in consequence of Act IX of 1847 the Government were entitled to assess the lands, they were entitled to oust the plaintiffs and to take possession of lands as lands which had originally formed as an island, and were at their first formation surrounded by water which was not fordable. Wise v. Ameerunnissa Khatoon. Wise v. Collector of Backergunge 7 I A, 73

85—Formation and attachment to estate of island chur formed in river.—

Defendants were owners, by purchase from Government, of a property called Ooian Chur, which in its origin was an island thrown up in the bed of the river. Plaintiff was owner of the original estate of K, of which a great part was cut off by a stream channel of the river; but afterwards re-appeared, and for some time lay in contiguity with defendant's chur, and separated from plaintiff's estate by the said channel. By

Accretion-Contd.

3 Churs or islands in navigable Rivers Contd

the gradual filling up of the sota reformation became more and more extensive until the land again lay in contract with the plaintiff's estate. As it had been clearly ascertained by boundary marks and measurements that the re-formation took place on the original site of the plaintiff's land, the right of the plaintiff as by re-formation was held to be preferable to that of the defendants, which rested upon accretion.

Buddun Chunder Shaha v. Bepin Beharee Roy. 23 W R 110.

85A—Lanka (formation in the bed of a river) —Gradual accretion, rule of—Accretion to land washed on both sides by the river—Sub aqueous ownership, presumption as to—Vertical accretion in the bed of a river. The principle of law that gradual accretion enures to the land which attracts it, applies also to Madras. The above principle applies where the land attracting the gradual accretion is washed on both sides by the river as well as where the land is washed only on one side. There are grave doubts whether the presumption is applicable to little English rivers.that the proprietor of each bank of a stream is considered prima facie as the proprietor also of half the land covered by the stream usque ad medium filum aquæ, applies to great rivers such as the Godaveri. Sri Balsu Ramalakshmamma v. The Collector Of Godaveri. 3 C. W. N. 777=22 Mad 464 = 26 I A.107 (P. C.)

85B—Accretions—Alluvial lands—Reformations in situ—Possession, recovery of, suit for—Settlements made by Government with defendants —Government, right of, as lords, paramount of the soil, to be put in possession, on defendants' refusal to take settlement—Government right of, to assess and settle lands, in the absence of title—Declaratory decree, changing character of suit, if may be made.

Where Government brought a suit to recover certain alluvial lands on the allegation that it was the proprietor of them and was put out of possession by the defendants, but it appeared that the Government had no right to them as proprietor, and that on the contrary the "maliki" or proprietary title in them was in the defendants, and that they were alluvial lands which accreted to the estate of the defendants and the right of the Governments to assess revenue upon them was declared long ago, and they were converted into separate estates, and temporary settlements in respect of them were made by the Government with the defendants, and, on their expiry, held them khas, in its own hands adversely to the defendants:

Held, that having regard to the allegation of title of which the Government based the suit and the past conduct of the Government in reference to those lands, the Court ought not, at this stage of the case in appeal, to change the entire form of the suit and to make a declaratory decree, in the event of the Court deciding the question whether the lands appertained to the plaintiff's or to the defendants' estate in favour of the Government, to enable it to take hereafter the necessary steps for assessment and settlement.

When alluvial lands appertaining to a parent estate are converted into separate estate solely for purposes of assessment and settlement and never lose their relation to the parent estate but are made the subject of temporary settlements, and are treated, for fiscal purposes only, as separate estates, and any of the alluvial lands disappear by reason of submergence under the river, they can no longer be treated as constituent parts of those estates, and in the event of their re-appearance, they will have to be dealt with as new alluvial formation to which the provisions of Act IX of 1847 would be applicable. Sarada Prasad Ganguly v. Secretary of State for India in Council, 14 C. L. J. 98.

86—Questions for consideration in cases of alluvion and avulsion—River boundaries between British and independent territory:—In respect of river boundaries between British & independent territory, the main stream, in cases of alluvion, forms the boundaries, regardless of other circumstances; but in cases of avulsion, the question of boundary should, in each case be decided on its own merits. Yoosuf v. Sardar Dewa Singh 12 P. L. R. 1870.

4—RE-FORMATION AFTER DILUVIATION (87—115)

(1) OWNERSHIP IN REFORMED LAND.

87—Ownership in re-formed land—Ownership in soil is not lost because the subject of it becomes submerged; the owner or the site or sub soil remains owner of the surface, and on re-formation of the surface soil takes whatever falls within his known boundaries. Ordinarily there can be no right of accretion when the new formation is on the site of what was formerly held by an individual as his private property. Dwarkanath Roy v Dinobundhoo Singh Chowdhry 15 W. R. 461.

Accretion-Contd.

4 Re-formation After Diluviation-Contd.

88 S. 4. Cl. 3—Accession, meaning of—Government rights-Submission—continuity, presumption of—Where land which has been submerged reforms and is identified as having formed part even by accretion of a particular estate the owner of that estate is entitled to it.

(2 I. A. 28; 14 Bom. L. R. 268. appl).

Where Government acquires property under Cl. (3) of sec 4 of Regulation 111 of 1825.either as an island surrounded by an unfordable channel or as an accession to lands held by government, it does not become a trustee for the public; it is entitled to land with the property in the same way as any other part of the territory of the state at its disposal if it permanently or temporarily settles the estate to which it has thus acquired title, the holder of the settlement is entitled to the benefit of the principle of reformation, and when the question arises between Government itself and a neighbouring riparian owner, Government should not be placed in a worse position than a person who has derived titled from it and it is not precluded from claiming the land upon submergence and after re-appearance.

(13 M I A 467; 5 B L R 521; 10 Bom L R 406: Ref.)

No inflexible rule can be laid down as to the manner in which an intention not to abandon submerged lands may be proved. but it would depend upon the circumstances of each particular case.

Where submergence of lands in the possession of Government does not operate in law as an abandonment on its part and a reversion thereof to the public territory.

Ananda Hari Basak v. Secretary of State for India in Council. 3 Cal L J 316.

See also Cases under:—

(1) Riparian rights.

(2) Water rights.

89.—Accretion--Alluvial lands-Abandoument —Estoppel.

Accretion-Contd.

4 Re-formation After Diluviation Contd.

The plaintiff, and hereditary tenant, between the years 1863 and 1866, lost part of his land by the action of the river Jhelum. The land was submerged for a considerable period. and the river having receded, re-appeared insitu in 1868 and 1869. When the land re-appeared, the defendants, the proprietors,took possession and made arrangements for its cultivation. The land which was not carried away became banjar of the village, and the revenue on it was paid by plaintiff. The revenue on the land submerged was paid by defendants.

The land in dispute was, at the time of its submersion, not land bounded by a shifting river bank. but land bounded by fixed lines and susceptible of being at any moment ascertained. It was not claimed immediately on its re appearance because tenants did not know, until recently, that they retained any rights in land after it was once submerged; such non-claim was not shown to have induced the proprietor to alter his position for the worse, the fact being that both parties were under a mistaken impression as to their respective rights.

In a suit instituted by the plaintiff, a tenant, to recover the occupancy of his land recovered from the river, held (by Boulnois, Lindsay and Fitzpatrick, JJ.) no custom to the contrary being proved, that the tenant did not lose his occupancy rights by reason of the land being submerged.

Held, further that the tenant had not voluntarily abandoned his land on its re-appearance.

Held, further, that under the above circumstances, the tenant was not estopped from ascertaining his rights merely by reason of his having stood by and allowed the proprietor to act as if those rights had been abandoned.

Sultan Khan v Syad Mahomed Shah. P R 59 of 1877.

89A.—Rights of adna maliks in submerged land—Custom—Mauza Muradpur, tahsil Alipur, Muzuffargarh District—Wajib-ul-arz—Haq juri.

The plaintiffs, who were adna maliks in mauza Muradpur, tahsil Alipur, in the Muzuffargarh District, sued for a declaration of adna malkiyat rights in certain land which had been submerged

Accretion-Contd

4 Re-formation After Diluviation-Contd

by river action, which, on its re-appearance, in accordance with a provision in the wajib-ul-arz, had been recorded as the sole property of the defendants. The provision of the wajib-ul arz was to the effect: " that in this village there are two kinds of property ala and adna. If the land belonging to any adna malik is washed away at the time of its being thrown up, it becomes the property of the ala maliks. The adna matiks retain no right in the land. The adna maliks after paying haq juri to the " ala maliks will be entitled to get possession. Without paying haq Juri they will have no right. If the ala maliks intentionally refuse to " juri the adna maliks are not entitled to take " possession. The arrangement as to juri, is to " depend upon the value of the land and the sta- " tus of the adna malik. But it shall not be less " than Re 1 per Bigha or more than Rs 2 per " bigha. The adna maliks shall have the same " power, whether the whole or a portion of any " wells are carried of: " Held, that as the payment of haq juri or an institution fee for the recovery of land cannot be considered opposed to the principles founded on universal law and justice, it was for the adna maliks to rebut the presumption in favour of the correctness of the entries in the record of custom and to prove that they were not bound to pay it, and that the plaintiffs failed to rebut the entry in question or to prove that they were entitled to the land without payment of haq juri. (97 P R 1902, 125 P R 1889 Ref.) Ahmad Shah v Khuda Buksh 33 P R 1903.

90.—Beng Reg XI of 1825 s 4 cl 1.—

Where new land is formed, whether it be a reformation on an old site or whether it is formed where no land ever previously existed, ownership is determined by the ownership of the adjacent land to which it has accreted. To defeat or prevent the right by accretion, the person who claims the land as re-formation of his old land is required to prove some continuing right of property in himself; it is not enough for him to rely merely on identity of site. Kattemonee Dossee v Monmohinee Dabee B L R Sup Vol. 353 = 3 W R 51.

Lyon v Gray 11 W R 189.

91.—Land inundated and re-formed.

Accretion-Contd.

4 Re-formation After Diluviation-Contd.

The owner of land before it is inundated remains the owner of it when it is covered with water and after it becomes dry. Imam Bandi v Hur Gobind Ghose 7 W R, P C 67: 4 Moore's I A 403.

91A.—Chur and jungle lands—Re-formation of land on old site—Limitation—Possession—Presumption—Evidence Act (I of 1872), s 114.

During the period when a piece of land is submerged under water, the true owners must be held to be in constructive possession, and when it re-appears and does not become fit for actual enjoyment in usual modes, it may be presumed that the previous possession continue until the contrary is proved. (5 C W N 617 = 29 Cal 518. Fol. 9 Cal 744, 16 Cal 473 Ref) Madhabi Sundari Dassya v Gaganendra Nath Tagore 9 C W N 111.

91B.—Custom—Deep stream rule Ownership in bed of river—Jago Kalan village in the Gujrat District and Kakshal village in the Gujranwala District.—

The principle of general application in cases of submersion of land, which is founded on universal law and justice, is that the owner of land under water does not lose his right to the site. The deep-stream rule, where it is in existence, must be enforced within the limits prescribed by custom. And subject to its special conditions, the general rule of ownership in the site must be maintained. In the absence of any special custom, the deep-stream rule does not operate to transfer the bed of a river from the original owners of it to the proprietors of the land on the other side of the river. (5 B L R 531 P C; 59 P R. 1877, F B 36 P R 1898; 29 Cal 518 Ref. Jalal v Samail 18 P L R 1904.

91C.—Submersion of lands of occupancy tenants—Lands thrown up again, right of tenants to recover—Custom of village Pakhiwan in Gurdaspur District Punjab Tenancy Act s 38.

The main question for decision was whether, by custom of the village Pakhiwan in the Gurdaspur District, the land of occupancy tenants, recovered from the river Ravi after submersion, will be restored to the occupancy tenants or will revert to the proprietors. The tenants were the plaintiffs and the lower appellate Court gave them a decree for the entire area claimed. Overruling a contention raised on behalf of the proprietors that, by the mere fact of submersion and the consequent cessor of cultivation by the tenants their rights are forfeited under the wording of the Tenancy Act, on the ground that vis major is a sufficient cause within the meaning of s 38 of the Act and taking an equitable view of the hard ship that would otherwise result to the occupancy tenants, the Chief Court held that, under the custom in question, the rights of tenants are not forfeited by reason of submersion of their holdings by diluvion and it is competent for them to claim such lands when thrown up again by alluvion. Dewa Singh v Bishambar Das 80 P R 1905=184 P L R 1905.

Accretion -Contd.

4 Re formation After Diluviation-Contd.

92.—Beng Reg XI of 1825 s 4 cls 1, 2, 3—

Claims to alluvial lands under cl 2 s 4 Regulation XI of 1825 (i e to lands as re-formed lands), are not superior to claims under cls 1 and 3 of s. 4 or under s 5 of that Regulation, i e, to lands as newly alluviated. Wise v Ameerunnissa Khatoon 2 W R 132.

Notes—Ref: 9 W R 259.

93.—Beng Reg XI of 1825, s 4 cls 1 and 3—Re-formation on old site.

Proof of re-formation on an old site will not suffice to establish a claim under Regulation XI of 1825. Re-formations are governed by cls 1 and 3, s 4, Regulation XI of 1825. A claim to hold the land has not been diluviated but cut off by a change of the stream. Kenny v Sumeeroonissa 3 W R 68.

Kalee Monee Debia v Collector of Mymen-Singh 5 W R 55.

Notes:—Fol 9 W R 312. Ref: 5 W R 55; 7 W R 103.

94.—Land diluviated by river—R'parian proprietors.—

Where property is wholly submerged by a river, lands forming afterwards on the site will, when the ownership of that site is proved to exist in the former owner, remain in him, and the accretion will not belong to the adjacent proprietor. The decision in B L R Sup Vol 533, is erroneous in not regarding the site of the increment

Lopez v Maddan Mohan Thakoor 5 B L R 521= 14 W R P C 11; 13 Moores I A 467.

Accretion-Contd.

4 Re-formation After Diluviation-Contd.

95.—Quœre.

To whom lands diluviated and afterwards reformed belong. Kirtee Narain Chowdhry v Protab Chunder Burooah W R F B 129.

96.—Occupancy rights in alluvial lands–Jhelum river,—

Found that by the custom of Mauzah Kachwala, Tahsil and Zillah Shahpur. tenants with rights of occupancy lose their rights in lands carried away by the action of the river and that such rights cannot be claimed on the lands being again thrown up by the action of the river. Mian Mahomed Sharaf v Khoda Baksh P R 89 of 1877 Civil.

97.—Re-formation of lands washed away-Beng Reg XI of 1825. s 4.

Lands washed away and afterwards re-formed the old site, which can be clearly recognized are not lands "gained" within the meaning of s 4, Regulation XI of 1825, they do not become the property of the adjoining owner, but remain the property of the original owner.

Romanath Thakoor v Chundernarain Chowdhry Marsh,136 W R F B 45= 1 Ind Jur O S 44.

Collector of Tipperah v Doorga Persad Paray W R 1864, 302.

Collector of Dacca v Kishen Kishore Chatterjee W R 1864, 273.

98.—Regulation XI of 1825—Section 4—Gradual accretion.

Land which is washed away and which reappears afterwards on the old ascertained site is not land gained by increment within the meaning of Regulation XI of 1825, and it continues to be the property of the original owner unless his title to it, after such reappearance is extinguished by adverse possession for over twelve years on the part of a trespasser. 13 M I A 467; 3 Cal 796; 1882 A W N 8 referred to.

Bahadur Rai v. Ram Janam Rai. 1 A L J 371.

99.—Diluviated lands—Beng. Reg. XI of 1825, s. 4, cl. 2.

Cl. 2, s. 4, Regulation XI of 1825. does not apply to the case of an estate entirely lost by diluvion. Keshublal L Chowdhry v. Watson & Co. W R 1864, 64.

Accretion-Contd.

4 Reformation After Diluviation-Contd.

100.—An old site reformed by Diluvion—Title by long and adverse possession.

The doctrine, that an old site of land reformed by diluvion remains the property of the original owner, inunciated in 5 B L R 521, does not apply to lands in which an indefeasible title is acquired by possession, both long and adverse after their reformation. The only question to be decided, is where the plaintiff has had such adverse possession for twelve years where he relies on an alleged adverse possession for more than twelve years after then reformation.

Radha Prosad Singh v. Ram Koomar Singh. I L R 3 Cal 796. 1 C L R 259

Varying on appeal Court of Wards v. Radha Prosad Singh. 22 W R 238.

Notes.—Fol· 6 Cal 725, Ref: 7 Cal 225; 25 Bom 362; 1 A L J 371.

101.—Land re-formed on site that can be identified.

Where land re-forms by alluvion on a site capable of identification, the right of the owner of the original site to the chur is indisputable.

Sarat Sundari Deby v Soorjya Kant Acharjya. 25 W R 242.

Notes.—Ref: 2 Bom 19.

101A.—Custom—Identification of land—Regulation XI of 1825.

In the absence of a custom to the contrary, land washed away to the opposite bank of the river may, if identifiable, be claimed by its owners.

Rama v Shere Singh. 15 P R 1872 and Yoosuf v. Sirdar Dewa. 12 P R 1870.

101B.—Reclaiming land—Identity to be proved—Custom—Presumption—Reg. XI of 1825.

The identity of land, removed by sudden alluvion in a river to which Reg. XI of 1825 applies and re-formed, must be proved before such land becomes reclaimable; and land lost to an owner by the erosion of the river bank could not be presumed to be recovered when an equal quantity of land is left dry by the river taking another course. Custom apart, a title to such reformed land will not arise by mere proof of general inclusive boundaries at a time long preceding the reforming of the land, but if a custom is proved it is to be followed. Huq Newaz Khan v. Khanum. 72 P R 1869.

101C.—Identification—Laying down of survey boundaries—Reg. XI of 1825.

Held that land could not be identified by the laying down of survey boundaries and that mode of identification was indicated in cl. 2, s. 4 of the Regulation. Chungar v. Bahadoor Singh. 47 P R 1868.

102—Lands temporarily or permanently settled.

Where lands submerged by a river re-form, and can be identified as having formed a part of a particular estate, they belong to the owner of that estate, whether his estate consists wholly of permanently settled lands or whether it has been partly acquired as an alluvial accretion under temporary settlements made by Government with him as owner of permanently-settled lands. Hursahai Singh v. Lootf Ali Khan 14 B L R 268; 23 W R 8; 2; I A 28.

103—Land re-formed on old sites.

When land is gradually re-formed on two old sites, identity of site can give no title to the former owners of the two old sites to the land reformed on such old sites respectively; nor can identity of site give any title to land gradually re-formod, when it is formed by gradual accession partly to one estate and partly to another. A person in possession of land is prima facie entitled to it, and to all increments to it. Muthooranath Muzoomdar v. Tarinee Churn Singh 8 W R 164.

Notes—Ref; 2 Bom 19.

104—Submersion of land—Riparian rights—Indentification of site of land.—

In a suit for possession, where it was found that a rivulet had come in from a river and formed a disjunction between the disputed land and plaintiff's property, but that the rivulet was closed up and the river had returned to its proper channel, and on the surface of the disputed land there still remained marks of its having belonged to the plaintiff.—Held that the finding sufficiently identified the land in suit as the property of the plaintiff, within the meaning of the Full Bench ruling in B. L R; Sup. Vol, 353. 3.

Accretion-Contd.

4 Reformation After Diluviation-Contd.

W. R, 51. Held, also that,as the last person found to have had the land in occupation was the plaintiff, and as his possession had never been disturbed (the lands having ever since been submerged), there was a sufficient finding of possession to entitle plaintiff to a decree in confirmation of title. Indurjeet Kooer v. Jumna Doss. 14 W. R., 164

105—Accretion—Reformation - Taraf-Evidence—Maps—Description in plaint-Administrative divisions—Points not raised in the first Court-Partition—Title.—The word " Taraf " appears to mean a sub-division of a pergunnah, including several villages.

In 1863, two suits were brought by the predecessors in interest of the present plaintiffs to recover the respective shares now claimed by them in the chur which is also the subject-matter of present litigation. A map to the disputed land was prepared by an Amin and was made part of the decrees passed in the said suits,

Held, that the proceedings in the suits of 1863 and the Amin's map were not evidence against the Government, which was not a party to the said suits except for the purpose of showing the nature of the claim made and what lands were recovered by them and explaining the decrees made. For that purpose, the map might legitimately and must necessarily be used.

Held further, that the decision come to in the suits of 1863 was in accordance with the construction then put by the Indian Courts on Regulation XI of 1825. That view of the law was, however, overruled by a Full Bench of the Calcutta High Court in (1870) 6 B L R 255 and the law on the subject has been settled by that case and the case of (1870) 5 B L R 521 decided by the Judicial Committee in the same year.

The allegation in the plaint that the disputed lands appertian to a particular district is merely descriptive and is not restrictive. When the plaintiff claimed the lands in dispute as reformations in situ of her diluviated and permanently settled estate pergunnah Luskurpur and succeeded in proving that the said lands were on the original site of the said estate, as it existed at the time of the Permanent Settlement, and the High Court considered that this was not sufficient to entitle her to obtain a decree, because the pergunnah was partitioned in 1839 and different mouzas or parts of mouzas fell to the shares of different co-sharers and accordingly the parties went to trial not upon the broad issue, whether the disputed lands were reformations on the original site of the pergunnah but upon the narrower issue whether they were re-formations on the original site of certain specified tarafs; and it lay upon the plaintiff to make out the affirmative of that issue.

Held, that the failure of the plaintiff to indentify the sites of these tarfas should not be regarded as fatal to her case. The defendant in his written statement did not traverse the allegation of the plaintiff's title to be a co-sharer of the estate and did not mention the alleged partition, and no issue was directed either to the plaintiff's title or to the partition. The plaintiff should be treated as having a prima facie title as co-sharer in every part of the permanently settled estate of Luskurpur which was not shown to have been alienated and no weight should be attached to a suggestion not made in the Court of the first instance, where it might have been explained and met by evidence.

Rani Hemanta Kumari Debi v The Secretary of State for India in Council and Sri Sundari Debi v. The Secretary of State for India in Council. I M L T 175=3 C L J 560

106—Mofidar. Agreement at Settlement to pay batai to—Submersion of mafi land—Effect of, in respect to right of Mafidar,

Plaintiff claimed from defendants value of half produce of certain lands-cultivated by the latter. Plaintiff at Settlement was recorded Mafidar of 57 ghumaos 6 kanals 10 marlas of land (of which defendants were recorded proprietors, and which was cultivated in part by tenants with occupancy rights, and in part by tenants-at-will) with the right to take batai, and levied revenue accordingly, until 1869 when the land was submerged.

In 1873 a considerable portion of it re-appeared and was taken possession of by the proprietors, and had since been cultivated in part and in part used by them as grazing lands, the revenue being fixed at Rs. 10-12-0 which the defendants did not dispute their liability to pay in cash.

Accretion-Contd.

4 Reformation After Diluviation—Contd.

Held, by Plowden and Smyth, JJ. (Elsmie, J. dissenting) that the mutual rights and obligations of the parties survived in their integrity notwithstanding the occurrences above described, and, therefore. that plaintiff was entitled to recover the value of the half produce as claimed, until the completion of a new settlement. Karim Baksh v Alla Jowaya Khan. P R 61 of 1879.

107—Custom—Mouza Khairpur, tahsil Khushab, Zillah Shahpur—Rights of hereditary cultivators in submerged lands.

Found that there is no established uniform and general custom in the Shahpur district among the villages affected by river action. by which the right of occupancy of a hereditary cultivator in the holding is destroyed upon its submersion.

Where plaintiffs, who were hereditary cultivators of Mauza Khairpur, tahsil Khushab, in the Shahpur district, sued to recover from the proprietors certain lands which had been submerged by river action and had subsequently re-appeared, held (reversing the orders of the lower Courts), that notwithstanding an entry in the wajib-ul-arz in favour of the proprietors, no established custom was shown to exist in the village in question by which the plaintiffs had lost their hereditary right of cultivation in the lands in suit, and that, therefore. there was no obstacle to the operation of the general rule laid down by the Full Bench judgment in Civil Ruling No. 59, Punjab Record for 1877, and that the plaintiffs were entitled to recover their lands. Lal Shah v Karim Buksh P R 96 of 1879.

Notes:—Fol: P R 1901. Rev=54 P L R 1901; 97 P R 1902=121 P L R 1902.

108—Rights of occupancy tenant in submerged land on re-appearance Custom-Mauzah Chak Ramdas, Tahsil Bhera, Zillah Shahpur—Condition in wajib-ul-arz.

Plaintiff, a tenant with rights of occupancy, sued to recover certain land situated in Mauzah Chak Ramdas, tahsil Bhera, in the Shahpur district, which had been submerged by river action and had subsequently re-appeared. It was found that no custom prevailed in the village in question which was opposed to plaintiff's claim, but there was a provision in the wajib-ul-arz that in cases of submersion of tenant's holdings the tenant should receive an equivalent out of the banjar shamilat, and should pay revenue to the Maliks according to the Khewat of the submerged holding. Previous to this suit the present plaintiffs sued the present defendant for an equivalent of his share in the submerged holding to be made good out of the shamilat land but his suit was dismissed on the ground that there was no banjar shamilat to give him, and that he had not paid the revenue on the submerged holding. Subsequently the present suit was brought to recover the holding itself which had re-appeared in whole or in part from the river.

Held (following the decision in Punjab Record, Civil Ruling No. 59 of 1877), that. there being no custom to the contrary, the plaintiff's title to the right of occupancy claimed was not extinguished, but still attached to the land now that it had reappeared: that the provision in the wajib-ul-arz was not inconsistent with the right claimed, though if the defendant had given the plaintiff an equivalent for the land submerged, the plaintiff's right in that land would have been transferred to the defendant; that the non-payment of revenue on the land during the period of its submersion was not fatal, as the plaintiff was not bound to pay that except in case of being supplied with land in its place, and that the plaintiff was therefore entitled to recover the land in suit conditionally upon payment of the revenue paid upon it by the proprietor, the defendant, since the date of its re-appearance. Morid v Mussammat Ram Davi P R 127 of 1879.

109—Custom— M. Sadda Kambo, Shahpur—Occupancy tenant's right to land carried away by diluvion on its re-appearance—General rule—Special custom—Tenant preserving his right by payment of revenue during period of submersion.

The plaintiffs, residents of the village of Sadda Kambo in the Shahpur tahsil of the Shahpur district, sued to enforce their occupancy rights in certain lands which had been carried away by diluvion, and which, on their re-appearnce, had been taken possession of by the defendants, the proprietors. The defendants pleaded that according to the custom as stated in the Wajib-ul-arz of the village, the tenants lost all their rights on the submersion of lands held by them on a right of occupancy, and the lower Courts finding the custom proved dismissed the plaintiffs' claim.

Accretion-Contd.

4 Reformation After Diluviation—Contd.

Held, that the general rule to be applied in dealing with cases of the above description is that, no custom to the contrary being proved, an occupancy tenant does not lose his occupancy rights by reason of the land being submerged: that though there did exist in the plaintiffs' village a custom by which occupancy tenants, became liable, under certain circumstances, to lose their rights on the submersion of their lands, still under that custom the tenants could preserve their rights intact, notwithstanding the submersion of their land, by paying the revenue assessed thereon during the period of submersion, though if they failed to do so during such period, their right of occupancy ceased to exist; and that on the facts of the present case the plaintiffs were entitled to succeed.

Raja v Sarfaraz P R 152 of 1883.

Notes:—Fo: 8 P R 1901; Rev: 54 P L R 1901; 97 P R 1902=121 P L R 1902.

110—Ala and adna maliks—Land submerged—Re-appearance—Right of possession—Wajib-ul-arz.

The parties to the case were ala and adna maliks of mauza Thoa in the Dera Ismail Khan District. As regards the preservation or loss of rights of adna maliks in cases of alluvion and diluvion, the Wajib-ul-arz provided that the land attached to wells will on restoration belong to the former owner (adna malik); that in case of lands not attached to wells, if a portion of a field or plot be carried away and be again thrown up opposite the remaining land, the former adna maliks will take so much of it as is required to make up his old holding: but if the whole field or land be carried away, it will belong on restoration to the ala maliks as shamilat, and the ala maliks will have full power to give it to adna maliks or not, and for its cultivation those powers and rules will come into force which are laid down for the shamilat. It also contained the follwing clause. Lekin jis malik adna ki zamin amum burd hogi banisbat digar malikan adna uska pahle hak hai ki banjar shamilat se ya zamin baramad shudu se bakdar rakba burd shuda ke usko mile aur aisi zamin ki liye malik adna ko judid jhuri jo ek rupaya fi acre se ziyada na howe deni hogi aur khilaf dastur ala malikan ho aisi zamin ke liya jhuri lene se inkar karne ka ikhtidar na hoga.

Accretion-Contd.

4 Reformation After Diluviation—Contd.

Held that the proper interpretation of this clause was that if the ala maliks did not require the lands themselves, and it became a question of letting them out then the first persons entitled to admission were the adna maliks who had lost a good deal of land (amum). Both those who had lost a considerable part (and who might not wish to wait for the chance of a restoration—mahaz) would come under this head, and might claim to be accepted in preference to other adna maliks or outsiders on payment of the fair customary rent which the ala maliks might not refuse to accept on the plea that they could get a higher rent by competition. Mubaruk Shah v Abdulla. 125 P R 1889.

Notes:—Ref 33 P R 1903; Dist 97 P R 1902 =121 P L R 1902.

111—Alluvion and diluvion—Title to land acquired by accretion—Land subsequently retransferred by avulsion—Identification of site.

Owing to changes in the course of the river Chenab, certain land, which was identified as having originally belonged to plaintiffs, after being submerged, gradually re-appeared on the Muzaffargarh side as the river receded, but was subsequently bodily transferred to the Mooltan side by the sudden change in the course of the river. While the land was on the Muzaffargarh side, the defendants brought a few detached plots under cultivation, and were still cultivating them at the time of suit. The burden of suing for possession of the said land was in consequence upon plaintiffs. The latter instituted a suit and obtained a decree in the first Court, which was, however, reversed on appeal by the Divisional Judge.

Held, in accordance with the principle laid down in Lopez' case (5 B L R 521), that inasmuch as the site of the land in question had been duly identified as plaintiffs' the latter were entitled to succeed, and that the mere facts that they did not follow the land when it went to the Muzaffargarh; side, and that the defendants had brought a few scattered plots thereof under cultivation did not affect plaintiffs rights as owners of the site.

14 All 238 not followed. Chundar Bhan v Ahmad Yar Khan. 36 P R 1898.

Notes:—Fol 66 P R 1901=171 P L R 1901 Ref 63 P R 1903=131 P L R 1903.

Accretion-Contd.

4 Reformation After Diluviation—Contd.

112—Alluvion and diluvion—Rights of adna maliks in submerged land—Custom—Mauza Muradpur, tahsil Alipure, Muzaffargarh District—Wajib-ul-arz—Haq Juri.

The plaintiffs who were adna maliks in mauza Muradpur, tahsil Alipur, in the Muzaffargarh District, sued for a declaration of adna malkiyat rights in certain land which had been submerged by river action, which, on its re-appearance in accordance with a provision of the Wajib-ul-arz had been recorded as the sole property of the defendants. The provision of the Wajib-ul-arz was to the effect: "that in this village there are two kinds of property, ala and adna. If the land belonging to any adna malik is washed away, at the time of its being thrown up it becomes the property of ala malik. The adna maliks retain no right in the land. The adna maliks after paying haq Juri to the ala maliks will be entitled to get possession. Without having haq Juri they will have no right. If the ala maliks intentionally refuse to take Juri the adna maliks are not entitled to take possession. The arrangement as to Juri is to depend upon the value of the land and the status of the adna malik. But it shall not be less than Re 1 per bigha or more than Rs. 2 per bigha. The adna maliks shall have the same power whether the whole or a portion of any wells are carried off."

Held, that as the payment of haq Juri or an institution fee for the recovery of land cannot be considered opposed to the principles founded on universal law and justice, it was for the adna malik to rebut the presumption in favour of the correctness of the entries after record of custom and to prove that they were not bound to pay it.

Held, on the evidence that the plaintiffs have failed to rebut the entry in question or to prove that they were entitled to the land without payment of haq juri.

(97 P R 1902), (125 P R 1889), referred to.

Ahmad Shah v Khuda Bakhsh. 33 P R 1903.

113—Alluvion and diluvion—Land submerged—Reappearance—Right of the owner in submerged land on re appearance—Custom—Wajib-ul-arz—Mauza Khanpur, Gujrat.

Accretion-Contd.

4 Reformation After Diluviation—Contd.

Held, that in cases of alluvion and diluvion, according to the custom prevailing in mauza Khanpur, a proprietor loses all his rights on the submersion of his land, as such land on restoration becomes samilat deh and not the property of the proprietor to whom it belonged at the time of its submersion. Sahib Din v Ilam Din. 15 P R 1904.

114—Condition of land when reformed-Beng. Reg. XI of 1825, s. 4—Right to possession.

The rule, where a question arises as to the right to the possession of land, either gained by gradual accession or reformation, or thrown up in a river or the sea, is that the condition of the land where it was originally gained by alluvion or thrown up and became the subject of property and capable of cultivation or occupation as such, must be looked to. If after, the land comes into existence and is capable of cultivation, it is taken into possession and occupied, the subsequent drying up of the channel between such land and the shore does not affect the occupior's right to possession as against every one except the Government or one who can show a better title. S. 4 Regulation XI of 1825 is not against this view.

Kaliprasad Mazumdar v Collector of Mymen Singh. 6 B L R 261 note; 13 W R 366

115—Beng. Reg. XI of 1825, s. 4, Construction of—"At the disposal of Government."

The words "at the disposal of the Government" in cl. 3 s. 4. Reg. XI of 1825, mean that the property in, and absolute right of disposal of, the land is vested in the Government has merely a right to the revenue. Khellut Chunder Ghose v Collector of Bhaugulpore. W R 1864, 73.

115A—Alluvion—Diluvion—Customary due—Ala Malik—Custom—Wajib ul-arz, entry in.

When the entry in the wajib-ul-arz was to the effect that if lands are washed away but subsequently re-appear, the original proprietors are entitled to recover the same on payment of certain fixed dues to the Ala Maliks;

Held, that the owners could only recover the lands from the Ala Maliks on payment of customary dues to them. Isar Das v Ghulam Haider. 31 P L R 1912

Accretion-Contd.

4 Reformation After Diluviation—Contd.

115 B—Chur land—Alluvial formation—Reformation Accretion—Possession, recovery of, suit for—Mesne profits—Adverse possession—Limitation—Onus of proof—Rennell's map, evidentiary value of-Chouhuddibandi paper, admissibility of, Settlement, acceptance of, from Government, effect of—Presumption of possession following title.

In a suit for recovery of possession of certain alluvial or chur lands on the ground that they were reformations on the site on the plaintiffs permanently settled estates, or were accretions to their estates, the plaintiffs ought to establish what lands were included within their estates at the time of the Decennial Settlement made in 1789 upon which the Permanent Settlement of 1793 was based.

The survey, upon which Major Rennell's map published in 1780 was based, was made by Rennell and his co-adjutors during the years 1764 to 1773: the survey was made for the purpose of showing the courses of rivers and the different land routes passing through the country; there is no indication whatever that the survey was made for revenue purposes, and Major Rennell's maps cannot therefore, be accepted as any safe guide, in determining the boundaries of estates.

Major Rennell's maps being based on surveys made from twenty to twenty-five years before the Decennial Settlement, assumption can safely be made that the condition of the locality, at the time of the Decennial Settlement has remained practically unchanged during that period of time, specially when there is, in any part of the country, one of the most erratic rivers, as the Padma, the variable character of the course whereof is well known.

Rennell's map, based as it is on the surveys of 1764-73, even if it accurately located the different mauzas, cannot be safely treated as indicating their existence or actual position at the time of the Decennial Settlement of 1789.

It is impossible to determine with any approach to accuracy, from Rennell's map, the position, boundaries, and size of the mauzas at the time of the Permanent Settlement, and when the plaintiffs seek to make that map the foundation of their claim, they attempt to use it for a purpose for which it was never intended.

Accretion-Contd.

4 Reformation After Diluviation—Contd.

The mere fact that a particular tract in Rennell's map bears the name of one or more of the mouzas subsequently settled with some persons at the time of the Decennial Settlement, would not, by itself, indicate that the mauzas were in the same place as in Rennell's time much less would it indicate that the mauzas had the same sizes and boundaries. Rennell's map however useful it may be to show the course of the river in 1764-73 and to indicate generally the relative position of parganas, mauzas and towns on both sides of the river at that period cannot, be accepted as a safe guide to determine accurately the position of the river and of the places on both sides thereof in 1789; much less can it be used to determine the exact position or size or boundaries of different mauzas included in any particular estate at the time of either the Decennial or the Permanent Settlement.

Hakikat chouhuddibundi papers are statements of boundaries of land included in certain estates, and were filed apparently under the signature of the then proprietors; they were declarations by the then proprietors of the boundaries and quantity of the land of which they had obtained possession under the Permanent Settlement. The returns also give details of the land claimed as rent-free, of the waste land of the gross assets of the collection charges and of the balance out of which the Government revenue was payable. Those papers are admissible in evidence, but their evidentiary value must depend upon the facts of the particular case.

It cannot be presumed as a matter of law, that the state of things described in the Thak and Survey Maps existed at the time of the Permanent Settlement.

Where as in this case, the changes in the course of the river have been so sudden and so violent almost from year to year, that even if the plaintiffs could establish that any portion of the lands claimed was reformation on the sites of their permanently settled estates, they could not possibly succeed as to the remainder on the ground of accretion thereto, as no question of accretion could possibly arise.

Where, as in this case, the plaintiffs alleged that they were dispossessed on the 4th June, 1850 and the suits were not commenced till the 29th

Accretion–Contd.

4 Reformation After Diluviation-Concld.

May, 1902 the burden liess upon them to establish that they were in possession between the 29th May 1890 and 4th June, 1890.

Where it is impossible to hold that either party had complete possession over the whole of the disputed land, if the plaintiffs succeeded in establishing their title, the legitimate inference would be, that, in the eye of the law, the possession was with the rightful owners and this would certainly be so in regard to all the lands except such small portions as might have been occupied by the tenants of the defendants.

Where the parties repeatedly accepted settlements from the Government after they had obtained the release of other lands, though their conduct may not amount to estoppel, it furnishes strong evidence on the side of the Secretary of State that their present claim is wholly unfounded

If the Secretary of State asserted title to the chur and held occupation through settlement holders, for the statutory period, Government would acquire a good title by adverse possession.

In order to prove title to lands by adverse possession, the possession must be adequate in continuity, in publicity and in extent, so as to indicate that it is possession adverse to the competitors.

No presumption of possession can be made in favour of the adverse possessor, and his possession must be restricted to the land of which he has actual occupation. (A O D 105 of 1896 (unreported); A O D 52 of 1899 (unreported) A O D 335 of 1901 (unreported); 12 C L J 216 Ref 3 C L J 560; 10 C W 630 expl. 30 Cal 291: 3 C L J 316 followed. 16 Cal 473 Fol. 20 W R 25 (P C) Ref 29 Cal 513 Ref 27 Cal 943 Fol 24 Cal 256; 3 C L J 316; 35 Cal 961 Ref)

Secretary of State for India v Kalika Prosad 15 C L J 281.

(5) PROCEDURE. (116-119)

(1) PROCEDURE WHERE RULES UNDER BENGAL REG XI OF 1825 ARE INAPPLICABLE.

116—Procedure where rules under Beng. Reg. XI of 1825 are inapplicable.

Where the special rules laid down in Regulation XI of 1825 for the adjudication of questions of title to alluvial land are inapplicable, and no special custom exists, the decision of the case ought to proceed on general principles of equity and justice. Sheogolam Tewaree v Faquera Misser. 3 Agra, 400

Accretion–Contd.

5 Procedure– Concld.

(2) CHUR LANDS REFORMATION ON OLD SITE.

117—Chur lands re-formation on old site—Beng reg. XI of 1825 s. 4 cls 3 & 5.

Held that cl 3 s 4 Regulation XI of 1825 is applicable when the chur land is thrown up for the first time, and is not capable of being identified; but where the land thrown up forms a portion of the old mouzah, and can be identified, cl 5, s. 4 of the said enactment would be applicable; and in the absence of any particular local custom the claim in respect of such land must be decided according to the principles of equity.

Todee Singh v Gardner 2 Agra 342.

(3) SUIT OF ALLUVIAL LANDS.

118—Suit for alluvial lands—Beng. Reg. XI of 1825, s. 5, cl. 5.—

In a suit for alluvial lands, if the defendant pleads, and can establish his plea, that the lands in question were gradual accessions to his estate, neither the ground of re-formation on the old site, nor that of prior possession for a short period, can avail the plaintiff. If, however, the plea be found against the defendant, the matter must be disposed of according to cl. 5, s. 5. Regulation XI of 1825. Govind Nath Sandyal v. Nubocoomar Banerjee, 8 W R 206.

119—Beng. Reg. XI of 1825, s. 4, cl. 5.—

Where plaintiff alleges that his and the defendant's villages were washed away, and have re-formed on the same site, and no third party claims the new formation as an increment to his estate, the question of title will have to be determined by cl. 5, s 4 of Regulation XI of 1825.

Jannobee Chowdhrain v. Collecter of Mymensingh, 8 W R 287.

Notes:—Ref: 2 Bom 19.

(6) RIGHT OF PURCHASERS TO ACCRETION (120-125).

(1) Reformation since purchase.

120—Re-formation since purchase.—

Accretion-Contd.

6 Right of Purchasers to Accretion Contd,

The purchaser of an estate found by actual measurement the year before to consist of a certain number of bighas with a specified rental can have no claim to re-formations of land belonging to the mehal as it originally stood.

Jugobundhoo Bose v. Koomoodinee Kant Banerjee Chowdhry, 19 W R 89.

(2) INCREMENTS NOT MENTIONED IN CERTIFICATE OF SALE.

121—Increments not mentioned in certificate of sale —

Where a mehal which has been diminished by diluvion is sold at auction by the Collector, who apprizes the public of the existing area, his specification of such area in no way limits the terms of the certificate of sale, or restricts the right of the purchaser to claim thereafter any accretion to the estate, the increment being always a contingent right which the zamindar has. 21 W R 115. Affirmed on review 22 W R 23.

Idan v. Nund Kishore, 25 W R 390.

Notes:—Dist. 24 W R 91; 2 C L R 39. Ex: 22 W R 52. Ref: 2 Bom 19; 35 Cal 621; 10 C L J 420.

(3) LANDS TAKEN ON SETTLEMENT FROM GOVERNMENT.

122—Lands taken on settlement from Government.—

Parties settling with Government are entitled to all the proprietary rights of the Government, including the re-formed lands, unless they take the estate at a reduced jumma from that fixed at the original settlement, in which case they are in the position of a proprietor who has accepted a remission of revenue in consideration of the loss of area of the land, a situation which disentitles them to the lands re-formed. Krishto Mohun Bysack v. Collector of Dacca, 24 W R 91.

Notes:—Ref: 2 C L R 39.

(4) PURCHASE OF LAND FROM GOVERNMENT—RIGHT TO INCREMENT.

123—Purchase of land from Government—Right to increments.—

Accretion-Contd.

6 Right of Purchasers to Accretion-Contd.

Plaintiff bought a certain chur, situated between two branches of a river, from the Government, the sale notification stating that the chur contained a certain area and was subject to a certain jumma. It appeared that at a former time the chur had been much larger and extended over a site afterwards covered with deep water, but on which, and before the plaintiff's purchase, new land had formed by accretion to the opposite side of the channel. In a suit for possession of the newly-formed land on the ground that it was re-formation on an old site. — Held, that what the Government sold and what plaintiff bought was the chur as it existed at the date of the purchase. 28 W R 115, cited and distinguished. Gholam Ali Chowdhry v. Collector of Backergunge, 2 C L R 39.

124—Reg. XI of 1825, Ss. 4, 5—Alluvion and diluvion—Accretion — Auction purchaser at a sale for arrears of revenue, right of, to accretion.—

An auction purchaser of an entire estate at a sale for arrears of revenue is entitled to recover all lands included in the taluq at the time of its settlement as well as all lands which had subsequently accereted thereto by alluvion. Where lands had in fact become dry, not naturally by accretion through gradual alluvion but by reason of the diversion of its water through an artificial channel:—Held, that the mere fact that an accretion of some lands had commenced before the excavation of the channel would not give the riparian owner a title to the rest of the lands, if it were found that they were not formed by alluvion. The law relating to lands formed by accretion and dereliction of river discussed.

Kanta Proshad Hajari v. Abdul Jamir Sadayar, 8 C W N 676.

(5) PROPERTY NOT ATTACHED BECAUSE SUBMERGED.

125—Submerged land—Accretion.

F owned a share in a village M, which in 1875, was divided into two separate mahals, K and U, and Government revenue was separately assessed on each mahal. In 1876 K was entirely submerged by the Ganges. On the 20th September, 1877, F's share was sold in execution of a decree, and the auction purchaser was put in possession. In the sale certificate, the village M was named without specific mention of either of the mahals, and the Government revenue referred to was the amount assessed on U only. Subsequently the river receded, and part of K was again left dry and it was treated by the revenue authority as having accreted by alluvion to U in the proprietary possession of the auction purchaser. Held, that, this view was erroneous inasmuch as before the auction-sale of 20th September, 1877, the two properties were separate, being separately assessed with revenue, and the incidents of the ownership of one could not affect the ownership of the other; and since there was no such rule of law as justifies the proposition that simply because two mahals are contiguous and one of them is liable to be submerged, therefore it is nothing more or less than an accretion to the other. Held, also that inasmuch as the mahal K. being at the time under water, was not attached in execution of the decree against F. and was not advertized for sale, and the revenue assessed thereon was not referred to in the sale proceedings, and the sale certificate contained no reference to it as the property sold, the sale of the 20th September, 1877, did not convey any rights to the auction purchaser in respect of K, Second Appeal No. 16 of 1884 from a decree of F A Bollack, Esq, officiating District Judge of Allahabad, dated the 12th September, 1883, affirming a decree of Pandit Indar Narain Munsif of Allahabad, dated the 16th July 1883) referred to. Fida Husain v. Kutu Husain, 7 All 38=4 W N 257

Accretion—Concld.

6 Right of Purchasers to Accretion—Concld.

Notes:—Diss: 9 All 136 Dist: 10 Mad 169.

Accrual of cause of action.

See (1) Limitation Act.
(2) Cause of Action.

Accrual of Right

See Right of Suit.

Accrual of Right to sue

See (1) Right of suit
(2) Limitation Act.

Accrual of right to sue on death of widow

See (1) Hindu Law—(Widow).
(2) „ „ —Reversioners
(3) Limitation Act Art 141

Accumulations

(1) Income (1-2).
(2) Right of Hindu Widow (3-6).

See (1) Hindu Law-Alienation-Alienation by widow—Income and Accumulation.
(2) Hindu Law—Joint Family-Nature and interest in, Joint Property Ancestrial Property.
(3) Hindu Law-Widow-Interest in Estate of Husband—By Inheritance.
(4) Hindu Law—Widow—Power of Widow—Power of Disposition or Alienation.
(5) Hindu Law-Will-Construction of Wills.

(1) INCOME.

1—Income—Hindu window—Accumulations are not income, and cannot be dealt with by a Hindu widow as such; they should be treated in same way as the corpus of the estate.
Grose v Amitamayi Dasi. 4 B L R O C 3= 12 W R O C 13.

2—But income and accumulations are not the same thing: therefore, quære, whether she can deal with accumulations as she can with income.
Harendranarayan. Kailasnath Ghose v Biswanath Biswas. 4 B L R O C 41.

(2) RIGHT OF HINDU WIDOW.

3—Right of Hindu-widow—Accumulations of income from her husband's estate.—A Hindu widow is entitled to the accumulations of income from her husband's estate. Pannalal Seal v Bamasundari Dasi 6 B L R 732.

Notes—Ref 5 Cal 512.

4—Widow purchasing immoveable property with accumulations—Where a widow purchased immoveable property with the profits of her husband's estate, it was held, to form part of her husband's estate, in absence of any proof of any distinct intention on her part to sever such purchases from the estate and appropriate it to herself. Gonda Kooer v. Kooer Oodey Singh. 14 B L R 159.

See Chowdhry Bholanath Thakur v, Bhagabati Deyi 7 B L R 93.

In that case it was held that, though a Hindu widow is not competent to alienate property acquired by her out of funds derived from her husband, yet where the property was conveyed to her under a deed, to enjoy for her life-time and to incur all necessary expenses, she was entitled to invest sums of money out of the income for the benefit of her daughters in purchasing immoveable property for their maintenance. But this decision was reversed by the privy council on the construction of the deed.

Accumulations-Contd.

Bhaga Batti Deyi v. Bholanath Thakoor 1 Cal 104.

Notes;—Fol 9 Cal 758. Con: 25 W R 335. Ref: 5 Cal 512, 10 Cal 324 P C.

4 A—Immoveable property purchased with accumulations—Immoveable property purchased by a Hindu widow with the profits of her husband's estate, there being no proof of any distinct intention on her part to server such purchases from the estate and appropriate it to herself, held to form part of her husband's estate. Gonda Kooer v. Kooer Oodey Singh 14 B L R 159. See also, Chowdhry Bholanath Thakoor v Bhagabati Deyi, 7 B L R 93.

5—Construction—Direction to accumulate, validity of:—It is not incompetent for a Hindu testator to direct accumulations. Principles governing the validity of directions for accumulations examined and explained. 24 Cal 589 on app., 25 Cal 662 and 4 Cal 443 ref. to.

Rajendra Lall Agarwalla v. Rajkoomari. 11 C W N 65=34 Cal 5.

6.—Will—Construction—General charitable intention—Charity not established—Accumulated interest,if part of the residue-Blood relations right of to have the administration of charity —Cypres doctrine.

Where a testator made a bequest in the following words " (1) I give in charity twelve to sixteen thousand rupees, for building a lower roomed house and premises, for the establishment of a charitable dispensary, and fifty thousand rupees for carrying on the said dispensary. (2) The executors shall demarcate one portion of the joint garden—house we have at R, as my separate share, and erect the buildings, thereon, and after purchasing company's papers for fifty thousand rupees, shall, out of the interest thereof continue to carry on the work of the charitable dispensary. On to the said dispensary they shall put up a sign board of stone with my name written on it, and they shall likewise have the power of paying over the said amount, and making over the charge of carrying on the work of the said charitable dispensary into the hands of Government," but the dispensary was not established, and interest had accumulated on the fund. Held, that cl. (1) indicated a general charitable intention of the testator;

Accumulations-Concld.

That, applying the Cypres doctrine, the general charitable intention should not fail to be carried out, merely because the executors are all dead and the particular land on which the testator desired the dispensary to be erected is not available for the purpose; that cl. (2) did not show any intention on the part of the testator, that this particular charity is to remain under the administration of any of the testator's relative; that the mere fact that the charity has not been established earlier does not render the interest accrued on the fund, applicable as a portion of the residue of the estate. But it forms part of the capital for the purpose of carrying out the charity.

Advocate-General of Bengal v.Belchambers. 36 Cal 261=1 Ind Cas 944.

Accumulations, period up to which they may be dealt with

See (1) Hindu Law—Alienation-Alienation by widow.

(2) Hindu Law—Will—Construction of wills-Special cases of construction.

Acknowledgment

See Cases under. (1) Mahomedan Law-Acknowledgment.

(2) Stamp Act, 1879 s. 3, cl. 4.

(3) Cases under Stamp Act 1879. sch. 1, Art 1 Act 5 sch II

Acknowledgment of Debt.

See (1) Limitation Act (1908) S. 19.

(2) Limitation Act (1908) Art 64

Acknowledgment of title.

See (1) Limitation Act (1908) S. 19

Acknowledgment-Concld.

(2) Contract Act s. 25 (1) and s. 62.

1—Acknowledgment of debt contained in unregistered document—Admissibility of document as evidence of acknowledgment.—When an unregistered document, which is compulsorily registrable, contains an acknowledgment of a debt, it is admissble as evidence to prove such acknowledgment Khushalo v. Behari Lal. 3 All 523.

See—also cases under:—

(1) Registration Act S. 17 and S. 50.

(2) Evidence Act S.92.

(3) Limitation Act S. 19.

Acknowledgment differs from agreement.

See Dekkan Agriculturists Relief Act Sec, 72 (a).

Acknowledgment Effect of on illegitimate children.

See Mahomedan Law acknowledgment.

Acknowledgment of adoption.

See Evidence—Civil cases—Miscellaneous documents acknowledgment.

Acknowledgment of debt after period of limitation has expired.

See Contract Act Sec 25, cl. III.

Acknowledgment of liability.

See Limitation Act Sec 19.

Acknowledgment of mortgage.

See Limitation Act (1908) Art 148, and S. 19.

Acknowledgment of mortgagor's title by one of several mortgagees as agent for the others

See (1) Limitation Act—S. 19.

(2) Limitation Act Art s. 134, 135 and 147.

Acknowledgment of other Rights.

See Limitation Act S 19.

Acknowledgment of son.

See Mahomedan Law Acknowledgment.

Acknowledgment of Tenancy by receipt of Rent

See Landlord and Tenant.

Acquiescence

See also Cases under:—

(1) Estoppel—Estoppel by Conduct.

(2) Jurisdiction—Question of Jurisdiction—Consent of Parties and Waiver of Jurisdiction.

(3) Laches.

(4) Landlord and Tenant-Buildings on land, right to remove, and compensation for, Improvements.

(5) Common Land.

(6) Arbitration (Awards).

(7) Principal and Agent.

(8) Buildings on another's land).

Acquiescence-

(1) Laches (1—2).

(2) Delay. (3)

(3) Delay in bringing suit (4).

(4) Delay in enforcing rights with knowledge (5—8).

(5) Delay in making objection (9-12 and 12A).

(6) Delay in opposing erection of Building (13).

Acquiescence-Contd.

(7) Erection of Building without objection. (14-30).

(8) Cultivating land without objection (31-31A).

(9) Cultivation and changing character of Land (32—33A)

(10) Acquiescence in title by conduct (33B).

(11) Conduct defeating title (34-35),

(12) Presumption from allowing grant of certificate unopposed (36 & 36A-36D).

(13) Not objecting to sale (37 and 37A).

(14) Pre-emption (38A—38B)

(15) Account made in course of usual dealing (39-40).

(16) Sending agent to settle rent (41 and 41A)

(17) Receipt of Rent in lieu of grant of Land (42).

(18) Accepting lower rent than that entitled to for long time. (43).

(19) Long possession by tenant without lease (44-44A).

(20) Allowing part owner to work forfiture of tenure as if full owner (45-62).

3 General Cases (63-70).

(1) LEACHES.

1.—Laches—Doctrine of laches and applicability of—Limitation.

The equitable doctrine of laches and acquiescence does not apply to suits for which a period is provided in the Limitation Acts.

Ram Rau v Raja Rau. 2 M H C R 114.
Taruckchander Bhattacharjee v Huro Sunkur Sandyal. 22 W R 267.
Contra Uda Begam v Imamudin. 1 All, 82.

Notes:—Ap: 1 All 82. Ref : 2 M H C R 428; 3 Mad 145; 20 Bom 298.

1 A—Redemption—Maxim—Redeem up and foreclose down—Decree nisi—Res judicata—Civ. Pro. Code (Act V of 1908), S 11—Registration Act (XVI of 1908), Ss. 17, 49—Document severable in parts - Some parts not requiring registration— Document can so far be used in evidence—Company—Directors de facto-Notice to strangers—Mortgagee in possession-Agreement empowering him to charge for his personal services-Agreement valid—Clog on the equity of redemption—Once a mortgage always a mortgage—Manager of a Mill—Acqiescence—Elements of—Fraud, what constitutes.

Acquiescence-Contd.

1 Laches—Contd.

When there is more than one mortgage upon a property, then the rule is, redeem up,and foreclose down, which, in fact, means that the first mortgagee suing for foreclosure must make all subsequent mortgagees parties to the suit and so afford each in turn the chance of redeeming before being foreclosed. The first mortgagee can neither foreclose nor be redeemed by the original mortgagor without taking into account intermediate encumbrances. If the intermediate encumbrancers, who are parties to the suit, do not choose to exercise their rights to redeem, each in turn would be foreclosed before the first mortgagee could come into touch with the mortgagor.

A decree nisi in itself from its nature is provisional and requires the party seeking to have it enforced to move it absolute. Whether the decree be procured by the mortgagor or the mortgagee, it is in the option of either party to enforce it and have it converted into a decree absolute but until one or the other party does so, it never can be a final decision or constitute res judicata .

Where a decree is couched in general terms and a question of res judicata arises upon it, the Court may look at all the intrinsic evidence before it and the materials of the case as a whole, even going so far as statements in the depositions of witnesses.

Where a document, which as a whole requires registration but is not registered, contains separable parts which do not require registration, those parts may be admitted in evidence to prove transactions which ex hypothesi do not affect immoveable property of the value of Rs. 100 or upwards.

An agreement whereby the mortgagee in possession agrees with his mortgagor to carry on the management of a mill (the property mortgaged) and to finance it in consideration of his getting a fixed remuneration, is not compulsorily registrable.

As between a Company and persons having no notice to the contrary, directors de facto are as good as directors de jure.

Acquiescence-Contd.

1 Laches—Contd.

Outsiders dealing with a Company are bound to acquaint themselves with its external position, which can usually be gathered from the papers of their constitution, the Memorandum of Association and the Articles of Association, but are not bound to inquire into and satisfy themselves upon all the details of the Company's in-door management. This principle requires modification where the persons sought to be affected with notice are themselves within the Company.

An agreement, whereby a mortgagee in possession agrees with his mortgagor to charge for his personal services, is valid, if it does not constitute a clog on the equity of redemption. The maxim "once a mortgage always a mortgage" means that there can be no additional contract so as to preclude the mortgagor from redeeming.

It does not include previous or part agreements independent of the mortgage, unless they are unconscionable or clearly obtained by undue influence or the abuse of fiduciary relations.

The payment of fair remuneration to the manager of a large concern like a spinning and weaving mill, to keep it in a high state of efficiency, is not a clog on the equity of redemption; and in principle it makes no difference whether the manager is the mortgagee in possession or a third party.

The acquiescence which will deprive a man of his legal rights must amount to fraud.

A man is not to be deprived of his legal rights, unless he has acted in such a way as to make it fraudulent for him to set up those rights. The elements or requisites necessary to constitute the fraud are (1) the plaintiff must have made a mistake as to his legal rights; (2) he must have expended some money or must have done some act on the faith of such mistaken belief; (3) the defendant, the possessor of the legal right, must know of the existence of his own right which is inconsistent with the right claimed by the plaintiff; (4) the defendant must know of the plaintiff's mistaken belief on his rights; and (5) the defendant must have encouraged the plaintiff in his expenditure of money or in the other acts which he has done, either directly or by abstaining from asserting his legal right. All these elements must exist together.

7 Bom. 467, Commented on 24 Cal. 504, F

Acquiescence-Contd.

1 Laches—Contd.

(1875) L R 7 H L 869, (1896) 2 Ch. 93 F (1880) 15 Ch. 96, F.

The Hope Mills Limited v Sir Cowasji J Readymoney Bart. 13 Bom L R 162.

1B—Art. 149 — Estoppel — Acquiescence—Proof of—Evidence Act, S. 115—Building upon the land of another—Practice—Allegations, vague and loose—Judge to ascertain real controversy.

Where parties make vague and loose allegations, it is always essential to the correct determination of the suit that the real controversy between them should be ascertained by the Judge by questioning their legal advisers as to what exactly their position is in the matter.

Where both parties to a suit are equally conversant with the true state of facts, the doctrine of estoppel cannot be referred to.

In a suit by the Secretary of State for India in Council brought in 1909 against the defendants to recover possession of a small strip of land which adjoined the latter's property, it appeared that the land was in the defendants' possession and enjoyment for 48 years; that it was not entered in the Government records in any of the land registers; that the defendants built on the land after receiving permission of the Municipality in 1895; that all the Government officers of the place were aware of the fact; that the building, while under construction, was inspected from time to time by Municipal officers; that, in maps prepared by the Municipality and by the Revenue authorities, the land had been shown as defendants'; and that the Commissioner and the Government had decided that they could not eject the defendants. In the title-deed of the defendants, which was dated 1871, the land was stated to be the property of Government, and the statement was repeated in a latter document of 1895. At the trial, the defendants desired to lead evidence on the foregoing points with a view to make out estoppel and acquiescence against Government:—

Held, (1) that, even accepting the case as put by the defendants, it made no case for the admission of evidence. The Secretary of State was in no way concerned with anything which might have been done by the Municipality; and it could not assist the defendants, if, in certain maps of the Revenue authorities, made by those authorities for their own guidance, the strip of land was inaccurately described.

Acquiescence-Contd.

1 Laches-Contd.

(2) That the present was a case where the defendants, having been perfectly aware that the land in suit was the property of the Government and that they, the defendants, had no right over it beyond certain easements, encroached upon the land in the hope that their encroachment might escape the notice of the agents of the plaintiff at the place.

(3) That the defendants' title-deeds having brought to their knowledge the title of the Government, the doctrines of estoppel and acquiescence were not applicable, and the suit was governed by sixty years limitation (Limitation Act, 1908, Art. 149). Ranchod Lal v. Secretary of State, 13 Bom L R 92=9 Ind Cas 765.

1C—As a bar to suit—Waiver—Laches.

Laches means a neglect to do some thing which by law a man is obliged to do. To bar a remedy, it must amount either to waiver, abandonment, or acquiescence. To raise the presumption of any of these, the evidence of conduct must be plain and unambiguous.

Peer Mahomed v. Mahomed 7 Bom L R 200 =29 Bom 234.

Notes:—9 Bom L R 1117. Foll.

1D—Acquiescence, meaning of —— Whether question of law.—

Acquiescence is quiescence under such circumstances as that assent may be reasonably inferred from it and is no more than an instance of the law of estoppel by words or by conduct; in other words acquiescence does not mean simply an active, intelligent consent, but it may be implied, if a person is content not to oppose irregular acts which he knows are being done—2 Phill 117 L R 3 H L 249, 203, and 2 Ha and Tw, 221 referred to. L R 19 I A 203 Ref. to and followed; 15 Ch D 96 ref. to and doubted. Ananda Chandra Sen v. Parbati Nath Sen, 4 C L J 199.

2—Limitation.—The right which a plaintiff has got vested in him is not barred by mere laches or acquiescence short of the Limitation period. Semble—The doctrine of Laches or acquiescence is applicable only in those cases in which they can be regarded as positive extinguishment of rights. When they go merely to the remedy it is not within the power of the court to substitute an extinguishing prescription different from that established by the Legislature.

Peddamuthulati v. Timma Reddy, 2 Mad HC R 270.

Notes:—Ap: 1 All 82; 5 Cal 148 P C; Ref: 2 M H C R 383; 12 Cal 389; 4 Mad 1 F B; 18 Mad 73, 21 Mad 42; 27 Bom 515.

Acquiescence-Concld.

1 Laches-Concld.

(2) DELAY.

3—Delay—Circumstances constituting delay and acquiescence discussed. Jamnadas Shankarlal v. Atmaram Harjivan. 2 Bom 133.

Notes:—Fol: 16 Bom 533 Ref: 16 Cal 252; 21 Mad 42; 33 Cal 633; 27 Bom 515.

(3) DELAY IN BRINGING SUIT

4—Delay in bringing suit.—

Long acquiescence held on the facts to bar a suit for possession after assignment.

Jan Koonwar v Ram Ruttun Neoghy. 18 W R 500.

(4) DELAY IN ENFORCING RIGHTS WITH KNOWLEDGE OF THEM.

5—Delay in enforcing rights with knowledge of them.—

Where the plaintiff in 1859 instituted a suit for a share of certain property which he admitted had been for nine years in the defendants' possession, and which the defendants alleged had been sold to them in 1850—Held, that the plaintiff's taking no steps during that time to enforce his alleged rights amounted to acquiescence on his part in the sale. Nilatatchi v. Venkatachala Mudali, 1 M H C 131.

Notes:—Fol: 5 M H C R 464. Ref: 2 M H C R 428.

6—Presumption from long delay—Estoppel.—In a suit by plaintiffs (who had been in possession of the land in dispute under and ever since the date of a pottah granted to them by the Collector in 1813) to have their title under the pottah declared, the defendants were held, by their long acquiescence in taking no steps within 12 years to have the pottah declared invalid, to have concluded themselves from now saying that it was illegal, and that the Collector had no power to grant it. Sunt Lall Misser v. Bhurosee Issur, 18 W R 57.

7—Contract—Undue influence—Acquiescence by conduct—Exchange of land.—

Where the owner of certain land exchanges it

Acquiescence- Contd.

4 Delay in enforcing Rights—Concld

for certain other land, but takes a lease for one year of the former land and pays the rent thereof, and receives and retains the rents of the land he has acquired by the exchange, he shows so complete an acquiescence in the transaction that he cannot afterwards have it set aside on the ground of undue influence. Seetharama Raju v. Bayanna Pantulu, 17 Mad 275.

8—Acquiescence in lease by Executors which they had no power to make—Estoppel — Representation not acted on.—

Where the devisee of an estate for six years after coming of age and succeeding to the estate signed rent bills in respect of land which the executors of his testator had purported to lease for 999 years, and such rent bills contained a representation that the land had been given to the lessees on fazendari tenure.—Held, that, in the absence of any evidence that the lessees had been deceived by or had acted upon such representation, the devisee was not estopped from contesting the validity of the lease. A man cannot be precluded from asserting his own rights by acquiescence in acts of other parties inconsistent with them unless (1) he has actual knowledge as distinguished from the means of knowledge of his rights; (2) he has knowledge that the persons acting inconsistently with them are doing so under the mistaken belief that they are exercising rights of their own; (3) he has encouraged the parties so acting to spend money or do other acts either directly or by abstaining from asserting his legal rights. L R 15 Ch D 96, followed.

Jugmohandas Vundrawandas v. Pallonjee Eduljee Mobedina, 22 Bom 1.

Notes:—Ref: 27 Cal 570; 5 C W N 846; 14 M L J 25; 27 Mad 211; 9 Bom L R 404, 27 Bom 515; 13 C W N 931 Fol: 6 C W N 134 Ex: 27 Bom 537.

(5) DELAY IN MAKING OBJECTION

9—Delay in making objection—Presumption of consent.

In a suit to avoid alienations effected by the plaintiff's father at a time when the plaintiff was living in commensality with his father as a member of a joint family, which suit was brought after 12 or 13 years had been allowed to go by without any objection, save the filing of a petition of protest in a Court of Justice, whereof the

Acquiescence-Contd.

5 Delay in making Objection—Contd

vendees were not made aware,—Held that the plaintiff was rightly considered to have consented to the alienations. Ram Kishore Narain Singh v. Anund Misser 21 W R 12

Notes:—Ref 12 Cal 389.

10—Knowledge of transaction—Presumption of consent.

Before a man can be held to have given by his conduct an implied assent to a transaction especially one which operates as a conveyance of a valuable estate, it must be shown that he was fully aware of what the transaction was, and what effect it would have upon his interests at the time he so conducted himself as to indicate assent. Jago Bundhoo Tewaree v Kurum Singh 22 W R 341

10 A—Arbitration award, if binding on a person not party to the reference—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) s. 506—Acquiescence—Conduct of the party.

Mere silence on the part of a person not party to an order of reference to arbitration and his omission to inform the arbritrators that he was not a party to the reference cannot make the award of the arbitrators binding him even though during the arbitration, he produced through a servant a document before the arbitrators in obedience to a summons and declined to produce others. Beni Madhub Mitter v Preo Nath Mandal. 5 C W N 268=28 Cal 303.

Notes—Ref: 14 C W N 75; 10 C L J 41.

11—Suit to close a road—Presumption of consent.

The plaintiff not having opposed the making of a road until its completion was held not entitled to sue to have it closed. Radha Nath Banerjee v Joy Kishen Mookerjee 1 W R 288.

12—suit to close road—Presumption of consent.

If A construct a road across B's land, B can sue within the ordinary period of limitation, and no consent can be inferred from the fact that B did not sue immediately after the commencement or completion of the road. Huro Soonduree Debia v Ram Dhun Bhuttacharjee 7 W R 276.

Notes—Con: 12 W R 519.

Acquiescence-Contd.

5 Delay in making Objection—Concld.

12 A-Widow—Consent. The consent by a widow to an adoption made by her co-widow, may be intimated by conduct as well as by acts: and acquiescence may under certain cricumstances be taken to be consent.

Mere presence is not necessarily equivalent to consent, for consent in this connection implies an intelligent concurrence on due consideration, and it is for the Court to determine whether the whole circumstances of the case invite the inference that such a consent has been given, bearing in mind that the consent required is a matter, not of form, but of substance. Bhimappa v. Basawa 7 Bom L R 405=29 Bom 400.

(6) DELAY IN OPPOSING ERECTION OF BUILDING.

13—Delay in opposing erection of building—Presumption of consent.

In a suit for the demolition of a privy erected on plaintiff's land, it having appeared that plaintiff was aware of the erection of the privy and had allowed it to be completed and to remain standing for at least seven years, his application was refused. Bromo Moyee Debia Chowdrain v Koomodinee Kant Banerjee. Baroda Kant Banerjee v. Koomo-dinee Kant Banerjee 17 W R 467.

(7)ERECTION OF BUILDING WITHOUT OBGECTION

14—Erection of building without objection.

Acquiescence must be inferred when a person stands by and allows another to erect a pucca building on his land, and a suit would not lie for the demolition of the building, but only for damages or rent of land. Hurro Chunder Mookerjee v. Hullodhur Mookerjee W R 1864, 166 Nil Kant Sahoo v. Jugoo Sahoo 20 W R 328.

14A-By silence-Building on another's land on mistaken knowledge of ownership—Owner's rights.

If a stranger builds upon the land of another, although believing it to be his own, the owner is entitled to recover the land with the buildings on it unless there are special circumstances amounting to a standing by on the part of the real owner such as to induce the belief that he intended to forego his right. Vinayakrao Ganpatrao v. Vidyasankar Bharati 9 Bom L R 405.

Acquiescence-Contd.

7 Erection of Building without objection-Contd

15—Building by trespasser on land.

When a trespasser tortiously enters upon the land of another and builds a house thereon, the party injured is entitled to recover possession of the land by destroying the house if there is no proof of acquiescence on his part in the act of injury done. Gobind Purmanick v. Gooroo Churn Dutt. 3 W R 71

Gujadhur Singh v. Nand Ram I Agra 244.

Notes—Ref: 7 W R 150; 6 All 370.

16—Suit for restcration of land to former condition.

The rights of a co-sharer in a joint estate were sold by auction, but it did not appear that a site held by him in the village passed by the sale, and the site remained in the possession of his heirs, who sold it to the defendant, who erected a shop thereon. Twenty years after the auction sale, the plaintiffs, some of the co-sharers in the joint estate, sued for demolition of the house, and the restoration of the site to the village.—Held that, under the cricumstances, the claim could not be maintained. Bahadoor v Shadee Ram 2 Agra, 3.

17—Right to remove building.

Where H, knowing that B claimed certain land as his own, nevertheless purchased the land from a third person and erected a bungalow upon it which B did not interfere to prevent,—it was held that the Euglish rule of equity, which, under such circumstances, would allow B to recover the land with the bungalow upon it, ought not to be applied in India, but that H should be allowed to remove the bungalow he had erected.

Narayan Bin Raghaji v. Bholagir Guru Manjir. Hormasji Sorabji v Bholagir Guru Manjir. Bholagir Guru Manjir v. Hormasji Sorabji 6 B H C 80.

Notes—Dist: 9 Bom L R 1181 : 32 Bom 52. Ref: 20 Bom 1; 298.

17A——Acquiescence—Tenant building on landlord's land—Silence—Estoppel.

An abstinence from interference on the part of the owner of land, upon which another man is building, does not raise an equitable estoppel against him. In order to estop the owner it must be proved that besides his abstinence there was a mistaken belief in the builder that the land was his own property. (21 All 496 (P C) Fol:).

Acquiescence—Contd.

7 Erection of Building without objection.—Contd.

Muhammad Umardasaz Khan v Maru. 6 A L J 57.

17B—Defendant building on plaintiff's land —Both under mistaken belief that land belongs to defendant—Suit for recovery of land by plaintiff.

Where the defendant built a wall upon plaintiff's land under the belief that it belonged to himself and the plaintiff being also under the same mistaken belief offered no obstruction and the plaintiff on discovery of the mistake sued for recovery of the land, held that, as the plaintiff, the possessor of the legal right was ignorant of his own right it was not fraudulent or inequitable for him to set up his legal right and that he was therefore entitled to possession and all that defendant could be allowed was time to remove the wall. Purshotam v Virchand. 91 P J 279.

18—Building erected on land by purchaser, owner standing by.

Where a purchaser claims to hold land which he has purchased from a third person on the ground that the owner of such land has acquiesced in the sale, the purchaser must show clearly that the real owner was aware of the sale at the time it took place. Where the owner of land was not aware of its being sold by his father to a third person, but having heard of such sale, subsequently stood by and allowed the purchaser to build upon the land,—It was held that the owner could not recover the land without compensating the purchaser for the building erected by him upon the land, and three months were allowed to the owner within which to pay such compensation.
Savaklal Karsan Das v Ora Nizmuddin. 8 B H C O C 77.

19—Right of way, interruption of.

A had a right of way over B's land. He allowed B to erect a house on the path-way and enjoy it for seven years. He then brought a suit to have the pathway re-opened by pulling down B's house. Held, A must be taken to have acquiesced in the interruption of his right of way, and his claim was one that a Court of equity and good conscience would not enforce. Beni Madhab Das v Ramjay Rokh. 1 B L R A C 213: 10 W R 316.

20—When a man builds a house on land sup-

Acquiescence—Contd.

7 Erection of Building without objection—Contd.

posing it to be his own, or believing that he has a good title, and the real owner, perceiving his mistake, refrains from setting him right, and leaves him to persevere in his error, a Court of Equity will not allow the owner to assert his legal right against the other without at least giving him full compensation. Rama v Jan Mahomed. 3 B L R A C 18: 11 W R 574.
Aruna Chellum Chetty v Olagappah Chetty 4 M H C 312.

20A—Building upon land of another—Standing by.

If a stranger builds upon the land of another, although believing it to be his own, the owner is entitled to recover the land with the buildings on it, unless there are special circumstances amounting to a standing by on the part of the real owner such as to induce the belief that he intended to forego his right. Vinayakrao v Vidyashankar 9 Bom L R 404.

Notes:—9 Bom L R 1181 Dist. 32 Bom 32.

21—Suit for ejectment—Transferable tenure —Landlord and tenant—Permissive occupation.

B and C and their father held lands for upwards of thirty five years, and built houses on the same. B and C sold their tenures to D and E. A, the zemindar, who had not objected to the building, now sued to eject D and E as trespassers. Evidence was given that the tenures were, by the custom of the country, transferable. Held, A could not eject D and E. Beni Madhab Banerjee v Jai Krishna Mookerjee. 7 B L R 152: 12 W R 495.

Upholding on appeal, Kemp J in S C. 11 W R 354.
See Eshan Chunder Ghose v Hurrish Chunder Banerjee. 10 B L R Ap 5: 18 W R 19. and Nabu Mondul v Cholim Mullik. 25 Calc 896.

22—Erection of pucca building more than 20 years ago—Presumption as to permanent character of tenancy—Second appeal, power of Court to question inference from fact in—Omission of the Appellate Court to take into consideration circumstances affecting landlord's acquiescence.

A landlord by merely not objecting to his tenant's raising a pucca building does not confer on the tenant a permanent right te remain on the land. But long possession coupled with the acquiescence of the landlord in the raising of pucca buildings and his continuing to receive rent from the raiyat after such buildings have been raised may justify the inference that a tenant has a permanent right. 18 Bom 66, referred to. But there are circumstances which may go far to weaken the force of that inference, and one of these is the circumstance of the landlord's interest being let out in ijara at the time the building was raised. The absence of objection, on the part of the landlord to the erecting of a permanent building by a tenant during the continuance of an ijara of the landlord's interest should not be construed as amounting to acquiescence such as might be inferred where the landlord is in direct receipt of rent from the tenant. 12 W R 495 distinguished.

Acquiescence—Contd.

7 Erection of Building without objection—Contd.

Krishna Kishore Neogi v Mahomed Ali. 3 C W N 255.

Notes:—Ref: 6 C W N 134; 27 Cal 570; 5 C W N 846.

23—Assignable interest—Sale in execution of decree.

The plaintiff permitted B to erect a thatched dwelling-house with mud walls on a piece of land belonging to the plaintiff, and B dwelt in it for more than forty years. Held that B had an assignable interest on the house and land, which could, therefore, be seized and sold in execution of a decree against B, and that the purchaser who had obtained possession could not be dispossessed at the suit of the plaintiff. Durgaprasad Misser v Brindabun Sookul. 7 B L R 159: 15 W R 274.

24—Land let for building purposes.

A landlord who allows his lessee to invest capital in erecting buildings on lands let for cultivation, and raises no objection for a considerable number of years, will not be allowed to disturb the holding. The fact of buildings having been permitted without objection to stand on lands for a considerable number of years is prima facie proof that the land had been originally leased for building purposes. Braja Nath Kundu Chowdry v Stewart. 8 B L R Ap 51. 16 W R 216.

25—Permissive occupancy—Right of possession as against purchaser.

Where the defendant had been in possession of land for more than thirty years, and had without objection built upon the land,—Held that he had not by such permissive occupancy acquired a right to retain possession when served with notice to quit by a purchaser of the land.

Addaita Charan Dey v Peter Das. 13 B L R 417 note: 17 W R 383.

26—Permanent tenancy—Lease for a specified purpose—Lessee's erecting pucca buildings not for the specified purpose—Lessor's knowledge of the erection of the buildings—Ejectment, suit for—Acquiescence—Presumption.

The appellant's predecessors let to the defendants' predecessors a piece of land for the construction thereon of salt-petre factory at the annual rent of Rs 28, in the year 1858, under the condition that until the lease was continued to be paid, the lessors would not be competent to dispossess the lessees. It appeared from evidence that salt-petre was manufactured on the land only for four or five years; and that after that time pucca shops had been built by the lessees. The evidence also showed that not only did the original lessor not object to the enclosing of the buildings when they were being erected, and stood by, but that by continuing to receive rents from the lessees, even after the erection of the buildings, and even though the salt-petre factory, for which the land was let, had ceased to exist, he sanctioned the lessees doing so. The lessees therefore, contended that the appellants, the successors of the original lessors, were equitably stopped from now suing for their ejectment:

Held, (1) that in order to raise the equitable estoppel against the lessors, it was incumbent upon the lessees to show that the conduct of the owners, whether consisting in abstinence from interfering, or in active intervention, was sufficient to justify the legal inference that they had, by plain implication contracted that the right of tenancy under which the lessees originally obtained possession of the land, should be changed into a perpetual right of occupation: and that the lessees had failed to discharge themselves of that onus.

(2) That the mere erection by the tenant of permanent structures upon the land let to him in the knowledge of and without interference by his lessor, would not suffice to raise the equitable estoppel against the latter.

Acquiescence—Contd.

7 Erection of Building without objection—Contd.

(3) That the maxim "quic quid incedificatum solo solo cedit" has, in Indian Law, no application to the present case, and the rule established in India is that of section 108 of the Transfer of Property Act.

(4) That acquiescence was not a question of fact, but of legal inference from the facts so found: and upon it the judgment of the appellate Court are not final.

The owner of land cannot sue for ejectment where he sees another person erecting buildings upon it, and knowing that such other person is under the mistaken belief that the land is his own property, purposely abstains from interference, with a view of claiming the building when it is erected. Beni Ram v Kundan Lal. 1 Bom L R 400=21 All 496=26 I A 58=3 C W N 502=1906 A W N 245.

Notes—Ref: (1904) W N 70, 28 Cal 738; 27 Cal 570; 5 C W N 846, 858; 23 Bom 789; 28 Bom 440; 6 C W N 134 & 352; 14 M L J 25; (1904) W N 70; 8 C W N 235; 27 Mad 211; 6 Bom L R 440; (1908) W N 282; 6 A L J 57 Fol: 4 C L J 198; 33 Cal 1119=10 C W N 765=3 C L J 616 Dist 32 Cal 648=9 C W N 463 Appr: W N (1907) 231: 29 All 652 Ex: 1 A L J 556.

27—Acquiescing of landlord in the erection of building by a tenant.

If a tenant wants to resist ejectment on the ground that the tenancy was a permanent one and that the landlord stood by and permitted the tenant to erect pucca buildings on the land in the belief of the said tenancy being a permanent one, it is incumbent on him (tenant) to show that he had erected the buildings under an honest belief that he had a permanent right on the land and the landlord aware of the said tenant's honest belief stood by and allowed him to go on with the erection of the building. 21 All 496 L R 2 o I P 58. L R 1 E and I Ap 129. 22 Bom 1 &c L R 8 Chi Din 286. 12 Mad 320 referred to. Ismail Khan Mahomed v Jaigan Bibi. 27 Cal 570=4 C W N 210.

Notes—Rel 32 Cal 648=9 C W N 463. Fol 5 C W N 846; 6 C W N 352. Ref 13 C W N 949: 13 C W N 931; 28 Cal 738; 5 C W N 858; 14 M L J 25; 27 Mad 211: 8 C W N 301; 235; 297; 9 C W N 60.

27 A.—Landlord and tenant—Building by tenant—Landlord's acquiescence.

Acquiescence—Contd.

7 Erection of Building without objection—Contd.

In order to raise an estoppel against the landlord, it must be shown that the landlord had purposely allowed or encouraged the tenant to build, knowing that the tenant was building on the mistaken notion that he had rights beyond those of a mere tenant from year to year. Ismail Khan Mahomed v L P D Broughton. 5 C W N 846.

Notes—Ref 6 C W N 352; 9 C W N 60.

27 B—Village homestead land—Rights of land-holder in—Sale by tenant—Acquiescence—Principal and agent.

Per Knox A C J.—A person, agriculturist or agricultural tenant who is allowed by a Zemindar to build a house for his occupation in the abadi obtains, if there is no special contract to the contrary, a mere right to use that house for himself and his family so long as he maintains the house and does not abandon it by leaving the village, he has no interest which he can sell by private sale except his interest in the timber, roofing and wood-work of the house (1881) 1 A W N 114 F B and 20 All 248 referred to.

The property of or rights in the property of an absentee cannot be given away by an agent looking on and allowing a tenant to spend money. Unless it can be brought home to a principal that he knew that persons dealing with his agent so dealt in consequence of their believing that all statements made by him had been warranted by the principal and knowing this, the latter allowed the persons so dealing to expend money in the belief that the agent had an authority which, in fact he had not, those persons can enforce no equity against the principal. L R 1 E and I A 129 followed.

Per Aikman J. Where the defendant at great expense reconstructed the house he had bought, believing that he had a right to do so, and the plaintiff or his agent must have known that the defendant was spending money in this belief and yet allowed him to do so, the plaintiff could not, years after the house was finished, sue for possession of the house or its removal. The dictum in 30 All 241, declaring a custom permitting tenants to transfer houses on village homestead land to be bad, is obiter and has been dissented from by more than one Judge of the High Court. Rajnarain Mitter v Budh Sen. 1 A L J 673=27 All 338=(1904) A W N 241.

Acquiescence-Contd.

7 Erection of Building without objection—Contd.

28—Laches—Erection of buildings.

The defendant took possession of, and erected buildings on, land of the plaintiff to which they knew they had no claim without obtaining the the plaintiff's consent. The plaintiff did not use to eject them for one or two years, knowing that the defendants were building on the land. The delay was under the circumstances, held not to be fatal to the suit. Uda Begum v Imamuddin. 1 All 82

Notes—Fol 9 All 661. Dist 9 All 434, 16 All 328. Ref; 33 Cal 1119=10 C W N 765= 3 C L J 616; 14 All 362; 27 Bom 515; 532; (1908) W N 282; 6 A LJ 57; 4 C L J 198.

29—Standing by and seeing building erected—Right to removal.

In a case in which plaintiffs sought to recover possession of some land on which defendants had constructed a pucca house and in which defendants pleaded that they had purchased a building right from a third party with whom plaintiffs had settled the land, and that plaintiffs had seen them building the house in question without offering any objections,—Held that, having stood by and allowed defendants to build the house, plaintiffs could not sue to have the house removed.

Lala Gopee Chand v Lialkut Hossein. 25 W R 211.

Notes—Ap: 25 Cal 896 F B, Dist; 3 C L R 194. Diss. 17 M L J 409. Ref: 18 Bom 66; 27 Bom 515; 10 Bom L R R 1146; 33 Bom 610.

29A.—Absence of protest.

The plaintiffs sued to remove a building erected by the defendant, as being an obstruction to their right to use a courtyard adjoining their residences. It appeared that the site of the building did not belong to either party but that all the residents of the mohalla had from time immemorial exercised a right of way over it to and from their houses. Held that their was no principle of acquiescence involved in the case, inasmuch as there was no evidence that the plaintiffs had given their actual consent to the building, and that the only evidence of their acquiescence could be that they did not immediately protest.

Fatehyab Khan v Muhammad Yusuf 9 All 434=7 W N 82.

29B.—By a co-widow, to an adoption.

Acquiescence-Contd.

7 Erection of Building without objection—Concld.

The consent by a widow to an adoption made by her co-widow, may be intimated by conduct as well as by acts: and acquiescence may, under certain circumstances, be taken to be consent.

Bhimappa v Basawa 7 Bom L R 405= 28 Bom 400.

30.—by a mortgagor-Building upon mortgaged land by mortgagee.

If the mortgagee has erected a building on the property, he cannot claim a right to remove the building, before he is made to hand over the possession of the property to the reversioner.

Vijbhukandas v Dayaram 9 Bom L R 1181 =32 Bom 32.

(8) CULTIVATING LAND WITHOUT OBJECTION.

31.—Cultivating land without objection—Acquiescence——Owner standing by and seeing person without title cultivate land—Fraud and deceit.

In order to prevent the owner of land who is charged with standing by and allowing another person, who belives he has a good title thereto, to enter on the land and spend money in improving it, from recovering possession thereof, fraud and deceit on the part of the owner must be clearly proved 7 Vesey, 251. and 3 B L R A C 18: 11 W R 574, explained. Langlois v Rattray 3 C L R 1.

31A.—Cultivating on another's land—Owner not objecting—Compensation.

A man planting and cultivating on the land of another, without any objection on the part of the owner, is entitled to compensation.

Rumjan v Gool Mahomed Buksh 61 P R 1866.

(9) CULTIVATION & CHANGING CHARACTER OF LAND.

32.—Land Lord and Tenant-Forfeiture-Eviction—Altering character of land—Imporper use of land by tenant--Injunction—Specific Relief Act, I of 1877, section 56.

A tenant has no right to alter the character of the land which he holds in such a way as to permanently injure the interest of the landlord, but there is no authority for saying that where he has been guilty of a breach of duty in the use of the land as by making a tank on it, building on it or otherwise changing its character the tenancy is necessarily liable for forfeiture.

Acquiescence-Contd.

9 Cultivation & Changing Character of Land - Concld.

Quære—Whether having regard to section 56 of the Specific Relief Act an injunction will lie to restrain a tenant from permanently altering the character of lands, held, by him. But where landlord stood by and allowed the tenant to do the prohibited act the court refused to grant a mandatory injunction. Noyna Misser v Rupikun 9 Cal 609=12 C L R 300.

33.—Land was demised on kanam wet for cultivation. A variety of inprovements was made on the land by the desmise, so as to change the character of the holding. These improvements it was held, were in keeping with the purpose for which the land was demised.

A finding was entered that the landlord had been present seeing with his eyes open that the nature of the holding was being changed, which conduct of his caused a belief that he approved of the various changes that were being made. Held, on this finding on second appeal that the demisee was entitled to compensation for his improvements on redemption of the kanam. L R I E and I Ap 129 followed See (12 Mad 323 note) where however it was held that the landlord had not approved of some of the improvements & consequently compensation was not allowed for them though the tenant was permitted to remove those improvements for which compensation was refused. Kunhammed v Narayan Mussad 12 Mad 320.

Notes:—Dist: 22 Mad 39. Ref: 27 Cal 570; 20 Bom 1; 8 C W N 235.

(10) ACQUIESCENCE IN TITLE BY CONDUCT.

33A.—Acquiescence in title, by conduct. In a suit to recover possession of property it was held, on the evidence that the plaintiffs had acquiesced defendant's title by their conduct. Jeebun Mundal v Nadyar Chand Roy 25 W R 461.

33B.—In matters of alienations under customary law subsequent silence sometimes amounts to conduct precluding a suit to set aside the alienation but where the collaterals not only delayed to attack the alienation but were also concerned either in purchasing from the alienor to the exclusion of the collaterals, or cultivating under or exchanging with the defendants alienees the disputed lands, held, that they had acquiesced in the alienation and were estopped from bringing the suit. Amir v Mussammat Zebo 42 P R 1902

Acquiescence-Contd.

(11) CONDUCT DEFEATING TITLE.

34.—Acquisence in defendant's title by conduct—A suit to recover possession of property was filed in which it was held on evidence that the plaintiffs have by there conduct acquiesced in the title of the defendant. 25 W R 461.

Acquiescence by conduct-Evidence of Ratification. A suit was filed by a plaintiff, a member of undivided Hindu family to recover possession of property which his uncle the first defendant had transferred to the second defendant without any right. The second defendant denying a title to the plaintiff alleged a sale to him by the first defendant & subsequent sale by him to the third defendant. The munsif decreed for the plaintiff. An appeal was preferred to the principal Sudder Amin who held that the plaintiff had by his knowledge acquiesced in defendant's title & so reversed the decree of the munsif.-Held that such a knowledge cannot be considered sufficient to make the plaintiff party to the sale by the first defendant. The decree of the Principal Sudder Amin was reversed & the right of the plaintiff to sue in ejectment is not barred He who seeks to displace one, who is prima facie a legal owner, by showing that he has acquiesced by conduct & by such similar facts strong enough to show him to be not a formal party to the suit must prove his case, for he is one who seeks to bar the legal owner. Rajan v Basuva Chetti 2 M H C 428.

35.—Ratification—Transfer of Property—The sons, daughters and widow of a deceased Mahomedan proprietor were parties to a solehnama executed in 1847. It transferred the shares of two minor daughters in the estate having been executed by their mother on their behaf, In deciding the question whether the solehnama should be set aside at the instance of the two daughters on the ground of its having been beyond their mother's power to bind them and of the instruments having been prejudicial to their interests, the evidence showed that it had been acted on and followed by possession, and the daughters had, after attaining full age, allowed a lengthened period of twenty years to elapse without taking proceedings to dispute it:—Held, that if the mother had exceeded her powers in executing the solehnama on their behalf and if they might at one time have had it set aside, their long acquiescence was sufficient to show the ratification of the transaction

Acquiescence-Contd

11 Conduct Defeating Title—Concld, and so the solehnama was upheld.

Mahomad Abdul Kadir v Amtal Karim 16 Cal 161: L R 15 I A 220

(12) PRESUMPTION FROM ALLOWING GRANT OF CERTIFICATE UNOPPOSED.

36—Presumption from allowing grant of certificate unopposed.

In a rival claim between two Hindu widows of a deceased husband the plaintiff sued as mother and guardian of her infant son to establish his right as son and heir of his father. One defence among others was that the son was not legitimate, and could not inherit. His legitimacy was established, but the incapacity to inherit was sought to be proved by the plaintiff's virtual acknowledgment of the defendant's title as heiress on the grant of the defendant unopposed by the plaintiff of a certificate of heirship. Held that it was not the practice of the Courts in India or of the Privy Council to press against either an infant or a Hindu female a presumption by acquiescence in a rival claim from the mere non-contestation for a limited time of an adverse title.

Ramamani Ammal v Kulanthi. 17 W R 1=14 Moore's I All 346

36A—The village of Malpura of two pattis, one of Jats the other of Brahmins. In 1837, the proprietors of both pattis were unable to pay the revenue demand, and the whole village. the plaintiffs alleged, was farmed. the Jats' patti to S. R for thirty years, and the Brahmins' patti to another persons. The defendant alleged that the village was not farmed but that the proprietors, whom plaintiff now represented in 1837 relinquished their proprietary as well as malguzari rights,and in support of this allegation produced a document which they contended was an istifanamah or deed of relinquishment. In 1852, C B. purchased at a sale in execution of a decree the rights of S. R in the Jats' patti; and was recorded as proprietor : in 1858 C B sold his interest in the patti to Sita Ram. who effected dakhil kharij. Plaintiff now claimed on the ground that the 30 years' lease to S R had expired: defendant claiming through Sita Ram resited the claim of the plaintiffs on the grounds (1) that there was no farm , but a relinquishment by the proprietors of all their rights : (2) that plaintiffs had allowed their full rights to be transferred (firstly to C. B. secondly to Sita Ram) without asserting an adverse title,and were thus barred by acquiescence : and (3) that more than 12 years' possession as proprietors by those through whom defendant claimed,also barred the plaintiff's suit. The Lower Courts found a fact that there was farm-lease to S R only and no relinquishment of proprietary rights . and decreed plaintiff's claim. On defendant's special appeal to the Chief Court, it was held that as plaintiffs had no right of suit to recover possession until 1867 (the year the farm-lease expired), their suit was not barred , that as to their lying by in 1852 and 1858 when the transfers were effected , this was only some evidence that they had no claim and had actually relinquished their rights : and moreover their position in the village as cultivators did not entitle them to take part in its affairs, and they were not shown to have had express notice of the transfers.—(P R 10 of 1874).

Acquiescence-Contd.

12 Presumption from Allowing Grant of Certificate unopposed—Contd.

If the owner of property stands by and sees his property sold, without any objection on his part, to a bona fide purchaser, he cannot afterwards dispute the sale and the property passes to the purchaser. Jowala Singh v Jewand Singh P R 87 of 1875.

36B—By a Pardanashin lady.

It is not the practice of the Courts in India to press a presumption by acquiescence against a female, Hindu or Mahomedan, in a rival claim, from the mere non-contestation for a limited time of an adverse title. Ebrahim v Foolbai 4 Bom L R 180=26 Bom 577.

Notes.—19 M L J 747 Ref. 6 Bom L R 983 35 Cal 1 P C; 29 Bom 468.

36C—Decree—Execution—Interest——Payment of interest—Admissions—Contract Act (IX of 1872) Secs. 65, 73.

Where in an application to execute a decree which provides for no interest, the decree-holder puts in a prayer as to the award of interest and the judgment-debtor accepting his liability to pay the decretal debt as well as interest obtains from time to time adjournments from the Court to enable him to pay the amount, he (the judgment debtor) cannot at a later stage of the proceedings dispute the item of interest and is bound to pay interest from the date on which he admitted his liability to pay interest. Narayan v Raoji 6 Bom L R 417=28 Bom 393.

Acquiescence-Contd.

12 Presmuption from Allowing Grant of certificate unopposed—Concld.

36D—The presumption not raised against infant or female.

It is not the practice of the Courts in India or of the Privy Council to Press either against an infant or a Hindu or Mahomedan female a presumption by acquiescence in a rival claim from the mere non-contestation for a limited time of an adverse title. This principle holds good as to waiver or abadonment. Mere laches unless it amounts to one of these three is not sufficient to disentitle a person to equitable relief. Where there is a vested right or interest in any party he cannot waive or abandon that right except by acts which are equivalent to an agreement or license.

Kazi Mahamad v Narotam 9 Bom L R 1117.

(13) NOT OBJECTING TO SALE.

37—Not objecting to sale—Suit to recover property sold—Presumption of consent.

Where R K, acting ostensibly as recognized agent and manager of the family, sold part of the family property to the ancestors of the defendant's and the plaintiff, who was then of age, did not object to the sale, but afterwards sued to set aside the sale as to his share on the ground that the property had been purchased by R K with the joint funds while the plaintiff was a minor, and that it was sold by him without authority the first Court gave him a decree for a one-fourth share of the property. R K appealed, but the other defendants did not appeal. The Judge, assuming the lower Court's finding to be correct. held that, as the plaintiff, who was of age at the time, did not object the sale, he could not recover possession of property sold by R K as the recognized agent and manager. Held that R K could not found any right upon the presumption of plaintiff's consent, however such presumption might have availed the other defendants, purchasers from R K, who had not appealed.

Gopal Chunder Lahoory v Roy Kishore Lahoory. 15 W R 467.

37A—Suit for possession on ground that a certain sale was invalid as against plaintiff—Plea by defendants that plaintiff acquiesced in sale—"Acquiescence"—Estoppel.

Plaintiff sued for possession of certain land and houses which had been sold in 1876 by their near collateral one K., a childless proprietor, in favor of defendant. The defendant pleaded, and

Acquiescence-Contd.

13 Not objecting to sale—Concld

the lower Court found, acquiescence in the sale on the part of plaintiffs disentitling them to set aside the alienation, and dismissed the suit. It was proved that plaintiffs, whether or not they knew of the alienation at time it was effected, had knowledge of it in 1878, when they gave evidence on behalf of defendants in a case in which he sued a certain tenant of his for damages for cutting a tree; that they made no mention of their rights though present on each occasion when the defendant twice applied in 1880 and 1886 for partition on the strength of his deed of purchase; that they also raised no objection to his acquiring the rights of certain hereditary tenants, and that, finally many years after the sale they took up some land from the defendant for the purpose of cultivation and tilled it almost up to the date of suit. In the last case it appeared that plaintiff, subsequently to partition proceedings, exchanged certain land allotted to them for others which had fallen to the share of defendant, and executed certain documents, in one of which they expressly stated that they accepted the purchase by defendant in 1875, and waived all rights to object thereto. On behalf of plaintiff it was contended that inasmuch as all the above specified acts took place after the sale, plaintiffs were not thereby estopped from attacking the said transfer as they had not by any such act misled the defendant or induced him to enter into the sale transaction.

Held, that plaintiffs were precluded by their acquiescence and express words from making the present claim, and that their suit had been rightly dismissed.

Nihala v Bikham. 81 P R 1898.

(14) PRE-EMPTION.

38—The mortgagee under a deed of conditional sale executed in 1878, took foreclosure proceedings under Regulation XVII of 1806, and the year of grace having expired, a foreclosure proceeding was recorded on the 18th September, 1882, declaring the mortgage to have been foreclosed. In August, 1885, the mortgagee instituted a suit for possession of the mortgaged property. On the 19th September, 1885, the suit was compromised, the mortgagee accepting a part of the mortgaged property, and relinquishing the remainder. A decree was passed in the terms of the compromise. Subsequently, a suit for pre-emption was brought against the mortgagor and mortgagee to enforce pre-emption in respect of the alienation. The plaintiff claimed to pre-empt the whole of the property to which the deed of 1878 related, including the portion relinquished by the conditional vendee under the compromise and decree of the 19th September, 1885. Held that although upon the expiration of the year of grace the ownership of the mortgaged property vested in the conditional vendee even though he might not have obtained a decree establishing or declaring his right, and the right of pre emption accrued on the date when the conditional sale thus became absolute, yet foreclosure proceedings under the Regulation, being of a purely ministerial character, were not conclusive or even prima facie evidence in a subsequent litigation against the conditional vendor that a valid foreclosure had been duly effected; that strict observance of the requirements of the Regulation were conditions precedent to the right of foreclosure; and that, in the present case, as the plaintiff had not asserted or attempted to prove that all those requirements had been fulfilled so as to result in an actual foreclosure and consequent accrual of pre-emption at the end of the year of grace, no foreclosure was shown to have taken place prior to the compromise of the 19th September, 1885, and the plaintiff's right of pre-emption accrued on and must be referred to that date, and consequently extended only to the property to which the compromise related, and the price payable by the plaintiff was the amount specified in the compromise. (4 B L. R. A. C. 219): (S. D A. N. W. P. 1864, Vol. I. P. 624) and 6 All. 314) distinguished. 5 I. A. 18; 11 I. A. 186; 8 All. 388) and (Weekly Notes 1887 p. 233) referred to. Acquiescence in a mortgage by conditional sale does not involve relinquishment of the right of pre-emption upon the conditional sale eventually becoming absolute. Ajaib Nath v. Mathura Prasad. 11 All 164. 9 W. N. 48.

Acquiescence—Contd.

14 Pre-emption—Contd.

Notes—Ap: 14 All 405 F B.

38A—Suit for pre-emption—Foreclosure of mortgage—Omission of mortgagee to take preliminary proceedings under Section 8 of Regulation XVII of 1806—Acquiescence by mortgagor in such omission—Right of mortgagee who had obtained decree for foreclosure to plead that such decree was illegal and gave rise to no right of preemption.—In a suit for pre-emption arising out of the foreclosure of a mortgage by way of conditional sale it was urged (inter alia) on behalf of the mortgagee defendant, that the plaintiff could not claim pre-emption because the proceedings taken to foreclose the mortgage by the said defendant were not in accordance with the requirements of Regulation XVII of 1806, the result of which would be that, as between the mortgagor and mortgagee, the land in dispute must still be deemed to be held in mortgage and liable to redemption at the hands of the mortgagor, with respect to which therefore no suit for pre-emption could be maintained at the present time. It appeared that the mortgagee, instead of taking the preliminary proceedings contemplated by Section 8 of Regulation XVII, of 1806, brought a regular suit for proprietary possession of the mortgaged land, and obtained a decree conditional on the mortgagor's failure to pay by a specified date the amount due on the mortgage-bond. The mortgagor not having paid the sum decreed against him with the stipulated period, the mortgagee applied for execution and was formally placed in proprietary possession of the mortgaged property. No appeal was preferred by the mortgagor either against the above decree, or against the order in execution placing the decree—holder in possession of the land, and the mortgagee was shown to have continued in possession ever since.

Held, that the mortgagee was estopped from raising the contention noted above in the present case: that the mortgagor's conduct, both in not appealing from the decree for foreclosure, and in allowing execution to take place under it and also in not appealing from the decree of the lower Court in the present suit giving plaintiff a decree for pre-emption, was sufficient to indicate that he had acquiesced in the sale being made absolute: and this being so it did not lie in the mouth of the appealing defendant, the mortgagee, to repudiate a title which had been adjudicated in his favour at his own instance, in order to deprive the plaintiff of his right of pre-emption, which arose in consequence of that title being made absolute. (P R 76 of 1877), referred to.

Jowahir Mal v. Kalandar Khan P R 5 of 1882.

38B—Usufructuary Mortgage — Mortgagee not in possession of a portion of the mortgaged property—Acquiescence mortgagee in part performance—Stipulation for interest—Redemption without payment of interest. Where the mortgagors covenanted that " we shall pay the whole mortgage-debt in a lump on Baisakh sudi 18th of any year and we shall pay the money out of our own pocket and if there is any defect in the mortgaged property or in the mortgagee's possession thereof, then we the executants, will pay the principal with interest at 2 per-cent, per mensem,and besides this damages and penalties," and possession was not obtained by the mortgagee of a protion of the mortgaged property for a certain period and in the subsequent suit for redemption the mortgagee claimed interest for the period during which he had been out of possession, held that by reason of his acquiesence the mortgagee was not entitled to claim interest in respect of that period during which he had not obtained possession of a portion of the mortgaged property. Jhunku Singh v. Chatkan Singh. (1909) 6 A L J 247=31 All 325.

Acquiescence-Contd.

14 Pre-emption—Concld.

38 C—Effect of mortgagor's acquiescence or silence. A mortgagee by erroneously representing himself as owner of the mortgaged premises cannot make his possession adverse to the true owners 21 Cal 37; 30 Cal 463; 17 All 522, Fol. 23 Mad 372. Fol 22 Bom 624 Appl: 32 Cal 296 Fol. Jhabba Lal v. Chhajju Mal 4 A L J 787=A W N (1908) 1= 3 M L T 132

(15) ACCOUNT MADE IN COURSE OF USUAL DEALING.

39—Account made in course of usual dealing —The defendant in a suit for balance of payments made by plaintiff on his behalf held not entitled to refuse to be bound by an account made up in accordance with the course of dealing which had practically been assented to by him and had been followed between the parties for many years. Thakoor Pershad Singh v. Mohesh Lall 24 W R 390.

Notes:—Ref: 7 Bom 414.

40—Acquiescence—Civil Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882), S. 443. Suit by guardian ad litem against a major defendant? Subsequent objection at the time of execution for having impleaded wrongly. The manager of a Hindu family consisting of himself and two minor brothers mortgaged the ancestral property to discharge a debt properly incurred by him in the capacity of a manager.—A suit was brought by the mortgagee upon the mortgage bringing three brothers on record as defendants the two younger of whom were sued by the mortgagor as their guardians ad litem the plaintiff got the decree and sold the land in execution. The two younger brothers filed a suit to set aside the decree and sale alleging that they were of age at the time of the suit & hence they had been wrongly impleaded. It was found that the elder brother was in fact a major at the date of the previous suit, but before the sale he knew of the suit and execution proceedings and purposely allowed the elder brother to conduct the defence and execution proceedings on his behalf. Held, that the decree in the former suit was binding on both the plaintiffs. Rama Charai v, Durai Sami Pillai 21 Mad 167.

Acquiescence-Contd.

(15) Account made in course of usual Dealing—Concld.

(16) SENDING AGENT TO SETTLE RENT.

41—Sending agent to settle rent—Acquiescence in rate.—The sending of an agent by a tenant to settle with the landlord as to the rent is not a virtual acquiescence in the rate of rent demanded. Stalkart v. Lalla Bhurrut Lall W R 1864. Act X, 115

41*A*—S. 42—Registration-Amicable arrangement after—Tenants if bound. The land Registration Act requires the registration by the various proprietors of their shares in the estate only and does not contemplate a registration of shares in separate mouzahs in the estate. Sec. 42 of the Act therefore has no application to the case of a co-share who by an amicable arrangement with the other co-sharers has been placed in possession of a larger than his registered share in some mouzahs and of a less share or no share in others when the total interest which he holds in all the mouzahs represents his registered interest in the whole estate. Quere—Whether the tenants would be bound without their consent by such an arrangement: Held, where the tenants had acquiesced in the arrangement and paid rents in accordance therewith for several years prior to the period for which the rents in suit were claimed That they could not rely on sec. 78 of the Act to dispute the landlord's right to recover rent in accordance with that arrangement. Srimutty Poresh Moni Dassya v. Nobo Kishore Lahiri 8 C W N 193.

Acquiescence-Contd.

(17) RECEIPT OF RENT IN LIEU OF GRANT OF LAND.

42—Receipt of rent in lieu of grant of land. In a suit to recover possession of land it appeared that the defendant's father had in 1801 obtained possession on a lease of 280 bighas from the Government of Kulabo, and that the plaintiffs' father had in 1806 obtained a grant of 10 unspecified bighas of the same land, but that he never asked to have them marked out and given to him in specie, and that he, and subsequently his sons, the plaintiffs, were content up to the year 1856 to receive from the defendant's family in respect of their grant the rent formerly paid by them to the Government for the same. The District Court reversed the decree of the munsiff, and threw out the claim to recover possession of the land on the ground that the plaintiffs must be taken after such a lapse of time to have acquiesced in the arrangement that a yearly rent was to be received without any particular land being marked out as theirs. Held, that it was competent for the Assistant Judge to come to that conclusion under the circumstances and that there was no ground for saying that there was any error of law in his decision, which was accordingly affirmed. Sule v. Dhundiraj Venayak, 3 B H C A C 55.

(18) ACCEPTING LOWER RENT THAN THAT ENTITLED TO FOR LONG TIME.

43—Accepting lower rent than that entitled to for long time.—Where a landlord who may originally have had a right to collect a higher rent is for a long period of years content to accept a lower, it would be manifestly unjust to allow him to turn round upon the tenant at any time he pleases and demand the higher rent. Roocha Ram Misr v. Naga Doss. 2 N W 92.

(19) LONG POSSESSION BY TENANT WITHOUT LEASE.

44—Long possession by tenant without lease—An under tenant who has dug a tank and been in possession undisturbed by the former proprietor for a long period, such acquiescence being equivalent to a lease, cannot be ejected by the patnidar. Sreemunt Ram Dey v. Kookoor Chand 15 W R 481.

Notes—Fol 6 Cal 827; 1 C L J 579.

44A—Ejectment, suit for—Origin and nature of Tenancy not known-Evidence of mode of dealing with long demised of facts and conduct of parties—Permanent tenancy——Presumption of—Alternative plea of acquiescence by conduct on failure of substantive defence as to evidence of permanent tenancy, if permissible-Acquiescence whether a question of fact—Facts justifying inference of permanent tenancy.—The facts of long possession of a tenancy by the tenants and their ancestors and of the landlord having permitted them to build a pucca house which has existed for a considerable time and which was added to by successive tenants and of the tenure having been from time to time transferred by succession and purchase in which the landlord acquiesced or of which he could not have been ignorant are sufficient to warrant the court presuming that the tenancy is of permanent nature. 11 Moo; 1 All 433; 8 Cal 960; 10 C L R 25; 27 Cal 570 ref to. Caspersz v. Kedar Nath Sarbadikari 5 C W N 858=28 Cal 738.

Acquiescence-Contd.

(19) Long Possession by tenant without lease—Concld.

Notes—Dist; 5 C W N 846.

(20) ALLOWING PART OWNER TO WORK FORFEITURE OF TENURE AS IF FULL OWNER.

45—Allowing part owner to work forfeiture of tenure as if full owner—Waiver of forfeiture—Claim of portion of tenure.—If A allows B to deal with an occupancy tenure as full owner, and by an attempted transfer, to work a forfeiture thereof without any objection on his part, A will not be allowed to come in afterwards and claim a part of the forfeited holding on the ground that B was only part owner, and could therefore only work a forfeiture of his own share. Manirullah v. Ramzan Ali, 1 C L R 293.

Notes:—Fol: 10 C L R 15. Dist: 14 Cal 751.

46—Omission—Equitable acquiescence.

When a person took a permanent lease of a cultivatory holding direct from the zamindar without making any inquiries as to who were the cultivators and on what tenure they held; and where, the permanent lessee having commenced to build, one of the tenants subsequently brought a suit in ejectment against him. Held, that the lessee should, by the knowledge that the land was a cultivatory holding, have been put on his guard and have made inquiries as to the exact condition of the title, and not having done so the doctrine of equitable acquiescence could not be applied. Bisheshar v. Muirhead, 14 All 362=12 W N 36.

Acquiescence-Contd.

20 Allowing Part owner to work forfeiture of Tenure as if Full owner—Contd.

46 A—Acquiescence—Zamindar not suing for three years for removal of tree.

The fact that zamindar, who was entitled to claim the removal of certain trees planted by a tenant without his consent, omitted for the space of three years from the planting thereof to sue the tenant for their removal amounts to no such estoppel by acquiescence as would prevent the zamindar from successfully suing for the removal of such trees at any time before the expiry of the period of limitation applicable to such a suit.

Ahmad Husain Khan v Phopi, 11 W N 186.

46 B—Mother's share on partition between her sons—Mitakshara.—

According to the Mitakshara in force in Bengal, the mother, though not entitled to require a partition so long as her sons remain united, is entitled, if a partition takes place between her sons, to receive the share of a son in property which is ancestral, or acquired by the employment of ancestral wealth; but she may acquiesce in the division of property between her sons without claiming any share for herself.

Chowdhry Ganesh Datt v. Musst Jewach Thakoorain, 6 Bom L R 1=14 M L J 8=31 Cal 262=8 C W N 146=31 I A 10 P C.

Notes:—Ref: 32 Mad 191; 19 M L J 94.

See also 9 C W N 270=32 Cal 234.

47.—Beng. Reg. XI of 1825—Chur in navigable river, Right of Government to.

Act IX of 1847 does not alter the state of the law under Regulation XI of 1825, but merely lays down a procedure. There is nothing in Act IX of 1847 to prevent the Government from taking possession of chur, after it has silted up, if the chur be one that the Government would be entitled to under Regulation XI of 1825.

Budrunnissa Chowdhrain v Prosunno Kumar Bose. 6 B L R, F B 255=14 W R, F B 25.

48.—Acquiescence—Acquiescence is quiescence under such circumstances as that assent may be reasonably inferred from it and is no more than an instance of the law of estoppel by words or by conduct; in other words, aquiescence does not mean simply an active, intelligent, consent, but may be implied, if a person is content not to oppose irregular acts which he knows are being done. (1846) 2 Phill. 117, (1868) L R 3 H L 249. (1850) 2 Ha. and Tw. 224, Ref: 19 I A 203=20 Cal 296, Ref and Fol.

Ananda Chandra Sen v Parbati Nath Sen 4 C L J 198.

Notes:—Fol: 11 C L J 189.

49—Possessor with knowledge of defective title—Right to compensation for improvements.

A person in possession of the land of another with knowledge of his defective title, is not entitled to compensation for improvement where such improvements, not being necessarily of any direct advantage to the real owner, were objected to by him at the time when made.

Baba Khem Singh v Dhunna Singh. P R. 7 of 1872

50.—The owner of a plot of land who stands by and does not interfere to prevent others building a house thereon, is estopped from demanding that the house be pulled down. All that he can claim is rent or compensation.

Bheeka Singh v Hurjus P R. 7 of 1866.

51.—Occupation—Tenant.

The defendant had been associated in the occupation and cultivation of certain land with I, a tenant with a right of occupancy, and after I's death continued the occupation, and paid rent to the plaintiffs for nine years. Held, that this acquiescence in his occupation must be regarded as a recognition by the plaintiffs of his having been associated with I.

Chatoor Singh v Must Heeka Kooer. 5 N W 191.

52.—Acquiescence.

Where in answer to a suit for demolition of a building as having been unlawfully erected on land belonging to the plaintiff, acquiescence of the plaintiff is pleaded it is not enough to show that the plaintiff did not interfere with the progress of the building, but it must be shown that the plaintiff knowing the defendant to be under a mistaken belief that the land upon which he was building was his own purposely remained quiet until the building was completed. (21 All 496: 3 C W N 503) (1 E and I A 129) (15 Ch D 96). 22 Bom 1 Referred to. 5 W N 100 Crn: Chhothu v Inyat ullah. 19 W N 191.

Acquiescence-Contd.

20 Allowing Part owner to work forfeiture of Tenure as if full owner—Contd.

53.—Execution of award without judgment and decree.

Although execution proceedings may be irregular in their inception and in improper substitution for a suit, still when the Court had jurisdiction to grant the same relief, and when the regularity had been acquiesced in, it does not vitiate the execution proceedings.

The Collector of Poona v Dipaji 1890 P J 69.

See also cases under.

Arbitration—Awards.

54.—This was a suit for the demolition of indigo vats and other buildings and constructed upon land jointly owned by the plaintiff and the defendant. Held, that as the plaintiffs did not immediatly apply for an injunction and allowed the construction of the buildings costing thousands of rupees and as the plaintiffs had not shown that they had sustained any injury (for they were competent to have their share partitioned and the deficiency made up), they were not entitled to any relief. Girdhari Lal V Velayat Ali. 5 W N 277.

55.—B., the resident of a certain village, about 12 years before the date of his suit built a temple on A's land in the village. with the permission of his agent, as A himself was in service in a foreign territory and seldom visited the village. Again about 5 years before the suit B built another temple and a tank on a piece of waste land situate in the village of the larger part of which A was the proprietor. The present suit was brought by A for the demolition of the second temple and the tank. Held, that as the terms of the power of attorney under which the agent of A had given his consent to the building of the temple and the tank were very general in their nature. as a temple had previously been built and not objected to, as part only of the tank belonged to A and as the appellant A had not acted in good faith his claim should be dismissed. Imdad Ali Khan v Sobha Ram. 1 W N 97, 7 W N 82= 5 W N 277.

See Co-shares.

See also cases under

Principal & agent.

Acquiescence-Contd.

20 Allowing Part owner to work forfeiture of Tenure as if Full owner—Contd.

56—Acquiescence under mistake. From 1830 to 1890 a zemindari had been managed by the Court of Wards. During the whole or a part of his period the Court of Wards worked the forest of the Maliahs (certain hill tracts to the north of the zemindari) for the benefit of the zemindari in the mistaken belief that it belonged to the zemindar, and other Government officials acquiesced therein. The Government officials, under the same mistake also, encouraged the expenditure of the zemindari funds upon the making of roads in the Maliahs. But on the first occasion when a claim of ownership was distinctly put forward by the zemindar, it was repudiated by Government. Held, that these facts did not estop the Government from claiming ownership of the Maliahs. Gajapati Rajah of Parlakimedi v The Secretary of State. 1 C L J 460=9 C W N 553= 28 Mad 130=32 I A 53 P C.

57—Suit for removal of building ~~Erected~~ on plaintiff's land—Acquiescence.

This was a suit to demolish certain buildings erected by the defendants on open land situate within the limits of a village belonging to the plaintiffs. It appears that the principal plaintiff M A, in the performance of his office as Municipal Commissioner, had to report on the petition of the defendants for permission to build, and he reported to the Municipality that he had visited the spot and could find no objection to the defendant's application to erect the buildings in question. Held, that it was clear from this that the plaintiffs were well aware of what the defendant was doing and they never interfered. Under these circumstances the plaintiffs were not entitled to the relief they claimed. (1 All., p 82) followed. Munna v Madat Ali 6 W N 123.

58.—Ejectment—Rent.

A piece of land was given by the plaintiff to defendants more than twelve years before suit, for the purpose of building a house upon it, not as an absolute grant, but with a reservation of plaintiff's proprietary right in the land. The defendants built upon the land, and occupied without paying any rent. Plaintiff sued either to eject the defendants, allowing them to remove the building materials or pay them compensation, or to receive rent for their occupation of the land.

Acquiescence -Contd.

20 Allowing Part owner to work forfeiture of Tenure as if Full owner—Concld.

Held, that it would not be equitable to allow the plaintiff to eject the defendants, but that the plaintiff was entitled to a fair rent so long as the defendants continued to use and occupy the land. Moulvi Sadid-ud-din Khan v. Agha Mir. P R 19 of 1875,

59.-Where the plaintiff, the owner of a fourth share in a piece of building ground, sued to eject the defendants, who had built on the land with the consent of proprietors owing a half share, held, that the plaintiff was entitled to possession of her fourth share on her paying compensation to the defendants. Mussummat Zuhooran v. Bunsee. P R 21 of 1867,

60.—Acquiescence—Question of fact.

The question of acquiescence such as would bar a claim to relief which would otherwise be good is one of fact. Lakshmi Dass v. Roop Laul. 17 M L J 19=30 Mad 169.

61.—Erection of Buildings—Compensation.

Where buildings are erected upon or improvements made to property by the party in possession, bona fide, and without notice of any adverse title, compensation is allowed for such buildings and improvements to the party making them as against the rightful owner. If the owner of the land induces the person to build, there may be an equitable transfer of property from the former to the latter. Kunhyalal v. Kishen Chund. P R 42 of 1866,

See also cases under:—

Common Land.

62.—When the plaintiff claimed certain land from the defendants who pleaded a gift from the adoptive mother of the plaintiff with the plaintiff's acquiescence, and it was found that in a previous suit against the adoptive mother about the validity of the adoption the plaintiff had omitted to claim possession of the disputed lands, held that the mere fact of the lands not being included in the former suit was not sufficient to shew acquiescence. Rudro arhar. 1893 P J 141.

2. GENERAL CASES.

63.—C P C S. 17-Jurisdiction-Court-Application-Acquiescence.

A suit was brought in the Sirsi Court against three defendants, of whom one resided within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Sirsi Court and the other two within that of the Barsi Court. The plaintiff did not obtain the leave of the Sirsi Court under S. 17 of the Civil Procedure Code. The Barsi defendants in their written statement took an objection that there was no jurisdiction; but they made no application under S. 20 of the Code. The case then proceeded to trial and was decided on its merits by the first Court. The lower appellate Court on appeal held that the Sirsi Court had no jurisdiction and it therefore ordered the plaint to be returned to plaintiff for presentation in the proper Court. On second appeal.—

Held, reversing the order of the lower appellate Court, that as no application was made under S. 20 of the Civil Procedure Code, the Barsi defendants must be deemed to have acquiesced in the institution of the suit; and that, therefore, the suit could not be said to have been improperly instituted against those defendants in the Sirsi Court.
Ramappa v. Ganpat. 7 Bom L R 289= 30 Bom 81.

Acquiescence-Contd.

(21) General Cases—Contd.

64.—Mother's share on partition between her sons—Mitakshara.

According to the mitakshara in force in Bengal, the mother, though not entitled to require a partition so long as her sons remain united, is entitled, if a partition takes place between her sons, to receive the share of a son in property which is ancestral, or acquired by the employment of ancestral wealth; but she may acquiesce in the division of property between her sons without claiming any share for herself.
Chowdhry Ganesh Datt v Mussst. Jewach Thakoorain. 6 Bom L R 1= 31 Cal 262=31 I A 10=8 C W N 146= 14 M L J 8.

65.—Limitation Act (XV of 1177), Arts 118, 144—Suit by reversioner for possession—Defendant in possession in virtue of adoption—Limitation—Custom—Adoption of daughter's son—Special custom—Burden of proof—Evidence—Entry of special custom in the Rewaj-i-am, effect of—Acquiescence by sonless brother in his brother's acts, effect of.

A suit for possession by a reversioner against a person, who claims to hold a deceased person's immoveable property in virtue of an adoption by the latter, is governed by Art. 114 and not by Art 118 of the Limitation Act of 1877 or 1908.

Acquiescence-Contd.

(21) General Cases—Contd.

86 P R. (F.B.) 1905=30 P. L. R. 1906, is no longer a guide, and Art. 118 does not apply whether the adoption was done with authority but by way of improper exercise of that authority, or the adopter had no inherent power to adopt.

Among Punjabi agriculturists, any one asserting that the adoption of a daughter's son is valid must prove a special custom to that effect.

The entry of a special custom in a Rawej-i am is insufficient to establish such a special custom, unless it is supported by instances quoted in itself or by other verified instances cited in Court.

The acquiescence of a sonless brother in his brother's act does not bind the next reversioners by custom.

Among Mussalman Jats of the Delhi District there is no custom which favours the validity of an adoption of a daughter's son. 96 P R 1908= 79 P W R 1908 and 28 All 727=10 C W N 1065 =8 Bom L R 722=16 M L J 440=4 C L J 405= 1 M L T 265=9 O C 377=3 All L J 695, relied upon. 50 P R 1893, Fol.

Nathu v Rahman. 198 P L R 1911.

66—Easement-Light-Substantial interference —Nuisance—Reflected light-Mandatory injunction, refusal of—Delay-Damages The right of the owner of the dominant tenement is a right to the reception of light and air in a literal direction, but, to constitute an actionable obstruction, the same must amount to a nuisance. The question that has to be decided is not how much light is left in spite of the obstruction but whether there has been such a domination of light as to constitute an actionable nuisance. (1900) A. C 179; 2 Q. B. 722 (1900). When it was urged that, although the natural light coming into the dominant tenement has been diminished the reflected light had increased with the result that the rooms were better lighted than before, but it was admitted that if the building was raised, the light coming in the building would be seriously affected. Held—that the right of dominant owner (to light) should not be made dependent on his refraining from exercising his undoubted right of raising the height of his building; there was thus a substantial interference with his rights.

Ananthnath Deb v J C Galstaun, 12 C W N 519=35 Cal 661.

67—Custom Guzarat District (Saroki village) —Sale of house by non-proprietary resident Non-assertion of discretionary right, necessarily renunciation.—

By the custom of the village of Saroki in the Guzarat District, non-proprietary occupants of houses cannot sell them unless they hold the sites by purchase or gift from the proprietors. A mere non-assertion of a discretionary right in certain instances does not necessarily imply a renunciation of it for all time and in all cases. (25 P R 1875, approved.) (124 P R 1888, 119 P R 1884, 87 P R 1884.)

Alla Ditta v Dina, 125 P R 1879.

68-in burden of proof—Where misplacement of the onus has been acquiesced in by the parties in the court of first instance or in the lower appellate Court, the High Court would be very reluctant to interfere with the result unless there were reasons to suppose that the error may have produced error in the decision of the case on the merits. Gangadas v Dama 5 Bom L R 177

69—Acquiescence, what is an. There is a distinction between acquiescence in an act which it is still in progress and mere submission to it when it has been completed. In the first case it may operate as an estoppel if it has induced action infringing a right. In the second case, submission cannot change the past, and the right of action once vested cannot, at all events as a general rule, be divested without an accord and satisfaction, or release under seal. Estoppel by acquiescence has no application to an ex post facto submission not amounting to ratification and inducing to action or omission and consequently insufficiently to constitute what in such case would be necessary, accord and satisfaction with full knowledge. Acquiescence after a fait accompli if not prolonged beyond the verge of limitation is no bar to a right of suit already accrued. Fatehsingji v Bamanji 5 Bom L R 274=27 Bom 515.

Notes—1 C L J 73 Ref: 10 Bom L R 1146, 13 C W N 919, 33 Bom 610; 17 M L J 469 Diss.

Acquiescence-Concld.

(21) General Cases—Concld.

70—Question of fact—Second appeal—The question of acquiescence is not a question of fact and, in a second appeal, the judgment of the lower appellate Court is not final.(21 All 416, P C R)

Caspersz v Kedar Nath Sarbadhikari 28 Cal 738=5 C W N 838.

Acquiescence in lease granted by executor.

See (1) Estoppel

(2) Landlord & tenant.

Acquiescence of Landlord, effect of.

See Landlord & tenant—buildings on land, right to remove.

Acquiescence of owner.

See (1) Acquiescence.

,, (2) Damages—Measure and assessment of damages—Torts.

Acquired property.

See cases under:—

(1) Hindu Law Joint Family.

(2) Custom (Punjab).

(3) Hindu Law Alienation.

Acquisition.

Acquisition of the right of occupancy.

See cases under right of occupancy.

Acquisition by Government of land subject to a mortgage.

See Land Acquisition Act.

Acquisition of Easement.

See Easement Act 1882 S 47, 15 Expl.

Acquisition of Land.

(1) Order deciding competency of Land Acquisition, Judge to review portions of award-Whether appeal to Privy Council lies. 9 Ind Cas 183.

See cases under Land acquisition Act.

Acquisition of land—Contract for sale of land—Acquisition of land under the Land Acquisition Act—Rights of vendee. See Transfer of Property Act. 15 C W N 420.

Acquisition of Gain.

—Association formed for—

See Company—Formation and Registration.

Act of 1835.

Application of, to Crown.

See (1) English Law.

(2) Madras City Municipal Act S. 341.

Act VII OF 1835.

See Sale for Arrears of Rent—Act VIII of 1835.

Act V of 1836.

See Execution of decree-Striking off Execution Proceedings.

Act X, of 1836 s. 3.

See (1) Damages—Measure of Damages—Breach of Contract.

(2) Limitation Act,(1908).

Act IX of 1837.

See Land Tenure in Bombay.

Act XXVII of 1837

See Salt—Acts and Regulations relating to—Bombay.

Act XI of 1838.

Act XI of 1828 (Remuneration of Amins effecting Partition.)

Notes:—Rep; in pt Act XIV of 1870; Rep. (in Agra) Act XIX of 1863; (in Bengal and Eastern Bengal) Ben. Act VIII of 1876; (in Assam, except the Lushai Hills), Reg. 1 of 1886]

See Contribution, Suit for—Voluntary Payments.

Act-Contd.

Act XVI of 1838.

See (1)Jurisdiction of Revenue Court-Bombay Regulations and Acts.
(2) Limitation Act, (1908)
(3) Mamlatdar, Jurisdiction of.

Act XXIII of 1838

See Attachment—Subjects of Attachment—Annuity or Pension.

(Repal of part Of Madras Regulation IV of 1821)

Notes:—[Rep; Act XXIII of 1871.]

Act XXV of 1838.

See (1) Wills' Act, 1838.
(2) Will—Attestation.

Act XXV of 1838 (Wills).

Notes:—[Rep., (except as to wills made before 1st January, 1866), Act VIII of 1868; s. 2 rep. in pt., formal words in ss. 2 to 6, 7 to 29 and 31 rep s. 30, rep, Act XII of 1891; Declared in force throughout b. i., except as regards the scheduled districts. Act XV of 1874, s. 3.]

Act II of 1839.

Act II of 1839:(Fines by Magistrates.)

Notes:—[Rep., Act XVII of 18. 2.]

Act II of 1839.

See Judicial officers, Liability of.

Act XIV of 1839 (Emigration.)

Notes:—Rep., Act XIII of 1864.

Act XX of 1839

See Duties.

Act XXIV of 1839.

See Ganjam and Vizagapatam Agency Courts' Act.

Act XXXII of 1839

See (1) Contribution, Suit for—Interest.
(2) Interest—Cases under Act XXXII of 1839.
(3) Interest Act, 1839.

Act XXXII Of 1839.

*. Interest Act (XXXII of 1839)—Interest prior to suit.

Act-Contd.

Interest prior to the institution of the suit cannot be given, under Act XXXII of 1839, unless a demand of payment has been made in writing. Fezali v Mahomed. (7 Bom L R 798.)

2.—Interest Acts, 1839 and 1835—Written demand—Implied agreement—Damages.

In the absence of agreement or usage giving a right to interest, and of a written demand given notice that interest would be claimed, the creditor is not entitled to interest. In the case of actions for debt in which the requirements of the Act XXXII of 1839 are not satisfied, interest cannot be awarded as damages. 20 Mad 481, 73 P R 1892, 36 P R 1894 Ref.
Bura v Mailia Shah. 19 P L R 1902= 104 P R 1901.

IMPERIAL ACTS—ACT XXXII OF 1839 (INTEREST ACT)

1.—Notice in writing—Printed heading to a bill—Interest.

In a suit for the price of goods sold and delivered, a question arose as to whether interest was payable on the bills presented by the plaintiff and which the defendant had failed to pay on presentation. It appeared that at the head of every bill, it was printed "interest will be charged at 12 per cent. per annum on bills not paid on presentation." Held that such a printed heading constituted a notice in writing as laid down in Act XXXII of 1839, and that therfore interest was properly demandable from the defendant.
Fitch and Co v Raynor A W N 1887, 287.

2.—Construction—English cases.

The Interest Act was passed for the purpose of extending to India the provisions of the English Act (3 and 4 Will IV C 42) English decisions may therefore be referred to as a guide to construe the Act. Ganesh Baksh v Harihar Baksh. 26 All 299=3I I A 116= 8 C W N 521=14 M L J 190= 6 Bom L R 505, P C.

Notes = 11 C W N 1109 Cited=17 M L J 465=4 A L J 750=31 Bom 566=2 M L T 394=31 Bom 354=Ref, 9 Bom L R 439, 7 O C 193.

Act-Contd.

Act IV of 1840.

See (1) Limitation Act (1908) Art 47.
(2) Survey Award.

Act XIV of 1840 (Extending 9 Geo 4 c 14)

Notes.—Rep., Act IX of 1872.

Act XIV OF 1840

See Hindu Law, Contract—Breach of Contract.

Act XV OF 1840

See Agent of Foreign Sovereign.

Act XVII OF 1840

See Sonment in default of fine.

Act XXIII OF 1840

See Attachment—Attachment Judgment.

Act XXIII of 1840

Execution in Presidency towns of Mufassal Process.)

Notes,—Rep Act X of 1882.

Act I of 1841

See Adverse Possession.

Act 1. of 1841— s. 2

See (1) Pre-emption—Right of Pre-emption.
(2) Pre-emption—Subjects of and Transfers giving rise to pre-emption.

Act X of 1841

See (1) Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, ss.24, 26.
(2) Ship, Registration.

Act X of 1841 (Registration of ships.)

Notes.—Rep in Pt Act XVI of 1874 ; Rep in pt Am—Act XI of 1850 ; Act VII of 1891 Am Act V of 1883, s. 33 ; Declared in force throughout B I Except as regards the Scheduled Districts Act XV of 1874 S. 3.

Act XI of 1841 (Military Courts of Request.)

Notes.—Rep., Act VIII of 1887.

Act XIX of 1841 (Succession Property Protection).

Notes.—Rep in Pt Act VIII of 1885 S. 13 : Act XVI of 1874 ; Act XII of 1876 ; Extended to Sindh, Bombay Act XII 1866 , s. 12 Declared in force—Throughout B I except as regards the scheduled District, Act XV of 1874, s. 3 in the Arakan Hill Disctrict (with modifications,and with the exception of ss.16 and 20) Reg IX of 1874, S. 3.

Act-Contd.

Act XI of 1841-Military Courts of Request.

See (1) Appeal—Acts—Military Courts of Request Act.
(2) Jurisdiction—Question of Jurisdiction-Generally. I Agra, 222
(3) Military Courts of Request.

Act XIX OF 1841

See (1) Certificate of Administration—Certificate under Bombay Regulation VIII of 1827 and Acts XIX and XX of 1841.
(2) Certificate of Administration—Right to sue, or Execute decree, without certificate.

Act XIX of 1841.

Summary Order under—

See Limitation Act, (1908) Art 13.

Act XIX OF 1841, s. 3

See Superintendence of High Court—Civil Procedure Code, s. 115.

Act XIX OF 1841 —Jurisdiction—Hindu Law—Joint family—Practice—Ex parte order.

The provisions of Act XIX of 1841 do not apply to the case of a family governed by the Mitakshara Law inasmuch as in the case of the death of a member the property passes not by way of succession but the survivorship. Before it can be held that a Court has jurisdiction under Act XIX of 1841, it must be found that the provisions of law have been strictly complied with. Case in which it was held that Act XIX of 1841 could not be applied under any circumstances.

Musstt Sato Koer v Gopal Sahu 12 C W N 65.

Act XIX of 1841 Ss. 5, 8

See Superintendence of High Court Civil Procedure Code S. 115—

Act XIX of 1841

2—Ss 3, 4, 15— Court giving effect without enquiry to a will the validity of which was disputed—"Legal directions."

Where, on an application being preferred under Act XIX of 1841, the Court, considering itself bound by the existence of directions in the will of the deceased proprietor for the possession of the property after his death to give effect to these directions, ordered with reference to Section 15 of the Act that the applicant should be put in possession, but did not consider whether the directions contained in the will, the validity of which was disputed, were legal directions, nor take any evidence except the examination of the applicant and of the parties in possession, who denied the truth of the applicant's allegations, held, that the enquiry made was not such as to satisfy Section 3 of the Act, but that the case must be remanded for the Court to determine summarily the right to possession after determining whether the directions contained in the abovementioned will were legal directions, and, if not, whether the applicant was entitled to be put in posseasion on the grounds specified in Section 3, or the opposite party to be restored to possession. Gorakh Nath v Bishember Nath P R 66 of 1882.

Act-Contd.

Act XX of 1841 (Collection of debts on succession.)

Notes.—Rep Act XVII of 1860.

Act XX of 1841

Sse Certificate of Administration—Certiffcate under Bombay Regulation VIII of 1827 and Acts XIX and XX of 1841.

Act XXI of (1841 Local Nuisances)

Notes.—Rep Act XVII of 1862.

Act XXI of 1841

See Right of Suit—Orders, Suits to set aside

Act XXIX of 1841

See Privy Council, Practice of—Dismissal of Appeal for want of Prosecution

Act XXIX of 1841 (Dismissal of suits and Appeals Bengal & Madras.)

Notes;—Rep Act XII of 1873.

Act IV of 1842.

See Madras Boat Rules.

Act XII of 1842

See Military Courts of Request.

Act XVI of 1842

See (1) Statutes, Construction of.
(2) Zamindar, Power of.

Act-Contd.

Act III of 1843 (Special Appeals)

Notes.—Rep Act XVI of 1853.

Act III of 1843

See Appeal to Privy Council—Cases in which Appeal lies or not—Appealable Orders

Act V of 1843

See (1) Slavery.

Act V of 1843 (Slavery).

Notes Rep in pt., Act XVI of 1874; Declared in force—Throughout B 1., Except as regards the Scheduled Districts. Act XV of 1874, S. 3; In the Sonthal Parganas, Reg III of 1872, s. 3; as Amended by Reg III of 1899, S. 3, in the Chittagong Hill-Tracts, Reg 1 of 1900, s. 4; in the Arakan Hill District, Reg IX of 1874, s. 3; in Upper Burma (Except The Shan States), act XIII of 1898, S. 4 : in Kachin Hill-tracts, as regards Hill tribes, Reg 1 of 1895, s. 3; in certain tracts in the Chin Hills, Reg V of 1896, s. 3; in British Baluchistan, Reg I of 1890, s. 3.

ACT XI OF 1843

See (1) Contract Act s. 22—Illegal Contracts —Against Public Policy.
(2) Declaratory Decree, Suit for—Miscellaneous Suits.
(3) Hereditary Offices' Act, s. 9.
(4) Hindu Law, Adoption—Requisites for Adoption—Sanction.
(5) Jurisdiction of Civil Court—Offices' Right to.
(6) Service Tenure.

Act XIV of 1843.

see Salt.

Act XIX OF 1843

See Registration Act XIX of 1843.

Act XIX OF 1843.

(Registration of certain deed.)

Notes;—Rep. Act XVI of 1864.

Act V, of 1844 (Private Lotteries).

Notes—[Rep, Act XXVII of 1870.]

Act V of 1844.

See (1) Contract—Wagering Contracts.
(2) Promissory note—Consideration.

Act XIX OF 1844

See (1) Cess.

Act-Contd.

(2) Town Duties, Bombay.

Act XX OF 1844.

See Factors Act,

Act 1 of 1845 (Sales of Land for Revenue Arrears).

Notes.—[Rep, (In Bengal and Eastern Bengal), Act XI of 1859; (in Punfab). Act XII of 1873; (in Agra, except certain areas), Act XIX of 1873.]

Act I of 1845-ss 6 and 14

See Sale for Arrears of Revenue-Setting aside Sale—Irregularity.

Act I OF 1845—S. 9

See Sale for arrears of Revenue—Deposit to Stay Sale.

Act I OF 1845—S. 21

See Benami Transaction—Certified Purchasers—Act I of 1845.

Act I OF 1845—S 26.

See (1) Enhancement of Rent-Exemption from Enhancement, ect.—Proof of Uniform payment,

(2) Enhancement of Rent—Liability to Enhancement—Land Occupied by buildings.

(3) Cases under Sale for Arrears of Revenue—Incumbrances—Act I of 1845.

Act I OF 1845—S. 29.

See Limitation Act, (1908) S. 18.

Act XVI of 1845 (Re-admission of Appeals Bengal and Madras.)

Notes—(Rep., Act XII of 1873)

Act XVI OF 1845

See Privy Council, Practice of—Restoration of appeal.

Act XXIX OF 1845—S, 5

See Judge—Appointment of Judge.

Act XXIX of 1845 (Joint Zilla and Sessions Judges).

Notes—Rep, Act X of 1872

Act I of 1846 (Legal Practitioners)

Notes-Rep, in pt. Act XVI of 1874; Act XII of 1876; Rep in Pt and Am, Act XII of 1891 Am Act XX of 1853, S. 4 Rep (locality)

Act-Contd.

Act XX of 1865; Act XVIII of 1879, S. 42 (inserted by Act IX of 1884,) S. 9, Rep (in Burma), Act XIII of 1898, S. 18, Declared in force throughout the Presidencies of Madras and Bombay except as regards the Scheduled Districts, Act XV of 1874, ss. 4, 5)

Act I of 1846.

See (1) Barrister

(2) Contract Act, S. 25.

(3) Pleader—Remuneration.

Act IX OF 1846

See Madras Boat Rules.

1—Taxation in probate proceedings.

Pleader's fees in appeals in probate proceedings should according to a long standing practice of the High Court. be assessed at Rs. 30.

Sundrabai v. Collector of Belgaum 10, Bom L R 1197=33 Bom 256.

Act I of 1847 (Boundaries).

Notes—(Rep. in Punjab), Act IV of 1872; (in Ajmere), Reg. III. of 1877; (in Central Provinces),Act XVIII of 1881; (in Agra except certain Areas), Act XIX of 1873.

Act I of 1847

See Jurisdiction of Civil Courts—Revenue Courts—Orders of Revenue Courts

Act VII OF 1847

See Distraint.

Act IX OF 1847 Ss 3 to 6

See Evidence—Civil cases-maps.

ACT IX OF 1847

See Jurisdiction of Civil Courts—Revenue.

1—Beng. Reg. XI of 1825.—Chur in navigable river, Right of Government to.—Act IX of 1847 does not alter the state of the law under Regulation XI of 1825, but merely lays down a procedure. There is nothing in Act IX of 1847 to prevent the Government from taking possession of a chur. after it has silted up, if the chur be one that the Government would be entitled to under Regulation XI of 1825. Budrunnissa Chowdhrain v. Prosunno Kumar Bose 6 B L. R, F. B, 255, 14 W. R, F. B, 25

2—Right of suit—Effect of an order for additional assessment.—Certain land, which formed part of the plaintiff's zemindari, became, on its re-fromation after submergence by a change in the course of the River Ganges, attached to zemindari of J., and it being found so attached, an additional jumma was, after proceedings taken by the revenue authorities under Act IX of 1847, assessed against J. in respect of it. In a suit in the Civil Court brought by the plaintiff against the Government, J., and L., an ijaradar under J., to recover possession of the land,—Held. that the suit was not barred by the proceedings under Act IX of 1847. Section 6 of that Act makes the orders passed under its provisions final only against the zemindar, not against third persons. Nor would section 9 bar the suit; the words of that section do not necessarily extend to forbidding a suit brought to recover property which the Government or its officers may be instrumental in keeping away from the rightful owner. Held, on the facts, that the Government had not, by the proceedings under Act IX of 1847. or otherwise, interfered with the plaintiff's rights so as to entitle him to relief against it in the present suit. Collector Of Moorshedabad v. Roy Dhunput Singh Bahadoor 15 B. L. R., 49; 23 W. R., 38

Act IX of 1847-Contd.

3—Settlement by Revenue authorities.

Although a settlement made by the Revenue authorities under Act IX of 1847 is final, the fact of such settlement will not preclude a proprietor from seeking in a Civil Court to establish his right to the lands so settled.

Narain Chunder v. Tayler 4 Cal 103. 3 C L R 151.

Notes:—Appr 22 Cal 244.

4—Rights of third parties.—Act IX of 1847 does not affect any question between the person in possession and any person other than the Government. Kaliprasad Mazumdar v. Collector of Mymensingh 6 B L R. 261 note: 13 W R 366.

5—Right of assessment by Government of accreted lands—Beng Reg XI of 1825. Act IX of 1847 refers to resurverys of zamindari lands which the Government as such may cause to be made at certain intervals and to assessment consequent on the changes ascertained by such sureveys, but does not interfere with the rights of the Government in its capacity of zamindar to take possession of. and assess all accretions to, its own states under regulation XI of 1825. ObhoyChurn Chowdhry v. Collector of Dacca 4 W R 59

Act IX of 1847-Contd.

6—Land added to revenue-paying estate.—The words "land has been added to any estate paying revenue directly to Government" in Act IX of 1847 S. 6, mean added to the estate as it is depicted on the survey map. Ram Jewan Singh v. Collector of Shahabad 19 W R 127.

Dewan Ram Jewan Singh v. Collector of Shahbad. 14 B L R 221 Note 18 W R 64

Notes—Over: 14 Cal 67 F B Fol: 11 Cal 784 Ref 2 Bom 19; 30 Cal 291 P C.

7—Ss. 6, 9—Assessment-Accreted land-When the order of Board of Revenue final under s. 6 of Act IX of 1847.

The effect of the words "whose order thereupon shall be final" in s. 6 of Act IX of 1847 is, that where an assessment approved of by the Board of Revenue has been made under s. 6, such assessment is final and cannot be challenged in a civil suit, but the fact of an assessment having been made is no bar to a suit raising the question whether the Board of Revenue had jurisdiction under s. 6 of the Act to assess. Act IX of 1847 is applicable to land reformed on the site of a permanently settled estate. Sarat Sundari Debi v The Secretary of State for India in Council 11 Cal 784.

Notes—Over 14 Cal 67 F B. Ref 30 Cal 291 P. C.

8—Assessing reformed land after diluvion—Act IX of 1847, Ss. 1, 6 7 and 9, effect of—Extent of the jurisdiction of Board of Revenue—Powers of Civil Court—the evidentiary value of Survey maps.

Where on the comparision of a survey and a former thak map, the Board of Revenue assessed certain land as alluvial increment, which the Civil Court, in suit against the Board, found to be a reformation on the original site of a permanently-settled estate, in respect whereof the plaintiff had all along paid revenue without abatement :—Held, that the land was not liable to fresh assessment under the provisions of S.6 of Act IX of 1884

Act IX of 1847—Contd.

nor was the comparision of the two maps by the Revenue Officer conclusive on the question of addition to the estate, 11 Calc.. 784, partially overruled.—Held also (Mitter J., dissenting) that the order of the Board of Revenue; fixing the land with liability to assessment was not final, and could be set aside by the Court as ultra vires. 18 W R 64, 19 W. R , 127, overruled. Held, by the majority of the Full Bench, that the language of Section 9 did not prohibit such a suit: and unless the meaning were clear, its operation should be limited to suits for damages on account of anything done in good faith; for instance, in a case of ouster under Sectiou 7. 15 B. L. R, 49, approved. Held, (Mitter J. dissenting), Sec 1 repealed everything in the Regulations which enacted by what officers and how the question of liability to assessment should be tried, and therefore took away from Collectors and Boards of Revenue the power of any binding decision on the point. Held, also (Mitter J., dissenting) that the effect of the words " shall be final in Section 6 was to make the assessment final in every case in which there was jurisdiction to assess, but to leave it open to the Civil Courts to inquire in each case whether there was such jurisdiction, or whether the lands assessed were liable to assessment. Per Mitter J.—S. 1 has not abolished the Medical functions of the Revenue authorities under Regulation II of 1819 ; all that has been abolished by that section are the tribunals constituted by Regulation III of 1828. Per Mitter J.—The proceedings of the Revenue authorities under Sec 6 embrace an inquiry upon two questions viz. the question of liabiity to assessment, and its rate, and under the express wording of the section the finality attaches to the whole order of Sudder Board of Revenue.

Fahamidannissa Begum v Secretary of State for India in Council) 14 Cal 67.

Notes :—Ref 30 Cal 291 P. C. : 2 C. L J 351

9—Held by the Privy Council on Appeal.

A review of legislation anterior to Act IX of 1847 shows that whilst it was intended to bring under assessment lands not included in the permanent settlement, whether waste or gained by alluvion or dereliction from sea or rivers, yet all such lands as were included in estates which were permanently settled, were to be strictly excluded from further assessment. Lands included in the permanent settlement having afterwards been covered by water, and having then been formed again on the same site, were held not to be lands " gained " from the river by alluvion or dereliction within the meaning of Regulation II of 1819, that expression being confined to meaning lands gained since the period of settlement. The effect of Act IX of 1847 was merely to change the mode of assessment in the case of land already liable to be assessed under legislation in force when that Act became law. It was not the object of that Act to bring under liability land re-formed on the site of the land previously lost, within the area of a permanently settled estate, the revenue upon which had been paid without abatement since the permanent settlement. Where an order of the Board of Revenue, made under Act IX of 1847, subjected land included in the permanent settlement to assessment :—Held, that the District Civil Court had jurisdiction (which therefore might be involved as a matter of right) to entertain a suit brought by the landowner contesting that order, and to declare it unauthorised by law.

Act IX of 1847—Concld.

Secretary of State for India v Fahamidannissa Begum. 17 Calc, 590= L R 17 I A 40.

Notes:—Ref : 30 Cal 291 P C.

Act XX of 1847 (copy right)

Notes:—Rep: in Pt. Act XVII of 1862 : Act XIV of 1870 ; Act IX of 1871 ; Act XVI of 1874; Act XII of 1876 ; Act I of 1879 ; Declared in Force—Throughout B. I., Except as regards the Scheduled Districts, Act XV of 1874, S. 3 : In Upper Burma (Except the Shan States). Act XIII of 1898, S. 4.

Act XX Of 1877

See (1) Copyright.
(2) Limitation Act (1908) S. 40.
(3) Small Cause Court, Mofussil-Jurisdiction—Copyright.

Act XIII of 1848.

XIII—

See (1) Survey Award.
(2) Limitation Act (1908) Arts 12, 44.

1—Award-Decision on non-appearance of parties —

Act XIII of 1848 " for the greater security of possessory titles in the Presidency of Bengal, derived from awards made by the revenue authorities under Regulation VII of 1822, Regulation IX of 1825 and Regulation XI of 1833 of the Bengal Code," by s 3, enacted that no suit should be entertained for contesting the justice of any award of the revenue authorities under any of these Regulations made after the passing of the Act after the expiration of three years from the date of the final award. A suit for the amendment of a map was referred by the Deputy Collector to an Ameen for the purpose of a local investigation, and the Ameen returned that, neither of the parties appearing before him, he was unable to make the investigation, whereupon the Deputy Collector struck the case out. Held that this was not an award within the meaning of the Act.

Act XIII of 1848-Contd.

Golam Koodsee Chowdhry v Rashu Chunder Ghose Marsh., 323.

2—In order to apply the provisions of Act XIII of 1848 in regard to limitation, it was necessary to show that there was an award, i e, an adjudication after a contention between the parties before the survey authorities. Hurree Mohun Thakoor v Andrews W R 1864, 30.

3—Suit to assess land—Boundary suit.

Act XIII of 1848 did not apply to bar a suit to assess land as rent-paying. A decision in a boundary suit decides only the question of right to possession of the land, irrespective of the right to assess. Mahomed Ali Khan Chowdhry v Jadub Chunder Chuckerbutty W R 1864. 60.

4-Awards made by Collectors-Beng. Regs VII of 1822 IX of 1825, and IX of 1833.

Act XIII of 1848 was limited to awards made by collectors under Bengal Regulations VII of 1822, IX of 1825 and IX of 1833, which gave to the revenue authorities judicial power to determine questions of possession and other matters with a right of appeal to the regular Courts against their awards. An order of the Collector for the mutation of names in the register is not an award of the nature contemplated by the Regulation XIII of 1848, and an appeal from it was not subject to the limitation of three years prescribed there by. Jewala Buksh v Dharum Singh 10 Moore's I A 51

5—Settlement award—Suit to set aside.

Act XIII of 1848 applied only to suits for contesting the justice of an award as between the contending parties, and not to suits for the purpose of amending a settlement and establishing the rights of persons who were not parties contesting between themselves before the Collector.

Komul Kissen Surkhul v Bisson Nath Chuckeburtty B L R Sup Vol Ap 8 W R F B 128.

Pureeag Singh v Shib Ram Chunder Mundul 3 W R 165.

6-Thakbast award—Beng Reg IX of 1825—Act XIII of 1848—Evidence of possession.

A thakbast award of boundary made in the Lower Provinces may be an award, under Regulation IX of 1825, within the meaning of Act XIII of 1848. It would in any case be material evidence of posesssion. Prahlad Sen v Rajendra Kishor Singh 2 B L R P C 111; 12 W R P C 6.

7—Award—Decision under Batwara Law.

The decision of a Collector under the Batwara Law was not an award within the meaning of Act XIII of 1848. Act XIII of 1848 only applies to awards made by the revenue authorities under Regulations VII of 1822, IX of 1825 and IX of 1833. Pultoo Roy v Greedharee Singh W R F B 12; 1 Ind Jur O S 5.

S. C. Greedharee Singh v Pultoo Roy Marsh 37

8—Order of Collector under Reg VII of 1822.

The order of a Deputy Collector under Regulation VII of 1822 declaring the lands in dispute to be paykan jaghir lands, was an award within the meaning of Act XIII of 1848, and any suit to set it aside had to be brought within three years of the order. Modhoosoodun Singh v Purtee Bullub Paul W R 1864 140.

9—Order of Collector rejecting claim to alluvial land.

The order of a Collector rejecting a claim to alluvial lands on the ground that a settlement of them had already been concluded, was not an award within the meaning of s 3, Act XIII of 1848. Shurat Soondery Dabee v The Government 7 W R 42.

Notes:—Ref 2 Bom 19.

10—Rejection of claim by survey officer.

The rejection by a survey officer of a claim because it had not been brought forward sooner, was not an award within the scope of the special limitation of Act XIII of 1848.

Act XIII of 1848-Contd.

Shama Soondery Dobee v Prosanno Coomar Tagore 1 W R 114.

Notes:—Dist 12 W R 242.

11—Award adopting order under Act IV of 1840.

An award of survey authorities adopting an order under was not illegal, and was consequently governed by limitation under Act XIII of 1848.
Ramgutty Nag Chowdhry v Burodachurn Bose 1 W R 120.

12-Order of Superintendent of Survey striking off appeal.

An order of a Superintendet of Survey striking off an appeal was not an award within the meaning of Act XIII of 1848. Sham Kant Banerjee v Gopal Lall Tagore 1 W R 328.

Ntoes:—(S V M) Fol: 21 Cal 519 Dist: 10 W R 167.

13—Order of commissioner.

Nor was the order of a Commissioner striking an appeal off the file. Janokee Chowdhranee v Dwarkanath Chowdhry 1 Hay, 555
Ram Gopal Roy v Oma Soondry Dasee 2 Hay 41.

14-Deduction for disability,—No deduction on accunot of minority or other legal disability could be made from the period of limitation prescribed by Act XIII of 1848. Modhoosoodun Singh v Purtee Bullub Paul W R 1864, 140.
Huro Chunder Chowdhry v Kished Coomar Chowdhry 5 W R 27.

The limitation for awards made under Bengal Regulations VII of 1822, IX of 1825 and IX of 1833 was afterwards provided for by limitation Act XIV of 1859 s 1 cl 6 and Limitation Act IX of 1871 sch II art 44 and is now contained in art 45 of Sch II of the Limitation Act. 1877.

Act XV of 1848 (Supreme Coward's offic-ieks Trading.)

Notes:—Rep in pt Act XIII of 1876.

Effect of, on Official Assignee's claim for commission qua auctioneer—See ST 11 And 12 Vic C 21 ss 19, 21, 31, 36 Cal 990=4 Ind Cas 697.

Act XVIII OF 1848

See (1) Appeal to Privy Council—Cases in which Appeal Lies or not—Appealable Orders-

(2) Nawab of Surat.

Act XXI OF 1848

See (1) Contract—Contract for Government Securities or shares.

(2) Contract—Wagering Contracts.

(3) Interest—Omission to stipulate for, etc—Contracts.

(4) Principal and Agents—Authority of Agents.

(5) Promissory Note—Consideration.

(6) Tazi Mandi Chittis.

(7) Trover.

Act XXI of 1848 (Wagers).

Notes:—Rep Act IX of of 1872.

Act VI of 1849.

See Cases under Pensions act VI of 1849.

Act VI of 1849 (Pensions).

Notes—Rep, Act XXIII of 1871.

ACT XI OF 1849

See Mandamus.

Act IX of 1850

See (1) Contract Act, s. 27.

(2) Small Cause Court, Presidency Towns.

Act X OF 1850 S. 32.

See Parties—Parties to Suits—Legacy, Surt for.

Act X OF 1850 S. 88.

See Bailment.

Act VIII OF 1850.

See Judicial Officers, Liability of.

Act XVIII OF 1850.

See (1) Cantonments.

(2) Judicial Officers, protection to.

Act XVIII OF 1850 (Judicial officer's Protection).

Notes—[Declared in Force—Throughout B, I; except as regards the Scheduled Districts act XV of 1874, s.3; in the Sonthal Parganas, Reg. III of 1872. S. 3; as amended by reg. III of 1899, s. 3. in the Angul District, Reg. I of 1894. s. 3. in the

Act-Contd.

Chittagong hill tracts, reg. I of 1900 S. 4; in the Arakan hill district, Reg. IX of 1874, S. 3; in Upper Burma (except the Shan States), act XIII of 1898, s. 4; in certain tracts in the Chin Hills, Reg. v. of 1896, S. 3. in British Baluchistan Reg. I of 1890 S. 3.]

Act XXI of 1850 (Caste Disabilities Removal).

Notes:—[Declared in Force—Throughout B. 1. except as regards the Scheduled districts, act XV of 1874, s. 3: in the Sonthal parganas, Reg: III of 1872, S. 3 as amended by Reg. III of 1899, S. 3; in the Arakan hill District (with modifications), Reg. IX of 1874, S. 3.]

Act XXI OF 1850.

See (1) Custom (Panjab) Alienation by widw-Sales and Mortgages.

(2) Mahomedan Law, Marriage.

Act XXI OF 1850.

See (1) Hindu Law—Guardian-Right of Guardianship. 1 All.549.

(2) Hindu Law— Inheritance — Divesting of, Exclusion from, and Forfeiture of, Inheritance.

(3) Hindu Law—Maintenance—Right to Maintenance—Widow.

(4) Cases under Hindu Law—Widow—Disqualification—Unchastity.

Act XXVI of 1850 (Improvements in Towns)

Notes—[Rep. in pt. Act XIV of 1870; rep (in Agra). Act VI of 1868, S. 5, (in Punjab). Act IV of 1873; (in Bomboy), Bom. Act VI of 1873; (in Bengal, Eastern Bengal and Assam). Ben, Act V of 1876; (in Sindh), Bom. Act I of 1879; (Locally in Madras), Mad. act X of 1865]

Act XXVI OF 1850

See Bombay district Municipal act, 1850.

ACT XXXIV. OF 1850

See Beng. Reg. III of 1188.

ACT XLII OF 1850

See Railway Company.

10 B. L. R. 241.

Act VIII of 1851

See Tolls.

Act-Contd.

Act XII OF 1851.

See Madras town land Revenue Act.

Act V of 1852 (Marriage by registrars.)

Notes:—Rep. Act XV of 1872.)

Act V of 1852

See Hindu Law, Marriage.

ACT XI OF 1852—

See (1) Bombay Revenue Jurisdiction Act, 1876, S. 4.

(2) Inam Commissioner.

(3) Jurisdiction of Civil Court-Customary Payments.

(4) Jurisdiction of Civil Court—Rent and Revenue suits—Bombay.

OF 1852 Attachment under

See Limitation Act, 1908 art 144—adverse possession.

1—Shet-Sanadi-Rules framed under Bombay Act XI of 1852—The shet-sanadi discharged by Government without any fault on his part—The lands continued to him on payment of full survey assessment The new shet-sanadi remunerated from out of the assessment by Government—The shet—Sanadi lands converted into ryotwarl holding-Resumption of lands by Government.

In 1865 shet Sanadi, on being discharged without fault from his office by Government, was under the rules then in force, allowed to remain in posseasion of the shet—Sanadi lands, but full survey assessment was imposed thereon. The defendant No 2, who was appointed the new shet—Sanadi, was remunerated from the extra assessment levied upon the shet Sanadi lands. In 1905 the Government resumed the lands and handed them over to defendant No 2:-

Held, (1) that the order passed, and the action taken under the rule, by the Government had in the effect of converting the lands from a shet-Sanadi vatan into a ryotwari holding and of investing the holder of the land with the rights of an ordinary occupant, entitled to it so long as he paid the survey assessment;

(2) that the defendand no 2 had held the office of shet—Sanadi independently of the lands in dispute; and all that was done in 1865 was that his remuneration for that service was increased, and the enhanced amount was made payable not from the lands in dispute, but out of the assessment payable to Government by the occ upant that was an arrangement between defendant no 2 and Government which could not prejudice the rights of the preceding shet—Sanadi in the absence of any law affecting that right;

Act-Contd.

(3) that the proceedings adopted by the Collector in 1905 were on the supposition that what was done in 1865 had the effect of continuing the land in dispute as one reserved for shet Sanadi service but that was not its effect, and the proceedings in question were ultra vires of the Collector.

Yellappa Ramappa Kuri v. Marlingappa Chavadappa. 12 Bom. L. R. 577.

Act XXV of 1852 S. 1.

See Limitation Act, (1908) Art. 183.

Act XXV of 1852 S. 2.

See Limitation Act, (1908) Art. 182—Step in aid of execution—Suits and other proceedings by decree-holder.

Act XV of 1852 S. 6

See Privy Council, Practice of—Restoration of Appeal.

Act XVI of 1853.

Notes:—Rep. Act XII of 1873.

Act XIX of 1853 (Recusant Witness).

Notes:—S. 40 Rep, Act X of 1855; Ss. 1 to 18 20 to 25, 27 to 39, 41 to 44, Rep. Act X of 1861; S. 19 Rep. Act I of 1872; S. 26, Rep, in Pt. Act XII of 1891; Rep. (Except in Assam), Act I of 1903.

Act XIX of 1853.

See Summons, Service of.

Act XIX of 1853 S. 28.

See Witness—Civil Cases—Defaulting Witnesses.

Act VI of 1854.

Act VI of 1854 (Supreme Courts, Equity Procedure.)

Notes—(Rep., Act VII of 1868.)

Act IX of 1854 (Civil Appeals,)

Notes—(Rep., Act XII of 1873.)

Act-Contd.

Act IX of 1854.

See Sale For Arrears of Revenue—Setting aside Sale—Irregularity.

Act XVII of 1854.

See Post Office Act, 1854.

Act XVIII of 1854.

See Cases under Railway Company.

Act XVIII of 1854 (Railways)

Notes—Rep., Act IV of 1879.

Act II of 1855.

Act II of 1855. (Evidence)

Notes—Rep., Act I of 1872.

See Evidence Act, 1855.

Act VI of 1855 (Execution, Supreme Courts.)

Notes—Rep; Act X of 1877.

Act VI of 1854.

See Mortgage——Redemption——Right of Redemption.

Act VII of 1854.

See (1) Execution of Decree—Effect of Change of Law pending Execution.

(2) Subsistence Money.

Act VIII of 1855 (Administrator-General)

Notes—Ref. Act XXIV of 1867.

Act VIII of 1854.

See Administrator General's Act, 1855.

Act XI of 1855 (Mesne Profits and Improvements.)

Notes—(Rep. in Pt., (Locally), act IV of 1882; declared in force throughout B. I, except as regards the scheduled districts, act XV of 1874, s. 3.)

Act XI of 1854 s. 2.

See Sale in Execution of Decree—Setting aside sale—Rights of Purchasers—Compensation.

Act XII of 1855 (Legal Representatives' suits.)

Notes—(Rep. in Pt, act IX of 1871, declared in force—throughout British India expect as regards the scheduled districts, Act XV of 1874, s. 3; N the Sonthal Parganas Reg. III of 1872 s. 3; as amended by Reg. III of 1899. s 3; in the Angul District, Reg. I of 1894, s. 3; in Upper Burma (Except the Shan States), Act XIII of 1898, s. 4.)

Act XII of 1857.

See (1)Abatement of Suit—Suits.

(2) Right of Suit—Injuries, Suits by and against representatives of deceased for.

Act XII of 1855.

See Civil Procedure Code, O 22, r 4.

Act XIII of 1855 (Fatal Accidents).

Notes—(Rep. in Pt. Act IX of 1871; declared in force—throughout B. I., except as regards the scheduled districts, act XV of 1874, s. 3, in the Sonthal Parganas, Reg. III of 1872, s. 3, as amended by Reg. III of 1899, s. 3; in the Angul district, Reg. I of 1894, s. 3; in the Arakan hill district, Reg. IX of 1874, s. 3; in Upper Burma (except the Shan States), Act XIII of 1898, s 4)

Act III of 1855.

See (I) Cause of action.
(2) Damages.
(3) Tort.
(4) Defamation.
(5) Malicious prosecution.
(6) C P C 0 22.
(7) C P C (1882) 483.

Act XIII of 1855.

See (1) Damages—Measure and assessment of of Damages—Torts.

(2) Negligence.

Act XVIII of 1855 (Pardens and Reprieves)

Notes—Rep. Act XVI of 1874.

Act XXII of 1855 (Ports and Ports dues).

Notes—Rep. Act XVI 1874.

Act XXII of 1855.

See (1) Port of Calcutta.

(2) Shipping Law--Collision.

Act XXVIII of 1855 (Usury Laws Repeal.)

Rep. in Pt. act XIV of 1870; Declared in force throughout B. I., except as regards the scheduled districts, act XV of 1874, s. 3.)

Act XXVIII of 1855 S. 2.

See (1) Interest Miscellaneous cases compound Interest.

(2) Cases under Hindu Law—Usury.

(3) Interst—Omission to stipulate for or stipulated time has expired-Contracts.

Act XXVIII of 1855.

See (1) Interest—Stipulations amounting.

(2) Limitation act, (1908) Art 132

(3) Mahomedan Law—Usury

Act XXXVI of 1855

See Salt

Act XXXVII of 1855

See (1) High Court, jurisdiction of—Calcutta —Civil

(2) Sonthal Pergunnahs Settlement Regulation.

(2) Subordinate Judge, Jurisdiction of

Act IX of 1856.

See Bill of Lading.

Act XII of 1856 S. 3.

See Ministerial Officers.

Act XV of 1856 (Hindu Widows' Remarriage).

See Hindu Widaw Remarriage Act.

Notes:—Declared in force — Throughout B. I., Except as regards the Scheduled Districts, Act XV of 1874, S. 3; in the Sonthal Parganas, Reg. III of 1872, S. 3, as amended by Reg. III of 1899, S. 3; in the Angul District, Reg. I of 1894, S. 3; in the Arakan Hill District, Reg. IX of 1874 S. 3.

Act XV of 1856.

See Hindu Law-Marriage—Validity or otherwise of Marriage.

Act XV of 1856 S. 2.

See Hindu Law—Inheritance— Divesting of, Exclusion from, and Forfeiture of, Inheritance—Marriage.

See Hindu Law — Reversioners — Arrangements between Widow and Reversioners.

Act XV of 1856.

See Custom Punjab—Remarriage or unchastity of Widow.

Act-Contd.

Act XV of 1856.

See Hindu Law—Widow—Disqualifications-Re-marriage.

Act XV of Ss. 1856 2. 5.

See (1) Hindu Widow's Remarriage Act.
(2) Hindu Law Disqualifications-Remarriage.

Act XV of 1856 S 3.

See Guardian—Appointment.

Act XV of 1856 S. 5.

See Jurisdiction of Civil Court—Caste.

Act II of 1857.

See Bombay University Act.

Act VI of 1857 (Acquisition of Land for Public purposes.)

Notes.—Rep. Act X of 1870.

Act VI of 1856.

See (1) Arbitration-Arbitration under Special Acts, etc.—Act VI of 1857.
(2) Land Acquisition Act, 1857.
(3) Mandamus.

Act VII of 1856.

See Collector.

Act XI of 1857 (State offences).

Notes:—Rep. in pt, Act XVII of 1862; Act XII of 1876; Declared in force—Throughout B I., except as regards the Scheduled Districts, Act XV of 1874, S. 3; in the Arakan Hill District, Reg. IX of 1874, S. 3; in Upper Burma (except the Shan States), Act XIII of 1898, S. 4; in Kachin Hill-tracts, as regards Hill-tribes Reg. I of 1895, S. 3: in certain tracts in the Chin Hills, Reg. V of 1896, S. 3; in British Baluchistan, Reg. 1 of 1890, S. 3: in the Angul District, Reg. 1 of 1894, S. 3; in the Chittagong Hill-tracts, Reg. I of 1900 S. 4.

Act XI of 1857.

See (1) Forfeiture of Property.
(2) Hindu Law—Inheritance—Impartible Property.17th All, 456. L R 22 I A 139.

Act XIX of 1857 (Joint—Stock Companies).

Notes:—Rep. (except as to Table B), Act X of 1866; Table B is in force so far as it applies to any company existing on 1st May 1882—See Act VI of 1882, S. 2 (c).

Act-Contd.

Act XIX of 1857

See Companies' Act, 1857.

Act XXV of 1857.

See (1) Case under Forfeiture of Property.
(2) Limitation—Statutes of Limitation—Act XXV of 1857.

Act XXV of 1857 (Forfeiture).

Notes.—Rep. in Pt., Act V of 1869; Act IX of 1871; and Am , Act XII of 1891; Supplemented, Act IX of 1859; Declared in force — Throughout B. I. Except as regards the Scheduled Districts, Act XV of 1874, S. 3, in Upper Burma (except the Shan States), Act XIII of 1898, S. 4.

Act XL of 1858 S. 18.

See Contract Act S. 65.

Act XL of 1858 S. 18.

See Cases under Contract Act S. 23

Act III of 1858.

See Beng. Reg. III of 1818.

Act III of 1858 (State Prisoners).

Notes:—Rep. in Pt., Act XIV of 1870; Act XII of 1891; Declared in force—Throughout B I., except as regards the Scheduled Districts, Act XV of 1874, S 3; in the Sonthal Parganas, Reg. III of 1872, S. 3, as amended by Reg. III of 1899, S. 3; in the Angul District, Reg. I of 1894, S. 3; in the Chittagong Hill-tracts, Reg. I of 1900, S. 4; in the Arakan Hill District (Ss. 2 and 5), Reg. IX of 1874, S. 3; in Upper Burma, except the Shan States (S. 5), Act XIII of 1898, S. 4; in British Baluchistan (S. 5), Reg. I of 1890, S. 3.

Act X of 1858.

See forfeiture of Property.

Act X of 1858 (Confiscation, etc. for Rebellion).

Notes:—Rep. Act VIII of 1868.

Act XI of 1858 (Corporal Punishment).

Notes:—Rep. Act VIII of 1868.

Act XXI of 1858 (Native Passenger ships),

Notes:—Rep. Act XII of 1870.

Act XXX of 1858.

See Nawab of Carnatic's Act.

Act XXXI of 1858.

See Settlement—Effect of Settlement.

Act-Contd.

Act XXXIV of 1858.

See Lunatic

Act XXXIV of 1858 (Lunacy Supreme Courts)—Lunacy Act (Act XXXIV of 1858)—Lunatic Remuneration to a Committee—Court's jurisdiction to pass the order—Next-of-kin of lunatic not entitled to be heard on the application—Lunatic when same can impeach the order.

The Court has a discretionary power to allow a Committee of a lunatic, appointed under Act XXXIV of 1858, remuneration, but will only allow it under special circumstances. When some relation or friend of the lunatic can be found who is willing to act as Committee, the Court will not as a rule allow remuneration to such a person but when no such person can be found and an official of the Court has to be appointed the court will exercise its discretion and allow remuneration. But in all cases the Court has the jurisdiction.

On an application for remuneration by a Committee of a lunatic, the next-of kin of the lunatic have no right to be heard in their own interests, as they have no vested interest in the estate. But a lunatic, if he becomes of sound mind, has the right to impeach any order which he considers has been made without proper regard to his interest; and he can impeach the order for remuneration even after the Committee has passed his accounts. This right devolves on the lunatic's death upon his heirs. Mulji Damodar v Bomanji Mancherji. (10 Bom L R 772.)

Act XXXV of 1858

See (1) Appeal—Acts—Act XXXV of 1858
(2) Hindu Law-Inheritance-Divesting of, Exclusion from, and forfeiture of inheritance—Insanity.
(3) Cases under Lunatic.
(4) Principal and agent—Authority of Agents.

Act XXXV of 1858. S. 11

See Oudh Land Revenue Act Ss 175 and 176

Act XXXV of 1858. S. 23.

See Letters Patent, High Court N W P cl 22.

Act XXXV of 1858.

See (1) Abatement of suit.
(2) Muhammadan Law, Joint family.

Act XXXVI of 1358 (Lunatic Asylums)

Notes:—Rep in Pt., Act XVI of 1874; Rep in Pt and Am., XX of of 1889: Am Act XVIII of 1886; S. 17 B, Am in Bengal, Beng Act 7 of 1909; Declared in force—Throughout B 1 except as regards the Scheduled Districts Act XV of 1874; s. 3; in the Sonthal Parganas, Reg 111 of 1872, S.3 as amended by Reg. 111 of 1899, S. 3; in the Angul District Reg 1 of 1894, s. 3 in the Arakan Hill District Reg. IX of 1874, s. 3 in Upper Burma (except the Shan States) Act XIII of 1898, s. 4; in British Baluchistan, Reg. 1 of 1890 s. 3

1—1858 Act XXXV-Lunatics Estates Act Ss 7 and 10-Lunatic adjudged-Lunatics Act XXXV of 1858, ss. 9, 10, 11—Disqualified proprietor—Revenue-paying land Civil Court Jurisdiction.

The Civil Court has authority under s.10 of the Court of Wards Act (IX B C of 1879) to place a person who has been adjudged a lunatic under the provisions of Act XXXV of 1858 under the provisions of Act XXXV of 1848, under the guardianship of the Court of Wards both as regards his person and property even if it does not consist of revenue paying estate. The word 'land' in s. 10 of the Court of Wards Act (IX of 1879) does not necessarily mean revenue-paying land.

Thakurani Makund Koeri v The Deputy Commissioner of Chota Nagpur. 7 C W N 20 = 29 Cal 638

2—Ss. 7, 9—Management of lunatic's estate—Custody of lunatic's person.

Under s. 9 a District Judge is bound to appoint a manager for the estate of the adjudged lunatic. A lunatic should not be forced to go to a lunatic Asylum if he is taken a proper care of by his relatives, there being no provision in the Lunacy Act authorizing a District Judge to send an adjudged lunatic to the Asylum. Loga Koer 30 Cal 973

3—C P C O. 32 r. 15 (1882—s. 403)-Lunatics, suits of—Suit against a lunatic so adjudged—Appointment of guardian ad litem for him. As the right of suit against a lunatic is not taken away by any provision of law, the Court should appoint a fit and proper person to be guardian ad litem, on its being proved that the defendant was a lunatic. K adala Reddi v Narisi. 24 Mad 504.

Notes.—Fol: 33 Cal 1094 = 10 C W N 719 = 4 C L J 306.

Act XL of 1858-Contd.

Act XXXVI of 1858 s. 4

See Judicial Officers Libility of.

Act XL of 1858 (Minors)

Notes—Rep Act VIII of 1890.

Act XL of 1858.

See (1) Cases under Appeal—Acts—Act XL of 1858.

(2) Appeal to Privy Council—Cases in which Appeal lies or not—Appealable orders.

(3) Certificate of Administration—Issue of, and right to, Certificate.

(4) Court of Wards.

(5) Cases under Guardian:

(6) Judicial Commissioner, Assam:

(7) Cases under Majority, Age of.

(8) Minor—Liability of, Minor on, and right to enforce contracts.

(9) Limitation Act—(XV of 1877 S. 19)

(10) Minor—Cases under Bombay Minors Act (XX of 1864).

(11) Minor—Custody of Minors.

(12) Cases under Minor—Representation of Minor in suits,

(13) Small Cause Court, Mofussil—Jurisdiction —Act XL of 1858.

—Certificate under

See Evidence Act, 1872 S. 35

1-S. 2—Applicationiof Act-Hindu Law-Power to deal with minor's property without certificate of administration.

S. 2 of Act XL of 1858 does not preclude the natural and legal guardian of a Hindu Minor from dealing with the minor's property by mortgage or otherwise within the limits allowed by the Hindu law, without having acquired a certificate of administration from the Civil Court.

Heit Singh vThakoor Singh. 4 N W 57.

2—Minor—Natural guardian, Sale — by Act XL of 1858, Section 18, et. seq.

Where a plaintiff claimed certain immoveable property as purchaser, under a Kobala, executed by a Hindu widow as guardian of her minor son, bona fide, for the benefit of such son, the widow not deriving powers from any appointment or certificate under Act XL of 1858, it was held that the plaintiff's title was good.

All the sections of Act XL of 1858 from the 18th onwards, respecting powers, duties, and responsibilities relate not to guardians generally but to persons appointed or to whom certificates have been granted under the provisions of the Act. There being no indication in any part of the Act, of any intention to alter or affect the provisions of Hindu or Mahomedan Law as to guardians who do not avail themselves of the Act, guardians acting without certificates will be regulated by the ordinary Hindu or other law applicable to the case. 2 C L R 249 over-ruled.

Act XL of 1858 Contd.

Ramchunder Chuckerbutty v. Brojonath Mozumdar, 4 Cal 929=4 C L R 247.

Notes:—Fol: 25 Cal 585 F B; 26 Cal 820 Ref: 12 Bom 686; 15 Bom 259; 19 Bom 309, F B. Dist: 29 Cal 473.

3—Mahomedan Law.—

Act XL of 1858 comprises the cases of all minors not under the Court of Wards and not being European British subjects, and acts irrespective of the Mahomedan law, which can be no guide to the Civil Court in determining whether an applicant should or should not have letters of administration. Akima Bibee v. Azeem Sarung, 9 W R 334.

4—Mahomedan Law.—

Act XL of 1858 authorizes a Court to select a guardian irrespective of the law of the parties (e. g., Mahomedan Law), but does not prevent the selection of a guardian indicated by such law if he be a fit person. Mohunnuddy Begum v. Oomdutoonissa, 13 W R 454.

5—Provision made by will for guardianship.—

Where a testator makes due provision for the guardianship of his minor son, Act XL of 1858 does not contemplate the interference of the Court in its summary jurisdiction.

Anund Coomar Gangooly v. Rakhal Chunder Roy, 8 W R 278.

6—S. 3-Application for certificate—Form of application.—

An application for a certificate under Act XL of 1858 need not refer to the estate of the deceased, but ought merely to set forth that there is property to which the minor is entitled, and of which the applicant claims the right to have charge. Koosoom Kaminee Debee v. Chunder Kant Mookerjee, 23 W R 346.

7—Party having no right to possession.—

A certificate under S. 3 of Act XL of 1858 is purely an authority for the administration of property,and ought not to be issued where there is neither present right nor prospective possession.

Act XL of 1858-Contd.

Nobin Chunder Shaha v. Rajnarain Shaha, 9 W R 582.

Notes:—Fol: 3 B L R Appx 119.

8—Minor—Act XL of 1858—Appeal from order under Section 18 of Act XL of 1858—Certificate withheld under certain circumstances.

An application for a certificate under Act XL of 1858 ought not to be granted when there is a minor who has almost attained his majority, unless under special circumstances, as where it is shown that there is some absolute necessity for the certificate being granted.

Under Section 18 of Act XL of 1858, an appeal is allowed to any person injured by an order under the Act. Muhamdee v. Nazirun, 6 Calc 19=6 C L R 210.

Notes.—Dist 9 C W N 584.

9—Minority—Plea of Minority-Act XLV of 1858—Certificate of guardianship — Act IX of 1875, Section 3.

In September 1877 the father of the defendant, who was a minor, applied for a certificate of administration to his property under Section 3 of the Minors Act, XL of 1858. On the 10th December 1870 the following order was made by the Court; "Certificate of administration under Act XL of 1858 is hereby granted", but until the 10th December 1881 when a certificate of that date was issued, no certificate was applied for. Between the date of the order and the issue of the certificate the defendant had attained the age of 18 years and had executed the promissory note on which he was now sued.

Held, that the delay in obtaining the Certificate having been caused by the parties and not by the Court, the certificate must be taken to have been intended to operate from the day of its date, by which time the defendant had obtained his majority, and that accordingly the plea of minority was bad. Stephen v. Stephen, 8 Calc 714=10 C L R 533.

Affirmed on appeal. 9 Cal 901= 13 C L R 430.

Notes:—Diss: 14 Cal 55, Fol: 12 Cal 542; 13 Cal 219; Ref: 13 Bom 285.

Act XL of 1858-Contd.

10—Minority—Act XL of 1858—Certificate of Guardianship—Act IX of 1875, Section 3.

An order having been made appointing a guardian of a minor under Section 3 of Act XL of 1858, no certificate of guardianship was taken out,but the guardian appointed acted as guardian.

Held, that under section 3 of Act IX of 1875 the minor did not attain his majority until the age of 21 years. Per Curiam:—It is the making of the order under Act XL of 1858, and not the subsequent taking out of the certificate, by which a guardian is appointed of the person and property of a minor within the meaning of Section 3 of Act IX of 1875. 10 C L R 533.

Chuna Mull Johary v. Brojonath Roy Chowdhry, 8 Cal 967=11 C L R 315.

11—The time from which the authority of th e guardian begins—Court Fees Act S. 6 (VII of 1870)—Sec. 6 of the Court Fees Act, which says that a certificate under Act XL of 1858 (among other documents) "Shall not be filed, exhibited, or recorded in any Court of Justice or received or furnished by any public officer", unless a certain fee be paid, means that such certificate cannot exist until the person who has been permitted by the Court to obtain it deposits the requisite amount of stamp duty. Apart from this Section, however, the preparation of such a certificate after the order granting it is not a purely ministerial act, it must then be applied for by the grantee and it is from the date of its being actually taken out, and not from the date of the order of granting it, that a guardian of the person and property of a minor is to be considered as appointed under Act XL of 1858. Where, therefore, I applied for such a certificate, and an order was made that the "application be allowed and in a suit on certain bonds, in which suit the minor in respect of whose person and property the petition for a certificate was made, was a defendant, was represented by J,who had not taken out an actual certificate.—Held, in a suit by the minor to set aside the decree as not binding on him, that without the certificate J had no authority to represent the minor, and the latter, not having been properly represented in the suit was entitled to have the decree set aside. 8 Calc. 714 and on appeal, 9 Calc.,901: followed. 8 Calc., 967, discented from. 12 Cal 542.

Act XL of 1858-Contd.

The above decision was reversed and it was held by the Privy Council, that, when a Court to which an application is made under Section 3 of Act XL of 1858 for a certificate has adjudged the applicant entitled to have one, he then substantially obtains it, although it may not be drawn up or issued at the time. Obtaining such an order, he has substantially complied with the terms of the Act, in the same way as when a plaintiff having judgment that he shall have a decree in his suit, it may be said that he has obtained his decree. Therefore, when a minor had been represented in a suit by a person who had obtained an order for a certificate under S 3, but had not had it issued to him, the absence of a certificate was held to be not an ir-regularity as entitled the minor, on coming of age, to have the proceedings set aside on the ground that he had not been properly represented.

Mugniram Marwari v Gurshai Nand. Liakut Hossein v Gurshahai Nand. 17 Calc 347=16 I A 195.

Notes:—Appl: 23 All 459. Dist; 21 Bom 400. Fol. 8 Bom L R 897. Ref: Rat Un Cr 803; 15 Bom 505; 19 Bom 571; 26 Bom 109; 4 C L J 112; 3 Bom L R 565: 31 Bom 80; 13 C W N 643; 36 Cal 768.

12—Guardian-Minority-Administration Certificate.—

Whenever an application is made to appoint a guardian under Act XL of 1858, and an order is passed appointing a person a minor's guardian, the minor becomes a ward of Court and the period of his minority extends to 21 years though no certificate has been taken out by the person so appointed a guardian. 8 Cal 714 and on appeal. 9 Cal 901 disented from; 8 Cal 967 followed.

Grish Chunder Chowdhry v Abdul Selam. 14 Cal 55.

Notes:—Ref: 13 Bom 285.

13—Appointment of guardian without proof of certificate being taken out-Presumption as to regularity of proceedings—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 114, illus (3)—

In a suit by a puisne mortgagee against the prior as well as the subsequent mortgagees and the mortgagor's representative it was found that the prior mortgages were executed when the mortgagor was over 18, but under 21. A guardian of his person had been appointed under Act XL of 1858, but there was no evidence as to whether a certificate of administration had also been granted under that Act. The prior mortgagees thereupon contended that under Act XL of 1858 a guardian of the person could not be appointed unless a certificate of administration was also granted, and there being no evidence of the latter being granted, this appointment of a guardian of the person alone was ultra vires. Held that, assuming (but without deciding the point) that, under Act XL of 1858 a guardian of the person could not be appointed unless a certificate of adminstration was also granted, an independent appointment of a guardian of the person may be made, and there being no evidence to show that such a certificate of administration was not granted, the Court must presume the regularity of the order under illus. (e) to s 114, evidence Act.

Raj Coomaree Dassee v Preo Madhub Nundy 1 C W N 453.

Notes:—Ref: 1 C L J 337: 4 A L J 273 F B; W N (1907) 97, 29 All 385 F B; 32 Cal 891.

14—Effect of guardianship certificate ordered but not issued-Limitation-A guardianship certificate under S 3 of Act XL of 1858 takes effect from the date of issue and not from date of the order which directs that it should issue. 12 Cal 542 followed Nowbat Roy v Lala Kedar Nath 13 Calc 219.

Notes:—Ref: 13 Bom 285.

15—Right to sue without certificate—Acts of guardians without certificates.

Act XL of 1858 declares that a person shall not be competent to institute a suit in Court in respect of property of which he claims the charge until he shall have obtained a certificate; but not that every act of a guardian who has not such a certificate shall be null for the want of one.

Shooghury Koer v Boshisht Narain Singh 8 W R 331.

Notes:—Ref: 8 B H C R 31.

16—Right to sue without certifiate.-Manager without certificate.—

A manager has no authority to deal with the claims or debts and liabilities attaching to the estate of a minor without having taken out a certificate under Act XL of 1858. Tusneef Hossein v Sookhoo 14 W R 453.

Act XL of 1858-Contd.

Sobha Kooeeree v Hurdey Narain Mohajun 25 W R 97.

16A—Guardian without certificate—Validity of acts.

Without a certificate under Act XL of 1858, a Court may refuse to hear even a natural guardian as of right. When the Court, in the exercise of the discretion vested in it, does hear him, the absence of the certificate will not vitiate the proceedings. The private acts of a natural guardian without a certificate under Act XL of 1858 are not vitiated by law. Lalla Bhoodmul v Lalla Gowree Sunkur 4 W R 71.

Notes:—Ref: 6 W R 30.

17—Permission to sue by guardian.

A party who sues as guardian of a minor may, for good and sufficient reasons, be allowed to sue without a certificate obtained under Act XL of 1858. Held that this permission may be given by the Court in which a suit by the guardian may be brought. Taramonee Chowdhrani v Rajbibee Chowdhrani 2 Hay 575.

18—Proof of permission to sue-The proper manner of giving permission to sue on behalf of a minor is by an order recorded in the order sheet, still there is nothing in the nature of the sanction provided by s 3 of Act XL of 1858 which bars the ordinary rule of evidence that sanction may be proved by express words or by implication.

Bhaba Pershad Khan v The Secretary of State for India 14 Calc 159.

Notes:—Fol; 9 All 508.

19—(Act XL of 1858) Held that the absence of a certificate of guardianship was not a fatal matter and that the very fact of the Court allowing a suit to proceed must be taken to imply that the necessary permission was given; moreover even if no such permission was given the irregularity was such as was covered by s 578 of the Code of Civil Procedure, that is to say, it did not affect the merits of the case or the jurisdiction of the Court. Parmeshar Das 9 All 508; 7, W N 189.

Notes:—Ref: 20 All 370.

20-Father.—A father cannot sue on behalf of his minor son without having obtained the certificate prescribed by Act XL of 1858, and any decision passed in the case would be irregular, as being passed in the absence of the party prima facie principally interested. Shiam Soonder v. Narain Das 2 Agra, 343.

Act XL of 1858-Contd.

Madho Rao Apa v, Thakoor Pershad 3 Agra 127.

21—Grandmother.-A grandmother is not competent to represent her minor grandson without having obtained the certificate prescribed by S. 3 Act, XL of 1858. Rutnee v. Roghobere Dyal 2 Agra, 278

22-Mother.—A mother may be allowed, under S.3, Act XL of 1858, to sue as guardian of her minor son without having taken out a certificate. Munra Jhunna Koonwar v. Laljee Roy 1 W R 121.

Oodoy Chand Jha v. Dhunmonee Debia 3 W R 183.

Ramdhun Doss v. Ram Rutton Dutt 10 W R 425.

23-Ground for dismissal of suit.-When a Court of first instance allows a mother to institute a suit on behalf of her minor son, the Judge on appeal has no reason to dismiss the suit on the technical grounds that no certificate had been granted to her under s. 3 Act XL of 1858. Goonomonee Debia v. Ram Komul Sandle. 17 W R 144.

See Ankhil Chundee v. Tripoora Soonduree. 22 W R 525.

24—S. 3, Act XL of 1858, gives discretion to the Court to admit a party to sue without a certificate. Anund Chunder Ghose v. Komul Narain Ghose 2 W R 219

Luchmee Koonwar v. Bhugwan Doss 6 W R Mis, 116.

Sheoburrut Singh v. Lalljee Chowdhry 13 W R 202.

Bonomally Kesh v. Hungshessur Roy. 17 W R 492.

Sobha Kooderee v. Hurdey Narain Mohajun 25 W R 97

Notes:—Ref: 18 All 131.

25—Held, that the plaintiff not being legally or formally appointed manager or guardian of a minor's estate or person, was incompetent to maintain the suit on his (the minor's) behalf, especially when the minor's natural father has been appointed as such under Act XL of 1858, and has not been discharged from his office.

Act XL of 1858-Contd.

Setul Pershad v. Birj Mohun Dass 1 Agra, 25.

26—Waiver of objection-Duty of Judge.-That the persons who sue on behalf of minors are their natural guardians is not a sufficient reason for neglecting the directions of law which require that the minors shall be represented by persons who have obtained certificates,or by persons who, when the property is of small value, are specially permitted by the Court to sue or defend the suit on behalf of minors. The fact that the defendant's pleader did not press the objection, does not relieve the Judge from the duty imposed on him of seeing that the minors were properly represented. Zorawar Singh v. Jawahir Singh 3 Agra, 167.

27-Guardian-Held that the institution of a suit by a guardian on behalf of minors, without due authority having been obtained, is illegal.

Dhunraj Kooeree v. Roodur Pertab Singh, 3 Agra, 300.
Agra, F B Ed 1874, 155.

28—Son adopted pending suit.-When adoption takes place while a suit is pending on the part of the widow and the adopted son is a minor, it is necessary that he should be substituted for his adoptive mother as the party preferring the appeal, and be duly represented in conformity with the provisons of S. 3 Act XL of 1858.

Collector of Bareilly v. Nuraen Day 3 Agra, 349

29--Stranger.-A stranger connot bring an action on behalf of a minor without a certificate under Act XL of 1858. Goberdhun v. Girwar. 3 Agra, 92.

30—Surbarakar.—A Surbarakar cannot sue on behalf of a minor without permission on the Court or a certificate under Act XL of 1858.

Bodh Singh v. Lochun Singh. 3 Agra 220

31—Permission of Court—From the fact that in a former suit the plaintiff's mother was arrayed among the parties as his guardian as well as from the line of defence she then adopted and in the absence of any evidence to the contrary it was presumed that she had the permission of the Court to appear and represent the minor's interest in that suit, and therefore the decision in that suit was held to be binding on the minor in a subsequent suit, where the same question was raised. Bonomally Kesh v. Hungshessur Roy 17 W R 492.

32-Suit by unauthorized guardian-Where a person representing herself as a guardian neither took out a certificate under Act XL of 1858 nor obtained the permission of the Court under s. 3 of that Act to appear in the suit without a certificate, —Held, that the minor was not bound by any act of the alleged guardian, nor was he bound to sue within three years from the order passed by the Court under s. 246, Act VIII of 1859, rejecting her petition of objection to a sale of attched property. Sreenath Koondoo v, Hurree Narain Mududuck 7 W R 399

Notes:—Dist; 17 W R 492. Ref: 10 W R 8.

33—Beng Reg X of 1793—Suit on behalf of minors.—In a case in which Regulation X of 1793 has no application, the Court may, under S. 3, Act XL of 1858, allow a friend or relative of the minor to institute a suit on behalf, and where the guardian omits to take steps for the protection of the infant, the Court may allow another person to sue for the benefit of the latter.

Modhoo Soodun Singh v. Prithee Bullub Paul 16 W R 231

34—Guardian—In a suit brought by his next friend on behalf of a minor, if the next friend has as a matter of fact the permission of the Court to sue, then it is not necessary for him to have a certificate under Act XL of 1858. Alim Baksh Fakir v. Jhalo Bibi 12 Cal 48

Notes:—Dist: 14 Cal 754.

35—Guardian—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) S. 440—Reading See 440 of the Civil Procedure Code with S. 3 of Act XL of 1858 it seems that the next friend of a minor plaintiff need not compulsorily take a written permission to sue from the Court. Newaj v Maksud Ali 12 Cal 131.

Notes:—Dist: 14 Cal 754.

36—S. 440 C P C.—Minor Suit by uncertificated guardian—Leave of Court—(Act XL of 1858) The mother of minor, who had not obtained a certificate under Act XL of 1858, insti.

Act XL of 1858-Contd.

tuted a suit on behalf of the minor for some property of small value. She did not ask the Court in which she instituted the suit for permission to institute it, as required by S. 3 of that Act, but the Court entertained it, the defendant not raising the objection that it had been instituted without permission, and it was decided on the merits in favour of the minor. Held, that under these circumstances, it must be taken, notwithstanding there was no order allowing the matter to sue, that the suit was instituted with the Court's permission. Kedar Nath and another v Debi Din 4 All 165; 1 W N 173

Notes:—Ap 11 Cal 509.

37—Revision—Act XL of 1858.]

Under s. 3 of the Bengal Minors (Act XL of 1858) the Civil Courts has no power to refuse to admit a person who has obtained a certificate of administration under the Act, to defend a suit on the minor's behalf, as guardian of such minor. Where a Subordinate Judge had so acted, held that the High Court had no power to revise his order under s. 622 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

Baldeo Das v Gobind Shankar. 7 All 914; 5 W N 294.

38—S. 3-Suit by guardian of minor without certificate under Act XL of 1858 or permission of Court—Presumption.

Where the Court of first instance entertained a suit instituted by a minor under the guardianship of her mother, although the latter did not hold a certificate or guardianship, or apply under s. 3 Act XL of 1858 for permission to institute the suit on behalf of her minor son, held that, under the circumstances, it was reasonable to hold that the mother was permitted by the Court of first instance to represent and institute the suit on behalf of the minor, and the suit was maintainable. (A W N 1881, 173 and A W N 1881, 175 Fol:)

Chunna v Daodat A W N 1882, 23.

39—S. 3——Institution of suit on behalf of minor without obtaining certificate.

The words "any other sufficient reason" in the section include any reason which shows sufficiently that the object of the Act, namely the care of the property of the minor, will be best subserved by allowing a relative to institute a suit on behalf of the minor without first obtaining a certificate.

Amirali v Wajidi Begam 4 C P L R 75.

Act XL of 1858-Contd.

40—Ss. 3 and 28—Guardian and minor—Appointment of guardian ad litem while there is a duly constituted guardian to the property.

An order by a Subordinate Judge appointing a guardian ad litem to a minor, where the litigation affects the property of the minor and there exists a duly constituted guardian of the property is an applicable order; but a guardian ad litem, where the litigation concerns the property of the minor, cannot be appointed so long as there exists a certificated guardian in respect of the property who is capable of acting in that behalf. (Ref: 20 All 162=18 A W N 9). Har Bilas v Lachman Das A W N 1891, 42.

41—S. 3—Certificate of guardianship of the property of a minor member of a joint Hindu family.

Age of majority postponed to twenty-one years -Held, that though a certificate for the guardianship of the property of a minor member of a joint Hindu family ought not to be granted, yet where such a certificate has in fact been granted, the grant has the effect of postponing the age of majority of the minor until he attains the age of 21 years. (Ref: 22 All 270, F B). Durga Prasad v Mahabir Parsad. A W N 1899, 199.

42—S. 3—Minor—Guardian—Grandfather—Claim.

A minor can be represented by his grandfather as his next friend and object to the attachment of his property in execution of a decree against his father. The grandfather is competent to prefer the objection on behalf of his minor grandson without a certificate under Act XL of 1858.

Muhammad Gulkhan v Muhammad Munir. A W N 1883, 168.

43-Minor-Succession Act, Section 261, Act XL of 1858, section 3—Permissson of Court to represent minor. Civil Procedure Code, Act X of 1877, sections 440 and 462.

A applied for revocation of probate, granted to J, who styled himself as "father and guardian of B, minor" but it did not appear that A had obtained a certificate under section 3 of Act XL of 1858, or had the permission of the Court to represent the minor. The petition was dismissed, but on A's death, an appeal was preferred by the minor, through his natural guardian.

Act XL of 1858-Contd.

Held, that the appeal could not proceed, inasmuch as the minor was not a party to the proceedings in the Court below.

The permission of the Court to institute proceedings on behalf of a minor, being an act of judicial discretion open to appeal, must be formally recorded. Mrinamoyi Dabia v Jogodishuri Dabia. 5 Calc 450=5 C L R 361.

Notes:—Fol: 12 Bom 18. Dist: 11 Cal 509. Ref: 10 Cal 102; 4 All 1.

44—Permission to relative to defend.

The mother of a minor, who did not hold a certificate under Act XL of 1858, was sued on behalf of the minor. She did not obtain permission to defend the suit on behalf of the minor, but the Court allowed her to answer to the suit on behalf of the minor. Held that, under these circumstances, it must be inferred that the Court had given her permission to defend the suit, as required by s. 3 of Act XL of 1858, and therefore the decree made against her in the suit as representing the minor was binding on the latter. Janki v Dhoram Chand. 4 All 177.

Notes:—Dist: 11 Cal 402. Ref: 9 All 508.

45—Right to represent minor without certificate—Discretion of Court.

A person who does not hold a certificate under Act XL of 1858 is not debarred by s. 3 from representing a minor as plaintiff or defendant in a suit; but the Court has the fullest discretion, when the property is of small value, or for any other sufficient cause, to dispense with the production of a certificate. Sreemunt Koondoo v Sharoda Soonduree Dossee. Bhujohurree Paramanick v Sharoda Soonduree Dossee. 8 W R 197.

Notes:—Diss: 15 W R 283. Fol: 10 W R 205 Ex: 3 Cal 371, 46-Suit on behalf of a minor-Subject of small value.

A suit can be prosecuted or defended by a relation on behalf of a minor, without a certificate under Act XL of 1858, when the subject-matter of the suit is of a small value. A suit to recover real and personal property of the value of Rs 7,-260 was allowed to be prosecuted by the brother of a minor, on behalf to himself and his minor brother, under s. 3 Act of 1858. Nabadwip Chandra Sirkar Hurender Lal Sahoo v Rajender Pertab. Sahee. 1 W R 260.

Notes:- 4 B L R F B 130 See 13 W R F B 40.

47—S.5—Property in several districts.-"Residence" of minor.

Held by Loch. J., that the word "residence" used in s, 5, Act XL of 1858, is not the place where the minor may be dwelling at or about the time when the application for a cretificate under the Act is made, but the paternal family house or the family residence of the minor in which every member of the family has an interest, and in which they usually reside; Ainslie I., being of opinion that though ordinarily that might be taken to be the meaning of the word; yet circumstances might arise in which it might be taken to mean otherwise. Mahomed Hossein v Akbur Hossein, 17 W R 275.

48-s.6-The summary enquiry provided by s.6 of Act XL of 1858 refers to the grant of the certificate to the parties claiming it, but no part of the Act allows third parties to demand an enquiry into matters which have nothing to do with the genuineness of the grant. Meltoon Bibi v Gibbon. 12 W R 101.

49—S. 6—Judicial enquiry—(Act XL of 1858). An application being made to the District Judge by a mother for a certificate of guardianship to her minor son which was opposed by a counter application, the Judge called upon the Collector for a report as to the character and qualifications of the lady under S. 8 of act XL of 1858. The report being submitted the Judge decided the question upon that very report without taking any further evidence. Held that no judicial enquiry within the meaning of S. 6 of of the said Act had been held. Rani Kuar v. Babbu Singh. 7 W N 235.

50—S. 6—Enquiry by Court—Conduct of applicant.

A Civil Court made after passing orders on an application for certificate under Act XL of 1858, pending an enquiry to the Collector as to the alleged fraud of the manager, and the state of the accounts and the assets of the property.

Mohesh Chunder Sein v The Collector of Dinagepore 16 W R 312.

Act XL of 1858-Contd.

51—Change of guardian.

One manager cannot shift off the responsibility from himself and resign the appointment, and another one take up the appointment, without the provisions of s. 6, Act XL of 1858 (requiring issuing a notice of such application or the fixing of a day for the hearing of the application) being duly carried out. Jogodumba Koer. v Mircha Koer. 17 W R 269.

52—Ss. 6, 9, 12—"Inquire summarily"—Inquiry to be judical—Certificate of administration—Pardahnashin.

The expression "inquire summarily" in s. 6 of the Bengal Minors Act (XL of 1858) does not mean that the Court is to act on mere hearsay or the report of a Tahsildar deputed by the Collector to make inquiry. In dealing with cases under the Act, District Judges should, as far as possible, adopt and follow the rules ordinarily applicable to judicial proceedings, so as to supply a record from which a Court of appeal may be able to ascertain whether an order appealed from has been rightly passed or not. (A W N (1887) 235 Ref.)

Where the only materials to support an order of a District Judge directing the Collector to take charge of the estate of a minor under s. 12 of the Act were to be found in Tahsildar's report, and the order was passed in a opposition to a petition by the mother of the minor, but the petitioner was not afforded an opportunity in the Judge's Court of giving evidence to rebut the allegations made against her, or of cross-examining the Tahsildar on his report.—Held that, upon such materials, it could not be said that there was "no near relative willing and fit to be entrusted with the charge of the property of the minor," which under s. 9 must be found before the power to appoint the Collector under s. 12 could arise. Held, also, that the mere circumstances that the mother of the minor was a pardahnahin lady was not necessarily a disqualification to her having charge of the property of her son. A W N 1881, 27 and A W N 1881, 102 Ref. Kaitki v The Collector of Budaon. A W N 1889; 170

52A—S. 7—Qualification for guardianship—Right to certificate.

It is not the policy of Act XL of 1858 to prevent parties from performing their natural duties by the younger members of their family who may be deprived of their parents, and it should not be considered as an axiom that an uncle or other near relative will necessarily defraud a minor, and ought therefore to be refused a certificate under that Act.

Mahomed Saleh v Government. W R 1864, Mis 26

Act XL of 1858 Contd.

53—S. 7 looks as much to the fitness of the relative as his propinquity; and when two relatives claim the right to administer, the Court is at liberty to disregard the latter qualification and look to the former. Akima Bibee v Azeem Sarung 9 W R 334.

Notes.—Fol: 9 W R 548.

54—Ss. 7, 22, 28-Certificate of administration—Accounts—Interloctutory order.

The appellant in this case to whom a certificate of administration in respect of the property of a minor had been granted under s. 7 of Act XL of 1858, was served with a notice to produce accounts. He objected to this notice, and the District Court disallowed the objection, holding that he was bound to produce accounts. On appeal to the High Court against this order, it was held that the order was not such as was contemplated by s. 22 of Act XL of 1858, and it being only an interlocutory and not a final order in the case, the present appeal was premature, as the order appealed from was not such as would fall under the purview of s. 28 of the Act. And the appeal was accordingly dismissed. Appl 13 All 214 = 11 A W N 45. Ali Ahmed Khan A W N 1884, 318.

55—Ss. 7, 28—Guardian appointed by will—Subsequent nomination under Act XL of 1858—Powers of guardian.

A testator's wish in respect of the guardianship of his minor heirs and administration of his estate could only be given effect to by proceedings under Act XL of 1858; and when such proceedings are taken and the person mentioned in the will is appointed as guardian under the Act, the authority under the will merges in that derived under the Act. The guardian cannot hold a position by reason of the will independent of and antagonistic to, that which he holds by virtue of the Act, and when he is deprived of his position as guardian and administrator under Act XL of 1858, he cannot fall back on the mere fact of his nomination by the will. Ram Pragash v Rukmina. A W N 1881, 151.

Act XL of 1858–Contd.

56–Ss, 7, 21–"Sufficient cause" cause for recalling certificates granted, what does not amount to.

The District Judge granted a certificate to the appellant the paternal uncle of certain minors, on furnishing security, the respondent, the maternal uncle, agreeing to the same. Subsequently on receiving a letter from the Collector of the place where the property of the minors was situated, that the appellant was in debt the Judge recalled the certificate granted to the appellant and granted one to the respondent without holding any inquiry or proceedings, or allowing the appellant an opportunity of making an explanation or showing cause. Held that there was no "sufficient cause" within the meaning of s. 21 for recalling the certificate granted to the appellant.

Muhammad Raza v Raza Ali.
A W N 1881. 4.

57—In the grant of a certificate to a guardian under Act XL of 1858, unless under peculiar circumstances, fitness is to be preferred to mere nearness of relationship. Aman Khan v Hossena Khatoon. 9 W R 548.

58—Before appointing a guardian the Judge should satisfy himself of the applicant's fitness for the office. Ram Dyal Gooya v Amrit Lall Khamaroo. 9 W R 555

59—In appointing a manager of a minor's estate a Judge has to consider not only the nearness of kindred, but also the suitableness of the person to be appointed. Khoodee Monee Dossee Ghossanee v Koylash Chunder Ghose.
4 W R Mis 22.

60–The mere fact that a near relative who desires to have charge of the property is a parda-nashin is not of itself a disqualification such as takes away the right to a certificate under s, 7.
Kuruppool Koer v Collector of Shahabad
20 W R 432.

61—Under section 7, Act XL of 1858, a person claiming a right to have the charge of the property of a minor by virtue of a will is entitled, if the will be a genuine instrument, to a certificate of administration, notwithstanding the existence of a natural guardian of the minor in the person of his mother. Bhoobun Mohinee Debee v Poornoo Chunder Banerjee. 17 W R 99.

Act XL of 1858–Contd.

62—ss. 4 and 6—Appointment of guardian.

Under ss. 4, 6, and 7, Act XL of 1858, the Court has power to appoint a guardian other than the father of a minor, for the purpose of instituting suits and protecting the property of the minor. Etwari v Ram Narayan Ram.
4 B L R Ap 71 13 W R 230.

63—Certificate of guardianship to Minor.—Procedure.

Where an application was made by a Hindu female for a certificate of administration under Act XL of 1858 in respect of an estate which she alleged to belong to an adopted son.—Held, that the Judge ought merely to have enquired whether the boy was a minor, and whether the petitioner being a near relative was a fit person to be entrusted with the charge of the minor's property. Brohmo Moyee Chowdhrani v Chitturmonee Chowdhrani. 6 W R 25.

64—Accounts, filing in Court.—

An administrator holding a certificate under Section 7, Act XL of 1858, is not bound to file in Court periodical accounts of moneys realized and disbursed on account of the miner.

Sonkally Koonwar.
6 W R Mis 53.

Notes—(S V K) Ap 7 W R 522

65—Account of guardianship—Resignation of guardianship—

Under s. 7, Act XL of 1858, a manager appointed to the estate of a minor cannot in any way get rid of or resign that trust without the permission of the Court, and without duly accounting to his successor for all moneys received and disbursed by him. Kalee Pershad Singh v Poorno Debia. 15 W R, 398.

66—S. 9—Procedure where no near relative—Appointment of guardian—Collector—Person with certificate.—

Under Act XL of 1858, s. 9, the Judge has no power to appoint the Collector as manager of the estate of the minor, until he is satisfied that no person has established title to a certificate under a will or deed, and that there is no relative willing and fit to be entrusted with the charge of the property; and both these alternatives must be proved to the Court in the ordinary way by evidence brought before the Court. Hyder Reza v Collector of Purneah. 22 W R 490.

Act XL of 1858-Contd.

67—ss. 10, 11, and 12—Procedure where no near relative—The powers given by ss 10, 11, and 12 of Act XL of 1858 only accrue upon the happening of the contingency which is mentioned in s. 9 Kuruppooll Koer v Collector of Shahabad. 20 W R 432.

Act XL of 1858 (Minors).

68—s.10—Manager—Duty to keep accounts. A person appointed to administer the estate of a minor under s. 10 of Act XL of 1858 should keep proper accounts and may summarily be ordered under s. 21 to furnish to his successor an account of receipts and disbursements.

Dal Singh v Raja Harbans Singh. 66 P R 1890.

69—ss. 10 and 12—Cancelling the certificate—Grant of another—Where the minor's estate consists in whole or in part of land, or any interest therein, and when such application is made, the court can only proceed to act in accordance with the provision of s. 12 of Act XL of 1858, and has no jurisdiction to grant another certificate to any fit person, such a course being applicable to the property described in sec 10. Sakhawat Ally v Noorjeeban Begum 10 Calc 429.

69A.—s. 12—Appointment of Collector-Power to appoint Collector to take charge of minor's estate.—

Under the provisions of ss. 9 and 12 of Act XL of 1858, the minor's estate cannot be made over to the Court of Wards, but the Collector should be directed, under s. 12 of that Act, to take charge of the estate of the minor, and he thereupon becomes invested with authority to appoint a manager of the property and a guardian of the person of the minor. Sidhoo Lal. 2 N W 398.

70-Trust created under will for religious and charitable purposes—

Where a trust is created under a will for certain purposes mentioned in the will—e. g., the maintenance of religious worship, charitable institutions, etc ,—the properties belonging to the trust cannot be taken charge of by the Collector under Act XL of 1858. Rajessurree Dabia v Jogendro Nath Roy 23 W R 278.

71—Dispute as to guardianship—

Where two persons were fighting to get hold of the property, and the probability was that the minor would suffer if the property lay in the hands of either, the Court could not say that either person was a fit person to be appointed manager and therefore, under s. 12, ordered the property to be made over to the charge of the Collector, with direction to appoint a manager of the property and a guardian of the person of the minor. Jugodumba Koer v Mircha Koer 17 W R 269.

72—Joint property—Interest in—Specification of share of minor—Where, on an application for the appointment of a manager to the estate of a deceased Rajah, a Zilla Judge, notwithstanding a contention raised before him as to the extent of the minor's interest in the property, passed an order strictly within the provision of s. 12, Act XL of 1858, his successor was held to have acted without jurisdiction in having, upon a subsequent application, passed an order specifying the shares of the minor and the opposing party. Collector of Tirhoot v Rajcoomar Deo Nundun Singh 10 W R 218.

73—Certificate under Act XL 1858 in respect of interest of sons in ancestral property—

Under Hindu law, the interest in ancestral property taken by sons immediately on their birth is an estate and interest in immoveable property in respect of which a certificate of administration under Act XL of 1858 may be granted during the lifetime of their father.

Dheraj Koer v Adjoodhya Bux Singh. 3 N W 91.

Notes:—Ref: 7 N W P 261 F B.

74—Property of minor—Share of minor in joint family property under Mitakshara Law—

Where the joint property of an undivided joint family governed by the Mitakshara law is enjoyed in its entirety by the whole family, and not in shares by the members, one member has not such an interest therein as is capable of being taken charge of and separately managed under the provisions of Act XL of 1858. Sheo Nundun Singh v Ghunsam Kooeree. 21 W R, 143. Ajhola Kooeree v Digambur Singh 23 W R, 206.

Notes—Fol. 23 W R 206; 5 Cal 219.dist, 113. C L R 86. Ref. 12 B H C R 281; 19 Bom 309 F B

Act XL of 1858-Contd.

75-Partition-B a Hindu governed by Mitakshara school of Hindu Law, died, leaving two minor sons. J and K and also a widow Z and her two minor sons J and K had lost their mother before the death of B. The court of wards, who manage the whole property, withdrew from management on J's attaining majority; and Z applied and obtained a certificate under act XL of 1858 as regards the shares of K and her two minor sons. Afterwards K's share was excluded from the operation of the certificate as he attained majority. T died leaving H his widow and an infant son. H applied for a certificate under Act XL of 1858 with respect to the property of her son and it appeared that K was incapable of managing the property. Held, that though the certificate granted to L had been improperly obtained, H was not entitled to one, as. no partition having been effected since B's death, the property still remained the joint family property. Hoolash Koer v Kasee Proshad 7 Cal 369.

76-ss. 12, 9 -Appointment of Collector.—Where a certificate under Act XL of 1858, which had been granted to the two widows of a deceased Hindu, was recalled, simply because, inconsequence of their disagreement, joint management had become impossible, and the District Judge, refusing the application of the widow, who was the minor's mother, to be made sole manager, directed the Collector under s. 12 to take charge. Held that, in the absence of any ground to remove her summarily, the Court was bound to grant the application of the minor's mother as the nearest relative, and to allow her the management until some cause to remove her was duly made out. Nistarinee Debee v. Coellctor Of 24 Pergunnahs 23 W. R., 330

77-Power of Court to limit nature or extent of property--Where a manager is appointed under Act XL of 1858, the Civil court has no authority to restrict or limit, by description or otherwise the nature or extent of the minor's property. Sheo Prosunno Chobey v Gopal Suru. 15 W R 529.

78—Minor—Natural Guardian, Sale by Act XL of 1858. Section 18 et Seq.

Where plaintiff claimed certain immoveable property as purchaser under a Kolaba, executed by a Hindoo widow as guardian of her minor son, bona fide, for the benefit of such son, the widow not deriving her power from any appointment or certificate under Act XL of 1858: it was held, that the plaintiff's title was good. All the sections of Act XL of 1858 from the 18th onwards, respecting powers, duties and responsibilities, relate not to guardians generally but to persons appointed or to whom certificates have been granted under the provisions of the Act.

There being no indication in any part of the Act, of any intention to alter or affect the provisions of Hindoo or Mahomedan law as to guardians who do not avail themselves of the Act, guardians acting without certificates will be regulated by the ordinary Hindu or other law applicable to the case. 2 C L R 249, over-ruled.

Ramchauder Chuckerbutty v Brojanath Mozumdar. 4 Cal 929= 4 C L R 247

Notes:—4 Cal 929=4 C L R 247 fol. 25 Cal 585 F B, 26 Cal 820 Ref. 12 Bom 686, 15 Bom 259, 19 Bom 309 F B Dist 29 Cal 473.

79—Power of guardian to sell or mortgage.—Sanction of Court.

Act XL of 1858 does not prevent a guardian, who has obtained a certificate thereunder, from selling or mortgaging property in Calcutta without the sanction of the Court. Gopalnarain Mozumdar v. Muddomutty Guptee 14 B L R 21.

Notes—Fol: 20 Bom 155 Ref: 2 Bom 67, 22 Bom I Dist: 27 Bom 515.

80—Mortgage by guardian without sanction of the Court.

Where a guardian had mortgaged certain property of a minor without previously obtaining the sanction of the Court under s. 18 of Act XL of 1858, but it was found that the mortgage transaction was a proper one, and there had since been a decree in a suit in which the minor was properly represented under which the property had been sold, the irregularity as to the mortgage being made without the sanction of the Court was not allowad to prevail. Alfutunnissa v. Goluck Chunder Sen 15 B L R 353 note

Notes—Con: 2 Cal 283.

Act XL of 1858-Contd.

81—Grounds for recall of certificate.

Where a guardian, appointed under Act XL of 1858, mortgaged certain immoveable property of the minor without obtaining the sanction of the Court under s. 18 of that Act, and it appeared he was related to, and jointly interested with, the minor in the management of the property—Held, that it was not a sufficient cause to recall the certificate unless it was made clear that in the mortgage transactions he had acted in bad faith. or had injured, or was likely, or had intended to injure, the interests of the minor. Busunto Coomar Ghose 15 B L R 351 note Brojendro Narain Roy v. Busunto Coomar Ghose 13 W R 300.

82—Sale by guardian without sanction of the Court—Invalidity of sale—Refund of purchase-money.

A sale of a minor's immoveable property by a guardian appointed under Act XL of 1858, and who was also the kurta of the joint family of which the minor was a member, is invalid if made without the sanction required by s. 18 of that Act, even though the sale may have been for the benefit of the minor and made in good faith to pay off the debts of the ancestor. Where, however, it was found that the purchaser had acted bona fide and had paid a fair price for the property, he was held entitled to a refund of so much of the purchase-money as had been expended for the benefit of the minor Shurrut Chunder Chattopadaya v. Rajkissen Mookerjee 15 B. L. R., 350

Notes—Ap: 20 Bom 61; 150; 15 Cal 627. Fol: 4 Cal 33; 9 All 340 Ref: 22 Mad 289; 9 C W N 923; 3 C L J 260; 20 Bom 61

83-Mortgage by Administrator of a minor's property—Purchaser with notice, Title of—Duties of purchase.

A mortgage of the property of a minor made by the administrator appointed under Act XL of 1858 is invalid, unless the sanction of the Court has been previously obtained under s.18 of the Act. Where the administrator was sued, as representing the minor, by the mortgagee, and made no defence to the suit, and the property was sold, under a decree so obtained, to the mortgagee, by whom it was again sold to a third person, who knew that the administrator had executed the mortgage in that capacity,—Held that the decree did not protect the mortgagee who purchased at the Court sale, nor her vendee, from suit by the minor for recovery of the property. Debi Dutt Sahoo v. Subodra Bibee 2 Chelc., 283, 25 W. R. 449

Act XL of 1858-Contd.

Notes—Appr. 2 All 902; 11 C L R 345; 4 Cal 33 Ref: 15 Cal 40; 6 C L J 448.

84—Mortgage by certificate-holder without sanction—Contract Act IX of 1872, s. 23—

A mortgage by a person holding a certificate of administration in respect of the estate of a minor under Act XL of 1858 of immoveable property belonging to the minor without the sanction of the Civil Court previously obtained is void with reference to s. 18 of that Act and s. 23 of the Contract Act, even though the mortgage-money was advanced to liquidate ancestral debts and to save ancestral property from sale in the execution of a decree. Chimman Singh v Subram Kuar. 2 All 902,

85—Purchaser from guardian—Per Garth, C. J—

Previously to the passing of Act XL of 1858, where a suit was brought by a minor on coming of age, to recover property sold by his guardian during his minority, it was generally incumbent upon the purchaser to prove that he acted in good faith; that he made proper enquiries as to the necessity for the sale; and had honestly satisfied himself of the existence of that necessity. Now under s.18 of that Act, the Civil Court not only has the power, but is bound to enquire into the circumstances of each case, and to determine whether, as a matter of law and prudence, it is right that any proposed sale or mortgage of the minor's property should take place; and if the Court, upon the materials and information brought before it by the guardian, makes an order for sale, a purchaser under such an order is not bound to make the same enquiry which the Judge has made, and to determine for himself whether the Judge has done his duty properly and came to a right conclusion. Where a plaintiff alleges fraud or illegality as a ground for setting aside a sale made under s. 18, the onus lies upon him to make out a prima facie case of fraud or illegality, and to show that the debt, which formed the consideration for the sale in such case, was one for which the minor was not responsible. Per Prinsep, J—A stranger purchasing from a guardian, acting under the authority granted under s. 18 of Act XL of 1858, will be entitled to every protection from the Courts, so long as it is not shown that he acted in a fraudulent or collusive manner, knowing that the debts, for the liquidation of which the purchase money would be applied, were not debts lawfully binding on the minor. The burden of proof in such a case would he heavily on the person seeking to set aside the alienation. But where the purchaser is himself the creditor, and therefore has the means of satisfying a Court as to the origin and nature of the debts and how they are binding on the minor, the burden of proof is shifted on the purchaser, when the plaintiff has established a prima facie case.

Act XL of 1858 (Minors,-Contd.

Sikkher Chund v Dulbutty Singh. 5 C L R 374.

Notes—Ap. 14 Mad 26 Fol. 11 Bom 78; 6 Cal 161 Dist. 5 All 76 Ref. 15 Cal 40; 22 Cal 545, 23 Cal 400, 24 Cal 77; 16 Bom 1; 180; 17 Bom 755; 3 Cal 257=9 C W N 636=1 C L J 408.

86 —Mortgage by guardian without sanction of the Court—

A mortgage without the sanction of the Judge by a guardian of a minor appointed under Act XL of 1858, is absolutely void, and a decree obtained upon a mortgage so executed cannot be enforced against the property of the minor.

Buchraj Ram v Ram Kishen Singh. 11 C L R 345.

Lala Hurro Prosad v Basaruth Ali. 25 Calc 909.

87 —Held, that a mortgage by a certificated guardian of minor of the minor's property without first obtaining the sanction of the Court under s. 18 of Act XL of 1858 was not absolutely null and void so as to entitle the minor to the property without first making any restitution to the mortgagees for money spent for the benefit of the minor. S 65 of Act IX of 1872 was applicable to such cases. 3 All 852 distinguished; 15 B L R 350. 7 N W 201,6 N W 258.1 All 57 and Weekly Notes, All 1881 P 16 referred to. Girraj Bukhsh v Kazi Hamid Ali. 9 All 340. 7 W N 62.

Notes—Fol 18 All 373; 25 All 59. Ref. 15 Cal 40; 23 Mad 229, 28 All 80=3 A L J 807=(1905) W N 174; 2 C L J 300

Act XL of 1858 (Minors)-Contd.

88.-Power of certified guardian to grant lease-Effect of unauthorized transfer—A lease granted for a period of 12 years, though renewable at the pergunnah rate and transferable, without the Court's authority by the certified guardian is void ab initio, and will therefore not avail the lessee for the period for which such guardian is at liberty to grant the lease, i. e. five years:—Held, accordingly, that in the case of ijmali property, the minor is competent to eject the lessee as trespasser in respect of his own share without making his co-sharers parties to the suit, whether such a lease was executed by such guardian seperately or conjointly with the co-sharers of the minor. Quere whether such a lease granted by a certified guardian conjointly with the co-sharers of a minor, and thus creating one and the same tenancy, is not also void as against the co-sharers. Held, also, that a transfer made by a person in the capacity of a guardian before the actual issue of the certificate, but after the order for its issue has been made in his favour and after his recognition as a certified guardian, is a transfer made under the provisions of s. 18 of Act XL of 1858. Harendra Narain Singh Chowdhry v Moran 15 Calc 40.

Notes—Ref 18 Cal 259; 33 Cal 273=10 C W N 126; 29 Mad 29; 7 C L J 483; 35 Cal 707; 36 Cal 675=9 C L J 523.

89.- Effect of lease granted by a certified guardian for term exceeding five years without the sanction of court, of minor's property—A lease granted by a certificated guardian of a minor's property, for a term of more than five years without the sanction required by s. 18 of Act XL of 1858 is invalid. Bhupendro Narayan Dutt v Nemyechand Mondul. 15 Calc 627.

Notes—Ap. 20 Bom 150. Ref. 20 Cal 249.

90—Leave to deal with property—Procedure on application under s 18 of Act XL of 1858—On an application for leave to deal with the property of a minor, the Civil Court is bound to determine the question whether the proposed manner of dealing with it would benefit the minor if sanctioned and the application should contain all the materials which are adequate to enable the Court to decide that question. The decision of Parth C J in 5 Cal 303, Followed,

Girish Chunder Mookhopadhya 6 Calc 161

Act XL of 1858 (Minors)-Contd.

91—s. 21-Ss. 7 and 19-Recall of certificate-Power of Court to recall certificate granted under s. 7, Act XL of 1858—

A certificate granted under s. 7, Act XL of 1858, can be recalled summarily under s. 21, Where the application for recall is based on charges of waste and mismanagement, the certificate may be so recalled, if a sufficient case is made out, without any account having previously been taken in a regular suit under s. 19.

Shurwar Hossein Khan B L R 720; 2 Ind Jur N S 200.

Naunee Bibee v Surwar Hossein 7 W R 522

92-Mode of revocation-It is not necessary to institute a regular civil suit in order to obtain the revocation of a certificate of guardianship Mahomed Nukshund Khan v Afzul Begum. 3 N W 149.

93-An order cannot be made in the Summary Department declaring a sale made by a manager invalid as being not within the scope of s. 18, and granting an injunction to prevent the demolition of a house. That must be done by a regular suit. Mukrumunnissa v. Abdool Jubbar. 17 W. R, 171.

94-Bengal Act IX of 1879-Certificate of guardian ship—Application to cancel one and grant another—Where a petition is made under the provision, of s 21 of act X L. of 1858 to have a granted certificate recalled and a fresh one granted to another, the petitioner should set forth in his petition a sufficient cause for such course being taken and court should thereupon proceed to enquire Judicially whether such sufficient cause is established. Sakhawatally v. Noorjehan Begum 10 Cal 429.

95-Ground for recall—An order for a certificate may be revoked under s. 21 Act XL of 1858 if the Judge sees sufficient cause for its revocation in the conduct of the party in whose favour it was granted. Tusneef Hossein v. Sookhoo. 14 W. R. 453

96-S.12.—A Zilla Judge, having ordered the grant of a certificate under Act XL of 1858 to a widow with reference to the property of her deceased husband, afterwards, at the instance of the Collector, and on hearing all the parties claiming or objecting, set aside his order and directed the Collecter to take charge of the estate. Held that the order, though the Judge professed to make it under s. 12, Act XL of 1858, was really made under s. 21. Chunder Coomar Roy v. Collector of Jessore. Bussant Coomaree Dossee v. Collector of Jessore. 13 W R 243 =4 B. L. R. App X 84.

Act XL of 1858 (Minors)-Contd.

Notes:—Ref: 6 Bom. 304; 34 Cal 216.

97—S. 12—Certificate of guardianship—Purdanashin lady.—

The mere fact that an applicant for the guardianship of a minor was a purdanashin lady, is not, in itself, an adequate ground upon which to reject her application, apart from the question of her fitness and capacity to manage the minor's estate. Lalkuar v. Shib Singh, A. W. N. 1881, 102.

98—Ground for remarriage of minor.

The marriage of a minor is not sufficient cause within the meaning of s. 21 of Act XL of 1858 for withdrawing a certificate as manager granted under that Act; there must be some neglect in the performance of duty, or some cause of a similar kind rendering it improper to continue the manager in the appointment. Jugo Duneba Koer v. Mircha Koer. 17 W R.269.

99-S. 21—Guardian's heirs, if liable to render accounts.—

The provisions of s. 21 Act XL of 1858 are personal to the guardian himself, and refer to cases in which his certificate has been re-called for incompetence, dishonesty or some other good cause, and not where his appointment has lapsed through death. Under the provisions of that section, the District Judge would not be competent to require the heirs of a deceased guardian to render an account of all moneys received and disbursed by him in the capacity of a guardian. Rameshur Tewary v. Kishun Kumar. A W N (1882) 6;

Notes:—Ref: 22 All 332.

100—S. 21. —Application by minor on attaining majority to cancel guardian's certificate —Maintainability—

S. 21 of Act XL of 1858 must be construed in a liberal manner and it includes the power of a Court issuing the certificate of guardianship to recall the certificate when the Court is satisfied that the person in respect of whom the certificate is issued has already attained majority, and being sui juris is entitled to look after his own interests. Irtaz Ali v. Shaid Ali A. W. N. 1888, 279.

Act XL of 1858 (Minors)-Contd.

101——Neglect of duty of estate—Enquiry—Manager appointed—Where a case is started showing that elder sons are neglecting their duty as managers of an estate to the material injury of a minor son, the Judge is bound to institute inquiry. Anund Coomar Ganoogly v. Rakhal Chunder Roy. 8 W. R. 278.

102—Mother's right to sue on behalf of minor son—Sale by Hindu mother of portion of minor's estate to satisfy mortgage debt-Validity.

A suit for redemption cannot be brought by the mother of a minor plaintiff, if she does not hold a certificate under Act XL of 1858. Where a mother of a minor makes a sale of a portion of the minor's share to pay off a mortgage-debt, the sale is not invalid, as it is for the minor's benefit. Bhim Singh v. Luchho. A. W. N. 1882. 70.

Act XL of 1858 (Minors).

103-Minor widow guardian-Natural father to be preferrd to mother-in-law-Discretion of court:

The mother of a deceased married son is not entitled to be appointed guardian of the minor widow in preference to her natural father. The Act leaves it to the discretion of the court to appoint a fit person from among the minor's relatives when nobody has been appointed by will or deed. Musammat Nihal Dae Deoki v. Nundun 25 P. R. 1881.

104—Certificate to mother of infant son—

The High Court granted a certificate to the mother of a minor son, setting aside the order of the District judge refusing to grant the certificate to her on the ground that she should not be the sole administratrix, and held that the Act provided safeguards for the proper administration of the estate. Imtiz v. Beguam. A W N 1881, 14.

105-Certificate of administration to minor's estate.

Where the District judge refused to grant a certificate to the grandmother of the minor to administer to his estate. on the ground that it would be usless and inexpedient to appoint her, without making any inquiry into the fitness of the applicant, held that the reason for refusing the application was not sufficient or satisfactory, and her application had not been sufficiently investigated. Held also that. if the Judge. upon full consideration, considered the appellant unfit, he should record his reasons for so thinking. Ati Kuar v. The Collector of Gorakpur. A W N 1881, 16.

Act XL of 1858 (Minors)-Contd.

106-Certificate of administration-Woman.-

The certificate of administration to a minor's estate should not be refused merely because the applicant is a woman. Nor is it a sufficient reason to refuse the grant of a certificate that the estate is likely to be better managed by the Collector. It is not the intention of the law that no certificate should be granted to a woman and that the administration of the estate of minors should ordinarily be made over to the Collector. Deo Kuar, A W N 1881, 27.

107-Property of minor--Two managers.--

Though there may be one guardian for a minor's property and another for his person, there cannot be appointed two managers for different portions of his estate. Mussammat Bal Kuor v. Ganpat, 181 P R 1888.

108—Failure to produce accounts.

An applicant for a certificate under Act XL of 1858 having alleged that the appointed guardians had neglected their charge in various ways, the Judge called upon the guardians to produce their accounts, and on their failing to do so took away their certificate,and gave it to the applicant. Held that the Judge would have been justified by s 21 in cancelling the guardians' certificate, if sufficient cause were shown; but he had no authority to do what he did, accounts which a Judge can call for under that section being those which a discharged guardian is to furnish to his successor in office, and the only way in which a guardian retaining office can be made to furnish such accounts is by a regular suit brought by a relative or friend of the minor. Ram Dyal Gooye v Amrit Lall Khamaroo 9 W R 555.

109—Waste by Hindu widow.

Acts of waste on the part of the widow in regard to her husband's property, if proved, would be a ground for withdrawing a certificate granted to her under Act XI of 1858. Bhagwanee Koonwar v Parbutty Koonwar 2 W R Mis 13.

Act XL of 1858 (Minors)-Contd.

Notes:—Dist: 11 B H C R 15. Ap: 15 Cal 488 F B. Ref: 20 Cal 418.

110—Interference of Court with guardians of minors—

A person apprehending danger to the health or life of minor should ask the Court's interference under s. 21 Act XL of 1858. Luckhee Narain Aung Bheem v Sooruj Monee Pat Mohadaye 2 W R Mis 6.

111—Mismanagement—Procedure

A certificate having been granted to A under Act XL of 1858 in 1872 on the death of the father of a minor, in 1882 the mother of the minor applied that the certificate should be recalled on the ground of mismanagement, and that another should be granted to herself. The District Judge assuming that the minor was a member of a joint family, held that the original certificate ought never to have been granted, recalled the certificate, and dismissed the application. Held that A, having obtained the certificate, brought himself within the jurisdiction of the Court under Act XL of 1858, and that the Court ought to have considered the charges against him.

Deorani Koer v Parusman Narain. 12 C L R 546.

112-Selling the minor's property, or allowing portions of it to be unnecessarily sold, justifies the recall of a certificate of guardianship.

Goonoomonee Dossee v Bhabosoonduree Dossee 18 W R 258.

113—Removal of guardian—Immorality of guardian.

Where charges of immorality were brought against the holder of a certificate under Act XL of 1858, it was held to be the duty of the Judge to enquire into the truth of the charges and the fitness of the certificate-holder. Mohunuddy Begum v Oomdutoonissa. 13 W R 454.

114—Summary procedure.

Act XL of 1858 does not empower a Judge to remove summarily a guardian not appointed by the Court but under a will of the minor's grandfather. Lakhi Priya Dasi v Nabin Chundra Nag. 3 B L R A C 37: 11 W R 370.

115—Ground for removal,

A certificate of guardianship was cancelled under s. 21, Act XL of 1858, in a case where the guardian, without any sufficient cause of justification and without legal advice, withdrew an appeal made to set aside a sale of the estate of the minors, and at the same time dealt with the auction-purchaser and obtained a putnee of a portion of that very property in the name of his own wife.

Pitamber Dey Mozoomdar v Ishan Chunder Dutt Biswas. 18 W R 169.

116—Ground for removal.

An application for the removal of guardians or parties appointed to take charge of the estate of a minor under Act XL of 1858, s. 7. must be supported by proof of malversation or misconduct such as would afford sufficient ground for removal. Rajessuree Debia v Jogendro Nauth. Roy. 23 W R 278.

117-Removal of manager of estate.-Grounds for removal.

A manager of the estate of a minor appointed by will is liable to removal only upon proof of actual malversation, or that by reason of mental incapacity, conviction of felony, or by some other incapacitating cause, he has become incapable of managing the property, but not merely on the ground that another person would manage the property better. He is, it seems, subject to removal upon summary application under Act XL of 1858, s. 21; but if the ground upon which his removal is applied for involves an investigation of accounts such investigation must be made in a regular suit under s. 19, previous to such summary application under s. 21.

Mudhoosoodun Singh v Collector of Mindapore. Marsh; 244=2 Hay 113.

Notes.—Appl: 4 W R Mis 3. Ref: 7 W R 522; 23 W R 278.

118-Ss. 22, 23-Delay in submitting accounts.

It is doubtful whether the provisions of s. 22, Act XL of 1858 are applicable in proceedings under s. 23 of the Act, where a guardian appointed under the Act resigned his appointment producing his accounts, but was ordered to produce the accounts in a certain form, without fixing the time within which they were to be submitted, and the guardian produced the same after some delay but before any fresh guardian was appointed, held that, under the circumstances of the case, the Court was not justified in fining the guardian for the delay without calling upon him to explain it and without finding that the delay was wilful. Umrao Singh v Newa, A W N 1881, 24

Act XL of 1858 (Minors)-Contd.

119-s. 16—Power of Judge to order accounts from Guardian—Discharged guardian.

A Judge has no power under s 16 or s. 21, Act XL of 1858, to order a discharged guardian of a minor to file his account. S. 21 refers to the procedure as between discharged guardians and their successors, and not to a case where the contest is between the owner of the estate and a discharged guardian. Doolun Singh v Torul Narain Singh. 4 W R Mis. 3

120—S. 16—Omission of certificated guardian to submit accounts—Revocation of certificate.

When a guardian does not comply with the requirements of s. 16 of Act XL of 1858, the High Court will not generally interfere with the District Judge's order revoking the certificate. The District Judge should then proceed, however, under s. 16, and make proper arrangements for the management of the property. Brij Mohan Lal v Ganga Dhar. A W N 1881, 44.

121—Ss. 16, 21, 22—Minor-Certificate of Administration—Revocation—Duty of Court:

S. 16 of Act XL of 1858, second paragraph, no doubt, requires that an administrator should "within six months from the date of the certificate, deliver in Court an inventory, etc." but it does not declare that, upon his failure to do so, his certificate shall be "ipso facto" void, nor does it fetter the discretion of the Judge, who has power under s. 21 to recall any certificate granted under the Act or under S. 22 to impose penalties for non-delivery of accounts or property. A Judge is not competent to revoke the certificate granted without affording the administiator an opportunity of being heard.
Ghulam Chishti Khan A W N (1883) 206

122— Procedure—Objections to certificate.

A certificate under Act XL of 1858 having been granted to a party as guardian of an adopted minor, it was objected that the minor's adoption had not been legal. Held that, as there was no doubt of the fact of adoption, whether the adoption should on enquiry prove legal or not, the certificate was rightly given, and as the objector did not claim to be appointed guardian, he had no locus standi to object to the appointmct of another person Kisto Kishore Roy v Issur Chunder Roy 15 W R 166,

Act XL of 1858 (Minors)-Contd.

123-Party asserting rights adversely to minor -Discretion of Court where a will is propounded.

Where an application is made for a certificate. under Act XL of 1858, a party asserting certain rights adversely to the minor cannot be admitted as a party to the record, but must seek his remedy in a regular suit. Where the will propounded by an applicant is a genuine document, the certificate prayed for must be granted, notwithstanding the existence of any "natural guardian," no discretion being left to the Court in such a case. Purma Soonduree Dossee v Tara Soonduree Dossee. 9 W R 343.

124-Security-bond, Order to furnish Power of District Judge—Assignment of bonds—Succession Act, s. 257—Quare.

Whether the Judge of a District Court is competent to call upon a person to whom he grants a certificate under Act XL of 1858 to furnish security; and whether he has done so and security-bonds have been given to him, he can assign them in the manner provided in s. 257 of the Succession Act, 1865. Amar Nath v Thakur Das. 5 All 248=3 W N 12.

125—Application for certificate Limitation.

The lapse of six years was held to be no sufficient ground for a Judge's refusal to enquire into the merits of an application for a certificate under Act XL of 1858, that law providing no limitation as to the time within which such applications are to be made. Puroma Soonduree Dossee v Tara Soonduree Dossee. 9 W R 343.

126 —S, 28 and s. 6—Right of appeal—Creditor—Enquiry.

Only persons who claim a right to have charge of property in trust for a minor under a will or deed have a right to make applications under Act XL of 1858, and they alone have a right of appeal under s. 28. A mere creditor has no locus standi in the proceedings before the Judge, and no right to have his objections gone into. Meltoon Bibee v Gibbon. 12 W R 101.

127—s. 29, Jurisdiction—"Civil Court."

The Court of the Judicial Commissioner of Assam is the Civil Court contemplated by s. 29.

Act XL of 1858 (Minors) Concld.

Act XL of 1858. Kaleeka Pershad Bkutta Charjee v. Dhukhina Kali Dabee. W R 1864 Mis 34.

128—Court of District Judge.

The Civil Court to which the charge of minors and their property is entrusted by Act XL of 1858 is the Court of the Judge of the district.

Mohamuddee Begum v Oomdutoonissa 15 W R 271.

129—S.27—Guardian and minor—Application for certificate of guardianship—Act IX of 1861—Duty of Court:

Where two petitions, one under Act XL of 1858 and the other under Act IX of 1861 for certificates of guardianship of a minor girl were presented to the District Court and both were dismissed on the ground that under s. 27 of Act XL of 1858, no male could be appointed as guardian of a female minor; held, on appeal by both parties, that the lower Court ought not to have dismissed both the applications and that it was the duty of the Court upon the facts contained in the applications to provide for the minor's guardianship and custody. Har Sukhmal v Chanderman. A W N 1888, 124.

130—Estate in territories of Maharajah of Benares.

An application for a certificate under Act XL of 1858 regarding estates situate in the territories of the Maharaja of Benares should be made in the Court of the Judge of Benares. Kudum Kooner v Budla Singh, 1 N W Ed 1873, 163.

Act I of 1859.

Act I of 1859 (Merchantshipping).

Notes.—Rep in Pt Act XV of 1863; Act XIV of 1870; Act XVI of 1874: Act IV of 1875; Act XII of 1876. Am, Act XIII of 1876; ss. 9, 10; Act V of 1883, ss. 34 to 37, Act VI of 1891, ss. 1 to 5. Act XII of 1891 ss. 23, 24-A Am, Act VI of 1906; Declared in force throughout B.I., Except as regards the Scheduled Districts, Act XV of 1874, s. 3.

Act—I of 1859—

See Merchant Seaman's Act.

Act III of 1859 (Cantonment Joint Magistrates.)

Notes:—Rep, Act VIII of 1887.

Act VIII of 1859 (Civil Procedure Code 1859)

See Cases under (1) Civil Procedure Code, (1908) & (1882)

Act—Contd.

(2) Arbitration.

ACT IX OF 1859 (Forfeiture).

Notes:—[Rep in Pt, Act VIII of 1868; Act XII of 1891, ss. 16 to 18 and 20; Declared in force—Throughout B. I, except as regards the Scheduled Districts, Act XV of 1874, s. 3; in British Baluchistan (except the last para of s. 18) Reg I of 1890, s. 3 in Upper Burma (except the Shanstates) Act XIII of 1898, s, 4.

ACT IX OF 1859.

See Act of State.

Act IX of 1859—Decree under.

See Government Officers, Acts of.

ACT IX OF 1859 s. 20.

See Limitation—Statutes of Limitation IX—of 1859.

ACT X OF 1859.

See (1) Arbitration under special Act.
(2) Bengal Rent Act, 1869.
(3) Chaukidari chakran lands.
(4) Execution of Decree—Decrees under Rent Law.
(5) Limitation Act, XIV of 1859-Application of.
(6) Review—Orders subject to Review.
(7) Withdrawal from Suit.

ACT X OF 1859, Decision under—

See (1) Cases under Res-Judicata—Competent Court—Revenue Court.
(2) Res Judicata-Estoppel by judgment—Decrees in Rent Suits.

ACT X OF 1859.

1—Object of Act X of 1859—Rights existing prior to Act

The object of Act X of 1859 was to re enact the provisions of existing laws relative to the rights of raiyats, and not in any way to destroy those rights. If, therefore, the plaintiff had a gorabundee tenure existing before the enactment of Act X (and it had been found that the plaintiff's gorabundee tenure had been recognized in a long series of decisions commencing from the year 1846), the enactment of that Act in nowise deprived him of his rights in that tenure.

Leelanund Singh v Nirput Mahtoon. 17 W R 306.

Act X of 1859-Concld.

See also Cases under:—

Right of Occupancy.

2.—Date of passing of Act.

The period of limitation within which a suit might be brought for rent due at the time of the passing of Act X of 1859 must be reckoned from 29th April 1859 (the date of the passing of the Act), and not from 1st August 1859 (the date on which the Act came into operation).

Lachmipat Sing v Mahomed Mooneer. B L R Sup Vol 32; W R F B 32.

3:— Ss. 6, 23 Suit for rent of a fishery or tank—Jurisdiction—Revenue and Civil Courts:—A suit for rent of a fishery or Julkul tenure is maintainable in a Revenue Court under Act X of 1859 where a lease transferred to the lessee a right to the tank and not merely an incorpororeal right :-Held, on a construction of the lease, specially having regard to the condition that the lessee was to continue liable for the rent even in case of drought and non-rearing of fish, that the lease was intended to be of the entire interest of the lessors in the tank and was something more than a grant of a mere right of fishery. That the suit for rent of such a tank was triable by a Civil Court and not by a Revenue Court under Act X 1859. The provisions of Act X of 1859 do not apply to a tank which does not appertain to an agricultural holding but is used only for the preparation and rearing of fish. Mahananda Chakravarti v. Mangala Keotani 8 C W N 804=31 Cal 937.

Act XI of 1859

See Cases under :—

(1) Onus of Proof—Sale for Arrears or Revenue

(2) Public Demands Recovery Act.

(3) Sale for Arrears of Revenue.

Act XI of 1859 Ss. 5, 6, 7

See Sale for arrears of Revenue-setting aside sale Irregularity.

ACT XI OF 1859—S. 9

See Sale for arrears of revenue Deposit to stay sale.

ACT XI of 1859

1-4.—Manager of estate under attachment—sale for arrears of revenue—Portion of estate.—

Act XI of 1859-Contd.

Act XI of 1859 is, to a great extent, a remedial Act, passed for the benefit of the subject, and in order to relax the stringency of former Statutes, whereby the Crown was empowered to sell estates for non-payment of revenue. S. 5 of the said Act applies to estates which are under attachment issued under Act VIII of 1859, and which are in the hands of a manager appointed on the application of the judgment-debtor for the purpose of liquidating the debts. Such attachments are not superseded by the appointment of such manager. The words "arrears of estates under attachment" apply to cases where a portion only of an estate is under attachment, as well as to cases in which the whole estate has been attached. Bunwari Lall Sahu v Mohabir Pershad Singh. 12 B L R 297= 1 I A 89

Affirming on appeal the decision of the High Court. Mahabeer Pershad Singh v Collector of Tirhoot 13 W R 423.

5.—Ss. 5 and 6-Specification of notification of sale—Meaning of Estate.—In a notification under Sec. 6 of Act XI of 1859, it is not necessary to specify the owners of an estate or the owners of shares in the estate. 9 Cal. 591 followed. The only thing necessary under that Section is that the notification should specify the estate or shares in it, which are to be sold, and in selling a share in an entire estate it is not necessary to specify the shares or mouzahs of which that share is composed. The word "estate" as used in that section ordinarily means "Mehal" but the term also applies to a portion of a mehal with regard to which a separate account has been opened but not to an undivided portion of a Mehal with regard to which no separate account is kept. Ram Narain Koer v Mahabir Pershad Singh 13 Calc 208

Notes.—Ref: 20 Cal 325; 34 Cal 381; 8 C W N 337; 757. Fol 32 Cal 111=8 C W N 757; 32 Cal 502=9 C W N 348=1 C L J 91; 6 C L J 163 Dist: 32 Cal 542= 9 C W N 487.

ACT XI OF 1859—S 9

See (1) Contract Act, ss. 69 and 70.

(2) Co-Sharers—General Rights in Joint Property.

Act XI of 1859-Contd.

ACT XI OF 1859—Ss 10 and 11

See Co sharers—Suits with respect to Joint Property—Possession

ACT XI OF 1859—SS 13 14

See Mortgage—Sale of mortgaged property —Purchasers

ACT XI OF 1859—S 31

See (1) Limitation Act, 1877, S 10
(2) Limitation Act, 1877, Art 120

ACT XI OF 1859—S 33.

See (1) Jurisdiction of Civil Court—Revenue Courts—Orders of Revenue Courts
(2) Limitation Act 1877 Art 95 (1871, Art 9)
(3) Right of suit—Road and other Cesses Sale for arrears of

6—Suit for damages S 33 Act XI of 1859 contemplates an action against the individual wrong doer irrespective of Government and co parceners Gunga Narain Bose v Cornel 10 W R 442

7—Receipt of sale proceeds—The receipt by a decree holder of portion of the surplus sale proceeds lying in deposit in a Collector's Court without opposition on the part of the judgement debtor is not such a receipt as is contemplated by s 33 Act XI of 1859 Mohabeer Pershad Singh v Collector of Tirhoot 13 W R 423

Notes—Ref 15 W R 137

8—S 34—Public Demands-Recovery Act (Bengal Act VII of 1880) Ss 2 and 20—Limitation S 2 of Bengal Act VII of 1880 does not make the limitation in S 34 of Act XI of 1859 applicable to the execution of a decree which annuls a sale under S 20 of Public Demands Recovery Act Mahomed Abdud Hye v Gajraj Sahai 25 Cal 283=2 C W N 89,

Notes—Ref 26 Cal 414 F B

Act XI OF 1859 S 36—

See Cases under Benami Transaction—Certified Purchasers—Act XI of 1859, S 36

ACT XI OF 1859—S 37

See (1) Assam Land and Revenue Regulation S 98

Act XI 1859-Contd.

(2) Ghatwali Tenure
(3) Parties—Parties to suit—Purchasers
(4) Cases under Sale for Arrears of Revenue—Incumbrances—Act XI of 1859
(5) Cases under Sale for Arrears of Revenue—Protected Tenures

9—'Settlement'—In Act XI of 1859 Ss 37 the word settlement refers not to the permanent settlement but to the settlement which took place after resumption by Government of the lands previously held as lakhiraj Raj Chunder Chowdhry v Busheer Mahomed 24 W R 476

Notes—Ref 10 C W N 503

ACT XI OF 1859—S 37 CL (4)

See sale for arrears of Revenue—Incumbrances Act XI of 1859

ACT XI OF 1859 S 39

See Evidence—Civil Cases Miscellaneous documents Registers

ACT XI OF 1859 S 54

See (1) Abatement of Rent
(2) Sale for arrears of Revenue Purchasers right and liability of

ACT XIII OF 1859 (Workman's Breach of contract)

Notes—Rep in Pt Act XVI of 1874 Application suspended in certain cases Mad Act 1 of 1903 S 2

1—Limitation act 1877 Act Art 120 A right to recover an advance

A right to recover an advance made to a labourer under s 2 of Act XIII of 1859 which is a penal enactment is not barred by the Limitation Act Sch II Art 120 In re Kittu- 11 Mad 332

Notes—Not Fol Rat Un Or 874 Ref 16 Bom 368 Dist 28 Mad 37

2 Money advanced on account of work to be performed—Loan on condition that the workman should enter into a contract of service

A workman agreed in writing to work for the proprietors of an estate for four years and one month from 1st March 1899 to 31 March 1903, for an initial advance of one rupee which was not to be repaid till after the expiration of the Act XIII of 1859 Concld.

agreement The same person subsequently obtained an advance of P10 to be reimbursed by a monthly deduction of one rupee from his wages He worked from 1st March 1899 till 18th September 1899 when he ceased to work leaving in all a sum of R5 to be accounted for in the adjustment of the total advance He was subsequently charged and convicted under s 2 of the Criminal Breach of Contract Act XIII of 1859 —Held that the initial advance of one rupee was not money advanced on account of work to be performed but rather a loan made without interest on the condition that the workman would enter into a contract of service for the duration of the loan and that the Criminal Breach of Contract Act 1859 was inapplicable to this case that with reference to the ten rupees to be repaid out of wages the Act applied and an order should be made directing the workman to work until the expiration of the term of the contract on account of which this sum had been advanced

Tangi Joghi v Hall. 23 Mad 203

Breaches of Contracts Act 1859

3—Contract of labour fraudulent breach of

Act XIII of 1859 provides an additional not a substitutional remedy for fraudulent breaches of contract, and the right to a civil remedy does not depend on the obtainment of a magistrate's order for repayment of the sum advanced Jayji v Munji 1874 P J 164

4—Insolvent Debtors Act—Appeal from order in—12 Vic C 21 —

The court fee payable on an appeal preferred under S 73 of the Indian Insolvent Debtors Act is that which is provided for in Article 18 of the Schedule A to the table of Original side of the Madras High Court dated 5th May 1887

Liladhara Vias v Official Assignee of Madras 24 Mad 160

ACT XIV OF 1859

See (1) Limitation Act 1859

(2) Limitation Acts IX of 1871 and XV of 1877 and IX of 1908

ACT XV OF 1859 (Patents)

Notes —Rep Act V of 1888

ACT XV OF 1859

See Cases under Patent

Act—Contd.

ACT XV OF 1859 S 22

See (1) Limitation Act, 1871, Art 11

(2) Transfer of Civil Case—General Cases.

Act VII of 1860.

See Company

ACT VIII OF 1860 (Electric Telegraphs)

Notes —Rep Act I of 1876

ACT X OF 1860 (Custom duties)

Notes —Rep Act VIII of 1868

ACT XXI OF 1860 (Societies Registration)

Notes —Rep in Pt Act XVI of 1874, Declared in force—Throughout B I except as regards the Scheduled Districts, Act XV of 1874, S 3, in Upper Burma (except the Shan States) Act XIII of 1898 S 4

ACT XXI OF 1860 (Societies Registration)

1—S 20—Charitable society—Religious society existing for the management of a public mosque —

A religious purpose may be a charitable purpose and a society for religious purposes will ordinarily be a society for charitable purposes Charitable purposes are not restricted to the giving of alms or other charitable reliefs, but the words have a much wider legal meaning Held that the religious society which had, for its object the control and management of and the protection of the property appertaining to, a certain public mosque was a society which might legally be registered under the provisions of the Societies Registration Act 1860 The Anjuman Islamia of Muttra v Nasir-ud din A W N 1906 59=3 A L J 124=28 All 384

ACT XXI OF 1860

See Incorporated Society

ACT XXII OF 1860

See Chittagong Hill Tracts Act

(2) Certificate of Administration — Act XXVII of 1860

(3) Letters of Administration

ACT XXVII OF 1860

See Succession Certificate

ACT XXVII OF 1860

See (1) Appeal—Certificate of Administration

Act-Contd.

(4) Probate—Power of High Court to grant, and form of.
(5) Representative of deceased person.
(6) Review—Orders subject to Review.
(7) Right of Suit—Contracts and Agreements.
(8) Right of Suit — Orders, Suits to set aside.
(9) Succession Act, S. 341.

ACT XXVIII OF 1860 (Boundary-Marks).

Notes:—Rep. in Madras, Mad. Act IV 1897; (in Coorg), Reg. I of 1899.

ACT XXVIII OF 1860.

See Madras Boundary Marks Act.

ACT XXXII OF 1860.

See (1) Income Tax Act, 1860.
(2) Right of Suit—Income Tax.

ACT XXXII OF 1860 (Income—Tax).

Notes:—Rep. Act VIII of 1868

ACT XXXVI OF 1860.

See Stamp Act XXXVI of 1860.

ACT XXXVI OF 1860 S 13.

See Stamp Act, 1879, S. 34.

ACT XXXVI OF 1860 (Stamps).

Notes:—Rep Act X of 1862

ACT XLII OF 1860.

See Special Appeal—Small Cause Court Suits —General cases

ACT XLIII OF 1860 (Amending Act VIII of 1859).

Notes—Rep Act XXIII of 1861

ACT XLVIII OF 1860 (Police, Presidency Towns amending Act.)

Notes:—Rep. (in Calcutta) Ben. Act IV of 1866; (in Madras), Mad Act VIII of 1867 S. 81; (in Bombay) Bom Act IV of 1902.

ACT LIII OF 1860 S. 2.

See Revival of Suit

Act V of 1861 (Police)

Notes:—Rep. in Pt. Act IX of 1871, Act XVI of 1874; Act X of 1882; Rep. in Pt. in Bengal (Except the Sambalpur District) and Eastern nal, Ben. Ac VII of 1868; Rep. in Pt. Rangoon, Bur. Act IV of 1899, S 2, when notified (and see Ss. 3, 4); Rep in Pt. and Am. in North West Frontier Province, Reg. VII of 1901, Ss. 3, 13; Am , Act III of 1888; Act VIII of 1895: S. 34; am. Act I of 1903; supplemented, Ben. Act VII of 1869; portions extended to Calcutta and Suburbs with Modifications, Ben. Act I of 1898; in the Sonthal Parganas, Reg. III of 1872, S. 3, as amended by Reg. III of 1899, S. 3, in the Angul District, Reg. I of 1894, S. 3; in the Chittagong Hill-tracts Reg. I of 1900, S. 4; in the Arakan Hill District (except S. 11), Reg. IX of 1874, S. 3; in Upper Burma (except the Shan States), Act XIII of 1898, S. 4; in British Baluchistan, Reg. I of 1890, S. 3.

ACT V OF 1861.

See Superintendence of High Court—Charter Act, S. 15.

ACT IX OF 1861.

See (1) Appeal—Acts—Act IX of 1861.
(2) Custody of Children Court Fees Act.
(3) Guardian—Liability of Guardians.
(4) Mahomedan Law—Guardian.
(5) Minor Custody of Minors
(6) Munsif, Jurisdiction of.

ACT IX of 1861 (Minors).

Notes.—Rep. Act VIII of 1890.

ACT X OF 1861 (Repealing Enactments relating to Civil Procedure).

Notes:—Rep. Act XIV of 1870

ACT X OF 1861.

See (1) Oath.
(2) Witness— Civil Cases — Defaulting Witnesses.

ACT XI OF 1861 (Amending Act XIV of 1859).

Notes—Act VIII of 1868.

ACT XI OF 1861.

See Limitation Act, 1859— Operation of Act.

Act XVI of 1861.

See Stage Carriage Act.

Act XXI of 1861 (Income Tax).

Notes:—Rep Act VIII of 1868.

Act-Contd.

Act XXIII of 1861 (The Code of Civil Procedure.)

Notes.—Rep Act X of 1877.

ACT XXIII OF 1861.

See (1) Appeal.
(2) Appellate Court, Jurisdiction of.
(3) Execution of decree.
(4) Jurisdiction of Small Cause Court.
(5) Mesne Profits.
(6) Review of Judgment.
(7) Revision in Civil Cases.

ACT XXIII OF 1861.

See Civil Procedure Code 1882 (1877).

ACT XXIII of 1861 S 10.

See Interest—Omission to stipulate for, or stipulated time has expired—Decrees.

ACT XXIII of 1861 S 11.

See C P C S 47 question in execution of decree

ACT XXIII of 1861 S 35.

See Superintendence of High Court.

ACT XXIX OF 1861.

See Articles of war.

ACT XXXI OF 1861.

See Saltpetre.

Act IV of 1862. S 10.

See Bank of Bengal.

ACT VI of 1862 (Annexing schedule to Act IV of 1862).

Notes.—Rep Act XI of 1876.

ACT VIII OF 1862, s. 4.

See Jurisdiction of Civil Court—Foreign and Native Rulers.

ACT X of 1862.

See Stamp Acts.

ACT X of 1862.

See Cases under Stamp Act, X of 1862.

ACT XV OF 1862, S 1.

See Judicial officers, Powers of.

ACT XX OF 1862 (Presidency High Courts)

Notes:—Rep., Act X of 1877.

Act-Contd.

Act XIV of 1863.

See Enhancement of rent

Act II of 1863 (Appeals to Queen in Council.)

Notes:—Rep., Act VI of 1874.

ACT II OF 1863 S 1.

See (1) Appeal to Privy Council—Cases in which appeal lies or not—Appealable Order.
(2) Execution of decree.

ACT XIX OF 1863 (Amending Act X of 1859 in the Province of Agra)

Notes—Rep Act XII of 1876; (in the Central Provinces and the Sambalpur District), Act IX of 1883

ACT XIV OF 1863.

See (1) Appeal—Act XIV of 1863.
(2) Collector.
(3) Jurisdiction of Revenue Court N.W.P. Rent and Revenue Cases.
(4) Limitation Act, (1908) S. 14.
(5) Parties—Parties to Suits—Cosharers.
(6) Parties—Parties to Suits—Rent Suits For.
(7) Right of Suit—Revenue. Suit for Arrears of.
(8) Settlement Officer.

ACT XVIII 1863.

See Practice—Civil Cases—Affidavits.

ACT XIX OF 1863 (Partition of Revenue Paying Estats.

Notes:—Rep in Pt Act XIV of 1870, Rep (in Agra Except certain Areas), Act XIX of 1873; (in Oudh), Act XVIII of 1876; (in Ajmere), Reg. III of 1877; (in the Central Provinces and the Sambalpur District) Act XVIII of 1881 S, 136 W (inserted by Act XVI of 1889, S 26).

ACT XIX OF 1863 (Partition of Revenue Paying Estates).

See (1) Jurisdiction of Civil Court—Revenue Courts—Partition.
(2) Jurisdiction of Revenue Court—N W P Rent and Revenue Cases.
(3) Partition—Miscellaneous Cases.

ACT XIX of 1863 S 8

See (1) Appeal—Acts—Act XIX of 1863.
(2) Jurisdiction of Civil Court—Revenue Courts—Orders of Revenue Courts,

Act-Contd.

ACT XIX OF 1863, Ss. 8 and 9.

See Res Judicata—Competent Court-Revenue Courts.

ACT XIX OF 1863, S 38.

See Partition—Form of Partition.

ACT XIX OF 1863, S. 47.

See Partition—Right to Partition—General Cases.

ACT XIX OF 1863, S. 53.

See Jurisdiction of Civil Court-Revenue Courts—Partition.

ACT XX OF 1863 (Religious Endowments).

Notes:—Rep in Pt Act VII of 1870; Act XIV of 1870; Act XVI of 1874; S 3 A M; Act XII of 1891. Extended to the Kanara District, Bom Act VII of 1865.

ACT XX OF 1863.

See (1) Appeal—Acts—Act XX of 1863.
(2) Appeal—Decrees.
(3) Arbitration-Arbitration under special Acts—Act XX of 1863.
(4) Endowment.
(5) Hindu Law—Endowment-Succession in Management.
(6) Jurisdiction of Criminal Court-General Jurisdiction.
(7) Mahomedan Law—Endowment.
(8) Right of suit—Charities and Trusts.
(9) Small Cause Court Rangoon.
(10) Right of Suit-Endowments. Suits Relating to.
(11) Superintendence of High Court-Charter Act s 15.
(12) Superintendence of High Court Civil Procedure Code, s 622.
(13) Valuation of Suit—Suits.
(14) Waste lands.

ACT XX OF 1863.

1-Suits for declaration of trusts of a temple.—In bringing a suit under Act XX of 1863 it is not necessary to show that the temple was one which was formerly under control of the Board of Revenue. The Act applies to property in Calcutta.

Ganes Singh v Ramgopal Singh 5 B L R, Ap. 55.

Notes:—Diss: 3 Cal 563. Ap: 18 All 227. Ref: 34 Cal 587.

Act XX of 1863-(Religious Endowments)-Contd.

2-Suit to establish right to share in management of temple.—The suits referred to in Act XX of 1863, as needing the authority of the Court for their jurisdiction, are solely suits charging trustees, managers, or committees with misfeasance, malversation of the temple property, or neglect of duty. There is nothing in the Act to oust the jurisdiction of the ordinary Courts over suits to establish a right to share in the management.

Agri Sarma Embrandri v Vistnu Embrandri Janadhana Embrandri v Pala Bul Kasava Embrandri 3 M H C 198.

Notes:—Fol: 4 M H C R 112; 404: 4 Mad 157. Dist: 14 Mad 1. Ref; 2 Mad 58.

3—Religious Endowments Act (XX of 1863)—Temple Committee—Power to dismiss the Moktesar of a temple—Onus of proof.

The Plaintiff, a Moktesar of a temple was dismissed by the Temple Committee constituted under the Religious Endowments Act, 1863, and was displaced in his appointment by others. He sued the Committee for a declaration that the plaintiff was entitled to his office of Moktesar and the appointment of the new Moktesars was illegal.

Held, decreeing the claim, that the powers of appointment and dismissal with which the defendants as a Committee were vested, were exerciseable not in their own interests but in the interests and on behalf on the Devasthan whereof they were trustees. They were, therefore, not at liberty to appoint or dismiss arbitrarily, capriciously or for private reasons of their own, but only on grounds justified by the interests of the institution. The appointment of the plaintiff by the Committee, therefore, implied that his tenure of office was to continue so long as its continuance was not inconsistent with the interests of the Devasthan.

Held, also, that the onus was on the plaintiff to show that the Committee had not, in dismissing him, acted on bona fide belief that the dismissal was necessary in the interests of the Devasthan, but had been actuated by some other and improper motive.

Bhavanishankar v Timmanna. 8 Bom L R 407=30 Bom 508.

4—Permanent scheme by the Board of Revenue appointing hereditary trustees in a temple,

Act XX of 1863- Religious Endowments)-Contd.

Committee not competent to alter—Whether Committee could appoint temporary additional trustees—Regulation VII of 1817, vesting in the Committee of the powers of the Board of Revenue under.

The question in this case was as to the right of a temple-Committee to appoint temporary, additional trustees for a temple, in respect of which a certain number of persons had been invested, originally, by the Board of Revenue with hereditary right to the trusteeship. On objection taken on behalf of the Committee (appellants), that it was not competent to the Board of Revenue to have introduced an hereditary element into the management of the temple, held, the case was one, in which it was competent to the Board, under Sec. 13 of Regulation VII of 1817, to make such provision for the trust management or superintendence as might, to them, seem right and fit, with reference to the nature and condition of the temple and that there was no necessary inconsistency between the exercise of such superintendence and the existence of hereditary trustees, whether appointed by the Board or otherwise. (7 M. H. C. 77. F ; 7 M. 499, Diss:) Having once made a certain scheme for the management of the temple, it was not open to the Board to revoke it and so it was not competent to the Board itself, much less to the Committee, to arbitrarily put an end to arrangements once permanently made. On the ground that the Committee had thus no power to alter, as they did, the construction of the temple management regularly established by the Board, it was laid down following (17 Mad 212, Fol:), that where there is an hereditary trustee.it is not competent for a Committee to appoint additional trustees and that,to lay dawn that the Committee has an unqualified power to making such temporary appointments, it would give them a power liable to grave abuse (29 M 179, F.)Further, such appointment not only does not necessarily add to the efficiency of the body but it has the effect of modifying the powers and responsibilities of the existing trustees.

K. S. Ganapathy Ayyar v. Sri Yedavyasa Alasinga Bhutter. 1 M L T 127= 16 M L J 435=29 Mad 534.

5—Temple Committee,duties of—Appointment of manager——Business done by circulation—Validity.

Act XX of 1863-'Religious Endowments) Contd.

The Committee as a body constituted under statutory authority should, in the absence of the specific provision in the statute, follow as far as practicable in the transaction of its business the usual procedure adopted by public bodies entrusted with duties more or less of a public character. The committee should, therefore, ordinarily transact its more important business (such as the appointment of a trustee) at a meeting held after due notice to the members. But the committee should not be looked on strictly as a corporation so that all the technical rules applicable to such bodies in England should not be applied to it. The transaction of such more important business otherwise than at a meeting is, therefore, not void and is capable of being adopted and approved of by other members who may not at first have agreed to it. Semble :—The exercise of minute control by the committee over the details of the manager's action in administering the trust is hardly consistent with the respective responsibilities imposed on the trustee and the committee by Act XX of 1863. Prima facie it is the duty of a paid trustee to keep the accounts of the trust, or at least to supervise the keeping of accounts. Where, on papers being under circulation, three members of the committee gave their votes to the defendant for his appointment as manager and two others did not then assent but subsequently accepted his appointment :—Held, that the defendant was validily appointed. (23 Mad 483 Dist 12 Mad 366 Ref). Subba Naidu v Gopalasawmy Naidu. 15 M L J 185.

6—Trustee of temple—Position– Act XX of 1863—Devastanam Committee.

The Devastanam Committee of a temple, appointed under Act XX of 1863, exercise the same powers of supervision that were formerly exercised by the Board of Revenue under Reg. VII of 1817; but the property of the temple is not vested in them, nor do they represent the property. The person who represents the property is the trustee or manager, who is indeed appointed, and may no doubt be removed, by the Committee for sufficient cause. But the trustee or manager is not in the position of a clerk or servant removable at the pleasure of the Committee. He holds his office permanently though subject to removal for misconduct. The deity is regarded as the owner of the temple property, and the trustee or manager appointed by the Committee is the agent of the deity subject to the Committee's control.

Act XX of 1863-(Religious Endowments)-Contd.

Muthuswami v Queen-Empress. 6 M L J 14.

7—Religious Endowments Act——Temple Committee—Suit by majority of members—Maintainability.

There is no provision in the Act for a majority of the members of a temple Committee suing on behalf of the whole of the members thereof. Bangaru Aiyar v. Siva Subrahmania Pillai. 10 M L J 397.

8—Removal and appointment of trustee by Committee—Order by some members of Committee in violation of rules relating thereto—Right of other members to sue for declaration of its invalidity. — A majority of the members of a taluk Committee dismissed the trustee of a temple and appointed another in his place. The order was passed without convening a meeting therefor and against the opinions of the other members of the Committee. The majority of members communicated their order to the authorities with a view to placing the new trustee in the room of the old one and did other acts calculated to interfere with the management of the latter. The other members of the committee thereupon sued for a declaration that the order was illegal and invalid. Held that, as under Act XX of 1863, the superintendence of the temple was vested in the committee, each member thereof was bound to take part in discharging the duty of the Committee, part of which consisted in seeing that the institution was under the management of a proper trustee. The plaintiffs were entitled to maintain the suit inasmuch as they were virtually excluded from the deliberations of the Committee.

Lakshminarayana Aiyar v. Thandavaraya Pillai. 10 M L J 100.

9—Power of Government to remove trustees—Power of Committees to dismiss trustees for misconduct.

Where an institution falling under s. 3 of the Act is handed over by the Government to a committee appointed under the Act, the Government has not the power to remove the trustee thereof. This is a power belonging to the Committee. The Committee may remove a trustee for proved misconduct. In this case, the Government had resumed an inam land granted for performance of services and substituted a money payment therefor. The resumption was due to the fact that the services were not properly performed. The Committee dismissed the trustee for this misconduct as well as others. The lower appellate Court held that the resumption, by Government, of the inam was itself a sufficient punishment. Held, the resumption by Government was in no sense a punishment, the Government not having the power to punish. It was only a precautionary measure to render malversation more difficult and that the Committee had, therefore, a right to remove the trustee from his office. Mahomed Abdulla Sahib v Ghulam Hussain Sahib 15 M L J 26.

10-Right of person interested to sue for misfeasance by managers, etc.—Public endowment.

In the case of a public endowment transferred to trustees, managers, or superintendents of such lands under Act XX of 1863, any person or persons interested (and the interest need not be a pecuniary one) in the religious establishment, in its worship or service, or in its trusts, has a right of suit, after leave obtained from a Civil Court against such trustees, etc., for misfeasance, or breach of trust, or neglect of duty. Kuneez Fatima v. Saheba Jan 8 W R 313.

11—Suit for removal of mohunt and appointment of another.

A suit for the removal of the present mohunt of a religious endowment and for the appointment of the petitioner in his place is not of such a nature as is contemplated by Act XX of 1863.

Kishore Bon Mohunt v Kalee Churn Giree. 22 W R 364.

12—Suit to compel heir of manager to make good deficiency—Leave of Court.

Act XX of 1863 does not apply to a suit brought by the dharmakarta of a temple and one of its worshippers to compel the defendant, as heir of the late manager, to make good, out of the property inherited by him, the deficiency in the devasthanam funds caused by breach of trust and misappropriation by the late manager. The leave of the Civil Court for the institution of such a suit is not necessary, and the suit is maintainable. The right of instituting such suits is not a privilege accorded by Act XX of 1863, but a pre-existing right. Jeyangarulavaru v Durma Dossji. 4 M H C 2.

Act XX of 1863-(Religious Endowments)-Contd.

Notes:—Ref: 2 Mad 58: 21 Mad 406. Fol: 29 Mad 106=15 M L J 475.

13—Suit to eject Dharmakarta or agents from temple—Right of Government to divest itself of power of interfering with appointment—Mad. Reg VII of 1817.

Plaintiffs, members of the committee appointed under Act XX of 1863, sued to eject defendants (the dharmakarta and his agents) from the possession and management of the temple dedicated to Sri Viraragava Swami at Trivellore and to establish their (plaintiffs') right to the possession and control of the said temple. Defendants denied the right of the plaintiffs to exercise any control whatever over the temple. This right depended upon whether, at the period of the passing of Act XX of 1863, the nomination vested in, was exercised by, or was subject to the confirmation of the Government, or any public officer. It was admitted that in 1842 the Board of Revenue did, so far as it could divest itself of all right to interfere with the appointment of a dharmakarta, but it was contended for the plaintiffs that it was not in the power of the Board of Revenue so to divest itself of the duties imposed upon it by Regulation VII of 1817. Held, that, assuming the Board of Revenue to have had such a right, there was nothing in Regulation VII of 1817 to prevent them from renouncing that right if they chose. Venkatesa Nayadu v Shagatopa Shri Shagatopa Swami. 7 M H C 77.

Notes.—Fol: 29 Mad 534=16 M L J 435=1 M L T 127 Dist: 7 Mad 499.

14—Jurisdiction—Clause in deed of endowment excluding jurisdiction.—

The jurisdiction given to Courts by Act XX of 1863 cannot be excluded by any clause in a deed of endowment. Imdad Hossein v. Mahomed Ali Khan, 23 W R 150=14 C L R 382=2 I A 83.

Notes:—Ref. 1 Cal 456; 3 Cal 612; 5 Cal 512; 21 Bom 509; 27 Bom 43, Fol: 25 W R 516; 1 Mad 65, Dist: 13 Cal 3; 20 All 96, Con: 23 W R 314.

15—Madras Regulation VII of 1817 S. 13—Discretionary power to be used by the temple

Act XX of 1863-Religious Endowments)-Contd.

Committee while appointing new trustees when the power of management is not hereditary. Trusts Act (II of 1882) S 49. Jurisdiction of Civil Court. A temple Committee appointed under Act XX of 1863 has a right to appoint new trustees when there is no hereditary trustee for adding to the existing trustees but this right is discretionary and must be used bona-fide and reasonably according to the principle embodied in S 49 of the Indian Trusts Act. If no proper discretion is used the right may be controlled by a Civil Court of original jurisdiction. Davud Saiba v. Hussein Saiba, 17 Mad 212.

Notes:—Fol: 16 M L J 435=1 M L T 127=29 Mad 534.

16- Ss. 13, 14, 18—Whether a trustee can sue a co-trustee for breach of trust without sanction under S. 18—How far action of the majority of trustees binds the minority—Temple Committee powers of control of, over trustees.—

A trustee of a religious endowment, constituted under Act XX of 1863, can sue his co-trustee for a breach of trust, without getting sanction under S. 18 of the Act. Such right of suit is given by the general law, and is independent of the provisions of Act XX of 1863. Though the decision of the majority of the trustees of a public trust binds the minority in matters connected with the management of the trust property, it does not bind them in regard to matters which are ultra vires and beyond the proper sphere of the trust. Samaram Singaracharlar v. Krishnaswami Iyengar, 4 Ind Cas 874=19 M L J 513.

17—Resolution—Quorum—Unanimity

Held, that the resolution of a temple committee constituted under Act XX of 1863 need not, in order to be valid, be the unanimous resolution of all the members of the committee.

Where three out of seven members attended a meeting convened after due notice to all the members and concurred in dismissing the plaintiff from temple trusteeship:

Held, that a resolution passed by a majority of the members present at a meeting was valid and binding; that even if it was not law, yet in this particular case three formed the quorum under the resolution passed by the committee on the 19th of March 1878, and subsequently uniformly acted on, and that, therefore, the resolution passed by three members was not invalid in law. Anantanarayana Iyer v. Kuttalam Pillai, 22 Mad 481=9 M L J 203.

Act XX of 1863-(Religious Endowments)-Contd.

18--S 3--Power of committee appointed under the Act.—

A committee, appointed under Act XX of 1863 has power to dismiss the trustees or superintendents of temples described in s. 3 of the Act, without having recourse to a civil suit; but such power can only be exercised on good and sufficient grounds. Chinna Rangaiyangar v. Subraya Mudali, 3 M H C 334.

Notes:--Fol: 4 M H C R 112, 404, Ref: 5 M H C R 53; 21 Mad 179, 1 Bom L R 743; 30 Bom 508=8 Bom L R 407.

19--Ss. 3 and 4- Onus of proving that S. 3 applies to a particular temple.--

Plaintiff, a trustee newly appointed by the temple Committee, sued for a declaration that defendant, who has been removed from his office of trustee by the Committee, had no right to the management of the plaint temple, and for a permanent injunction restraining him from interfering with the said management. The defendant admitted in a calendar case, and in a petition to the Devastanam Committee, that the temple was subject to the Committee, though he claimed to be the hereditary stanik. Held, that the burden of proving that the temple was one, to which S 3 of the Religious Endowments Act applied, lay on the plaintiff, and that the statements of the defendant were not, in the circumstances, sufficient to shift the burden on to the defendant. Ganapathi Gurukal v. Sivarama Aiyar, 6 M L T 282

20--Ss. 3 and 14 Form of decree — Court's power to appoint trustee--Trustee's duties—Accounts to be kept and submitted by trustee--Trustee to be a celibate:--

The trustee of a Durga is bound to keep proper accounts. If the Durga falls under S. 3 of Act XX of 1863, he will be bound to submit them to the Committee. If it does not, he is, nevertheless, bound to keep separate and clear accounts of the Durga income and expenditure. Under S. 14 of the Act, the Court may direct the removal of a trustee or a manager. Where a dismissed trustee is in possession of trust properties, he has, on his removal, to be relieved of his possession of the trust properties. It is necessary, therefore, to direct surrender of possession. If there is any person already competent to represent the trust, possession may be delivered to him. If the power of appointment is shown to be vested in any person, such person may be directed to make the appointment, and possession may be delivered to him. If there is no person competent to represent the trust, a receiver may be appointed to take charge of the estate. Quere--Whether the Court is competent to appoint a trustee? A married man is unfit to be a Jamashan of a Durga. Miyaji v. Sheik Ahmed, 18 M L J 205=31 Mad 212.

21—Removal by Committee of Superintendent of Pagoda—Ground for removal.—

Where there were not good and sufficient grounds for the removal from office of the defendants, superintendents of a pagoda, within S. 3 of Act XX of 1863, by the committee appointed under that Act, the High Court confirmed the decree of the Civil Judge dismissing a suit brought by the plaintiffs, who had been appointed by the committee as superintendents in place of the defendants for the recovery of the pagoda, and the property belonging to it Chinna Rangaiyangar v. Subraya Mudali, 3 M H C 338.

22—Committee, Suit by, to enforce right of control —

The committee of a district duly appointed under Act XX of 1863 are entitled to maintain a suit in a Civil Court without having obtained the leave of the Court to bring the suit as well when the object of the suit is to establish their right of control under S 3 of the Act as when it is sought to enforce such control against the officers of the temple subordinate to them. Venkatasa Naidu v. Sadagopasma Iyer, 4 M H C 494.

23—Ss. 3, 4, 11,12—Suit filed by the members of a temple committee—Burden of Proof—Form of decree.—

A suit was brought by the members of a temple committee who were appointed under Act XX of 1863 against one who claimed to be the hereditary trustee of a Hindu temple for getting possession of temple property, for having it declared that they have a right to receive certain annual dues and for getting permanent injunction against defendant ordering him not to interfere with these dues. Held, it was the duty of the plaintiffs to prove that the temple comes in a class mentioned in S. 37 the act. On appearing that the temple was not founded by the defendant's ancestor and Government had appointed him a trustee,and his successors in the office of a trustee were not all of them members of his family:—Held, that a decree declaring that the disputed temple comes under Sec. 3 of the act, and as such the plaintiffs should have jurisdiction, should be made in favour of the plaintiffs (2) that the plaintiff's had no right to get the possession of the property or the income of the temple under Secs. 14, 1, 12 of the Act XX of 1863. Ponduranga v. Nagappa, 12 Mad 366.

Act XX of 1863-(Religious Endowments)-Contd.

Notes:—Ref: 6 M L J 14; 15 M L J 185= 31 Mad 111.

24—S. 4—Power of committee to call for accounts from trustees of temple.—

A District Committee appointed under Act XX of 1863 has no right to call for accounts from trustees of temples which are within S. 4 of the Act. Venkatabala Krishna Chettiyar v. Kaliyanaramaiyangar, 5 M H C 48.

Ramiengar Ramanuga Chariyar v. Guanasambanda Pandarasannada, 5 M H C 58.

Notes:—Dist. 9 C L J 636.

25-Right to restoration of endowment of which plaintiff had been deprived under Mad. Reg. VII of 1817.

The plaintiff, claiming to be the owner of a muth and certain land attached to it under a grant from the Rajah of Tanjore from the possession of which he had been ejected by the Collector of Tanjore in 1856 on charges of breach of trust and other misconduct, sued to recover the possession of the lands and mesne profits. The Civil Judge found that the grant was for the performance of religious ceremonies and pious observances only, and that the plaintiff had led a vicious life and been guilty of malversation in his office, and, being of opinion that the plaintiff had been properly deprived of the lands belonging to the muth under Madras Regulation VII of 1817, dismissed the suit. Held that, under s. 4 of Act XX of 1863. the plaintiff became entitled, on the passing of the Act, to the restoration of the endowment. Jusa Gheri Gosamier v. Collector of Tanjore, 5 M H C 334.

Notes—Dist; 14 Mad 1. Ref: I Bom L R 743.

26—Right to control affairs of temple-Transfer of property—Form of order—Right of suit.

C. C. 23

Act XX of 1863-(Religious Endowments)-Contd.

In 1849, the Board of Revenue, acting under Bengal Regulation XIX of 1810, interfered in the management of the affairs of a temple. In a suit relating to the affairs of the temple instituted in 1878, it did not appear whether any transfer of property had been made under s. 4 of Act XX of 1863, but it did appear that, in 1865, the Judge of Patna had appointed a manager of the temple. Held that, the right of the Government officers to control the affairs of the temple had been sufficiently proved.

Dhurrum Sing v. Kishen Singh. 9 C L R 410=7 Cal 767.

Notes:—Appl: 18 All 227; 19 All 104. Ref: 12 Bom 247; 17 M L J 1; 34 Cal 587; 30 Mad 158.

27-Act XX of 1863—Ss.4, 5-Power of District Courts to appoint trustees—Malabar Devasams.

The vacancy of a trustee cannot be filled up by the District Courts under s 5 of Act XX of 1863 unless the former trustee has got the property actually transferred to him under s. 4.

Ittuni Panikkar v. Irani Nambudripad. 3 Mad 401.

28-Ss. 4, 14, 18—Trustee appointed by temple committee—Grant of sanction to sue for removal of such trustee.

A District Judge has jurisdiction to grant sanction under s. 18 of the Act for the institution of a suit for the removal of a trustee appointed by a temple Committee. Shunmugam Pillai v. Sankaramurti Mudaliar. 10 M L J 109.

29-Appointment of trustee to religious institution. District Judge's right. Collector as agent of Court of Wards. On the death of a hereditary trustee of a temple the collector as agent of the Court of Wards who had the management of the deceased's estate during the minority of the deceased's sons made an application for having been appointed as trustee on behalf of the sons.

Held, that the District Judge had Jurisdiction to make an appointment under sec. 5 of Act XX of 1863. Somasundara Mudaliar v. Vythilinga Mudaliar. 19 Mad 285= 6 M L J 92.

Notes:—Ref: 26 Mad 89.

30—Ss. 5, 14, 21—Suit to remove Mohant on account of misfeasance-Court's power to appoint receiver when right of succession not in dispute —Power of Appellate Court—Joinder as Respondents of persons who were not parties in the original suit—Court's inherent power to add parties in suits relating to public trusts. In a suit brought under the Religious Endowments Act, a Civil Court has no power to appoint a receiver or manager of debutter properties except under sec. 5 of the same Act. A Civil Court has power under that section to appoint a manager only when there is a dispute as to the right of succession. A person electing to proceed under the Religious Endowments Act can be given only such special relief as that special statute says it may give. If he wishes for any relief beyond that he should proceed under sec. 539 of the Civil Procedure Code.

Act XX of 1863-(Religious Endowments)-Contd.

Gayananda Asram v Kristo Chandra Mukherji. 8 C W N 404.

31-Ss. 5 and 4—District Court if may appoint a trustee pending decision of Civil Court, in all cases.

District Courts have no power, upon a vacancy occurring in the office of the trustee of a religious endowment, to appoint a trustee under s 5 of the Religious Endowments Act, unless the endowed property has been actually transferred to the former trustee under s. 4 of the Act by the Board of Revenue or Government. (3 Mad 401, 8 Cal 32, Rel.; 7 Cal 767, 18 All 227, 19 All 104, Diss.). S. 5 of the Act contemplates the temporary appointment of a manager by the Court, pending the decision by a Civil Court of the title of any other applicant to the office.

Mohunt Sheonandan Gir v Dhupan Upadhya 14 C W N 1104=7 Ind Cas 164.

32—Ss. 5-10—"Civil Court"—'Persona designata'—Vacancy in office of manager—Conditions precedent for a Judge to act under S. 5—Civil Procedure Code, S. 622—Revision.

An applicant for appointment as Manager under S. 5 of Act XX of 1863 is "interested" in the temple within the meaning of S. 5 and is competent to ask the High Court to revise the order of the Civil Court. An order made by the Civil Court under the powers conferred by S. 5 is a judicial adjudication in the matter before the Court, and the High Court is competent to revise such an order. 11 Mad 26 considered. The conditions precedent to the exercise of jurisdiction under S 5 are:—(1) The existence of a vacancy. (2) There should have been a transfer to the former trustee. (3) The existence of dispute antecedent to the proceedings in which the order is sought to be passed as regards the succession to the office. The dispute referred to in the section includes not only a dispute as to the right to succession but also one as to the person who is to succeed to the office. Gopala Aiyer v. Arunachallam Chetty. 26 Mad 85.

Act XX of 1863-(Religious Endowments)-Contd.

33-S. 7—Power of appointment in committee.

The defendant was sued as the trustee of a pagoda to recover a certain sum of money for which he had not accounted. The defendant was dismissed by three members of the district committee, which consisted of six members, the other three members refusing to sign the order of dismissal. The plaintiffs were appointed trustees in place of the defendant by the members who dismissed the defendant.

Held that, the appointment of the plaintiffs was invalid under s. 7. Act XX of 1863, and that they were not entitled to sue the defendant.

Pandurungy Achariyar v Iyathory Mudaly. 4 M H C 443.

34-S.7-Suit by Committee, not by superintendent, for accounts, if maintainable.

The Committee of a mutt appointed under s. 7 can maintain a suit for accounts against a tahsildar. 5 M H C 48 Dist.

Hari Ballav Bose v. Gopi Nath Rath. 9 C L J 636=2 Ind Cas 625.

35—Ss. 7, 10—Constitution of Committee—Powers of two members of a committee

The effect of ss. 7 and 10 of the Act is that the surviving members must act so that the date of the election shall be fixed not later than three months from the date of the vacancy. If they do not so act, their powers of election are gone, and then unless the Civil Court takes proceedings on the application of somebody and appoints a person, there is no power to fill up the vacancy. In construing the two sections of the Act together, they must be read as imperative or obligatory. The fact that the remaining members of the committee are required to act with promptitude, while it shows that the Legislature was alive to the possibility of inconvenience arising in the interval, also indicates the intention of the Legislature to be that the Committee shall not consist of less than the number originally appointed. (22 Mad 481, Expl & Dist.) Santhalya v. Marjanna Shetty. 8 M L T 213=7 Ind Cas 754=20 M L J 814.

36-S. 8-Resignation of member of a committee of a temple.

Act XX of 1863-(Religious Endowments)-Contd.

A member of a committee of a temple, appointed under s. 8 of Act XX of 1863, can retire from his office of his own will.

Tiruvengada v. Rangayyangar. Gopal Ram v. Rangayyangar. 6 Mad 114.

37—Ss 8, 10—Appointment of member of the Devasthanam Committee—Suit to declare Religion—Sect—Where a Vadagalai was appointed a member of the Devasthanam Committee and the appointment was contested in a regular suit on the ground that the temples of the District were mostly of the Tengalai persuasion: Held, that the word "religion" in S. 8 of Act XX of 1863 did not mean "sect," and that the appointment of the member, who was of the same religion though not of the same sect as the temple, was legal and valid. Alwar Aiyangar v. Krishnama Chariar 9 M L J 173.

38-S. 10—Committee of an endowment-Power of Judge—Appointment when memberships all vacant—The judge may appoint a new committee when all the memberships of the committee are vacant and his powers under s. 10 of Act XX of 1863 are not confined to filling up vacancies in the memberships of committee of a religious endowment. Mahomed Athor v. Sultan Khan. 4 C W N 527.

39-S.10—Memberships all vacant—New committee—Judge's power to appoint:

The powers of a Judge under s. 10, Act XX of 1863, are not restricted to filling up vacancies in the memberships of a Committee of a religious endowment, but he may appoint a new Commitee when the memberships of the Committee are all vacant. Syed Mahomed Athor v Sultan Khan. 4 C W N 527.

40—S 10—Vacancy in Committee-Committee, default by—Power of Committee to nominate—Appointment by District Judge—Superseding nomination by Committee.

When a vacancy occurs among the members of a Devastanam Committee, the remaining members of the Committee can proceed under S. 10 of Act XX of 1863, to elect a new member to fill the vacancy; but they cannot nominate any for it. An order was made by a District Court under S. 10 of Act XX of 1863, asking the Devastanam Commitee of the District what steps they had taken to fill up a vacancy that had occurred in the Committee and ordering them to fill it up forthwith. The Committee thereupon did not elect but nominated a person for the vacancy. Held;—That the District Court had power to supersede such nomination by a nominatian of its own. Ramanuja Aiyangar v Anantaratnam Aiyar. (1895) 6 M L J 1.

41—S. 10—Order of District Judge filling vacancy in Committee not appeallable.

No appeal lies to the High Court from an order by a District Judge filling a vacancy in a Committee under s. 10 of Act XX of 1863.

Farid-uddin Ahmad v Muhammad Nasarullah Khan A W N (1889) 7

Notes:—Foll: 11 Mad 26.

42—S. 11 & 12 & S. 3—Manager's right to bring a suit for rent on Muchalkas granted by the committee of Religious Institution.

A committee of religious institution appointed under Act XX of 1863 obtained Muchalkas from the tenant of the land belonging to the institution in its own name & not in the name of its manager. Held that this is an irregularity and a suit brought by the manager on such Muchalkas can lie. Kalyanaramayyar v Mustak Shah Saheb 19 Mad 395.

Notes.—Dist: 22 Mad 68 F B.

43—S. 14—Suit for wrongful dismissal from temple by officer.

A suit by an officer of a mosque, temple or religious establishment for wrongful dismissal from his office is not a suit for misfeasance within the meaning of s. 14, Act XX of 1863.

Amin Sahib v Ibram Sahib, 4 M H C 112

Notes.—Ex: 23 Mad 298. Ref: 14 Mad 1.

44-S 14—Breach of trust by the agent of the trustee—Suit against agent, whether maintainable under the Act:

A mere agent of the trustee of a temple cannot be sued for breach of trust or neglect of duty under S. 14 of Act XX of 1863. Venkatappayya v Venkatapati. 9 M L J 105.

45—S. 14—Power to appoint a new trustee—Code of Civil Procedure (Act XIV of 1882) s. 539.

S. 14 of the Religious Endowments Act only empowers a Court to direct the specific performance of any act by the trustee, manager or superintendent or to award damages or costs against such trustee, manager or superintendent and to direct their removal. It confers no power on the Court to appoint a new trustee, manager or superintendent, for which the proceedings provided for by s. 539 of the Code of Civil Procedure must be resorted to. Sada Shankar v Hari Shankar. 5 A L J 191=(1908) A W N 101.

Act XX of 1863-(Religious Endowments)-Contd.

46—S. 14—Suit for removal of manager and for declaration of invalidity of mortgage created by him—Declaration ancillary——Manager's claim to trust property bona fide—Liability to dismissal.

Suit for a declaration that a mortgage created by the manager of a musjid and ashurkhana was invalid, and for the removal of the manager from his office. Held, that the mortgage of the endowed property of the musjid which was a public mosque, was invalid. The plaintiff's prayer for a declaration being introductory or ancillary to the claim for the removal of the manager, s. 14 of the Religious Endowments Act did not apply. The suit was maintainable. Held also that as the defendant dealt with the mosque property in the bona fide belief that it was the private property of his family, and apart from this, as there was no evidence of misconduct by the defendant in his capacity as manager, the claim for his removal could not be granted. But in the circumstances of the case, the defendant was ordered to pay the costs of the suit.
Muhammad Jafar v Muhammad Ibrahim. 24 Mad 243

47—S. 14—Suit under—Jurisdiction of Civil Courts—Question of fact—Whether can be taken for the first time in second appeal.

A Civil Court has jurisdiction to try when proceedings are instituted under s. 14, Act XX of 1863. The appellant cannot be allowed to take for the first time in second appeal, a point which was neither raised in the written statement nor in the Courts below. 30 Mad 158; dist. 23 Mad 298;16 M L J 15 Appl. Venkata Reddiar v Krishna Iyengar. 7 M L T 311= 6 Ind Cas 684.

48—Ss. 14, 16—Suit for removal of a trustee —Power to refer to arbitration.

In a suit for the removal of a trustee, the Court has jurisdiction to refer to arbitration the question whether the trustee should be removed as prayed for in the plaint. Nambi Ayyangar v Yagnanarayana Somayajial 12 M L J 431.

49—Ss. 14, 16—Suit for removal of dharmakarta on ground of misappropriation and mismanagement——Power to frame scheme——Suit under s. 14—Power to refer for decision by arbitrator.

Act XX of 1863-(Religious Endowments)-Contd.

In a suit brought under s. 14 of the Religious Endowments Act for the removal of a dharmakarta on the ground of misappropriation and mismanagement of the funds of the temple, it is not competent to a District Judge to frame a scheme for the management of temple. Under s. 16 of the Act, it is open to the Judge to refer any mattar in dispute in a suit brought under s.14, for decision by an arbitrator, but it is not open to him to refer the whole suit for decision to an arbitrator. Veeraraghava Perumalaya v Sitaramayya, 12 M L J 401.

50.—Ss. 14, 7, 18, 3,—Endowments affected by regulation XIX of 1810, management of—Removal of trustee for misconduct—Act XX of 1863, Ss. 3, 7, 14 and 18. The object of Act XX of 1863 was to relieve the Boards of Revenue and Local Agents from the duties imposed on them by Reg. XIX of 1810, and, in order that any action may be taken under this Act, S. 3 of the Act requires that the Provisions of the Regulations specified in the preamble to that Act should be applicable to the endowment which is the subject of the suit, and that the nomination of trustees, etc., should either be vested in or be exercisable by the Government at the time of the passing of the Act. Where the question was about the management of a certain religious endowment in Cuttack, and it was admitted that in 1864, the Local Government appointed a Committee of three members under S. 7 of the Act, held that such appointment was a clear indication of the fact that that endowment was under the management of the Board of Revenue before the passing of the Act of 1863, and that the fact that an endowment had come under the management of the Board of Revenue was sufficient to characterise it as a public endowment and as one falling within the operations of this Act It was also held that all endowments which were effected by Reg. XIX of 1810, whether they come under the Board of Revenue or not, fall within the purview of Act XX of 1863.

For the operation of this Act, it is immaterial whether the office of the trustee or manager is hereditary or not, and, in either case, a trustee or manager, who misconducts himself and acts contrary to the object of the endowment, can be dealt with under the provisions of this Act.

Where the Court finds that a trustee was guilty of misconduct in the management of the endowment, an order by the Court directing him to execute a bond with sureties, in order to ensure better management for the future, is legal. (8 W R. 313, Fol; 18 All 227; 5 B L R Hpp. 5): 7 Cal 767, Ref: 26 Mad 166, Fol. 2 Mad 197 Fol. 14 Mad 103. Fol) Mahomed Athar v. Ramjan Khan. 34 Cal 587.

Act XX of 1863-(Religious Endowments)-Contd.

51—S 14—Suit of declaration maintainable when ancillary to suit for removal.

In a suit under the Religious Endowments Act, a prayer can be made that the property be declared to be that of the institution and that a mortgage over it be declared not binding on it, if such prayer is ancillary to the claim for the removal of the manager. Muhammad Jafar v Muhammad Ibrahim, 24 Mad 243.

52—Ss. 14 and 18—Suit for declaration that plaintiff is to be appointed manager in preference to defendants not maintainable—Misfeasance or breach of trust not alleged—Application for leave to institute suit.

A suit for a declaration that the plaintiff is a more eligible person than the defendants to be appointed manager of a shrine in which no misfeasance or breach of trust or neglect of duty is alleged against the trusrees appointed under the Religious Endowments Act, is not maintainable under s. 14 of that Act. Held, also, that a preliminary application to the District Judge for leave to institute the suit was necessary under s. 18 of the Act. Tajammul Husain v Fazal Rasul 4 A L J 774=A W N 1907, 287.

53—Ss. 14 and 18-Civ, Pro. Code, s. 539—Removal of manager of a religious institution—Power of Temple Committee—Sanction.-Where there is a duly constituted manager of a religious institution, he cannot be removed from his office except by bringing a Civil suit. And, for such a civil suit, previous sanction is required under ss. 14 and 18 of the act or s. 539. Civ. Pro. Code. It is not open to a self-constituted Committee in the event of a dispute with the manager to take the matter into their own hands, and, if they do so, they run the risk of a successful suit by the ex-manager for re-instatement. Bansi Dhar v. Chhanga Ram. 7 P. R. 1908=176 P.L.R. 1908 =20 P. W. R. 1908.

54—Ss. 14 and 18—Sanction, necessity of, for suits under s. 14—C P C. (Act XIV of 1882)—Jurisdiction.

Where from the application under s. 18 of Religious Endowments Act, for sanction to institute a suit, it is clear that the suit is not one against the defendants as trustees, managers, or superintendents of a mosque or as members of a committee, as contemplated by s. 14 of the Act. Held that the District Judge had no jurisdiction to grant the sanction. Amin Miran Sahib v. Medan Hussain Sahib. 5 M L T 209,

Act XX of 1863-(Religious Endowments)-Contd.

55—Ss. 14 and 18—Suit for removal of a trustee—Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882), s 539—Suit for appointment of a trustee—Leave of Court—Plaintiffs not trustees cannot claim possession.

A suit for the removal of a trustee of a mosque under the authority of s 14 of the Religious Endowments Act may be instituted with the leave of the Court obtained under s. 18 of the Act. But a suit for the appointment of a new trustee by the Court does not lie without obtaining the requisite leave under s. 539 of the Code of 1882. Where the plaintiffs in a suit for the removal of a trustee are not trustees themselves and therefore, are not entitled to possession of the trust property, they are entitled to sue for removal of the trustee without asking for possession themselves. Ghulam Ahmed v. Shah Mahomed Usuf, 9 Ind Cas 168=9 M L T 301=21 M L J 450

56—Ss 14, 18—Breach of trust by managing member of Committee—Appeal.

The managing member of a Committee appointed for the management of a religious endowment under Act XX of 1863 paid out of the trust funds a sum of Rs. 132 for the law expenses of himself and another in certain proceedings which resulted in the election of a certain person in place of a deceased member, being declared invalid and set aside, and for so doing he obtained the sanction of himself, the person whose election was sub judice, and another. He also paid out of the trust-funds another sum, part of which was spent in presenting, to the High Court, an appeal, which did not lie, against an order passed under s, 10 of the Act, and, acting as managing member, he passed an order sanctioning such payment. Held that these acts were obviously ultra vires of the managing member, s. 18 of the Act showing that it was for the Court to decide whether costs or any portion of them, might be paid out of the trust-funds. and that the managing member had committed malfeasance, breach of trust, and neglect of duty. The decision of the Privy Council (referred to in 14 I. A. 160) does not apply to a suit under s. 14 of Act XX of 1863 terminating in a decree. Farid-uddin v. Wilayat Husain A W N 1889.168

Act XX of 1863-(Religious Endowments)-Contd.

57—Ss. 14, 22—Applicability of Act to Central Provinces——Right of worshipper to sue for breach of trust relating to a temple.

The provisions of the Act, except s. 22, do not apply to the Central Provinces. Thus, though a suit under s. 14 of the Act is not maintainable in the Central Provinces, a worshipper has, apart from the provisions of the Act, a right to sue for a breach of trust relating to the funds or property of a temple. 3 Bom 27; 8 Bom 432 Fol Jaiwanti Bai v. Nagridass 3 C P L R 11.

58—Ss 14 and 18—Reg. XIX of 1810—Religious endowment—Suit to remove manager.—

Held, that Reg. XIX of 1810 was extended to the Punjab by general rules and orders of Government and that Act XX of 1863 is in force in the Punjab; held, also that the Court had power to decree removal of the manager of the temple on the plaintiff's suit filed after sanction was given under s. 18, Act XX of 1863, although the sanction was not applied for by all the plaintiffs. Gokal Ram v. Kahani Ram 6 P L R 1901.

59—Right to sue for removal of trustees—religious endowment.

S. 14 of Act XX of 1863 is sufficiently wide in its scope, to empower any person interested in any temple, mosque or religious endowment or in the performance of trusts connected thereto, to file a suit against the trusted manager or superintendent or the member of a committee appointed under the Act, for misconduct, and the said section 14 also empowers the Court to remove any trustee The tomb of a reputed saint became a place of pilgrimage and an endowment was made for the maintenance of the shrine and for the performance of certain religious ceremonies. The proprietors and managers of the institution had it as their practice to divide among themselves the residue of the income, to dispose of their own share in any way by way of sale or mortgage. Held that this was a religious institution within the meaning of Act XX of 1863. The 14th section of the Act empowers the Civil Court to remove trustees for misfeasance etc and it does not recognise any difference in respect of trustees whether hereditary or selected. Fakurudin Sahib v Ackeni Sahib. 2 Mad 197.

Notes—Ref: 26 Mad 166: 19 Cal 275; 17 Mad 85. Fol: 34 Cal 587.

Act XX of 1863-(Religious Endowments)-Contd.

60—Suit to remove trustee of religious endowment though unlawfully appointed.

Act XX of 1863 is applicable to an endowment whereby certain shops have been purchased by subscription and dedicated to the support of the mosque, and is also applicable in respect of a person in possession of the endowed property and professing to act as mutawalli, even though he may not have been lawfully appointed. 7 Cal 767, 18 All 227, ref. to.

Muhammad Sirajul Haq v Imam-ud-din 19 All 104=16 W N 187.

Notes—Dist 9 M L J 105.

61—Act XX of 1863, section 14-Religious endowments—Injunction against Mohunt—C. P. C., Act X of 1877, section 30.

Under s 14 of Act XX of 1863 ands 30 of the C. P. C. Act X of 1877, a suit at the instance of the plaintiffs, as worshippers at a temple, to which the former Act applies, and as representing the persons interested in the management of such temple will lie to restrain the Mohunt from wrongfully parting with the custody of the property of the endowment. Dhurum Singh v Kishen Singh. 7 Cal 767=9 C L R 410.

62-Trustee of temple His qualifications-Duty of a Committee—Misfeasance.

It is not enjoined by Act XX of 1863 that a trustee of a temple appointed by the committee should be of a particular sect although it is desirable that the trustee must belong to the sect to which the temple belongs. The appointment of a Sivite as a trustee to a Vishnuvite temple cannot be considered an act of misfeasance, neglect, or breach of trust on the part of the committee within the meaning of section 14 of the Act. Gandavathara v Devanayaga Mudali. 7 Mad 222

63-Jurisdiction of Civil Court—Endowment-Religious endowments, Application of Act to.

Act XX of 1863 only applies to certain religious trusts and endowments which had been or might come to be under the management of the Government; and s. 14 of that Act, although in its terms it appears to be more general than the earlier sections, applies in fact only to the same religious endowments to which the rest of the Act applies. 3 Cal 863; 2 C L R 121, cited and followed. (see under Endowment(). Kali Churn Giri v Gulabi. 2 C L R 128.

64—Suit to recover land on behalf of temple.

Act XX of 1863-(Religious Endowments)-Contd.

The provisions of s. 14 of Act XX of 1863 (Religious Endowments Act) do not oust the jurisdiction of the ordinary Courts except in the cases specified therein. A suit for recovery of immoveable property on behalf of a temple, alleging by way of misfeasance and breach of trust that the defendants (the managers of the temple) had forged documents and usurped temple property, without any prayer for the removal of the managers or for damages, or for a decree for specific performance of any act by the managers. is not a suit for which a special jurisdiction is provided by the Act. Mahalinga Rau v Vencoba Ghosami. 4 Mad 157.

Notes:—Dist: 24 Mad 243.

65-S. 41—Trustee-Voluntary contributions—Festivals—The right of the trustee to reject contributions—C P C S. 11.

Where it has been customary for the worshippers to offer, and for the trustee of the temple to receive, voluntary contributions for the due performance of certain ceremonial observances, it is not open to the trustee to reject the offered contributions and refuse to perform the ceremonies at his whim and pleasure.

Per Subrahmania Aiyar J-Even though there is no custom, if voluntary contributions are offered for the benefit of the temple and for purposes not inconsistent with the usage of the institution, the trustee is bound to receive them. If he refuses to do so unreasonably or with a wrong motive, the persons interested in the temple may bring a suit to compel the trustee to receive and to apply them for the purposes for which they are offered. Elayalwar Reddiar v Namberumal Chettiar. 23 Mad 298=10 M L J 86.

Notes—Ref: 15 M L J 458; 17 M L J 1; 30 Mad 158.

66.—Trustee, manager, or superintendent of mosque—Application of Act.

The words "trustee, manager or suprintendent of a mosque," etc., mentioned in Act XX of 1863 mean the trustee, manager, or superintendent of a mosque, etc, to which the provisions of the Act are applicable, not the trustee, etc., of any mosque. And such persons are those to whom the provisions of Regulation XIX of 1810 were applicable. The mosques etc., to which the provisions of that Regulation were applicable, were mosques for the support of which endowments had been granted in land by the Government of the country or by individuals; and the mosques, etc., to which the provisions of Act XX of 1863 apply are, not any mosques etc., but any mosques for the support of which endowments in land have been made by the Government or private individuals. Jan Ali v Ram Nath Mundal. 9 C L R 433=8 Cal 32.

Notes—Diss 7 M L J 281; 7 All 178 F B Disapd. 23 Mad 28. Appl 12 Mad 157. Fol 9 Cal 604. Dist 24 Cal 418. Ref 20 Cal 810 17 Mad 95; 15 Bom 612; 21 Bom 48; 24 Bom 170; 1 Bom L R 649; 2 C L J 46; 460; 33 Cal 905=10 C W N 867.

67-Act XX of 1863 s.14-Muth, management of -Suit against Superintendent of Temple-Endowment, suit in respect of—Committee of management under Act XX of 1863, suit by—Jurisdiction—Sanction of District Judge.

A suit by the members of a committee of management of a temple for an injunction to restrain a superintendent of the temple from exercising any authority over the temple will lie in the Court of the Subordinate Judge without sanction obtained from the District Judge although the temple be an endowment under act XX of 1863.

68-Per curiam:-S. 14 of that act is an enabling section intended to allow suits to be brought by any person interested in an endowment against the members of the committee of management themselves or any of those who are engaged in managing or superintending the affairs of the endowment, but it is not intended to take from the committee the power which would be inherent in them of their own authority to bring a suit in the ordinary Court against the manager in respect of monies misappropriated. Pudmalav Roy v. Ram Gopal Chatterjee. 9 Cal 133=11 C L R 333.

69-Suit by a trustee against ex-trustee. S. 14 of Act XX of 1863 does not include a suit to recover property by trustees against ex-trustees who are dismissed from office by temple committee.

Verasami Nayadu v Subha Ram. 6 Mad 54.

Notes:—Ref 22 Mad 481; 11 Mad 274: 22 Mad 225; 31 Cal 519; 8 C W N 500.

70—Hereditary trusteeship—Suspension from trusteeship & right of puja—Maintenance in office on certain conditions.

A suit was brought by certain dikshadars or hereditary trustees of the Chidambaram Temple against others (trustees) praying that the latter should be removed from their office & that a decree for money should be passed against them & then favour, inasmuch as the defendants were jointly as custodians of some temple property, guilty of misconduct with respect to it, & had obstructed the repairs of certain shrines. The District Judge passed the money decree asked for & also decreed that some of the defendants should be suspended from their office & from their right of Puja for an undefined period.

Act XX of 1863-(Religious Endowments)-Contd.

Held—that the admission that the trusteeship was hereditary in certain families did not come in the way of the operation of Act XX of 1863, & that the District Judge had jurisdiction under the Act XX of 1863 to deprive the defendants of the right of Puja

Held also that considering the evidence, that the defendants quite deserved the punishment that was inflicted on them. Decreed that the defendants be reinstalled in their office on condition that they file an undertaking with two sureties that they would give back temple property that was missing & then they would abide by the decision of the majority of Dikshadars as to the management of temple affairs &c.

Natesa v Ganapati. 14 Mad 103.

Notes.—Fol: 34 Cal 587.

71.—Suit to carry out endowment.

In a suit by the mutwalli of a large Mahomedan establishment acting on behalf of the Mahomedans of the neighbourhood, to secure the performance of trusts of a deed of appropriation by a Mahomedan, the plaintiff was held, with reference to the words o ss 14 and 15, Act XX of 1863, to be a person interested in the preservation of the trust, and a proper person to bring the suit. He was not required under those sections to have any interest in the trust, direct or immediate, or any share in the management of the property. Doyal Chund Mullick v. Keramut Ali 12 W R 382.

72-Religious Institution-Applicability of Act XX of 1863—Madras Regulation VII of 1817.

A suit was brought to displace the trustees of a Hindu temple, with the permission of the District Court under Act XX of 1863—It did not appear that the trustees were nominated by or subject to the confirmation of, the Government or any public officer. Held, that as long as it is not proved that the institution comes under Madras Regulation VII of 1817, Act XX of 1863 is not applicable. Muthu v. Gangathara 17 Mad 95.

Act XX of 1863-(Religious Endowments)-Contd.

Notes:—Ref: 18 All 227. Ex: 26 Mad 166.

73-Madras Regulation VII of 1817—Joinder of purchasers in a suit against trustee.

A temple having been endowed with immoveable property after the passing of Madras Regulation VII of 1817 and before the Religious Endowments Act (XX of 1863), and the trustee having without authority sold the same, a suit was instituted under Act XX of 1863 against the trustee and the purchasers of the property, to annul the sales and to declare the right of the temple thereto:—Held, (1) that a transferee of trust property under a transacion which amounts to a breach of trust on the part of the trustee of the institution, cannot be proceeded against under the provisions of the Religious Endowments Act, 1863; and (2) that the trustee of a public religious institution can be sued under the provisions of the Religious Endowments Act, 1863, notwithstanding the fact that the institution came into existence after Regulation VII of 1817 was passed. Sivayya v. Rami Reddi 22 Mad 223.

Notes—Ref; 24 Mad 243: 26 Mad 166; 31 Mad 212; 18 M L J 205,

74 Endowment for family idol—Suit for the removal of shebaits for their office—Arbitration—Bengal Regulation XIX of 1810—Act XX of 1863 is not applicable to an endowment which is not a public one, but which is made for the benefit of an ancestral famiy idol. Two plaintiffs who were members of a Hindu family, applied for and obtained leave to institute a suit against the defendants (in their presence). The suit was for the removal of the defendants from their office as shebaits of a certain idol, on the ground of their misconduct. The plaint alleged that as all the Hindus had a common right of worshipping the idol, the endowment was a a public one. This statement was contradicted by the defendants. After the framing of the issues, the lower Court by an order under S. 16 of the Act, referred some of them to arbitration. The defendants contended and objected to the reference on the ground that the Act was not applicable as the endowment was not a public one. The arbitrators made an award finding that the endowment was not a public one, the idol being the ancestral family idol of the parties to the suit. Certain definite rules were also laid down in the award by which the Sheva was to be conducted and repairs to the temple made. The Lower Court passed a decree on the award which declared that the idol was the ancestral idol of the parties and directed that the defendants should perform the Sheva in a certain manner and should execute certain repairs to the temple within six months. The decree further declared that on the default of the party to act as directed, any member of the family should be able to bring a suit for the appointment of a manager. The defendant appealed against this decree, and contended that the act did not apply to the case on the finding of facts as to the endowment not being a public one that the compulsory reference to arbitration was alleged and void, and that the decree was unauthorised by the terms of S 14 of the Act. Held, that on the facts as found by the arbitrators, Act XX of 1863 was inapplicable to the case and that the compulsory reference to arbitration and the decree made thereon were illegal and void. Held further that the decree itself was bad on the ground that it was not one coming within the scope of S 14 of the Act. Protap Chandra Misser v Brojonath Misser 19 Cal 275

Act XX of 1863-(Religious Endowments)-Contd.

Notes—Ref 18 All 227.

75-Suspension and dismissal of trustee of a temple—Powers of temple committee.—The plaintiff was appointed to the office of trustee of a Hindu temple under Religious Endowments Act, 1863, s. 3, by the temple committee constituted under that Act. Subsequently the committee, having received certain complaints against him, suspended him from office pending inquiry without calling on him for an explanation. They alleged as the grounds of his suspension that he had caused loss of property and money to the temple, and that he had conducted things in the temple contrary to custom so as to cause a disturbance of the peace. The trustee refused to acquiesce in the order of suspension and to give up certain records, etc, which he was by that order required to deliver, and denied the authority of the committee as asserted by them. Shortly afterwards the committee dismissed him. The plaintiff, denying that his suspension and dismissal were legal, brought two suits against the members of the committee, the first for damages for the suspension, and the second for an injunction to restrain the defendants from interfering with the discharge of his duties as trustee. Both of these suits were dismissed, and the plaintiff preferred appeals to the High Court in the appeal relating to the claim for an injunction, it was found that no misconduct had been proved against the plaintiff previous to the order of suspension Held by Shephard and Davies, jj: that a trustee in the position of the plaintiff cannot be dismissed from office except for good cause shown, and that his conduct subsequent to the order of suspension did not amount to such good cause. In the appeal relating to damages:—Held by Shephard J. that the order of suspension was illegal, and that, under the circumstances the plaintiff was entitled to substantial damages. Held by Davies J (finding that the committee had proceeded in the bona fide belief that they were acting for the good of the temple in suspending the plaintiff pending inquiry), that the order of suspension was not illegal, and that the suit was rightly dismissed. Owing to the difference of opinion between the two judges, the last-mentioned appeal was referred to the Chief Justice under Civil Procedure Code, s 575, and was heard by him sitting with the two other Judges:—Held by Collins, C. J and Shephard, J. (Davies, J; diss.) that the order of suspension was illegal, and the plaintiff was entitled to substantial damages. Per Collins, C. J.—The power of suspension by the committee is, in my judgment, the same as the power of dismissal. The committee, having made due inquiry and having called on the trustee for an explanation, may suspend for good and sufficient cause, but not otherwise. Seshadri Ayyangar v. Nataraja Ayyar. 21 Mad 179.

Notes—Ref: 30 Bom 508=8 Bom L R 407; 6 Bom L R 131; 230. Fol: 29 Mad 534=16 M L J 435=1 M L T 127; 9 C W N 32.

75A S. 16—Suit to remove trustee-Reference by Court of entire suit to arbitrator—Legality of reference.

In a suit under s. 14 of the Religious Endowments Act to remove a trustee, the Court referred the whole suit to an arbitrator. The arbitrator prepared a scheme for the management of the temple concerned and the Court accepted that scheme and appointed trustees in accordance with it. Held that, under s. 16 of the Religious Endowments Act, it was open to the Judge to refer any matter in difference in the suit for decision by an arbitrator, but it was not open to him to refer the whole suit for decision to an arbitrator as he had done in the case. Obiter: A District Judge has no power to prepare a scheme for the management of a temple under the provisions of the Religious Endowments Act.

Act XX of 1863-(Religious Endowments)-Contd.

Karedla Vizayaraghava Perumalayya Naidu v. Vemavarapu Sitaramayya 26 Mad 361

76-S.18—Leave to sue-Public and private endowments—Reg XIX of 1810-Jurisdiction of Civil Court—Suit to remove mutwalli.

A, a Mahomedan lady, executed a wakfnama purporting to dedicate the whole of her property to an imambara in her house, for the purpose of perpetuating various Shiah ceremonies. By the wakfnama she constituted herself joint-mutwalli with one B, and caused the names of herself and B as mutwallis to be substituted in the Collector register for her own name as owner. On the death of B, A acted as the sole mutwalli. The wakfnama was publicly registered. But though the property was styled "wakf," and A the mutwalli thereof, in all documents connected with the estate, A all along continued to deal with it as absolute proprietress and the dedication though made in 1885, was never under the control of the Board of Revenue or of local agents. In a suit, which the plaintiffs obtained leave to institute under s 18 of Act XX of 1863, to remove A from the mutwalliship, on the ground of misfeasence—Held, the wakfnama, did not constitute a public religious establishment within the meaning of Act XX of 1863, and that, therefore, the Judge below had no authority to give the plaintiffs, under S. 18 leave to sue; and that his decision was consequently ultra vires. S 18 of Act XX of 1863 applies only to such religious establishments as were under the control or superintendence of the Board of Revenue or of local agents under Regulation XIX of 1810 and were transferred to trustees or managers under s 4 of the Act.

Delroos Banoo Begum v. Ashgar Ally Khan 15 B L R 167 -23 W R 453.

77-S. 18—Jurisdiction of Court to pass orders under the section after making some enquiry and receiving affidavit from manager—Whether the order is open to revision under s 622 (of the Old C P C.)—

A District Judge would not be acting illegally in the exercise of his discretion, if he passes an order under s 18 of Act XX of 1863 after making some enquiry and receiving an affidavit from the manager in reply to the allegations in the petition presented under the section. There is no authority to support the view that she ought to pass an order under this section on a bare persual of the application for leave to sue. An order under s 18 (Act XX of 1863) is not open to revision under s 622 C P C (Old Code). (10 Mad 98 Fol) Ramanathan Chettiar v Ananthanaryana Iyer 7 M L T 126=5 Ind Cas 291= 33 Mad 412.

78.-S. 18—Duty of Court dealing with application for leave to institute a suit —Discretion.—

The granting or withholding of leave to sue upon an application made under s 18 of Act XX of 1863 is not a matter simply dependent upon the discretion of the Court. Where therefore a District Judge dismissed an application under s 18 without determining the question which he was bound to determine under that section, but upon grounds entirely irrelevant to the section, it was held that his order was liable to revision under s 622 of the Code of Civil Procedure

Waris Ali v Amiruddin A W N 1895, 200.

79-S 18—Leave to sue granted without notice to defendant—Validity.—

A plaint was presented under s 14 of the Religious Endowments Act charging that in an enquiry held by the Revenue Department it was found that the defendant had misappropriated certain temple funds and praying for the removal of the defendants from the management of those temples. The District Judge granted leave under s 18 of the Act without giving notice of the application to the defendants. Held that the words " on the perusal of the application " in s 18 of the Act clearly indicated that the Judge was not bound to do more. If the application satisfied him he was not bound to give notice thereof to the opposite party and hear them. The sanction granted was valid. (10 Mad 232, 9 Mad 319 7 Mad 222, 11 Mad 148 Ref)

Venkatappayya v Venkatapathi 24 Mad 687.

Notes.—Fol: 24 Mad 685.

80-S.18—Suit against manager—Permission to suit.—

Act XX of 1863 is applicable to the Punjab. A suit with regard to the religious endowment may be brought after obtaining permission under S 18. The circumstances that the application asking permission make no mention of the Act and that all the plaintiffs were not applicants for permission to sue are not vital defects. (35 P R 1871, 75 P R 1884 Ref).

Act XX of 1863- Religious Endowments)-Contd.

Gokal Ram v Kahan Ram, 95 P R 1900.

Notes:—Cons. 7 P R 1908

81—S. 18—C P C 1882, ss 402, 407—Grant of permission to institute suit for removal of trustee—Permissibility of applicant to sue in forma pauperis.—

Where a person has obtained permission to institute a suit under s 18 of the Religious Endowments Act for the removal of the trustee of a temple the provisions of Ch. XXVI, C P C 1882, do not prevent him from being allowed to sue as a pauper. Gurusami Chetty v Krishnasami Naikar 24 Mad 419.

82—S. 18—Application for sanction to institute suit—Proof of control of Board of Revenue not necessary.—

An applicant for sanction under s 18 of the Religious Endowments Act to institute a suit need not show that the temple referred to in the petition had been under the management of the Board of Revenue or that its Dharmakaitas had been under its management. Such actual control is not a condition necessary to make the Act applicable. (17 Mad 95 Expl)

Saturluri Seetaramanuja Charyulu v Nanduri Seetapati 26 Mad 166,

Notes:—Fol. 34 Cal 587.

83-S.18-Single application against several trustees—Charges not specific—Sanction on a general petition—Material irregularity—Revision, powers of—Civ Pro Code S 622.

When one application is made against several trustees, the application should clearly set forth the charges and the nature of the charges made against each especially as, under s 18, the Judge is to determine merely on a perusal of the verified petition whether there are sufficient prima facie grounds against each of the trustees and the Judge would be acting with material irregularity in the exercise of his jurisdiction in according sanction based on a general petition and if such irregularity should materially prejudice the trustees the High Court can exercise its powers of revision under s 622 C P C and can set aside the sanction. Chinnathambi Sahib alias Saiyid Gulam v Muhinddin Sahib 15 M L J 221.

84-S. 18—Leave to sue not necessary to sue in High Court for neglect by trustee.

Leave is not required under Sec 18 of Act XX of 1863 to sue a trustee for neglect of duty on the original side of the High Court.

Act XX of 1863-(Religious Endowments)-Contd.

Annasami Pillai v Ramakrishna Mudaliar. 11 M L J 1=24 Mad 219.

Notes:—Ref:— 27 Mad 192=13 M L J 341.

85—S.18—Leave to institute suit to remove trustee—Original Civil Jurisdiction of the High Court.

The members of the Tengalai sect of the Hindu community and worshippers of the Sri Parthasaradhi Swami Temple of Triplicane, situated within the local limits of the ordinary original civil civil jurisdiction of the High Court at Madras, brought a suit to remove one of the trustees of the said temple for negligence and breach of trust. Held, That no leave under S. 18 of the Religious Endowments Act was necessary for the institution of the suit. 3 Cal 572, followed. Srinivasa Appanagar v Raghavachariar. 6 M L J 239.

86-S,18 Grant of leave to sue on application by unverified letter not presented to Court by applicant or pleader—Civil Prodedure Code, Ss. 622, 647—Omission to give notice of application to person intended to be sued.

Application to District Courts under S 18 of Act XX of 1863 for leave to sue should be verified and presented by the applicant or his pleader. A grant of such leave on an unverified application not presented by the applicant or his pleader is a material irregularity within S 622, C P C. Omission to give notice of such application to the person intended to be sued does not per se make the leave if given, irregular. Amdoo Miyan v Muhammad Davud Khan Bahadur 11 M L J 326=24 Mad 684.

87—S. 18—Leave to bring suit for accounts—Grant of leave—Order, if a decree——Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882), s 2—Appeal.

Act XX of 1863 (Religious Endowments Act) makes no provision for appeal, and an order granting leave to bring a suit, for the purpose of having the accounts of a certain religious endowment, not being a "decree" within the meaning of s 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure, no appeal lies against such an order. (18 Cal 382, Ref).

Mozaffer Ali v Mirza Hedayet Hossain 5 C L J 641=34 Cal 584.

88—Right of beneficiaries under deed of endowment.

Act XX of 1863, while it empowers persons to sue whose right to sue. independently of the Act, may be doubtful, does not deprive persons claiming to be beneficiaries under a deed of endowment of the right to sue, which they have independently of the Act. nor does it impose on them the necessity of obtaining the sanction to institute the suit required by s. 18 of the Act. Kulab Hossein v. Mehrum Beebee 4 N W 155.

Act XX of 1863-(Religious Endowments)-Contd.

89-Suit to have trusts of endowment carried out.

An appropriator who sues on the ground that the trust created. so far as it related to the appointment of mutwallis. had never been acted upon and that the original rights of the appropriator remain, is at liberty to bring such a suit without leave of the Court under s. 18 of Act XX of 1863. Hidaitoonnissa v Afzul Hosscin 2 N W 420.

Act XX of 1863 s. 18—See—s. 18 Superintendence of High Court C P C S 115

90-S.18-Leave to sue-Notice to trustee-Petition Mahazarnama Civil Procedure Code, ss 622 and 647-Material irregularity. Before giving leave to institute a suit under sec 18 of the Religious Endowments Act XX of 1863 it is not necessary that notice should be given to the trustee against whom it is proposed to institute the suit.

Leave to sue cannot be granted without a formal petition properly signed and verified being presented to the Court by the petitioner in person or by pleader and to grant such leave on the mere letter of Mahazarnama signed by a large number of people is irregular; leave so granted will be set aside on revision under section 622 Civil Procedure Code. Amdoo Miyan v Muhammad Davud Khan Bahadur 11 M L J 326=24 Mad 685

91—S 18—Where suit sanctioned under S 18, leave to sue in forma pauperis C P C S 407. Where a person got leave under s 18 leave can be given to sue in forma pauperis and Chapter XXVI C P C does not preclude him from suing in forma pauperis. GurusamiChetti v Krishnasama Naicker 21 Mad 419.

92—S 18-Leave to sue-Sanction—Condition precedent. It is not a condition precedent that for the exercise of the jurisdiction to grant sanction under s 18 of Act XX of 1863 that the Board of Revenue should have had management of the temple or that its Dharmakartas should have been under the Board's control. 17 Mad 95 discussed 2 Mad 197; 23 Mad 223 ref to. Sathulini Seetaramanuja Charyulu v Nanduri Seetapati 26 Mad 166.

Notes:—Fol 34 Cal 587.

93—S. 18—Sanction to sue—Prescription—Trustee—Power to appoint successor — Acquisition of the right by prescription—Removal of old temple—Funds—Alienation of trustee validity of.

Act XX of 1863-(Religious Endowments)-Contd.

Where the government acquire the land on which a temple stands and award compensation to the trustee, the fact that in building a new temple the trustee largely supplements such funds by contributions which he raises does not make either him or the contributors the founder of the new temple.

Semble:—It may be otherwise if the temple had gone to ruin and a person out of charity erected a new temple even though the materials of the ruined temple had been used in the erection of the new.

Not only the right to be a trustee for life, but the right to be such trustee with power to appoint his own successor, may be acquired by prescription.

Where L. the hereditary trustee of a temple, devised the trusteeship to his sister A, and authorized her to appoint successor to herself and A devised the trusteeship to V with a similar right of appointment and V appointed to defendant as his successor in office.—

Held, that the right of appointing a successor was part of the title acquired by prescription and that the defendant was, therefore, properly appointed trustee.

Held, that leave was not required under S. 18 of Act XX of 1863 to sue a trustee for neglect of duty on the original side of the High Court.

Semble—The alienation of a trust by a trustee by prescription to one in the line of trustees ordained or contemplated by the founder is not, in the absence of any corrupt inducement or prejudice to the interests of the temple, within the prohibition of Rajah Vurmah v. Rani Vurmah 1 L R 1 Mad 235. Annasami Pillai v. Ramakrishna Mudaliar. 11 M L J 1=24 Mad 219.

Notes:—Ref: 27 Mad 192; 13 M L J 341.

94-Sanction for suit—Suit brought different in nature from the one sanctioned—Plaint rejected.

A suit was brought under the Religious Endowments Act (Act XX of 1863 s. 14) by two persons being worshippers in a Hindu temple, against persons as managers or trustees of the temple alleging various acts of misfeasance, & praying for their removal from office. No claim was made for damages, though the order sanctioning the suit sanctioned such a claim.

Held that the suit actually instituted was not the one for the institution of which sanction was accorded, the plaint therefore was properly rejected. Srinivasa v Venkata. 11 Mad 148.

Notes:—Doub; 22 Mad 223. Ref: 21 Bom 257.

Act XX of 1863 (Religious Endowments)-Contd.

95-Order of Civil Court as to title Effect of—Semble—That an order of the Civil Court under s 18 of Act XX of 1863 refusing leave to institute a suit and deciding that the temple was governed by a hereditary dharmakarta and therefore within s 3 of the Act was not conclusive upon the question of title between the parties. Venkatasa Naikar v Srinivassa Chariyar. Srinivassa Chariyar v Venkatasa Naikar 4 M H C 410.

96—Costs—Suit for benefit of a trust.

Where a suit under Act XX of 1863 is for the benefit of a trust, and no party to the suit is in fault,—e.g., where the right to the succession is disputed, and it is necessary to secure the property,—the Court may order the costs to be paid out of the estate; but where a person is in fault, no such order ought to be made. Sookram Doss v Nund Kishore Doss. 22 W R 21.

97—Affirmed by the Privy Council that the decision of the High Court so far as it held that the endowment created by the document was not of such a public character as would sustain a suit under Act XX of 1863, not dissented from.

Ashgar Ali v. Delroos Banoo Begum 3 Calc., 324.

Notes—Appl: 8 All 267; 14 All 8. Dist: 18 Mad 257; 2 M L J 235. Ref: 19 Cal 275: 3 Mad 215; 12 Mad 380: 3 Bom L R 658; 18 All 227; 2 A L J 436.

Act XXI of 1863.

See Cases under:—

(1) Recorders Act.

(2) Small Cause Courts, Rangoon.

(3) Superintendent of High Court—Charter Act S. 15.

Act XXIII of 1863.

See Cases under:—

Waste Lands.

Act XXIII of 1863 (Waste—Lands Claims)

Notes; Rep in Pt: Act IX of 1871; Declared in force—Throughout B I except as regards the Scheduled Districts Act, XV of 1874, s. 3; in the Arakan Hill District Reg. IX of 1874. s 3.

Act XXIII of 1863 s. 5.

See Valuation of suit—Waste Lands suit for.

Act II of 1864.

See (1) Local Government, Power of.

(2) Transfer of Civil case, Letters Patent, High Courts, cl; 13.

Act-Contd.

Act III of 1864 (Foreigners.)

Notes:—[Rep in pt., Act XII of 1876; s. 24 Am, Act XII of 1891; Declared in force—throughout B.I., except as regards the Scheduled Districts Act XV of 1874, s. 3; in the Sonthal Parganas, Reg. III of 1872, s. 3, as amended by Reg. III of 1899, s. 3; in the Angul District, Reg. I of 1894, s. 3; in the Arakan Hill District, Reg. IX of 1874, s. 3; in Upper Burma (except the Shan States), Act XIII of 1898, s. 4; in British Baluchistan, Reg. I of 1890, s. 3.]

Act III of 1864.

See (1) Whipping.

(2) Foreigners.

Act XI of 1864 (Native Law Officers.)

Notes:—[Rep., Act VIII of 1868.

Act XI of 1864.

See (1) Mahomedan Law—Endowment.

(2) Mahomedan Law—Kazi.

Act XIII of 1864.

See Contract—Breach of Contract.

Act XIII of 1864 (Emigration of Native Labourers.)

Notes:—[Rep., Act VII of 1871.]

Act XVI of 1864 (Registration of Assurances).

See Registration Acts.

Act XVI of 1864.

See Registration Acts.

Act XVII of 1864 (Official Trustees)

Notes:—[Rep in Pt., Act XIV of 1870: Act XII of 1876; Act XII of 1891: s. 34 (3) (as to Lower Burma) Rep., Act VI of 1900, s. 48, Am., Act II of 1890, ss. 1 to 7; Act V of 1902.]

Act XVII of 1864.

See Official Trustee's Act.

Act XX of 1864..

See (1) Costs, Bombay Minors' Act.

(2) Guardian-Duties and Powers of Guardians.

(3) Hindu Law —Partition—Right to Account on Partition.

(4) Minor—Cases under Bombay Minors' Act, 1864.

Act XX of 1864 ss. 11 and 15.

See Collector.

Act-Contd.

Act XXII of 1864.

See (1) Cantonments.
(2) Excise.

Act XXVI of 1864 (Small Cause Courts presidency-towns.)

See Presidency Small Cause Courts Acts.

Act XXVI of 1864.

See Cases under Small Cause Court, Presidency Towns.

Act XXVI of 1864 s. 9.

See (1)Contract Act, s. 27.
(2) Costs—Small Cause Court Suits.

Act III of 1865 (Carriers)

Notes:—Rep in Pt., Act IX of 1890; Am. Act X of 1899, s.2; Rep. (as to carriers by Rail) Act IV of 1879; Declared in force—throughout B. L., except as regards the Scheduled Districts, Act XV of 1874, s. 3; in the Sonthal Parganas, Reg III of 1872, s. 3. as amended by Reg, III of 1899, s. 3; in the Arakan Hill District (with a modification), Reg. IX of 1874. s. 3; in Upper Burma (except the Shan States), Act XIII of 1898, s. 4.

Act III of 1865.

See (1) Carriers Act.
(2) Carriers.

Act V of 1865.

See Marriage Act (Christian). 1865.

Act VII of 1865 (Government Forests)

Notes:—Rep. Act XII of 1891.

Act VII of 1865.

See Forests Act, 1865.

Act VIII of 1865 (Validating Imprisonment of certain persons)

Notes:—Rep., Act V of 1871.

Act X of 1865.

See Succession Act.

Act XI of 1865.

See (1) Small Cause Court, Mofussil.
(2) Small Cause Court, Rangoon.

Act-Contd.

(3) Special or Second Appeal—Small Cause Court Suits.

S. 21—Process for enforcement of decree—Act XI of 1865.

An application by a decree holder for money paid into Court by the judgment-debtor is "a process for enforcement of the decree" within the meaning of s. 21 of Act XI of 1865.
Amolak Ram v The Bombay Baroda and Central India Railway Company.
8 W N 59.

Act XV of 1865.

See (1) High Court, Jurisdiction of—Bombay—Civil.
(2) Parsi Marriage and Divorce.
(3) Cases under Parsis.
(4) Restitution of Conjugal Rights.

Act XV of 1865 (Parsi Marriage & Divorce.)

Notes:—Rep in Pt., Act VII of 1870; Act XIV of 1870; Act XII of 1876; Am., Act VI of 1886, s. 31; Declared in force throughout B.L., except as regards the Scheduled Districts, Act XV of 1874, s. 3.

Act XIX of 1865.

See (1) Judicial Assistants.
(2) Jurisdiction of Settlement Court.
(3) Review of Judgment.

Act XX of 1865.

See (1) Costs—Summary Suit for Possession.
(2) Mooktear.
(3) Pleader.

Act XX of 1865 (Pleaders. Mukhtears and Revenue Agents.)

Notes:—Rep., Act XVIII of 1879.

Act XXI of 1865.

See Cases under Parsis.

Act XXI of 1865 (Parsi Intestate Succession

Notes:—Declared in force—throughout B. L., except as regards the Scheduled Districts, Act XV of 1874, s. 3; in the Arakan Hill District, Reg. IX of 1874, s. 3; in Upper Burma (except the Shan States), Act XIII of 1898 s. 4.

Act XXVII of 1865.

See Review of Judgment.

Act-Contd.

Act XXVIII of 1865.

See Insolvency—Cases under Act XXVIII of 1865.

Act IV of 1866

See (1) Appeal.
(2) Arbitration
(3) Small Cause Court.
(4) Review.
(5) Revision.

Act V of 1866 (Policies of Insurance Marine and Fire Assignment)

Notes:—Rep in Pt., Act IX of 1872; Act X of 1877; Act XII of 1879; s. 99; Act XXVI of 1881; Residue Rep., Act II of 1900, s. 5.]

Act X of 1866 (Companies)

Notes:—Rep., Act VI of 1882.

Act X of 1866.

See:—Cases under Company.

Act XII of 1866 (Private Water—Courses)

Notes:—Rep. Act XII of 1876.

Act XIII of 1866.

See Oudh Redemption Act.

Act XIV of 1866 (Post Office)

Notes:—Rep., Act VI of 1898.

Act XX of 1866.

See (1) Registration Act, 1866.
(2) Registration Act, 1877.

Act XXI of 1866.

See (1) Hindu Law.
(2) Native Convert's Marriage Dissolution Act.
(3) Divorce.

Act XXI of 1866 (Native Converts' Marriage Dissolution.)

Notes:—Rep in Pt., Act VII of 1870; Act XVI of 1874; Act XII of 1891; Declared in force throughout B. I., except as regards the Scheduled Districts, Act XV of 1874, s. 3; in the Sonthal Parganas, Reg III of 1872, s. 3, as amended by Reg III of 1899, s. 3; in the Arakan Hill District, Reg, IX of 1874, s. 3.]

Act-Contd.

Act XXV of 1866 (Unclaimed Deposit)

Notes:—[Rep in pt., Act XXIV of 1867; Act XVI of 1874; Act XII of 1876; Act XII of 1891; Supplemented, Act V of 1870.]

Act XXVI of 1866

See (1) Oudh Estates Act.
(2) Oudh Sub-Settlement Act.

Act XXVII of 1866 (Trustees).

Notes:—Rep. in Pt. Act XIV of 1870; Act XVI of 1874; (Locally), Act IV of 1882; Am. (In Lower Burma) Act VI of 1900, s. 47; s. 35 Ext. Act III of 1909, s. 119 (From 1st January 1910).

Act XXVIII of 1866 (Trustees' and Mortgagee's Powers).

Notes:—(Rep. in Pt. act XVI of 1874; Act VII of 1882, s. 6; (Locally) Act II of 1882; Am. (in lower Burma), Act VI of 1900, s. 47; declared in force throughout B. I., Except as regards the Scheduled Districts, Act XV of 1874, s. 3.)

Act XXVIII of 1866.

See (1) Trustees and Mortgagees Act, 1866.
(2) Charitable Trusts 33 Bom 509.

Act III of 1867.

See Cases under gambling.

Act X of 1867 s 1.

See Small Cause Court, Mofussil practice and Procedure reference to High Court.

Act X of 1867 (References by Mufussil Small Cause Courts.

Notes—Rep. Act X of 1877.

Act XII of 1867 (Presidency Jails)

Notes—Rep. Act V of 1871.

Act XV of 1867.

See Municipal Committee.

Act XVIII of 1867:

See Jurisdiction of Civil Court—Rent and Revenue Suits, N. W P

Act-Contd.

Act XXIV of 1867.

See (1) Administrator General's Act
(2) Illegitimacy.

Act XXIV of 1867 (Administrator General.

Notes—Rep. Act II of 1874.

Act XXV of 1867.

See (1) Defamation.
(2) Cases under Appeal—Acts—Stamp Act, 1867
(3) Cases under Stamp Act, XXVI of 1867.
(4) Valuation of Suit.

Act XXV of 1867 (Press and Registration of Books)

Notes -(Rep in Pt Act XIV of 1870; Rep. in Pt. and Am—Act X of 1890, Act XII of 1891, Local Govt. empowered to annul Declarations made under and s 15 ext, Act VII of 1908 ss 7, 8, Declared in force—Throughout B I, except as regards the Scheduled Districts, Act XV of 1874, s. 3, in the Sonthal Parganas, Reg. III of 1872, s 3, as amended by Reg. III of 1899, s. 3, in Upper Burma (Except the Shan States), Act XIII of 1898, s. 4,

Act XXVI of 1867 (Stamp-duties)

Notes—Rep. Act X of 1877.

Act XXVII of 1867 (Deputy Commissioner)

Notes—Rep—(in Oudh), Act XXXII of 1871; (in Punjab), Act XVII of 1877, (in Central provinces and the Sambalpur district), Act XVI of 1885, (in Jhansi Division), Act XX of 1890, s. 5 (2)).

Act XXIX of 1867.

See Income and License Tax.

Act I of 1868

See (1) Limitation Act (1908) Art 144.
(2) Mortgage
(3) (Punjab) Tenancy Act (XXVIII of 1868).

Act I of 1868

See General Clauses Act (I of 1868).

Act I of 1868

See Notice.

Act-Contd.

Act I of 1868 (General Clauses).

Notes—Act X of 1897,

Act VI of 1868 (N W P Municipal Improvement Act).

See N W P and Oudh Municipalities Act, 1883, ss. 69, 71.

Act VII of 1868.

See (1) Appeal
(2) Review of Judgment.

Act VIII of 1868 s 1

See Statutes, Construction of

Act IX of 1868

See Tax.

Act XIII of 1868.

See Right of Suit—King of Oude, suit against.

Act XIV of 1868.

See Prostitutes.

Act XVI, of 1868 s 9

See (1) Appeal Orders.
(2) Ministerial Officers, Appointment of.

Act XVI of 1868 s.12.

See Munsif, Jurisdiction of

Act XVI of 1868 s 18.

See Bengal Civil Courts Act, 1871, s. 22

Act XVI of 1868 s. 19

See Execution of Decree—Transfer of Decree for Execution.

Act XIX of 1868.

See Oude Rent Act

Act XXVIII of 1868.

See (1) Custom (Punjab) Alienation of Occupancy Rights.
(2) Right of occupancy.
(3) Punjab Tenancy Act, 1868.
(4) Punjab Tenancy Act, 1887.

Act XXVIII of 1868.

See Punjab Tenancy Act (XXVIII of 1868.

Act I of 1869.

See Oudh Estates Act

Act IV of 1869

Notes—(Rep in Pt, Act VII of 1870; Act XII of 1879 (in Punjab) Act XVIII of 1884;

Act-Contd.

(in the Centeral Provinces and the district of Sambalpur), Act IV of 1901, s. 8; AM., (in Lower Burma), Act XI of 1889, s. 97 (Rep. by Act VI of 1900). and Act VI of 1900, s. 47: declared in force—in the Sonthal Parganas, Reg. III of 1872, s. 3; as amended by Reg III of 1899,s. 3; in the Angul District, Reg, I of 1894, s. 3, in the Arakan Hill District (except so much of sections 47 and and 49 as relates to Stamps), Reg. IX of 1874, s. 3, in Upper Burma (except the Shan States), Act XIII of 1898, s. 4; in British Baluchistan, Reg. I of 1890, s. 3.)

Act IV of 1869.

See Divorce Act.

Act V of 1869 (Articles of war).

Notes—Rep. in Pt. Act I of 1901; Art. 170 (Heading) Am., Act XII of 1891; Rep. in Pt., and AM., Act XII of 1894; art. 4 (2) AM., act I of 1900. art. 4 (1) AM., Act IX of 1901;art 89 A, AM. art 91 Rep in Pt , App III Rep , act XIII of 1904, arts 4, 161 AM. Act V of 1905, declared in force—in the Sonthal Parganas Reg. III of 1872, s 3, as amended by Reg III of 1899 s. 3 in the Angul District, Reg 1 of 1894, s 3; in the Arakan Hill District (except the first three clauses of part 1, para (c)) Reg. IX of 1874 s 3 in Upper Burma (except the Shan States). Act XIII of 1898 s. 4 in British Baluchistan Reg. 1 of 1890 s 3)

Act V of 1869.

See (1) Arrest.

(2) Execution of decree.

Act IX of 1869.

See Estoppel—Statements and Pleadings.

Act XIV of 1869.

See Bombay Civil Courts Act.

Act XVI of 1869.

See Bhootan Duars act.

Act XVIII of 1869.

See Stamp act 1869.

Act XXII of 1869 (Garo Hills.)

Notes:—Rep: Act XIV of 1874.

Act VII of 1870.

See (1) Court Fees Act.

(2) Hindu Wills Act, 1870.

Act X of 1870 (Land Acquisition)

See Compensation.

Notes—Rep act 1 of 1894.

C. C 25

Act-Contd.

Act X of 1870.

See Land Acquisition act, 1870.

Act XIV of 1870.

See (1) Limitation Act, (1908) Art 132.

(2) Statute, Construction of.

Act XIV 1870.

1-Procedure of High Court—Act XIV of 1870 (the Repealing Act 1870) did not affect the procedure of the High Court. Ramchunder v Chooneelal. 12 B L R 35.

Act XXI of 1870 (Hindu Wills)

See (1) Hindu Wills Act.

(2) Probate and Administration Act

Act XXIII of 1870 (Coinage)

Notes—Rep. Act III of 1906.

Act I of 1871 (Cattle Trespass.)

Notes-[Am; Act 1 of 1891,declared in force-in the Sonthal Parganas, reg. III of 1872, s. 3, as amended by reg. III of 1899, s. 3; in the Angul District, reg. 1 of 1894 s.3; in the Arakan Hill District, reg. Reg IX of 1874, s. 3; in Upper Burma (except the Shan States), Act XIII of 1898, s. 4; in British Baluchistan reg. 1 of 1890, s. 3.]

Act VI of 1871.

See Bengal Civil Courts Act, 1871.

See Pre-emption.

Act VIII of 1871.

See (1) Registration Act, 1871.

(2) Registration Act, 1877.

Act IX of 1871.

See Limitation act, 1871.

Act XV of 1871.

See (1) Broach Taluqdars' Relief Act, 1871.

(2) Jurisdiction of Civil Court—Rent and Revenue Suits—Bombay.

Act XXIII of 1871 (Pensions).

Notes: [Rep in pt. act XII of 1891, Am. (locally) act XXI of 1886: Declared in force—in the Sonthal Parganas, reg. 111 of 1872, s. 3, as Amended by reg. III of 1899. s.3; in the Arakan Hill District (Except ss. 1 and 2 and the Schedule), reg. IX. of 1874, s. 3; in Upper Burma (except the Shan States), act XIII of 1898. s, 4; in British Baluchistan. reg. 1 of 1890. s. 3.

Act-Contd.

Act XXIII of 1871.

See Pensions act.

Act XXV of 1871.

See Railway act, 1871

Act XXXII 1871. S. 18.

See Appeal to Privy Council—cases in which an appeal lies or not—Appealable orders.

Act XXXIII of 1871.

See Land Revenue Act (XXXIII of 1871.)

Act XXXIII of 1871.

See Punjab land aevenue act, 1871.

1—Act XXXIII of 1871. sections 42 and 43—execution of decree of Civil Court—lien for revenue

There is no lien for revenue, until the revenue is in arrear under Section 42, Act XXXIII of 1871, and attachment has been made under Section 43. Therefore, where a Civil Court attaches in execution of decree the immoveable property of an agriculturist, it is not necessary to arrange first for the payment of the revenue, paying the balance to the judgment-creditor, but the judgent-creditor is entitled to payment in full.—

Comur Deen v. Hashum PR 62 of 1874.

Act XXV of 1871 (Railway Act Amendment Act)

Notes—Rep: Act IV of 1879.

Act I of 1872.

See Evidence Act, 1872.

Act III of 1872 (Sipecial Marriage).

Notes-(Rep in pt act XVI of 1874 Act XII of 1876; Am; Act VI of 1886, s. 29; Declared in Force—in the Sonthal Parganas, Reg. 111 of 1872 s. 3. as amended by Reg. 111 of 1899. s. 3; in the Angul District, reg 1 of 1894, s. 3; in British Baluchistan reg. 1 of 1890, S. 3.]

Act III of 1872 s. 10.

See Hindu Law—inheritance—Divesting of, Exclusion from, and forfeiture of inheritance.

Act-Contd.

Act IV of 1872.

See (1) Punjab Custom, inheritance.
(2) Equity.
(3) Excise.
(4) Insolvency.
(5) Jurisdiction.
(6) Limitation Act (1908) s. 16.
(7) Pre-emption.
(8) Sarnal.
(9) Tirni.
(10) Track Law.
(11) Punjab Laws Act (IV of 1872).

Act IV of 1872 (Punjab Law Act)

See cases under appeal Acts.

Act V of 1872.

See Insolvent Act, s. 5.

Act VI of 1872.

See Oaths Act, 1872.

Act VII of 1872 s. 58.

See Advocate.

Act IX of 1872.

See Contract Act.

Act XV of 1872 (Christian Marriage).

Notes:-Rep. in Pt., Act XVI of 1874; Rep. in Pt.and Am., Act XII of 1891. Am., Act VI of 1886. S. 30 cls. (a), (b), (d); Act II of 1891; S, 82 & sch. II, Am , Act I of 1903; declared in force—in the Sonthal Parganas, Reg. III of 1872, S. 3; as amended by Reg. III of 1899, S. 3; in the Arakan Hill District, Reg. IX of 1874, S. 3; in Upper Burma (except the Shan States), Act XIII of 1898, s. 4; in British Baluchistan Reg. 1 of 1890, S. 3.

See Marriage Act, 1872.

Act XXII of 1872.

See (1) Collector.
(2) Right of suit—Fresh suit.

Act III of 1873.

See Madras Civil Courts Act, 1873.

Act IV of 1873 S. 19.

See Limitation.

Act IV of 1873 Ss. 21, 22.

See Municipal Committee.

Act-Contd.

Act VIII of 1873.

See Northern India Canal and Drainage Act 1873.

Notes—Rep in Pt Act XII of 1873; Act XVI of 1874; (in Punjab), Act XVI of 1887; Am. Act XII of 1891; Act XVI of 1899; Am in the Peshawar District, in the N. W. Frontier Province and (when notified) in certain other ports of the N W Frontier Province and in part of the Punjab, Reg IV of 1898; declared not to apply to any Canal which is for the time being included under either Sch I or Sch II to the Punjab Minor Canals Act of 1905 (Punjab Act III of 1905),—See S. 2 (3) of that Act.

Act IX of 1873.

See (1) Appeal.
(2) Special or Second Appeal.
(3) Repeal of Act.

Act X of 1873.

See Oaths Act, 1873.

Notes—Rep in pt., Act XII of 1873; Act XII of 1876; s. 7, Expl. (as to Lower Burma) Rep., Act VI of 1900. s. 48; Declared in force—in the Sonthal Parganas, Reg. III of 1872, s. 3, as amended by Reg. III of 1899, s. 3; in the Angul District (with an exception), Reg. I of 1894, s. 3; in the Arakan Hill District (except s. 2 and the Schedule), Reg. IX of 1874, s. 3; in Upper Burma (except the Shan States), Act XIII of 1898, s. 4: in British Baluchistan, Reg. I of 1890, s. 3)

Act XV of 1873.

See North-Western Provinces and Oudh Municipalities Acts.

Act XVII of 1873.

See Nawab Nazim's Debts Act 1873.

Act XVIII of 1873.

See North-Western Provinces Rent Acts.

Act XIX of 1873.

See North-Western Provinces Land Revenue Act.

Act I of 1874

See Collector.

Act II of 1874

See (1) Administrator General's Act, 1874.
(2) Letters of Administration

Act-Contd.

Act II of 1874

(Administration General's)

Notes:—Rep in pt. Act I of 1879; S. 68 (3) (As to Lower Burma) Rep., Act VI of 1900, S. 48; Rep. in pt. And Am., Act IX of 1881, and Act V of 1902. Am; Act II of 1890 Ss. 10 to 15 Act XII of 1891, Act VII of 1901 S. 4; Declared in force—In the Sonthal Parganas, Reg III of 1872 S, 3. As amended by Reg. III of 1899 s.3 in the Angul District Reg I of 1894, S. 3 1872, S, 3; in the Arakan Hill District Reg. IX of 1874, s. 3 in Upper Burma (except the Shan States), Act XIII of 1898, S. 4: in British Baluchistan, Reg, I of 1890, S. 3.

Act III of 1874

See Married Woman's Property Act.

Notes—Rep in pt, Act XII of 1876: Act VI of 1888, s. 9, Act XII of 1891; Declared in force—in the Sonthal Parganas Reg. III of 1872, S. 3 as amended; by Reg III of 1899 S, 3, in the Arakan Hill District, Reg IX of 1874, S. 3, in Upper Burma (except the Shan States) Act XIII of 1898 S. 4.

Act VI of 1874

See Cases under Appeal to Privy Council.

Notes:—Rep Act X of 1877.

Act VI of 1874 S. 19

See Execution of Decree—Orders and Decrees of Privy Council.

Act XIV of 1874 Schedules Districts

Notes:——Rep in pt., Act XIX of 1879: Act XIV of 1881, S. 14 Act XXV of 1881; Act VIII of 1883 Act VII of 1885; Act XX of 1890 S. 8 (1) Reg 1 of 1900 Act VI of 1902 rep in pt. and am; Act XII of 1891 Am Act II of 1893; Declared in force—in the Arakan Hill District except S 10: reg IX of 1874 S. 3, as amended by Act XIII of 1898 S. 16; in Upper Burma (except the Shan States Act XIII of 1898 S 4; in British Baluchistan Reg 1 of 1890 S 3; in the Angul District Reg 1 of of 1894, S. 3

See Scheduled District Act

Act XV of 1874.

See Laws Local Extent Act.

Act I of 1875 (Distress),

Notes—Rep: Act XV of 1882,

Act IV of 1875 (Merchant Shipping).

Notes—Rep: Act V of 1883,

Act-Contd.

Act IX of 1875 (Majority)

Notes.—[Am., Act VIII of 1890, s. 52; Declared in force—in the Arakan Hill District, Reg IX of 1874, s, 3 as Amended by Act XIII of 1898 s 16; in Upper Burma (except the Shan States), Act XIII of 1898, s. 4.]

See Majority Act.

Act X of 1875 (Advocate—General's Powers.)

Notes:—Rep., Act V of 1898.

Act XII of 1875.

See Ports Act, 1875.

Act XIII of 1875.

See (1) Letters of Administration.
(2) Probate—Power of High Court to Grant, and form of.

Act XIII of 1875 s. 6.

See Court Fees Act, s, 19D.

Act XIV of 1875.

See Judicial Official.

Act XIV of 1875 s. 3.

See Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), S. 483,

[Act XVII of 1875.

See Burma Civil Courts Act.

Act XVIII of 1875 (Indian Law Reports.)]

Notes:—Rep. in pt. Act XII of 1876.

Act XX of 1875.

See Pre-emption.

Act VI of 1876.

See Chota Nagpore Encumbered Estates Act.

Act VIII of 1876 (Native Passenger Ships.)

Notes:—Rep., Act X of 1877.

Act X of 1876.

See Bombay Revenue Jurisdiction Act.

Act-Contd.

Act XI of 1876 (Presideney Banks).

Notes:—[Rep in pt., and Am., Act V of 1879; Am., Act XX of 1899, ss. 10, 14, 37 (f) rep in pt. ss. 36,37, 63, Am, s. 42-A Ins, Act I of 1901. Declared in force in Upper Burma (except the Shan States), Act XIII of 1898, s. 4.]

Act XI of 1876.

See (1) Bank of Bengal.
(2) Presidency Banks Act.

Act XII of 1876 (Repealing Act)

Notes—Rep., Act XII of 1891.

See Small Cause Court, Mofussil—Jurisdiction —Copyright.

Act XVII of 1876.

See Oudh Land Revenue Act.

Act XVIII of 1876.

See Oudh Laws Act.

Act I of 1877.

See Specific Relief Act.

Act III of 1877.

See Registration Act, 1877.

Act IV of 1877.

See Presidency Magistrates Act.

Act X of 1877.

See Civil Procedure Code, 1882.

Act XV of 1877.

See Limitation Act, 1877.

Act XVII of 1877.

See (1) Special or Second Appeal.
(2) Repeal of Act, effect of.

Act XVIII of 1877 (Salt).

Notes:—Rep, Act XII of 1882.

Act I of 1878

Act I of 1878 (Opium).

Notes:—[Rep in pt., Act IV of 1894; Rep in pt. and Am, Act XII of 1891; Declared in force—in the Sonthal Parganas, Reg III of 1872, s. 3, as amended by Reg III of 1899, s. 3; in the An-

Act-Contd.

gul District, Reg I of 1894, s. 3, in British Baluchistan, Reg I of 1890, s. 3; in Upper Burma (except the Shan States). Act XIII of 1898, s. 4.]

Act VI of 1878 (Treasure Trove).

Notes:—Rep in pt., Act XII of 1891, Declared in force—in the Sonthal Parganas, Reg III of 1872, s.3; as amended by Reg III of 1899, s, 3; in the Angul District, Reg I of 1894, s. 3; in Upper Burma (except the Shan States), Act XIII of 1898, s. 4.]

Act VII of 1878 (Forest)

Notes:—[Rep in pt. (Locally), Act VI of 1879; Am., Act V of 1890, ss. 2 to 14, Act XII of 1891; Rep in pt., and Am.. Act V of 1901; Rep (in Assam), Reg VII of 1891. Declared in force—in the Sonthal Parganas, Reg III of 1872, s. 3: as Amended by Reg III of 1899, s 3, in the Angul District, Reg I of 1894,s. 3; in the Chittagong Hill Tracts, Reg I of 1900, s. 4.]

Act VIII of 1878 (Sea Custom)

Notes:—[Am., Act IX of 1885, ss. 5, 6; Act II of 1887, ss. I to 4; Act IV of 1889, s. 10 (as Amended by Act IX of 1891, s.3)and s.II Act VIII of 1889, ss. I, 2; Act IX of 1891, s. 3; Act XII of 1891, s. 11. s. 18 (e) Rep in pt., Act XVI of 1904; Supplemented, Act VIII of 1896; Applied with Modifications, Act I I of 1896, Application of s. 150 extended, Act XIII of 1899, s. 9; Declared in force—(ss. 144 to 154) in the Angul District, Reg I of 1894, s, 3; in Upper Burma (except the Shan States), Act XIII of 1898, s. 4.]

Act XI of 1878 (Arms)

Notes:—[Rep in pt.. Act XII of 1891; Declared in force—in the Sonthal Parganas, Reg III of 1872, s. 3; as amended by Reg III of 1899, s. 3; in Upper Burma (except the Shan States) Act XIII of 1898, s. 4.]

Act XII of 1878.

See Punjab Laws Act 1872, Section 10.

Act XVII of 1878 (Northern India Ferries)

Notes:— Ss, 8 12. (b), 13, 15, 26 Am., Act III of 1886; s. 36 rep., Act XII of 1897, s. 15; rep in pt., Act II of 1901; Rep in pt in N. W. Frontier Province, Reg VII of 1901, s. 3, Am. (in the Central Peovinces and the Sambalpur District) Act I of 1883, ss. 43, 44; (in United Provinces), U P Act II of 1906, s. 22, (in Punjab), Act XX of 1883 ss. 78, 79,(in the Central Provinces, the Sambalpur District and the Punjab), act XII of 1891, s. 17; Am. (in the Central Provinces), Act IV of 1907.

Act I of 1879—(General Stamps)

See Mortgage (Form of)

See Stamp Act 1879.

Act IV of 1879 (Railways)

Notes:—Rep Act IX of 1890

See (1) Carriers
(2) Railways Act 1879

Act VIII of 1879

See North West Provinces Land Revenue Acts.

Act VIII of 1879 S. 23

See Guardian Disqualified Proprietors.

Act XII of 1879. (Registration and Limitation Act, Amendment Act)

Notes—Rep. Act XVI of 1908.

Act XII of 1879

See Civil Procedure Code.

Act XII of 1879 36.

See Civil Procedure Code 1882 s. 258.

Act XII of 1879 S. 102

See Execution of Decree—Effect of Change of law pending execution.

Act XIII of 1879.

See Oudh Civil Courts acts 1879.

Act XIV of 1879 (Hackney carriage)

Notes—S. 4 Rep in Pt; Act XIII of 1889; s. 3; Am Act I of 1903; Declared in force in Upper Burma (except the Shan States) Act XIII of 1898 S. 4

Act XVII of 1879

See (1) Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act 1879.
(2) Transfer of Property Act 33 Bom 44.

Act-Contd.

Act XVII of 1879—Ss. 3 15 A

See (1) Mortgage Construction

Act XVIII of 1879

See (1) Legal Practitioners Act.
(2) Mooktear.
(3) Pleader—Removal Suspension and Dismissal.

Act XVIII of 1879(Legal Practioner's Act).

Notes-Am Act IX of 1884: Act XI of 1896; (in Lower Burma Act VI of 1900;S. 47: S.42:Am Act I of 1903: Ss. 4, 7, 25. 38 Am. Act I of 1908; Rep in N W Frontier Province (Except s. 36 as substituted by s. 4 of Act XI of 1896) Reg VII of 1901 S. 5: Declared in force in the Angul District Reg 1 of 1894 S, 3.

Act III of 1880 (Cantonment)

Notes:—Rep Act XIII of 1889.

Act IV of 1880.

See Portuguese Convention Act 1880.

Act VII of 1880 (Merchant shipping).

Notes—Rep in Pt., Act XIV of 1882; Act X of 1889, Rep in Pt and Am, Act XII of 1891, Am, Act VI of 1891 ss 6 to 8; Act XVII of 1891 ss. 3,4 Am s. S. 85 Am from 1st October 1909, Act XVIII of 1908.

Act XV 1880.

See Bombay Revenue Jurisdiction Act 1880.

Act V of 1881.

See (1) Practice—Civil Cases—Testamentary Matters.
(2) Cases under Probate
(3) Probate and Administration Act.

Act XII of 1881.

See North Western Provinces Rent Acts

Act XV of 1881 (Factories)

Notes—Rep in Pt and Am Act XI of 1891

Act XVIII of 1881.

See Land Revenue.

Act XXI of 1881

See Broach and Kaira Encumbered Estates Act

Act-Contd.

Act XXII of 1881 (Excise)

Notes:—Rep Act XII of 1896

Act XXIII of 1881.

See Dekhan Agricuturists: Relief Act 1881.

Act XXVI of 1881.

See (1) Hundi.
(2) Negotiable Instrument Act 1881.

Act II of 1882

See Trusts Act.

Act IV of 1882.

See Transfer of Property Act

Act V of 1882.

See Easements Act

Act V of 1882 Ss. 60 and 61

See Waste Lands

Act VI of 1882 (Companies.)

Notes—Am, Act VI of 1887; Act XII of 1891: Am and supplemented, Act XII of 1895: s, 35 Rep, Act II of 1899. Supplemented Act IV of 1900, declared inapplicable to societies registered under the Co-operative Credit Societies Act 1904 —See Act X of 1904 S, 28 declared in force in Upper Burma (except the Shan States), Act XIII of 1898, s. 4

Act VI of 1882

See (1) Companies Act
(2) Company
(3) Appeal Acts—Companies Act

Act XII of 1882 (salt)

Notes:—Rep in Pt Act XX of 1884 Act XII of 1891, rep in Pt and Am; Act XIX of 1890, declared in force—in the Sonthal Parganas (except s 31), Reg, III of 1872 S 3, as amended by Reg III of 1899 s. 3, in British Baluchistan, Reg 1 of 1890 s. 3 in Upper Burma, except the Shan States (ss.1, 2, 6, 7 and 8 and Ch. IV), Act XIII of 1898 s. 4

Act XIV of 1882

See Civil Procedure Code 1882

Act XV of 1882

Act-Contd.

Act XV of 1882 S. 69.

See Aden Courts Act.

Act XX of 1882 [Paper currency.]

Notes:—Rep Act III of 1905.

See Paper Currency Act.

Act XXII of 1882.

See Cases under Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act.

Act V of 1883 (Merchant shipping)

Notes—Rep in Pt Act X of 1889, s. 15 (2) (as to Lower Burma rep Act VI of 1900, s. 48; Rep in Pt; and Am; Act VI of 1891, ss. 9 to 13. Act 12 of 1891.

Act IX of 1882.

See Oudh Tenancy Act.

Act XV of 1883

See N W P and Oudh Municipalities Act 1883.

Act XIX of 1883 (Land Improvement Loans)

Notes—Rep in Pt Act XII of 1891, Am; Act XVIII of 1899, ss 1, 4, 6, 11 Rep in Pt s. 10 Am Act VIII of 1906, ss. 2 to 5. S. 12; Rep Act XVI of 1908, Declared in force in the Sonthal Parganas Reg. III of 1872 s. 3 as amended by Reg III of 1899 s. 3 in Upper Burma except the Shan States Act XIII of 1898 S. 4.

Act II of 1884.

See Agricultural Loans Act.

Act V of 1884.

See Chota Nagpore Encumbered Estate Act, 1884.

Act XII of 1884. (Agriculturists' Loans).

Notes:—(S 4 Am, Act VIII of 1906, S. 6 Declared in force in Upper Burma (Exept the Shan States), Act XIII of 1898. s. 4.

See Agriculturists' Loans Act

Act XIII of 1884.

See Nuisance.

Act-Contd.

Act XVIII of 1884.

See Punjab Courts Acts, 1884.

Act III of 1885

See Transfer of Property Act Amendment Act.

Act VIII of 1885.

See Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885.

Act II of 1886 (Income Tax)

Notes:—Rep. in Pt. Act XII of 1891. ; Act VI of 1902 ; Ss 5, 41 and Sch II Am, XI of 1903 ; Declared in force—in the Sonthal Parganas. Reg III of 1872; S. 3, As Amended by Reg. III of 1899, S. 3 ; In Upper Burma (Except the Shan States), Act XIII of 1898. S. 4.

See Income Tax Act.

Act IX of 1886.

See Deo Estates Act.

Act X of 1886 (Criminal Law Amendment).

Notes:—Ss. 1 to 19 Rep Act V of 1898; Ss. 20, 24 (2) Rep., Act XII of 1891 ; S 25 Rep, Act III of 1900 ; Ss. 21 to 24 (1) Declared in force in the Sonthal Parganas, Reg III of 1872, S.3, as Amended by Reg III of 1899, S. 3.

Act XIV of 1886.

See N. W. P. Rent Act, Amendment Act.

Act XVII of 1886.

See Jhansi and Morar Act.

Act XVII of 1886. Section 8.

See Res Judicata—Causes of Action.

Act I of 1887

See General Clauses Consolidation Act.

Act VII of 1887.

See Suits Valuation Act.

Act IX of 1887.

See (1) Provincial Small Cause Courts Act.
(2) Small Cause Court, Mofussil.
(3) Subordinate Judge, Jurisdiction of Act XII of 1887 (Bengal Agra and Assam Civil Courts).

Notes:—(S. 23 (C) Rep Act VII of 1889; S. 23

Act Contd.

(B) rep Act VIII of 1890: S. 2; rep in Pt; Act XII of 1891; S. I (2) rep in Pt., (in Agra) Act XX of 1890 S. 9 (1); Declared in force in the Sonthal Parganas with modifications. and as regards certain suits only, Reg. V of 1893, Ch III; Ext. Sambalpur District and s. 36 (1) (A) Am; Beng Act IV of 1906 s 2.

See Bengal N. W. Provinces and Assam Civil Courts Act.

Act XVI of 1887.

See Punjab Tenancy Act 1887.

Act XVII of 1887.

See Punjab Land Revenue Act, 1887.

Act V of 1888 (Inventions and Designs)

See Inventions and Designs Act.

See Patent.

Notes:—Rep in Pt Act II of 1899: Declared in force—in British Baluchistan Reg. I of 1890, S. 3; in Upper Burma (except the Shan States), Act XIII of 1898 s. 4.)

Act VI of 1888

See (1) Attachment—Attachment of Person (2) Insolvency—Insolvent Debtors under Civil Procedure Code.

Act VI of 1888. s. 5

See Security for Costs—Suits.

Act VII of 1888 —(Civil Procedure Code Amendment)

Notes:—Rep except s 1, s 65 and s 66 (1) (3) and (4) Act V of 1908; Title and Preamble Rep in Pt, s. 66 Rep Act IX of 1908: Residue Rep—Act XVI of 1908

See Civil Procedure Code Amendment Act (VII of 1888).

Act VII of 1888.

See Certificate of Sale, Civil Procedure Code, 1882 Section 318,

Act X of 1888 (Presidency Small Cause Courts Law)

Notes:—Rep Act V of 1908.

Act-Contd.

See Civil Procedure Code Amendment Act (X of 1888).

Act XII of 1888 s 3.

See Appeal-Bombay Acts-Bombay Municipal Act, 1888.

Act XIII of 1888.

See Punjab Courts Act, 1884.

Act IV of 1889 (Merchandise Marks)

Notes:—Rep in pt. and Am. Act IX of 1891, s 10 Rep in Pt Act XVI of 1904; Declarad in force in Upper Burma. (Exeept the Shan States). Act XIII of 1898 s 4.

Act VI of 1889.

Act VI of 1889

See Probate and Administration Act Amendment Act.

Act VII of 1889.

See Succession Certificate Act.

Act X of 1889. (Ports).

Notes:—Rep Act XV of 1908.

See Ports Act.

Act XI of 1889.

See Burma Courts Act, 1889.

Act XIII of 1889 (Cantonments)

Notes—Rep in Pt Act XII of 1896; Act V of 1898; (as to Burma). Act XIII of 1898 s. 18; Rep in Pt. and Am., Act XII of 1891; Am Act I of 1891, s 11; Act XV of 1897; s 6 (1) Am, Act I of 1903, ss. 13, 15 (1) Am; Act V of 1908; Declared in force—in British Baluchistan (with additions), Reg I of 1890 ss. 3, 4 as amended by Reg V of 1890 s, 45; in Upper Burma (except the Shan States), Act XIII of 1898, s. 4.]

Act XIV 1889 s. 1 cl (6).

See Settlement officer.

Act I of 1890 (Revenue Recovery)

Notes—Rep in Pt (As to Burma), Act XIII of 1898, s. 18; Modified in its application to the Benares Family Domains, U P Act III of 1904, S. 15; Declared in force.—In the Sonthal Paraganas Reg III of 1872, S. 3, as amended by Reg III of

Act-Contd.

1899, S. 3; in the Angul District Reg: 1 of 1894, S. 3 in Upper Burma (Except the Shan States) Act XIII of 1968, S. 4

Act VIII of 1890.

See Guardians and Wards Act.

Act IX of 1890 (Railways.)

Notes—Rep in pt (as to Burma) Act XIII of 1898 S. 18 : Rep in Pt and Am Act IX of 1896 Supplemented Act IV of 1905 ; Declared in force.—In the Sonthal Parganas. Reg III of 1872 S. 3 as amended by Reg III of 1899, s. 3 ; Upper Burma (Except the Shan States), Act XIII of 1898 S. 4.

Act XI of 1890 (Prevention of Cruelty to animals.)

Notes —Declared in force—in the Sonthal Parganas Reg III of 1872, S. 3: as amended by Reg III of 1899, S. 3; In Upper Burma (Except The Shan States), Act XIII of 1898, S. 4.

See Railways Act 1890.

Act XX of 1890.

See N W P and Oudh Act 1890

Act III of 1891.

(Amending the Evidence Act (I of 1872) and the Criminal Procedure Code (X of 1882))—

Act VIII of 1891.

See (1) Easement. 18 Bom 616.

(2) Prescription—Easements—Right of Way.

Act XII of 1891 (Amending Act.)

Notes—(Rep. in Pt. Act IX of 1894; Act XII of 1895; Act X of 1897; Act V of 1898; Act XI of 1898, S. 100; Act XIII of 1898, s 18; Act II of 1899 Act XIII of 1899; Act XIII of 1899; Act XXIV of 1899; Act III of 1900; Act VI of 1900, s. 48; Act VI of 1901; Reg. I of 1899; U P Act II of 1901; Sch II Part I Virt Rep. in Pt. Act XII of 1894, s. 2, Rep. as to Act XXIII of 1867, in British Baluchistan Reg. IV of 1901, S. 16; Rep as to Act XIX of 1881, Bur Act IV of 1902; Title, Preamble, Ss 1. 2 (2) and Sch. II Rep. in Pt. ss 2 (1), 3 and Sch. I Rep. Act I of 1903; Rep. as to Act XVIII of 1889, Act XVI of 1903; Rep. as to Act XVI of 1885, Act II of 1904; Rep. as to Act IV of 1872. s. 12 Pun. act II of 1905; Rep. as to Acts XIV of 1882 and V of 1888, Act V of 1908; Rep. as to Act III of 1877, act XVI of 1908; Declared in force in the Sonthal Parganas Reg III of 1872, s. 3, as amended by Reg III of 1899, s. 3).

Act XIII of 1891.

See Bankers Books Evidence Act.

Act XIV of 1891.

See Oude Courts Act, 1891.

Act XVIII of 1891.

See Bankers Book Evidence Act.

Act XVIII of 1891 (Bankers' Books Evidence).

Notes—(Am, Act I of 1893; Act XII of 1900; declared in force—in the Sonthal Parganas, Reg III of 1872, s. 3; as amended by Reg. III of 1899 s. 3; in Upper Burma (Except the Shan States), Act XIII of 1898 s. 4.)

Act XX of 1891.

See Punjab Municipal Act, 1891.

Act IV of 1892.

(Limitation Act and Civil Procedure Code Amendment).

Notes.—(Title, preamble, Rep. in Pt. ss. 2,3, 4 Rep. Act V of 1908; Title, preamble, Rep. in Pt. s. 1 Rep. Act IX of 1908: s. 5 is spent.)

Act VI of 1892.

See Civil Procedure Code Amendment Act, 1892.

Act IV of 1893.

(Partition).

See Partition act. 1893.

Notes—(Declared in force in Upper Burma (Except the Shan States). Act XIII of 1898, s.4)

Act I of 1894 (Land Acquisition).

Notes:—(Applied to the Calcutta Municipality with modifications Ben. act III of 1899 s. 557; Declared in force—in the Sonthal Parganas Reg. III of 1872 s. 3, as amended by Reg. III of 1899, s 3, in Upper Burma (Except the Shan States), Act XIII of 1898 s. 4.)

See Land Acquisition Act, 1894.

Act V of 1894.

(Civil Procedure Code Amendment.)

Notes—Rep act V of 1908.

Act-Contd.

See Civil Procedure Code Amendment Act, 1894

Act VIII of 1894 (Tariff).

Notes:—(AM. Act III of 1896; Act XIV of 1899 s. 8 B ins. by Act VIII of 1902 and continued in force by Act XI of 1904; supplemented, Act IX of 1903 ss. 2 to 7; s. 5 AM Act IX of 1903, S. 8, S. 8 (1) Am, Act XII of 1903 s 2; Sch III AM Act I of 1906; Sch III No I AM Act II of 1908 declared in force in the Sonthal Parganas Reg. III of 1899, s. 3.)

See Tariff Act, 1894.

Act I of 1895.

See Presidency Towns Small Cause Courts Act (1 of 1895).

Act VI of 1895.

See Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Acts Amendment Act.

Act XII of 1895 (Companies Memorandum of Association).

See Company—Meetings and Votings

Notes:—Declared in force in Upper Burma (except the Shan States), Act XIII of 1898, S. 4.

Act XV of 1895 (Crown Grants).

Notes:—Declared in force in Upper Burma (except the Shan States), Act XIII of 1898, S. 4.

See Crown Grants

Act I of 1896.

See Administrator General Act.

Act XI of 1896- (Amending Legal Practitioners Act)—

See (1) Legal Practitioners act.

(2) Mooktear.

(3) Act XVIII of 1879.

Act XII of 1896

See Excise Act. 1896.

Notes—S. I. (2) Rep. in pt. (As to Burma) Act XIII of 1898, s.18; rep. in pt. and Am in N W Frontier Province, reg. VII of 1901, s. 3; ss. 3 65 supplemented in Burma, Bur. Act III of 1901; ss. 3, 18, 21 Am; Act VII of 1906; declared in force in Upper Burma (except the Shan States), Act XIII of 1898, s. 4,

Act-Contd.

Act III of 1897.

(Epidemic Diseases)

Notes—[Rep. in pt. (as to Burma), Act XIII of 1898, s 18; declared in Force—in the Sonthal parganas, reg. III of 1872, s. 3. as amended by reg. III of 1899, s. 3. in Upper Burma (except the Shan States), Act XIII of 1898, s. 4.]

Act IX of 1897—(Provident Funds).

See Provident Funds Act.

Notes [Rep in pt. (as to Burma), act XIII of 1898, s. 18. S 4, Am; Act IV of 1903; declared in force in Upper Burma (except the Shana States Act XIII of 1898, s. 4.]

Act X of 1897 (General Clauses)

See General Clauses Act 1897.

Notes—Ss. 3, 20, 21, 24 Am; s. 2 and sch. rep. Act I of 1903; Declared in force—in the Sonthal parganas, reg. III of 1872, s. 3, as amended by reg. III of 1899, s. 3; in the Chittagong Hill tracts, reg. I of 1900, s, 4; in Upper Burma (except the Shan States). Act XIII of 1898, s.4.

Act VI of 1898 (Post-Office)

Notes—Rep in pt.(as to Burma).Act XIII of 1898, s. 18, s. 2, Am. Act II of 1903; Declared in force in the Sonthal parganas, reg. III of 1872, as amended by reg. III of 1899, s. 3; in the Chittagong Hill tracts, reg. I of 1900 s. 4; in Upper Burma (except the Shan States), Act XIII of 1898, s. 4.

Act X of 1898.

See Presidency Towns Insolvency Act.

Act II of 1899.

See Stamp Act.

Act VI of 1899.

See Contract—Alteration of Contracts-Alteration by Court.

Act IX of 1899

See Arbitration Act.

Notes—s 23 (as to Lower Burma) Am. Act VI of 1900 s. 47.

Act XI of 1899 (Court-fees Amendment)

Notes—[S. 2 virt. Am. Act X of 1901, s. 3 (2) Declared in Force in the Sonthal parganas, reg. III of 1872, s. 3, as amended by Reg. III of 1899, s. 3.

See Court-fees Act Amendment Act 1899,

Act-Concld.

Act XXII of 1899 (Coinage and Paper Curreney.

Notes—Rep. (as to Paper Currency Act), Act III of 1905; as to coinage Act. Act III of 1906.

Act XXV of 1899.

See Punjab Courts act,1884.

Act II of 1902 (Cantonment House Accommodation.)

Notes—S. 2 (1), 10 (1), 11 (D), 15 (1) 35 (1), 36 (2), (3), 37, 39 (2), (3), (4) Am: Act V of 1909.

Act IV of 1903.

See Provident Funds Act.

Act III of 1905 (Paper Currency)

Notes.—S 8 (3) Rep in Pt) Ss. 14, 15. Am Act 11 of 1909.

Act III of 1907.

See Provincial Insolvency Act.

Act V of 1908

See Civil Procedure Code

Act IX of 1908,

See Limitation Acts.

Act XVI of 1908.

See Registration Acts.

Act III of 1909.

See Presidency Insolvency Act

Act, Construction of.

See Statutes, Construction of.

Act done by husband in pursuance of common business, binding on wife.

See (1) Buddhist Law Husband and wife.

(2) Husband & wife.

(3) Hindu Law.

(4) Contract.

(5) Principal and agent. Authority of Agents.

Act done in official capacity.

See Subordinate Judge, Jurisdiction of Act done in the exercise of sovereign Powers.

See Damages—Suits for damages-Torts

Act of Bankruptcy

See Insolvency.

Act of foreign power

See Hindu Law—Endowment—Dismissal of Manager.

Act of God

See Carriers.

Act of insolvency

See Insolvency Act s. 9

1—Act of insolvency—Debtors—Composition deed—Assignment of all goods—Trustees—Fraudulent intent.

The execution by a trader of a deed purporting to be a general assignment of all his property to trustees for the benefit of his creditors in an act of insolvency.

Though a deed may not be fraudulent within the doctrines of Common law, it still may be fraudulent within the meaning of the Insolvency Act, and it is clear that the absence of pressure though relevant to the question of fraudulent preference, is not a necessary element of an act of insolvency consisting in an assignment of the whole of a trader's goods. Kursondas v Maganlal. 4 Bom L R 94.

2—S. 24—Insolvent—Transfer of property—Fraudulent intention.

A transfer of property made by a party in insolvent circumstances is absolutely void although there be no evidence of any fraudulent preference.

Where a person conveys all his property to trustees in favour of his creditors, his act is an act of insolvency and all his property vests at once in the Official Assignee, it not being necessary to prove that the assignment is void as being fraudulent. Kursondas Ramjee 4 Bom L R 154.

Act of insolvency-Contd.

Act of Parliament

See Statute.

Act of state

See (1) Grant—Resumption or Revocation of Grant.

(2) Hindu Law—Custom—Impartibility 29 Cal 828.

(3) Native states. 10 C W N 361.

(4) Parties—Parties to Suits-Government Right of Suit—Act done in exercise of Sovereign Powers.

(5) Secretary of State. 27 Bom 189.

1—Seizure of Raj of Tanjore—Jurisdiction of Municipal Courts—Independent States.

The transaction of Independent States between each other are governed by other laws than those which Municipal Courts administer. The seizure by the British Government, acting as a sovereign power, through its delegate, the East India Company, of the Raj of Tanjore, with the property belonging thereto, was, with its consequences, an act of State over which a Municipal Court has no jurisdiction. The East India Company v Kamachee Boye Sahiba 4 W R P C 4. S C Secretary of State for India v Kamachee Boye Sahiba 7 Moore's I A 476.

Notes:—Ref: 6 Bom L R 131.

2—Arrest under Beng Reg III of 1818—Jurisdiction of Municipal Courts.

A Mahomedan subject of the Crown was arrested in Calcutta, taken into the mofussil, and there detained in jail, under a warrant of the Governor-General in Council in the form prescribed by Reg, III of 1818. Held that such arrest and detainer were not acts of State, but matters cognizable by a Municipal Court. Ameer Khan. 6 B L R 392.

Act of state-Contd.

3—Resumption of Jagir by East India Company—Regulation law.

Where lands were held by a jagirdar under the sovereign of an independent State on a jaidad tenure, i.e., on a grant of land, together with the public revenues thereof, on the condition of keeping up a body of troops to be employed when called on in the service of the sovereign, and on the conquest of the State by the East India Company the jagirdar remained in the same position to the Company—Held, that the resumption of the lands by the Company, and the seizure of the arms and stores appertaining to the tenure, on the death of the jagirdar, was not an act of State, and therefore the Municipal Courts had jurisdiction to entertain a suit by the representatives of the jagirdar against the Government for the possession of the land and for the value of the arms and stores. This was so, although, at the time of the resumption, the Regulation law was not introduced into the territories in which the jagir was comprised. Forrester v Secretary of State 12 B L R 120: 18 W R 349, L R I A Sup. Vol 10.

4—Confiscation of territories of King of Delhi—Forfeiture.

The status of the King of Delhi was that of a King recognized by the British Government and the confiscation of his territories in 1857 was an act of State. and not an act done under color of any legal right of which a Municipal Court could take cognizance. His tenure of the territories assigned him by the Government was a tenure merely durante regno, and no power was conferred upon him of creating incumbrances which would survive his deposition. The word 'confiscation' does not necessarily import that the appropriation is to be made as a penulty for a crime, nor, when used in that sense, does it necessarily imply that the forfeiture has accrued upon the action but it may also be properly used as applicable to appropriations of property by Government as an act of State. Saligram v Secretary of State. 12 B L R 167: 18 W R 389 L R I A Sup vol 119.

Act of state - Contd.

5—Confiscation by Governor of Foreign State —Title to timber.

The plaintiff brought a suit at Tonghoo in British Burma to recover possession of certain timber which he alleged the defendants had wrongfully, and in collusion with the Burmese Governor of Ninghan, taken out of his possession in foreign territory and removed to Tonghoo. The defendants stated that they had acquired the timber from the Governor of Ninghan in terms of an agreement between them and the Burmese Government. It appeared that the Governor of Ninghan had confiscated the plaintiff's timber in contravention of a royal mandate. After the institution of the suit, the defendants removed the timber from Tonghoo to Rangoon. Held that, a British Municipal Court might enquire into the character of the act of the Governor of Ninghan, and was not bound to accept it as an act of State.

Bombay Burmah Trading Corporation v Mahomed Ali Sheragee. 10 B L R 345: 19 W R 123

6—Resumption by Government—Act of State —Jurisdiction of Civil Court.

By the treaty of the 31st July 1801 between the then Nawab of the Carnatic and the Governor in Council at Madras, the sovereign rights of the Nawab in the Carnatic were vested in the East India Company. Held that, a resumption by the Madras Government of a jagir granted by former Nawabs, as Altamghah inam. before the date of the treaty and a re-grant by Madras Government to another for a life estate only, was such an act of sovereign power by the East India Company as precluded the Supreme Court at Madras from taking cognizance of a suit by the heirs of the original grantee in respect of such resumption. East India Company v Syedally 7 Moore's I A 555.

Notes:——18 W R 339; 14 Mad 131; 7 M I A 476. Dist; 3 M H C R 59 Ref. 4 B H C R 1: 6 Bom 598; 8 Bom 548; 5 Bom L R 983; 6 Bom L R 131: 33 Cal 219 P C=10 C W N 361=3 C L J 395=8 Bom L R 129=3 A L J 250=16 M L J 115=1 M L T 115=33 I A 1.

Act of state - Contd.

7—Resumption of village granted by Peishwa of the Deccan.

A village having been granted in inam by the Peishwa of the Deccan was, after the death of the grantee, seized by the mamlutdar or farmer of the revenues for an alleged debt due to him, and retained until the treaty of Poona in 1818 when it came into the possession of the British Government. In a suit instituted by the representatives of the original grantee for possession of the village, and payment of the arrears of revenue so sequestered. it was held by the Judicial Committee, affirming the decree of the Provincial and Sudder Courts, that the original resumption was the wrongful act of an individual, and not an act of the State, the British Government were therefore ordered to restore the village, but pursuant to Bom Reg V of 1827, s 3, with only six year's arrears of revenue. Mills v Modee Pestonjee Khoorshidjee 2 Moores I A 37.

8.—Sequestration by British Government of private property of independent Sovereign—Jurisdiction of Municipal Court.

A sequestration by the officers of the British Government of the private property of the Angria of Kolaba, a native independent Soverign, though made contrary to the express orders of the Court of Directors originally given, would not be liable to question in a Municipal Court if subsequently ratified, but aliter where there is no such ratification. Zuleff Ali v Yeshvadabai Saheb. 9 B H C 314.

9.—Seizure by right of conquest—Jurisdiction of Municipal Court.

Where an estate is seized by the Crown in right of conquest, and not by virtue of any legal title, such seizure must be regarded as an act of State, and is not liable to be questioned in a Municipal Court. 7 Moore's J. A., 476 Followed.

Bhagwan Singh v Secretary of State for India in Council. 2 I A 38.

Notes:—Ref: 6 Bom L R 131.

Act of state-Contd.

10—The effect of resumption under Act XI of 1852 and Bombay Act VII of 1863 is to leave untouched the right to the land in the possession of the Inamdar.

Hari Sadashiv v Ajmudin
11 Bom. 235

Notes:—Ref: 6 Bom L R 131=29 Bom 480=7 Bom L R 497.

11—Begum Sumroo.—The judgment of the Chief Court holding the Begum Sumroo to be a soverign (No. 14 of 1867, Civil) reversed by the privy Council. Forester v. The Secretary of State for India in Council P R 1 of 1872.

12—Jurisdiction—Sovereignty.

The assumption by Government, upon taking possession of conquered or ceded territories, of a jagir granted by former Rulers, is in act of sovereign power over which no Municipal Court has jurisdiction.

And if, when taking possession of conquered or ceded territories, the Government so limits the act of conquest as to exempt the lands of a particular jagirdar from being brought under its administration, the effect of such exemption is to maintain the jagirdar in political relations to the state, and to prevent any act of the Government towards the jagirdar or his property, whether public or private, from being made the subject of enquiry in a Municipal Court.

Perfect independence is not a necessary attribute of sovereignty and the fact that a territory has been conquered makes no difference as regards the political independence of its Ruler if such independence is recognized by the Government. (P R 13 of 1867.)

This judgment of the Chief Court in what was termed the "Badsha-pore suit," was affirmed by the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, on the ground that the plaintiffs had failed to prove the title asserted by them: their Lordships differing from the Chief Court as to the first ground of defence, viz., that the Government took possession of the jagir in question as an act of State, propriety and validity of which were not cognizable by any Municipal Court.) Forester v. The Secretary of State for India in Council. P R 1 of 1872.

Act of state-Contd.

Act of State—Jurisdiction of British Courts to take cognizance of an act done by a Foreign State in the exercise of its Sovereign powers and not professing to be justified by Municipal Law.

See Jurisdiction.

13—Ferry rights—Jurisdiction.—Plaintiff purchased the ferry leases of the Chenab and Pulkhu rivers at Wazirabad for the years 1870-74, the leases entitling him to collect all tolls. He sued the defendant for damages, for that the Government in constructing that part of the Northern State Railway which crossed the Chenab and Pulkhu, had established their own ferry and by that means conveyed their material trucks and employes across those rivers.

Held, that the rights to establish a ferry and take tolls were State rights: but that plaintiff's suit was cognizable by a Municipal Court, as the Government had, by Regulation III of 1793 submitted, in regard to such a suit, to the jurisdiction of the Courts; and that the submission was not abrogated or taken away, as to the Punjab Courts, by the repeal of the Regulation by Act IV of 1872.

Held, upon the facts, that as the Railway Department had used the plaintiff's ferry as far as they possibly could, and had used their own ferry for carrying plant and materials which were too heavy for the plaintiff's boats or bridges, and for carrying men and materials to places in the river to which plaintiff's ferry did not go, a cause of action had not been made out. Sujan Singh v. The Secretary of State for India In Council.
P R 56 of 1876.

Act of State-Contd.

14-The property of a person resident in a place under the control of rebellious subjects treated by the Government as enemies, whether that person is attached to the rebel cause or not may be seized by the State as enemies' property.

A declaration by Government of its intention to restore, or an order issued by Government to the Executive Authorities to restore property seized in war, gives no legal title or right of suit to the former owner, nor does it confer any jurisdiction upon the Municipal Court.

By Regulation III of 1793 and Regulation II of 1803, Government subjects itself and its officers to the jurisdiction of the Civil Courts only in regard to the matters specified in those Regulations, and in no other matters ; and the jurisdiction thus conferred has not been extended by any subsequent Regulation, Act or Order.

The Secretary of State for India in Council v. Wagentrieber. P R 6 of 1867.

15—Jurisdiction of British Courts to re-open executive orders of Foreign States.

The defendants entered into a timber contract with the Bhawalpur State, the plaintiff being surety for its due performance. The Bhawalpur State cancelled the contract as it considered that there had been a breach on the part of the defendants and plaintiff was compelled to pay to the State the amount of advances made to the defendants, which had not been worked off. Plaintiff thereupon sued to recover from defendants the sum he had been compelled to pay as their surety to the Bhawalpur State. The defendants pleaded that there had been no breach of contract on their part with the Bhawalpur State, and that therefore, they were not liable, the plaintiff having wrongfully paid that State. The order rescinding the contract and compelling the plaintiff to pay was an executive one, passed by the Political Agent and Superintendent of Bhawalpur, and was an order which the plaintiff could not disobey.

Act of state-Contd.

Held, (Boulnois, J., dissenting) that the order of the Superintendent of Bhawalpur which found a breach of contract was conclusive between the parties, and could not be questioned by the British Courts, and that the plaintiff having under that order been compelled as surety to refund advances made to defendants was equitably entitled to recover.

Per Boulnois, J.—The Courts of one country have never done more than recognize judgments of the Courts of another country as, under some circumstances, conclusive, and no committee requires that executive orders should be treated as conclusive in regard to facts proper for establishment. Held, therefore, that the British Courts are bound to enquire into and decide the question whether or not there had been a breach of contract, the order of the Superintendent not being conclusive.

Held, further, that the defendants not having committed any breach, the plaintiff could not recover, the payment by him not having been rightfully made, notwithstanding that the order of the Superintendent of the Bhawalpur State was supposed by that officer to be right and by the plaintiff to be irresistible. Sujan Singh v. Hardyal Singh, P R 36 of 1877.

16.—Resumption of rent-free lands by the British Government in 1849—Jurisdiction of Civil Courts.

Plaintiff claimed possession of a rakh which had been granted by the Maharajah Runjeet Sing to plaintiff's father. The rakh was held rent-free for the purpose, chiefly, of supplying fodder to a contingent of cavalry which the owner was bound to supply for the service of the Government. Plaintiff alleged that the rakh upon the death of his father devolved by inheritance upon his brother who was killed at the battle of Ferozepore in arms against the British troops; that upon his brother's death his uncle, Raja Teja Sing, took possession of the rakh as his (plaintiff's) guardian, and that a grant of it was made by the British Government, after the conquest of the territory, to Teja Sing for his life. Teja Sing died in 1861, whereupon the property was resumed by the Government. Plaintiff sued for possession of the rakh as heir of his deceased brother

Act of state-Contd.

In March 1849, a proclamation was issued by the British Government, that "jaghirs and all the property of Sirdars or others who had been in arms against the British should be confiscated to the State," and two days later (31st March 1849) a Board of Administration was constituted, with special directions with respect to rent-free lands. Those directions stated "that by our "occupation of the country, after the whole Sikh "nation had been in arms against us, we have ac- "quired the absolute right of conquerors, and "would be justified in declaring every acre of "land liable to Government assessment. There "is no reason why we should maintain in per- "petuity an alienation of the Government revenues "which would not have been maintained by the "power we have succeeded. All grants were re- "sumed by the Sikh rulers at will, without re- "ference to the terms of the grant. On the "death of the grantor, they lapsed as a matter of "course. Every holder of rent-free land, who is "confirmed in his tenure by the Government, "must yield up every document in his possession "which entitled him to the exemption from "revenue, and a grant must be given to him under "the Board's seal, &c, declaring that the grant is "a free gift of the British Government."

Held (affirming the judgment of the Chief Court—See Punjab Record for 1875, Privy Council, p. 7, Note), that the Governor-General made as an Act of State, a tabula rasa of these rent-free tenures, and that the grant to Teja Sing was made in pursuance of the right of conquest referred to in the proclamation, and was an act of State not questionable by any Municipal Court. Plaintiff's suit dismissed. Sirdar Bhagwan Singh v The Secretary of State for India in Council. P R. 1 of 1875 Privy Council

17.—Of Municipal Courts—Question of succession to the Raj of a Foreign Sovereign State—

Act of State-Contd.

Suit ostensibly for obtaining a declaration in regard to rights to immoveable property within British territory belonging to a foreign sovereign—Tipperah Raj—

Per Curiam. The Court in British India have no jurisdiction to decide the question as to who is entitled to succeed to the Raj of a Foreign Sovereign State. Where a suit was brought ostensibly for a declaration in regard to rights to immoveable property within British territory belonging to a Foreign Sovereign but with the real object of setting aside the appointment by such Sovereign of his son as his immediate successor. Held—That the Court had no jurisdiction to go into the question of the validity of such appointment. When the question is one of succession to immoveable property on the demise of the owner, the fact that such owner is a Foreign Sovereign, does not deprive the Court of its jurisdiction to decide the question; nor in deciding such question, is the Court bound merely to register the decree of the Foreign Sovereign, however opposed it may be to the law of the land. Shamarendra Chandra Deb Barman v Birendra Kisore Deb Barman 12 C W N 777=8 C L J 1=35 Cal 777 S B.

18.—Act of War—Rebellion.

A Government may exercise the rights of war in suppressing a rebellion of its subjects, and the seizure of property in the exercise of those rights is an act of power in a matter of State over which no Municipal Court has jurisdiction. Every direct consequence of the seizure is excluded from forensic jurisdiction; and a Civil Court cannot declare as to property seized by the Government after a mortgage thereof, that the mortgagee's interests are not affected by the seizure. Salig Ram v The Secretary of State for India in Council. P R 7 of 1867.

19.—Jurisdiction of Civil Courts—Confiscation of timber filled in Native States.

Pliantiffs, British Indian subjects, residing in Simla, sued the Secretary of State for India for the value of timber purchased by them from the Rana of Ghond, and confiscated by order of the Superintendent, Simla Hill States, while it was within the limits of the Koti States, preparatory to being brought into Simla. Under the Punjab

Act of State-Contd.

Government Rules, the sanction of the State Forest Officer was necessary to the felling of the trees. and all trees, before being removed from the forest, were to be marked with the State sale hammer-mark, and any trees removed without such mark were liable to confiscation. The timber in question not having been so marked, held that the confiscation was the act of the Superintendent acting in his political capacity, in respect of a property of a Foreign State, and was done in foreign territory as such was not liable to be questioned in a Municipal Court in British India.

There cannot be an act of State by a sovereign against his own subjects. Such proposition, however, refers to an act directed towards the subject, and it does not refer to an act not directed towards the subject, but which indirectly implicates such subject. L J R P C (1899), 144 L R 19 Esq. 509, 6 Bom L R 131;7 M I A 537 Ref. Kembo v The Secretary of State for India 105 P R 1908.

20.-Seizure of property in time of war-Qualified or absolute restoration—Evidence.—

Plaintiff sued the Government for certain marble forming part of a tomb which was taken into the possession of Government by way of hostile seizure at the capture of Delhi in 1857,—the tomb being near the walls of the fort and within the space taken up after the occupation of Delhi by the British troops for the purpose of the defence of the fort. The tomb remained undisturbed, being respected as a tomb by the Government. In 1856, the Government sanctioned plaintiff's repairing the tomb, and in 1869 paid a purchaser from the plaintiff the value of certain marble then taken away; and it also appeared that the plaintiff had been permitted to burn a light in the tomb and take general charge of it. Upon these facts the plaintiff contended that though the original seizure in 1857 was beyond the province of forensic litigation, the plaintiff's rights in the tomb had been since restored to her by the Goveanment. Held, that though a slight amount of evidence is sufficient to show restoration of private rights in immoveable property seized in time of war, there was in this case an absence of evidence showing an intention to restore, and that accordingly plaintiff's suit was untenable.

Per Boulnois, J. -That the Government had

Act of State-Contd.

so acted in derogation of its absolute title, that the plaintiff, though not entitled to claim the possession or value of the materials, might restrain Government from disposing of them or diverting them from the purposes of the tomb. Mussammat Ikramal Nissa v Secretary of State for India in Council. P R 14 of 1872

21—Seizure of property in time of war—Restoration of property so seized—Public Agent—Scope of authority—Ratification—Act IX of 1859.—

Plaintiff, a Mahomedan, was with all the residents turned out of Delhi in September 1857 after the fall of the city. The place was held by military occupation until January 11th, 1858, when the management of the city was transferred to the Civil authorities. On the 27th September 1857, the Collector, Mr. Egerton, recorded a proceeding to the effect that by a general order the houses of the Mahomedans in the city of Delhi had been attached, and the Kotwal had been instructed to seal up each house. On the 26th January 1858, Mr. Egerton issued a proclamation to the effect that as by general order the houses and lands of the Mahomedans had been attached, and it was desired to release the property of those who were not concerned in the mutiny, Mahomedans might prove their loyalty within one month, failing which their houses and lands would be confiscated to Government. A list of persons who had joined the rebellion was prepared, and in this list the plaintiff's name appeared, with the entry that Rs. 50 was offered as a reward for his capture. In March 1858, plaintiff was taken by the police from Sonepat, where he was then residing, to Panipat, and there detained in custody until 3rd April 1858, when he was released by the Magistrate of Panipat and allowed to return to Sonepat on entering into a personal recognizance of Rs. 400. In May 1858 he was again arrested and sent to the Deputy Commissioner of Panipat, who forwarded him to Delhi with other prisoners. At Delhi he was tried by the Special Commission, who, on the 10th July 1858, ordered that he should be released on security of Rs. 100 for one year, or in default suffer imprisonment for that period. The scurity was given, and plaintiff was released. On the 17th July 1858, on the petition of plaintiff, Mr. Egerton, one of the Special Commissioners and Deputy Commissioner of Delhi, ordered plaintiff's name to be struck off the list of rebels. By the Queen's proclamation of 1st November 185 , there was promised to all, save those who had been or should thereafter be convicted of having taken part in the murder of British subjects or of having knowingly given asylum to such murderers or instigated revolt, unconditional pardon, on their return to their homes and peaceful pursuits.

Act of State-Contd.

In December 1858, plaintiff petitioned the Commissioner of Delhi for a restoration of his houses: the petition was sent to the Deputy Commissioner for report. A report was made, but no order passed on it. On the 29th December 1859, the Governor-General informed the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab of his (the Governor-General's) desire that the attachment upon the houses of the Mahomedans of Delhi should be removed. A copy of this letter (No 848) was sent by the Governor-General to the Commissioner of Delhi for information and guidance, and by the Commissioner to the Deputy Commissioner. On the 24th January 1860, the Deputy Commissioner was informed by the Kotwal that plaintiff was applying for the release of his property, with reference to the "general order of release". The Deputy Commissioner passed an order on the 9th March 1860, that plaintiff should be "informed through the Kotwal that he cannot take advantage of the general order of release, and that it cannot affect his property". On the 11th March 1860, plaintiff petitioned the Deputy Commissioner for a release of his property; on the 12th the Deputy Commissioner referred the matter to the Kotwal to inquire whether there were sufficient grounds for the release The Kotwal reported on March 22nd to the effect that there were sufficient grounds for release. On the 27th March, Mr. Plowden, Officiating Deputy Commissioner, passed an order that the plaintiff's "property be released: Kotwal to put him in possession and give him a ticket as usual". On the 28th April, the Kotwal reported that plaintiff was in possession. In March 1861 plaintiff petitioned the Punjab Government for permission to travel where he pleased in search of employment, and sent with his petition certificates, one of which signed by the Commissioner of Delhi, stated that plaintiff "had been cleared of all complicity in rebellion and all his property had been restored to him". The permission to travel was granted. In July 1861, Mr. Cooper, Deputy Commissioner of Delhi, reported to the Commissioner that Mr. Plowden had apparently released the property of the plaintiff without sufficient reasons. The Commissioner forwarded the papers to the Judicial Commissioner of the Punjab, who, in July 1861, replied that Mr. Plowden had no authority to release the property, and that "the release was void from the non-competency of the party who released". On this the plaintiff's property, by order dated 5th August 1861, was reattached, and he was ousted. Against this the plaintiff protested in a petition, which was sent up to the Local Government, but the Government declined to interfere with the order of the Judicial Commissioner. Again plaintiff petitioned, and the Government of India, in January 1869, "disallowed the claim" of the plaintiff. Plaintiff then memorialized the Secretary of State for India, who refused to interfere. Plaintiff thereupon sued the Secretary of State for India to recover possession and for mesne profits; and the following issues were fixed:—

Act of State-Contd.

1 Was the original act of seizure in 1857 an act of State, and has the Civil Court jurisdiction in regard to a complaint arising out of it?

2 What is the effect on the plaintiff's rights of the order of restoration dated 27th March 1860, and the effect of the counter order of the 5th August 1861, and the actual possession enjoyed by the plaintiff between these dates.

3 What is the effect on plaintiff's rights of Act IX of 1859?

4 What, if any, mesne profits are to be allowed?

Held Per Melvill, J.—That the plaintiff lost all title to the property in suit by the act of seizure of 1857, which was an act of State, and the subsequent refusals to restore it, and he could only acquire a fresh title by the voluntary action of the Government, performed with full knowledge of what it was doing. That the letter of the Governor General (No. 848) could have no higher force than the Queen's amnesty; that the latter had no retrospective effect, and therefore the former had no such effect; that Mr. Plowden had no authority to put his own construction on the letter No. 848, and release the plaintiff's property; for these reasons, that the letter was addressed to the Punjab Government, and not to the Deputy Commissioner; the fact that a copy of it was sent to the Commissioner did not confer on the local officers any power which they would not have had if no such copy had been sent; and the power of the local officers was not to release property at their pleasure, but to do so after reference to and in subordination to the Punjab Government. That Mr. Plowden's act was not ratified by the Government, the fact of the release being merely mentioned in correspondence, the object of which was to ascertain whether plaintiff should be allowed to travel at his pleasure, and the Government tacitly accepting the statement regarding the release of the property without full knowledge of all the circumstances; that the Government, as soon as it was aware of Mr. Plowden's unauthorized act, repudiated it. That Act IX of 1859 did not affect the case one way or the other; for the reasons that, with regard to plaintiff's case, first, plaintiff had not surrendered himself for trial, but had been involuntarily arrested at Sonepat; secondly, because he had not been acquitted by the Special Commission; and, thirdly, because Her Majesty's proclamation was not retrospective:—and with regard to defendant's case, that Section 20 of the Act did not bar the suit on the ground of limitation, as the Act referred only to attachments and seizures made before the passing of the Act. That for these reasons plaintiff's suit should be dismissed.

Act of State-Contd.

Per Boulnois, J.—That although the Government had, before plaintiff became repossessed of the property in March 1860, the matter entirely in their own hands to retain possession of plaintiff's property as well as every part of the captured city of Delhi, the fact that plaintiff became so re-possessed entitled him to put Government to the proof of their proprietary title; in 1861, when he was ousted, he was entitled to be maintained in possession until dispossessed in due course of law, and it was for the Government in this suit to show that they took back the property from the plaintiff in 1861 by reason of the strength of their own title. That Government could not rely upon the original seizure alone, but must show that the act of restoration to the plaintiff in March 1860 was unauthorized and inoperative. That the restoration of the property by Mr. Plowden was not without legal operation with regard to a third party, one of the public, for the reasons that the Government did not establish any official department for dealing with the immovables of the conquered city of Delhi: from the first the Deputy Commissioner, ex- officio exercised no little control over the questions relating to the immovables and the disposal of them; the general attachments of September 1857 and January 1858 were effected by the Deputy Commissioner; the order of the Governor-General (No. 848) to the Commissioner was sent by the latter to the Deputy Commissioner, who seemed as much authorized to carry it out as the Commissioner, there being no organized department to which it was issued, no instructions from the Government of the Punjab as to the mode of carrying out the intention of the Governor-General, and no system of application for sanction in cases of restoration of property. That if Mr. Plowden exceeded his authority, the Government tacitly consented to and acquiesced in his act, as it was not to be presumed that for the space of a year the Government remained ignorant of what was done, while the plaintiff had, to a certain extent, brought home to the Government actual notice of the restoration of the property when he applied for leave to travel. That plaintiff was therefore entitled to a decree, unless his suit was barred by Act IX of 1859; and that it was not so barred, for if the Act applied at all, the plaintiff had not been convicted of rebellion neither had he kept out of the way to evade justice: but that Act IX did not apply to the case, as the Act contemplated property actually remaining under seizure in the hands of Government, while the plaintiff, as soon as he recovered possession in 1860, was so placed that it would have been useless, if not impossible for him to have taken proceedings to have his title declared.

Act of State-Contd.

Per Lindsay, J.—That all property was not actually confiscated in 1857, but was appropriated for a time for various reasons and liable to be forfeited. That plaintiff's property was never formally adjudged to have been forfeited nor declared forfeited on conviction, and plaintiff was entitled to a restoration of his property as soon as he was released. That it was open to doubt whether Mr. Plowden had full authority to order the restoration of the property in 1860, but that under the circumstances Government could not equitably refuse to ratify that order, and in fact did ratify it with full knowledge of the facts.

Per Boulnois and Lindsay, JJ. — That the plaintiff was entitled to mesne profits for 6 years previous to date of institution of suit until he should obtain possession under the decree, the actual amount to be adjusted in execution of decree. Hakim Saad-ud-din v The Secretary of State for India in Council, P R 12 of 1874.

Act of State -Contd.

22—In cases of confiscation, limitation runs, not from the date on which the confiscation is sanctioned by the Government, but from the date of actual seizure. Deo Karan v. Mahomed Ali Shah. 3 N W 328.

See also cases under Limitation Act.

23—Special leave to appeal—Act of Governor General of India in Council acting in his political and sovereign character-Removal of Maharajah of Panna from his State—Act of state—Right of Appeal—Commission appointed to enquire into Maharajah of Panna's case.

The Act of the Governor-General of India in Council removing the Maharajah of Panna from the Government of the State of Panna was an Act of State done in the interest of the Panna, the inhabitants of Panna and for the peace and good Government of India generally. Leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council from such an order was refused. The commission which enquired into the charges against the Maharajah was one appointed by the Viceroy for information of his own mind, and was not in any sense a court, or if a court, not one from which an appeal lay to His Majesty in Council. Maharaja Madhava Singh, P C 8 C W N 841; 6 Bom L R 763; 1 A L J 691: 31 I A 239.

24—Test—Jurisdiction of Municipal Court—

The test whether an act is or is not an Act of State excluding the jurisdiction of the Courts, is not whether it is capable of being legally performed only by persons specially empowered in that behalf as authorized by the law to perform specific acts of Government, but whether it is an Act of State in those external relations, which Municipal or positive law addressed by political superiors to political inferiors does not profess to regulate. An Act of State in respect of which the jurisdiction of the Courts is barred must be an act which does not purport to be done under colour of a legal title at all, and which could neither assert or violate any right conferrable by law, but which must rest for its jurisdiction on considerations of external politics and interstate duties and rights. Per Jacob J.—The Resolution issued by the Government of Bombay libellously censuring a public officer for his delinquencies is not an Act of State and has therefore no absolute privilege. Jehangia v Secretary of State 6 Bom L R 132.

Act of State -Contd.

Notes:—5 Bom L R 30=27 Bom 189 confirmed.

25—Act of State.

A tribunal of Commissioners appointed by the Viceroy and Governor-General of India in Council for enquiring into, and reporting upon, the truth or otherwise of an imputation against the Ruler of a Native State is not a—No appeal lies from such a Court, if it were one, to the Privy Council, Maharaja Madhava Singh, 32 Cal 1 (P C).

Act of state—no appeal to the Privy Council against an—Privy Council Practice of—Special leave to appeal and to defend appeal, 6 Bom L R 763.

Act of State-Stay of execution-Secretary of State offering to give security whether an-Civ Pro Code, 1908 O XLI rr5, 6. 15 C W N 475: 13 C L J 365

26—Act of Sovereignty—Governor in Council—Members of Council—Liability to be sued in Municipal Courts for acts done in their public capacity—Sovereign—Public servants—Right to dismiss reduce or reprimand public servant—Action of libel against public servant for public acts.

The Governor and the Members of his Council are exempt from the jurisdiction of the High Court so far as their acts in public capacity are concerned. A fortiori no suit in respect of these acts can be maintained against the Secretary of State for India in Council. The Sovereign, his Ministers and those who represent him, have the right to employ and dismiss public servants at pleasure on public grounds. This power, however, is limited by any statutory provision that may have been enacted for the benefit of such public servants; and it has no application to such of the servants of Government as are not charged with functions which are in themselves the acts or attributes of sovereignty. Where a person fills an employment which can only be given to him by the Sovereign or the Agents of the Sovereign and which would not be given to him by any private individuals, he is liable to be dismissed at the pleasure of the Crown or Agents of the Crown. The power to dismiss a public servant includes power to reduce him, or to censure and reprimand him. A charge of libel against a public officer must fail if it is contained in a document which is privileged. because that document cannot be produced and so is incapable of being produced in a Court. (Confirmed 6 Bom L R 131) Jehangir v Secretary of State 5 Bom L R 30=27 Bom 189.

Act of State-Concld.

Act Repeal of.

See (1) Bombay Act III of 1901 S. 2 (1)

Actionable claim.

See (1) Transfer of Property Act s 130, 135 137
(2) Jurisdiction of Civil Courts
(3) C P C (1908) S 9
(4) Assignment
(5) Contract

1—Actionable claim—Benefit of an executory contract of an actionable claim—Insolvency Act S. 7:—The benefit of an executory contract is an actionable claim within the meaning of S. 3 of the Transfer of Property Act. It is such property as would vest in the Official Assignee under S 7 of the Indian Insolvent Act. Jaffer Meher Ali v The Budge Budge Jute Mills Co. 11 C W N 566=34 Cal 289

Actionable claim—T P Act Ss 3 and 8—Attached to the earth. Standing crops pass with mortgaged property. Transfer of P. Act—See 15 C P L R 141.

2.—T P Act S. 130—Actionable Claim, meaning of. S. 8 cl. 5—"Debt"—Set off—Mortgagee—Principal and surety-Estoppel by conduct:—

A claim is not actionable within the meaning of S. 130 of act IV of 1882 (before the amendment by Act VI of 1903) unless it is a claim in respect of a cause of action which has already matured, and which subject to procedure may be enforced by suit. 25 Mad 610; Ref; 18 All 265. Appr. 27 Beav. 349; 28 Beav. 341 I P C 50. 39 Ch D 636; 42 Ch D 610 Ref. Arunachellam Chetti v Subramania Chetti, 17 M L J 87=30 Mad 235.

Actionable claim-Contd.

3—Purchase of property to which adverse claims exist, legality of—Purchase merely for litigation illegal.—Plaintiffs alleged that one T, with the authority of her late husband adopted S, the first defendant in the suit, that they purchased from S, the plaint villages, which S had inherited fom his adoptive father, and that they were resisited by other defendants in obtaining possession of the villages. The defendants, other than S, pleaded that the plaint sale-deed was a champertous transaction, that no consideration passed for it and that the agreement itself was void, its object being to disturb the peace of the defendants' family and to promote gambling in litigattion. Preliminary issues were framed as to whether the sale-deed represented a real and bona fide transaction, and whether the transaction evidenced by the sale-deed was of a champertous nature and, as such, opposed to public policy. On the evidence, the District judge found that the purchase was speculative, that no considersation passed to S, and that the transaction was entered into mainly with a view to harass the defendant and, in the view that the entire transaction was a speculation in litigation rather than a bona fide purchase of an actionable claim, he dismissed the suit. Held, on appeal, reversing the decision —even if the recital in the sale—deed as to the consideration is a false recital and the transaction is one of a highly speculative character, it does not necessarily follow that the agreement would be an offence against the law of champerty or that its objects could be regarded as immoral or opposed to public policy. The question in such cases is whether the real object of the transaction has been to acquire an interest in property for the purchaser or merely to speculate in litigation on the account either of the vendor and purchaser jointly or of the purchaser alone. It is not unlawful to purchase an interest in property though adverse claims exist which make litigation necessary for realizing the interest, but it is unlawful to purchase an interest merely for the purpose of litigation. In other words, the sale of an interest, to which a right to sue is incident is good, but the sale of a mere right to sue is bad for champerty The object of the law is not so much to prevent the purchase or assignment of a matter then in litigation as the purchase or assignment of a matter in litigation for the purpose of maintaining the action. 8 M 1 A 170 14 Bom 72, 18 Mad 374, 22 Mad 310, 27 All 271, Ref Deorao Gopalji Kunbi v Sadashed, 2 N L R 17.

Actionable claim-Concld.

4—House trespass and adultery—Damages—Attempt to commit adultery.

Where a suit for damages for house trespass and adultery was dismissed on the ground that though the motive of the trespass was adultery, yet adultery had not actually been committed. Held, that the plaintiff was entitled to damages for house trespass and that the intention to commit adultery should be taken into consideration in assessing the damages. Semble, that a mere attempt to commit adultery is not actionable wrong apart from the house trespass.

Kathappudayan v Muthappudayan. 10 M L J 230.

Actionable claim—Sale of a share in a law-Suit—Sale of a doubtful right—Right of pre-emption. U P Act XVII of 1876 ss. 212, 220.

9 O C 76 B.

Actionable claim—Whether an executory contract comes within the definition of an-within the meaning of s. 3 of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882. 10 C W N 755=33 Cal 702.

Actionable wrong.

See Cases under:—

(1) Tort.
(2) Damages
(3) Defamation.
(4) Malicious Prosecution.
(5) Nuisance.
(6) Cause of action.
(7) C. P. C. O. 22.
(8) C. P. C. (1882) s. 483,
(9) Compensation.

Action Cause of.

See Cause of action.

Action for damages.

See Damages.

Action for deceit.

See Cases under Fraud.

Action for recission of a contract

See Contract Act S. 71.

Action for slander

See (1) Slander.

(2) Damages—Suit for damages—Tort.

Action form of.

See Cases under.

(1) Plaint.
(2) Pleadings.
(3) Practice.

Action framed in Tort.

See (1) Onus of proof.

(2) Damages—Suit for damages Tort

Action in Rem.

See Admiralty or vice—Admiralty—Jurisdiction.

1—Action in Rem—Owner impleaded indirectly—Contract of Towage—Vice—Admiralty.

M S a steam tug was hired for towing a barque N down the Hughli, and on account of the negligence of the master of the tug and wilful disobedience to the order of the pilot on board the N, whilst so employed, the latter ran foul of a sailing vessel, the S. F. Both the sailing vessels were considerably damaged. The S. F. took proceedings against the N for the damage sustained and an action in rem was brought (pending the action taken by the S. F.) by the N against M S to recover damages, inclusive of the amount of damages that the N might have to pay to the owners of the S F. The defence set up was protection under its towage contract. It was to the effect that the proprietors of the tug were not responsible under any circumstances for any loss or damage to any vessel whilst in tow of the tug, whether it should happen on account of the default of master or sailors or through the incompetence or want of skill of the pilot in charge. The Original court held that the accident befell through the disobedience of the master and such action amounted to "default" within the meaning of the clause in the towage contract: but inasmuch as the action was one in rem and not against the proprietors, the clause was no answer to the suit. Held on appeal, that the clause was a sufficient answer for that, although in every case of a proceeding in rem the suit is directly against the ship itself, still the owner of the ship must always be considered as indirectly impleaded.

Action in Rem-Concld.

The "Mary Stuart" v The "Nevada" 10 Calc, 866.

Action of Public Servant ultra vires not binding on Government

See (1) Principal and Agent.

—Liability of Principal.

(3) Right of Suit—Acts done in exercise of sovereign powers.

(4) Government officers.

Action of Salvage

See Salvage.

Action on Contract

See Appellate Court-Exercise of powers in various cases.

Actio personalis moriter cumpersona

See (1) Tort.

(2) C. P. C. O 22.

(3) Damages.

(4) Cause of action.

(5) Malicious prosecution.

(6) Defamation.

(7) C. P. C. (1908) O. 35 r. 5

(8) Act XIII of 1855

1—Definition of.

To be regarded, in law, as the act of God, the occurrence must be overwhelming and not only unforeseen, but incapable of being foreseen and absolutely incapable of being prevented or guarded against. Vithaldas v Municipal Commissioner of Bombay, 4 Bom L R 914

2—Appeal by defendant after satisfaction of decree—Death of defendant—Son brought on record—Abatement of appeal.

Plaintiff sued to recover damages on account of a libel : and obtained a decree for damages against defendant. Defendant paid the amount of the decree and filed an appeal in the High Court, after which he died : his son was then brought on the record as his heir and legal representative. To this it was objected that at defendant's death the appeal abated and his son had no right to continue the same: Held by Fulton and Crowe JJ (Candy. J., dissenting) that the appeal did not abate. Gopal v Ramchandra, 4 Bom L R 325=26 Bom 597.

Actio personalis moriter cumpersona-Concld.

Notes:—Fol. 26 Mad 495.

3—Action on tort in the nature of actio personalis not available against the heir—Guardians and Wards Act (XIII of 1890)—Findings of fact.

Plaintiff sued the defendant for his tortious conduct in illegally depriving the plaintiff of the custody of his children. During the pendency of the suit defendant died ; and his widow was brought on the record as his heir : Held, that the claim was in the nature of an actio personalis, and that, therefore, the cause of action did not, at the death of defendant, survive as against his widow. It is open to a father to institute a regular suit for recovering the custoy of his children. The Guardians and Wards Act, 1890, nowhere lays down that his only remedy is an application under the Act. Sharifa v Munekhan Dost 3 Bom L R 167=25 Bom 574.

Notes:—Dist: A W N 1904, 135: 26 All 594.

Active Prosecution of a contentious suit.

See T. P. A. S. 52.

Actor sequitur Forum Rei

See " Foreign Judgment.

Acts

See cases under:—

(1) Bengal Acts.

(2) Bombay Acts.

(3) Madras Acts.

(4) Punjab Acts.

(5) U P Acts.

(6) Oudh Acts.

(7) C P Acts.

(8) Berar Laws.

(9) Burma Acts.

(10) Appeal (Acts).

(11) Act.

Acts amounting to waiver of covenant

See Waiver.

Acts and grant of certificate

See Certificate of Administration.

Acts done by the defendant in his official capacity

See Government officer.

Acts done in exercise of sovereign Powers

See (1) Act of State.
(2) Right of suit—Act done in exercise of Sovereign Powers.

Acts in Force in the Punjab.

1.—Acts of the Legislature, general in their terms and unrestricted as to their local application, are in force in the Punjab.—Twitchen (P R 23 of 1867, Civil). and Jabha v Mehtaba P R 67 of 1867.

Acts of a judicial officer protected, though done erroneously, illegally or not in good faith.

See Judicial officers, liability of.

Acts of bad faith committed by applicant for declaration of insolvency antecedently to his application.

See Insolvency—Insolvent debtors under C P Code.

Acts of mother and guardian how far binding on minor son

See guardian.

Acts of ownership

See Limitation Act-Adverse possession.

Acts of user necessary to establish adverse possession

See
(1) Possession—Adverse possession.
(2) Limitation Act Art 144.

Acts, Retrospective effect of

See Madras Act III of 1895 S 21.

Actual pecuniary damage, suit for

See Small Cause Court Moffusil—Jurisdiction—Damages.

Actual possession

See Mamlatdars, jurisdiction of Mamlatdars Courts Act.

Adat kacchi

See
(1) Principal and Agent.
(2) Custom of Trade.

Adat pakki

See (1) Principal & Agent.
(2) Custom of Trade.

Adding a defendant in a suit where leave to sue under cl 12 of the letters Patent 1865 was necessary

See Parties-Adding Parties to Suit, adding a defendant.

Adding of parties

See (1) Joinder of Parties
(2) Parties.
(3) C P C Ss:—26 32.

Adding parties as plaintiffs

See Parties—Adding Parties to Suit—plaintiffs.

Adding parties to suit

(Defendants)
See Parties.
(Appellants).
See Parties.
(Generally).
See Parties.
(Plaintiffs).
See Parties.
(Power of Revenue Court to add Parties)
See Parties.
(Respondents)
See parties

Additional Court-fees on claim for mesne profits.

See Valuation of Suit—suits.

Additional District Judge.

Power of District Judge to assign function of trying a case to additional District Judge—Case in excess of pecuniary limits of latter Court's jurisdiction.

See Punjab Courts Act 1884, Section 75.

Additional Evidence.

See Appellate Court—Evidence and additional evidence on appeal.

Additional Evidence in appeal.

See appellate court.

Additional rent.

See (1) Bengal Tenancy Act VIII of 1885 S. 52
(2) Enhancement of rent.

Addilional rent for excess-land.

See Enhancement of rent.

Additional Subordinate Judge.

See subordinate judge.

Additional Written statement.

See Written statement.

Addition of a defendant residing out of jurisdiction in a suit brought against other defendant under clause 12 of Letters patent 1865.

See Letters Patent.

Addition of a party in second appeal.

See Parties—Adding parties to suits

Addition of a respondent by the Appellate Court.

See Parties-Adding Parti s to Suits-Respondent

Addition of a witness's signature subsequent in execution of bond is a material alteration.

See bond.

Addition of fixtures.

See Landlord and tenant—Alteration of conditions of Tenancy.

Addition of parties.

See Parties—Adding parties to Suits.

Address

See Company.

Address sufficiency of

See Madras Municipal Act 1884 s. 43.

Ademption of Legacy

See Will

Aden

See Bombay Act (II of 1864) Ss. 8, 9

Aden Civil and Criminal Justice Act

See Bombay Act II of 1864.

Aden Court of Resident at

See (1) Letters Patent for Bombay, cl 13
(2) Transfer of civil case-Letters Patent
(3) High Courts Cl 13.

1—Civil Court of Resident at Aden—High Court—Transfer of case.

The Civil Court of Resident at Aden, as constituted by Bombay Act 11 of 1864, is subject to the suprintendence of the High Court of Bombay within the meaning of, 13 of the Letters Patent 1865 and the High Court of Bombay can, therefore remove a suit from the Court of the Resident and try and determine the same. Municipal Officer Aden v Haji Ismail. 8 Bom L R 4= 3 C L J 5=1 M L T 1=3 A L J 53= 10 C W N 185=16 M L J 73= 30 Bom 246 (P.C)

Aden Courts Act

1-2-Ss. 8 9-Resident at Aden—Statement of case to the High Court of Bombay—Presidency Small Cause Court Act XV of 1882 s. 69

Aden Courts Act-Contd.

A party requiring a case to be stated by the Resident at Aden to the High Court of Bombay under s. 8 of the Aden Courts Act 1864 should make an unconditional application to him before delivery of judgment. 15 Bom 276; 16 Bom 818 Appl.

S. 9 of the Aden Courts, Act 1864, give the Resident the same option either reserving his judgment or delivering it contigent on the opinion of the High Court as s. 69 of the Presidency Court of Small Causes Act 1882,gives to the Presidency Small Cause Court. Bhagvandas Dharamsi v A Besse Frenchman. 11 Bom L R 830

3——Ss. 8 15—Resident's Court at Aden—Suit for declaration and injunction—Claim valued for Court fee purposes at Rs. 130 —Court fee Act VII of 1870 ss. 7 sub s 4 cl. 'c' and 'd'—Suits Valuation Act VII of 1887 s. 8 Reference to the High Court by the Resident C. P. C. Act V of 1908 s. 115—High Court of Bombay—Revisionary powers.

The plaintiff sued for declaration and injunction with regard to certain property worth upwards of Rs. 50,000. The claim was valued at Rs 130 and the plaint was engrossed on a stamp paper of Rs. 10 under the provision of the Court fees Act s. 7 sub s. 4 cls. c and d. The first Court rejected the claim on the ground that the plaint was not properly stamped. The plaintiff appealed to the Court of the Political Resident at Aden and shortly after this, the plaintiff, applied, under s. 8 of the Aden Act II of 1864 for reference of the following questions in the appeal, for decision of the High Court of Bombay, namely. "Is the plaint sufficiently stamped, and was the order of the Court rejecting the plaint under s. 54 cl. (b) without making an order what the requisite stamp should be legal. The Resident, however dismissed the appeal under s. 551 of the Civil Procedure Code 1882.

Held that the Resident's Court was subordinate to the High Court of Bombay which had therefore the power of Revision under s 115 of the Code of 1908 with regard to questions that should be submitted by the Resident under s. 8 of the Aden Act 11 of 1864.

Held, further, that, as under s. 15 of the Aden Act, the Court of the Resident was to be guided by the spirit and principle of the laws and regulations in force in the Presidency of Bombay and administered in the Courts of that Presidency not established by Royal Charter and in the High Court in the exercise of its Jurisdiction as a Court of Appeal from these Courts, the provisions of the Suits Valuation Act s. 8 are "the law for the time being in force for the valuation of claims," as required in s. 8 of the Aden Act II of 1864.

Aden Courts Act-Concld.

Held also, that, assuming that the plaintiff's claim had been correctly valued under the Court Fees Act, as appeared to be the case on a consideration of the reported decisions of this High Court, her claim estimated according to the law for the time being in force would be Rs, 130 and was, therefore, a claim which did not fulfil the requirements of s. 8 of the Aden Act so as to give the plaintiff a right to demand the statement of the case upon any question of fact or law arising in her suit. Rahimbai Jamalbhoy v Mariam Abdul Rasool. 12 Bom L R 149= 34 Bom 267.

4—Aden Act s. 36—Suit for declaration—Declaration that the plaintiff is the eldest son of a deceased representative vatandar—Vatan-Civil Court—Jurisdiction.

A suit for a declaration that the plaintiff is the nearest heir of a deceased representative vatandar is maintainable in a Civil Court, although the declaration is sought for the purpose of establishing a fact, which will enable the plaintiff to have his name entered in the vatan register. Rahimkhan Hyder Khan v Dadamiya Hyder Khan. 11 Bom L R 1339=34 Bom 101= 4 Ind Cas 833.

See Aden Act

Adequacy of Consideration.

See (1) Consideration
(2) Contract Act s. 25.

Adhiras

See Specific Relief Act s 9

Adhlapi Tenure

See Specific Relief Act 1877 s. 42.

Adhyapakam office

See Jurisdiction of Civil Court—Offices right to.

Adhyapakam Office -Contd.

1—Practice—Adjournment of cases—Consent of parties—Court's duty.

Parties to a suit cannot obtain by consent an adjournment of a case as a matter of course. The Court does and will, in all proper cases, grant adjournment: but to regulate its own procedure is entirely the business of the Court. Madhowprasad Ramgopal v Ajudyaprasad Narandas. 13 Bom L R 161.

Adimayavana Tenure

See (1) Malabar law.

(2) Res judicata.

(3) Landlord and Tenant(Forfeiture)

(4) Land tenures

1—Adimayavana tenure—Landlord and tenant—Ejectment suit.

An Adimayavana tenure in Malabar is a permanent tenure and when lands are granted in that tenure for past services, they are not resumable. Quære:— Whether they can be resumed if granted for future services, on the nonperformance of such services, involving the necessity for having the tenants discharged by others. Theyyan Nair v. Zamorin of Calicut 27 Mad 202.

Notes:—Dist: 29 Mad 501=16 M L J 358= 1 M L J 290. Ref: 30 Mad 303.

For Cases under other Tenures See Land Tenures.

Ad-interim injunction

See cases under:—

(1) Injunction.

(2) C P C (1882).

Ad interim Protection

—Application for—Insolvency——Practice—and Procedure. 9 C W N 221.

Adjective Law

See (1) C. P. Code.

(2) Evidence

(3) Evidence Act

Adjournment

See Cases under:—

(1) Civil Procedure Code (1908), O 9 r. 5-13

Adjournment-Contd.

(2) Civil Procedure Code, (1908) O 27 r 6, & O. 21.

(3) Pensions Act s. 4

(4) Practice—Civil Cases—Adjournment.

(5) Witness— Civil Cases—Summoning and Attendance of Witnesses.

Adjournment—Application for

See Appearance

Adjournment—Costs of.

See Commission,

Adjournment for convenience of Counsel

See Practice—Civil Cases—Affidavits.

Adjournment for final disposal, Dismissal of suit after.

See Cases under Civil Procedure Code (1908) O 17 r. 3.

Adjournment of sale

See sale in Execution of Decree setting aside sale—Irregularity.

Adjournment of sale for compromise.

See Execution.

1—Adjournment—O. 16 r, 1—Right of a party to have summons issued—Right to an adjournment when summons prove abortive—Inherent power of Court to prevent abuse of its process under S. 151.

The right of a party to have summonses issued for securing the attendance of his witnesses, if applied for before the hearing, is absolute. But the Court has inherent power under S. 151 to prevent abuse of its process, and refuse to issue summonses, where it is convinced that a vexatious desire to obstruct the course of justice is the governing motive of the party applying for summonses.

Though to have summons issued, if applied for before the hearing, is an absolute right of a party, that right does not extend to his being entitled to an adjournment, if, for any reason which is an ordinary incident of the proceedings for service of process, the summons fails of its object. When the Court gives reasonable time for securing effective service and its advantage is lost owing to anything being left undone which could and should have been done the party guilty of such laches cannot ask that the trial be prolonged in order to escape from the consequences of his own laches. 13 C. P. L. R 152 and 9 Bom 308 Ref. 18 Mad 179 and 31

Adjournment-Contd.

Cal 111, Fol; 6 All 560 (574) and 16 Bom 29 Ref
Moti v Kanhya 5 N L R 181.

2—Adjournment—Application for, to summon witnesses—Conditions under which adjournment granted, failure of applicant to comply with:—

In a case under section 311, Civil Procedure Code, the 5th January 1901 was fixed for evidence. Some witnesses of the appellants did not attend the Court on that date and the hearing of the case was postponed to enable the appellants to summon them for the 2nd February. The care was not taken up till the 4th May, but no application to summon those witnesses had been made. The appellants applied for time to have those witnesses summoned and the Court granted the application but added that if in future the case were adjourned owing to the absence of the appellants' witnesses the cost of the adjournment would be borne by the appellants. On the 15th June summonses had been issued to the witnesses but they did not appear and the Court refused to adjourn the case again unless the appellants paid into Court the expenses of the decree-holder's witnesses and pleader's fee within a week. The amount was not paid and the Court, after recording the evidence of the decree-holder's witnesses on the 22nd June dismissed the appellants' application under section 311, Civil Procedure Code on the 24th June. Held, that the adjournments subsequent to the 4th May were conditional and as appellants failed to comply with the condition which were not unreasonable, the Court properly refused to again adjourn the case and disposed of it. Chandika Bakhsh v. Brij Bihari Lal, 6 O C 41.

3—Discretion:—

In an appeal before a District Judge, a respondent engaged two pleaders. On the day of hearing the pleader being ill had transferred his brief to the other pleader whom the Judge declined to hear as his name did not appear in the vakalatnama. The junior not being instructed to argue applied for a day's adjournment to get himself ready. This was refused and the appeal was decreed. Held—the Judge had erroneously exercised his discretion. He ought either to have allowed the pleader who appeared to argue the case, or allowed an adjournment making if necessary an order for costs in favour of the appellant. Hari Krishna Mahanti v. Bhusan Chandra Mahanti 7 C L J 426= 12 C W N 888=35 Cal 799

Adjournment-Contd.

4—Adjournment—Practice—Adjournment—Refusal of—Discretion of Court.

A defendant's summons had remained unserved for a long time. Many adjournments had been granted and the summons was returned after service only a day previous to the date of hearing plaintiff applied for a short adjourment to enable him to have his witnesses in attendance, and the Judge refused the application and dismissed the suit.

Held, under the circumstances that in rejecting the application the Judge did not exercise a wise direction and that his order dismissing the suit was unjust.

When a party has been misled by the former practice of the Court, it is the dutyof the Court to allow an adjournment, to correct the effect of the misapprehension. 28 Cal 37 Ref.
Khiomal Vaparimal v Yasanamal Sahijram 2 Sind L R 64.

5—Practice—Adjournment-Appeals preferred in analogous cases—One to Superior Court and another to an inferior court—Discretion.—

When appeals preferred in analogous cases are pending some in a inferior and others in a Superior Appellate Court, the Inferior Court of appeal would exercise a wise discretion to await the decision of the Superior Appellate Court.
Mohant Gobind Ramanuja Das v Lakhnu Parida 11 C W N 112.

6—Adjournment—of the suit, on, if imperative—Opportunity to adduce evidence—

The Court is competent, in granting an adjournment, to make an appropriate order for costs; the second paragraph of s. 156 of the Code gives the Court ample discretion as to the particular directions to be given in the matter of costs occasioned by the adjournment.

In the circumstances of this case, the Court might have adjourned the case to a subsequent date and made the hearing on that date conditional upon the payment of costs before that date. Such an order would have enabled the plaintiff or his legal adviser to comply with the order for costs. In the circumstances of this case sufficient opportunity was not given to the plaintiff to enable him to carry out order of the Court and to produce his evidence. Dhanu Ram Mahto v Murli Mahto. 11 C L J 150,

Adjournment-Contd.

7—Adjournment—Party misled by procedure of court—Witnesses not ready—

Where the defendant's failure to have all their witnesses in attendance was due to a belief induced in him by the previous procedure of the court in the case that there was no chance of all their witnesses who were present being examined on that day, and such belief was not unreasonable, the court would exercise a sound and wise discretion in granting an adjournment.

Surjamoni Dassee v Kali Kanta Das.
5 C W N 195=28 Cal 37.

8—Adjournment—Summons for production of documents—Documents not specified— Non-production—Application for adjournment for their production—Refusal—Property—Survey records—Public inspection—Right to obtain copies —Bombay Land Revenue Code, S. 213

Where an application for summons gave no specific description of the documents required but was virtually a request that the Court should require the officers in charge to search their records for papers relevant to plaintiff's suit, and where the papers were not produced in Court in response to such summons.:

Held, that an adjournment of the hearing for the purpose of producing such papers was rightly refused.

Survey records are open to public inspection and copies are available under S. 213 of the Land Revenue Code. Aludomal wd. Jhangimal. v Alu 5 S L R 49.

See also " Evidence,"

9—Adjournment of hearing-Process fees for summoning witnesses:-

Under the rule of this Court, no process-fee could be properly charged for serving summonses for witnesses a second time, in consequence of an adjournment made otherwise than at the instance of the party, and a suit cannot be dismissed, because, at such an adjourned date of hearing, plaintiff had not, as directed by the Court in the previous hearing, paid the process-fee for summoning witnesses and brought no witnesses. Sundar v Sambhal Singh.

Adjournment-Contd.

A W N 1886 220.

10—Witness failing to attend in obedience to summons—Acceptance of goods—Contract Act, ss. 113, 118—

Where a witness called by a party fails to attend in obedience to the summons, the Court is not bound to grant an adjournment of case for securing the presence of the witness and for taking his evidence. The word acceptance distinguished from the word receipt of goods—Contract Act, s. 118 (15 Cal 1 Ref.)

Devehand Khatoo v Birjee Coomaree.
2 L B R 91

Notes:—Ref. 5 L B R 25.

Adjournment—Reasons for, when to be recorded.

8 Ind Cas 990.

Adjournment—Pleader engaged transferring brief to another whose name not mentioned in vakalathnamah—Judge refusing to hear such pleader —Junior pleader not instructed to argue—Duty of Court to grant adjournment— Ben act X of 1859.

7 C L J 426=12 C W N 888=35 Cal 799.

Adjournment-Application for- by appellant's pleader on ground of absence of pleader Dismissal for default—Judgment not written—Validity of order— Appeal—Practice and Procedure.

26 Mad 267.

Adjournment—Right of a party to an adjournment when summons prove abortive— Civ Pro Code 1908 O XVI r 1, 5 N L R 181.

Adjournment–Concld.

Adjournment Practice-Costs-Power of Court to alter its order fixing the amount of costs of an—Costs—Special Cases, A W N 1902, 98.

Adjournment—of suit absence of plaintiff or his pleader on adjourned date-Dismissa l for default Resjudicata Cause of action 6 Ind Cas 233= 8 M L T 60=20M L J 535.

Adjournment—Suit adjourned for hearing -Necessity f for issuing fresh summons, to witnesses already summoned-Practice-Summons. 24 Mad 200.

Adjournment for attendance of witnesses.

See Witness--civil cases—summoning witnesses.

Adjournment of sale

See (1) sale in execution of decree-only of sale.

(2) sale for arrears of revenue

(3) sale for arrears of rent

Adjudication

See (1) Insolvency

(2) Insolvent act

Adjudication by Collector as to stamp duty chargeable

See Oudh Revenue act (XVI 1of1876) s 70

Adjudication of claim

See (1) C. P. C. s 2

(2) Decree

Adjudication of Insolvency

See (1) Insolvent act.

(2) Insolvency.

Adjudications

See Res-judicata.

Adjustment not certified

See Civil Pro. code O. 21. r. and O. 21, r. 2.

Adjustment of Account suit or decree.

See cases under.

(1) C. P. C. (1908) O. 23 r. 3.

(2) Accounts.

(3) Compromise.

(4) Decree,

(5) Execution of decrees.

(6) Cause of action.

(7) C. P. C. O. 21 rr. 1 & 2.

Adjustment of Decree—Money-decree against several defendants—Agreement discharging one of them-Part adjustment of decree—Certificate necessary—Civ. Pro. Code, 1908. O. XXI r. 2. 4 M L T 229.

Adjustment of decree—by another decree superseding it, effect of—Decree—Alteration or amendment of decree. 7 C W N 54.

Adjustment of Decree

1—CPC O. 21.r.2: The Second Schedule (1882) Ss. 258, 521, 525 and 526). Execution of decree-

Arbitration out of Court—Decree according to award—Adjustment not certified—Power of execution Court to enquire into the factum of adjustment.

The provisions of s. 258, Act XIV of 1882, were never intended to apply to a case where the parties agreed between themselves that their debts were to be privately adjusted before any decree came into existence.

Adjustment of decree-Concld.

Where disputes between a creditor and a debtor were settled by arbitration without the intervention of a Court, and the decree was obtained in the terms of the award under s. 526, act XIV of 1882, notwithstanding that the debtor's objection that, in pursuance of the award, he had already assigned debts te the creditor in part satisfaction of the aggregate amount awarded to the latter by the arbitrator, and upon the decree-holder subsequently applying for execution of his decree in full, the judgment-debtor repeated the same objection, held, that the assignment was not an adjustment of a decree in whole or in part within the meaning of a decree in whole or in part within the meaning of s. 258, and the execution Court was bound to consider that debts, if any, had been assigned, before directing. execution as claimed by the creditor.

Per Banerji J. [contra]—The alleged assignment of debt, if true, became an adjustment of the decree, as soon as the decree was made, and not having been certified in the manner provided by s. 258, could not be recognised by the Court executing the decree.

Gauri Singh v. Gajadhar Das. 6 A L J 403. =2 Ind Cas 608.

Adjustment of Decree barred by limitation.

See Civil Pro Code

o. 21. r. 1 and O. 21 r. 2.

Adjustment of Decree by stranger

See Civil Pro Code. O. 21. r. 1 and O. 21 r. 2.

Adjustment of Decree invalid

See Civil pro Code o. 21. r. 1. and o. 21 r. 2.

Adjustment of decree out of Court.

See C. P, Code.

O. 21. r. 1 and

o 21. r. 2.

Adjustment of partition Decree after attachment.

See C P C O. 21, r. 1. and O. 2I. r. 2.

Adjustment of suit.

See Compromise, Compromise of suits under C P Code.

Adjustment of Decree suit upon.

See C P C O. 21 r 1 and

O 21 r 2.

Adjustment of Decree without certificate of court.

See Civil Pro Code

O 21 r 1 & O 21 r 2..

Adjustment of Decrees more then three years old.

See appeal—Execution of decree Civil Pro Code O 21 r 1 & O 21 r 2.

Adjustment of Satisfaction of Decree.

See Civil Pro Code.

O 21 r I and O 21 r 2.

Administration.

See (1) Administration Bond.

(2) Administrator.

(3) Executor.

(4) Hindu Wills Act

(5) Probate

(6) Probate and Administration Act

(7) Succession Act

(8) Act V of 1881, S. 78.

(9) Evidence

(10) Evidence Act s 44

(11) Limitation act 5 7

Administration-Contd.

(12) Certificate of Administration

(13) Letters of Administration

Administration--Effect of

See (1) Company—Rights of shareholders

(2) Debt

Administration—Suit for

See (1) Hindu Law Presumption of Death.

(2) Hindu Law Reversioners Administration suit by.

(3) Letters Patent-High courts, 1815 cl 12

(4) Mahomedan Law. Debts.

(5) Security for Costs—Suits.

(6) Will—Renunciation by Executor.

Administration—Under act1 XX of 1841

See Superintendence of High Court Civil Procedure Code. S 622.

Administration

1.—Petition for administration summons—Plaint.—

A petition for an administration summons may be ordered to be taken as a plaint, and as the foundation of an administration suit.

Mackintosh v Wilkinson.
3 B. L. R. Ap. 3.

2.—Limitation—Persons whose claims are not barred can bring the suit.

In England, actions for the administration of the estates of deceased persons can only be instituted by persons whose claims to recover are not barred by any statue of limitation. The same principle applies in India.

Nandlal v Gopilal. (9 Bom L R 316.)

3.—Suit for share of estate of deceased—Recorder. p ower of.

Where one son of a deceased party sued in the Recorder's Court another son who had obtained a certificate under Act XXVII of 1860 for his share of the deceased's estate, it was held that the Recorder had no power to trans form the suit into a general administration suit.

Oh Ling Tee v Awkinifee.
10 W R 86

Administration-Contd

4.-Heirs at-law under Mahomedan Law opposing grant of probate—Right to bring administration suit pending probate proceedings—Probate and Administration Act (V of 1881). Section 34.

The plaintiffs as heirs-at-law had entered caveat in an application by the executor for the probate of an alleged will of the deceased. The application was set down as a contentious cause, and the executor appointed administrator pendente lite. As heirs under Mahomedan Law, the plaintiffs were entitled to two-thirds share in the property left by the deceased, even if the Will was not established. Held, that the plaintiffs were entitled to maintain a suit for administration by the Court against the administrator pendente lite, even though the probate proceedings have not been determined.

Kuratul Ain Bahadur v Broughton.
1 C W N 336.

5.—Suit by creditor—Misjoinder—Multifariousness—Practice.

The principle of the rules that creditor of a deceased person suing for administration is in the same situation with regard to all other persons as if he were bringing an action at law against the administrator, and that a debtor to the estate of a deceased person can only be made unswerable as such debtor by the representative of deceased's estate, is to be adhered to in this country, where there is a different procedure. Therefore, where, to a suit brought against the Administrator-General as administrator of the estate of one W B by a creditor of the deceased, other persons who also had a claim against the estate were made defendants, on the allegation that they had realized and were in possession of assets of the estate of the deceased-Held, that, there being nothing to show that such persons were in the position of an executor or administrator de son tort, or that they had been partners with the deceased, or that they could not be sued, if necessary, by the legal representative himself, and there being no other circumstances which would make it equitable that they should be sued jointly with the legal representative, they were wrongly made parties, and the suit ought to be dismissed as against them for misjoinder. Even assuming the facts were such that the plaintiff was entitled to sue them as legal representatives of the estate, he should not mix his own claim with that which the Administrator General might have against them. Dhunraj v Broughton. 15 B L R. 296.

Administration-Contd.

6.—Administration suit—Executor's acts of Maladministration—Different course of action.

Where the suit is one about the administration of the assets of a deceased person, and in the claim various acts by the executors of the estate are complained of as acts of maladministration and sought to be redressed, such acts do not constitute separate causes of action and such a suit is not bad for multifariousness.

Nistarini Dassi v Nundo Lall Bose. 26 Cal 891=3 C W N 670

Notes.—Affirm 30 Cal 369. Ap: 25 All 48; 5 C W N 559. Dist 31 Cal 233, 28 Mad 216. Ref (1904) W N 25; 11 C W N 489; 29 All 418; 24 All 242; 26 All 272, 27 Mad 157; 6 C L J 404

7.—Suit by one creditor on behalf of others—Legal personal representative—Suit by receiver.

Persons who are not the legal personal representatives of the testator, though interested in his estate, will not be allowed to sue persons possessed of assets belonging to the testator, unless it is clearly and satisfactorily proved that there exist assets which might be recorded and which would probably be lost to the estate if not recovered by such a suit. Such a suit may be upheld where the relation between the legal personal representative and the debtor to the estate presents a substantial impediment to the prosecution by the legal personal representative of a suit against the debtor, to recover the assets of the testator and where there is strong likelihood that such assets would be lost if such suit be not allowed. But where there is an administration suit pending, the proper course to follow is to obtain an order in the administration suit, directing either a suit to be brought in the name of the legal personal representative or to appoint a receiver for the purpose of suing and in this country the courts might have the power to give direction to the receiver to bring a suit in his own name

Oriental Bank Corporation v Gobinloll Seal. I. L. R. 10 Cal 713.

C. C. 29

Administration-Contd.

Notes—Ref: 25 Cal 642; 5 C L J 270. Ref 34 Cal 305.

8.—Frame of suit by. A creditor's remedy is not limited to an administration suit.

Narayanaswami Pillay v Esa Abbayi Sait 28 Mad 351

See also cases under

(1) Debtor and Creditor

(2) Banker and Customer

(3) Contract Act Ss 16 & 74

9—Taking of accounts in an administration suit—Rights of creditors to seek remedy in the suit—Decree by consent—Execution of the decree—Sum borrowed by executors to discharge testator's debts—Personal liability of executors—

To liquidate a debt owed by the testator, his executors borrowed a sum. The testator's daughter filed an administration suit in the High Court; and while this was pending, the creditors sued the executors, to recover the sum in the Small Causes Court. In the latter, an arrangement was come to that, on the claim being admitted, the plaintiff agreed to seek her remedy in the administration suit which was then pending: and accordingly a decree was passed by consent against the estate of the testator. The creditor notwithstanding applied for the execution of the decree against the testators estate, and got the same transferred to the High Court. Shortly after this, the creditor died leaving a will whereof one of the first named executors was the executor. The High Court suit was next decided and referred to the Commissioner for usual accounts. The creditor's executor then proceeded with the execution of her decree, got the first testator's property attached and advertised for sale. A Chambers summons was then obtained to stop the sale and raise the attachment.

Held, that the creditor was not entitled to proceed with the execution of decree: she could under the arrangement seek her remedy in the administration suit, since the executors had the right to stand in the place of the discharged creditor in the taking of the accounts, A claim for money lent to the executors can be enforced against them personally; a judgment therefore cannot lie directly against the assets, of the testator. L R 7 Ch 123 (1871) Fol.

Administration Contd.

Byramji Rustomji Mistri v Heerabai.
11 Bom L R 250=2 Ind Cas 161.

10. Injunction—Order on summons under Act VI of 1854.

The Court will restrain by injunction a creditor from proceeding in an administration suit, after an order has been made on a summons obtained by another creditor, under s 24 of Act VI of 1854, for the administration of the same estate. Lntcheemund Sett v Kamulmoney Dossee. 1 Ind, Jur N S 9

11.– Dividend in respect of debt against the estate—Proof of debt—Date from which amount of debt is to be estimated.

In the administration by the Court of the estate of a deceased, the dividend in respect of a debt against the estate is to be estimated on the amount of the debt at the date of the order for payment. and not at the date of proof,
Agra and Masterman's Bank v Robinson, Land Mortgage Bank of India 6 B L R Ap 140,

12—Decree in administration suit, effect of —Subsequent suit to set aside sale by executor,

A decree in an administration suit brought by the parties whose interest had been sold against the executor of their father's will, by whom the sale had been made, held to be no bar to the maintenance of a suit against the purchaser to have the sale set aside. Dhonendro Chunder Mookerjee v Mutty Lall Mookerjee 14 B L R 276= 23 W R, 6; L R, 2 I A 18

13—Supplemental suit–Debts due by appointed managers under the will of the testator–Limitation—One N had two sons A and B.

In a suit brought to administer N's estate it was declared that A and B were indebted to the estate. It was also declared in this suit that a certain sum of money should be set apart and paid into Court for the performance of certain religious ceremonies. A and B died leaving their debt unsatisfied. In a suit which was supplemental to the above suit, the descendants of the sons of N, including the descendants of A and B, claimed their share of the funds which were in hands of the court, and asked for a division of accumultation of interest also. Held, that notwithstanding that the debt due from A and B to the estate was barred, the descendants of A and B could not be allowed to share in the accumulation of interest in the hands of the court, if they do not first satisfy the debt due by their ancestors to the estate. Lokenath Mullick v Odoychurn Mullick. 7 Cal 644.

Administration–Contd.

14.—Liability of the share of one of next-of-kin for a debt due by him to the intestate—Debt barred at the date of the death of the intestate.

Semble that the rule followed by the Court of Equity in England, whereby, notwithstanding the provision of the Statutes of Limitation, the share of one of the next-of-kin in the estate of an intestate while in the hands of the administrator is liable for a debt due by the next-of-kin to the deceased, though barred at the date of the death of the latter, is to be applied in the Courts of British India. Dhanjibhai Bomanji Gugrat v Navazbai. 2 Bom 75.

Notes:—10 Bom L R 417; 53 Bom 122.

15.—Accounts—Liability of Executor.

Without intending to rule that, in all cases when an ordinary administration account has been directed, the value in money of a specific chattel shown to have been possessed by an executor, and not forthcoming, is to be charged against him.—Held that, notwithstanding the language of the decree, it was, in the undoubted circumstances of this case, within the competency of the master in taking the account, and, within the competency of the Court upon the report, to charge the executor for the value of certain property, it being impossible to doubt that the original executor had possessed himself of the property, and that the property so possessed was not forthcoming and accounted for. As to payments stated in the schedule and in the discharge, as made on account of just demands on the estate, it is competent to the executor to prove them as having been made on other dates than those stated in the schedule and discharge.
Aga Mahomed Rohim Sherazee v Ally Mahomed Shoostry. 4 W R P C 106.

16.—Administration suit when allowable in an administration suit after the passing of the preliminary decree.

A Court ought not to sanction a compromise which entirely ignores the claims of some of the defendants, the other parties arranging to take the property and relieving the executors from further accounting and also paying them a certain amount of money. Ajoy Kumari Debi v Manindra Nath Chatterjee. 32 Cal 561.

Administration-Contd.

17.—Civil Procedure Code Ss. 213, 276, 295—Effect of Administration decree—Injunction.

One R. L obtained a money decree against P. C. on the 22nd July 1886. P. C. died on the 5th November 1886. R L applied on the 18th December 1886, to attach certain properties belonging to the estate of his judgment-debtor, which were actually attached on the 8th and 12th January 1887. One S brought a suit to administer the estate of the deceased on the 21st December 1886 and obtained an administration decree on the 20th January 1887. In may 1887 S filed an application praying for an order to stay all proceedings taken by R. L. against the estate of P C, and to direct him if he liked to join and prove his claim in the administration suit:—Held, that the attachment did not create any interest in, or charge upon, the properties in favour of the attaching creditor as against other creditors, and order prayed for ought to be granted. Soobul Chunder Law v. Russick Lall Mitter. 15 Cal 202.

Notes.—Fol: 29 Cal 428 F B. Dist: 27 Cal 351; 26 Mad 673. Ref: 20 Mad 224; 16 Bom 91; 29 Bom 405=7 Bom L R 488.

18.—Succession Act (X of 1865), s. 202—Estate of intestate Native Christian—Suit for partition of estate by purchaser of widow's share before completion of administration—Dismissal of suit—Only remedy by way of administration suit.

A person to whom the Indian Succession Act, 1865, applied having died intestate in April 1884, his widow and son were in September of the same year granted letters of administration, which were cancelled for want of stamp duty, a fresh grant being made on 19th January 1885. Plaintiff, alleging that the said widow had executed a promissory note in her favour in September 1884, filed a suit against her on 6th January 1885, and, there being no appearance of the defendant, obtained an ex-parte decree. In execution of the decree so obtained, plaintiff attached portions of the estate of the deceased and brought them to sale, becoming herself the purchaser of the one-third share of the widow in each lot sold. In March 1885 the son was appointed sole administrator; in January 1888 he died, and the letters of administration were revoked in consequence, and the amin of the District Court was appointed administrator of the estate until October 1894, when the son's widow was so appointed in his stead. Plaintiff now sued for partition of the property comprised in the estate of the deceased in order that she might obtain delivery of the portions of it which she had purchased in execution of the decree against the widow previously obtained as aforesaid. The estate of the deceased had never been administered or distributed. The defence was that the said previous decree had been obtained by fraud:—Held that, under s. 44 of the Indian Evidence Act, the defendants were entitled to set up this defence; and that, the property of the deceased having become vested in his administrator under the Indian Succession Act, it remained so vested until the administrator had distributed the estate, and that, in consequence, the widow had no saleable interest in any part of the estate until in the course of the administration thereof her share had been determined and allotted to her. Until such allotment (which had not yet taken place) the only process by which plaintiff could legally claim the widow's interest in the estate was by a suit for the administration of the estate, to which suit the widow, if alive, would be a necessary party. If not alive, letters of administration to her estate would be necessary administrator being made a party. Held, also, that the suit could not be treated as an administration suit.

Administration-Contd.

Srirangammal v Santhammal. 23 Mad 216.

19.—Trust—Administration by court—Appointment of new trustee, if sanction of court necessary-Concurrent sanction of Court.

Where a suit has been instituted for the administration of a trust and a decree has been made, that attracts the jurisdiction of the court and the trustee cannot afterwards exercise the power given to him by the settlor to appoint new trustees without the concurrent sanction of the court, his power in such a case being merely one of nomination to be confirmed by the court on consideration of the fitness of the nominee to be a trustee. 54 L J N S Ch 527; 51 LT N S 90, 1885 dist. Amrita Bibee v Kanhai Lal Agarwalla 9 C W N 239=32 Cal 448.

Administration-Contd.

20-Contract Act Ss. 20, 142, 143—Mistake as to authority of the person guaranteed—Administration bond—Sureties, liability of-Mutual mistakes.

Where a person made false representations to the court and thereby obtained an order granting him letters of administraoion to the estate of a deceased person and induced two other persons to stand surety for him by means of similar misrepresentations and showing them a copy of the said order, whereupon they in ignorance of the true state of affairs executed an administration bond and letters were issued in his favour. Held, per Maclean. C. J. Mitra and Geidt, JJ., (Harrington and Stephen JJ., dissenting.) The case is not governed by S. 20 of the Indian Contract Act, which says that where both the parties to an agreement are under a mistake as to a matter of fact essential to the agreement, the agreement is void. The fact that A was not entitled to the letters is a fact not essential to the agreement between the court and the sureties. The Court simply said that it would not issue the letters of administration unless A and the sureties gave the bond. Held per Harrington and Stephen JJ.,-A mistake as to the authority of the person guaranteed is a mistake on a matter of fact essential to the agreement, because it directly affects the risk undertaken by the sureties. They guaranteed the due performance of the duties of an administrator by a person authorized for that purpose by the beneficiaries and not by a person not so authorized. They do not undertake the heavier risk in the latter case. The case, therefore, falls within the scope of S. 20 of the Contract Act. 17 W R (Eng) 139; 2 Q B 494 Expl. and Dist. Per Geidt J.—The mistakes which invalidate contracts of guarantee are specified in Ss. 142 and 143 of the Contract Act. A mistake induced by the principal debtor does not come within the sections.

Debendra Nath Dutt v The Administrator-General of Bengal; and Banku Behari Banerji v The Administrator-General of Bengal. 10 C W N 673=3 C L J 422=33 Cal 713.

Notes.—Fol: 12 C W N 481. Affirm: 35 Cal 955 P C=8 C L J 94=12 C W N 802=18 M L J 367.

21—C P C, O. I, r. 8—Parties, addition of—Administration suit—Practice.

Administration-Contd.

If a person, belonging to a body of persons on whose behalf the suit has been filed, claims to be added as a party, he must show that his interests will be seriously affected to his prejudice if he is not allowed to come in. He must show that the conduct of the suit is not in proper hands or that action is being taken by the parties, who purport to represent him, in some way which is prejudicial to his interests.

In an administration suit, it is extremely undesirable that individual creditors should be added as parties, unless they show some very strong reason that the person, who has filed the suit on their behalf, is not conducting it in the proper way. It is not enough that they should be willing to bear their own costs. There is considerable delay caused by a fresh party coming in, and the costs of other parties, consequently are increased.

Vasanji Tricamji & Co. V. Ismailbhai Shivji, 11 Bom L R 1054=34 Bom 420.

22—Administration—Administration bond—Administrator, fraud of —Sureties neither parties to nor cognisant of fraud—Misappropriation—Discovery of fraud—Cancellation and fresh grant of Letters of Administrator—Assignment of bond to new Administrator—Sureties, liability of.

A surety to an administration bond is liable under it even though it subsequently transpires that the Letters of Administration were obtained by fraud and are revoked on that ground.

Debendra Nath Dutt v The Administrator General of Bengal; 8 C L J 94=10 Bom L R 648=12 C W N 802=18 M L J 367=35 Cal 955=35 I A 109 (P C.)

23—Administration suit. High Court, jurisdiction of—Leases of land situate outside the jurisdiction.

Where the primary object of a suit is the administration of the estate of a deceased person resident within the ordinary original jurisdiction of the Calcutta High Court the principal executor being also resident there and the actual administration going on there, the High Court of Calcutta, in its ordinary jurisdiction has a right to order administration of the estate, and, as ancillary to such an order, to set aside deeds obtained by the fraud of the executor.

Administration -Contd.

The circumstances that a decree has been granted by the Court of the 24 Pargunnahs making a fraudulent award an order of Court will not protect that decree from the jurisdiction of the High Court at Calcutta when redressing that fraud.

For the due administration of the estate the High Court is entitled to set aside leases of land outside the territorial limits of their jurisdiction these leases having been made as incident of the same fraud. Benode Behari v. Srimati Nistarini, 7 Bom L R 887=33 Cal 180=9 C W N 961=2 C L J 189=32 I A 193=15 M L J 331.

Notes:—Ref: 11 C W N 489, 6 C L J 404.

24—Suit to recover a debt from the heir of a deceased person:—

Distinction between pointed out. 19 All 504 doubted. 4 Cal 402; S. C. 51 All 112 explained. 26 All 28 at 32.

25—Further directions— Advocate—General added as a party—Advocate General entitled to raise a point as to the validity of the gift—Accounts and enquiries—Beneficiary—Trustee.

K by his will dated 4th September 1864 declared a trust for the payment of a sum of Rs. 1,000 per month for the benefit of his daughter L and for the benefit of the children of L if she should die leaving children. The residuary estate was kept on trust the income of which was directed to be spent in some charities. K died on the 4th October 1864. In 1868, the Advocate General commenced a suit for the administration of the testator's estate. A decree for administration was passed on the 5th December 1873. L died on the 15th December 1869. In 1870, L's children and husband commenced a suit (370 of 1870) against the executors to recover the arrears of the monthly sum due at L's death, and to have a sum set apart to answer the monthly sum in future. On the 6th November 1871, a decree for general administration was passed. The Commissioner made his first report on the 31st March 1884, but it was in July 1889 that his final report was completed. In June 1902, the case came up before the Court for further directions; at this stage of the suit, the Advocate General was added as a party at the instance of the executors and with the assent of the other parties. The Advocate General then raised a contention that the gift to L's children was bad as transgressing the rule in the Tagore case and that the gift therefore lapsed into the residuary gift. The Divison Court held that the Advocate General was not at that stage, entitled to raise the point:

Held, that the Advocate General was entitled to raise his point even at the stage the proceedings in the administration suit (370 of 1870) had reached.

A beneficiary is generally taken as sufficiently represented by his trustees: but this does not hold where the contest lies between beneficiaries themselves. Advocate General of Bombay v. Karamally, 4 Bom L R 857.

26—Carriage of the suit—Suit by heirs of the deceased—Subsequent administration suit by a creditor—Conduct of the suit.

The heirs of a deceased person filed an administration suit with regard to his property. Subsequently, one of the creditors of the deceased filed another administration suit respecting the same estate. It appeared that the creditor's claim was just. The defendants, the heirs, contended that the creditor ought not to be allowed to obtain an administration decree and have the subsequent conduct of the proceedings:-

Held, that the plaintiff was entitled to an administration decree; but the carriage of the suit should be entrusted to the heirs of the deceased. Ahmed Abdulla v. Mahomed Shaikh, 10 Bom L R 1166.

27—Receiver—Discharge before final decree:-

No order can be made for the discharge of a receiver appointed in an administration suit and directing him to make over possession of the estate to the plaintiff before the completion of the administration decree. Bhugwan Das Sureka v. Heera Lal, 5 C W N 417.

28-29—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) sections 52, 55 Lispendens—Fraudulent transfer—Pleadings—Execution sale—Prior purchase of equity of redemption by mortgagee decree-holder—Estate under administration—Purchase from and rights of residuary legatee or heir.

Where the estate of a deceased person is under administration by the Court or out of

Administration-Contd.

Court, a purchaser from a residuary legatee or heir buys subject to any disposition which has been, or may be, made of the deceased's estate in due course of administration, the right of the residuary legatee or heir being only to share in the ultimate residue, which may remain for final distribution, after all the liabilities of the estate, including the expenses of administration, have been satisfied.

So, a purchaser at a sale, held in due course of administration, is entitled to priority over a purchaser at a sale in execution of a decree, held during the pendency of the administration-suit.

Chutterput Singh v. Maharaj Bahadoor Singh, 9 C W N 225 P C=32 Cal 198= 2 A L J 190.

Notes:—Fol: 11 C W N 889. Ref: 6 C L J 410; 34 Cal 999. Dist: 34 Cal 427; 4 C L J 495.

30-C P C, O 1. r. 10 (1)-Party-Addition and substitution of accounts, suit for—Bona fide mistake—Mistake of fact or in law—Administration, order for, when relates back—High Court's power of interference—Interlocutory order.

O. I. r. 10, sub r. (1) of the Code of Civil Procedure is applicable only to cases where it is established that the suit has been improperly instituted through a bona fide mistake, but such mistake may be one of fact or of law.

Three of the five heirs of the testator, viz. A, B and C, after the decision by the lower Court as to the invalidity of the will in a suit for construction of the will, and during the pendency of an appeal against that decision, instituted a suit against the representatives in interest of the executor and the other heirs for accounts. After the suit for construction of the will was withdrawn, owing to adverse decision of the question by a Full Bench, A and D, one of the shebaits under the will, after obtaining letters of administration, applied in the account suit that they be substituted or added as parties and that B and C might either be removed from the suit or transferred to the category of defendants.

Held, that A and D were to be added to and substituted for the parties, and they were entitled to maintain the suit.

Although an act done by a party, who afterwards becomes administrator, to the prejudice of the estate, is not made good by subsequent administration, yet if the act is for the benefit of the estate, the order relates back, so that by virtue of the appointment, the administrator is able to recover against such persons as have interfered with the estate, and thereby to prevent from being prejudiced and despoiled.

Administration-Contd.

It is within the powers of High Court to interfere with interlocutory orders, if the Court is satisfied that such interference is needed in the interests of justice. Charu Chunder Dutt v. Sarat Chunder Singh, 12 C L J 537.

31—Administration suit—Suit for account against administrator—Prayer for his removal—Jurisdiction—Ordinary Civil Court.

In an administration suit against an administrator for the purpose of compelling him to account for the assets of the estate of the deceased and to carry out the duties of his office, a prayer was joined for the removal of the administrator.

Held, that the suit was cognizable by the ordinary Civil Court, that the prayer for the removal of the administrator might be treated as surplusage, or it might form the basis for the grant of such relief as the appointment of a Receiver against the administrator, and that it was not a prayer for the revocation of the letters of administration.

Gajendra Nath Nandi v Ganendra Kumar Nandi. 7 Ind Cas 804.

32.—Hindu's estate—Estate belonging to a living Hindu—Civil Court—Competency to entertain the suit—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), S. 11.

An administration suit brought to administer the estate of a living Hindu debtor cannot be maintained in a Civil Court. (29 Bom 96= 6 Bom L R 853 Expl:) Gangaram Keval v. Nagindas Khushaldas. 10 Bom L R 519= 32 Bom 381.

33—C P C S. 52 (1882 S. 252) Cutchi Memons Administration of property—Hindu Law-Administration of deceased's property-Heirs-Unsecured creditors—Payment to same creditors—Executor de son tort.

The heirs of a deceased Hindu or Mahomedan are entitled to take possession of the property, to administer the property and to pay debts without being liable to account to the Court, otherwise than as heirs.

Administration-Contd.

The unsecured creditors of a deceased Hindu have no charge or lien on the inheritance. If payments are not made by the heir rateably, it does not follow that he has failed to apply the assets duly. Every payment on account of a debt is perfectly lawful, irrespective of its effect upon the other creditors. Haji Saboo v Ally Mahomed 6 Bom L R 1135 = 30 Bom 270.

34—Administration suit—Creditors—Costs of creditor—Party and party—Attorney and client.

In a creditor's action for administration the costs shall be as between party and party payable out of the estate when the estate is sufficient to pay the debts in full.

But in a proper case the difference of costs between attorney and client and between party and party may be ordered to be borne rateably by the whole body of creditors. Iswaradas v Chandik. 7 M L T 400 = 6 Ind Cas 267.

35—Mortgage suit—Administration suit—Residuary legatee mortgage by—Administration. subsequent, of testator's estate—Receiver, sale by, of mortgaged property before completion of administration.

Defendant mortgaged certain properties, which he took under the will of his father to the plaintiff. Plaintiff brought this suit on the mortgage and obtained a decree and an order for sale by the Registrar. In the meantime a suit for administration of the testator's property had been filed and an order made in that suit appointing a Receiver. Plaintiff now applied that the sale of the mortgaged properties might be held by the Receiver appointed in the administration suit instead of by the Registrar. The administration suit was still pending and administration of the testator's estate had not been completed.

Held—That the sale could not be held by the Receiver before the completion of the administration.

That till completion of administration it could not be said that the defendant was entitled to the mortgaged properties. Netai Chand Chuckerbutty v Ashntosh Chuckerbutty. 5 C W N 408.

Administration-Contd.

36—Will—Executor— Legatee—Suit—Administration suit.

The plaintiff, a legatee under a will, brought a suit, against the executors of the will, to recover the sum bequeathed to him by the testator. The Court of first instance awarded his claim. The lower appellate Court, was of opinion that the plaintiff should have brought an administration suit, making the other legatees under the will parties to it. The Court asked the plaintiff to amend the plaint and to add all the legatees as parties. This the plaintiff declined to do. at which the Court dismissed his suit as one not properly framed. On appeal to the High Court:

Held, that the lower appellate Court was in error in holding that the plaintiff was not entitled to sue the executors for the legacy bequeathed to him. Purshotam v Kala. 3 Bom L R 932 = 26 Bom 301.

Notes:—Ref 9 Bom L R 404.

37—Letters of administration—Mitakshara family—Widow, application by—Jurisdiction.

A Hindu widow governed by the Mitakshara law is entitled to obtain letters of administration that he left separate property; the Court cannot go into the question whether the property left was joint or separate. 3 C W N cl. XXVII foll.

Raghunath Misser v Musst Pate Koer. 6 C W N 345.

Notes:—Dist. 8 C W N 51; 31 Cal 133. Fol: 6 Bom L R 960; 28 Bom 644.

38—Administration suit—Reversionary heir under Hindu Law, right of, to institute suit:

A daughter of the deceased entitled to the estate after his widow under the Hindu Law is entitled to bring a suit for administration of the estate. 4 C L R 413 distinguished. Rojomoyee Dasee v Troylukho Mohiney Dassee. 29 Cal 260 = 6 C W N 267.

Notes:—Ref: 10 C L J 355 F B. Disap: 14 C W N 18 F B Fol: 3 C L J 224.

39—Administration of estate by Court—Position of creditors—Default on creditor's part—Creditor admitted so as not to disturb past dividends, position of—Equity:

Administration-Contd.

The general principle governing the position of creditors of an estate under administration by the court is that they will on due cause shown be let in at any time while the fund is in court even where the money has been apportioned amongst the creditors and transferred to the Accountant-General for payment to them. 11 Ves 602 (1085)1 Mad 529 (1816) and Mylne and Keen s p. 203 (1833) ref to. Where however, a creditor has been guilty of remissness in the ascertainment of his claim, his default shall not be allowed to operate so as to prejudice or inconvenience others more diligent than himself 8 Beav 243 (1845) ref to. The legal position of a creditor who for some reason or other has been excluded from a first dividend and subsequently gets his claim admitted to the schedule so as not to disturb past dividends, is that if further assets come in he is entitled to have a preferential dividend paid to him out of such assests before any further dividend is paid. 1 Atkyns 246 (1743) ref to Rose v Sreemutty Biddahurry Dassee 9 C W N 167.

40—Administration Bond.

An administration bond is not invalidated by reason of mutual mistake on the part of the Court and the surety, or misrepresentation by Court. 10 C W N 673=33 Cal 713, Fol· Sarat Chandra Roy Chowdhury v Rajoni Mohan Roy, 12 C W N 81.

41—Administration bond—Religious and Charitable Endowments—Administrator of trustee—Letters of Administration—Sureties.

Where Letters of administration were granted and the bond recited that it was the duty of the Administrator to transfer and deliver over the trust securities to a properly constituted trustee and the Administrator sold the securities and applied the proceeds to his own use, the securities of the Administrator are liable to make good the amount in an action brought against them by the regularly constituted trustees Seshachallam Chetty v Swami Chetty. 7 M L T 90= 5 Ind Cas 761.

42—Practice—Pleadings—Adoption—Administration—Suit for—Will, construction of Administration, prayer for, without asking for declaration with regard to an alleged adoption—Amendment-Adoption, preliminary trial of the question of.

Administration-Contd.

Suit for administration and construction of a will, under which plaintiff's interest was restricted in case a son was adopted to the testator. Plaint, inter alia stated that plaintiff was informed that in Jaisto 1297 the widow of the testator purported to take in adoption a son whose natural father was at the time and is now a Brahmo and had renounced the Hindu Religion. She submitted that such adoption was absolutely invalid and did not operate to pass any title to the adopted son There was, however no prayer asking for any declaration with regard thereto

Held, that upon the suit as at present constituted, the question of adoption was not in issue, and upon the pleadings the fact and validity of the adoption must be taken to be admitted.

That if a declaration with regard to the adoption is sought the plaint must dispute the fact or validity of the adoption and should contain a prayer for a declaration as to the fact or validity thereof.

The whole substance in the claim for administration being dependent on the adoption being out of the way, the questions raised in the suit cannot be gone into till the questions of adoption is determined once for all.

Ordered that on the plaint being amended, the issue as to the adoption to be tried as a preliminary issue between plaintiff and the adopted son Sri Kusumkumari Ray v Satya Ranjan 5 C W N 162.

43—Administration of assets—Accountability of administrator 'de bonis non' for predecessor's acts—

It is the duty of an executor when he comes of age to take the accounts of the administrator durante minoritate and the beneficiaries are entitled to call upon the executor to render an account not only for the period of his executorship but also for the period during which the estate was in charge of the administrator durante minoritate—When the administration determines by reason of the cessation of the minority of the executor, the administrator durante minoritate may be and ought to be called upon to account by the executor or other person who succeeds him in the administration, and it is the duty of the latter to get the whole of the estate of the testator into his possession, to call upon the personal representatives of his predecessor in office to render account of the estate and to recover damages, if necessary, for waste and misappropriation by his predecessor, and, if required, by the institution of appropriate judicial proceedings. If he fails to do so, he must be held liable to the extent to which the estate would have been benefited if he had faithfully performed his duty.

Administration-Contd.

(3 Atkyns 603; 1 Modern 175; 1 Cas Temp. Lee 15; 1 Strobh Eq (S. C.) 393; 3 Cranch C. C. 355; 22 Fed Cases 456; 66 Texas 704; 1 S W 803 160 Ill 203; 43 N E 385; 117 Ind 139; 19 N E 758; 115 N C 415; 20 S E 516; 103 Alacama 436, 16 Southern 25 Ref.) Baroda Prosad Banerjee v. Gajendra Nath Banerjee 9 C L J 383=13 C W N 557.

44—S. 34—Trustee-Power to refer a question for opinion of the Court-Appeal from the opinion—Executor cannot refer—Administration suit is the only remedy available to him. No appeal lies from an opinion expressed by the Court under S. 34 Trusts Act 1882.

An executor, who has not become a trustee by assenting to the legacies cannot claim the advantages provided for trustees by S. 34 of the Act. His remedy, if he fee's any doubt as to the manner in which he should administer the estate come to his hands, is to file an administration suit Trimbak Madhav Tilak v. Narayan Hari Lele 11 Bom L R 495=33 Bom 429=3 Ind Cas 164.

45—C P C O.23 r 3 (1882 S. 375)-Oral submission-Arbitration Act (IX of 1899)—Necessity for submission in writing—Award on oral submission—Validity—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) S 375—Adjustment of suit—Award on oral submission not an adjustment. The parties to an Administration suit, consented (at the hearing), to its being referred to the Commissioner, to take the usual accounts and to determine their respective shares.

Accounts and objections were filed before the Assistant Commissioner, and the parties appeared before him, when it was orally agreed, to save the costs of a lengthy inquiry, that the Assistant Commissioner should deal summarily with all matters in dispute and draft terms by which the parties were to be finally bound, and the Assistant Commissioner personally explained to defendants 1 and 6 that they would be bound by his decision even if he decided to give them one rupee. To this they agreed. The Assistant Commissioner, in due course, arrived at a decision, but defendants 1 and 6 considered that it awarded them an insufficient amount and declined to be bound by it. Upon application being made by plaintiff that an adjustment of the suit might be recorded under S. 375 of the Civil Procedure Code, on the basis of the Assistant Commissioner's decision.

Administration-Contd.

Held, that there had been no adjustment of the suit. There had been no written submission to arbitration as provided by S. 4 of the Indian Arbitration Act, and, consequently, there had been no legal and valid reference to arbitration, and the Assistant Commissioner's award [for it really was an award and nothing else] had no legal foundation, and could have no legal consequence. As there had been no reference to arbitration and no award, there had been no adjustment.

Semble, that the Indian Arbitration Act applies to such an arbitration.

Where a special procedure is provided for extraordinary extra-judicial methods of setting disputed claims, semble, that it was the intention of the Legislature, that that procedure and no other was to be followed. [20 Bom 304 and 26 Bom. 79, commented on and distinguished.]

Rukhanbai v. Adamji Shaik Rajbhai, 10 Bom L R 366=33 Bom 69 =1 Ind Cas 622.

46—Succession Act S.181,186,187,196-Will-Probate-Residuary legatee—Administration suit-Probate of the will.-The plaintiff instituted a suit for the construction of a will, and for a declaration that certain property was at the time of the death of the testator at his disposal and that the same has been validly disposed of by his will in favour of plaintiff and one Dharamshi in equal shares, and for administration. The Court below construed the will and decided in plaintiff's favour, but directed that the decree should not be drawn up until the plaintiff obtained the letters of administration with the will annexed. The plaintiff appealed. Held, that notwithstanding the terms of S. 181 of the Indian Succession

Administration-Contd.

Act, 1865, the plaintiff as residuary legatee could obtain a grant that would satisfy the requirements of S. 187 of the Act; and that until he had done so, he was not entitled to establish his claim in a Court of law.

Gordhandas v. Ramcooverbai
3 Bom L R. 874=26 Bom 267.

47—, Procedure when legacies are contested. With regard to particular legacies which may be contested, the usual course, in administration suits, is to deal with them when the case comes up for further directions on the report after the usual inquiries have been made as directed by the administration decree. Fanindra Kumar Mitter v. The Administrator-General of Bengal & ors. 6 C W N 321

48—Creditor—Taking out administration of debtor's estate—Effect—Extinguishment of debt—Whether doctrine applicable when one of two creditors takes out administration—Joint mortgages—Payment to one, effect of—Contract Act (IX of 1872) S. 45—Right of suit—other—mortgagee to sue administrator for his share of debt—Limitation Act (XV of 1877), S. 22—Transfer of pro forma—Defendant to category of plaintiff—Interest—Assets sufficient for re-payment of debt.

If a creditor takes out letters of administration to the estate of his debtor, although this alone may not operate as an extinguishment of the debt, if the debtor has assets which the creditor may retain to pay himself, it is an extinguishment, for possession of assets amount to payment. But this doctrine is not applicable where only one of two obligees is appointed one of several executors of the obligor. Payment to one of two joint—mortgagees, does not necessarily operate as a discharge of the debt in so far as the other mortgagee is concerned. (12 W R 926 Ref.) Consequently, the appointment of one of the mortgagees as administrator to the estate of the mortgagor does not extinguish the right of action of the other mortgagee in respect of his share of his mortgage—money. But the mortgagee other than the administrator must bring his suit to recover his share of the mortgage money, not against the heirs of the mortgagor, but against the administrator in whom the estate of the mortgagor is vested.

Administration-Contd.

Obiter:—The transfer of the name of a pro-forma defendant from the category of defendant to that of the plaintiff cannot rightly be treated as the addition of a new plaintiff within the meaning of S. 22 of the Limitation Act. 1877. (8 C L J 266, 17 Mad 12 Rel. on) No interest should be allowed upon the mortgage—debt from the date when sufficient assets became available to the administrator for re-payment of the mortgage—money. Husainara Begum v. Rahmanessa Begum. 8 Ind Cas 837. =13 C L J 3.

49—Will by Khoja Mahomedan—Suit for administration by Advocate-General—Suit for administration by the legatee—Case coming for further directions in the legatee's suit—Advocate-General added as party in the suit by consent—Validity of legacy, right to question—Estoppel—Stale claim—Testamentary capacity of a Khoja—Gift to a class—Will, Construction of—Burden of proof

In 1864, a Khoja Mahomedan merchant of Bombay died leaving a will and a codicil, by which he gave his property, to trustees, upon trust, to pay his daughter a monthly sum during her life, and, after her death, to pay it to her children. The residuary estates were charged in favour of certain charitable objects. In 1868, the Advocate-General brought a suit for the administration of the testator's estate. In 1869 the daughter died leaving, her surviving, three sons, the plaintiffs in the present suit, and a daughter. In 1870, her husband brought the present suit for the administration of the testator's estate and got a decree in his favour in 1871, even though the Advocate-General's suit was pending at that time. In 1873, the Advocate-General got a decree in his suit, which gave him liberty to join in taking the accounts and making the enquiries in the present suit. Meanwhile, the husband died and his sons were substituted as plaintiffs in this suit. In 1899, the Commissioner, appointed in this suit, made his final report, to which exceptions were filed. In 1902, when the case came before Tyabji, J., for further directions, the Advocate-General was, by consent of the parties, added as a co-defendant, to simplify and regularize the suit. Up till now, the validity of the gift to the daughter's children had not been questioned by the parties and the Commissioner's report, was based on the assumption that it was valid. At this stage, the Advocate-General contended that the gift to the daughter's children was bad as transgressing the rule laid down in the Tagore case, and claimed that the fund was applicable to the charitable purposes indicated in the residuary gift. The learned Judge decided that the Advocate-General was precluded, by the Commissioner's report from questioning at this stage the validity of the legacy. Held (reversing Tyabji J.) that the Advocate-General was not precluded even at this stage, from questioning the validity of the gift to the daughter's children, as there had been no definitive pronouncement in favour of the validity of the gift. Where the accounts, actually taken and completed in another suit, are adopted, the ordinary course is to allow the result of those accounts and enquiries to be questioned in the suit wherein they are adopted. The rule that a beneficiary is sufficiently represented by his trustee does not apply where the contest is between the beneficiaries themselves. A person is not barred by the staleness of his claim. At this stage, the case was urged as to the construction of the will, and further evidence was taken as to the age of one of the plaintiffs. Held, that the will of a Khoja Mahomedan of Bombay must be construed on the basis of the testator having the testamentary powers of a Hindu resident of Bombay, inasmuch as the civil rights of a khoja are determined by the law governing Hindus in this presidency. Held on the construction of the will, that such of the testator's daughter's children, as were in existence at the death of the testator, were entitled to the annuity after the daughter's death. The onus lies on the person who asserts that he was enventure sameri or was born at the time of the testator's death. Where, in a gift to a class, the vice is that the class includes those not in existence at the date of the testator's death, held, that such a defect is essentially distinct from an infringement of the law of remoteness. The Advocate-General v. Karm li Rahimbhai, 29 Bom 133.

Administration-Contd

Notes:—Ref: 32 Cal 992, 9 Bom L R 1117.

Administration—Suit for— See Hindu Law—Adoption, 5 C W N 162.

Administration—Mismanagement by administrator—Powers of Court—Administrator's liability to account—Effect of widow being administrator—See Hindu Law—Widow, 9 M LT 296.

Administration—Scheme for—Of a deceased testator's estate, when necessary—See Hindu Law—Will,

Administration—Obtaining probate of will constitutes part of the cause of action in a suit for—See Letters Patent High Court, Madras 1865 cl 12,

Administration—Claim for legacy— Ancillary claim for administration—See Limitation Act 1908 arts 120, 123,

Administration—See Parties to suits—

Administration Bond.

See (1) Administration. (40) 12 C W N 481

(2) Guardian and Wards Act, Ss., 34 35 36 37.

(3) Administration.

(4) Probate

1-Assignment of Bond-Succession Act, s. 257.

Upon a petition presented to the High court for the transfer of an administration bond under s. 257 of the Succession Act; on the allegation that the administratrix had refused to pay certain moneys due to the petitioners on a promissory note given to them by the deceased, and it being admitted that the estate of the deceased was capable of meeting the alleged claim.—Held, on a prima facie case having been made out, that under the circumstances it was competent for the High Court, on a petition being presented to it for the asstignment of an administration bond, to pass an order authorizing the transfer of it, and empowering the assignee to sue as a trustee for the benefit of the creditors. Saunders 6 N W 62.

2—s. 74-Contract Act-Exception] Held that the failure by an administrator to make a true inventory of the estate and exhibit the same to the Court on the fixed date (which he was bound to do under the bond) was a breach of the condition of the bond, which entitled the assignee of the bond to recover the damages he had sustained by such breach. But he was not entitled to recover the whole amount mentioned in the bond as recoverable in case of breach of the bond. The case not coming within the exception to s 74, Contract Act Lachman Das v. Chatter and Another. 10 All 29=7 W N 279.

Administration Bond-Concld.

Notes—Ref: 16 Mad 474.

3——In the case of the High Court, the practice is to take administration bonds in the name of the Chief Justice, and the proper person to assign such a bond under sec 257 of the Indian Succession Act is one of the officers of the High Court, e. g; the Registrar of the Original Side. sec. 257 of the Indian Succession Act is not confined to private individuals only and an administration bond may be assigned to the administrator-General. Debendra Nath Dutt v. The Administrator General of Bengal (F. B 10 C W N 673.

4—Administration — Administration bond—Administrator fraud of—Sureties neither parties to nor cognisant of fraud — Misappropriation—Discovery of fraud—Cancellation and fresh grant of Letters of Administrator-Assignment of bond to new Administrator—Sureties, liability of.

A surety to an administration bond is liable under it even though it subsequently transpires that the letters of Administration were obtained by fraud and are revoked on that ground.

Debendra Nath Dutt v. The Administrator General of Bengal 8 C L J 94=10 Bom L R 648=12 C W N 802=18 M L J 367=35 Cal 955=35 I A 109 (P. C.)

Administration Bond—under the Succession Act—Application to vacate—Legality—See Succession Act, 1865, S 256,

Administration Bond—Surety under an—See Surety—Discharge of Surety,

Administration Certificates Act

See (1) Certificate of Administration.

(2) Act X of 1851.

Administration de bonisnon.

See 1 Probate and Administration Act.

(2) Probate

(3) Letters of Administration.

Administration Decree.

See Administration suit for.

Administration of Part of claim.

See Variance between pleading and proof.

Administration of the estate of a Shiah Mahomedan under his will.

See Mahomedan Law-Will.

Administration Pendente lite.

See Probate-Revocation of grant.

Administration Letters of.

See Probate and Administration Act 1881.

Administration Reports.

This order prescribes dates for the submission of the Administration Reports and Periodical Statements. Civ. & Crim. Ord. No. 4, 24 W. R. Rules & Ors. of the H. C. P. 1.

Administration-Suit.

See (1) Civil Procedure Code (1908). O. 20 R. 13.

(2) Administration.

1—Creditor's action against deceased's estate to be treated as administration suit—Plaint to be amended accordingly——Failure to so amend—Form of decree in such case—Practice.

The mofussil Courts must bear in mind the necessity of treating a creditor's action against a deceased person's estate as an administration suit and insisting upon the amendment of the plaint in such a suit on that basis. Where the plaintiff is not willing to amend, the Court, if it finds the claim proved, should pass a decree simply giving him a declaration to that effect and declaration besides that he is entitled to its satisfaction according to law in due course of administration and not otherwise. It is the duty of the Court to see in such actions that one creditor is not enabled to gain advantage over other creditors by getting an unconditional decree for full payment and executing it against the deceased's estate to the prejudice of other creditors.

Administration Suit-Contd.

Bai Meherbai v. Maganchand, 6 Bom. L.R. 853=29Bom 96.

Notes:—Expl. 32 Bom 381=10 Bom L R 519: R. 31 Bom 73, 8 Bom L R 885, 11 Bom L R 250.

2—Practice—Contested legacies—With regard to particular legacies which may be contested, the usual course, in administration suits, is to deal with them when the case comes up for further directions on the report after the usual inquiries have been made as directed by the administration decree. Fanindra kumar Mitter v. the Administrator General of Bengal. 6 C. W. N. 321.

Administration-suit—Reference of, by consent, to the Commissioner to take usual accounts-
See 10 Bom. L. R. 366= 33 Bom. 69.

Administration-Suit — by judgment-creditor against executor of deceased Judgment-debtor scope of-Whether suit merely concerned with execution of decree.

12 C. W. N. 614 =35 Cal. 1100.

Administration-Suit—Addition of parties—
Practice— 11 Bom L R 1054=34 Bom 420

Administration-suit- 68 P R 1881.

Administration suit—By a legatee—A legatee under a will can sue the executors to recover the legacy bequeathed to him; he is under no obligation to bring an administration suit making the other legatees under the will parties to it—
See 3 om. L. R. 932=26 Bom. 301.

Adminisiration Suit-Concld.

Administration—Suit—See Compromise—
15 Bom 594.

Administration-Suit—
29 Cal. 260=6. C. W. N. 267

Administration with will annexed

See Succession Act.

Administrator.

See (1) Land Registration Act s 12.
(2) Lease.
(3) Letters of Administration.
(4) De-bonisnon.

Adminitrator, Right of-

(1) Declaratory Decree, Suit for—Declaration of title.
(2) Executor.
(3) Insolvency—Property acquired after vesting order.

Administrator--Mismanagement by administrator-Powers of Court-Administrator's liability to account—Effect of widow being administrator.
9 M LT 296.

1—Liability of administrator in distribution of assets—Actual knowledge.

Semble that an administrator who pays such debts as he knows of otherwise than equally and rateably as far as the assets of the deceased will extend, in accordance with the provisions of s. 282 of Act X of 1865, is personally liable for any loss occasioned to a creditor of the deceased by such improper distribution of the assets In order to charge such administrator, his knowledge must be actual as distinguished from a constructive or imputable knowledge. Asiatic Banking Corporation v Amador Viegas. 8 B. H C, O C, 20.

2—Decree against—Decree passed against one is binding on others.

The executors and administrators of the deceased person form a continuing representation of the deceased's estate and therefore a decree obtained and execution had against them must bind their successors in the absence of fraud or collusion. Bai Mehrbai v Maganchand. 6 Bom L R 853=29 Bom 96.

Administrator-Contd.

Notes.—Expl. 32 Bom 381=10 Bom L R 519 Ref: 31 Bom 73 ; 8 Bom L R 885: 11 Bom L R 250.

3—Joint family—Manager : powers of-Powers of manager when administrator.

A Karta of a joint Hindu family cannot ease the obligation of a personal bond on his co-parceners. The co-parceners, however, might become liable on the bond if the karta was acting as their account or if they subsequently acquiesced in it. 22 Mad 166=21 Bom 808 at p. 816 ref. w Obiter A karta of a joint Hindu family, who is also the administrator of the joint estate, cannot exercise powers as karta which he is directly prevented from exercising as administrator. 15 Bom 350 ref to.

Ranjit Singh v Amullaya Prosad. 9 C W N 923.

4—Liability of administrator for loss to estate—Compromise of claim by administrator—Subsequent suit by a creditor of estate to set aside the compromise and for damages for negligence of administrator—Succession Act (X of 1865); ss. 280 and 328—Administrator's liability for neglect to get in any part of the deceased's property.

One P mortgaged certain property to H for Rs 2,667. H sued P to recover the mortgage debt. Pending the suit, P died in 1878. Thereupon A, the son of P, took out letters of administration to the deceased's estate, and contested H's claim. H obtained a decree in the Court of first instance for the sale of the mortgaged property, and in execution of this decree the property was sold for Rs.810 and purchased by H. The decree was afterwards, viz. on 2nd August 1883, reversed, on appeal, by the Assistant Judge. Thereupon H entered into a compromise with A, by which it was arranged that A should give up his claim under the appellate decree of the Assistant Judge, to be repaid by H the sum of Rs 810 which he had realized by the sale of the mortgaged property, and that H should pay to A Rs 240 on account of his costs incurred in the suit and in taking out letters of administration. This compromise was effected on 16th November 1883. In the meantime on 14th September 1883, the plaintiff had purchased from one B an old decree which was outstanding against the estate of the deceased P. On 10th September 1883, the plaintiff sought to execute this decree against the mortgaged property. Having failed in this attempt, the plaintiff filed a suit against A for a declaration that the compromise of the 16th November 1883 had been fraudulently effected with the object of defeating his (the plaintiff's) claim and to recover Rs. 1,000 as damages from the defendant on account of his fraudulent and negligent conduct as administrator of his deceased father's estate. This suit was dismissed by both the lower Courts, on the ground that, as there were other creditors who had claims against the estate, the plaintiff's proper remedy was an administration suit, which would enable the Court to assess the claims of all the creditors: Held (reversing the lower Court's decree) that the plaintiff was entitled to recover. By the compromise of the 16th November 1883, the defendant had given up his right under the Appellate Court's decree of the 2nd August 1883 to be repaid by H the sum of Rs. 810, and had thereby occasioned a loss to the estate of that amount. He was, therefore, liable to the plaintiff to make good the amount under s. 328 of the Succession Act (X of 1865), subject, however, to a deduction, under s. 280 of that Act, of the expenses incurred by him in obtaining letters of administration, and the costs of any judicial proceeding that might be necessary for administering the estate.

Khusrubhai Nasarvanji v Hormajsha Phirozsha. 17 Bom 637.

Notes:-Ref. 6 Bom L R 853; 29 Bom 96.

5—Sale not described to be so but really by an administrator—Administrators who are also heirs—Title and right of purchaser—Certain heirs of a deceased lady, who were the administrators of her estate, limited to certain Government securities, sold those securities, by a written instrument, in which they did not describe themselves as administrators, to a bona fide purchaser:- Held, that in as much as they were entitled to sell either as heirs or administrators the omission to so describe themselves did not affect the sale: and though they could not sell more than their own shares as heirs, yet the entire purchase money having been received by them, they, as administrators were bound to administer the same as part of the assets of the estate, the question whether they did so or not, is not one which would affect the title of the purchaser. L R 23 Ch D 138, L R 7 H L 731 followed in principle.

Preonath Karar v Surja Coomar Goswami. 19 Cal 26

Administrator-Contd.

6—Administrator pendente lite, accounts of, when not objected to by parties and passed by Court, if may be re-opened in the absence of fraud or omission—Principle on which commission is charged, objection as to—Proper time for taking objection.

When accounts submitted by an administrator pendente lite have been passed by the Court in the presence of parties entitled to call on him to account, and such parties have had an opportunity of being heard, he cannot thereafter be called upon to account again to such parties or their representatives, unless fraud, or mistake, or omission on the part of such administrator pendente lite is proved in such accounts.

An administrator pendente lite discharges his duties of accountability when his accounts are complete, and honest, and do not contain false or fraudulent entries or omissions.

If the parties had any objection to the principle on which he charged his commission on the assets, they should have objected to it when the account was before the Court. Khitish Chandra Acharya Chowdhury v Osmond Beeby. 15 C. W. N. 832.

Administrator—appointed under S. 217, Succession Act—Position of creditor advancing money to such. See Act X of 1865, (Succession) (31). 12 O C 390.

7—Pendente life, position of, after suit-Interference—Executor de son tort—Applicability of principle to Hindus.

Where on the appointment of an administrator pendente lite in respect of the property of a Hindu, he continued to deal with the property in the same way as he did prior to the date when his appointment came to an end.

Held, that he could be sued as a quasi executor de son tort. Kshitesh Chandra Acharyya Chowdhury v Radhikha Mohun Roy. 3 M L T 147=12 W N 237=35 Cal 276

8—Act V of 1902 (Administrator-General and official Trustees S. 4 cl. 2- Discharge of Executor-Discharge as to further liability.

S. 4 cl. 2 of the Administrator General and Official Trustees Act of 1902, is intended to enable the Court to discharge an executor even on the executor's own application. The question, whether the Court will exercise that power must depend on the merits of each case. It is open to the Court, if it so pleases, to discharge the executor in regard to future liability in regard to his past transactions. As soon as an executor has discharged the debts of the testator and has paid the legacies and funeral and testamentary expenses and has invested any surplus that may have remained, he ceases to be an executor and becomes a trustee in the proper sence. Amarchand Madhowji 7 Bom L R 195=29 Bom 188.

9—Estoppel—Indian Trusts Act (II of 1882), Ss. 4, 5, 23—Cestui que trust concurring in a breach of trust—S made an entry in his account books in favour of his wife V to show that he had made a bakshis (gift) of Rs. 75,000 to her on account of his joy at her recovery from an illness. S informed all his sons and daughters of the fact when he made the entry. The amount was entered into account books as a debt due to V. S died intestate and some of his sons took out letters of administration of his estate and, with the consent of all sons and daughters, they paid Rs. 75,000 to their mother V. After seven years, M, a son of S, brought a suit against the administrators, questioning the validity of the payment, on the ground that it had been made without his knowledge, and claimed that the administrators be ordered to make good the amount to the estate of S.

The administrators (defendants) contended that the amount was given as gift to V or that a trust was created in V's favour, and that they had paid the amount to V with the consent of all parties in administering the estate.

The lower Court held that neither a valid gift was made nor a valid trust was created; that the administrators were guilty of a breach of trust; and that the amount should be made good to the estate of S.

Held, on appeal, reversing the decree of the lower Court, that, as M had consented to the payment of the amount to V by the administrators, he was estopped by his conduct and could not question the validity of the payment.

Per Chandavarkar, J—If the next of kin of an intestate, with full knowledge of the facts but under a mistake as to their legal rights, authorise his administrator to pay a certain amount to a third person who is not in law entitled to it, and the administrator pays accordingly, he cannot be held to have acted otherwise than in due course of administration.

Administrator-Contd.

Per Batchelor J—S 23 of the Indian Trusts Act is limitted to trustees as defined in S 3 of the Act, and administrators do not necessarily fall within that definition

Ardeshir Shapurji Narielwala v Mancher-shaw Shapurji Narielwala. 12 Bom L R 53= 5 Ind Cas 63.

10—Administrator being out of pocket by trusteeship—Right to recoup himself by sale of property—Judge's order for recouping himself essential—Possession—Title against a wrong doer—Plea of jus tertii—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), S 41—Purchase from ostensible owner—

If an administrator holding letters of administration be out of pocket by his trusteeship, he can only recoup himself by having an account taken and getting himself relieved of his appointment as trustee before the District Judge, with an order for re-imbursement of what might be found due to him out of the estate. He is not entitled to recoup himself by selling the property of the estate.

Possession is good title against all but the true owner.

Prior possession of the plaintiff, in an action of ejectment against a wrong-doer, is sufficient title even if the suit be brought more than six months after the act of dispossession complained of.

A defendant's plea of jus tertii cannot be entertained, when he does not state in whom any such right resides. A defendant, in order to justify a trespass, must trace the title to a third party. A mere suggestion that there may be a third party is nothing.

Where D had a good possessory title against all the world except the true owner, and there was no claimant for ownership living, and the plaintiff purchased with bona fide belief that D was the real ostensible owner, and all his enquiries would only go to fortify him in that opinion.

Held, that the plaintiff's purchase is protected by S. 41 of the Transfer of Property Act, even if D's possessory title was bad. 12 All 51 (PC); 20 Cal 834 (PC); 26 Mad 514 Ref. (1907) A C 73 Ref. 12 M I A 448; 10 W R (PC) 1 B L R 44 (PC) Fol. Chandra Kanta Pathak v Bhagjur Bepari; 1 Ind Cas 525.

Administrator-Contd.

11—Administration suit—Limitation—Persons whose claims are not barred can bring the suit—

In England actions for the administration of the estates of deceased persons can only be instituted by persons whose claims to recover are not barred by any statute of limitation. The same principle applies in India. Nandlal Chunilal v Sopilal Manilal. 9 Bom L R 316.

12—Final decree—Administrator pendente lite, position of—Termination of lis—

Executor de son tort—Principles, if applicable to Hindus.

The functions of an Administrator pendente lite terminate on the pronouncement of the final decree.

The principles of English Law relating to an Executor de son tort are equally applicable to Hindus. L R (1894) P D 262 Fol. 6 P D 29 Ref. Ind jur 2 N S 235, Fol, 17 Cal 620-9, 4 Cal 342, 14 Mad 454, Ref. Radhika Mohon Roy v K S Bannerjee 10 C W N 566.

13—Ss. 179, 221—Limited grant—Administrator-Conveyance from administrator-Quantum of interest conveyed—A person obtaining a limited grant under S 221 of the Indian Sussession Act 1865, becomes, by virtue thereof, the legal representative of the deceased for the purposes of his interest in the property; and such interest in the property becomes vested in the person as such legal representative under s. 179 of the Act. Such an administrator can confer an indefeasible right in the property to a person who purchases it for value. Where a conveyance from the administrator of a deceased purports to pass to the purchaser all the right, title and interest which the deceased had in the property the mere fact that the party so conveying it professes to act as administrator of the estate cannot cut down the legal effect of the conveyance or limit the right of the purchaser to the title wrongly alleged to have existed in the deceased if as a matter of fact the latter had a higher right. Desilva v Desilva. 4 Bom L R 849=27 Bom 103.

Administrator-Contd.

14—Administrator, suit by—"Letters" must issue before he can sue—Non-suit—

No suit is maintainable when instituted by a person in his capacity as the administrator of the estate of a deceased person unless and until letters of Administration are issued to him to entitle him to sue in such representative capacity.

The Administrator-General of Bengal v Lalit Mohan Roy. 12 C W N 738.

15—Criminal misappropriation by—No express finding—General observations in judgment, effect of—

Where there is no express finding in a judgment that a person was guilty of criminal misappropriation as regards any of the sums of money for which he, together with the other administrators, was held accountable, the general observations in the judgment, which go to show that, in the opinion of the Judge, that person, together with the other administrators had acted dishonestly, are not evidence that, as to any particular claim, that person was criminally liable. (16 Mad 99, 2 M L T 529 Appl 6 All 234 27 Mad 71 D.) Erasala Gurunathan Chetty v Addippally Raghavalu Chetty 3 M L T 394= 8 Cr L J 147.

16.—Liability of deceased's estate for unsecured debts incurred by administrator—Succession Act (X of 1865) Section. 269

Although an administrator can, under S. 269 of Act X of 1865, dispose of the property of the deceased, either wholly or in part, in such manner as he may think fit, the estate of the deceased cannot be held liable for an unsecured debt incurred under a promissory note by the administrator, for it cannot be said to amount to a disposal of any portion of the property of the deceased testator. C. Bonny v H. J. D. Bason. 12 O C 414.

Administrator—Agent appointed by, liability of—Principal and Agent—General.

30 Mad 243=2 M L T 326.

Administrator.—Person other than an, when could sue for debts due to estate—Probate and Administration Act of 1881 Section 4.

3 L B R 1912.

Administrator—Purchasing property from legatee at auction—Sale—Validity—Administrator de bonis non, if bound to take account on failure—Probate and Administration Act, 1881, Ss. 11. 91, 102. 13 C W N 557=9 C L J 383= 1 Ind Cas 289.

Administrator-Concld.

Administrator.—Vesting of property of deceased in—Right of heirs to deal with the property—Application of Section 191 of the Succession Act—Letters of Administration.

8 M L T 77=7 Ind Cas 242= 20 M L J 984.

Administrator, decree against.

See (1) Joinder of causes of action.
(2) Multifariousness.

Administrator General.

See (1) Administration Bond.
(2) Illegitimacy.
(3) Letters of Administration.
(4) Succession Act, Section 282.

—Certificate of—

See Interest Act, 1839.

—Office of—

See (1) Administrator-General's Act Sec 31.
(2) Statutes, Construction of.

—Petition by—

See—Practice—Civil—Cases—Probate and Letters of Administration.

—Rights of—

See Appeal to Privy Council—Effect of Privy Council Decree or Order.

22 Calc, 1011=L R. 22 I A 203.

1.—Authority to pay debt barred by limitation—

The Administrator—General of Madras is authorized to pay a barred debt.

Administrator—General v Hawkins. 1 Mad., 267.

Notes:—Ref· 25 Mad 300 : 16 Bom 141.

2.—Liability of Administrator-General in respect of breaches of trust by Intestate Executor—

Held, per Norman J. (Phear, J., dissenting). that the Administrator—General, who had taken out administration to the estate of an executor by whom a breach of trust had been committed by his pledging for his own benefit certain assets of his testatrix, and had redeemed the said assets with office money and applied the money recovered as part of the defaulting executor's estate, was not personally liable to make good the amount to the testatrix's estate.

Administrator-General-Contd.

Greenway v Hogg. Cor., 97, 2 Hyde 3 Bourke. A O. C, III.

3.—Right of retainer in satisfaction of his own debt.

The Administrator—General appointed under Act VIII of 1855 has the same right of retainer in satisfaction of his own debt as that which an ordinary executor or administrator has.

Ritchie v Stokes. 2 M H C 255.

Notes.—Fol l Mad 206. Ref: 6 M H C R 455.

4.—Right of, to retain assets.

Right of Administrator-General to retain assets in his hands in respect of contingent debts. Shepherd v Hogg. Cor., 67

5.—Grant of letters of administration to-Act XXIV of 1867, Section 17.

When ordinary letters of administration to the estate of a deceased Hindu are granted to the Administrator-General under Act XXIV of 1867 (but not under Sec 17 of that Act), his title does not relate back to the death of the deceased, nor to the date of the Judge's order directing such letters to be issued, but accrues only as from the date of the grant of such letters. Quære.—Whether, if letters are issued to the Administrator-General under sec 17 of that Act, the case would be otherwise, or his powers greater. Lallchand Ramdayal v Gumtibai. Ghella Pema v Gumtibai. 8 B H C. O C. 140.

Notes:—Dist: 23 Bom 428. Ref 8 B H C R O 244; 9 B H C R 37: 2 Bom 67, 388. F B; 6 Bom 452, 17 Bom 690 F B.

6—Administrator-General's Act (II of 1874) Ss. 17 and 18)—Order to collect assets—Decree against deceased's estate passed prior to such order—Attachment of part of deceased's estate subsequently to above order—Claim of Administrator—General prior to that of attaching creditor.

Administrator-General-Contd.

On the 16th April 1898, the plaintiff obtained an ex-parte decree against the defendant as heir and legal representative of his deceased father. Previously to the date of the decree (viz on 4th March 1898), an order had been made by the High Court under Ss. 17 and 18 of the Administrator-General's Act (II of 1874), authorizing the Administrator—General to collect the assets of the deceased and ordering him, if necessary, to take out letters of administration to his estate. On the 29th April 1898, the plaintiff, under s. 208 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), attached certain money in the hands of a third party due to the deceased's estate. On the 2nd July 1898, letters of administration were granted to the Administrator-General. Held that, as against the Administrator-General, the attachment was void ab initio. At the date of the decree obtained by the plaintiff, the Administrator-General was entitled, by virtue of the High Court's order, to take possession of the estate of the deceased. As soon as that order was made, his right to possession became paramount, and excluded that of the defendant (the son of the deceased), who was then no longer entitled to recover payment of debts due to his father. A decree, therefore, subsequently obtained against the defendant could not, as against the Administrator-General, confer any rights on the decree-holder, who could not stand in a better position than the defendant, his judgment-debtor. Under ss. 278 and 280 of the Civil Procedure Code, the Administrator-General had the right to have the attachment removed, because he was exclusively entitled, at first by reason of the order under s. 18 of Act II of 1874 and subsequently by his letters of administration, to recover the debt, and was not subject to any decree which affected his title. 8 Bom 140 distinguished.

Bhaiji Bhimji v Administrator General of Bombay. 23 Bom 428.

7.—Civil Courts—Jurisdiction—Suit against Administrator-General.

A suit brought against the Administrator-General must be instituted in the District Court: it makes no difference if the Administrator and Administrator-General-Concld.

General is not a party to the suit in his official capacity, but is sued simply as representing the estate of a private individual Antone v Administrator-General of Bombay.
6 Bom L R 546=28 Bom 529.

8.—Administrator-General's Act, S. 18—Administrator—General holding estate under S. 18, position of—Administrator General, what payments can be made by.

The Administrator-General holding an estate under S. 18 of the Administrator-General's Act is in no better position than a private administrator. Pending grant of letters of administration, he can only make payments for the benefit of or for the preservation of the assets of the estate. He cannot make any payment to the prejudice of the estate. 8 Ex. Ch. Rep. 302 at p. 307 ref to. Hari Das Dutt 11 C W N 193.

9—C.P.C.-S.2 (17) (1882 S.2)—Public Officer—Administrator-General.

The Administrator General is a "public officer" as defined by s. 2 C. P. C. Bholaram Chowdhury v Administrator General.
8 C W N 913.

Notes.—Ref: 28 All 600.

Administrator-General.

See (1) Act VIII of 1855.
(2) Act XXIV of 1867.
(3) Act II of 1874.
(4) Administration.
(5) Administrator.

Administrator-General's Act VIII of 1855.

See Letters of Administration.

1.—Recall of letters of administration granted to Administrator-General—Commission.

When letters of administration which had been granted to the Administrator-General of Madras were recalled, and he had merely taken manual possession of cash, Government promissory notes, and the title deeds of leaseholds belonging to the deceased, the High Court, under s. 22 of Act VIII of 1855, allowed him commission at the rate of 2½ per cent. on the cash and the value of the notes, but refused to allow it on the leaseholds. Simpson. 1 M H C 171.

Administrator-General's Act VIII of 1855-Concld.

Notes.—Fol: 25 Cal 65. Ref: 31 Cal 572.

2.—Danger of misappropriation—Debts of deceased person.

The bare possibility that the Act of Limitation may ultimately become a bar to the recovery of assets is not such danger of misappropriation as warrants the granting to the Administrator-General of an order under s. 12 of Act VIII of 1855. Semble—A debtor to the estate of a deceased person cannot apply for an order under that section. Girdir Das Vallaba Das.
1 M H C 234.

Administrator Generals Act VIII of 1885—s. 60—

See (1) Res judicata—Adjudications.
(2) Review—Orders subject to Review.

Administrator—General's Act XXIV of 1867 S. 15,

See Legitimacy.

Administrator—General's Act XXIV of 1867 S. 17.

See Administrator General.
8 Bom H C O C 140

3.—S 33—Right to payment out of assets—Distribution of assets.

Plaintiff, on the 15th June 1868, immediately after the death of his debtor, brought a suit against the debtor's widow (1st defendant) for recovery of the debt, and, before judgment, obtained attachment and sale of property of the deceased, the sale-proceeds being kept in deposit in the Court. These proceedings took place in June and July: and on the 15th August administration was granted to the Administrator-General, the widow not having taken out administration. On the 28th September, the Administrator-General was, on plaintiff's application, made defendant in place of the widow, and the suit proceeded against him to decree. Before plaintiff applied to execute this decree, the amount of the sale-proceeds was, by the direction of the Civil Judge, handed over to the Administrator-General; accordingly, on this ground, plaintiff's application to the District Munsif for execution was rejected. He appealed unsuccessfully to the Civil Court Held, on special appeal, that s. 33 of Act XXIV of 1867 took away plaintiff's right to payment otherwise than rateably with the other creditors. Haninabalu Sannappa v Cook.
6 M H C 346.

Notes.—Ref 25 Cal 54: 23 Bom 128.

Administrator-General's Act II of 1874.

See (1) Administration Bond.
(2) Administrator-General.
(3) Letters of Administration.
(4) Limitation.
(5) Possession.
(6) Statutes, Construction of.

Administrator—General's Act II of 1874 ss. 12, 16, 17.

See Practice-Civil Cases-Probate and Letters of Administration.

Administrator-General's Act II of 1874 s. 18

See (1) Administrator—General.
(2) Parties-Substitution of Parties—Appellants.

Administrator—General's Act II of 1874 s. 27.

See Letters Patent, High Courts cl. 15.

4.—Administrator—General's Act—Commission payable to—Collection of debts.

When there is only a collection of debts without the distribution of the assets by the administrator-General the order for giving commission under sec 27 of the Act must award only half of the full commission of 5 per cent in accordance with sec 54 of the Act. Chengalroya Naiker-Somasundaram Chetti v Administrator-General. 1 Mad 148.

5—Administrator-General's Act II of 1874 S 16.

Act (X of 1865), S.187—Will made in Bombay—Property worth less than Rs. 1,000—Probate——Administrator-General's certificate. A will made in Bombay is subject to the provisions of the Hindu Wills Act, and a person claiming as a legatee under the will is not entitled to sue without taking out probate, as he would be bound by S. 187 of the Indian Succession Act which is incorporated in the Hindu Wills Act.

But where the property comprised in the will is worth less than Rs. 1,000, and the legatee has obtained a certificate under S. 36 of the Administrator-General's Act to administer the effects of the deceased, such certificate entitles the legatee to receive the property. The provision of the Administrator-General's Act is not affected by the incorporation in the Hindu Wills Act of S. 187 of the Indian Succession Act. S. 5 of the Hindu Wills Act provides that nothing contained in that Act will affect the rights, duties and privileges of the Administrator-General of Bengal, Madras and Bombay respectively. Narayan Shridhar Date v. Pandurang Bapuji Date. 12 Bom L R 471 =6 Ind Cas 905=34 Bom 506.

Adminsitrator General's Act II of 1874 Contd.

6-Ss. 17, 18-Application under these sections should not be made by the Administrator-General himself. The beneficiaries or some of them ought to apply for his appointment, the Administrator-General submitting to act if the Court so ordered. By applying in person, the Administrator-General creates an impression of partisanship which ought to be avoided. Courts ought not lightly to make over estates to the Administrator-General whose Commission is heavy. Held,—On the facts of the case that the Administrator-General in taking possession of the estate when he knew that the Court of Wards was going to take possession, acted illegally. 10 C W N 241.

Administrator-General's Act II of 1874-S, 31 See

Appeal to Privy Council. Effect of Privy Council decree or order. 22 Cal 1011= L R 22 I A 203.

Notes.—Ref. 11 All 375.

7—Hindu Executor—Transfer to Administrator-General—Hindu Wills Act XXI of 1870 S. 5 Succession Act (X of 1865) Ss. 179, 187, and 191—Probate and Administration Act (V of 1881). A Hindu died on the 22nd February 1891. He left property in Calcutta and a will dated 5th August 1889. A probate was taken on the 17th March 1891, by the executor under the will, and they executed a deed on the 14th August 1893, purporting to transfer all estates, effects and interests vested in them to the Admintstrator—General under S 31 of the Administrator—General's Act (11 1874):—Held by Prinsep and Trevelyan JJ.. affirming the decision of Sale J. (Petheram C J dissenting), that the transfer was invalid. The executor of a Hindu Testator has no power to transfer the property under the will to the Administrator—General under the terms of S. 31 of Act II of 1874. That Section is only applicable to the executors and administrators of persons of the class mentioned in S. 16 of the Act, that is to say, Administrator General's Act II of 1874-Contd.

persons not being Hindus, Mahomedans or Buddhists. Per Petheram C J Contra:—The transfer was valid. Even if S 5 of the Hindu Wills Act (XXI of 1870) were sufficient to prevent such transfer to the Administrator—General under S 30 of the Administrator-General's Act of 1867, which is by no means certain, a Hindu executor has power, if not since the passing of the Hindu Wills Act, at any rate since the coming into force of the Probate and Administration Act (V of 1881) to transfer his interest and estate under a will to the Administrator General as constituted under Act II of 1874. The course of legislation with reference to the creation of the office of the Administrator-General and to his duties and powers reviewed and considered in construing Act II of 1874. Administrator-General of Bengal v. Prem Lall Mullick. 21 Calc 732.

8—Held, (on appeal) by the Privy Council that the right of executors to divolve the property of their testator with all powers and duties relative to its administration, upon the Administrator-General, conferred by S. 31 of Act II of 1874 is not confined to any particular class of executors or of estates. The right is given to any executor in whom the estate of the deceased has been vested by virtue of the probate subject to the condition that the Administrator-General shall consent. It is not necessary that in a consolidating statue each enactment, when traced to its origin must be construed according to the state of things which existed at a prior time when it first became law, the object being that the Statuory law bearing on the subject should be collected and made applicable to the circumstances then existing; nor can a positive enactment be annulled by indications of intention, at a prior time gathered from previous legislation on the matter. The executors of the will of Hindu testator obtained a probate and took possession of the estate. Then they executed a deed, purporting to be in terms of S. 31 Act, II of 1874, transferring the property to the Administrator General, which was vested in them by probate:—Held. reversing the judgment of a majority of the Appellate Court, and affirming that of the chief justice, that under that Section the transfer was valid.

Administrator-General of Bengal v Premlal Mullick 22 Calc, 788=L R 22 I A 107.

Administrator General's Act II of 1874-Contd.

9—S. 31—Transfer by executors to Administrator-General —Where the executors of a will transfer their interest in the estate of the deceased under S. 31 of the Administrator-General's Act to the Administrator-General—Held, such a transfer would only transfer such powers of disposition over the estate as the executors themselves possessed. Nundo Lall Mullick I.L.R. 23 Calc., 908.

Notes:—Ref 8 C W N 362, Fol: 3 C L J 260,

Administrator-General's Act II of 1874—-S. 35.

See (1) Costs—Costs out of Estate.
(2) Costs—Suit or Appeal only Partly Decreed
(3) Succession Act. s. 282.

10.—S. 35.—Creditor's right to be paid in full if assets sufficient—Meanings of "Rateable payment" and "shall be liable to pay"—Succession Act (X of 1865) Section 282—Probate and Administration Act (V of 1881) S. 104.

In a suit brought by a creditor, if his demand be uncontested or proved and the assets are admitted by the executor, the plaintiff is entitled at the hearing to an order for immediate payment without taking accounts. The admission of assets for paying off a debt is also an admission of assets for the purposes of the suit, and extends to costs if the Court thinks proper to allow them. There is nothing in Section 35 of the Administrator-General's Act (II of 1874) which qualifies or restricts or otherwise interferes with the right of a creditor to demand immediate payment of his claim fully when the realizable assets in the hands of the Administrator—General are sufficient for the immediate payment of all claims fully. The "rateable payment" referred to in the above Section as well as in Section 282 of the Succession Act (X of 1865) and in S. 104 of the Probate and Administration Act (V of 1881) is rateable payment out of the assets, it is nowhere provided that it shall be made out of the net income of the estate or any other specific part of the assets. The words "shall be liable to pay costs" used in cl. 1 of S. 35 of Administrator-General's Act II of 1874 shows that it was intended not to impose upon a creditor to whom the condition of exemption was inapplicable, an absolute obligation to pay the costs of the suit but to leave a discretion to the Court to relieve him of the obligation if the circumstances of the case required it. L R 27 ch D. 662 referred to.

Administrator General's Act II of 1874-Contd.

Omrita Nath Mitter v, Administrator-General of Bengal
25 Calc 54

Amrita Nath Mitter v Administrator-General of Bengal I C W N 500.

11—S 54—charging commission—meaning of "Collection of assets"—The administrator General is entitled to charge commission or the collection and distribution of assets under s. 54 of Act II of 1874. "Collection of assets" implies the doing of some act in connection with such assets where a portion of the estate consisted of a zemindari of which the testator had granted a patni lease subject to payment of a fixed rent and part of the zamindari having been acquired for public purposes the compensation money being by arrangements divisible in certain proportions between the estate and the patnidar. Held the Administrator General was entitled to charge commission on the rents actually collected by him and on the amount apportioned to the estate, but not on the corpus of the zemindari estate. 1 Mad 171 followed.

Courjon 25 Cal 65

Notes Ref 31 Cal 672; 6 Bom L R 75

Administrator General's Act II of 1874 s 56.

See Executor 22 Calc., 14

Administrator General's Act II of 1874. —s. 63.

See (1) Res Judicata—Adjudications

(2) Review—Orders subject to Review.

12—Held that the District Judge who has under the Provisions of s 64 of Act II of 1874 taken possession of the assets of a deceased person pending the happening of one or other of the events specified in that section, is not the legal representative of the deceased for the purpose of execution of a decree obtained against the deceased.
The District Judge of Azamgarh v. Baldeo
19 W. N. 221

Administrator General's Act II of 1874—Concld.

13—"Assets" meaning of—Revenue paying estate—Commission.

The Administrator-General is only entitled to charge one commission upon his commission. "Assets" in S. 52 does not mean net assets only and the Administrator-General is entitled to charge commission upon the entire collections of the revenue paying estate come to his hands. The Administrator-General is entitled to commission on realizations made and handed over to him by the Receiver and not on the value of the testator's estate in the hands of the Receiver. The property of a deceased person applied in payment of revenue is an "asset" within the meaning of the Act and as such is chargeable with commission. Watkins v Surat Chunder Ghose Mullick. 31 Cal 572.

Administrator Pendente lite.

See Administrator.

—When to be appointed—Wrong exercise of discretion in appointing—High Court's power to interfere—Executor. 2 Ind Cas 638.

—Practice as to the appointment of—Probate and Administration Act, 1881 ss. 33, 34.
2 Bom L R 797.

Administratrix Wasting estate.

See (1) Letters of administration.
(2) Certificate of administration.

Admiralty.

See Cases under.
Jurisdiction — Admiralty & vice Admiralty Jurisdiction.

1 "Towage" and "Salvage" are questions of law.

In Admiralty cases the expert evidence should be strictly confined to questions of navigation and kindred questions, i. e, it must be expert evidence, and nothing more.

The question whether services are "Towage" or "Salvage" is a question of law for the Court to decide.
Clan Shaw v. Cashmere. 1 Bom L R 570.

Admiralty-Concld.

2-Salvage-ship, arrest of-Equitable lien-Salvage services give rise to an equitable lieu—The elements to be considered in assessing the amount of salvage are:—The value of the property saved; the actual perils from which the ship and cargo were saved; the possibility of assistance from elsewhere; the state of the weather when the services were rendered; the degree of risk and peril incurred by the salvors; the degree of labour and skill exerted by the salvors; the time occupied by the services; and the injury and loss occasioned to the salvors. In fixing a proportion of the value the Court usually gives a smaller proportion where the property is large and a larger proportion where the value is small. Parties should not arrest the ship for an exorbitant sum, and if they do it is no excuse to say that the defendants did not as it were struggle to get free by applying to get the bail reduced.

Bombay and Per Sian S N Co v Cashmere. 1 Bom L R 557=24 Bom 55.

Admiralty Acts.

See Cases under Jurisdiction—Admiralty.

Admiralty and vice admiralty Jurisdiction.

See Juris-diction.

Admiralty Cases.

See (1) Jurisdiction admiralty.

(2) Admiralty Practice in—Court.

(3) Practice and Procedure.

Admiralty Court. Practice of.

See (1) Practice-Civil Cases-Admiralty Court

(2) Ship, Arrest of.

Admiralty Jurisdiction.

See Jurisdiction Admiralty.

1—Damage done by a ship—Meaning of—Warrant for arrest of a ship—

Admiralty Jurisdiction-Concld.

Damage done by a ship, in order to establish a maritime line must be due to the negligence or unskilful conduct of those in charge of the ship which does the mischief, the ship herself being the instrument of mischief. The Industrie L. R 3 ad and Eccl. 303 Bataver 15 P D 37, 3 Ad. and Eccl 161: and Energy, 3 Ad. and Eccl. 41 distinguished. 9 P D 96; 1897 A C 97 ref. to. Oil was discharged negligently from a ship. The oil floating down subsequently ignited and did damage to another ship: Held that the damage by the fire could not be construed as damage done by a ship so as to give rise to an action in rem for the arrest of the ship which discharged the oil. The remedy for such injury should be sought by an ordinary action founded on negligence against the person responsible.

The Admiralty Jurisdiction of the High Courts in india is the same as that of the Supreme Court of Judicature in England. The Telena. 6 C W N 773=29 Cal 402.

Admiralty or vice-admiralty jurisdiction

See (1) Costs—Special Cases-Admiralty or Vice-Admiralty.

(2) Letters Patent High Court Cl. 15.

Admissibility of Evidence.

1—Certified Copy—Will—Evidence—Admissibility.

A certified copy of a registered will is admissible in evidence unless the original has been cancelled. Atmaram Purnaik v Laxmibai 12 C P L R 130.

See Cases under:—

(1) Evidence.

(2) Evidence Act Ss. 65, 91 & 92.

(3) Registration Act S. 50

Admissibility in evidence of finding in former case not between same parties.

See (1) Res judicata Estoppel by judgment
(2) Evidence - Civil cases—Decrees judgments and proceedings in former suits

Admissibility in evidence of judgment in former case.

See (1) Res judicata Estoppel by judgment
(2) Evidence—Civil cases—Decrees judgments—& proceedings in former suits

Admissibility of document in evidence as to pedigree.

See Evidence—Civil cases—Miscellaneous documents

Admissibility of documents in evidence compulsorily registerable

See Registration Act—Evidence—Civil cases—Secondary evidence—Unstamped or unregistered documents

Admissibility of evidence.

See (1) Evidence.
(2) Evidence Act.

Admissibility of evidence of consideration of unstamped document

See Evidence Act Ss. 91 & 92

Admissibility of oral evidence

See Evidence—Parol evidence.

Admissibility of oral evidence to contradict the nature of a contract in writing.

See Evidence-Parol evidence.

Admissibility of petition and written statement filed in a previous proceeding.

See Evidence—Civil cases—Decrees, judgments and proceedings in former suits.

Admissibility of unregistered sale-deed in evidence.

See (1) Registration Act, s. 17
(2) Evidence-Civil cases-Secondary evidence—Unstamped or unregistered documents.

Admission.

See (1) Bengal Tenancy Act S 20
(2) Burden of proof.
(3) Estoppel
(4) Cases under pleader—Authority to bind client.
(5) Pleading.
(6) Variance between pleading and proof—Admission of part of claim.
(7) Acquiescence

Admission by legal Practitioner.

See (1) Counsel.
(2) Pleader—Authority to bind client.
(3) Evidence Act Ss. 17 to 21 and s. 32.
(4) Admissions in statements and pleadings.

(1) Admission in statements and pleading (1—43)
(1) Statement of party (1—5)
(2) Statement in former suit (6—8)
(3) Admission made in former arbitration proceedings (9)
(4) Admission in former suit (10—16)
(5) Landlord and tenant Admission by a co-tenant (17)
(6) Admission by one of several joint tenants (18)
(7) Admission made by one co-sharer. (19 & 19 A)

Admission-Contd.

(8) Indivisibility of an evidence 20—24)
(9) Qualified statement (25)
(10) Admission in pleading (26—27)
(11) Agreement admitted in pleading (28)
(12) Admission of title in pleading (29)
(13) Admission in written statement of defendant (30)
(14) Admission in written statement (31)
(14a) Admission in verified petition (32)
(15) Admission by not traversing allegations (33)
(16) Not traversing allegations (34—35)
(17) Written statement (36)
(18) Disclaimer of title (37—38)
(19) Untraversed allegations (39)
(20) Admission by co defendant effect of (40)
(21) Request to verify signature (41)
(22) Pleading statement in (42—43)

(2) Admission by or against third persons (44—70)

(1) Admission, effect of, against person not party to suit (44-45)
(2) Persons without title (46)
(3) Guardian, admission by (47)
(4) Admission by executors (48-49)
(5) Admission by agent (50)
(6) Admission by husband (51)
(7) Admission of Vakil (52)
(8) Admission by pleader on behalf of client (53)
(9) Admission of pleader recorded in judgment (54)
(10) Admission by owner after sale of property (55)
(11) Admission by judgment-debtor 56
(12) Admission by mortgagor (57)
(13) Admission by lumberdar (58)
(14) Admission by heirs (58a)
(15) Admission by zamindar of mokurari right (59)
(16) Admission by auction purchaser (60)
(17) Admission of lessor (61)

Admission-Contd.

(18) Admission of tenancy (62)
(19) Admission by raiyat (63—64)
(20) Admission of rate of rent (65)
(21) Return of amount of rent made to Collector (66)
(22) Rate of rent, evidence of (67)
(23) Consideration for sale (68—70)

(3) Miscellaneous Cases (71—88)

(1) Verbal admissions as to sum due by defendants (71)
(2) Admission of receipt of purchase-money (72)
(3) Admission in a mortgage as to amount of land excepted from its operation (73)
(4) False statement as to share being separate (74)
(5) False statement by defendant (75)
(6) Mitigation of effect of admission (76—77)
(7) Effect of admissions not action (78)
(8) Admission not action (79-86)
(9) Persons without title (87-88)

Admission.

See also cases under :—
Evidence Act Section 17.

Admission—Insufficient to pass property—
See:— 10 C W N 650.

Administration—Made unaware of the circumstances—Not binding
9 Ind Cas 806.

Admission—Of mortgage debt by minor after becoming major—Ratification—Whether decree can be based on. 9 Ind Cas 56

Admission.

—Of receipt of consideration before Registering Officer.

See (1) Estoppel.
(2) Registration Act (III of 1877) Ss 23-26.

Admission—By tenant of existence of relationship landlord and tenant.

See Onus of proof.

Admission—Of contents of unregistered document

Admission-Contd.

See Registration Act (111 of 1877) S. 49.

Admission.—Burden of proof — Admission by predecessor-in-title—Effect on onus of proof. 7 N L R 23.

1. ADMISSION IN STATEMENTS AND PLEADING.

(1) Statement of Party.

1.—Statement of Party—Evidence.

A statement made by a party is not, ipso facto, conclusive against him, though it may be used against him and may be evidence, more or less weightly, possibly even conclusive, according to the circustances of each case, and the result come to by judicial investigation.

Ayetun v Ramsebuk. 12 W R 156.

2.—Admissions by party — Admissions by a party are evidence against him—Evidence that such admissions were mistaken or untrue is admissible—Estoppel.

What a party himself admits to be true may reasonably be presumed to be so.

Where the defendant is not a party to the deeds. and there is therefore no estoppel, the party making the admission may give evidence to rebut this presumption, but unless and until that is satisfactorily done, the fact admitted must be taken to be established.

The express admissions of a party to the suit, or admissions implied from his conduct, are evidence, and strong evidence against him: but he is at liberty to prove that such admissions were mistaken or were untrue, and is not estopped or concluded by them unless another person has been induced by them to alter his condition. In such a case the party is estopped from disputing their truth as against that person (and those claiming under him) and that transaction, but as to third parties he is not bound.

Rani Chandra v Chaudhuri. 9 Bom L R 267=11 C W N 321. =4 A L J 102=5 C L J 115= 17 M L J 103=2 M L T 109.

3.—Pleadings.

An Admission on a point of law is not an admission of a thing so as to make the admission operate as estoppel within the meaning of

Admission-Contd

(1) Admission in Statements and Pleading—Contd.

Section 115, Evidence Act. Jagwant Singh v Silan Singh. 21 All 285.

Notes :—Ref : 3 A L J 534= (1906) W N 182.

4.—Proof of contents of document

The statement of a party to a suit is admissible evidence against him to prove the contents of a written instrument.

Muttukaruppa Kaundan v Rama' Pillai. 3 M H C 158.

Notes—Ref. 6 M H C R 245; 2 Mad 208; 13 Mad 308; 12 Bom 443.

5.—Proof of contents of document.

The case of 3 Mad 158, applies to the defendant's admission of a transaction embodied in a written document not receivable in evidence, and is no authority whatever for construing a document, present to the Court, upon a defendant's admission. Mahalatchmi Ammal v Palani Chetti. 6 M H C 245.

Notes—Dist 27 Mad 211. Diss; 14 M L J 25.

(2) STATEMENT IN FORMER SUIT.

6.—Statement in former suit-Evidence Act, 1872, Section 18:

A statement made by the defendant in another suit may be used as an admission within the meaning of Section 18 of the Evidence Act.

Hurish Chunder Mullick v Prosunno. Coomar Banerjee. 22 W R 303.

Lalla Jugdeo Sahoy v Digambur Roy. 22 W R 304.

Kashee Kishore Roy Chowdhry v Rama Soonduree Debia Chowdhrain. 23 W R, 27.

Notes—Fol. 22 W R 303.

7. -Statements filed in Court.

In a suit by a daughter for property left by her father, in which the defendants relied upon certain admissions said to have been made by plaintiff relinquishing the share in the inheritance left by her father, and in which they also set up a will of the father conveying the property to others, the Lower Court should have enquired into the genuineness of the will, and required the defendants to prove that the admissions, which plaintiff impugned, emanated from her, or from some one duly authorized by her to make them. The mere fact that the admissions were contained in statements filed in a Court of Justice in her name does not necessarily prove that they were made by her.

Admission-Contd.

(1) Admission in Statements and Pleading —Contd.

Asmutoonissa Bebee v Atta Hafiz. 8 W R 468.

Notes:—Dist: 15 W R 490,

8.—In a former suit by A against his agent for an account of the collections of a certain share in land B intervened and was made a party. In that suit the Court declared A to be the zamindar, and as such entitled to the rents and to an account. Held, that that finding was binding against B in a subsequent suit against him by A for recovery of the same share. Similarly, an admission made by B in the former suit is evidence against him quantum valeat in the subsequent suit. Sheo Surn Singh v Ram Khelawan Singh, 14 W R 165.

(3) ADMISSION MADE IN FORMER ARBITRATION PROCEEDINGS.

9—Admissions made in former arbitration proceedings-Admissions etc., made by the parties in a former arbitration proceeding may be used against them in evidence in a subsequent suit.

Huronath Sircar v Preonath Sircar 7 W R 249

(4) ADMISSIONS IN FORMER SUIT.

10—Admissions in former suit-Also admissions made in a former suit. Obhoy Gobind Chowdhry v Beejoy Gobind Chowdhry 9 W R 162

Notes—Ref: 8 Cal 238

11—Acceptance in evidence of map as correct in former suit.

Where the defendants in a boundary suit accepted in a former suit a particular map as correct, their acceptance is legal though not conclusive, evidence against them in the boundary suit, and is tantamount to an admission, and stands upon a very different footing from the decree in the first suit. Gordon Stuart and Co v Beejoy Gobind Chowdhry 8 W R 291

Notes—Fol 10 W R 88; 151 Ex 13 W R 84.

Admission-Contd.

(1) Admission in Statements and Pleading —Contd.

12—Deposition—A copy of a defendant's deposition in a former suit having been put in by plaintiff at a late stage of the case, when defendant had no means of explaining away any supposed admission therein—Held that the first Court was wrong in accepting the same as an admission binding on defendant, and that the Lower Appellate Court was right in sending for the defendant and examining him on the subject.

Komurooddeen v Monye Mundle. 16 W R 220

13—Suit of different nature.

Admissions made by a defendant in other suits brought against him by third parties cannot be treated as estoppels in a suit to recover possession of a different property under different circumstances. Wise v Rubaa Khatoon 19 W R 299

14—Plaintiff sued in the Revenue Court for the recovery of rents fraudulently misappropriated by defendant, and upon defendant's allegation that plaintiff was etmamdar or gomashta and not ijaradar, the Deputy Collector dismissed plantiff's suit for want of jurisdiction. Plaintiff then sued in the Civil Court, the defendant again raising the plea of non-jurisdiction. Held, that, any admission or allegation of the defendant in the former suit, put in evidence by the plaintiff, was amply sufficient to support the plaintiff's allegation in this suit that he had been etmamdar.

Bhugwan Chunder Dutt v Mechoo Lall Chuckerbutty 17 W R 372

15—Suit for resumption of lands—Previous suit to assess the lands—Evidence.

An admission by a jagirdar in a suit brought by Government to assess the lands, that the lands were comprised in a zamindari is evidence of that fact in a suit by the zamindar to resume those lands. Forbes v Mir Mahomed Taki 5 B L R 529=14 W R, P C 28=13 Moore's I A 438

16—Agreement to pay interest.—In a former suit, plaintiff, mortgagor, under a usufructuary mortgage, claimed recovery of the mortgaged property, on the allegation that there had been a satisfaction of the principal sum by reason of the profits of the estate exceeding 12 per cent, interest but having failed to prove that allegation, his suit was dismissed. He now sued for the recovery of

Admission-Contd.

(1) Admission in Statements and Pleading —Contd.

the property under an ekrarnamah which did not stipulate for payment of interest. Held, that the case put forward by plaintiff in the former suit did not amount to an admission that there was an agreement to pay 12 per cent., and that he was entitled to restoration of the property on payment of the principal alone. Prosunno Coomar Mookerjee v. Buldeo Narain Singh 18 W R 62

(5) LANDLORD AND TENANT—ADMISSION BY A CO-TENANT

17—Landlord and tenant—Admission by a co-tenant—An admission by a cotenant as to who is the landlord of a holding is not binding on the other co-tenants. Kali Kishore Chowdhry v Gopimohan Roy Chowdhry 2 C W N 166

(6) ADMISSION BY ONE OF SEVERAL JOINT TENANTS

18 - Admission by one of several joint tenants Suit for rent.- A suit for rent having been brought against two persons as joint tenants and a decree passed thereon in favour of the plaintiff, but for a less amount than that claimed by him, an appeal was preferred by the defendants. but subsequently pending the hearing of the appeal, one of them filed a petition admitting the correctness of the amount claimed by the plaintiff, and stating his willingness to pay half of such amount. Held that the admission of the one defendant did not bind the other; and that,notwithstanding such admission the suit having been brought against the defendants as joint tenants, a separate decree for half the amount admitted could not be made against the defendant who made the admission. Chundereshwur Narain Pershad v. Chuni Ahir 9 C L R 359

(7) ADMISSION MADE BY ONE CO-SHARER.

19.—Admission of one co-sharer—Admissibility against others—Evidence Act (I of 1872), S. 18—In a suit brought by a zamindar against his ijardars for rent, a person, who was one of the several jotedars in the mahal, was called as a witness on behalf of the zemindar and admitted the fact of an arrangement whereby he and his other co-jotedars had agreed to pay the rent to the zemindar direct. The suit was decided in favour of the zamindar. The ijardars then brought a suit, against the jotedar who had deposed as above together with his co sharers, to recover the sum which the jotedars ought to have paid direct to the zamindar, and which the ijaradars had been decreed to pay. The jotedar disclaimed all liability. In this suit the evidence given by the jotedar in the zamindar's suit was received a evidence on behalf of the plaintiffs against all the defendants:—Held that the evidence was admissible. Kowsulliah Sundari Dasi v Mukta Sundari Dasi 11 Calc 588.

Admission-Contd.

(1) Admission in Statements and Pleading —Contd.

19 A—Evidence of partition—Statement: by father in deeds to which sons not parties.)

Statements made by a Hindu father in deeds to which his sons were not parties, that he and his sons were in union, are not evidence against the sons in a suit in which the point at issue is whether or not the father and sons were separate. Ravji v. Shahajiram 7 B P J 171.

(8) INDIVISIBILITY of AS EVIDENCE.

20—Indivisibility of as evidence—Whole admission.

Where a person uses the admission of another as evidence, the whole admission must be put in. He cannot put in half and exclude the other half. Those who have to decide upon the evidence are not bound to believe the whole of the statement. Nilmoney Singh Deo v Ramanoograh Roy 7 W R 29.

Goloke Chunder Chowdhry v Magistrate of Chittagong 25 W R Cr 15.

Notes:—Ap: 22 W R 220. Con; 16 W R 257. Ref: 9 W R 290. Fol 12 W R 194.

21.—Plaintiff relying on admission of defendant.

A plaintiff abandoning his own case and falling back on the admissions of the defendant is bound to take these admissions as they stand and in their entirety. Tarinee Pershad Sein v Dwarkanath Rukheet 15 W R 451.

22.—Effect of, as to co-defendants.

A defendant's admission, if taken at all, must be taken as a whole; but it cannot bind co-defendants. Niamutoollah Khadim v Himmut Ali Khadim 22 W R 519.

23.—Pleadings.—

The rule that when an admission is relied upon by a party to a suit as against his opponent it must be taken in its entirety, does not apply to pleadings. Brojo Raj Kishoree v Bishonath Dutt W R 1864, 305.

24.—Admitssions by or against third persons.

—Admission in Settlement record as to plaintiff being non-hereditary cultivator.

Admission-Contd.

(1) Admission in Statements and Pleading —Contd.

An entry in a settlement record and an admission by the deceased father of the plaintiff that the plaintiff was a non-hereditary cultivator are not conclusive evidence of the plaintiff's status.

Azim v Mane Khan 25 P R 1871.

24. A—Pleadings.

A statement under Act VIII of 1859 is not in the nature of confession and avoidance as in English pleading, where the confession is considered as an admission of the party, and the avoidance has to be proved. The statement of one party, if used as evidence against him by the other, must be taken altogether, and not in part.

Probhoo Doss v Sheonath Roy W. R. 1864 Act X 27.

Sooltan Ali v Chand Bibe 9 W. R 130.

(9) QUALIFIED STATEMENT.

25.—Qualified statement—Written statement.—Per Macpherson J

The opinion of the Full Bench in 9 W R, 90, was that if a party makes a qualified statement, that statement cannot be used against him apart from the qualification: not that, if a man makes a series of independent unqualified statements, those statements cannot be used against him. That case goes no further than to lay down that an unfair use is not to be made of a man's written statement by trying to convert into an admission by him that which he never intended to be an admission. Baikantanath Koomar v Chandramohan Chowdhry 1 B L R A C, 133 =10 W R 190.

See Pulin Beharee Sen v Watson B L R Sup Vol 904, 9 W R 190.

Sooltan Ali v Chand Bibee 9 W R 130.

Judoonath Roy v Buroda Kant Roy 22 W R 220.

(10) ADMISSION IN PLEADING.

26.—Admission in pleading—Description of plaintiff.—

In an action of contract brought by the assignee of a bankrupt against a debtor, the defendant pleaded that he had not contracted "in the manner the plaintiff assignee as aforesaid stated" Held that the form of plea was not an admission of the plaintiff's title as assignee, but was only used in reference to the description the plaintiff had given of himself in the declaration.

Clark v Rouplall Mullick and Clark v Doorgamoney Dossee 2 Moore's I A 263.

27.—Onus of proof.—

In a suit for confirmation of possession of, and declaration of title to, land alleged to have been purchased at a private sale from the wife (S S) of a judgment-debtor who had come into possession of the land by gift from her husband, defendants claimed to be bona fide purchasers from S S, to whom, thay alleged, the property really belonged, and who had been all along in possession. The substance of the defence was that, "even granting that any such papers" (as a hubbah and a deed of sale) "were written between the parties, this can avail the plaintiff nothing, as the deeds were fraudulent." Held that there was no such admission on the part of the defendants as shifted the burden of proof upon themselves. Hurish Chunder Paul v Radhanath Sein 11 W R 328.

(11) AGREEMENT ADMITTED IN PLEADING.

28.—Agreement admitted in pleading—Where, in a suit for specific performance of an agreement, the defendant admitted in his written statement the terms of the agreement and its execution.—Held that the plaintiff was not called upon to prove the execution of the agreement or to put it in evidence. Burjorji Cursetji Panthaki v Muncherji Kuverji 5 Bom 143.

Notes:—Fol: 24 Cal 20 ; 7 Bom 310. Dist: 20 Bom 553. Ref. 12 Mad 505 , 13 Mad 308 : 21 Bom 704, 22 Bom 788, 13 C W N 326.

(12) ADMISSION OF TITLE IN PLEADING.

29—Admission of title in pleading—Suit for possession of land—Plea of limitation.—

The circumstance that the defendant has in his written answer set up a defence merely of the statute of limitations in a suit for the possession of land does not constitute an admission of the title of the plaintiff so as to dispense with the obligation on the plaintiff to prove his title.

Soonatun Saha v. Ramjoy Saha. Marsh 549.

Admission-Contd.

(1) Admission in Statements and Pleading —Contd.

(13) ADMISSION IN WRITTEN STATEMENT OF DEFENDANT.

30—Admission in written statement of defendant.

When a defendant admits any one facts contained in the written statement of the plaintiff, and thereby excludes independent evidence thereof, he is not entitled to say that the plaintiff has relied on his statement as evidence, and that the (defendant) is in consequence in a position to claim that the whole of it may be read as evidence in his own favour Shurfuraz Mollah v Dhunoo [16 W R 257.

(14) ADMISSION IN WRITTEN STATEMENT

31—Admission in written statement—Validity of deed, proof of—Onus probandi.—The plaintiff purchased a house from the defendant under a deed of sale dated 23rd June 1886. In a suit to recover possession of the house, the defendant pleaded that the sale-deed was invalid for want of consideration—Held that the mere admission in the defendant's written statement of the execution of the sale-deed did not dispense with the necessity of establishing affirmatively the validity of the deed, which was expressly impugned by the defendant. Javanmal Jitmal v Muktabai 14 Bom 516

Notes—Ref 9 Bom L R 917 F B, 31 Bom 630 F B, 26 Mad 440.

(14 a) ADMISSION IN VARIFIED PETITION.

32—Admission in varified petition.

An admission made in a verified petition by an intervenor in an Act X suit, and repeated in a verified plaint filed by him in a regular suit, was held to be binding in a subsequent suit on the party who made it. Grish Chunder Lahoree v Shama Churn Sandyal. 15 W R 437.

(15) ADMISSION BY NOT TRAVERSING ALLEGATION.

33—Admission by not traversing allegations.

A defendant must be taken to admit all material allegations in the plaint which he does not traverse. Yeknath Babaji v Gulabchand Kahangi. 1 B H C 85.

Ahmehdee Begum v. Dabee Persad. 18 W R 287.

Admission-Contd.

(1) Admission in Statements and Pleading —Contd.

(16) NOT TRAVERSING ALLEGATIONS.

34—Not traversing allegations.

The mere fact that an allegation is not traversed does not relieve a plaintiff from the burden of proving his case. Mulji Bechar v Anupram Bechar. 7 B H C 136.

Hameedoollah v Genda Lall 17 W R 171.

35—In a suit for enhancement of rent a defendant is not bound to traverse a statement made by the plaintiff in the notice of enhancement as to the description of the land in question. The doctrine of admission by non-traverse was not applicable to written statements filed under Act X of 1859. Shadhoo Singh v Ramanoo graha Lall. 9 W R 83.

Notes.—Ap. 21 Cal 986. Fol : 23 Bom 698. Dist. 15 W R 240. Ex: 13 W R 346.

(17) WRITTEN STATEMENT.

36—Written statement—Entire statement.

Where defendant's written statement is referred to as evidence in plaintiff's father the whole of it becomes evidence in the suit, and the Court can, in its discretion, attach thereto, or to any portion thereof, so much value as seems to fit.

Radha Churn Chowdhry v Chunder Monee Shikdar. 9 W R 290.

Notes:—Con: 16 W R 257.

(18) DISCLAIMER OF TITLE.

37—Disclaimer of title—Pleadings—Admission by one of several defendants—Relinquishment—Disclaimer of title.

R, holding estates in Bengal jointly with his brothers as an undivided Hindu family, died leaving a widow, S, and three unmarried daughters, B, M. and N. On her husband's death, S continued to reside with his brothers, and was supported out of the income of the joint estate. All the daughters married in the lifetime of S, and B became a widow without having had a child. After the death of S, and in the lifetime of M, N also became a childless widow. M died after her mother, leaving a son. R K. R K, on attaining majority, sued to recover, with mesne profits, a 4-anna share of the ancestral estates to which he claimed to be entitled on his mother's death as heir of R. and from which he alleged he had been dispossessed by the representatives of R's brothers, whom he made defendants in the suit, joining B and N, with them as co-defendants. Some time after the institution of the suit, a petition was filed purporting to proceed from B and N, by which they admitted that the plaintiff was the heir of R, and that they had no defence to offer. Held that, N being the heir of R, R K had not during her lifetime, any right to any part of the estate, and that his position was not altered by the petition purporting to proceed form B and N, such petition not amounting to a conveyance or disclaimer of title in his favour. In the English Common Law Courts, and a fortiori, in the Courts of Law in India, where the pleadings are less technical, an admission of a fact on the pleadings by implication is not an admission for any other purpose than that of the particular issue, and is not tanta mount to proof of the fact. An admission or even a confession of judgment by one of several defendants in a suit is no evidence against another defendant- Amirtolall Bose v. Rojonee Kant Mitter 15 B. L R, 10= 23 W R 214; L R 2 I A 113.

Admission-Contd.

(1) Admission in Statements and Pleading —Contd.

38—Inheritance—Relinquishment——Admission on pleadings.

A plaintiff, suing two defendants M and L for possession of certain property by right of inheritence, admitted in his plaint the right by inheritence of the defendant M to a moiety of the property, and only made him a defendant because he would not join in bringing the suit. The claim, however was for the entire property. The defendant M filed a written statement setting forth that he had long ago willingly resigned all his rights in favour of the plaintiff, and that the suit had been instituted with his consent. Held that, this statement was only an admission by M of the plaintiff's title. which could not be used against the other defendant L so as to entitle the plaintiff to a decree for the entire estate ; that since L did not set up M's title to defeat the plaintiff,he could not be affected by M's disclaimer ; and that the plaintiff could not be allowed in this suit to obtain M's share as his representative, for that would be to decree him the share on a title he never set up. Amirtolall Bose v Rojoneekant Mitter, 15 B L R 10, referred to. Lachman Singh v Tansukh. 6 All 395.

Admission-Contd.

(1) Admission in Statements and Pleading —Contd.

(19) UNTRAVERSED ALLEGATIONS.

39—Untraversed allegations—Suit to set aside sale.

In a suit to set aside a sale in execution of decree on the ground of fraud.—Held, applying the principle that pleadings should not be construed too strictly, that the defendants could not be held, by reason of their not having denied it, to have admitted the truth of the plaintiff's allegation as to the date upon which knowledge of the fraud was acquired. Natha Singh v Jodha Singh. 6 All 406.

Notes—Dist: 14 All 498. Ref: 5 C L J 385 ; 34 Cal 241.

(20) ADMISSION BY CO-DEFENDANT, EFFECT OF.

40—Admission by co-defendant, Effect of—Suit for possession of land.

In a suit for possession of immoveable property brought by three Mahomedan brothers, their three sisters were impleaded as defendants under s. 32 of the Civil Procedure Code, and two of the latter subsequently filed a written statement in which, after stating that they were on good terms with their brothers, the plaintiffs, and that the suit had been instituted with their knowledge and permission, they prayed that the suit might be decreed, subject to the condition that they would, on some future occasion, "settle with their own brothers as to their right and costs." The third sister did not appear to defend the suit. Held that, the Lower Courts were wrong in treating this admission as sufficient to entitle the plaintiffs to a decree for possession, not only of their own share, but also of the shares of their three sisters, it being a fundamental proposition connected with the administration of justice that a plaintiff cannot sue for more than his own right, and that no defendant can, by an admission of consent of this kind, convey the right or delegate the authority to sue for more than his own share in property. Lachman Singh v Tansikh, 6 All 395, referred to. Azizullah Khan v Ahmad Ali Khan, 7 All 353.

Notes:—Ap: 16 All 225 Dist: 23 All 432 Fol; 9 Bom L R 188.

Admission-Contd.

(1) Admission in Statements and Pleading —Concld.

(21) REQUEST TO VERIFY SIGNATURE TO PETITION.

41—Request to verify signature to petition——Evidence of statements made in petition.

Where a party asks others to verify his signature to a petition or to identify him as one of the petitioners, it amounts to an allegation on his party that he made the statements which appear in the petition, and is as effective evidence against the party making the request as if the petition were in fact filed. Mohun Sahoo v Chutoo Mowar 21 W R 34.

(22) PETITION, STATEMENT IN.

42—Petition, statement in—Suit to set aside deeds—

Defendant claimed to hold a mokurari tenure under deeds executed by plaintiff, zamindar. The plaintiff denied the authenticity of the deeds, and sued to set them aside. The Lower Courts dismissed his suit as barred by limitation, on the ground that plaintiff had, in a petition before the Collector,admitted that defendant was mokurarridar of the tenure, and that, this being so, limitation run against him from the date of the deeds. Held, that the case should have been tried on the merits, as the petition was not a conclusive admission of genuineness of the deeds, and it was not right to infer from it that plaintiff knew of their existence at the time of their professed date. Prohlad Sen v Run Bahadur Sing. 2B L R, P C, III; 12 W R 6; 11 Moore's I A 289.

43—S 21 cls (1) and (3) S 32 (5) and S 157—Admission by plaintiff—When admissible in his favour—Statement in previous deposition. When the plaintiffs sought to establish their pedigree by proving inter alia that A and B were brothers. Held, that a statement to that effect made by one of the plaintiffs, in a deposition given long before the controversy in suit arose, was admissible in evidence. Jadu Nath v Mahendra Nath 12 C W N 266.

(2) ADMISSION BY OR AGAINST, THIRD PERSONS.

(1) Admission, effect of, against person not party to suit.

44—Admission, effect of, against person not party to suit—Held that the fact of defendants being allowed to appear as co-plaintiffs in a redemption suit, to which plaintiff was no party, cannot be received in evidence as an admission adverse to plaintiff's interest; and the admission made by the plaintiff's brother, and "lumberdar" cannot, merely on account of his being such, be held as binding against the plaintiff, unless it be shown that he was invested by plaintiff with sufficient authority in that behalf. Bucha v Lulee. 2 Agra, 20.

45—S. 21—Statement in sale certificate prepared from the information of the party himself—Admissibility against a stranger. A statement in a sale certificate as to the amount of rent payable in respect of the holding in dispute at a sale in execution of a decree obtained by the plaintiff against a former tenant, prepared on information furnished by the party himself can be used on his behalf and against a stranger only if it falls under one of the exceptions to S. 21 of the Evidence Act. Ramani Pershad Narain Singh v Mahanth Adaiya Gossain. 31 Cal 380.

(2) Persons without title.

46—Persons without title—Suit for redemption—In a suit for redemption the admission of a person having no title to the estate in question in the suit is not admissible against the mortgagor. Muthra Dass v Magh Singh. 2 N W 207.

(3) Guardian, Admission by.

47—Guardian, admission by— Previous transactions—

Although a guardian of two minors may have power to manage or to make a partition of the estate, he has no authority to bind the estate of either of his wards by admission of previous transactions. Suruj Mookhi Konwar v Bhagwati Konwar. 10 C L R 377.

(4) Admission by Executors.

48—Admission by executors—The admissions of the executors of a donor are treated as the admissions of the donor. Dwarkanath Bose v Chundee Churn Mookerjee 1 W R 339.

Notes—Ex. 6 W R Act X 42 Reversed. 4 B L R P C 8.

Admission-Contd.

(2) Admission by or against, third persons—Contd.

49—The admission of one executor to a will would not bind another, nor would the admissions of parties other than the executor bind the estate.

Chunder Kant Mitter v Ramnarain Dey Sirkar. 8 W R 63

(5) ADMISSION BY AGENT.

50—Admission by agent—An agent's admission that he purchased as an agent is evidence against his heirs that the purchase was not made by him on his own account. Goreeboollah Sirkar v Boyd. 2 W R 190.

(6) ADMISSION BY HUSBAND.

51—Admission by husband—Admission of joint character of property—

An admission by the widow's husband that the lease was the joint property of himself and the plaintiff, though not an estoppel, was held to be good evidence to be rebutted by the widow.

Sreenath Nag Mozoomdar v Monmohinee Dossee. 6 W R 35.

(7) ADMISSION OF VAKIL.

52—Admissions of Vakil—Criminal case—Admissions made by a Vakil cannot bind his client in a Criminal case. Queen v Kazim Mundle. 17 W R Cr 49.

(8) ADMISSION BY PLEADER ON BEHALF OF CLIENT.

53—Admission by pleader on behalf of client—Admission made in a statement in a case by a pleader on behalf of his client after full consideration and consultation is admissble as evidence against that client in another case in which he is a party. Comabutter v Pareshnauth Panday. 15 W R 135.

(9) ADMISSION OF PLEADER RECORDED IN JUDGMENT.

54—Admission of pleader recored in judgment—The rule of law is that a judgment deliberately recording the admission of a pleader must be taken as correct, unless it is contradicted by an affidavit or the Judge's own admission that the record he made was wrong. Hur Dyal Singh v Heera Lall. 16 W R 107.

C. C. 33

Admission-Contd.

(2) Admission by or against, third persons—Contd.

(10) ADMISSION BY OWNER AFTER SALE OF PROPERTY.

55—Admission by owner after sale of property—An admission subsequently made by a debtor whose property has been sold is not evidence against the purchaser of the property.

Khemunkuree Chowdhrain v Ghoorchunder Mojoomdar. 5 W R 268.

(11) ADMISSION BY JUDGMENT-DEBTOR.

56 — Admission by judgment-debtor — Purchaser.—

A purchaser in execution of a decree of a Civil or Revenue Court is not bound by any admission made by his execution-debtor, nor ordinarily by a decree against such person.

Rungo Monee Debia v. Raj Coomar Bebee, 6 W R 197.

Imrit Kooer v. Lalla Debee Pershad Singh, 18 W R 200.

Notes:—Dist: 15 W R 237. Ex: 10 C L J 150.

(12) ADMISSION BY MORTGAGOR.

57—Admission by mortgagor—Suit by purchaser for cancellation of mokurari lease.—

Suit by a purchaser from a mortgagee against a durmokuraridar for the cancellation of his mokurari lease granted without authority by the mortgagor. In a former suit brought by the mortgagee for possession the mortgagor admitted the mortgage. Held, that although that admission was conclusive as between the mortgagor and the mortgagee, the colluding parties, yet that in the present case, brought to avoid the defendant's title on the strength of an alleged collusive mortgage, it was quite competent to him to contest its bona fide nature. Donunjoy Dey v. Dwarkanath Singh, 5 W R 280.

(13) ADMISSION BY LUMBERDAR.

58—Admission by lumberdar—Signature in patwari's diary as lumberdar.—

Held, that the plaintiff, being an immediate reversioner, might maintain his suit, and that his contributing his share of profit and putting his signature in the patwari's diary as lumberdar were not an admission of defendant's title as purchaser. Nund Kishore v. Nuthoo Ram, 1 Agra 223.

Admission-Contd.

(2) Admission by or against, third persons—Contd.

(14) ADMISSION BY HEIRS.

58A—Admission by heirs—Admission as to relinquishment of title.—

In a suit by the grandchildren of the deceased daughter of a member of a joint Hindu family, who, though not entitled to his property as his heirs, had been long in possession, the surviving daughter, in whom, according to Hindu law, her father's interest would now be legally vested, admitted by a petition filed in the suit that by her gift or relinquishment plaintiffs had a title to her father's share. The admission was held to be evidence that such title existed anterior to the commencement of the suit. Gour Lall Singh v. Mohesh Narain Ghose, 14 W R 484.

(15) ADMISSION BY ZAMINDAR OF MOKURARI RIGHT.

59 — Admission by zamindar of mokurari right.—

Where tenants sued for a declaration that their holding was mokurari at a given rent, and the surburakar of their zamindar admitted their right on behalf of the zamindar, who himself filed a petition corroborating his surburakar's statement, it was held that these admissions would bind any subsequent zamindar not being an auction-purchaser at a sale for arrears of Government revenue. Watson & Co. v. Nobin Mohun Babu, 10 W R 72.

(16) ADMISSION BY AUCTION-PURCHASER.

60—Admission by auction-purchaser — Admission of title indirectly.—

Where an auction-purchaser in a proceeding before the Collector for the purpose of charging an estate withstands a claim to a mokurari tenure advanced by a tenant, but does not otherwise subsequently legally question the tenant's title, the presumption arises that that title has been allowed by the auction-purchaser. Choonee Mahtoon v. Chatoo Mahtoon, 25 W R 231.

(17) ADMISSION OF LESSOR.

61—Admission of lessor—Lessor and lessee.—The admission of a lessor does not bind a lessee in certain cases in which a bona fide act might have bound. Sutrooghun Dutt v. Brojogopal Ghose, 3 W R 143.

Admission-Contd.

(2) Admission by or against, third persons—Contd.

(18) ADMISSION OF TENANCY.

62— Admission of tenancy — Evidence of tenancy.—

A mere admission by the defendant of plaintiff having purchased a jote is insufficient to prove that he ever was defendant's tenant. Bakur Ali Chowdhry v. Ashkur Ali, 5 W R 156.

(19) ADMISSION BY RAIYAT.

63—Admission by raiyat—Evidence of rate of rent—Similar tenures.—

An admission by one raiyat as to the rate of rent at which he holds is not evidence to prove the rate at which another holds.

Nurrohurry Mohato v. Narainee Dossee, 1 Ind Jur, O S, 9=W R F B 23.

64—Admissions of a respondent are not evidence against the co-respondent in a suit under the Indian Divorce Act.—Gordon v. Gordon, P R 58 of 1870.

(20) ADMISSION OF RATE OF RENT.

65—Admission of rate of rent —

In a suit for arrears of rent at enhanced rates, if plaintiff asks for rates admitted by defendant, he must abide by those intended to be admitted; and if he desire to take advantage of the finding of the Lower Court, he must submit to the whole finding taken altogether. Soorendronath Roy v. Bhyrub Mundul, 14 W R 462.

(21) RETURN OF AMOUNT OF RENT MADE TO COLLECTOR.

66—Return of amount of rent made to Collector—Rate of rent, Evidence of.—

A return made to a Collector by an occupant of land stating the amount of the rent is an admission as to the amount of rent binding upon the occupant and all who claim under him.

Ajudh Beharee Singh v. Ram Roy Tewari, 18 W R 105.

(22) RATE OF RENT, EVIDENCE.

67—Rate of rent, Evidence of—Presumption from conduct of defendant in not raising objection.—In a suit for a kabuliat at enhanced rates after notice under s. 13, Act X of 1859, where the defendants stood by and, though raising a good many objections on other points, raised no question

Admission-Contd.

(2) Admission by or against, third persons—Concld.

as to rates, their conduct and pleadings were held to afford a fair presumption of the admission of the plaintiff's claim as to the rates sued for.

Thakoor Dutt Singh v. Gopal Singh, 14 W R 4.

(23) CONSIDERATION FOR SALE.

68—Consideration for sale—Suit for presumption.—The mere admission of the vendor that an old debt of Rs 50 mentioned in the sale deed formed part of the consideration is not conclusive evidence of the allegation as against parties claiming a right of presumption.

Peera v. Shimbhu, 2 Agra 348.

69—Statement in sale certificate prepared from the information of the party himself—Admissibility against a stranger.

A statement in a sale certificate as to the amount of rent payable in respect of the holding in dispute at a sale in execution of a decree obtained by the plaintiff against a former tenant, prepared on information furnished by the party himself can be used on his behalf and against a stranger only if it falls under one of the exceptions to S. 21 of the Evidence Act.

Ramani Pershad Narain Singh v. Mahanth Adaiya Gossain, 31 Cal 380.

70—Admissions by pleader—Party, how far bound.—

A party is not bound, generally speaking, by a pleader's admission in argument on what is a pure question of law amounting to no more than his view that the question is unarguable.

Narayan v. Venkatacharya. 6 Bom L R 434 =28 Bom 408.

Notes:—Ref: 17 M L J 283.

(3) MISCELLANEOUS CASES.

(1) Verbal admissions as to sum due by defendant.

71—Verbal admissions as to sum due by defendant.—It is a very dangerous thing for a Court to decree in favour of a plaintiff merely upon alleged verbal admissions by the defendant of a sum due without the most clear and cogent proof of such admissions, especially when the plaintiff shrinks from bringing his accounts into Court.

Lalla Sheoparshad v. Juggernath, L R 10 I A 74.

Admission-Contd.

3 Miscellaneous Cases—Contd.

(2) ADMISSION OF RECEIPT OF PURCHASE-MONEY.

72—Admission of receipt of purchase-money—Registration Act, 1866, S. 66, cl. 3.—

An admission before a Registrar of the receipt of purchase-money attested by his endorsement, as required by cl. 3, s. 66, Act XX of 1866, though evidence of the strongest and most reliable description, ought not to be treated as conclusive. In the face of such admission, however, the party seeking to get out of its effects must make out his case by very clear evidence.

Mahomed Haneef Meajee v. Mozhur Ali, 15 W R 280.

(3) ADMISSION IN A MORTGAGE AS TO AMOUNT OF LAND EXCEPTED FROM ITS OPERATION.

73—Mortgage—Admission of land excepted from its operation.—

Debutter land within the limits of a revenue-paying mouzah, had been mortgaged by the defendants to a predecessor in title of the plaintiff. It was exempted from the mortgage. The deed specified the number of bighas making the area of the debutter. Against a plaintiff, who made title to the mortgaged mouzah and claimed possession of all of it that had passed by the mortgage, the mortgagors set up that there was more debutter in the mouzah than the deed had specified, the intention of the parties having been to exempt whatever debutter there actually was:—Held, that the statement in the deed as to the quantity of the debutter was a deliberate admission, imposing upon the mortgagors who had made it the burden of proving that it was not true, or that they were not bound by it; also that the judge's finding that the defendants had not given proof sufficient to discharge themselves of this, was correct. Jarao Kumari v. Lalonmoni, 18 Calc 224=17 I A 145.

Notes:—Dist: 13 C W N 71; 7 C W N 612; 7 C W N 849.

(4) FALSE STATEMENT AS TO SHARE BEING SEPARATE.

74—False statement as to share being separate—Joint family—Misrepresentation.—

In a suit by a member of a joint family to recover possession of certain property alleged to belong to the joint estate, but which had been purchased by the defendant at a sale in execution of a decree passed against the estate of R, one of the members of the family, for his separate debt, the defendant alleged, as showing the property was the separate property of R, that, on one occasion, when R B, the kurta, and a third member of the family, entered into a security bond with the Collector, whereby R pledged the property in suit, and the two others pledged other properties, each of them described the property pledged by him as being in his possession "without the right of any co-sharers". Held, that the misrepresentation as to his separate ownership made by R in the security bond given to the Collecter could not be regarded in the present suit as more than an admission inconsistent with the title now asserted by the plaintiff, the defendant not having purchased on the faith of such misrepresentation. Boodh Singh Dhoodoria v. Gunesh Chunder Sen, 12 B L R, P C, 317= 19 W R 356.

Admission-Contd.

3 Miscellaneous Cases—Contd.

(5) FALSE STATEMENT BY DEFENDANT.

75—False statement by defendant.—

A plaintiff cannot take advantage of a statement made by a defendant which at most amounts to a piece of evidence, and not to an admission, but which is found to be untrue, unless it be shown that the status of the plaintiff had been affected, or that he had been misled by such statement. Grish Chunder Ghose v. Issar Chunder Mookerjee, 3 B L R A C 337= 12 W R 226.

(6) MITIGATION OF EFFECT OF ADMISSION.

76—Mitigation of effect of admission—Showing nature of transaction when made.—

Where a defendant seeks to make use of statements which have been put in evidence and to treat them as admissions by the plaintiff who put them in, it is competent for the plaintiff to show the real nature of the transaction to which they relate and to get rid of the effect of the apparent admissions. Luteefoonissa v. Goor Surun Dass. Phool Bibee v. Goor Surun Dass, 18 W R 485.

Notes:—Fol: 20 W R 112; 9 C L R 64 Ref: 23 Cal 460; 27 Cal 231; 23 Bom 406; 29 Cal 740; 27 Bom 452; 33 Cal 967=10 C W N 650=4 C L J 22.

Admission Contd.

3 Miscellaneous Cases—Contd.

77—Showing real nature of transaction.—

A party claiming under another who has made admissions as to a transaction to which that other was a party, is at liberty to allege and prove that the admissions were made with a fraudulent purpose and were not true, and to show the real nature of the transaction. Sreenath Roy v. Bindoo Bashinee Debia, 20 W R 112.

Notes:—Fol: 9 C L R 64 Ref: 23 Cal 460; 27 Cal 231; 33 Cal 967=10 C W N 650 =4 C L J 22.

(7) EFFECT OF ADMISSIONS NOT ACTED ON.

78—Effect of admissions not acted on—Admissions by person who afterwards adopts another.—A party is not concluded by his own representations unless they have been acted upon by the opposite party. If treated merely as admissions not acted upon, it may be shown by the party who made them that they were not true. Quære—What is the effect of admissions made by a person who subsequently adopts another in binding the person adopted? Brojendro Coomar Roy Chowdhry v. Chairman of the Dacca Municipality, 20 W R 223.

(8) ADMISSION NOT ACTED ON.

79.—Admission not acted on—Decision opposed to admission—A mere admission is not conclusive.

It is so only in certain cases,-e. g., where it has been acted upon by the party to whom it was made. Thus a statement made in a former suit, in which the Court, so far from acting upon it, passed a decree opposed to it, cannot be treated as conclusive. An admission made by defendants' ancestor may be evidence of some weight that may be used against them; but it is only evidence upon which the Court which is trying the suit may act or not according as it considers it ought to have effect given to it. Janan Chowdhry v. Doolar Chowdhry, 18 W R 347.

Notes:—Dist: 5 Cal 259.

Admission-Contd.

3 Miscellaneous Cases—Contd.

79 A—Illatom — Two families living together—No illatom or other family arrangement—Rights inter se—Equal rights based on custom—Effect of custom —Ignorance of legal rights—Admissions made in—Effect.

There is no custom in the District of Nellore that, when two families live together and there are inter-marriages amongst the members thereof, the two families have equal rights in the properties which they hold and enjoy.

Such a custom may be legal, if it originated in an arrangement of the parties concerned or is otherwise dependent on family arrangements.

A custom, to be effective, must be a territorial custom, and isolated cases are of little value, unless it be proved that the two families living together have been united together on equal terms.

An admission of the defendant in favour of the plaintiff in ignorance of her legal rights will not bind her, if, as a matter of fact, the plaintiff had no legal claims. Allareddi Subbamma v Adi Lakshmamma 11 M L T 124=(1912) 1 M W N 178

80— Transaction—Apparent title in one person—Beneficial title in another, how proved—Burden of proof—Acquisition out of funds supplied by alleged beneficiary, necessity to prove—Possession, presumption of title from—Evidence Act, Ss 21, 110—Admission.

Plaintiffs brought this suit to recover a certain coffee garden from their paternal uncle, the defendant. Plaintiffs' father and the defendant had separated and partitioned their ancestral property in 1870 but after their father's death in 1886, the plaintiffs who were young, had lived in the defendant's protection. The plaintiff's case was that the disputed garden had belonged to their father. Previous to the suit, one of the plaintiffs alone, but describing himself as the guardian of his minor brother, had executed a sale deed in favour of the defendant, in which the disputed property was described as having been enjoyed by plaintiffs' father and is belonging to the plaintiffs after his death. It was nobody's case that this was a real sale. The High Court in decreeing the suit in plaintiffs' favour relied inter alia on the document as containing an important admission of plaintiffs' title in the property. Held —That the High Court was right in so using the document. That in order to displace this apparent title, in the plaintiffs and to establish a beneficial title in himself, it was incumbent upon the defendant to show by satisfactory evidence that the funds out of which the garden was purchased and developed were his own funds. Puliyampatti Naranier v Kuppier 9 C W N 89 P C

Admission-Contd.

3 Miscellaneous Cases—Contd.

81—s. 31 Evidence Act.

Although an admission contained in a deed of sale or made before the registrar, that the consideration has been received by the vendor is prima facie evidence against the person making it, it raises only a rebuttable presumption, the weight of which varies with the special circumstances of each case. Sheo Ratan v Abdul Karim 9 W N 142.

82—Admission—Admission by minor son.

In a suit for possession of land by A his admission in a possessory suit when he was a minor of its sale to the defendant by an unregistered document which requires registration does not come within the meaning of S. 65 (b) of the Evidence Act: it can only be got in under S.21 of the Evidence Act when not claiming through his mother, similar admissions made by her in such suit are not in any event admissible against him. A's admission as to the effect of the document made in the possessory suit before the Mamlatdar is not sufficient to dispose with proof of the contents of the document under s. 58 of the Evidence Act.

Balaji Vasudev Habbu v Rudrapa P J (1898) 179.

83—Insufficiently stamped promissory note.

In a suit on a promissory note, inadmissible in evidence on account of its having been stamped subsequently to its execution, an admission by the defendant in Court, of its execution and of the receipt of the consideration is sufficient to entitle the plaintiff to a decree. Bhagvan v Paul 1882 P J 279.

84—Withdrawal of—A gratuitous admission may be withdrawn unless there is some obligation not to withdraw it. Jangi Nath v Janki Nath 2 A L J 225.

Admission-Concld.

3 Miscellaneous Cases—Concld

85—Admission in the judgment, when a party can question.

It is not open to the party to challenge the accuracy of his admission contained in the judgment, in the court of appeal, if the admission was not as a matter of fact made, or if it was substantially different from that it was taken by the Court to be, the proper course for the party is to apply for a review of judgment.

Mirza Shamsher v Kunj Behari Lall 7 C L J 414 = 12 C W N 273.

86—Pleader—Conduct of suit—Client.

When a pleader in the conduct of a suit makes admissions on behalf of a client is bound by such admissions. Berkeley v Musammat Chittur Kooer 5 N W P 2.

(9) PERSONS WITHOUT TITLE.

87 88—Persons without title Suit for redemption In a suit for redemption the admission of a person having no title to the estate in question in the suit is not admissible against the mortgagor. Muthra Dass v Magh Singh 2 N W 207.

Admission by agent.

See Admission by or against third persons

Admission by a party.

See Admission.

Admission by auction purchaser.

See Admission by or against third persons

Admission by co-defendant.

See Admission statement and pleading

Admission by defendant.

See Admission

Admission by executors.

See Admission by or against third persons.

Admission by heirs.

See Admission by or against third persons.

Admission by husband.

See Admission by or against third persons.

Admission by Lumberdar.

See Admission by or against third persons.

Admission by mortgagor.

See Admission by or against third persons

Admission by not traversing allegations.

See Admission statement and pleading.

Admission by one defendant relavent against other defendants.

See Admission.

Admissions by or against third persons.

See (1) Admissions.

Admission by pleader on behalf of client.

See Admission by or against third persons.

Admission by raiyat.

See Admission by or against third persons.

Admisson by several joint tenants

See Admission statements in pleading.

Admission by zamindar of mokurari right.

See Admission by or against third persons.

Admission, effect of against person not party to suit.

See Admission by or against third persons.

Admission in a mortgage as to amount of land excepted from its operation.

See Admission.

Admission in pleading.

See Admission statements and pleading

Admission in former suit.

See Admission statement pleading.

Admissions in statements and pleading.

See Admission.

Admission in verified petition.

See Admission statement and pleading.

Admission in written statement of defendant.

See Admission statememt and pleading.

Admission made arguando.

See Admission.

Admission made by one co-sharer

See Admission statements and pleadings

Admission made in former arbitration proceeding.

See Admission statements in pleading.

Admission not acted on.

See Admission.

Admission not amounting to estoppel.

See Admission estoppel

Admission of appeal after time.

See Limitation Act.

Admission of document in evidence; subsequent rejection too late.

See Evidence—Civil cases—Miscellaneous documents.

Admission of Jenmi's title.

See Admission.

Admission of lessor.

See Admission by or against third persons.

Admission of liability contained in a memorandum of appeal in a different suit.

See Admission.

Admission of part of claim.

See Variance between pleading and proof.

Admission of plaint.

See Plaint.

Admission of pleader recorded in judgment.

See Admission by or against third persons.

Admission of rate of rent.

See Admission by or against third persons.

Admission of receipt of purchase-money.

See Admission.

Admission of tenancy.

See Admission by or against third persons.

Admission of tenancy, effect of.

See (1) Landlord & tenant.

(2) Admission.

Admission of title in pleading.

See Admission statement and pleading.

Admission of unstamped in evidence on payment of stamp duty & penalty.

See (1) Stamp Act.

(2) Evidence—Civil cases-Secondary evidence—Unstamped or unregistered documents.

Admission of vakil.

See Admission by or against third persons

Admission on appeal of evidence rejected by lower court.

See Appellate Court Rejection or admission of evidence admitted or rejected by court below

Admission of point of law.

See (1) Estoppel.
(2) Admission
(3) Pleader—Authority of, to bind client

Admission or rejection of evidence

See Special and second appeal

Admission or summary rejection of appeal.

See Special & second appeal.

1-Punjab Tenancy Act XXVIII of 1868, S 5-Admission by occupancy tenant's ancestor prior to Act—Effect of admission against successor—In a suit brought by the plaintiff to establish his right of occupancy under s 5 of the Punjab Tenancy Act (XXVIII of 1868) it was found that his ancestor had made an admission (which was recorded at a settlement prior to the passing of Tenancy Act) to the effect that he was a tenant at will, Held that this admission was not necessarily a bar to his suit Nihalu v Mehtab Khan, 2 P R 1879

Notes —Dist 24 P R 1883

Admission—General—made unaware of the circumstances—Not binding—See Ben Act VIII Of 1885, ss. 163, 186 A, 9 Ind Cas 806

Admission General—The express of a party to a suit—Right of party to show that those admissions were mistaken or not true—See Burden of Proof—Possession And Proof Of Title. 4 A L J 102 P C = 11 C W N 321 = 5 C L J 115 = 17 M L J 103 = 2 M L T 109 = 9 Bom L R 267 = 29 All 184.

Admission-General-Concld.

Admission—General—of mortgage debt by minor after becoming major—Ratification—Whether decree can be based on—Guardian-Duties And Powers Of Guardian,

Admission—General—Admission by one defendant how far binding other defendants—Conduct, admission not amounting to-Legitimacy. I O C Sup 49.

Admission General—Mortgage 18 Cal 224 = 17 I A 145 P C.

Admission—General—by mortgagee cannot operate to make mortgage redeemable which by law was irredeemable at the time when the admission was made—Mortgage-Redemption 11 O C 285

Admission-General—of and decree against, father binding on son Pre-emption 157 P W R 1909

Admission—General—Effect of admission of defendant in suit based on unregistered document inadmissible in evidence—See Registration Act 1908 S. 17.

Admission—General—Sale of immoveable property by registered deed—Prior sale of same property by unregistered deed-Suit for possession by purchaser under registered deed-Admissibility of—Before registration officer to prove prior sale—See Registration Act, 1908, s 49

Admission General-Statement in plaint unchallenged and made by putnidar after transfer of interest not binding upon transferee—Ben. Reg. VIII of 1819, ss 13, 14, cl. 4,

Admission—General-of transaction effected registrable but unregistered instrument, effect of —Admission on point of law—Estoppel—Sale 3 N L R 72.

Admission—General—When not binding—Statement made by several persons representing all the proprietors—Effect—See Shamilat

Adna & Ala Malik.

See Ala and Adna Maliks

Adna Malik.

See Custom—Punjab Inheritance.

Adopted son's right to impeach alienation unnecessarily made by his adoptive mother before his adoption.

See Hindu Law—Alienation & Adoption.

Adoption.

See (1) Burmese law
(2) Hindu law (Adoption)
(3) Limitation Act Arts 91 120,141,118,119
(4) Custom (Punjab) Adoption
(5) Declaratory Decrees, suit for-Adoption
(6) Valuation of suits
(7) Evidence Onus of proof
(8) Hindu Law-Custom-Adoption
(9) Hindu Law-Will Construction
(10) Malbar Law-Adoption
(11) Malbar Law Custom
(12) Succession Certificate Act Ss 6 7 and 9
(13) Vested and contingent Interests.
(14) Wajib ul-arz

1—Adoption, suit setting up—Non production of account books connected with the ceremony—Burden of proof

In the suit the allegation of the respondent that he was adopted 20 years before the trial was in issue The parties were all Bohra Brahmins, who followed the business of money lending No effort was shown to have been made by either side to produce the account-books no search for them, or loss of them was proved no explanation given why they were not forth coming

Held, that having regard to the well known and often proved habits of the Indian people with regard to the keeping of accounts recording their most minute transactions, the non production of any book in which anything connected with the ceremony of adoption was entered, covered the respondent's case with suspicion

Held, also, that the burden of proving the alleged adoption rested upon the respondent and that (on the evidence) he had failed to discharge it. Musammat Lal Kunvar v Chiranji Lal 11 C L J 172=7 M L T 57

2.—Widow—Adoption—Alienation by the widow before adoption—Right of the adopted son to dispute the alienation

Where a Hindu widow who has inherited her husband's property, adopts a son, the adoption has the effect of divesting her of the property and putting an end to her estate as heir of her husband The adoption has the same effect as her death, with the difference, that, after the adoption, she has a right of maintenance against the adopted son during the rest of her life, whereas such right ceases on her death But the right of the maintenance, so long as it is not a charge on the estate or any portion of it does not confer on her any right to the estate or entitle her to transfer it by way of sale or mortgage

Adoption-Contd.

If the widow, before the adoption, severs a portion of the inheritance therefrom and transfer it to a stranger, without any proper or necessary purpose binding the estate absolutely according to Hindu Law, the transfer, logically speaking must cease to have any effect after the adoption, since it could only operate during the time that the estate was respresented by her as heir, and the result of the adoption is to terminate that estate (11 Bom 909 19 Bom 809 Fol 26 Mad 143 not fol

Ramakrishna Kuppusawmi v Tripurabai Kuppusawmi 10 Bom L R 1029=33 Bom 88

3—Re married mother—Power to give in adoption son by first husband—Hindu Widows Re marriage Act (XV of 1856)—S had a daughter B, who with her husband A and son M plaintiff lived with him

S had a wife P, the step mother of B S intended from the first to adopt the plaintiff, and for three years after his death, B P and A used to live in the family house as before, and P continued to treat the plaintiff as before as the son of S. P then went through a formal adoption ceremony in which plaintiff was given by his mother B who had at this date contracted a re-marriage, A having died some years back The adoption was challenged on the ground that B, owing to her re-marriage had lost the right of giving her son (plaintiff) in adoption.

Held, that the adoption was good, as there was evidence of an express authority from A to B to give the plaintiff in adoption to S

According to Hindu Law, a mother who has contracted a re marriage does not forfeit her right to give in adoption her son by her first husband And the Hindu Widows Re marriage Act, 1856, does not afford any indication that the Legislature intended to deprive her of the right 24 Bom 89=1 Bom L R 543 cons. Putlabai Sadashiv v Mahadu Sadashiv.

10 Bom L R 1134=33 Bom 107=1 Ind Cas 659.

Adoption - Concld.

4.—Hindu Law—Adoption—Presumption—Conduct of parties.

When a question is raised as to whether an adoption was ever made, and if made whether made under necessary authority and with the usual formalities, a presumption will be made in favour of the adoption only if it is established that there was an initial probability in favour of a valid adoption, and if the conduct of the parties cognisant of the fact has been at least consistent with such practice Har Sankar Partab Singh v Lal Raghuraj Singh. 6 C L J 13=4 A L J 497=11 C W N 841=9 Bom L R 757=17 M L J 354=99 All 519 31 I A 125 (P C.)

5.—Adopted son having a son—The son remains in the family of his birth

When a married Hindu having a son is given in adoption by his natural father he alone passes into the family of his adoptive father His son does not pass and lose his gotra and rights of inheritance in the family of his birth Kalgauda Tavanappa Patil v Somappa Tammangauda Patil. 11 Bom L R 797—33 Bom 669.

6 -Authority—Registration Act S 17 and Oral Evidence.—An authority to adopt which is in writing and not contained in a will must be compulsorily registered under Ss 17 and 49 of the Registration Act. Quare — Whether oral evidence is admissible where an authority to adopt compulsorily registrable is not registered Somasundara Mudali v Duraisami Mudaliar 13 M L J 283=27 Mad 30.

See also Cases under —Registration act s 17

Adoption-Suit for declaration that adoption is invalid—Property affected more than 5,000 Rs.—Jurisdiction — Conversion from Hindu Law to Mahomedanism—Presumption as to custom of, in Mahomedan Law 13 Bom L R 251

Adoption invalid—Possession under—Status not altered by. 21 M L J 500

Adoption—Suit for declaration that adoption was invalid dismissed as time-barred—Whether plaintiff can get a decree for possession 8 A L J 1101

Adoption—Suit to set aside will reciting adoption-Will revoked—Suit still maintainable 61 P L R 1909=81 P W R 1909=4 Ind Cas 482.

Adoption a Condition precedent to the boy taking under the will.

See (1) Hindu law-will.
(2) Inheritance.

Adoption among Brahmans.

See (1) Hindu Law adoption
(2) Requisites for adoption.

Adoption by Daughter-in-law

See Hindu Law-Adoption-Who may or may not adopt

Adoption by Deceased's widow.

See Hindu law-Adoption-Who may or may not adopt

Adoption by elder brother's widow after younger brother's death.

See Hindu law Adoption-Who may Or may not adopt.

Adoption by grand-mother without the consent of her daughter-in law.

See (1) Hindu law-Adoption-Who may or may not adopt
(2) Hindu law—Adoption Second, simultaneous or conditional adoption

Adoption by karnavan for a Marumakk atayam tarwad.

See Malabar law adoption

Adoption by last member of a Nambudri illom.

See Malabar Law—Adoption

Adoption by mother after the death of her son, who has left neither child nor widow

See (1) Hindu Law—Adoption Who may or who may not adopt.
(2) Hindu Law—Adoption second, simultaneous (conditional adoption)

Adoption by mother who has succeeded as heir to her son after the death of his widow.

See Hindu Law—Adoption—Who may or may not adopt.

Adoption by Naikin or dancing girl

See Hindu Law—Adoption—Who may or who not adopt.

Adoption by son's senior widow without consent of junior widow.

See Hindu Law—Adoption—Who may or may not adopt.

Adoption by temple dancing woman.

See (1) Hindu Law Adoption-Who may or may not adopt.
(2) Hindu Law Custom adoption.

Adoption by unmarried man.

See Hindu Law—Adoption-Who may or may not adopt.

Adoption by unlonsured widow.

See (1) Hindu Law-Adoption-Who may or may not adopt.
(2) Hindu Law—Adoption-Requisites for adoption
(3) Hindu Law-Custom-adoption.

Adoption by widow.

See Hindu Law—Adoption-Who may or may not adopt.

Adoption by widow whose husband died while a minor.

See Hindu Law-Adoption Who may or may not adopt.

Adoption by widow relating back to her husband's death.

See Hindu Law-Adoption-Who may or may not adopt.

Adoption by widow with express authority from her husband to adopt.

See (1) Hindu Law-Adoption-Who may or may not adopt.
(2) Hindu Law Adoption-Requisites for adoption.

Adoption by younger widow without consent of elder widow invalid although child selected by both widows.

See (1)Hindu Law-Adoption-Who may or may not adopt.
(2) Hindu Law Adoption—Requisites for adoption.

Adoption by zamindar in conjunction with one of his two wives.

See Hindu Law-Adoption—Who may or may not adopt.

Adoption, caste custom prohibiting.

See Hindu Law-Custom-Adoption.

Adoption directed by will.

See Hindu Law. Will-Construction of wills-Adoption.

Adoption directed to be made not by the testator's widow but by son's widow.

See Hindu law-Will-construction of wills Adoption.

Adoption divesting an estate which had already vested in another persen.

See Hindu Law-Adoption.Effect of adoption.

Adoption during pollution of adoptive purent.

See Hindu law-Adoption-Requisites for adoption.

Adoption during pregnancy of wife.

See Hindu Law-Adoption.

Adoption from corrupt and improper motives.

See Hindu Law-Adoption-Who may or may not adopt.

Adoption in a united family.

See Hindu Law-Adoption.

Adoption in dwya mushyayana form.

See Hindu law-Adoption.

Adoption in Gujrat.

See Hindu Law. Adoption.

Adoption, injunction to restrain.

See (1) Hindu Law-Adoption.-Who may or may not adopt.

(2) Injunction-Special cases.

Adoption made by a widow to defeat the claim of her co-widow to a share in her husband's estate.

See Hindu Law-Adoption—Who may or may not adopt.

Adoption made the day after the adoptive father made his will.

See (1) Hindu Law-Adoption-—who may or may not adopt.

(2) Hindu Law-Adoption-Requisites for Adoption.

Adoption made on under-standing that the Dis-positions of the will be observed

See (1) Hindu Law-Will-Construction of wills-Adoption.

(2) Hindu Law-Adoption-Second simultaneous or conditional adoptions.

Adoption, necessity of, there being gift and acceptance of the adopted child.

See Hindu Law-Adoption-Requisites for adoption.

Adoption of a girl by temple dancing woman.

See Hindu Law-Adoption—Who may or may not be adopted.

Adoption of an adault.

See (1) Hindu Law-Adoption-Who may or may not be adopted.

(2) Malabar Law-Adoption.

Adoption of an only son.

See Hindu Law-Adoption-Who may or may not be adopted.

Adoption of daughter.

See Hindu Law -Adoption-Who may or may not be adopted.

Adoption of Devadasi for illegal purpose.

See Hindu Law—Adoption-Who may or may not be adopted.

Adoption of more than one daughter at a time.

See Hindn Law—Adoption-Who may or may not be adopted.

Adoption of sister's son.

See Hindu Law-Adoption-Who may or may not be adopted.

Adoptions.

See Declaratory Decree.

Adoptive mother under pollution.

See (1) Hindu Law-Who may or may not adopt.

(2) Hindu Law-Adoption-Requisites for adoption.

Adoptive Parents.

See Hindu Law—Guardian—Right of Guardianship.

Adoptive son bound by the will of testator.

See Hindu Law—Will—Construction of wills-adoption.

Adultery.

See

(1) Divorce Act 1869.
(2) Muhammadan Law, Inheritance.
(3) Marriage.
(4) Restitution of conjugal rights.
(5) Husband and Wife.
(6) Hindu Law (Illegitimacy.)
(7) Mahomedan Law (Illegitimacy).
(8) Act IV of 1869.

Adultery -Concld.

Adultery—of partner with wife of co-partner.

See Partnership.

1—Divorce—Adultery of petitioner—Divorce, refusal of.

Adultery of petitioner is a legal ground on which the Court can refuse the petition for divorce. Rufas v Rufas. 2 Bom L R 690
Meherbal v Hormasji. 10 Bom L R 1019

2—Divorce—Judicial separation—Condoning of adultery, effect of.

The ordinary rule is that no relief should be granted to a party who has himself or herself committed adultery. The fact that the adultery was condoned by the wife is not, of itself, sufficient ground for absolving the husband from the ordinary rule. The ordinary rule may be relaxed in favour of a wife who seeks a judicial separation, but no relief of any sort can be granted to a guilty wife except under very special circumstances. Mrs A v Mr A, 8 Ind Cas 960.

3—Attempt to commit adultery—Actionable wrong.

An attempt to commit adultery is not by itself an actionable wrong. Kathappudayan v Muthappudayan, 10 M L J 230.

Adultery—Application to cancel order for maintenance of wife—Evidence of adultery—Maintenance. A W N 1893, 56

Adultery—Suit for dissolution of marriage on the ground of wife's adultery—Power to order discovery of documents in the possession of petitioner—Civil Procedure Code.
C. P. C. 1908 O VII r 14 and O XI, rr 12,13, 11 P R 1902,

Adultery—Damages—House trespass with intent to commit adultery—Adultery not committed—Right to compensation for house-trespass—Damages—Measure And Assessment. 10 M L J 230.

Advalorem fee

See (1) Stamp Act,
(2) Court fees Act.

Advancement.

See (1) English Law.
(2) Parsis.

1—Presumption of—Purchase in wife's name with husband's money—Application of the doctrine to Portuguese in Bombay:

The doctrine of presumption of advancement does not apply where the wife herself purchases with her husband's money in her own name. It can apply only when the husband buys in his wife's name. Quere:—Whether the doctrine applies to the Portuguese in Bombay
De Silva v DeSilva 4 Bom L R 849 = 27 Bom 103 at 112

2—Purchase by husband in the name of wife—Presumption of advancement or—Gift to wife.

According to the law as prevailing in the Bombay Presidency, a purchase by a husband in the name of his wife does not raise any presumption of a gift to the wife or of an advancement for her benefit. Motivahu v Purshotum 6 Bom L R 975 = 29 Bom 306.

Advancement.—Property acquired by ancestor in the name of his wife after waqf—Whether—Mahomedan Law—Waqf. 26 All 272.

Advancement out of minor legatee's share for his benefit.

See Succession Act.

Advances by factor on consignment.

See (1) Principal and agent.
(2) Commission agents.

Advances by mortgagees to original mortgagor on same security.

See Mortgage-Tacking.

Adverse possession.

See (1) Onus of proof—Limitation and Adverse Possession.
(2) Possession—Adverse Possession
(3) Title—Title By Long Possession.
(4) Bhagdari and Narwadari Act ss. 3, 5
(5) Co-sharer, Possession By.
(6) Landlord & Tenant.
(7) Landlord & Tenant—Nature of Tenancy.
(8) Limitation, Mortgage.
(9) Limitation, question of limitation.
(10) Limitation Act Ss. 4, 7 and Arts 134, 139, 141, 144, 145, 147 & 148.

Adverse Possession-Contd.

1—Mahomedan Law Imamia school, childless widow right to succeed--Possession in lieu of dower-Whether such right inheritable and transferable.

Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) section 6, clause (d)-mortgagee in possession-change of nature of possession-appointment of guardian adlitem-inherent powers of Court. A childless widow of a deceased Shia Mahomedan does not inherit the immoveable property left by her husband. The right of a Mahomedan widow in possession of the property in lieu of dower is a right which is assigned to her as a creditor to hold the property until her debt is satisfied, and the transfer of such right is prohibited by section 6, clause (d) of the Transfer of Property Act. Such a right is neither heritable nor transferable (14 M I A 377; 20 All 262 Ref). A mortgagee cannot by an act of his, render his possession adverse to the mortgagor during the continuance of the mortgagee. (32 Cal 312 Fol) In a suit brought against Shia Mahomedan infants, their mother who was a Shia was made a guardian adlitem. The property of the minors was sold and purchased by the decree-holder. Held that it should be presumed that the mother was appointed guardian of her minor children by the Court which has an inherent power to appoint a guardian adlitem. The sale held in execution of the decree binds the minors. (14 M I A 377; 20 All 262 Ref 32 Cal 312 Ref. Muzaffar Ali Khan v Parbati 4 A L J 521=(1906) A W N 221=29 All 640.

Notes —Ref 29 All 652.

2—Against mortgagor when adverse to mortgagee. The possession of a person claiming to hold property adversely to the mortgagor does not become adverse to the mortgagee who has purchased the property at a sale in execution of a decree obtained on his mortgage until after the sale when the ownership in, and the beneficial title to, the land for the first time vests in him. 7 App Cas 235 (1882) relied on.

Aimadar Mondul v. Makham Lal Day 10 C W N 904.

3—By mortgagee—Redemption, equity of.

A mortgagee in possession purchased the mortgaged properties through benamidars at certain execution-sales and resisted a suit for redemption on the ground that since the date of these sales no accounts had been demanded by or rendered to the mortgagor and that the mortgagee was in adverse possession of the equity of redemption. Held, overruling the plea, that as between mortgagor and mortgagee neither exclusive possession by the mortgagee for any length of time short of the statutory period of sixty years nor any acquiescence by the mortgagor not amounting to a release of the equity of redemption would be a bar or defence to a suit for redemption if the mortgagor be otherwise entitled to redeem. Khiarajmal v. Daim I C L J 584=2 A L J 71=9 C W N 201=7 Bom L R I=32 Cal 296=32 I A 23; P C.

Notes:—Dist: 9 C W N 956=2 C L J 384. Ref, 30 Mad 502; 7 Bom L R 816; 2 A L J 356: 27 All 517=2 A L J 210=(1905) W N 80; 5 C L J 385; 696 F B 34 Cal 241, 811 F B, 11 C W N 756 F. B. 1011 F B, 17 M L J 179; 19 M L J 671; 29 All 640; 35 Cal 61 F B, (1908) W N 17 C L J 251: 325 6 C L J 320 F B; 30 Bom 477=8 Bom L R 268. Fol. 28 All 137=(1905) W N 229=2 A L J 615; 11 C W N 1078; 6 C L J 719.

Adverse possession.—Against mortgagor-Suit by mortgagee—Limitation.

9 Ind Cas 990.

4—Adverse possession—Mortgage by trespasser- Mortgagee in possession for over 12 years—Prescriptive title complete.

A, a trespasser in respect of a certain fixed rate holding, mortgaged it to B in 1884. B remained in possession of the property ever since.

Held, that the possession of B was equivalent to the possession of his mortgagor, and as he had been in possession for over 12 years, it must be held that A and B, had acquired a title by adverse possession. Beni Madho Singh v. Debi Saran Dube. 10 Ind Cas 545.

See also (1) Co-sharers.

(2) Landlord & tenant.

5—Prescription—Landlord and tenant—Permanent tenancy, acquisition of, by former-Decree for khas possession against tenant who set up permanent title—Continuance of tenant in possession—Presumption that tenant continued to hold as permanent tenant—Limitation—Commencement—Subsoil landlord's right to.

Adverse possession-Contd.

In a suit for khas possession against B who set up a permanent tenancy, it was decided that B held some of the lands as joledar and the rest as ijaradar under the plaintiff and a decree was made in plaintiff's favour for khas possession of lands only as B held as ijaradar. But although symbolical possession of the lands decreed was delivered to the plaintiff, B continued to hold possession of all the lands in suit for more than 12 years.

On several occasions during this period, B made assertions of title as permanent tenant, to the knowledge of the plaintiff's agents. Held—That B acquired by prescription a right to hold the lands as a permanent tenant, but that the sub-soil, in respect of which no prescriptive right had been made out by B, remained with landlord. It was to be presumed that after symbolical possession was delivered to the plaintiff B continued to hold the lands as on the title which he had already asserted in the suit, and limitation ran from that date and not from the date or dates on which B subsequently made assertions of permanent title to the knowledge of plaintiff's agents.

A farmer may acquire by prescreption the right of permanent tenant by setting up such higher right adversely to the Zemindar. (5 Cal 584=25 Bom 275=25 Mad 507=10 M J A 438 ref to. Bagdu Majhi v Rajah Sri Sri Durga Prasad Singha. 9 C W N 292.

Notes:—Dist: 5 C L J 583 Ref, 34 Cal 753; 12 C W N 193

6.—By stranger against landlord.—Possession during the term of lease cannot be adverse to the Zamindar, at least so long as he does not become entitled to immediate possession. Where the defendant purchased certain plots of land from the lessee, but continued to pay the rent to the Zamindar:—Held, that his possession could not become adverse as there was nothing to put the Zamindar on enquiry. I L R 27 All 395 applied. Thamman Pande v The Maharaja of Vizlanagaram. 4 A L J 726=1907 A W N 185=29 All 593.

7—Against tenant when adverse to landlord -Tenant holding over,dispossessed-Right of landlord to sue trespasser—Limitation. When there is a current lease, and the tenant is dispossessed by a third party, time does not commence to run against the landlord until the expiration of the lease. 9 Cal 367 (1882); and 13 Cal 101 (1886), followed. But when the lease has expired and the tenant is holding over with the landlord's consent and the possession of such third party is adequate in continuity, in publicity and in extent so as to show that it is possession adverse to the landlord, the latter is not precluded from determining the tenancy and suing the trespasser in ejectment, and his right to sue will be barred after 12 years of such possession. Radha moni Debi v. The Collector of Khulna, 4 C W N 597 (1900), referred to. Kishwar Nath Sahi Dev v Kali Sankar Sahai 10 C WN 343.

Adverse possession-Contd.

8.—Permanent lease, grant of—Suit to set aside lease and recover possession—Limitation —Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Sch, 11, Arts 134, 144 and Section 10—Trustee—Notice, by lease of debutter character of property, effect of—Minerals, if included in permanent lease.

A permanent mokurrari lease is an alienation of the proprietary interest pro tanto, and if the property is debutter, the alienation by the lessor is beyond his legal competence and the possession of the lessee becomes adverse to the lessor as from the date of the lease, and a suit to recover possession of such property as debutter property is prima facie governed by Art 144 of the Second Schedule of the Limitation Act.

The fact that the lessee had notice that the property she was acquiring was debutter property does not preclude the lessee from being regarded as a purchaser within the meaning of article 134, Sch. II of the Limitation Act and an "assign for valuable consideration," within the meaning of Section 10 of the Limitation Act.

Under Section 10 of the Limitation Act, time is no bar to an action against the trustee himself, his representatives or assigns, except an assign for valuable consideration, but as regards the latter the period of 12 years from the date of the purchase is to be the period within which the suit must be brought.

A permanent lease including "all rights of various kinds" with the exception only of the homestead includes the minerals. Shyama Charan Nundy v Abhiram Goswami. 3 C L J 306=10 C W N 738= 33 Cal 511.

Adverse possession-Contd.

9—144—Lambardar and co-sharers—Suit for profits—No denial of co-sharer's title—Profits withheld over 12 years—Adverse possession.

The possession of a lambardar will not necessarily be adverse to that of a co-sharer, though the co-sharer does not receive profits for over 12 years. It is only when a lambardar has set up as adverse claim or has repudiated the title of a co-sharer that his possesion can be regarded as adverse. (A W N 1895 : 88 distinguished: A P R No 8 of 1902 followed. S A 1132 of 1902 followed. Mchinlal v Badri Prashad 2 A L J 107=1905 A W N 36= 27 All 436

Notes:—Dist W N (1907) 195, Ref: 4 A L J 27 ; 29 All 158: W N (1907) 5.

Adverse Possession—Ejectment—Agricultural village-Site of shop-Defendants not tenants —Second appeal. 8 A L J 877

Adverse Possession—against life-tenant—Possessory title—True owner. 8 A L J 849.

Adverse Possession—Tenant's possession when adverse. 13 C L J 660.

10.—Adverse possession—Tenants-in-common—Ouster—Acts of exclusive occupation.

The question of adverse possession between tenants-in-common depends not on a severance of the tenancy-in-common by partition, but on exclusive occupation by one co-tenant amounting to ouster of the other.

Two brothers G and D owned a property jointly. In execution of a decree against D the property was sold and purchased by V, who, in taking possession of it, was obstructed by G. V sued to remove the obstruction and obtained a partition decree on the 29th November 1886; and subsequently obtained symbolical possession of the property on the 11th December 1895. Meanwhile, on the 4th October 1894, G sold the property to defendant and placed him in possession. The assignee of V then sued the defendant on the 4th October, 1906, to recover possession of the property from him. His claim was resisted by a plea of adverse possession,

Adverse possession-Contd.

Held, negativing the contention, (1) that to entitle the defendant to add to the period of his own adverse possession (which was admittedly less than twelve years before the date of suit) the period of G's possession, it must be shown that the latter's possession was also adverse.

(2) That G's possession could not become adverse to V so long as the decree for partition was alive and capable of execution as against G. Amrita Ravji Rao Shirdhar Narayan Oke. 11 Bom L R 51=33 Bom 317= 1 Ind Cas 322.

11.—Adverse possession between.

To constitute adverse possession as between tenants-in-common there must be an exclusion or an ouster. Exclusive receipt of profits by one tenant in common continuously for a long period would be sufficient evidence to presume an actual ouster of the other tenant-in-common. Gangadhar Purasharam. 7 Bom L R 252=29 Bom 300.

Notes—Ref: 11 Bom L R 51 ; 33 Bom 317.

Adverse Possession—Possession of co-sharers —Absentee—Abandonment-Effect. 38 P L R 1911.

Adverse Possession. What amounts to, among co-owners—Non receipt of profits-Effect. 9 Ind Cas 425.

12—Suit for-Defence of limitation—Plaintiff to prove subsisting title—Submerged land—Constructive possession of true owners—Vis major.

When the defendant to a suit for possession of land pleads adverse possession, it lies in the first instance upon the plaintiff to prove that he was in possession at some time within 12 years of the suit. (14 All: 193 Ref:)

Where a party is dispossessed by vis major, e. g; floods, the constructive possession of the land, so long as the land remains submerged, is in the true owner (29 Cal 518 Ref:). Munshi Mazhar Hasan v Behari Singh. 3 A L J 367= A W N (1906), 234=28 All 760.

Adverse possession—Partition-Land allotted to minor-Adult member remaining in possession—Nature of possession, 9 M. L. T. 387.

Adverse Possession-Contd.

Adverse Possession—Against nearest reversioner not adverse to remoter reversioner—Person having no immediate right to possession-Whether possession can be adverse against him. 9 Ind. Cas 300.

Adverse possession—Title set up against Crown—Exclusive possession within statutory period—Acts done on particular tracts of land, when evidence of enjoyment of whole. 9 Ind. Cas. 9.

Adverse Possession—Suit for emoluments of office—Declaratory decree obtained during period of—effect. 8 Ind. Cas. 883.

13.—Adverse possession, whether there was or was not, mixed question of law and fact—C. P. C. (Act v of 1908), S. 100—Continuity of "possession."

The determination of a Lower Appellate Court whether or not there was adverse possession, is one of mixed law and fact, and it is open to the High Court in second appeal to determine whether or not, on the findings as to possession at which the Lower Appellate Court arrived,it would be correct to hold as a legal conclusion that adverse possession has been established.

There must be continuity of possession so as to make the possession adverse. Shookoor Mallik v. Behari Lal, 11 Ind. Cas.185.

14.—Adverse possession by a Hindu widow—Possession of mother to be reckoned as possession on behalf of her son when son incompetent to manage his affairs—Reversioner not entitled to sue for possession during the lifetime of the mother.

One, G, the owner of certain property, died in 1869 leaving a widow S,a son R, and adaughter in-law, R's wife; R. and his wife died in 1874. It was found from the evidence that,after the death of G, S took possession of the property inasmuch as R was a fool and unable to manage his affairs. He was unfit to work and, therefore, lived with his mother and did nothing.

Held, that, under the circumstances, it should be presumed that S intended to hold the property on behalf of her son, and that she could not be considered to have held adversely to her son.

Held, further, that in any case because S, had remained in possession only for five years after the death of G, and had subsequently on the death of her son R, come to possess the property as mother, her possession could not be considered adverse to the reversioner, since the reversioner could not sue for the possession of the property as long as she was alive. Bhagwandas v Ishar Dat 11 Ind Cas 93.

Ad verse Possession-Contd.

15.—Art 144—Suitfor profits of Sir land appertaining to an undivided mahal—Adverse possession. Plaintiff, as a co-sharer in an undivided mahal sued to recover a share of the profits of some sir land, appertaining to the mahal and in the occupation of the defendant for more than twelve years. It was found that the plaintiff and his predecessors in title had been respectively in receipt of his and their share of the profits of mahal, with the exception of the sir land in dispute, for more than twelve years before suit; and the defendant had not any time, repudiated the title of the plaintiff or his predecessors to the enjoyment of the sir land, or set up any adverse title. Held, the mahal being undivided the defendant's possession of the sir land must be regarded as a possession not only on his own account but also on account of his co-sharers, including plaintiff and therefore not hostile; and plaintiff's suit not barred. Raj Bahadur v Bharat Singh. (1905)A W N 15=27 All 348=2 A L J 110Ft.

Notes:—Fol: 27 All 436=2 A L J 107=(1905) W N 36.

16.—By father against daughter—Mahomedon Law.—

Held, that there was no adverse possession in the case. Maulvi Saiyid Mahammad Manawar v Razia Bibi 9 C W N 625 at 636= 27 All 320=32 I A 86; P C.

(Their Lordships did not discuss the question, but merely expressed that they saw no reason to differ from the view of the High Court.—E D.)

17—Nucleus of ancestral property—Separate estate of co-parcener—Proof—Onus—Adverse possession by co-parcener.

When the question waswhether a certain property was the joint property of a Hindu family or the separate estate of a member and it was proved that the family lived joint in one house and that there was a nucleus of joint property of substantial value, the onus was on the party setting up a case of separate estate. Held, on the evidence, that the property was joint. Whilst on the one hand there were certain instruments by which the grantors purported to deal with it as if it were separate estate, there were on the other hand a series of family books and various contracts and transactions inconsistent with anything but joint property. But over and above this, the tenor of family life proved the use of the property to have been the same after as before the execution of those instruments. A case of adverse possession by a co-parcener cannot be established by mere paper assertions not brought home to the knowledge of the other co-parceners, when there has been no actual exclusion of the latter from use and enjoyment for the period of limitation.

Adverse Possession-Contd.

Anandrao Gunputrao v Vasantrao Madhavrao. (P. C.) 11 C W N 478.

18 Adverse possession—Guardian and minor:—Possession is never to be considered adverse if it can be referred to any lawful authority. Where a Hindu mother on her husband's death entered into possession of properties which vested in her minor son and herself had the custody of the minor as his guardian, her possession must be taken to have been one on behalf of the minor-Sreeramulu Naidu v. Andalammal (1906) 17 M L J 14=30 Mad 145.

19——Sale of a share——Purchaser's right to eject person in adverse possession for over twelve years before sale—Incumbrance. The purchaser of a share of a revenue-paying estate at a sale for arrears of revenue is entitled to that share, even if a person other than the recorded proprietor has acquired a title by twelve years' adverse possession previously to the sale.

Adverse possession for twelve years does not constitute an incumbrance on the share. It might be an incumbrance on the right of the recorded proprietor, but at a sale under S. 13 of Act XI of 1859, it is not merely the rights of the recorded proprietor that pass, but the share itself. (12 C W N 528, Eol) (28 Cal 244, Dist 7 C L J I. Ref

Rahimuddi Munshi v. Nalini Kanta Lahiri 13 C W N 407=1 Ind Cas 81.

20—Re-grant after forfeiture—Reservation by Government— Parlakimidi, zemindari of—Maliahs or hill tracts retained by Government-Bisoyees, service tenure-holders under Government—Nature of tenure—Kattubadi or quit rent —Savaras, inhabitants of hill tracts, position of

Adverse Possession-Contd.

-Zemindari charged with payment of Kattubadi-Ownership if passed to zemindar—Adverse possession—Acquiescence under mistake—Estoppel-Evidence Act (I of 1872), sec. 115. Prior to the forfeiture by Government of the Parlakimidi zemindari in 1800, the Maliahs (certain hill tracts to the north of the zemindari) formed part of the zemindari. The inhabitants of these hill tracts the Savaras, were once a turbulent people and in order to control them and to defend the passes to the plains, the country was divided into Muttas or forts and each placed under the control of a local chief or Bisoyee. The Bisoyees held the Muttas on a mere service tenure paying an annual sum to the zemindar by way of Kattubadi or quit-rent—an arrangement not unlike that which prevails in other hill tracts in India. In 1802, the zemindari of Parlakimidi was re-granted to the zemindar in permanent settlement, but Government advisedly retained possession and control of the " lands held by the Bissoyees. " Held—That by this and similar expressions were ment the entire Muttas which made up the maliahs and not merely the lands under the direct cultivation of the Bisoyees inasmuch as the benefits enjoyed by them included not only those lands but also fees and other dues received by them from the Savaras throughout the whole of ths Muttas. Held further—That the proprietary right in the Maliahs did not pass to the zemindar when the Maliahs were again placed under the control of the zemindar in 1823 and the Bisoyees required to pay their quit-rent through him, and when again in 1825, in consideration of a grant to the zemindar of certain villages situated outside the Maliahs, the zemindari was charged with the tribute payable by the Bisoyees to Government. From 1830 to 1890 the zemindari had been managed by the Court of Wards. During the whole or a part of this period the Court of Wards worked the forests of the Maliahs for the benefit of the zemindari in the mistaken belief that it belonged to the zemindari, and other Government officials acquiesced therein. The Government officials under the same mistake also encouraged the expenditure of zemindari funds upon the making of roads in the Maliahs. But on the first occasion that a claim of ownership was distinctly put forward by the zemindar it was repudiated by Government. Held—That the Courts in India were right in holding that the zemindar had failed to make out a title by adverse possession. Also—That these facts did not estop the Government from claiming ownership of the Maliahs. Goura Chandra GaJapati Narayana Deo Maharajulun Garu v The Secretary of State for India in Council 9 C W N 553

Adverse Possession-Contd.

21—Trust—Non-delivery of trust deed—Registsation of the deed—Creation of valid trust—Collection of rents by settlor—Adverse title—Whether amounts to—Tenant not left into possession by landlord—Payment of rent—Denial of title—No estoppel.

Where the settlor intended to pass when the deed was executed and registered :

Held, that, in the absence of delivery of the trust deed, it could not be said that such registration did not convey any title.

The mere collection, by the settlor, of rents of the property conveyed to the trustees, does not, in itself, constitute a setting up of a title adverse to the trustees or amount to an ouster of the trustees.

Where the defendant who was not put into possession by the plaintiff, is found to have paid rent to him, held, that the mere payment of rent is only prima facie evidence of an attornment, and that, notwithstanding the payment, it is open to the defendant to show that the plaintiff's title was defective. 27 Cal 7 and 28 Mad 124, Dist.; 17 Mad 146, Foll.) Pullaya Chetti v Yedachalla Pillai. 10 M L T 44.

22—Trust deed turning out to be invalid—Adverse possession by trustee as against cestui que trust.

So long as a trustee occupies the position of a trustee, as soon as the declared trusts, fail and there is a resultant trust in favour of the settlor, the trustee's possession is essentially that of his cestui que trust and can only be changed into adverse possession by a conscious and deliberate act. That is to say, he must repudiate all intention of holding for the resultant cestui que trust and he must assert his intention of continuing to apply the trust fund to uses which the Court has declared or which are known to him to have failed. In that event his possession becomes adverse to his legal cestui que trust and if that person does not take steps within twelve years, he will not be able to avail himself of the provisions of S. 10 of the Adverse Possession-Concld.

Limitation Act, 1908. (1891) A C 297, Fol (1910) 12 Bom L R 341, re-considered.)

Jairajbhoy Peerbhoy v Sir Currimbhoy Ebrahim Bart. 13 Bom L R 717

23—Adverse possession—Ineffective possession—Assertion of title—To the knowledge of the owner.

Where the possession is an ineffective nature, supposing that its character could be improved by an assertion of title, it is necessary for the party so in possession to prove that the owner had knowledge of such assertion.

An "openly avowed claim" means a claim which may be said to have come to the knowlege of the true owner. Malla Veeranna v Malla Chelamayya, (1912) 1 M W N 68.

24—Mortgage—Adverse possession—Sale of equity of redemption—Registration—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Art 144—Registration Act (XVI of 1908), S. 17.

Held that, a person entering into possession of land as a mortgagee is not at liberty to set up adverse possession against the mortgagor, by merely obtaining in his favour mutation of names as owner, until he succeeds in proving actual purchase by him of the equity of redemption.

Held, also that a deed of sale of immoveable property mortgaged by a registered deed is not compulsorily registrable under S. 17 of Act XVI of 1908, if sale consideration minus the mortgage-money is less than Rs. 100. (17 Bom 755 Fol. 16 P R 1892, (F B) Fol.) Lehna v Santa Singh 9 P W R 1912.

25—Adverse possession—Property belonging to idol—Manager.

Under Article 144 of the Limitation Act, 1877, possession derived from a manager of endowed property can become adverse against the idol as represented by the next succeeding manager. (4 Bom L R 743, Fol.) Pandurang Balagi Khandke v Dnyanu Babaji Gurav. 13 Bom L R 1169

Adverse possession against mortgagee when effectual also as against the mortgagor.

See (1) Limitation Act Art 144—Adverse possession.

(2) Possession-Adverse possession.

Adverse possession against widow

See (1) Limitation Act Art 144-Adverse possession.

(2) Possession—Adverse possession.

Adverse possession against widow for more than twelve years bars the right of a subsequent adopted son.

See (1) Limitation Act Art 144 -Adverse possession.

(2) Possession - Adverse possession.

Adverse possession by sub-mortgagee.

See (1)Limitation Act—Art 144-Adverse possession.

(2) Possession—Adverse possession.

Adverse possession for twelve years by taking fruit.

See (1) Limitation Act Art 144—Adverse possession.

(2) Possession —Adverse possession

Adverse possession of defendant supplemented by previous adverse possession of widow by whom defendant was adopted.

See (1) Limitation Act Art 144-Adverse possession,

(2) Possession-Adverse Possession.

Adverse possession of one member

See (1) Hindu Law-Joint family.

(2) Possession-Adverse possession.

Adverse title.

See Title-Title by long possession.

Advertisements.

See Succession Act 1865 S. 250.

Advocacy.

1—Advocate forcing his opponent to produce his own client to enable him to cross-examine that client.

The species of advocacy tolerated by the Courts of law in India, in which the unworthy effort of the advocate on each side is to force his opponent to produce his own client in order that he himself may have the opportunity of cross-examining that client, is a vicious practice, unworthy of a high-toned or reputable system of advocacy. Such advocacy must embarrass and perplex judicial investigation, and may too often enable fraud, falsehood or chicane to baffle justice. Mussammat Lal Kunwar v Chiranji Lal. 11 C L J 172.

Advocacy-Concld.

Advocate.

See (1) Barrister.

(2) Counsel.

(3) Stamp-duty.

(4) Witness-Person competent to be witness.

Advocate—Admission by

See Limitation Act, (1908) s. 19-Acknowledgment of debts.

Advocate—Entry as an

See Stamp Act, 1879, sch. II, art. 11.

Advocate.

See also Cases under.

(1) Legal practitioners Act.

(2) Pleader.

(3) Solicitor.

(4) Attorney & client.

1—Right to appear—Criminal Courts—Prosecution—Pleader.—A counsel or pleader is entitled to appear and act on behalf of the prosecution in the Criminal Courts Chandi Charan Chatterjee v. Chandra Kumar Ghose 5 B L R Ap 70=14 W R Cr 23.

2—Non intervention of vakeel or attorney—Appeal from mofussil.

An advocate of the High Court may appear at the hearing of an appeal from the mofussil on the direct instruction of a client, and without the intervention of vakeel or attorney. Gobind Chunder Dutt v. Hendry 14 B L R Ap 12 24 W R 15.

3—Filing appeal in Registrar's Office.—An advocate of the High Court is entitled to appear and plead on the Appellate Side, but not to file an appeal in the Registrar's Office. Ram Taruk Barick v. Sidessoree Dassee 13 W R 60.

Advocate-Contd.

4—Right to take instructions directly from the client, and to "act".

An advocate can perform on behalf of a suitor all the duties that may be performed by a pleader, subject to his exemption in the matter of a vakalatnama and to any rules which the High Court may make regarding him. No such rule having been made to the contrary, an advocate may take instructions directly from the client and may "act" on behalf of his client. Bakhtawar Singh v. Sant Lal. 9 All 617.

5—C P C O. 9 r.8; O. 17 r. 2 (1882 Ss.102, 157)

"Appearance," meaning of—Application by pleader for adjournment—Refusal—Pleader stating that he had no instructions—Effect—Dismissal under s 157, C P C—Authority to represent client—Barrister and pleader, distinction between—Advocate.

Held, that, where, at any adjourned hearing of the suit, there is no appearance by the plaintiff and there are no materials on record, the appropriate procedure is that laid down by S. 157, C P C 1882, (Per Crouch, A. J. C.).

An apperance at an application for adjournment which is refused is not an appearance at the hearing of the suit

An "appearance" is nothing more than physical attendance in the Court. If, therefore, when the hearing commences, the plaintiff or his duly appointed pleader is actually present in Court, there is an appearance of the plaintiff at the hearing. If it be desired that there should be no appearance, the result can, in reality be attained only by the plaintiff and his pleader walking out of the Court when the case is called on for hearing. The usual formula used by pleaders "I am not instructed" or "I have no instructions," is perfectly well understood by most Judges; and where no dissent is expressed, the general opinion seems to be that the pleader is fairly justified in assuming that he is being treated as not present. Held, that on the facts of the present case, the presumption that the order of dismissal was under s. 157 C P C 1882, holds good.

The authority of a Barrister or Advocate to represent a party is based on the fact that he has "received instructions" from an Attorney or Solicitor Instructions are not merely the information as to facts, but constitute his authority to represent the client. If, therefore, he states in Court that he has no instructions, that concludes the question of his representation. But a pleader's authority is based on the fact that a (vakalatnama) has been filed. And his authority can be terminated only on a written application by the client and with the consent of the Court 34 Cal 235, Ref. 1 S L R 224; 34 Cal 403 (F B), Ref. 23 Bom 414; 22 All 66; 30 Mad 374 Ref. Fakir Mahomed v Viran wife of Koji 3 S L R 208.

6—Advocate forcing his opponent to produce his own client to enable him to cross-examine that client. —11 C L J 172=12 Bom L R 244=14 C W N 285=20 M L J 182=33 All 104=37 I A 1 also 25 All 358

7—An advocate in India cannot be proceeded against, civilly or criminally, for words uttered in his office as advocate. Sullivan v Norton 10 Mad 28

Notes—Ref 17 Mad 87: 3 M L J 94; 19 Bom 340; 2 Bom L R 3 F B; 26 Mad 780, 9 Bom L R 1287; 29 All 685; 18 M L J 353=31 Mad 400; 19 M L J 217.

8—Right to sue on promissory note given for fees—Recorder's Act XXI of 1863 s. 18.

With reference to s 18 Act XXI of 1863. an advocate cannot sue upon a promissory note given by anticipation for fees not taxed nor can the Court in such suit award to the plaintiff a quantum meruit for his services. Macleod v Mah Mah Yet. 7 W R 390.

9—Suspension of Advocate—Burma Courts Act VII of 1872 s. 58—Entering into contract contrary to public policy.

In a case in which an acvocate of the the Recorder's Court at Rangoon was suspended by the Recorder under Act VII of 1872, s 58 for having entered into a contract which was contrary to public policy, the High Court though reprobating such a practice as improper and mischievous yet considered that a serious warning was all that was called for under the circumstances, inasmuch as it appeared that the advocate in this instance did that which was done by other advocates, even by persons to whom he might fairly look for an example. Moung Htoon Oung. 21 W R 297.

Notes—Ref 4 C L J 259 F B.

Advocate-Contd.

10—Advocate and client— Advocate's right to give a substitute when unable to attend himself—Client's consent— Advocate's convenience—Client's rights— Practice

Where defendant, a Barrister, becoming physically unable to conduct the case of his client, appointed a substitute without his client's consent and against his express will.

Held, that, though one Advocate is usually allowed to represent another when the business is of a merely formal character and though such a course is for the advantage and convenience of all concerned, that is a very different matter to an Advocate transferring the whole of a client's case to another Advocate without his consent and even against his express will.

In this case decree for the return of a portion of the fee was confirmed against the Barrister.
Maung Kyaw v Maung Po Thaing 8 Ind. Cas 958.

11—Vakalatnamas—Advocate of Chief Court.

An Advocate of the Chief Court, who is not an Advocate of a Chartered High Court, is bound to file a power of-attorney to enable him to appear in civil cases.—An Advocate. 103 P R 1890.

(Note.—Owing to the amendment of Section 39 Civil Procedure Code, 1882, by Act VII of 1895 the above ruling is no longer applicable. Ed. Digest).

12—Advocate and client—Suit for recovery of of sum of money deposited with Advocate to abide certain event—Stakeholder—Privilege of Barrister.

Plaintiff sued on the allegation that he had engaged the services of the defendant, who was an Advocate of the Chief Court, in a certain criminal case and had deposited a sum of money with the defendant on the condition that if the accused in the criminal case were released the defendant should be entitled to retain the deposit, otherwise it should be returned to plaintiff; that the accused had not been released, and the defendant had, nevertheless, retained the deposit. The Judge, Small Cause Court, dismissed his claim on the sole ground that "defendant being an advocate of the Chief Court, the suit would not lie against him."

Advocate-Contd.

Held, that no question of the privilege of an Advocate arose in this case, inasmuch as the defendant was sued merely as a stakeholder who was bound to refund the deposit to the depositor if the event upon which alone he was authorized to retain the money had not occurred.

194 P R 1883 cited and followed.
Bhup Singh v F. Beechey 52 P R 1894.

13.—Contract—Suit by a barrister, enrolled as an Advocate of the Chief Court, in respect of his fees—Enrolment as Advocate, effect of, upon status of barrister—Ancillary services—"Quantum meruit"—Contract Act, 1872, Sections 11, 70.

Plaintiff, who was a Barrister-at-Law and enrolled as an Advocate of the Chief Court and practising in the Punjab as such Advocate, sued in respect of fees for services rendered in his capacity as an Advocate and for services ancillary thereto.

Held, by a majority of the Full Bench (Frizelle Stogdon and Chatterji, JJ.) that the suit was not maintainable, as the plaintiff was incapacitated from making a contract of hiring as an Advocate by the usage and constitution of his Bar.

Held, per Roe and Rivaz, JJ., contra, that the suit was maintainable, as no such incapacity attached to the plaintiff.

Held, further, per curiam, that if the principal service rendered could not be the subject of a contract, no service which was merely ancillary thereto and of no value without the principal service, could be the subject of a contract or give rise to any independent cause of action.
Mr. Arthur Grey v Diwan Luchman Dass. 51 P R 1895 (F B.)

14.—Advocate and client—Advocate's fee—Suit for money deposited with Advocate—Revision—Finding of fact by Small Cause Court.

Plaintiff sued on the allegation that he had retained defendant as counsel for defending a certain appeal in the Chief Court on the terms that he was to be paid Rs 50 as his advance-fee and a similar sum as his back-fee on his winning the case; that subsequently he deposited Rs. 200 with defendant, on the understanding that he was to retain Rs. 150 as his back-fee in the event of success, the remainder being the back-fee for another counsel on the same terms; that the said case was lost and that defendant refused to return the Rs. 150. Defendant, in answer to the claim, admitted his liability to refund the Rs. 50, but pleaded that as respects the balance of Rs. 150 there was an arrangement between him and plaintiff by which he was allowed to retain it as his advance-fee for filing an application for review of judgment in the case which had been lost; that he was ready and willing to file the said application, but that plaintiff had engaged some one else to do the work. Defendant, therefore, contended that no suit lay for refund of the Rs. 150, as he was a barrister. The Judge of the Small Cause Court found that defendant had failed to prove the argument set up, and decreed the claim less a deduction of Rs. 50, which he allowed the defendant on equitable grounds for the trouble which he might have taken in thinking out the grounds of review, though none had been actually drawn up, and no copy of the judgment of the Chief Court applied for or obtained.

Advocate-Contd.

Held, that the award of Rs. 50 must be disallowed, and plaintiff's claim decreed without any deduction. Kirpa Ram v Sardar Krishna Singh. 32 P R 1897.

15.—Contempt of Court—Contempt of Court by Advocate and Barrister in his individual and private capacity as a suitor—Dismissal or suspension of such Advocate from practice—Legal Practitioners' Act, 1879, Section 41.

Held, that although any action taken as a private individual in the prosecution of a case or the setting up of a defence would not, under ordinary circumstances, justify a Court in taking notice of such action as a breach of professional good conduct merely because the individual concerned happened to be an Advocate, yet conduct which is in itself indefensible and amounts to gross misconduct in an Advocate is not taken out of the purview of Section 41 of the Legal Practitioners' Act by a mere colourable pretence that it was the conduct of a suitor or accused in that capacity. (L R I P C 385), referred to.

An Advocate. 5 P R 1902 F B.

16.—An advocate cannot sue or be sued in respect of his fees or other matters ex contractu; but he is liable to an action for damages at the suit of his client for a mala fide breach of duty or wrong independent of contract—(Per Boulnois and Melvill, JJ, disenting)—Mukdum Shah Ali Mahamad v. Plowden. P. R. 20 of 1874 Civil.) Fol. in. Van Cortlandt v Skinner. P R 89 of 1875.

Advocate-Contd.

17—Privilege of—Disciplinary powers of High Court—Letters Patent, cl, 10.

Held, by Jenkins, C J., (1) that the privilege of an Advocate as an answer to an action for slander is well established in England and it has been considered that the same measure of licence belongs to an Advocate in the Courts of this country. An Advocate who has made a defamatory statement of another person, which is false, and has been made by reason of malice in the Advocate, but which has been made by him when speaking as an Advocate, and with reference to the case which was being heard by the Court, is not actionable.

(2) The measure of the High Court's disciplinary powers is not the same as the privilege accorded to Advocates at an answer to suits for defamation. There is a distinction between suits or criminal proceedings at the instance of the injured party and the exercise by the Court of its disciplinary powers. If the words spoken are opprobrious or irrelevant to the case, the Court may take notice of them as a contempt and examine on information. The limits of licence do not furnish the standard of professional conduct, and that licence is only tolerable so long as it is not abused.

(3) It is contrary to the administration and practice of the Criminal Law that counsel for prisoners should declare as alleged existing facts, matters which they have been told in their instructions on the authority of the prisoner, but which they do not propose to prove in evidence.

(4) Sections 150 and 152 of the Evidence Act give large powers of control to Judges to keep the exercise of that license within its proper limits.

Held, by candy, J., (1) that a counsel cannot be punished for acting on the instructions given to him when he did not and could not know that they were false.

(2) That a counsel is justified in stating in open Court what the effect of his instructions was without supporting it by substantial evidence, otherwise he would be put in a most serious difficulty and the conduct of his case unduly hamper, ed. It is for the counsel to decide in the exercise of his discretion whether or not he should call witnesses for the defence to prove the allegations and thus give the prosecution a right of reply.

Advocate-Contd.

Held, by Tyabji, J. (1) that an Advocate has the fullest liberty of speech in the course of a trial before judicial tribunal so long as his language is justified by his instructions, or by the evidence, or by the proceedings on the record. The mere fact that his words are defamatory, or that they are calculated to hurt the feelings of another, or that they ultimately turn out to be absolutely devoid of all solid foundation, would not make him responsible nor render him liable in any Civil or Criminal proceeding.

(2) If an offending counsel is protected from liability in a Civil action or Criminal prosecution by reason of the privileges which he enjoys as an Advocate, it by no means follows that he should not be held responsible by the High Court under cl. 10 of the Letters Patent if express malice, or wanton disregard of facts is proved, or if it is shown that reckless and scandalous charges were made by him absolutely without justification and without any instruction.

Bhaishanker v L M. Wadia. 2 Bom L R 3.

18.—Court—Suspension without trial—Disciplinary authority of High Court Counsel guilty of contempt.

By Ss 7 and 8 of the Letters Patent, the Allahabad High Court is authorised and empowered to approve, admit and enrol as many advocates as it thinks fit and to suspend any advocate on reasonable ground. A barrister of England or Ireland may be admitted under rules 180 and 181 of the Rules of High Court as an advocate and when he is so admitted he becomes subject to the disciplinary jurisdiction of the Court.

Rule 197 of the rules of Court provides for cases in which the Chief Justice and Judges may for good cause, and without charge or trial, suspend or remove from the rolls of the Court any advocate of the Court. An advocate may therefore be tried by three Judges under rule 20.

The intention of the Crown was to give a wide discretion to the High Courts in India in regard to the exercise of their disciplinary authority. The rules of Court indicate the precaution taken by the Court itself to secure that the powers shall not be exercised capriciously or oppressively, and there is no reason to apprehend that the just independance of the Bar runs any risk of being impaired by its exercise. On the other hand, it is essential to the proper administration of justice that unwarrantable attacks should not be made with impurity upon the Judges in their public capacity.

Advocate-Contd.

Where a Counsel is guilty of contempt in the attempt to vindicate his professional conduct in a publication of which he is an editor, held that the libel constitutes 'reasonable cause' for which he may be suspended from practice to. (L R I P C 283 Dist:) S B Sarbadhikary 9 Bom L R 9 (P C)=17 M L J 74= 11 C W N 273=5 C L J 130= 2 M L T 1=5 Cr L J 152= 29 All 95=4 A L J 34.

19.—Advocate—Unprofessional conduct—— Solicitor, acceptance of case without intervention of.—

An advocate who makes an arrangement with his client without the intervention of any solicitor to do work at a fee of half of that, which is the usual charge, is guilty of unprofessional conduct.

Where an advocate, who has settled a plaint in a case, wrote to his client that he would take the case against her, unless he was paid five times the ordinary fee, he is guilty of unprofessional conduct. S K H an Advocate 6 C L J 55 (F B)=6 Cr L J 16=34 Cal 729 =2 M L T 492.

20.—Advocate—Misconduct—Publication of articles in a newspaper by the Advocate defaming judges—Rules 180, 182, 183 and 197 of the Rules of the Court—S 8 of the Letters Patent.

The right of any barrister to appear in the N. W. P High Court rests upon his being admitted to the Roll of Advocates to the Court and not upon his being called to the Bar.

Section 8 of the Letters Patent gives the Court power to make rules for the qualification and admission of proper persons and empowers the Court to remove or suspend from practice on reasonable cause Advocates so enrolled. The High Court can on reasonable cause remove or suspend from practice not only an Advocate who had been enrolled as such under Rule 185 of the Rules of the Court but also any other Advocate who has been enrolled under any other rule of the Rules of the Court.

Advocate-Contd.

Under Rule 2 of the Rules of the Court, a Bench of three judges is empowered to hear and decide all charges against Advocates in respect of professional or other misconduct for which an Advocate may be removed or suspended from practice. Rule 197 provides for cases in which the Chief Justice and judges may for good cause and without charge or trial suspend or remove from the roll of Court any Advocate of the Court.

Any act which tends to discredit or bring into contempt the order of Advocates of the Court amounts to misconduct of which the High Court can take notice. Acts which on the part of a private individual offend against the dignity of the Court or are calculated to prejudice the course of justice and are in his case contempts of Court do not cease to be acts of misconduct because they are committed by an Advocate. Rather are they aggravated inasmuch as the Advocate is bound to uphold and maintain the dignity of the Court. Acts which scandalize the Court as libels on its integrity or the integrity of its judges, officers and proceedings are all (1900 A W N 221) instances of such misconduct. 2 Q B D 439, Ex-parte Turner 3 Mont D and D 525, Reg. V, Castro L R 9 Q B 219. 2 Myl and r 316 referred to.

Hence when an Advocate published in a paper published by him articles throwing discredit upon the Judges of the Court in various ways, and his defence inter alia was that he had done so in his capacity of Editor and not in his capacity of Advocate of the Court, held—that he was guilty of professional misconduct and the High Court had power to deal with him under S 8 of the Letters Patent and Rule 2 of the Rules of the Court. Mr. Sarvadhicary, an Advocate 3 A L J 592 F B=1 M L T 252=1906 W N 226.

21.—Advocate and Pleader——Professional misconduct—Legal Practitioner's Act (XVIII of 1879)—Champerty, agreement by way of—Relation of pleader and client.

It is highly improper and grossly unprofessional conduct, on the part of an Advocate or of a Vakil, to enter into an agreement with a client, to furnish him with funds for a litigation, in consideration of his assigning over a part of the property in litigation, if recovered, to such Advocate or Vakil.

When a Vakil takes an active interest in a case during its pendency in the lower Court, and there is an understanding that he will be engaged as Vakil when the case comes up to the High Court, it cannot be said, that no relationship of pleader and client existed between himself and the client before the actual execution and acceptance of the vakalutnama. An Advocate, a Vakil a Pleader 4 C L J 262.

22—Discovery by Advocate-General-Advocate General—Discovery upon oath—Practice.

The Advocate-General cannot be called upon to make discovery upon oath, in a suit filed by him at the instance of relators under the provisions of S 539 of the Civil Procedure Code 1882.

Advocate General v Adamji 8 Bom L R 565=30 Bom 474.

23—Advocate—Absence of—Return of brief—Practice.—

If there is a chance of neither of the two counsels briefed in a case being able to attend when the case is called on, one of them must return his brief in good time. In a case of dispute it is the duty of the junior to return the brief or to make arrangements for some other counsel to attend till he can come in.

Esmail Ebrahim v. Haji Jan Mahomed, 10 Bom L R 1172=33 Bom 475.

24—Advocate—Professional misconduct—advising clients—execution of agreements admissions at argument—Evidence in one case — admissibility of, in the other case—Practice.—

When evidence has been given in one case upon the issues raised in that case, nothing can be more dangerous than to take that evidence and apply it in another case in which other issues arise. Inferences drawn from that evidence cannot but be regarded with much misgiving.

A professional man, in allowing his clients to execute certain documents, which, he thought were invalid, is not guilty of such professional misconduct as justly to call for punishment though such conduct may be open to disapprobation.

Advocate-Contd.

Where the dispute was between members of a Hindu family and the question was whether the family was joint or separate, and the matter was settled in advocate who was not shown to have had any knowledge or means of knowledge that his client did not possess and who allowed his client to effect a compromise, is not guilty of professional misconduct.

Henry Lewis Lubeck, 1 M L T 17

25—Advocate Capacity of Advocate to sue or be sued for professional services—Bar a Law

A Barrister, as a barrister, has no right to practice in India He asks for permission to practice as an Advocate. He, on admission, subjects himself to a disciplinary authority, to which he is not subject as a barrister. He is liable as other Advocates of the Court to which he is subject are liable to; and he acquires the same rights as other Advocates have. His professional status in India is that of an Advocate, and the Law applicable to him is the Law of Advocates in India, applicable to an Advocate of the Court in which he practises. Hence he can sue for his fees for professional services rendered, and can be sued for negligence 25, W R 32, 1 I A C 745; 25 All 509, (1863) 13 C P N S 607, Ref. (1895) P R 219, Diss.

Pennell v. Harrison, 4 L B R 55 (F B)

26—Professional misconduct — Evidence, admissibility of—Admission — Probabilities —Indian Evidence Act, Sec. 155, cl. (3)

C, an advocate, was called upon to shew cause why he should not be dismissed or suspended for gross professional misconduct, the allegation against him being that he had advised his client to attempt to bribe a witness. The client was examined as a witness, but no admission was elicited from him, that the advocate had advised him to bribe any witness, and in fact, he explicitly denied it; two other witnesses were examined, and they were allowed to state the particulars of conversations which took place between themselves and the said client on different occasions, and the Chief Court, relying upon the admissions made by the client during such conversations, dismissed the advocate from his office

Held, that the evidence given by the two witnesses was inadmissible for the purpose for which it was used, or as against the advocate. Even if it was admissible for the purpose of impeaching the credit of the client, witness under section 155, clause (3) of the Indian Evidence Act, it might prove that the said client was an unreliable witness who said one thing one day and another thing another day, and tend to discredit his sworn statement, but it would not prove the truth of his unsworn statement or make it evidence against a third person.

Romarjee Cowasjee v The Chief Judge and Judges of the Chief Court of Lower Burma. 5 C L J 123=9 Bom L R 5 P C=34 Cal 129 =11 C W N 870=17 M L J 67=2 M L T 96 =5 Cr L J 50=4 L B R 27.

27—Pleader and client — Professional misconduct— Advising clients.

Their Lordships of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council expressed disapproval of the view that a professional man acting for clients, and taking part in connection with the execution of a compromise directly arising out of the matter in which he is employed, is not bound to warn his clients if they are acting in ignorance of the nature of what they are doing while he is in a position to inform them, or under a mistake as to their rights which he could correct, unless expressly asked by them on the subject.

The appellant, an Advocate, was charged with professional misconduct on two counts, and having been found guilty was suspended from practice for a period of four months. The charges were.—

(1) That you being at the time the legal adviser of B. A. and other persons, and knowing and believing at the time of the execution of the document (Ex G) that it was worthless and valueless, did either wrongfully advise and induce the execution thereof by the said parties, or when you should have advised them as to what their legal rights and position would be after they had executed the said (Ex G), did allow them to remain under the belief that the said document was legal and valid, in that you at their request attested the same yourself.

(2) That you being the legal adviser of B. A. and others, and being in the discharge of your professional duties, as such bound to advise them as to the effect upon their rights to the property of the deceased of the execution of a document (Ex X), did not give them the advice they were entitled to expect, and did thereby allow them to execute the said document, which you at the time, according to your admission aforesaid, knew and believed to be worthless as a legally binding agreement. Further that you, by attesting the said document, induced your clients to believe that it was legal and binding.

Advocate-Contd.

Held, reversing the order (as to the first aspect of the charge), that in allowing his clients to execute the documents under the circumstances, the appellant was not guilty of such professional misconduct as justly to call for punishment.

Held, also (as to the second aspect of the charge), that there was a decided opinion in the case that the actual legal rights of the parties were quite well known before (Exhibit G) or (Exhibit K) was executed; and that, therefore there was nothing to show that the appellant had any knowledge or means of knowledge which his clients did not possess.

Lubec K., 7 Bom L R 894 = 10 C W N 57 = 15 M L J 442 = 32 I A 217 P C = 33 Cal. 151.

28-Suit for money deposited with advocate to be paid over to him if the result of the case is successful—Stake-holder—Privilege as Barrister.

In a suit against the defendant, a Barrister to recover from him a sum of money alleged to have been deposited by the plaintiff, his client, under an agreement that the defendant should only retain the money in the event of his winning the plaintiff's case, which as plaintiff alleged had not happened, the Lower Court held the suit not to be maintainable against the defendant by reason of his privilege as a Barrister.

Held, that the plaintiff was entitled to a decision on the merits of the case: that the claim was one to recover back from a stake-holder money deposited with him to be paid over on the happening of a contingency which, according to the plaintiff, had never occurred; and that it was immaterial that in the present case the defendant was the plaintiff's Advocate as well as the stake-holder, as if he had in the latter capacity, without the occurrence of the contingency specified, handed over to himself in the capacity of the advocate money which ex-hypothesi he should have returned to the plaintiff, he could not set up as a sufficient answer to the plaintiff's claim his character of advocate, and the receipt by him of the money in that capacity.

Advocate-Concld.

Muhammad Bakhsh v. Morton P R 194 of 1883, Civl

Advocate-General.

See Parties—Parties to Suits—Advocate-General.

—Case certified by.

See (1) Cases under Letters Patent, High Courts, cl. 26.

(2) Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, s. 267.

(3) Trust.

—Sanction by, to suit.

See Right of suit—Charities.

—Sanction of when necessary to bring suit.

See (1) Civil Procedure Code S. 539.

(2) Practice.

Advocate-General—Suit by—See C. P. C. (S. 92) (O. C 539).

Advocate General—Sanction—See C. P. C. (S. 92) (O. C. 539).

Advocate-General—See also cases under: —Injunction (Mandatory).

1—Right to appeal—Suit relating to charitable fund—Statute 53 Geo. III c. 155, s. 111.—By the 53 Geo III, Cap, 155, s. 111, the Advocate General is entitled to appear and represent the Crown in informations for the administration of charitable funds. Attorney General v Brodie 4 Moore's I A, 190.

2 Officiating Advocate General—Right to precedence.

The Officiating Advocate General having claimed pre-audience, the claim was questioned by a senior member of the Bar, but was allowed, Held that, down to the transfer of the Government of India to Her Majesty, the Advocate General of the East India Company was not entitled as such to pre-audience in the Courts without a patent of precedence: that the attorney General and Solicitor General in England enjoy precedence as representing the Sovereign, and not by patent and that the Advocate General and officiating Advocate General for the time being are entitled to similar pre-audience as the attorney General in England. Advocate General Officiating claim of Bourke, O C 224 = A O C 110.

Advocate General-Contd.

3—Advocate-General, appeal in a suit brought by.—

Where a suit is filed, under S. 539 of the Civil Procedure Code. 1882 by the Advocate-General at the instance of the relators is dismissed and Advocate General does not think fit to appeal, it is not to competent to the relator, to file an appeal on their own account against the dismissal. Jan Mahomed v. Syed Nurudin 9 Bom L R 996=32 Bom 155.

4—Discovery by Advocate General - Advocate General—Discovery upon oath—Practice.

The Advocate General cannot be called upon to make discovery upon oath, in a suit filed by him at the instance of relators under the Provision of S. 539 of the Civil Procedure Code 1882. Advocate General v Adamji 8 Bom L R 565=30 Bom 474.

5—Power of Local Government to make temporary appointment—Right of de facto Advocate General.

The Local Government has power to make a temporary appointment to the office of Advocate-General. The Government is not restricted, in the choice of the person for the appointment of Advocate General, to the class of barristers. A de facto Advocate-General can apply for directions as regards repairs. &c. The Royapuram Church Case, 7 M L J 57.

Advocate-General—suit by some members of a section of the Chinese community at Calcutta against secretary and Trustee of a Chinese temple and cemetery for declaration of right of plaintiffs and their section to worship in the temple and make use of cemetery—Sanction of, obtained to institute suit—Maintainability of suit—Civ Pro Code 1908. O 1 r. 8 (1) ss. 92, 93 9 C W N 594.

Advocate General barred by decree in prior suit brought by trustees of charity.

See (1) Advocate general.
(2) Right of suit—charities & trusts.
(3) C P C Ss. 92, 93.

Advocate General — Inherently invalid—Need not be independently impugned-Limitation Act, art. 118—Mahomedan Law-inheretance. 56 P W R 1908=71 P R 1908.

Advocate General-Concld.

Advocate General—See Mahomedan Law-Custom, 3 P R 1905=87 P L R 1905.

Advocate General—Powers of, to interfere in cases of public nuisance—Bom. Act III of 1888, ss. 349. A, 349 B. 12 Bom L R 274=5 Ind Cas 213.

Advocate General.—Added as party to administration suit-His right to question validity of legacies—Administration, 29 Bom 133.

Advocate-General—Suit against Mohunt—Advocate-General cannot sue to dismiss a Mohunt in absence of misconduct-Mohunt. 1 Bom L R 743

Advocate-General—consent of, to a suit under s 539 of the Civ Pro Code, cannot relate back-Civ Pro Code 1908, ss. 92 and 93. 9 Bom L R 901.

Advocate-General's Powers Act.

See Act X of 1875.

Affidavit.

See (1) Execution of Decree-Stay of Execution
(2) Power of attorney.

Affidavit of Documents.

See (1) Inspection of Documents.
(2) Practice—Civil Cases—Affidavits.
(3) Practice—Civil Cases-Commission for taking Accounts.
(4) Practice—Civil Cases Inspection and Production of Documents.
(5) Stamp Act, 1879, sch. II, cl. (b).

Affidavit-Contents of.

See (1) Company—Winding up liability of officers.

Affidavit-Right to use.

See (1) Certiorari, writ of.

Affidavit Sufficieney of.

See (1) Rule to show cause.
(2) Summons, Service of.

Affidavit—Contradictory,

See Injunction—Injunction under Civil Procedure code.

Affidavit-Contd.

Affidavit.

Affidavit—What it is—Before whom to be made. 4 S L R 88.

Affidavits.

—and counter affidavits—Practice as to their filing. Civ. Pro. Code (1908) 15 C W N 475.

1—Scandalous matter—Dishonest conduct—Procedure—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908 O 19, R 3—Grounds for belief to be stated.—Under Order XIX Rule 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure, the grounds for the belief of the deponent should be stated.

Scandalous matter should be avoided in pleadings: and any proceedings before the Court may be objected to for scandal and the scandalous matter ordered to be expunged. If a statement of this character is inserted in an affidavit, it may be ordered to be taken off the file or the particular passage may be directed to be expunged. The Court may take action of its own motion or upon the application of the aggrieved party.

Allegations of dishonesty are scandalous; but they cannot be treated as such if they are relevant to the issue.

Allegations of dishonest conduct should never be made in pleadings if no relief is sought on that ground. Gobinda Mohan Das v Kunja Behari Das. 10 C L J 414

2—Affidavit.—If necessary—Facts stated in Judgment per Mookerjee J.—

Where the facts in a petition to the High Court appear sufficiently from the judgements of the lower Courts, no affidavit need be filed.

Mussamut Kariman v A. H Forbes 8 C L J 308.

3—Civ. Pro. Code 1882, s.196-Affidavits in interlocutory applications—Affidavits produced in a case should comply with the terms of s 196 of the Civ. Pro. Code. in cases of interlocutory applications, the statements of the declarant's belief are admissible, but the belief must be stated and reasonable grounds thereof set forth.

Damodar v. Panalal, 9 Bom. L R. 540

4—Preparation of—Inferences from facts, liberty to state:—

A party professing to state facts in court has no right to give his own inference as facts, but ought to disclose the real facts and leave the court to make its own inferences.

Surajmal v Manekchand. 6 Bom L R 704.

Affidavit-Concl.

Notes.—Dist, W N (1907) 794; 4 A L J 548; 29 All 610 Ref:14 CWN 96; 10 C L J 226

Affidavit—Cost—As to payment of fees of respondent's counsel not filed before delivery of Judgement—order allowing counsel's fees for special cause-Rules—Rules of High Courts and Supreme courts—N. W. P. A W N 1899, 216.

Affidavit—Not accompanying an application for restoration or suit dismissed for default, is no ground for dismissing the application—Practice and Procedure. 3 Bom L R 130.

Affidavit—Statement made in-if privileged-Defamation 8 C W N 292.

Affidavit—Application to District Court for declaring certain persons as touts—Disposal of affidavits-Validity-Examination of witnesses-Jurisdiction of District Judge—ACT XVIII of 1879, s. 56. 26 Mad 596.

Affidavit—Before whom to be sworn Civ. pro, Code, 1908 s.139 and O. 1X, r. 5. 5 Ind Cas 537

Affidavit—Where the facts in a petition to High Court appear sufficiently from the Judgment of lower Courts, no affidavit need be filed Civ.Pro. Code, 1908, s. 105, O. 1X, r. 13, 8 C L J 308.

Affidavit of documents.

See (1) Inspection of documents.

(2) Practice—Civil case-Production and inspection of documents.

Affidavit of documents when there are several Plaintiffs some of whom are in England.

See Inspection of documents.

Affiliation.

See Mahomedan Law-Acknowledgment.

Affiliation of son.

See Hindu Law-Custom.

Affirmative Commands & negative prohibitions, Distinction between.

See Statute construction of.

After acquired property of insolvent.

See Insolvent Act.

Agakhan.

1—The Aga Khan has absolute property over the offerings made to him—Members of the Aga Khan's family not jointly entitled to such offerings—Succession to the estate of the Aga Khan is not joint—Khojas are Shiah Imami Ismailis and not Asnasharis—History of the Aga Khan family—History of Shia Imami Ismailis—Judge entitled to exclude the public from the Court or to decline to let the evidence likely to arouse religious or political disquietude be published.

The offerings made to the Aga Khan for the time being by his followers, are intended by them to be for his own personal use and benefit and are his absolute property, and such offerings are made to him from a feeling of veneration and reverence, the object of them being that, while, on the one hand, he is to take them for himself, they, on the other are to reap the benefit of them, whether it be of a temporal or a spiritual character. They are not made for the benefit of the members of the Aga Khan's family. The members of the family have no right to be maintained by the Aga Khan, nor are they in any way entitled to the offerings received by the Aga Khan for the time being.

There is no joint succession to the estate of the Aga Khan.

The ancestors of the Khojas of Bombay were originally converted to the Shiah Imami Ismaili faith by Pir Sadrudin, a missionary of the time of Imam Salmshah, and the Aga Khan is not an Asnashari, but is the hereditary chief and the Hazar Imam of the Shiah Imami Ismailis. The faith of the Khojas who followed the Aga Khan is and always has been the Shiah Imami Ismailis faith. They are not and never were Asnasharis.

In determining whether the performance of any particular right promotes any particular religion, and benefits the members of the denomination or body who profess it, the secular Court must act upon the evidence of the belief of the members of the community concerned.

History of the belief of the Shia Imami Ismailis traced.

History of the Aga Khan's family narrated.

When the evidence in any case, if published in the daily papers, is likely to arouse religious or political disquietude, the Judge is entitled to exclude the general body of the public and to decline to let the evidence be published.

Haji Bibi v H H. Sir Sultan Mahomed Shah. The Aga Khan.

11 Bom L R 409=2 Ind Cas 874.

Agarwal Banias of Ludhina City.

—Agarwal Banias—Suit for a declaration by collaterals that a deed of adoption by a widow in favour of her daughter's son did not affect their reversionary rights decreed.

The Court refused to bind down the plaintiffs to a vague allegation in the case made by them, that they were governed by Hindu Law in matters of succession. Champat Rai v Daulat Ram 1 P L R 1909=68 P R 1909 =58 P W R 1909=2 Ind Cas 975.

Age.

—False representations as to.

See (1) Minor—Liability of Minors on, and Right to enforce, Contracts.
(2) Estoppel—Estoppel by conduct,

—Proof of—

See Evidence Act, Section 32.

Age—of ward—Entry in Administration report of Court of Wards—Value.

9 M L T. 142.

Age—Proof of son's age—Admissibility of father's statement made before public officer.

9 Ind Cas 324.

Age—Statement of deceased relative as to age of a person—Admissibility—Hind Law Will.

(1911) 2 M W N 383.

Age—Statement of date of birth in a register of baptism how far evidence of—Attestation of sale-deed, when operates as estoppel.—Evidence—Miscellaneous Documents.

2 N L R 34.

Age—Proof and evidence as to—Guardian—General. 86 P W R 1910=7 Ind Cas 505; 213 P L R 1910.

Age—Life insurance-Declaration as to age untrue-Its effect in rendering policy void—Return of premium.—Policy of Insurance.

25 Mad 183=11 M L J 379.

Age of assured.

See Insurance--Life Insurance.

Age of ceremonial competence.

See Hindu Law-Adoption Requisites for adoption.

Age of majority.

See (1) Majority, Age.
(3) Minor.

Age of minority, majority.

See Majority Act.

Agency.

See (1) Power-of-Attorney
(2) Companies Act, Section 4.

1.—Agency—Place of performance of a contract by a pakka adatia—Jurisdiction.

In the case of pakki adat agency the place of payment is the place where the constituent resides unless he has chosen to fix another place by express direction. Kedarmal v Surajmal 10 Bom L R 1230.

See also cases under:-

(1) Principal and Agent.
(2) Power of Attorney.
(3) Contract Act Ss. 208-235.
(4) Master and Servant.

2.—Public agents—Difference between public and private agents—Scope of their authority.

In the case of a private agent, the principal is bound by his agent's acts and declarations, even where they are not authorized by the principal, as the latter is liable to the extent of the power he has apparently given to his agent. But in the case of public agents the Government is liable only to the extent of the power it has actually given to its officers (the agents) 8 M I A 529 ref to. The Secretary of State v Kasturi Reddi 12 M L J 453=26 Mad 268

3.—Contract of agency—Burden of proof.

The burden of proof is on the person dealing with any one as an agent, through whom he seeks to charge another as principal. He must show that agency did exist, and that the agent had the authority he assumed to exercise or otherwise, that the principal is estopped from disputing it. Assaram Brindawan v Mathura Dass. U B R 1892-1896 Vol 11.

Agency—Elements necessary to constitute —Whether mere giving advice in matters of business constitutes agency.——Legal Practitioner Pleaders and Client. 12 C W N,28=6 C L J 580

Agency—Requisites of delegation of-Power of Attorney. 13 C W N 1190= 3 Ind Cas 859.

Agency-Concld.

Agency—Contracts by managing Agents of a Company, binding nature of—See Act VI of 1882, s. 242, 10 P R 1905= 100 P L R 1905.

Agency—Decision by an, how far, res judicata in British Courts—See Res judicata—Competency of Courts, 6 Bom L R 98.

Agency Rules.

See (1) Guardians and Wards act, 1890, s. 1.
(2) Transfer of civil case—General Case.

—Appeal under.

See (1) Valuation of suit—Appeals.
(2) Rules made under Acts.

Agency Rules.

See also cases under-
Ganjam and VizagaPatam agency rules.

1-Agency rule 22 of 1840 mad under Act XXIV of 1839 for Ganjam and Vizagapatam.—Agency rule No. XXII made in 1840, under the powers conferred by act XXIV of 1839, is a valid rule. Maharajah of Jeypore v. Papayyamma I L R 23 Mad., 329.

Agency Rules, Godavari—Transfer of execution application to wrong court in violation of—Fresh application for execution. 2 M W N 362

Agency to sell, coupled with interest.

See Principal and Agent.

Agency tract.

See (1) Guardians and Wards Act (1890) S 1 cl 2.
(2) High Court, jurisdiction of Madras-Civil.

Agent.

See (1) Attorney and client.
(2) Bengal Rent Act (1859), S 30.
(3) Bill of Lading.
(4) Bengal Rent Act (1869) s 30.
(5) Broker.
(6) Civil Procedure Code, (1908) O 3 r. 23.
(7) Contract.
(8) Contract Act (IX of 1872).
(9) Husband and Wife.
(10) Inspection of Documents.

Agent Contd.

(11) Limitation Act, Sch II Art 89
(12) Mahomedan Law—Pre emption—Ceremonies.
(13) Oaths Act. s 9
(14) Principal and Agent
(15) Probate
(16) Summons, Service of.

—Acknowledgment of debt by

See Limitation Act 1877.
S 19—Acknowledgment of debts.

—Acknowledgment of title by

See Limitation Act 1877, s. 19—Acknowledgment of other Rights

Agent Authority of.—

See (1) Cases under Principal and Agent—Authority of Agent
(2) Limitation Act 1877 S 20

Agent

—Liability of sons and grandsons

See Act XV of 1877 Sch II Art 57

Agent of Company

See Income-Tax Act (II of 1886)

Agent of Court of Wards Suit against —

See Oudh Land Revenue Act ss 175 176

1 Court of Agent Jurisdiction of—Act XV of 1840 Bom Regs XXIX of 1827 and XIII of 1830

A sanad issued to an Agent of H H Holkar, under Act XV of 1840 and Regulation XIII of 1830, was held not to be invalidated by the omission to enter the Agent's name in any list of exempted or empowered persons under Regulations XXIX of 1827 and XIII of 1830 The omission to secure the agent any specific jurisdiction under Regulations XIII of 1830 was held to disentitle him from exercising any but the most ordinary jurisdiction which could be exercised under that law. Sabharam bin Vithji v Sadashiv Bin Sayaji 1 B H C 96.

Agent

—Of Governor of Madras

See (1) Revision—Civil cases
(2) Transfer of Civil case—general cases

Agent.

Agent mixing his own property with that of minor—Effect—Onus of proof 10 Ind Cas 57.

Agent—Concld.

2 Agency of Ganjam and Vizagapatam-Agent's Court at Vizagapatam, Jurisdiction of—Ganjam and Vizagapatam Agency Court's Act (XXIV of 1839) —

The Agent to the Governor at Vizagapatam has jurisdiction over all suits of a civil nature arising in the Agency The rule regarding the institution of suits of a lesser pecuniary value than R 5,000 in the Divisional Assistant's Court is like the analogous rule contained in s 15 of the Code of Civil Procedure, one of procedure, and not of jurisdiction. Where, therefore a suit which might have been instituted in the Court of the Divisional Assistant was brought in the Agent's Court — Held that the Agent had jurisdiction to entertain it. 7 All 230, 17 Cal, 155, 14 Mad 183, 15 Mad 241, followed. 13 Mad 273 considered Gourachandra Patnaikudu v Vikrama Deo I L R 23 Mad, 367.

Agent of Manger of railway.

See Railway Act, 1890 s 77.

Agent of Sirdars in Dekhan.

See Pensions Act, s 4

Agent

Person who is an avowed agent for another in a transaction—Not a necessary party to a suit in respect of such transaction 10 Ind Cas 779.

Agent

Description in pronote of the payee as agent of another Effect. 10 M L T 328

Agent & sub-Agent.

See Principal & Agent

Agent authority of to make payment.

See Principal & Agent—Authority of agent.

Agent duly authorised.

See (1) Limitation Act (1908) S 19. 20
(2) Principal & Agent

Agent holding a power of attorney authorising him to act & appear for a party to a suit.

See Principal and Agent Authority of agent.

Agent of a company not resident in India.

See Principal & Agent.

Agents, Pleader's Mukhtars & Revenue Act.

See (1) Mooktear & Pleader.

(2) Costs summary suit for possession.

Agent's right to execute decree obtained as Agent.

See Principal & Agent—Authority of Agent.

Agent of minor.

See (1) Minor.

(2) Guardian.

Agent duly authorised.

See Limitation Act, 1908, ss. 19, 20,

Agents.

See Parties.

Principal & Agent

Master & servant.

Agra, Bengal & Assam Civil Courts Act.

See Act XII of 1887.

Agra Land Revnue Act.

See North West Province Land Revenue Act.

Agra Local Rates Act.

See U P Act III of 1878

Agra Rent Act.

See North West Provinces Rent Act.

C. C. 37

Agraharam.

See Hindu Law—Gift

Agra Tenancy Act.

1—Occupancy holding—Redemption—Sub-mortgage—Occupancy—holding-Transfer before the Agra Tenancy Act came into force—Right of mortgages to redeem—General Clauses Act (1 of 1904, local) S 6

Rights which accrued before the Agra Tenancy Act came into force are not prejudiced by that enactment A mortgage of an occupancy tenancy, executed prior to the coming into operation of the Agra Tenancy Act, is valid. Such a mortgagee has all the rights of a mortgagee,—including a right to transfer his mortgage and also a right to sub mortgage. A mortgagee of an occupancy holding and a transferee from him have a power to redeem the mortgage (1901) 26 A W N 302, Dist) Ram Pargas Upadhia v Sobba Upadhia, 7 A L J 755= 6 Ind Cas 837.

See also cases under.—

Mortgage of Occupancy Holding

2—Civil and Revenue Courts—Occupancy holding, mortgage of—Sub-tenant—Ejectment proceedings

In a suit instituted in the Civil Court by the mortgagee of an occupancy holding for recovery of possession, the District Judge held that (1) the suit was not maintainable in the Civil Court and (2) the decision of the Revenue Court in a former ejectment proceeding was conclusive against the plaintiff.

Per Banerji, J —The dispossession of the plaintiff's sub tenant amounted to his dispossession and his own dispossession to that of the occupancy tenant whose mortgagee he was As the occupancy tenant took no steps to recover possession of the holding within the six months his right had determined, and the plaintiff deriving his title from the former, had, consequently, lost his title.

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

Per Richards J —The policy of the law, as gatherable from the Rent Act of 1881 and the Tenancy Act of 1901, is that occupancy tenants shall not have any right to transfer their occupancy interest. The policy of the law, also, as to the Court in which all rights and questions between landlords and tenants of this class are to be decided is equally clear, namely, that the Revenue Court, and not the Civil Court, should try such questions. A mortgagee of a tenant's interest has always a frail security, for the moment the tenancy is determined, his security is gone. Consequently, where the original tenant cannot bring a suit for possession a person claiming through and under him cannot have rights, which he has not. Any person who, in spite of the clear policy of the law, lends money on his security of an occupancy-holding, takes a security which is only of any value, so long as he is permitted to remain in actual occupation. He cannot complain if he finds it difficult or impossible to enforce rights, which are against the policy of the law. (15 All 219 (F B), Exp) Pahalwan Singh v Satrupa Kuar. 2 A L J 471= A W N (1905) 178.

3.—Practice—Certificate—Lease to appeal to Privy Council—Order for certificate—Property of granting leave—Certificate and not order to be considered:—

The certificate granting leave to appeal to Privy Council and not the order directing it to issue should be considered and acted upon in determining the propriety of the grant of leave.

Radhakishan v Raikrishan 23 All 415 =28 I A 182=3 Bom L R 459= 5 C W N 689 ; P C

Notes —Ref· 24 All 236.

4—Tenancy Act—Co-sharer—Position of, in relation Sir—Proper rent-Farzi rate:

A co-sharer cultivating a portion of land in the village of his sir cannot be regarded as a tenant of a co-parcenary body, but he holds the land at a proper rate of rent & when accounts are taken between the parties they should not be taken with reference to a Farzi rate of rent.

Gendan Lal v Rustum Singh. 7 A L J 90=5 Ind Cas 695

5—C. P. C. Ss. 562, 588—Remand Appeal·—

There is no appeal from an order of remand passed under S. 562 of the Code of Civil Procedure in a suit or proceeding under the Agra Tenancy Act, 1901. Vilayat Husen v Maharaja Mahendra Chandra Nandy. 1905 A W N 198=28 All 88.

Notes.—Ref· 28 All 283=(1906) W N 5.

6—Ss 4, 19, 21, 23, 24, 25—Thekadar—Meaning of—Sub-lease granted by Thekadar—Not void.

A tenant under s. 4 (5), Tenancy Act, includes a thekadar and within the meaning of the Act a thekadar is a non-occupancy tenant.

A Thekadar, therefore, is competent to grant a sub-lease of his holding for a term of one year under s. 25. Natha v Mian Khan. 6 A L J 649=2 Ind Cas 552

7—S. 4—Tenant——Licensee to cut grass from embankments of a Railway line—Profits a prendre—Jurisdiction of Civil Court,—

A person authorised by a Railway Company, to cut grass from the embankments is not a tenant within the meaning of s. 4, Tenancy Act, and the payment which he agrees to make is not rent. The right which he obtains under the agreement, is in the nature of profits a prendre. A suit for recovery of the amount agreed upon lies in the Civil Court.

B and N. W. Railway v Bandhu Singh 6 A L J 400=31 All 342

8.—Ss. 4 (b), and 32 (2), Chap. III—Partition of rent-free holding—Suit maintainable.

S. 32 (2) does not apply to a rent-free grantee but falls within Chap. III which deals with division, devolution and transfer of tenancies. A tenant does include a rent-free grantee. A suit for partition of a rent-free holding is maintainable in the Civil Court. (A W N (1908), 197 Appr.) Sagar Mal v. Makhan Lal, 5 A L J 734= 31 All 49=A W N (1908), 279= 1 Ind Cas 705.

9—Ss. 4, 19, 21, 23, 24, 25 — Thekadar—Meaning of — Sub-lease granted by thekadar—Not void:—

A tenant under 4 (5), includes a thekadar and within the meaning of the Act a thekadar is a non-occupancy tenant. A takadar, therefore, is competent to grant a sub-lease of his holding for a term of one year under S. 25.

Natha v. Mainkhan, 6 C L J 649

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

10—S. 4 (12)—Landlord and tenant—Plot in abadi——Right of an agriculturist tenant to build upon—Improvement.—

An agriculturist tenant has no right to build a shed upon a plot of land in the abadi, without the permission of the zamindar, although he has been throwing rubbish over it for a long time. A structure built on a plot of land within the abadi is not an improvement within the definition of the word in s. 4 (12) of the Tenancy Act.

Jagannath v. Gurdiyal Singh, 10 Ind Cas 284.

11—Ss. 5, 18, 20, 57—Fixed rate tenant—Escheat to Crown:—

A fixed rate tenancy is but a limited interest which cannot be the subject of escheat to the Crown. Such a tenancy is carried out of the landholder's interest in the land to which it relates and a fixed rate tenant has no absolute interest in it. If the tenancy comes to an end, it necessary goes back to the estate which it was carried out of, and lapses to the landholder. (30 All 488 Overr.). Fulshi Ram v. Gurdial Singh, 7 A L J 1011 (F B)=7 Ind Cas 231.

12—S. 7—Applicability of, to mortgage executed in 1894—Mortgage of sir—Whether mortgagor obtains ex-proprietary rights —

R in 1894 made a usufructuary mortgage of his sir land to the plaintiff. S, the son of R, on the following day executed a kabuliat promising to pay rent in respect of that land to the mortgagee. The lower appellate Court and a single Judge of the High Court held that S was joint with his father at the time of the mortgage and became an ex-proprietary tenant and was not liable to pay more rent than such tenants were liable to pay. Held, that the mortgage having been made in 1894, provisions of Agra Tenancy Act of 1901 did not apply, and the mortgagor acquired no ex-proprietary rights in respect of the sir. S was therefore liable to pay rent at the rate mentioned in the kabuliat. 16 All 337 Fol:

Sheo Lal Singh v. Sukhdeo Singh, 6 A L J 437=31 All 368=2 Ind Cas 462.

13—Ss. 8 and 22—Tenant at fixed rate—Occupancy Tenant—Transfer by deed—Succession to such land—Sister no heir.—

A tenant at fixed rates is a tenant, described in S. 8 of the Act, and not a tenant who, under a contract with the Zamindar, holds at a fixed rate of rent.

Hence, where a Zamindar transfers land under a deed to a tenant, conferring on him the right to occupy at a fixed rate of rent, the transferee becomes only an occupancy tenant and not a tenant at fixed rates as defined by S. 8 of the Act.

The sister of such a transferee, not being mentioned in the list of heirs given in S. 22 of the Tenancy Act, is not entitled to inherit.

Bachchi alias Bachia v Bachchi, 3 A L J 513 =A W N (1906), 219=28 All 747.

14—Ss 8, 20, 22—Transfer—Succession—Claim of sister to inherit:—

A transferee from a zemindar under a deed which purports to confer all the rights of a tenant at fixed rates acquires only the rights of an occupancy tenant and not those of a fixed rate tenant as defined in S. 8 of the Tenancy Act. The fixed rate tenant referred to in s 20 of Tenancy Act is a tenant described in S. 8 of that Act and not a tenant who under a contract with the zemindar holds at a fixed rate of rent. The interest of such transferee cannot under S. 22 of the Tenancy Act devolve upon his sister. Bachchi v. Bachchi, 3 A L J 13=1906 A W N 219.

15—Agra Tenancy Act (II of 1901) Local 9—fixed rate tenant—record at last revision—conclusive proof.—

When at the last revision of settlement a person is recorded as a fixed rate tenant, it shall be conclusive proof of his being such a tenant. A court cannot enquire whether his name was recorded with the consent of another tenant.

Mulai Singh v. Rajwant Singh, 3 A L J 842=(1906) A W N 68.

16—S. 9—Fixed rate tenancy—Evidence—Revision of settlement—Plea of entry of name with consent of the fixed rate tenant:—

Held, that the provisions of S. 9 of the Agra Tenancy Act 1901, are clear and imperative and bar a court from inquiring whether a person's name has been entered at the last revision of settlement as a fixed rate tenant merely with the consent of the real tenant. Mulai Singh v. Rajwant Singh, 1906 A W N 68=3 A L J 428.

17—Tenancy Act (Agra) Ss. 10, 20—Usufructuary mortgage of sir lands—Possession not delivered to mortgagee—Suit to recover possession not maintainable -In pari delicto potior est conditio defendentis—Indian Contract Act (IV of 1872), S. 65.

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

A usufructuary mortgage of sir lands was made to the plaintiff. Possession was not delivered to him. He sued by his suit to recover possession or to recover the mortgage-money and damages by sale of the property.

Held, that the plaintiff was not entitled either to recover physical possession of the property or to get a refund of the money he had paid, but that he could get rent assessed on the expropriatary tenure. Ref: 32 All 205, Fol: 11 Bom L R 693 Dist: Depan Rai v. Ram Khelwan Rai, 7 A L J 330=5 Ind Cas 557.

Notes:—Dist: 7 Ind Cas 738.

18—Ss 10, 202—Suit for possession in Civil Court—Agricultural land — Defendant pleading tenancy—exchange—Ex-proprietary tenant—

The rights of an ex-proprietary tenant do not arise, when there is an exchange of zemindari between co-sharers. In a suit for possession relating to agricultural land the defendant pleaded that he was a tenant; held, that the Court of first instance was bound to follow the procedure laid down in S. 202 of the Agra Tenancy Act.
Kura Singh v. Chhallu, 8 A L J 329.

19—Ss. 10 20, 83—Sale of sir lands — Agreement to surrender ex proprietary rights — Possession not delivered—Suit for damages for breach of contract—Contract Act (IX of 1872), S. 65.—

The defendants executed a sale-deed in favour of the plaintiffs, whereby they purported to sell their zamindari property, together with sir and khudkasht lands and covenanted to execute a deed of relinquishment in respect of the latter and to surrender their ex-proprietary holding by filing an application in the Revenue Court. Three days later a deed of relinquishment was executed in accordance with the stipulation in the sale-deed, but no application was made to the Revenue Court surrendering the holding, and possession of the sir and khudkasht lands was not delivered to the purchasers. The sale-deed contained a stipulation that, in the event of delay in delivery of possession or objection to the surrender of their ex-proprietary rights by filing a formal application, the vendors shall pay damages at the rate of Rs. 16 per bigha. Upon a suit being filed for recovery of damages for breach of the aforesaid agreement, held, that, whether the transaction was regarded as an attempted sale of ex-proprietary rights or an agreement to relinquish those rights when they arose, it was unlawful, and therefore the claim to damages for failure to deliver possession of the sir and khudkasht lands was not maintainable. Ikram Ullah Khan v. Moti Chand, 8 A L J 826.

20—Agra Tenancy Act Ss 11, 34—Holding of tenancy for over twelve years without payment of rent with consent of—Zemindar-Acquisition of occupancy—right.

A tenant who has been in possession of a holding for over twelve years with the consent of the Zemindar can acquire an occupancy right in the holding notwithstanding the fact that he has been paying no rent to the zemindar, S. 34 of the Agra Tenancy act, 1901, does not apply to such a case.
Khushi Ram v. Mahasingh. 10 Ind Cas 112

21—s 60—Agra Tenancy Act (11 of 1908) Ss 11, 18, 20—Fixed-rate tenant—Mortgage—Covenant that the mortgagee will remain always in possession of property after redemption-Clog on redemption: S. 18 of the Agra Tenancy Act, 1901, relates to the right of occupancy referred to in S. 11 of the Act and does not apply to the case of a tenant at fixed rates whose interests are under S. 20 heritable and transferable.

A stipulation in the mortgage-deed, by which on the payment of the principal, interest and costs, the mortgagor is not to recover possesion, but is bound to allow the mortgagee to continue in possession apparently in perpetuity upon payment of a fixed rent, prevents the mortgagor from getting the property unfettered, and is thus a clog on equity of redemption. (1903) A C 235; 88 L T 634: 51 W R 636; 72 L J K B 471 9 Bom 524, Fol; 22 All 238 Dist.
Shoe Singh v Birabahadur Singh. 6 Ind Cas 707.

22 Tenancy Act (Agra) Ss.20, 83—Relinquishment—Ex-proprietary tenancy—Agreement to surrender.—An agreement to relinquish expropriatary rights in sir land is not an agreement which could be enforced by either a Civil or a Revenue Court.

A judgment-debtor entered into an agreement with the decree-holder to relinquish a part of the sir lands in his favour, while the decree holder agreed to give up a part of the decretal amount; Held, that the transaction did not amount to surrender of tenancy. Reghubans Sahai v. Brijnandan Lal. 6 A L J 477= 1 Ind Cas 731.

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

23—S. 20—Occupancy right sold—Purchaser of such rights acquires nothing—Right of occupancy tenant to relinquish after assignment;—

It is of the utmost-importance that occupancy holdings should not be subject to prolonged litigations. When such holdings are sold in execution of a decree contrary to the provisions of S. 20 of the Tenancy Act the purchaser acquires nothing. The act renders it illegal to sell an occupancy holding in execution of a decree. Semble;—An occupancy tenant after assigning his rights or subletting can relinquish his occupancy rights to the prejudice of his assignee or sub-lessee. Madan Lal v. Syed Mahamad ali Nasir. 1906 A W N 182=3 A L J 116=28 All 696.

Notes.—Fol: W N (1907) 76; 29 All 327, 3 A L J 731=4 A L J 306=(1906) W N 300. Appr: 29 All 129.

24—S.20-Occupancy interest, mortgage of—Interpretation Bond—executed while act XII of 1881 in force—Default after 1902:—

Where certain debtors executed a bond covenanting to place the creditor in possession of the 'land mortgaged' upon default in payment of interest and stipulating that 'the land mortgaged shall remain hypothecated and pledged in lieu of the amount of debt so long as it is not paid off:' Held that 'the land mortgaged' meant 'the land when mortgaged' and the bond was not intended to and did not operate as a deed of usufructuary mortgage until the date on which the default was made. Where the money was borrowed when Act XII of 1881 was in force and default in payment of interest accrued after Act II of 1901 came in force. Held that the latter act could govern the case. Proprietors whose proprietary rights are mortgaged under a deed of usufructuary mortgage become tenants with rights of occupancy and those rights cannot be mortgaged. Harnanda Rai v. Nakchhedi Rai 3 A L J 691=(1906) A W N 302.

Notes:—Fol: 4 A L J 306=29 all 327=A W N (1907) 76.

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

25—S.20—Occupancy holding-Usufructuary mortgage prior to the passing of the act—mortgagee not getting Possession-Suit for possession after passing of the Act- Retrospective effect of the act—.

B executed a deed not usufructuary mortgage for a term of twenty years, in respect of his occupancy holding in 1896. in favour of O. O sued for recovery of possession as usufructuary mortgagee after the passing of the agra Tenancy Act, 1901: held, that O's claim should succeed; that Act II of 1901 did not affect retrospectively, that if what the tenant did was valid under the law in force at the time when the mortgage was made, and that, if the mortgagee was entitled to enforce his mortgage before the passing of the new act, he would be equally entitled to do so after the passing of that Act. (3 A L J 40; A W N (1906) 28; 15 All 219, 26 All 78 Fol.)

Bhikha v. Umrao Singh 5 Ind Cas 82.

26—S.20—Mortgage of occupancy holding—Redemption of a prior valid mortgage-Rights of mortgagees,—

A usufructuary mortgage of an occupancy holding was executed after the passing of North-Western Provinces Tenancy Act. The mortgage sued to redeem a prior mortgagee of same holding whose mortgage was executed before the passing of the act. Held that the mortgage under which the plaintiff claimed was invalid and unlawful, that the plaintiff had acquired no right under his mortgage and was not entitled to redeem the prior mortgagee whose mortgage was valid under the law. (26 A W N (1906). 182=3 A L J 476. Fol 15 All 219, 26 All 78 Ref:) Banmale Pande v. Bisheshar Singh 1906 A W N 300 3 A L J 731--29 All 129.

27—Agra Tenancy act (II of 1901 Local) s. 20 21 31-Occupancy holding, unsufructuary mortgage of-void, not voidable-Indian Contract Act (XI of 1872) section 23.

A transfer by an occupancy tenant of his interests in his holding is absolutely forbidden. A usufructuary mortgage of an occupancy holding, therefore, if permitted, would defeat the provisions of the Agra Tenancy Act, it is unlawful within the meaning of section 23 of the Contract Act, and is void.

The word " voidable " in section 31, Agra Tenancy Act, is not used in contra-distinction to " void " but means that the transfer made in contravention of the provisions of section 22 may be avoided by the landholder in the manner provided in the section. Sections 20 and 21 were enacted in the interest as much of the tenant as of the landholder.

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

An occupancy tenant mortgaged his holding with possession to a person, who subsequently re-let the land to the mortgagor and sued him for arrears of rent. Held that the plaintiff was really asking the assistance of the Court to enforce an agreement, the consideration of which was unlawful and which was therefore void. (3 A L J 691, idem 731 idem 476 follo=2 A L J 156 referd to) Ram Sarup v. Kishen Lal. 4 A L J 306=1907 A W N 76=29 all 327.

28—S.20-A sufructuary mortgage-Sir-Sir sold after the passing of Agra Tenancy Act-Position of mortgagee—Ex-proprietary tenancy-Transfer of holding—Ejectment.—One M mortgaged his zemindari and sir to the plaintiff by way of simple mortgage in 1890. M subsequently usufructuarily mortgaged the same share and sir to the defendant in 1897. In 1905, the plaintiff brought a suit on his mortgage of 1890, obtained a decree, and purchased the mortgaged property in execution thereof: Held, that the defendant, who was in possession of the sir ever since his mortgage of 1897, could not continue to hold the property as mortgagee of the ex-proprietary tenancy which accrued in favour of his mortgagor on the purchase of the sir in 1905 by the plaintiff, and that the defendant was liable to be ejected from the holding at the instance of the plaintiff in an action of ejectment. 21 All 538 Dist. Dwarka Chand v Sheikh Khadim Husain. 9 Ind Cas 553

29—Agra Tenancy Act—S. 20—" Shall presume —Meaning of-Evidence -Presumption—Record of-plaintiff's name as co-sharers-Evidence Act s 4.—

Held, by Richards, C J Banerji, Karamat Husam, Tudball, Chamier and Piggott J J (Kno J disssenting), that the context of s 201 of the Agra Tenancy Act clearly shows that it was the intention of the Legislature that the Revenue Court, in the case of a recorded co-sharer, in the class of suits specified in the section, should, dispose of the suit on the assumption that the plaintiff has the proprietary title in respect of of which he is recorded: the proviso to the section itself shows the limitation of the presumption. It can only be rebutted by a separate suit in the

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

Civil Court, but so far as the Revenue Court is concerned, it cannot go behind the entry in the revenue papers, receive evidence and itself try the proprietary question. (30 A 447, F; 32 A 427 Overruled) Per Richards C J—The policy of Agra Tenancy Act and Land Revenue Act is to make records as valuable as possible, and to put a premium on persons, who were entitled to have their names recorded, taking the necessary steps to have the record of their title made. Per Knox J—The words " shall presume " in s. 201 of the Agra Tenancy Act connote a rebuttable presumption. Durga Prasad v Hazari Singh. 8 A L J 1025 F B.

30—S. 20—U P Rent Act S 9—Occupancy tenant—Usufructuary mortgage—Tenancy determined—New lease to mortgagees by landlord—Whether such interest transferable.—Where an occupancy tenant had made a usufructuary mortgage of a portion of his holding, there being an arrangement between himself and the mortgagees as to payment of the rent and the rent fell into arrears in consequence of which the landlord ejected the tenant and determined the tenancy and granted a new lease to the mortgagees.—Held, that having regard to the nature of the property, a suit for redemption of the usufructuary mortgage by the evicted tenants would not lie. S 9 of the Act No XII of 1881 and S 20 of the Tenancy Act of 1901 forbid a transfer of the interests created by the lease. The tenancy having been duly and legally determined, the landlord who was party to the suit for redemption was entitled to retain the present lessees as his tenants. Kehar v Hasan Ali Khan. 2 A L J 583.

31—S. 21—Occupancy tenant-Usufructuary mortgage executed before the Tenancy Act came into force:—Held, also that a usufructuary mortgage of his holding made by an occupancy tenant before the coming into force of the Agra Tenancy Act is not rendered invalid by S 21 of the Act, even if S 21 does prohibit an occupancy tenant from parting with the possession of his occupancy holding by making a usufructuary mortgage. 15 All 219; 26 All 78 ref. to. Babu Lal v Ram Lal. 1906 A W N 28=3 A L J 40.

Notes—Fol. 30 All 479 F B=A W N (1908) 195=5 A L J 447; Ref. 6 A L J 989.

32—Agra Tenancy Act—s. 21—Mortgage of occupancy holding—Suit by mortgagor to recover possession—Illegal contract—Restitution of benefit.—Under the Agra Tenancy Act, the mortgage of a cultivatory holding, is void but the person who made the mortgage cannot, on principles of equity, be allowed to take back the property, unless he put the mortgagee into the position in which he was before the mortgage, and restore to him the money which he received from him. A W N (1888) 128 Fol:

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

Bahoran Upadhya v Uttamgir 8 A L J 931.

33—S. 22—Pleadings—Sufficient findings—Remission of issues unnecessary—Agra Tenancy Act (11 of 1901) S 22—Succession of collaterals-Joint cultivation—Burden of proof on collateral.

Where a man sets up his succession to occupancy or non-occupancy holdings, recorded in the name of his deceased relative, he is bound to show that he shared in the cultivation of the holdings at the time of his death.

Where the findings of the Court below are sufficient to dispose of the case, it is un-necessary to remit issues to the lower Court.

Sarwan Singh v Ramsarup Singh. 6 Ind Cas 499.

34—S. 22--Male lineal descendant—Adopted son—Hindu Law.

A son duly adopted according to the Hindu Law must be treated as a male lineal descendant within the meaning of S. 22 of the Agra Tenancy Act 1901 (S D 5 No of 1904 approved of: 5 A L J 77; A W N (1908) 37; 30 All 128 Ref; 40 P R 1894; 43 P R 1895 Dist.) Kallian v Cheedu Singh. 8 Ind Cas 228.

35—S. 22—Right of succession to occupancy holding—Right of succession opening out before the Tenancy Act—Indigent daughter—Right of affluent daughter postponed—Hindu Law. Where an occupancy tenant died before the coming into operation of the Tenancy Act leaving two daughters, one indigent and other rich, and was succeeded by the former. Held, that the rich daughter was entitled to inherit the holding upon the death of the indigent daughter in preferance to the latter's son; the right having been acquired on the death of the father, was merely postponed during the lifetime of the poor daughter. Dulari v Mul Chand. 5 Ind Cas 384=32 All 314=7 A L J 293.

36—S. 22—Male lineal descendant—Illegitimate son of a Sudra.

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

An illigitimate son of a sudra by a continuous concubine is entitled, in the absence of a legitimate son, to the occupancy holding of his father as a male lineal descendant. (13 M I A 141, 2 All 134; 6 All 329 Ref.) Ram Kali v Jamuna 5 A L J 629=A W N (1908) 229= 30 All 508.

37—S 22—Agreement dividing holdings-Suit for possession of a moiety barred. A suit for possession of a moiety of cultivatory holdings is a suit for division of those holdings, inasmuch as the Court is asked to declare that the plaintiff is entitled to an undivided share of the holdings and to put him in possession of that share.

If the owners of an occupancy holding enter into an agreement and divide the holding, the division would not be binding, on the landlord.

A suit for possession of a share in such holding under the agreement is barred by the provisions of S 32 of the Act. Achhey Lal v Janki Prasad 3 A L J 735=A W N (1906) 274= 29 All 166.

Notes—Over 31 All 348 F B; 6 A L J 343= 1 Ind Cas 594 Dist. 4 A L J 769=1908 A W N 3.

38—Agra Tenancy Act II of 1901), section 22 (1)—male lineal descendants——Mahommedan Law of succession not applicable.

The new Tenancy Act has completely altered the rule of devolution in the case of an occupancy tenancy upon the death of the tenant. The tenancy no longer devolves "as if it were land" (as in Act XII of 1881) but on the lineal male descendants of the last tenant. The Mahomedan Law of Succession does not apply.

Hence, where a Mahomedan occupancy tenant died leaving a son and grandson, held that they would share the occupancy holding equally. Bhura v. Sahab-ud-din. 5 A L J 77= A W N (1908) 37=30 All 128.

39—Ss 22, 32—Occupancy rights acquired by widow before the passing of Act—Devolution on brother--Jurisdiction—Civil and Revenue Courts. Y and M two Mahomedan brothers, jointly held an occupancy holding. M died before the passing of the new Tenancy Act leaving a widow. His share in the holding was recorded in the widow's name. The widow of M died leaving a brother. The Revenue Courts entered the name of Y's son in place of M's widow. The widow's brother brought this suit for joint possession. Held, that the suit was not obnoxious to the bar of S; 32 (3), Tenancy Act, as it was not a suit for actual division of the occupancy holding, Held, further that M having died before the passing of the Tenancy Act his widow inherited his property absolutely and had absolute right to be considered an occupancy tenant and that after her death which took place after the passing of the Act, her brother was entitled to succeed as provided in S. 22 (c). Ayab Ali Khan v. Moshuq Ali Khan 1908 A W N 281=5 A L J 738=31 All 51= 1 Ind Cas 593.

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

40—Agra Tenancy Act Ss. 22, 82—Occupancy holding-widow succeeding to her husband-Relinquishment by widow to the prejudice of the riversioner.

The interest of Muhammadan widow succeeding to the occupancy—holding of her husband is a limited one, and is liable to come to an end at any moment she dies or remarries. She therefore cannot relinquish her limited rights in the holding, to the prejudice of the person, who will succeed in the event of her remarriage or death (27 All 82 Ref). Jhabbar Musalman v. Suraj Prashad 9 Ind Cas 894.

41—S. 22—Widow acquiring right in occurancy holding before the Act—Effect of remarriage—Contract Act (IX of 1872) S. 21—Mistake of Law. A widow, who succeeded to the rights of her husband in any occupancy holding, before the new Tenancy Act came into force, could not lose it after the passing of the new act on account of her re-marriage.

When the parties honestly believed that the plaintiff had lost her right to the occupancy right of her husband, by reason of her second marriage, and there was no fraud or misrepresentation by the defendant Zamindar, and the plaintiff agreed to take the land on an increased rate of rent under a lease, held, that the lease could not be set aside as it was a contract entered into between the parties by reason of an innocent mistake on a point of law shared by all the parties (17 Cal 291 Distgd.) Sahiban Bibi v Madholal 4 A L J 475= A W N (1907) 197.

42Agra Tenancy Act S. 22—Occupancy holding—Succession—Illegitimate—sons-Chela.

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

S. 22 cl. (a) of the Agra Tenancy Act, clearly contemplates legitimate lineal descent. Held, therefore that the defendants, who were found to be the illegitimate sons of an occupancy—tenant, who was not a Sudra and who also alleged that they were his chelas, were not entitled to succeed in either capacity. Jageshar Jati v. Bindeshri Prasad 8 A L J 731.

43—Ss. 25, 31—Rent Act XII of 1881—Sub-lease by occupancy tenant for more than five years under old Act-Validity of such lease under thisAct—-Voidable, not void—Sub-lessees' suit for possession.—

The occupancy tenants of some lands granted a lease in favour of planttiff for a term of 25 years and put plaintifi in possession of some portion of the lands. The remaining portion was in the occcupation of the defendants under a lease, which was to expire one year after the lease in plaintiffs'favour. Just before the expiry of the lease in favour of the defendants, the lessors of the plaintiffs granted another lease in favour of the defendants ignoring the lease in favour of plaintiffs, for another term of five years, and hence, the defendants continued in possession. The land-holder then sued the plaintiffs for a cancellation of the sub-lease in their favour: but that suit was dismissed by the Revenue Court on the ground, inter alia, that the sub-lease having been granted before the Tenancy Act of 1901 was valid. Plaintiffs now sued for possession of the portion of the lands not delivered to them. The defence was that sub-lease in plaintiff's favour was invalid, the same being for more than five years and, as such, opposed to s. 25 of the Tenancy Act of 1901. It was also contended that, the lessors of plaintiffs not being in possession when the lease was granted to plaintiff, the agreement was one for a grant of the lease in the future and as such the plaintiffs had no vested rights to sue for possession. Held, (1) that the lease, having been granted when the old Tenancy Act was in force, was perfectly valid and it was not affected by the Act of 1901, the former Act not having contained any limitation as to the period of a sub lease; (2) that the agreement was not merely an agreement to grant a lease in the future, but a perfected present lease giving the plaintiffs a right to sue for possession on the expiry of the then lease in favour of defendants (A W N 1901. 11, D); (3) that assuming that the lease in favour of plaintiffs was governed by the new Tenancy Act s. 31 of the Act makes sub leases granted by tenants in contravention of S. 25 voidable at the option of the landlord and not void; that the landlord's suit, in this case, having been dismissed and the decision having become final, the sub-lease in favour of plaintiffs was valid; and (4) that the lessors of the plaintiffs having in consequence of the lease in favour of plaintiffs, deprived themselves of all rights to grant another lease in favour of anybody else, the lease in favour of defendants even though they might have taken the same in ignorance of that in favour of plaintiffs, could not prevail over that in favour of the latter.

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

Lalu Ram v. Thakurdas
A W N 1905 53=2 A L J 156.

44.—Ss. 31, 57, 179, 199 —Ejectment of tenant and sub-lessee—Appeal to the Commissioner—Tenant setting up custom of transfer—proprietary title. If a suit for ejectment on the ground of an act or omission detrimental to the land in a holding or inconsistent with the purpose for which it was let, is brought against a tenant alone, an appeal lies to the District Judge from the decision of the court of first instance. If the suit is for ejectment of the tenant and his transferee on the grouud mentioned in clause(d) of s. 57, it is a suit under the second clause of s. 31 and is a suit mentioned in group C Sch IV and an apppel in such a case lies to the Commissioner. A suit for ejectment was brought against the defendant on the ground that he had let the land for building purposes and that that was inconsistent with the purpose for which the land had been let to him. Defendant pleaded that there was a custom in the village by which the tenants were competent to sublet. The suit was partly decreed. Held, an appeal lay to the Commissioner. Held further, that question of propritary title was raised in the defence. Lachman Das v Nabi Bakhs i, 6 A L J 39=31 All 109= 1 Ind Cas 161.

45.—(II of 1901, local), Section 32—Division of occupancy holding—Suit for declaration of right —Suit maintainable.

A suit for a declaration of right to a share in an occupancy holding is maintainable.

A declaration as to his rights obtained by one co-sharer against the other co-sharers does not and cannot effect any division of the holding or distribution of the rent thereof. (30 All

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

90, Fol, 29 All 66, overruled. Najib Ullah v. Gulsher Khan. 6 A L J 343 (F B)= 31 All 348=1 Ind Cas 594.

46.—S. 32—Fixed rate tenancy—Division among co-tenants—landlord.

The tenants of a fixed rate tenancy are entitled, as between themselves, to divide the holding; such division cannot bind or anywise prejudice the landlord, but as between the tenants themselves it is perfectly legitimate.

Sheobalak Kalwar v Kalka Singh, 5 Ind Cas 317.

47.—S. 32—Division of tenancy—Abatement—Death of pro forma defendant.

Plaintiffs claimed a half share in an occupancy holding and prayed for possession of that share or such other relief as the Court might think fit to grant. The Court below passed a decree for possession of the share claimed.

Held, that this was substantially a decree for division of the holding and was opposed to S. 32 of the Tenancy Act. The plaintiffs were, however entitled to a declaration of right to one half of the holding. Ashiq Husain v Arghari Begam. 4 A L J 809=30 All 90= 1908 W N 21.

Notes:—Ref: 6 A L J 343 F B=31 All 348 =1 Ind Cas 594.

48.—S. 32 Cl. 2—Proceedings commenced—Partition of a holding—General Clauses Act 1 of 1887 (local) Sec 11.—

"Proceedings" include the whole proceedings from the filing of the plaint down to the final order in execution. Hence where a suit was instituted before the coming into force of the new Tenancy Act, but an appeal was filed after its coming into force:—Held, that the proceedings commenced when the plaint was filed, and that the last clause of Section 32, Act, II did not apply to such proceedings by reason of Section 11 of the Local General Clauses Act.

Saligam v Kharag Jit. 1 A L J 428.

49.—S. 32—Suit for exclusive possession of occupancy-holding—U P Land Rsvenue Act S 44 —Revenue Court refusing to correct an entry—Jurisdiction of Civil Court.—

Where a suit is brought by the plaintiff for exclusive possession of an occupancy-holding on the ground that the defendant is a trespasser, it cannot be regarded as a suit of division of an agricultural holding, and S. 32 of the Tenancy Act does not bar it. 1906 A W N 274 dist. The decision of the Revenue Court refusing to correct an entry in the revenue register as to the name of a tenant cannot preclude the plaintiff for maintaining a suit in the Civil Court. S 44 of the Agra and Oudh Land Revenue Act refers to registers A-D and not to register E. (1906) A W N 274 Dist. Ajodhya Singh v Ram Dyal Upadya. 4 A L J 769= 1908 A W N 3.

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

50.—S. 32—Act (Local) No. III of 1901 United Provinces Land Revenue Act) S 233—Civil and Revenue Courts—Jurisdiction—Suit for partition of a rent free plot:—

Held,, that a suit for partition of certain isolated plots of land alleged to be held rent free is not excluded from the jurisdiction of a Civil Court either by Section 233 of the United Provinces Land Revenue Act, 1901, or by Section 32 of the Agra Tenancy Act 1901, 6 All 452 ref to. Abdul Karim v Ramzan 1909 A W N 197.

Notes:—Apppr: (1908) A W N 279, 5 A L J 734, 31 All 49.

51.-S. 34-Applicability of the Section—Tenant holding with consent of Zemindar.

Section 34 of the Agra Tenancy Act. 1901, applies to a case where a person occupies land without the consent of the land holder. and not where he occupies it as his tenant. Chidda Singh v Rup Ram 10 Ind Cas 224.

Agra Tenancy Act.—Sections 40, 90 —See Landlord and Tenant —Compensation for improvements.

52.—S. 41—Enhancement of rent—Correction of Jamabandi as to rent—Determination of occupancy rights by temporary absence.

A zamindar can obtain an enhancement of rent, only in accordance with S. 41 of the Tenancy Act, which provides that the rent of an occupancy tenant should be liable to enhancement only by a registered instrument, and by a decree or order of a Revenue Court. An order to correct the jamabandi is not an order within the meaning of the section. The decree or order referred to in the section is the decree or order made by a Revenue Court on land-holder's application for enhancement of rent. A temporary absence of an occupancy tenant from his village owing to famine does not determine his occupancy rights. Ganesh Baksh Singh v Mata Din. 1 Ind Cas 70.

53.—S. 45—C P C—O 2 rr 3, 6 (1882 S 45) Application of, to N. W. P Tenancy Act—Suit for rent—Separate holdings—Joint suit not maintainable.

S 45 of the Code does not apply to suits for rent. A landlord cannot bring a joint suit for rent of several holdings, both occupancy and non-occupancy. The N W P. Tenancy Act contemplates separate suit for arrears of rent in separate holdings. Jagannath Prasad v Tore. 3 A L J 610=A W N (1906) 253 29 All 18.

54—Agra Tenancy act (II of 1901), Schedule IV (47), execution of decree—Limitation.

The period of limitation for application to execute a decree under the Tenancy Act for a sum below Rs. 100 is three years from the date of the final decree. The object of the Legislature evidently is to expedite the execution of decrees. Hence, where the decree-holder having obtained a decree for a sum below five hundred rupees on 14th March 1901, applied for its execution on 13th March, 1904 and the decree was partially satisfied by sale of the movable property of the judgment debtor. Held that an application subsequently made on 22nd August 1904 for realising the balance by sale of the immovable property was barred by limitation, the application being a fresh application to execute the decree in a different manner. (15 M L J R 243 Foll.) Mohabbat Bahadur Lal v Uda Kunwar 3 A L J 324=1906 A W N 97.

55—Ss. 48, 49, 50—Landlord and tenant—Position of person excluded from assessment—Exproprietary tenant—Auction sale of his right—Status of purchaser—Tenant at will—Ejectment.—Where a person did not refuse settlement under Act XIX of 1873, but was excluded therefrom and allowed malikana allowance in recognition of the proprietary rights which he has originally possessed;—Held that he thereby lost his proprietary rights and became the ex-proprietary tenant of the sir land which he had held as pro prietor. Any one purchasing the rights and interests of such person in the land formerely held by him as sir can only be deemed to be a tenant at will of such person. Bhagwan Das v Manohar Lal 6 A L J 524

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

56—S 51—Remision-Thikadar's rent not expressly remitted—Thikadar liable to the proprietor—Lessor and lessee.

In consequence of frost, the Government granted a remission of revenue and also of the rents of tenants. The rent of the thikadar was not expressed to have been remitted in the order of remission. Held, that the thikadar was not entitled to any deduction from the rent payable to the proprietor on account of the remission.
Shiam Lal v Makhan Lal 2 Ind Cas 629.

57—N W T Tenancy Act (11 of 1901), Ss. 56 57 (a) (c) (d) and 80—Ejectment, breach of conditions in the lease inconsistent with the provisions of the Act. No tenant shall be ejected otherwise than in accordance with the provisions of the Act.

Hence, where a decree for arrears of rent in respect of an agricultural holding has been obtained on account of an agricultural year which does not remain unsatisfied at the end of such year a decree for the ejectment of a tenant would be inconsistent with the provisions of the Act.

Held also, that the tenant is entitled to costs only, his lease expiring by elluxion of time after the expiry of the agricultural year in which the decree is passed reversing ejectment by the lower Courts. Tara Singh v Khushal Kunwar 3 A L J 349=28 All 610=(1906) A W N 110.

58-Specific Relief Act S 42-Suit for declaration of title by zamindar against tenants who had got their own names recorded as owners in the khewat-Further relief for ejecting tenants not asked-Suit not barred—Agra Tenancy Act (Local 1 of 1901) S. 56—Ejectment—Verbal denial of landholder's title by tenants;—Defendants, who were occupancy tenants of a certain grove land, managed to have their own names recorded in the khewat as proprietors in respect of the plot of land. The zamindar sued for a declaration of his title. Defence was that the suit was barred by the proviso to S. 42, Specific Relief Act, inasmuch as the plaintiff had omitted to ask for the further relief of ejectment of the defendants. Held, that the mere fact that the tenants had got their names recorded in the khewat and had thereby denied the landholder's title, did not give the landholder a right to sue for ejectment in a Civil Court, and that the suit was not barred by the proviso to S 42, Specific Relief Act, as no further relief under the circumstances could have been asked for by the zamindar.

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

Obiter dicta—Tenants cannot be ejected otherwise than under the provisions of S 56 Agra Tenancy Act (11 of 1901). A mere verbal denial of landholder's authority by tenant is not sufficient ground for ejectment under the Act. 21 All 143 Ref. Inayat Ullah Khan v Khuda Baksh 1 Ind Cas 665

59—Ss. 56,58,63—The provisions of Ss. 56 58 and 63 U P Tenancy Act, refer to cases where the relation of landholder and tenant exists between the parties. Lalu Ram v Thakur Das 1905 A W N 53=2 A L J 156.

60-Ss.57,31,179,199-Ejectment of tenant and sub-lessee-Appeal to Commissioner-Tenant setting up custom of transfer—Proprietary title.

If a suit for ejectment on the ground of an act or omission detrimental to the land in a holding inconsistent with the purpose for which it was let, is brought against a tenant alone, an appeal lies to the District judge from the decision of the Court of first instance. If the suit is for ejectment of the tenant and his transferee on the ground mentioned in cl (d) of S 57, it is a suit under the second clause of S 31 and is a suit mentioned in group C; Sch IV & an appeal in such a case lies to the Commissioner.

A suit for ejectment was brought against the defendant on the ground that he had let the land for building purposes and that that was inconsistent with the purpose for which the land had been let to him. The defendant pleaded that there was a custom in the village by which the tenants were competent to sub-let. The suit was partly decreed. Held, an appeal lay to the Commissioner. Held further that no question of proprietory title was raised in the defence. Lachman Das v Nabi Baksh 6 A L J 39=31 All 109=1 Ind Cas 161

61—S. 57(b)—Ejectment—Trees planted by tenant—Breach of contract.

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

A tenant who plants in contravention of the contract under which he holds the holding is liable to ejectment under s 57 (d) of the Agra Tenancy act. Shiam Narain Singh v Ram Prasad 10 Ind Cas 28.

62—Determination by Revenue Court of question of Proprietary title—Res judicata—

In answer to a suit for ejectment under S. 58 of the Agra Tenancy Act, 1901, the defendants pleaded that they were not tenants, but had proprietary rights in the land. The Revenue Court under the provisions of S. 199 of the Act itself determined the issue thus raised and decided as to one of the defendants that he was a tenant of the plaintiffs, and this decision became final. Held, that the decision of the Revenue Court was a bar to the institution by the defendant of a suit in a Civil Court claiming to recover possession of the same land as proprietor.
Salig Dube v. Deoki Dube, 1907 A W N 1.

Notes—4 A L J 545, 1907 A W N 189, 29 All 691, 30 All 170=A W N (1908) 192=5 A L J 404, 6 A L J 527, 6 A L J 917; Fol: 29 All, 160.

63—Rent and Civil Courts—Title, question of—Orders of ejectment—When a Rent Court orders the ejectment of a tenant upon one of the grounds mentioned in S. 58 of the U P Tenancy Act deciding itself under S. 199 of the Act the question of title against him, he is barred by the rule of res judicata from re-opening the question of title in a civil court. A W N (1904), 109, relied on. Salig Dube v. Deoki Dube. 2 A L J 334.

64—N W P Tenancy Act (II of 1901). ss. 58 (a), 177 (e)—Question of proprietary title-Appeal to District Judge.

Where in a suit for ejectment in the Rent Court the defendant pleads that he has proprietary rights in the law and has paid neither rent nor revenue, and the Court of first instance finds that he has held the land rent-free, held, that an appeal lay to the District Judge under s. 177. clause (e). Tenancy Act. Raj Bahadur v. Jasodia 2 A L J 786=(1905), A W N 259.

65—Tenancy Act (II of 1901, Local), Section 63—Tenant—acquiring—Zamindari, effect of ejectment.

When a person enters upon a land as a tenant he is liable to all the incidents of the tenancy. The fact that during the time of his occupancy he acquires a share in the proprietorship of the village makes no change in his status. Abdul Hasan Khan v Bhura. 3 A L J 763=1906 A W N 226=28 All 763.

66—Ss, 63, 79, 167—Landlord and Tenant—Agra Tenancy Act (II of 1901), U P S. 79—Order in ejectment— Suit in Civil Court by lessee of a tenant-Res judicata-Jurisdiction of Civil. An occupancy tenant leased his land to the plaintiffs. Subsequently he relinquished his rights in favour of the Zemindar. The Zemindar took proceedings in the Revenue Court and got the plaintiffs ejected and put other persons as tenants of the land in dispute. In the meantime he continued to take rent form the lessees but without prejudice to his contesting the lease. Held, that the relation of landlord and tenant subsisted between the parties up to the date when the landlord got the lessees ejected. The suit of the lessees for possession was consequently a case which was cognisable by a Revenue Court and was therefore barred by the rule of res judicata on account of the judgment of the Revenue Court in ejectment proceedings. Balwant Singh v. Girdhari Lal 5 A L J 30=A W N (1908) 33.

67—S. 76 (1)—Crops or other products—Jasmine and Bela plants-Whether included in section.

Jasmine and bela plants come within the category of standing crop or other ungathered product within the meaning of S. 76 of the Agra Tenancy Act. Ram Prasad Bhagat v Suba Rai 7 A L J 397=6 Ind Cas 74=32 All 458

68—S. 76—Award under—Suit on award—Act II of 1901, (N W P Tenancy) Ss. 76, 193—treated as an application for execution—Continuation of proceedings. Appellant, zemindar J, obtained an order under Act XII of. 1881, for ejectment of the respondent and offered to purchase the crops. An award was made under S. 42 of that Act, by which the respondent was awarded a cartain sum of money. By this time, the N. W. P. Tenancy Act (II of 1901) had come into force; but the respondent instead of executing the decree upon the award, brought a suit for the recovery of the sum awarded, as was provided for under the old Act. Held, that the suit may be regarded as a continuation of the proceedings commenced under S. 42 of act XII of 1881. Held, further, that having regard to the provisions of S. 193 of the N. W. P. Tenancy Act, the suit may also be properly regarded as an application for execution. Jhabba Lal v. Chandi Prasad 2 A L J 644=A W N (1905), 247.

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

69—S. 79-Landlord and tenant—Dispossession of tenant—Landlord letting out land in occupation of tenant to a third person—Tenant's remedy in Revenue Court not Civil—Jurisdiction.

When a landholder lets out land in the occupation of tenant to a third party, and he, acting under the landholder's authority, takes possession of the land, then the tenant must be deemed to have been ousted by the land-holder, and his remedy is by a suit under S. 79 of Act II of 1901. (2 A. L. J. 69; 27 All: 372, Fol:) Sokhai v Ram Pershad. 7 Ind Cas 486.

70—N W P Tenancy Act (No. II of 1901)—Sections 79 and 87—Zamindar letting occupancy holding of a tenant to a third person—Suit maintainable—Limitation.

Where on the death of an occupancy tenant the Zamindar let the holding to a third person who obtained possession, the remedy of the heirs of the tenant (or their representatives) is by a suit under section 79, Tenancy Act, to which the person in possession ought to be made a defendant. Where such suit is brought more than six months after dispossession it must be dismissed. Ramlal v Chuni Lal 2 A L J 69=1904 A W N 281=27 All 372.

71—Tenancy Act (II of 1901), sectins 79,196, variety of relief-claim to recover possession of a holding by a tenant-Civil and Revenne Courts -appeal-district judge jurisditcion of applicability of section 196.

The policy of the Legislature is that suits and questions arising between landlords and tenants should be decided in the Revenue Court and the plaintiff by claiming a variety of reliefs cannot come into Civil Court and set aside proceedings already had in the Revenue Court. Where the plaintiff alleged that one L. whom the plaintiff represented, was one of the tenants at fixed rate of a holding of which G was the recorded tenant and from waich G alone was ejected, and claimed a variety of reliefs, but in reality wanted to be restored to possession of the holding which had been ejected, on the ground that the ejectment proceedings in no way bound him, held that the suit did not lie in the Civil Court. Section 196 only applies to a case which was instituted in the wrong court but on appeal comes before the court to which an appeal would have lain if the suit had been rightly instituted in the prescribed court. Ram Charan Ram v Sheora. 3 A L J 226=1906 A W N 91.

72.—S. 83 (3)—Surrender of a holding by oral agreement—No notice necessary.

Under S 83 (3), it is open to the landlord and the tenant to agree orally to a surrender of the whole or any portion of a holding at any time of the year. When such an arrangement has been made, it is not necessary for the tenant to give the landlord notice as contemplated by cl. 2 2 of S, 83 (A W N (1898) 31; A W N (1902) 201; A W N (1905) 201; 2 A L J 665, Dist) Kalayan Singh v Man Singh. 7 Ind Cas 637.

73.—N W P Tenancy Act (No. 11 of 1901) Ss. 83,85—Landlord and tenant-Surrender, notice of.

The appellants, tenants applied to the Tahsildar to serve a notice of surrender on the respondent zamindar, but they did not state that they had already sent a notice of their intention to surrender to the landholder, and that he had refused to accept it.

Held, that the notice served by the Tahsildar on the landholder in compliance with the application of the tenant was not a good notice within the meaning of section 85 of the Agra Tenancy Act. The Tahsildar had no authority to effect service of such notice upon the landlord unless he had refused to accept a notice under section 83. Sumera v Piare Lal. 2 A L J 665=1905 A W N 201=28 All 122.

74.—N. W. P. Rent Act (XII of 1881), Sections 93, 189—N. W. P. Tenancy Act (Act 11 of 1901).

Section 180, clause 2, section 175 Letters Patent, section 10.—No Appeal lies under section 180 clause 2 Act II of 1901. to a District Judge, from the appellate order of a Collector which does not decide a question of jurisdiction. When the Collector's decision was passed under Act XII 1881, and the appeal was filed after the coming into force of Act 11 of 1901. Held that the latter Act governed the right of appeal. An appeal lies under section 10 of the Letters Patent from the judgment of a single Judge disposing of a rent appeal. Section 575 of Act II of 1901 has not the effect of modifying section 10 of the Letters Patent. Zamin Ali v Genda. 26 All 375= A W N (1904) 48=1 A L J 105.

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

75.—S. 95—Fixed rate tenancy recorded in the name of predeceased son's widow and her father-in-law—Application of—Jurisdiction of Civil Court to declare title—Hindu law-Widowed daughter in-law.

Section 95 of the Tenancy Act applies only to suit between landlords and tenants. Where a father-in-law, by an application to the Revenue Court, got his predeceased son's widow's name recorded along with his own as a fixed rate tenant, and died intestate, held that the Civil Court could entertain a suit by the reversioners for possession of the fixed rate tenancy. Held further that, under the Hindu Law, a widowed daughter-in law was only entitled to maintenance. Kali Charan v Musammat Utmi 7 A L J 658=6 Ind Cas 581.

76.—S. 95—Claim between rival tenants—Tenancies at fixed rates- Suit for declaration of right of joint tenancy Alternative prayer for joint possession--Jurisdiction of Civil or Revenue Court.

The plaintiff brought this suit, against her rival claimant to the tenancy, for a declaration that she might be declared to be entitled to joint possession with the defendant over the property in dispute. She added a further prayer that, if she were deemed out of possessions she might be given joint possession over the property: Held, that such a suit was within the jurisdiction of a Civil Court. S. 95 of the Agra Tenancy Act had no application to the suit. (28 A. W. N. 3 Ref.).

Musammat Dhanpati v Jokhan Ahir. 2 Ind Cal 401.

77.—S. 95-Question of proprietary title-Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908) S. 115—Revision.

In a suit under section 95 of the Tenancy Act, the defendant pleaded that he was a proprietor The Assistant Collector decreed the claim partially. The District Judge upon appeal decided the question of proprietary title, but remanded the case to the Assistant Collector for the assessment of rent on a portion of the holding. The Assistant Collector thereupon dismissed the suit, holding he was not competent to deal with it. Upon appeal the District Judge returned the memorandum of appeal for presentation to the proper Court. Held, that in so acting, the District Judge had faild to exercise jurisdiction, inasmuch as, a question of proprietay title having been raised, the appeal lay to him. Ram Charan Lal v Muhammad Shafi. 8 A L J 894.

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

78.-Ss. 95, 167—Rival claimants to tenancy—Civil and Revenue Courts—Jurisdiction.

S. 95 of the Tenancy Act does not apply to the case of disputes between rival claimants to a tenancy. It applies to questions, arising between the landlord on the one side and the tenant on the other. Prima facie the Civil Court is the proper Court to try all questions and it is only when suits are expressly excluded from its cognizance that its jurisdiction is ousted. The provisions of s. 95 coupled with the provisions of s. 167 do not exclude the jurisdiction of a Civil Court in questions between rival claimants to tenancies. The very words of section 95 providing that the "landlord or tenant" may sue show that the intention of the section is to provide a tribunal for questions arising between a landlord and tenant. The section does not provide for possession; it only provides for a declaration; and thus it contemplates the case of a landlord and a tenant and an existing tenancy. Bhup v Ram Lal 8 A L J 1009.

79.—S. 95—Rent must be agreed upon or fixed by the Court—Right of suit.

In the case of agricultural tenants, if the landholder wishes to get rent for the period of tenancy, he must either come to an agreement with the tenant as to the rent to be paid, or get the rent fixed by the Court while the tenancy subsist. There is no difference in this respect between the present Tenancy Act and Act XII of 1881. Sheo Gopal Pande v Thakur Baldeo Singh. 8 A L J 1087,

80—S. 95 Cl (b)—Declaration that the plaintiff as the adopted son of a tenant was entitled to his tenancy—Declaration of tenancy—Jurisdiction—Civil Court.

One D applied to revenue authorities that his adoptive father, I, was joint in cultivation with him and that his name should be recorded in respect of I's occupancy holding. The Collector dismissed the application on the ground that D was not the adopted son of I. D brought this suit in Civil Court for a declaration that he was joint in cultivation with D and that he was the adopted son of Ishir and that on account of the right of survivorships and his being joint in cultivation he was entitled to the possession of the estate of Ishir and of the occupancy holdings. Held, that the nature of the suit was that the plaintiff wanted a declaration as to the class of tenancy to which he belonged and its cognisance by the Civil Court, was barred by Cl. (b) of S. 95 of the Agra Tenancy Act. Dori Lal v Sardar Singh. 1908 A W N 240=5 A L J 514.

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

81—S. 101—Civ. Pro. Code. (Act V of 1908. S 11—Interest—Previous suit for interest on rent for a different period—Res judicata—Remission of revenue—Thikadar's liability to pay interest for the remission period on arrears of rent.

Where a Thikadar undertook to pay the Government revenue, and also a fixed sum as rent to the Zamindar he cannot claim exemption from payment of rent, on the ground that the Government has remitted the revenue on condition that the Zamindar should remit the tenant's rent. Under S 101 of the Agra Tenancy Act, he is also liable to pay interest on arrears of rent. The fact that in a previous suit for recovery of rent for a period other than that in the present suit, it was decided that interest was not payable does not operate as res judicata. Bachan Lal v Musammat Pooran Kunar 1 Ind Cas 529.

82—Ss 105 and 106-Jurisdiction to appeal an Amin—Powers of Amin-Not entitled to determine rent. When there is no dispute about the the disivion of the crop or its quantity or value, a Court has no jurisdiction to appoint the Amin to make an award. Where an Amin has been appointed under s. 105, his duty is only to estimate or appraise, and not to decide the proportion the lambardar was to receive from the tenant. Sub-section 6 of s 106 only entitled the Amin to determine the rent, as the result of what he finds to be the quantity and value of the crop, and his award is not final within the meaning of sub-section. Rahim Bakksh v Ahmad Ali Khan 4 A L J 488= A W N (1907) 189

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

83—S 108—Entries of payment in pocket book=Presumption of full payment—Rent.

In a suit for arrears of rent due from lessees, the latter pleaded payment and in support of their plea produced a pocket book which contained certain entries of payments made. Payments were admitted by the plaintiff but he denied that they were accepted as a full discharge of claim. Held that the entries in the pocket book did not amount to receipt within the meaning of s 108 Agra Tenancy Act so as to raise a presumption that the amount entered in the pocket book amounted to an acquittance in full of all the demands up to the date on which entries were made. Gulab Singh v Debi singh. 8 A L J 505.

84—Act (Local) No II of 1901 (Agra Tenancy Act, s 134—Distraint sale adjourned owing to absence of bidders—Obstruction to sale on adjourned date Act No XIV of 1860 S 184

The law as laid down in Chapter IX of the Agra Tenancy Act 1901, does not authorize the adjournment of a sale of distrained property owing to the absence of bidders. Hence where for this reason an amin adjourned a sale and fixed a fresh date and obstruction was offered to the sale so adjourned it was held that the person so obstructing the sale could not be convicted under S.184 of the Indian Penal Code. Emperor v Tara Singh 27 All 480

85—Agra Tenancy Act s 146—Cause of action—Suit for damages—Knowledge of plaintiff.

A cause of action in favour of the plaintiff for bringing a suit for damages for loss of the property distrained under s 146 Agra Tenancy Act, arises when the property is lost, damaged or destroyed, or the loss, destruction or damage comes to his knowledge. The plaintiff's property was distrained by the defendants; security was furnished by the plaintiff and an order for release was made on 2 nd may 1906. Some property was made over to the surety before 31st May and some on 9th June when it was found that the rest of the property was not forthcoming. Held that the cause of action for bringing a suit for damages accrued to the plaintiff latest on 9th June. Dambar Singh v Balwant Singh 8 A L J 503

86—Ss.150,158,167—Rent-free grant—Proprietary title—Res judicata—Jurisdiction of Civil or Revenue Court.

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

The plaintiff sued in the Civil Court for a declaration that he was the proprietor of a certain plot of land which he had been holding as a rent-free grantee for over fifty years. In a former suit instituted in the Revenue Court the defendant had obtained a decree for resumption of the same plot under S 150 of the Agra Tenancy Act 1901 against the plaintiff. Held that the present suit was barred on account of the former suit between the parties:

Held, further that the question of proprietary title based on what was originally at least a rent-free grant was exclusively triable by Revenue Court. The Civil Court had no jurisdiction to try such case. Baldeo Singh v Mardan Singh 6 Ind Cas 425=7 A L J 818 see also 6 Ind Cas 245=7 A L J 828.

87—S 150—Rent-free grantee—Resumption-Suit for declaration that defendant is rent-free grantee—Jurisdiction of Civil or Revenue Court—Res judicata.—In a suit for resumption of a rent-free grant the Revenue Court held that the defendant had become a full proprietor. The plaintiff thereupon brouget a suit in the Civil Court for a declaration that the defendant was only a rent free grantee: Held that the suit was triable exclusively by a Reveuue Court and was thus not cognizable by a Civil Court. 7 A L J 818= 6 Ind Cas 425 Fol. Miss N. Sturmer v Chatoo Rai 9 Ind Cas 813.

88—Appeal—Agra Tenancy Act (11 of 1901), S. 157—S, 310A. Code of Civil Procedure (Act XIV of 1882)—Jurisdiction.

Two decrees were obtained in the Revenue Court one for costs resulting in proceedings under S. 39 of Act III of 1901, and the other passed under S. 159 of Act II of 1901. The decrees were consolidated and one sale was held on account of both of them. The judgment-debtor applied to the Assistant Collector, offering to pay in the sum decreed under S. 310A, Code of Civil Procedure as made applicable to rent courts. The application was rejected by the Assistant Collector, and the auction purchaser obtained formal possession over the house in question. On appeal by the judgment-debtor the Collector set aside the order of the Assistant Collector and extended the time for payment. The money was paid in and the sale set aside. The Board of Revenue rejected the application for revision made by the auction purchaser who, thereupon brought a suit for confirmation of the sale in the Civil Court. Held, whether the sale was held under Act III of 1901 in which case appeals from orders passed in execution would lie to the Collector, Commissoner and the Board of Revenue, under Ss. 210,211 or in an order passed on the application under s. 310A was one passed under Act No. 11 of 1901 the Civil Courts had no jurisdiction to entertain any question relating to it. Whether or not an appeal lay to the Collector from the orders of an Assistant Collector, the Board undoubtedly had the power of revision.

Chhakawin Khan v Pir Baksh Khan. 6 A L J 164=31 All 279=2 Ind Cas 32

89—S. 158—Possession for two generations and 50 years—Grant—No presumption—Wajib-ul-raz—Construction of.

The Raja of Mainpuri gave certain lands to plaintiffs for planting groves on the condition that, when the groves were cut away, the zamindar would have a right to assess rent but the plaintiffs would remain in possession. These terms were recorded in wajib-ul-arz The groves were destroyed when the piantiffs had been in possession for two generations and 50 years. Held, that, under the terms of the wajib-ul-arz, the plaintiffs became tenants of the lands in question when the groves ceased to exist.

The mere fact that the plaintiffs had remained in possession for two generations and 50 years without payment of rent did not raise the inference that a rent free grant was made in their favour. Without proof of such a grant, S. 158 of the Tenancy Act did not apply.

Shoe Mangal Singh v. Sardar Singh. 6 A L J 749=2 Ind Cas 985.

90—S 158—Act (local) No. III of 1901 (United Provinces Land Revenue Act) ss. 103, 66 and 210—Suit asking for assessment of revenue on a certain area of land—Misdescription of suit—Appeal.

Where the plaintiff sued in a Court of Revenue, asking for revenue to be assessed on a certain area of land, and describing his suit as one under S. 158 of the Agra Tenancy Act, 1901 where as he should have come to Court under s. 103 of the United Provonces Land Revenue Act, 1901, or possibly under s. 66 of the same Act, it was held, that an appeal lay to the superior Revenue Court and not to the District Judge. Narain Das v. Balgobind. A W N (1907) 225

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

91—Agra Tenancy Act s. 158—Successor, meaning of—Resumption of rent free grant.

The word "successors" used in s. 158 of the Agra Tenancy Act is wide enough to include not only an heir but a transferee also. Sunder Singh v The Collector of Shahajahanpur 8 A L J 539.

92—Agra Tenancy Act S. 158—Rent-free grant—Presumption—"Two successors" meaning of—Proof as to who the original grantee was.

S. 158 of the Agra Tenancy Act does not provide that the person succeeding must necessarily be the heir of the person who preceded him For the purpose of S. 158, it is not necessary to prove who the original grantee was.
Nihal Singh v. Baldeo Pershad 10 Ind Cas 39.

93——Suit by co-sharers against lambardar—Lambardar entitled to 5 per cent, on the Revenue—Agra Tenancy Act (11 of 1901) S. 159—"Other dues"—Set off. In a suit for profits by co-sharers against a lambardar, the latter shall be remunerated by fees not exceeding 5 per cent on the Government revenue, and he is also entitled to the village expenses incurred by him.

The expression "other dues"—in S. 159 of the Tenancy Act includes lambardari dues.

Pokhar Singh v. Gulab Kunwar 4 A L J 781=A W N (1908) 2

94—Under S. 159 of the Agra Tenancy Act, 1901, a lambardar is entitled to sue a co-sharer for the recovery of his remuneration.

A lambardar is entitled to his remuneration even though the co sharer has himself paid the revenue into the Government treasury.

A lambardar is not entitled to interest on his fees. Bhoj Raj v. Srigopal 7 Ind Cas 647.

95—Tenancy Acts (3 and 4) U P Act 11 of 1901 S. 162—Suit to recover arrears of malikana allowance—Civil and Revenue Courts—Jurisdiction—Act XV of 1877 (Indian Limitation Act) Sch II, Art 132—Limitation.—Held that a suit for the recovery of arrears of malikana allowance will lie in a Civil Court and is governed as to limitation by Art, 132 of the second Schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1877. N W P H C Rep 1870, p 228 D. Manohar Lal v Kashi Ram A W N (1908), 209

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

96—Ss 164(2) 166—Successor of a Lambardar, liability of—For profits not collected by his predecessors:—

The successor in title of a deceased Lambardar is not liable to account for profits which his predecessor may have failed to collect or which he permitted to remain un-collected owing to negligence or misconduct Dip Singh v. Ram Charan. 1906 A W N 265=3 A L J 608= 29 All 15.

Notes—Fol:—1907 W N 107=4 A L J 244

97-C.P.C. O 2 r. 2 (1882 S. 43)-First suit for settlement of accounts and profits againt co-sharer—Second suit for profits against the same defendant as lambardar—Agra Tenancy Act (11 of 1901) Ss. 164, 165—Suit of Civil Nature.

The plaintiff brought two suits against the same defendent. One suit was for settlement of accounts under S. 165, Tenancy Act, against the defendant in his capacity as co-sharer, and the other was for share of profits under S. 164 in the defendant's capacity as lambardar. Held that the suits were of different descriptions, and the causes of action for the two suits were not the same, inasmuch as the legislature, by enacting Ss. 164 and 165, Tenancy Act, contemplated two classes of suits. The second suit was not therefore barred by S. 43 of Act XIV of 1882.
Chunno Lal v Parbhu Dial 7 A L J 526.

98—Ss 164, 197—Suit for profits—Question of jurisdiction—Civil or Revenue Court—Appellate Court, power of.—A suit for profits was brought in a Revenue Court, but was dismissed on the plea of want of jurisdiction being taken on behalf of the defendant; an appeal was made to the District Judge who also dismissed the suit: Held, that under s. 197 of the Agra Tenancy Act, it was the duty of the appellate Court to treat the suit as properly instituted and deal with it on merits. Bharat Indu v. Khetsi Das, [illegible] Ind Cas. 848

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

99—S. 164 (2)—Negligence of predeccessor-Decree against defendant not justified Section 164 (2) of the Tenancy Act does not justify a decree against a defendant lambardar, for a share in sums, which remained uncollected, on account of negligence or misconduct of the predecessor of the defendant. 3 A L J 608 fol Gulzari Lal v Dan Dayal 4 A L J 244= A W N (1907) 107

100—S. 165—Suit for profits against co-sharer—Actual collection of gross rental—Calculation of profits—In a suit for profits brought by a co-sharer against another co sharer under s. 165, Agra Tenancy Act, only the actual collections made by the defendant co sharer are to be taken into account, in determining the amount of profits due, and not what might have been collected. A W N (1908), p 68 Fol, Ram Lal v Tasaduk Ali 2 Ind Cas 260.

101—S 165—Possession in proportion—Suit for settlement of accounts —

Where the plaintiff and the defendants were in exclusive possession of the cultivated portion and in joint possession of the uncultivated portion of the village in the proportion of 12 to 4 and the terms of the wajib ul arz in respect to the latter were that if a co-sharer would cultivate waste land newly broken up he should pay rent like tenant and a co-sharer did break up and cultivate portion of waste land, held that the reasonable interpretation of the contract was that if either party brought into cultivation any of the waste land, he should become and be treated as tenant to his co-sharer of the part so brought into cultivation and that he should be liable to pay rent to his co-sharer in proportion to the shares in which the village was held. As there were no accounts to be settled, the suit might be maintained in the form in which it was brought. Hab Lal v Ramcharan 3 A L J 472

102—Agra Tenancy Act Ss 164, 165 -In a suit under s. 164 of the Tenancy Act, only the actual collections made by the defendant, are to be taken into account in determining the amount of profits due In a suit like the present a plaintiff is not entitled to have profits calculated on what might have been collected or on the rates paid by tenants in other khewates, for lands of the same kind.

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

This constitutes the distinction between a suit of this nature and one under S 165 Tenancy Act Abdul Rashid v Abdul Latief 5 A L J 117=A W N (1908), 68

103-Ss 167, 177 196, 197—Execution of decree—Appeal—Revision—Jurisdiction.—A suit was dismissed by the Revenue Court as not cognizable by it, and the District Judge, upon appeal, having dealt with it under Ss. 196 and 197 of the Tenancy Act, made a decree, execution of which was applied for in the Court of the Assistant Collector of the first class who rejected the application. Held, that no revision lay against the order of the Assistant Collector refusing execution. Damber Singh v Sri Kishan Dass. 6 A L J 552=2 Ind Cas 377= 31 All 445.

104—S 167—Suit for ejectment—Class of tenancy determined—Subsequent suit in Civil Court—Not maintainable

In a suit for ejectment of the defendant on the ground that he was a tenant-at-will, the Revenue Court decided that he was a tenant at fixed rate. The present suit was brought in the Civil Court for ejectment of the defendant on the ground that he was a trespasser. Held that the Revenue Court having determined the nature of the defendant's tenancy and the class to which he belonged, a suit in the Civil Court could not be maintained Maharaja of Vizianagram v Chango Kurmi 7 A L J 555= 6 Ind Cas 834.

105—Ss 167 and 177 (e)-Ejectment-Defence that defendant is a proprietor—Question of proprietary title-Limitation Act Section 5—Appeal presented to wrong Court In a suit for ejectment the defendant pleaded that he cultivated the land as a co sharer Held, that this defence raised a question of proprietary title and an appeal lay to the District Judge.

The appeal was, however, preferred to the Commissioner who returned the memorandum of appeal to be presented to the District Judge.

It was presented beyond time, but the Judge admitted it Held, that the Judge exercised a right discretion in admitting the appeal.

Agra Tenancy Act Contd.

When a co sharer cultivates more land than his share he is not liable to ejectment as a tenant, but the proper remedy against him is by a suit for settlement of accounts 2 A L J 176 Ref

Indar Lal v Deojit 4 A L J 1= A W N 1907, 26

106—Limitation Act (No XV of 1877)—Article 179—Step in aid of execution—application for ejectment. An application for ejectment of a tenant against whom a decree for arrears of rent had been passed, is not a step in aid of execution and cannot keep the decree for arrears of rent alive.

Querry—Whether an appeal lies to the District Judge against an order passed by an Assistant Collector in execution proceedings, and if such order has the force of a decree. (27 All 31 Doub)

Maharani of Dumraon v Buddha Kunwari 2 A L J 661=A W N (1905) 213 =28 All 163.

107—S 174—Lease by Collector—Proceedings commenced before the passing of Act II of 1901—Termination of —In executing a decree of a Rent Court the Collector, purporting to act under S 174 of the N W P Rent Act made a lease of the judgment debtor, after the passing of the Tenancy Act II of 1901 In a suit brought to set aside the lease held that, the execution proceedings, having commenced before the passing of the new act should have been completed under that act and the Collector could grant a lease of the property instead of selling it

Ghulam Abbas v Abdulla Khan. 5 A L J 472=A W N (1908) 219

108—S 175—No appeal from orders to execute a decree—Orders—Decrees—

An appeal does not lie from an order of an Assistant Collector of the first class passed on an application to execute a decree of a Court of Revenue, such orders not having the force of decrees (1905) 27 All 31 overruled

Musammot Zohra v Manju Lal 1906 A W N 223=3 A L J 569 F B =28 All 753.

See also 28 All 163=2 A L J 661=1905 W N 213

Notes—Fol 5 A L J 184 note Ref 31 All 445; 6 A L J 552

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

109—Tenancy Act (Agra) Ss. 176, 177—Dismissal of suit for default by Rent Court—Decree or order—not appealable—Code of Civil Procedure (XIV of of 1882) S 2—

The Tenancy Act confers no right of appeal from an order Hence where in a suit for profits in the Rent Court, the suit was struck off the file for default of appearence, held that the order was not appealable Karnapal Singh v Bhimma Mal 7 A L J 246=5 Ind Cas 423= 32 All 373.

110 - Act (Local) No II of 1891 (Agra Tenancy Act) Ss 176, 177, 195—C P C Ss. 2 244 order—Decree—Appeal

No appeal lies from the order, as distinguished from the decree, of an Assistant Collector of the first class Zohra v Mangulal. 28 All 753.

111—Tenancy Act (Agra) S 177—Proprietary title—Defendant pleading to hold the land as khudkasht and not as shikmi—Appeal to district Judge Jurisdiction —In a suit for ejectment, the defendant pleaded that he held the land as kaudkasht and not as shikmi from the plaintiff The claim was decreed against him. He appealed and raised the same question as in the Court of first instance. Held, that the question was one of proprietary title and an appeal lay to the District Judge 2 A L J 176; A W N (1905) 46 Fol. Partap Singh v Kewal Ram. 7 Ind Cas 737

112—S. 177— Decree, meaning of, S. 177 —Civ. Pro Code (Act XLV of 1882) S 54 (d)—Order of Assistant Collector rejecting plaint—Appeal.

An order passed by an Assistant Collector of the first class, rejecting a plaint under S 54 (d) —of the Civ Pro Code 1882 not being a decree within the meaning of S 177 of the Agra Tenancy Act is not appealable to the District Judge. (28 All 753 A W N (1906) 223, 2 A L J 569 F. B Foll. (1901) A C 495 (506) 70 L J P C 76, 65 J P 708 17 T L R 749 50 W R 139 85 L T 289 27 All 31 Ref Moulvi Mohamed Abdul Aziz v Moulvi Mohammad Abdul Jalil 5 Ind Cas 371

113—S 177-Subject—matter of suit exceeding Rs 5,000-Appeal to High Court-Jurisdiction.

The subject-matter of a suit decided by an Assistant Collector of first class being above

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

Rs. 5,000 an appeal lies to the High Court, and not to the District Judge Moulvi Abdul Majid v Moulvi Abdul Ghani 6 Ind Cas 249.

114.—S 177—Appeal—suit for recovery of fees under the Excise Act—Relief for compensation joined—not entertainable by the Assistant Collector—no appeal lies

S. 28 of the Excise Act is confined to the recovery of arrears of fees. Under the section the plaintiff is not entitled to sue in the Revenue Court, for recovery of compensation or damages in respect of a breach of contract.

Where a claim for fees, amounting to a sum below Rs. 100 is not entertained by the Assistant Collector, no appeal lies to the District Judge, under S, 177 of the Tenancy Act, supplemented by S. 28 of the Excise Act, and no second appeal will lie to the High Court.

Jugal Kishore v. Mul Chand 3 A L J 802= A W N (1906), 314

115—S.177—Appeal-Question of proprietary title—Sir holder and his subtenant.—

Where the plaintiffs sued the defendant for rent of their sir land alleging that he was their sub tenant and the defendant claimed to be the principal tenant. Held that as between the plaintiffs and the defendant there was a question of ownership of the particular land and the question raised was a question of proprietary title and an appeal lay to the District Judge against an appellate decree of a Collector. Chhitar Singh v. Rup Singh 1906 A W N 247=3 A L J 603.

Notes—Overr: 30 All, 133=(1908) A W N 145=5 A L J 71; dist. (1908) A W N 89 =5 A L J 128.

116—Question of proprietary title—Decision by Assistant Collector—Appeal—Agra Tenancy Act (II of 1901) Local Ss. 177 and 199. It is the intention of the legislature, that all suits, in which question of proprietary title are raised, should be decided by Civil Courts.

Where a suit for ejectment was brought in the Court of an assistant Collector, and the defendant denied that he was a tenant and the Court decided to determine the question of title, it ceased to be a Revenue Court and became for the moment a Civil Court. An appeal against the decision in such cases should be preferred to the District Judge. If an appeal was preferred to the Commissioner, the Commissioner's decision was without jurisdiction and did not operate as a bar to any subsequent proceeding. Genda v Sukh Nath Rai. 4 A L J 686=A W N (1907) 271=30 All 25.

117—S 177—Which party a tenant-Question of proprietary title. The question which of the two parties is a tenant of specified land, is not a question of proprietary title. A W N 1906, 247 overruled. Niranjan v. Gajadhar 5 A L J 71 = A W N (1906) 45=30 All 133.

118-N W P Tenancy Act (11 of 1901), Ss. 177 (e) 195—Question of proprietary title—Occupancy holding or khudkasht—Appeal to District Judge. Where the plaintiffs in ejectment suit in the Revenue Court claimed to be occupancy tenants of certain land and the defendant zamindar claimed the same as his khudkasht; held, that a question of proprietary title was in issue, and the appeal lay to the District Court. Though there was no denial of the defendant's proprietary interest in the property, there was denial that by virtue of proprietorship he held possession of the land in suit. Dal Chand v. Samla. 2 A L J 179=1905 A W N 46.

Notes=Ref (4 A L J 91 = 1907 A W N 26,) Dist 5 A L J 128=(1908) A W N 69,

119—Ss.177, 193—Civil P C S 244—Execution sale—Collector's order setting aside—Appeal to District Judge. No appeal lies to the Civil Court or the Board of Revenue against an order of the Collector passed under s. 312 Code of Civil P. But where the Collector sets aside a sale as void ab initio his order must be looked upon as one passed under s 244 Code of Civ. Pro. It will therefore have the force of a "decree" and an appeal will be against it to the Civil Court. (1 A L J. 305=A W N (1904) 156 Fol)

Muhammad Yusuf Ali Khan v Hasan Fatima. 2 A L J 130=1905 A W N 55

120—S. 177 Sch IV (Group A)——Second appeal to District Judge-Proprietary title, question of. When a person, against whom a suit for arrears of rent is brought, only pleads that the relation of land lord and tenant does not subsist between him and the plaintiff, and Assistant Collector and the collector decided against him, no second appeal lies to the District Judge inasmuch as no question of the proprietary title is involved in the case. A W N (1905) 46. A W N (1906) 247 dist Ahmad-ullah Khan v Murli 5 A L J 128= A W N (1908) 69.

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

121—Ss 177,175—Powers of Board of Revenue—Revision—Appeal to the Judge. The Board of Revenue has no power to interfere in revision in cases in which appeals lie to the Civil Court. Where the Board, professing to act under the provisions of s 185 of the Tenancy Act set aside an order of an Assistant Collector in a cess in which appeal lay to the Judge, held, that the order was ultra vires and did not authorise the Assistant Collector to rehear the case. Narain v Parsanni. A W N (1905) 119=2 A L J 331.

122—S 177 cl. (e)—Question of proprietary right—Appeal.—

In answer to a suit to eject the tenant, as being a tenant from year to year, the defendant pleaded that she held proprietary malikana rights in the land and that she paid neither rent nor revenue. The Court of first instance went into the question, and found that the defendant and her predecessor-in-title had held the land free of rent. Held that an appeal lay in this case to the District Judge under s.177cl.(e) of the Agra Tenancy Act 1901. Raj Bahadur v. Jasodhia A W N 1905, 259=2 A L J 786.

123—A suit cognizable by Civil Court was filed in a Revenue Court, which decided a question of jurisdiction raised before it: held, that an apeal lay to the District Judge. who, acting under S. 196 or S. 197 of the Agra Tenancy Act, could decide the case on merits, although the Court, in which the suit had been instituted, was a Court which had no jurisdiction to try the suit.

Held, further, that where the appellant had not filed the appeal in a proper Court,owing to some bona fide mistake as to Jurisdiction, the period, during which he had been under the mistake, shall not be computed towards the period of limitation. Ganga Sahai v. Musammat Rai Kunwar. 1 Ind Cas 902.

124—Ss 177,193—Sch IV-Decree of Assistant Collector class 1 order in execution-Appeal to District Judge Civil Procedure Code,ss 2,244-Decree. An order made by an Assistant Collector of the first class in execution of a decree for over Rs. 100 in a suit falling under groups A and B of Schedule IV N W P Tenancy Act is a "decree" within the meaning of section 177 of that act and an appeal will lie therefrom to the District judge (unreported (1) approved) Kharag Singh v Pala Ram 1 A L J 305=1904 A W N 156 =27 all 31 overruled by 1906 A W N 223 =3 A L J 569 F. B.

Notes-Fol 2 A L J 130=(1905) W N 55. Doubt 28 all 131=2 A L J 661=(1905) W N 213 over 28 all 753 F B=3 A L J 566=(1906) W N 223. 5 Ind. Cas 371,Ref 31 all 445 6, A L J 552

125-Agra Tenancy Act S 177-Order by Assistant Collector regarding execution when and whether appealable. An order in execution of a decree of an Assistant Collector, the value of the suit in which the decree was passed exceeding Rs. 100 and therefore falling under Group A, is within the definition of the term "decree" being an order under s 244, C. P. C. and is therefore appellable. Naraini v. Parsani 1 A L J 307 note.

Notes—Ref 1 A L J 805 27 All 31=(1904) A W N 156.

126—S. 177—Landlord and tenant—Assessment of revenue suit for—Plea that a third person is zemindar—Proprietary title—Question between the third person and plaintiff tried-Appeal to District Judge.

A brought a suit against B for assessment of revenue. B pleaded that the land in question fell within the zemindari of C and not of A C was made a defendant in the suit. The question whether the land fell within the zemindari of A or C was tried by the first Court; held, that, as a question of qropritary title was raised, an appeal lay to the District Judge under s. 177 of the Tenancy Act. 1901. Parbhu Narain Singh v. Baldeo Prasad, 8 Ind, Cas 817.

127-S.180-Appellate decree of Collector in rent suit—Question of proprietary title raised —No appeal to District judge—Subsequent suit for declaration of title in Civil Court—Res judicata A person who is declared by a Collector in an appellate decree to be an occupancy tenant, and who has not appealed against that decision, under S. 180 of the Agra Tenancy Act, to the District judge,and has allowed the Collector's decree to become final, cannot, in a Civil Court, obtain declaration that he is not an occupancy tenant but a proprietor of certain plots of land Such a civil suit is barred by the principle of res judicata (29 All 601, 2 Ind Cas 218=6 A L J 259 Ref

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

Kalyan v Tika Ram 2 Ind Cas 353

128—S 180 Code of Civil Procedure Ss 551, 584—Appeal—Question of title— Notice to respondent—

An appeal under section 180 (2) of the Agra Tenancy Act II of is not a second appeal of the description contemplated by sec 584 of the C P C The procedure of Sec 551 of the Code is inapplicable to appeals where notice has already been issued to the respondent Hamid Husain v Bholanath 1906 A W N 186

129—N W P Tenancy Act (II of 1901) Ss 180 193—Appeal order of remand—Rent suit

An order passed by a District Judge remanding a rent suit for retrial does not amount to a decree S 588 of the Civil Procedure Code does not apply to proceedings in rent suits and therefore no appeal would lie to High Court against an order of remand under Sec 562 of the Civil Procedure Code. Zahur Ali v Sher Ali 3 A L J 20=1906 A W N 5=28 All 283.

130—Ss 180 182 (1) Collector's appellate order returning plaint—Appeal to District Judge—C P C Ss 2 588

Under S 180 (cl 2 N W P Tenancy Act) no appeal lies to the District Judge from an appellate order of the Collector as distinguished from a decree An order returning a plaint for representation to the proper Court is not a decree within the meaning of the sections providing for appeals in the N W P Tenancy Act In order to find what are orders and what are decrees under the N W P Tenancy Act 1901 the definitions contained in C P C. Section 2 must be applied Dhanu Ram v Bhola Singh. 1904 A W N 152=1 A L J 308=27 All 21

131—S 182—Second appeal to District Judge—Further appeal to High Court—No appeal lies to the High Court from a decree of the District Judge deciding a rent appeal from an appellate decree of a Collector. Lachmi Narain v Narotam Das. 1906 A W N 251=3 A L J 623

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

132—S 182—Third appeal—Rent suit—High Court Jurisdiction of—S 182 of the N W P Tenancy Act was intended to meet, and was confined to, suits which were instituted in the Court of an Assistant Collector of the first class or of a Collector, and was not intended to embrace suit instituted before an Assistant Collector of the second class No third appeal lies to the High Court from the decree in second appeal of a District Judge in a rent suit Lachmi Narain v Narotam Das 1906 A W N 272=3 A L J 688=29 All 69.

133—S. 182—Appeal—Second appeal to Judge—Further appeal to High Court—Land Revenue Act (III of 1901) S 34 (5)—Application of new Act—Landholder in possession before the passing of the new Act

In a suit to contest a distraint, if a question of proprietary title is raised, an appeal lies to the District Judge from an appellate decree of a Collector, and a further appeal lies to the High Court under s 182 of the N W P Tenancy Act

Where the defendant had obtained possession of the property before Act No III of 1901 (N W P Land Revenue Act) came into force, S 34 (5) of that Act cannot affect the right of distraint given to the landholder by S 119 of the N W P Rent Act Chajmal Das v Sirya 3 A L J 625 =A W N (1906) 254

Notes—1 Ind 7 Ind Cas 540

134—Tenancy Act (Agra) s 182-Second appeal—Revision—Delay of five and half months in filing revision

Where a District Judge gives a judgment in his appellate jurisdiction in an ejectment suit a second appeal lies to the High Court under s 182 of the Agra Tenancy Act

After a delay of five and half months a revision cannot be entertained

Manturna Kuari v Bani Singh 8 Ind Cas 529

135—S 193—Procedure—Order remanding case to Court of first instance for re-trial Appeal

Held that no appeal lies from an order of an appellate Court in a suit under the Agra Tenancy Act, 1901 remanding the case to the Court of first instance for trial upon the merits Jahur Ali v Sher Ali A W N 1906, 5=3 A L J 20=28 All 283

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

Notes—Ref 5 A L J 117

136—S 193 (g)—Set-off—Suit against tenant who happens to be a lambardar

No set off can be allowed in a suit for recovery of rent under the Agra Tenancy Act, except for a sum due to the defendant on an unsatisfied decree under that Act or any enactment Where the plaintiff a co sharer, sued the defendant, who happened to be also the lambardar, for recovery of rent in respect of certain plots of land which he was cultivating, the lambardar was not allowed to claim a set off of a sum which he had paid as a lambardar for the Government revenue due on plaintiff's share, inasmuch as it was a set-off of an amount the right to which arose in respect of a matter wholly different from the subject matter of the suit Ram Chandar v Mona 4 A L J 681=A W N 1907, 269

137—Ss 193, 197, Cl vi—Civil Procedure Code, Section 103-Dismissal in default -A suit in a Revenue Court having been dismissed in the presence of the defendant on the ground of absence of the plaintiff, there is no course open to the Court except to dismiss a second suit under S 103, Code of Civil Procedure, which is rendered applicable to proceedings under the New Tenancy Act by S 193 of that Act S 197 Cl I of U. P Tenancy Act requires an appellate court to dispose of an appeal if it has before it all the materials necessary for the determination of the suit as it has been instituted in the right court

Musammat Majid-un nissa v Mohammad Hamid Ali Khan 2 A L J 118

138—S 195—Reference under—Question whether an appeal lies

Under S. 195, U P Tenancy Act, 1901, a reference can be made where the court making the reference entertains a doubt as to the form of the appeal and not as to whether an appeal lies at all Janor v Mansoor Khan 1 A L J 37.

139—Ss. 196, 197—Power of Appellate Court to remand

The expression used in S 197 is most liberal so long, always, as the decision of the Court, in which a suit is instituted, whether made rightly or wrongly, is the decision from which an appeal lies to the District Judge. If the appellate Court has not before it all the materials necessary for the final decision of the appeal it has the power to remand the case to any Court which it considers competent to try it Badam Singh v Mussammat Sabta Kuar 2 A L J 119

140—S. 196—Resumption—Jurisdiction—Civil or Revenue Court—Objection as to jurisdiction not taken in first Court—Pleadings

A suit was brought in a Revenue Court for resumption of certain land, defendants pleaded that they were proprietors of the land sought to be resumed The Revenue Court, acting under s 199 of the Agra Tenancy Act ordered the defendants to have their claim declared by a Civil Court No objection was taken by plaintiffs to this order Defendants instituted a suit in the Civil Court and obtained a decree No objection was taken either in the Munsiff's Court or in the lower appellate Court to the Jurisdiction of the Civil Court to try the suit, Held, that having regard to the provisions of s 196 of the Agra Tenancy Act the plea of jurisdiction could not succeed in the High Court Chhaturbhuj v Mangal Singh 9 Ind Cas 1005

141.—Suit— Contribution — Agra Tenancy Act (II of 1901) S 197

Suit for contribution cannot be treated as a suit for settlement of accounts In a suit for contribution towards the amount of a joint decree for arrears of revenue all that the plaintiff can claim is the amount if any which he has paid on account of the decree in excess of his proportionate share of liability Any other amount which may be due to him from the defendants, cannot be brought into account in a suit for contribution

Under S 197 of the Agra Tenancy Act, 1901 the Court cannot treat a suit for contribution as a suit for a settlement of accounts

Pandit Kunj Behary Lal v Kishan Behari Lal. 4 Ind Cas 491.

142— Tenancy Act (II of 1901 Local) s 197, mesne profits suit for—Suit for profits-Lessee

A suit for mesne profits cannot be treated as a suit for profits under the Tenancy Act A lessee from a co sharer is not a trespasser and a suit for mesne profits cannot be (1891) maintained against him (1891) A W N 127 Fol Amin ullah v Hajira 3 A L J 767=(1906) A W N 222

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

Agra Tenancy Act. S. 197—Munsiff returning plaint for presentation to the Revenue Court—Order remanding the case to the Munsif—Second appeal—See 8 A L J 312=9 Ind Cas 666.

143.—S. 198—Application of—Arrears of rents admitted—Tenancy not denied—Payment not made to any one.

S. 198 of the Tenancy Act applies to a case where a tenant, who has been impleaded by a landlord and who has actually and in good faith paid the rent of his holding to some third person, pleads such payment But it does not apply to the case of a person who does not deny the relationship of landlord and tenant between the plaintiff and himself and has not paid the rent to any one on the ground that he has been prevented from doing so by a third person who claims it as purchaser of the share in dispute.

Sheodihal Singh v Badri Narain.
7 A L J 1198.

144.—S. 198—U P Rent Act S. 198—Suit for rent—Co-sharer defendants—Plea of tenant, payment to one co-sharer in good faith no decree against a co-sharer defendant.

The defendant, a tenant, pleaded in answer to a suit for arrears of rent that he had in good faith paid rent to another co-sharer of the village who was also made a defendant to the suit. The co-sharer defendant admitted having received the entire rent from the tenant. Held, that no decree could be given against the co sharer defendant in this suit, and that the proper remedy of the plaintiff was by a suit for profits or set lement of accounts against the co sharer defendant who had realized rent in excess of his share. Held also, that this was not a suit to which S. 198, U. P. Tenancy Act II of 1901, applied. S. 198 of the New Act differs from S. 148 of Act XII of 1881 in this that under the provisions of the New Act the question of payment to a third person shall be enquired into when in any suit against a tenant the defendant pleads that the relation of landlord and tenant does not exist between the plaintiff and himself. Nabuan Bibi v Gaya Datt.
1 A L J 707.

145.—S. 199—Judgment of Assistant Collector for second class—Res judicata.

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

In answer to a suit for arrears of rent in the Court of an Assistant Collector, second class, the defendant pleaded that he was the proprietor of the land and not a tenant. The Revenue Court proceeded under s. 199 of the Tenancy Act and held that the defendant was not the proprietor but a tenant, and decreed the suit. The defendant then filed a suit in the Civil Court, for declaration of his proprietary right to the land and valued the suit at Rs. 250. Held, that, although an Assistant Collector of the second class had jurisdiction to try suits only up to the value of Rs. 100, his decision on the question of proprietary title barred the subsequent suit brought in the Civil Court to try that question. Shahzade Singh v Mohamad Ahmed Ali Khan.
6 A L J 917=32 All 8=3 Ind Cas 954.

146.—S. 199—Suit filed beyond the period prescribed by, but within time under Limitation Act—Whether time barred

When an order under S. 199 of the Agra Tenancy Act is passed by a Revenue Court, directing the defendant to file a suit in Civil Court within the time limited by that section, the ordinary period of limitation is thereupon suspended and the special period provided by the Tenancy Act is substituted. Such suit instituted beyond the period prescribed by the Tenancy Act is barred by limitation irrespective of the period prescribed by Sch. II of the Limitation Act. Banwari Lal v Gopi. 4 A L J 713=A W N (1907) 282=30 All 44.

Notes.—Dist: 74 P W R 1908=124 P L R 1908=12 P R 1909=1 Ind Cas 321.

Agra—Tenancy Act S. 199.—Suit for ejectment in Revenue Court—Omission on part of defendant to plead title in himself—Res judicata.—See. 1907 A W N 189=4 A L J 545=29 All 601.

147.—Ss. 199, 200—Action in ejectment—Defence that defendant a sub-proprietor—Question of title—Decision of a Revenue Court same as decision of Civil Court—Appeal to Civil Court.

Suit for declaration does not lie. When the defendant to an action for ejectment defends the suit on the ground that he is not a tenant but a subordinate proprietor, he raises a question of a proprietary title. The Revenue Court can either try the question itself, or refer the parties to the Civil Court, under the provisions of S. 199 of the Act. When it follows the former course and decides against him and orders his ejectment, an appeal lies to the Civil Court, and it is not open to him to bring a suit in a Civil Court for declaration of his subordinate proprietary right. The legislature intended that the decision of a Revenue Court upon a question of title should have the same effect as the decision of a Civil Court. 2 A L J 334 Fol.

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

Beni Pande v Raja Kausal Kishore Prasad Mal Bahadur. 4 A L J 53=A W N (1907) 6=29 All 160.

Notes.—Ref: 29 All 601=4 A L J 545=A W N (1907) 189, 32 All 8=3 Ind Cas 954=6 A L J 917.

148.—S 199—Suit for arrears of rent-Tenant not pleading proprietary title—subsequent suit for declaration—Res judicata.

In a suit for arrear of Rent under Act No.II of 1901 the plaintiff did not set up his proprietary title to the land in suit; Held, that a subsequent suit in the Civil Court for establishment of his proprietary right was barred by the principle of res judicata. (Ref. 2 Ind Cas 353.)

Lal Singh v Kalip Singh. 6 A L J 259=31 All 323=2 Ind Cas 218.

Agra Tenancy Act S. 201

See Transfer of Property Act s. 41.

149.—S. 201—Presumption—Recorded co-sharer—Defendants to rebut. Where the plaintiff in a suit for profits is a recorded co-sharer, the presumption referred to in s. 201 of the Act arises in his favour and it is for the defendants to rebut that presumption. In such a case, it is not for the plaintiff to prove, by evidence of receipt of profits within twelve years, that the rights subsisted, (I L R 27 All 436).

Banwari Lal v. Naider. 4 A L J 27=A W N (1907) 5=29 All 158

Notes—Ref. 1907 W N 292; 5 A L J 495; 30 All 58. Expl: 30 All 447=(1908) W N 186. Ref: 6 A L J 138 F B; 145 F B; 31 All 257 F B; 253 F B.

150—S. 201—" Shall presume "— Recorded co-sharer—Presumption rebutable—Revenue Court—Question of title—Jurisdiction.

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

The fact that the plaintiff is a recorded co-sharer does not itself preclude the Revenue Court from trying the question of title. The presumption which arises from the plaintiff's being a recorded proprietor is a rebuttable presumption. (30 All 447: A W N (1908) 186; 5 A L J 495; over. Ali Ahmad v. Said-un-nisa Bibi. 6 Ind Cas 703.

151.—Tenancy Act Agra (II of 1901 Local) s. 201 entry in Khewat—Question of proprietary presumption whether rebuttable.

Per Knox J. That 'shall presume' in s. 201 clause 3 Tenancy Act does not mean 'shall be conclusive proof' of a fact. Where there was other evidence, besides the entry of the plaintiff's name in the Khewat, upon which lower appellate court came to the conclusion that the plaintiff in a profits suit only recorded solatii cause held that it was justified in doing so (4 A L J R 3 Fol.). Per Richards J. The policy of the Tenancy Act is that a revenue Court, which is not a court particularly suited to try complicated questions of title, should as far as possible, accept and act on the records of the mahal, leaving difficult questions of law and title to a Civil Court. The Revenue court should accept the record in the Khewat as correct and is not competent to decide whether a recorded co-sharer has or has no right to share in the profits. (29 All 158 Ref.)

Bhaiyka v Umrao Singh, 4 A L J 302=1907 A W N 292=30 All 58 Confirming on appeal 1907 A W N 43=4 A L J 166.

Notes:—Fol: 30 All 447=(1908) A W N 186; Ref: 5 A L J 495.

152—The words 'shall presume' in section 201 of Agra Tenancy Act have no higher force than similar words contained in the Evidence Act. Where therefore a plaintiff is recorded co-sharer but it is proved that he has no proprietary right, the presumption falls to the ground. The plaintiff as a recorded co-sharer brought this suit for profits. The defendants pleaded that they were in adverse possession and proved it. Held, that the suit was rightly dismissed.

Dilkunwar v. Udai Ram, 4 A L J 3=A W N (1906), 316=29 All 148.

Notes:—Ref: 31 All 257 F B; 253 F B; 6 A L J 138 F B; 145 F B; 5 A L M L J 309 F B; 9 C L J 453=13 C W N 544; 33 Mad 206; 1907 A W N 43.

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

153—S. 201—Act 1 of 1872 (Indian Evidence Act), S. 4—Evidence—Presumption—Record of plaintiff's name as a co-sharer.

Held, on a construction of section 201 of the Agra Tenancy Act, 1901, that the words "If in any suit instituted under the provisions of Chapter XI * the plaintiff is recorded as having such proprietary right, the Court shall presume that, he has it" mean that so far as the Revenue Court is concerned, such Court is bound to presume in favour of the plaintiff, and it is for the defendant "to establish by suit in the Civil Court that the plaintiff has no such proprietary right". (30 All 58, 29 All 148 Diss: A W N (1907) p. 43, Fol. 29 All 158 Explained). Bechan Singh v. Karan Singh, A W N (1908), 186=5 A L J 495=30 All 447.

154—S. 201 (3)—"Shall presume" Presumption—Whether rebuttable.—

Held, Per Stanley, C. J. and Griffin, J. (Tud-ball, J., dissenting) that a presumption is a logical assumption that a thing is true until disproved. The expression "shall presume" in S. 201 (3) does not make the presumption conclusive and irrebuttable. The Revenue Courts therefore are competent to go behind the entry in the record-of-rights.

Held, Per Tudball, J. that the presumption mentioned in cl. 3, S. 201 of the Agra Tenancy Act, is one which is rebuttable only in a Civil Court, not in a Revenue Court. The Revenue Court cannot, therefore, go behind the entries in the Khewat. (29 All 148; 30 All 447; (1907) A W N 43; 29 All 158; 31 All 257; 31 All 253, Ref.)

Waris Ali Khan v. Parshottam Narain, 7 A L J 682 F B=32 All 427=6 Ind Cas 609.

155—S 201—General Clauses Act I of 1904 (Local) Section 6—Effect of a repealing Act on a pending appeal—N. W. P. Tenancy Act (Local) II of 1901 Section 201 (3)—Suit for determination of title—Decree for profits previously passed—Effect of the appellate decree of a Judge in a suit brought in the Revenue Court—Res judicata.

An appeal pending at the time when a repealing Act comes into force, is not affected thereby, Section 201 of the N. W. P. Tenancy Act, 1901, is not applicable to an appeal against a decree for profits filed under Act XII of 1881, and a suit brought in the Civil Courts by the defeated party for a declaration that he was the owner of the share in respect of which the decree for profits had been passed is not a suit under clause (3) of that section. The decision of the appellate Court in a suit brought in the Court of Revenue under Section 93 of the Act No. XII of 1881 although it is the decision of a Civil Court, has no higher effect than if it were the decision of the Court of first instance, that is, of the Revenue Court, consequently the decision of that Court on a question of title is no bar to the maintenance of a suit brought in the Civil Court for the determination of the plaintiff's proprietary title. (26 All 601 ref. to) Muhammad Inayat Ali Khan v. Muhammad Murad Ali Khan, 2 A L J 283=1905 A W N 103=27 All 569.

156—S 201, Sub. (3)—Person recorded as having proprietary rights—Presumption.—

In a suit for profits by a person who was recorded as having the proprietary right entitling him to claim profits, it was held that under sub-sec. (3) of S. 201 of the Act, the Court should presume that such person had a proprietary right, and that the defendant was competent to sue in a Civil Court under the proviso to that sub section to establish that the plaintiff had not the proprietary right claimed by him.

Niaz Ali Khan v. Govind Ram. (1908) A W N 187 Note.

157—Ss. 201 — Sub-sec. (3) & 165—Person recorded as having proprietary rights—Presumption.—

An entry in a khewat according to the provisions of S. 201, Sub-Sec. (3) of the Act is conclusive, and the Courts have no power in a suit under S. 165 of the Act, to go behind the entry in the khewat. Har Prasad v. Syed Muhammad Baqar, A W N (1908), 187 (note)=30 All 451.

158—S. 201 (3)—Jurisdiction of Civil and Revenue Courts—Question of title decided by Civil Court—Subsequent suit for profits — Recorded co-sharer—Presumption:—

Where a Civil Court of concurrent jurisdiction has already determined the extent of the proprietary right possessed by the plaintiff, in a subsequent suit for profits there is nothing left for the Revenue Court to presume, and the question as to the nature of the presumption under S. 201

Agra Tenancy Act-Contd.

(3) of the Tenancy Act does not arise.—

Gobindi v. Saheb Ram, 6 A L J 138=31 All 257 (F B)=1 Ind Cas 885.

159.—S 201 "Shall presume"—Recorded co-sharers—Revenue Court bound to presume proprietary title.

The Revenue Court, before which a suit comes under the provisions of Ch. XI of the Tenancy Act, where the plaintiff is recorded as having proprietary right, is bound to presume that the plaintiff has such proprietary title, and the Revenue Court is not entitled, in that suit to go into any evidence to contradict the record

(30 All 447. A W N 1908, 186, 5 A L J 495, Fol.)

Meharban Singh v Umrai Singh. 3 Ind Cas 709.

160.—S 201-Evidence Act, S 4—Evidence-Record of plaintiff's name as a co-sharer—Presumption:—Per Knox J. (Richards, J., dissentiente):—The presumption enjoined by S. 201, Cl. (3) of the Agra Tenancy Act, 1901, is not conclusive, but may be rebutted by evidence offered to the contrary.-1906 W N 316 ref to. Per Richards, J—So far as a Revenue Court is concerned it is bound to act upon the presumption created by S. 201, Cl. (3), of the Agra Tenancy Act, 1901, subject only to the result of a suit in a Civil Court.—

Dhanka v Umrao Singh. 1907 A W N 43=4 A L J 166=Also 1907 A W N 292=30 All 58=4 A L J 802.

161.—S 201 (3)—Suit for profits in Revenue Court—Question of title decided by Civil Court—No question of presumption:-A co-sharer sued the defendant lambardar for profits. The defendant pleaded that plaintiff was not entitled to profits of certain plots which had been wrongly included in his patti, and that he, the defendant, had obtained a declaration of his title from the Civil Court. The District Judge held that so long as the Khewat was not corrected, the plaintiff was entitled to succeed and the Revenue Court was not bound to pay any regard to the decree of the Civil Court. Held, that the Revenue Court was not competent to ignore the decree of the Civil Court and that the decree of the Civil Court being in this case in favour of defendants, the plaintiff could not rely upon the Khewat as it stood. Bhawani Singh v Dilwar Khan, 6 A L J 145=31 All 253 (F B)=1 Ind Cas 886.

Agra Tenancy Act Contd.

162.—S 202—Suit in a Civil Court—Defendants pleading that they are plaintiff's tenants—Civil court bound to follow the procedure laid down in S 202.

In a suit brought by a Zamindar in a Civil Court for the concellation of a will and possession of a holding, defendants pleaded that they were tenants of the plaintiffs: Held, that the Civil Court was bound to require the defendants to institute a suit in the Revenue Court, within three months, as provided for in S 202 of the Agra Tenancy Act (24 A W N 114; 25 A W N 46).

Mahadeo Prashad v Ramdhari Khan 2 Ind Cas 455.

163.—S 202—Question of tenant—right in Civil Court-Question decided by Civil Court-Appeal-Procedure:—Where, in contravention of the provisions of S 202 of the U P Tenancy Act, 1901, a Civil Court heard and determined a suit in which a question of tenant right was raised, and on appeal the lower appellate court remanded the suit under S 562, C P C, it was held, that the lower appellate court ought not to have remanded the case, but should itself have passed the order required by S. 202 of the Tenancy Act, and the High Court made such an ordar. Jagan Nath v Bshawani 1904 A W N 203=27 All 167.

164.—S 202—Scope of— Held, that where the defendant simply alleges that he is in possession of the land in suit as a tenant but does not allege that he is in possession of the land in suit as a tenant of the plaintiff, the Civil Court need not require the defendant to institute a suit in the Revenue Court as directed by S 202, Agra Tenancy Act. Rikhai Rai v Sheoyan 7 A L J 960=7 Ind Cas 97.

165.-S 202-Question of tenant right in Civil Court—Jurisdiction—Procedur :-The plaintiff sued in a Civil Court asking for a declaration that the defendants had no title to land which had therefore been held as an occupancy holding by a person deceased before suit. The defendants pleaded that they were the tenants of the holding and denied the jurisdiction of the Civil Court. The Court found against the plea of want of jurisdiction but on the merits dismissed the plaintiff's suit. On appeal the plaint was returned for presentation to a Court of Revenue. Held that this procedure was erroneous: the appellate Agra Tenancy Act-Concld.

Court ought to have instructed the Court of first instance to take action under S 202 of the U P. Tenancy Act 1901 Madari v Kubir un nissa 1904 A W N 114=1 A L J 212.

Notes —Fol (1905) A W N 46.

166 —S 202—Question of tenant right in Civil Court —Appeal—Remand:—Where a Civil appellate court finds that the Court of original jurisdiction ought to have passed an order under S. 202 of the Agra Tenancy Act 1901, but has not done so, the proper course to be adopted by the appellate court is not to remand the case under S 562 of the Code of Civil Procedure, but to send the case back to the original court with direction to pass the order which it should have passed in the first instance. 1904 A W N 114 foll Mare v Gauri Sahai, 1905 A W N 46.

167-Sch IV No 47-Execution of decree—Limitation.

A Rent Court decree for Rs 156—14—9 was passed on the 14th of March 1901. On the 13th March, 1904, the decree holders applied for execution by attachment and sale of certain moveable property of their judgment debtors Execution issued as prayed, but only a small portion of the decretal amount was realized. On the 22nd of August 1904, the decree-holders, filed a further application for execution against the immovable property of the judgment-debtors.

Held, that execution was time brrred. The second application could not be treated as an application merely in continuance of the application of the 13th of March, 1904 (15 M L J 243 Ref)

Nahabhat BahadurLal v Uda Kunwar (1906) A W N 97 = 3 A L J 324.

Agreement.

See also cases under:—

(1) Account.
(2) Advocate.
(3) Champerty and Maintenance.
(4) Civil Procedure Code 1882, S 375.
(5) Compromise decree.
(6) Consideration.
(7) Contract.

Agreement-Contd.

(8) Contract Act, ss 23,27,2,25,63, 27,51,
(9) Co-sharers
(10) Hindu Law-Widow.
(11) Impartible Estate
(12) Jurisdiction.
(13) Kabuliyat.
(14) Practice.
(15) Right of suit—Contracts and Agreements.
(16) Setting Aside Sale.
(17) Specific Performance.
(18) Stamp Act.
(19) Stamp Act 1879 Sch 1 Art 5
(20) Stamp duty.

—acknowledging a debt.

See Stamp Act (II of 1899), Sch I Arts 1, 5.

—adjusting Suit.

See (1) Arbitration
(2) Compromise-compromise of suits under. C. P. C

—admitted in pleading.

See Admission, statement and pleading.

—against public policy.

See Contract Act s 23—Illegal contracts.

—altering decree.

See (1) Execution of Decree
(2) Limitation Act (1908) Art. 160

—and conveyance.

See Sale

—as to payment of decretal money.

See C P C O 21, r 1 and O. 21 r 2.

—at Delhi to pay money in Bombay

See Jurisdiction-Causes of jurisdiction

Agreement-Contd.

--at marriage not to remove wife from parent's house.

See Restitution of conjugal rights

-at time of adoption affecting son's rights.

See Hindu Law — Adoption — Effect of adoption.

--before decree by the decree-holder not to recover costs which the decree might award.

See (1) Civil Pro. Code O 21 r. 1 & O 21 r 2
(2) Costs.

--between adoptive mother and natural father.

See Hindu Law—Adoption.

—between Government and Government Solicitor.

See Costs—Taxation of Costs

—between husband and wife.

See Divorce

—between landlord and tenant.

See (1) Tenancy Act (XXVII) of 1868), S 2.
(2) Tenancy Act (XXVIII of 1868), S 5
(3) Tenancy Act (XXVIII) of 1868), S 8

—between pleader and client.

See Pleader and Client.

—between pleader and person retaining him.

See (1) I egal Practitioner's Act.
(2) Pleader.
(3) Attorney & Client

—breach of, by insolvent

See Insolvency

Agreement-Contd.

—breach of, to pay a certain sum.

See Penalty.

—by a guardian to give a word in marriage on payment of a sum of money.

See Guardian—Powers of a guardian

—by correspondence.

See Stamp Act

—by mortgagor to sell mortgaged premises to mortgagee.

See Mortgage-sale of mortgaged property

—by occupancy tenant to relinquish his holding.

See Landlord and tenant — Abandonment, relinquishment of surrender of tenure

—by plaintiff and defendant not to bid against each other at an auction.

See Contract Act S 23

—Collateral to lease.

See (1) Evidence Parol
(2) Evidence-Varying or Contradicting written Instruments.

—coming to an end with the extinction of the equity of redemption.

See (1) khoti—Settlement Act
(2) Khoti Tenure.

—contrary to terms of lease.

See Lease—Landlord & tenant.

—entered into with one party to a suit by an attorney.

See Attorney & Client—Pleader

—executed both in England and India.

See Stamp

Agreement-Contd.

—exempting from liability in case of loss of carrying ship.

See (1) Shipping Law.
(2) Carriers.

—extending time of payment without Sanction of Court.

See C. Pro. Code O. 21, r. 1

—for an undivided share in Bhag.

See Bombay Bhagdari Act.

—for differences.

See Contract—Wagering Contracts.

—for division of family property in equal shares.

See (1) Malabar Law
(2) Hindu Law joint family.

—for not enforcing payment of instalments.

See Execution of decree—Execution of decree on or after Agreement or —Compromises —for, or to give time for satisfaction of judgment debt.

See Civil Pro Code O. 21 r. 1 & O. 21 r. 2.

—for payment by Deputy to the watandar out of the cash allowance for procuring the deputy's nomination.

See Bombay Heriditory Offices Act.

—for payment by instalments.

See C P C O. 21 r. 1 & O. 21 r. 2.

—for satisfaction of judgment debt

See Civil Pro. Code O. 21, r. 1 & O. 21, r. 2.

—for the management of a public charity, illegal.

See (1) Right of suit-Charities and trusts.
(2) Advocate General.
(3) C P C Ss. 92, 93.

Agreement-Contd.

—illegal.

See (1) Cases under Contract Act, S. 23.
(2) Receiver.

—in regard to the equity of redemption.

See Mortgage—Redemption.

—in respect of family property.

See Hindu Law—Joint family.

in respect of fiee vatan election.

See Bombay Heriditory Offices Act.

—in satisfaction of judgment-debt.

See Civil Procedure Code S. 257 A.

—no bar to partition.

See Hindu Law—Partition——Partition of portion of Property.

—not certified to Court

See Civil Pro. Code O 21, r 1 & O 21, r. 2.

—not sanctioned by Court.

See Civil Procedure Code O. 21, r. 1 & O. 21, r. 2.

—not to alienate ancestral property.

See Hindu Law—Joint family.

—not to appeal.

See (1) Appeal to Privy—Council—Practice and Procedure — Miscellaneous Cases
(2) Contract Act, S. 28.
(3) Counsel.

—not to execute a decree.

See (1) Execution of decree.
(2) Contract Act S. 23.

—not to execute decree regarded as satisfaction of decree.

See Civil Pro. Code O 21 r. 1 & O 21 r. 2.

Agreement-Contd.

-- not to partition.

See Cases under Hindu Law—Partition—Agreement not to partition.

-- not to partition and restraint on partition.

See Hindu Law Partition.

-- not to work for a rival trades man.

See Contract Act, S. 27.

-- of parties.

See Execution.

--of parties to suit to refer matters in dispute to decision of Court.

See Arbitration Contract Act, S. 28.

--of relinquishment, validity of.

See Hindu Law—Will——Construction of wills-Estates -Absolute or limited

-- of service -vatan Inam land by the holder of it.

See Bombay Heriditory Offices Act.

-- of share by a co-parcener.

See Hindu Law—Joint family.

-- opposed to public policy.

See Contract Act S. 23-Illegal contracts.

-- or memorandum of agreement relating to the sale of shares.

See Stamp Act.

- restricting right of occupancy.

See Right of occupancy.

-- running with land.

See (1) Pre-emption.
(2) Vendor and purchaser.

-- sanctioned by Court executing decree.

See Civil Pro. Code, O. 21, r. 1 & O 21, r. 2.

Agreement-Contd.

-- Secret.

See Attorney and Client

-- to become a member of association.

See (1) Companies Act
(2) Company.

-- to carry out decree.

See (1) Execution of Decree.
(2) Limitation Act (1908) art. 182.

-- to compensate for services rendered during defendant's minority.

See Minor—Liability of minor and right to enforce contracts.

--to divide, effect of.

See Hindu Law—Partition.

--to extend time for enforcing decree by execution.

See Civil Procedure Code O. 21, r. 1 & O. 21, r. 2.

--to forego legal proceedings.

See Arbitration.

--to give time to judgment-debtor.

See Civil Procedure Code (1908) O. 21, r. 1.

—to give time to the judgment debtor for payment of decreed money.

See Civil Pro. Code O 21, r. 1 & O. 21 r 2

-- to lease.

See (1) Registration, 7 B L R App 21.
(2) Specific Performance.
(3) Stamp, 17 Cal 548.
(4) Stamp Act.

—to lend money on mortgage.

See Mortgage.

Agreement-Contd.

--to liquidate decree by instalments appeal by judgment-debtor subsequent to.

See Appeal.

--to pay additional rent for excess land.

See Enhancement of rent.

--to pay interest.

See Interest — Miscellaneous Cases—Bill of Exchange.

--to prevent acquisition of easement not document creating a right in immoveable property.

See Registration Act.

- to procure marriage in consideration of money payment.

See Contract Act S. 23.

--to procure re-admission into caste

See Jurisdiction of Civil Court.

—to re-convey on re-payment of purchase money.

See Vendor and Purchaser--Miscellaneous Cases

--to refer.

See appeal (Decree).

--to refer mother in dispute to arbitration.

See (1) Contract Act S. 28.
(2) Arbitration.

—to refer to arbitration.

See Compromise—Compromise of Suits under Civil Procedure Code.

--to refer to arbitration.

See Arbitration.

-to relinquish exproprietary rights

See Landlord & tenant.

--to remain united.

See Hindu Law——Partition—Effect of Partition.

Agreement-Contd.

--to renew a kanom and to credit as renewal fees a sum of money then due by plaintiff to defendant.

See Registration Act.

—to rent pasture ground.

See Stamp Act.

--to sell.

See (1) Contract, S. 65.
(2) Limitation Act XV of 1877, Sch. 11, Art. 97.
(3) Small Cause Court Registration Act (VIII of 1871), S. 17.

—to sell land.

See Specific Relief Act.

--to share property after litigation if successful.

See (1) Contract Act S. 23.
(2) Champerty.

--to share property the subject of suit.

See Champerty.

—to supply money for another person's suit.

See Champerty.

--unregistered.

See Registration Act (III of 1877), S. 17.

--void if not sanctioned by the Court.

See (1) Civil Pro. Code O. 21, r. 1 & O. 21, r. 2.
(2) Compromise — Compromise of suits under C. P. C.

--volutary or by Act of Law.

See Transfer of Property Act.

Agreement-Contd.

--with respect to the property of the deceased husband by his heirs pendente lite.

See Mahomedan Law--Debts.

Agreement—Accounts, Court's order to furnish—Company transferring its business to a limited Company—New Company not bound by the order. See Account (6) 7 Bom L R 107 =29 Bom 107

Agreement—Champerty—Public Policy—English Law, not applicable—See Champerty (7) 35 Cal 420=12 C W N 393 =18 M L J 100=7 C L J 335 =5 A L J 184=35 I A 48.

Agreement—Advocate and client—Professional misconduct—Advising client and taking part in matters of invalid agreements—See Advocate (27) 33 Cal 151

1—Distinguished from agreement.

An arrangement is not necessarily an agreement. It is a preparatory measure or negotiation. Chabildss v Dayal Mavji. 6 Bom L R 557

2—C. P. C (Act XIV of 1882), Ss. 150 151—Agreement of parties to refer to Commissioner—Appeal.

Where the parties agree to refer certain issues of fact to a Commissioner and to abide by his decision, they impliedly agree not to appeal against the decree passed in accordance with the Commissioner's report and hence they are estopped from impugning that decree and the order of remand passed on appeal therefrom and the subsequent proceedings in pursuance thereof are all null and void. (8 Cal 455, Ref:)

The principles laid down in Ss. 150 and 151, C. P. C. are applicable in this case.
Bahir Das Chakravarti v Nobin Chandra Pal. 6 C W N 121=29 Cal 306

3—Arbitration—Agreement of parties to refer question to Court for decision—Decision if appealable—Acting as arbitrator—Extra cursum curial.

In the course of a suit for recovery of possession of some land, the parties who owned different shares of a Pergunnah came to an agreement to the effect that they should ask the Court to decide the question of title on the basis of the thakbust map only, and the plaintiff said he would abide by that decision. The Court decided accordingly and held that "the thak map itself showed that the plaintiff's predecessor and his co-sharers were disputing about the land and the survey map showed that it was newly formed chur land and that, in such circumstances, the thak map could not hold sufficient evidence of plaintiff's title."

Held—That in deciding the question on the basis of the thakbust map, in accordance with the agreement of the parties, the Court acted as arbitrator, and hence no appeal lay from that decision Kumar Saradindu Roy v Bhagabati Debya Chowdhurani. 10 C W N 835

4—Consideration unlawful—Brocage of office—Consideration for creating facilities for confirmation in office.

A promise to pay money in order to procure resignation of an office by the promisee with a view to the promisor securing the appointment is not an enforceable promise, the consideration being unlawful. Saminatha Aiyar v Muthuswami Pillai. (1907) 17 M L J 252= 30 Mad 530

5—Agreement of parties to sue within certain time-Suit filed but withdrawn and re-filed—Sufficient compliance—District Munsif—Inherent jurisdiction—To try compensation cases—Land Acquisition Act.

When the parties before Court come to an understanding to file a suit within a certain date and when it was so done, the fact that it had to be withdrawn with leave of Court and a fresh suit had to be instituted owing to a technical objection of non-joinder, is not fatal, and the original order of the Court has been complied with.

A District Munsif has inherent jurisdiction to try a suit for determining the rights to money awarded as compensation under the Land Acquisition Act.

When both parties agree to such a trial, one cannot question the jurisdiction of the Court at a later stage. (5 M L J 59, Ref., and 2 C L J 359 Expl.) Pichuvier v Perumal Konan, (1912) 1 M W N 163.

Agreement-Contd.

6—Agreement to maintain defendant in consideration of a will—Prior suit on agreement by defendant for arrears of maintenance and decree therein—Present suit by plaintiff to set aside agreement—Plaintiff not entitled to rely on events prior to the former suit——Res judicata——Subsequent events disclosing intention to defeat the will—Not a sufficient cause of action.

By an agreement, Exhibit I, the plaintiff agreed to give maintenance to the defendant in consideration of her executing a will bequeathing all her moveable property to him after her death. The defendant instituted O. S. No 160 of 1907 for two years' payment due to her under Exhibit I and obtained a decree. Now the plaintiff sues for a declaration that there was a failure of consideration of Exhibt I and therefore the agreement could not be enforced against him.

Held—That the plaintiff cannot rely on events prior to O S No 160 of 1907 to avoid the agreement, as he was bound to put forward in that suit all pleas which would entitle him to get the Court to hold that the agreement was not enforceable against him.

That the only events subsequent to that suit alleged as entitling him to relief, viz, that the defendant made false complaints to the Police of loss of some properties included in the will and also concealed some of them in a third person's house, disclosed no cause of action to avoid Exhibit I.

The allegation of a mere intention on her part to defeat the bequests is not suffcient.

Atyam Yenkiah, (1912) 1 M W N 182.

7—Agreement by tenant not to take compensation for improvements made without consent of the zemindar—Illegality—Agra Tenancy Act (II of 1901), ss. 40, 90—Agreement to pay enhanced rate–Distinct promises for the same consideration —One of them illegal, effect of—Cess—Essential to be proved.

An agreement between tenant and a landlord whereby the former undertook not to make any improvements without the consent of the zemindar, and provided that, if he did make any improvemant, he would not be entitled to any compensation at the time of ejectment, is illegal and unforceable at law.

An agreement by a tenant to pay an enhanced rate of rent is not illegal, unless there has been a legal enhancement within 10 years of the agreement.

If several distinct promises are made for one and the same consideration, and if one or more of them be such as the law will not enforce, this will not of itself prevent the rest from being enforced.

In order to show that a condition in an agreement as to a certain payment is of the nature of a cess which should not be recognized, it must not only be shown that the condition refered to, relates to the payment which comes within the definition of a cess, but it should also be shown that the payment of this nature has not been recognized by the Settlement Officer. Bhola v Mohammad Habibul Rahman Khan. 10 Ind Cas 465

8—Mortgage–Agreement by third party to pay mortgage amount to mortgagee and interest–Part payment of interest—Breach of other conditions of agreement—Right of suit by mortgagee on the mortgages—Whether mortgagee bound to refund the amount received from third party—Agreement to pay intending purchaser for not competing for purchase of property—Consideration.

An agreement, where by a person undertakes to pay money to another in consideration of the latter not competing for the purchase of certain property with the former, is not illegal.

Second defendant executed three mortgage bonds to plaintiffs. First defendant entered into an agreement with the plaintffs, whereby he agreed to pay a certain portion of the principal within three months, the interest on the principal amount immediately, and to execute a fresh mortgage for the balance. The agreement was not carried out save that the first defendant paid Rs 10,000 out of the principal and the interest on the whole liability under-taken under the agreement up to a certain date. In consequence of the breach of the agreement by first defendant, plaintiff sued for the balance of the amount due to them under the three mortgage bonds executed by second defendant:

Held (1) that plaintiffs were entitled to sue on the mortgages and that they were not bound to enforce specific performance of first defendant's agreement;

(2) that the first defendant was not entitled to refund of the interest he had paid in part performance of his obligations under the agreement. Rungiah Gownden v Fakir Mahomed 10 Ind Cas 627.

Agreement-Contd.

Agreement——to convey property after decree in lieu of expenses of litigation. 14 O C 139.

Agreement—to surrender expropriatary rights—Possession not delivered—Suit for damages for breach of contract. 8 A L J 826.

Agreement—to refer to arbitration, if of a personal nature. 14 C L J 188.

Agreement—Mortgagee in possession agreeing with mortgagor to charge for his personal services—Validity of—Clog on equity of redemption. 13 Bom L R 162.

Agreement—Transfer of reversionary right—Agreement to give share in property to be recovered by litigation—Validity—Specific performance—Litigation—Burden of proof. 9 Ind Cas 243.

Agreement——between members of family as to division of earning as priest—Enforceability. 13 C L J 449.

Agreement—between Government and public servant—Increase of pay for risky service—Suit to enforce. 15 C W N 470.

9—Order refusing to set aside a sale—Appeal, whether lies against——Agreement of discharge, effect of.

An appeal lies against an order refusing to set aside a sale under S. 310-A of the Civ Pro Code, 1882, even though the purchaser is not the decree-holder but a stranger.

An agreement between the decree-holder and the judgment-debtor, whereby the former agrees to treat a portion of the decree debt as discharged in consideration of certain services rendered by the judgment-debtor, is tantamount to a receipt of the amount. (9 M L J 258; 23 Mad 37 F.)

Lakshminarasimhacharyulu v Lakshmamma 12 Ind Cas 169.

10—Hindu dedicating for mosque—Legality—Agreement to do so, illegal and unenforceable—Contract Act, S. 23.

Under the Mahomedan Law, a Hindu cannot make a dedication in favour of a Mahomedan place of worship. An agreement by a Hindu to do so is illegal and cannot be enforced.

Agreement-Contd.

Fazle Rahman Naskar v Anath Bandhu Pal 11 Ind Cas 436.

11—Specific performance—Agreement to pay money in instalments—Suit not maintainable.

A suit for specific performance of an agreement to pay a certain sum of money by instalments is not maintainable, as compensation in money for the non-performance of it is an adequate relief. Hukum Singh v Khunni Lal. 8 A L J 1282.

12—Fraud of agent—Agent fraudulently withholding information from the principal—Principal cannot be fixed with the knowledge—Company—Internal defects such as want of resolution or non-existence of a competent board of directors, not to affect innocent third party without notice—Agreement to borrow money on a charge on property—Agreement creates valid charge.

The plaintiff advanced to the defendant Company six lacs of rupees on a mortgage of the Mills belonging to the Company on the 15th April 1905. Under the terms of the deed of mortgage, the plaintiff appointed his Munim, J to be a director of the defendant-Company, which office J filled till the 12th July 1909 on which date he sent in his resignation. During his directorate it came to J's knowledge that the Company had on 11th July 1907 borrowed three lacs of rupees from a Bank for one year on condition not to further mortgage or charge the property of the Mill during the currency of the loan. The loan was renewed twice, but at neither time was this condition renewed. On the 5th August 1909, the Company's principal agent and director D obtained from the plaintiff a loan of two lacs of rupees and passed a receipt bearing one anna stamp which recited that the sum was a part—payment of the sum of five lacs of rupees which the plaintiff had intended as a further charge of the Mills; that if the plaintiff advanced the said amount, the Company would execute a proper legal conveyance; and that if he did not, the sum would be returned to him with interest. This transaction was not sanctioned by the board of directors; and as a matter of fact there was no competent board in existence then to authorize it. Before making the loan, the plaintiff had consulted J as to its advisability, but J had whithheld the knowledge he had about the Company's borrowings from the Bank and had advised him that there was no objection to his making the loan. The receipt was subsequently stamped as a conveyance and duly registered. The affairs of the defendant—Company having gone into liquidation, the plaintiff sued to have a charge declared on the Mill as to his loan of two lacs of rupees; and to have it declared that he was a secured creditor to the extent of the loan.

Agreement-Contd.

Held, (1) that J, in concealing the information which he had from his master, the plaintiff, was guilty of fraud and misfeasance against the plaintiff; and that the plaintiff could not, therefore, be fixed with knowledge of things which were fraudulently concealed from him by J.

(2) That the resolution by which the Company had agreed not to further charge the Mill property had exhausted itself on the 11th June 1908,

(3) That, even if the condition not to further mortgage or charge the property had existed, the defendant-Company could not be permitted to plead the same in derogation of the rights and claims of the plaintiff to a charge on their property.

(4) That, if the plaintiff acquired a charge on the property of the defendant-Company, that charge was valid and binding on the Company, notwithstanding the facts that, at the time the charge was given, the board of directors had not passed a resolution authorising the creation of such charge, or that there was not at the time in existence a Board of Directors properly constituted according to the requirements of the Articles of Association,

(5) That a valid, legal and binding further charge was created in favour of the plaintiff against the mortgaged property of the defendant Company for the two lacs of rupees advanced by the plaintiff on the 5th August 1909.

Where the agent, though acting on the principal's behalf in some transaction in which his knowledge would otherwise be imputed to his principal, takes part in any fraud or misfeasance against the principal, the principal is not bound by the agent's knowledge of such fraud or misfeasance.

In law, neither the want of a resolution nor the defect in the board of directors of a Company can affect adversely the rights of third parties, who have no knowledge of the existence of such

Agreement-Contd.

infirmities when dealing with the Company

Shivlal Motilal v Tricumdas Mills.
14 Bom L R 45.

13—Landlord and Tenant—Rent due to office holder—Agreement transferring the right of transferee to collect rent after transferor's death.

The second defendant, as guardian of her minor son who was an office-holder, executed an agreement to the plaintiff, where by the latter was to perform the duties of the office and receive a portion of the emoluments therefor, inclusive of the right to collect rents from tenants:

Held, in a suit by the plaintiff for the recovery of rent from a tenant after the death of the minor office-holder, that, as the plaintiff's rights under the agreement terminated on the death of the office-holder, he had no cause of action and his suit should be dismissed. Ganalal Somalingam v Kamuju Gangulu
11 Ind Cas 699.

14—Suit for account against heir of deceased agent—Art 120 applicable—Arts. 62 and 89 not applicable—"Refusal" mentioned in Art. 89—Meaning.

Where the suit is instituted against the heirs of a deceased agent for rendition of accounts as regards the receipt by the deceased agent of the rents and profits of the plaintiff's property which was under his control during his life-time, with a prayer that the amount found due might be directed to be paid out of the estate of the deceased agent in the hands of his heirs.

Held, that, to such a suit, neither Art. 62, nor Art. 89 of the Limitation Act would apply, but that Art 120 would apply, and that limitation would run from the date of the agent's death.

The correct interpretation of Art 89 is to hold that the refusal by the agent to render account as mentioned therein must be an express refusal on a definite date, and not merely a virtual refusal to be inferred from the omission or the failure on his part to fulfil a promise made by him to render the accounts to the pricipal in answer to a demand by the latter 96 P. R. 1888; 10

Agreement-Contd.

Cal 860 and 31 All 429 Ref 3 C L R 446. Not Fol 11 C L J 43, not in point. Mussammat Fatima v Mussamat Imtazi Jan alias Chuni Jan and others 1 P R. 1912 (Civil)=33 P W R 1912.

Agreement—between Mahomedans and Hindus regarding sacrifice of cows—Validity-Nudum Pactum—Specific Relief Act 1877, s. 42. 7 Ind Cas 318.

Agreement—to provide funds for litigation-Specific performance—Limitation—Litigation. 10 O C 173.

Agreement—For son-in-law to be maintained in father-in-law's family—Maintenance. 7 Ind Cas 118.

Agreement—Vague and uncertain—Effect—Mortgage—General. 5 Ind Cas 373

Agreement—To effect fraud on Court-Fraud not carried out—Effect—Divorce. 36 Cal 874=4 Ind Cas 334.

Agreement—preventing the acquisition of easement—Easements Act 1882 s. 15 Expl, 1. 2 Bom L R 518=24 Bom 156.

Agreement—Nature of, inadmissible without registration, when original agreement is registered—Evidence Act 1872 s. 92. 27 Mad 368.

Agreement—That land would go to a shrine on the death of persons who were parties to the agreement-Gift in favour of shrine by one of the parties—Suit to question the gift by another party—Gift. 46 P L R 1910=8 Ind Cas 231.

Agreement-Breach of-Suit for-Jurisdiction of High Court (Original Side)—High Court, Jurisdiction of—Calcutta. 1 C L J 219.

Agreement—By Judgment—debtor to pay interest at rate higher than that provided in decree-Void if without Court's sanction—Civ. pro. Code 1882, ss. 244, 257-A 9 C W N 1004=32 Cal 917.

Agreement-Giving time to judgment-debtor-Sanction of Court—Civ Pro Code 1882 ss 257 A 258. 6 A L J 726=6 M L T 180=2 Ind Cas 991.

Agreement--Instalment bond executed by some of the judgment-debtors in decree-holder's favour in respect of decretal amount-Whether it is a mere agreement to give time Whether the whole agreement illegal owing to the agreement to give time not having had Court's sanction —Right of decree-holder to sue upon it—Civ Pro. Code 1882, s. 257-A. 12 C W N 674=7 C L J 543=35 Cal 870.

Agreement—Agreement for sale—Vendee put in possession subsequently ejected by vendors —Sale not completed—Suit by vendee for possession and injunction—Similar suit by vendors—Subsequent suit by vendee for specific performance—Omission to set up ground of defence—Res judicata—Civ Pro Code, 1908 s. 11 O II r, 2. 24 Mad 491=6 C W N 17 P C

Agreement—to set aside execution sale—Power to modify—Sale—Sale in execution of decree. 9 C L J 251=36 Cal 422=2 Ind Cas 338.

Agreement-Power of re-purchase on condition—Enforcement of right—Re-sale. 14 C P L R 166.

Agreement—Registration Act 1908 s 17. 27 Mad 43

Agreement—Legal practitioner—Pleader—Remuneration 88 P R 1868=8 P R 1873=26 P R 1874=63 P R 1876=5 P R 1878.

Agreement—Stipulation to recognise tenancy—Existence of rights—Effect of—Landlord and Tenant—Miscellaneous. 11 C L J 68=5 Ind Cas 301

Agreement—to render services as medical practitioner in lieu of rent is "lease" within the meaning of s 105 of Act IV of 1882—Transfer of Property Act 1882 ss 105, 109. 32 Cal 243.

Agreement—Privy council—Practice of—Costs. 9 B L R 460=14 M I A 203.

Agreement—not to sue—U P Act XVIII of 1873 s 93 (h). A W N 1881, 107.

Agreement—Agreement of partnership between licensee to vend toddy and licensee to vend arrack—Rule prohibiting such agreement—Legality of agreement--Mad Act I of 1886. 24 Mad 401.

Agreement—To pass another agreement, and which instances an old debt and acknowledges a fresh loan is an agreement, and not an acknowledgment—See Bom Act XVII of 1879 s 72-A.

Agreement-Concld.

2 Bom L R 122=24 Bom 394.

Agreement—to divorce—Suit for custody—Plea of Khula—Validity of agreement—Custody of wife. 193 P R 1889.

Agricultural holding

See (1) Landlord & tenant
(2) Lease.

Agricultural land

See Landlord & Tenant

Agricultural lease

See cases under
(1) Transfer of Property Act ss 107 108, 116, 117.
(2) Lease.
(3) Landlord and Tenant

1—Transfer of Property Act—Applicability of its provisions.

The Transfer of property Act has no application in case of an agricultural lease. (30 Mad 322 Foll) Maduri Mudaly v Masila Mani Gramani 5 M L T 222.

Agricultural Purposes

See Bengal Tenancy Act VIII of 1885 s 23

Agricultural Tenancy

See (1) C P Acts (Tenancy Act s 81)
(2) Bengal Acts (Tenancy Act) s 23.

—ejectment.

See Landlord and Tenant.

Agricultural Tenant.

1—Tenant-Occupying room in the abadi-Ouster—Adverse possession. Where a tenant has been occupying a room in the abadi for a period of thirty years he cannot be ejected therefrom by the zemindar. If the room is appurtenant to his holding he cannot be ousted during the continuance of the tenancy and if not appurtenant thereto, he must be taken to have acquired a right of occupying it by adverse possession. Nazar Hasan v Shibba 1 A L J 479= 1904 A W N 168-27 All 81.

Agricultural Tenant-Concld.

See also cases under.
(1) Landlord and tenant.
(2) T P Act ss 116, & 117, 107 & 108.

Agricultural year.

See Deed—Construction.

Agriculturul year Expiration of—

See North-Western Provinces Rent Acts (1873 and 1881), s 94.

Agricultural Year.

See Instalment Bond, A W N 1882,174.

Agriculturist.

—Definition of.

See (1) Dekhan Agriculturists Act s 2.
(2) Dekhan Agriculturists Relief Act s 12.
(3) Landlord & Tenant.
(4) T P Act ss 107,116,117,& 108.
(5) Mining Rights.
(6) Attachment—Subjects of attachment.
(7) C P C s 60.

Agriculturists. Interest on bond given by See Interest.

1-Code of Civil Procedure S 266.-Agriculturist. The term "agriculturist" as used in proviso [c] to S. 266 C P Code does not necessarily exclude a person who is proprietor of his holding. 12 Bom 363, 7 Bom 530 referred to. Ganpat Ram & others v Laxman Rao. 13 C P L R 30, Agriculturist—Sale of house of—Legality. 9 Ind Cas 825.

Agriculturist.-House of—Sale in execution of decree on mortgage, whether legal. 8 A L J 1045.

Agriculturist-Mortgage by conditional sale—Both parties agriculturists-Necessity for reference to collector-See Punj Act XIII of 1900, s 9 cls 2 and 3.

Agriculturist—Adoptive and natural mothers—Kritrima adoption—See Custom-Punjab—Inheritance. 147 P R 1889.

Agriculturist also owner of Inam villages & pensioner.

See Dekhan Agriculturists Relief Act.

Agriculturist, an Inamdar can be an.

See Dekhan agriculturists Relief Act s 2

Agriculturist Bhagdar.

See Bombay Act V of 1862.

Agriculturists Relief Act Dekhan

See Dekhan Agriculturists Relief Act.

Agriculturists Loans Act (XII of 1884.)

See (1) Sale for Arrears of Revenue—Incumbrances—North—Western Provinces Land Revenue Act.
(2) Public Demands Recovery Act s 2.

1.—Ex-proprietary tenants—Hypothecation to secure takavi loans—Sale—Auction-purchaser—Relinquishment in favour of Zamindar.

Where ex-proprietary tenants take takavi advances from Government and hypothecate trees standing upon their holdings, they cannot defeat such hypothecation by relinquishing their holdings in favour of the Zamindar. (24 All 538 Fol:)

A purchaser of the trees at an auction—sale held for the realisation of the Takavi loan would step into the shoes of the mortgagors and the mortgagee and acquire ownership in the trees.
Babu Lal v Ram Sahai 1 A L J 261= 1904 A W N 101=26 All 540.

Ahban Thakurs.

1.—Family custom—Hindu Law Mitakshara school—Ahban Thakurs-Step-brother if may succeed equally with brother of whole blood-Specially family custom contrary to Mitakshara—Proof-Wajib-ul-arz, entries in—Value as evidence of custom. Under the Mitakshara law a brother of the whole blood is entitled to succeed to the estate of a deceased brother in preference to a step brother, and in the absence of evidence sufficient to establish such a special custom in the family as to rebut the ordinary presumption that the Mitakshara law prevailed the claim of the step brother to an equal share was properly rejected. There is no class of evidence which is more likely to vary in value according to circumstances than that of Wajib-ul-arzes. (L R 25 I A 161, 169: S C 2 C W N 737: L R 36 I A 125 P C; 13 C W N 1073) Where from internal evidence it seemed probable that the entries acorded connoted the views of individuals as to the practice they would wish to see

Ahban Thakurs-Concld.

prevailing rather than the ascertained fact of a well established custom. Held that the Court in India had properly attached weight to the fact that no evidence at all was forthcoming of any instance in which the allaged custom had been observed. Thakur Anant Singh v Thakur Durga Singh 14 C W N 770.

Ahirs,

See Hindu Law-Inheritance.

Ahamedabad talukdars Act, 1862.

1—Recital, effect of—Covenant to indemnify purchaser of rent-free land from future assessment. In P.J.1881, 101, referring to the recital in Bombay Act VI.of 1862 that Talukdari estates in Ahmedabad are now only held on leasehold tenure determinable at the pleasure of Government, and could not and cannot be lawfully encumbered, charged or alienated, the Court said : it has already been pointed out by the High Court (9 Bom H. C. Rep. 215, 216,) that such a recital in an Act or Statute is not conclusive, and that it is scarcely consistent with the concluding portion of S 7 of the Act. It is substantially displaced by the report of Mr. Peile, No. CVI. of the New Series of Selections from Bombay Government Records. In fact the recital is notoriously contrary to historical truth.

The Court also held that the liability of a vendor under a covenant contained in a deed of sale executed in 1835 to indemnify the purchaser of property thereby sold and alleged to be rent-free from any future imposition of assessment by Government, was not a claim which could have been brought in under the Act, where such assessment was not levied until 1870, the defendant's estates having been brought under the operation of the Act in 1863, and was therefore not barred by the Act.

"Liabilities" "Incurred." The "liabilities" which the first ten sections of Bombay Act VI. of 1862 were intended to deal with are liabilities which, at the time of the declaration mentioned in S I, were not merely contingent, but could be made the subject of an immediate claim.

The word "incurred" in S 12 is used in its proper sense of "run into" and implies an act done by the Talukdar during the period of management.

The case of a debt or liability to which a Talukdar has become subject during such period, in consequence of an event which could not be foreseen with certainty at the commencement of such period, must be treated as a casus omissus in the Act. Shaik Gulam v. Waghela Rajsangji 1883 P J 68.

Ahamedabad talukdars Act, 1882 -Concld.

2—Attachment of rents of Talukdari estates.

The plaintiffs having obtained a decree against the late father of the minor defendant, a Talukdar in the Ahmedabad Collectorate, both in his individual capacity and as guardian of his minor son, on a bond passed by the father while his landed estates were under the management of the Talukdari Officer appointed under Bombay Act VI. of 1862, attached certain moneys in the hands of the Collector as administrator of the minor's estate, which had arisen from the rents of the Talukdari estate:—

Held, that the attachment was forbidden by S 12 of the Act. The argument that the provisions of that section only referred to the estates while they belonged to the defendant's father, and not when the defendant succeeded to them, was quite untenable, having regard to the scope and object of the Act, and to the general language of the concluding portion of the section.

The prohibition against "the enforcement of such a debt in any manner whatever" against the Talukdari estates included an attachment as well against the rents and produce as the corpus of the estates, and the moneys while in the hands of the Collector, and for which he was bound to account to the defendant as the produce of the rents of the estates, still retained their character as rents when they were attached. Suba Miya v Sha Lalchand Teja 1884 P J 34.

Air.

See (1) Prescription—Easements.
(2) Prescription—Light and air.
(3) Easements
(4) Easement Act

Air and Light.

See (1) Easements.
(2) Prescription.
(3) Easements Act.

Ajmere Court Regulation.

1.—S 18 et seq.—Reference by Commissioner of Ajmere—Powers of High Court—Jurisdiction.

Ajmere Court Regulation-Contd.

Held, that, where a point of law or a question as to the construction of a document is referred to the High Court by an order purporting to be made under S. 18 of the Ajmere Courts Regulation, the High Court cannot consider whether the point referred arises in the case in which the reference before it has been made or not; but its functions are limited to pronouncing an opinion on any point which may be so referred to it. Kalian Mal v Ram Kishen. 21 All. 163=19 (1899) W N 4.

1*A*.—Reference to the High Court of N W. Provinces——Question of fact——Second Appeal.

There can be no reference to the High Court of the North-West Provinces where the question involved is one of fact and not of law.

There is no provision of law for a reference to the High Court of an Ajmer case which has been decided by a second Court of appeal. Badruddin v Bismillah. 11 Ind Cas 671.

2.—Section 17—This was a reference by the Commissioner and District Judge of Ajmere and Merwara under Section 21 of the Ajmere Courts Regulation, No.1 of 1877. The question referred to was, "Whether an attachment (in execution of a decree) ceases when nothing can be realised by a sale, or whether the attachment remains in force till the property is formally released by the Court which caused the attachment to take effect." Held, that the question referred to was not properly coming within the scope of section 17 of the Regulation, not being a question of law or usage having the force of law, but a question of fact to be decided by a consideration of the circumstances of the cases of (12 B. L. R, P C. 411) and (I. L. R., 1 All, 616). Sham Lal v Hamid 5 W N 57.

3-4.—Ss. 17, 18, 21, 36 37—Reference to the High Court by the Chief Commissioner of Ajmere and Mairwara—Reference to Chief Commissioner by Commissioner of Amjere—Appeal from Commissioner's dicree made in accordance with Chief Commissioner's judgment.

On an appeal from a decision in a Civil suit of the Assistant Commissioner of Ajmer to the Commissioner of Ajmer, the latter feeling doubtful on a question of the nature specified in S.

Ajmere Court Regulation-Contd.

17 of the Amjere Courts Regulation I of 1877, referred such question, uuder s. 36 of that Regulation, to the Chief Commissioner of Ajmere and Mairwara. The Cnief Commissioner dealt with the case as psescribed in s. 37 of that Regulation, and returned it to the Commissioner, who dismissed the suit in accordance with the Chief Commissioner's judgment. The plaintiff preferred an appeal to the Chief Commissioner from the Commissioner's decision. The Chief Commissioner did not make any order on the memorandum of appeal admitting it, or directing that it should be registered, or that the respondent should be summoned, or that the appeallant should appear on a certain day under s. 551 of Act X of 1877, but issued a notice to the appeallant's counsel to appear on a certain day. The appeallant's counsel appeared on that day, and the Chief Commissioner intimated that he was acting under s. 551 of Act X of 1877. The appeallant's counsel then proceeded to address the Chief Commissioner, and was heard for some time, and then stopped in consequence of the Chief Commissioner resolving to refer to the High Court the question whether the appeal from the Commissioner's decision lay to him or to Her Majesty in Council. The Chief Commissioner subsequently referred such question to the High Court. Held by the Full Bench (Spankie, J. dissenting) on a reference by the Division Bench before which the Chief Commissioner's reference came, that such question arose "in the trial of an appeal" within the meaning of s. 21 of the Ajmere Courts Regulation I of 1877, and was properly referred to the High Court. Held by the Division Bench (Spankie, J., and Straight J.) that the appeal from the Commissoner's decision lay, in this particular case, not to the Chief Commissioner, but to Her Majesty in Council.

Thakur of Masuda v The Widows of the Thakur ot Nandwara. 2 All, 819.

Notes:—Ref: 30 All 290=(1908) W N 109= 5 A L J 584.

5.—Ajmere Courts Regulation 1 of 1887, Section 21—Jurisdiction—Civil Procedure Code, Section 57:—

In a suit for partition filed in the court of a Subordinate Judge of the first class in Ajmere the court, acting under Section 57 of the Code of Civil Procedure, returned the plaint on the ground that the subject-matter of the suit was beyond its Jurisdiction. There was an appeal against that order to the Court of the commissioner of Ajmere-Mariwara, which rejected it, holding the same view as the Subordinate Judge. Held, that under these circumstances the Chief Commissioner of Ajmere-Marwara had no power to refer the question of jurisdiction under Section 21 of the Ajmere Courts Regulation, 1877, to the High Court for its opinion.

Raj Mal v Pauna Lal. 1902 A W N 215

6.—Section 33.—Damdupat.

The rule laid down by s. 33, Regulation III of 1877 applies only to cases in which money is payable by the defendant to the plaintiff, and is not applicable to a suit for redemption of a mortgage. (13 Mad I A 44 Referred to.

Nemi Chand v Rudha Ballabhi; Radha Ballabh v Nami Chand. 26 All 354= 24 W N 43.

Ajmere Land Revenue Regulation.

1.—S. 41—Usufructuary mortgage—Proprietary rights, losing or parting with—Exproprietary tenant.

Per Richards J.—Usufructuary mortgagor, by placing the usufructuary mortgagee in possession temporarily, loses his proprietary rights within the meaning of Sec 41 of Reg II of 1877 of the Ajmere Code. The mortgagor, who before the mortgage was and since the mortgage remains, in cultivation of lands, is an occupancy tenant in respect to those lands.

Per Karamat Husain, J.—An owner of a holding, who makes a usufructuary mortgage of his holding, does not lose or part whit his proprietary rights, either temporarily or permanently, within the meaning of Reg. II of 1877, of the Ajmere Code, and does not become an exproprietary tenant of his khudkasht in that land.

Held, further, that where a mortagagor in the mortgage-deed promises to make over possession of the mortgaged property, which is his khudkasht to the mortgagee, Section 41 of the Ajmere Land and Revenue Regulations does not apply. Rules of interpretation of statutes discussed. Nemi Chand v Ganesh. 7 A L J 370=5 Ind 503.

Ajmere Land Revenue Regulation—Concld.

Akyab.

See Burma Act XVII of 1875 ss. 31, 66.

Ala and Adna maliks.

1—Pre-emption—Village divided into two pattis—Sale of adna rights in one patti to ala proprietor—Suit by adna proprietor of other patti—Respective rights of ala and adna proprietors—Punjab Laws Act, 1872, Section 12 clauses (e) and (d)—Punjab Land Revenue Act, 1887, Section 3 (2)—Mauza Sorab Hosar, Dera Ismail Khan District.

See (1) Pre-Emption, Right of.
(2) Custom.

Ala Lambardar.

See Lambardar.

Ala Malik.

See Custom (Punjab.)

Alien.

See Jurisdiction of Civil Court.

Aliens.

—Law relating to—

See English Law.

—Period of minority for.

See Letters of Administration.

Alienability.

See Service tenure.

Alienable Interest.

See Hindu Law—Alienation.

Alienation.

See Cases under—

(1) Guardian & Ward.
(2) Religious institution.
(2A) Grant & Rahuana Grant.

Alienation—Contd.

(3) Mahomedan Law.
(a) Gift.
(b) Alienation.
(c) Wakf.
(d) Will.
(4) T. P. Act S. 10.
(4A) Punjab Tenancy Act s. 34.
(4B) Insolvent.
(4C) Hindu Law—Widow.
(4D) Occupancy Rights.
(5) Attachment——Alienation during attachment.
(6) Hindu Law—Alienation.
(7) Hindu Law—Joint family.
(8) Malabar Law—Endowment.
(9) Malabar Law—Joint Family.
(10) Buddhist Law—Alienation.
(11) Custom (Punjab)

—Condition against—

See (1) Lease. Construction of.
(2) Mortgage—Form of Mortgage.

—by Guardian.

See (1) Act XL of 1858, s. 18.
(2) Limitation Act, (1908) ss. 6 & 8.

—by Hindu widow.

See (1) Hindu Law—Alienation—Alienation by Widow.
(2) Hindu Law—Widow—Power of Disposition or Alienation.

Alienation

—Restraint on—See Transfer of Property Act, ss. 10 & 11.

1—Hindu Law—Guardianship—Step-mother can be guardian of her step-sons—and can alienate his property for legal necessity-Remarriage of itself does not deprive a Hindu mother of her right to be the guardian of the sons, 7 W R 321; 10 M I A 454; Ref 6 M I A 412; 26 Cal 820 Ref

Alienation-Contd.

16 C P L R 99 Ref. 20 Bom 753 Ref.
Jogo v Oodal. 4 N L R 20.

2—Manager of a charitable or religious institution, powers of--Burden of proof of necessity for alienation—Money decree against manager how far evidence of necessity—

The powers of a manager of the property of a charitable or religious institution are the same as those of a manager for an infant heir. Where property belonging to such an institution has been alienated by the manager, the burden of proving necessity for the alienation lies upon the alienee. Where money had been borrowed by the manager in order to satisfy a decree against him, which had been followed by an attachment and an order for sale of property belonging to the institution, held, that the Court was not bound to accept the decree and the order for sale as conclusive proof of necessity. Basdeo Ban (Mahaunt) v. Sri Kishun Gir, 13 O C 79=5 Ind Cas. 1005.

Alienation—Prohibition against, by Government of house-sites which are not vatan property. See Bom Vatan Act III of 1874 ss. 5 & 7.

Alienation—of cantonment land—See Cantonment, 10 Bom L R 287=12 C W N 465; 4 N L R 65=7 C L J 401=3 M L T 339=18 M L J 199=14 Bur L R 102=35 Cal 478.PC.

Alienation—by father—Necessity for sale established—Consideration for sale higher than the amount necessary to raise—Objection by sons, validity of—See Civ. Pro Code, 1908, O XXXII, r. 4.

Alienation—Meaning of, in S. 325, C. P. C. —Will whether an—See Civ. Pro. Code, 1908, sch. III, r. 10, Alienation—of office by mothrr-in-law to son-in-law—Validity—See Hereditery office.

Alienation—by male members—Creation of reversionary rights in daughter of an undivided Hindu family by family arrangement—Suit by daughter for declaration—See Hindu law-Reversioners, 15 M. L. J. 392

Alienation—of Math property, limitation for suit to set aside—See Limitation act, 1908, Art 134, 5, Bom. L. R 241=27 Bom 373=4Bom L R 743—27 Bom. 363.

Alienation-Contd.

Alienation—of trust property limitation for suit to set aside—See Limitation Act, 1908, Art. 134, 5 Bom. L. R. 303=27 Bom 500.

Alienation— Where there is a custom of primogeniture, there is no restriction on the alienation by the incumbent for the time being, unless a special custom is proved to the contrary 8 C L. J, 274=13 C. W. N. 163=4 Ind. Cas. 467.

Alienation of istamrari estate.

See Istamrari Estate.

-By manager of religious institution.

See Religious Institution.

--By Guardian.

See Cases under.—

Guardian and Ward.

Alienation by a Mortgagee—A sale under powers conferred by a mortgage-deed cannot be held to be a private alienation within the meaning of s. 276 of the Civ. Pro. Code. 1882—Civ. Pro. Code 1908, S. 64, 3 Bom. L. R. 892.

—by de facto manager of an endowment.

See Hindu Law Endawment-Alienation of endowed property.

--by a Mortgagee.

See Attachment—Alienation during attachment.

—by mulgenidar.

See Landlord & Tenant.

—by widow.

See (1) Hindu law-Alienation
(2) Limitation Act 1877 Arts 125 v 141.

—During Attachment.

See Attachment

Alienation-Concld.

—Limitation, Ancestral Land Act.

See Pun Act I of 1900

—of charitable trust.

See Cases under:—

Trust (Charitable trust.)

—of Endowed Property.

See Hindu law—Endowment.

Alienation of Lands Act Bundelkhand.

See U p Act II of 1903.

—Alienation of Land Act Punjab.

See Punjab Act XIII of 1900.

—Restraint upon

See—T. P. A. S. 10.

Alienee from widow bound to inquire if legal necessity to alienation

See Hindu Law-Alienation—Alienation by widow.

—of trustees not necessary parties.

See Parties

Alimony.

See (1) Divorce Act ss. 36-38 37.
(2) Husband and wife.
(3) Parsis.

Alyasantana Law

See Malabar Law.

Alyasantana law-Yajaman-Family arrangement regarding yajamanship, how far revocable-See Hindu Law—Custom.

Alyasantana Law Concld.

See 1 Hindu Law—Custom,
2 Hindu Law—Maintenance.

Alyasantana Law—of South Canara—Vesting of property in females—No compulsory division of property 1 M H C 380

Alyasantana Law—Pattam or office of dignity—Indivisibility—Succession—See Hindu Law—Partition.

Alyasantana Law—Suit for maintenance—See Limitation Act 1908, arts, 127, 128 129

Alyasantana Law—Right of junior members of, family to show that a judgement-debtor did not represent the family when the debt was incurred—See Resjudicata—Parties.

Allegans Contraria Non Auditur.

See (1) Plaint, Form of.
(2) Pleadings.

Allegation of fraud

See—Fraud.

Allocature.

See—Costs—Solicitor.

Allonge

See—Government Promissory Note.
13 B L R 359.

Allotment

See Company

—on partition

See Partition.

Allowable deduction

See Divorce Act.

Allowance To Bankrupt.

See Insolvent Act.

—For Maintenance of Infant.

See Infant.

Allowance-Concld.

--For Maintenance of Lunatic.

See Lunatic.

Allowance for spoiled stamps.

See Stamp Act.

Allowances Act, Toda Giras.

See Bombay Act VII of 1887.

Allowing objection not taken.

See Appeal (objection by Respondent).

Alluvial & diluvial lands.

See (1) Accretion.
(2) Bengal Reg. XI of 1825.

Alluvion.

See (1) Accretion.
(2) Natural rights.
(3) Water rights
(4) Riparian rights.
(5) Riparian Proprietors.
(6) Bengal Reg. XI of 1825.

Almanac.

1—Copyright—Almanac—Burden of proof—Injunction.—

In a suit for injunction on the ground of infringement of plaintiff's copyright in an almanac published by him, it was found that the tables given in the parties' almanacs tallied, except as regards minutes and seconds, that the calculations were admittedly worked out on what are known as Makrand and that there were other almanacs which resembled the defendants'.

Held, that these findings were not sufficient to establish piracy on the part of the defendants.

Held, also, that the fact that in previous years the defendants obtained information for their almanacs from plaintiff on payment of money, did not affect the case. Girdhari Lal v. Devi Dial, 95 P L R 1910.

Altama Grant.

See Mahomedan Law—General.

Altamah Enam.

See Grant Construction.

Alteration.

See Cases under:—

(1) Contract (Alteration).
(2) Deeds.
(3) Documents.
(4) Bond.

--of character of suit.

See Cases under.—

C. P. C. O. 7 rr. 11, 17.

1—'He who seeks equity must do equity'.—

The maxim 'He who seeks equity must do equity' is applicable to a defendant as well as to a plaintiff, and a party who seeks to avail himself of an equitable defence must stand the test as well as one who appears as plaintiff in a case.

Eastern Mortgage and Agency Co. Ld. v. Rebati Kumar Ray 3 C L J 260.

2—Materiality—When.—

The alteration of a document to be material must affect the legal effect of the contract so as to make it cease to be the same instrument.

Adool Hoosein Mulla v. Goolam Hoosein Ally, 7 Bom L R 743.

3—Alteration of deed—Suit for recovery of money due on a bond—Forged bond—Material alteration, if and when vitiates instrument—Party, addition of fraudulent—Original debt, effect of, when recited in bond—Court. power of to dismiss suit against a party and not contesting—Material alteration, law as to limitation, if saved by acknowledgment of original debt recited in forged bond.

The test for determining the materiality of an alteration in an instrument is to see whether the addition gave a different legal character to the writing and whether it would completely change the nature of the relation towards each other of the parties to it and their remedies upon it.

If a party to a deed makes an alteration in a covenant after the deed is executed, not only the covenant but the whole deed becomes void.

Any change in an instrument which causes it to speak a different language in legal effect from that which it originally spoke, which changes the the legal identity or character of the instrument, either in its terms or the relation of the parties to it, is a material change or technically an alteration, and such a change will invalidate the instrument against all parties not consenting to the change

Alteration-Contd.

The question, to what extent the identity of an instrument must be changed in order that its legal effect will be altered, so as to bring the case within the terms of a material alteration vitiaing the instrument, must depend upon the nature of the alteration in each particular case. The test is not necessarily, whether the pecuniary liability of one of the parties has been increased by the change; it is of no consequence, whether the alteration would be beneficial or detrimental to the party sought to be charged on the contract. The important question is whether the integrity and identity of the contract have been changed.

Where a party by his own act alters a genuine instrument, so that it cannot be the foundation of any legal remedy, he ought not to be permitted to prove the promise contained in it by any other evidence, on the principle that the debt is merged in the instrument and hence the destruction of the latter leaves nothing upon which to sue.

In the absence of fraud, the instrument only and not the original debt is, in such circumstances, destroyed, but where a party has voluntarily and fraudulently altered a deed and has thus destroyed the evidence of his debt, he should not be allowed to fall back upon the original consideration and establish it by evidence which he himself has destroyed.

As an ordinary rule, where the defendant has notice of an alteration in an instrument which is the foundation of the action, he should raise the issue by his pleading whether the alteration is material and the instrument has become void. If however, in proving the execution of a note, the testimony discovers the fact that it was designedly changed by the payee, the Court is not precluded from giving effect to the well-settled rule of law that an instrument is avoided by a material alteration. Gour Chandra Das v Prasnna Kumar Chanda 3 C L J 363=10 C W N 788=33 Cal 812.

Alteration-Contd.

Notes—Dist 12 C W N 716

4—Hatchita, suit on-Entry relating to acknowledgment of debt—Material alteration—Interpolation of entry as to interest-Document merely relied on as evidence Effect of interpolation—Defendant had acknowledgment of his indebtedness to plaintiff for a certain sum found due upon an adjustment of accounts, by signing his name over an eight anna stamp in a hatchita at a subsequent date. In a suit to recover the amount acknowledged, plaintiff put the hatchita in evidence but no reliance was placed on the entry relating to interest, nor was interest asked for. Held,—That plaintiff was not suing upon any instrument which he had fraudulently altered. The entry on which he relied and which had not been altered or tampered with, was put in merely as an acknowledgment of Defendant's liability and there being no question as to its genuineness. Plaintiff was entitled to a decree. The authorities discriminate between cases in which the altered document is the foundation of the claim, and those in which it is only used as evidence. (7 Cal 616=9 Mad 399=25 Bom 615 Ref. to) Harendra Lal Roy Chowdhry v Uma Charan Ghosh 9 C W N 695.

5—Delegatus non potest delegare,—is to be understood with this necessary qualification, that, in any particular case if no authority to delegate has been given, such authority may be implied from the circumstances of the case. Jogewnr Narain Singh v RaiRadha Rawan-10 C W N 289=3 C L J 165.

6—Of arbitrators—No application for filing it in Court—Whether it can be pleaded in subsequent suit—Deeds—Material alteration after execution and without privity of party to be affected by it, effect of—Deeds which have a continuing effect, and deeds taking effect at once—Distinction—Costs—Relief given to plaintiff not being that which he claimed—Practice.—An award of arbitrators can none the less be pleaded in a subsequent suit, and if valid must be given effect to, though no application for filing it in Court has been made, or such application has been actually put in issue, on such application.

A material alteration made in a written instrument after its execution and without the privity of the party to be affected by it, prevents the party in whose custody the instrument has been, from making any use of it at all. But there is a distinction between those deeds or clauses of a deed which have a continuing effect, or are executory, such as a covenant to pay a sum of money, and those which produce their full effect at the instant of execution, such as a conveyance of land. For no case can be found in which a deed or clause of a latter nature has been prevented from taking effect because the deed was altered after execution, so that an altered deed may be given in evidence to prove any effect produced by it in its original form at the instant of its execution or of any right which existed aliunde and of which it is evidence.

Alteration-Contd.

In a suit brought by the plaintiff against the defendant the relief given to the plaintiff was not that which he claimed. Held, each party should bear his own costs throughout. 18 Cal 414 (P C) 12 C P L R 33.25 All 580 Fol:
Ganpat v. Ramkrishnapuri 6 N L R 1= 5 Ind Cas 425

7-Bill of exchange or promissory note exhibiting the appearance of alteration-Whether the onus lies on the person suing to account for it—Whether in other documents the alteration is presumed to have been made before execution.—If a bill of exchange or promissory note exhibit the appearance of alteratinn, the onus lies on the person suing to account for it; but in other documents (except wills) the alteration is presumed to have been made before execution.
Raja Shewbux Bogla v. MaMaGyi. 14 Bur L R 213

8—Deed—Material alterations — Voidability of such deed, written acknowledgment, material alterations in—Evidence.

A material alteration in an instrument avoids the same where an action is based on the instrument itself. A written acknowledgment, which is intended to save the bar of limitation and not to give a right of action, does not come within the rule in Pigot's case (1) viz., that the material alteration of a document by a party to it after its execution without the consent of the other party renders it void.

Hence, a material alteration, by a creditor without the debtor's consent, in a written acknowledgment of the debtor's liability does not render the acknowledgment void or inoperative.
Atmaram Bhagwan v. Umedram Haribhai 3 Bom L R 213=25 Bom 616.

Alteration-Concld.

Alteration—Pro-note signed by some of the apparent makers at different places and times—Material alteration. 9 Ind Cas 463.

--by party.

See Contract Alteration.

--by the court.

See Contract Alteration.

--of acknowledgment.

See Acknowledgment, Limitation Act, S. 19.

—of Date.

Alteration of Date-of appeal without notice to appellant or his pleader. A W N 1894, 19.

Alteration of deed.

See cases under—

(1) Contract—Alteration of contracts.

(2) Deed, construction of.

Alteration of Document.

1—Unauthorised.

An unauthorised alteration of a document by one of the parties thereto which serves only to state explicitly what was already clearly implied in the document, and what the law would infer from it, will not invalidate the document.
Tikamdas v Ganga. 1874 P J 144

See also cases under:—

(1) Fraud.

(2) Promissory note.

(3) Contract, alternation in.

Alteration of easement.

1—Window- New windows—New easement.

Where a person opens new windows in place of old ones, but has them larger in size or at a higher level, the easement for his new windows becomes a new easement, which he can acquire

Alteration of easement-Concld

only by enjoying if for the required length of time. Hariganga v Trikamlal 4 Bom L R 34=26 Bom 374

Alteration or Amendment of Decree.

See Decree

Alterations and erasures in a will

See Will.

Altering decree on appeal where respondent makes on objection.

See Appeal (objection by Respondent)

Alternative claim.

See (1) Appellate Court—exercise of powers in various cases.

(2) Plaint.

(3) Pleadings

Alternative claims.

1—Proprietary right—Prescriptive right—Inconsistent claims.

A claim to relief on the ground of proprietary right is not necessarily inconsistent with a claim to relief on the ground of prescriptive right, and may be claimed in the alternative with the latter. When a plaintiff has been allowed to sue for relief based, in the alternative, on the ground of proprietary right and right by prescription and no objection has been taken to the frame of the suit in the Court of first instance objection cannot be allowed to be taken at the appellate stage (16 W R 198 Dist)

Durgamani Debya v Ambica Charan Sarma 4 C L J 367

Notes.—Appr 11 C W N 20=4 C L J 437=1 M L T 364=34 Cal 51 : Ref., 8 C L J 289

2—Inconsistent claims—Ownership—Easement.

A suit is not liable to be dismissed because the plaintiff claims in the alternative, over the same plot of ground, rights of ownership and easement. (4 C L J 367. Appr,) Narendra Nata Baruri v Abhaya Charan Chottopadhya 4 C L J 437=11 C W N 20=1 M L T 364 34 Cal 51 F B

Alternative claims-Concld.

Notes:—11 C W N 19, Note 8 C L J 289.

3—Suit for rent by one sharer. Alternative claim—Bengal Case Act, S. 29.

A suit is maintainable by one of several joint landlords for recovery of balance of rent due from a tenant, and in the alternative for recovery of the sum which may have been collected by his co-sharers in excess of their legitimate share. So far as the claim against the co-shares is concerned S. 20 of the Cess Act has no application. 4 Cal 350 applied. Sham Singh v Kishan Satai. 6 C L J 190.

See also:—

Landlord & tenant.

Alternative claims—of gift and inheritance, validity of—Hindu Law—Inheritance. 17 M L J 285=8 M L T 357=30 Mad 406

Alternative claims—Different cause of action—Alternative claim common to all different suits—Mortgage—Redemption. 10 C L J 83=3 Ind Cas 395

--claim on original consideration.

See Plaint-Form and contents of plaint.

Alternative Defence—Possession either as a tenant or for more than twelve years-Possession—Suit for possession. 8 C L J 557.

Alternative Pleadings.

See cases under

(1) Practice

(2) Pleadings.

(3) Plaint.

—Pleas

See Pleadings.

--Prayer.

See (1) Alternative claims

(2) Pleadings.

(3) Plaint-Form & contents of plaints

Alternative relief in ejectment suit-Concld.

See Landlord and tenant-Ejectment

--relief.

See (1) Stamp Act.
(2) Plaint-Form and contents of plaint.
(3) Pleadings.
(4) Relief.

Amalnamah.

1--Commissioner's amalnamah-Legal rights-Protest.

A Commissioner's amalnamah cannot destroy legal rights notwithstanding that no protest or objection was made. Ram Gobind Roy v Syud Kushuffudoza. 15 W R 141

Amaram Grant.

See Grant—

Amaram Tenure.

See Madras Estates Land Act.

Amaram Tenure.

Nature of—See Permanent Tenure. 3 M L T 258=7 Ind. Cas. 202.

Ambassador.

See International Law.

Ambiguity.

See (1) Deed—Construction of deed.
(2) Evidence Act, 1872, ss. 93 to 98.
(3) Will-Construction.
(4) Stamp Act, 1862, 1 Ind Jur N S 107

Ambiguous Documents.

See (1) Deed-Construction of deeds.
(2) Evidence Act ss. 93—98.

Ameen.

(1) Functions of Ameen. (1–4)
(2) Power of Mufti Sudder Ameen to set-aside attachment issued by himself (5)
(3) Evidence taken by Ameen (6)
(4) Power to examine witnesses. (7 13).
(5) Direction to enquire into mesne profits (14)

C. C. 43

Ameen-Contd.

(6) Enquiry by Ameen as to existence and value of moveable property. (15)
(7) Deputation of second Ameen to make enquiry before first Ameen's proceedings are annulled. (16)
(8) Objections to Ameen's report. (17-20)
(9) Mis-conduct of Ameen. (21)

Ameen.

See Cases under local investigation.

—Report of—

See Cases under Evidence-Civil cases- Report of Ameen.

(1) Functions of Ameen.

1—Functions of Ameen-Deputation of Ameen to ascertain liabilities of judgment debtors.—

The deputation of an Ameen to ascertain the respective liability of several judgment-creditors is not an improper course for a Court to pursue, and at all events is not a ground for interfering in special appeal with the concurrent judgment of two courts. Kristo Chunder Gupto v. Brojo Mohun Dey Chowdhry 22 W R 183

2—Local investigation—Act VIII of 1859, s, 180—Functions of an Ameen appointed to hold a local investigation, under s. 180, Act VIII of 1859, discussed. Iswarchandra Das v. Jugal Kishor Chuckerbutty 4 B L R Ap 33; 17 W R 473 note: 21 W R 281 note.

3—Local investigation.-There were no limits to the powers conferred by Act VIII of 1859 on a Civil Ameen for the purpose of making an investigation. Mohun Lall Roy v. Urnopoorna Dassee 9 W R 566.

4—A Civil Court is not warranted in deputing its functions to an Ameen, and an Ameen is bound not to go beyond the points referred to him for enquiry. Ram Dhun Dey v. Ram Monee Dey. 21 W. R. 280

Iswar Chandra Das v. Jagal Kishor Chuckur Betty. 4 B L R Ap 33.
17 W R 473 note· 21 W R 281 note.

See Buroda Churn Bose v. Ajoodhya Ram Khan 23 W R 286.

Ameen-Contd.

(2) Power of mufti sudder Ameen to set aside attachment issued by himself.

5—Power of Mufti Sudder Ameen to set aside attachment issued by himself—A Mufti Sudder Ameen may set aside an attachment in a suit issued from his Court, and no longer property in force in the suit, although no express statutory power to do so exists. But on a petition to set aside such an attachment, he cannot also make a declaration as to the right to the property attached and claimed to have been acquired subsequently, and direct that possession should be transferred to the petitioner. Ex-parte Chellapperumal Pillai. 1 M H C 135.

(3) Evidence taken by Ameen.

6—Evidence taken by Ameen, Irregular—.

Where a principal Sudder Ameen had deputed a Civil Ameen to enquire into the fact of possession, instead of hearing the evidence on the point himself-Held that, even if the principal Sudder Ameen's order was improper, the deputation of the Ameen was legal, and the evidence taken by the Ameen was legal evidence, to be considered on its own merits. Ram Churn Mahtoon v. Surubjit Mahtoon. 9 W R 494.

(4) Power to examine witnesses.

7—Power to examine witnesses—Duties and functions of Ameen.

An Ameen should be appointed to hold a local investigation only when it is necessary to inspect the land which is the subject of dispute, to take maps of localities, to obtain information with regared to the physical features of the place, to identify the land in maps with parcels which are the subject of the suit, and to identify the maps with one another with the aid of objects to be found in the land; and for these and similar purposes an Ameen may examine witnesses when the evidence which they have to give is of such a nature that it ought to be taken by him on the spot. Where however, any fact can be proved by evidence taken otherwise than on the spot, that evidence ought to be taken by the Court itself in a regular manner, and not by an Ameen. Quære—Whether, where, an Ameen has in fact been, though improperly, deputed, and has examined witnesses, that evidence ought to be totally rejected. Bindabun Chunder Sircar Chowdry v. Nobin Chunder Biswas 17 W R 282

Notes—Foll: 16 Mad 350.

Ameen-Contd.

8.—Evidence taken by Ameen.

It is not admissible. Chand Ram v Brojo Gobind Doss 19 W R 14.

Notes:—Fol 13 C W N 696.

9.—It was not the intention of the Legislature to allow witnesses to be examined out of Court by Ameens, except with reference to points for the determination of which local inspection is required. Shadhoo Singh v Ram Anoograha Lall 9 W R 88.

10.—The report of an Ameen as to a local enquiry upon a matter which no personal inspection on his part could decide, and in regard to which the depositions of parties acquainted with the place could afford proper information, was held to be in no way irregular, simply by reason of his having examined witnesses on the spot.

Sheo Narain Bhuggut v Budh Singh 11 W R 423.

11.—Appointment of local Commission—Verbal abuse—Actionable wrong.

Held, that the appointment of a Commissioner to make a local investigation as to whether defendant abused plaintiff was irregular, as all that the Commissioner could do was to examine witnesses, which unless the witnesses were unable from illness or infirmity to attend to be personally examined, or were exempted from personal attendance in Court, should have been done by the Judge himself. Held, also, that mere verbal abuse is not actionable unless it causes material loss. Gauri v Ram Parshad S C 66.

Followed in S. C. 247, reconsideration of report and evidence recorded by Commissioner when Commission improperly issued.

12.—Local investigation—Suits for enhancement of rent—Act VIII of 1859 s 180.

In suits for enhancement of rent it is a proper course of procedure to appoint an Ameen to make a Local investigation in order to enquire as to the description of the land and as to the rates paid in the neighbourhood for similar land, and the Ameen has power, under s 180 Act VIII of 1859, to examine witnesses in the matter. Gaur Chandra Roy v Rashbehari Dutt 1 B L R S N 1= 10 W R 43.

13.—An Ameen appointed to hold a local investigation has power to examine witnesses relahive to the matter he has to enquire into; but the Munsif has no power to direct the Ameen to try the whole case: when this course was adopted, the High Court expressed their disapproval of such a practice, and remanded the case to the Munsif for re-trial. Raghunath Shaw v Rajkrishna Deb 1 B L R S N 2.

Ameen-Contd.

(5) DIRECTION TO ENQUIRE INTO MESNE PROFITS.

14.—Direction to enquire into mesne profits.—An Ameen, when directed to make an enquiry as to mesne profits, ought not, in the execution stage of a suit, to enter into enquiries as to dates of dispossession, which must be taken to have been determined by the decree. Bijoy Gobind Naik v Kali Prossono Naik 16 W R 294.

(6) ENQUIRY BY AMEEN AS TO EXISTENCE AND VALUE OF MOVEABLE PROPERTY.

15.—Enquiry by Ameen as to existence and value of moveable property—Time for making enquiry.

In a suit in which the Court considers it necessary to order an enquiry by a Civil Ameen into the existence and value of moveable property, such enquiry cannot be left to be made after decree, but must be made before the final decree is drawn up. Rohini Debia v Digambur Chatterjee 23 W R 422.

(7) DEPUTATION OF SECOND AMEEN TO MAKE INQUIRY BEFORE FIRST AMEEN'S PROCEEDINGS ARE ANNULLED.

16.—Deputation of second Ameen to make inquiry before first Ameen's proceedings are annulled.—When an enquiry has been made by a Commissioner under the Code of Civil Procedure, the Court to which it is reported ought not, unless it annuls the proceedings of the first enquiry, to order another on the same matter. Azim Ali Khan Bahadoor v Surussutty Debia 23 W R 93.

(8) OBJECTIONS TO AMEEN'S REPORT.

17.—Objections to Ameen's report.—Where clear instructions as to a local enquiry ordered by the Court are given to an Ameen in the presence of both parties, and no objection is made to them by either party then and there, they have no ground of complaint, after the Ameen has carried out his instructions, if the Court acts upon his report. Bissessur Roy v Kanchun Roy 11 W R 155.

Ameen-Concld.

18.—Objections to the Ameen's report should be enquired into if taken within a reasonable time from the return of the report, even where the case has been struck off the file. Issur Chunder Ahiree v Syam Khan Chowdhry 11 W R 95.

19.—Notice of time fixed for.

Reasonable notice must be given of the time fixed for hearing objections to the report. Ram Narain Singh v Goberdhun Lall Chowdhry 21 W R 2.

20.—Party not appearing at local investigation.—

A party who refuses to appear before an Ameen at the time he holds his local investigation, is not at liberty afterwards to take any objection to the Ameen's report. Bamun Doss Mookerjee v Brojo Kishore Mitter Mojoomdar 6 W R 130.

Notes:—Con 7 W R 140.

(9) MISCONDUCT OF AMEEN.

21.—Misconduct of Ameen. The Court is bound to enquire into charges against a Civil Court Ameen (such as can be readily enquired into, and their truth either disproved or proved). Abdool Kureem Biswas v Campbell 8 W R 172.

Amendment

See Cases under:

(1) Plaint, amendment of
(2) Decree, amendment of
(3) Power of attorney, amendment of
(4) C P C (1908) O 6 rr 17 18

Amendments, limits of—Discretion of Courts not to be allowed to prejudice the substantial rights of the opposite party. 11 C L J at 289

Amendment of decree

See Cases under Decree—Alteration and amendment of decree.

Amendment of decree-Concld.

—of decree after execution.

See (1) Decree—Alteration or Amendment of decree.

(2) Sale in execution of decree.

—Error in Probate

See Probate

—of issue

See Issue—Fresh and additional issue

—of mukhtear-namah

See Mukhtearnamah

—of patta

See (1) Lease

(2) Landlord and tenant

—of plaint by beinging on a new plaintiff on second appeal

See Plaint-Amendment of plaint

—or alteration of decree

See Decree Alteration or amendment of decree.

—of Pleadings

See (1) Pleadings

(2) Civ, Pro. Co. O 6 R 17

American Authorities—Value of—See libel. 12 C W N 1053 P C=19 M L J 20=14 Bur L R 225=4 M L T 21=1 Ind Cas 348.

Amin

See Ameen.

Amins effecting partitions, remuneration of

See Partition.

Amins Principal Sadr etc Bangal.

See Ben Act XVI of 1868.

Analogous Appeals.

See (1) Practice—Civil Cases—Court Fees.

(2) Appeal

—Analogous Cases

See (1) Appellate Court—Exercise of Powers in Various Cases—Special Cases—Analogous Cases.

(2) Execution of Decree—Decree to be Executed after Appeal or Review

(3) Review—Grounds for Review

Anomalous mortgage

See Mortgage-Form of mortgage

Anandravan

See (1) Malabar Law—Joint Family

(2) Malabar Law—Maintenance.

Ancestor

See Hindu Law- Joint family

Ancestral business

See Hindu Law- Joint family

Ancestral Estate, sons interest in.

See (1) Hindu Law—Alienation — Alienation by Father.

(2) Hindu Law—Joint Family—Nature of and Interest in, Joint Property.

Ancestral estate held jointly by family under the Mitakshara Law

See Hindu Law- Joint family.

Ancestral Property

1—Ancestral property—Occupancy holding—Proprietary holding—Burden of proof.

Where plaintiff claims to succeed to land or to restrain its alienation on the ground of the same being his ancestral property, the onus of proving that the land is ancestral lies on him. He must prove the fact by evidence beyond reasonable doubt.

The plaintiffs claimed possession of proprietary and occupancy holdings and alleged that the holdings were ancestral. The original and the lower appellate Courts found that the property was ancestral of the plaintiff and decreed the claim. Revision against the decree was admitted under s. 70 (i) (b) of the Punjab Courts Act,

Ancestral Property-Contd.

Held that, the findings of fact of the lower Courts could not be questioned, but the respondents were at liberty to support the decree in their favour by any arguments, whether on facts or law or custom, which they might have used in the lower Courts, and therefore the case was virtually, so far as the respondents were concerned, an open one.

The lower appellate Court observed that, since the occupancy holding was held by brothers in equal shares, there was a strong presumption that they had inherited it from their father. In the Settlement of 1851, it was entered that the brothers were tenants since ancient times, and in the papers of the next year there was entry that they were tenants styled hakdaran and had held for 60 or 70 years.

Held, that this established a strong presumption that their father must have held the land before them.

In the Settlement of 1882 in the pedigree table the name of the father of the brothers was shown in dotted lines, meaning that he was a Farri muras, meaning an ancestor from whom the land did not come down.

Held, that such an entry must have been deliberately made, and, as it was made before any dispute had arisen, it carried great weight, and, taken with the fact that at mutations in 1906 it was admitted that both the holdings were not ancestral, the land must be held as not ancestral. Land inherited by a person from his father and transferred to his sister, or sister's son when they have no right to inherit the same, ceases to be ancestral, as it involves the break of continuity.

Bel Parkash v Partapa. 19 P L R 1910 =6 Ind Cas 494.

See also Cases under:—

(1) Hindu Law (Joint family).
(2) Custom (Punjab).
(3) Burden of Proof
(4) Hindu Law—Partition.

2—Ancestral property—Burden of proof—Land held by common ancestor as lessee from Government and afterwards granted to one of the sons of the lessee,—Held, that, in suits to set aside alienations of ancestral property, the Court cannot presume that the property is ancestral. The party, alleging that it is so, must establish the fact by evidence.

Ancestral Property- Contd.

Mali and Mira were sons of Dhuman. The plaintiff Aziz, grandson of Mali brought a suit to set aside alienations of land made by his grant-uncle Mira. It was contended by the alienees that, the property not being ancestral never having been owned by Dhuman, the suit did not lie. It appeared that Dhuman was merely lessee of the land from Government: after his death, the lease was renewed in favour of Mali, Mira and another brother of theirs: subsequently, Mali alone was granted rights as proprietor in the land; thereafter Mali as owner gave two-thirds of the lands allotted to him to certain agnatic relations of his and retained one-third for himself and his two brothers. As regards this latter one third, he divided it between himself and his said two brothers: the land was held by Dhuman, common ancestor, as a mere tenant liable to eviction—at any time, if he failed to observe the terms of the lease, and with no rights to have the lease renewed in his favour. The plaintiff was a minor, and the suit was filed about eight or nine years after the alienations; other descendants of Mali did not join in the suit.

Held, that the land could not be regarded as ancestral, and the suit must be dismissed.

Bhuman v Aziz. 80 P L R 1909= 85 P W R 1909=4 Ind Cas 622

3—Character of land, taken in exchange for.

In the case of an exchange, the character of the land acquired would be that of the land parted with, and if the latter were ancestral, the acquired land would be equally ancestral.

Ghauns v Imam Dino. 57 P R 1910= 95 P W R 1910=7 Ind Cas 465= 106 P L R 1910.

4—Ancestral property—Piragheb, tahsil and District Jhelum—

Held, that when the lands of a village are held by various races and were given simply to any one who would undertake their burdens a portion of such land cannot be considered ancestral, merely because an ancestor may have held it or other land in the village in past times—

Fakir v Daulat. 81 P R 1901.

5—Custom—Succession—"Ancestral land"—Land devolving on descendant of common ancestor by abandonment of it by near relation—

Ancestral Property-Contd.

Property originally belonging to a common ancestor does not cease to be "ancestral property" because it comes to a descendant of that common ancestor through abandonment of it by a near relation rather than by simple inheritance—

Natha Singh v Harnam Singh.
31 P R 1894.

6—Custom-Alienation-Succession of daughter, effect upon character or property—"Ancestral property"—Brahmans of mauza Thanawal, Gurdaspur District—Riwaj-i-am.

The parties in this case were Brahmans of the Mehta qaum of Gurdaspur District, and plaintiffs, who were the sons of one S sued inter alia, for a declaration that an alienation of land by Mussammat I, the widow of S's brother D would not affect their reversionary rights on the death of the said widow. It was admitted that both S and D had succeeded to their respective property through their mother Mussammat A, who had inherited it, in default of heirs male, from their grandfather S. C. Defendants pleaded that the property in suit, having been inherited through a female, was not "ancestral," and that the alienation was lawful and for necessity.

Held, by the Full Bench (Roe S. J. and Rivaz, J. Chatterji J. dissenting) that in a village community where a daughter succeeds, either in preference to, or in default of, heirs male, to property which, if the descent had been through a son, would be "ancestral" property, she simply acts as a conduit to pass on the property as ancestral property to her sons and their descendants, and does not alter the character of the property simply because she happens to be a female.

Per Chatterji, J—The word "ancestral" can only be used in a relative and not in a fixed or absolute sense in Customary Law, and before this character can be predicated of any property in the hands of a male owner, it must be found that it has descended to him from a male ancestor, and, in the case of a claim by collaterals, from a male ancestor common to him and the claimants.

Lehna v Mussammat Thakri.
32 P R 1895 F B.

7—Custom—Alienation - Perpetual lease of occupancy rights—"Ancestral property"—Illegitimacy of descendants, effect of, upon character of inherited property—"Necessity"—Sodhi Khatris of Muktsar tahsil, Ferozepore District—Marriage of Muhammadan woman to Sikh Guru, validity of—

One Guru Fatteh Singh, a childless Sodhi Khatri of the Muktsar tahsil, Ferozepore District, shortly before his death executed certain perpetual leases in favour, severally, of the defendant and others in consideration of certain sums paid in cash as fines and certain rents payable by the lessees, who were thereby constituted occupancy tenants, but with plenary and uncontrolled powers of alienation and right of succession lineally as well as collaterally in the male line. Plaintiffs, who were the nephews of the alienor, thereupon sued for a declaration that the leases were alienations of ancestral property by a childless male proprietor without necessity, were invalid by custom and would not affect their reversionary rights. In the Chief Court it was urged on behalf of the respondent lessee that (i) the lease should be regarded merely as an act of management within the capacity and competency of the late proprietor—the alienor having died after the institution of the suit-and not as an act of alienation (ii) that the property having descended through illegitimate children was not ancestral; (iii) that by custom the right of Guru Fatteh Singh to alienate in the presence of such agnates as the plaintiffs was not restricted to cases of necessity; and (iv) that, if the leases were held to be acts of alienation, there was necessity.

Held, (i) that no necessity had been proved; (ii) that the intention of the lessor being to prejudice the reversioners when he knew that his life was drawing to a close, and that he himself would not long be able to enjoy full proprietary interest in the land to which he has tenaciously clung until that period, the leases could not be regarded as mere acts of management of the cultivation on the part of the late proprietor, but were acts of alienation; and (iii) that even if it were conceded that the children of the common ancestor through whom the property had descended, were illegitimate and could not have succeeded in the presence of other legitimate sons, there would not necessarily be an insuperable legal objection to plaintiffs proving that they were descendants of the same ancestor, and that the property coming from him was ancestral property.

Found, that by custom among Sodhi Khatris of the Muktsar tahsil, Ferozepore District, a childless male proprietor is not competent to alienate ancestral property without necessity in the presence of nephews—Sodhi Kartar Singh v Sher Singh (No. 50 P. R.), 1895.

Ancestral Property-Contd.

8. Custom—Alienation—Gift to sister's son follwed by possession and mutation of names—"Ancestral property."

In a case in which the property in dispute had been acquired by one K, jointly with his brothers, but had never been held by their father, held, that the said property was not ancestral property qua K's collaterals.

Held, therefore, that a gift of such property, followed by possession and mutation of names, by K in his lifetime to his sister's son was not invalid by custom.

Mutation of names by itself does not in every case constitute a valid transfer, but it is good evidence of such transfer. Jowahir Singh v Dial Singh. 76 P R, 1898.

9.—Custom—"Ancestral" property—Ancestral and acquired property—Profits of ancestral immoveable property, and purchases effected with such profits—Unequal distribution of such profits and purchases among sons.

Held, that the profits of ancestral immoveable property and purchases effected with such profits are not ancestral property, under Customary Law in such a sense that a descendant of the ancestor from whom such property devolved can interfere with the disposal of such profits or purchases.

Held, therefore, that it was competent for a proprietor from the profits of his ancestral property to effect a mortgage of certain land in the names and for the benefit of three of his four sons. Sher Singh v Kishen Singh. 4 P. R, 1900.

10.—Self-acquired property of uncle inherited by nephews—Sons of nephews whether can claim it as ancestral.

The self-acquired property of an uncle who died without issue and whose nephews inherited it was held to be not ancestral property, qua the sons of those nephews, not being inherited from a direct male ancestor.

Jhanda Singh v Gurumukh Singh. 93 P R 1901.

Notes—Ref- 110 P R 1906; Ctied and Fol 58 P R 1905=59 P L R 1905.

Ancestral Property-Contd.

Ancestral Property.—Sale of, and self-acquired property—sanction of Government given after sale—Sufficiency of sanction.

—Property—Sale—Sale in execution of decree—General. 14 O C 115.

—Property, alienation of.

See Hindu Law—Joint family-Powers of alienation by members.

Ancestral property, assigned to wife in lieu of maintenance, Devolution of, on her death.

See (1) Hindu Law—Reversioners

(2) Hindu Law-Streedhan.

—Property in the Lands of the son liable-for father's death.

See Hindu Law—Debts

1.—Punjab Laws Act, 1872, Section 12 (b)—Pre-emption—Villages held an ancestral shares-Meaning of the term.

A village held on ancestral shares within the meaning of Section 12 (b), Punjab Laws Act, 1872, as amended by Act XII of 1878 (regarding rights to pre-emption in villages) must be a zamindari village. If there has been a territorial division into pattis, the village (by which is meant the whole village) is no longer held on shares but by pattis. The land in the pattis may be still held upon ancestral shares, but this is insufficient to bring the village within the description in clause (b) of the section. Jalal v Mazhar Ali. 13 P R 1893.

2.—Punjab Laws Act, 1872, Section 12, clause (b)—"Village held on ancestral shares"-Pre-emption.

Held, by the Full Bench, that a village cannot be said to be "held on ancestral shares" within the meaning of clause (b) of Section 12 of the Punjab Laws Act, 1872, unless the dominant feature of the tenure is a primary division of the village upon fractional shares ascertained with reference to ancestral right, such primary division being commonly, but not necessarily, a territorial division and importing, at least, a definite separation of intrests in the village, as an entirety in accordance with the customary rules of inheritance.

Ancestral Property-Contd.

In the case of joint immoveable property the fact that portions of its area are separately cultivated by the persons recorded as having specified interests therein indicates no more than the fractional share to which such persons or group would become entitled on a partition being made either by a definite separation in interest by agreement among the co-owners or by a division of the area itself. Until the group of co owners is thus separated, the thing, which is the subject of their co-ownership, is joint undivided immoveable property within the meaning of clause (a) of Section 12 of the Punjab Laws Act, 1872, whether it be an entire village, or a portion of a village, or a house, and the co-owners are co-sharers in such property for the purpose of that clause. No 13 P R 1893 overruled. Champa Mal v Baisakhi Mal. 87 P R 1894 F B

Ancestral trade.

See Hindu Law—Joint Family.

Ancestral trade carried for benefit of minor by natural guardian.

See Guardian.

--Zamindari sold in execution of decree for money against the father in chiding the son's right of succession.

See Hindu Law—Debts

Ancient documents.

See Evidence Act (1872) ss. 35,74,80,90.

Ancient holdings.

See Landlord & tenant

Ancient Lights, Obstruction of.

See (1) Injunction—special Cases—Obstruction or Injury to Rights of Property-Light and Air.
(2) Prescription—Easements-Light and Air.
(3) Easements.

Ancient Rights.

See Injunction-Special cases.

Angle of 45 degrees

—In cases of infringement of light.

See Easement Light and Air.

Animel.

Animal.—Rabid dog—Liability of master. 8 Ind Cas 984.

Animals feræ Nature.

See Cases under Wild Animals.

Anna Chattra.

See Hindu Law-Will.

Annual Jamas Tenancy.

1.—Revenue Sale Law (Act XI of 1859), S. 2—Holding on which revenue was assessed at Permanent Settlement—Annual jama—Date for payment fixed by board of Revenue—Settlement Mannual, Part III, Chap. XVI. Rule 7.—

Where the annual jama for a holding is fixed for payment by the Board of Revnue at a certain date, it is meant that the jama for the current years is payable on that date, instead of on the first day of the financial year, as would be the case ordinarily under r. 7 of Part III. Chap. XVI of the Settlement Manual. S. 2 of Act XI of 1859 has no application to annual jamas of tenure. Haji Buksh Ellahie v Durlaw Chandra Kar. 9 C L J 341 =13 C W N 633=3 Ind Cas 986.

Annual Tenancy.

See (1) Landlord & tenant.
(2) Bombay Land Revenue Code Section 84

Anuity.

1.—Suit for—Small cause nature—Suit for an annuity—Allowance not in satisfaction of any right of maintenance.

Where a person allows maintenance to his sister not by way of satisfaction of her right of maintenance but the allowance is to be paid out of the income of her own property which she transfers to her brother the same is an annuity and a suit for the recovery thereof is maintainable by a court of small cause.

Annuity-Contd.

Saminatha Pandaram, v Kuppu Udayan. 13 Mad L G 471.

2.—Annuity, creation of—Binding effect on the representatives to the extent of the grantor's assests,

A person can create a personal obligation in the form of annuity which will be operative as against his representatives to the extent of his assests in their hands.
Babubhai v Beharilal. 7 Bom L R 686.

3.—Annuity suit to enforce arrears of—Small Cause Court—Cognizability.

A suit to enforce arrears of an annuity payable under a will and to which the executors have assented is cognizable by the Presidency Small Cause Court; it does not fall under S. 10 (k) of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act 1882. Dosibai Markar v Cooverbai H Markar 10 Bom L R 758= 32 Bom 575.

See also (1) Second Appeal
(2) Registration Act S 17.

4—Grant of—Life-interest—Bequest of a specified sum—Absolute interest—

The simple grant of an annuity to a person carres no more than a life-interest in the annuity, in the absence of a contrary intention.

When a specified sum of money is bequeathed, the entire interest in the same passes to the legatee; and that interest necessarily involves an absolute right to the disposal of the whole sum. Similarly, in the case of an annuity also, the entire interest passes.

The mere circumstance of the continuance of the annuity after the life of the first grantor affords no indication as to the absolute duration of the annuity,and the fact that the annuity is charged on the village revenues does not serve as an indication of an intention to create an annuity as co-equal in duration with property itself.
Gopal Krishna v Ramnath 5 Bom L R 729.

5—Decree for payment of annuity—Arrears—Execution of decree—Fresh suit—C. P. C., 1882, s, 244.

Annuity-Concld.

The arrears due under a decree directing payment of an annuity could be recovered only by execution of the decree and not by a separate suit, s. 244 of the C. P. C., being a bar to such a suit.
Sughra v. Muhammad Husain, A W N 1888, 230.

Annuity.—Note due if garnishable.
14 C L J 127.

--creation of.

See Will.

--value of.

See Court Fees Act, Sch. I, Art. 11.

Annulment of Incumbrances.

See Bengal Act (Tenancy Act) VIII of 1885 S. 167.

-- of sale.

See (1) Sale for arrears of rent.
(2) Sale for arrears of revenue.
(3) Sale in execution of decree.
(4) Right of suit, sale in execution of decree.

Antecedent debts.

See (1) Hindu Law (Debts).
(2) Hindu Law (Joint family).
(3) Hindu Law (Alienation).
(4) Custom (Punjab).

Ante-nuptial agreement.

See (1) Contract Act S. 25.
(2) Contract Act S. 23—Illegal contracts.
(3) Husband & Wife.

--contracts.

See (1) Contract Act S. 25.
(2) Contract Act S. 23—Illegal contracts.

--settlement.

See Husband and Wife.

Anticipation, Restraint on.

See Husband & Wife.

Anticipatory attachment.

See Attachment

Antiquities not proved to have any market value.

See Land acquisition Act.

Anubhavam Tenure

See Landlord & tenant.

Anumatipara

See (1) Public Documents.
(2) Evidence Act S. 74.
(3) Hindu Law—Adoption.

Apostacy.

See (1) Act XXI of 1850.
(2) Caste.
(3) Conversion.
(4) Hindu Law—Conversion.
(5) Custom—Punjab—Divorce, 152 P. R. 1890.
(6) Mahomedan Law—Divorce, 106 P. R. 1891.
(7) Mahomedan Law—Divorce, 61 P. R. 1899.
(8) Hindu Law, marriage.
(9) Mahomedan Law. Acknowledgment.
(10) Husband & Wife.

Apostacy—Forfeiture of property on—Abrogation by legislation—Suit to enforce forfeiture—Limitation.

See Hindu Law—Inheritance.

Apostate father.

See Mahomedan Law—Marriage.

Appeal.

Abatment of appeal—See Abatement.

(1) Appeal Newly given by law 1—3.

a Proceedings instituted prior to change in procedure. No 1-3

2 Right of Appeal Effect of Repeal on 4—12

a C P C X of 1877. No 4
b C P C X of 1859. No 5—7
c C P C 1877. No 8
d Registration Act 1871, No 9—12

Appeal—Contd.

3 Acts. 13 148 L
a Act XXXV of 1858 No 13
b Act XL of 1858. No 14-18
a Cancelling of order appointing Collector manager. No 15
b Party to proceedings. No 16 c Order refusing to recall certificate under Act XL of 1858. No 17
d Burma Courts Act. No 18
c Act IX of 1861. No 19
d Act XXIII of 1861. No 20-21
1 Order dismissing appeal for want of prosecution. No 21
e Act XIV of 1863. No 22
f Act XIX of 1863. No 23
g Act XX of 1863. No 24 28
1 S, 5. No 25
2 Order appointing trustee of religious endowment. No 26
3 S 10. No 27—28
h S 18. No 29 32
1 C P C s 622. No 31
2 Order made without jurisdiction. No 32
i Act XXI of 1863. No 33
j Bengal Tenancy Act VIII of 1885. No 34-35
1 C P C Ss 2, 588. No 35
k Ss 90, 91. No 36
l S 104 cl 2. No 37
m Ss 93, 143. No 38
n Ss 105,106. No 39
o S 153. No 40—47
1 Suit for Rent. No 42
2 Appeal from decree in Rent suit under Rs 100. No 43
3 Cesses suit for. No 44
4 Suit for arrears of Rent. No 45
5 Order of Remand. No 46
6 S 173. No 47.
p S 174. No 48 49
q Companies Act XIX of 1857. No 50
r Order under companies Act VI of 1882, S 58. No 51—57 B.
s Court fees Act VII of 1870. No 56,
1 Order rejecting plaint for insufficiency of valuation. No 59-61.
2 C P C 1859 S 36. No 62
3 Appeal against an order for payment of additional Court-fees. No 63
4 Order as to valuation and class to which a suit belongs. No 64 66
t Court Fees Act VII of 1870 S 7. No 67
u Guardian and Wards Act VIII of 1890 S, 22. No 68-77

Appeal-Contd.

1 S. 35. No 69—69a
1a S. 39. No 70
2 S. 43. No 71
3 S 47. No 72,
4 Removal of Guardian. No 73-75
5 S 48.No 76-77.

v Land Acquisition Act X of 1870, Ss.3, 14, 15, 29. No 78-86
1 S 39. No 80
2 Land Acquisition Act I of 1894. No 81-86

w Military Courts of Request Act XI of 1841. No 87-88

x Registration Act XX of 1866. No 89-102
1 Ss. 32, 83, 84 52. No 90-91
2 ss 52, 53 No 92-95
3 Specially registered Bond No 96
4 ss. 54, 55. No 97
5 s. 55 No 98-99
6 S. 84 No 100
7 Order of Deputy Commissioner No 101
8 Order of District Court No 102

y Decree under s. 17 Registration Act 1877. No 103

Z Stamp Act X of 1862 S. 17 No 104

Z1 Provincial Insolvency Act No 105

Z2 Act XXVI of 1867 No 106

Z 3 Sch. B. Art 11 note No 107—138

Z 4 Probate and Administration Act ss. 86, 51, No 139

Z 5 Punjab Courts Act s. 40 No 140

Z 6 Public Demands Recovery Act ss.19, No 141

Z 7 U. P. Rent Act s. 189. No 142

Z 8 Punjab Tenancy Act s. 80 proviso 111. No 143.

Z 9 Agra Tenancy Act S. 199. No 144.

Z 10 Bengal Rent Act. No 145—146

Z 11 Bom. Dist. Municipal Act s.160 cl. 3. No 147.

Z 12 Letters Patent s. 15. No 148-148A

Z 13 Letters Patent cl. 15. No 148 B-148D

Z 14 Probate and Administration Act s. 86. No 148 E.

Z 15 Provincial Small Cause Court Act s. 27. No 148 F.

Z16 Punjab Laws Act IV of 1872 s. 28 No 148 G

Z 17 Punjab Municipal Act s. 2. No 148 H

Z 18 Punjab Land Revenue Act s.16 No 148 I.

Z 19 Succession Certificate Act ss 7,26 No 148 J — 148 K.

Z 20 U. P. Land Revenue Act s. 144 No 148 L.

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration 149—313 A

1 Arbitration by Court No 149—151
2 Judgment on award No 152-246
1 Finality of decree No 153—154
2 Civil Procedure 1859 s. 325 No 155—164
3 C P C 1859 s, 327 No 165—166
4 C. P. C.1859 s. 520 No 167—168
5 Decree confirming award No 169—170
6 C P C 1877 s. 522 No 171—184
7 Award decree in accordance with No 185—186
8 Order confirming award. No 187
9 N. W. P. Rent Act Reference to Arbitration under. No 188
10 Misconduct of Arbitrator No 189-194
11 C. P. C 1882 s. 522 No 195—212.
12 C.P.C.1882 ss. 525,526 No 213-214
13 Judgment not in accordance with award No 215—217
14 Addition to award No 218.
15 order varying award as to payment under decree-No 219
16 Doubt as to validity of award No 220—222
17 C. P. C. 1859 s. 325 No 223—232
18 Order setting aside decree upon award No 233
19 C. P. C. s. 521 (1882) No 234-236
20 Award No 237—238
21 CPC. 1859 ss 327 and 325 No 239
22 Agreement to refer not providing for disagreement of arbitrators No 240
23 Powers of arbitators No 241
24 Evidence given by party on oath proposed by opposit party No 242-246
3 Application to file award No 247-251
1 Order rejecting appeal No 252—254
4 Refusal to file award in Court No 255—259.
(1) Act VIII of 1859 No 260
2 Order rejecting application to file No 261
3 Order granting or refusing No 262
4 Want of consent of Parties No 263-265
5 Order Refusing application No 266-268
6 C. P C. s. 327 (1859), No 269
7 Order refusing to file award No 270-271

Appeal-Contd.

7(a) Order directing award to be filed No 271A

7(b) Order to enforce award No 272

7(c) Order refusing to enforce illegal award No 273

7(d) Order enforcing award-Private award No 274-278

(a) C. P. C. s, 525, (1877). No 279

8 Order Refusing to enforce award No 280

9 Order enforcing award No 281-282

10 Arbitration Award No 283-286

11-12 Curtailment of time for taking objection to award No 287

13 Order setting aside award No 288-292

14 Order directing submission to be filed No 293-295

15 Order Refusing to file submission No 296

16 Application to file Compromise No 297

16A Order refusing to set aside award objected to No 298

16B Order filing an award made in arbitration without invention of Court No 299-300

16C Decision of Court in supercession proceedings No 301

16D Propriety of decission setting aside award No 302

16E Decree in the nature of award No 303-305

16F Order directing property to be taken out of guardian's custody No 306

16G Judgment in the nature of award No 307

16H Finality of decree based on award No 308

16 I Dismissal of suit on merits in spite of submission to arbitration No 309

17 Revision No 310-311

18 Final award No 312

19 Objection to the award No 313

20 Statement of a special case for the opinion of the Court No 313A

(5) Bengal Acts. (314–316)

(1) Chota Nagpur Landlord and Tenant Procedure Act (Bengal Act I of 1879) No 314

(2) Ss. 37, 137,144. No 315-316.

(6) Bombay Acts. (317 322)

1 Bombay Civil Courts Act ss. 8. 26 36. No 317—318

(a) Application by creditor for less than Rs. 5000 in suit for above that amount. No 319

(b) Suit for declaration of Right to property under attachment. No320

(c) Administration suit. No 321

2 Bombay Municipal Act No 299 322

(7) Certificate of Administration (Acts XXVII of 1860 and VII of 1889 (323-352).

1 Act XXVII of 1860 and Act XIX of 1841. No 323-324

2 Act XXVII of 1860. No 325-329

3 Order refusing to recall certificate. No 330-331

4 Order as to form of certificate No 332

5 Case transferred under Act XVI of 1868 S. 19. No 333

6 Enquiry or omission to make enquiry No 334

7 Deposite of security by person entitled to a certificate No 335

8 Ss. 5, 6 certificate for collection of debts No 336-337

9 S. 6 Order for security No 338

10 Fresh certificate No 339

11 Order of District judge as to security No 340

12 Act VII of 1889 No 341

13 Ss. 6 and 19—Order for security on grant of certificate No 342

13A Certificate of administration No 342A

14 Ss. 9 and 10. order for issue of certificate subject to security being given No 343

15 Ss. 9 and 19—Order granting certificate conditional on the filing of security No 344-348

16 Ss. 19 and 28 Order Refusing certificate of heirship No 349-351

17 Succession certificate—Act VII of 1889 S. 10. No 352

(8) Costs (353 377)

(a) Discretion-Exercise of No 353-358

(b) Order involving matter of Principle No 359-362

(c) Power of Appellate Court No 363-367

(d) Party improperly brought on the record as representative of deceased judgment-debtor No 368

(e) C. P. C. (1882) Ss. 2, 588 No 369

(f) Appealable order No 370-371

(g) Return of Plaint No 372

(h) Costs No 373-377.

(9) Decrees. (378 495.)

(a) Order returning Plaint No 378-380

(b) Order dismissing a suit No 381-382

Appeal-Contd.

c Order dismissing suit as not Properly brought No 383-385
d Order on death of Party No 386
e Order treating as a nullity order made without jurisdiction No 387
f Order refusing decree-holder to execute decree against legal representatives No 388-389.
g order refusing to issue notice to representatives. No 390
h Order directing suit to abate. No 391
i Abatement order of. No 392-393
j Order dismissing application to be brought on the record as representative of deceased party. No 394
k Order dismissing application to be made party as representative No 395
l Order rejecting application by assignees of interest in suit to be allowed to appeal against the decree No 396
m Order refusing execution of decree simultaneously against person and property. No 397 n Order directing the release of judgment debtor. No 398
o Security for costs order rejecting appeal in default of No 399-400
p order disallowing objection to execution No 401
q Order dismissing suit in its present form. No 402
r Order in Execution of decree No 403
s.1 Order refusing to file in court agreement to refer to arbitration. No 404--405
s.2 Agreement to refer. No 406-407
s.3 order rejecting memorandum of an appeal. No 408
s.4 order-directing accounts to be taken No 409
s.5 order rejecting appeal as barred. No 410-416
s.6 order allowing purchaser of decree to execute of. No 417-418
s.7 order by appellate Court directing that the plaint be returned No 419
s.8 order under s. 18 of Act XX of 1863 granting leave to institute a suit. No 420
s.9 I order refusing leave to sue. No 421
s.10 order rejecting plaint. No 422-423
s.11 order allowing withdrawal of suit with leave to bring fresh one. No424
s.12 order permitting withdrawal of suit No 425-429
s.13 order rejecting application under Civil Procedure Code s. 44, rule (a)and returning plaint. No 430-431
s.14 order directing commission of Partition. No 432
s.15 order in Partition suit leaving Proceeding to be taken in execution of decree. No 433-434
s.16 order declaring the rights of Parties to a partition in certain specific shares. No435-437
s.17 Provisions decree. No 438-439
s.18 order appointing commission to effect partition after preliminary decree. No 440-441
s. 19 order directing accounts to be taken. No 442
s. 20 order by appellate Court remitting case to original court to pass decree upon award. No 443
s. 21 order dis-allowing objections by defendant. No 444-445
s. 22 C. P. C. (1882) ss. 232, 244. No 446-447
s. 23 Application for permission to sue as a pauper. No 448.
s. 24 order rejecting stay of execution. No 449
s. 25 C. P. C. ss. 254. No 450-451
s. 26 order deciding Point of Law arising incidentally. No 452
s 27 Order dismissing application to certify adjustment of decree. No 453-455
s. 28 order absolute for foreclosure No456
s. 29 order dismissing application for participation in assets. No 457-458
s. 30 T. P Act s. 87 order under. No 459
s. 31 order rejecting on appeal. No460-462
s. 32 order under C. P. C. (1882) s. 543 rejecting memorandum of appeal on account of scandalous matter therein. No 463
s. 33 order dismissing an appeal for default. No 464-465
s.34 Order rejecting appeal on default in furnishing security. No 466
s.35 Appeal against order rejecting an insufficiently stamped appeal. No467-468 s.36 Application for leave to sue in forma Pauperis. No 469-470

Appeal–Contd.

s.37 Decree on compromise extending beyond scope of suit. No 471-472

s.37a Decree not incorpo-rating the compromise. No 472 A s.38 order dismissing application for removal of a trustee. No 473-476

s.39 Final order in the execution department No 477

s.40 Appeal against decree passed on review. No 478

s.41 Right to prosecute appeal as regards part of claim dismissed. No 479-480

s.42 Order returning plaint for presentation to the proper court. No 481

s.43 Appeal against decree which was a nullity. No 482 483

s.44 Appeal against finding No 484

s.45 Appeal against decree of one of two Judges of a Division Bench. No 485 s46 Order determining question whether decree holder had used due diligence in the execution of decree. No 486 s47 Order as to whether the decree was executable-or not. No 487 & 488

t Decree in suit with-drawn from small cause court. No 489

u Order dismissing the case. No 490

v No formal decree drawn up. No 491

w Order granting leave to bring a suit under religious endowment Act. No 492

x Appeal from decree ordered to be reviewed. No 493-495

10 Default in Appearance. 496—551.

a Order refusing to issue fresh summons after dismissal. No 496

b Order rejecting application to sue as a pauper. No 497

c Order dismissing suit for non-appearance after adjournment. No 498-502

d Order dismissing suit in adjourned hearing for non-appearance of plaintiff. No 503

e Order dismissing appeal for default No 504-514

f Order rejecting application for re-admission of appeal. No 515-519

g Order rejecting application for re-hearing of appeal. No 520 528

h Dismissal of appeal for default No 529-530

i Order dismissing suit for default of appearance. No 531-532

Appeal–Contd.

j Order dismissing suit for non-appearance of plaintiff specially ordered to appear. No 533-534

k Order rejecting application for re-trial. No 535

l Order to attend as witness. No 536-546

m Decree against minor respondent not represented by guardian. No 547

n Order refusing to restore suit dismissed. No 548—551

(11) Exparte Cases. 552—586

a Order admitting application to set aside exparte decree. No 552

b Order on application to set aside exparte decree. No 553

c Appeal from exparte decree wrongly admitted. No 554-555

d Order refusing to set aside exparte decree. No 556—557

e Order setting aside exparte decree No 558-571

f Refusal to repear appeal. No 572

g Order exparte directing attachment in execution of decree. No 573

h Order against defendant not appearing. No 574-580

i Order against respondent not appearing No 581—583

j Order admitting appeal. No 584

k Application to set aside exparte decree dismissed. No 585

l Jurisdiction of first Court to entertain application for setting aside decree of appellate court. No 586

(12) Execution of Decree. 587—693

a Order refusing application to execute joint decree. No 587—588

b order on application for execution by one or more joint decree-holders. No 589

c Order refusing to allow execution by one of several joint decree-holders. No 590

d Adjustment of decrees more than three years old. No 591—592

e Order in matter specially provided for. No 593

f Order confirming report of commissioner of accounts. No 594

g Dispute among heirs of deceased decree holder. No 595

h Order under S. 246 C P C 1859. No 596

Appeal-Contd.

i Order rejecting appeal in execution case. No 597—598

j Order passed on application for discharge from arrest in execution of decree. No 599-601

k Order refusing refund of purchase money. No 602—603

l Order on application to correct error in proceeding. No 604

m Order as to sum due on mortgage accounts. No 605—606

n Order allowing mortgagor to deposit in court amount due after date fixed. No 607

o Order rejecting appeal in execution case. No 608

p 1 Order in case transferred for execution No 609—612

p 2 Order rejecting an application for transfer of a decree for execution, No 613

q Order as to issue of certificate. No 614

r Order rejecting application as to mode of sale of property. No 615

s Order as to mesne profits subsequent to decree and as to costs of execution. No 616

t Order disallowing objection to attachment. No 617—620

u Order of security in execution. No 621

v/1 Order for attachment and sale of property. No 622

v 2 Claim by legal representative to property as his own independently of deceased judgment-debtor. No 623

v 3 Questions between execution-creditor and person placed on the record as representatives of deceased judgment-debtor. No 624

v 4 Assignment of decree. No 625

v 5 Question whether transferee of decree is the representative of decree-holder. No 626

v 6 Order refusing to allow representative to take out execution until granted certificate. No 627

v 7 Order staying execution of decree. No 628—632

v 8 Order staying sale in execution of decree. No 633—637

v 9 Order directing account in administration suit. No 638—639

v 9 a Appeal forma ministerial order. No 640

v 9 b Order accepting payment in foreign

Appeal-Contd.

circle currency notes. No 641

v 9 c Order rejecting application requesting to send case to magistrate. No 642-643

v 9 d Order passed in execution of a decree passed under specific Relief Act S. 9 No 644

v 9 e Question in execution. No 644A

v 10 Person other than party to suit. No 645—646

v 11 Liability of defaulting purchaser. No 647—648.

v 12 Purchaser substitution of, for original party in record. No 649-650

v 13 Inventor. No 651

w Claimant under title created subsequently to suit. No 652

w 1 Representative of deceased debtor No 653-656

w 2 Assignee of decree. No 657-658

w 3 Surety. No 659-660

w 4 Purchaser of interest in suit. No 661

w 5 Purchaser at Sale in Execution No 662-668

w 6 Objector not Party to suit. No 669

w 7 Third Party. No 670-670A

w 8 Rival-decree-holders. No 671-672

w 9 Co-defendants. No 673-674

w 10 Assignee of interest in Suit. No 675

w 11 Attachment. No 676

w 12 Order on claim by trustee for release of trust property attached under personal decree against trustee. No 677

w 13 Co-decree holders. No 678

w 14 Collector. No 679

x Decree holder in character of purchaser. No 680

x 1 Purchase by decree-holder at auction-Sale. No 681

x 2 Representation of decree-holder. No 682

x 3 Execution Proceedings at instance of attaching creditor. No 683-684 x 4 Question between auction purchaser and applicant to set aside sale under S. 310A of C P C 1882. No 685-686

x 5 Order under C. P. C. 1882 s. 310 A setting aside sale No 687-688

y Appeal by some of the parties to a suit No 689

Appeal-Contd.

z Application by exconverated-defendance. No 690

z 1 Order of Imprisonment in execution of decree. No 691-693

13 Grounds of Appeal. (694-701)

a Order granting leave. No 694

b Order refusing leave to sue. No 695

c Order in insolvency proceedings under S. 15 of Letters Patent. No 696

d Appeal from Letter Patent appeal whether allowed. No 697-701

14 Madras Acts. (702-708)

a Madras Forest Act S. 10. No 702

b Madras Rent Recovery Act (Madras Act VIII of 1865). No 703

c Madras Estates Land Act 1 of 1908. No 703A

d-e Mad. General Clauses Act. No 703B

f Procedure to be followed in the hearing of appeal. No 704-706

g Adjudication that plaintiff has failed to prove default on behalf of defendant. No 707

h Execution delay in presenting an appeal. No 708

(15) Management of Attached Property (709-712)

a Order Postponing sale to enable debtor to raise amount. No 709

b Order refusing application to appoint a manager. No 710-711

c Order of Manager. No 712

(16) Measurement of Lands. (713-720)

a Order of Deputy Collector. No 713

b Question as to standard pole of measurement. No 714

c Order of Collector in survey and measurement of lands. No 715

d Order of Deputy Collector as to standard pole of measurement. No 716

e Order of Collector as to standard of measurement. No 717

f Order in measurement proceedings. No 718-720

(17) N. W. P. Acts. (721-738.)

a N. W. P. Rent Act (XVIII of 1873) s. 148. No 721-732

b N. W. P. Land Revenue Act (XIX of 1879). No 734-738

(18) Orders. (739-1020 L)

1 Interlocutory order No 739—746

1a Order declaring with the whole case. No 747

2 Order dismissing part of claim before final decree. No 748

3 Order rejecting application for refund of stamp duty. No 749

4 Order of Munsif dismissing suit for under valuation. No 750

5 Order disallowing appointment of ministerial officer. No 751

6 Order of Magistrate dismissing ministerial officer. No 752

7 Order giving Possession to purchaser. No 753

8 Order refusing to grant possession. No 754

9 Order admitting claim of darpatnidar. No 755

10 Order on application to evidence. No 756-757

11 Order rejecting review. No 758-759

12 Order rejecting application for review of order dismissing execution proceedings for default in payment of Process fees No 760

13 Order disposing of application for review on the merits. No 761

14 Order granting review. No 762-774

15 Order amending decree. No 775—777

16 Order rejecting insufficiently-stamped document. No 778

17 Order refusing to allow document to be filed. No 779—780

18 Order compensating defendant for loss of property attached. No 781

19 Order for compensation on release of attached property. No 782

20 Order releasing Property from attachment. No 783—793

21 Order dismissing claim to attach property. No 794—796

22 Order on application to add party. No 797—798

23 Order refusing application to add party. No 799

24 Order rejecting application to add

Appeal-Contd.

party. No 800—805

25 Order dismissing petition for examination of witness. No 806—807

26 Order as to expenses of witness. No 808

27 Order suspending execution for cross-decree. No 809

28 Order staying execution of decree No 810—814

29 Order releasing surety for stay of execution No 815

30 Order rejecting application to stay execution etc for want of sanction of court under s. 462. No 816

31 Order rejecting petition for execution by transferee of decree No 817

32 Order refusing stay of execution pending suit between decree holder and Judgment debtor No 818—819

33 Order refusing application to be declar d insolvent No 820—827

34 Order dismissing petition of insolvent debtor No 828—829

35 Appeal against order of a subordinate Court on a petition of insolvency No 830—831

36 Order refusing to discharge surety for insolvent No 832

37 Order releasing from attachment after acquired property of insolvent judgment debtor. No 833—834

38 Order giving possession to mortgagor on payment after expiry of time' No 835—837

39 Order on investigation of claim No838

40 Proceedings in nature of fresh suit No 839

41 Order for delivery of Land No840-841

42 Order numbering and registering as suit objection of obstruction to execution of decree No 842

43 Order rejecting claim to possession No 843—846

44 Order allowing claim to possession No 847

45 Order refusing to set aside an injunction No 848

45a Order for issue of notice made under s. 994 No 849

46 Order rejecting plaint as insufficiently Stamped No 850 - 852

47 Order rejecting plaint for want of jurisdiction No 853

8 Order returning plaint for presentation in proper court No 854—865

Appeal-Contd.

48a Order returning plaint for presentation to proper court No 865A—865B

49 Order allowing amendment of plaint No 866—874

50 Order of Remand after former remand No 875—880

52 Order of remand No 881—899

53 Order of Remand on special point No 900

54 Order of Remand made without jurisdiction No 901—901 C

55 Order remanding case No 902—906

56 Order remanding appeal case for investigation No 907

57 Order remanding case after local investigation No 908

58 Order directing a local investigation No 909

59 Order in case on appeal after compromise reported No 910

60 Order of Remand in suit cognizable by small cause court No 911—915

61-62 Order in small cause court suit by judge without juris-diction No 916

63 Interlocutory order in small cause court suit No 917

64 Order of remand in small Cause court suit No 918

65 Order of small cause court in execution No 919-920

66 Order of judge refusing to execute small cause court decree No 921-922

67 Order of subordinate judge in over-valued small cause court suit No 923

68 Order declining jurisdiction No 924

69 Order of Mamlatdar in boundary dispute No 925

70 Order allowing decree holder to take credit for his decree as purchaser No 926

71 Order directing prosecution for forgery No 927

72 Order in execution of decree No 928

73 Order making over proceeds of sale to Official Assignee No 929

74 Order rejecting appeal No 930—931

75 Order rejecting application to sue as pauper No 932—936

76 Order allowing withdrawal of suit No 937

77 Order directing suit to be re-admited and registered No 938

78 Order of Civil Court on conviction of escape from custody No 939.

79 Order of Collector in execution of

Appeal-Contd.

decree No 940

80 Order disallowing claim No 941

81 Order directing penalty to be enforced under stamp Act No 942

82 Order dismissing suit on failure to serve summons No 943

83 Order dismissing suit on failure to give security for costs No 944—945

84 Order of single Judge of High Court No 947—948

85 Order setting aside sale in execution of decree for rent No 949-950

86 Order on further directions varying report of commissioners under decree for account in partnership suit No 951—952.

87 Order made in the course of execution proceeding and not appealed against No 953—954

88 Order confirming appointment of head of muths No 955—956

89 Order in execution of decree of Privy Council No 957

90 Order for pre-emption No 958—960

91 Order of Collector confirming sale for arrears of dak cess under Public Demands Recovery Act (Bengal Tenancy Act of 1880) No 961-962

92 Order setting aside exparte decree No 963.

93 Order refusing to accept deposit on account of sale in execution of decree No 964-965.

94 Order striking off application for execution but maintaining attachment. No 966-967.

95 Order amending sale certificate. No 968

96 Order rejecting claim of alleged representative of deceased plaintiff and for abatement of suit. No 967-972

96a Order rejecting application for suit to abate. No 973-973A.

96b Instructions issued by District Judge as to the mode of taking an account. No 974.

96c Order refusing to allow a change of attorney. No 975.

96d Order appointing guardian ad-litem. No 976.

96e Order assessing value of property directed to be sold under decree. No 977.

96f Order deciding claims of rival claimants for possession of properties. No 978.

96g Appeal from a lower appellate court's decision. No 979.

96h Order re-admitting appeal dismissed for default. No 980.

96i Order forbidding decree-holder to bid at execution sale. No 981.

96j Appeal from order passed under S. 491 C. P. C. 1882. No 982.

96k Order dismissing application for compensation. No 983.

96l Order rejecting appeal for failure to furnish security for Costs. No 984.

97 Order allowing an objection that appeal is barred. No 985.

97a-b Order improperly passed in execution. No 986.

97c Order of abatement by court. No 987.

97d Order restoring a suit dismissed for want of payment of process fee No 988.

97e Order rejecting application to transfer suit. No 989.

97f Order refusing to re-admit appeal. No 990.

97g Order returning memorandum of appeal to be presented to proper court. No 991.

97h Order appointing guardian of the property of lunatic No. 992-993

97i Order refusing mutation of names. No 994.

97j Order refusing to execute award No 995-996.

97k Order refusing to recognize transfer of decree. No 997.

98 Order on application for order absolute. No 998.

98.1 Order directing substitution of parties. No 999.

98.2 Order under S. 335 C. P. C. (1882). No 1000.

98.3 Order refusing to set aside exparte dismissal of application to set aside sale. No 1001-1002.

98.4 Order dismissing an application under S. 108 C. P. C. 1882. No 1003-1004

98.5 Order refusing t restore s it dismissed for default No 005

Appeal–Contd.

98.6 Order refusing to determine dispute between judgment No 1006.

98.7 Order rejecting application for reviving an application under S. 311 C. P. C. (1882) No. 1007.

98 8 Order rejecting application for removal of obstruction to execute of decree No. 1008.

98.9 Order dismissing application for setting aside sale.No 1009-1010.

98.10 Order directing restoration of property. No 1011.

99 Order of Collector refusing to intervene after attachment of land.No 1012.

99.1 Order directing party to appear in person. No 1013-1016.

99. 2 Order that no warrant of attachment should issue. No 1017

99. 3 Order rejecting an application to be brought on the record.No 1018

99. 4 Order refusing to recognize assignment of decree.No 1019

99, 5 Order of imprisonment in execution of decree.No 1020

99. 6 Order directing Nazir to take possession of the property in an administration case.No 1020A

99. 7 Order absolute for foreclosure or sale. No 1020B

99. 8 Order of Assistant Collector determining whether a usufractuary mortgagee was in possession or not of the property mortgaged.No 1020C

99. 9 Order of a District Judge sanctioning prosecution of the guardian of minor.No 1020D

99. 10 Order of a District Judge sanctioning a mortgage. No 1020E

99. 11 Order refusing application for order absolute under s.89 of T. P, Act Court fee. No 1020F

99. 12 Decision of District Court accepting security as sufficient. No 1020G

99. 13 Order made in the course of proceeding under T. P. Act ss. 86&87. No 1020H

100 Other cases.N1020I-1020L

19 Probate (1021—1026).

a Order to suspend Probate No 1021

b Order of District Judge admitting person as caveator. No 1022

c Order refusing to make person party defendant to an application for Probate No 1023.

d Order refusing to amend Probate No 1024–1025.

e Compromise in appellate stage after revocation of probate unlawful No 1025 A.

f Order refusing to stay the issue of Probate No 1026.

20 Receivers (1027—1045 A).

1 Order refusing to remove a receiver No 1027—1031.

2 Order submitting person for and confirming nomination as receiver No 1032—1033

3 Order Refusing to appoint receiver No 1034—1038.

4 Order dismissing application for appointment of receiver No 1039-1041

5 Order directing discharge of receiver appointed No 1042.

6 Direction given by Court in passing a receiver's accounts No 1043.

7 Order that receiver should be appointed No 1044.

8 Order accepting the correctness of the account rendered by receiver No 1045.

9 Receiver's Account No 1045 A.

10 Office of receiver appointed pending appeal continuing till he is finally discharged. No 1045 B

21 Regulations (1046—1051 A).

1 Beng Reg XV of 1793 No 1046.

2 Beng Reg 1 of 1798 No 1047.

2a Regulation V of 1799 No 1047A.

3 Beng Reg V of 1812 No 1048—1049.

4 Beng Reg VIII of 1819 No 1050.

5 Beng Reg III of 1872 No 1051.

6 Madras Regulation III of 1802 1051 A.

22 Sale in Execution of Decree (1052—1094).

1 Order refusing interest in execution of Decree No 1052—1053.

2 Order absolving purchaser from liability for damages or Re-sale No 1054.

3 Order making defaulting purchaser liable for difference or re-sale No 1055–1056.

4 Order under S.254 C P C 1859 No 1057.

5 Order refusing refund of Price to purchaser No 1058.

Appeal-Contd.

6 Order on defaulting purchaser to make good such deficiency No 1059—1061

7 Order rejecting an application for restoring to the file an application to set aside a sale in execution of a decree No 1062

8 Order refusing to admit petition to set aside a sale No 1063.

9 Order affirming rejection of petition for reversal of sale in execution of decree No 1064.

10 Order setting aside sale for irregularity No 1065 -1067.

11 Order setting aside sale No 1068—1073.

12 Order confirming Sale No 1074.

13 Order confirming sale before time for filing objections has expired No 1075.

14 Order disallowing objections to sale No 1076.

15 Order refusing to set aside sale No 1077-1081

16 Order refusing permission to bid No 1082—1083.

17 Order refusing to set aside dismissal of application to set aside sale No 1084—1085

18 Order refusing to amend certificat of sale No 1086.

19 Order adjournment a sale in execution of decree No 1087.

20 Decision as to the value of incumbrances entered in the sale proclamation No 1088—1089

21 Order allowing the collector to proceed with the sale No 1090—1091.

22 Order accepting the value set aside the decree holder No 1092—1094.

23 Objections by Respondent (1095-1193)

1 Objection meaning of No 1095—1097.

2 Applicability of S. 348 No 1098.

3 Time for objection No 1099—1101

4 Time for filing objection No 1102—1116.

5 Hearing of appeal No 1117.

5a Hearing of cross objections No1117A-1117B

6 Withdrawal of appeal No 1118—1127.

7 Dismissal of appeal for default No 1128—1129.

7a Dismissal of appeal for want of necessary parties No 1130.

8 What objections may be taken No 1131-1136.

9 Objection on ground. No 1137-1141.

Appeal-Contd.

10 Objection on ground of Jurisdiction No 1142.

11 Objection against party not appealing. No 1143-1148.

12 Altering decree on appeal where respondent makes no objection. No 1149-1151.

13 Altering decree on appeal where respondent takes no objection. No1152

14 Objections by opposite parties in same interest. No 1153

15 Objections by opposite parties in separate appeals. No 1154

16 Finding in favour of respondent who had not appealed or objected No 1155-1158

17 Objections which could not have been taken on appeal No 1159—1160.

18 Objections by party improperly made respondent No 1161—1162.

19 Objections on appeal as to cost No1164.

20 Unsuccessful intervenors No 1165-1181

21 Allowing objection not taken No 1182.

22 Objection by pauper respondent No 1183—1186.

23 Objection filed by respondent No 1187.

23A Objection by respondent No 1188.

23B Objection by respondents to the procedure adopted by plaintiff in preferring an appeal No 1189.

23C Objection by respondent as to a next friend suing without certificate No 1190.

24 Contention that decree should not affect defendant prejudicially No 1191.

25 Time for payment of stamp duty on a memorandum of cross objection No 1192.

26 Filing cross objection where no appeal was maintainable No 1192 A.

27 Co-respondents No 1193.

24. Grounds of appeal. (1194—1205.)

1 Objections to order of remand in appeal from final decree. No 1194-1200.

2 Party making a new case in appeal. No 1201.

3 Ground not taken in memorandum of appeal. No 1202.

3a Restricting appeal to special grounds No 1203

4 Refusal to examine witnesses constituting a ground of appeal. No 1205

Appeal-Contd.

25. Dismissal of appeal. (1206-1223.)

1 Power of the lower court to amend decree after dismissal of appeal 1206
2 Effect of dismissal of appeal. No 1207-1211
3 Confirmation of decree on appeal No 1212.
4 Default-Discretion of court in restoring the case dismissed for default. No 1213
5 Dismissal of appeal through litigants not informed of place and date of hearing. No 1214
6 Dismissing appeal for not depositing fees of notices without the time fixed No 1215
7 Appeal dismissed on the ground of respondents heirs not being brought on record. No 1216
8 Estoppel of joint abandoned in appeal can be raised in further appeal. No 1217
9 Effect of review granted and fresh decree passed before hearing of appeal No 1218
10 Order for attachment in execution not without jurisdiction. No 1219
11 Dismissal of appeal withot calling for record. No 1220
12 Appeal dismissed as contrary to rule of equity' justice and good conscience. No 1221
13 Other cases. No 1222-1223

26. Appeal against favourable decree (1224-1225.)

27. Requisities of a valid appeal. (1226)

28. Attachment. (1227.)

1 Remedy of creditor when decree attached by him is reversed on appeal No 1227

29 Consideration of appeal (1228-1329.)

30 Costs. (1230)

1 Appeal declared with costs interpretation of, No 1230

31 Court fee (1231-1236)

1 Amount of court fee payable on the memorandum of appeal. No 1231-1232
2 Competition of court-fee payable by appellant. No 1232 A
3 Memorandum of appeal insufficiently stamped. No 1233-1234

Appeal-Contd.

4 Court-fee paying advalorem court-fee on the memorandum of appeal. No 1235
5 Refund of Court fee No 1235

32 Estoppel. (1237)

1 Amendment of plaint according to decision of appellate court not constituting an appeal No 1237

33 Final Decree. (1238--1242)

1 Appeal against final Decree on the ground of erroneous decision in regard to an interlocutory order. No 1238
2 Appeal against one decree only whether maintainable when the other become final. No 1239
3 Effect of appeal on decree appealed against. No 1240
4 Proceedings in the appellate court treated as a continuation of the proceedings in the Lower Court. No 1241.
5 Right to question correctness preliminary order or decree in appeal against final decree. No 1242

34 Judgment. (1244-1251)

1 Necessity and mode of recording Judgment. No 1243-1244
2 Consent decree in appeal passed by Court having no Jurisdiction. No 1245
3 Jurisdiction of first court after appeal presented and after appeal disposed of. No 1246
4 Jurisdiction to hear application for setting aside exparte decree during the pendency appeal. No 1247
5 Order confirming partition of Village. No 1248
6 Prayer for incidental relief not affecting jurisdiction of the appellate Court. No 1249
7 Setting aside the decree passed an appeal by a Court hearing no jurisdiction. No 1250
8 Small Cause Court suit. No 1251

35 Limitation. (1252—1274.)

1 Amended application for re-hearing of appeal returned after time. No 1252
2 Excuse of delay in the case of one defendant cannot benefit other defendants No 1253

Appeal-Contd.

3 Meaning of the word 'appeal' as used in the Limitation Act. No 1254
4 Meaning of appeal in Art, 179 Limitation Act. No 1255
5 Mode of computation of time limited for payment. No 1256
6 Order on application for intention of time for appealing. No 1257
7 Presentation of appeal after the time limited therefor. No 1258
8 Other Cases. No 1259—1274

36 Parties. (1275-1304.)

1 Abatement of appeal on Reversioner, appellant's death. No 1275
2 Absolute abatement of appeal. No 1276
3 Appeal failing by reason of defect of parties No 1277.
4 Decree in decree suit assigned before passing order absolute for sale. No 1278
5 Decree in favour of all plaintiffs when only one has appealed. No 1279
6 Effect of appeal decided without legal representatives of deceased being brought on record. No 1280
7 Effect of death of guardian ad litem pending appeal. No 1281
8 Effect of failure to bring in legal representative of one of several defendants dying during pendency of appeal No1282
9 Effect of one decree-holder respondents not being property represented in appeal. No 1283
10 Effecting of one of the appellants dying during pendency of appeal. No 1284–1285
11 Effect of party preferring an appeal No 1286
12 Effect of substitution of legal representative of deceased respondent not made within time. No 1287
13 Delay in substitution of legal representative of deceased respondent.no1288
14 Fact of representtative not being brought on record no bar to delivery of judgment. No 1289
15 Jurisdiction to enquire into the right of the legal representative to proceed with the suit. No 1290
16 Objection by respondent that application for substitution of representative of deceased appellant made without time No 1291
17 Order of remand directing addition of parties. No 1292
18 Power of appellate court to add parties No 1293
19 Restoration of appeal upon application by heirs of deceased defendant.No 1294
20 Right of respondent filing names of objections to have parties added.No 1295
21 Substitution of wrong person in appeal effect of. No 1296
22 Appeal against order of judge setting on original side. No 1297
23 Appeal by one defendant as to the disposal of certain money decreed to be paid by plaintiff. No 1298
24 Appeal from decision when substantial justice mated out. No 1299
25 Cases in which court can make new case for parties in appeal. No 1300
26 Fresh and inconsistent case cannot be set in appeal. No 1301
27 No appeal lying against decree where grounds of appeal directed soley against interlocutory order. No 1302
28 Presentation of appeal. No 1303
29 Raising new point in appeal, No 1304

37 Practice. (1305—1320)

1 Transfer of part heard appeal. No 1305
2 Two appeals to lower court and one appeal to High Court. No 1306
3 Other cases. No 1307—1320

38-39 Reference to Collector. (1321-1322)

1 Collector's order on appeal preferred to Divisional officer. No 1322

40 Rehearing. (1323-1324)

1 Appeal against preliminary decree dismissed for non-prosecution. No 1323
2 Whether all appeals are by re-hearing No 1324

41 Resjudicata. (1325-1334)

1 Decree not appealed against not operating as res-judication. No 1325
2 Effect of appeal against only one of two decrees. No 1326
3 Finality of decree in defendant's appeal whether bars plaintiff's appeal No. 1328

Appeal-Contd.

4 Finality of one decree barring appeal against another decree. No 1328—1329 Judgment in the case not appealed against operating as resjudicata. No 1330

6 No appeal by appellant entirely in his favour, No 1331

7 Party not entitled to appeal when decree in his favour. No 1332

8 Point not decided in appeal is not resjudicata. No 1333

9 Sufficiency of one appeal from judgment in cross suits. No 1334

42 Review No 1335—1338.

1 Appeal to be heard by two Judges if review granted No 1335.

2 Application for review presented after filing of appeal No 1336.

3 Effect of appeal from decree superseded No 1336A

4 Effect of appeal from decree superseded on review No 1337.

5. Review of judgment pending appeal. No 1338

43. Revision. No 1339-1350

1. If no appeal no revision. No 1339-1340

2. Revisional power exercised. No 1341

3. Memorandum of appeal treated as petition in revision. No 1341A

4 Other cases. No 1342—1350

44 Right of appeal No 1351—1354

45 Second appeal No 1355—1365

1 Contention that court should have made decree against defendant No 1355-1365

46 Sale in execution No 1366—1367

47 Miscellaneous cases. No 1368-1386

See (1) Appeal to Privy Council.
(1A) Arbitration.
(2) Bengal Act III of 1870.
(3) Bengal Civil Courts Act, 1871, s 22.
(4) Burma Courts Act, 1875, s. 4.
(5) Costs—Special Cases—Appeal.
(6) District Judge, Jurisdiction of.
(7) Divorce Act, s. 55.
(8) Insolvent Act ss. 72,73.
(9) Acquisition Act, s. 3
(10) Letters Patent cl. 15

Appeal-Contd.

(11) Letters Patent, North-Western Provinces, cl. 10.
(12) Madras Boundary Act.
(13) Pauper Suit—Appeals.
(14) Practice—Civil Cases—Appeal.
(15) Recorders Act.
(16) Remand—Cases of Appeal after remand.
(17) Special or Second Appeal
(18) Valuation of Suit—Appeals.

—Abatement of.

See (1) Abatement of Suit—Appeals.
(2) Costs—Abated Suit or Appeal.

—Adding parties on.—

See (1) Parties—Adding Parties to Suits—Appellants.
(2) Parties—Adding Parties to Suits—Respondents.

—by one defendant, Reversal of whole decree on.

See Civil Procedure Code, 1882, s. 544.

—by one plaintiff against another.

See Parties—Substitution of Parties—Plaintiffs. 15 Bom., 145.

—Grounds of.

See Special or Second Appeal—Grounds of Appeal.

—Memorandum of.

See (1) Appellate Courts—Exercise of Powers in various Cases—Appeal, Memorandum of.
(2) Civil Procedure Code, s. (1908) O. 41 r. 3.
(3) Limitation Act, (1908) S. 3.
(4) Practice—Civil Cases—Appeal.
(5) Special or Second Appeal—Admission or Summary Rejection of Appeal

—Pre-emption of—

See Letters Patent, High Court, cl. 15.

—Presentation of—

See (1) Letters Patent, N. W. P. cl. 8.
(2) Limitation Act, 1877, s. 4.
(3) Pleader—Appointment and Appearance.

Appeal-Contd.

—Revivor of—

See Privy Council. Practice of—Revivor of Appeal.

—Right of—

See Right of Appeal.

—Substitution of parties on—

See (1) Parties—Substitution of Parties—Appellants.
(2) Parties—Substitution of Parties—Respondents.

See also cases under.

(1) Bengal Tenancy Act s. 153.
(2) Companies Act, s. 169.
(3) Insolvency Act, s. 73.
(4) Provincial Small Cause Courts Act.
(5) Succession Certificate Act s, 19.
(6) U. P. Acts (Tenancy Act s. 19).

Appeal-Limitation—See Cases under—

Limitation Act ss. 4 & 12

1 APPEAL NEWLY GIVEN BY LAW.

(a) Proceedings instituted prior to change in procedure.

1-3.—Appeal from order under s. 312 Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882)—Act VII of of 1888 ss. 55, 46.

On the general principle of law that an appeal merely given by law is made applicable to proceedings instituted before that change is made in procedure. Held, that an appeal from an order under the second paragraph of s. 312 of the Code of Civil Procedure although made before Act VII of 1888 came into force, would, upon the operation of that Act, lie to the Court to which an appeal would lie from the decree in the suit in relation to which such order was made. 13 Calc 56 explained and distinguished. Anund Chunder Roy v Nital Bhoomij. 16 Cal 429.

Notes:—Ap; 21 Bom 822.

2. RIGHT OE APPEAL EFFECT OF

(a) C. P. C (X of 1877).

4.—(Act X of 1877) Civil Procedure Code. In all suits instituted before Act X of 1877 came into force, in which an appeal lay to the Appeal-Contd.

2. Right of Appeal. Effect of Appeal—Contd.

High Court under Act VIII of 1859, an appeal will still lie notwithstanding the fact that, that Act is repealed by Act X of 1877.

Runjit Singh v. Meherban Koer, 3 Cal 662.

(b) C. P. C. (X OF 1859).

5.—Civil Procedure Code 1859—Repealed by Civil Procedure Code, 1877.

A decree was obtained ex parte before October 1st, 1877, and an application was made by the defendant for the 1st time in May 1878 to have the case re-opened. This application was refused, and an appeal was thereupon preferred against the order of refusal. Held that no appeal would lie under Act X of 1877. and that, as there was at the time of that Act coming into operation, no proceeding on foot on the part of the appellant which could be saved by the operation of s.6 of Act I of 1868, there was no remedy by way of appeal from the order under Act VIII of 1859. 1 L R 3 Cal., 662; 2 C L R., 391, distinguished. Apach Ojha v. Ram Dulari Koer 4 C L R 18.

6.—Order in execution—Repeal of Act—Pending Proceeding—Civ. Pro. 1859—Act I of 1868, s. 6—Act X of 1877.

The holder of a decree for money applied for attachment in the execution of the decree of certain moneys deposited in court to the credit of the judgment debtor. On the 4th June 1877, the Court of first instance refused the attachment on the ground that the decree directed the sale of certain immoveable property for its satisfaction and awarded no other relief.

The order of the Court of first instance was affirmed by the lower appellate Court on the 4th August 1877. Act X of 1877, repealing Acts VIII of 1859 and XXIII of 1861, came into force on the 1st Oct., 1877. On the 13th November 1877 the decree-holder applied to the High Court for the admission of a second appeal from the order of the Lower Appellate Court on the ground that the decree had been misconstrued. Held that an appeal was admissible under the repealed Act VIII of 1859, under the provisions of section 6 of Act I of 1868. Held also that the order of lower appellate Court was also appealable under Act X of 1877.

Thakur Parsad v. Ahsan Ali. 1 All 668

Appeal-Contd.

(2) Right of Appeal Effect of Repeal on-Contd.

Notes:—Diss: 2 All 71. Ap. 13 Cal 86. Fol: 2 All 91. Ref. 16 Cal 207 F B; 12 Bom 149: 1 All 715 F B; 748 F B.

7—Appeal—Act VIII of 1859 Section 257—Execution proceedings under Act X of 1871—Irregularity in Execution Sale—Act X of 1877. Sections 281 and 290-Proclamation-Waiver of.

Execution proceedings brought after Act X of 1877 came into operation upon a decree obtained in a suit instituted under the old Code of Civil Procedure are subject to the provisions of the new Code and an appeal will lie from orders made in such proceedings, although no appeal was allowed from such orders under the old Code.

Harbuns Sahai v Bhairo Pershad Singh 5 Cal 259=4 C L R 23

(C) C P C (1877)

8—C P C—s. 588 (16)—Order setting aside Execution Sale—Civ Pro 1877 ss. 311, 588 Act XII of 1879, ss. 50, 102—Act I of 1868, s. 6.

On the 25th June 1879, a Subordinate Judge made an order setting aside the sale of immovable property in the execution of a decree, from which an appeal was preferred, under Act X of 1877, to the District Court on the 25th July, 1879 before Act XII of 1879 came into force. Held that as the appeal would not have lain at all, had Act XII of 1879 been in force on the date of its institution, section 102 of that Act did not apply, but as the appeal lay to the District Court under the law in force on that date, it was competent to dispose it of under the provisions of section 6 of Act I of 1868. Durga Prasad v Ram Charan. 2 All. 785.

(D) REGISTRATION ACT.

9—Registration Act, 1871—General Clauses Consolidation Act, I of 1868—Repeal by Registration Act. III of 1877.—

An order refusing registration of a deed was passed on 23rd August 1872; and when Act VIII of 1871 was in force, an application for review was presented, and finally rejected on 20th December 1877, after the repeal of Act VIII of 1871 by Act III of 1877. Held that, under the provisions of s. 6 of Act I of 1868 (the General Clauses Act), the proceedings must be governed by the Act in force at the time when they were instituted,—namely, by Act VIII of 1871,—and therefore no appeal would lie. Mahomet Hossein v Hadzi Abdullah. 3 Calc., 727

10-Decrees passed by Assistant Collectors under s. 108, cls. 2, 3, and 11 of Act XXII of 1886—Decrees passed in appeal by Commissioner before the date on which Part II of Act XX of 1890 came into force—Second appeals from the decree of Commissioner presented after the said date—Forum for such appeals Act XX of 1890, s. 54—Act I of 1868, s. 6—Meaning of the words "Repeal of an Act" and "proceedings" Per Curiam:—

The application of s. 6, Act I of 1868, to the provisions of Act XX of 1890, amending the Oudh Rent Act XXII, 1886, is not impliedly excluded by the wording of s. 54 of Act XX of 1890, Per Howell, A J C:—A repeal of part of an Act is a "repeal of an Act" within the meaning of s. 6, Act I. 1868. Per Curiam:—A mere change of forum does "affect" proceedings within the meaning of that section. The word "proceedings" in that section includes all the proceedings in a suit from the date of its institution to the date of its final disposal in appeal. S, 6 Act I. 1868 being applicable to the provisions of Part II Act XX 1890, amending the Oudh Rent Act, XXII 1886, appeals presented after the date on which Part II of Act XX 1890, came into force from decrees of Commissioners passed before that date on appeal from original decrees passed by Assistant Collectors of first class in suits brought under s. 108, cls. 2, 3, 8 and 11 of the Rent Act XXII, 1886, lie to the Judicial Commissioner's Court under s. 117 of the Rent Act as it stood before its amendment by Act XX. 1890, not to the Board of Revenue under s 116 of the Rent Act as amended by Act XX, 1890. If at the hearing of any of these second appeals a remand to the lower Appellate Court should be found necessary, it should be made to the Commissioner, Hearsey v. Neja. S. C. 193.

Notes:—Foll: in S. C. 211. Dist: S. C. 293.

11 Order refusing to re-hear exparte case—Order passed before Act XII of 1879 Appeal filed after Act XII of 1879—

The law governing an appeal is the law in force when it is instituted. Where, therefore, an appeal was filed after the passing of Act VII of 1879 (under which an appeal was allowed) against an order refusing to re hear a case decided ex-parte, and the Commisssoner held that as the decision appealed against was passed before the said Act came into force, no appeal lay to his court, held reversing the order of the Commissioner, that such an appeal was admissible, and must be heard and disposed of Court of Wards v. Fatteh Singh P R 75 of 1881,

Appeal-Contd.

(2) Right of Appeal Effect of Repeal on-Concld.

Notes—Dist 97 P R 1907. Ref: 121 P R 1907 =51 P W R 1907.

12—Suit instituted before passing of Act XXV of 1899—Right of appeal, how far affected by new Act—Act XVIII of 1884, Section 40—General Clauses Act, 1897, Section 6.—

Held, by the Full Bench, that the enactment of Act XXV of 1899, which came into force on the 13th October 1899, has not the effect of depriving parties to suits, instituted before that date, of the right or privilege of appeal allowed by Section 40 of the Punjab Courts Act, 1884, as it existed prior to its amendment by Act XXV of 1899. Chaudhri Narsing Dass v Lala Dholan Das 12 P R 1900.

3 ACTS,

(A) Act XXXV OF 1858.

13—Act XXXV of 1858-Order on application for permission to alienate property of lunatic.—An appeal lies under s 22 of Act XXXV of 1858 against an order passed on an application for permission to alienate the property of a lunatic. Dinesh Chunder Banerji v. Soudamini Debi 4 C W N 526.

(B) ACT XL of 1858, Ss. 21, 28.

14-Order rejecting application for removal of guardian—The order af a Judge rejecting an application for the removal of a guardian under Act XL of 1858 is appealable.

Mohendro Nath Mokerjee 7 B L R Ap 9
Mohendro Nath Mookerjee v. Rama Soon duree Dabea. 15 W R 493.

(a) CANCELLING OF ORDER APPOINTING COLLECTOR MANAGFR.

15—Cancelling of order appointing Collector manager-

Whether a Judge cancels his own order under Act XL of 1858 appointing the Collector to take charge of a minor's estate, a friend of the minor on behalf of the minor as the party interested is at liberty to appeal under the provisions of s. 28. Sheo Pershun Chobey v. The Collector of Sarun 13 W R 256

Appeal-Contd.

3 Acts—Contd.

(b) PARTY TO PROCEEDINGS.

16—Minor Act XLV 1858-Appeal from order under section 28 of Act XL of 1858—Certificate withheld under certain circumstances.

An application for a certificate under Act XL of 1858 ought not to be granted when there is a minor who has almost attained his majority, unless under special circumstances, as where very great weakness of mind in the minor is proved, or where it is shown that there is some absolute necessity for the certificate being granted.

Under section 28 of Act XL of 1858 an appeal is allowed to any person injured by an order under the Act. Muhamdee v Nazirun 6 Cal 19=6 C L R 210.

(c) ORDER REFUSING TO RECALL CERTIFICATE UNDER ACT XL OF 1858.

17—Order refusing to recall certificate under Act XL of 1858—

Where a Civil Court, in the exercise of its discretionary power, refuses to recall a certificate granted under Act XL of 1858, there is no appeal from such refusal. Chumutkar Mohinee Dossee v Raj Rakhal Mitter. 22 W R 479.

(d) BURMA COURTS ACT

18—Administration certificate-Burma Courts Act (Act XVII of 1875) s 95—The appeal which is allowed by S. 28 of Act XL of 1858 is subject to the ordinary law of appeal laid down in the Burma Courts Act. So no appeal will lie from an order refusing an application for the issue of an administration certificate under Act XL of 1858, it being impossible to set any specific money valuation on such an application. Mulla Adjim. 14 Calc 351

(C) ACT IX OF 1861.

19—Act IX of 1861, Order passed under—An appeal lies, under Act VI of 1871 to the Judge from an order of the Subordinate Judge passed under Act IX of 1861. Sonamonee Dossee v. Doorga Dossee 17 W R 551.

Appeal-Contd.

3 Acts—Contd.

(d) Act XXIII OF 1861 S 6

20—Act XXIII of 1871, s. 6—Talabana, Failur to deposit—Application for review of judgment—

A filed a memorandum of appeal, but failed to deposit the sum required to defray the cost of issuing the usual notice on the respondent. When the case came on for hearing it was found that, in consequenee of A's failure to deposit, no notice had been served on the respondent; and the Judge dismissed the appeal under s. 6 of Act XXIII of 1861. Within 30 days after this, A presented a petition, explaining the reasons of his default, and praying that, on payment of the talabana, the appeal might be restored to its place; but the Judge, without considering the reasons which A had given in his petition, disallowed his prayer. Held that no appeal lay from the order of the Judge rejeeting A's petition, which was of the nature of an application for a review of judgment.

Kalikrishna Chandra v Harihar Chuckerbutty. 1 B L R A C 155. 10 W R 160.

(1) ORDER DISMISSING APPEAL FOR WANT OF PROSECUTION.

21—Order dismissing appeal for want of prosecution—

There was no provision in s. 6, Act XXIII of 1861, for the readmission of appeals once dismissed under the provisions of that section. No appeal lay from the order dismissing them.

Ramessur Dutt v Lootfunnissa. 6 W R Mis 130.

(c) ACT XIV OF 1863.

22—Act XIV of 1863—Proceedings of Settlement Officer under Act XIV of 1863—

The proceedings of a Settlement Officer under section 3, Act XIV of 1863, were not judgments or orders appealable to the Judge, or especially to the High Court under Act X of 1859.

Ahmed Ali Khan v Nubeea. 2 Agra 239.

(f) ACT XIX OF 1863.

23—Act XIX of 1863—Suit for partition under Act XIX of 1863, s. 8—

An appeal lay to the Judge, in cases of partition under Act XIX of 1863, where the objection raised by the party opposing is severalty of holding by virtue of a former partition.

Kunchun Singh v Choonna. 1 Agra Rev 44.

(g) ACT XX OF 1863.

24—Act XX of 1863, Order passed under—

An appeal does not lie from an order passed under the Religious Endowments Act (XX of 1863), but the party dissatisfied with the order may seek to set it aside by a regular suit.

Khudiram Singh v Sham Singh Poojoory. W R 1864 Mis 25.

Kalub Hossein v Ali Hossein. 4 N W 3.

(1) S 5.

25—S. 5—Civil Procedure Code, 1877, s. 647—

An appeal lies under s. 647 of the Code of Civil Procedure against an order of a District Court under s. 5, Act XX of 1863. Sultan Ackeni Sahib v Bava Malimiyar. 4 Mad 295.

Notes—Fol. 19 Mad 285; 24 Mad 95 Dist. 10 Mad 98; Ex. 11 Mad 319.

(2) ORDER APPOINTING TRUSTEE OF RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT.

26—Order appointing trustee of religious endowment—Civil Procedure Code, s. 622—Superintendence of High Court—

No appeal lies to the High Court from the order of a District Judge under s. 5 of Act XX of 1863 appointing a trustee of a religious endowment. 11 Mad 26 followed. 4 Mad 295, dissented from. The High Court, therefore, can revise such an order under s. 622 of the Civil Procedure Code. Somasundara Mudaliar v. Vythilinga Mudallar. 19 Mad 285.

Notes:—Ref. 26 Mad 89.

(3) S 10.

27—S. 10—District Judge's order for filling vacancy in a committee—It should not be supposed that every matter which comes under the consideration of a Judge is appealable. A right of appeal must be given by some enacted law or any other equivalent outhority. The High Court cannot hear an appeal from the order of a District Judge on a petition under sec 10 of Act XX of 1863 (Religious Endowments) appointing a member to fill a vacancy in a committee

Appeal-Contd.

3 Acts—Contd.

Such a right of appeal is not given either by this Act or by the general law, and so an appeal does not lie from such an order. Minakshi Naidu v Subramanya Sastri. 11 Mad 26=14 I A 160.

Notes—Ap. 9 C W N 956=2 C L J 384; 1 M L J 537. Fol. 25 Cal 146: 19 Mad 285, 24 Mad 95; 26 Mad 176; 178:12 M L J 264 Dist. 10 M L J 398. Ref. 11 Mad 319, 220 F B; 13 Mad 211;22 Mad 172; 23 Mad 314, 9 M L J 173; 10 M L J 51, 13 Bom 650, 23 Bom 22 26 Mad 85. 31 Cal 819. 27 Mad 504; 5 C L J 611 8 C W N 705; 7 C L J 152; 11 Bom L R 1330; 36 Cal 193; 9 C W N 955.

28—S. 10 -No appeal lies to the High Court from an order by a District Judge filling a vacancy on a Committee under s 10 of Act XX of 1863. (11 Mad 26 followed)

Fariuddin Ahmad v. Muhammad Nasarullah Khan. 9 W N 7.

(h) S 18.

29—S. 18—No appeal lies from an order passed under Act XX of 1863 s. 18. Delrus Banoo Begam v Abdoor Rahman 21 W R 368.

30-Act XX of 1863—s 18. There is no appeal from an order passed under this section.

Hajee Kalub Hossein v Ali Hossein. 4 N W P 3.

(1) C P C S 622.

31—Civil Pro Code S. 622—Order refusing permission to sue—An appeal cannot lie against an order, passed under s. 18 of Act XX of 1863 refusing leave to sue nor can such order be revised under s. 622 of Civil Pro- Code if the Judge has used has discretion. 10 Mad 98 note I L R 18 Cal 382. Also an order under s. 18 giving leave to institute a suit is not appealable. Prtap Chandra Misser v Brojonath Messer. 19 Cal 275.

(2) ORDER MADE WITHOUT JURISDICTION

32—Order made without jurisdiction.

Where a Civil Judge, upon a petition applying under s. 18 of Act XX of 1863 for leave to institute a suit, made an order disposing at once of the matter in dispute, and his successor, reversing the former order, decided by an order upon the rights of the parties,—Held that, though both orders were made without jurisdiction, that fact did not give the High Court an appellate jurisdiction in the matter. Kaviraja Sundara Murteya Pillai v Nalla Naikan Pillai 3 M H C 93

(I) ACT XXI OF 1863

33—Act XXI of 1863 s. 27—Interlocutory order of Recorder of Rangoon—Civ. Pro. Code 1859, s 83—No appeal lay to the High Court, under s. 27 Act XXI of 1863, from an interlocutory order of the Recorder of Rangoon passed before judgment in the suit, e..., one passed under s 83, Act VIII of 1859, directing a defendant to furnish security. Quaere—Whether, under Act VIII of 1859 there was any appeal from an order to furnish security under s. 83. Ahmed Ally Mahomed v Gladstone Wyllie 7 W R 508

(J) BENGAL TENANCY ACT VIII OF 1858.

34—Bengal Tenancy (Amendment) Act, S. 1—Effect of—Retrospective validation of sales:

Section 1, Act I of 1903 (B. C.), enacts retrospectively that no transfer which has heretofore been made under s 13 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, shall be deemed to be invalid merely on the ground that the landlord's fee has not been paid; and consequently it validates all such transfers, questioned in appeals pending when the Act was passed. A sale held at the instance of an assignee of a rent decree who is not also an assignee of the landlord's interest in the land if legal, has at most the effect of a sale held in execution of a decree for money under the Civil Procedure Code. Such a sale accordingly does not affect the interest of unrecorded cosharers in the tenure who are not parties to the decree or to the execution proceedings. Manuratt Nath v. Harinath Das I C L J 500,

34 A—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s. 84—order of Civil Court—under s 84 of the Bengal Tenancy Act no appal lies from an order passed by a Civil Court. Goghun Mollah v. Ra Meshur Narain Mahta 18 Cal 271

Notes—Fol 19 Cal 485; 9 C W N 472

(1) C P C SS. 2, 588.

35.—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) ss. 2, 588—An order of a Civil Court under s. 84 of the Bengal Tenancy Act not being a decree within the meaning of s. 2 of the Code of Civil

Appeal-Contd.

3 Acts—Contd.

Procedure nor an appeal being allowed by s. 588 of the Code or by any special provisions of the Bengal Tenancy Act is appealable. 18 Cal 271 referred to and followed.

Peari Mohun Mukerji v Baroda Chucker-butti. 19 Calc 485.

(K) SS. 90, 91.

36—Ss. 90, 91—Measurement order—S. 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure—

A proceeding under S. 90 of the Bengal Tenancy Act is not a suit and the order passed in such a proceeding does not come within the definition of "decree" given in S. 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure and no appeal lies from an order made under S. 91 on an application under S. 90 is not appealable, although by the operation was therein made that the petitioner was entitled to measure with a pole of certain measure. Dya Gazi v. Ram Lal Sukul. 2 C W N 351.

(L) S 104 Cl 2

37—S. 104 cl-2—Decision of a Special Judge Dispute regarding the settlement of Rent-Judge-No appeal lies to the High Court under S. 104 cl 2 of Bengal Tenancy Act from the decision of a special Judge. Lalakirut Narain v Palukdhari Pandey 17 Cal 326.

Notes.—Fol 21 Cal 776 Ref. 33 Cal 837 = 4 C L J 138.

37 A—Ss. 109-A - Appeal from order.

Where an appeal under s. 109-A, was dismissed for default and a petition for revival of the appeal was filed but was rejected.

Held, that S. 588 of the Civ. Pro Code 1882, does not apply to proceedings under s. 106 of the Bengal Tenancy Act.

S. 109-A, sub-sec. (3) confines the power of the High Court to the hearing of second appeals and not appeals from orders either under s. 558 or s. 560 C P C. 12 C W N 888 Ref. Mathura Nath Roy Choudhuri v Basanta Kumar Chakravarthi 36 Cal 510 = 2 Ind Cas 572

(m) SS. 93, 143.

38.—Ss 10, 143—Application for manager—An application under s. 93 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, is not a suit between a landlord and his tenant under s. 143 and no appeal is allowed from an order rejecting such an application.

Hussain Bux v. Mutookdharee Lall. 14 Calc 312.

(N) SS. 105, 106

39 Ss. 105 106 - Res judicata -Settlement—proceeding—Entry of rent.

S 105 of the Bengal Tenancy Act lays down that during the pendency of the draft publication any person affected by an entry in the record may raise an objection with regard to it, which the Revenue officer is to 'receive' and 'consider' and dispose of in a summary manner. From an order disposing of such an objection there is no appeal and no second appeal, and the order cannot have the effect of res judicata. A dispute under S. 106 is to be heard and decided by the Revenue officer under the procedure laid down in the Civil Procedure Code for the trial of suits and is subject to appeal and second appeal, and an order disposing of such a 'dispute' will have the effect of res judicata 24 Cal 462 explained. Karban Ali v. Jafar Ali 5 C W N 798 = 28 Cal 471

(O) S. 153.

40.—S. 153—Appeal—Amount—Held, for the purpose of determining whether an appeal lies or not under s. 153 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, the term "amount" in that section does not mean merely the amount of rent claimed, but the whole amount claimed in the suit inclusive of rent, interest etc. Behary Churn Sen v. Bhut Nath Pramanik. 3 C W N 214.

41—S 153 Appeal—Suit for rent by a cosharer landlord.

S. 153 of the Bengal Tenancy Act covers the case of a suit for rent by a cosharer landlord.

Jogendra Nath Ghosh v Paban Chandra Ghosh 7 C W N 908.

Notes.—Ref: 11 C W N 1026.

(1) Suit for rent.

42.—Rent suit—amount of rent.

The question being about the amount of rent to be paid annually, the plaintiffs claiming Rs. 15 and the defendants alleging the rent to be only Rs 7-8:—Held an appeal lies under s. 153 of the Bengal Tenancy Act. Aubhoy Churn Maji v. Shoshi Bhusan Bose. 16 Cal 155.

Notes:—Appl. 17 Cal 189 F B. Ref: 25 Cal 531 F B, 31 Cal 1026. Fol 8 C W 923.

Appeal-Contd.

3 Acts—Contd.

(2) APPEAL FROM DECREE IN RENT SUIT UNDER Rs. 100

43—Appeal from a decree in a suit for rent under Rs. 100—The words " amount of rent annually payable by a tenant " in S. 153 (a) of the Bengal Tenancy Act include the case of rent payable by a tenant to one of his cosharer landlords who collects his share of the rent separately. Therefore an appeal lies to the High Court in such cases, notwithstanding the fact that the amount claimed is less than Rs. 100

Narain Mahton v Manofi Puttuk 17 Cal 489.

(3) CESSES SUIT FOR.

44—Suit for cesses—Road Cess Act (Bengal Act IX of 1880) S. 47. meaning of rent—cases under Rs. 100.—Appeal—Although the Bengal Tenancy Act declares that in ss. 53 to 68 and ss. 72 to 75 " rent " includes cesses, yet these are enabling provisions, passed to extend the meaning of " rent " and it in no way interferes with the law which refuses a right of appeal in suits below Rs. 100 in value, which law is made applicable to suits for cesses by s. 47 of Bengal Act IX of 1880.

Rajani Kant Nag v. Jageshwar Singh. 20 Cal 254.

Notes—Fol: 4 C L J 119.

(4) SUIT FOR ARREARS OF RENT.

45—Rent suit— Dak cess when rent—appeal under Rs. 100—Where dak cess is claimed under the contract by which the rent is to be paid, it should be regarded as rent i. e. as part of what is lawfully payable in money for use and occupation of the land held by the tenant, and where there is a dispute as to such dak cess, the amount of rent is in dispute, and an appeal will lie even though the amount in dispute is less than Rs. 100 and notwithstanding the provisions of s. 153 of the Bengal Tenancy Act.

Watson & Co. v. Shreekristo Bhumick. I L R 21 Cal 132.

Note—Ref: 22 Cal 680.

(5) ORDER OF REMAND.

46—Remand order—The term " order " in s. 153 of the Bengal Tenancy Act does not mean merely a final order, but it includes an interlocutory one such as an order of remand. S. 153 of the Bengal Tenancy Act does not allow an appeal from remand order made in an action for rent which is for an amount less than Rs. 100, unless such order has determined any of the questions which are specified in s. 153.

Gagan Chand Sardar v. Caspersz. 4 C W N 44.

46A—S. 153 cl. (h)—Co-sharer landlord—Suit for share of rent without making other co-shares parties—Appeal—Second appeal—Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882), S. 522.

A suit by a co-sharer landlord for his share of the rent only without making the other cosharers parties is a suit instituted by a landlord for the recovery of rent within the mening of s. 153. Bengal Tenancy Act.

Where the rent claimed in such a suit did not exceed Rs. 50 and it was tried and dismissed by a Munsif who was specially empowered under cl. (b) of S. 153.

Held, that no appeal lay to the Subordinate judge and hence no second appeal from his decision revising that of the Munsif.

But the decision of the Subordinate judge being without jurisdiction was set aside under S. 622, Civ. Pro Code (12 C. W. N. 249 applied and 8 C. W. N. 472 not followed). Bhagabati Bewa v. Nanda Kumar Chuckerbutty. 12 C W N 835.

(6) S. 173.

47—S. 173—Appeal by an auction puchaser —

An auction purchaser cannot appeal against an order setting aside a sale under s. 173 of the Bengal Tenancy Act. Cal 825 referred to.

Harabandhu Adhikari v Harish Chandra Dey Pal. 3 C W N 184.

Roghu Singh v. Misri Singh. 21 Cal 825.

(P) S. 174.

48—S. 174, Order under Civil procedure Code 1882, s. 244.

An order under s. 174 of the Bengal Tenancy Act is not one under s. 244 of the Civil Procedure Code, and is therefore not appealable. Kishori Mohun Roy v. Sarodamani Dasi 1 C W N 30

Sukh Narain Lal v. Goroke Prosad 3 C W N 344.

Appeal-Contd.

3 Acts—Contd.

49—S. 174—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), S. 311—Application under both sections—Withdrawal of latter—Effect—Appeal.

An order under s. 174 of the Bengal Tenancy Act is appealable, if the question is between the parties to the suit of their representatives, and the question raised, in a question relating to execution, discharge or satisfaction of the decree.

The word "applies" in the proviso to s. 174 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, means "applies and prosecutes."

If a judgment-debtor has made an application under s. 311, C P C he is competent to apply under s. 174 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, if he withdraws his application under s, 311, C. P. C.

Where a judgment-debtor made an application under s. 311, C. P. C., on the 13th July, to set aside a sale held on the 11th July, and subsequently on the 5th August he applied under s.174 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, and the Court ordered that the money might be received if the application under s. 311 was withdrawn, the necessary deposit was made on the following day, and on his application on the 7th August to withdraw the application made under s. 311, C. P. C, the same was dismissed on the 24th August and the application under s. 174, Bengal Tenancy Act, allowed;

Held, that the order under s, 174 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, for setting aside the sale was validly made. Sital Rai v Nanda Lal 13 C W N 591= I Ind Cas 304.

(Q) COMPANIES ACT XIX OF 1857.

50—Companies Act, XIX of 1857—Order placing name on list of contributories of company.

No appeal lay from an order of a District Court placing the name of an alleged allottee on the list of contributories of a company wound up under Act, xix of 1857. Jamiyatram Himatram v. The Gujarat Trading Company 6 B H C 185.

(r) ORDER UNDER COMPANIES ACT (VI OF 1882,) S. 58.

51-Companies Act (VI of 1882) S. 58-Appeal-

An appeal will lie from an order, passed under Section 58 of the Indian Companies Act even though no issue has been directed upon a question of title. Amrita Lall Ghose v Shrish Chunder Chowdhry. 26 Cal 944=4 C W N 101.

Appeal-Contd.

3 Acts—Contd.

52—Companies Act (No. VI of 1882) Ss. 58, 147, 169—Appeal—Notice of intention to appeal—Proper Court to give notice. S. 58 of the Indian Companies Act provides for the rectification of an error, in the register of shareholders during the continuance of a Company. By S. 147 of the Act, a Court is empowered when a company is in liquidation to make orders under the cricumstances set out in S. 58. Notice of an appeal under S. 169 of the Indian Companies Act should be given to the opposite party through the Appellate Court and not throngh the Court whose order is sought to be appealed against. Anand Sarup v Sultan Singh. 2 A L J 311=1905 A W N 75= 27 All 509.

(s) S. 162

53—s. 162, Order under—Notice of appeal—Companies Act, s. 214—Limitation Act (XV of 1877), s. 12.

Held that no appeal lay from an order made under s. 162 of Act VI of 1882 by a Court under the supervision of which proceedings in liquidation were being conducted declining to continue an investigation commenced by it under that section. Held also that, whether or not the service of notice of appeal within three weeks provided for by s. 214 of Act VI of 1882 implies that all the formalities prescribed for the presentation and admission of an appeal by the Code of Civil Procedure must first be gone through before notice of appeal can be served, a person appealing under the said section cannot avail himself of the provisions of s. 12 of the Limitation Act. Wall v. Howard 18 All 215.

Notes--Ref: 19 M L J 511.

54—Company——Order in winding-up proceedings—Appeal against the order—Notice of appeal—Delay in service of notice—Excuse of delay.

In the winding-up proceedings of a Company, an order was passed by the Court on the 12th April 1910. An appeal against the order was lodged on the 22nd idem; but the notice required by S. 169, Companies Act, 1882, was not served on the respondent until the 9th May 1910. In the meanwhile, at the respondent's attorneys' request, the appellant's attorneys furnished a copy of the memo of appeal on the 29th April 1910. The three weeks period prescribed by S. 169 having expired on the 3rd of May 1910, the appellants moved the

Appeal-Contd.

3 Acts—Contd.

the appeal Court for extension of time until the 9th May 1910

Held (1) that for the purposes of computing the period of three weeks prescribed by S 169 of the Act the order appealed against was to be taken as made on the day it was pronounced and not on the day it was drawn up

(2) That the furnishing of the memo of appeal by the appellant's attorneys to the respondent's attorneys on the 29th April 1910 did not constitute giving of the notice required by S 169.

( ) That the notice not having been served in the form and manner prescribed or within the time allowed the appeal was barred under S 169 Goverdhandas Khattao v J Sanders Slater 13 Bom L R 558

55—S 169 Appeal from order winding up—Ex parte application for extension of time—Service of notice within the extended time—Extension made on ex parte application valid right of respondents to object at hearing of appeal

By S 169 of the Indian Companies Act 1882 appeals are provided against orders and decisions made in the winding up of companies It further provides that no appeal shall not be entertained or the same is given without security unless a complaint has been made in a manner new notices of appeal are required to be given under the Code of Civil Procedure unless such notices extended by the court of appeal Certain applications under S 214 for an order against delinquent directors and officers of a company appealed to the High Court against the order of the District Court dismissing their petitions An application was made for extension of time and was granted and notice was given within the extended time—Held that notice of the application was unnecessary but as the order for extension was made ex parte the respondent could object to it at the hearing Such an appeal must under S. 169 be filed within three weeks of the date of the order at the latest Obiter—S 169 of the Companies Act is probably complied with by lodging the memorandum of appeal

Lakshminarasayya Setti v Venkana Setti 25 Mad 576.

Notes—Fol. 19 M L J 511

Appeal-Contd.

3 Acts—Contd.

55A—Ss 169 131—Appeal.

Order holding that withdrawal of an application under S 131 of the Companies Act does not operate as a withdrawal of the rest falls within the purview of S 169 and is consequently appealable Dacca Loan Office Company v Ananda Chandra Roy 31 Cal 106

56—S 169—Time within which appeal should be filed—Power of Court to extend time for serving notice of appeal—Reasonable cause for such extention—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) S 12 whether applies to appeals under the Companies Act Appeals under the Indian companies Act Appeals under the Indian Companies Act must be filed within three weeks from the date of the order appealed against

S tion s t 1877 has no application to appeals under the Companies Act and the appellant cannot demand that the time requisite for filing a copy of the order appealed against should be excluded from the period of time fixed by notice of the appeal within which the appellant is required

Under the Companies Act the Court appealed to has power to extend the time and the Court may properly exercise the power conferred by section 576 18 All 21 The East Indian Distilleries and Sugar Factories Ltd v The Tinneyelly Ssrangapani Sugar Mills Co Ltd 4 Ind Cas 872=19 M L J 511

57 S 169—Notice of appeal

Notice of appeal from an order made in the winding up proceedings should strictly be given within 3 weeks from the date of order and an appeal will not be heard in the absence of such notice. Prosunna Kumar Guha v Bani Kanta Bhattacharjee 30 Cal 758.

57A—S 169——Winding up of a company—Appeal from winding up order Appeal—Limitation Extension of time—Applicability of Ss 5 and 12 Limitation Act, to period prescribed by S 169—Claim for balance of money due to contractor—Charge upon buildings—Limitation Act, Art 132.

According to S. 169, a person filing an appeal

Appeal-Contd.

(3) Acts—Contd.

against an order made in the matter of the winding up of a company must file his appeal with such promptitude as to render service of notice upon the respondent at least possible within the three weeks allowed by the section (Per Johnstone, J)

The notice required by the section need not be notice of hearing of appeal The appellant should add in his memorandum of appeal a separate petition asking in view of the section aforesaid that a special notice be at once issued to the respondent intimating that an appeal has been filed

Although S 169 allows an extension of time that extension should not ordinarily be given in such a way as to extend the three weeks limitation for filing the appeal Extension for service of notice under the section should only be given where delay has been caused not by appellant's laches, but by the conduct of the respondent, raising up an equity in favour of the appellant, or by accident, such as mistakes in the office of the appellate Court, &c Except in circumstances of that sort no extension should be granted where such extension is asked for after the expiry of the three weeks

In a suit by a contractor against a company for the balance of money due to him under a contract for the erection of a building which expressly provided that the contractor should have a lien on the building for any money due to him from the company under the contract it was held that the period of limitation for the enforcement of such claim was 12 years under Art 132 of the Limitation Act 37 L J Ch 51 22 Ch D 484, Ref 7 All 502, Dist Daulat Ram v The Woollen Mills Co, Ltd. 95 P R 1908

57B—S 169—Notice of appeal not given within three weeks, effect of—Extension of time—Sufficient cause—Carelessness of pleader—Leniency by Court, when to be shown

An appeal against the order or decision of a District Judge under the Indian Companies Act cannot be heard, unless notice of the same has been given within three weeks of the date of such order or decision as required by S 169 of the Companies Act.

The carelessness or ignorance of a pleader is not sufficient for extending the time fixed by S 169 of the Companies Act.

Appeal-Contd.

(3) Acts—Contd.

As leniency in extending time in such cases cannot be shown to one party except at the expense of the other party Courts should not show it but for sufficient cause 95 P R 1908 Fol 118 P R 1908 relied upon Hira Lal v. Himalaya Glass Works Co 176 P L R 1911.

570—S 169—Practice—Companies—Winding up—Notice of appeal—Limitation

S 169 Companies Act, while allowing appeals from any order or decision in the matter of winding up of a company provides further that no appeal will be heard unless notice of the same is given within three weeks after the order complained of has been made in the manner in which notices of appeal are ordinarily given under the Code of Civil Procedure unless such time is extended by the Court of Appeal

The presentation of the memorandum of appeal within three weeks of the order complained of will not save limitation, if the notice of the appeal has been given after three weeks from the said order Ghisu Mal v W K Porter. 8 A L J 719.

(8) COURT FEES ACT VII OF 1870

58—Court Fees Act (VII of 1870) S 12 cl 1—Order fixing amount of Court fee chargeable upon a plaint

Any right of appeal given to plaintiff under sections 31 to 36 of Act VIII of 1859 is taken away by section 12, Clause 1 of the Court Fees Act, (VII of 1870) An appeal can only be entertained where the Court below has wrongly decided to the detriment of the revenue No appeal will lie against the order of a District Judge fixing the amount of the Court fee chargeable upon a plaint Vide also Printed Judgments of 1877, page 244 Narayan Madhavrao Naik v. The Collector of Thana. P J (1877) 189 = 2 Bom 145.

Notes:—Fol 2 Bom 219, 9 Bom 355 Dist 12 C L R 118 Ex 4 Mad 204 Ref: 4 M L J 183 F B 23 Bom 486

(1) ORDER REJECTING PLAINT FOR INSUFFICIENCY OF VALUATION

59—Order rejecting plaint for insufficiency of valuation

Appeal-Contd.

(3) Acts—Contd

Held, following 2 Bom 145, that the decision of the Court of the first instance, rejecting a plaint for insufficiency of the valuation and stamp for the purposes of the Court Fees Act (VII of 1870) not being to the detriment of the revenue, is final, and no appeal lies from it.

Monohar Ganesh v. Bawa Ramcharandar. 2 Bom 219.

Notes:—Fol: 9 Bom 355. Dist: 12 C L R 148; 20 Bom 736. Ex: 6 C L J 427. Con: 10 Bom 610. Ref: 4 Bom 515 F B; 12 Bom 672; 17 Bom 56; 19 Bom 191; 23 Bom 486; 11 C W N 705.

60.—Civil Procedure Code, Act X of 1877, s. 1—Act XII of 1879, section 2—Court Fees Act, VII of 1870, section 12,—Stamp, rejection of plaint for insufficiency of—Appeal—"Decree"

Notwithstanding the provisions of section 12 of the Court Fees Act(VII of 1870) an order rejecting a plaint on the ground of its being insufficiently stamped, is appealable as "decree" within the definition of "decree" in the Civil Procedure Code as amended by Act XII of 1870. Ajoodhya Pershad v. Gunga Pershad. 6 Cal 249=6 C L R 567.

Notes:—Ap: 11 All 91 F B; 14 Mad 169. Ref: 12 C L R 148; 16 Bom 23; 23 Bom 486; 4 All 27.

61.—Court Fees Act (VII of 1870), S. 12, Clause II—Appellate Court rejecting appeal for failure to pay Court Fees required for first Court—"Decree"—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) S. 2.

The Lower Appellate Court dismissed under S. 12, Clause II of the Court Fees Act the plaintiffs' appeal to his Court upon their failure to comply with an order to file within a certain period Court fee stamps both for the Court of first instance and for the Appellate Court.

Held, that the order of the Lower Appellate Court was a "decree" within the meaning of S. 2 of the Civil Procedure Code, an order dismissing a suit or an appeal being an adjudication upon a right claimed, which decides the suit or appeal so far as the Court expressing it is concerned. Mela Mal v. Harbhaj. P R 115 of 1884.

Appeal-Contd.

(3) Acts—Contd.

(2) CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1859, S. 36.

62.—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, s. 36.

S. 12 of the Court Fees Act does not prevent a party from appealing to the High Court under s. 36 of the Civil Procedure Code and urging that the Court of first instance was wrong as to the particular article of schedule of fees by which the case was governed. Gungamonee Chowdrain v. Gopal Chunder Roy. 19 W R 214.

Notes:—Fol; 12 C L R 148; 1 All 360. Con: 4 M L J 183 F B. Ref: 4 Mad 204: 23 Bom 486.

(3) APPEAL AGAINST AN ORDER FOR PAYMENT OF ADDITIONAL COURT FEES.

63.—Appeal against an order for payment of additional Court-fees.

The member of a Malabar Tarwad brought a suit in a Subordinate Court to set aside an instrument affecting the whole of the tarwad property in which it was held by the Subordinate Judge that Court-fees were leviable, assessed on the value of the property and accordingly an order for payment of additional fees by the plaintiffs was made and as they failed to do so the suit was dismissed.

Held that, such an order for payment of additional Court-fees was appealable and S. 12 of the Court Fees Act did not prevent the High Court from revising it and reversing the decree.

Kanaran v Komappan. 14 Mad 169.

Notes:—Ap: 4 M L J 183 F B. Fol: 28 Cal 334. Ref. 23 Bom 486.

(4) ORDER AS TO VALUATION AND CLASS TO WHICH A SUIT BELONGS.

64.—Order in respect of the valuation and class to which a suit belongs—Decision as to such class.

An appeal lies against a decision of the lower Court as to the class under the Courts fees' Act under which a suit falls, though it does not lie against its valuation in that class. A decision of the Lower Court holding that a suit is one for specific performance of a contract of sale and liable to be valued according to the amount of the consideration-money and not for a deccere with consequential relief, is appealable.

Appeal-Contd

(3) Acts—Contd.

Dada Bhan Kithu v. Nagesh Ramchandra. P J (1898) 346=23 Bom 486.

Notes:—Fol: 28 Cal 334. Ref: 27 Bom 140.

65.—Suit for removal of Mahant; for declaration of right to appoint a successor, and to enforce the provisions of a will—Value of relief sought—Jurisdiction—Course of appeal—Court-fees Act; Section 7, paragraphs iv (c), v, vi, ix and x (d)—Suits valuation Act, 1887, Section 8—Punjab Courts Act, Section 39.

The plaintiffs in their plaint valued the relief sought as follows:—

	Rs.
(1) Removal of defendant from the office of Mahant	1,000
(2) Declaration of plaintiffs' right to appoint a successor	500
(3) Enforcement of the provisions of a will	1,000

or Rs. 2,500 in all.

The District Judge having found on a preliminary objection raised by the defendant, that the value of the property attached to the institution in question was Rs. 2,53,037-13-11, directed the plaintiffs to file additional Court-fees and upon their refusal to comply with such order rejected the plaint under Section 54, Civil Procedure Code

The plaintiffs thereupon appealed to the Divisional Judge, who returned the memorandum of appeal for presentation to the Chief Court, holding that, though he would have had jurisdiction looking only at the claim as valued in the plaint, his jurisdiction had been taken away by the District Judge's decision that the true valuation was Rs. 2,53,038.

Held, that this view of the law was untenable, and that the appeal should be returned for presentation to the Divisional Judge. The suit being other than any of those referred to in Section 7, paragraphs v, vi and ix, and paragraph x, clause (d) of the Court Fees Act and the value for the computation of Court-fees and for purposes of jurisdiction being the same by virtue of Section 8 of the Suits Valuation Act, 1887; and such value being determinable according to the amount (in this case Rs. 2,500) at which the relief sought was valued in the plaint or memorandum of appeal, the Divisional Judge had jurisdiction to entertain the plaintiffs' appeal, notwithstanding that the District Judge had decided that the true value of the relief sought was in excess of Rs. 5,000. Bawa Mangal Das v. Mahant Narinjan Das. 58 P R 1893.

Appeal-Contd.

(3) Acts—Contd.

66.—S. 12—'Valuation for purpose of determining the amount of court-fees'—Construction of-Question as to what class the suit belongs—Applicability of S. 12—Appeal-Bar.

S. 12 Cl. (1) of the Court Fees Act is no bar to an appeal when the question before the lower Court was to decide merely the class of the suit in order to ascertain under what schedule of the Act, it must be taken to fall for the purpose of fixing the amount payable on the plaint or memorandum of appeal. 12 C L R 148; 1 All 360: 4 Mad 204; 14 Mad 169; 23 Bom 486 app. of,

Studd v Mati Mahto. 28 Cal 334.

(T) COURT FEES ACT (VII OF 1870) S. 7

67—Court Fees Act (VII of 1870) Section 7 of (cl V) and 12-Year next before presenting the plaint decision of the first court-Finality of appeal. A decision of a court regarding the valuation is final under section 12 of the Court Fees Act and cannot be questioned in appeal. But where the valuation is made in respect of a year other than the year mentioned in cl V (c) of section 7, that valuation is quite immaterial and can be questioned in appeal. The year next before the date of presenting the plaint referred to in cl V (c) of the Court Fees Act should be reckoned according to British calendar, next 365 days before the date of presenting the plaint.

Ghasiram v Hargobind 3 A L J 244= (1906) A W N 66=28 All 411

67A—Court Fees Act Sch II, Art 17-Revision for order to pay 'ad valorem' Court-fee.

The Subordinate Judge decided that the suit did not fall within Art 17, Sch II of the Court Fees Act, but that an ad valorem fee was payable and directed the plaintiff to make good the deficiency within one week. Held, that the circumstance that his decision might be wrong did not bring it within the purview of s. 622, C P C. Held, further, that an appeal would lie in the case if the plaint was rejected and therefore no revision lay. Dwarka Prasad v Oudh Commercial Bank Ld. 5 O C 319

Appeal-Contd.

(3) Acts—Contd.

(U) GUARDIAN AND WARDS ACT (VIII OF 1890) S. 22

68—S. 23—Guardian—Nazir—Remuneration—District Court disallowing remuneration—Appeal—Practice—Procedure.

The Nazir of a District Court was appointed guardian of the property of the minors. When transferred, he handed over the charge of the estates to his successor and submitted accounts of his management, praying for remuneration. The District Judge refused to allow him any remuneration on the grounds that the accounts were irregularly and badly kept, that the estates had been mismanaged and that considerable unnecessary expense had been incurred. Against this order, the Nazir appealed:

Held, that no appeal lay against the order, because the Act, clearly gave the Judge a discretion in the matter and it allowed of no appeal against his order. Gangadhar v Shivlingrao 1 Bom L R 547=24 Bom 95.

68A—S. 31 (3) (d)—Order not appealable.

No appeal lies from an order passed under s. 31 (3) (d) of the Guardians and Wards Act, VIII of 1890. Bhiva v Keshava 1 Bom L R 1.

68B—Guardian & Wards Act Ss. 4, 7, 12, 47. The High Court as an appellate Court, has the power to make an interlocutory order appointing an ad interim guardian. Per Mookekjee, J.

The appellate Court, when it hears the appeal is competent to make, in substitution for the order passed by the inferior Court, such an order as, in its opinion, ought to have been passed by that Court; and, as ancillary to the power which the appellate Court thus possesses also the power to appoint a temporary guardian during the pendency of the appeal. The Court, in an appeal from the final order, has in this respect the same power which has been expressly conferred upon the Court of first instance. Panchanan Singh Roy v Dwarka Nath 3 C L J 29.

(1) S. 35.

69—S. 35—Administration bond—Assignment—District Judge.

No appeal lies from an order, passed by the District Judge, under s. 35 of the Guardians and Wards Act, declining to assign the bond.

It is competent to a District Judge to assign the bond, which is passed in his name to a third person. Ganpat v Anna 7 Bom L R 803=30 Bom 164

Appeal-Contd.

(3) Acts—Contd.

69A—S. 35—Administration bond—Assignment—District Judge.

No appeal lies from an order, passed by the District Judge, under s. 35 of the Guardian and Wards Act, declining to assign the bond.

It is competent to a District Judge to assign the bond, which is passed in his name, to a third person. Ganpat v Anna 7 Bom L R 803,

(1) (a) S. 39

70—Sec. 39—Removal of guardian—Appeal.

An appeal does not lie against an order refusing an application for the removal of a guardian who has been appointed by the Court, and also for the appointment of the applicant as the guardian. Pran Bandhu Singh v Brahmamayi Dasya 1 C W N 693

70A—No appeal lies from an order passed under s. 41, Guardians and Wards Act. 1 Bom L R 822

(2) S. 43

71—Ss. 492 and 503:—Guardian and Wards Act VIII of 1890 s. 43—Petition to remove guardian—Injunction—Appointment of receiver—Jurisdiction—Appeal.

In proceedings instituted under the Guardian and Wards Act for the removal of the guardians of a minor, the Court has no power to attach the minor's estate and appoint a receiver to manage it.

Where in proceedings under Act VIII of 1890, the District Judge purported to issue an attachment and appoint a receiver under Ss. 492 and 503, Civil Procedure Code.

Held, that an appeal lay as if the order was really passed under those sections notwithstanding that no appeal was provided for against orders passed under the Act. Abdul Rahiman Sahib and Bhanu Bibi v Ganapathi Bhatta 23 Mad 517

Notes:—Fol: 28 Mad 127=14 M L J 436.

Appeal-Contd.

(3) Acts—Contd.

(3) S. 47

72—S. 47—Guardian—Refusal to remove a guardian.

Under the Guardian and Wards Act,(VIII of 1890) no appeal lies against an order of a District Judge refusing to remove a guardian. Mohima Chunder Biswas v Tarini Sunker Ghose 19 Cal 487

Notes:—Foll 23 Cal 201; 20 All 433. Dist: 19 All 131.

(4) REMOVAL OF GUARDIAN.

73—Removal of guardian—Order refusing to direct the removal of guardian.

An application was made to cancel a certificate of guardianship of the person and property of a minor. The District Judge ordered the certificate to be amended only in respect of the guardianship of the person by appointing the applicant as such guardian. He also ordered a monthly allowance to be paid to her for the education & maintenance of the minor. On the appeal of the applicant to the High Court:—Held, that the order appealed from was one refusing the removal of a guardian, and as such was not appealable under cls. (f) and (g) of s. 47 of the Guardian and Wards Act (VIII of 1890). I L R 19 Calc 487 followed. Pakhwanti Dai v Indra Narain Singh. 23 Calc 201

Notes:—Fol: 20 All 433.

74—Application by guardian for custody of minor—Appeal-Guardian and Wards Act, 1890, Sections 12, 25, 47 (c)—Revision—Right of guardian to custody of minor.

An application by a duly appointed guardian for custody of the minor was rejected by the Additional District Judge on the ground that the proper course for the guardian would be to bring a civil suit against the respondent if she refused to make over the minor to his custody. The guardian appealed to the Chief Court.

Held, that the order of the lower Court was not appealable.

But held, that the said order was open to revision on the ground that the lower Court should have directed the respondent to produce the minor with a view to his being made over to the petitioner, and that in failing to do so, the lower Court failed to exercise a jurisdiction vested in it by law. Wadhawa Singh v Mussammat Malan 13 P R 1897

Appeal-Contd.

(3) Acts—Contd.

75—Act No VIII of 1890, s. 47—Order refusing to direct the removal of a guardian.

An applicant for a certificate of guardianship applied(1)for removal of the existing guardian and (2) for her own appointment as guardian. The application was dismissed. Held, that no appeal would lie from the order of dismissal, such order being an order refusing to direct the removal of a guardian. (19 Cal 487,) (23 Cal 201), and (20 Bom 667) referred to. Imtiazunnisa v. Anwarullah. 18 W N 97, 20 All 433

(5) S. 48

76—Guardians and Wards Act VIII of 1890, Secs. 47 (g), and 48—Order refusing to remove a guardian—Not appealable—Appeal—Practice.

The effect of Secs. 47 clause (g), and 48 of Guardian and Wards Act VIII of 1890 is to allow no appeal from an order refusing to remove a guardian. Bai Harkha, P J 1895, 256= 20 Bom 667

Notes:—Fol: 20 All 433.

77—Civil Procedure Code, 1882, Sections 588 (24), 622 and 647—Appeal—Guardian and Wards Act, 1890, Sections 12 and 48—Order of District Judge fixing the fee of a custodian of the property of the ward appointed under Section 12—Revision—Punjab Courts Act, 1884, Section 70.

Held, that no appeal lies from an order of a District Judge fixing the fee of a custodian of the property of a ward appointed under Section 12 of the Guardian and Wards Act, 1890, but that such an order can be revised under the authority of Section 48 of that Act, Section 70 of the Punjab Courts Act of 1899 although it repealed, re-enacted in a modified form Section 622 of the Civil Procedure Code. Mina Mal v Rai Bahadur Hardhian Singh. 48 P R 1901.

(V) LAND ACQUISITION ACT X OF 1870 Ss. 3, 14, 15, 29.

78—Land Acquisition Act X of 1870, Parts III and IV Secs. 3, 14, 15, 38, and 39—Reference by the Collector to the District Judge—Persons claiming interest in the compensation—Apportionment.

Appeal-Contd.

(3) Acts—Contd.

A Collector having acquired land under the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act X of 1870, and a question having arisen as to the right to the compensation-each of two rival claimants claiming exclusive title the whole of the compensation awarded,—the Collector referred the question to the decision of the District Judge under Sec. 15 of the Act. The District Judge having decided the question in favour of one of the claimants, the other appealed to the High Court. In appeal it was contended that as the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act apply to cases in which there was no question as to the apportionment, and in which each of the claimants laid claim to the entire amount of the compensation, the order passed by the District Judge was not appealable under the provisions of the Act, as there was no question of apportionment to be determined.

Held, that looking to the language of Sec. 15 of the Land Acquisition Act X of 1870, which clearly contemplates the reference of such a dispute being provided for in the subsequent part of the Act, and as there is no other provision in the Act made for it the term "apportionment" in Part IV should be given a liberal construction as including the case where the Court has to decide between rival claimants of the entire compensation. The order of the District Judge was therefore, appealable.

Kashim v. Aminbi and the Collector of Belgaum, P J 1891, p. 286=16 Bom 525.

Note.—Ref: 28 Bom 383.

79.—Land Acquisition Act, 1870 section 29—Agreement of Judge and assessors as to compensation—Finality of decision.

In case the Judge and one or both of the assessors agree as to the amount of compensation in a reference made to the Court under the provisions of Part III of the Land Acquisition Act 1870, their decision thereon shall be final, and no appeal lies, even if they differ upon minor points not falling within the scope of their jurisdiction.

Imam Bakhsh v Collector of Muzaffargarh 36 P R 1892)

(1) S. 39.

80.—S. 39—Additional Judge—Appeal—S. 647 Civil Procedure Code (act XIV of 1882).

An Additional Judge appointed to hear cases under the Land Acquisition Act, 1870, is a District Judge within the meaning of S. 39 of that Act. An appeal lies to the High Court from the decision of an Additional Judge so appointed, under s 647 of the Civil Procedure Code. Poresh Nath Chatterjee v Secretary of State for India 16 Cal 31.

(2) LAND ACQUISION ACT (I OF 1894) SS. 18, 19, 32, 54.

81.—Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894), ss. 18, 19, 32, and 54—Reference by Collector to Judge as to disposal of compensation awarded for land—Appeal from Judge's order.

Held that, an appeal will lie to the High Court from an order of the District Judge made upon a reference by the Collector under ss. 18 and 19 of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, as to the disposal of compensation awarded for land taken up by Government under the Act. I. L. R., 23 Calc 526, followed.

Held, also, that in an appeal from the order of the District Judge above referred to the memorandum of appeal must be stamped as an appeal from an original decree.

Sheo Rattan Rai v Mohri. 21 All 354.

Notes—(1899) W N 96 Con: 26; Mad 288; Fol: 24 All 189; Ref, 31 Cal 214; Dist; 32 Cal 921=2 C L J 595.

82.—Ss. 32, 54—Award—Order for refund of compensation money—Execution, mode of—Civil Procedure Code, Ss. 254, 260, 649.

Where in a proceeding under the Land Acquisition Act, money deposited by the Collector was paid out as compensation to a party by mistake, an order of the Court directing him to refund the money so paid out is not an award or part of an award within the meaning of S. 54 of the Act, neither does it come under any of the orders mentioned in S. 588 of the Code of Civil Procedure and no appeal therefore lies against such order. The Court has jurisdiction under Ss. 254 and 649 of the Civil Procedure Code to enforce its order for refund, by imprisonment of the party against whom the order is made or by the attachment and sale of his property in the manner provided in the Code or by both, even though S. 260 of the Civil Procedure Code may not be applicable.

Nobin Kali Debi v Ban-lata Debi. 2 C L J 595.

Appeal-Contd.

(3) Acts—Contd.

83.—Act I of 1894 (Land Acquisition)—Act VII of 1870 (Court Fees), s. 11—Scope—Appeal under Land Acquisition Act, 1894.

The amount awarded by a decree in appeals under the Land Acquisition Act must be limited to the amount which the appellant claims in the appeal memorandum and for which he has paid court-fees. Mahomed Ali Amjad Khan. v Secretary of State for India. 30 Cal 501.

Notes.—53 P R 1906 Ref:=103 P L R 1906.

84.—Ss. 32, 54—Compensation money paid to Hindu widow—Reversioner's application for reference—Order by judge in reference directing refund—Appeal—Revision—Civil Procedure Code S. 622.

Where a Land Acquisition Collector having awarded a certain sum as compensation for land acquired, paid it to, among others, a Hindu widow, and almost six months after the award her daughter asked for a reference to the Civil Court, and a reference having been made, the Judge ordered the lady to repay the amount withdrawn by her and the same to be dealt with according to the provisions of S. 32 of the Land Acquisition Act:—Held:—That until money was deposited in Court by the Collector, the Court could not proceed to deal with it under S. 32; that the Judge had no power to direct a refund of money already paid by the Collector; that the order was not one under S. 32, Land Acquisition Act, as the Judge was not in a position to make such an order and so no appeal lay from it and the High Court could properly interfere under S. 622, Civil Procedure Code. Gobindarani Dassi v Brinda Rani Dassi. 12 C W N 1039 =35 Cal 1104.

85.—Ss. 25, 27 and 54—Award of costs—Appeal—Civil Rules of Practice or Rules applicable to Presidency Small Cause Court to be applied in calculating vakil's fee.

By s. 25, the award is to state the costs incurred, and by S. 54 an appeal lies against any part of the award. So, it is not possible to say that the award of costs is not part of the award and it must be held that an appeal lies.

The effect of s. 27 of the Land Acquisition Act is not to leave the fixing of the amount for the vakil's fee in the discretion of the Court. In cases in which proper value can be attached to the suit, the Civil Rules of practice or else the rules applicable to the Presidency Small Cause Court should be applied in calculating the vakil's fee. Ekambara Gramany v Muniswamy Gramany 31 Mad 328.

Appeal Contd.

(3) Acts—Contd.

86.—S. 16—Claim heard by Assistant Judge under the Land Acquisition Act (1 of 1894)—Value of the subject-matter not exceeding Rs. 5,000-lies to District Court and not to High Court.

Where in a compensation case under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, heard by an Assistant Judge, the amount does not exceed Rs. 5,000 the appeal lies to the District Court and not to the High Court. 10 Bom L R 924=32 Bom 634 Appl Ranchhodbhai Valavbhai v The Collector of Kaira. 11 Bom L R 317=33 Bom 371 =2 Ind Cas 492.

(w) MILITARY COURTS OF REQUEST ACT (XI OF 1841).

87.—Military Courts of Request Act, XI of 1841.

An appeal lay under Act XI of 1841. Guntham Doss v Mooltan Mull 2 N W 229.

88.—An appeal lay to the High Court of Judicature for the North-Western Provinces from the decree of a Military Court of Request held at Morar, Gwalior. Mooltan Mull v Gunsam Doss. 3 N W 75.

(x) REGISTRATION ACT (XX OF 1866)

89—Registration Act (XX of 1866).

No appeal lies to the High Court from an order passed under the Registration Act. Rameesur Mahatah v Kullyanessuree Debia. 9 W R 283.

Notes.—Ref: 7 Bom L R 723; 772.

(1) SS. 32, 83, 84, 52

90.—Ss. 32, 83, and 84

No appeal lay from an order by a Registrar refusing to exercise his discretion under s. 32, Act XX of 1866. Such an order came neither within s. 83 nor s. 84 of the Act. Sarkies v Sangram Singh. 6 B L R 578. note: 14 W R 194

91.—S. 52—Order refusing to allow amount of decree to be levied by instalments.

Appeal-Contd.

(3) Acts—Contd.

There is no appeal from an order refusing to allow the amount due under a decree passed upon an obligation specially registered under s. 52, Act XX of 1866, to be levied by instalments, and directing immediate enforcement of the decree. Rash Behary Babu. 7 W R 130.

Notes.—Ref: 1 All 101:, 377

(2) SS. 52, 53.

92.—Ss. 52, 53—Order in execution of decree—Bond specially registered—Registration Act, XX of 1866, ss. 52, 53.

Held (Stuart, C. J., dissenting) that an appeal lay from an order passed in the execution of a decree obtained under the provisions of s. 53 of Act XX of 1866, upon a bond specially registered under the provisions of s. 52 of that Act. I. L. R. 1 All 377, overruled. 7 W R 130 and 18 W R 572 dissented from. Wilayat-un-nissa v Najib-un-nissa. 1 All 583.

Notes.—Fol: 16 All 586 F B; 5 Bom 673 F B,

93.—S. 53.

An appeal lay from an order in execution of a decree made under s, 53 of Act XI of 1866. Bhikambhat v Fernandez. I 5 Bom 673.

Notes.—Fol: 12 Cal 511 F B; Ref: 10 Cal 196 P C; 6 Bom 54.

94.—No appeal would lie from decree nor from orders passed in execution of a decree under s. 53 of Act XX of 1866. Bhurub Chunder v Golap Coomary. 3 Cal 517. Purus Ram v Deo Koer 4 N W 29.

95.—No appeal lying against a decree made under s. 53, Act XX of 1866, the petition was directed to be returned, with a view to its being presented to the Court, if desired by way of motion. Rash Behary Babu v Gurudass Babu 7 W R 115.

(3) SPECIALLY REGISTERED BOND.

96.—Bond, specially registered.

There is no second appeal to the High Court against an order passed on an application for execution of a decree made in a suit brought on a bond specially registered under s. 53 Act XX of 1866. Quære—Whether an appeal would lie at all against such an order passed in proceedings taken in execution of such a decree. Shir Bullav Bhattacharji v Baburam Chattopadhya 11 Cal 169.

Appeal-Contd.

(3) Acts—Contd.

Notes.—Ap; 18 All 481 F B: Ref: 17 M L J 376; Rel: 30 Mad 212.

(4) SS. 54, 55

97.—Act XX of 1866 s. 54, 55-Order in execution proceedings.

No appeal lies against order passed in execution of a decree under Act XX of 1866, the procedure under that Act having been expressly saved by Act VIII of 1871, which repealed Act XX of 1866. Ramanund v The Bank of Bengal. 1 All 377.

Notes:—Over; All 583 F B.

(5) S. 55.

98.—S. 55

An appeal is not barred by anything in S. 55 of Act XX of 1866 if it is from an order or decree passed in proceedings in execution of a decree made under S. 53 of that Act. Shri Bullav Bhattacharji v Baburam Chattopadhya. 12 Cal 511.

99.—In cases in which s 55 of Act XX of 1866 bars an appeal, it does so equally in matters of execution as in respect of the decree passed. Hurnath Chatterji v Futtick Chunder Samaddar. 18 W R 512. Radha Kristo Dutt v Gunga Narain Chatterjee. 23 W R 328. Huro Sunduri Debia v Punchuram Mondul. 24 W R 225.

(6) S. 84.

100.—S. 84—Order refusing to register document.

Held that, there was no appeal to the High Court from the decision of a District Court on a petition under s. 84 of Act XX of 1866, to establish the right to have a document registered; nor would the Court interfere with such a decision under Regulation XI of 1827, s, 5, cl. 2. Dharamdas Bhavanidas. 3 B H C 104.

(X 7) ORDER OF DEPUTY COMMISSIONER.

101—Order of Deputy Commissioner-District of Chota Nagpore.

An appeal under s. 84, Act XX of 1866, from the order of a Deputy Commissioner in Chota Nagpore, must be made to the Judicial Commissioner, who exercises the powers of a Zillah Judge in all the districts of that division.

Appeal-Contd.

3 Acts—Contd.

Budhu Mahatoon 8 W R 266.

(8) ORDER OF DISTRICT COURT.

102—Order of District Court—

An order of a District Court under s. 84 of Act XX of 1866 was not appealable to the High Court. Salgram Misser v. Janki Koer 9 W R 122.

(y) DECREE UNDER S.77, REGISTRATION ACT 1877.

103—Decree under s. 77 Registration Act 1877—Suit to compel registration.

An appeal lies from a decree undsr s.77 of Act III of 1877 in a suit to enforce registration. In such a suit there is no reason why either the registrar or Government should be a party and it should be brought in the Court of the lowest competent jurisdiction. Shri Vishwambhar Pandit v. Prabhakarbhat P J (1884) 10= 8 Bom 269.

Notes:—Dist: 11 Bom 519.

(z) STAMP ACT (X OF 1862 S. 17.)

104.—Stamp Act (X of 1862), s. 17—Order rejecting document tendered in evidence-Finality of order.

Held that an appeal lies to the High Court from the decision of a Judge in division Court rejecting a document tendered in evidence under s. 17 cl. 1, of Act X of 1862, on the ground that there had been an intention to evade the payment of stamp duty. The point upon which the decision of the Court is to be final, under s. 17 of the Stamp Act, is as to what is the proper amount of stamp duty which the document ought to bear, and not as to whether the Court ought or ought not to receive the document in evidence.
R oyal Bank of India v. Hormasji Khozedji 3 B H C 153.

(Z 1) PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT.

105—S. 46 (4)—Appeal—Exclusion of time for copy—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), Ss. 12, 29.

The Provincial Insolvency Act was intended to be and is, so far as matters governed by it are concerned, a complete code in itself and retains its own limitation law. Held, that, in computing the period of ninety days prescribed for presenting an appeal to the High Court under the said Act, the time requisite for obtaining a copy of the order complained of cannot be excluded, and therefore an appeal from an order passed on 13th August, 1909, and presented on 1st December, 1909, is barred by time. Jugal Kishore v Gur Narain. 8 A L J 833.

Appeal-Contd.

3 Acts—Contd.

(Z 2) ACT XXVI OF 1867

106—Act XXVI of 1867—Order as to valuation of suit.

Under Act XXVI of 1867, the decision of a Court of first instance as to the valuation of the subject-matter of a suit is final. Ishan Chandra Mookerjee v Lokenath Roy. 6 B L R Ap 12 =14 W R 451.

Mofizuddin v Karimunnissa Bibee. 6 B L R Ap 11=14 W R 381

Notes—14 W R 451.

(Z 3) SCH B ART 11 NOTE.

107—Sch B, Art 11 note-Order rejecting plaint for under-valuation—Act VIII of 1859, ss. 30 and 36.

Where a plaint is rejected under s. 30 of Act VIII of 1859 by the first Court, on the ground that it is under-valued, an appeal lies from such order under s. 36 of Act VIII of 1859, and this appeal was not taken away by the note to Art. 11, sch B to Act XXVI of 1867, the object of which was to prevent appeals only where the question merely related to the amount of stamp to be impressed upon the plaint. Collector of Sylhet v Kali Kumar Dutt. 7 B L R 663=16 W R F B 10 Contra Mudhusudan Chuckerbutty v Rymani Dasi. 7 B L R 664 note 13 W R 415.

Notes:—15 W R 291.

108—Pre-emption—Value of suit—Punjab Courts Act, 1864, Section 40 (8) (a).

A sued for pre-emption of certain property on payment of Rs. 400, the price stated in the deed of sale. The real value of the property sold was upwards of Rs. 2,000. The Courts below concurred in decreeing the claim. The defendant appealed, and a preliminary objection was taken to the hearing of the appeal on the ground that the value of the suit was below Rs. 1,000 and therefore no further appeal lay to the Chief Court.

Appeal-Contd.

3 Acts—Contd.

Held, that the appeal lay under Section 40 (1)(a) of the Punjab Courts Act, 1884, as the decree involved directly a claim to property of the value of over Rs. 1,000. Lachman Das v Hakim Singh 94 P R 1890.

109—S. 177, Cl (e). Question of proprietary right—Appeal.

In answer to a suit to eject the tenant as being a tenant from year to year the defendant pleaded that he held proprietary malikana rights in the land, and that he paid neither rent nor revenue. The court of first instance went into the question and found that the defendant and her predecessor in title had held the land free of rent:—Held, that an appeal lay in this case to the District Judge under S. 177, Cl (e). Rai Bahadur v Jasodhia 1905 A W N 259=2 A L J 786.

110—Punjab Courts Act, 1888, Section 40, clause (a)—Suits Valuation Act, 1887, Section 4—Valuation of subject-matter of suit in the Appellate Court.

In a suit for the possession of land, the value of which under the Rules framed under Section 4 of the Suits Valuation Act was less than Rs. 500, both the lower Courts concurred in decreeing the claim. The defendants thereupon, without obtaining a certificate for appeal, appealed to the Chief Court, alleging that the market value of the land was over Rs. 1,000, and that an appeal lay under the second branch of clause (a) Section 40 of the Punjab Courts Act.

Held, that the decree of the Divisional Judge confirming the decree of the first Court, which decreed the plaintiffs' claim to proprietary possession of land, which claim, valued according to the Rules framed under Section 4 of the Suits Valuation Act, 1887, did not amount to Rs. 1,000 in value, was a decree which did not fall under the second branch of clause (a) of Section 40 of the Punjab Courts Act, 1888, being a decree in which the claim to, or question respecting land was identical with the subject-matter of the suit, which was excluded from appeal under the first branch of that clause, because the value of the suit did not amount to Rs. 1,000. Kanshi Ram v Sujan Singh 132 P R 1893.

111—Appeal, course of—Provincial Small Cause Courts Act (IX of 1887), Schedule II, Article 4.

Appeal-Contd.

3 Acts—Contd.

A Suit for possession of immoveable property being excepted under Article (1) of the Second Schedule of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act from the jurisdiction of a Court of Small Causes, a suit to recover Rs. 200, the price of materials of a house, and also to obtain possession of a small plot of building, is not a "small cause suit" within the meaning of Section 3 of the Punjab Courts Act, and not being a "land-suit" must be an unclassed suit, and under Section 39 of the Punjab Courts Act, the appeal from the decree of a Munsif lies to the Divisional Court and not to the Court of the District Judge. Jowahir Mal and v Fattu Mal. 60 P R 1900.

112—In this case the plaintiff's agent being unacquainted with the facts of the case the Court ordered him to produce some person qualified to represent the plaintiff.

A karinda of the plaintiff was accordingly brought to Court but he also proved to be unacquainted. The Court then ordered the agent to produce the plaintiff on the 1st May. On that the plaintiff pleaded illness as an excuse for non-attendance and the case was adjourned for the 12th. May, the plaintiff did not appear and the case was again adjourned for the 13th. On the 13th the plaintiff failing to appear, the Court dismissed the suit against the defendant who did not admit the plaintiff's claim. The District Judge in appeal held that the order of the Court was one under s. 125 of Act XVIII of 1873 read with s. 143 and the remedy against such order was not by way of appeal, under s. 128. Held that if the suit was dismissed, as suggested by the pleader for the appellant, under s. 136, the provision of s. 128 would be applicable and there was no appeal to the District Judge. Janki Prasad v Mangli. 1 W N 92.

113—"Land-suit"—Village graveyard—Further appeal.

The plaintiffs sued, alleging that 56 kanals, 3 marlas of land had been reserved as the village graveyard from the foundation of the village, and that the defendants had brought 6 kanals of it under cultivation two years previously, and made thorn enclosures and taken possession of certain portions.

Held, that the suit was not a land-suit, and that the suit being valued at Rs. 150, a further appeal to the Chief Court was not competent without a certificate from the Divisional Judge under Section 40, sub-section 1 (d), Punjab Courts Act. Ilahi Bakhsh v Fatta. 20 P R 1892.

Appeal-Contd.

3 Acts—Contd.

114—Punjab Courts Act (XVIII of 1884), Section 40—Small Cause under Rs. 500 in value—Claim involving property exceeding Rs. 500 in value—Further appeal.

Held that the effect of proviso 2 to Section 40 of the Punjab Courts Act is to lay down as an absolute rule that no further appeal lies in small causes not exceeding Rs 500 in value, even though the decree may involve directly a claim to property exceeding Rs. 500 in value. Mahant Abnashi Ram v Mahant Lakhmi Das 95 P R 1887.

115—Punjab Courts Act, 1884 (as amended)—Suit for declaration of proprietary title to a share in a well—Land-suit—Provisions of the law for obtaining a final decision as to whether a suit is cognizable by the Civil or Revenue Courts.

S. K., a Nari Rajput, who had four sons and one daughter, married his daughter in the time of the Sikhs to Sale Khan, a Bhati Rajput, who came to reside with him.

N. K., one of S. K's sons, died without male issue, but leaving a daughter: the descendants of the other three sons of S. K. were defendants in the present suit.

Three sons were the issue of the marriage between Sale Khan and S. K's daughter, of whom only two, Kesar and Sharfu, had male issue.

Kesar married the daughter of N. K., and the issue of this marriage were also defendants in the present suit.

Sharfu had three sons who were the plaintiffs in the suit.

The plaintiff's case was that S. K. gave one-fourth share of a well and the land belonging to it to his son-in-law, Sale Khan, from whom it devolved on his two sons in equal shares; and plaintiffs asked for a declaration, as sons of Sharfu, son of Sale Khan, of their proprietary title to a one-thirteenth share in the well on the ground of gift of a share by S. K, to Sale Khan.

Held, that this was a land and not an unclassed suit. 62 P. R., 1891, followed.

Appeal-Contd.

3 Acts—Contd.

Attention drawn to the provisions of the law for obtaining a final decision, in cases of doubt, whether a suit is cognizable by the Civil or Revenue Courts, viz :—

Section 99, Punjab Tenancy Act, 1887.

Section 44, Punjab Courts Act, 1884 (as amended by Act XIII of 1888).

Section 617, Civil Procedure Code, 1882.—

Dhani Khanv Mahatab Khan 40 P R 1893.

116—Punjab Courts Act, 1884—Pre-emption suit—Value for purposes of appeal.—Punjab Laws Act, 1872, Section 9—Pre-emption—Sale of immoveable property—Exchange.

In a pre-emption suit, of which the value for purposes of jurisdiction was found to be less than Rs. 1,000, the decree of the first Court, affirmed upon appeal, was for possession of the land in suit on payment of the sum of Rs. 2,822, the plaintiff having claimed it on payment of Rs. 2,500, and the deed of sale showing the price to be Rs. 4,500 and one ghumao of land.

Held, that the decree involved directly some claim to or question repecting property of the value of Rs. 1,000 or upwards, namely, the price to be paid for the land in suit by the plaintiff in his character of pre-emptor, and that an appeal therefore lay under the second part of clause (a) of Section 40, sub-section (1), of the Punjab Courts Act, 1888, without a certificate.

Held also, that a permanent transfer of land in a village for a sum of money, plus something that is not money, does not, merely because of such addition, of necessity cease to be a sale within the meaning of Section 9, Punjab Laws Act.

P. R. III 12 of 1884, of 1885 and 54 of 1889, referred to. Gul Muhammad Khan v Khan Ahmad Shah 29 P R 1893.

117—Punjab Courts Act, 1884, Section 40 (i) (d) and (ii)—Further appeal—Application for revision treated as an appeal.

A further appeal lies to the Chief Court under Section 40 of the Punjab Courts Act, 1884, only from an appellate decree as distinguished from an order of the Divisional Court. Where a Divisional Judge in a case in which he had passed an order not open to appeal refused to certify the case as fit for appeal, Held, that an application for revision of this order could not be dealt with as a further appeal under clause (2) of the above section. Goraon v Nanak (79 P R 1890)

Appeal-Contd.

3 Acts—Contd.

118—Right to use of water—Land-suit—Punjab Courts Act, 1884, Section 3—Appeal.

The plaintiff sued to establish his right to the use of water of the Dabgana Canal for irrigating land as defined in Section 4 of the Punjab Tenancy Act 1887: no claim was made to any share in the land occupied by the canal, or in the canal as a whole.

Held, (Roe, J doubting), that the suit was not a "land-suit" as defined in Section 3, Punjab Courts Act 1884 (as amended). Sultan Ali Shah v Kadir Baksh (No 1 P R 1892 F B.

119—Insolvency proceedings— Act IV of 1872 SS, 22, 25 28, 37.

Held, that no appeal lies to the Chief Court from the order under Sections 25 and 28 of the Punjab Laws Act of a Court exercising Insolvency jurisdiction under Section 22 of that Act, as in the absence of any provision in the Act making the orders of such Courts subject to appeal, Section 22 cannot be construed as investing the Local Government with the power to confer jurisdiction to hear appeals, nor can the rules for the better administration of insolvent estates which the Chief Court, with the sanction of the Local Government, is empowered to make by Section 31 of the Act, confer any such jurisdiction.

Simla Bank v. Tavenor (P. R. 65 of 1882 Civil.)

Notes;—Fol 33 P R 1883; 62 P R 1886

120—Civil Procedure Code, 1882, Section 622—Punjab Courts Act 1884 Sections 40, 70—"Rules and orders of the Chief Court," No LV, Rule IV—Unclassed suit of less that Rs. 100 in value—Appeal.

Section 70 of the Punjab Courts Act 1884 must be read specially in connection with proviso (ii) to sub-section (i) of Section 40 of that Act, and generally with the whole of the latter section. Its object is to provide that no application for revision under Section 622, Civil Procedure Code, should be entertained until the procedure laid down in clause (d) of sub-section (i) had been complied with, and a certificate refused by the Divisional Judge. Until this is done, it is not to be held that no appeal lies.

The use of Section 70 is now limited to cases in which an application for revision from the order refusing a certificate is not made within the time prescribed by sub-section (ii) of section 40 of the Punjab Courts Act, 1884.

In an unclassed suit of less than Rs 100 in value an appeal lies to the District Judge, and the Division Judge, though the superior Court is not competent to entertain an appeal direct from the first Court in such a suit. Salig Ram v Municipal Committee, Sonepat (86 P R 1896).

121—Punjab Courts Act, Section 39 (b) and (c)—Value of suit—Mesne profits - Course of appeal.

The plaintiffs sued for mesne profits alleged to have been realised by a Receiver. The plaintiffs, for the purposes of Section 50, Civil Procedure Code, valued the relief sought approximately, at Rs. 2,000. They were decreed Rs. 3405,-15-6, and they appealed for Rs.1,946 more. The defendants also appealed against the whole decree.

Held, that the appeal, from the District Judge's decree lay to the Divisional Court and not to the Chief Court.

63 P R 1891 referred to. Sardar Kirpal Singh v Nawab Khan 40 P R 1892.

122-126-Punjab Courts Act, Section 3-Jurisdiction—Appeal—Land suit—Claim for date trees.

A suit for date trees—no claim being made in respect of the land upon which the trees stand—is not a "land-suit" within the definition of that term contained in Section 3, Punjab Courts Act, 1884 (as amended). 15 P R 1892 (F B), referred to. Yaro v. Adil (No 46 P R 1893).

127—Order passed in execution of decree in small cause—Decree giving effect to compromise dealing with immoveable property—Course of appeal.

On an application for revision of an order passed in execution proceedings it appeared that the original decree in the suit was intended by the Court to give effect to a compromise made between the parties which had been fully recorded under Section 375, Civil Procedure Code, and which included a mortgage by way of "lekha mukhi" from defendant to plaintiff of certain lands for the payment of the sum acknowledged to be due, but that the suit in which such decree was made was one of a nature cognizable by a Small CauseCourt, and under Rs. 500 in value.

Appeal-Contd.

3 Acts—Contd.

Held, that as any appeal from the decree in the original suit lay to the District court under clause (1) of Section 40 of the Punjab courts Act and not to the Divisional Court, the nature and value of the suit rather than of the decree determining the Court of appeal,it followed that the appeal from an appealable order made in execution of the decree lay to the same Court.

Tola Ram v Devi Ditta (55 P R 1887).

128—Appeal-"Land-suit"-Right in tank used for watering cattle and excavating earth to make brick.

Plaintiff sued for declaration of right in a tank, valued at Rs. 900 which was used for watering cattle and excavating earth to make bricks.

Held, that, as these were not agricultural purposes or purposes subservient to agriculture the tank was not" land" as defined in the Punjab Tenancy Act, and that, therefore, no further appeal lay. Tej Ram v Tulsi (48 P R 1898).

129—SS 188 & 189.—Final—Rehearing—Appeal—(Act XVIII of 1873) A suit for Rs. 108-12-4 arrears of rent was brought in the court of the Assistant Collector of the first class and was decided by him. After such decision one of the parties applied for the rehearing of the suit upon the ground that they had discovered new evidence. The Assistant Collector granted the application and made a new decree which was affirmed on appeal to the Distaict Judge. Held in second appeal, that as the suit was one in which the judgment of the Assistant Collector was not final, the Assistant Collector was not competent under s. 188 of Act No XVIII of 1873 to rehear the suit. His second decree and the decree of the District Judge affirming it were invalid and must be set aside. Manik Rai v HariDas I W N 141.

130—Financial commissioner.

Appeals filed in the Court of the Financial Commissioner and pending at the time of the passing of Act IV of 1866 could not be transferred to or determined by the Chief Court, the word "may"in Section 52 of that Act meaning"must"and conveying no option to the Financial commissioner to hear the appeals or transfer them to the Chief Court. Nijabut Ali Khan v. Kootub-ood-din Khan (P R 41 of 1867, Civil).

131.—Punjab Courts Act, 1884, section 40 (i) (a)—Pre-emption suit—Further appeal.

Plaintiff sued for pre-emption of certain land, the value of which, calculated at thirty times the revenue, was considerably below Rs. 1,000, upon payment of Rs 700, and defendants pleaded (inter alia) that Rs. 1,000 the price entered in the sale-deed, was fixed, in good faith, and was not in excess of the true market value. The suit having been dismissed by both lower Courts and a certificate refused by the Divisional Court on the 12th March 1894, plaintiff on the 21st April 1894 filed a further appeal in the Chief Court.

Held, that under Section 40(i) (a) of the Punjab Court Act, 1884, no further appeal lay as of right to the Chief Court, the true value of the suit being less than Rs. 1,000, and the decree, which merely dismissed the suit, not involving directly any question concerning the price to be paid by the pre-emptor.

Held, also that the decree did not involve directly a question concerning land of Rs. 1,000 in value, merely because the true market value of such land might be of that amount.

132 P R 1893 followed.

Nanha v. Kura, 3 P R 1896.

132.—Jurisdiction—Suit for redemption of mortgage—Course of Appeal—Punjab Courts Act 1884, Section 39.

Plaintiff sued for redemption of an 11/30th share of a mortgage of certain lands and houses for a total sum of Rs. 10,500, alleging that Rs 2,000, more or less, were due upon the said share, and prayed for a decree for redemption on payment of any sum which might be found to be due thereon after proper adjustment of the accounts. Defendants pleaded that about Rs. 10,000 were due upon the said share, and the first Court decreed redemption upon payment of Rs. 7,558. Plaintiff appealed to the Divisional Judge, who entertained the appeal, and, in modification of the decree of the first Court, allowed redemption upon payment of Rs. 3,850. The question referred to the Full Bench was whether the Divisional Judge had jurisdiction to hear the appeal.

Appeal-Contd.

3 Acts—Contd.

Held, by the Full Bench, that the Divisional Judge had jurisdiction to hear the appeal, there being nothing upon the plaint to show that the value of the suit exceeded Rs. 5,000, and the question of jurisdiction having to be determined with reference to the claim made and not to the decision upon the claim.

44 P R 1888 (F B), 169 P R 1888, 91 P R 1889 and 63 P R 1891 cited 56 P R 1892 (F B), explained. Muhammad Khan v Ashak Mohammad Khan 106 P R 1895. F B.

133.—Punjab Courts Act (XVIII of 1884). Section 39—Order passed by Munsiff in execution of decree in suit not cognizable by Small Cause Court—"Decree"—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), Section 2—Course of appeal.

Held, that the appeal from an order of a Munsiff passed in execution of a decree in a suit other than a small cause, which order falls within the definition of a "decree" in Section 2 of the Civil Procedure Code lies to the Divisional Court, and not to the Court of the District Judge, under Section 39 of the Punjab Courts Act 1884. Mukand Lal v Harbhaj Rai 4 P R 1887.

134.—Act IV of 1871—Insolvency proceedings—

Held, that no appeal lies against an order passed in Insolvency proceedings under Act IV of 1872. P R of 1882 Civil P R 33 of 1893 Civil followed. Ram Mal v Ladha Singh P R 62 of 1886 Civil

135.—S 172—Civil and Revenue Courts—Jurisdiction—Appeal:—

Where in answer to a suit for ejectment as a trespasser brought by a lambardar, the defendant pleaded that he held the land from which it was sought to eject him not as a tenant but as a co-sharer; it was held that this plea raised a question of proprietary title and an appeal consequently lay to the District Judge. 1900 W N 46 ref to. Indar Lal v Deojit 1907 A W N 26= 4 A L J 1=30 All 25.

Appeal-Contd.

3 Acts—Contd.

136.—U P Tenancy Act S 175—No appeal from orders to execute decree orders—Decrees:—

An appeal does not lie from an order of an Assisstant Collector of the first class passed on an application to execute a decree of a court of Revenue, such orders not having the force of decrees (27 All 31, Overruled). Mussammat Zohra v Manju Lal 1906 A W N 203= 3 A L J 569 (F B)

137.—Succession Certificate Act S 19—Appeal—Agent to the Governor of Vizagapatam—General Clauses:—

An appeal lies under s 19 of the succession Certificate Act from the order of the Agent to the Governor of Vizagapatam (18 Mad 227 Diss). Babubalendrani Guruvaraju v Babubalendrani Chandrasakara Raja. 3 M L T 264= 18 M L J 252=31 Mad 362.

138.—Landlord and tenant-Ejectment for non-payment of rent-Application for, by landlord against tenant—Warrant of ejectment granted by Collector-Subsequent order of Collector cancelling the warrant and declining to order ejectment, if a Judgment-Right of appeal to the District Court-Rent Recovery Act (VIII of 1865 Madras) Secs 41,43, 69. Held by the Full Bench that an appeal lay to the District Court against an order of the Collector setting aside his previous order for the issue of a warrant for the ejectment of a tenant under section 41 of the Rent Recovery Act VIII of 1865 and declining to order ejectment. 5 M H C R 289 Considered 22 Mad 236: 25 Mad 453 Referred to. Dontarauj Subbarayadu v Nehkalappudi Lingayya 2 M L T 106= 30 Mad 473=17 M L J 129.

Z(4) PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT.

139.—S 16—Probate and Administration Act V of 1881 Ss. 86, 51, 52—District Judge—Assistant Judge deciding applications wherein the subject-matter does not exceed Rs. 5,000 in value—Appeal to District Court—No direct appeal to High Court—Power of local Legislature to amend an Act passed by the Supreme Legislative Council—India Councils Act 55 and 56 Vic C 14 S 5.—

The Probate and Administration Act 1881, being a law made by an authority in India, is subject to the powers of repeal or amendment granted to the local legislature by S 5 of the Indian Councils Act, 1892 (55 and 56) Vic, C 14 Hence, the provisions of the Bombay Civil Court Act, (Act XIV of 1869) S. 16 by which a probate matter can be tried in the first instance by the Assistant Judge and by which the appeal in cases where the amount of the subject-matter does not exceed Rs 5, 000 will lie to the District Court, is one which the local Legislature was competent to make. Laxmi Tatya v Aba Appaji 10 Bom L R 924=32 Bom 634.

Appeal-Contd.

3 Acts—Contd.

Z (5) PUNJAB COURTS ACT S 40

140.—Land suit—Punjab Courts Act XVIII of 1884. S. 40—Suit for possession of a part of a public road.

Held, that a suit for possession of a part of a public road, encroached on by the defendant who had built a wall on it, was a "land suit," although the wall was intended to be a boundary to an agricultural field and no further appeal lay under s 40 Punjab Courts Act. The Chief Court refused the Municipal Committee opportunity to apply for a certificate for further appeal.

The Municipal Committee Hoshiarpur v Ali Akbar Khan P L R 1900 p 440.

140A.—Punjab Courts Act Section 9—Appeal from decree of Judge in Chambers refusing probate of will.

An appeal lies under Section 9 of the Punjab Courts Act, 1884, from the decree of a Judge in Chambers refusing probate of will—Thaddeus v Thaddeus 6 P R 1899.

Z(6) PUBLIC DEMANDS RECOVERY ss 19, 33.

141.—Public Demands Recovery Act (I B C. of 1895 secs 19 and 33——Setting aside of sale—Review Revision.—Sub—Sec. 4 of sec 19 of the Public Demands Recovery Act—(I B C of 1895) in saying that any order made by the certificate officer under the section shall be final only means and intends that it shall not be open to appeal such as is provided by sec 32; the intention is not to make the order absolutely final so as to make it not open to review or revision. Matangini Debi v Girish Chandra Chongdar 7 C W N 433=30 Cal 619.

Appeal-Contd.

3 Acts—Contd.

(Z 7) U P RENT ACT S 189.

142.—S 189—Suit for rent-Appeal admissible whether the question has been whether any rent at all was payable by the defendant:—Held, that the words in S 189 of the U P Rent Act 1881, "in which the rent payable by the tenant has been a matter in issue and has been determined," include cases in which the question whether any rent at all is payable by the tenant has been a matter in issue and has been determined. 21 All 247 ref to.

Beni Prasad Kuari v Betulan Bibi 1901 A W N 75=23 All 283.

Z (8) PUNJAB TENANCY ACT S. 80. PROVISO III

143.—The correction of an error and consequent modification of the decree of a Court of first instance by the Collector on appeal gives a further appeal on the whole case to the Commissioner under Section 80, proviso (iii), Punjab Tenancy Act 1887. Jaimal and Fattu v Maidhran 3 P R 1891 Rev.

(Z 9) AGRA TENANCY ACT S 199.

144.—Agra Tenancy Act II of 1901 Local Ss. 199 and 200—Action in ejectment—Defence that defendant a sub-proprietor—Question of title-Decision of a Revenue Court same as decision of Civil Court—Appeal to Civil Court—Suit for declaration does not lie. When the defendant to an action for ejectment defends the suit on the ground that he is not a tenant but a subordinate proprietor, he raises a question of a proprietary title. The Reveuue Court can either try the question itself, or refer the parties to the Civil Court under the provisions of s.199 of the Act. When it follows the former course and decides against him and orders him ejectment, an appeal lies to the Civil Court, and it is not open to him to bring a suit in a Civil Court for declaration of his subordinate proprietary right. The legislature intended that the decison of a Revenue Court upon a question of title should have the same effect as the decision of a Civil Court. 2 A L J 334 Fol

Beni Pande v Raja Kausal Kishore Prasad Mal Bahadur 4 A L J 53=A W N (1907) 6=29 All 160.

Notes —Ref: 29 All 601.

Appeal-Contd.

3 Acts—Contd.

Z 10 BENGAL RENT ACT.

145.—Appeal from Collectors and Deputy Collectors lie to Judge in land cases——Act X of 1859.—In the matter of appeals from decisions of Collectors and Deputy Collectors in Act X of 1859, appeals from one and the same decision are not meant to be carried to different Courts. Appeal on questions of title to an interest in land or against any portion of the decree relating to it lies to the Judge. Ram Autar Singh v Heeramun Pandey 1 N W P 36.

146.—Cl 4 S 23 Act X of 1859—S 160 of Act X of 1859—Appeal from suit rejected by Revenue Court—Zillah Judge.

When a suit is rejected by a Revenue Courts as not cognizable under Act X of 1859, the appeal lies to the Zillah Judge, under s 160, and not to the Collector, under s 155 of the same Act.

Ram Narain v Sheo Narain Pooree 4 N W P 1.

(Z (11)) BOMBAY DISTRICT MUNICIPAL ACT. S. 160 Cl. 3.

147.—S. 160—Municipality—Acquisition of land—Compensation—Arbitration—Decision of District Court—Appeal—High Court—Construction of statutes.

No appeal lies from the decision of a District Court under cl. 3 of S 160 of the Bombay District Municipal Act, 1901.

Where a statute creates a right not existing at common law and prescribes a particular remedy for its enforcement, then, that remedy alone must be followed. (1859) 6 C B N S 336 Fol.

Chunilal v Ahmedabad Municipality, 13 Bom L R 958.

(Z (12)) LETTERS PATENT S. 15.

148.—Letters Patent, S. 15—Appeal—Order refusing to receive security for costs.—

An order refusing to receive a sum of money ordered to be paid as security for the costs of an appeal is a " judgment " within the meaning of Art. 15 of the Letters Patent, and consequently an appeal lies from the order Vysachary v. Keshvacharya. 25 Mad 654=12 M L J 34.

148A—Letters Patent. Art. 15—"Judgment" —Act IX of 1887, s. 25. application under—Dismissal by single Judge of High Court—Appeal.

Appeal-Contd.

3 Acts—Contd.

Where an application is made to the High Court to exercise its discretionary power under s. 25 of Act IX of 1887, and a single Judge merely dismisses the application, there is no sppeal under Art. 15 of the Letters Patent.

Puthukudi Abdu v. Puvakka Kunni Kutti 27 Mad 340.

Notes:—Ref: 27 Mad 510=1 Weir 788. 17 M L J 123=2 M L T 84=30 Mad. 311.

Z (13) LETTERS PATENT S. 15

148 B—Cl. 15—Judgment — Appeal from order of judge on original side extending time for prosecution under S, 195. Cl. 6. An appeal lay under Cl. 15 of the Letters Patent from the order of the judge on the original side granting such extension of time. Kali Kinkar Sett v Dinobandhu Nundy. 9 C W N 321=32 Cal 379

148 C—Letters Patent cl. 15—Where the Judge to whom an appeal is referred under the provisions of S. 575 of the Civil Procedure Code, agrees with one of the differing Judges as to the result of the appeal, but the agreement does not proceed on the identical lines of reasoning, there is no further appeal to the High Court against such decision under cl, 15 of the Letters Patent.

Jehangir M. Curseiji v Secretary of State. 6 Bom L R 230

148 D—C P C, O 25, r 1 (1) (3) (1882 S 380)—Security for costs from a woman-Suit "for money" includes a suit which results in a decree for money —Appeal lies against the order of a Judge sitting on the original side directing security from a woman—Letters Patent, cl. 15.

Suits which are not exclusively for money but which will result in a decree for money on the relief sought come within the purview of S. 380 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

An Appeal lies against an order passed by a Judge sitting on the original side of the High Court requiring security from a woman under S. 380 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

Such an order is a Judgment within the meaning of cl. 15 of of the Letters Patent. Soonabai v Tribhovandas. N Malvi. 10 Bom L R 337 =33 Bom 39.

Notes—Confirming 32 Bom 602.

Appeal-Contd.

3 Acts -Contd.

(Z14) PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT S. 86.

148 E—Probate and Administration Act Ss. 86, 90, 51—Order granting permission to dispose Of imomveable property. The word 'hereby' in S. 86 of the Probate and Administration Act means by the whole Act, and not merely by the chapter in which the section occurs. An order made by a District Judge granting permission to dispose of immoveable property under the Probate & Administration Act is appealable. Uma Charan Das v Mahta Keshi Dasi 5 C W N 443= 28 Cal 149.

(Z15) PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURT ACT S. 27.

148 F—Small Cause Court suit, trial of, as regular suit without returning of plaint for presentation to proper Court—

Appeal from Munsif's decree in suit instituted as Small Cause Court suit and tried as regular suit. A suit was instituted in the Munsif's Court as a Court of Small Causes. The Munsiff before delivering judgment formed the opinion that the suit was one excluded from the jurisdiction of a Court of Small Causes and directed that it be removed from the register of Small Cause suits and entered in the register of regular suits. He then tried the case as a regular suit and decreed the claim. Held, that the suit was tried as a Small Cause Court suit and under s. 27 of Act IX of 1887, no appeal lay from the decree of the Munsif. Kandhai Gir v. Bhagwant Gir. 7 O C 144

(Z16) PUNJAB LAWS ACT (IV OF 1872) S. 28.

148 G—Insolvency proceedings—Act IV of 1872, Section 28—Order rejecting objections to composition-deed—"Decree"—

Held, that an order of a Court exercising Insolvency jurisdiction under Act IV of 1872, rejecting under Section 28 of that Act a petitioner's objections to a composition agreed upon betweeen the debtor and the majority of the creditors, is not an adjudication upon any rights claimed so as to satisfy the definition of a 'decree' given in Section 2 of the Code, and accordingly no appeal lies from such order. (No 65 of 1882

C C 49

Appeal-Contd.

3 Acts—Contd.

Civil followed 6 5 P R 1882 Fol. Thakur Das v Kidarnath 1 P R 33 of 1883 Civil

Notes:—Fol 62 P R 1886.

(Z17) PUNJAB MUNICIPAL ACT S 2.

148 H—Remedy by appeal—Suit—Cause of action—Plea that appeal is inconvenient, whether justifies suit—Punjab Municipal Act XX of 1891 S. 2 [2]—Rules made under Act XIII of 1884, force of.

Where, under the rules in force, the remedy for a refund of customs-duty, originally leviable but subsequently refundable, is by way of appeal against the order of the Municipal Committe refusing such refund, a suit for compensation for refusal to refund is not maintainable.

The fact that the course of appeal is onerous or inconvenient is no justification for bringing a suit.

The rules made by the Lieutenant-Governor under S 154 j of act XIII of 1884 are by virtue of S 2 (2) of the Punjab Municipal Act of 1891 still in force. References:—12 Mad. 105, at p. 108, Fol 12 Mad 78 Dist. 2 Mad 362 Ref.

The Municipal Committe, Ambala v Mohendar Singh 118 P L R 1911.

(Z18) PUNJAB LAND REVENUE ACT S 16.

148 J—Ss 3 cl 3 and 19—order of Deputy Commissioner granting or refusing sanction to permanent alienation of land—Appeal—Revision—Punjab Land Revenue Aet S 16. An order by a DeputyCommissioner under S 3 (3) of Alienation of Land Act granting or refusing sanction to a permanent alienation of land required by s 3 (2) is not final, seeing that S 19 of the Act extends to the proceedings of Revenue officers under the provisions of Chapter II of the Punjab Land Revenue Act. The effect of the section is that such an order is,like other orders of Revenue officers, subject to appeal and revision, as laid down in that Chapter Such an order may, therefore, be cancelled by the Financial Commissioner in the exercise of his revisional jurisdiction under S. 16 (4) of the Land Revenue Act. Rom Saran Das v. Sardara 4 P R 1908 (Rev)=7 P W R 1908

(Z19) Succession CERTIFICATE ACT S 7.

148 K—Succession Certificate Act 1889, Sections 19, 26-Investiture of inferior Courts with

Appeal-Contd.

3 Acts—Concld.

Jurisdiction of District Court—Punjab Government Notification No. 570, dated 4th November 1889-Punjab Courts Act, 1884 Section 23, proviso

Appeals from all orders under Section 7 of the Succession Certificate Act, 1889, whether passed by a District judge or a Subordinate judge in the Punjab lie to the Divisional Court and not to the Chief Court under Government Notifications, Nos. 570 and 571 of 4th November 1889—Tikaya Mal v Launga Malik 124 P R 1890.

148 K-S. 26-Grant of certificate on the applicant's furnishing security—Appeal

An order passed under the Succession Certificate Act, 1889, granting a certificate on the applicant's furnishing security, is an order appealable under S. 26 of the Act. Reference-19 Bom 790, Dist. Bai Nandkore v. Maganlal Varajbhukhandas Shah 13 Bom L R 1208.

(Z20) U. P. LAND REVENUE ACT S. 144

148 L—S. 144—Order of Assistant Collector for allowing perfect partition of lands—Appealing of—'Order for declaring the rights of parties'—An order allowing perfect partition of property is not an order 'declaring the rights of parties' within the meaning of S. 144 of U P Land Revenue Act of 1873 and so is not appealable under that section.— Munwar Ali v. Shakirat-un nissa Bibi 1902 A W N 221=25 All 114.

(4) ARBITRATION (1) ARBITRATION BY COURT.

149—Appeal from a decree in the nature of award-Reference of the dispute to the court—Award.

The parties to a suit referred the matter in dispute to the Subordinate Judge before whom the suit was pending, for a settlement of the dispute between parties. The Subordinate Judge passed a decree accordingly-held,(1) that the judgment of the Subordinate Judge was in the nature an arbitrator's award against which an appeal could not be entertained.

(2) that the fact that the subordinate judge gave his award in the form of a decree would not make it a decree from which a regular appeal could lie. Sayad Zain v, Kalabhai 1 Bom L R 366=23 Bom 752

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

150—Appeal—Decree in the nature of award—Case referred to decision of Court both parties agreeing to abide by same—

Where both parties to a suit referred the matter in dispute between them to the Court and agreed to be bound by the decision of the Court and agreed not to prefer an appeal: Held, that no appeal lay from the decree, the decision of the Court being in the nature of an arbitrator's award; that the Court had no power to review the same; and that the lower appellate Court having remanded the matter on appeal, its order was set aside as being made without jurisdiction. (23 Bom 752 Fol.) Sita Nath v Baikuntha Nath. 9 Ind Cas 296.

151—Arbitration—Agreement of parties to refer question to Court for decision—Decision if appealable—acting as arbitrator—Extra cursum curial—

In the course of a suit for recovery of possession of some land, the parties who owned different shares of a Pergunnah came to an agreement to the effect that they should ask the Court to decide the question of title on the basis of the thakbust map only, and the plaintiff said he would abide by that decision. The Court decided accordingly and held that "the thak map itself showed that the plaintiff's predecessor and his co-sharers were disputing about the land and the survey map showed that it was newly formed chur land and that, in such circumstances the thak map could not be held sufficient evidence of plaintiff's title".

Held—That in deciding the question on the basis of the thakbust map, in accordance with the agreement of the parties, the Court acted as arbitrator, and hence no appeal lay from that decision. Kumar Saradindu Roy v Bhagabati Debya Chowdhurani. 10 C W N 835

(2) JUDGMENT ON AWARD.

152—Judgment on award—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, Ss 325, 327—Finality of decree.—

On the application of one party to a reference to arbitration, without the intervention of a Court, to have the award filed and for judgment thereon, an objection of the other party, that the award had been come to after the arbitrators' authority had been repudiated, was overruled, and judgment was passed by the Munsif in accordance with the award Held, (Paul, J., dissenting) an appeal lay from the decision of the Munsif. In another case the question was referred to a Full Bench, whether, when an award has been ordered to be filed, and judgment has been given in accordance with it under s.327 of Act VIII of 1859, is such judgment open to appeal ' The answer given (Paul, J., dissenting) was: It is open to an appellant to show that the paper which has been filed is not an award. If it is an award, and judgment is given in accordance with such award, such judgment is final. Per Paul, J.—The judgment is final Sashti Charan Chatterjee v. Tarak Chandra Chatterjee; and Lala Iswari Prasad v Bir Bhanjan Tewari 8 B L R 315=15 W R F B 9. Babur Meah v. Jumun Meah. 2 C L R 362.

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd

Notes·—15 W R F B 9.

(1) FINDING OF DECREE.

153—Finality of decree — Civil Procedure Code, 1859. Ss. 324 and 325.—

A suit in the Munsif's Court was, after issues had been settled and evidence on such issues adduced by both parties, referred by consent of parties to arbitration. The arbitrator made his award, and on the next day an order was recorded by the Munsif that the parties were to file their objections to the award in one day,notwithstanding that S 324, Act VIII of 1859, allows the parties ten days for such purpose. The plaintiffs, in accordance with that order, filed a petition of objection to the award, and an order was endorsed by the Munsif on this petition, that it should be laid before the Court with the papers of the arbitrator. The Munsif then gave his judgment, in which he went into the evidence, and, overruling the objection of the plaintiffs, gave a decision on the merits, which decision was in accordance with the award. Held, that such judgment, though in accordance with the award, was not final under S. 325 of Act VIII of 1859. but was open to appeal. In order to make it final, it should appear that all the proceedings have been regular, and the directions of Act VIII of 1859 complied with. Gunga Narain Ghose v. Ram Chand Bose, · 12 B L R 48=20 W R 311.

154—Civil Procedure Code (Act VIII of 1859) Section 325 -Act X of 1877, Section 522—Reference to three arbitrators without provision for award of majority being binding, Effect of—Objections to award—Omission to dispose of—Decree—Appeal.—

Plaintiff and defendants executed a written agreement to refer their disputes to three arbitrators without making any provision that the award of the majority should be binding. Plaintiff applied to file the agreement under Section 326, Act VIII of 1859, and an order of reference was made and award filed by two out of three arbitrators on 30th August 1877. On 11th October 1877, the date fixed for the next hearing of the case, defendants filed a petition dated 1st idem, objecting to the award, and praying that it might be remitted, on the ground that the award of two out of three of the arbitrators was not binding. The Court ordered the petition to be filed, and gave judgment the same day in terms of the award, taking no notice of the objection beyond saying that it did not allege corruption. The defendants appealed to the Commissioner, who rejected the appeal as barred by Section 522, Act X of 1877.

Held, by the Chief Court, that a judgment in terms of an award has not the attribute of finality unless the proceedings immediately preceding the decree have been strictly regular and all the conditions required by law satisfied; and that, the decree having been passed without the Court considering the question raised by defendants, whether there was cause for remitting the award, the appeal was not barred under Section 325, Act VIII of 1859, or Section 522, Act X of 1877.

Held, further,that the legal effect of an agreement, where there is no provision that the award of the majority shall be binding, is that only a unanimous award is binding.— Hardhyan v. Mehr Chand P R 57 of 1879.

(2) C. P. C. 1859, S. 325.

155—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, S. 325.—

Judgment under S. 325, Act VIII of 1859, if given according to the award, is final; but such judgment, to be final, must be one in accordance with the provisions of s. 325,and where the Judge gave judgment without allowing sufficient time for objections to be made to the award or for the award to be set aside, the judgment was held to be not one within S. 325, and, therefore, subject to appeal. Jaymangal Singh v. Mohanram Marwari, 8 B L R 319 note: 12 W R 397.

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

Notes:-Affirmed by Privy Council.

Joymungal Singh v. Mohunram Marwari, 23 W R 429.

156—In a suit in the Munsif's Court seven issues were fixed for determination, and the suit was then referred by agreement to three arbitrators. In coming to an award the arbitrators took up specifically some of the issues framed in the Munsif's Court, and declined to enter into others They determined the matter in issue between the parties, and the award was signed by the three arbitrators. Two of the arbitrators subjoined to the award a suggestion which, if acted on, would prevent the necessity of carrying out the award. The Munsif dealt with this suggestion as surplusage, and gave the plaintiff a decree in accordance with the award signed by the three arbitrators. In appeal it was contended that the award was not a legal one, and it was sought to set the decree of the Munsif aside; but the Judge found that the decree was in accordance with the award, and that he was precluded by S. 325 from disturbing the decision of the Munsif. On special appeal it was contended that the award was incomplete, as all the issues were not decided, and that the decree was not in accordance with the award, as it did not embody the suggestion of two of the three arbitrators. Held, that the decree was in accordance with the award, and was, therefore, final under S. 325.

Sarboree Kanto Bhuttacharjee v. Anadya Kanto Bhuttacharjee, 12 B L R Ap 10= 20 W R 226.

Madhusudan Das v. Adoito Charan Das, 8 B L R 316 note: 12 W R 85.

157—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, S. 325.—

A suit was referred by the Munsif to arbitration under S 325, Act VIII of 1859. The arbitrators were of opinion that the case of the plaintiff was fictitious, but nevertheless gave an award in his favour. The Munsif refused to uphold the award, on the ground that the arbitrators had been guilty of misconduct in giving an award contrary to the evidence. The Judge revised their decision, on the ground that the Munsif had no jurisdiction to refer to the evidence taken before the arbitrators in order to determine whether they were guilty of misconduct or not: he gave judgment in accordance with the award. Held, that his decision was not final under S. 325, Act VIII of 1859: the provisions of that section refer only to the Court by which the case is referred to arbitration. The Munsif was entitled to refer to the evidence before the arbitrators in order to determine whether they had misconducted themselves or not. Pareshnath Dey v. Nabin Chandra Dutt, 5 B L R Ap 77 note 12 W R 93.

See Bykunt Nath Mookerjee v. Prionath Ghose, 22 W R 447.

158—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, S. 325.—

Where a suit is referred to arbitration by an order of Court, and the Court afterwards gives judgment according to the award made upon such reference, such judgment is final by virtue of Act VIII of 1859, s. 325, and no appeal lies therefrom. Brojolal Baj Pye v. Umritolal Baj Pye, Marsh 163.

Gour Chunder Bhuttacharjee v. Sodoy Chunder Nundee. 17 W R 30.

Surboree Kant Bhuttacharjee v. Anadya Kant Bhuttacharjee, 12 B L R Ap 10= 20 W R 226.

Notes:—Ref: 7 W R 401.

159—Irregular procedure in arbitration — Consent to award—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, S. 325.—

A judgment in accordance with an arbitration award is, under the express terms of S. 325, Act VIII of 1859, final, if the reference to arbitration has been conducted pursuant to the provisions of the Code. And where the matter in dispute in a suit was referred to arbitration, and the provisions of Act VIII were not strictly complied with.—Held, nevertheless that, as the appellants had consented to the arbitration and to the appointment of arbitrators, and took part in the proceedings, and after having made objections to the award (which objections were considered by the arbitrators), they assented to the award, the Principal Sudder Ameen was justified in passing a judgment in accordance with the award, and that the High Court would not interfere with that judgment. Misser Deo Kishun v. Misser Bhugwan Doss, 3 Agra 199.

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

160—Civil Procedure Code (Act X of 1877), Section 506—Application in writing — Want of —Jurisdiction.—

Held, that, under Section 506, Act X of 1877, an application in writing by the parties is essential before a case can be referred to arbitrators, and that, where this is wanting, the reference by the Court and proceedings of the arbitrators are without jurisdiction, and a decree based on the award not final.

Held, further, that the consent of the parties to waive the condition required by the Act, that the application shall be in writing, can give no jurisdiction to the Court to delegate its own functions to arbitrators,and found a decree upon their award, and it is only upon a consent recorded in writing that the Court can make an order of reference so as to render the award ensuing thereupon capable of being turned into a final decree.

—Mir Amanullah v. Chota Mirza, P R 67 of 1879.

161—Decree in accordance with award.—

No appeal lies against a decree made in accordance with an award upon a submission to arbitration in the suit.Ramireddy Narsareddy v. Mumareddy Papireddy, 5 M H C 404.

Notes:—Ref· 7 M H C R 72.

162—Private arbitration—Award made a rule of Court—Appeal:—

When an award made in a private arbitration has been made a rule of Court and a decree passed thereon, no appeal will lie except so far as the decree is in excess of, or not in accordance with, the award. In this respect there is no difference between a decree based upon a private award and a decree based upon an award made through the intervention of the Court. 27 All 526, dist.— Bahadur Singh v. Negi Puran Singh, 1908 A W N 54=30 All 151.

163—The Second Schedule r. 16 (1882 Ss. 522, 521)—Award—Misconduct of arbitrator— Decree in accordance with award—Appeal—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), Ss. 521, 522.—

Where an award is actually prepared and filed in Court by the arbitrator an award which he intended should be acted upon and should form the basis of a decree and the Court, finding no misconduct proved, passes a decree in accordance with and not in excess of the terms of the award, no appeal lies against the decree.

Per Richards, J.—The Legislature intended that where parties of their own free-will submit their differences to arbitration, they should have the opportunity of attacking the award provided by S. 521 and no other opportunity. They must be taken to have notice of the provisions of the Code and cannot complain if in occasional cases a decree follows a doubtful or even a bad award. (29 Cal 167 P C follo enfra to 458 explained) Behari Lal v. Chunni Lal, 4 A L J 455= 1907 A W N 117=29 All 457 F B.

164—The Second Schedule r. 16 (1882 S. 522)—Appeal—Decree on award—Award, illegality of—Decree, finality of:—Where the reference to arbitration is illegal and there is an award, there is an appeal against the decree notwithstanding that it is in conformity with what purports to be an award. Subbarami Reddi v Rajamannar Aiyangar. 12 M L J 396= 26 Mad 47.

Notes—Not fol; 32 Mad 510; Ref; 17 M L J 394; 19 M L J 480.

(3) C P C 1859 S. 327.

165—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, s. 327—

In an arbitration case between a mahajun and his gomasta, an award was made to the effect that Rs 725 were outstanding and due to the kuti, of which Rs 483 were due to the mahajun and Rs 241 to the gomasta; and that the gomasta should point out the parties owing the Rs 483, or in default make good the amount. The mahajun applied to the Subordinate Judge of Bhaugulpore, under Act VIII of 1859, s. 327, to file the award. The Subordinate Judge held that it was not proved that the gomasta had done as required by the award, and ordered him to pay the deficit. The gomasta appealed to the Judge, who held that no appeal lay from the judgment of the Subordinate Judge enforcing the award. Held, on special appeal, that the Subordinate Judge's judgment decided a question of fact not determined by the award, and that an appeal would lie, Rambhanjan Bhukut v Srikishen Bhakat. 2 B L R A C 260=11 W R 140.

166—Held by the Majority of the Court (Pearson, J, dissenting) that no appeal lies from an order passed under s. 327 of Act VIII of 1859, whether granting or refusing the application.

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

Jokhan Rai v Bucho Rai. 3 Agra 353.

(4) C P C 1859 S 520.

167—C P C (1877) Ss. 520, 521-Where on a suit for the filing of an award made on a private reference to arbitration, the Court of first instance, holding that there was no reason to remit such award to the reconsideration of the arbitrator, under the provisions of section 520 or to set it aside under section 521 of that Act, did not proceed to give judgment according to such award followed by decree, but merely directed that such award should be filed, held that its order was not appealable as a decree, or as an order. Ramadhin v Mahesh 2 All 471.

Notes:—Ref. 7 Bom 316.

168—Failure of arbitrator to consider plea of limitation—

Where in an arbitration under chapter XXVII of the Code of Civil Procedure the arbitrators omitted to determine a material point of limitation which arose in the case referred to them, and the Court did not think it necessary to remit the award under s. 520 of the Code for reconsideration by the arbitrators. Held that no appeal would lie from the decree on such award, it being in accordance with and not in excess of the award. (I L R 6 All 174) discussed. Kirpa Ram v Laljit. 12 W N 151.

(5) DECREE CONFIRMING AWARD.

169—Civil Procedure Code Act XIV of 1882 Section 522—Appeal from judgment on award—Award—Second appeal.

Where an award has been made, judgment passed upon such award is final, unless the award be invalid. See 8 B R L (F B) 315.

A question in a suit having been referred to the arbitration of five persons, it being provided that if two of the arbitrators should be absent, the other three might make the award. Two of the arbitrators appointed, who had acted as pleaders in the suit with the consent of both parties ceased to act and the award was made by the remaining three arbitrators The Court of the first instance held that the award was valid and gave a decree in accordance with it. On appeal the lower appellate Court held that the award was invalid.

Held that a second appeal lay and that under the circumtances the award was valid.

Debendra Nath Shaw v Aubhoy Churn Bagchi. 9 Cal 905=12 C L R 525

Notes:—Ap 11 Cal 37 Ref. 25 Cal 141: 15 Mad 348; 17 Bom 357; 20 Bom 596.

170—The Second Schedule r. 16 (1882 S 522)—Decree made in accordance with an award—Appeal against the decree depends on the validity or otherwise of the award. As soon as an award has been made and filed in Court, the powers of the arbitrators come to an end; they become functus officio, and it is not open to a dissentient arbitrator to come in, afterwards, and sign the award, nor has the Court any power to allow him to so sign it. The award, if so signed, subsequently, becomes illegal and invalid on that account.

The question, whether, under S. 522 of the Code, an appeal lies against a decree made in accordance with an award, depends upon whether the award itself is valid and legal. The said section pre-supposes a valid and a legal award, and not an award, upon which no decree could be pronounced. (13 All 300=18 I A 55, 23 All 383 25 Cal 141 Ref. 29 Cal 167=29 I A 51 Ref.)

Ramesh Chandra Dhar v Kalanamoyi Dutt. 33 Cal 498.

(6) C P C 1877 S. 522.

171—Civil Procedure Code, 1877. s. 522—

S. 522 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1877, which provides that no appeal shall lie from a decree upon an award, except in so for as the decree is in excess of, or not in accordance with, the award, assumes that the award has been regularly and properly passed by arbitrators duly appointed. Pugardin Ravutan v Moidinsa Ravutan. 6 Mad 414.

Notes:—Foll: 18 Cal 324. Ref. 11 Mad 220 F B: 15 Mad 348, 17 Mad 498 6 A L J 351.

172—Appeal from an award. An appeal does not lie from a decree propounded under S. 522 of the Civil Procedure Code, except in so far as the decree may be in excess of or not in accordance with the award. Ghulam Jilani v Muhammad. 4 Bom L R 161= 6 C W N 226=12 M L J 77=29 Cal 167= 29 I A 51 P C=25 P R 1902 P C.

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

Notes—Ref. 5 C W N 390; 30 Cal 218; 7 C W N 180; 12 O C 40; 27 Bom 287; 29 Bom 285=6 Bom L R 1132; 2 C L J 61; 11 O C 116; 10 C W N 601=2 C L J 153; 33 Cal 498; 7 C L J 486; 31 Mad 479=18 M L J 485=4 M L T 328; 9 O C 205; 19 M L J 480; 32 Mad 510; 4 L B R 130; 1 S L R 86 Con. 33 Cal 757 F B=10 C W N 609=3 C L J 450; 11 C W N 240 Dist. 28 All 21=2 A L J 450=(1905) W N 165; 2 C L J 80; 26 All 205 Fol; 14 M L J 356=27 Mad 255; 2 C L J 142; 29 Mad 303; 33 Cal 11; 899; 8 C W N 916; 29 All 457 F B=W N (1907) 177=4 A L J 455; 9 Bom L R 259; W N (1907) 117; 1 S L R 149 Appl. 35 Cal 648 P C= 18 M L J 266=10 Bom L R 581=12 C W N 585=7 C L J 520.

173—Appeal—Arbitration—Decree in accordance with an award-Civil Procedure Code, 1882 Section 522—Held, that an appeal does not lie from a decree passed upon a judgment given according to an award except in so far as the decree may be in excess of or not in accordance with the award. Sita Ram v Dhani Ram. 92 P R 1903.

174—Civil Procedure Code (1882), s. 522—Order determining validity of an award—Decree in accordance with an award—

Objection was unsuccessfully taken before a District Munsif to the validity of an award on the ground of the arbitrator being interested, and a decree was passed in accordance with the award. The plaintiff appealed to the High Court- Held that no appeal lay to the Subordinate Court as to the validity of the award. Krishnan Chetti v Muthu Palandi Vacha Mokali Tever. 22 Mad 172.

Notes-Ref. 27 Mad 255 F B; 14 M L J 356.

175—Appeal—Arbitration—Decree on judgment in accordance with an award—Revision—Civil Procedure Code, 1882, Sections 522, 622—

Where an application had been made to set aside an award on the ground of the arbitrator's misconduct and refused after judicial determination, and a decree was, in accordance with and not in excess of the award, passed under Section 522 of the Code, held, that the Chief Court had no authority to interfere with the decree either by way of appeal or revision.

(25 P R 1902 P C) cited and 13 All 800 P C) distinguished. Hansraj v Ganga Ram 88 P R. 1902 F B.

176—Civil Procedure Code (1882) s. 522—Decree in accordance with an award—

A suit having been referred to an arbitrator, he made an award and a decree was passed, in accordance with it, in favour of defendant On an appeal by the plaintiff, it appeared that the award was prima facie legal and proper—Held that no appeal lay against the decree.

Kombi Achen v Pangi Achen. 21 Mad 405.

Notes—Fol 22 Mad 172; Ref. 27 Mad 255 F B; 14 M L J 356.

177—Sch. II r. 16 (1882 S. 522)—Arbitration reference to, through Court—Award—Decree in accordance with award—Appeal, if lies—C P C (Act XIV of 1882) S. 522. No appeal lies from a decree which is not in excess of, but is in accordance with an award made by an arbitrator appointed through the intervention of the Court, 29 Cal 167 Fol. Haranund Naskar v Doyal Chand Naskar. 2 C L J 142.

Notes—Fol. 33 Cal 899.

178—Civil Pro. Code S. 522-Award.—Appeal against decree corresponding to extension of time for presenting an award—Evidence.

When a decree is made corrosponding to the terms of an award under s. 522 of the Code, it is appealable if there was no award in fact or in law. Suppu v Govinda Charyar. 11 Mad 85.

Notes-Ex. 15 Mad 384; Ref. 25 Cal 757 F B; 18 Mad 423 F B, 17 Bom 357; 20 Bom 596; 9 Bom L R 757 P C.

179—Decree in accordance with the award—illegality—appeal—Civil Procedure Code s. 522.

A suit was brought to wind up a partnership. After issues had been framed, both the parties agreed to refer the matter to an arbitrator, who submitted an award, referring ot parties to a separate suit with respect to two properties not comprised in the property of the company A decree was passed in accordance with the the award. Held an appeal lay from the decree which was in accordance with the award, only when the award was not legal. There was nothing illegal in the procedure of the arbitrator in referring parties to a fresh suit regarding properties out side the subject-matter of the suit. Venkayya v Venkatappayya. 15 Mad 348.

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

Notes—Ref. 22 Mad 172; Ref 25 Cal 141; 18 All 422 F B.

180—Sch. II r. 16 (1882 Ss 522, 525)-Award application to file—Award not pronounced at date of application—Appeal. When an award had not been pronounced either orally or in writing at the time an application was made under S. 525, C. P C., to file the award, held, that the application was premature and that it should fail, because there was no award which could be "filed" within the meaning of S. 525, at the date of the application. An appeal lies to the District Court, notwithstanding that the first Court passed a decree in accordance with such an award. 12 Mad 331; 25 Cal 757 (F. B.) Ref. 38 P. L. R. 1906. Dist Gopal Chand v Mukhan Singh 80 P R 1909.

181—Decree in the terms of the award-Appeal. When an award has been filed in Court as provided by S. 525, Code of Civil Procedure, the judgment and decree based thereon must be drawn up specifically in terms of the award If the decree merely decrees in general terms the claim of one party or of the other it cannot be said that such decree is in accordance with the award, and not being in accordance with the award, an appeal will lie therefrom. Ummi Fazl v Rahim-un-nissa 13 All 366 = 11 W N 129.

Notes—Ref: 10 C W N 601=2 C L J 153.

182—The Second Schedule r. 16 (1882 S. 522) Appeal-Arbitration—Decree in accordance with award—Legality or validity of award

In a suit, in which there were several defendants, one of the defendants alone appeared and the others did not enter any appearance at all. The plaintiff and the defendant that appeared applied for a reference of the case to arbitration and the suit was accordingly referred and a decree was passed in accordance with the award. Held, the defendants, who did not appear, could not challenge the decree by way of appeal on the ground that they were not parties to the reference and that, consequently, there was no legal and valid award. It was also decided in this case, that it was unnecessrry to go into the question, whether the award was or was not valid by reason of the fact that some of the defendants did not join in the reference. 29 Cal. 167=29 I. A. 51 (P. C.) Fol. 2 C. L J. 153 and 2 C. L. J. 142, Appr. 9 C. W. N 873, Diss. Chairman of the Purnea Municipality v Siva Sankar Ram 33 Cal 899.

183.—The Second Schedule r 16 (1882—Ss. 522, 521)—Appeal—Petition to Court that parties will abide by the decision as final—Court acting as arbitrator

Where the District Munsiff passes a decree on both the parties agreeing to abide by its decision as final, the Court is merely acting as an arbitrator, and no appeal lies from its decree except under Section 522, C P C

Nidamarthi Mukkanti v Thammana Ramayya. 26 Mad 76.

184.—Sch. II r. 16 (1882 Ss. 522, 521) Arbitrators—Award—Decree—Allegation of misconduct on the part of arbitrators—Appeal.

No appeal lies from a decree which follows an award made according to law, even where the Court passing the decree disallows the application by one of the parties who seeks to attack the award by reason of the arbitrator's alleged misconduct. Walji v Ebji. 6 Bom L R. 1132. =29 Bom 285.

Notes—Appl. 10 C W N 601.

(7) AWARD DECREE IN ACCORDANCE WITH

185.—Appeal—Arbitration—Award-Decree in terms of award—Award by three out of four arbitrators—Illegal award.

Where a decree has been passed in terms of an award, appeal lies only where the question is whether the award was illegal, being void ab initio. Nandram v Nemchand. P J 1892 P. 146=17 Bom 357,

Notes—Fol: 24 Cal 469. Ref: 18 Mad 423 F B: 18 All 422 F B; 6 Bom L R 1132. Ap: 29 Bom 285.

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

185A.—Ss. 510, 520, 521, 522, 523—Agreement to refer to arbitration—Consent of arbitrators not taken—Refusal of some arbitrators to act—Appointment by Court of new arbitrators—Award passed by old and new arbitrators—Decree in accordance with award—Invalid award—Appeal.

An agreement to refer matters in dispute to five arbitrators was filed under S. 523, of the Code of 1882. Two arbitrators, who had never consented to act, refused to act and subsequently died. The Court appointed new arbitrators in their stead. The three of the old and the two new arbitrators made an award, and the Court passed a decree in accordance with it: Held, by the Full Bench, that no appeal lay against the decree, though the award, not having been made by the tribunal constituted in accordance with the agreement of the parties, was invalid.

Per White, C. J.—If an arbitrator once consents to act and then refuses or dies, etc., the Court can appoint a new arbitrator under S. 510, independently of the wishes of the parties, but not otherwise.

An award made by a tribunal of arbitration not constituted in accordance with the provisions of the Code, is invalid.

A defect in the constitution of a tribunal of arbitration is no ground for remitting an award under Section 520 or for setting it aside under Section 521.

Per Krishnaswami Aiyar, J.—When a decree is in accordance with the award, no appeal lies except in so far as the decree is in excess of or not in accordance with the award, even if the award was invalid for want of submission, or for any irregularity in the reference, or for any other cause whatsoever, and whether an application to set it aside was not made or was made and refused.

But if the arbitrators refuse to reconsider an award remitted to them, it becomes void. Therefore, a decree passed in accordance with such award is not a decree under Section 522 and is appealable. Tallapragada Surya Narayana Rao v Tallapragada Sarabaya. 9 Ind Cas 173 (F B)=9 M L T 251.

C C 50

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

186—Non-compliance with provisions of law-Reference to arbitration—Finality of award.—A decree based on an award is not final, if the reference was not made according to the provisions of law. If the parties had agreed to refer the matter to private arbitration, they will be bound by the award, unless it comes under any of the just exceptions, (4 P. R. 1882, F. B. R.) Hakam Raila v Janda. 130 P. R. 1883.

(8) ORDER CONFIRMING AWARD.

187—Award—Civil Procedure Code, 1877, s. 521,522.

On appeal from a decree setting aside an award the District Judge reversed the decree of the first Court and made a decree in accordance with the award. Held that, s. 522 of the Civil Procedure Code did not take away the right of second appeal against the latter decree. Rughoobur Dyal v Maina Koer 12 C. L R.,564

Notes— Diss 10 All 8. Fol: 8 C W N 390; 2 C L J 80; Ref.28 All 408=3 A L J 168=(1906) W N 64.

(9) N. W. P. RENT ACT REFERENCE TO ARBITRATION UNDER.

188—Applicability of the provisions of C. P. C.

The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to awards are not applicable to suits under the N. W. P. Rent Act, 1881, the matter in dispute in which have been referred to arbitration, as section 96 (a) of that Act specifically imports into it the procedure of the N. W. P. Land Revenue Act with regard to arbitration. Where the Court trying a suit under the Rent Act the matters in dispute in which have been referred to arbitration, has refused an application to set aside the award, and has decided the case in accordance with the award of the majority of the arbitrators no appeal lies from its decision Fahinunnissa v Ajodha Prasad. 6 All. 170=4 W. N. 15

(10) MISCONDUCT OF ARBITRATOR

189—Misconduct of arbitrators—A judgment of a Court given in accordance with an award of arbitration is final, even if there has been corruption and misconduct on the part of the arbitrators. Ramanoogra Chobey v Putmoorta Chobayan. 7 W R 205.

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

Sreenath Ghose v. Raj Chunder Paul 8 W.R, 171
Elaheebuksh Hajoo 14 W.R, 33
S C. Ilahee Buksh 5 B L. R, AP., 75

Notes—Ref 8 W R 171; 18 All 422 F B

190—Arbitrator's misconduct.

Where an award is objected on the ground of misconduct of arbitrator and the objection is overruled by the Court, and a decree is passed in terms of the award, no further appeal lies from such decree. Hansraj v. Sunderlal (10 Bom L R 581=12 C W N 585=7 C L J 520=138 P L R 1908=35 Cal 648 P C=35 I A 88=80 P R 1908=99 P W R 1908=18 M L J 266=4 M L J 25=14 Bur L R 146

Notes:—12 O C 40 Ref: 1 Ind Cas 693 Appl

191 S 521—Decree made on award, if appealable on the ground of misconduct of arbitrator. There is no appeal from the award of an arbitrator (in accordance with which a decree has been made) on the ground of misconduct of the arbitrator. 6 C W N 226: s c L R 29 Cal 167 (1901) followed. An award made and signed but not submitted to the Court within the time allowed for delivering the same in Court is valid in law. 13 Bom 119 (1898) and 22 Mad 22 (1898), relied on.
Debendra Nath Chatterjee v. Sarbamangola Debi, 8 C W N 916.

192—Arbitration—Lower Appellate Court giving judgment in accordance with award—Civil Procedure Code (Act X of 1877). S 522—Appeal—

Held, that a further appeal lies from an order of a lower Appellate Court, who after reversing the finding of the first Court upon the question of misconduct imputed to one of the arbitrators, proceeds to pass judgment in terms of the award of the majority of the arbitrators. Mussammat Bano v Nasar. P R 5 of 1880 Civil.

193—Conclusion of arbitrators.

With reference to S. 522 of the Code of Civil Procedure no appeal lies from a decree of a Court of first instance dismissing objections to an arbitration award on the ground of collusion and passed in accordance with the award.
Muhammad Ismail Khan v Imamali Khan 8 W N 131

194.—Arbitration—Appeal from order setting aside an award.

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

An appeal lies from an order of a Court setting aside an award for misconduct or corruption; that is, when a party appeals on the merits, he is entitled also to urge that the lower Court should not have set aside the award, and the Appellate Court can determine the question and uphold the award if it considers it was set aside for insufficient cause. Mussamat Bhoi v Sher Baz Khan. P R 59 of 1875, Civil.

194A—Misconduct of arbitrators (Act X of 1877).

An agreement to refer a certain difference between the parties thereto to the arbitration of certain persons was, on the application of one of the parties, A K, registered and numbered as a suit by the Court of the Subordinate Judge of Bareilly. The Subordinate Judge caused the agreement to be filed and made an order of reference thereon. The award was remitted to the arbitrators for reconsideration under S. 520 of the Code of Civil Procedure and the arbitrators reconsidered it and delivered a fresh award. The Subordinate Judge after disallowing certain objections taken to the award on the ground that they were not of the nature mentioned in s 521 made a decree in favor of the plaintiff in accordance with the award. The defendant appealed to the District Judge who set aside the award on the ground that the arbitrators had been guilty of misconduct. Held that, the District Judge was not competent to hear an appeal from the decree of the Subordinate Judge made in accordance with the award. (W N 1882 P 34) followed

Asadullah Khan v Ahmadullah Khan. 2 W N 95

(11) C P C 1822 S 522

195.—Irregularities in procedure.

An appeal will not lie from a decree passed upon a judgment given according to an award merely because there may have been some irregularities in the procedure of the arbitrator, those irregularities not being of such a nature as to render the award no award in law. (W N 1894, p 60); (16 Calc, 482) (6 All 174) referred to.

Ramdhan Singh v Karan Singh. 18 All 414=16 W N 116.

Notes:—Ref 18 All 422 F B.

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

196.—Appeal from refusal to remit.

The omission of a Court to remit an award which determines matters not referred to arbitration, cannot be urged on appeal. Section 223, Civil Procedure Code, is permissive, not obligatory. Choohur Singh v Jeet Singh. P R 64 of 1870, 197.—Arbitration— Award——Corruption—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, Sections 323,324 and 325).

Held, that there can be no appeal from the judgment of a Court passed according to the award of arbitrator, except on the ground of disregard by the Court of the provisions of the Act relating to arbitration. The plea of corruption having been rejected by the Court of First Instance, cannot be taken up by the Appellate Court. Sections 323, 324 and 325 of Act VIII of 1859 are addressed to the Courts that make the reference to arbitration. Madho Singh v Bhagwan Singh. C 18thC's June C's 1864.

198.—Civil Procedure Code (1882), Ss. 525 and 526—Arbitration without intervention of Court—Application for decree in terms of award —Denial of submission to arbitration and genuineness of award.

An appeal lies against a decree passed upon an award under Civil Procedure Court Ss. 525 and 526, when the cause shown against the filing of the award has denied the submission to arbitration and the genuineness of the award. Husananna v Linganna 18 Mad 423.

Notes:—Fol 25 Cal 757 F B; 20 Mad 490. Ex 33 Cal 757 F B; Ref: 20 Mad 89; 22 Mad 172, 10 C W N 601=2 C L J 153.

199.—Order filing an award—Appeal.

When an application is made to a Court to file an award, an order granting the prayer and an order refusing the prayer are both decrees; and an appeal lies therefrom. Thirnvengadathatayangar v Vaidinatha Ayyar. 29 Mad 303.

200.—Section I, Art I Sch. ii, Art. 11-Order directing an award to be filed—C. P. C. Sec 526—Order having the force of decree—Appeal.

The present appeal was brought against a judgment and decree directing that an award, made on a reference to arbitration by the parties without the intervention of a Court of justice, be filed under S. 526 of the C P C. The decree was for recovery of a sum of money. The appeal memorandum was stamped with a stamp of Rs. 2, as for an appeal falling within Art, II of Sch. II of the Act. Held, that an order directing an award to be filed is an order having the force of a decree and is in effect a decree and that, consequently the appeal memorandum ought to bear an ad valorem fee calculated on the amount decreed to be recoverable as provided by Art 1, Sch. I of the Court fees Act. 29 Cal. 167, Fol. 5 All. 353, approved and 23 Cal. 723, Dist.) Hari Mohan Singh v. Kali Prasad Chaliha 33 Cal 11

201—Civil Procedure Code (1882). ss, 521 and 522—Award—Decree on judgment in accordance with an award.—

Where a decree has been made upon a judgment given upon an award and is not in excess of, and is in accordance with the award, an appeal from such decree will lie on the ground that the so-called award upon which the judgment and decree are based is from one cause or another no award in law. Where an application to set aside an award on the ground of the misconduct of an arbitrator has been made under s. 521 of the Code of Civil procedure, and such application has been refused after judicial determination, and a decree made under s. 522 of the Code, which is in accordance with and not in excess of the award, no appeal based upon any similar ground will lie from the decree so made. 4 All., 283, 23 W. R, 429. 17 Bom.. 357, 6 All., 174, referred to. Ibrahim Ali v. Mohsin Ali 18 All 422 =16 W N 137

202—Sch. II (Ss. 522, 520)—Decree in accordance with revised award—No appeal on the ground that prior remittal was wrong, maintainable.—

The provisions of S. 522, C. P. C. as to appeals from decree on awards should be strictly construed. No appeal lies from a decree passed, in accordance with an award revised after remittal of a prior award under S. 520 C. P. C. on the ground that the remittal order was erroneous. Semble:—No appeal lies against decrees passed in accordance with awards on the ground that an order under S. 520, C. P. C. was either improperly made or improperly refused— Subbiahlyer v. Subramania Iyer. 18 M L J 485; 31 Mad 479

Appeal - Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

203—Appeal—Award—Decree on judgment based upon an award.—

Where, after judicial consideration of objection to an award filed in Court, judgment is given according to the award and a decree passed upon such judgment, no appeal will lie from such decree except in so far as it is in excess of, or not in accordance with, the award. Under such circumstances, the High Court refused to entertain an appeal in objection to an award to the effect that two out of five arbitrators did not, as a matter of fact, take part in the arbitration proceedings, when such objection had not apparently been raised before the lower appellate Court. 18. All 422 and 6 C. W. N. 226 ref. to—

Bacha Pande v. Ganesh Pande. 1902 A W. N. 195 also 1907 A. W. N. 117=4 A. L. J. 455=29 All 457; F. B. also 8 C. W. N. 916=6 Bom. L. R. 1132=29 Bom. 285=19 M. L. J. 480=29 Cal 167=29 I. A. 51: P. C. also Hansraj v. Sundar Lal=7 C L J 620=12 C W N 785=18 M L J 266=10 Bom. L. R. 581 =35 Cal 648=35 I. A. 88; P. C.

204.—Appeal—Decree on private award.

A private award having been filed by one of the parties under S. 525, Civil Procedure Code, the other party objected and his objections were overruled. Held, that no appeal lay from a decree made in accordance with the award. Geidt, J.—The only questions that can be brought before an appellate Court in proceedings under Ss. 525 and 526 of the C. P. C. are (1) Whether any matter has been referred to arbitration without the intervention of the Court and an award made thereon; (2) Whether the decree ultimately made, is in excess of or not in accordance with the award. (6 C W N 226 and 10 C W N 609 considered.) Abdul Ali v Anwar Ali. 11 C W N 220.

205.—Sch. II r. 16 (1882 Ss. 522, 525, 526)—Arbitration award, private—Decree—Appeal.

When a Court has ordered a private arbitration award to be filed under s. 526 C. P. C. and has drawn up a decree in accordance with the award, no appeal lies against such decree except in so far as the decree may be in excess of or not in accordance with the award.

Quaere: Whether this rule is not limited to cases of misconduct and has any application when the cause shown against the filing of the award has denied the submission to arbitration or the genuineness of the award.

S. 526 should be read with S. 522, the provisions of which are, by implication made applicable to cases under the former section; the Court must proceed to give judgment according to the award and upon the judgment so given, a decree shall follow from which decree, no appeal lies, except in so far as the decree is in excess or not in accordance with the award.

The decision of the Full-Bench in Mahomed Wahiduddin v Hakiman (2), in so far as it affirmed the decision in Kali Prosanno Gosh v Rajani Kant Chatterjee (3), has been over-ruled by the Privy Council in the case of Ghulam Jilani v Muhammad Hussan. (4).

Semble: An order of refusal by a Court of first instance to file an award under S. 526 C. P. C. is a decree against which an appeal lies.

The bar as to appeal provided by S. 522 C. P. C. is applicable only when a decree has been made in accordance with the award by the Court of first instance and not when a similar decree has been made by a Court of Appeal in reversal of the order of the first Court setting aside the award. Chintamoni Aditya v Haladhar Maiti. 2 C L J 153=10 C W N 601. s. c, 3 C L J 450=33 Cal 757 F B. also 7 C L J 486

206.—Arbitration—Act X of 1877. Section 522—Judgment given in accordance with award before expiry of ten days allowed for application to set it aside.

The decrees from which no appeal will lie, unless on the grounds specified in section 522 of the Civil Procedure Code, are only the decrees passed upon judgments in accordance with an award given under the provisions of that section.

Where therefore judgment was given in accordance with an award before the ten days allowed for an application to set aside the award had expired, held, that such judgment could not be regarded as one under Section 522, and was therefore appealable. Hurdeo v Thana. P. R. 48 of 1882. Civil.

207.—Arbitration—Act X of 1877, S. 522—Judgment in accordance with award—Misconduct.

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

Where the Court of first instance passed a decree in accordance with an award of arbitrators, after disallowing objections on the ground of corruption put forward by one of the defendants, and on the said defendant's appeal, the lower Appellate Court set aside the award and remanded the case for decision on the merits on the ground that he was not satisfied that the arbitrators had acted honestly in making their award, and he was therefore not prepared to accept it, held, that as, under the last clause of S. 522 of the Civil Procedure Code, no appeal lies from a decree passed in accordance with an award except so far as it is in excess of, or not in accordance with, the award, and no objection of this nature was taken to the decree in the appeal to the lower Appellate Court, the judgment of that Court was therefore passed without jurisdiction and could give no jurisdiction to the Court of first instance to re-open the case. Dewa Singh v Ganda Singh. P R 17 of 1883.

208—Decree in terms of award—Slight modification—Award illegal—Civil Procedure Code (1882) S 522. In a suit which was defended by an agent (am-mukhtar) for the defendant, the agent applied to refer the matter to arbitration though he was not so empowered under the Am-Mokhtarnamah. The award having been submitted, objection was taken on behalf of the defendant that the agent was not authorized to apply for or consent to the reference. The objection having been overruled, the Court made a decree in terms of the award with a slight modification in the defendant's favour—Held, in answer to an objection that no appeal lay under s 522 of the Civil Procedure Code. except in so far as the decree was in excess of or not in terms of the award, that an appeal would lie if the award was shown to be illegal and void ab initio. I L R 17 Bom 357 followed. Saturji Pertap Bahadoor Sahi v Dulhin Gulab koer. 24 Cal 469.

Notes—Fol. 1 Bom L R 261; Dist. 28 Cal 303; 5 C W N 268; 7 C W N 343.

209—S. 54—Acquisition of inalienable charity properties—Award directing investment in Government securities, maintainability of appeal. The land taken up by Government in this case was the endowment of a family charity and as such inalienable and the award made directed the compensation-money to be invested in Government secuirities. It was the appellant's contention that no order for investment should have been made, the land being alienable. Held, an appeal lay against the award so far as regards the direction for the investment, but the land in question was prima facie not alienable and the order for investment appealed against was therefore, rightly made. Shiva Rao v Nagappa 29 Mad 117

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

210—Judgment in terms of an award—Ss. 521—522 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882)—

If the award upon which the decree is based is not a valid and legal award then only an appeal will lie against a decree given in terms of the award under s. 522 of the Code of Civil Procedure. 9 Cal 905. 11 Cal 37; 16 Calc 482, 6 All 147 15 Mad 348 referred to. Kali Prosanno Ghose v Rajani Kant Chatterjee 25 Calc 141.

Notes—Fol. 25 Cal 757 F B; 39 Cal 278; Over. 29 Cal 167 P C=6 C W N 226= 29 I A 51. Not Fol. 10 C W N 601. Ref. 29 Bom 285; 33 Cal 498; 6 Bom L R 1132.

211.—Sch. II, para 16 (2)—Arbitration, reference to—Award ——Decree in accordance with award—Appeal.

Held that no appeal lay to the Court below from a decree passed upon an award which was in accordance with it and not in excess of it, the Court of first instance having heard the objections thereto and modified the award so far as it was in excess of the actual reference. Narain Das v Ram Prasad. 9 A L J 258.

212.—Sch II (S 522)—Appeal—Trustee—Removal—Reference to arbitration—Jurisdiction to refer:—No appeal lies against a decree passed upon a valid award except on the ground that the decree is either in excess of, or not in accordance with the award. Misconduct in rejecting evidence is no ground. It is not ultra vires to the District Judge to refer a suit for the removal of a trustee to arbitration. Nambi Aiyangar v Narayana 11 M L J 337.

(12) C P C (1882), S 525.526

213.—Award—Denial of reference—Jurisdiction of Court-Determination of factum of reference —Ss 525,526 of Civil Procedure Code (1882)—

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

Held by the Full Bench that an order under S.525 determining that there has been no valid reference to arbitration and rejecting the application is a "decree" within the meaning of s 2 and is as such appealable 25 Cal 141 followed Mahomed Wahiduddin v Hakiman 25 Cal 757 = 2 C W N 529.

Notes:—Fol; 23 Mad 101: Ref 27 Mad 255 F B; 29 Cal 278; 6 C W N 235; 28 Bom 257; 14 M L J 356; 31 Cal 516; 28 All 621 = (1906) W N 136. 2 C L J 80; 2 C L J 431, 441; 33 Cal 757 F B = 10 C W N 601. 609 = 3 C L J 450; 7 C L J 486 9 C L J 563 = 13 C W N 654; 36 Cal 713; 29 Bom 621 F B. Over: 29 Cal 176 P C = 9 C W N 226 = 29 I A 51.

214.—Arbitration—Appeal against award filed under Section 526, Act of X 1877—Ground for such appeal.

Held, that an award which omits to determine matters referred, or which professes to determine matters not referred or which is so indefinite as to be incapable of execution as a decree of Court, is, for the purposes of S 525 and S 625 of the Code, no award, and appeal lies against a decree giving effect thereto. Lala Dharm Dass v Ajudhia Pershad P R 70 of 1881.

(13) JUDGMENT NOT IN ACCORDANCE WITH AWARD.

215.—Judgment not in accordance with award —

An appeal lies from a judgment given on an arbitration award, on the ground that the judgment is contrary to the award. Deb Narain Singh v Rajmonee Koonwar 3 W R 168.

Notes:—Ref: 8 W R 171.

216—Arbitration—Civil Procedure Code (Act X of 1877) Section 522—Award too indefinite to be capable of execution—Decree not in accordance with award.

In a suit for $\frac{1}{8}$th share in certain property left by the widow of one M S., in which the defendants pleaded inter alia that the houses included in the suit were their own property, the parties agreed to refer the matters in dispute to the decision of four arbitrators, who eventually awarded the plaintiff a $\frac{1}{8}$th share in all the houses left by the deceased. The arbitrators on being examined by the Court stated that out of 12 houses in the village, which the defendants claimed as their own, eight belonged to M. S, and the remaining four descended to the defendants from their father whereupon the Court passed a decree to the effect that plaintiff was entitled to a $\frac{1}{8}$th share of the houses left by M. S.

Held, that the case did not come before the Court as one governed by Section 522 of the Code, in which no appeal lay, as there was no award in the sense in which that term is used in the Code of a complete adjudication of the points referred to the arbitrators for decision and one capable of execution and that therefore an appeal lay both on that ground and also on the further ground that the decree strictly speaking was not in accordance with the award as pronounced.

Kala Singh v Dhanno Singh P R 47 of 1883.

217—S. 522 C. P. C.—Decree in accordance with award—Appeal—No award in law or fact.

Held, that an appeal lies from a decree passed in accordance with an award when such decree is impunged on the ground that there is no award in law or in fact, upon which judgment and decree could follow under s. 522 of the Code of Civil Procedure. (3 Suth P C C 145); and (4 L R 4 All 283) observed on. Lachman Das v Brij Pal 6 All 174 = 4 W N 16.

(14) ADDITION TO AWARD.

218—Addition to award.

The addition in a judgment according to an award of a trifling direction upon a matter not referred to the arbitrators, which was quite separable from the other parts of the award, and did not affect the decision on the matter referred, was held to come within the concluding part of Act VIII of 1859, s. 325, and not to affect the finality of the judgment. Hur Soonduree Dabee v Sreedhur Bhuttacharjee. 17 W R 352

(15) ORDER VARYING AWARD AS TO PAYMENT UNDER DECREE.

219—Order varying award as to payment under decree.

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

An appeal will lie from a decree which varies an award by containing a direction for payment by instalments which is not contained in the award. Phiran v Bahoran. 7 N W 367

(16) DOUBT AS TO VALIDITY OF AWARD.

220—Doubt as to validity of award.

An appeal lies where the reality of an arbitration award is questioned on the ground of there having been no valid submission to arbitration. Jungli Ram v Ram Heet Sahoy 19 W R 47

221—Appeal—Award—One of the arbitrators signing blank paper—Arbitrator, absence of one part of hearing—C. P. C. (Act XIV of 1882), S. 516.

An appeal lies, when there is no award in fact or when there is a void award.

When there was no proper compliance with the requirements of S. 516 of the Code, the award was ineffectual and in fact void, and an appeal lay from the decree or judgment based upon the award made by the arbitrators.

S. 516 of the Code contemplates an award in writing properly signed by the persons who make it.

Where an award had already been made and a judicial decision arrived at, a subsequent embodiment of the decision of the arbitrators in certain papers which already bore the signature of one of them and was signed subsequently by the others, did not vitiate the judicial act of the arbitrators.

The absence of one of the arbitrators from a part of the hearing vitiates the judicial character of the proceeding. Where the absent arbitrator signs a blank paper on which the decision is written out by the other arbitrators, the award is void. Benode Lal Pakrasi v Pran Chandra Pakrasi. 14 C L J 143.

222—Appeal-Time for setting aside an award not expired—Decree passed—Whether final.

Where a decree was passed in accordance with an award before time for taking objections to the validity of the award had expired:—Held that, an appeal lay against the decree. Before passing such a decree it is necessary for a Court to stay its hands until the time for making an application to set aside the award had expired. 19 W R 422, 23 W R 429, ref to. Najam-ud-din Ahmad v Albert Puech 4 A L J 450=1907 A W N 184=29 All 584.

(17) C P C 1859. S. 325.

223— Arbitration—Judgment according to award—Act VIII of 1859 Ss. 325, 327—Application to have an award filed in court—Appeal.

Where there has been an award, and the decree passed by the Court below is in accordance with that award, that judgment is final. But where it can be shown that there was not in fact any award on which a judgment could be based, there is no final decree, and an appeal will lie.

The fact that the arbitrators themselves clearly doubt the correctness of their decision in a strong objection to the finality of an award It is one which tends to show that the award is not valid; and on this ground an appeal will be against an order granting an application to have an award filed in court. (21 W R 248; 15 W R 9 F B 8 B L R 315 Diss). Bunyad Mahton v Nathoo Sahoo 1 C L R 455=3 Cal 375.

Notes:—Appl: 3 All 427. Dist: 6 Mad 414. Expl: 7 Cal 166. Ref: 13 C L R 14; 10 Cal 74; 4 All 283; 18 All 422 F B

224—Award Act VIII of 1859, Section 325—Irregularity—Appeal from judgment on award.

There is no appeal from a judgment under Section 325 of Act VIII of 1859 upon an award. 23 W R 420, 12 B L R 48; 3 Cal 375 distinguished. Wazir Mahton v Lulit Singh 7 Cal 166=8 C L R 505.

Notes:—Dist: 9 All 253

225—The Second Schedule r. 14 (1882 Ss. 520 521, 522, 525, 526)—Arbitration out of Court—Objection to validity of submission-Appeal. If an objection to the validity of the submission is made and the Court disallows it, no distinction can be drawn between such a case and one where an objection is taken, which is specifically mentioned in S. 520 or 521. The intention of the Code seems to be that, in the one case as much as in the other, if an objection to the validity of the submission is made and the court disallows it, no appeal shall lie, except on the ground mentioned in S. 522. The principle of finality appears to be equally applicable. 10 C W N 609. Fol: U B R. (1904-1905), Civil Procedure,, 40, 29 I A 51 (P C) 10 C W N 601. Ref. Nga Hmaung v Nga Kyaw Ya U B R (1906) C P 52

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

226—Award, judgment in terms of—Defendants not all joining in reference—Appeal.

The question whether under s. 522 of Civil Procedure Code an appeal will lie against a decree given in terms of an award, is dependent upon the question whether the award on which the decree is based is a valid and legal award. In a suit, a plaintiff and only some of the defendants applied to refer the suit to arbitration; an award was given and a decree was made in terms of such award. The plaintiffs objected to the award being valid, on the ground that all the parties to suit had not joined in reference to arbitration : the objection was disallowed and judgment given in terms of the award—Held that an appeal would lie from a decree disallowing the objection and confirming the award. Joy Prakash Lall v Sheo Golam Singh. 11 Cal 37.

Notes:—Appl: 16 Cal 482, Ref: 24 Cal 908 F B; 25 Cal 141; 757 F B: 27 Cal 61; 20 Bom 596; 9 C W N 873.

227—The Second Schedule r. 1 (1882 Ss 506 522)—All parties—Reference by some Appeal. An award on a reference under S. 506 C P C not agreed to by all the parties to the suit is invalid in law. An appeal and a second appeal lie from a decree passed upon such an award. Parsedh Narayan Singh v Ghanshyam Narain 9 C W N 873.

Notes.—Diss 33 Cal 899. Ref 17 M L J 394. 10 C L J 41; 14 C W N 75

228—Second Schedule r. 1 (1882 Ss. 505, 522)—Reference to arbitration by some only of the parties to a suit—Award and decree in terms—Appeal. An award passed on reference to arbitration made on the application of only some of the parties to a suit, the others being the representatives of a deceased party and not yet brought on the record is void and an appeal lies from a decree though in conformity with such an award. Indur Subbasami Reddy v Kundadai Rajamannar Ayyangar 26 Mad 47

Notes—Not fol 32 Mad 510. Ref: 17 M L J 394; 19 M L J 480

Appeal-Contd.

4 Asbitration—Contd.

229—Appeal—Revision—(Act X of 1871.)

In execution of a decree by P, one of the two decree-holders, the judgment-debtor pleaded that the decree had been satisfied. The matter was eventually referred to arbitration. Before the award was delivered the other decree-holder, R, applied to the Court that her interest in the decree should not be affected by the arbitration, as she was not a party thereto. The arbitrator decided that the decree had been satisfied and the Court made an order accordingly overruling the objection of P. But it also provided that the order should not affect the other decree-holder R. On appeal by P the lower appellate Court set aside the award on the ground that the case had been referred without the consent of all the parties. The judgment-debtors applied for a revision of this order to the High Court. Held that as an appeal lay to the High Court, the application for revision was inadmissble. Ramphal 1 W N 24.

230—Arbitration—Reference by one out of three plaintiffs and the defendants—Finality of award—Act X of 1877, Section 522—Ratification by parties who did not join in reference—Estoppel.—A suit by three plaintiffs, a father and his two sons having been dismissed by the Court of first instance, all three plaintiffs appealed and the respondents joined in a reference to arbitration, on which an award in the respondents' favour eventually followed, in accordance with which a decree was passed. On second appeal, the two plaintiff appellants, who did not join in the reference to arbitration, urged that the award did not bind them.

Held, that as the reference did not purport to have been made by all the appellants, the award was not final against any of them, though it was admissible in evidence against the plaintiff who was a party to the reference. P R 4 of 1882, F B) cited.

Held further, that to bind the appealing plaintiffs it was necessary to show that they ratified their co plaintiff's act in referring the appeal to arbitration, or by their conduct induced the defendants to believe that they were consenting parties to the arbitration, though they had not formally joined in the reference and were therefore estopped from contending that they were not parties to the arbitration: otherwise the reference to arbitration must be set aside as regards them. (No 67 of 1879 Civil) (53 of 1880, Civil) Dhera Mal v Mussammat Karmdevi (PR 109 of 1883 Civil)

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

231—Arbitration-Act X of 1877, Sections 506, 508, 522—Reference without consent of all the parties to the suit—Award and judgment in accordance therewith—Right of appeal by party consenting to reference—Jurisdiction—Effect of award following on submission to arbitration by some only of the parties to the suit.

Held, by the Full Bench that as by the Provisions of Section 506 of the Code of Civil Procedure the consent of all parties to a suit is a condition precedent to the jurisdiction of a Court to make an order of reference under Section 508, therefore if only some of the parties consent, an award made upon such an order is not an award that renders a judgment or decree passed in accordance with it final as regards appeal under Section 522 and it is open in such a case to any of the parties who consented to the reference to appeal from the decree on the ground that the award was passed upon an order of reference made without jurisdiction because consent of some of the parties cannot give the Court a jurisdiction not given to it by law.

But held further, by the Division Bench (Plowden and Brandreth, JJ.), that where some only of the parties to a suit submit to arbitration (the submission not being conditional upon the consent of the other parties), and an award follows on such submission, the proceedings are not void nor the award a nullity, but the award is good as evidence on behalf of the party in whose favour it is made, and such party is entitled to have a decree which has followed on such award upheld, unless the opposite party can satisfy the Court that the award is invalid that is to say, one to which as it stands the Court cannot or ought not to give effect Cheto Mull v. Mahoo Mull P R 4 of 1882 Civil Notes—Note; 57 of 1885.

232.—Arbitration-Decree in accordance with award-Appeal by defendants on ground that they did not join in reference—Finality of judgment in accordance with award—Act X of 1877, Ss. 506, 508, 522.

A decree having been passed in accordance with the award of the majority of arbitrators appointed in the case, some of the defendants appealed, urging inter alia that they did not join in the application for reference to arbitration not having been present when the application was presented, and that their names were entered without their sanction.

Held, that, if the above allegation was correct, there was no reference to arbitration such as is contemplated in Chapter XXXVII of the Code, and an appeal would therefore not be barred. (P. R 4 of 1882, F B) followed.

Ahmad v Mussammat Bhagbari. P R 170 of 1883.

(18) ORDER SETTING ASIDE DECREE.

233.—Civil Procedure Code (1882) Section 521—Decree upon award—order setting aside decree.

A suit was referred to arbitration. An award was duly filed and a decree passed in terms of the same. The plaintiff then applied to the Court to have the decree set aside on the ground that he had no notice of arbitration and of the filing of the award and that though the award was alleged to have been made with the consent of the parties, he, the plaintiff had not consented to it. The court passed an order setting aside the decree and the award and ordering the case to be set down for the hearing :—Held that no appeal lay from such order. 4 Calc 231 dissented from. 14 W R 327 followed.

Ambica Dasi v Nadyar Chand Pal. 11 Cal 172.

Notes:—Ref : 22 Mad 202 : 31 Mad 345 = 18 M L J 228.

(19) C P C S. 521 (1882).

234.—Appeal—Arbitration Civil Procedure Code (1882) Section 521. Legality of order giving back award for re-consideration.—

It was stated, in an award given by the arbitrators to whom all matters in dispute had been submitted, that "defendant has not produced any witness in support of his contention raised in issues nos. 1, 2, 5, 6, hence we have only to deal with issues Nos. 3, 4, and 7", and the arbitrators gave their finding only on the latter issues. The award was remitted as the arbitrators had not determined the issues Nos. 1, 2, 5 and 6.—Held —(1) In an appeal against a decree ultimately passed the legality of an order giving back the award for reconsiderations to the arbitrators, may be challenged (2) That the award should not have been remitted. There was nothing illegal on the face of it and as regards the whole matter in issue between the parties there was a decision. 14 W R 327. I L R 11 Cal 172; I L R 2 All 181; 3 All 643. referred to.

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

George v Vastian Soury. 22 Mad 202.

Notes:—Ref: (1908) W N 242; 31 Mad 345=18 M L J 225, 5 A L J 644; 18 M L J 485=31 Mad 479.

235.—Passed by appellate Court—Finality.

This suit (for possession of certain zamindari share) was instituted in August,1884. On the 10th January following the matter was, by consent of the parties, referred to arbitration. On the 19th January, 1885, the defendants put in an application paying that the suit be tried by the Court on the merits. The Court answered that the proper time for objection was when the award had been returned. The award was made on the 16th February, 1885, and the defendants presented a second application containing their objections to the award charging the arbitrators with misconduct and corruption. These objections the Court allowed without going into the evidence on the allegations. It therefore went into the merits of the case and gave a partial decree to the plaintiffs. The plaintiffs preferred an appeal. The lower appellate Court remanded the case under s. 566 for inquiry as to whether the award was open to the objections raised by the defendants under S. 521. The Court of first instance found that it was not (the defendants producing no evidence to substantiate their allegations). Upon receipt of this finding the appellate Court held that, the award was not open to any legal objection and gave a decree in conformity with the award. Held that no second appeal would lie from such decree; the Code throughout gives to appellate Courts all the powers that the Courts of first instance have in connection with litigation in general and with reference to arbitration in particular.

Naurang Singh v Sadaphal Singh 11 All 8=7 W N 240.

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

236.—Civil Procedure Code, 1882, Sections 522, 582—Finality of decree in accordance with decree—Appeal.

A Court of first instance, upon objections made to it, wrongly set aside an award. The Court of first appeal set aside this order and passed a decree in accordance with the award—Held, that, under the combined effect of Sections 522 and 582 of the Civil Procedure Code, the latter decree was final and not open to further appeal. Nawab v Ahmad Khan. 26 P R 1890.

(20) AWARD.

237.—Award—Objection to its filing—Finality of decree on award—Private arbitration—Civil Procedure Code (1882), Sections 520, 521, 525 and 526.

An arbitrator to whom certain disputes between parties were referred under a written agreement made his award in due course. An application was made by the plaintiffs to file the award under section 525 to the Subordinate Judge. The following are the chief grounds on which the defendants objected. (1) That the application should have been made to the Munsif's Court instead of the Subordinate Judge as the value of the property was Rs. 500 only. (2) That the agreement of submission was very vague and did not clearly specify the matters in dispute. The objection was overruled by the Subordinate Judge without taking evidence and the award was directed to be filed and a decree was passed thereon. The plaintiff appealed. The defendants' contention was that no appeal lay, and that, if it did, it lay to the District Judge, and not to the High Court:—Held, that, assuming that in a proceeding under Sections 525 and 526 the Court has power to consider such objections as are mentioned in Sections 520 and 521 the above objections did not fall under either Section, and therefore no appeal would lie.

Bindessuri Pershad Singh v Jankee Pershad Singh. 16 Cal 482.

Notes:—Ref: 21 Cal 213 F B; 25 Cal 141; 20 Bom 596: 18 All 414.

238.—Appeal—Arbitration—Award—Decree on judgment in accordance with award.

During the pendency of a suit in the Court of

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

a Subordinate Judge the matters in dispute between the parties were referred to arbitration. In due course a document purporting to be the arbitrator's award was received by the Court through the post. Objections were filed by one of the defendants to the suit: but these objections were, after hearing, disallowed by the Court, which proceeded to pass a decree in accordance with the award. The arbitrator himself admitted in his evidence that he did not intend to make it. Held that, an appeal would lie from such a decree upon the ground that the so-called award was never delivered nor intended to be delivered at all by the arbitrator and was in fact and in law no award at all.

Sham Lal v Misri Kunwar.
(1907) A W N 115=29 All 426.

(21) C. P C 1859, SS. 327,325

239.—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, ss. 327 and 325—Finality of judgment on award.

S. 327, Civil Procedure Code, incorporates the provision in s. 325 as to the finality of the judgment given according to the award, and puts the award filed under s. 327 in the same position as the award filed under s. 325. Where a Court files an arbitration award and passes a decree, that decree is final. Semble—The word " date " in s.327 does not mean the day written in the award as when it was made, but the time when it is handed over to the parties, so that they may be able to give effect to it. Sreenath Chatterjee v Kylash Chunder Chatterjee 21 W R 248.

(22) AGREEMENT TO REFER NOT PROVIDING FOR DISAGREEMENT OF ARBITRATORS.

240—S. 523 C. P. C —Unauthorized appointment of umpire by Court—Award—Appeal.

In an agreement to refer certain matters to arbitration which was filed in Court under s. 523 of the Code of Civil Procedure, and on which an order of reference was made by the Court, no provision was made for difference of opinion between the arbitrators, by appointing an umpire, or otherwise the arbitrators being unable to agree upon the matters referred, the Court, on the application of one of them appointed an umpire and directed that the award should be submitted on a particular date. And award was made by the umpire and one arbitrator, without the concurrence of the other arbitrator, and submitted to the Court, which passed a decree in accordance with its terms On appeal by the defendant in the case, the District Judge reversed the decree. Held that, an appeal would lie to the Judge from the decree of the first Court, where there had been no legal award such as the law contemplated. (I. L. R. 6 All.. 174) referred to. Held that, in the present case, there had been no legal award such as the law contemplated, inasmuch as the agreement to refer gave the Court no power to appoint an umpire, and required that the award should be made by the arbitrators named by the parties. Held that s. 509 and the other sections preceding s. 523 of the Code of Civil procedure, relating to the power of the Court to provide for differences of opinion among the arbitrators. were only made applicable to cases coming under s 523, so far as their provisions were consistent with the agreement filed under that section. Held also that the defendant was not precluded from appealing to the Judge from the first Court's decree because he had not applied to set aside the award within the ten days allowed by Art. 158, sch. II of the Limitation Act, inasmuch as that article applied to applications referred to in s. 522 of the Code of Civil Procedure, i. e., applications to set aside an award on any of the grounds mentioned in s. 521, and the defendant did not contest the award on any of those grounds.

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

Muhammad Abid v Muhammad Asghar.
8 All 64=6 W N 2.

Notes—Dist· 29 Cal 36; 8 C L J 475.

(23) POWERS OF ARBITRATORS

241—Powers of arbitrators—Payment by instalments—Civil Procedure Code, ss. 518, 522.

The arbitrators, to whom the matters in difference in two suits for money were referred to arbitration, made an award for payment to the plaintiff of certain sums by the defendant, and further directed that these sums should be paid by certain instalments. The plaintiff preferred objections to the award in so far as it directed payment by instalments, and the Court, holding that the arbitrators had no power to make such a direction, modified the award to that extent, under s. 518 of the Civil Procedure Code. On appeal, the District Judge, while allowing the power of the arbitrators to direct payment by instalments, reduced the number of instalments, which had been fixed. Held that, the decree of the first Court not being in accordance with the award. an appeal lay to the Judge, with reference to s. 522 of the Code. Per Mahmood, J.—The word " award " used in that last sentence of s. 522 of the Code must be understood to mean an award as given by the arbitrators, and not as amended by the Court under s. 518. The words " in excess of, or not in accordance with, the award," used in s. 522, were intended to enable the Court of appeal to check the improper use of the power conferred by s.518.

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

Jawahar Singh v Mul Raj 8 All 449.

(24)EVIDENCE GIVEN BY PARTY ON OATH PROPOSED BY OPPOSITE PARTY.

242—Evidence given by party on oath proposed by opposite party—Award in accordance with such evidence-Judgment in accordance with award—Validity of award-Act X of 1877 (Civil Procedure Code), ss. 520, 521, 522-Act X of 1873 (Oaths Act).

The plaintiff in a suit, which had been referred to arbitration, offered before the arbitrator to be bound by the evidence of the defendant given on a certain oath. With the arbitrator's consent the defendant accepted such offer, and gave evidence on such oath. The arbitrator made an award in accordance with the evidence so given. The plaintiff objected to the award, not on any of the grounds mentioned in ss. 520 and 521 of the Civil Procedure Code, but on the ground that the Procedure of the arbitrator had been illegal. The Court disallowed this objection, and gave a judgment and decree in accordance with the award. Held by Straight, J., that such decree, being in accordance with the award, was not appealable. Held by Stuart. C. J. that the award not being open to objection on any of the grounds mentioned in ss. 520 and 521 of the Civil Procedure Code, and the decree being in accordance with the award, the decree was not appealable. Held by Oldfield J., that the procedure adopted by the arbitrator being illegal, not being warranted by the Oaths Act, and there being in reality no award within the meaning of the Civil Porcedure Code, the decree therefore was appealable. Per Stuart, C. J., that the Procedure of the arbitrator did not require to be warranted by the Oaths Act, as he was entitled by virtue of his office to proceed as he did.

Bhagirath v Ram Ghulam 4 All 283.

Notes—Ap: 18 All 422 F B. Dist: 9 All 253. Con: 6 All 174 F B. Ref: 5 All 500.

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

243—(1908) Sch. II——Invalid reference and award—Appeal from decree passed in accordance with such award. Where there is no valid reference to arbitration and no valid award, the decree passed in accordance with it cannot be maintained and an appeal lies against such decree.-6 A L J 383 Ref. Shib Lal v. Chaturbhuj 6 A L J 496=2 Ind Cas 363=31 All 450.

244—Section 521—And Sections 522, 582—Arbitration—Award—Decree of Appellate Court in accordance with award—Finality of decree—Further appeal.

Held, that when a Court of first instance wrongly sets aside an arbitration award and passed a decree against the terms thereof, and a Court of appeal dealing with the merits of the case comes to the conclusion that the award was not open to any such objections as are contemplated by Section 521 of the Code of Civil Procedure and upon that finding passed a decree strictly in accordance with the terms of the award, such appellate decree is entitled to the same finality as a decree of the first Court would have had under the last paragraph of Section 522, and cannot be made the subject of a further appeal. (12 W R 93) (14 W R 327) (12 C L R 564) (22 W R 447) considered and dissented from. (26 P. R. 1890) (10 all, 8) (25 P R1902 P C) cited and followed.

BaharBakhsh v. Inayat Ali (89 P R 1904).

245—Sch. II r 1 (1882—S. 506)—Arbitration—Appeal—Revision—Tearing original and making fresh award—Taking evidence in absence of parties— Corruption of misconduct—C P C 1908 second Schedule paras, 15 and 16. Held, that a decree passed in accordance with an award, after finding that there was no misconduct or corruption of the arbitrators, to whom a case is referred for arbitration on the application of the parties, is neither subject to appeal nor to revision and that an Appellate Court's action to interfere with it in any way even with the consent of the parties is ultra vires ab initio.

Held, also, that on the objection of any party, the arbitrators can reconsider their award after it is made, but before it is submitted to the Court. Thus a fresh award is valid and legal even if it is different in its terms from the original one

Held, further that it does not amount to misconduct of an arbitrator if he takes evidence in the absence of the parties with their express or implied consent. 92 P R 1908; 25 Cal 141: Fol C P R-66=148 P W R 1907; 18 Bom 299 Ref. Dial Chand v Khuda Baksh 73 P W R 1910

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

246-Suit barred by limitation (Act X of 1877); The suit which was for money lent, was referred to arbitration by the lower appellate Court. The award was in favour of the plaintiff and the lower appellate Court gave judgment in accordance with the award. On appeal by the defendant to the High Court it was contended that the suit was barred by limitation. This defence had not been set up in the lower Courts. The Court observed that the judgment of the lower appellate Court was not appealable being in accordance with the award. Jagmandar Das v Piare Lal 1 W N 17

(3) APPLICATION TO FILE AWARD.

247—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) Ss. 525, 520, 521—Award—Application to file—in a case where if applied to the Court to file an award under S. 525 of the Code of Civil Procedure and its filing is objected to on any of the grounds mentioned in s.520 or 521 the proper course for the Court to pursue is to dismiss the application and leave the applicant to bring a regular suit to enforce the award in which all the objections to its validity may be properly tried and determined. No appeal lies against an order of the Court to file an award if no objection in made to the filing of the award. Hurronath Chowdhry v. Nistarini Chowdrani 10 Cal 74

Notes.—Diss· 25 Cal 757 F B;16 All 231. Ref 16 Cal 482: 21 Cal 212 F B, 6 All 186 F B.

248—Award private—Application to file—Objections under S 520—Matters left undetermined—Disallowance of objection—Decree directing award to be filed—Appeal—S 522 when applies—Practice—Mofussil Courts—Original side—Revisional power, of High Court—Exercise suo moto—Per Curiam (Rampini and Pratt JJ contra).

An appeal lies from an order passed under S. 526 C P C merely directing the filing of an award made on a submission to arbitration without the intervention of a Court of justice. Upon an application under S. 525 C P C to have a private award filed, the opposite party objected that the arbitrator had left undetermined certain matters referred to him for decision. The objection was overruled and the award was ordered to be filed and the following decree was drawn up containing the arbial direction:—" It is ordered that the arbitration award in this case be filed in Court. " This decree was set aside on appeal, the lower appellate Court holding the objection to be a valid one —Held, Per Curiam Maclean C J and Sale,J ,contra) that no appeal lay from the decree of the first Court and the lower appellate Court had no authority to interfere with it Per Maclean, C J and GhoseJ.—When an award has been ordered to be filed under S.526 C P C., the party, in whose favour it is, must proceed to obtain a judgment and consequent decree under S 522 C P C., and if that decree is according to the award then there is no appeal from it. Per Ghose Rampini and Pratt JJ.:—The decree in this case was substantially a decree in accordance with an award as contemplated by S. 526 read with S. 522, C P C. Per Sale,J—No decree expressly incorporating the terms of the award is required to be drawn up in pursuance of the order to file the award made under S. 526, C P C nor is the clause restricting the right of appeal in the case of a decree made under S. 522, C P C applicable to an order to file an award made under S. 526, C P C. Per Rampini and Pratt JJ.—No appeal lies from an order directing an award to be filed under S. 526 C P C, except when the decree is in excess of or not in accordance with the award, although an order refusing to file the award is appealable Per Maclean C J.—An order directing as well as one refusing the filing of an award stand on the same footing as regards appealability. 6 C W N 266; s. c. 29 Cal 767; 29 I A 57— Janokey Nath Guha Roy v Brojo Lol B F Guha 10 C W N 609= 33 Cal 757; F B.

249—Res—judicata—Order refusing to file award—Suit to enforce it—Whether barred.

An order of a Court refusing to file an award does not operate as res judicata in respect of a subsequent suit brought to enforce it, inasmuch as no appeal lies from the order refusing to file it. (28 All 26; 32 All 484 Ref) Shib Charan Das v. Ramchandar Sarup 8 A L J 315.

250—S. 525—Appeal from order refusing to file award.

An appeal lies against an order refusing to grant an application to file an award under S. 525, C P C 29 C. 167 ref. to: 3 C L J 450; 33 Cal. 757 foll : 6 All 186; 26 All 205 not foll.

Sheo Sahai Mahton v Kirtarth Bhagah 7C L J 486.

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

the Judge, with reference to s. 522 of the Code. Per Mahmood, J.—The word " award " used in that last sentence of s. 522 of the Code must be understood to mean an award as given by the arbitrators, and not as amended by the Court under s. 518. The words " in excess of, or not in accordance with, the award," used in s. 522, were intended to enable the Court of appeal to check the improper use of the power conferred by s.518.

Jawahar Singh v Mul Raj 8 All 449.

(24)EVIDENCE GIVEN BY PARTY ON OATH PROPOSED BY OPPOSITE PARTY.

242—Evidence given by party on oath proposed by opposite party—Award in accordance with such evidence-Judgment in accordance with award—Validity of award-Act X of 1877 (Civil Procedure Code), ss. 520, 521, 522-Act X of 1873 (Oaths Act).

The plaintiff in a suit, which had been referred to arbitration, offered before the arbitrator to be bound by the evidence of the defendant given on a certain oath. With the arbitrator's consent the defendant accepted such offer, and gave evidence on such oath. The arbitrator made an award in accordance with the evidence so given. The plaintiff objected to the award, not on any of the grounds mentioned in ss. 520 and 521 of the Civil Procedure Code, but on the ground that the Procedure of the arbitrator had been illegal. The Court disallowed this objection, and gave a judgment and decree in accordance with the award. Held by Straight, J., that such decree, being in accordance with the award, was not appealable. Held by Stuart, C. J. that the award not being open to objection on any of the grounds mentioned in ss. 520 and 521 of the Civil Procedure Code, and the decree being in accordance with the award, the decree was not appealable. Held by Oldfield J., that the procedure adopted by the arbitrator being illegal, not being warranted by the Oaths Act, and there being in reality no award within the meaning of the Civil Porcedure Code, the decree therefore was appealable. Per Stuart, C. J, that the Procedure of the arbitrator did not require to be warranted by the Oaths Act, as he was entitled by virtue of his office to proceed as he did.

Bhagirath v Ram Ghulam 4 All 283.

Notes—Ap: 18 All 422 F B. Dist: 9 All 253. Con: 6 All 174 F B. Ref: 5 All 500.

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

243—(1908) Sch. II——Invalid reference and award—Appeal from decree passed in accordance with such award. Where there is no valid reference to arbitration and no valid award, the decree passed in accordance with it cannot be maintained and an appeal lies against such decree.-6 A L J 333 Ref. Shib Lal v. Chaturbhuj 6 A L J 496=2 Ind Cas 363=31 All 450.

244—Section 521—And Sections 522, 582—Arbitration—Award—Decree of Appellate Court in accordance with award—Finality of decree—Further appeal.

Held, that when a Court of first instance wrongly sets aside an arbitration award and passed a decree against the terms thereof, and a Court of appeal dealing with the merits of the case comes to the conclusion that the award was not open to any such objections as are contemplated by Section 521 of the Code of Civil Procedure and upon that finding passed a decree strictly in accordance with the terms of the award, such appellate decree is entitled to the same finality as a decree of the first Court would have had under the last paragraph of Section 522, and cannot be made the subject of a further appeal. (12 W R 93) (14 W R 327) (12 C L R 564) (22 W R 447) considered and dissented from. (26 P. R. 1890) (10 all, 8) (25 P R1902 P C) cited and followed.

BaharBakhsh v. Inayat Ali (89 P R 1904).

245—Sch II r) (1882—S. 506)—Arbitration—Appeal—Revision—Tearing original and making fresh award—Taking evidence in absence of parties— Corruption of misconduct—C P C 1908 second Schedule paras, 15 and 16. Held, that a decree passed in accordance with an award, after finding that there was no misconduct or corruption of the arbitrators, to whom a case is referred for arbitration on the application of the parties, is neither subject to appeal nor to revision and that an Appellate Court's action to interfere with it in any way even with the consent of the parties is ultra vires ab initio.

Held, also, that on the objection of any party, the arbitrators can reconsider their award after it is made, but before it is submitted to the Court. Thus a fresh award is valid and legal even if it is different in its terms from the original one

Held, further that it does not amount to misconduct of an arbitrator if he takes evidence in the absence of the parties with their express or implied consent. 92 P R 1908; 25 Cal 141, Fol C P R-66=148 P W R 1907; 18 Bom 299 Ref. Dial Chand v Khuda Baksh 73 P W R 1910

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

246-Suit barred by limitation (Act X of 1877); The suit which was for money lent, was referred to arbitration by the lower appellate Court. The award was in favour of the plaintiff and the lower appellate Court gave judgment in accordance with the award. On appeal by the defendant to the High Court it was contended that the suit was barred by limitation. This defence had not been set up in the lower Courts. The Court observed that the judgment of the lower appellate Court was not appealable being in accordance with the award. Jagmandar Das v Piare Lal 1 W N 17

(3) APPLICATION TO FILE AWARD.

247—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) Ss. 525, 520, 521—Award—Application to file—in a case where if applied to the Court to file an award under S. 525 of the Code of Civil Procedure and its filing is objected to on any of the grounds mentioned in s.520 or 521 the proper course for the Court to pursue is to dismiss the application and leave the applicant to bring a regular suit to enforce the award in which all the objections to its validity may be properly tried and determined. No appeal lies against an order of the Court to file an award if no objection in made to the filing of the award. Hurronath Chowdhry v. Nistarini Chowdrani 10 Cal 74

Notes.—Diss· 25 Cal 757 F B;16 All 231. Ref 16 Cal 482: 21 Cal 212 F B, 6 All 186 F B.

248—Award private—Application to file—Objections under S 520—Matters left undetermined—Disallowance of objection—Decree directing award to be filed—Appeal—S 522 when applies—Practice—Mofussil Courts—Original side—Revisional power, of High Court—Exercise suo moto—PerCurim (Rampini and Partt JJ contra).

An appeal lies from an order passed under S. 526 C P C merely directing the filing of an award made on a submission to arbitration without the intervention of a Court of justice. Upon an application under S. 525 C P C to have a private award filed, the opposite party objected that the arbitrator had left undertermined certain matters referred to him for decision. The objection was overruled and the award was ordered to be filed and the following decree was drawn up con taining the arbial direction:—" It is ordered that the arbitration award in this case be filed in Court. " This decree was set aside on appeal, the lower appellate Court holding the objection to be a valid one —Held, Per Curiam Maclean C J and Sale,J ,contra) that no appeal lay from the decree of the first Court and the lower appellate Court had no authority to interfere with it Per Maclean, C J and GhoseJ.—When an award has been ordered to be filed under S.525 C P C., the party, in whose favour it is, must proceed to obtain a judgment and consequent decree under S 522 C P C., and if that decree is according to the award then there is no appeal from it. Per Ghose Rampini and Pratt JJ.:—The decree in this case was substantially a decree in accordance with an award as contemplated by S. 526 read with S. 522, C P C. Per Sale,J—No decree expressly incorporating the terms of the award is required to be drawn up in pursuance of the order to file the award made under S. 526, C P C, nor is the clause restricting the right of appeal in the case of a decree made under S. 522. C P C applicable to an order to file an award made under S. 526, C P C. Per Rampini and Pratt JJ.—No appeal lies from an order directing an award to be filed under S. 526 C P C except when the decree is in excess of or not in accordance with the award, although an order refusing to file the award is appealable. Per Maclean C J.—An order directing as well as one refusing the filing of an award stand on the same footing as regards appealability. 6 C W N 266; s. c. 29 Cal 167; 29 I A 57— Janokey Nath Guha Roy v Brojo Lol B F Guha 10 C W N 609= 33 Cal 757; F B.

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

249—Res—judicata—Order refusing to file award—Suit to enforce it—Whether barred.

An order of a Court refusing to file an award does not operate as res judicata in respect of a subsequent suit brought to enforce it, inasmuch as no appeal lies from the order refusing to file it. (28 All 26; 32 All 484 Ref.) Shib Charan Das v. Ramchandar Sarup 8 A L J 315.

250—S. 525—Appeal from order refusing to file award.

An appeal lies against an order refusing to grant an application to file an award under S. 525, C P C 29 C. 167 ref. to: 3 C L J 450, 33 Cal. 757 foll : 6 All 186; 26 All 205 not foll.

Sheo Sahai Mahton v Kirtarth Bhagah 7C L J 486.

Appeal - Contd.

4 Arbitration — Contd.

251—Civil Procedure Code Ss. 520-521—Appeal-Objection—Jurisdiction—Award.]

An objection falling within the scope of S 520 or 521 Civil Procedure Code cannot form the basis of an appeal. An objection which is outside the scope of those sections does not take away the jurisdiction of the court to order an award to be filed and affords ground for an appeal. (25 Cal 757; 16 All 231; 17 All 21; 4 Mad 319; 18 Mad 423 20 Mad 89, 9 Bom 254; 17 Bom 674; 20 Bom 596 Ref:) Bastaram v Govind Ram 13 C P L R 53.

(1) ORDER REJECTING APPEAL

252—Civil Procedure Code S. 525—Filing of award—Matters to be decided on application—Court fee.

No appeal would lie from an order upon an application to file an award under s. 525 of the Civil Procedure Code. Upon an application to file an award, the court to which the applications made has no jurisdiction to make enquiries as to whether the defendant has agreed to the terms of the deed referring the matter to arbitration, or whether there is any fraud. When such objections are made, it is the duty of the Court to reject the application under s 525, and refer the parties to a regular suit. Bijadhur Bhagut v Monohur Bhagut. 10 Cal 11

Palut Bhagut v Monohur Bhagut 13 C L R 171.

Notes:—Diss: 25 Cal 757 F B. Ref: 17 Bom 674; 6 All 186 F B; 17 All 21 F B. Fol: 25 Cal 757 F B.

253—254—Unauthorized amendment—Appeal—(Act X of 18877).

The appellants applied to the Munsif under s. 525 of Act X of 1877 that an award might be filed in Court. After the first hearing of the case the Munsif ordered the appellants to amend their plaint, misunderstanding the provisions of s 525. By the amendment the case was taken out of the scope of Chapter XXXVII of the Code of Civil Procedure. Held that under the circumstances, the Judge had jurisdiction to hear the appeal preferred to him from the Munsif's decree. Ganesh Lal v Narain Das 1 W N 29

(4) REFUSAL TO FILE AWARD IN COURT.

255—Order refusing application to file—Appeal.

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

Held (Oldfied, J., dissenting) that an appeal does not lie from an order disallowing an application to file an award under s. 525 of the Code of Civil Procedure. (I L R 3 All 427) distinguished by Stuart J. The same case followed by Oldfield.

Bhola v. Gobind Dayal 6 All 186 = 4 W N 31.

Per contra Janki v. Gayan, 3 All 427 = 1 W N 4

Notes—Ref 16 Cal 482; 26 All 205 Fol 28 All 21 = 2 A L J 50 = (1905) W N 165. Not Fol 7 C L J 486.

256— Sch. 11 (S. 525 5)—Order refusing to file an award, decree—Appeal.

An order made on an application to file an award under S. 525 C P C is a decree within the meaning of C P C and an appeal lies from an order refusing to file the award and setting it aside. 3 Mad 68 overruled 29 I A. 51, foll. 18 Cal 414, declared not, inconsistent with 29 I A 51. Ponnusami Mudali v Mandi Sundara Mudali 14 M L J 356 = 27 Mad 255

Notes:—Contra 26 All 205.

257—Private award—Order refusing to file, if decreed and appealable-Award, decree made in terms of, by appellate Court, if appealable-Appeal—Final, when decree made upon private award by first Court.

An order under s. 526 of the Code of Civil Procedure refusing to file an award made without the intervention of the Court is a decree and consequently appealable. When a Court of first instance to which an application has been made under s. 525 C P C refuses to file the award, and such order is reversed on appeal and a decree made in accordance with the award, the decree is appealable. The finality which attaches to a decree made in accordance with an award as provided by S. 522. C P C., refers only to a case in which such decree is made by the Court of first instance, and does not apply to a case in which such decree is made for the first time by the appellate Court in reversal of the order of the first Court. Abdul Taher v Azmut Bibi 2 C L J 80.

258.--Appeal—Award-Order rejecting application to file award made out of Court—Appeal.

No appeal will lie from an order refusing to file an award made between the parties without the intervention of a Court and such order cannot have the force of res judicata. (26 All 186 and W N (1903) 34 Fol. 29 Cal 167 Dist; 18 Cal 414 Ref.) Basant Lal v Kunji Lal (1905) A W N 165=28 All 21 Contra 2 C L J 658= 10 C W N 601.

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

259.—C P C, 1882, Sec. 525—Order refusing to file private award—Whether appeal lies.

No appeal lies from an order refusing to file an award made without the intervention of a Court. Katik Ram v Babu Lal. 26 All 205 =A W N 1903 234.

Notes:—(6 All 186 Foll; 29 Cal 167, Dist) Diss. 10 C W N 601=2 C L J 153.100 P R 1907 =17 P L R 1908; Disappr, 88 P W R 1907=126 P R 1907=50 P L R 1908; Fol. 28 All 21=2 A L J 450=A W N 1908,165; R33 Cal 757=3 C L J 450=10 C W N 609, 9 O C 205, 11 O C 116, 1 P R 1908=58 P W R 1907.

259A—The Second Schedule r.20 (1882 S 525) Arbitration—Award refusing application to file —Appeal Civ. Pro. Code (Act v of 1908). S. 104. cl. (f)—Proceedings—Securing attendance of witness—Procedure—Rules of evidence. An appeal lies against an order refusing to grant an application to file an award under S. 525 of the Code of 1882.

There is no provision of law which requires private arbitrators to adopt any special procedure. The rules of evidence cannot be strictly applied to such proceedings. It is the duty of private arbitrators to examine the persons produced before them by the parties to give evidence. 7 C. L. J. 486, Fol: 28 All. 21; 2 A. L. J. 450; A. W. N. (1905), 150, diss. Ram Dhabi Sahu v. Ram Charitar Sahu. 7 Ind Cas 333.

259B—Ss. 104, 105—Interpretation of statute —Retrospective effect—Appeal—Order refusing to file an award made in 1909—Application in 1908.

The Code of Civil Procedure, 1882, granted no appeal to a higher tribunal from an order refusing an application to have an award made a rule of Court, but the Code of 1908 does grant such an appeal, vide s. 144 (f). Where, therefore, an application was made on the 19th September. 1908, to make an award a rule of Court, and the application was rejected on the 18th June, 1909, held that the provisions neither of S. 154 nor of S. 104 of the Code applied, and the appeal was not maintainable.

A Court will not ascribe retrospective effect to new laws affecting rights, unless by express words or necessary implication it appears that such was the intention of the legislature. (6 Q B 23, Ref.) Gajraj Lal v Ramdin Lal 7 A L J 1070.

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

(1) ACT VIII OF 1859 Ss. 325 & 327.

260.—Act VIII of 1859 Ss. 325 and 327.

An application was made under Section 327 of 1859 to file an arbitration award, and the Court, after calling on the opposite party to show cause why it should not be filed, rejected the application:—Held that the case did not come within the meaning of S. 325, and that the order, being simply one "rejecting an application to file an award" was final.

Rajkumar Singh v Kali Charan Singh. 1 B L R Ap 20=11 W R 57

(2) ORDER REJECTING APPLICATION TO FILE.

261.—Order rejecting application to file—Act VIII of 1859, Section 327.

No appeal lies from an order rejecting an application to file an award (Mitter J dubitante).

Roy Priyanath Chowdhry v Prosonno Chunder Roy Chowdhry 2 B L R A C 249. Presonath Chowdhry v Ramdhun. 11 W R 104. Chintaman Sing v Uma Kunwar. B L R Sup Vol 505. 2 Ind Jur N S 1 : 6 W R Mis 83.

261A—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, Ss. 520, 521, 522 523 and 525—Arbitration—Award — Agreement to refer to arbitration — Appeal — Appeal on grounds other than the decree being in excess of, or not in accordance with the award.—

Held, by the Full Bench: (1) that an appeal lies from an acceptance or rejection of an application under S. 525, Civil Pro. Code, when the award is illegal ab initio and (2) that an order rejecting an application under s. 523, Civ. Pro.

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

Code is appelable. Jhangi Ram v Mussamat Pudho Bai. 84 P R 1901, Notes:—(Ref 100, P R 1907=17 P L R 1908, 46 P R 1909. 1 P R 1908=58 P W R 1907 F B; Disappr, 25 P R 1902 P C Cited and Foll 126 P R 1907=88 P W R 1907.

(3) ORDER GRANTING OR REFUSING

262—Order granting or refusing,

Held by the majority of the Court (Person, J.. dissentiete) that no appeal lies from an order passed under s 327, Act VIII of 1859, whether granting or refusing the application. Jokhan Rai v Bucho Rai. 3 Agra 353; Agra F B Ed 1874 156

Notes:—Fol: 1 All 156. Dist: 3 All 427.

(4) WANT OF CONSENT OF PARTIES

263— Want of consent of parties— Private award.

An appeal on the allegation of want of consent of parties lies from the order of a lower Court under s. 327, Code of Civil Procedure, directing a private award of arbitration to be filed and enforced Hulodhur Santal v Gonesh Santal 6 W R 60

Notes-Ref: 7 W R 81 Over 8 B L R 315.

264—Cl 15—Order of a Judge refusing to decide whether arbitrators are going beyond the scope of their authority—Judgment—Appeal—Construction of submission to arbitration—Insurance against fire—Liability of company for further loss. An order of a Judge dismissing a petition to revoke a submission to arbitration, on the ground that the arbitrators are going beyond the scope of the reference, is a judgment within meaning of cl. 15 of the Letters Patent and as such is appealable. Such an order compels a party to submit to the jurisdiction of arbitrators, though he complains that no such jurisdiction exists.

It decides a question of right, namely, whether or not he is, by the terms of reference to arbitration, deprived of his right at common law to have the dispute decided in the ordinary way in a Court of law. It goes to jurisdiction and is not passed as an exercise of discretion.

Per Chandavarkar J.—When a submission to arbitration is being construed, a cardinal principle

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd

to be applied is that by a submission to arbitration a party deprives himself of the right at common law to have the dispute to which the submission relates decided by a Court of law. It must therefore appear clearly from the terms of the submission that with reference to any point the party has so deprived himself.

The loss or damage by fire, which is insured against in a policy of insurance cannot include loss caused by deterioration of the property insured consequent on neglect (if any) of the Insurance Companies to take care of it, if they have taken possession. A loss so caused is not an inevitable or direct consequence of the mischief by fire. It is only where mischief arises from fire (in fire insurance cases) and from perils of the sea (in marine insurance cases) and the natural and almost inevitable consequence of that mischief is to create further mischievous results, that underwriters become responsible for the further mischief so incurred (1851). 6 Ex 468 ref. to.

Per Batchelor, J.—The loss insured against is limited to the loss by fire (which includes the loss by water in extinguishing the fire) and cannot conveniently embrace all possible damages, however remote, which could, by ingenuity be traced up to some connection with the fire as the ultimate cause sine qua non. It is impossible to hold that damages arising from the alleged negligence of Insurance Companies while in possession are properly claimable in pursuance of the contract of insurance, for, whereas this contract refers only to loss by fire, those damages would arise from an origin totally different and wholly distinct and separable from the fire, namely, a neglect of some duty imposed on the Companies after the loss by fire or water had become an accomplished fact.

The Bombay fire Insurance Co. v Ahmed bhoy Habibhoy. 11 Bom L R 1= 1 Ind Cas 14=34 Bom 1.

265.—Arbitration—Act X of 1877, Section 522—Judgment in accordance with award-Appeal on ground that defendants did not consent to arbitration.

Held, that where the first Court has passed judgment in accordance with what purports to be an award of arbitrators. an appeal by the defendants on the ground that they did not consent to the arbitration is admissible.(PR 53 of 1880) cited.

Hussan Ali v Ghulam Mustafa Shah P R 33 of 1881.

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

(5) ORDER REFUSING APPLICATION.

266.—Order refusing application—Civil Procedure Code 1859 s. 327.—No appeal lies against an order disallowing an application under s. 327 of Act VIII of 1859 to file an award. Vyankatesh Ramchandra Jogekar v Balajerav Bin Anandrav 1 B H C 184.

Notes:—Ap, 8 B H C R 17; 7 Cal 490 Fol 2 B H C R 91; 3 Bom 18 Ref; 7 W R 401.

267.-Order refusing application-Civil Procedure Code, 1859, s. 327.

Application to file an award under s. 327 of Act VIII of 1859 should be made to the Court of the lowest grade competent to receive it, and no appeal lies to High Court from an order by a District Court confirming on appeal an order of a subordinate Court declining to file such an award. Balkrishna Bhasakar Gupte. 2 B H C 96: 2nd Ed 91.

268.—Order refusing application—Civil Procedure Code, 1859 s. 327—Quære.

Does an appeal lie from the refusal of a Civil Court under Act VIII of 1859, s. 327, to order an award to be filed? Raj Chunder Roy Chowdhry v Brojendro Coomar Roy Chowdhry 21 W R 182.

Notes:—Ref: 10 Cal 74.

(6) C P C S 327 (1859)

269.—Denial of arbitration proceedings-Civ Pro 1859. s. 327].

Per Spankie, J.—This section is intended to provide for those cases only in which the reference to arbitration is admitted and an award has been made. Where the defendant denies referring any dispute to arbitration or that an award has been made between himself and the plaintiff, sufficient cause is shown why the award should not be filed. The plaintiff should be left to bring a regular suit for the enforcement of the award. Husaini Bibi v Mohsin Khan. 1 All 156.

Notes:—Ref: 17 All 21 F B. Dist 3 All 427

(7) ORDER REFUSING TO FILE AWARD

270.—C P C ss: 525, 588-Appeal Arbitration Refusal to file award,

There is no appeal from an order rejecting an appliction to file an award under section 525 of the Civil Procedure Code see B L R (F B), 505; 8 B L R 315 doubted Per Curiam:-It is desirable that there should be an appeal from an order made upon objections taken under sections 520 and 521 to the filing of an award under section 525 of the Civil Procedure Code.

Shree Ram Chowdhry v Denobundhoo Chowdhry 7 Cal 490=9 C L R 147.

271.—S. 526—Private award—Order refusing to file such award—Appealability.

An order under s. 526 of the Code, refusing to file an award of arbitrators made out of Court, is appealable as a decree. 26 All 205, Diss 27 Mad 255 29 M 303 : 25 Cal 757 ; 33 Cal 787; 84 P R 1907 (F B) Foll; 25 P R 1907 (P C) at p 29; P R 1907 F. R. R Mul Raj v Ladha Mal. 100 P R 1907= 17 P L R 1908.

(7 (a)) Order directing award to be filed

271A.—Reference to arbitration without intervention of Court—Order of Assistant Collector, 1st Class, directing award to be filed—Whether appeal from such order lies to District Judge.

Held, that no appeal lies to the District Judge from an order of an Assistant Collector, first class, directing that an award made on a matter referred to arbitration without the intervention of the Court should be filed. Gobardhan Prasad v Gur Prasad Ram, 8 A. L J. 1090

(7 b) Order to enforce award.

272.—Order to enforce award Civil Procedure Code, 1859, S. 327—

An appeal from an order made in execution of an arbitration award filed under the provisions of s. 327 of the Civil Procedure Code. Vasudeb Vishnu v. Narayan Jugannath Dikshit 5 B H C 129

Humutoollah Chowdhry v Herrun 13 W R 62

(7(C)) Order refusing to enforce illegal award

273.—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, s. 327,—

An order refusing to enforce an obviously illegal award of arbitrators under s. 327, Act VIII of 1859, is not a decree, and therefore not appealable. Digamburee Dossee v Poornanand Dey 7 W R 401

Notes:—Ref: 8 W R 257.

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

(7(D))Order enforcing award-Private award

274—An appeal lies from the order of a Court directing the enforcement of an award of arbitrators, when the matter was referred to arbitration without the intervention of a Court. Anund Chunder Singh v Gopal Chunder Dass 3 W R 154.

Lakshman Shivajl v Rama Esu 8 B H C 17

Notes—(W V D) Ex. 18 W R 77.

275—Private award—Civil Procedure Code 1859 ss. 325, 327.

When an award has been filed under the provisions of Section 327 of Act VIII of 1859. the judgment and decree based thereon are not appealable. Vishnu Bhau Joshi v Ravji Bhau Joshi P. J. (1878) 180=3 Bom 18

Notes—Dist: 3 All 427 Ref: 10 C W N 601= 2 C L J 153.

276—Quære—Whether an appeal lies against the order of the Court directing a private arbitration award to be filed and a decree to be passed in accordance therewith. 26 W R 10=3 I A 209 Ref. to Nadiar Chand Shaha Bonik v. Gobind Chander Shaha Bonik 2 C L J 61

Notes—10 C W N 601=2 C L J 153=33 Cal 757 F. B.

277—Sch. 11 r. 16 (1882 Ss 522, 525, 526) Arbitration award, private — Decree— Appeal. When a Court has ordered a private abitration award to be filed under S. 526 C. P. C. and has drawn up a decree in accordance with the award. no appeal lies against such decree except in so far as the decree may be in excess of or not in accordance with the award.

Quœre· Whether this rule is not limited to cases of misconduct and has any application when the cause shown against the filing of the award has denied the submission to arbitration or the genuineness of the award.

S. 526 should be read with S. 522,the provisions of which are, by implication made applicable to cases under the former section; the Court must proceed to give judgment according to the award and upon the judgment so given, a decree shall follow from which decree, no appeal lies except in so far as the decree is in excess of or not, in accordance with the award.

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd

The decision of the Full-Bench in Mahomed Wahiduddin v Hakiman (2), in so far as it affirmed the decision in Kali Prosanno Gosh v Rajani Kant Chatterjee (3), has been over-ruled by the Privy Council in the case of Ghulam Jilani v Muhammad Hussan (4).

Semble, An order of refusal by a Court of first instance to file an award under S. 526 C. P. is a decree against which an appeal lies.

The bar as to appeal provided by S. 525 C. P. C. is applicable only when a decree has been made in accordance with the award by the Court of first instance and not when a similar decree has been made by a Court of appeal in reversal of the order of the first Court setting aside the award.

Chintamoni Aditya v Haladhar Maiti 2 C L J 153—10 C W N 601.

278—Cl. the Second Schedule r.21 (1882 S. 526 —Appeal against order enforcing private award. grounds of—Award—Arbitrator's misconduct—Decree. Held that, an order under S. 526, C P. Code, 1882, directing an award to be filed and ordering its enforcement, is a decree within the meaning of the Code.

Held, further, that in such a case, no appeal will lie, except in so far as the decree is in excess of or not in accordance with the award. The question whether arbitrators have been guilty of misconduct cannot be considered in such an appeal. 29 Cal 167 and 12 C W N 585. Ref.

Chauhraja Bakhsh v. Sri Narayan Singh. 12 O C 40=1 Ind Cas 693.

(a) C. P. C. S. 525, (1877)

279—Civil Procedure Code, S. 525 — Filing private award in Court— Amendment of plaint. Ch. XXXVII of Civil Procedure Code, 1877.—

By the amendment of the plaint, a case under S. 525 of Act X of 1877 was taken out of the scope of Chapter XXXVII of that Act. Held,that, this being so, the decree of the Court of first instance was appealable. Juala Singh v. Narain Das, 3 All 54.

(8) ORDER REFUSING TO ENFORCE AWARD.

280—Order refusing to enforce award—Civil Procedure Code, 1877, Ss. 2, 540—Filing private award in Court—Order rejecting application,—

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

Per Spankie, J.—An order refusing an application to file a private award in Court is appealable as a decree. 3 Agra 353. 1 All 156, impugned and distinguished. 3 Bom 18, distinguished. Per Stuart, C J.—An order refusing an application to file a private award in Court on grounds not mentioned in Ss. 520 and 521, is a decree and appealable as such. Janki Tewari v. Gayan Tewari, 3 All 427.

Notes:—Dist 5 All 333 F B; 6 All 186 F B.

(9) ORDER ENFORCING AWARD.

281—Order enforcing award-Civil Procedure Code 1859, S. 327.—

Plaintiff sued for confirmation of an award delivered by arbitrators appointed by agreement of parties to decide upon his claim to a share of ancestral property. Defendant objected that the award was illegal, principally upon the ground that he had cancelled his submission some time before the award was passed The District Judge ordered the award to be filed, on the authority of 3 Mad 183, affirmed in 12 Moore's I A 112. The defendant appealed. Held. that no appeal lay. Santanja v. Ramaraya, 7 M H C 257.

Notes:—Ref 8 M H C R 46.

282—Act VIII of 1859, Section 327.—

An appeal lies from an order under Section 327, Civil Procedure Code (relating to filing in Court an award when the matter was referred to arbitration without the intervention of the Court), if there has been no reference to arbitration of the matter determined or if the award does not follow the reference, unless the parties have ratified the award as made. Query — Whether an appeal lies when there has been a reference and an award on such reference.

The exercise of the powers conferred by Section 327, Civil Procedure Code, is a matter in the discretion of the Court, and a Court should refuse to exercise the powers and refer the applicant to a regular suit, when there is a serious dispute as to the fact of a submission having been made or an award delivered.— Chittu Mal v. Bhai Gopal Singh, P R 93 of 1876.

(10) ARBITRATION AWARD.

283—Arbitration award—Act VIII of 1859, S. 325.—An appeal lies from an order enforcing execution of an arbitration award or from a decree under S. 325 of Act VIII of 1859. Wali Alam v. Bibi Nasran, 3 B L R Ap 104 =12 W R 50.

Notes:—Diss 8 B L R 315 F B.

284—Order refusing to file an award—Civil Procedure Code 1877, S. 622.—

An application was made under S. 525 to file an award which was rejected. The order of refusal is non-appealable as it is an order and not a decree. But the High Court can consider this matter under S. 622. Mana Vikrama v. Malicherry Krispean Nambudri, Maharaja of Calicut, 3 Mad 68.

Notes:—Con: 22 Mad 299; 7 M L J 10. Fol: 27 All 526=2 A L J 416=(1905) W N 86. Over: 27 Mad 255 F B; 14 M L J 356. Ref: 2 C L J 80; 7 Bom 316; 341 F B.

285—Order enforcing award—Final order—Civil Procedure Code, 1877, Ss. 522, 526.—

The power to file an award includes the power to enquire if there was a submission to arbitration, and this question is concluded by the decree, which is final under Ss. 526 and 522 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Micharaya Guruvu v. Sadasiva Parama Guruvu. 4 Mad 319.

Notes.—Ap: 20 Mad 89. Con: 18 Mad 423 F B. Ref: 16 Cal 482; 22 Mad 172; 20 Bom 596.

286—Arbitration—Award—Appeal.—

Where plaintiff applied that a private award by arbitrators might be enforced, and the first Court gave judgment in exact accordance with the award, it was held that the judgment was final, and that the lower appellate Court acted without jurisdiction in entertaining an appeal therefrom.

Madhusudan Das v. Adaita Charan Das, 8 B L R 316, Note=12 W R 85.

Notes—Ref: 10 Cal 74,=13 C L R 14.

(12) CURTAILMENT OF TIME FOR TAKING OBJECTION TO AWARD.

287—Review of an order curtailing time for taking objections to an award. The order curtailing time allowed to take objections to an award is not appealable but it can be reviewed by the Court of the first instance. Monji Premji Set v. Maliyakel Koyassan Koya Haji, 3 Mad 59.

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

(13) ORDER SETTING ASIDE AWARD.

288—Order setting aside award—Misconduct of arbitrators.—

An order of a Civil Court setting aside an arbitration award, being an interlocutory order, is not open to an appeal immediately; but when the Court sets aside the award on the ground of misconduct on the part of the arbitrator, and, after hearing the case on its merits, makes its decree in favour of the plaintiff, it is competent to the defendant to appeal against that decree.

Mathooranath Tewaree v. Brindabun Tewaree, 14 W R 327.

Notes:—Fol: 11 Cal 172. Ref: 12 C L R 564; 7 Cal 490; 20 Mad 202; 18 M L J 228=31 Mad 345.

289—Objection to award-Misconduct of arbitrators-Omission to inquire-Finality of decree.—

A Court being incompetent to pass judgment without inquiring into an objection based on the misconduct of the arbitrators, a judgment passed without such enquiry may be appealed against.

Mussammat Fatteh v. Fattoo, 184 P R 1882.

290—Setting aside award—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, S. 313.—

A regular and not a summary appeal lies to set aside an award of arbitrators passed under S. 313, Act VIII of 1859. Ram Coomar Chowdhry v. Nobin Chunder Chowdhry, W R 1864, Mis 33.

291—Objection to award—Award set aside—Appeal.—

Held, that no appeal lies from an order under S. 521 of the Code of Civil Procedure setting aside an award. (8 C W N 390 Fol: 10 All 8 Overr.) Ganga Prasad v. Kura, 1906 A W N 64=3 A L J 168=28 All 408 also 1907 A W N 110=4 A L J 256.

292—Award — Second appeal — Decree in accordance with appellate Court.—

A second appeal lies from a decree of a lower appellate Court made in accordance with an award by an arbitrator to whom the case had been referred by the first Court and whose award the first Court had set aside. 10 All 8; 12 W R 93 Fol: 12 C W N 564 dissented from.

Shyama Charan Pramanik v. Proshad Durwan, 8 C W N 390.

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

(14) ORDER DIRECTING SUBMISSION TO BE FILED.

293—Order directing submission to be filed—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, S. 326.—

No appeal lies from an order directing that an agreement to submit matters in dispute to arbitration should be filed under the provisions of S. 326 of the Civil Procedure Code.

Pestonjee Nusserwanjee v. Maneckjee and Co. 3 M H C R 183.

Affirmed on appeal by Privy Council.

12 Moore's I A 112.

Notes:—See 12 M I A 112.

294—Civil Procedure Code, Sections 326, 327—Intervention of Collector—Sanction of Civil Court—Appeal.—

Held, that though it is open to either the decree-holder or the judgment-debtor to appeal to a superior Civil Court from the order of a Civil Court authorising or refusing to authorise the Collector to make an arrangement under Section 326 of the Code, no appeal lies to the superior Civil Court from any order made by the Collector when acting under Section 326 of the Code.— Darya Singh v. Mahtab, 25 P R 1894.

295.—Act VIII of 1859 S. 326.

An appeal does not lie from an order passed under s. 326, Civil Procedure Code—(relating to filing in Court agreements to refer.)

Peer Buksh v. Jumal. P R 80 of 1870

(15) ORDER REFUSING TO FILE SUBMISSION.

296—Order refusing to file submission—Civil Procedure Code 1859 s. 326—

An order disallowing an application under s. 326 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1859, is unappealable, Bhugvan v Purmeshree 5 N. W. 179.

(16) APPLICATION TO FILE COMPROMISE

297—Compromise application to file—Decree on compromise—Withdrawal s. 375 of the Civil Procedure Code (1882) A suit was brought against several defendants one of whom was an infant. A compromise was entered into by the adult parties and they applied to file the compromise. The application which contained the terms of compromise also stated that the court would also be prayed by the guardian of the infant defendant to carry out the compromise on his own behalf. Ten days after the filing of the application of compromise the plaintiff and first defendant applied to the court, withdrawing from the compromise and praying that the suit should proceed. The second defendant presented also another application to have the compromise recorded and a decree made in its terms. The Court made a decree in accordance with the prayer of the second defendant's application. On the first defendant's appeal held that an appeal lay, s. 375 of the Civil Procedure merely covering cases in which all parties consent to have the terms entered into carried out and judgment entered up. 7 Bom 340 questioned.

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

Hara Sundari Debi v Kumar Dukhinessur Malia 11 Cal 250

Notes—Diss 16 Bom 202, Disap 20 Bom 304 Con 24 Cal 908 F B. Ref 9 Mad 103.

(16A) ORDER REFUSING TO SET ASIDE AWARD OBJECTED TO

298—C. P. C. (Act V of 1908), S. 2—Arbitration—Award—Objections against-Order disposing of objections—Appeal—Revision—Order—Decree.

The plaintiff preferred objections to an award in a case referred to arbitration through Court. The Court, by an order dated the 15th February, 1910 having considered the objections, passed an order in these terms "I refuse to set aside this award". The case was adjourned to several dates for arguments on other aspects of the dispute, but before any order was passed the plaintiff appealed against the order refusing to set aside the award. In reply to the plea that the order was not appealable it was contended that the order was a 'decree' within the meaning of S. 2, cl. 2 of the C. P. C, and it was also urged that the appeal may be treated as a revision.

Held, that the contention was not valid and an appeal was not competent against the order ; for it could not be held to be a decree.

Held, also that the appeal could not be treated as a revision ; for where in arbitration proceedings an appeal is not allowed, revision would be still more objectionable. 25 P. R. 1902. (P C), Foll.

Narpat Rai v. Devi Das, 1 P L R 1911 = 9 Ind. Cas. 385=12 P W R 1911.

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

(16B)ORDER FILING AN AWARD MADE IN ARBITRATION WITHOUT INTERVENTION OF COURT.

299—300—S. 104 (f) Sch. II cl. 21 (1) and (2)—Appeal—Order filing an award—Decree based thereon—Provisions of the Code, whether antagonistic—Intention of Legislature.

An appeal lies, under S. 104 (f) of the Code of 1908, form an order filing an award made in an arbitration without the intervention of the Court, in spite of the fact that the Court has, under cl. 21 (1) of the second Schedule to the Code, proceeded to pronounce judgment according to the award.

Per Reid, C. J. and Kensington, J.:—The language of S. 104 (f) is very clear and the fact that a later provision of the Code, cl 21 (2), Sch. II, bars an appeal from a decree based on an award does not cancel the earlier provision. The two provisions of the Code are not antagonistic. If the order filing an award is set aside, there is no award on which judgment and decree can be based. The absence of any ground, such as is mentioned or referred to in cl. 14 or cl. 15 of Sch. II, is a condition precedent to passing an order filing the award.

Per Rattigan, J.:—The two provisions of the Code are all for practical purposes in direct conflict. The result of allowing an appeal from order filing an award is tantamount to allowing an appeal from the decree based on the award. The intention of the Legislature expressed in cl. 21 (2) Sch. II, is to all intents and purposes nullified by the provision in cl. (f) of S. 104.

The intention of the Legislature is to allow an appeal from the order filing an award merely when such order dealt with the objection that the matter had not been referred to arbitration or that no award had in fact been passed. References:— 33 Cal. 727=3 C L J 450=10 C W N 609, 27 P R 1910 Cr.=69 P L R 1910=22 P W R 1910 Cr=6 Ind Cas 736; 1 P R 1908 (FB)=58 P W R 1907 Dist Ram Ditti v Amar Singh 172 P L R 1911.

(16C) DECISION OF COURT IN SUPPERCESSION PROCEEDINGS

301—The parties to a suit applied for a reference to arbitration, and provided that in the event of a difference of opinion between the arbitrators, an umpire should be appointed, either by the arbitra-

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

tors themselves, or by the Court ; or that the Court itself might decide the case. The arbitrators not agreeing, the Court adopted the last alternative. Held, that under the circumstances, the decision was not final under Section316, Act VIII of 1859. The result of theproceedings was that the arbitration was inoperative, and the decision passed by the Court was open to appeal. Kanh Singh v Ruttun Singh P R 96 of 1868.

(16D) PROPRIETY OF DECISION SETTING ASIDE AWARD.

302—Arbitration-Award set aside by Munsiff -Decision on the merits—Appeal—Award restored by the District Judge jurisdiction.

Held that, on appeal the District Judge can go behind the decision of the Munsiff and to decide as to the propriety or otherwise of his decision setting aside an award. (3 All 636; 5 All 293; 11 Cal 172; 14 W R 327; 8 C W N 392; 26 Bom 551; 22 Mad 202 Fol; 28 All 408, 4 A L J 256 Diss.

K. Achuthayya v N S Thimmayya. 3 M L T 315=18 M L J 228=31 Mad 345.

(16E) DECREE IN THE NATURE OF AWARD.

303-305—Appeal—Decree in the nature of award—Case referred to decision of Court. both parties agreeing to abide by same.

Where both parties to a suit referred the matter in dispute between them to the Court and agreed to be bound by the decision of the Court and agreed not to prefer an appeal.

Held, that no appeal lay from the decree, the decision of the Court being in the nature of an arbitrator's award; that the Court had no power to review the same; and that the lower appellate Court having remanded the matter on appeal, its order was set aside as being made without jurisdiction. (23 Bom 752, followed.) Sita Nath v Baikuntha Nath 9 Ind Cas 296.

(16F) ORDER DIRECTING PROPERTY TO BE TAKEN OUT OF GUARDIAN'S CUSTODY.

306—. 46—Removal of guardian-Consent of guardian—Arbitrator's power—District Judge's jurisdiction, extra cursum curiæ-Appeal:

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

An arbitrator has no power to take property out of the custody of a guardian appointed by Court and placing it in charge of another, or to declare a legally appointed guardian a nominal one. Nor has a District Judge, as such, jurisdiction to remove a guardian under the Guardians and Wards Act. The consent of the guardian cannot enable the Judge or the arbitrator to exercise such powers. A Court cannot, while acting extra cursum curiæ, do that which the parties cannot legally authorise an arbitrator to do. If it does, such acts or orders would not be regarded as those of an arbitrator merely because the parties had consented. Such order would therefore be appealable. [1 H L Sc 47, 1 H L Sc 70, L R 7 Ch 45 (1896) A C 136 ref to] Inder Narain Singh v E E Adlan 8 C W N 37.

(16G) JUDGMENT IN THE NATURE OF AWARD.

307—Arbitration -Suit part-heard—Agreement of parties to be bound by Court's decision after local inspection—Judgment of Court—Nature—Award-No review—No appeal—No second appeal—Power of High Court to revise-S. 622, C P C. 1882 (=S. 115, C P C., 1908).

Where, in a part-heard suit before a Munsif, both the parties agreed to be bound by any decision of the Court which it may arrive at after an inspection of the locality in dispute, and also agreed not to raise any objection to the same or to prefer an appeal, and where the Court, after making a local inspection, gave a certain judgment:

Held, that the Munsif's judgment was in the nature of an award, and that it was not open to the Munsif to alter that award when made or to review his decision.

Held, also, that no appeal lay to the District Judge and that the District Judge acted without jurisdiction when he entertained the appeal and made an order of remand.

Held, also, that no second appeal lay to the High Court but that the High Court was competent to interfere suo motu under S. 622, C P C., 1882 (=S. 115, C P C., 1908). (9 Cal 575, Ref: 23 Bom 752.) Baikantha Nath Goswami v Sita Nath Goswami. 38 Cal 421.

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

(16H) FINALITY OF DECREE BASED ON AWARD.

308—Civil Procedure Code, Sections 25, 508 522—Withdrawal—Trial—Arbitration-Order of reference—Validity of award—Absence of reasons for award—Finality of decree based on award.

The suit out of which this appeal arose was instituted in the Court of Mr C., District Judge. After the issues had been settled, Mr C., on the representation of both parties, consented to act as an arbitrator. Application was then made to the Divisional Judge to withdraw the case from the District Court and to refer the same to Mr. C. for decision. The Divisional Judge referred "all matters in difference between the parties, irrespective of the issues drawn in the case," and Mr C., after inquiry, delivered the following award: "That the plaintiff's suit be dismissed and that the parties bear their own costs." Plaintiff then filed objections to the award, which were overruled, and judgment passed in accordance with the award. Plaintiff appealed to the Chief Court. It was contended on his behalf, (I) that withdrawals under Section 25, Civil Procedure Code, can only legally take place where the withdrawing Court intends to try the suit itself and not where the avowed object is to make over the case to an arbitrator for decision; (II) that the order of reference was materially defective as it did not specify the particular matter referred to the arbitrator (III) that the award was bad inasmuch as it assigned no reasons for, and gave no details of, the decision and (IV) that the objections on the ground of legal misconduct urged against the award in the original Court were valid.

Held (1) that a Court which withdraws a case for trial before itself under Section 25 of the Civil Procedure Code, may, after such withdrawal, proceed according to any of the recognized methods of procedure laid down in the Civil Procedure Code.

(2) That the reference to arbitration in the present case did not contravene the provisions of Section 508, Civil Procedure Code. as a reference of the whole matter in dispute between the parties in a particular case may be a reference of a particular matter within the meaning of the above section,

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

(3) That the award was not bad in law because the arbitrator had not given his reasons for his decision or entered into details.

(4) That allegations of misconduct which have been duly heard and decided by a Court which has thereafter passed judgment in accordance with an award, cannot be re-opened on appeal to a higher Court, the decree which follows the judgment being final under Section 522, Civil Procedure Code. Banarsi Das v Ram Kishen Das 167 P R 1889.

(16. I) DISMISSAL OF SUIT ON MERITS IN SPITE OF SUBMISSION TO ARBITRATION.

309—Plaintiff sued in the Court of the Assistant Commissioner in June 1874, and before issues were framed the parties executed a submission to private arbitration. After this, in July 1874, the suit was transferred to the Deputy Commissioner with an amended plaint, the value of the claim being beyond the jurisdiction of the Assistant Commissioner. The suit was for immoveable property; and in the original plaint, plaintiff claimed possession; in the amended plaint, he claimed proprietary right. In August 1874, plaintiff applied to the Court to file the agreement under Section 326, Civil Procedure Code, or to refer the case under Section 312; this was objected to by the defendants, and the Court proceeded with the case, dismissing the suit on the merits From this plaintiff appealed to the Commissioner on the merits, making no allusion to the submission to arbitration. The appeal was dismissed, and then plaintiff appealed to the Chief Court, insisting that the case should have been referred to the arbitrators Held that, there was no ground of special appeal, and that the Chief Court could not revise the orders of the Courts below.

Chajju Mal v Kashi Ram. P R 57 of 1876.

(17) REVISION ARBITRATION

310—Arbitration—Award—Civ. Pro Code, Act XIV of 1882, ss. 520, 521, 522, 523, 524, 525 and 540—Revision—Distinction between ss. 526 and 523, C P C., as regards appeal.

An award was made by a private arbitration, appointed out of Court, in favour of N and S against S, M and D, and in favour of D against S, M. Then N, S and D applied under s. 525 C P C., to have the award filed in Court. S & M raised certain objections which were disallowed by the District Judge who ordered "the award to be filed and decree passed in accordance with the terms thereof". S & M appealed. At the hearing of the appeal two preliminary questions were raised: Whether an appeal lies against an order under s. 526, C P C., directing an award to be filed and if not, whether such an order is open to revision on the grounds urged in the appeal. Held, by the Full Bench unanimously that an appeal does not lie from an order under s. 526, C P C directing an awrrd to be filed, not from the decree passed in terms of the award as there is only one decree in the case, viz., the filing of the award and the consequences the decree being passed in terms of the award, flow from that order and no fresh order is required for those consequences to result but it is not so in proceedings under s. 523 C P C. Held, also, that no revision lies in such like cases on the grounds on which no appeal is allowed. Held, by the Division Bench that in the appeal no ground for interference on revision is shown. (84 P R 1901; 25 P R 1902; P C, 25 P R 1888 P C; 89 P R 1902 P C; 10 C W N 61 11 C. L J 153 Foll.; 33 Cal; 757; 27 All 526; 20 Mad 303 Diss.) Shankar Mal v. Nathu Mal 58 P W R 1907 F B=1 P R 1908.

Appeal -Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

311—S. 104 sub-s 1 cl. (f), Second Schedule, S. 21—Order directing award to be filed appealable, but not decree following the award.

Where the District Judge orders that a certain award shall be filed, and gives the plaintiff a decree in accordance with that award, no appeal lies against the decree, qua decree under S. 21 of the Second Schedule. But an appeal lies from the order directing an award to be filed under S. 104 of the Code. In this case, therefore, though the appeal was filed as an appeal from the decree and the stamp is paid on that footing their Lordships treated it as an appeal against the order directing the award to be filed and overruled the preliminary objection.

Further, held, that, as there is no illegality apparent on the face of the award, and as the alleged irregularities were only the result of the informal character of the proceedings before the arbitrators, to which both parties consented, there is no ground for interference by the High Court. Sita Ramiah v. Pitchayya 2 M W N (1911) 223.

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Contd.

(18) FINAL AWARD.

312—An appeal lies to the High Court under S 54 of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, only from the final award of the Court No appeal lies from an award which merely determines the amount of the gross-sum payable as compensation, as preliminary to the further question to whom the amount so determined should be paid.

Ardeshir M Kharadi v. Assistant Collector of Poona (10 Bom L R 517).

(19) OBJECTIONS TO THE AWARD

313—Arbitration Act VIII of 1859 ss. 225, 320—Arbitrators—Objections.

A case remanded by the High Court was referred by the Zillah Judge to two arbitrators who went fully into the matters in dispute, and wrote and signed as their award, separate papers bearing different dates, which were filed in Court. The defendant then filed a petition of objections after which the Judge returned the papers to the arbitrators with an order that they should sign their award conjointly in a form which he prescribed. The award having been submitted, the Judge took up and disposed of the objections previously made, making a decree in accordance with the award. Held (1) that the two papers originally sent in were not an award, which under s. 320 Act VII of 1859 should be a single instrument complete in itself, and that the Judge was right in sending back the papers directing the arbitrators to sign their award conjointly and in the presence of each other; (2) that the objections made to the two papers were not objections to the award, and that under s. 325, the Judge had no power to pass judgment till all objections to the award had been fairly disposed of or within ten days after the submission of the award; (3) that an arbitrator has no right to allow documents entrusted to him by the Court, to be removed from the nathi by any one: and that when an award is returned to Court after remittal, it should be accompanied by all books, exhibits and proceedings pertaining to it.

Maharaja Jaimangal Sing v. Mohan Ram Marwari. 8 B L R 319 Note=8 B L R 130 Note=12 W R 397.

Appeal-Contd.

4 Arbitration—Concld.

(20) STATEMENT OF A SPECIAL CASE FOR THE OPINION OF THE COURT.

313 A—S. 104, Sch. II r. II—Indian Arbitration Act (IX of 1899) s. 10—Arbitrators—Reference to arbitration-Difference in opinion of arbitrators on a question of—Statement of a special case for the opinion of the Court— Appeal from the court's order.

The parties to a suit agreed to refer their disputes relating to the properties in suit to the arbitration of two persons; and a consent Judge's order was obtained. They further agreed to refer to the same arbitrators their disputes with regard to properties which were not the subject-matter of the suit. The agreements provided that, in case of disagreement between the arbitrators, which prevented them from making an award the matter in difference was to be referred to an umpire who should make the award. The two asbitrators differed on a question of law arising in the arbitration. There was no reference to an umpire. But the arbitrators each expressed his opinion on the question and referred it for opinion to the High court in the form of a special case under the C P C 1908 Sch. II r. II and the Indian Arbitration Act s.10. It was decided by the Chamber Judge. An appeal was preferred against his decision.

Held that no appeal lay since the special case was in no sense an award. There was no award which could be adopted by the Court by the mere expression of its opinion; but there was simply a statement of a question of law for the opinion of the Court. The case was not therefore, one which fell under r. 11 of the second schedule of the C P C 1908 but it fell under S.10 of the Indian Arbitration Act, in so far as it related to the second agreement. Purshotumdas Ramgopal v Ramgopal Harila 12 Bom L R 852

5 Bengal Acts.

(1) CHOTA NAGPUR LAND LORD AND TENANT PROCEDURE ACT (BENGAL ACT I OF 1879) SS. 37, (CL 4), 39, 137, & 139.

314—Chota Nagpur Landlord & and Tenant Procedure Act (Bengal Act I of 1879) Ss 37 cl (4) 39, 137, and 139—Rent—Suit—Appeal in cases where the aggregate amount is above Rs. 100.

An appeal from a decree passed by the Deputy Collector in a suit for rent, where the total amount of rent claimed under S. 39 of Bengal

Appeal-Contd.

5 Bengal Acts—Concld.

Act I of 1879 is above Rs. 100 would lie to the Judicial Commissioner and not to the Deputy Commissioner. Priag Nath Lah Deo v Mura Munda. 24 Calc 249= 1 C W N 181

Notes.—Over: 27 Cal 508 F B.

(2) SS 37, 137, 144.

315—Ss. 37, 137—Suit for ejectment and arrears of rent—Suits under Beng. Act I of 1879 for arrears of rent and ejectment, for non-payment of arrears of rent are not cases within S. 157 of the same Act and so a second appeal lies to the High Court. Ramjan Khan v Raman Chamar. 10 Cal 89

Dissented from by the Full Bench in. Khedu Mahto v Buddun Mahto. 27 Cal 508

316—Ss. 137, 144—Rent suit—Intervenor—Civil Procedure Code (1882) S. 622, 584.

The decision of a Deputy Collector as to whether intervenor under S. 87, Act I of 1874 (B C) had been actually and in good faith receiving and enjoying rent before and up to the time of the suit, is a decision upon the question whether the intervenor is entitled to collect rent; and therefore it is a decision upon a question relating to some interest in land as between parties conflicting claims thereto, and the appeal from the judgment of the Deputy Collector lies to the Judicial Commissioner under S. 144. It was further held, that an appeal lay to the High Court from the judgment of the judicial Commissioner and therefore S. 622 Civil Procedure Code was not applicable. Lall Bhim Singh v Guman Ghanjhu. 1 C W N 341.

6 Bombay Acts.

(1) BOMBAY CIVIL COURTS ACT SS. 8, 26, 36.

317—Bombay Civil Courts Act (XIV of 1869) ss. 8 and 26—Suit for account and for balance that may be found due.

The plaintiffs sued for an account of all the business done by the defendants as their commission agents from 1854 to 1867, and prayed that whatever was found due might be awarded with interest. The plaintiffs valued the relief sought approximately at Rs.510, and this was the only valuation stated in the plaint. The suit was filed in the Court of a first class Subordinate Judge, who rejected the plaintiff's claim. Against this decision the plaintiff's preferred an appeal to the High Court:-Held that, as the approximate amount of the claim was stated in the plaint to be Rs 510, that must be taken to be the value of the subject matter of the suit for purposes of jurisdiction. The appeal, therefore, lay under ss 8 and 26 of Act XIV of 1869, not to the High Court, but of the District Court. Khushalchand Mulchandv Nagindas Motichand.12 Bom 675

Appeal-Contd.

6 Bombay Acts—Contd.

318—S. 36—Valuation of suit—Jurisdiction.

Where a suit wherein the subject-matter exceeded Rs 5000, was instituted in the Court of a Principal Sadr Amin but decided by a Subordinate Judge, first class, appointed under the Bombay Civil Courts Act XIV of 1869.—It was held that an appeal lay direct to the High Court under s. 26 of the Act. Rayasangji Shivsangji v Gulam Rasul. 3 B H C 286.

(A) APPLICATION BY CREDITOR FOR LESS THAN RS 5000 IN SUIT FOR ABOVE THAT AMOUNT.

319—Application by creditor for less than Rs. 5,000 in suit for above that amount.

Although the applicant, to have a sale set aside, was creditor for a sum less than Rs.5,000, still as the sale took place in a suit for a sum above Rs.5,000, an appeal lay to the High Court Krishnarav Venkatesh v Vasudev Anant 11 B H C 15

Notes:—Ap: 15 Cal 488 F B. Appl: 8 Cal 367. Ref. 10 C L R 441 ; 20 Cal 418 , 29 Cal 548.

(B) SUIT FOR DECLARATION OF RIGHT TO PROPERTY UNDER ATTACHMENT.

320—Suit for declaration of right to property under attachment.

In a suit for a declaration that the plaintiff had a right of property and possession in a certain house under attachment, being in effect suit for the removal of the attachment.—Held, that the judgment-debt in respect of which the house was attached being less than Rs.5,000, no appeal lay to the High Court. Motichand Jaichand v Dadabhai Pestonji. 11 B H C 186

Notes—Dist: 2 All 63 ; Ex : 4 Bom 515 F B. Ref: 4 Mad 131 ; 14 Bom 627.

(C) ADMINISTRATION SUIT

321—Administration suit—Suit filed in second class Subordinate Judge's Court—Decree in such a suit—Appeal from such decree to District Court.

The plaintiff filed an administration suit in the Court of a Subordinate Judge of the second class, valuing the relief claimed at Rs. 150. The Subordinate Judge found that the property in suit was worth over a lakh of rupees, that the liabilities came to Rs 5,729, and that the defendant was indebted to the estate in the sum of Rs.15,199. He drew up a preliminary decree, directing (inter alia) that the defendant should pay this amount into Court within two weeks. Against this order the defendant appealed to the District Court. The District Judge returned the appeal for presentation to the High Court on the ground that the subject-matter exceeded Rs. 5,000. Held, reversing the order of the District Judge, that the appeal lay to the District Court. Shet Kavasji Mancherji v Dhinshaji Mancherji. 22 Bom 963

(2) BOM MUNCIPAL ACT SS. 298, 299

322—Bombay Muncipal Act 9 Bombay Act (III of 1888), ss. 298, 299, and 301-Order of Chief Judge of Small Cause Court granting compensation for land—Act XII of 1888, s. 3.

An appeal lies to the High Court from a decision of the Chief Judge of the Small Cause Court of Bombay granting compensation to the owner of land taken by the Municipality in a case of a set-back under the Municipal Act, III of 1885, ss 298, 299, and 301. Municipal Commissioner for the City of Bombay v Abdul Huq. 18 Bom 184.

Notes:—Ref. 10 Bom L R 907

(7) Certificate of administration Acts XXVII of 1860 and VII 1889.

(1) ACT XXVII OF 1860 & XIX of 1841

323—Act XXVII of 1860 and Act XIX of 1841-Order granting certificate of possession.

The order granting a certificate under Act XXVII of 1860 and directing possession to be given to the certificate-holder under Act XIX of 1841, held not to be open to appeal or review.

Jusoda Koonwar v Guree Byjnath Pershad 1 Ind Jur N S 365

324—Orders under Act XXVII of 1860.

Held that an appeal from the order of a Deputy Commissioner granting a certificate under Act

Appeal-Contd.

7 Certificate of administration Act-Contd.

XXVII of 1860 lies to the Chief Court, and not to the Commissioner.—

P R 50 of 1868. But held, after the passing of the Punjab Appeals Act (VII of 1868) and following Book Circular No IX of 1869 that such appeal lies to the Commissioner. Mool Chund v Lal Chund. P R 50 of 1871.

(2) ACT XXVII OF 1860

325—Act XXVII of 1860-Order refusing to grant certificate under Act XXVII of 1860. Vishvanath Hari 7 B H C A C 71

326—Order refusing to grant certificate under Act XXVII of 1860--Held, that an appeal lies to the Chief Court from an order refusing to grant a certificate under Act XXVII of 1860 to any of the contending claimants. Mussammat Gujri v Natha Singh. P R 117 of 1881.

Notes:—Overr: 103 P R 1888 F B. Fol: 58 P R 1883 . Cited: 78 P R 1886

327—Act XXVII of 1860—Appeal from order refusing to grant certificate.—Held by the Full Bench that no appeal lies from an order of a District Judge under Act XXVII of 1860 refusing after due enquiry, to grant a certificate of administration to any claimant. (117 P R 1881 58 P R 1883), overruled. 78 P R 1886). cited. Ram Chand v Mussammat Rukman Devi. 103 P R 1888 F B

328—Act XXVII of 1860. ss. 3, 6—Appeal from order refusing to grant certificate.

Quære, whether an appeal lies from an order refusing a certificate under Act XXVII of 1860 (P R 117 of 1881,) and (58 P R 1883,) cited. Muzaffar Hamid v Mussammat Rahiman P R 78 of 1886

Notes—cited: 103 P R 1888 F B.

329—Act XXVII of 1860 S 3—Appeal from order refusing to grant certificate.

Held, following (P R 117 of 1881,), that an appeal lies from an order refusing to grant a certificate under Act XXVII of 1860 to any of the contending claimants. Baga Singh v Khera P R 58 of 1883

(3)ORDER REFUSING TO RECALL CERTIFICATE

330-Appeal-Certificate under Act XXVII of 1860. Order refusing to recall, not appealable.

Appeal-Contd.

7 Certificate of administration Act-Contd.

There is no appeal from an order by a District Judge refusing to recall a certificate granted under Act XXVII of 1860. Nanuk Pershad v Lalla Nitya Lall 6 Cal 40=6 C L R 388

331—Act XXVII of 1860 Ss. 3 6—Appeal from order granting certificate.—

No appeal lies against an order granting a certificate under S. 3 of Act XXVII of 1860, where the certificate has been granted before the appeal was filed: under S. 6 of the Act an appeal only lies to suspend the granting of the certificate; after it has been granted the only course open to the objector is a petition for a fresh certificate. Makhan Mal v. Mussammat Prem Kor P R 76 of 1881,

Followed in Mussammat Premi v Wadhawa Singh P R. 34 of 1885,

Cited under Certificate to Collect Debts. 2

(4) ORDER AS TO FORM OF CERTIFICATE

332—Order as to form of certificate—There are no general words in any part of Act XXVII of 1860 declaring that orders made by the Zillah Court under that Act as to the form of the certificate shall be subject to appeal to a High Court. Baneemadhub Mookerjee v Nilambur Banerjee 8 W. R. 376.

Notes—Fol: 24 W R 363. Ref: 1 Cal 127.

(5) CASE TRANSFERRED UNDER ACT XVI OF 1866 S. 19.

333 Case transferred under Act XVI of 1868, S. 19.—Where an application for a certificate under Act XXVII of 1860 has been transferred by the High Court, in the exercise of the power vested in it by s. 19, Act XVI of 1868, from the file of a Judge to that of a Subordinate Judge, the order of the latter is appealable to the Court of the Zillah Judge, and only specially appealable to the High Court. Fuzl Hossein v Tussuduck Ali Khan 13 W. R. 395

(6) ENQUIRY OR OMISSION TO MAKE ENQUIRY.

334—Enquiry or omission to make enquiry.

An appeal lies from the result of an enquiry or omission to make an enquiry under Act XXVII of 1860. Tarinee Churn Brohmo v Roma Soonduree Dossee. 20 W. R 312

Notes—See 1 Cal 128 N.

Appeal-Contd.

7 Certificate of administration Act-Contd.

(7) DEPOSIT OF SECURITY BY PERSON ENTITLED TO A CERTIFICATE.

335—Deposit of security by person entitled to a certificate.—No appeal lies under Act XXVII of 1860 on a question of the deposit of security by a person who has been declared entitled to a certificate under the Act. Monmohinee Dassee v Khetter Gopal Dey 1 Cal 127
24 W R 362

Rukmin 1 All 287

Notes—Fol: 1 All 287; 3 All 304 Ref. 20 Cal 245; 19 Mad 245; 5 M L J 36.

(8) Ss. 5-6 CERTIFICATE FOR COLLECTION OF DEBTS.

336—Ss. 5, 6-Certificate for collection of debts—No appeal impugning the order of a District Court requiring security from the person to whom it has granted a certificate under Act XXVII of 1860 lies under that Act to the High Court. I All 287 followed. Paddo Sundari Dasi. 3 All 304.

Raj Mohinee Chowdhrani v Dino Bundhoo Chowdhry. 17 W R 566

337—Act XXVII of 1860, Section 5—Appeal from order to find security—

Held that no appeal lies from an order to find security under Section 5 of Act XXVII of 1860—Maya Das v Crown 38 P R 1888

(9) S. 6. ORDER FOR SECURITY.

338—S. 6—Order for security.—An appeal will lie under s. 6 of Act XXVII of 1860 merely for the purpose of varying the Judge's order by reducing the amount of security required by him from the party declared entitled to have the certificate. When an appeal has been properly instituted under s. 6, it has been ruled that the Court may alter or vary the Judge's order with respect to security. Soonea v Ram Suha 2 N W 146.

Notes—Fol; I All 287; 3 All 304.

(10) FRESH CERTIFICATE.

339—The Fresh certificate referred to in s. 6 of Act XXVII of 1860 means a certificate granted to a person other than the person to whom the first certificate was granted. Naurangi Kunwar v Raghubansi Kunwar 9 All 231.

See Gangia v Rangi Singh. 9 All 173.

Appeal-Contd.

7 Certificate of administration Act-Contd.

(11) ORDER OF DISTRICT JUDGE AS TO SECURITY.

340—Security insufficient — order of the District Judge—Succession (Act X of 1865) S. 263 There is no appeal against an order made, either in pursuance of the directions of the High Court or otherwise by a District Judge as to security, while granting a certificate of administration on the ground of the insufficiency of such security. 1 Cal 127 referred to.

Lucas v. Lucas, 20 Cal 245.

(12) ACT VII OF 1889.

341—Act VII of 1889—Portion of property held as security sold—Order to furnish fresh security.—

An order by which a certificate holder under Act XXVII of 1860 was directed to furnish security to the extent to which the security originally furnished had been diminished by the sale of a part of the property, is not an order from which an appeal would lie either under Act XXVII of 1860 or Act VII of 1889. Alta Soondari Dasi v. Srinath Saha, 20 Cal 641.

(13) Ss. 6 AND 19-ORDER FOR SECURITY ON GRANT OF CERTIFICATE.

342—Ss. 6 and 19—Order for security on grant of certificate.—

Where a minor petitioner represented by the Court of Wards applied for a succession certificate under Act VII of 1889, and the District Court granted the certificate, but ordered security to be given by the Courts of Wards:—Held, that no appeal lay from the order requiring security. Rama Reddi v. Papi Reddi, 19 Mad 199.

(13A) CERTIFICATE OF ADMINISTRATION.

342A—Succession Certificate Act VII of 1889 Ss. 7 and 19—Right of.

An appeal lies against an order under section 19 and not under section 7 of Act VII of 1889. 19 Mad 199 and 20 Mad 442 Ref:

Kunjunni Nair v. Elaya Nair, 7 M L T 246=6 Ind Cas 499.

Appeal-Contd.

7 Certificate of administration Act-Contd,

(14) SS. 9 & 10—ORDER FOR ISSUE OF CERTIFICATE SUBJECT TO SECURITY BEING GIVEN.

343—Ss. 9 and 10—Order for issue of certificate subject to security being given.—

On a contested application for a succession certificate under Act VII of 1889, an order was made for the issue of the certificate on security being furnished by the applicant. The opposite party preferred an appeal against the order:—Held, that the appeal was maintainable.

Ariya Pillai v. Thangammal, 20 Mad 442.

Notes:—Not Fol: 26 All 173.

(15) SS. 9 & 19—ORDER GRANTING CERTIFICATE CONDITIONAL ON THE FILING OF SECURITY.

344—Succession Certificate Act, Ss. 9, 19—Conditional grant.—

An order on an application for a certificate of succession requiring security as a condition precedent to the granting of the certificate is not an order "granting, refusing or revoking a certificate" and, not being such, no appeal will lie against it. Bhagwani v. Manni Lal, 13 All 214 =1891 W N 45=also 1890 W N 198.

Notes:—Diss: 25 Cal 320; 20 Mad 442: 5 M L J 28. Fol: 2 A L J 606; 19 Bom 790; 26 All 173.

345.—Succession Certificate Act VII of 1889, Secs. 9 and 19—Order granting certificate by the applicant's furnishing security—No appeal from such order—Practice— Procedure — Discretion—Jurisdiction—Civil Procedure Code Act XIV of 1882, Sec. 622—Extraordinary jurisdiction.

The widow of a deceased person having applied for a certificate under the Succession Certificate Act VII of 1889, the Judge ordered the certificate to issue on the applicant's furnishing security under Sec. 9 of the Act.

Held, that such an order was not an order "granting, refusing or revoking a certificate" within the meaning of Sec. 19 of the Act, and was, therefore, not appealable. 18 All 214 followed, Bai Devkore v. Lalchand Jivandas. P J 1894, p. 377=19 Bom 790.

Notes:—Fol: 26 All 173.

345A.—S. 19—Appeal—Order granting certificate conditional on furnishing security not appealable.

Appeal-Contd.

7 Certificate of administration Act-Contd.

Where a certificate is granted conditional on the applicant's furnishing security, no appeal lies under s. 19 from such order. 13 All 214; 26 All 214; 173 Foll.—Per Richards J (dubitante) where the order of the District Court grants the applicant the right to obtain certificate on the furnishing of security but no time is fixed within which it should be furnished nor the consequence that should follow upon failure to do so set forth, the order falls within s. 19 of the Act. The order which the Legislature intended to be appealable was the decision of the court as to who was or was not the proper person to be granted a certificate and not the question whether or not that person should within definite or indefinite period furnish security. Gauri Dutt v Masammat 2 A L J 606.

345B.—S. 19—Appeal—Agent to the Governor of Vijagapatam-General clauses.

An appeal lies under s. 19 of the Succession Certificate Act from the order of the Agent to the Governor of Vijagapatam. (18 Mad 227 Diss.)

Babubalendrani Guruvaraju v Babubalendrani Chandrasakara Raju. 3 M L T 264= 18 M L J 252=31 Mad 362.

346—Conditional order granting certificate upon furnishing security—On an application for a Succession Certificate (Act VII of 1889) an order was made granting a conditional certificate upon the applicant's furnishing security—

Held, that this was an order "granting, refusing or revoking a certificate" within the meaning of s. 19 of the Act and, therefore, an appeal would lie therefrom. 13 All 214 dissented from Radha Rani Dassi v Brindaban Chundra Basack 25 Calc 320= 2 C W N 59.

Notes:—Ex 5 C W N 494. Ref. 26 All 173.

Appeal-Contd.

7 Certificate of administration Act-Contd.

347—S. 19—Conditional order for grant of succession certificate, whether appealable.—An order granting a succession certificate, though coupled with a condition that the applicant must give security, is an order granting a certificate and is appealable under S. 19 of the Act. 25 Cal 320 Fol; 5 M L J 28; 20 Mad 442; 2 A L J 606, Ref. 13 All 214; 26 All 173; 19 Bom 790 Dist. Biri v Barkhurdar 139 P R 1908= 4 P L R 1909=156 P W R 1908= 10 P L R 22.

Suit against Collector for damages on refusal to make award under Land Acquisition Act—Limitation—See Limitation Act—Arts 18, 120; 14 M L J 173; 27 Mad 535.

348—Ss. 9, 19—Order granting certificate conditionally on the giving of security by applicant—Appeal—

Where, on an application for the grant of a certificate under s. 7 of the Act, the Court passes an order conditioned on the previous filing of security, such an order is not an order "granting, refusing or revoking a certificate" within the meaning of s. 19 of the Act and no appeal lies therefrom 13 All 214 and 19 Bom 790 fol; 5 M L J 28; 26 Mad 42. Nanhu Mal v Gulabo 1903 A W N 225=26 All 173.

(16) Ss. 19 & 28—ORRDER REFUSING CERTIFICATE OF HEIRSHIP.

349—Appeal—Regulation VIII of 1827—Order refusing certificate of heirship appealable—Succession Certificate Act VII of 1889, Sec. 28—Practice,—An appeal lies from the order of a District Judge refusing to grant a certificate of heirship under Regulation VIII of 1827 by virtue of the provisions of Section 28 of the Succession Certificate Act VII of 1889. Javermal v The Nazir of The District Court of Poona P J 1893 p. 517=18 Bom 748.

Note—Fol. 19 Bom 399.

Appeal-Contd.

7 Certificate of administration Act-Concld.

350—Succession Certificate Act VII of 1889, Secs 19 and 28—Certificate of heirship—Order refusing certificate of heirship appealable—Appeal—Regulation VIII of 1827—An appeal lies from an order refusing to grant a certificate of heirship under regulation VIII of 1827, by virtue of Sec. 19 of the Succesion Certificate Act VII of 1889. Rangubai v Abaji P J 1894 p 184; 19 Bom 399.

351—s. 19—Appeal—Person entitled to—(Act XXVII of 1860)

Held that, a person who did not appear in the Court of the District Judge to oppose an application for the grant of a certificate under Act XXVII of 1860 was not in a position to contest the order of the District Court in the character of an appellant. Tapeshra Kuari v Ajudhia Kuari 1 W N 162.

(17) SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT S 10

352—Act VII of 1889—Succession certificate; s. 10—Extension of certificate—No grant of certificate—No appeal under s. 19—

The extension of a certificate under s. 10 Act VII of 1889 to additional debts is not the grant of a certificate so as to give a right of appeal under s. 19 of the Act against the extension. Venkateswaralu v Brahmaravutu Raja Kristnaji 25 Mad 634.

(8) Costs.

(a) Discretion, Exercise of

353—Discretion. Exercise of—Act VIII of 1859, ss. 187, 189, 193, 196—

Held, (Macpherson, J doubting) an appeal will lie on a mere question of costs. Gridhari Lal Roy v Sundar Bibi B L R Sup Vol 496 6 W R 187

See Dowcett v Wise. 1 W R 522

Note—See 6 W R 187.

354—Decree enforcing award—Held (by Loch J) with reference to the Full Bench ruling B L R Sup Vol 496; 6 W R 127 that an appeal lies, on the point of costs, from a decree enforcing an arbitration award. Khoda Buksh v Mowla Buksh 14 W R 255

Contra Collector of Dacca v Kamala Kant Mookerjee 2 W R 33

Appeal-Contd.

8 Costs—Contd.

Chooni Lal Misser v Patroo Deo 6 W R 19.

Keemee Baee v Luchmun Doss Narain Doss 5 W R P C 59. 1, Moore's I A 470

Achumbit Singh v Kunhya Lal Mohajun 7 W R 208.

355—Semble—A regular appeal in respect of costs will not lie where bona fide care and discretion have been exercised on the part of the Court below. Desaji Lakhmaji v Bhavani Das Narotamdas 8 B H C 100

Luchmun Ram Unooj v Watson W R 1864 146

356-C P C O 23 r 3 (1882 S. 375)-Appeal for costs—Final decree. Where a decree is final there can be no appeal against its direction as to costs. 8 Cal 91 Followed. Sidha Gopal v Puran 2 N L R 49

357—As a general rule an appeal in respect of costs will only be entertained in cases in which no discretion has been fairly exercised upon the question, and the decision of the Court below has proceeded upon mistake or misapprehension. Where bona fide care and discretion have been exercised, no appeal in respect of costs should be allowed, and the question whether such discretion has been well or ill exercised should not be entertained. Keshavram Krishna Joshi v Bhavanji Bin Babaji 8 B H C 142

Notes—Con. 2 Bom 1, Ref. 14 Cal 464; 2 Bom 252; 14 Bom 377; 20 Bom 408 F B Disc. L B R 1872—1892.

358—Where no appeal is made against the judgment passed on the subject-matter of the suit, the discretionary power of assessing costs given by s, 187 of Act VIII of 1859 should not, unless in a very exceptional case, be interfered with by the Appellate Court. Kuppusvamiayyan v Nannuvayyan 1 M H C 74.

(b) ORDER INVOLVING MATTER OF PRINCIPLE.

359—Order involving matter of principle—Though the distribution of costs is, under the Civil Procedure Code a matter within the discretion of the Court, yet there may be circumstances which will justify an appeal upon a mere question of costs. Chithrayil alias Kunath Ahmed Koya v Irumanom Vittil Kanhamath Haji 3 M H C 279

Dantuluri Naryana Gajapati Razu Garu v Saruppa Razu. 3 M H C 113.

360—Where some principle is involved, an appeal would lie on a question of costs only. Secretary of State for India in Council v Marjum Hosein Khan. 11 Cal 359.

360A.—Appeal—No principle involved—Quære.

It is very doubtful whether an appeal will lie from an order for cost when no principle is involved. Amirul Hossain v Khairunnessa. 28 Cal 567.

361—Discretionary orders—Special appeal.—

It is only when a matter of principle is involved that a second appeal would lie as to costs only but not where the question of costs is purely in the discretion of the lower Court. Where a suit was brought against A on the allegation that he had instigated his co-defendant B, not to deliver up a particular document and where no other relief was asked as against A, and the lower Courts awarded a decree in favour of the plaintiff and directed A to pay half the costs:—Held, that the question was one which involved a matter of principle and therefore a second appeal lay to the High Court against the decree as to such costs. Bunwari Lall v. Chowdhry Drup Nath Singh, 12 Cal 179.

Notes—Ref: 16 Bom 241; 34 Cal 878; 5 C L J 642.

362.—Second appeal—As to costs.

An appeal as to costs will lie from an appellate decree when the Court has exercised its discretion as to costs arbitrarily, and not according to general principles. (S D A., N W P 1861 p 235) and (N W P H C Rep 1867 F B. 90) followed. Daulat Ram v Durga Parsad 15 All 333=13 W N 110.

Notes:—Ref 4 C W N 90; 7 C W N 647 Fol: (1905) W N 75.

Appeal-Contd.

8 Costs—Contd.

(C) POWER OF APPELLATE COURT.

363.—Appellate Court, power of-Civil procedure code (Act XIV of 1882) s 220—The power given under s 220, Civil Procedure Code, to a Court to apportion costs in any way it thinks proper, is subject to the control of the Appellate Court. B L R Sup Vol 496 16 Bom 676 and 15 All 333. ref to. Tara Prosunno Mukharjee v Satsih Chandra Singh 4 C W N 90.

364—Appeal as to costs-Alteration of lower Court's costs in appeal-On defendant's appeal on costs among other matters, the appellate Court ordered the costs to be materially altered in favour of the defendant. Suddasook Kootary v Ram Chunder 17 Cal 620.

Notes:—Fol 14 Mad 61. Ref 10 C W N 566.

365.—Costs—Practice—Appeal.

The plaintiff sued for possession of certain land in the court of a Subordinate Judge of the Second Class. The Subordinate Judge returned the plaint for want of jurisdiction and ordered the plaintiff to pay a separate set of costs to each of the defendants. The plaintiff appealed to the District Judge on the grounds, first, that the Subordinate Judge had jurisdiction to entertain the plaint; and secondly, that the order as to costs was improper. At the hearing of the appeal the plaintiff's pleader abandoned the point of jurisdiction. Thereupon the District Judge held that the appeal would not lie simply on question of costs. He therefore, confirmed the Subordinate Judge's order.

Held, that the District Judge had jurisdiction to hear the appeal on the question of costs.

Vasudev Ramchandra v Bhavan Jivaraj P J 1891 p 100=16 Bom 241.

366—Partition suit, costs, appeal for-Appeal, if and where maintainable—Principle, matter of-Proprietors and lessees, interest as—Allotment of shares in proprietary and lease hold interests-Costs up to the preliminary decree, by whom payable—Rateable distribution—Costs, subsequent to preliminary decree, by whom to be borne—Lessor and lessee, liabilities of, to pay costs—Apportionment. An appeal will lie upon a question of costs when a matter of principle is involved. As the plaintiff in a partition suit commences it for his own advantage, convenience and security, and as the defendant as joint owner, holds his undivided share always subject to the right of the plaintiff to demand partition, the parties must each bear their own costs of the suit up to the stage of the preliminary decree, and the costs of the partition should be divided between the parties in proportion to their respective shares in the estate.

If however, there has been a frivolous contest, the party by reason of whose opposition unecessary costs are incurred, may be made liable.

A lessee who accepts a lease of a share in joint property, does so with full knowledge that the subject matter is liable to partition, and if he finds himself a defendant in a partition suit, it is by reason of his own voluntary act, and in such a suit each party must bear his own costs up to the first hearing or preliminary decree, and the costs of the partition should be borne by the parties in the proportion of their interests.

If the lessee took no part in the partition proceedings, and neither claimed not obtained the benefit of a separate allotment he could not be called upon to contribute to the costs of the partition. But if he did, the costs must be borne by him rateably with the other parties, according to his interest in the premises.

A permanent lessee may be regarded as a purchaser and will be entitled to similar privileges and subject to similar liabilities.

The costs of the partition should, as between the lessor and the lessee, be borne by them in proportion to their respective interest in the share covered by the mokurari (lease). Nawab Dildar v Bhowani Sahai Singh 5 C L J 642 =34 Cal 878.

367.—Appeal as to costs—Civil Procedure Code (XIV of 1882), ss 220, 540, and 568-Error of lower Court under misapprehension of fact and law.

Where the original Court has made an erroneous order for costs under a misapprehension of facts and law, an appeal lies from such order under the Civil Procedure Code, although the appellant complains of nothing else but the order for costs so erroneously made. Ranchordas Vithaldas v. Bai Kasi. 16 Bom 676.

Appeal-Contd.

8 Costs—Contd.

Khushal Sadashiv v Punam Chand Jusrupji 22 Bom 164.

Notes:—Ap, 22 Bom 164. Ref 4 C W N 50.

(D) PARTY IMPROPERLY BROUGHT ON THE RECORD AS REPRESENTATIVE OF DECEASED JUDGMENT—DEBTOR.

368.—Party improperly brought on the record as representative of deceased judgment—debtor-Civil Procedure Code, ss 2, 244 cl. (c), 540.

One B D was made a party to an application for execution of a decree as one of the representatives of a deceased judgment-debtor It had been decided in a previous suit that B D was not related to the judgment-debtor in such a manner that he could become his legal representative, and in this proceeding also he objected that he was not such representative and his objection was allowed and the order allowing it remained unappealed and became final. The Court however while allowing the objection, did not give the objector his costs:—Held that the objector did not by being improperly brought into the execution-proceedings, lose his right of appeal, and further that he could under the circumstances, appeal on the question of costs alone. Bishen Dayal v Bank of Upper India 13 All 290.

(E) C P C (1882) Ss 2, 588.

369.—Ss 2, 54, 373, 588—Suit, withdrawal of —Appeal from order allowing withdrawal of suit and costs.

The plaintiff in a suit applied to the Court for permission to withdraw it with liberty to bring a fresh suit in respect of the subject-matter and the Court allowed the withdrawal, passing an order directing the plaintiff's costs to be paid out of certain funds of which the defendant was trustee. The defendants appealed objecting to the award of costs.

Held: that the order of the Court as to costs was not a decree within the meaning of S 2 C P C and not being an order mentioned in s 588 C P C was not appealable. Ramakisoor Doss v Sreerangacharlu 21 Mad 421= 8 M L J 74.

(F) APPEALABLE ORDER.

370.—Order-Appeal—If an order is itself appealable as affecting either the jurisdiction of the Court or the merits of the case, an appeal will lie from that part of the order which relates to costs but as is the case with decrees, in those cases only where the order is appealable, will an appeal lie against the direction as to costs, which is ancilliary to the order. Balkissen Dass v Luchmiput Singh 8 Cal 91.

Notes—12 Cal 271. Ref: 16 Bom 241.

371.—As to costs.

In cases under the Succession Certificate Act where an appeal is prohibited by s 19 no appeal will lie as to costs alone. Ram Ghulam v Shib Din 12 W N 35.

See (1) Col 52 No 25
(2) Col 53 Nos 30 to 33.

(G) RETURN OF PLAINT,

372.—Returning of plaint——Jurisdiction—Code of Civil Procedure ss. 14 & 57.

The Court of first instance, dismissed the suit with costs as at its hearing it was found that the property in dispute placed the claim in the suit beyond the jurisdiction of the Court. This decision was reversed with costs in appeal, on the plea that the Court ought to have returned the plaint to the party for presentation to the proper Court. On the appeal of the defendant to the High Court.—Held, that he was entitled to an appeal on the ground that he ought have to been allowed his costs in both the Courts.

Moshingam v. Mozari Sajad 12 Cal 271.

Notes:—Ref: 16 Bom 241; 31 Cal 878; 6 C L J 642. Dist: 31 Cal 233.

(H) COSTS.

373-377.—Appeal withdrawn—Costs on the Memorandum of objection.

Whether allowable or not, Where an appeal is withdrawn, costs on the Memorandum of objections should be ordered in the absence of any agreement to the contrary between the parties.

Quere——Whether the objection cannot be heard when an appeal is withdrawn. (17 All 51[9] Ref:) Ponnusawmy Nadar v Somdasundaram Chettiar 4 M L T 482,

Appeal—Decrees. See C P C S 96 (1), (2) 88 P J 293.

Appeal-Contd.

8 Decrees—Contd.

Appeal—Decrees. See Compromise, compromise of suits under C P C. 77. P R, 1908.

Appeal—Decrees. See C P C S 96. 26 Mad 224.

Appeal-Decrees. See C P C S 96 (1), (2). 4 A L J 683,

Appeal—Decrees. See C P C O 41, r 3. 3 O C 234.

Appeal—Decrees. See S 96 (1) (2). 29 Cal 252.

Appeal— Decrees. See C P C S 96 (1) (2). (1900) 28 Cal 82.

Appeal—Decrees. See Compromise—Compromise of suits under C P C. 50 P R 1898.

Appeal—Decrees. See C P C S 96 (1) (2) 89 P J 208.

Appeal—Decrees. See Partition. 37 P.R 1896.

9 Decrees.

(a) Order returning plaint.

378.—Order returning plaint—Civil Procedure Code, 1877, Section 540—Decree, form of.—

The plaintiffs, the widow, and son, repectively, of N, deceased, claimed immoveable property inherited from his father by N, and also immoveable property which had devolved upon N from his brother, who had predeceased him, and mesne profits of such properties The Court of first instance, finding that the claim to the former property was admitted and that to the latter was not denied, but resisted as barred by Sec. 13 of Act X ot 1877, and holding it not to be so barred, made a decree returning the plaint to the plaintiffs that they might, after correcting it, file it either in the Revenue Court in regard to the profits of the former property or in the Civil Court for possession of the latter property. Held, that, althogh the claim of the plaintiffs was not either decreed or dismissed, yet as the right and title asserted, by them to such properties was implicitly recognised by such decree, the defendants were entitled to appeal from it.

Behari Bhagat v Begam Bibi. 3 All 75

Appeal-Contd.

9 Decrees—Contd.

Notes—Ap: 14 All 348.

379.—Partition—Preliminary decree-Appeal against preliminary decree after final decree, not maintainable.

Where in a suit for partition a final decree has been made, and the preliminary decree only is appealed against: Held, that the correctness of that decree cannot be challenged without an appeal against the final decree also.

Kuriya Mal v Bishambhar Das. 5 Ind Cas 276 = 7 A L J 210 = 33 All 225.

380.—Partition — Appeal—Appeal against preliminary decree—Final decree passed since the appeal—No appeal against final decree.

In a suit for partition, an appeal which challenges the preliminary decree and not the final decree, will not lie, although the final decree may have been passed after the filing of the appeal. Reference:—32 All 225, App. and Ext.

Narain Das v Balgovind. 8 A L J 604.

380*A*—Ss. 2 (2), 115—Decree—Order holding portion of claim not sustainable and directing amendment—Appeal—Revision—Specific Relief Act (1 of 1877). Ss. 42, 54—Declaration—"Property" meaning of—Birt, right to—'Spes successionis'—Injunction when can be claimed—Birt, nature of.

Plaintiffs, as the heirs of a deceased purohit, sued for possession of his immoveable property and for a declaration that as such heirs they were entitled to realize birt offerings from the deceased's jujmans. On defendant's objection, the first Court held that plaintiffs could not ask for a declaration in regard to rights of Birt which might exist hereafter but did not exist at the moment. The Court further held that plaintiffs should ask for an injunction and it directed the plaintiffs to comply with this order within a certain period.

Held, that, as the order merely returned the plaint for amendment within a specific period it was not a decree, preliminary or otherwise, within the meaning of Section 2 (2) of the Civil Procedure Code, and was consequently not appealable, nor was it open to revision.

Gur Das v Bhag. 216 P L R 1911,

Appeal-Contd.

9 Decrees—Contd

(b) ORDER DISMISSING A SUIT.

381—Procedure—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), Sections 2 and 136—Order dismissing a suit—Decree—Appeal.

An order dismissing a suit under Section 136 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1862) is a decree under the definition contained in Sec 2 of the Code, and as such is appealable.

Mansingji v Metha Hariharram Narharram P J. 1894, P 139 = 19 Bom 307.

Notes;—Fol : 6 C L J 374.

382.—Decree—Dismissal on ground that no plaint could be found.

A plaint was filed and duly registered in the Court of a Munsif. Subsequently the Munsif found that the suit was undervalued, and that if properly valued it would be beyond his jurisdiction, and accordingly returned the plaint for presentation to the proper Court. The plaintiffs appealed to the Subordinate Judge against this order, attaching the plaint to their memorandum of appeal. The Subordinate Judge remanded the case under section 562 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Against this order of remand the defendants appealed to the High Court, but their appeal was dismissed. The case then went back to the Court of the Munsif, and it was brought to his notice that there was no plaint on the record before the Court. He accordingly, on the 9th of Agust, 1894, dismissed the suit. On appeal to the Subordinate Judge the order of the Munsif was reversed The defendants appealed to the High Court. Held that, the order of the Munsif of the 9th August, 1894 was appealable as a decree ; and that it was the duty of the Munsif or of the office of his Court to see that the plaint which had been all along on the record, was present in his Court. Nasiban v Khurshed Banu 16 W N 54.

(c) ORDER DISMISSING SUIT AS NOT PROPERLY BROUGHT.

383—Order dismissing suit as not properly brought—Right of appeal.

The plaintiffs in this suit claimed, as the heirs of G, possession from the defendants of certain lands which G had mortgaged to the defendants, alleging that the mortgage- debt had been satisfied from the usufruct. The defendants denied the title of the plaintiffs to redeem, asserting also that the mortgage-debt had not been satisfied. The Court of first instance held that the plaintiffs were entitled to redeem, but dismissed the suit on the ground that the mortgage-debt had not been satisfied. Held that the defendants were entitled to appeal, the case of 6 N W 19 not being applicable to this case.

Ram Gholam v Sheo Tahal 1 All 266

Notes:—Ap: 2 All 497 F B Ref: 17 All 174; 9 C W N 584.

384.—Appellate Court reversing judgment of first Court for want of jurisdiction—Order—Decree—Act X of 1877, SS. 2, 588 (6), 589.

Where the Appellate Court (the Judicial Assistant) reversed the order of the first Court on the ground that the value of the property in suit exceeded the value of suits which that Court was competent to try, and further returned the case to plaintiff in order that he might present it to the proper Court, held, that the appeal from the judgment of the Judicial Assistant lay to the Commissioner, and not to the Chief Court, such judgment not being merely an order as described in Clause 6, S. 588 of the Civil Procedure Code, and therefore appealable to the Chief Court under the last clause of S. 589, but a decree disposing of the appeal.

Guranditta v. Jaggu Shah. P R 185 of 1882.

385.—Right of appeal.

M sued K and J to enforce a right of pre-emption in respect of property which he alleged K had sold to J. K denied that she had sold such property to J. J set up as a defence that M had waived his right of pre-emption. The Court of first instance dismissed the suit on the ground that the alleged sale had not taken place. J then appealed to the High Court, making K the respondent. Held that neither the appeal from the original decree in the suit nor the appeal from the appellate decree therein was admissible.

Jumna Singh v. Kamarunnissa 3 All 152

Notes.—Ref: 9 C W N 584.

Appeal-Contd.

9 Decrees—Contd.

(d) ORDER ON DEATH OF PARTY.

386.—Civil Procedure Code Act X of 1877, ss 368 and 372—Abatement Death of sole defendant—Revivor—Limitation Act XV of 1877, Schd. II Art 178.

The sole defendant in a suit for land having died on the 5th September 1880, on the 8th November 1880, more than 60 days afterwards, an application to substitute the name of his heir on the record was made, and on the 22nd Nov.1880 rejection as out of time, an order was at the same time made that the suit should abate. On the latter date another application was made to set aside the order directing the suit to abate, and although it was found that the plaintiff had been prevented by sufficient cause from making the original application earlier, the Court dismissed the second application.

Held, that there was no appeal from the order dismissing the application.

Held, also, under section 622 of the Civil Procedure Code, that the case fell within section 178 of that Code and that the plaintiff therefore was entitled, under Art. 178 of Act XV of 1877, Schd. II, to three years from the death of the defendant within which to apply to substitute in place of the defendant the person upon whom his interest devolved upon his death.

Benode Mohini Chowdharani v. Sharat Chunder Dey Chowdhry. 8 Calc 837 = 10 C L R 449.

Notes :—Not fol: 16 Bom 27. Ref: 31 Cal 406.

(e) ORDER TREATING AS A NULLITY ORDER MADE WITHOUT JURISDICTION

387.—Order treating as a nullity order made without jurisdiction—Civil Procedure Code, 1859 ss. 102, 703.

There is no appeal from the order of a Principal Sadr Ameen setting aside as a nullity the order of a Judge who, acting for him in his absence, had admitted an appellant as legal representative of the original plaintiff, who had died pendent lite, the Judge having no jurisdiction to make such substitution. Bipro Chunder Joobraj v. Ramlouchun Deb. W R 1864, 121.

Appeal-Contd.

9 Decrees—Contd.

(f) ORDER REFUSING DECREE-HOLDER TO EXECUTE THE DECREE AGAINST LEGAL REPRESENTATIVES

388.—Order not to execute a decree against legal representatives—Ss. 210, 364. The Code of Civil Procedure (1859).

There is no appeal under s. 364 from an order made on proceedings taken under s.210 of Act VIII of 1859; the rule applicable in such cases being similar to that inunciated by the Privy Council in 2 Calc. 32. Raygo v. Pogose. 3 Cal 709, note

Pogose v. Catchick. 3 Cal 708 2 C L R 278.

389.—Order under s. 210 Civil Procedure Code, 1859.

No appeal lies from an order passed under s. 210, Act VIII of 1859, refusing application of decree-holder to execute decree against legal representatives of the person against whom the decree was passed. Lootfur Ali Khan v. Sadda Brut Pershad. W R 1864 Mis. 35.

(g) ORDER REFUSING TO ISSUE NOTICE TO REPRESENTATIVES.

390.—Order refusing to issue notice to representatives—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, s. 217.

No appeal lies from an order passed under s. 217, Act VIII of 1859, declining to issue notice as against certain alleged legal representatives of an original party. Sohudra v. Roy Kaliha Sahoy. W R 1864, Mis, 23.

(h) ORDER DIRECTING SUIT TO ABATE

391.—S. 588. (18)—Order rejecting application by Legal Representative of deceased sole Plaintiff and Appellant for substitution of names —Abatement of Suit—Civ. Pro. 1877, ss. 2.366.

An appellate Court rejected the application of the legal representative of a deceased sole plaintiff-appellant to enter his name in the place of such appellant on the record, on the ground that such application had not been made within the time limited by law, and passed an order that the suit should abate. Held that the order of the Appellate Court passed under the first paragraph of section 366 of Act X of 1877, not being appealable under cl. (18), section 588 of that Act, nor being a decree within the terms of section 2 from which a second appeal would lie, was not appealable. Ahmad Ata v. Mata Badal Lal. 3 All 844, 1 W N 92.

Appeal-Contd

9 Decrees—Contd.

(i) ABATEMENT ORDER OF

392—An order under Sec. 366 of the Civ. Pro. Code is virtually a decree, and is therefore appealable. Sec. 366 Civ. Pro. Code, only requires application to be made by a person claiming to be representative, if other representatives are unwilling to join, they should be made defendants.

Bhikaji Ramchandra v. Purshotam Hari. P. J. (1885) 161=10 Bom 220.

Notes—Dist: 17 All. 172. Con: 23 Mad 125; 12 M L J 368. Ref: 18 Mad 496; 16 Bom 23; 27 Bom 162.

393—No appeal will lie from an order under the first paragraph of s. 366 of the Code of Civil Procedure, such order not amounting to a decree, and not being specifically appealable under s.588. (I L R 10 Bom 220) dissented from. Hamida Bibi v Ali Husen Khan. 17 All 172, =15 W N 42.

Hhwaja Ahmad v Matabadal. 1 W N 92.

(j) ORDER DISMISSING APPLICATION TO BE BROUGHT ON THE RECORD AS REPRESENTATIVE OF DECEASED PARTY.

394—S. 372 C P C S. 588 (21). An appeal will lie from an order dismissing an application under s. 372 of the Code of Civil Procedure to be brought upon the record as representative of a deceased party. such order being a decree within the meaning of s 2 of the Code. Indo Mati v Gaya Prasad. 19 All 144=17 W N 7.

(k) ORDER DISMISSING APPLICATION TO BE MADE PARTY AS REPRESENTATIVES.

395—Order refusing application to be made party as representative.—Ss. 2, 372, 588 (cl,) 21 Civ. Pr. Code (1882)—An order refusing a prayer in an application of a person under s. 372 of the Code, to be made a party as assignee of a defendant is not a decree within the meaning of s. 2 of the Civ. Pro. Code, and as such is not appealable. 19 All. 142 distinguished and explained.

Lalit Mohan Roy v. Shebock Chand Chowdhry. 4 C W N 403.

Notes—Fol 24 All 532 F B. Ref: 24 All 342.

Appeal-Contd.

9 Decrees—Contd.

(l) ORDER REJECTING APPLICATION BY ASSIGNEES OF INTEREST IN SUIT TO BE ALLOWED TO APPEAL AGAINST THE DECREE.

396—The defendant, pending the suit, assigned his interest therein, but the assignee did not apply to be brought on the record and the suit was decreed exparte in plaintiff's favour. The assignee filed an appeal contending that they were entitled to appeal. The Court treating this as an application under s. 372 of the Code of Civil Procedure dismissed it. Held following (19 All. 142,) that an appeal lay from the order of dismissal. Motiram v Kundan Lal. 20 W N 125, 22 All 380.

Notes—Dist: 24 All 342. Over: 24 All 532 F B.

(m) ORDER REFUSING EXECUTION OF DECREE SIMULTANEOUSLY AGAINST PERSON AND PROPERTY.

397—Order refusing execution of decree simultaneously against person and property—Code of Civil Procedure (Act X of 1877), ss. 2 and 230.

An order under s. 230 of Act X of 1877 by a Court executing a decree refusing an application to execute it at the same time against the person and property of the judgment debtor being a "decree" under s. 2 of the Act, an appeal lies against such order, and the Appellate Court is bound to consider whether the lower Court has properly exercised the discretion vested in it by s. 230 of that Act. Chena Pemaji v. Ghelabhai Narandas 7 Bom 301.

(n) ORDER DIRECTING THE RELEASE OF JUDGMENT—DEBTOR.

398—Order directing the release of judgment debtor—Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882), ss. 2, 244, 337.

A judgment debtor, who had been arrested in execution of a decree of a District Munsif, made an application for his release under Civ: Pro. Code, s. 337, (a) and his application was granted—Held, that an appeal lay against the order granting the application. Abdul Rahiman v. Mahomed Kassim. 21 Mad 29.

Appeal-Contd.

9 Decrees—Contd.

(o) SECURITY FOR COSTS ORDER REJECTING APPEAL IN DEFAULT OF.

399—Security for costs.—s. 549 C P C.

An order under s. 549 Code of Civ. Pro. rejecting an appeal because security has not been furnished as directed under that section is a decree from which an appeal will lie.

Sirajul Huq v Khadim Husain 5 All 380=A W N (1883) 60.

Contra Lekha v Bhauna 18 All 101 F B.

400—Ss. 109, 110, O. 41 r. 10.

An order rejecting an appeal for failure to furnish security for costs under Order 41, r. 10, is not one affirming the decision of the Court within the meaning of s. 110.

Held, further, that the order was not "a final order passed on appeal" within the meaning of S. 109, (6 W R 102; 10 W R 1 (F B), 8 C W N 296; 30 Cal 679; 32 Bom 108 Ref:) Radha Kishen v. Jamna Prasad 13 O C 59.

(p) ORDER DISALLOWING OBJECTION TO EXECUTION.

401—Order in Execution—Assignment of Decree—Cross-decrees—Civ. Pro. 1877. s. 2

An order made in the execution of a decree disallowing the objections taken by the judgment-debtor to execution of the decree being taken out by a transferee by assignment of the decree, being the final order in a judicial proceeding, and therefore a "decree" within the meaning of this section, is appealable under that Act.

Murlidhar v. Parsotam Das. 2 All 91. =1 All 688 F B Foll.

(q) ORDER DISMISSING SUIT IN ITS PRESENT FORM.

402-Order dismissing suit in its present form—Civil Procedure Code, 1877, ss. 2, 13, 540—Judgment.

The plaintiff in this suit sued for the possession of certain land, on the ground that he was the owner thereof in virtue of a purchase from N. The defendants claimed such land as owners, on the ground that it was included in a certain garden which they had previously purchased at a sale in the execution of a decree against N, and they also claimed it on the ground that they were lessees there of under a lease from N, the term whereof had not expired. They also set up as a defence to the suit that it had been finally determined in a former suit between themselves and N, whom the plaintiff represented that such land was included in such garden, and that consequently their title to such land as owners could not be questioned in the present suit. The Court of first instance held that such land was not included in the defendants' garden, and they were not the owners of it, but that they could not be ejected from it, as they were in possession under the lease which had not expired, and that the question whether such land was included in the defendants' garden, and they were the owners of it, was not res judicata. It made a decree dismissing the suit in these terms: "Ordered that the plaintiff's claim as it stands at present be dismissed." Held (Straight J., dissenting) that the defendants were entitled under s. 540 of Act X of 1877 to appeal from such decree. Lachman Singh v. Mohan 2 All 497

Notes:—Diss 4 Mad 134 Ap. 7 All. 606 F B Dist. 3 All 152 F B Ref: 3 All 239; 17 All 174; 5 A W N 89; Ref: 9 C W N 584.

(r) ORDER IN EXECUTION OF DECREE

403—Repeal of Act—Pending Proceeding—Civ. Pro 1859—Act 1 of 1868, s. 6—Act X of 1877, ss2, 584.

The Court executing a decree for the removal of certain buildings made an order in the execution of such decree directing that a portion of a certain building should be removed as being included in the decree. On appeal by the judgment debtor the lower appellate Court, on the 22nd September, 1877, reversed such order. Held, Per Pearson, J, on appeal by the decree-holder from the order of the lower appellate Court, that the lower appellate Court's order, being within the scope of the definition of a "decree" in s. 2 of Act X of 1877 was appealable under section 584 of that Act as well as under Act VIII of 1859, notwithstanding its repeal, in reference to section 6 of Act I of 1868.

Held, Per Stuart, C J dissenting from the Full Bench ruling in (1 All 668), that a second appeal in the case would not lie. 1 All 668 F B Fol Uda Begum v. Imam-ud-din. 2 All 74.

(s-1) ORDER REFUSING TO FILE IN COURT AGREEMENT TO REFER TO ARBITRATION

404—Agreement to refer to arbitraion.

An order refusing to file in Court an agreement to refer to arbitration is not appealable.

Dayanand v. Bakhtawar Singh. 5 All 333= A W N (1883) 56,

Janki Tewari v. Gayan Tewari. 3 All 427.

Appeal-Contd.

9 Decrees—Contd.

Notes:—Dist: 22 Mad 299 Ap. 9 M L J 10 Con: 6 All 186 F B Appr: 33 Cal 11; 15 C W N 121; A W N (1907) 177; 11 O C 116 F B.

405.—Order of reference—Appeal.

No appeal will lie from an order of reference made by a Court upon an agreement to refer to arbitration filed in Court by one of the parties to a suit under the provisions of s. 523 of the Code of Civil Procedure. (1 L R 5 All 333); (5 N W P H C Rep 179) and (3 Mad H C Rep 183) referred to. Kishori Mal v Behari Lal 15 W N 121.

(s 2) AGREEMENT TO REFER

406—Agreement to refer—Civil Procedure Code 1882 ss. 523, 540—Decision thereon is a decree—Right of appeal-

In a suit to file an agreement to refer a matter to arbitration, a decision was passed refusing a reference on the ground that the agreement to refer was not proved. On the plaintiff appealing against such refusal—Held that a decision passed under s. 523 of the Code of Civil Procedure is a decree and an appeal lies therefrom under s. 540 of the Code. Decision of Oldfield J 5 All 333 approved. Gowdu Magata v. Gowdu Bhagavan 22 Mad 299

Notes:—Ref 27 Mad 255 F B: 2 C L J 80: 14 M L J 356; 84 P R 1901 Ref 112 P L R 1901

407—The second Schedule r. 20 (1882 S. 525.) Order refusing to file award—Decree—Appeal—An order rejecting an application under S. 525 to file an award is a decree within the meaning of S. 2. C. P. C. No appeal will lie from an order refusing to file an award between the parties without the intervention of a Court. 6 All. 186 followed. 29 Cal 167 distinguished. Katiq Ram v Babu Lal 1903 A W N 234=26 All 205.

(s 3) ORDER REJECTING MEMORANDUM OF APPEAL.

408—Order rejecting memorandum of appeal as barred by limitation.

An order rejecting a memorandum of appeal as barred by limitation is a "decree" within the meaning of s. 2, Code of Civil Procedure. It is therefore appealable and not open to revision by the High Court under s. 622, Code of Civil Procedure. (W N 1883 p 255); and (6 All 438) distinguished. Gulab Rai v Mangli Lal 7 All 42=4 W N 223.

Notes—Fol: 16 Mad 285; 9 Bom 452: 13 M L J 300. Ref: 22 Mad 155; 16 Bom 23; 27 Mad 21.

(s 4) ORDER DIRECTING ACCOUNTS TO BE TAKEN

409—Order directing accounts to be taken—Civil Procedure Code, 1882, s. 2—Interlocutory order

In a suit for a share of the cost of a party wall built by the plaintiffs, who, and also the defendant, were adjoining owners of plots of land under the Government for building, portion of the agreement being that all disputes as to the cost and maintenance of party walls were to be settled by the Government Surveyor, whose decision was to be final—the Judge Scott, J., on 11th December 1882 decreed that the defendant was liable to pay half whatever sum the Government Surveyor might certify to be due for the cost, and that the defendant was entitled to set off, in the calculation of what was due from him, the cost of any work or materials which the Government Surveyor might find had been contributed by him: and the case was thereupon adjourned for the certificate of the Government Surveyor. The Government Surveyor subsequently gave his certificate as to the cost of the unused portion of the said wall, but stated that on the evidence before him he was unable to decide as to the ownership of the foundations, etc., of the wall. The case came on again before Scott, J. who decided to take evidence on the points left undetermined by the Government Surveyor. Witnesses were accordingly examined, and on 11th December 1883 the Court disallowed the defendant's claim of set-off, and gave judgment for the plaintiff for half the sum certified by the Government Surveyor as the cost of the disputed part of the wall. The defendants appealed. Held that the decree of the 11th December 1882 was not a decree or an "order directing accounts to be taken" within the meaning of s. 2 of the Civil Procedure Code (XIV of 1882). and that the defendants, although they had not filed an appeal against it within the period allowed by the Limitation Act, were entitled to appeal against it when appealing against the decree of 11th December 1883. Coverji Luddha v. Morarji Punja. 9 Bom 183.

Appeal-Contd.

9 Decrees—Contd.

Notes:—Doub: 12 C W N 1102. Not Fol: 36 Cal 493.

(s-5) ORDER REJECTING APPEAL AS BARRED.

410.—Order rejecting appeal as barred—— Civil Procedure Code, ss. 2 and 540—Presentation of appeal beyond time.

The plaintiff's claim to redeem certain lands was rejected by a Subordinate Judge on 21st December 1882. On the 1st February 1883, the plaintiff, who was an agriculturist, presented an application for review to the Special Judge appointed under the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act. His application was rejected by that Judge, who was of opinion that the plaintiff's remedy lay in an appeal to the District Judge. The plaintiff was not informed of the result of his application to the Special Judge until the following May, at which time the Court of the District Judge was closed for vacation. On the 3rd June 1883 he presented an appeal on the opening of the District Court. The District Judge dismissed the appeal as barred by limitation. On appeal to the High Court, a preliminary objection being taken that a second appeal would not lie,—Held that the order of the District Judge, having the force of a decree within the meaning of s. 2 of the Civil Procedure Code, Act XIV of 1882, was appealable under s. 540 of the Code.

Raghunath Gopal v. Nilu Nathaji. 9 Bom 452.

Notes:—Foll: 19 Bom 323; 13 M L J 300. Ref: 16 Bom 23; 27 Mad 21.

411.—From preliminary decree apportioning shares—Final decree passed subsequently, no appeal from—Expiry of time for appeal from final decree.

Where after an appeal was preferred from a preliminary decree apportioning shares, a final decree was passed and objection was taken to the hearing of the appeal on the ground that no appeal had been preferred from the final decree though the time for filing it had expired, their lordships heard the appeal from the preliminary decree, having regard to S. 5A of the Limitation Act. Bafatun v Bilaiti Khanum 30 Cal 683.

412.—Time requisite for obtaining copy.

A decree for pre-emption dated the 28th September 1880, and drawn up in the terms of s. 214, of the Code of Civil Procedure, directed that the amount of the purchase-money should be paid into Court "within one month from the date the decree became final." It appeared that in consequence of delays in the preparation of copies of the decree and judgment which had been applied for by the defendants and the intervention of holidays, the period within which the defendants might have appealed expired on the 16th December, 1880. Neither of the parties to the suit appealed from the decree. On the 16th December, 1880, the defendants applied for execution of the decree for costs, on the ground that the plaintiff had failed to comply with the condition of the decree. On the same date the plaintiff appeared in Court and expressed himself ready to comply with the condition of the decree. Held that the decree in question not having been appealed against became final on the 29th October 1880, and the plaintiff's appeal was therefore beyond time. 1 All 293 followed.

Disa Singh v. Juala Singh 1 W N 165.

413.—Decision of a District Judge refusing to admit an appeal after after time reversed, the reason for delay being considered sufficient.

Hanmapa v. Basapa. P J (1889) 131= 13 Bom 281.

414.—Presented beyond time——Ground for admitting.

The lower Court rejected the appeal as barred by time. Appellant's excuse was that the file was before the Judicial Commissioner, in another case. Held, a good ground for admitting the appeal.

Das Mall v. Yar Mahomed Khan. P. R. 12 of 1866 Civil.

415.—Mistake of law, bona fide Indian Limitation Act, s.5—"Sufficient cause."

The plaintiff-appellant brought a suit for pre-emption on the allegation that the property had actually been sold for Rs. 4,634, and that the defendant had fraudulently entered Rs. 6.000 as the purchase money in the sale-deed. The defendant pleaded that the sale was effected for Rs. 6,000. The Court of first instance dismissed the claim. The plaintiff, by his pleader, appealed to the Court of the Judicial Commissioner The memorandum of appeal was returned to the plaintiff-appellant to be presented to the proper Court. He filed the memorandum of appeal in the Court of the District Judge, and claimed the benefit of s. 5 of the Limitation Act. He explained that he had sufficient cause for not presenting the appeal within the prescribed period, inasmuch as his pleader, acting bona fide under a mistake of law had filed the appeal in the Judicial Commissioner's Court. The District Judge dismissed the appeal as barred by limitation. Held, that as the point of jurisdiction in the case was one of some difficulty, and there was some authority supporting the pleader's action, the plaintiff-appellant showed sufficient cause for not presenting the appeal within the prescribed period of limitation and that a bona fide mistake of law might amount to sufficient cause within the meaning of s. 5 of the Limitation Act. Lal Bahadur v. Mir Bakar Husain. 2 0 C 133.

Appeal-Contd.

9 Decrees—Contd.

New plea taken in. See Opium Act, 1878, s,9. 2 0 C 100.

—No appeal lies to the Deputy Commissioner against the order of a Deputy Collector confirming the sale of an underproprietary tenure in execution of a decree for arrears of rent.

Babu Udres Singh v. Ram Bharos. R. A. R. No. 63

416.—S. 3—'Such debts and liabilities'—Appeal-Competency to contract-Perpetuities, law against.

The expression 'such debts and liabilities, in section 3 Act VI of 1876 means debts and liabilities other than those in favour of Government and includes every other debts or liabilities

An appeal in a suit to enforce an agreement outstanding when the estate is taken over by Government, is, therefore, barred.

When a suit is compromised by the proprietor of an estate taken charge of by the Government under Act VI of 1876, such proprietor is not sui juris and not competent to enter into an agreement to grant a lease of any portion of his estate at a time when the estate might be released by

Appeal-Contd.

9 Decrees—Contd.

Government, and such an agreement cannot therefore be enforced, even if it had been embodied in the decree drawn up by the Court in terms of the compromise. Such agreement, moreover, is bad as infringing the law against perpetuities, as the estate might not have been released within the period limited by that law. (2 Cal 445, 5 Cal 82 Fol:) Jagadis Chandra Deo Dhabal v. Satrughan Deo Dhabal. 4 C L J 238=33 Cal 1063.

(s 6) ORDER ALLOWING PURCHASER OF DECREE TO EXECUTE IT.

417.—Order to allow a purchaser of decree to execute a decree—Civil Procedure Code 1882 ss. 2, 232, 244.

A purchaser of a decree applied under s. 232 of the code to be allowed to execute it. Two of the judgment-debtors objected on the ground that the purchaser was benami for the other judgment-debtor,and that they had paid off the decree to the original decree-holder. The Munsif disallowing the objections of both, allowed the purchaser to execute the decree. Held, that the question was one between the parties to the suit or their representatives relating to "the execution, discharge or satisfaction of the decree" and that the decision of that question was a decree under ss. 2 and 244 of the Code and so a second appeal lay therefrom to the High Court.

Afzal v. Ram Kumar Bhudra. 12 Cal 610.

Notes:—Fol: 24 Bom 502.

418—Ss. 545 and 546,—Order under—— Appeal—"Decree"—Stay of execution.

Upon the application under s. 545, Civil Procedure Code, the District Judge allowed the decree-holder to go on with the execution, provided that security was given by him. Held, that the order of the District Judge, inasmuch as it determined a question referred to in s. 244, Civil Procedure Code, was a decree and was appealable as such. 12 Bom 279, referred to.

Ganga Din Singh v Lal Bahadur Singh. 1 0 C 102

(s 7) ORDER BY APPELLATE COURT DIRECTING THAT THE PLAINT BE RETURNED.

419—Order of the appellate Court to have the plaint returned—Decree—Civil Pro Code (1882) s. 2.

Appeal Contd.

9 Decrees—Contd.

The plaintiff filed a suit in the District Munsif Court to recover his share in the family property. The amount of the family property exceeded the pecuniary limit of District Munsif Court though the amount of the share was within the jurisdiction of District Munsif who decreed for the plaintiff. On appeal it was held that the Munsif had no jurisdiction to hear the suit, and so decree was reversed and plaint was ordered to be returned for presentation to proper Court. The plaintiff preferred a second appeal to the High Court where it was held that the decision of the lower appellate Court was not a "decree" within s. 2 of the Civil Pro. Code and therefore the plaintiff cannot bring a second appeal but he must proceed under s. 588 of Civil Pro. Code.

Chinnasami Pillai v Kuruppa Udayan 21 Mad 234

Contra Bindeshri Chaubey v Nadda. 3 All 456.

Notes:—Fol: 25 All 174 F B Ref. 31 Cal 344 59 P R 1899=P L R (1900) 137=22 A W N 223 F B. Ref: 13 C P L R 9.

(s-8) ORDER UNDER S. 18 OF ACT XX OF 1863 GRANTING LEAVE TO INSTITUTE A SUIT.

420—Order under S. 18 of Act XX of 1863—Grant of leave to institute a suit—Bengal N. W. P. and Assam Civil Courts Act XII of 1887 S 20.

An order under S. 13 of Act XX of 1863 granting leave to institute a suit is not a "decree" under the Civil Procedure Code and is not an appealable order. A suit was brought to remove the defendants from their office as shebaits of an endowment. If leave had been obtained to institute it under s. 18 of the Act, it was contended that, having regard to the provisions of s. 20 of Act XII of 1887, an appeal from that order would lie to the High Court. It was held that S. 20 of Act XII of 1887 was intended only to define the Court to which an appeal lies from a decree or order of a District Judge, and was not intended to define the right of appeal of the class of decrees or orders from which appeals shall lie, and that no appeal lay from the order passed under s. 18 of Act XX of 1863 granting the plaintiffs leave to institute the suit.

Protap Chandra Misser v Brojonath Misser 19 Cal 275

Notes:—Ref: 18 All 227.

(s 9) ORDER REFUSING LEAVE TO SUE.

421—Order—Refusal of leave to sue Act XX of 1863 s. 18—Decree-Civil Procedure Code (1882) s. 2.

An order of refusal of leave to sue under s. 18 of Act XX of 1863 is not appealable, as it is not a "decree" within the meaning of s. 2 of the Civil Procedure Code. Kazem Ali v Azem Ali Khan. 18 Cal 382.

Venkateswara. 10 Mad 98

Anonymous Case. 10 Mad 98. note.

Delrus Banoo Begam v Abdoor Rahman. 21 W R 368

Notes:—Fol: 19 Cal 275 Ref: 5 C L J 641 : 34 Cal 584.

(s 10) ORDER REJECTING PLAINT.

422—Rejection of plaint—Civil Procedure Code Ss. 2, 53, 54, 442—What a decree includes.

Where a plaint on the face of it appears to have been filed by a minor, the case comes under s. 442 of the Civil Procedure Code But where the plaintiffs described themselves as adults and on the defendant's objection an issue was raised and an inquiry was made into the question of age:—Held that although the order professes to be one under s.442, yet under the circumstances it should be treated as one rejecting the plaint or dismissing the suit on the ground that the suit was instituted by persons who were found on evidence to be minors, and was appealable as a "decree" within the meaning of s. 2 of the Code. The words "rejecting the plaint" in s 2 are not limited to cases provided for in ss. 53, 54.

Beni Ram Bhutt v Ram Lal Dhukri. 13 Cal 189.

Notes—Ap: 20 All 162. Ref: 19 Mad 127; 13 Bom 7 Cited; 0 C 234 Ref.

423—Plaint, signing and verification of—Plaint signed and verified by some only of the plaintiffs-Objection to such plaint taken on appeal—Procedure—Civil Procedure Code, 1882, Sections 51, 578—"Co-plaintiffs".

Appeal-Contd.

9 Decrees—Contd.

Where, in a suit instituted by four plaintiffs the plaint was signed and verified by two only, but was further verified as being true to his client's knowledge by the pleader for the other two plaintiffs, whose names were added after the verification, it was objected on behalf of one S. S. (who had been impleaded as a co-defendant in accordance with the order of the Appellate Court remanding the case for that purpose) that the plaint had not been signed or verified by all of the plaintiffs and the suit could not be considered to have been instituted on behalf of them. The lower Court, thereupon, fixed an issue regarding the question and finally decided that the plaint had been duly signed and verified, and dismissed the suit as against S. S, but gave a decree against the other defendant, D. S, who appealed therefrom to the District Judge and urged, inter alia, that the plaint had not been duly signed or verified. The District judge held that the plaint had not been duly signed; that the verification by the pleader was probably sufficient; that the plaint could not be returned for amendment, and that the suit must be dismissed in toto, on the ground that as only two of the plaintiffs had signed the plaint, the suit must be considered as having been instituted on behalf of the four whose names appeared in the plaint, and that when a person sues on behalf of another and the objection has been taken in the Court of first instance, the suit must be dismissed altogether on appeal. Plaintiffs applied to the Chief Court on the revision side, and it was held, that there being no rule that a person named as a co-plaintiff is not to be treated as a plaintiff unless he signs and verifies the plaint, the two plaintiffs who did not sign the plaint were co-plaintiffs from the very first and that, therefore, the two other plaintiffs did not sue on their behalf.

Held, therefore, that the District Judge had erred in dismissing the suit on the ground stated.

Held, further, that although the plaint should have been signed by all the plaintiffs as required by Section 51, Civil Procedure Code, and the first Court should, of its own motion, have returned it for amendment, the verification which was made by two of the plaintiffs who were acquainted with the facts of the case, was probably sufficient for the purpose of the said section

Appeal-Contd.

9 Decrees—Contd

It is the duty of a Court on receiving a plaint to satisfy itself that it has been properly signed and verified, but when once a plaint has been admitted, issues drawn, and one or two judgments passed without any objection having been raised to the informal character of the signing and verification of the plaint, such objections when raised at the eleventh hour should not be attended to if they are of a purely formal character not going to the root of a suit I L R 17 Calc 580, and Weekly Notes (N W P) 1896, p 102 cited. Chandi Mal v Dewa Singh 48 P R 1896.

(s 11) ORDER ALLOWING WITHDRAWAL OF SUIT, WITH LEAVE TO BRING FRESH ONE.

424—An appeal Court may allow a suit to be withdrawn. Ganga Ram v Data Ram, 8 All 82.

Notes:—Diss 18 Cal 322; 16 All 19. Not Fol: 17 All 97. Fol, 21 P R 1909=32 P L R 1909.

(s 12) ORDER PERMITTING WITHDRAWAL OF SUIT.

425—Order giving permission to withdraw a suit—Civil Procedure Code (1882) ss, 2, 373, 588.

An order of an appellate Court giving permission to withdraw a suit, with liberty to bring a fresh one under s. 373 of the Code, is not appealable, as it is not a "decree" within the meaning of s.2, of the Code of Civil Procedure (1882). 8 All 82 Diss. from. & 6 All 211, approved of. Jogodindro Nath v Sarut Sundari Debi. 18 Calc 322. Dick v Dick. 15 All 169. Rama Kissoor Dossaji v Sriranga Charlu. 21 Mad 421.

Notes:—Fol. 27 Cal 362; 16 All 19; 17 All 97. Diss: 29 Cal 370. Dist: 29 Bom 13. Ref: 21 Mad 421; 13 A W N 189.

426—Effect of withdrawal of one of two plaintiffs on appeal.

H S had two wives; by the first, he had two sons, A S and P S, and by the second also, two sons, J S and G S. In 1856 A S and P S separated from J S and G S. In 1858, P S died leaving a widow, who took a life interest in her husband's property; A S also died leaving two sons, Achra Singh and Sampuran Singh. P. S.'s widow alienated a portion of the property of her deceased husband. J S. and Sampuran Singh sued for a declaratory decree protecting their rights as reversioners, and pronouncing the sale invalid as against them. The Lower Appellate Court decided in favour of the claim. On defendants' appeal to the Chief Court, Sampuran Singh withdrew from the suit.

Appeal-Contd.

9 Decrees—Contd.

Held, by Boulnois and Campbell, JJ., that as Sampuran Singh had joined in the suit, the sale must be declared void, whether or not J S had any locus standi as a reversioner and that Sampuran Singh's withdrawal from the case at the last stage could not affect the decree of the Lower Court.

Held, by Lindsay, J., that J S was not entitled to sue, inasmuch as a disassociated half-brother had no right during the life of the members of an associated family to question the alienation by the widow of a deceased member of that family, unless the living members sanctioned his action and relinquished their own right. Dewan Kirpa Ram v Sirdar Jwahir Singh. P R 19 of 1874.

427—Permission to withdraw—Appeal.

An order under s. 373 of the Code of Civil Procedure allowing a plaintiff to withdraw his suit with leave to bring another suit on the same cause of action is not appealable, being neither one of the orders specified in s. 588, nor a decree within the meaning of s. 2 of the said Code. 6 All 211; 18 Calc 322 followed. 8 All 82 dissented from Jagdish Chaudhri v Tulshi Chaudhri. 16 All 19; 13 W N 189.

Zahuri v Dina Nath. 13 W N 204.
Genda Mal v Pirbhu Lal. 17 All 97 15 W N 17.
Saya Mal v Laik Singh. 16 W N 21.

Notes:—Fol; 17 All 97. Dist: 29 Bom 13

428—Appeal—Order to set aside the order of withdrawal and dimissing the suit—Civil Procedure Code (1882), ss. 2, 373 and 588.

An order permitting a suit to be withdrawn with liberty to bring a fresh suit, under s 373 of the Code is not appealable as it is not a "decree" within the meaning of s. 2 of the Code. But, when, an appeal has been filed against such an order and the Lower Appellate Court dismisses the suit setting aside the order of withdrawal, then the order of the Lower Appellate Court is appealable as it is a "decree" within the meaning of s. 2 of the Code. 18 Calc 322, followed. Abdul Hossein v Kashi Sahu. 27 Cal 362 =4 C W N 41.

429—C. P. C. O. 23 r 3 (1882 S. 375)-Consent decree-Validity cannot be questioned on appeal.

When a decree is passed by consent of parties, the question as to whether or not the compromise decree is valid cannot be gone into on appeal against that decree. 10 Cal 612 ref to; 24 Cal 908 distinguished. Biraj Mohini Dasi v Srimati Chintamoni Dasi. 5 C W N 877

Notes.—Fol: 30 Cal 613. Ref: 10 C W N 1197.

(s 13) ORDER REJECTING APPLICATION UNDER C P C S. 44, R. (A), AND RETURNING PLAINT.

430—Order refusing leave—Appeal.

A instituted a suit in the Subordinate Judge's Court for the recovery of a house together with some grain stored in the house. The Subordinate Judge returned the plaint as the suit was not properly framed under s. 44 (a). An application to join the two causes of action had been previously rejected. From this latter order, A preferred an appeal. Held that no appeal would lie. The order returning the plaint was a decree and A could have preferred an appeal from that order. Bandhan Singh v Solhu 8 All 191 =6 C W N 46.

431—Failure to consider objections under s. 521.

Where certain objections to an award alleged misconduct and corruption on the part of the arbitrator, and others involved questions of fact and law, and the Judge overruled such objections without giving the objector any opportunity of substantiating them, and gave judgment affirming the award. Held that as there was no judicial disposal of the objections, the Judge was not competent to give judgment in the matter, and his decree was a bad one in law, and an appeal lay therefrom, notwithstanding the concluding portion of s. 522 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Ram Manohar Misr v Lal Behari Misr. 9 W N 15.

Appeal-Contd.

9 Decrees – Contd.

(s 14) ORDER DIRECTING COMMISSION OF PARTITION.

432—Partition Decree—Order for a commission—Civil Procedure Code (1882)—Appeal from the order.

Where an Appellate Court made a decree or order to issue a commission directing an Amin to effect a partition of certain property into a particular number of shares and to assign the share to the parties to the suit:—Held, that such order amounted to a decree within the meaning of s 2 of the Civil Procedure Code and that it was in fact an order in the terms of s. 396 of the Code and was proper, though it is called a decree Bepin Behari Moduck v Lal Mohun Chattopadhaya 12 Calc 209.

Notes.—Ref: 8 C W N 11, 31 Cal 214, 9 C L J 421; =13 C W N 611.

(s 15) ORDER IN PARTITION SUIT LEAVING PROCEEDINGS TO BE TAKEN IN EXECUTION OF DECREE.

433—Partition suit—Order to effect partition in the execution of the decree—Civil Procedure Code (1882) ss. 2 and 396—An appeal lies from an order under s. 396 of the Code declaring the rights of the parties in a suit for partition, but leaving their shares to be determined in execution of the decree, as it is a "decree" within the meaning of s. 2 of the Code. Bhola Nath Dass v Sonamoni Dasi. 12 Calc 273

Notes.—Dist: 12 Cal 275.

434—Code of Civil Procedure (1882) ss. 2, 396—

The Proceedings under s. 396 of the Civil Procedure Code (1882) are proceedings in a suit before decree as they enable the Court in that suit to determine exactly the terms of that decree. Where those proceedings however, were left to be taken in execution of the decree, the High Court treated it as an error in point of form. It did not decide whether, or not an objection, if it had been proved, would have proved fatal to the proceedings and dealt with the case in the same way as was done in 7 Cal, 318, as regards the further proceedings taken after decree declaring the rights of the several parties as proceedings to obtain a decree on further consideration. Where in a suit for partition an order was made in course of such proceedings by which the position of some of the parties to the suit was determined, but no declaration was made as to the exact rights of each of the parties—Held it was merely an interlocutory orders and as such unappealable. Semble Such an order is not a decree within the terms of s. 2 of Act XIV of 1882. 12 Cal 273 distinguished. Bhoobun Moyi Dabea v Shurut Sundery Dabea. 12 Cal 275.

(s 16) ORDER DECLARING THE RIGHTS OF PARTIES TO A PARTITION IN CERTAIN SPECIFIC SHARES

435—Right to partition—Suit—Order—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) ss. 2, 396—

Held, by the Full Bench (Prinsep J doubting) that, in a partition suit, an order which specifically declares the rights of parties and the property which is to be partitioned, decides that the suit must be decreed as the Court which made the order cannot dismiss the suit after such order and is therefore an order which adjudicates upon the rights claimed and the defence set up in the suit and which as far as the Court expressing it is concerned decides the suit and thus comes within the purview of the definition of a decree in s 2 of the Civil Procedure Code and is therefore appealable. Dulhin Golab Koer v Radha Dulari Koer. 19 Cal 463.

Notes—Fol 30 Cal 683, 25 Mad 244 F B; 23 Cal 279, 5 C W N 617 F B; Ref 24 Cal 725 F B, 29 Cal 758 F B 56 P L R 1902.

436—Order in a partition suit—Declaration of the rights of parties in certain specific shares Civil Procedure Code (1882 ss. 2 and 591)—

An order was passed by the Court of first instance (the Munsif) in a partition suit on the 28th February 1893, to the following effect—"Plaintiff is entitled to a moiety of the lands described in the plaint and to decree thereto. The lands set out in the plaint will therefore be divided into two equal shares by a Civil Court Amin and when that is done one of these shares will be decreed to the plaintiff with costs of the suit." The Munsif passed a decree in the suit on the 30th June 1893 in accordance with the report of the Amin On the 11th August 1893 the defendants filed an appeal from the final decree to the district Judge in which the legality of the order of the 28th February was questioned—Held that, the order of the 28th February 1893, which declared the rights of parties to a partition in certain specific shares was a decree within the meaning of s. 2 of the Civil Procedure Code and was therefore appealable. 19 Cal 463 followed. The defendants not having filed an appeal from that order within thirty days from its date (see Art 152 of sch II of the Limitation Act) were not at liberty to question the correctness of the said order an appeal from it being then barred by limitation. Boloram Dey v Ram Chundra Dey 23 Cal 279

Appeal-Contd.

9 Decrees—Contd.

Notes—Over 5 C W N 617 F B: 29 Cal 758 F B; Ref 24 Cal 725 F B.

437—Dissolution of partnership—Jurisdiction of Court-Civil Procedure Code 1882, Section 17 (3) (ii)—Misjoinder of cause of action-No appeal from preliminary decree within fixed period, effect of as regards appeal from final decree —Representative of deceased partner, liability of —Presumption against wrong doer--Comparison of handwriting by experts—

Plaintiffs instituted a suit in the District Court of Ludhiana for dissolution of partnership, a settlement of accounts and a decree for whatever might be found due to them from defendants, which they stated to be in all probability a sum of Rs. 11, 500. They joined as defendents both the the remaining partners and also the representatives of a deceased partner. Defendants pleaded inter alia that as the parties were all residents of Jullundur District, the Court had no jurisdiction to entertain the suit, and that there was a misjoinder of causes of action. The suit having been decreed by the District Court, defendants appealed to the chief court.

A preliminary objection by plaintiffs to the effect that inasmuch as defendants had not appealed from the preliminary decree of the lower Court within the prescribed period, the appeal from the final decree was barred having been overruled.

Held—That as the contract of partnership was entered into by the parties at Ludhiana where balance sheets of accounts were prepared between the parties, and plaintiffs had a share in a shop there which carried on the same business as the firm of the parties. the District Court of Ludhiana had jurisdiction in the suit under Section 17 (3) (ii) of the Civil Procedure Code.

Appeal-Contd.

9 Decrees—Contd.

Held, further that the defendants, whether they were partners or representatives of partners, were necessary parties to the suit as framed, and that, therefore, there was no misjoinder of causes of action.

A representative of a deceased partner is liable to the extent of the deceased's assets in his hands, and this is ordinarily a matter for inquiry in execution of decree, but there is no absolute impropriety in its being decided prior to decree.

The Chief Court, finding that the deceased partner had previously to his death removed an unknown quantity of partnership property from the shop at Ludhiana, and that he had died a few days thereafter, concluded that his representatives had come into possession of the whole of the property so removed, and further finding that the shop books had come into the hands of the said representatives and were being willfully withheld by them, held that, in the absence of trustworthy evidence as to the amount of assets in their hands, the defendants, were liable to the full extent of the plaintiffs' claim.

A comparision of handwriting by experts is generally an unsafe test if it has to stand by itself. Jagmal v. Gainda. 62 P R 1897.

(s 17) PROVISIONAL DECREE.

438.—Provisional decree——Partition suit—Form of decree—Civil Pro. Code, (1882) ss. 2, 215 215A and 540.

A suit for partition of family property was brought in which a decree declaring the share of the plaintiff and some of the defendants in the family property was passed: but all other questions involved in the suit were reserved. Held such a decree is a provisional decree and an appeal can lie on it, yet this decree is irregular in form because it ought to have contained in it declarations as to all the rights and liabilities adjudicated on and directions as to accounts and inquiries which have not been taken and made.

Krishnasami Ayyangar v. Rajagopala Ayyangar. 18 Mad 73.

Notes:—Ref: 21 Bom 91. 3 C L J 521: 19 M L J 347.

Appeal-Contd.

9 Decrees—Contd.

439—Partition—Order declaring the right of parties and the property to be partitioned in a partition suit—Omission to appeal from such order—Effect of as regards appeal from final decree—Civil Procedure Code, 1882, Section 396.

In a suit for partition of immoveable property a Munsif, on the 11th December 1899, passed an order declaring the specific shares of the parties and the property to be partitioned, and on the 10th January 1900, under Section 396, Civil Procedure Code, appointed a commission to make the partition in accordance with his order. The partition was effected through arbitrators, and a decree was drawn up on the 31st May 1900 in accordance with the award. On the 30th July 1900 the defendant appealed to the Divisional Judge, and amongst other objections, questioned the correctness of the preliminary order of the Munsif excluding a certain house from partition. The Divisional Judge rejected the appeal as time-barred on the grounds that the order of the 11th December 1899, declaring the rights of the parties and the property to be partitioned was a decree and that the defendant was not at liberty to question the correctness of the said order, not having appealed from that order within the prescribed period.

Held, that the order of the Divisional Judge was erroneous, inasmuch as the preliminary order of the 11th December 1899 could be questioned on appeal from the final decree even if it was itself appealable as a decree. 23 Calc 406 62 P R 1897 cited 22 Calc 279; 19 Calc 463 referred to. Rustam Khan v Latif Khan. 49 P R 1902.

(s-18) ORDER APPOINTING COMMISSION TO EFFECT PARTITION AFTER PRELIMINARY DECREE.

440—Interlocutory order appointing a commission to effect partition after preliminary decree—Effect of not appealing—Civil Procedure Code (1882) Ss. 2, 244 and 591.

Held by the majority of the Full Bench that an order appointing a commission to make the the partition, subsequently to the preliminary decree in a partition-suit, is not appealable under S. 244 of the Civil Procedure Code as it is not an order in execution. It is an interlocutory order in a suit which has not been finally decided; and the appellant may object to it in an appeal against the final decree. Maclean C J thought the point was not necessary to the decision under the circumstances of the case. Jogodishury Debea v Kailash Chundra Lahiry 24 Calc 725=1 C W N 374.

Notes—Ref. 25 Mad 244 F B; 8 C W N 257; 31 Cal 179; 2 C L J 351 Dist. I C L J 40.

441—Where an application to the Collector for partition was made on the basis of the Civil Court's decree, and the Collector did not adjudicate the question of title, an appeal would not lie to the Judge. Bustee Ram v Mookh Ram 2 Agra Rep A C 251.

(s-19) ORDER DIRECTING ACCOUNTS TO BE TAKEN.

442—Order to take accounts - Civil Procedure Code (1882) Ss. 2 and 591—Suit for an account and dissolution of partnership—Omission to appeal from preliminary order—Limitation—The right of appeal given by Act XII of 1879 in making an order directing accounts to be taken within the definition of a decree, and thus giving an appeal in a preliminary stage of a suit for dissolution of partnership, did not alter the existing law, by which an appeal was allowed against such an order on the termination of the trial, that is, in the final decree. In a suit for dissolution of partnership and an account, the Munsif, on the 25th April 1893, passed an order declaring the shares of the parties and ordering them to render accounts, with a statement that "this must be done within fifteen days from this date, after which the final order will be passed," and a commissioner was asked to take accounts and the case was referred to him for it. On the 31st May 1893 the Munsif passed a decree in the suit, and ordered defendants No. 1 and 2 to pay certain sums of money in accordance with the report of the Commissioner. On the 14th July 1893 an appeal was filed before the District Judge by defendant No. 1 in which the correctness of the preliminary order of the Munsif, which made him liable as a partner, was questioned. Held, that the order of the District Judge, which allowed the plea of defendant No. 1 and found that he was not a partner, was right, though no appeal against the preliminary order had been filed within the period of limitation. Biswa Nath Chaki v Bani Kanta Dutta. 23 Calc 406.

Appeal-Contd.

9 Decrees—Contd

Notes.—Ap. 5 C W N 617 F B; 29 Cal 758 F B. Ref. 9 C L J 367=13 C W N 193 24 Cal 725 F B. Disap: 29 Cal 758 F B.

(s 20) ORDER BY APPELLATE COURT REMITTING CASE TO PASS DECREE UPON AWARD.

443 - Order to pass decree on award—Appellate Court remanding a case to Orignal Court—Civil Procedure Code (1882) S. 2—

In an appeal being preferred against a decree of an original Court dismising a suit the Appellate Court remanded the case for the purpose of certain evidence being taken, and certified to it. Pending that being done, the parties applied to the Appellate Court to refer the case to arbitration, and that Court referred that application to the Original Court for disposal, although the case was still pending on its own file for disposal. Subsequently another application was made to the original Court to refer the case to arbitration, and on the 10th May the record was sent to the arbitrator with directions to submit his award within seven days. On the 12th September, as the award had not been sent in, the original Court ordered to recall the record, and the award of the arbitrator dated the 12th September was subsequently filed. Thereupon the record was forwarded to the Appellate Court by the original Court for decision. The objections were overruled which were taken against the award and the Court of appeal ordered directing the case to be sent back to the Original court with orders to pass a formal decree in accordance with the award of the arbitrator. Held, that a second appeal would lie against the last mentioned order, in as much as it amounted to a decree under the provisions of s. 2 of the Civil Procedure Code.

Bhugwan Das Marwari v Nund Lall Sein. 12 Calc 173.

Notes—Fol. 18 Cal 507. Ref. 13 Bom 179.

(s-21) ORDER DISALLOWING OBJECTIONS BY DEFENDANT.

444—Order disallowing objections by defendant—Civil Procedure Code, 1882 ss. 584, 585.

Appeal-Contd.

9 Decrees—Contd.

Where a portion of the plaintiff's claim was disallowed by the first Court. and the plaintiff appealed to the Subordinate Judge from the portion of the decree which refused part of his claim, and the defendant filed a memorandum of objections under s. 561 of the Civil Procedure Code, the Judge decreed the plaintiff's appeal and disallowed the defendant's objections—

Held, in an appeal by the defendant on a preliminary objection taken by the respondent that a second appeal lay from so much of the decree of the Subordinate Judge as disallowed the objections filed by the appellant under S. 561 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Ganapati v. Sitharama. 10 Mad 292.

445.—Appeal filed against decree inadvertently passed against deceased defendant—Effect of decree passed against non-existing person Proper order to pass in appeal filed by person calling himself the legal representative of the deceased defendant.

Plaintiff having obtained a decree in the first Court, the defendant appealed to the Commissioner, who eventually accepted the appeal and dismissed the plaintiff's suit. From this decree one N, alleging himself to be the legal representative of the original plaintiff, whose death he set out in his petition of appeal as having occurred four days before the date of the Commissioner's decree, preferred an appeal in the Chief Court, and was met with the preliminary objection on behalf of the defendant-respondent that he had no locus standi with reference to his own allegations in the petition of appeal. It was admitted that no step was taken in the Commissioner's Court by either party to bring the name of any representative of the deceased plaintiff on the record, and further it appeared that the appeal filed from the Commissioner's decree was upon the merits, and not for the purpose of setting aside the decree as passed against a non-existing person.

Held, that no effect could be given to a decree passed by a Court against a non-existing person, such a decree being one passed in excess of the Court's jurisdiction, although passed inadvertently without notice of the death of the respondent; that the proper course for the person calling himself the legal representative of the deceased was not to appeal on the merits to the superior Court, and that the objection taken must be allowed and the appeal rejected.

Appeal-Contd.

9 Decrees—Contd.

Bhai Nihal Singh v. Chait Singh. P R 31 of 1886, Civil.

(s-22) C. P. C. ss. 232-244 (1882)

446.—Civil Procedure Code 1882, ss 232,244-Assignment of decree—Validity of transfer—Registration of transfer.

The holders of a decree for the sale of mortgaged property transferred the same to M by instruments which were registered at a place where a small portion only of the property was situate. Subsequently M transferred the decree to other persons, and the co-transferees applied, under S. 232 of the Civil Procedure Code, to have their names substituted for those of the original decree-holders. The judgment-debtor opposed the application on the grounds that M's name had not been substituted for the names of the original decree-holders who had transferred to him, and that the transfers to M were inoperative, as the instruments of transfer had not been registered at the place where the substantial portion of the mortgaged property was situate in accordance with s 28 of the Registration Act (III of 1877). It appeared that no notice had been issued to M under s 232 of the Civil Procedure Code; that he was dead; and that his legal representatives had not been cited as required by law. The application was allowed by the Courts below——Held, that the matter involved questions arising between the parties to the decree or their representatives within the meaning of s 244 (c) of the Court and that the order allowing the application was, therefore, a decree within the definition of s 2 and was appealable as such. Gulzari Lal v Daya Ram 9 All 46.

Notes:—Fol 16 All 483.

447.- Collector applying under s 411 Civil Procedure Code.

Held that, a Collector applying on behalf of Government under s 411 of the Code of Civil Procedure for recovery of court-fees by attachment of a sum of money payable under a decree to a plaintiff suing in forma pauperis might be deemed to have been a party within the meaning of s 244 (c) of the Code of Civil Procedure and that an appeal would therefore lie from an order granting such application. Janki v The Collector of Allahabad 9 All 64=6 W N 300.

Notes:—Fol 13 All 326; Con 23 Mad 73; Ref: 18 Mad 439; 18 Bom 237.

(s-23) APPLICATION FOR PERMISSION TO SUE AS PAUPER.

448.—Application for permission to sue as pauper.

The rejection of an application for permission to sue as a pauper on the ground that the applicant has previously withdrawn the application and entered into a new contract with the defendants is a decree. Baldeo Kuar v Gulab Kuar 9 All 129=A W N (1886) 321.

Notes:— Dist: 21 All 133 F B; Ref; 20 Bom 86.

(s-24) ORDER REJECTING STAY OF EXECUTION.

449.—An order of a District Judge under s 545 Civil Procedure Code is a decree as defined in s 2 and therefore subject to appeal.

Musaji Abdulla v Damodar Das Manekla1 P J (1888) 23=12 Bom 279.

Notes:—Doub: 6 Bom L R 780; 29 Bom 71.

(s-25) C. P. C. ss. 2, 54.

450.—(S 25) C P C ss 2, 54 Civil Procedure Code, 1882 s 2—Rent Recovery Act (Madras Act VIII of 1865), 27, Order under—Decree-

An order made under the Madras Rent Recovery Act s 27 is not a decree within the meaning of the Civil Procedure Code s 2. Perumal v Rajagopala 13 Mad 248.

450A.—Order returning memorandum of appeal to be presented to proper Court.

An order of a District Judge returning a memorandum of appeal to be presented to the proper Court on the ground that the value of the suit is beyond the pecuniary limits of his jurisdiction is not a decree within the meaning of s 2, Code of Civil Procedure. Mahabir Singh v Behari Lal 13 All 320= 11 W N 96 & 107.

Notes:—W N (1891) 107. Ap: 23 Cal 536; 15 All 363. Con: 16 All 286. Ref: 22 Bom 963; 16 All 252; 17 All 69; 28 All 545 F B=3 A L J 266=(1906) W N 99.

Appeal-Contd.

9 Decrees—Contd.

451.—S 54 C P C—Insufficient stamp-Failure to make up deficiency—Dismissal—Appeal

The Court of first instance being of opinion that the plaint bore an insufficient court-fee, and the plaintiff not making good the deficiency, dismissed the suit after recording evidence but without entering into the merits. On appeal the lower appellate Court held that the court-fee was sufficient, and remanded the case for trial on the merits. Held that, s 158 of the Code of Civil Procedure was not applicable to the case, that the first Court, disposal of the suit must be treated as being under s 54 and was therefore a decree within the meaning of s 2 and appealable as such, and that such appeal was not prohibited by s 12 of the Court Fees Act. 6 Cal 249 and 4 Mad 204. referred to. Muhammad Sadik v Muhammad Jan 8 W N 286=11 All 91,

Hiralal v Wali Bhagat 9 W N 124.

Sheoraj v Daljit Singh 4 W N 151.

Notes:—Dist: 4 M L J 183 F. B. Ref: 12 All 129 F B.

(s 26) ORDER DECIDING POINT OF LAW ARISING INCIDENTALLY.

452.—Order—Decision an incidental point of law-Civil Procedure Code 1882 s 2-Decree—An order which merely decides a point of law arising incidentally or otherwise in the course of a proceeding for determining the rights of parties seeking relief is not appealable, not being a decree within the meaning of s 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Where, the judgment-creditor, after satisfaction entered upon a compromise, applied for execution on the ground of the compromise having been obtained from him by fraud, and the Lower Court, being of opinion that the remedy of the judgment-creditor was by execution proceedings and not by a regular suit, ordered the case to be tried on merits:—Held, that such order was not appealable. Bahary Lal Pundit v Kedar Nath Mullick 18 Calc 469.

(s 27) ORDER DISMISSING APPLICATION TO CERTIFY ADJUSTMENT OF DECREE.

453.—Civil Procedure Code s 258 s 2 Order under s 258.

An order under section 258 dismissing a petition praying that the munsiff should record the satisfaction of a decree by agreement between the parties, being a decree within the meaning of s. 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure is appealable. Lingayya v Nerasimha 14 Mad 99.

454.—Appeal.

An appeal will lie from an order under s. 258 of the Code of Civil Procedure refusing an application to record an adjustment of a decree made out of Court. 14 Mad 99 and 11 Bom 57 cited. Jamna Prasad v Mathura Prasad 16 All 129=14 W N 6.

Notes:—Ap 5 M L J 140. Ref 18 Mad 26.

455.—Order refusing to certify—Payment to decree-holder out of Court Civil Procedure 1882 S. 244 248. An appeal lies from an order passed as regards a payment of a decree under S 258 of Civil Procedure Code, as the order is a decree under s 244. Hence a separate suit cannot be brought because the question is res judicata between the parties.

Guruvayya v Vudayappa 18 Mad 26.

Notes:—20 Mad 369 to 21 Mad 409.

(s 28) ORDER ABSOLUTE FOR FORECLOSURE.

456.—S 244 C P C—s 87 T P A. An order under s 87 T P A., is an order in execution of a decree under S 244 of the Code of Civil Procedure and is appealable. Kedar Nath v Lalji Sahai 12 All 61.

Notes:—Diss: 10 C L J 91: 25 Cal 133. Ref: 25 Mad 244 F B, 24 All 542; 33 Cas;867=4 C L J 141, Ap 13 All 278 F B; 24 All 179, Dist: 14 All 221.

(s 29) ORDER DISSMISSING APPLICATION FOR PARTICIPATION IN ASSETS

457—458.—Participation in assets—Order rejecting application for Civil Procedure Code Ss. 2, 244, 295-Appeal.

No appeal will lie from an order under s 295 of the Code of Civil Procedure dismissing, on the ground that the decree was barred by limitation, a decree-holder's application to share in the assets realized under another decree against the same judgment-debtor. Such an order as above-mentioned cannot be regarded as a decree under sec. 244 read with section. 3 of the said Code.

Kashi Ram v Mani Ram. 14 All, 210=12 W N 56

Appeal-Contd.

9 Decrees—Contd.

Notes:— 27 Mad 504 ; 11 C W N 483 ; 6 C L J 437. 65 P R 1905=130 P L R 1905.

(s-30) TRANSFER PROPERTY ACT S 87 ORDER UNDER.

459.—An order under s. 87 of Act IV of 1882 extending the time for payment of the mortgage money by a mortgagor is a deree within the meaning of ss. 2 and 244 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1882, and an appeal will lie from it. No application will therefore lie under section 622 of Code for revision of such order.

Rahima v Nepal Rai
14 All 520. 12 W N 99

Notes :—Fol ; 3 Bom L R 554 ; 26 Bom 121. Ref : 25 Mad 300 F B ; 244 P B.

(S(31) ORDER REJECTING AN APPEAL.

460.—Order rejecting an appeal—Civi Procedure Code, ss. 2, 252.

An intending appellant executed in favour of two vakils a vakalatnama; it was accepted only by one of the vakils, and he presented the appeal. The appeal was placed on the file by the District Judge, but on its coming on for disposal before the Subordinate Jugde, he held that it had not been duly presented, and made an order rejecting it. Held, that an appeal lay against the abovementioned order as being a decree within the meaning of section 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Ayyanna v Nagabhooshanam.
16 Mad 285.

Notes:—22 M 155, Foll 27 M 21. Ref: 13 M L J 300.

461.—No decree prepared—Practice.

In this case the Court of first instance (Assistant Collector) omitted to embody its decision in a decree. On appeal the District Judge holding that there being no decree the Court had no jurisdiction, dismissed the appeal. Held, that the lower appellate Court should have followed the rule laid down in 5 All, 520, and remanded the case for preparation of decree.

Kadir Baksh v Kifaitullah.
4 W N 224.

462.—Disposal of one—Effect on the other.

Where the plaintiff and the defendant prefer separate appeals from the same decree, and on the appeal first heard the decree is reversed and the cause remanded under sec 562 of the Code of Civil Procedure, the other appeal cannot be heard, the decree having disappeared. Jawahar Lal v Mohan Lal, 10 W N 68.

(s-32) ORDER UNDER CIVIL PRO. CODE (1882), S 543, REJECTING MEMORANDUM OF APPEAL ON ACCOUNT OF SCANDALOUS MATTER THEREIN.

463. Order under Civil Procedure Code (1882) Section 543, rejection of memorandum of appeal on ground of scandalous matter therein.

The grounds of appeal preferred to the District Court, alleged among others that thing's actual partiality against the Judge whose decree was appealed against-The appeal-Memo was returned for being amended as it contained expression disrespectful to the Court of first instance. The pleader for the appellant returned the appeal amended saying that he wanted to rely on the objectionable passages and adding that the Court may, if it likes strike out those passages. The District Judge rejected the appeal, under section 543 Civil Procednre Code. The objectionable portions were, it was shown, separate from the rest. Held, that an appeal lay to the High Court against the order rejecting the appeal to the District Court. Zamindar of Juni v Bennayya. 22 Mad 155.

(s-33) ORDER DISMISSING AN APPEAL FOR DEFAULT.

464.—Order dismissing an appeal for default —Difinition of " decree "—Civil Procedure Code (1882) ss. 2 and 556.

An order dismissing an appeal for default under section 556 does not fall within the definition of " decree", in section 2 of the Civil Procedure Code (1882) and as such is not appealable. 16 Bom 23 dissented from.

Jagarnath Singh v Budhan.
23 Cal 115.

465.—Definition of decree—Civil Procedure Code (1882) ss 2, and 556.

An order dismissing an appeal for default is not appealable as it does fall within the scope of the definition of "decree" in section 2 of the Civil Procedure Code (1882). 23 Calc, 715 followed. 15 All, 359, referred to.

Appeal-Contd.

9 Decrees—Contd.

Anwar Ali v Jafer Ali. 23 Cal, 827.

(s-34) ORDER REJECTING APPEAL ON DEFAULT IN FURNISHING SECURITY.

466.—Order rejecting appeal on default in furnishing security for costs—Civil Procedure Code (1882), ss 2 and 549.

An order rejecting an appeal under s. 549 of the Code of Civil Procedure is not appealable either as an order or as a decree. 5 All 380 overruled. Lekha v Bhauna. 18 All 101.

Notes:—Ref : 21 All 133 F B, Fol · 30 All 143=(1908) W N 53=5 A L J 109. 3 M L T 221=4 L B R 17.

(s-35) APPEAL AGAINST ORDER REJECTING AN INSUFFICIENTLY STAMPED APPEAL.

467.—Appeal against order rejecting an insufficiently stamped appeal—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), s 2.

An appeal petition, having been presented bearing an insufficient Court-fees stamp, was returned to the appellant. After the period of limitation had expired, it was presented again bearing a sufficient stamp, together with a petition that it be received. The Appellate Court made an order refusing to admit the appeal:—Held, that the order was not a decree, and therefore that no appeal lay to the High Court

Venkatarayadu v Rangayya Appa Rau. 21 Mad, 152.

Notes:—Dist : 8 A W N 64.

468.—Order dismissing appeal for deficient Court fee.

The memorandum of appeal in this case being insufficiently stamped and the appellant having failed to supply such deficiency within the time allowed, the following order was made by the Court below on the memorandum of appeal :—" Appeal dismissed ; full fees being unpaid ". Held, that as no decree was made in the lower appellate Court no appeal lies to the High Court. Gajraj Singh v Bhagwant Singh. 3 W N 255.

Appeal-Contd.

9 Decrees—Contd.

(s 36) APPLICATION FOR LEAVE TO SUE IN FORMA PAUPERIS

469—S 409—No appeal will lie from an order rejecting an application for leave to appeal in forma pauperis. (9 All 129), and (18 All 101), referred to. The Secretary of State for India v Jillo. 28 W N 204, 21 All 133

Notes:-Ref: 28 All 72=2 A L J 749=(1905) W N 191.

470—Decision in pauper suit-Separate Application for Enquiry into pauperism—Civil Procedure 1859, s 367.

An appeal lies from a decision in a suit heard in forma pauperis. A separate formal application for enquiry into the pauperism of applicant need not precede an application for leave to appeal in forma pauperis. Kamod Poory v Sheo Poory. I N W P 246.

(s-37) DECREE ON COMPROMISE EXTENDING BEYOND SCOPE OF SUIT.

471—Compromise including reliefs beyond the scope of suit—Decree embodying compromise—Civil Pro Code (1882) s. 375—A suit for the partition of zamindari was instituted in which a compromise was effected in writing which included certain other reliefs which could have been given by a suit on a different cause of action. The compromise was filed in Court and decree was passed embodying the whole of it.—

Held—That the decree is appealable. Under s. 375 of Civil Pro. Code, a decree is only final so far as it relates to subject matter of the suit dealt with in the compromise Venkatappa Nayanim v Thimma Nayanim 18 Mad 410.

472—C.P.C O.23,r.3(1882 S.375)-Compromise, finality of—Appeal from decree passed on compromise—Interpretation of compromise,difference between parties in.

If there is difference between parties in interpretation of compromise, and an amended compromise is not again put in, an appeal can lie from decree passed on compromise. 29 Mad 104, 9 Mad 103, 16 Bom 202, 1 C W N 597, 5 C W N

Appeal-Contd.

9 Decrees—Contd.

877 & 7 C W N 419, Ref:

Ram Lal v Balak Ram, 9 O C 365.

(s-37 a) DECREE NOT INCORPORATING THE COMPROMISE.

472 A—Decree—Interlocutory order—Compromise before it is incorporated in decree.—

No appeal lies against a compromise arrived at between the parties to a suit until it is incorporated in a decree. A Compromise was put forward before the Court which ordered that if the defendants accepting the Court's opinion, got a deed of sale of certain properties, after obtaining the District Judge's sanction in respect to the share of one of the defendants, who was a minor, it would pass a decree in accordance with the compromise, but if they did not act in this way, it would proceed to hear the suit on the merits. Held, that the order of the Court was not a decree and no appeal lay against it. Manohar Lal v. Narain Das, 109 P L R 1903.

(s-38) ORDER DISMISSING APPLICATION FOR REMOVAL OF TRUSTEE.

473—Order dismissing application for removal of trustee.

No appeal will lie from an order dismissing an application for the removal of a trustee, such order not being a "decree" within the meaning of S. 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure and not being otherwise appealable. Nathu Wilson v. C. H. Mc. Afee, 19 All 131=16 W N 200.

474—From amended decree:—

An amended decree is a decree and an appeal lies therefrom. Menal Ali v. Amdar Ali, 9 C W N 605.

475—S. 2, O, 35 r. 5, S. 104, O. 42 r. 1—(1882), Ss. 2, 473 (c) 588 (23)—Decree—Order—Appeal—Interpleader suit.—

Held, that an adjudication upon the claims of defendants in an interpleader suit is a decree and appealable as such under S. 540 of the Code of Civil Procedure and not under S. 588 of the Code. Maharaj Singh v. Chittar Mal, 1907 A W N 270=4 A L J 683=30 All 22.

476—Pro. Small Cause Courts Act, S. 32 (2)—Jurisdiction—Pecuniary limit—Appeal.

A suit in the nature of Small Causes Court suit was instituted in the Court of the Subordinate Judge who was invested with the jurisdiction of a Court of Small Causes to the extent of Rs. 50. The amount in dispute was Rs. 81-4-0, and therefore the suit was tried as a regular suit. Later, the jurisdiction of the Judge as a Court of Small Causes was raised to Rs. 100, and subsequently to this the suit was decided by him as a regular suit. The defendant appealed to the District Court but it held that no appeal lay on the ground that the suit was triable and must be taken to have been tried in the extended jurisdiction vested in the Subordinate Judge:—Held, that the appeal lay to the District Court, since under S. 32 (2) of the Provincial Small Causes Courts Act, it was necessary that the Judge should before the institution of the suit be vested with a Small Causes Court jurisdiction entitling him to hear the particular suit. Sambhu v. Ram Vithu, 5 Bom L R 1008=28 Bom 244.

(s-39) FINAL ORDER IN THE EXECUTION DEPARTMENT.

477—The lower Court in the course of execution proceedings passed an order that future mesne profits awarded by the decree were to be recovered for a stated period, and tried the question separately and embodied its finding in a formal order:—

Held, that the order was appealable. The decision was a final one in its essence and would be so equally whether it stood alone or was combined with decisions on other points.

Held, further, that the order was a decree within the meaning of S. 2 and was open to appeal under S. 540 of the Code. Bhup Indar Bahadur v. Bijai Bahadur, 2 Bom L R 978.

(s-40) APPEAL AGAINST DECREE PASSED ON REVIEW.

478—Appeal against decree passed on review—Jurisdiction of Court, admitting review—Review, application for—C. P. C., O. 47, Rr. 1 (2) and 7.

Held, that a decree passed on an application for review of judgment is appealable on the ground that the Court which admitted the application for review had no jurisdiction to do so.

Ujagar v. Ram Sahai, 14 O C 108.

Appeal-Contd.

9 Decrees—Contd.

(s-41) RIGHT TO PROSECUTE APPEAL AS REGARDS PART OF CLAIM DISMISSED.

479—Plaintiff obtaining decree for part of his claim—Appeal as regards part dismissed—Execution of decree—Right to prosecute appeal.

A plaintiff, who has obtained a decree for part of his claim and has appealed as regards the part dismissed, is not debarred from prosecuting the appeal because he has begun to execute the said decree. (82 P R 1868, overruled).

Raghu Mal v. Bandu. 31 P R 1907 (F B)= 64 P W R 1907=1 P L R 1908.

480—Tenancy Act (II of 1901) Sections 177, 193—Schedule IV-Decree of Assistant Collector class I, order in execution—Appeal to District Judge—Civil Procedure Code, Sections 2, 244—Decree:—

An order made by an Assistant Collector of the First Class in execution of a decree for over Rs. 100 in a suit falling under groups A and B of Schedule IV N.W.P.Tenancy Act is a "decree" within the meaning of Section 177 of that Act and an appeal will lie therefrom to the District Judge. (unreported) (1) (approved).

Kharag Singh v. Pala Ram, 1 A L J 305=1904 A W N 156.

(s 42) ORDER RETURNING PLAINT FOR PRESENTATION TO THE PROPER COURT.

481—Ss. 180, Cl. 2, 193—Collector's appellate order returning plaint—Appeal to District Judge—C. P. C., Ss. 2, 588:—

Under S. 180, cl. 2, U. P. Tenancy Act, no appeal lies to the District Judge from an appellate order of the Collector as distinguished from a decree. An order returning a plaint for presentation to the proper Court is not a "decree" within the meaning of the Sections providing for appeals in the U. P. Tenancy Act. In order to dicide what are 'orders' and what are 'decrees' under the U. P. Tenancy Act, 1901, the definitions contained in C. P. C. S. 2 must be applied. Dhani Ram v. Bhola Singh, 1904 A W N 152 =1 A L J 308=27 All 21.

(s 43) APPEAL AGAINST DECREE WHICH WAS A NULLITY APPEAL.

482—483—In an application under the section in which a decree was granted which was a nullity. Held that there was no appeal. Purus Ram v Musst Deo Korer. 4 N W P 29.

Appeal-Contd.

9 Decrees—Contd.

(s 44) APPEAL AGAINST FINDING.

484—Appeal-Res-judicata-Incidental finding -Grant of a life estate-A Mahomedan Law-Invalidity. As a General rule an appeal against a finding does or does not lie according as such finding will operate as res judicata or is merely an incidental finding which does not prejudice the rights of the party against which it is given. The grant of life estate is not invalid under the Mahomedan law. 11 Cal, 301; 7 Bom. 464; 13 Bom. 264; 17 Bom. 1, 15 I A 186: 3 I A. 291; 12 I. A. 91 referred to Gajraj Singh v Murtaza Khan 11 C P L R 150.

(s-45) APPEAL AGAINST DECREE OF ONE OF TWO JUDGES OF A DIVISION BENCH.

485—s. 98 (1882 S 575)—Judgment of the affirming judge—Decree—Charter Act. Arts. 15 and 36—Appeal—Points on which the appeal should be heard.

The decree of one of two judges of a Division Bench, whose judgment has prevailed under the provisions of S. 575 of the Code of Civil Procedure is appealable under S, 15 of the Letters Patent. On appeal under the Letters Patent, the appellate court has jurisdiction to hear the appeal not merely on the points on which the judges of the Division Bench differed, but also on other points raised in the appeal. (I All 181 fol) 20 All 258; 4 B L R A C 86 Dist. Kunhunni v Srivullabhan II M L J 10 F B.

Notes—Fol: 18 M L J 497=4 M L T 110 =32 Mad 95.

(s 46) ORDER DETERMINING THE QUESTION WHETHER DECREE HOLDER HAD USED DUE DILIGENCE IN THE EXECUTION OF HIS DECREE.

486—Civil Procedure Code (Act X of 1877), Setions 230, 540—Act XII of 1879, Section 2—"Decree."

Held, that an order in execution of decree determining the question whether the decree holder had used due diligence in the execution of his decree within the meaning of Section 230 Act X of 1877, appealable under Section 540 of the Code, such order being a "decree" within the definition given in Section 2 of the Code, as amended by Act XII of 1879. Balmokand v Muerjoo P R 45 of 1880.

Appeal-Contd.

9 Decrees—Contd.

(S 47) ORDER AS TO WHETHER THE DECREE WAS EXECUTABLE OR NOT.

487—488—Execution—Declaratory decree. Decision as to executability of—Whether decree-Appealability—First order deciding executability Appeal against, in time—Subsequent order appointing Commissioner to carry out former order—No appeal—Effect.

A decree provided that the 'first defendant shall enjoy land yielding 126 muras of rice'. The District Judge held, on an execution application, that the decree could be executed by setting aside lands that yield 126 muras of rice and directed that this should be done and ordered the appointment of a Commissioner to prepare lists of the lands. An appeal was made in time against the District Judge's order on the ground that the District Judge was wrong in construing the decree as one that was not purely declaratory. Before the presentation of the appeal, the District Judge passed another order directing delivery of possession of the lands in accordance with the Commissioner's report, and no appeal was preferred against the second order.

Held, that the first order as to whether the decree was executable or not was a decree under S. 47, C. P. C. read with S. 2, C P. C. and as such appealable.

The determination of a mere issue by the execution Court prior to the passing of the final order would not be regarded as an adjudication between the parties against which an appeal would lie; that the second order which merely carried out the first order could not affect the right of appeal against the first order.

When the law gives a person two remedies, he is entitled to avail himself of either of them. unless they are inconsistent.

Where a right and jurisdiction are conferred expressly by statute, they cannot be taken away or cut down, except by express words or necessary implication. References:—28 Mad 355. Fol: 14 M L J 359 Dist; 6 All 269; 23 All 152; 14 C L J 35, Ref: 18 Mad 421 & 19 Mad 479, Fol; 32 Cal 1023; 36 Cal 762; 2 All 225 & 8 A L J 604, Diss; 30 All 479 & 12 C W N 590, Ref. (c) 13 C W N 1197 & 12 Cal 45 Ref.

Appeal-Contd.

9 Decrees Contd.

Lakshmi v Marudevi 10 M L T 437.

(T) DECREE IN SUIT WITHDRAWN FROM SMALL CAUSE COURT.

489—Decree in suit withdrawn from Small Cause Court.

No appeal lies from a decree passed in a suit withdrawn from a Court of Small Causes.

Balkrishna Gangadhar v Ram Narain Rathi 10 C P L R 94.

(U) ORDER DISMISSING THE CASE.

490—S. 2-Order striking off certain defendants to be treated as order dismissing the case—Order dismissing the case to be treated as a decree. An appeal therefore, lies against such an order.

Idan Khan v Mendi Lal 8 Ind Cas 409.

(V) NO FORMAL DECREE DRAWN UP.

491——s. 2 (2); (1882 s. 2)—Decree—Decision of an issue in a case—No decree drawn up embodying the decision-Appeal.

In an administration suit, the Court of first instance decided on one of the issues a substantial question of right between the parties; and having so decided it appointed receivers of all the property in dispute

Held, that no appeal lay to the High Court, for there was in fact no formal decree upon the question raised in the issue. Bai Divali v Vishnay Manordas. 11 Bom L R 1326—24 Bom 182=4 Ind Cas 829.

(W) ORDER GRANTING LEAVE TO BRING A SUIT UNDER RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENTS ACT

492—S. 18-Leave to bring suit for accounts-Grant of leave-Order, a decree-Civil Procedure Code (Act. XIV of 1882), section 2—Appeal, Act XX of 1863 (Religious Endowments Act) makes no provision for appeal and an order granting leave to bring a suit for the purpose of having the accounts of a certain religious endowment not being a "decree" within the meaning of section 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure, no appeal lies against such an order. Mojaffer Ali v Mirza Hedayet Hossain 5 C L J 641=34 Cal 58 t.

Appeal-Contd.

9 Decrees—Contd.

Notes—Ref 10 C L J 503.

(X) APPEAL FROM DECREE ORDERED TO BE REVIEWED

493—Review, granting of—Appeal—Delay.

Where a decree passed on the 31st January was ordered to be reviewed on the 9th April,

Held, that there was no decree form which an appeal could be preferred till the order granting review was set aside. Ramaswami Iyengar v Janaki Ammal 7 M L T 387=6 Ind Cas 793.

494—495—Conditional decree for foreclosure-Mortgage-money made payable by instalment-Order of Court refusing to make decree absolute-Appeal—Civ. Pro. Code. S 540.

An order of an additional District Judge, refusing to make absolute a conditional decree for foreclosure, by which the mortgage money was made payable by instalments, on the ground that all instalments due up to date have been deposited in Court, is a "decree" within the meaning of S 2 C P C and an appeal lies against such order under S 540 Civ Pro Code. 3 N L R 55.3 N L R 146; 2 N L R 178, 16 C P L R III Ref.

Pandurung v Ram Chandra Venkatesh 4 N L R 54.

Appeal—Decrees. See C P C s. 47
8 O C 370

Appeal—Decrees. See C P C s. 47
1 Ind Cas 284

Appeal—Decrees. See C P C s 47
11 Bom L R 1113

Appeal—Decrees. See C P C s. 47
6 C W N 190

Appeal—Decrees. See C P C s. 47
6 Ind Cas 180

Appeal—Decrees. See C P C s. 47
2 M L T 307

Appeal—Decrees. See C P C s. 47
8 O C 405

Appeal-Contd.

9 Decrees—Contd.

Appeal—Decrees See C P C s. 47
24 All 108

Appeal—Decrees. See C P C s. 47
29 Cal 622

Appeal—Decrees. See C P C s. 47
13 M L J 212

Appeal—Decrees. See C P C s 47
25 All 443.

Appeal—Decrees. See C P C s. 47
11 C L J 202.

Appeal—Decrees. See C P C s 47
3 Bom L R 554.

Appeal—Decrees. See C P C s 47
5 Ind Cas 483.

Appeal—Decrees. See C P C s 47
6 C W N 63.

Appeal—Decrees. See C P C s 47
26 All 136.

Appeal—Decrees. See C P C s 47
15 M L J 247.

Appeal—Decrees. C P C s 47
3 M L T 307.

Appeal—Decrees See C P C s 47
31 Mad 406.

Appeal—Decrees See C P C S. 47.
28 All 72.

Appeal—Decrees See C P C S. 47.
11 C W N 239.

Appeal—Decrees See C P C S 47.
4 A L J 492.

Appeal—Decrees See s. 47.
38 P R 1898

Appeal—Decrees See C P C S. 47.
29 Mad 318.

Appeal—Decrees See C P C S. 47
87 P R 1887.

Appeal—Decrees See C P C S. 47.
30 All 486.

Appeal—Decrees See C P C S. 47.
2 Bom L R 887.

Appeal—Decrees See C P C S. 47.
3 A L J 370

Appeal-Contd.

9 Decrees—Contd.

Appeal—Decrees See C P C S 47.
32 Bom 572

Appeal—Decrees See C P C S. 47.
28 P R 1898.

Appeal—Decrees See C P C S. 47.
26 Bom 121.

Appeal—Decrees See C P C S. 47.
94 P J 48.

Appeal—Decrees See C P C S 47.
90 P J 263

Appeal—Decrees See C P C S, 47
30 Cal 134.

Appeal-Default in appearance See C P C O, 41 r 17. 5 P R 1900.

Appeal-Default in apperance See C P C O. 41 r. 17. 34 P L R 1910.

Appeal-Default in appearance See C P C O, 41 rr. 17 & 19 8 O C 261.

Appeal-Default in appearance See C P C O, 41 r. 17 42 P R 1894

(10) Default in Appearance.

(a) ORDER REFUSING TO ISSUE FRESH SUMMONS AFTER DISMISSAL

496—Order refusing to issue fresh summons after dismissal—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, s. 110—Order refusing to issue fresh summons on plaint.

Where a suit is dismissed under s. 110 Act, VIII of 1859, upon default in appearing made by both parties, no appeal lies from a refusal by the Court to issue a fresh summons upon the plaint already filed. Loke Nath Sahoo v. Tukeer Singh Marsh 630

(b) ORDER REJECTING APPLICATION TO SUE AS A PAUPER

497—Order rejecting application to sue as a pauper—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, s. 310.

There is no appeal open to a pauper when his application to sue as pauper is rejected for default. Where there has been no refusal under s. 310, Act VIII of 1859, the applicant may revive his application for leave to sue as a pauper. Bhoj Singh v. Maha Koonwer 3 Agra Mis 1.

Appeal-Contd.

10 Default in Appearance—Contd.

Notes.—Ref: 2 Bom 19.

(c) ORDER DISMISSING SUIT FOR NON APPEARANCE AFTER ADJOURNMENT.

498—Order dismissing suit for default—Adjournment—Non-appearance of plaintiff—Civ. Pro. 1877 ss 102, 103, 540

Nothing remained to be done in a suit except to hear arguments, for which a time had been appointed. Neither the plaintiff nor his pleader appeared at the appointed time. The Court consequently dimissed the suit. Held that, its decree was appealable under section 540 of Act X of 1877 and the lower appellate Court should have entertained the appeal, and disposed of it with reference to the provisions of section 565, and sections 102 and 103 were not applicable to the circumstances. Rai Chand v Mathura Prasad, 3 All 292.

499—Suit dismissed for default—Appeal from order of dismissal— C P C 1882, ss. 102, 103, 588 (8)— Sufficient cause for admitting appeals after time—Limitation Act 1877, s. 5.—An application under s. 103 of the Civ. Pro. Code must be made within 30 days of the date of the order dismissing the suit; if not presented within that period, it must be dismissed; but an appeal from the original order dismissing the suit, which has the force of a decree is not thereby affected. Under s. 5, Limitaion Act, delay in filing such an appeal can be excused and the period extended, if the appellate Court thinks that the appellant had no notice of the date fixed for the hearing of the original case. 60 P R 1897 Ref. Sahib Ditta v Roda 83 P R 1902.

500—Civ. Pro. Code Ss. 98, 99, 157, 158.

A case was struck off the file by a District Munsif for default in appearing of both the parties. Afterwards the plaintiffs having applied the case was taken back on file. The order of restoring to file was reversed by the District Judge. Held—(1) the order to struck off the case was illeagal (2) that assuming that the case was dismissed the District Judge had no Jurisdiction to pass any order on appeal. Alwar v Seshammal 10 Mad 270

Notes—Ref: 5 C L J 260 ; 34 Cal 235 ; 18 M L J 51

Appeal-Contd.

10 Default in Appearance—Contd.

501—Dismissal for default—Appeal.

Held that, an appeal lay from an order of dismissal for default under s. 102 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Plaintiff's remedy was not limited to that provided in s. 103 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Ablakh v Bhagirathi 9 All 427=7 W N 66

Notes:—Ap: 16 Bom 23, Dist 19 Bom 749; Ref: 8 C W N 313; 1 M L J 385 Diss 31; Mad 157.

502—O 9 rr. 8,9: s. 104 O 43 r. 1 (1882 ss. 102, 103, 588)—Order under s. 102 whether a decree and appealable as such.

An order under s. 102 C P C dismissing a suit is as much a decree as an order under any other section deciding a suit. The order comes within the definition of a decree and is appealable as such. 9 All 427 ; 1883 A W N 171 Fol. 30 Cal 660 referred to. Gosto Behary Sardar v. Hari Mohan Adak. 8 C W N 313.

[d] ORDER DISMISSING SUIT IN ADJOURNED HEARING FOR NON-APPEARANCE OF PLAINTIFF.

503—Civil Procedure Code Ss 102, 157 & 158-Dismissal of suit for non-appearance of plaintiff or his pleader—Appeal An order dismissing a suit at an adjourned hearing for non-appearance of the plaintiff and his pleader is an order under Sec. 157 and its consequential Sec. 102, and not under Sec 158 of the Civil Procedure Code and is appealable.

Shrimant Sagajirao v S Smith. P J 1895 p 267=20 Bom 736.

Notes:—Dist: 6C L J 427. Ref.30 Cal 788. Ref: 34 Cal 235; 11 C W N 705; 5 C L J 260, Fol 19 M L J 760.

(e) ORDER DISMISSING APPEAL FOR DEFAULT.

504—Order dismissing appeal for default—

An appeal does not lie from the order of a Judge dismissing an appeal before him for default of prosecution.— Mahomed Jan v Ameerun 17 W R 180

505—Remand-Dismissal for default without notice to appellant—Jurisdiction.—

Plaintiff appealed to Additional Commissioner, Amritsar, against the order of the first Court dismissing his suit.The Additional Commissioner remanded the case, and on receipt of return to the order of remand, the appeal came on for hearing on 15th February 1878, but no notice of such date was given to plaintiff, appellant. The Additional Commissioner waited three days for appellant, and on 18th February 1878, appellant being still absent, the appeal was dismissed for default. Plaintiff applied for re-admission of his appeal, but the application was rejected. Thereupon, plaintiff appealed to the Chief Court.

Held, that the appellant having had no notice of the date fixed for the hearing of his appeal, the Additional Commissioner acted without jurisdiction in dismissing the appeal for default - P R 48 of 1875, cited and approved. Bala v Hakim P R 90 of 1879

506—Appellant unable to support appeal—

Where upon the day fixed for the hearing of an appeal the appellant's pleaders were not present in Court and, the appellant who was present declined to support the appeal, it was held that the appeal was properly dismissed for default of prosecution. Gopal Bakhsh v Daulat Rai 16 W N 92.

507—Order dismissing an appeal for default Pleader unprepared to go on with the case, though present-Civil Procedure Code (1882)ss 556,558.

Where, when an appeal is called on, the pleader is unprepared to go on with the case though present the dismissal is a dismissal for default within s 556 of Act XIV of 1882 and the appeal can therefore be re-admitted under s, 558 15 W, R 143 followed. Shibendara Narain Chowdhuri v Kinoo Ram Dass 12 Cal 605

Notes—Diss 16 Bom 23; Dist 27 Cal 529. con 23 Cal 991. Ref 34 Cal 403 F B; 11 C W N 329 F B; 5 C L J 247 F B.

508—Dismissal for default—Application for re-admission—Art. 168, Limitation Act 1877.—

A second appeal set down for hearing under ss. 551, 587, Civ. Pro. Code, 1877, cannot be dismissed for default on the day fixed for hearing, as ss. 556, 558, Civ. Pro. Code apply to appeals in which a date is fixed under s. 552 and notice issued to the respondent. The limitation of 30 days will not apply to a petition dismissed for absence on the date fixed for hearing under s. 551. (48 P R 1878 Cited) Buta v Rattan Singh 76 P R 1882.

Appeal-Contd.

10 Default in Appearance—Contd.

509—C.P.C O.41 r. 19 (1882—S.558)—Appeal dismissed for default--Death of one defendant-Appellant pending appeal—

Application by surviving appellants for restoration. A suit was decreed against several defendants on grounds common to all. The defendants appealed and after the filing of the appeal one of them died. Ultimately the appeal was dismissed for default of appearance, no steps having meanwhile been taken to bring on to the record the representatives of the deceased appellant. Held, that inasmuch as it would have been competent to one only of the defendants, having regard to S. 244 of the Code C. P., to appeal against the whole decree. There could be no objection of the surviving defendants applying for restoration of the appeal. Muhammad Jan v Ismdor Khan 1901 A W N 192

510—Application for adjournment by appellant's pleader on ground of absence of leader—Dismissal for default—Judgment not written—Validity of order—

When an appeal came on for hearing, the pleader for the appellants applied for an adjournment on the ground that the counsel engaged by him to argue the appeal was absent with important papers in his possession and consequently he was not prepared to argue the case. The District Judge refused to grant the adjournment and rejected the appeal. Held that there was no default on the part of the appellants. Their pleader did not withdraw from the case, but merely urged that, as the records were in the possession of his leader, who was absent, he could not argue the appeal. It was open to the Judge to refuse the adjournment, but when he did so, he was bound to write a judgment and dispose of the appeal he could not dismiss it for default.(16 Bom 27 Foll) Patinhare Tarakatt Rama Mannadi v Vellur Krishnan Menon 26 Mad 267.

Notes:—Ref. 17 C P L R 1; 8 C W N 621; 34 Cal 403=11 C W N 329=5 C L J 247 =2 M L T 123; 1 S L R 115.

511—Sufficient cause—Proper adjudication—

The appellant's appeal to the lower appellate Court was dismissed on the 29th March, 1880, for the appellant's default, under s. 556 of Act X of 1877. The appellant applied, under s. 558 for the re-admission of the appeal on the ground that of his pleaders, one was present, another was absent "on sick leave" and a third and a fourth had, owing to holidays, gone home after obtaining permission". The lower appellate Court made the following order on this application—"It was brought forward to-day in the presence of the pleaders for both parties; after perusing the English judgment there appears no sufficient reason for allowing this application, ordered that the petition be disallowed". The Court held, that the lower appellate Court had dismissed the appellant's application, with reference to its former order of the 29th March, without due consideration and inquiry into the circumstances alleged. The appellant's allegation should have been inquired into, and a proper order passed after inquiry (the lower appellate Court was accordingly directed to dispose of the application afresh). Shimbhu Narain v Mobarak Ali 1 W N 22.

Appeal-Contd.

10 Default in Appearance—Contd.

512—Held, that rule 43 A of the Rules of Court of the 18th of January 1898 is not ultravires of the High Court, and that, when an appellant after repeated warnings from his advocate, neglects to pay the fees agreed to be paid to such advocate, and his appeal is dismissed for default, the High Court will not entertain an application under s. 558 of the Code of Civil Procedure for restoration of the appeal. Per Banerji J, held by Aikman J, that there is a discretion in applying the strict terms of rule 43 A. Bisharat Husain 18 W N 155

513.—Dismissal of an appeal for default—Pleader unprepared to proceed with a case—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) Sections 2 and 556—"Decree".

On the day fixed for the hearing of an appeal in the lower Appellate Court the appellant appeared by a duly appointed pleader. The pleader applied to the Court for an adjournment on the ground that he had not time to fully prepare himself in the case. The Court refused to grant any adjournment, and dismissed the appeal for default.—Held, that the order of dismissal was bad. The mere fact that the appellant's pleader was not prepared to proceed with the case would not enable the Court to deal with the case as if there was no appearance at all for the appellant, and to dismiss the appeal for default. Per Birdwood J.—An order dismissing an appeal for default is one falling within the definition of a "decree" contained in section 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure (Act XIV of 1882) and is, therefore, appealable. Ramchandra Pandurang Naik v Madhav Purshottam Naik.

Appeal-Contd.

10 Default in Appearance—Contd.

16 Bom 23.

Jagarnath Singh v Budhan.

23 Calc. 115

Anwar Ali v Jaffer Ali.

23 Calc, 827,

Lekha v Bhauna. 18 All, 101,

Watson & Co v Ambica Dasi.

27 Calc 529,

4 C W N 237.

Notes—23 Cal 115. Not Fol: 15 All 359. Fol: 19 Bom 307; 20 All 294. Dist: 23 Cal 115; 827; 27 Cal 529. Ref: 18 All 241; 30 Cal 660 F B; 8 C W N 621; 5 C L J 247 F B; 34 Cal 403 F B; 11 C W N 329 F B; 31 Mad 157.

513*A*. Order dissmissing appeal for default—Suit struck off for default—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, Sections 119, 347—Order striking off.—

In regular suits, where a Court of first instance refuses to re-admit a suit. there is an appeal under section 119, Act VIII of 1859; but there is no provision under section 347 for an appeal where an Appellate Court has refused to re-admit an appeal struck off for default.

Anonymus. 1 Ind Jur O S 49.

Fuzzoo Khan v Issur Chunder Sircar.

Marsh 30,

513*B*.—Civil Procedure Code (Act X of 1877) Secsion 551——Dismissal of appeal in default of appellant's appearance at preliminary hearing.

Held, that an Appellate Court has no power to dismiss an appeal by reason of appellant's default at a preliminary hearing under Section 551, Act X of 1877. Akbar v Hira.

P R 139 of 1879,

513*C*.—Appeal heard on its merits in absence

Appeal-Contd.

10 Default in Appearance—Contd.

of appellant—Act VIII of 1859, Section 346—Act XXIII of 1861, Section 35—Act IV of 1866, Section 44—Jurisdiction—Review.

Where a Court was bound, under Section 346, Act VIII of 1859, to dismiss an appeal for default of appellant's appearance and instead of so doing, went into the merits and dismissed the appeal Held that in hearing the appeal, the Court had exercised a jurisdiction not vested in it by law, and that either under Section 35 of Act XXIII of 1861, or Section 44 of Act IV of 1866, the Chief Court could set aside the order dismissing the appeal on the merits.

Dharm Singh v Nizam Din.

P R 62 of 1877.

513*D*.—Civil Procedure Code (Act X of 1877) Sections 556, 558, 584 and 588—Order dismissing appeal for default—Decree——Appealable order.

The order of a Court dismissing an appeal under Section 556, Act X of 1877, for appellant's default, is not a decree within the meaning of Section 584, and therefore no appeal lies from such an order, it not being included in the list of appealable orders contained in Section 588.

Muhammad Ali v Hyat.

P R 113 of 1879.

513*E*.—Dismissal for default of preliminary hearing—Act VIII of 1859. Section 346—Act IX of 1873, Section 7.

On 23rd May 1877, appellant filed an appeal in the Judicial Assistant's Court at Umballa, which was ordered to be registered and brought up with the file of the case on 13th June. On that date, appellant being absent, the appeal was dismissed for default under Section 346, Act VIII of 1859, though no notice had been issued to respondents, and the date was only fixed under Section 7, Act IX of 1873, for hearing appellant or his pleader in support of his petition of appeal. Held, that the order of dismissal was illegal.

An Appellate Court is only competent to dismiss an appeal for default under Section 346, Act VIII of 1859, when a date has been fixed under Sections 344 and 345 for hearing the appeal.

Appeal-Contd.

10 Default in Appearance—Contd.

There is nothing in Section 7, Act IX of 1873, which renders it obligatory upon an appellant whose appeal has been registered to appear in support of his petition, or which authorizes the appellate Court to dismiss the appeal for default. Kirpa Ram v Jamna Das. P R 48 of 1878.

Notes—Cited : 76 P R 1882.

513*F*—A Court should deal with an application to re-admit an appeal dismissed for want of appearance on the part of the applicant on the merits and consider whether the grounds for re-admission set forth in it are reasonable or not. In any case where there is a bona fide mistake on the part of the pleader for the applicant the appeal should be readmitted.

Balaji Raghunath KulKarni v Narayan Appaji Kulkarni P J (1898) 219.

513*G*—Dismissal for default on date of which appellant had no notice—Civil Procedure Code (Act VIII of 1859), Section 346.—

The Judicial Assistant, Umballa, fixed the 7th June 1877 for hearing an appeal filed in his Court. On 10th May 1877 the date was altered to 22nd May 1877, and the parties ordered to be informed. On 22nd May 1877, neither party being present, the appeal was dismissed for default, though notice of the change of date had not been served upon them Held, that in hearing the appeal on 22nd May 1877, the Judicial Assistant exercised a jurisdiction not vested in him by law.—

Kanhya v. Bahadur Ali. P R 61 of 1878.

513*H*.—No appeal lies against an order rejecting an application for the re-admission of an appeal dismissed for default (P R 87 of of 1876. P R 23 of 1871. P R 32 of 1869)

But an appeal will lie if the appellant did not receive notice or sufficient notice of the place of hearing. P R 48 of 1875. And an appellant is entitled to have a day fixed for hearing the appeal P R 60 of 1869. In the absence of any such day having been fixed, his non-appearance is not a "default." An appeal will therefore lie from an order dismissing an appeal for alleged default when no such day has been fixed.

Kaim v Kasim. P R 79 of 1869.

514—Where on an appeal being called on for hearing the vakil who held the brief for the appellant stated that he was unable to argue the case, the fact being that the brief had come into his hand too late for him to prepare himself in the case and the appeal was in consequence dismissed, it was held that this was not a dismissal for default of appearance (W N 1898, p 17) distinguished. (16 Bom 23) referred to. (12 Calc., 605) dissented from. Chiran Lal v Kundan Lal. 18 W N 35.

(f) ORDER REJECTING APPLICATION FOR READMISSION OF APPEAL.

515.—Order rejecting application for re-admission of appeal—Civil Procedure Code (Act VIII of 1859), s 347.

No appeal lies against an order rejecting an application for the re-admission of an appeal under s 347, Act VIII of 1859. Amiruddin v Jiban Bibee I B L R F B 101= 10 W R F B 39.

Note:—See 10 W R F B 39.

516.—Refusal to re-admit appeal dismissed in default—" Sufficient cause. "—

Notice of the date fixed for the adjourned hearing of an appeal, under Section 551 of the Code, had in this case been duly given to an appellant. He left the station and his pleader having cases elsewhere left the Court on the day fixed, though he was told the case would be heard. It was called on within business hours and dismissed in default. An application for re-admission was rejected on the ground that sufficient cause had not been shown. On appeal to the Chief Court, stress was laid on the Court's Circular IV of 1887.

Held, that although under Section 551 of the Code, a day and not a particular hour is to be fixed for the hearing yet when the appeal is dismissed for default, the appellant is required by Section 558 to show cause for non-attendance at the time when the appeal was called on for hearing.

Book Circular IV of 1887 explained. Para. 3 is restricted to parties and does not refer to pleaders.

Held, further, that the non-attendance of both

Appeal-Contd.

10 Default in Appearance—Contd.

pleaders and client in this case was wilful.

Miran Bakhsh v Rattan Chand. 71 P R 1890.

517—Act X of 1877, Sections 558 and 588 (v)-Appeal—Order refusing to re-admit appeal dismissed for default—Act XV of 1877, Schedule II Art.163, extension by Court of time prescribed by.

Under S .588 (v) of Act X of 1877, an appeal lies from an order under Section 558, refusing re-admission an appeal dismissed for default, even though the application for such re-admission was not presented within the thirty days prescribed by Act XV of 1877, Schedule II, Art 163.

The Courts have no power to extend the time prescribed by the last mentioned Article.

Mahi v Jiwan P R 141 of 1879.

518.—Order refusing re-admission of appeal dismissed for default—Civ Pro 1859 s 347.

A special appeal will lie from an order rejecting an application, under the provisions of s. 347 Act VIII of 1859, for the re-admission of an appeal dismissed for default of prosecution, if it appears that the Court below has not exercised the discretion which it possessed under the section.

The lower appellate Court, without enquiry, and without recording any reasons summarily refused an application under section 347. The order of refusal was set aside in special appeal, and the application remanded for proper consideration and disposal. Lall Singh v Zahuri 6 N W P 222.

519.—Appeal dismissed for default—Application for re-admission—Absence of party, not of pleader, to be explained—Special appeal.

In the lower Appellate Court, the appellant and his pleader were both absent on the day fixed for hearing; the appeal was dismissed for default; appellant applied for re admission, explaining that on the day fixed his son was dangerously ill; the Court rejected the application, recording that, "the fact that the appellant's son was ill did not excuse the pleader for not attending. If appellant has suffered by the dismissal owing to the default of his counsel he must settle that with him". On special appeal the Chief Court held, that it was sufficient for the appellant to explain his own default; he was not bound to account for the non-attendance of his pleader. Case remanded for the Lower Court to decide whether plaintiff's own default was explained and to proceed accordingly. Subhan Shah v Karm Khan P R 113 of 1876.

Appeal-Contd.

10 Default in Appearance—Contd.

(g) ORDER REJECTING APPLICATION FOR RE-HEARING OF APPEAL

520.—Order rejecting application for re-hearing of appeal—Civil Procedure Code 1859 s 347 —

A special appeal lies from an order passed under s 347 of Act VIII of 1859 rejecting an application for the re-hearing of an appeal dismissed for default of prosecution. The reasons for rejecting such an application should be stated.

Huro Chunder Doss Chowdhry v Ram Coomar Chowdhry. 2 W R 254

Ram Yad v Bissessur Bhuttacharjee 2 W R Mis 23.

Gholam Mahomed Akbur v Koonj Beharee Lall 5 W R Mis 27.

Kisher Chunder Putronovis v Tara Monee Chowdhrain 3 W R 4.

Dinobundhoo Chutteraj v Beharee Lall Mookerjee 3 W R Mis 23, Mittoo Khan v Rahman Khan 8 W R 36.

Notes:- Fol 8 W R 361; Dist: 6 W R Mis 130 Ref: 3 W R 4; 10 W R 160.

521,—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882 SS 586, 588 (27)—Appeal from order refusing to re-admit appeal dismissed for default in suit cognizable by Small Cause Court.—

An appeal lies to the Chief Court under Clause (27) of S 588 of the Civil Procedure Code from an order of an Appellate Court refusing to re-admit an appeal dismissed for default and is not affected by the provisions of S 586 of the Code, which exclude a second appeal in suits of the nature cognizable by a Small Cause Court.

Mussammat Kahno v Sohel Singh P R 100 Of 1883.

522.— Civil Procedure Code 1859 s 347.—

When a lower Appellate Court after eleven months' delay, and without fixing any time for disposing of the appeal, made an order dismissing the case for default, the High Court set aside the order as erroneous, holding that it was the subject of an appeal notwithstanding s. 347, Act VIII of 1859, which only applies to cases of involuntary failure to comply with a Court's order.

Soodhamonee Dossee v Gooroopersaud Dutt W R 1864, 176.

Appeal-Contd.

10 Default in Appearance—Contd.

522A—Dismissal of appeal for default.

An order dismissing an appeal for default under s. 556 of the Code of Civil Procedure is not appealable. Nand Ram v Muhammad Baksh 2 All 616.

Mukhi v Fakir. 3 All 382

Kanahi Lal v Naubat Rai 3 All 519.

Notes:—Fol: 3 All 519; 15 All 359. Ref: 16 Bom 23.

523—C. P. C. O 9 r. 9; O. 21 r. 88; S. 104, O. 43 r. 1 (1882 Ss 103, 310 and 588)

Appeal-Order refusing to restore application under s 310 dismissed for default. Held that no appeal lies from an order refusing to restore to the file of pending applications an application under s 310 of the Code of Civil Procedure, which had been dismissed for default of appearance. (31 Cal 207, 10 Bom 433, 11 Mad 319, Fol).

Ghasiti Bibi v. Abdul Samad. A W N (1907) 186=29 All 596.

524—Civil Procedure Code (Act X of 1877) S. 556—Order dismissing appeal for default.

Held, that no appeal lies from an order dismissing an appeal for default under Section 556 of the Civil Procedure Code. (P R 113 of 1879), cited. Mussammat Amna v Mussammat Askari Begam. P R 9 of 1883

525—Civil Procedure Code 1877, ss 556, 558.

An appellate Court, the appellant not attending in person or by his pleader, instead of dismissing the appeal for default, as provided by s. 556 of Act X of 1877, proceeded, in contravention of the provisions of that law, to dispose of the appeal on the merits, and dismissed it. The appellant preferred a second appeal to the High Court, contending that the Appellate Court had acted contrary to law. Held that the appellate Court had so acted and its decision could only be treated as a dismissal for default, and that, so treating it, the proper and only course open to the appellant was to have applied under s. 558 for the re-admission of his appeal, and under these circumstances the second appeal would not lie. 2 All 616 followed.

Kanahi Lal v. Naubat Rai. 3 All 519.

Notes:—Over: 22 All 66 F B. Ref: 16 Bom 88.

Appeal-Contd.

10 Default in Appearance—Contd.

526—Where the Lower Appellate Court dismissed the appeal on the merits in the absence of the appellant, who had failed to appear, and a special appeal was preferred to the Chief Court, held, that the lower Court was bound to dismiss the appeal for default, and the special appeal would not lie Mullik Said v Abbas. P R 36 of 1871.

527.—S 558 C. P. C.—Dismissal for default Disposal on merits in absence of appellant—Appeal.

When an appellate Court in a case in which the appellant made no appearance whatever, instead of dismissing the appeal for default, proceeded to hear it upon the merits and delivered judgment thereon. Held that the decision of the Court must nevertheless be regarded as a dismissal under s. 556 of the Code of Civil Procedure and no appeal would lie therefrom. 14 All 361; 15 All 359; 3 All 519; 8 All 277; 20 W R 425.

Murdari v Mariam Bibi. 15 W N 140.

528.—Civil Procedure Code, 1877, ss. 2, 540, 556.

An order under s. 556 of Act X of 1877, dismissing an appeal for the appellant's default, is not a "decree" within the meaning of s. 2, and is not appealable. Mukhi v. Fakir. 3 All 382.

Notes:—Fol: 15 All 359.

(h) DISMISSAL OF APPEAL FOR DEFAULT.

529—Dismissal of appeal for default-"Order"—"Decree"—Civil Procedure Code, s. 2, and ss. 556, 558.

No appeal will lie under s. 10 of the Letters Patent from the order of a single Judge of the High Court dismissing an appeal for default. The decision of a Court dismissing a suit or appeal for default is an "order" and not a "decree". 2 All 616, 3 All 382, 8 All 519, 16 Cal 98. 14 All 226, cited. In Bom 23, not followed.

Mansab Ali v. Nihal Chand. 15 All 359.

Notes:—Dist: 28 Cal 81, Ref: 23 Cal 827; 32 Mad 321.

530.—Appeal—Dismissal of appeal for default, order of—Civ. Pro Code (Act V of 1908), S. 2, O. 41, r. 17.

Appeal-Contd.

10 Default in Appearance—Contd.

No appeal lies from an order of dismissal for default of an appeal under O.41, r. 17 of the Code, as it is not a decree under S. 2, nor is it specified in the Code as an appealable order.

Rukminimoyi v. Poran. 15 C L J 334.

(i) ORDER DISMISSING SUIT FOR DEFAULT OF APPEARANCE.

531.—Order dismissing suit for default of appearance—Civil Procedure Code (1882), s. 102.

The decision of a Court passed under s 102 of the Civil Procedure Code, dismissing a suit in default of appearance by a plaintiff, is an order and not a decree, and there is no first or second appeal therefrom Gilkinson v. Subramania Ayyar. 22 Mad 221.

Notes —Fol. 29 Cal 61: 12 M L J 473. Ref: 26 Bom 599; 601, 31 Mad 157, 26 Mad 599. Appr: 16 M L J 30.

532 —S 14—"Defect of jurisdiction," meaning of—Appeal — Pre-emption— Valuation of suit

Held, that the words "defect of jurisdiction" in S 14 of the Limitation Act mean a defect of jurisdiction peculiar to the Court in which the proceedings were taken and do not cover such mistakes as the presentation and prosecution of an appeal which did not lie in any Court.

Held, also that no appeal lies from an order dismissing a case on plaintiff's default.

In a pre-emption suit, the plaintiff was directed to deposit a certain sum in advance, and on his failing to appear and to do so by the date fixed, his suit was dismissed. He appealed against this dismissal, but his appeal was rejected as incompetent. He then applied for the restoration of his case, and his application was dismissed as time barred. He preferred an appeal against this dismissal, which proved successful on the ground that he was entitled to a deduction of the time he had spent in the prosecution of his appeal against the dismissal of his suit. On further appeal to the Chief Court, it was urged, inter alia, that the plaintiff could not have the benefit of S.14, Limitation Act.

Held that, inasmuch as the first appeal by the plaintiff to the lower appellate Court was not competent, he was not entitled to any deduction on account of that appeal.

Appeal-Contd.

10 Default in Appearance—Contd.

A Divisional Judge has no jurisdiction to hear an appeal in a suit for pre-emption of land, when the value of the land, according to the thirty times jama rule, exceeds Rs. 5,000. 63 P R 1886; 45 P R 1893; 34 P R 1898, Ref; P R 121=51 P W R 1907, Fol.; 46 P R 1908=94 P W R 1908, Fol:

Moti Singh v Maghar. 163 P W R 1911.

(j) ORDER DISMISSING SUIT FOR NON-APPEARANCE OF PLAINTIFF SPECIALLY ORDERED TO APPEAR.

533.—S. 107—s 103 C. P. C.

Where a suit has been dismissed under s. 107 read with s. 103 of the Code, the remedy of the plaintiff is not by way of appeal, but by an application under s. 103 and appeal under s. 588 (8).

Krishna Ram v. Gobind Ram. 8 All 20=5 W N 321.

534—Application for restoration of suit—Appeal—Appeal cannot be application for revision—

A suit was dismissed for plaintiff's default under s. 102 Civil Procedure Code. An application was presented for the restoration of the suit to the file but it was refused. An appeal was preferred against the order of the First Court which was dismissed On second appeal from the order of the Lower Appellate Court it was held that no appeal lies against such an order. The appeal cannot also be treated as an application for revision under s. 622 of Civil Procedure Code as the Courts below have not been shown to have acted with material irregularity in the exercise of their jurisdiction. A Court is not bound to do anything more than have cause called and it is the duty of the parties and their legal representatives to be in attendance. Balaram v Mulla and Mt Gopi 5 C P L R 81

(k) ORDER REJECTING APPLICATION FOR RETRIAL.

535—Order rejecting application for re-trial-Civil Procedure Code, 1859, ss. 119, 347—Appeal heard ex-parte.

A special and not a regular appeal will lie from an order rejecting a respondent's application for the retrial of an appeal heard in his absence.

Sreedhurchurn Nundee v Juggobundoo Paul. W R 1864, Mis,, 37.

Appeal-Contd.

10 Default in Appearance—Contd.

(L) ORDER TO ATTEND AS WITNESS.

536-544.—Order to attend as witness—Decree against defendant—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, 170.

A defendant who has been ordered to attend and give evidence under Act VIII of 1859. s 170 and has failed to do so, is not precluded from appealing against a decree in favour of the plaintiff. Khomkar Abdool Guffoor v. Khoda Newaz. Marsh., 568.

Kedarnath Bhuttacharjee v. Kripa Ram Bhuttacharjee. 5 W R 270.

Notes:—Ap: 5 W R 270.

545.—Decree on default of party summoned as witness—Civil Procedure Code, 1859 s. 170.

A regular appeal lies from the judgment of a first Court passed on the default of a party summoned to attend as witness under s.170, Act VIII of 1859. Chunder Mohun Mojoomdar v. Teetooram Bose. 4 W R Act X, 18.

546.—Decree on default of plaintiff summoned as witness.

The right of appeal is not lost to a plaintiff whose suit is dismissed for default by reason of non-appearance as a witness. or when the appellant wants to prove that he should not have been summoned at all. Lekhraj Roy v. Buckland. 5 W R Act X, 65.

(M) DECREE AGAINST MINOR-RESPONDENT NOT REPRESENTED BY GUARDIAN.

547.—Decree against minor Respondent not represented by guardian.

Held, that a minor respondent. not duly represented by a guardian, cannot be treated as having appeared, though actually present in the Appellate Court, and that any decree passed by it against the unrepresented minor is not merely to be considered as an ex parte one, but is illegal and liable to be set aside by the High Court. (24 Cal 25, 24 All 383, 28 All 137, Fol, 22 Mad 187, Ref) Mussammat Ido v. Rulia. 55 P W R 1910=35 P R 1910=43 P L R 1910=6 Ind Cas 663.

(N) ORDER REFUSING TO RESTORE SUIT DISMISSED.

548.—C.P C.S.104,O IX rr.3,4 and O XLIII—

Appeal-Contd.

10 Default in Appearance—Concld.

Suit dismissed for non-appearance of both parties—Application for restoration of suit dismissed—Appeal.

An order passed under O. IX, r. 4, refusing to restore a suit dismissed for default of appearance of both parties under O. IX, R. 3, is not appealable. Shaddi Lal v. Karm Din. 9 Ind Cas 238.

549-550.—The Second Schedule r.21 (1882 S. 526)-Appeal dismissed for default Memorandum of objection—Costs.

Affidavit of objections, filed under the old Civ. Pro. Code, cannot be argued, if the appeal is dismissed for default.

Courts are not bound to allow costs when the memorandum of objections is dismissed owing to the appeal having been withdrawn or dismissed for default. Muthu Payal v. Nagalingam. 6 Ind Cas 309=8 M L T 53.

11. Exparte Cases.

(A) ORDER ADMITTING APPLICATION TO SET ASIDE EXPARTE DECREE.

551-552.—Order admitting application to set aside ex-parte decree.

Where a Court of first instance had admitted an application, made after the time allowed by law, to set aside an ex-parte decree,—Held that the Appellate Court was authorized to try in appeal whether under the law the Court of first instance had power to receive the application, and if its order was made without jurisdiction to set it aside. Radha Benode Chowdhry v. Juggut Surnokar. 6 W R 300.

Notes:—Ex: 23 W R 147. Ref: 8 B H C R 44; 2 Cal 114; 15 W R 175.

(B) ORDER ON APPLICATION TO SET ASIDE EXPARTE-DECREE.

553.—Order on application to set aside ex-parte decree—Civil Procedure Code. 1859, s. 119.

Though an order passed for setting aside a judgment is, on the merits of the application, final, yet where a Civil Court makes an order setting aside an ex-parte judgment on an application presented after the period allowed by law has elapsed, an appeal against that order will lie on the ground that it has been made without jurisdiction. Keshavram Valad Hirachand v. Ramchandra Trimbak. 8 B H C 44.

Appeal-Contd.

11 Exparte Cases—Contd.

Toolsee Dossee v. Doorga Churn Paul 15 W R 175.

(C) APPEAL FROM EXPARTE DECREE WRONGLY ADMITTED.

554.—Appeal from ex-parte decree wrongly admitted.

Where a decree is passed ex parte in an original suit, the defendant has no right to a special appeal, even though his appeal has been entertained by the Civil Court. Chidambara Pillai v. Kaman. 1 M H C 189.

555.—Order setting aside ex-parte decree—Civil Procedure Code, 1859. s. 119.

An ex-parte decree of June 1865, kept alive by successive applications for execution, was subsequently set aside on an application of 14th August 1871 (within 30 days after attachment in execution) made under Act VIII of 1859. s. 119, and a judgment was passed on the merits. The lower Appellate Court reversed the order setting aside the exparte decree. Held that, in so far as the Munsif had decided that the application was in time, he did not come under s 119, and therefore his order was not final, and the lower Appellate Court had jurisdiction to enquire into his proceedings. Bimola Soonduree Dassee v. Kalee Kishen Mojoomdar. 22 W R 5.

(d) Order refusing to set aside exparte decree.

556.—Order refusing to set aside ex-parte decree—Act VIII of 1859, s. 119—Delay in appealing until Act X of 1877, which gave no appeal.

An application under s. 119, Act VIII of 1859, for the re-hearing of a case decreed ex-parte, was rejected. Under that law, this order was appealable. No appeal was however, filed until October 1st, 1877, on which date Act X of 1877 came in force. Held that the appeal was inadmissible, there being no provision in Act X of 1877 for such an appea Jan Koer. 1 C L R 402.

Appeal-Contd.

11 Exparte Cases—Contd.

557.—S. 588 (9)—

No appeal lay under Act X of 1877 from an order made under that Act rejecting an application for an order to set aside an ex-parte decree. Gulab Singh v. Lachsmandas. 1 All 748.

Notes:—Dist 4 All 387 F B.

(e) Order setting aside ex-parte decree.

558—Order setting aside ex-parte decree—Civil Procedure Code. 1859, s. 119.

A District Judge is not competent to entertain a summary or miscellaneous appeal from an order setting aside an ex-parte judgment. But where an ex-parte judgment has not been set aside and a judgment afterwards come to on trial, and where a regular appeal is preferred, the Appellate Court may, amongst the matters urged in appeal, take into consideration the regularity of the proceedings of the Court below in making an order under Act VIII of 1859, s.119. Luckhee Monee Dossee v Bhoobun Mohun Bose. 23 W R 147.

559.—Civil Procedure Code, s 534, of 1877.

An appeal lies from an order made under s 534 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1877, refusing to set aside an ex parte decree. Luckmidas Vithaldas v Ebrahim Oosman. 2 Bom 644.

Notes:—Dist: 4 All 387 F B. Ap· 9 Mad 445. Ref: 8 All 354 F B

560.—Order setting aside ex-parte decree—Appeal.

No appeal will lie from an order made under s, 157 read with s. 108 of the Code of Civil Procedure setting aside a decree passed exparte in default of appearance of the defendant on a day to which the hearing of the suit had been adjourned. (23 Cal 738) referred to. Bhagwan v Hira. 19 All 355=17 W N 89.

Notes:—Ref: 20 All 195.

561—Ex-parte decree— Appeal from—Grounds.

An appeal lies from an ex-parte decree both on the merits and on the ground that the defendant was not in default in failing to appeal.

Appeal-Contd.

11 Exparte Cases - Contd.

Sadhu Krishna Aiyar v. Kuppan Iyengar. 16 M L J 479=30 Mad 54; F B.

562—Civil Pro, Code ss. 100, 101, 108 540—Appeal from a decree passed ex parte.

A decree was passed ex-parte against a defendant who did not adopt the procedure provided by s 108 of Civil Pro. Code. He has a right to appeal from such a decree under the general provisions of s 540. 4 All 387 dissented from.

Karuppan v. Ayyathorai. 9 Mad 445.

563—O. 9 r. 13, s. 96 - (1882 ss. 108, 540)—Preliminary decree, appeal against Exparte decree, setting aside of—Final decree, appeal against, if can attack preliminary decree-Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) secs, 108. 540.

The provisions of section 540 of the Civil procedure Code make it clear that an ex-parte decree is appealable.

In an appeal against the final decree in a suit for account, propriety of the preliminary decree may also be questioned. (21 Cal 550; 55 Mad 543 Ref.)

Inspite of the fact that an application under s. 108 of the Civil Procedure Code has been unsuccessful, an exparte decree may be challenged, if there are good grounds, in a proper proceeding for instance. in a regular suit on the ground of fraud. the test being whether the refusal of the application under s. 108 has already determined the question raised in the subsequent proceeding, (28 Cal 475; 29 Cal 395 Rel.)

The dismissal of an application under section 108. or ommission to prefer an appeal against such order of dismissal, does not bar another remedy on suitable grounds. and when the law provides an appeal against a decision, the effect of the omission to appeal is that the decision holds good for what it is worth. So far, therefore as concerns any other mode of relief available, the person who does not appeal, is in no worse position than if he had appealed and failed. Golap Singh v Indra Kumar 9 C L J 367=13 C W N 493=5 M L T 360=1 Ind Cas 86.

564—appeal.

Held that though no appeal lies from an ex-parte decree an appeal may be entertained in order to see whether the decree appealed against was in fact and law an ex-parte decree. O And R Railway Company v Shib Charan 6 W N 172.

565—Exparte decree–Appeal against ex-parte decree. arguments. permissible in support of-Civil Procedure Code Act XIV of (1882), Ss 108 and 540.

Although a person, against whom an ex-parte decree has been made, is entitled to appeal against it, instead of resorting to the procedure prescribed by S. 108 of the Code, yet. his contentions on appeal must be limited either to questions of law or to such arguments as arise upon the record as it stood when the ex-parte decree passed. He is not entitled to ask the appellate Court to accept the appeal on grounds which could be urged in an application under S. 108 and to remand the suit for rehearing it. 4 All 387. 17 Bom. 733; 23 All 167. Ref. 8 Cal 272. 23 Cal. 738. Appr. 30 Mad 54 dissented from. Jadu Nath Basak v Ram Narayan 12 O C 25 =1 Ind Cas 329.

566—Civil Procedure Code (1882). ss 108, 540 Decree passed exparte through non-attendance of defendants—Order on appeal for re-trial de novo on ground that defendants had insufficient opportunity for being heard—Jurisdiction of Subordinate Judge.

The defendants in a suit for possession of property and an injunction filed written statements. but failed to appear, either in person or by pleader, when the suit came on for hearing in the District Munsif's Court. Evidence adduced by the plaintiff was taken and a decree passed in plaintiff's favour as prayed. Some of the defendants applied to the District Munsif for an order to set aside the exparte decree, which application was refused; and the defendants then appealed against the original exparte decree, when the Subordinate Judge reversed the said decree and remanded the suit for retrial de novo on the ground that the defendants had not had a proper opportunity for being heard. Held that it was not competent for the Subordinate Judge to pass such an order ; that he could only deal with the case on the materials on the record ; and that the decree of the District Munsif must be restored. Caussanel v Soures 23 Mad 260.

Notes—Dist: 23 Mad 494 Diss: 16 M L J 479 F B=I M L T 268; 30 Mad 55 F B; 9 C L J 367=13 C W N 493.

Appeal-Contd.

11 Exparte Cases -Contd.

567.- Order setting aside ex-parte decree—The Code of Civil Procedure (1882) ss. 108, 588.

An order setting aside an ex-parte decree is not liable to appeal. Shama Dass v. Hurbuns Narain Singh. 16 Cal 427.

568—C P C O. 5 r. 25 (1882 s. 89) Service of summons on defendant residing out of British India. Where a summons is sent by post to a defendant residing out of British India, it is not, in the absence of evidence that the person to be served was at the time residing at the place to which the summons was sent, sufficient proof of service to show that the summons was posted, but there must be some evidence of its having been received by the defendant. Fakir-uddin v Ghapur ud-din 1901 A W N 1=23 All 99.

569—Contempt of Court. Notice of motion for committal—Service of notice—personal service necessary—Service upon attorneys not sufficient.

Where an application is made for committal of a person to jail for disobedience of the Court's order, it is necessary not only that the order should be served upon the defaulting party personally, but the notice to commit should also be similarly served upon him. Service upon the party's attorneys is not sufficient. Bai Moolibai v Chunilal Pitamber 11 Bom L R 360=2 Ind Cas 485=33 Bom 630.

570-C.P.C -O 41 r 21: S. 104; O 43 r. 1 (1882 Ss. 560, 588)—Applicability of Civil Procedure Code —Act X of 1859, Sec. 161—Complete Code-Transfer of brief—Pleader not named in vakalatnama—Adjournment-Hearing exparte Proper discretion. Section 560 of the Code of Civil Procedure, and by necessary implication, section 588 also, are applicable to appeals under Act X of 1859 by the operation of sec. 161 of the Act.

Quære—Whether the proposition that Act X of 1859 is a complete Code in itself requires modification in view of the decision in Nilmani Singh v. Tara Nath Mukerjee.

In an appeal before a District Judge, a respondent engaged two pleaders. On the day of hearing, the pleader being ill had transferred his brief to another pleader whom the Judge declined to hear as his name did not appear in the vakalatnama. The junior not being instructed to argue, applied for a day's adjournment to get himself ready. This was refused and appeal was decreed exparte.

Held, the Judge had erroneously exercised his discretion. He ought either to have allowed the pleader, who appeared to argue the case or allowed an adjournment, making, if necessary, an order for costs in favour of the appellant. Hare Krishna v. Bishun Chandra 7 C L J 426=12 C W N 888.

571-C.P.C.O 5 r. 17, O 9 r.13 (1882 Ss. 80, 108)-Application to set aside a decree passed exparte—Irregular service of summons.

Where a serving officer finds a defendant to be away temporarily from home and knows where he is, it is not a good service if he thereupon does no more than fix the summons to the outer door of the house; but he must make further efforts to effect personal service. Sakina v Gawri Sahai 1902 A W N 68=24 All 302.

(F) Refusal to re-hear appeal

572—Order refusing to rehear—Appeal decided ex-parte—Second Appeal—Civ. Pro. 1877, ss. 560, 584, 588.

An Appeal was heard ex-parte in the absence of the respondent (defendant), and Judgment was given against him. He applied to the Appellate Court to re-hear the appeal, and the Appellate Court refused to re-hear. He then appealed, not from the order refusing to re-hear the appeal, but from the decree of the appellate Court. Held that he was not debarred, by reason that he had not appealed from the order refusing to re-hear the appeal, from appealing from the decree of the Appellate Court. Ramjan v Baij Nath. 2 All 567.

Notes:—8 All 354 F B; Dist: 4 All 387 F B.

(G) Order exparte directing attachment in execution of decree

573-Exparte order for attachment in execution of a decree—An exparte order for attachment in execution of a decree is appeallable. Zamindar of Sivagiri v Alwar Ayyangar Sangli Virapandia Chinnathambiar v Alwar Ayyangar 3 Mad 42.

Notes:—Fol: 5 Mad 232 F B; 13 Mad 265. Ref

Appeal-Contd.

11 Exparte Cases—Contd.

9 Bom 198 F B; 16 All 449; 32 Mad 429; 19 M L J 401.

(H) Order against defendant not appearing

574—Order against defendant failing to appear-Civil Pro. Code 1877 s 540 Exparte decrees are appealable under s 540 of the Civil Pro. Code if a dependant after appearing at the first hearing files a written statement he should not be considered Exparte. Anantharama Patter v Madhava Paniker 3 Mad 264

See Luckmidas Vithaldas v Ebrahim Oosman 2 Bom 644

and Modalatha 2 Mad 75

Notes:—Ref: 10 Cal 410; 19 Mad 230; 21 Mad 356: 7 Bom 341. F. B. 7 All 345.

575—Ex-parte decree—Application to set aside—Appeal.

Held that a defendant against whom a decree has been passed ex- parte and who has not adopted the remedy provided by s. 108 of the Code of Civil Procedure is not competent to prefer an appeal from such ex-parte decree. Lal Singh v Kunjan 4 All 387=2 W N 85

Notes:—Dist 8 All 354 F B; Not Fol 9 Mad 445, 9 All 427; 8 All 20 Dist. 7 All 159; 9 All 427.

576—Ex-parte decree.

An appeal from an ex parte decree lies under the general provision of Section 540 Act X of 1877 as no express provision is to be found in the said Act precluding such appeal Mussammat Sahib Dai v Jaga Singh P R 105 of 1880

577—Civil Procedure Code Act X of 1877, sections 101 and 108 appeal.

A defendant against whom a decree has been passed ex-parte is entitled to appeal without having first resorted to the procedure laid down in section 108 of the Civil Procedure Code.

Ashruffunissa v Lehareaux 8 Cal. 272= 10 C L R 502

Notes:—Ref 8 All 354 F B,

578—Ex-parte decree-Act X of 1877 Section 108 Held, following (P R 105 of 1880) and other rulings that an appeal will lie by the defendant from an ex-parte decree against him notwith-standing that he has not applied under Section 108 of the Civil Procedure Code to set it aside.

The ruling of the maiority of the Full Bench in 4 All 387 dissented from Radha Prashad v Hirde P R 60 of 1883.

Followed in Prem Singh v Kharak Singh. P R 60 of 1883

And Chuni Lal v Bodar Mal P R 2 of 1886.

Appeal-Contd.

11 Exparte Cases—Contd.

579—Decree against defendant under s. 136 Exparte Decree—Appeal.

A defendant failing to comply with an order to answer interrogatories, the Court under s. 136 of the Code of Civil Procedure struck out his defence and, proceeding ex-parte passed a decree against him. Held that the decree could not be treated, in respect of the remedy by appeal, as an ex-parte decree, and therefore under the ruling in (4 All 387) not appealable, but that an appeal would lie from the decree Chunni Lal v Chhamman Lal. 7 All 159 =4 W N 313.

Notes:—2 C W N 676.

580—Order refusing application—Appeal

Held that an order rejecting an application to set aside an ex-parte decree is appealable under s. 588 (9) of the Code of Civil Procedure.

Hira Dai v Hira Lal. 7 All 538=5 W N 144.

Ramtahal Ram v Rameshar Ram. 8 All 140=6 W N 42.

Notes:—Ap: 20 Bom 380; 23 Bom 414. Fol. 8 All 140. Con. 23 Cal 991. Ref. 18 All 241; 34 Cal 403 F B: 5 A L J 247 F B; 11 C W N 329 F B.

(I) ORDER AGAINST RESPONDENT NOT APPEARING.

581,—Second appeal from ex-parte decree.

Held, by the Full Bench (Straight Officiating C J., and Tyrrell J., expressing no opinion) that a respondent in whose absence the appeal has been heard ex-parte and against whom judgment has been given, may prefer a second appeal from the decree, under the provisions of s 584 of the Code of Civil Procedure, and his remedy is not limited to an application under s 590 to the Court which passed the decree to re-hear the appeal. 2 All 567 approved.

Per Oldfield, J.—There is a distinction between the case of defendant in a Court of first instance and that of a respondent in an appellate Court not appearing, with reference to ss 108 and 560 of the Code. 4 All 387; 6 Bom H C Rep 161 referred to.

Per Mahmood, J.—The distinction is one of detail merely and not of principle. 4 All 387 dissented from. 2 All 67: 7 All 606; 8 Cal 272; 2 Bom 644; 3 Mad 204 and 2 Mad 75 referred to.

Also per Mahmood, J.—Where two procedures or two remedies are provided by statute, one of them must not be taken as operating in derogation of the other. Fateh Lal v Baimakund 8 All 354=6 W N 110.

Notes—Fol 9 All 427: Ref 11 Bom 6 F B; 21 Mad 157.

Appeal-Contd.

11 Exparte Cases—Contd.

582.—Ex-parte order against respondent.

Where on appeal to the Commissioner's Court the decision was passed in favour of the appellant in the absence of the respondent. held, that the respondent could either have applied for a rehearing of the appeal under Section 37 of Act XXIII of 1861, or at once preferred an appeal to the Chief Court without getting rid of the ex-parte judgment. Sodha Singh v Kesur P R 8 of 1871

583.—(10) service of. to respondent—Practice —Appeal—Notice to respondent.

The notice to the respondent was served by being affixed on the door of a house at Satara at a time when he was living at Gwalior,and the District Judge made no enquiry, and no declaration was made that the notice was duly served:

Held, that the respondent was entitled to have the appeal reheard ab initio as it was improperly heard ex-parte, no notice having been served on the respondent in the manner required by law. Narayan v Raghavendracharya 2 Bom L R 281.

(J) Order Admitting appeal.

584.-Exparte-Order-Appeal admitted.-An ex-parte order admitting an appeal can be reconsidered when the appeal is heard Moshaullah v Ahmedullah 13 Calc 78.

Notes.—Fol 9 All 11, 655. Ref 19 M L J 209.

(K) Application to set aside exparte decree dismissed

585.—S 104 cl 2—Order passed in appeal—Appeal against such order—Bar—Application to set aside ex-parte decree dismissed—Appeal.

Where an appeal was preferred against an appellate order passed by a District Judge, who set aside the order of the District Munsif, on the ground that an amendment in the Limitation Act cannot take away the right to obtain reliefs which had become already vested prior to the amendment. Held. that the appeal was barred under S 104 (2). C P C., 1908. Venkatachellaya v Subramania Aiyar 21 M L J 442= 9 Ind Cas 55.

(k-1) Questioning propriety of prelininary decree in an appeal against the final decree.

585 A—O. 9 r. 13; s. 96—(1882 ss. 108, 540 - Preliminary decree, appeal against.

Expart decree, setting aside of- Final decree, appeal against, if can attack preliminary decree-Civ. Pro Code (Act XIV of 1882) secs, 108, 540.

Appeal-Contd.

11 Exparte Cases—Contd.

The provisions of section 540 of the Civil Procedure Code make it clear that an ex-parte decree is appelable.

In an appeal against the final decree in a suit for account, property of the preliminary decree may also be questioned. (21 Cal 550, 25 Mad 543 Ref.)

Inspite of the fact that an application under s. 108 of the Civil Procedure Code has been unsuccessful. an exparte decree may be challenged, if there are good grounds, in a proper proceeding for instance. in a regular suit on the ground of fraud, the test being whether the refusal of the application under s. 108 has alredy determined the question raised in the subsequent proceeding, (28 Cal 475; 29 Cal 395 Ref.)

The dismisal of an application under section 108, or ommission to prefer an appeal against such order of dismissal,does not bar another remedy on suitable grounds, and when the law provides an appeal against a decision,the effect of the omission to appeal is that the decision holds good for what it is worth. So far, therefore as concerns any other mode of relief available, the person who does not appeal, is in no worse position than if he had appealed and failed.

Golap Singh v. Indra Kumar. 9 C L J 367=13 C W N 493=5 M L T 360 =1 Ind Cas 86

(L) Jurisdiction of first Court to entertain application for setting aside exparte decree after decree of appellate Court.

586.—Ex parte decree—Applications to set aside by some defendants-Contested decree against other defendants—Plaintiff's appeal against contesting defendants—Self-contained appellate decree—Jurisdiction of first Court to entertain application for setting aside ex-parte decree after decree of Appellate Court.

It cannot be laid down broadly that, as soon as an appeal has been preferred against a decree, the authority of the original Court to deal with that decree is completly taken away.

After the decree of an original Court has merged in the decree of an Appellate Court, the only Court which is competent to entertian an application for amendment of the decree is the Court of Appeal.

A mortgage-suit was resisted by the sixth and seventh defendants alone and the suit proceeded

Appeal-Contd.

11 Exparte Cases—Concld

exparte against the other five defendants. The decree directed the sale of two thirds of the mortgaged property and declared that, it the mortgage debt was not satisfied thereby, all the seven defendants would be personally liable.The plaintiff appealed against tl at portion of decree which declared that a one-third share of the mortgaged property was not liable—that is, the appeal was directed against the sixth and seventh defendants alone, who filed a memorandum of cross objections to the effect that they should not have been made personally liable. The appeal and the cross-objection both succeeded, as the Appellate Court held that the whole property was liable but that the sixth and seventh defendants were not personally liable. The decree of the Appellate Court was made self-contained and the provisions of the decree of the original Court, so far as they related to the first five defendants, were re-produced and incorporated in the decree.

The first five defendants then applied to the first Court to have the ex-parte decree set aside.

Held that the Court had jurisdiction to entertain the application: that the questions in controversy between the plaintiff and the first five defendants were not raised in the appeal; that the decree of the first Court was not affirmed, modified or reversed in so far as the first five defendants were concerned, and that the effect of the appellate decree was not to merge the ex-parte decree therein. 30 Mad 535; 17 M L J 436, Not Fol 9 Ind Cas 189; 13 C L J 221; 15 C W N 399; 38 Cal 394 Ref 11 All 267; 6 C L J 542 Ref. 4 C W N 456; 5 Ind Cas 525; 12 C L J 53; 22 W R 537, Dist. Brija Lal Singh v Mahadeo Prasad 12 Ind Cas 669.

12, Execution of decree.

Appeal-execution of decree See also cases under—sale in execution of decree.

Appeal-execution of decree—See C P C S 68,70,71. 5 N L R 121.

Appeal-execution of decree—See C P C S. 68,70,71 7 Bom L R 682

(A) Order refusing application to execute joint decree.

587.—Order refusing application to execute joint decree—Civil Procedure Code, 1859 s 207.

No appeal lay from an order of a lower Court refusing an application by one decree-holder under s 207 Art VIII of 1859, to execute the whole of a joint decree to the execution of his co-decree-holder. Gooroo Dass Roy v Ram Runginee Dossia 17 W R 136. Odhoya Pershad v Mohadeo Dutt Bhandaree 17 W R 415.

Appeal-Contd.

12 Execution of decree—Contd.

Notes:—Fol: 17 Mad 394 Dist:

588—C P C O.21 rr.66,70 (1882 s. 287)—Sale Proclamation, statement in, of value Appeal Application for execution of decree of appellate court, whether an application in continuance of application to execute the decree of lower court.—

Time to take objections. A judgement-debtor has the right to have as nearly as may reasonably be, a just and true valuation placed upon his property before it is sold: he has also the right to have the property to be sold described in the sale proclamation with reasonable accuracy, 25 I. A 146, 15 I A. 171 relied upon. An appeal lies against an order refusing an application made by a judgmant-debtor objecting that the valuation of the properties contained in the sale proclamation was incorrect and in many instances grossly inadequate and that the properties were misdescribed in such a manner as to render their identification by intending purchasers extremely difficult ; 9 Cal 214 declared absolute. 9 All 500 distinguished. 18 Cal 469 dist. 23 Mad 568 approved ; 4 Cal 739 ref to. Where the sale proclamation was published on 11th November and the judgment-debtors made an application on the following day for transfer of the execution proceedings to another district. Pending the hearing of an appeal the decree holder took out execution of a mortgage decree. The judgment debtor made an objection to the validity of the sale proclamation on the ground that the statement therein as to the value of the property was incorrect ; and the Court overruled the objection. The appellate Court altered the decree and extended the period of redemption ; the decree-holder then made an application to execute the decree of the appellate Court. Held, that the application to execute the decree of the appellate Court was not a continuation of the former application and the lower Court was in error in declining to enter into the question as to the value of the property as stated in the sale proclamation. Rajah Rameshur Prashad Narain Singh v Rai Sham Krissen. 8 C W N 257

(b) Order on application for execution by one or more joint decree-holders.

589—Order on application by one or more joint Decree-holders for execution Civil Pro Code (1882) ss. 231-234.

Appeal-Contd.

12 Execution of decree—Contd.

An order under s. 231 of Civil Pro Code is appealable as it relates to the execution of a decree within s 244, 17 W R 136 & 17 W R 415 distinguished. Lakshmi Ammah v Ponnassa Menon. 17 Mad 394

Notes:—Dist: 23 Bom 623. Foll 28 P R 1898

(c) Order refusing to allow execution by one of several joint decree-holders.

590 Civil Procedure Code S. 231-Order under s. 231—Appeal does not lie against such order.

No appeal lies against an order passed under Section 231 of the Code of Civil Procedure refusing to allow one of several joint decree holders to execute joint decree. Ratanlal v Bai Gulab 1 Bom L R 87=23 Bom 623

(d) Adjustment of decrees more than three years old.

591-Adjustment of decrees more than three years old Civil Procedure Code. 1882, ss. 257, 258—Reference to High Court under s. 617 of a question arising under these sections.

On the 22nd March 1886 the applicant presented an application to a Subordinate Judge, praying that the adjustment of certain decrees, dated the 20th March 1867 and 11th July 1871, might be certified, and a sanction granted to a sankhat, dated 18th March 1880, passed to him by the defendant in satisfaction of the said decrees and in substitution of two bonds dated February 1879. The Subordinate Judge, being of opinion that the application could not be granted inasmuch as the execution of the decrees was then barred by limitation, referred the case to the High Court under s. 617 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), Held, that the question not be could referred under s. 617 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), as the order applied for to the Subordinate Judge was appealable under s. 2 of the Code. The question raised by the application related to the satisfaction of the decree within the meaning of s. 244 of the Code. Rangji v Bhaiji Harjivan. 11 Bom 57.

Notes:—Ap: 16 All 129; 5 M L J 140; 18 Mad 26 Fol: 7 C W N 172.

592—Appeal.

No appeal lies from an order of the Court executing a decree granting or refusing an application for extension of time for payment by the judgment-debtor of the amount due under the decree. Sheonarain v Hait Ram. 10 W N 183

Appeal-Contd.

12 Execution of decree—Contd.

(e) Order in matter specially provided for.

593—Order in matter specially provided for —Act XXIII of 1861, s. 11—Civil Procedure Code 1859, ss. 243. 364.

S. 11 of Act XXIII of 1861 did not allow an appeal in matters already specially provided for in the different sections of the Procedure Code (e. g., ss. 243 and 364). Greejanund Oopadhya v Ruttee Raman Oopadhya. 8 W R 136.

Notes:—Diss: 10 W R F B 5.

(f) Order confirming report of Commissioner of Accounts.

594—Order confirming report of Commissioner of Accounts—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 11.

S. 11 of Act XXIII of 1861, must be read as an amendment to the Civil Procedure Code (Act VIII of 1859). That section in terms confined to questions arising in the execution of decrees, which expression, as used in the said Code means the enforcement of the decree on the application of one or other of the parties to it. Held, that an order of a Judge confirming the report of the Commissioner for taking accounts, by which he refused to require the defendants to give inspection of certain books, was not an order within the contemplation of that section, and was, therefore, not appealable Rustomji Burjorji v Kessowji Naik. 8 Bom 287.

Notes:—Ref: 13 Cal 267 F B.

(g) Dispute among heirs of deceased decree-holder.

595—Dispute among heirs of deceased decree -holder—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 11

According to s. 11, Act XXIII of 1861, no appeal lay in a case of private dispute among the heirs of a deceased decree-holder as to their respective rights. Rajchunder Roy Chowdhry v Grishchunder Roy. 5 W R Mis 45

(h) Order under S. 246 C P C (1859)

596—Order under s. 246, Civil Procedure Code, 1859.

S. 11, Act XXIII of 1861, did not alter or modify the effect of s. 246, Act VIII of 1859, so as to give an appeal from orders passed under the latter section. Dheeraj Mahatab Chand v Pearee Dossee. 6 W R Mis 61

Notes:—Ap 15 W R 163; 12 W R 333. Ref: 20 W R 280.

Appeal-Contd.

12 Execution of decree—Contd.

(i) Order rejecting appeal in execution case.

597—Order rejecting appeal in execution case-Act XXIII of 1861, s. 11

Under s. 11 of Act XXIII of 1861, an appeal lay from the order of a lower Appellate Court rejecting an appeal in an execution case as presented out of time Gopeenath Roy v Gopeenath Chatterji. 6 W R Mis, 106

598.—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 11.—

The Munsif, on the application of a judgment debtor, set aside a sale held in execution of a decree passed against him on the ground that the decree was barred by lapse of time. The judgment creditor appealed to the Judge, who rejected the appeal on the ground that no appeal was allowed from such an order. Held, in special appeal, that, under s 11 of Act XXIII of 1861, an appeal lay from the order of the Munsif.
Dhan Bibee v Haradhan Ram
2 B L R Ap 11=11 W R 4.

(j) Order passed on application for discharge from arrest in execution of decree

599—Order passed on application for discharge from arrest in execution of decree—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 11—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, ss. 273, 283, 365.

Held that the procedure, on an application for his discharge under s. 273 of Act VIII of 1859, by a person arrested in execution of a decree for money was such a question as came within the words introduced by s. 2 of Act XXIII of 1861, in addition to the original provision in Act VIII of 1859, s. 283; and the order passed thereon by the Court executing the decree was subject to appeal, notwithstanding that orders as to imprisonment in execution of a decree were excepted from the operation of s. 365 of Act VIII of 1859, as this exception, there being no affirmative prohibition, was removed by the provision of ss 8 and 11 of Act XXIII of 1861, which Act, as directed by s 44 thereof, was to be read as part of Act VIII of 1859. Yesvantrav Amritrao Jamin v Ismail Ali Khan.
2 Bom 99, 2nd. Ed., 94.

600.—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), Sections 244, 588—Order refusing to release judgment-debtor arrested in execution of decree—Appealable order.

Held, that an order refusing to release a judgment-debtor arrested in execution of a decree is not appealable, as it is not among those orders enumerated as appealable in Section 588 of the Civil Procedure Code, nor is it an order falling under Section 244 of the same Code; and if it be regarded as an order for imprisonment, it is expressly excepted from the orders appealable under Clause 29 of Section 588. Hissam-ud din v Muhammad Umr. P R 55 of 1886.

601.—Civil Procedure Code, 1882, Chapter XIX (i) and Sections 2, 244 (c) and 588 (29)—Order by execution Court for imprisonment of judgment-debtor—Appeal—Revision.

Held, that an order passed by the Court executing a decree under Chapter XIX (i) of the Civil Procedure Code for the imprisonment of the judgment-debtor, though not appealable as an order under Section 588 (29), is appealable as a decree inasmuch as the question decided by such order is one relating to the execution of the decree within the meaning of Section 244 (c) of the Code. Seva Singh v Dhaunkal-
69 P R of 1895.

(k) Order refusing refund of Purchase-money

602.—Order refusing refund of purchase-money—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 11.

A sale in the execution of a decree having been cancelled, the auction-purchaser applied for the refund of the purchase-money, which the Court executing the decree ordered, subject to the deduction of the sale fees. The auction-purchaser then applied for the return of the sum deducted. The Court passed an order refusing the application, which order the auction-purchaser questioned in appeal. Held that an appeal did not lie.
Hurdei Beebee v Surjoo Pershad.
6 N W 309.

603.—Appeal.

A sale in execution of a decree having been set aside on the ground that the judgment-debtor had no interest in the property sold, the purchaser applied for a refund of the purchase money under s 315 of Act X of 1877. This application was refused by the Court executing the decree (Munsif.) The purchaser appealed to the District Judge with the same effect. In appeal to the High Court, held that the order of the Munsif, not falling under s. 244 of the Code of Civil Procedure, was not appealable as a decree, nor was it appealable under s. 588 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Debi Das v Sujan Singh. 4 W N 178.

Appeal-Contd.

12 Execution of decree—Contd.

(L) Order on application to correct error in proceeding

604.—Order on application to correct error in proceeding—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 11.

Where an application was made to correct an error in a proceeding in which interest was calculated, the order passed on the application was open to appeal under s. 11, Act XXIII of 1861. Amanut Ali v Bindhoo. 13 W R 138.

(m) Order as to sum due on mortgage account

605.—Order as to sum due on mortgage accounts—Usufructuary mortgage—Suit by mortgagor for possession.

In a suit by a mortgagor against a mortgagee to recover lands in the possession of the latter under a usufructuary mortgage, the only question in issue is whether the plaintiff is entitled to enter; and no appeal lies from the finding of the Judge that a specific sum is still due, it being open to the parties to dispute that decision by a separate suit. Motee Soonderee v Indrajit Kowaree. Marsh 112. S. C. Brijolall Upadhya v Motee Soonderee. W R F B 33.

606.—O. 34, R. 4 (T P A S. 88)—Civil Procedure Code, Ss. 230 and 244. Cl. (c)—Decree for sale—Direction by Appellate Court to take accounts—Application by decree-holder to Original Court—Order declaring amount due—Appeal.

A decree for sale passed under S 88 of the Transfer of Property Act is the final decree in the suit; and all proceedings subsequent to that decree for the purpose of enforcing and working out such decree are proceedings in execution of that decree. A decree for sale under S. 88 may either declare the amount due on the mortgage at the date of such decree or direct that an account be taken of what will be due to the plaintiff for principal and interest on the mortgage on a future day which is to be fixed by the decree itself. Where a decree for sale under S. 88 directs accounts to be taken, an application which the decree-holder may make for taking the account and declaring the amount which may be found due on the taking of such account is an application to enforce the decree within the meaning of S. 233, C. P. C. Such an application may be made to the Court which passed the original decree, and an order passed thereon is applicable, being one falling under S. 244, Cl. (c) of the Civil Procedure Code. Aryan Bank of Vizagapatam v Venkata Narayamma (1902) 13 M L J 212=26 Mad 237.

Appeal-Contd.

12 Execution of decree—Contd.

(n) Order allowing mortgagor to deposit in Court amount due after date fixed.

607.—The appellant obtained a foreclosure decree which was prepared in accordance with s. 86 of the Transfer of Property Act. The date on which the money was to be deposited by the mortgagor (judgment-debtor) was a close holiday. He therefore applied to be allowed to deposit the money on the next day. That application was granted and this is an appeal from that order. Held, that it was purely a ministerial order not falling within the purview of S 244 or s.588 and as such cannot be made the subject-matter of appeal. Hulas Rai v Pirthi Singh. 9 All 500 =7 W N 109.

Notes.—Ref: 14 All 350; 520; 25 Mad 244 F B; 300 F B. Ex: 8 C W N 257.

(o) Order rejecting appeal in execution case

608.—Order rejecting appeal in execution case—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 11—Question whether decree is barred by limitation.

The question whether the execution of a decree is barred by limitation is a question arising between the parties to the suit; and an appeal lay under s. 11 of Act XXIII of 1861 from a decision on such question, whether it be raised by the Court proprio motu or by the parties. Hari Vishnu v Gopal Bin Ragji. 6 B H C 181.

(P) Order in Case transferred for execution.

609—Order in case transferred for execution—Act XXIII of 1861, S. 11—Beng. Act III of 1870.—Where a decree by a Deputy Collector had been transferred to the Civil Court, and application for execution was made while Bengal Act III of 1870 was in force. — Held, that the execution proceedings were subject to the provisions of the Civil Procedure Code, and an order passed therein was appealable under Act XXIII of 1861, s. 11. Chedee Singh v. Peareeoonnissa, 20 W R 19.

Appeal-Contd.

12 Execution of decree—Contd.

610—An order passed by a Court to which a decree has been transferred for execution is not open to appeal, unless the order has been made in the course of the actual execution of the transferred decree. Quære—Whether, where a decree has been transferred to the Munsif's Court for execution, an appeal will lie to the Judge from the Munsif's order in the matter of the execution? Sumat Das, 13 B L R Ap 27.

Soomut Dass v. Bhoobun Lall, 21 W R 292.

See this case at a former stage in which the question was raised. Soomut Dass v. Bhoobun Lall, 20 W R 478.

611—A decree transmitted to a Court for execution is to be regarded as a decree of that Court for the purpose of execution, and an appeal therefore lies against the order of a District Judge passed in execution of a decree transmitted to his Court from a Small Cause Court. Mobaruck Ali v. Soomee Runga Charee, 3 N W 168.

612 C P C, O. 21 r. 7 (1882—S. 225)—Decree Execution—Court to which a decree is sent for execution—Court executing a decree—Jurisdiction of the first Court—Appeal.

When a decree is sent to a Court for execution that Court can, under S. 225 of the Civil Procedure Code, go into the question of the jurisdiction of the Court passing the decree, if it sees reason to do so. If that Court comes to the conclusion that the first Court had no jurisdiction to pass a decree and declines to become the executing Court, the order so passed does not fall within the purview either of S 244 or S. 588 of the Civil Procedure Code, and cannot be appealed against. Bhagvantappa v. Vishwantath, 6 Bom L R 342=28 Bom 378.

Notes:—Dist: 30 Bom 101=7 Bom L R 659.

(P [1]) Order rejecting application for transfer of a decree for execution.

613—S. 47, Ss. 38, 39, 41, O. 21 rr. 4, 5 (1882

Appeal-Contd.

12 Execution of decree—Contd.

—Ss. 244, 223)—Appeal Rent decree Application, for transfer of decree rejecting application:—

An application for the transfer of a decree for execution under S. 223 of the Code of Civil Procedure is an application which involves a question relating to the execution of decree: and as such comes within S. 244 of the Code. An appeal therefore lies against an order rejecting such an application. 16 Cal 744 Dist; 24 Cal 244 Fol.

Bhabani Charan Dutt v. Pratap Chandra Ghosh, 8 C W N 575.

(Q) Order as to issue of certificate.

614—Order as to issue of certificate — Act XXIII of 1861, S. 11 — Civil Procedure Code, 1859, S. 285.—

All orders passed by a Court between parties to the decree and relating to the execution of decree are, unless they are specially barred, appealable. There is no special prohibition against an appeal from an order directing or refusing the issue of a certificate under S. 285, Act VIII of 1859. Gopal Lall v. Mahomed Hadee. 6 N W 73.

(R) Order rejecting application as to mode of sale of property.

615—Order rejecting application as to mode of sale of property—Civil Procedure Code, 1877, Ss. 244, 588—Question relative to the execution of a decree.—A judgment debtor having applied, under S. 284 of Act X of 1877, that certain property attached in execution of a decree against him should be sold in successive 8-pie shares, on the ground that the amount due under the decree was only Rs. 9,000, and that on a former occasion a similar share of the same property had been sold for Rs. 5,000, the Judge refused the application. Held, that the question between the parties was one relating to the execution of a decree; and accordingly that, although no appeal was given by the Act against an order under S. 284, there was an appeal under S. 588. Chandhari Sital Pershad Singh v. Jhumah Singh, 4 C L R 27.

(S) Order as to mesne profits subsequent to decree, and as to costs of execution.

616—Order as to mesne profits subsequent to decree, and as to costs of execution—Civil Procedure Code, 1877, S. 244.—

Appeal-Contd.

12 Execution of decree—Contd.

There is no appeal against an order made under S. 244 of the Code of Civil Procedure (X of 1877), determining the questions between the parties to a suit as to the amount of mesne profits recovered by the plaintiff subsequently to the decree and as to the amount payable on account of the costs of the execution of that decree.

Dalpathbhai Bhagubhai v. Amarsang Khemabhai, 2 Bom 553=P J (1878) 48.

Notes:—Ap: 5 Cal 50.

(T) Order disallowing objection to attachment.

617—Different characters.

Held, that where a decree is passed against a person in one capacity (partner in a firm) and he objects to an attachment under the decree in another (the house attached is his personal property) which is disallowed, no appeal lies from such order, as the order would fall under S. 281 and not under S. 244 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Abdul Rahman v. Muhamadyar, 4 All 190=2 W N 1.

Nath Mal Das v. Tajmmul Husain. 7 All 36=4 W N 218.

Notes:—Over: 12 All 313 F B. Not Fol: 16 Cal 1. Dist: 9 All 605. Con: 15 Cal 437; 9 Bom 458. Ref: 8 All 626.

618—S. 588, (16)—Order disallowing objection to confirmation of sale—(Act X of 1877).

Held, that an appeal lies from an order disallowing the judgment-debtor's objection to the confirmation of the auction sale. Hira Singh v. Umrao Singh, 2 W N 45.

619—C P C, S. 47—(1882 S. O 244)—No appeal Execution of decree — Objection by judgment-debtor that more had been delivered to the auction-purchaser than was included in his sale certificate—Objection disallowed—Appeal.—

Certain landed property was put up for sale in execution of a decree. On the property stood a house. After the sale the auction-purchaser obtained possession of the house The judgment-debtor objected that the house should not have been delivered, inasmuch as no mention was made of it in the sale certificate. This objection was disallowed.—Held, that the order disallowing the judgment-debtor's objection did not fall within

Appeal-Contd.

12 Execution of decree—Contd.

S. 244 of the Code of Civil Procedure and was not otherwise appealable. 20 Mad 487; 13 Cal 326 ref. to. Ram Adhar v. Narain Das, 1902 A W N 157=24 All 519.

620—Applicability of section to appeal under s. 244, Civil Procedure Code—Substantial loss.]

This was an application for staying an order for execution of a decree. It appeared that a dispute between H S and K S was referred to arbitration. The arbitrator by an award dated the 27th August, 1887, assigned certain villages to K S. This award was subsequently filed in Court under the provisions of s. 525, Code of Civil Procedure, on the application of K S, and a decree made in accordance with this award. No appeal was preferred from this decree. K S applied from possession of the villages in execution of this decree, and H S took objections relating to the validity of the decree. The Court executing the decree disallowed the objections and made an order for delivery of possession. H S thereupon appealed from the order disallowing the objections and then applied for stay of the order for execution. Held that the order disallowing the objections taken by H S was appealable as a decree, as it fell within the purview of s. 244, Code of Civil Procedure, and in an appeal from such order the provisions of s. 545, Code of Civil Procedure, would be applicable. The application for stay was therefore entertainable by this Court. But as no danger of injury such as is contemplated by s. 545, has been shown the application must be rejected. Hariraj Singh v Kirat Singh. 8 W N 245.

(u) Order of Security in Execution.

621—Civil Procedure Code Act, X of 1877. Section 244 (c); 546, 588—Appeal—Execution security for restitution of property.

A decree-holder having tendered certain security for the restitution of property about to be taken in execution of a decree, the Court made an order refusing to accept it and staying execution.

Held, that the question decided by the order was a question arising between the parties relating to execution of a decree within the meaning of section 244 (c) of the Civil Procedure Code and that an appeal therefore lay Luchamiput Singh v Sita Nath Doss. 8 Cal 477=10 C L R 517.

Appeal-Contd.

12 Execution of decree – Contd.

Notes:—Fol: 10 Cal 470; 12 Cal 624; 13 Cal 111; 7 All 73.

(v) Order for Attachment & Sale of Property.

622—Order to attach and sell the property—Civil Procedure Code (Act X of 1877) ss. 244 and 588, cls. (J) and (r).

An order to attach and sell the property in execution of a decree is an order "of the same nature with" an order made in the course of a suit for attachment of the debtor's property. The latter order can be appealed against under s. 588, cl (r), of the Code of Civil Procedure. It follows that an order for attachment and sale in execution of a decree is [according to the requirement of s. 588 cl. (j)] "of the same nature with appealable orders made in the course of a suit" and so under that section it is appealable. Polokdhari Rai v Radha Persad Singh. 8 Cal 28=8 I A 165. Reversing the decision of the High Court in Polokdhari Roy v Radha Persad Singh 5 Cal 59=4 C L R 342

(v 2) Claim by Legal Representative to Property as his own independently of deceased Judgment-debtor.

623—Where a judgment-debtor dies after the passing of the decree, and his legal representatives are brought on the record in execution proceedings to represent him in respect of the decree, questions which they raise as to property which they say does not belong to his assets in their hands, and as such capable of being taken in execution, are questions which under s.244 (c) of the Code of Civil Procedure, must be determined in the execution department, and not by separate suit. There is no distinction in this respect between the positions of legal representatives added to the suit before, and those added after, the decree. Under the last paragraph of s. 234 the Court executing the decree may try and determine the question whether property in the legal represent atives' hands formed part of the deceased judgment-debtor's estate, and find this fact for the purpose of bringing the property to sale in execution, and giving the auction purchaser a good title under the sale; and the Court's order is subject to appeal under s. 244, but not to a separate suit under s. 283. Where the legal representative asserts that the property is his own, and has not come to him from the deceased judgment debtor, he cannot set up a jus tertii, so as to come in under s. 278 and the following sections of Code. He can only do so where he opposes execution against any particular property on the ground that, although it is vested in him, it is vested in him not beneficially by reason of his being the representative of the judgment-debtor, but as a trustee or executor of some one else. In that case either party may have the question of jus tertii determined in a separate suit. So held by the Full Bench Tyrrell J., dissenting. Held by Tyrrell J., contra that where the legal representative of a deceased party to the decree appears, not in his capacity of legal representative contesting a question arising between the parties and relating to the execution, discharge or satisfaction of the decree, but in his personal character independent of the suit and decree, and prefers a claim under s.278 on the ground that the decree has no operation against certain property attached, for reasons personal to the objector and antagonistic to all the parties and their representatives as such, the objector is not debarred from bringing a separate suit by the mere accident that he is a legal representative in the execution proceedings. Observations by Straight J., as to the necessity of conducting the proceedings in execution of decrees with the same care, and as far as practicable, in accordance with the same procedure as that adopted in regular suits. 16 Cal p 1 approved. 4 All 190 and 6 All 109. overruled. 8 All 626 distinguished.

Seth Chand Mal v Durga Dei 12 All 313 10 W N 137.
Ishri Dut v Mahabir Prasad. 10 W N 183.

Notes:—Diss. 23 Bom 237. Fol: 23 Mad 195 F B; 13 All 290; 23 All 195 F B; 28 All 51=(1905)W N 180; 3 A L J 370=(1906) W N 157; 19 All 543; 21 All 323. Ref: 17 Mad 399; 20 Bom 385: 16 All 449; 19 All 480; 21 All 277; 23 All 263; 28 Bom 125; 28 All 644=3 A L J 565=(1906) W N 158; 11 C W N 593 F B; 34 Cal 642 F B; 5 C L J 491 F B.

(v-3) Questions between execution creditor and persons placed on the record as representative or deceased Judgment debtor.

624—Question as to who is representative. Certain decree-holders obtained during the life time of their judgment-debtor attachment of certain immoveable property as belonging to the said judgment-debtor; but on the decree-holder's seeking to bring the property to sale one S D came forward with an objection that the property was his and was not liable to sale in execution of the decree in question. Pending the decision of the Court on this objection the decree-holders applied to the Court to have the names of S D and the widow of the judgment-debtor (who died about the time the previous objectiou was filed) placed on the record as reprcsentatives of the judgment-debtor. S D filed a similar objection to this application also; but both objections being heard together on the 6th September, 1892, were dismissed and he was placed on the record as representative oi the deceased judgment-debtor. On appeal by S D against " the order of the District Judge of Jaunpur of the 6th September, 1892" it was held that the order making S D a party to the execution proceedings as representative of the judgment-debtor rendered any order as to his former objectiou superfluous and that order was appealable under s. 244 of the Code of Civil Procedure, Shanker Dat Dube v J. G, Harman and Co. 17 All 244=15 W N 66

Appeal-Contd.

12 Execution oj decree—Contd.

Notes—Ref 19 All 332.

(V (4)) Assignment of Decree.

625—Transferee of decree holder.

A person who within the meaning of s. 232 of the Code of Civil Procedure is a transferee of a decree, is a representative within the meaning of S. 244, qua the decree, of the party to the suit under whom he immediately, or by, mere assignment in writing, or by operation of law, has derived title to the decree in the suit. It is the assignment in writing from the decree-holder, and not the recognition by a Court of him as a representative, which makes such transferee a representative of a party to the suit. A Court upon the application of such a transferee for execution of a decree may wrongly decide that he is not a transferee within the meaning of s. 232 or that, although he is a transferee within the meaning of that section, he is not representative of a party to the suit, or that by reason of limitation he is not entitled to obtain execution of the decree, and if the Court has so decided, it has determined a question or questions mentioned or referred to in s. 244 of Act No XIV of 1882, but not specified in s.588 and an appeal lies under s.540 of that

Appeal-Contd.

12 Execution of decree—Contd.

Act. Badri Narain v Jai Kishen Das 16 All 483=14 W N 184,

See also Gulzari Lal v Daya Ram. 9 All 46=6 W N 287

Notes—Fol 27 Cal 670; 25 Mad 545. Ref 26 Cal 250; 20 Mad 378; 21 Mad 388; 7 M L J 89=25 All 443=26 All 447: 11 C W N 433=1 A L J 61=6 C L J 437.

(V (5)) Question whether transferee of decree is the representative of decree holder.

526—Whether a transferee of a decree is the respresentative of the decree-holder—the Code of Civil procedure (1882) ss. 232, 244—

An order of a court, which executes a decree, determining whether an alleged transfree from a decree-holder or from his legal representative is or is not the respresentative of the decree-holder within the meaning of s. 244, cl (c) of the Code of Civil Procedure is an order from which an appeal lies as it is an order under that section and therfore a decree. 26 Cal 250 and 16 All 483 followed. Ganga Das Seal v Yakub ali Bobashi 27 Calc 670

(V(6)) Order refusing to allow representative to take out execution until granted certificate.

627—S. 2 C. P. C.—Stay of execution.

On appeal from an order allowing an application by the legal representative of a deceased decree holder for execution, the appellate Court holding that the applicant must obtain a certificate under Act XXVII of 1860 before he could take out execution of the decree, made an order staying execution until the certificate was obtained. The order is under s. 244 of the Code of Civil Procedure and appealable. Hoti Lal v Hardeo. 5 All 212=A W N (1882) 191

Noes—Ref 13 Cal 47; 23 Cal 87 F B.

(V) (7) Order staying execution of decree

628—All orders for stay of execution whether passed by the Court which passed the decree or by the Court to which it is transmitted for execution are appealable. Ghazidin v Fakir Begam 7 All 73.

Kassa Mal v Gopal 10 All 339.

Notes—Appr: 11 Bom 57; Fol 12 Cal 624; 13

Appeal-Contd.

12 Execution of decree—Contd.

Cal 1 II; 18 Mad 26; 20 Mad 366; 12 Bom 30; 10 All 389.

629—Order Absolute-T. P. Act s. 89—Application by Judgment-debtor to raise decretal amount by sale or mortgage-Civil Procedure Code s 305—Sufficient cause—Appeal—Civil Procedure Code s. 244. cl (c)—Transfer of Property Act, sale of mortgaged property when decree passed under Civil Procedure Code, chapter XIX parts A B and C.

Held, that an order under s. 305, Civil Procedure Code, postponing or refusing to postpone the sale is one determining a question relating to the execution, discharge, or satisfaction, or to the stay of the execution of the decree, and is therefore appealable under cl. (c) s. 244. Held, that the provisions of s. 305, Civil Procedure Code, are not inconsistent with those of s. 89, Transfer of Property Act and are applicable where the decree is one for the sale of mortgaged property passed under the Transfer of Property Act. Before the Court can grant a certificate under s. 305 Civil Procedure Code, the judgment debtor must satisfy the court that there is sufficient cause for believing that the amount of the decree can be raised by mortgage or lease, or by private sale of the property. Held, further, that the rules contained in parts (A), (B) and (C), chapter XIX of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1882, in force at the time the Transfer of Property Act came into force, are generally applicable to sales of mortgaged property where the decrees are passed under the Transfer of Property Act.

Chandika Bakhsh v. Birjbihari Lal. 3 O C 42.

630.—Order—Stay of execution of a decree Civil Procedure Code Sections 2, 243, 244—Decree.—

An order under Section 243 of the Code of Civil Procedure (1882), which stays the execution of a decree, determines a question relating to the execution of a decree within the meaning of Section 244, and therefore comes wihin the meaning of the word "decree" in Section 2 of the Code and as such it is an appealable order.

Steel v Ichcha Moyi Chowdhrain, 13 Cal, 111.

Notes:—Ref: 8 C W N 257, Fol: 20 Mad 366; 10 All 389.

Appeal-Contd.

12 Execution of decree—Contd.

631.—A question as to the amount of security to be given by the defendant as the condition of the stay of execution against him, being a question relating to execution within the contemplation of Section 244, cannot be referred under section 617 of the Civil Procedure Code, the decision being appealable.

Ishwargar v Chudasama Manabhai Madarsang. P J (1887) 212= 12 Bom 30.

632.—Civil Procedure Code. 1882 Section 244. Question as to what had been actually sold.—Question between Auction purchaser and Judgment—debtor.

In accordance with a decree of a Subordinate Court land was sold in execution and a sale-certificate was granted. A question for determining the real subject of sale having arisen the auction purchaser applied to the Court with the result that the sale certificate was amended. An appeal was filed by the Judgment-debtor bringing decree-holder and auction purchaser as respondants in the District Court. It was dismissed on the ground that no appeal could lie. Held, that the question does not come under Section 244 of Civil Procedure Code and so the decision of the lower Court was upheld. Mammod v Locke. 20 Mad 487.

(V(8)) Order Staying Sale in execution of decree

633.—Civil Procedure Code, Act X of 1877, Sections 243 and 244 (C)—Appeal—Decree, Question relating to execution of.

An order under section 243 of the Civil Procedure Code staying execution of a mortgage decree obtained against the representatives in title of the mortgagor, on the ground that, owing to disputes among such representatives as to their respective shares in the property left by the mortgagors, an administration suit had been instituted and was pending. comes within clause (c) of Section 244, inasmuch as the question raised thereby is a question arising between the parties to the suit in which the decree was passed and relating to the execution of the decree, and is therefore appealable. Kristo Mohiney Dossee Bama Churn Nag Chowdhry. 7 Calc 733=9 C L R 344.

Appeal-Contd.

12 Execution of decree—Contd.

Notes:— Fol 12 Cal 624 ; 13 Cal 111 ; 7 All 73.

634.—Ss 2; S. 47; O. R. 69 (1882 Ss 2. 244, 291)–Order for stay of sale of property in execution of mortgage—Decree—Appeal.

An order for stay of sale of mortgaged properties in execution of a mortgage decree is an order under Cl c of S 244 C P C though the order is in terms one under S 291. Shyam Kishen v Sunder Koer. 31 Cal 373.

635—Ss. 2 and 244—Under valuation-Application for stay of sale—Rejection of application—Appeal—Order relating to execution—Formal adjudication—Immaterial error.

An order relating to execution of a decree is appealable though it may not be a formal adjudication of a right claimed or defence set up 9 Cal, 214 dissented from

Gross under-valuation of properties in a proclamation of sale is a material irregularity , if objection is taken to it, the proclamation should be amended before the properties can be brought to sale. 20 All, 412, P C followed.

Sivasami Naicker v Ramaswami Naicker. 23 Mad 568=10 M L J 314.

Notes —Ref : 27 Mad 259 F B; 14 M L J 57, 8 C W N 257 ; 264. Dist: 31 Cal 922.

636.—Civil Procedure Code (1882), Ss 244, 318, 588– Order refusing possession to purchaser at sale in execution of a decree.

An order passed under Section 318 of the Civil Procedure Code (1882) rejecting an application by the purchaser at a sale in execution for possession is not appealable ; because no appeal is allowed by Sec. 588 and the order not being one relating to the execution discharge or satisfaction of the decree it cannot be said to be one under section 244 of the Civil Procedure Code (1882). 18 Alla , 36 approved of. 13 Mad 540, dissented from. Bhimal Das v Ganesha Koer. I C W N 658

637.—Sections 2, (12) , O 20 r. 12 ; O 21, r. 26 (3) O, 41. r 3—(1882 Ss 2 211, 240, 543)—Mesne profits, period during which recoverable—Order determining mesne profits, interlocutory or final, if appealable—Decree.

Appeal-Contd.

12 Execution of decree—Contd.

A decision in execution proceedings determining the period for which mesne profits are recoverable is appealable both under general principles and under sections 2 and 540 of the Civil Procedure Code.

Where a decree for possession with mesne profits was taken to the Privy Council in appeal and was affirmed by Her Majesty in Council.

Held,—That, three years upto which mesne profits may be given under section 211, Civil P C must be counted from the date of the Queen's order and not from that of the original decree.

Where the original Court granted a decree for possession with " future mesne profits " and on appeal, Her Majesty in Council affirmed that decree without expressly mentioning the mesne profits.

Held,—That the Queen's order granted mesne profits by reference to the original decree.

Raja Bhup Indar Bahadur Singh v Bijoy Bahadur Singh, 5 C W N 52=10 M L J 290 =23 All 152 P C.

(V 9) Order directing accounts in administration suit

638—Order directing account—Administration– Suit—Civil Procedure Code 1877 S. 244.

An order which directs account to be taken is not in the nature of a final decree, nor one in execution of decree and so not liable to be appealed against. The order is mere directory of certain proceedings, with a view of drawing up a final decree.

Shreenath Roy v. Radhanath Mookerjee 9 Cal. 773.

Notes:— Ref: 24 Cal 725 F B.

639.—S. 293 Civil Procedure Code (1882)—Question for Court executing decree——Defaulting purchaser—To answer for loss by resale—Description of property—Difference at sale and re sale– Suit.

An appeal will lie against an order made under S. 293 of the Code of Civil Procedure. 3 W R 3, 7 W R 110; 16 W R 14 and 1 All 181 fol.

Brijnath Sahai v. Moheep Narain Singh 16 Cal 535.

Kali Kishore Deb Sarkar v Guru Prasad Sukul 25 Cal 99=2 C W N 408.

Rajendranath Roy v Ram Charan Sinha 2 C W N 411.

Appeal-Contd.

12 Execution of decree—Contd.

Notes—diss. 12 All 397; 14 All 201 F B Fol; 25 Cal 99. Dist: 23 Mad 73. Ref 2 C W N 411; 18 Mad 439.

(v-9 (a) Appeal from a ministerial order

640.—Ministerial order.

M obtained a mortgage decree for the sale of an eight-annas share belonging to SK and one another. Before the sale in execution of the decree, SK applied to the Subordinate Judge that M sought to put up for sale an eight-annas share which was exempted from sale, she having paid the amount due from her before the decree was passed The Court passed the following order:—It is ordered that the objection be disallowed and that a copy of this rubkar be sent to the sale officer in order that it may be notified at the time of the sale that the eight-annas exempted share is not being sold. SK appealed to the High Court. Held that the order was a purely ministerial one which did not fall within the scope of s 244 and consequently no appeal lay.
Sitla Koer v. Markande. 7 W N 134.

(v-9 (b) Order accepting payment in foreign circle currency notes.

641—Decree for pre-emption—Civil Procedure Code, Sections 214 and 244—

A successful plaintiff in a pre-emption suit paid part of the purchase money in foreign circle currency notes. The Court in the first instance accepted the notes in payment without any objection, and afterwards allowed the plaintiff two more days to supply currency notes of the Lahore Circle, or other legal tender, which order was complied with.

Held, that the order of the lower Court was correct. Currency notes are money in the ordinary acceptation of the term, although they may be notes of a different Circle from that in which they are tendered. The words "purchase money" are not defined, and there is nothing either in Section 17, Punjab Laws Act, or in Section 214, Civil Procedure Code, 1882, to put a restricted or technical meaning upon them. P R 70 of 1890, distinguished.

Held, also, that an appeal lay from the order in question under Section 244 (c), Civil Procedure Code, the order relating to the execution of the decree. Iftikhar Ali v SahibRam 67 P R 1892.

(v 9 (c) Order rejecting application requesting to send case to Magistrate.

642 & 643—Order rejecting application under s. 643 of the Code of Civil Procedure—

The appellant who held a decree against the respondent, S P, preferred an application to the Court executing the decree, in which he accused the respondent and his servant of fraudulently removing certain property in order to prevent it from being taken in the execution of the decree an offence punishable under s. 206 of the Indian Penal Code; and he prayed the Court to send the case, under s. 643 of Act X of 1877, to the Magistrate. The Court rejected the application.

Held, the order did not fall under s. 244 of Act X of 1877, and was not appealable.
Krishna Ram v Sarju Prasad 1 W N 14.

(v-9 (d) Order execution of a decree passed under Specific Relief Act S 9.

644—Appeal from order passed under—An order passed under S. 9 of the Specific Relief Act is not appealable. Thomas Souza v Gulam Mohidin Beari. 13 M L J 214=26 Mad 438.

(v-9 (e) Questions in Execution.

644A C. P. C. O 21 r.58 (1882 S.278)—Attachment—Investigation of claim—Order—Appeal. No appeal lies from an order passed, under s. 278 of the Civil Procedure upon the application by a person not a party to the suit, or by a party to a suit applying in a different character to raise the attachment. Dayaram v Govardhandas. 6 Bom L R 462= 28 Bom 458.

Notes:—Dist. 36 Cal 130. Ref. 11 Bom L R 754.

(V(10)) Person other than party to suit.

645—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 11—No one but a party to a suit can appeal under s. 11 of Act XXIII of 1861, against an order passed in such suit. Caemmerer v Birch. Ex-parte Brooks 1 M H C 8
Kalub Hossein v Deen Ali. 4 N W 2

Appeal-Contd.

12 Execution of decree—Contd.

646—Appeal—C P Code Secs. 332 and 244—

A appealed to the High Court making B alone a party and obtained a decree against B & C for possession which he executed C then applied to the Sub-Judge for possession on the ground that she was not a party to the decree of the High Court and her application was granted. The District Judge found that no appeal lay as C's application was under Sec. 332, of C P Code, C not being judgment-debtor.

Held, that C was a judgment-debtor under the original decree of the Sub-Judge; that as C was a party to the suit Sec. 332 did not apply and that the Sub-Judge's order was under Sec. 244 from which an appeal lay. Vigneshvarbhatta v G. P. J. 1 1891 P 45.

(V(11)) Liability of defaulting purchaser.

647—Liability of a purchaser for default. Civil Procedure 1882 Ss. 244—293—306 Appeal from order under s. 293—

A decree—holder having oblained leave to bid at a sale in execution of decree made a bid through his agent of Rs. 90,000 but afterwards withdrew it and did not give deposit. The property was re-sold for a smaller sum on the following day under s. 306 of Civil Procedure Code. A petition was filed by judgment debtor to recover the difference it was rejected. Held on appeal—As the matter stands between parties to the suit the order rejecting petition is appealable. Vallabhan v. Pangunni 12 Mad 454.

648.— Civ. Pro. Code (1882) ss. 21, 244, 293 and 306—Default by purchaser to pay deposit—Order dismissing an application in execution against Purchaser.

A purchaser at an execution sale did not make the deposit of 25 per cent in accordance with sec. 306 of Civil Pro. Code alleging that he found after the sale that the property was burdened with an incumbrance. The property was auctioned a second time and sold for a smaller sum. The decree-holder in execution sought to recover the difference from the first purchaser. The original Court dismissed the application. Held that the order in question is appealable. Orders with reference to defaults by purchaser in such cases are like decrees and parties affected by them come within sec. 244 of the Code.

Amir Baksha Sahib v. Venkatachala Mudali 18 Mad 439=5 M L J 206.

Appeal-Contd.

12 Execution of decree—Contd.

Notes:—Fol: 25 Cal 99. Dist: 23 Mad 73. Ref: 11 Bom L R 699.

(v-11)—Purchaser. Objection by.

649—Purchaser, objection by-Act XXIII of 1861, s. 11—Civil Procedure Code. 1859, ss. 246, 247, 364.

Where the holder (G) of a simple money-decree who is at the same time a mortgagee, applies to a Civil Court to sell mortgagor's property in execution of said decree, such property having previously been sold in execution of K's decree and purchased by N (G's claim upon it being at the same time notified), and in his (G's) application inserts the name of N, and calls him a judgment-debtor in the room of the heir and representative of the deceased debtor; and a purchaser comes in and denies that he is a judgment-debtor or liable, and asks for the release of the property, and the Judge disallowed his objection:-Held that, if the Judge's order was made after investigation, then, under s. 246 of Act VIII of 1859, an appeal was barred ; if it was an order refusing to investigate the objection, then the appeal was barred either by s. 247 or by s.364, unless allowed by s. 11. Act XXIII of 1861. Held, also, that the objector was not a party to the suit, and that he was not entitled to appeal under s. 11. s. 223, Code of Civil Procedure, can have no bearing on such a case. Narain Acharajee v Gregory 8 W R 304.

Notes—Dist: 24 Cal 42 F B.

(v 12)—Purchaser substitution of for original party in record.

650—"Party to suit."

A Party who had sued, on the party of himself and of his minor brother, to recover possession of ancestral property alleged to have been alienated, sold his rights and interests in the suit to a third party, whose name was accordingly substituted in the place of plaintiff. Held that the substitution of such party for the plaintiff, in respect of part of the latter's share in the subject-matter of the suit did not make that party a party to the suit, and gave him no status which would enable him to appeal. Saheb Roy v Choonee Singh 9 W R 487.

Notes—Ref: 2 C L R 297; 12 W R 87.

(v-13)—Inventor.

651—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 11.— Party to suit

Appeal-Contd.

12 Execution of decree—Contd.

The first Court gave a decree to the plaintiff for possession of land against A, the original defendant in the suit, but exempted in the possession of B, an intervenor, whom the Court had made a co-defendant. The Appellate Court reversed so much of that decree as adjudicated upon the claim as between the plaintiff and B and confirmed its decree for possession against A. but awarded costs against B. Held that B continued to be a defendant in the suit and had a right of appeal under s. 11, Act XXIII of 1861, and that he was not as "a person other than the defendant" bound to come in under s. 230, Act VIII of 1859. Huree Kishore Roy v Kalee Kishore Sein 8 W R 114.

(v-14) Claimant under title created subsequently to suit.

652—Act XXIII of 1861. s. 11—Party to suit.

A female plaintiff obtained a decree against certain defendants, declaring certain ekrarnamhs, etc, void as against her husband and his representatives. After his death she proceeded to execute the decree as one for possession, and obtained an order, under s. 223, Act VIII of 1859, for delivery of possession of property in the possession of a third party as being a person claiming under a title created by the defendants subsequently to the institution of the suit. The third party appealed from that order. Held that this was not a case in which an appeal lay under s. 11, Act XXIII of 1861. inasmuch as the questions raised by the appeal were not questions between the the parties to the suit. Ameeroonissa Khatoon v Abedoonissa Khatoon 16 W R 307.

(w) Representative of deceased debtor.

653—Act XXIII of 1861, S. 11 — Execution of decree—Limitation.—

A decree was obtained in 1849, and execution issued in 1862. Several subsequent applications for execution were made, against one of which the objection was raised by some of the representatives of the judgment-debtor, that the decree was barred by lapse of time; but it was overruled by the High Court in special appeal. A further application was made, and was opposed by one of the representatives who had since attained his majority upon the ground that the suit was barred. The Munsif disallowed the objection.

Appeal-Contd.

12 Execution of decree—Contd.

On appeal the Judge reversed his decision. Held, in special appeal, that the terms of S. 11, Act XXIII of 1861, did not prohibit an appeal by a representative of a deceased judgment-debtor against an order passed in execution of a decree against his ancestor. Bishtu Narayan Bandopadhya v. Ganga Narayan Biswas, 3 B L R A C 40=11 W R 368.

654—The decree-holders in execution of a simple money decree against the legal representative of the judgment-debtor, and which provided that it was, to be enforced against the judgment-debtors property, attached and sought to sell a house as coming within the scope of the decree. The judgment-debtors objected to the attachment and proposed sale on the ground that the house was their own private property and not the property of the debtor, having been validly transferred to them during the debtor's life-time. Held that S. 244 applied, and an appeal lay from the order of the first Court. Mulmantri v. Ashfak Ahmad, 9 All 605.

Notes:—Ap: 12 All 313 F B. Ap: 12 All 73. Dist: 11 All 74; 12 All 313 F B. Ref: 15 Cal 437; 17 Mad 399.

655—Person alleged but not brought on the record. A certain judgment-debtor having died, application was made by the decree-holders to execute the decree against his widow, not as his legal representative, " but as his wife and heir ". Notice was issued on this application to the widow to show cause why execution should not be had against her, but nothing further appears to have been done at that time to bring the widow on to the record as the legal representative of the deceased judgment-debtor. Subsequently another application was made by the decree-holders alleging that the widow had misappropriated certain moveable property of the deceased judgment-debtor and notice having been served on her she appeared and inter alia disputed the Court's jurisdiction over her under S. 244 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Orders were passed on this last mentioned application but it does not appear that any issue was then raised as to the widow being either the legal representative of her deceased husband in the sense of S. 234 of the Code of Civil Procedure or his representative in the sense of S. 244. Held, in appeal from the order of the Court on the widow's objection to the second of the above mentioned applications, that on the facts as stated above the widow had never been brought on the record as the representative of the deceased judgment-debtor and therefore no appeal could lie from that order by virtue of S. 244, Code of Civil Procedure. Vilayati Begam v. Intizar Begam, 13 W N 106.

Appeal-Contd.

12 Execution of decree—Contd.

656—Civil Procedure Code 1882, S. 244—Representative of judgment-debtor—Agreement for satisfaction of judgment-debtor.—

The High Court in 1883 passed a money-decree against a zamindar and it was sent to the District Court for execution. Certain villages of the judgment-debtor were attached and on the point of being sold. These villages were mortgaged by the judgment-debtor to third persons subsequently. The decree-holder was paid by the zamindar certain sums for postponing the sale, both before and after the mortgage. It was also agreed after the mortgage between the parties that interest was to be calculated at a higher rate than what was mentioned in the decree. Subsequently when the decree-holder brought the lands to sale he did not give any credit for the sums he received while computing the amount then due and calculated interest at an enhanced rate. The mortgagee contended that the computation was faulty in both respects and the District Judge upheld the contention. The judgment-debtor remained silent throughout the contest. Held, that the mortgagee comes under Sec. 244 and the order of the District Judge is appealable.

Paramananda Das v. Mahabeer Dossji, 20 Mad 378.

(w-2) Assignee of decree.

657—Act XXIII of 1861, S. 11 — Act VIII of 1859, S. 208—Assignment of decree.—

Under S. 11, Act XXIII of 1861, no appeal lay from an order passed under S. 208, Act VIII of 1859, substituting the assignee of a decree in the place of the original decree-holder.

Megh Narayan Singh v. Radha Prasad Singh, 4 B L R A C 200=13 W R 224.

See contra, Framji Rustomji v Ratansha Pestanji, 9 B H C 49.

Notes:—See 13 W R 224.

657*A*—Assignee of Decree—Civil Procedure Code 1882, Ss. 2, 244 cls. (a), (b) and (c)—Execution.—B's ancestors mortgaged to A their share in a certain mehal. After B became entitled to this share, A obtained his mortgage-decree and applied for execution, in which, the right, title and interest of B was sold and purchased by C. After the sale, B obtained a decree against D for possession of certain lands which were proved to belong to this mehal. E then obtained a decree against B, in execution of which the right, title and interest of B in this very mehal was sold and purchased by F. C and F transferred their rights under their respective purchases to E. E, thereupon, as purchaser of the right, title, and interest of B from F, applied to execute the decree obtained by B against D. The application was rejected by the Subordinate Judge, but the District Judge allowed it on appeal. B, upon this made an application to the High Court, to set aside this order.—Held, that the order ought to be set aside, because no appeal lay from the order of the Subordinate Judge, as the order is not a decree within the meaning of Ss. 2 and 244 (cls. a, b and c) of the Code. Mohabir Singh v. Ram Baghowan Chowbey, 11 Cal 150.

Notes:—Ap. 12 Mad 511.

657*B*—S. 144 (1) (1882 S. 583)—Execution by assignee of decree—Assignee not party to appeal—Restitution in execution.—

Under S. 583 of the Code of Civil Procedure the decree of the appellate Court has to be executed and by the very scope of the section it can only apply to the parties to the appeal, it cannot be executed against a person who was no party to the decree of the Appellate Court and who has not derived any interest subsequent to such decree. (19 All 136; 20 All 139 Ref: and Fol:) B L Frizoni v. Raja Ram Narain Singh, 5 C W N 426.

658.—On an application for substitution of the name of the assignee in place of that of the original decree-holder, the following order was made:

"That the objections taken by the judgment-debtor be disallowed with costs and the name of the purchaser of the decree be substituted in place of the original decree-holder, and that the case be struck off the miscellaneous file and a report be called for from the execution department." Held that the above order was an order coming within the provisions of s. 244 of the Code of Civil Procedure, and not merely an order preliminary to something to be done in the execution department; and, being such, was appealable. Pesche v. Aulad Fatima 11 W N 87.

Appeal-Contd.

12 Execution of decree—Contd.

(w-3) Surety.

659.—Order between judgment-creditor and surety—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 11—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, s. 204.

By virtue of s. 11 of Act XXIII of 1861 and the provisions of s. 204 of the Code of Civil Procedure, an appeal lay from an order passed in a matter between a judgment—creditor and sureties on behalf of a judgment-debtor for the performance of the decree. Bhikaji Vithal Ambikar. 4 B H C 119.

Ghazee Lall Jha v. Sheo Narain Singh. 8 W R 24.

Notes:—15 W R 538 Appr. 28 Mad 117=14 M L J 430.

659A.—Civ. Pro. Code. 1882, ss 253, 336—Release of judgment-debtor on finding surety undertaking that he should apply to be declared an insolvent—Dismissal of application for want of prosecution—Execution of decree against surety—Appeal—Revision—Court Fees Act, sch. II, Art. 11.

H. M. Surety under s. 336 of the Code of Civil Procedure for a judgment-debtor, agreed to produce him in Court when required, and to arrange that the debtor, within one month, filed an application to be declared an insolvent. The judgment-debtor duly filed an application to that effect. But his application was dismissed for default of prosecution after one appearance. The District Judge refused to execute the decree against the surety on the ground that the obligation of the surety was discharged. The decree-holder appealed to the Chief Court on a two-rupee stamp. Held, that an order refusing an application under ss. 253, 336 of the Code of Civil Procedure for recovery of the decree amount from a surety was not appealable, the decree-holder's remedy being by an application for revision, and that such order, not being a decree or an order having the force of a decree, within the meaning of Art. 11 of the second schedule to the Court Fees Act, an advalorem fee need not be paid. Lillo Mal v. Harji Mal, 72 P R 1902.

Appeal-Contd.

12 Execution of decree—Contd.

660.—Execution of decree—Act VIII of 1859 ss. 204 and 363—Act XXIII of 1861, ss. 11 and 36.

Where a person becomes a surety in the course of the proceedings on an appeal to pay all such sums as may be decreed against the plaintiff on appeal, the decree, when passed, can be executed against the surety under s. 204 of the Civil Procedure Code, and an appeal will lie from an order made in execution of such decree against the surety. Akhut Ramana v. Ahmed Yousafeji 7 B L R 81=15 W R 538.

Notes:—See 15 W R 538.

(w 4) Purchaser of interest in suit.

661.—Assignment of interest in subject-

The purchaser of the right, title, and interest of the defendant in a suit in and to the land the subject-matter of that suit, has no right as such to appeal from a decree passed against the defendant. Gajadhar Prasad v. Ganesh Tewari 7 B L R 149=15 W R 485.

Beet Bhunjun Singh v. Jowhur Doss. 4 W R, Mis, 17.

Kristomonee Thakoor v Bissumbhur Doss. 5 W R 215.

(w-5) Purchaser at sale in execution.

662.—Interlocutory order obtained by purchaser at execution sale.

No appeal lies from an interlocutory order obtained by a purchaser at a sale in execution of a decree, who was not a party to the original suit. Bhoondur Mul v. Gunga Pershad. 2 W R Mis., 50.

Notes:—Fol: 8 M L J 273. Ref: 22 Mad 197.

663-664.—Order refusing to put purchaser at sale in execution in possession.

The order of a Munsif declining to put the purchaser at a judicial sale of immoveable property, in possession thereof, was open to appeal under s. 11, Act XXIII of 1861. Goruppa Bin Rachappa. 1 B H C 90.

665.—Ss. 244 and 318——Decree-holder auction purchaser—Agreement between auction-

Appeal-Contd.

12 Execution of decree—Contd.

purchaser and judgment-debtor not to take possession of property—Question arising in execution of decree.

Where a decree holder himself purchases the judgment-debtor's property in execution. and after such purchase enters into an agreement with the judgment debtor not to take possession of the property for consideration received.

Held: that in an application by such auction-purchaser under S. 318 of the Civil Procedure Code, to be put in possession, the validity or otherwise of the agreement can be enquired into and decided as a matter arising in execution under S. 244, Civil Procedure Code.

Muttia v. Appasami. 13 Mad 504.

Notes.—Disappr: 1 C W N 658. Fol: 8 M L J 193; 28 Mad 87=14 M L J 475; 26 Mad 740; 13 M L J 237; 14 M L J 474. Dis: 15 Mad 226; (1904) W N 46; 26 All 365; 19 Mad 29; Ref: 16 Mad 20; 17 All 222 F B; 31 All 82 F B; 6 A L J 71 F B; 33 Mad 136.

666—Purchaser in execution of decree—Order refusing to recognize purchaser.

No appeal lies from an order of a Judge refusing to recognize the position of a purchaser of a decree. Lalla Ojhee Lall v. Looft Ali Khan 2 W R Mis., 33.

Chundee Pershad Misser v. Nilanund Singh. 2 W R Mis., 38.

667.—Purchaser at sale in execution—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 11—Representation of decree holder and the auction-purchaser.

An appeal did not lie under s. 11, Act XXIII of 1861, from an order in execution, in which the representative of a decree-holder was on one side and a stranger (the auction-purchaser) on the other. Luchmun Pershad v. Ameer Ali. W R 1864, Mis, 15.

668.—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 11.

An auction purchaser of property sold in execution of decree is not "a party to the suit," he is not therefore entitled to appeal from an order passed as to the execution of decree. Luchmee Narain v. Bairow Pershad. 1 Agra, Mis., 5.

(w-6) Objector not party to suit.

669.—An appeal does not lie by an objector who is not one of the parties, i. e who is neither the decree-holder nor the judgment-debtor.

Luchmiput Singh v Lekraj Roy. 2 W R Mis, 56

Raghoonath Narain Singh v. Ram Churn Sahoo. 2 W R Mis, 48.

Gossain Jhunmi Pooree v. Anund Moyee Dossee 3 W R Mis, 9

Soodha Monee Dossee v. Brojonath Mozoomdar 4 W R Mis, 14

(w-7) Third party.

670—Order excluding property from sale—

No appeal lies from an order passed at the instance of a third party for excluding a particular property from sale in execution of decree. Saheb Jehan v Asudoollah. 5 W R Mis 28

670 A—Order passed in execution of decree between party to suit and a third party—

No appeal lies from an order passed in execution of a decree between either of the parties to the suit and a third party, but a regular suit may be brought to set aside the order. Gobindnath Sandyal v Ramcoomar Ghose. 6 W R 21.

Notes—Ref. 11 W R 488.

(w 8) Rival decree-holder.

671—Act XXIII of 1861. s. 11—Act VIII of 1859, ss. 270, 271—Proceeds of sale in execution.

An appeal did not lie, under s. 11 of Act XXIII of 1861, from an order made under ss. 270 and 271 of Act VIII of 1859 with regard to the claims of the several rival decree holders in respect of the proceeds of property sold in execution of a decree. Misri Kooer v Maheswar Buksh Singh. Murder Kooer v Maheswar Buksh Singh; Gurdi Misree v Maheswar Buksh Singh. Sriongo Kooer v Maheswar Buksh Singh B L R Sup Vol 13 Marsh 527 W R F B 116.

Choonee Lall v Pultoo Bhukut 6 W R Mis 74.

Ally Hossein v Dhunput Singh W R 1864 Mis 19.

Jungee Lall Mahajan v Brijo Beharee Singh 2 W R Mis 21.

Afzooloonissa Begum v Parbutty Koonwar 2 W R Mis 41.

Appeal-Contd.

12 Execution of decree—Contd.

Mahomed Khan Kuzulbash v Thakoor Singh 3 W R Mis 1.

Jugobundhoo Shah Poramanick v Official Assignee 21 W R 194.

672—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 11—Attachment under s. 237, Act VIII of 1859—

One of several decree-holders, who had obtained separate decrees against the same judgment-debtor, attached, under s. 237 of Act VIII of 1859 a fund in the hands of the Collector belonging to the debtor, being the surplus proceeds of a sale for arrears of Government revenue, and the fund was subsequently attached by the other decree-holders. The fund was not sufficient to satisfy all the decrees in full. The principal Sudder Ameen, by order of Judge, heard the various execution cases together, but recorded separate orders in each case for the rateable distribution of the fund amongst the creditors. On appeal by the first attaching creditor, who claimed to be entitled to be paid the amount of his decree in full, to which appeal the rival decree-holders, as well as the judgment-debtor, were made parties—Held, (per Peacock, C J and Seton-Karr. Jackson, and Hobhouse, JJ) that the several orders of the Principal Sudder Ameen were substantially only one order made upon one hearing in one case, to which all the execution-creditors in the several suits were parties; that the rival decree-holders were properly made respondents in the appeal, and could not be struck out; and that the question to be determined being one between the rival decree-holders, and not between the parties in each suit, the case was not appealable under s. 11, Act XXIII of 1861. Held, per Macpherson, J that though no appeal would lie as regards the rival decree-holders, the appeal was maintainable as regards the judgment-debtor alone. Deen Dyal Sahoo v Radha Muddun Mohun Doss. Hattee Lall Bhuggut v Radha Muddun Mohun Doss. Kanya Lall Pundit v Radha Muddun Mohun Doss. B L R Sup Vol 927 9 W R 223.

(W-9) Co-defendants.

673—Appeal by defendant against co-defendant—

One defendant cannot be allowed to appeal as against his co-defendants. Kashee Chunder Roy v Doorga 11 W R 410

Appeal-Contd.

12 Execution of decree—Contd.

Notes—3 B L R 65. Fol. 17 W R 151 Dist. 16 W R 140.

674—Rival defendants—

In a suit for possession, where a second defendant is admitted (though improperly) upon the record, and both defendants claiming under different titles, issues are raised between the plaintiff and each of them, and the suit is dismissed, the decision on these issues cannot be regarded as a decision between the rival defendants, so as to give one a right of appeal against the other. Kalee Kinkur Bachusputty v Kisto Mungle Bhuttacharjee 11 W R 462.

(w 10) Assignee of interest in suit.

675—Civil Procedure Code, Act X of 1877, Sections 244, (e), (c), 278, 283—"Representatives" Appeal——Intervenor Execution proceedings.

Having regarde to Sections 278 and 283 of the Civil Procedure, there is no appeal from an order made in execution proceedings upon a claim prefered by persons intervening in such proceedings. A person who has acquired an interest prior to the suit from one of the parties there to and who is no party to the suit, cannot be considered a "representative" within the meaning of section 244, Cl (c) of Civil Procedure Code. Rashbehary Mookhopadhya v Surnomoyee. 7 Cal 403= 9 C L R 79.

Notes—9 C L R 79. Ref. 24 Cal 62 F B; 13 Mad 1.

(w 11) Attachment.

676—Objected to by the judgment-debtor on behalf of others—order against decree-holder—Civil Procedure Code (1882) Ss. 244, 280, 283—Where property, which is the subject matter of attachment, is claimed by a judgment-debtor, either as his own property under whatever right, or as the representative of others in which capacity he has been sued, the question between him and the attaching creditor is properly one between parties to the suit under S. 244 of the Civil Procedure Code. But where the judgment-debtor raises the objection on behalf of third parties who are unrepresented before the Court, the order passed thereon must be regarded as an order under S. 280 of the Code, and the only mode in which that order can be contested is in a regular suit as provided by S. 283. A judgment-creditor attached certain property in executing a decree against a judgment-debtor in his private capacity. An objection was raised by the judgment-debtor to the effect that the property attached had been dedicated by him some time previous as wakf under a registered wakfnamah, and that it was as mutwali under the deed that he was in possession of it. The lower Court found that the document created a valid wakf and allowing the objection released the property from attachment. On the appeal of the judgment creditor it was contended that the order was one under s. 244, and was thus appealable. Held, that no appeal lay, as the order was under S. 280. As provided by S. 283 the proper remedy of the judgment-creditor was by way of a regular suit. Roop Lall Das v Bekani Meah; Mohinee Mohan Roy v Bekani Meah 15 Calc 537.

Appeal-Contd.

12 Execution of decree—Contd.

(w-12) Order on claim by trustee for release of trust-property attached under personal decree against trustee.

677 —Ss 244 and 278—Judgment-debtor—Claim as Trustee—Appeal.

When in the course of the execution of a decree, the judgment-debtor puts forward a claim to attached property in the capacity of trustee for third persons not parties to the suit, the claim is one to be dealt with under S 278, C P C and not under S 244. Therefore no appeal lies against the order passed on such a claim 17 Mad 399 overruled, and 4 I A 65, distinguished. Ramanathan Chettiar v Vava Levvai Marakayar 23 Mad 195 X 64.

(w-13) Co—Decree-Holders.

678—Co-decree holders— Question arising between them—Order—Civil Procedure Code (1882) s 244 Art (C) s. 588—

A decree-holder and an assignee of a share after decree applied several times jointly for execution. A subsequent application was made by the original decree-holder alone. The Court granted this application, directing that the proceeds arising from such execution should only be paid over to the co-decree-holders, jointly. Held that the question in dispute was one between co-decree holders, and not between parties to the suit or their representations as contemplated by art (C) s. 244 of the Civil Procedure Code, and so no appeal would lie from such order. Gyamonee v Radha Romon. 5 Calc 592.

(w-14) Collector.

679—Civil Procedure Code, 1877. s. 244—Refusing execution of order for costs—

A Subordinate Judge admitted a plaint in forma pauperis, but, holding that he had no jurisdiction to try the suit, returned the plaint to the plaintiff for its presentation in the proper Court, and ordered each party to pay his own costs. After the presentation of the plaint in another Court, and before the termination of the suit, the Collector applied to the Subordinate Judge for execution of the order as to costs, by seeking to recover the amount of the stamp duty from the plaintiff. The Subordinate Judge refused to execute the order, on the ground that the pauper suit was still pending in another Court. His order was affirmed by the District Judge on appeal to the High Court,—Held that there was no appeal; and, therefore, no second appeal, under s 244, cl (c) of the Civil Procedure Code (Act X of 1877, against the order of the Subordinate Judge refusing execution of the order as to costs, inasmuch as the question was not between the parties to the suit. Collector of Ratnagirl v. Janardan Kamat 6 Bom 590.

See Collector of Trichinopoly v Sivaramakhrishna Sastrigal 23 Mad 73

(x) Decree-holder in character of purchaser.

680—Decree-holder as purchaser - order in execution of decree-fraud-Concellation of sale in execution of Decree—Civil Procedure Code (1882 ss. 2, 244, cl, (c) 311, and 588 cl. 16:—

In a case where a Jndgment creditor was himself the purchaser at a sale in execution and the amount for which he so purchased the property of his judgment-debtor was set off against the amount due to him under his decree and where on the application of the Judgment-debtor, the Court passed an order setting aside the sale on the ground of fraud practised by the judgment creditor on the Judgement-debtor in connection with the sale, in consequence of which fraud the property had been sold at an undervalue—Held, that inasmuch as the order involved the decision of a question between the parties to the suit relating to the execution, discharge or satisfaction of the decree (the decree having been satisfied as far as the purchase money bid by the decree-holder went, and the order cancelling that pro tanto satisfaction) though not appealable under the provisions of s 588 cl 16 was appealable as a decree under the provisions of the Code s. 2 and s. 244 cl. (c).

Appeal-Contd.

12 Execution of decree—Contd.

Ballodeb Lall Bhagat v Anadi Mohapattro 10 Cal 410.

(x 1) Purchase by decree holder at auction sale.

681 —Decree-holder also auction purchaser.

A Decree-holder on a mortgage suit purchased the property in execution of his decree and obtained an order for possession. Held that the order was under s. 319 of the Code of Civil Procedure and not under s 244 of the Code of Civil Procedure; and hence no appeal lay. (17 All 22 Ref)

Ghulam Shabbir v Dwarka Prasad. 18 All 36=A W N (1895) 149.

Notes—Fol 1 C W N 658. Ref, 6 A L J 71 F B, 31 All 82 F B, 23 All 476 1 C W N 658; 1 S L R 172—5 M L T 185. Not Fol 7 C L J 136.

(x 2) Representative of Decree-holder

682—Civil Procedure Code ss 244 and 308—Order cancelling sale—

One who had attached a decree and obtained leave to bid at the sale of land ordered to be sold in execution, and to have the purchase-moey and the amount due under the decree set off against each other, became the purchaser for a sum less than the amount due under the decree. The Court made an order under Civil Procedure Code s. 308 cancelling the sale and ordering a re-sale on the ground that the purchaser had not paid the full amount due on his purchase within the time limited. Held that the petitioner was the representative of the decree-holder within the meaning of Civil Procedure Code, s. 244, and an appeal by him lay against the order. Sah Man Mull v Kanagasabapathi 16 Mad 20

Notes; Fol 29 Mad 318. Ref; 11 C W N 133 Dist 6 C L J 437.

Appeal-Contd.

12 Execution of decree—Contd.

(x 3) Execution proceedings at instance of attaching creditor.

683-684—C.P.C. Ss. 244 273, 311, 312 588—Attachment of decree,person attaching not party to the decree.

Although by attachment of a decree, belonging to his Judgment-debtor, a decree holder becomes entitled under S. 273 Civil Procedure Code, to execute the decree attached, he does not thereby become a party to or transferee of the attached decree within the meaning of S. 244 Civil Procedure Code.

K, in execution of a decree which he obtained against S attached a decree belonging to S under S. 273, Civil Procedure Code. The decree attached was then executed and some properties were brought to sale in such execution. S thereon applied to the Court to set aside the sale on various grounds but his application was refused.

Held that against that order, S was not entitled to appeal under S 244 Civil Procedure Code, but that he had a right of appeal under sections 311 and 588 of Civil Procedure Code.

Sami Pillai v Krishnasami Chetti. 21 Mad 417=8 M L J 77

(x 4) Question between auction purchaser and applicant to set aside sale under S. 310A of C. P. C. (1882).

685 —Question arising between the purchaser at an auction sale and applicant to set aside sale under s. 310 A of the Civil Procedure Code (1882)

There is no appeal from an order under S. 310 A of the Civil Procedure Code as it decides a question between the auction purchaser and the applicant under s 310 A and not between the parties to the suit or their re-presentatives.

Bungshidhar Haldar v Kedar Nath Mondal I C W N 114.

Notes:—Fol: 5 C W N 63; 6 C W N 57 Ref. 5 C W N 821 F B; 29 Cal 1 F B; 9 C W N 137, 13 C W N 591=5 C C 377, 686 -C.P C.S.47; O 21 r 89 (1882 Ss.244,310 A) Appeal—Order under S. 310-A—Applicability of.

An order under s 310-A is appealable under s. 244, C P C (1897) 1 C W N 703 foll.

Phulchand Ram v. Narsing Pershad Misser 28 Cal 73.

Appeal-Contd.

12 Execution of decree—Contd.

Notes:—Ref: 30 Mad 507=17 M L J 291=2 M L T 347; 25 Mad 244 F B; 29 All 275=4 A L J 135=(1907) W N 61, 7 C L J 282; 13 C W N 591; 5 O C 377.

(x 5) Order under C. P. C. (1882) s. 310A. setting aside sale.

687—Order setting aside a sale—Civil Procedure Code (1882), S. 310A—Deposit on one property of several sales in lots.

Where at a sale in execution of a decree the properties attached were sold separately in "nine" lots, and the judgment-debtor prayed to have the sale of one of the properties set aside under s. 310A of Civil Procedure Code (1882) by tendering the balance due under the decree after the deduction of the amounts bid by the decree-holder for some of the properties and the amounts deposited by the other purchasers, and an order was made thereupon setting aside the sale :—Held that an appeal lay under s. 244 of the Civil Procedure Code, against the order made under s. 310A, as the parties stood in the position of decree-holder and judgment debtor, and the order was made upon an application to set aside the sale. Kripa Nath Pal v Ram Lakshmi Dasya. 1 C W N 703.

Notes; Dist 5 C L J 204, Ref 13 C W N 591 Fol; 28 Cal 73.

688—C. P. C. S. 47 ; O 21 r 89 (1882 Ss. 244,310-A-Application to set aside the sale on the ground of the decree-holder's fraud—Appeal.

An applicatian by the judgment-debtor to set aside sale of his property, execution of a decree passed against him on the ground that the sale was brought about by the fraud of the residents (who included the decree-holder) of the village where the lands were situate, falls within the purview of s. 244, C. P. C. (1882). 30 Cal 142 concurred in.

An appeal lies from an order passed under s. 310-A, C. P. C. (1882), when it also falls within s. 244 of the Code (9 Bom L R 15=31 Bom 207 foll) Harihar Kant v Rama Pandu 11 Bom L R 1113.

(y) Appeal by some of the parties to a suit.

689—Practice—Parties—Appeal by some of the parties to a suit—Decree in appeal binding parties who were not parties to the appeal—Civ. Pro. Code. Sec. 244, cl (c)—Decree Execution.

The plaintiff filed a suit in ejectment against A, B C.. The Subordinate Judge decreed the claim. On appeal, the District Judge rejected it. The plaintiff then preferred a second appeal to the High Court, which finally decided in plaintiff's favour. To this second appeal A was not made a party. In execution of the High Court's decree, A was dispossessed, but was restored to possession by the Subordinate Judge under Sec. 332 of the Code of Civil Procedure. This order was reversed on appeal by the District Judge. A thereupon applied, to the High Court, under Sec. 622 of the Code of Civil Procedure to set aside the District Judge's order as ultra vires, on the ground that Sec. 244 of the Code was not applicable to the case. A not having been a party to the appeal in which the decree under execution was passed, and that, therefore, no appeal lay to the District Judge from the Subordinate Judge's order.

Held, that A being a party to the suit, though not to the appeal in which the final decree was passed, the District Judge had jurisdiction to hear the appeal under Sec. 244, cl. (c) of the Code of Civil Procedure. Gowri v Vigneshvar P. J. 1892, p 82=17 Bom 49.

Notes:—Ref: 23 Mad 301 F B, 30 Cal 134 : 6 C W N 10 ; 8 Bom L R 558 ; 15 C P L R 106. Fol 6 Bom L R 697. Rel : 31 Bom 33.

(z) Application by exonerated defendant.

690.—Application by exonerated defendant Civil Procedure Code (1882) S. 244—Right of appeal.

When a decree is not passed against a defendant but his rights are invalid in execution, he has a right to come in under sec. 244 of Civil Procedure Code, and he can bring an appeal against an order made in such proceedings. 7 Mad 255 referred to. 15 Mad 226 and 19 Mad 331 referred to. Vibhudapriya Thirthasami v Vidianidhi Thirthasami. 22 Mad 131.

Notes:—Diss: 23 All 346 ; 12 W R 66. Ref: 23 Mad 561 F B ; 15 C P L R 110. Doubt: 30 Mad 72 ; 2 M L T 34 ; 16 M L J 433.

Appeal-Contd.

12 Execution of decree—Concld.

(Z (1)) Order of imprisonment in execution of decree.

691—693—Execution—Imprisonment.

An appeal does not lie from an order of imprisonment in execution of a decree. Gooldad Khan v Karim Khan. P R 22 of 1871

13 GROUNDS OF APPEAL.

(a) Order granting leave.

694—Leave to institute suit.

An appeal lies from an order granting leave to the plaintiff to institute a suit under cl. 12 of the Letters Patent. Ismail Hajee Hubub v Mahomed Hajee Yoosuf. Rohim Bye v Mahomed Hajee Joosuf. 13 B L R 91=21 W R 303.

(b) Order refusing leave to sue.

695—Where at the time of filing the plaint an application for leave to sue was granted under cl. 12 of the Letters Patent, leave being reserved to the defendant to move to have the order set aside, and the plaint was then filed, but in the settlement of issues the defendant questioned the Jurisdiction of the High Court, and the Court eventually withdrew the permission to sue in the High Court,—Quære—Whether the order appealed against, finally deciding that leave ought not to be granted to institute a suit for want of jurisdiction cl. 12 of the Letters Patent, was an appealable order? Radha Bibee v Mucksoodun Doss. 21 W R 204.

(c) Order in insolvency proceedings under S. 15 of Letters Patent.

696—Letterss Patent. S. 12—Judgment—An order by a single Judge dismissing an application by the judgment-creditor of an insolvent that a sum in the hands of Official Assignee attached in execution of the decree obtained by the judgment-creditor against the insolvent be paid over to the judgment-creditor is a judgment within the meaning of section 15 of Letters Patent and is appealable. Punithuvela Mudaliar v Bhashyam Aiyangr. 12 M L J 282=25 Mad 46.

Notes:—Dist: 26 Mad 230; Ref: 9 C W N 14 Dist. 12 M L J 368.

Appeal-Contd.

13 Grounds of Appeal—Concld.

(d) Appeal from a Letters Patent Appeal whether allowed.

697—701—Appeal under S. 10 of the Letters Patent from a Letters Patent appeal—Whether allowed—Pre-emption—Wajib-ul-arz——Custom or contract—Partition of village—No new Wajib-ul-arz framed—Hissadar deh-Meaning of—Construction of document.

An appeal lies under S. 10 of the Letters Patent from the opinion of Judge who has differed from his colleague in an appeal under the same section.

The wajib-ul-arz of an undivided village gave a right of pre-emption, first, to a near co-sharer (hissadar karib) and then to a co-sharer in the village (hissadar deh). Subsequently the village was divided by perfect partition into mahals. No new wajib-ul-arz was prepared. In a suit for pre-emption by the co-shares in one of the mahals consequent upon a sale of property situated in another mahal to a stranger:—

Held, that the right might be enforced notwithstanding the partition. Meaning of the words 'deh' and 'mahal' discussed by Karamat Husain, J.

Jiwan Ram v. Tondi Ram 8 A L J 1072.

14 MADRAS ACTS.

(a) Madras Forest Act S 10.

702—Madras Forest Act S. 10—Judgment as to title to land. Appeal to High Court on the judgment of District Court on appeal. The District Court gave a decision under S. 10 of the Forest Act 1882. An appeal from the judgment of a Forest Settlement Officer the decision of the District Court is appealable to the High Court.

Kamaraju v Secretary of State for India. 11 Mad 309.

Notes—Ref: 12 Mad 405; 7 M L J, 13 Diss: 29 Bom 480=7 Bom L R 497; 28 Mad 257; 15 M L J 147.

(b) Madras Rent Recovery Act (Mad. Act VIII of 1865.)

703—Order of Collector.

By Madras Act VIII of 1865, an appeal from

Appeal-Contd.

14 Madras Acts—Contd.

the decree of the Collector lies to the Civil Court.

Olaga Sundaram Pillay v. Muttien Chetty. 4 M H C 227.

(c) Madras General Clauses Act.

703A.—S. 8—Appellate jurisdiction of High Court in cases instituted under enactments in force at time of institution of suit, but repealed before hearing of appeal—Civil Procedure Code, S. 540.

A sued on 5th August 1897 in the District Court for the office of kurnam. In October, 1897, a notification was published under S. 2 of Madras Proprietary Estates Village Service Act (II of 1884), the effect of which was that, from the date of the notification, S. 11 of Regulation XXV of 1802 and Regulation XXIX of 1802 ceased to apply to the office of kurnam. The District Judge dismissed the suit. A appealed to the High Court. It was contended that the High Court had no jurisdiction to hear it. Held, that it had, for where the lower court had jurisdiction to entertain the suit when it was instituted, and the parties had a right of appeal when the suit was instituted, the appellate jurisdiction of the High Court is saved by S. 8 of the Madras General Clauses Act, 1891, unless the right of appeal is expressly taken away. The right of appeal was conferred by S. 540 of the Civil Procedure Code. Sadashiva Pillay v Kalappa Mudaliar. 24 Mad 39.

Notes.—Ref: 32 Mad 140.

(e) Madras Estates Land. Act I of 1908.

703B.—S. 192 (a)—Suits under the Act—Remand by District Judge—Whether appeal lies—Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882), Ch. XLIII.

No appeal lies to the High Court from an order of remand by a District Judge in a suit instituted under the Madras Estates Land Act, 1908, as Chapter XLIII of the Civil Procedure Code of 1882 does not apply to such a suit.

Krishnasami Iyer v. Vaithilinga Tambiran 12 Ind Cas 146.

(f) Procedure to be followed in the hearing of appeal.

704.—Procedure.

The Civil Court, in hearing an appeal from the decision of a Collector under the Act, must be guided by the Civil Procedure Code.

Subramaney Pillay v Perumal Chetty. 4 M H C 251.

Notes.—Ref: 5 M H C R 129. Disap: 19 M L J 760.

705.—S. 10—Order to eject tenant.

An application was made under s. 10 of the Rent Act (Madras Act VII of 1865) to eject a tenant. An order passed on such an application is non-appealable to the District Court.

Mahomed Yakub Saheb v Mahomed Jaffer Ali Saheb. 4 Mad 167.

Notes.—Diss: 22 Mad 436. Ref: 7 Mad 572.

706.—Ss. 10, 69, 73—Collector's order ejecting a tenant.

The decision of a Collector ejecting a tenant under s. 10 of the Rent Recovery Act Madras (1865) is appealable. Such a decision even though there is the word 'order' in the section referred to is a judgment coming under sec 69. 4 Mad 167 not followed. Narasimhaswami v Lakshmamma. 22 Mad 436.

Notes.—Fol. 25 Mad 453. Appr: 30 Mad 43 F B; Ref: 17 M L J 129 F B; 30 Mad 473 F B.

(g) Adjudication that plaintiff has failed to prove default on behalf of defendant.

707.—Ss 69, 10—Adjudication that plaintiff has failed to prove default on behalf of defendant—"Judgment"—Appeal.

An order passed under S. 10 of the Rent Recovery Act which amounts to an adjudication that the plaintiff has failed to prove default on behalf of the defendant, is a judgment within the meaning of S. 69 of the Act, and an appeal lies therefrom, 22 Mad 436 foll. Venkata Papayya Rao v Venkata Subbayya. 25 Mad 453.

Notes.—Ref. 30 Mad 473 F B.

(h) Excusing delay in presenting an appeal.

708.—S. 69—Court cannot excuse delay in presenting appeal.

Under S. 69 of the Madras Rent Recovery Act a Court has no power to excuse delay in presenting an appeal from a judgment of the first Court in a suit by a tenant to set aside a distraint by a landholder under the Act. Bhujanga Rao v Venkanna. 24 Mad 558.

Appeal-Contd.

14 Madras Acts—Concld.

15. MANAGEMENT OF ATTACHED PROPERTY.

(a) Order postponing sale to enable debtor to raise amount.

709.—Civil Procedure Code (Act VIII of 1859), s. 243—Civil Procedure Code, 1882, ss. 305, 503—Order postponing sale—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 11.

An appeal lay from an order passed under s. 243 of Act VIII of 1859, postponing the sale of the property attached in order to enable the judgment-debtor to raise the amount of the decree against him (Jackson, J., dissenting).

Hanuman Prasad v Ajodhya Prasad. 1 B L R F B 7=10 W R F B 5.

Notes—Dist: 13 W R 242. Con: 12 W R 66: 3 B L R Appx 107, 108.

(b) Order refusing application to appoint a manager.

710.—An appeal lay from an order refusing the request of a judgment-debtor for the appointment of a manager under s. 243, Act VIII of 1859. Bisram Singh v Inderjeet Koonwar. 2 W R Mis 49.

Notes.—Ap: 8 W R 132.

711.—Quaere.

Is a refusal to make an order on an application for the appointment of a manager an order from which an appeal lies under s. 11, Act XXIII of 1861? Nuzmooddeen Ahmed v Abdool Azeez. 13 W R 242.

(c) Order of manager.

712.—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, s. 243.

There was no appeal against the order of a manager appointed under s. 243, Act VIII of 1859 Bhoobun Moyee Debea v Mooty. 1 W R Mis 11

Notes.—Dist: 10 W R F B 5.

16. MEASUREMENT OF LANDS.

(a) Order of Deputy Collector

713.—An appeal from the decision of a Deputy Collector in a suit under s. 9, Bengal Act VI of 1862, lay, not to the Collector, but to the Zilla Judge. Erskine & Co v Gholam Khezur. 9 W R 520.

Notes—Fol: 15 W R 426.

(b) Question as to standard pole of measurement

714.—Where a question as to the standard pole of measurement in use in a pergunnah is properly raised and determined between parties by the Revenue Court in a proceeding under Bengal Act VI of 1862, section 9, the determination is final. Neem Chand Sahoo v Ram Golam Singh. 24 W R 424.

(c) Order of Collector in Survey & Measurement of Lands.

715.—An appeal lay to the Judge from the decision of a Collector in matters of survey and measurement falling within ss. 9 and 10, Bengal Act VI of 1862. No appeal lay from the decision of a Collector under s 11 of the same Act. Taruck Nath Mookerjee v Meydee Biswas 5 W R Act X 17.

Notes.—Disap: 17 W R 62. Fol: 11 W R 562; Con: 14 W R F B 4. Ref: 11 W R 556.

(d) Order of Deputy Collector as to standard pole of measurement.

716.—No appeal to the Judge lay from the decision of a Deputy Collector under s. 11, Bengal Act VI of 1862, on the question of the standard pole of measurement. Rakhal Das Mokerjee v Tunoo Poramanic 7 W R 239.

Notes—Ap: 11 W R 510; 592; 14 W R F B 4. Ref: 6 B L R 1 F B.

(e) Order of Collector as to standard of measurement.

717. - Bengal Act VI of 1862, ss. 9 and 11.

When the right of a proprietor to make, under s. 9, Bengal Act VI of 1862, a measurement of a tenure, is disputed solely on the ground that the proper standard pole of measurement under s. 11 is not employed, the Collector has power to enquire into and decide the true length of the standard pole, and an appeal lay from his decision. Manmohini Chowdhrain v. Premchand Roy. 6 B L R 1=14 W R, F B. 4.

Appeal-Contd.

16 Measurement of Lands—Concld.

(f) Order in Measurement Proceedings.

718—Decree.—Civil Procedure Code (Act X of 1877), ss 2 and 540.—Beng. Act VIII of 1869, s. 37, Order under.

An order made under section 37, Bengal Rent Act (Bengal Act VIII of 1869), is a decree within the meaning of the definition contained in the Civil Procedure Code (Act X of 1877), and an appeal lies therefrom under the provisions of section 540. Brojendro Coomar Roy v Krishna Coomar Ghose. 7 Calc 684 =9 C L R 444

719—Beng Act VIII of 1869. s. 38.

An appeal lies to the High Court from proceedings taken under Beng Act VIII of 1869, s. 38. Ahmed Ali v Nittyanund Roy. 24 W R 171.

See Abdool Baree v Nittyanund Koondoo. 21 W R 103

where an appeal was heard, though the question was not raised.

720—Beng Act VIII of 1869, s. 38.

There is no appeal against an order made by the Civil Court, under s. 38 of Bengal Act VIII of 1869, directing the measurement of lands. 22 W R 491, followed. 15 W R 23, and 245, cited. Kally Churun Dutt v Protab Chunder Ghose. 5 C L R 484.

17. N. W. P. ACTS.

(a) N W P Rent Act (XVIII of 1873) S. 148.

721—Decision of Collector—Act XVIII of 1873, ss. 148, 189—Determination of title.

C sued J for the rent for certain land, alleging that he was the tenant of such land and J was his sub-tenant. J disputed C's right to receive rent for such land, alleging that he was not his sub-tenant but S's, and had paid such rent to S. Under the provisions of s. 148 of Act XVIII of 1873, S was made a party to the suit. The Collector decided on appeal in the suit that S and not C, was the tenant of such land, and J was her sub-tenant, and not C's and had paid such rent to S. Held that there was no determination by the Collector of the title to such land but as incidental to the question who was entitled to receive the rent, and consequently the decision of the Collector was not appealable to the District Judge. Chotu v Jitan. 3 All 63.

Appeal-Contd.

17 N. W. P. Acts—Contd.

Notes:—Fol: 13 All 364. Ref: 10 All 347.

722—Intervenor—Appeal.

M sued I and another for rent in the Court of the Collector. The defendants pleaded payment to V who was accordingly brought on to the record as a co-defendant under s. 148 of the North-Western Provinces Rent Act (XII of 1881). The Collector decided in favour of V. The plaintiff appealed to the District Judge making all three persons respondents. The District Judge reversed the decision of the Collector and ordered the whole costs to be paid by V, who thereupon appealed to the High Court. Held that the District Judge had no jurisdiction to entertain the appeal so far as the party brought in under s. 148 was concerned, and, that being so, had no power to award costs against him. Anand Ram v Mausuma Begum. 13 All 364=11 W N 107.

723—ss. 148, 183, 189-Landholder and tenant -Suit for arrears of rent-Right to rent disputed by third person-Appeal by intervenor.

K sued B for arrears of rent, such arrears not exceeding Rs.100. His right to receive rent was disputed by H, a third person, who was made a defendant under the provisions of s. 148 of Act XVIII of 1873. The suit was tried by an Assistant Collector of the second class, who decided that K was entitled to the rent. H and B appealed to the Collector, who decided that H was entitled to the rent. K thereupon appealed to the District Judge, who affirmed the decision of the Collector. K then appealed to the High Court. Held that the Collector was not competent to entertain an appeal by H; that as between K and B all that the Collector could decide was whether or not K was entitled to the amount of rent claimed; that the District Judge had no jurisdiction to entertain K's appeal; and that K's appeal to the High Court was not entertainable, the District Judge not having decided any question of proprietary right that would justify such an appeal. Kishna Ram v Hingu Lal. 4 All 237.

Notes:—Over. 13 All 575; Fol: 13 All 364.

724—s. 189—Question of title—Suit for arrears of rent.

Where the defendant pleaded in answer to plaintiff's suit for arrears of rent that defendant no longer held as tenant, but as sub-proprietor under a settlement made direct with defendant by the

Appeal-Contd.

17 N. W. P. Acts—Contd.

Settlement Officer,—Held that under s. 189 of Act XVIII of 1873 the suit involved a question of proprietary title, and that an appeal lay to the Judge of the District, although the amount in suit was less than Rs.100. Bishesar Singh v Sugundhi. 1 All 366.

724A—Jurisdiction—N W P Rent Act (XII of 1881), S. 189—Powers of Subordinate Judge in charge of the office of District Judge—Revenue Court Appeal.

Held, that a Subordinate Judge in temporary charge under S 10 of Act No, XII of 1887 of the office of the District Judge had power to take up and decide a Revenue Court appeal which was pending on the file of the District Judge.

Rahmat Ali Khan v Abdullah. 1901 A W N 129.

725—Suit above Rs. 100—Second appeal-District Judge.

This was a suit for arrears of rent, Rs. 105-8-0 instituted in the Court of an Assistant Collector of the 2nd class, who dismissed the suit, and in appeal the same decision was upheld by the Collector. Then the plaintiff preferred an appeal to the District Judge. Held, on reference by the District Judge that a second appeal did lie to the District Judge. Raja Singh v Sulka. 6 All 398=4 W N 137.

726—N W P Rent Act, Amendment Act (XIV of 1886), s. 5-"Rent payable by the tenant"-Rate of rent.

The words "rent payable by the tenant" in s. 189 of the North-Western Provinces Rent Act (XII of 1881, as amended by Act XIV of 1886) mean the rate of rent payable by the tenant, and not merely the actual amount of money which is due at any given time by the tenant to his landlord as rent. The appeal therefore given by that section is limited to cases in which the Court of first instance has determined the rate of rent.

Radha Prasad Singh v Pergash Rai. 13 All 193=(1891) A W N 83. See also Bhagwan Din v Mosai. 13 All 195.

Notes:—Fol: 14 All 50. Ref: 21 All 247.

727—"Rent payable"—Rate of rent—Appeal.

The words "rent payable by the tenant" in s. 189 of the North-Western Provinces Rent Act (XII of 1881) (as amended by Act XIV of 1886) mean the rate of rent payable by the tenant and not merely the actual amount of money which is due at any given time by the tenant to his landlord as rent. Where a zemindar sued a tenant for rent of certain alluvial land the amount claimed not being above Rs. 100 and the tenant objected that there was a custom in the village by which rent was paid in case of alluvial land only on the culturable portion, and that during some of the years in suit a less portion of the land than that for which rent was claimed had been culturable:—Held that in such a suit the rate of rent was in dispute and an appeal would therefore lie (13 All 193) followed (10 W N 229) overruled. Radha Prasad Singh v. Mathura Chaube. 14 All 50=11 W N 219,

Notes:—Ref: 16 All 51; 21 All 247.

728—The criterion to be used in deciding whether an appeal lies under section 189 of Act No. XII of 1881 is whether the decision would merely affect a particular year or whether it would supply a plea of res judicata, if not appealed against for all succeeding years in which the landlord and tenant stood in the same relation as when the suit was brought (14 All 60 Ref)

Mohib Ali Khan v E. S Martin 16 All 51=13 W N 204

Notes— Ref 21 All 247.

729—Rent—Revenue.

The term "rent" as used in s. 189 of Act No. XII of 1881 cannot be extended so as to include revenue. Hence where a plaintiff sued to recover arrears of revenue alleged to be payable to the plaintiff by the defendants, under an agreement the defendants being admitted to be inferior proprietors of the land in respect of which the revenue claimed was payable, it was held that no appeal lay to the District Judge under s. 189 of Act No XII of 1881. Tilakdhari Rai v Sogra Bibi 18 All 302=16 W N 71.

730 'Rent payable by the tenant' not in issue—Landholder and tenant.

Certain defendants, being sued by the zamindars for the rent of land held by them, pleaded in effect that, whatever the rent of the land in suit might be, they were entitled to retain it under an agreement between them and the predecessor in title of the plaintiffs in lieu of interest payable to them on account of mortgage given by the said predecessor in title. Held that the case was not one in which an appeal would lie to the District Judge under s. 189 of the W N P. Rent Act, inasmuch as the rent payabale by the tenant was not in issue in the suit. Deocharan Singh v Beni Pathak 21 All 247 = (1899) W N 47

Appeal-Contd.

17 N. W. P. Acts—Contd

Notes—Ex: 23 All 283 = (1901) A W N 75

731 S. 89 and s. 93 Question as to rate of rent payable by the tenant not in issue in the appeal

Under s. 189 of Act XII of 1881, an appeal lies in a suit under s 93 of the Act, where the rent payable by the tenant has been a matter in issue and has been determined. It is not necessary that the rent payable by the tenant should be a matter in issue in the appeal. Sarju Prasad v Haidar Khan 18 All 463.

732—N. W. P. Rent Act (XII of 1881) Section 93 189—N W P Tenancy Act (Act II of 1901) section 180 clause 2, section 175 Letters Patent, section 10, No Appeal lies under section 180 clause (2) Act II of 1901 to a District Judge, from the appellate order of a Collector which does not decide a question of jurisdiction. When the Collector's decision was passed under Act XII 1881 and the appeal was filed after the coming into force of Act II of 1901 held, that the latter Act governed the right of appeal. An appeal lies under section 10 of the Letters Patent from the judgment of a single Judge disposing of a rent appeal. Section 175 of Act II of 1901 has not the effect of modifying section 10 of the Letters Patent. Zamin Ali v Genda 26 All 375 = A W N 48 = 1 A L J 105.

733—s. 191—Third appeal to High Court.

An appeal lies to the High Court from a decree of a District Judge passed in appeal from an appellate decree of a Collector. Jairam Rai v. Dulari Chand 5 All 309 = 3 W N 147.

(b) N. W. P. Land Revenue Act XIX of 1873

734—Ss. 113 and 114—Partition.

Where in the course of carrying out an order for a partition and of assigning the lands to each co-sharer, certain co-sharers claimed certain plots of land as belonging to them in severalty and demanded that the same should be assigned to them, and the Collector decided that some of such plots were held in severalty and one was held in common—Held that his decision was not passed under s. 113 of Act XIX of 1873, and was therefore not appealable under s. 114 of that Act. Shibban Lal v Tiloke Chand 2 All 619.

Appeal-Contd.

17 N. W. P. Acts Contd.

735—Order for partition by Assistant Collector confirmed by Collector—Objection subsequently made to mode of partition-Question of title.

Upon an application made under s 83 of the N W P Land Revenue Act (XIX of 1873) for partition of a share in a mehal, no question of title or proprietary right of the nature contemplated by s 113 was raised, nor any serious objection made by any of the co-shares, and the Assistant Collector recorded a proceeding setting forth the rules which were to govern the partition, and this proceeding was confirmed by the Collector under s 131. An Amin was ordered to carry out the partition, and, in taking steps to do so, stated the principle upon which he proposed to distribute the common land. An objection was then for the first time raised by two of the co-sharers in the Court of the Assistant Collector to the inclusion of a particular piece of land in the partition, on the ground that it appertained exclusively to their share. This objection was disallowed by the Assistant Collector, and, on appeal by the District Judge. Held that, at the stage of the proceedings when objections were taken, it was too late to determine questions of title under s 113 of the Act; that accordingly the Assisstant Collector could not be said to have done so that the objections could, therefore, only be regarded in the light of objections to the mode in which it was proposed to make the partition; and that consequently there was no appeal from the order of the Assistant Collector to the District Judge or from the District Judge to the High Court. Ota Ram v Ishur Das 9 All 445.

736—Question of title—Appeal from order under first part of s 113.—

No appeal lies to the High Court from a decision of a Collector or Assistant Collector under the first part of s 113 of the North-Western Provinces Land Revenue Act (XIX of 1873), declining to grant an application for partitton until the question in dispute has been determineed by a competent Court. Imtiaz Bano v Latafat-un-nissa 11 All 328.

Appeal—Contd.

17 N. W. P. Acts—Concld.

737.—Formal notice—Appeal.

A Collector or Assistant Collector trying a question of title raised in the course of the hearing of an application for partition under the N.-W P Revenue Act, (Act XIX of 1873) is not bound to cause a formal decree to be drawn up embodying the result of his order or decision on such point. An appeal will lie from the "order" or "decision" of such Collector or Assistant Collector. Niaz Begam v Abdul Karim Khan 12 W N 92=14 All 500.

738.—Held that a Revenue Court acting under s 113 of Act No XIX of 1873 was not precluded from dealing with an objection brought before it merely by reason of such objection not having been filed within the time limited by the Court for filing objections, the Court not having up to that time taken any action under s 113 of the said Act. W N 1887 p 81 distinguished.

Tulsi Prasad v Matru Mal 16 W N 30= 18 All 210.

(18) Orders.

Appeal—Orders. See Superintendence of High Court C P C S 115 (1902) 26 Bom 551.

Appeal—Orders. See C P C O 21 r 89.

Appeal—Orders See C P C O 21 r 89. 30 All 379.

Appeal—Orders. See Resistence or odestruction to execution of decree 88 P J 174.

Appeal—Orders. See Injunction-under C P C 95 P J 175,

Appeal—Orders. See Resistence or obstruction to execution of decree 95 P J 445.

Appeal—Orders. See C P C S 90. 96 P J 129.

Appeal—Orders. See C P C S 72 5 P R 1910 (Rev).

Appeal—Orders. See C P C O 47. rr, 7, 9. 62 P R 1895.

Appeal—Contd.

18 Orders—Contd.

Appeal—Orders. See C P C O 47, rr, 7, 9. 27 All 695.

Appeal—Orders. See C P C O, 21, r 89. 27 All 263.

Appeal—Orders. See Sale in execution of decree-Resale 120 P R 1891.

Appeal—Orders. See C P C S 95 24 Mad 62

Appeal—Orders. See C P C O. 21 r. 89. 7 C L J 282.

Appeal—Orders. See Sale in execution of decree 7 Ind Cas 718.

Appeal—Orders. See Sale in execution of decree—Distribution of sale—proceeds 36 Cal 130

Appeal—Orders. See Resistence or obstruction to execution of decree 1 Ind Cas 785.

Appeal—Orders. See C P C O 47 rr 7, 9. 14 M L J 321.

Appeal—Orders. See Sale in execution of decree—Distribution of sale—Proceeds 12 Bom L R 365.

Appeal—Orders. See C P C O 47 rr 7, 9 5 C W N 485.

Appeal—Orders See C P C O 21, r 89 6 C W N 57.

Appeal—Orders. See C P C O 21, r 89 2 M L T 347.

Appeal—Orders. See Resistence or obstruction to execution of decree 2 W N 125.

Appeal Orders See Resistence or obstruction to execution of decree 1 W N 98.

Appeal—Orders. See Injunction—Civil cases 10 W N 167.

Appeal—Orders. See C P C O 47, rr 7, 9, 33 P R 1902.

(1) Interlocutory order.

739.—Isolated issue of law.

An appeal will not lie from the separate determination of an isolated issue of law or fact before the taking of evidence on the remaining issues.

Appeal-Contd.

18 Orders—Contd.

Court of Wards. 7 W R 222.

Notes:—Dist: 7 W R 330,

740.—Appeal from interlocutory order Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) Section 108.

No appeal lies to Her Majesty in Council from an order which is a purely interlocutory order, directing procedure ; such appeal only lies if the order is a final order in the sense of section 595 (a) as modified by section 594 of the Civil Procedure Code. The mere fact that the High Court, apparently on the assumption that it was such an order, have certified the sufficiency of the amount and value of the suit cannot make appealable an order which does not fulfil the statutory conditions.

Rai Radha Kishen v Collector of Jaunpur.
3 Bom L R 78=5 C W N 153=
11 M L J 65=23 All 220=
28 I A 28 P C.

741.—Interlocutory order.

In the execution of a decree by persons claiming to be the legal representatives of the deceased decree-holder, the Court passed an order in the following terms :—" That the sale be adjourned, the Collector be required to strike off the execution case, if within the term to be fixed by him, none of the persons applying for execution file a certificate to recover the debt ". Held, that the order was not a " decree " within the meaning of section 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure, or appealable under section 244 or otherwise.

Champa Lal v Mahesh Sitla Bakhsh Singh
8 W N 82.

742.—Interlocutory order—Quære.

Whether an interlocutory order can be made the subject of an appeal. Bamasoondery v Nilmoney Chunder, Cor 5.

743.—An appeal does not lie from an interlocutory order passed under the Land Acquisition Act declaring that the claimant has no locus standi. Gaulstawn v Secretary of State.
10 C W N 195.

744.—Section. 2—(1882 Section 2) Order rejecting appeal as out of time—Decree—Second Appeal.

Appeal-Contd.

18 Orders—Contd.

An order rejecting an appeal as being presented out of time is a decree, and a Second appeal lies to the High Court from such decree. 7 All 42 ; 9 Bom 452 ; 12 Cal 30 ; 16 Mad 285 and 22 Mad 156 Fol.

Saminatha Aiyar v Venkatasubba Aiyar
13 M L J 300=27 Mad 21.

745.—Interlocutory order Code of Civil Procedure, Section 588, cl. (6)—Order to amend the plaint—Jurisdiction.—

Held, that an order of the Court of First Appeal returning the plaint for amendment is an interlocutory order and is appealable to the Court of the Judicial Commissioner.

Hon'ble Maharaja Pertab Narayan Singh v Raghunath Bakhsh and Bhagwan Bakhsh.
2 0 C 5.

745A.—Sections 47, 51. O 40, r. 1—Decree, execution of—Preliminary objection to hearing of appeal—Right to begin—Interlocutory order in execution proceedings—Receiver—Appointment, effective—Court's duty when appeal preferred.

It cannot be assumed that there is a right of appeal in every matter which comes under the consideration of a Judge, such right must be given by a Statute or by some authority equivalent to a Statute ; consequently, if the right of appeal is challenged, it is incumbent upon the appellant to establish the right to appeal. But unless the objection was obviously sound, the appellant could hardly be expected to answer by anticipation the grounds that might possibly be assigned by the respondent in support of the objection. The practice, therefore, usually followed in the Calcutta High Court, has been to require the respondent at the outset to indicate concisely the ground upon which his objection is based.

The expression " an order relating to execution of a decree " is comprehensive enough to include an order relating to the stay of execution thereof.

An interlocutory order which does not conclusively determine the rights of the parties in controversy in the execution proceedings is not a decree within the meaning of Section 47 read with Section 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

Appeal-Contd.

18 Orders-Contd.

On the plaintiff applying to execute the decree, the Court ordered that he might be allowed to do so if he fulfilled certain conditions at different stages of the proceedings. The Court determined various questions as to the character of the conditions to be imposed and called upon the decree-holder to comply with them. Before the time for compliance was over, the judgment-debter appealed :

Held, that the orders were interlocutory and were not orders determining a question relating to execution within the meaning of S. 47.

Section 51 of the Code is to be read with r 11 of O XXI and r. 1 of O XL. When a Court appoints a Receiver for purposes of execution of a decree, the order is one under r. 1 of O XL read with Section 51.

If a Receiver is appointed without any direction given as to security, the order takes effect at once, and he is validly in possession though no security has been given. If the appointment is conditional upon the furnishing of security, the giving of security is a condition precedent, and there is no effective appointment till security has been given.

Upon an appeal preferred under cl. (8) of r 1 of O. XLIII, the Court is bound to consider not only whether a Receiver should have been appointed, but also, whether a suitable person has been selected.

No appeal lies till a final order for the appointment of a Receiver has been made.

Srinivas Prosad Singh v. Kesho Prosad Singh, 14 C L J 489.

746 - Illegal order—

The plaintiff obtained a decree in the Court of first instance. The defendant appealed. The lower Appellate Court improperly directed the Court of first instance to settle the matter in dispute in accordance with a decision of a former Judge in the matter, and allowed the parties ten days after the return of the case to file objections. Held that the proceeding of the lower Appellate Court was unwarranted by law, and must be taken to be, if anything, an interlocutory order, and, as such, unappealable. Lukh Ram v Bunsee Dhur. 5 N W 180.

Appeal-Contd.

18 Orders—Contd.

(I (a))—Order dealing with the whole case

747—Execution proceedings, final order in—An order dealing with the only point in dispute between the parties and not intended to be incorporated in any other order to be passed later, dealing as it were with the whole case, is a final order and, therefore, appealable. Narayana Pattar v Gopala Krishna Pattar. 28 Mad 355.

(2) Order dismissing part of claim before Final decree.

748—Order directing part of the claim dismissed before final decree—Civil Pro. Code 1877 s. 540.

In a suit the defendant put in a written statement when certain preliminary issues were framed and decided with the order, that part of the plaintiff's claim is dismissed and part is to be tried on merits (which trial would include the taking of an account from defendant). Held that the plaintiff cannot bring an appeal because the Civil Pro. Code allows appeal against a portion of a decision when the decision relates to the entire suit, and also the defendant cannot bring an appeal because there is no final order to take an account. Venkatagiri Raja v Mahomed Rahimtulla Saheb. 3 Mad 13.

(3) Order rejecting application for refund of stamp duty.

749—An appeal does not lie from an order of the lower Court made on an application for refund of sufficient stamp duty and penalty, after a case remanded to it had been compromised. Redress should be sought by way of motion rather than as an appeal. Ramanooj Doss v Government. 2 W R Mis 36.

(4) Order of Munsif dismissing suit for under-valuation.

750—An appeal will lie from an order of a Munsif dismissing a suit as beyond his jurisdiction because it was under-valued.

Johan Buksh v Meher Bibee alias Mohur 7 W R 183

Notes—B L R Sup 625 = 2 I J N S 111. Ref. 9 W R 363.

Appeal-Contd.

18 Orders—Contd.

(5) Order disallowing appointment of ministerial officer.

751—Act XVI of 1868, s. 9—

A party whose appointment by a Subordinate Judge or Munsif is disallowed by a Zillah Judge on the ground that he is not qualified for the appointment has no right of appeal to the High Court against the Judge's order. Shoshee Kishen Mookerjee 14 W R 328

(6) Order of Magistrate dismissing ministerial officer.

752—Commissioner of Revenue and Circuit—

The Commissioner is the proper authority to whom an appeal lies from the order of a Magistrate dismissing a ministerial officer from his post, and the order of the Commissoner passed in appeal is final. Parbhu Narayan Singh 3 B L R A C 370; 12 W R 393.

(7) Order giving possession to purchaser.

753—Civil Procedure Code, 1859 s. 264—

No appeal lay from an order of a Court giving possession under s. 264 Act VIII of 1859 to a purchaser at a sale in execution of a decree.

Omirto Moyee Dossee v Gooroo Doss Roy. 17 W R 395.

753 A—Civil Pro. Code 1882 Ss. 556 and 558—Dismissal of an-in default—Appeal treated as an application for revision—

Held, that, where an appeal had been heard on a particular date and the Court, after hearing the argument in the case, appointed an Amin to prepare a plan of the disputed land and the case was adjourned to another date to consider the report and the appellant did not appear on the adjourned date, the appeal should not have been dismissed in default but decided on the merits. Held, further, that where on such an adjorourned date the Court dismisses the appeal under s. 556 no application under s. 558 is maintainable and no appeal lies against an order refusing such an application. The proper procedure, in such a case would be to apply for revision of the said order (18 All 119 Ref.). Shio Singh v Subh Karan Singh 8 O C 261.

(8) Order refusing to grant possession.

754—Civil Procedure Code, 1859 ss. 259, 263.

Appeal-Contd.

18 Orders—Contd.

No appeal lay from an order refusing to grant possession, under ss. 259 and 263, Act VIII of 1859. Gopal Chunder Ghose v Raj Chunder Dutt. 2 W R Mis 9.

(9) Order admitting claim of dar—Patnidar.

755—Civil Procedure Code 1859 s. 269—

No appeal lay from an order admitting the claim of a dar patnidar who has intervened under s. 269, Act VIII of 1859. Jadub Churn Thakoor v Bholanath Singh Roy. 5 W R Mis 51.

(10) Order on application to evidence.

756—A second appeal will lie against a decree in appeal against a decretal order as amendment is wrong, but that no amendment should have been allowed under the circumstances. Semble, that S. 629, Civil Procedure Code, would apply according to its spirit to an order by the Appellate Court. Bala v. Bhiva, P J (1889), 13=13 Bom 496.

756 A—C. P. C. O 9 r 13 S. 114, O 47 rr 1 rr 7, 9—(1882 Ss. 108, 623 and 629)

Review—Application by representatives of a deceased party. Held, that notwithstanding s. 108 of the Code the terms of s. 623 were sufficiently wide to admit of an application being made by the representatives of a deceased party who would be materially affected by the decree, and that having regard to the provisions of s 629 no appeal lay against the order admitting the application for review except on the question of limitation. Debi Das v Narain Parshad 9 O C 35.

757—Order on review—

Plaintiff's suit was dismissed by the Original Court He petitioned for review of judgment whereupon notice was given to the defendant under Section 378 Civil Procedure Code. The Court, after hearing the parties, affirmed its judgment Plaintiff appealed to the Deputy Commissioner, who dismissed the appeal on the ground that "the order rejecting the application for review was final." On special appeal, the Chief Court held, that the appeal to the Deputy Commissioner would lie, and remanded the case to be disposed of by him on its merits. Mussammat Prem Kour v Punjab Singh. P R 3 of 1873.

Appeal-Contd.

18 Orders—Contd.

(11) Order rejecting review.

758—Civil Procedure Code 1859.s. 378—

No appeal lies from the order of a Judge ejecting an application for a review of his order dismissing an appeal for default of prosecution.

Chowdhry Ruttun Persad v Hunooman Jah W R 1864 Mis 20.

759—Under Section 378, Act VIII of 1859, an order rejecting an application for review of judgment is final. Cally Dass Sircar v. Janokeenath Roy, 1 W R Mis 7.

(12) Order rejecting application for review of order dismissing execution proceedings for default in payment of process-fees.

760.—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882), Sections 2, 244 (c), 540, 623 and 629.

That an application for review of an order dismissing an execution case for non-payment of process-fees is not an application under section 244, cl. (c) of the Code of Civil Procedure, but one for review. and no appeal lies therefrom.

Pudmanund Singh v Doorga Pershad Doobey 4 C W N 39.

Notes:—Fol· 27 Cal 414.

(13) Order disposing of application for review on the merits.

761.—Where an application for review is disposed of as upon a re-hearing on the merits, an appeal lies from the order so passed

Amanut Ali v Bindhoo. 13 W R, 138.

(14) Order granting review.

762.-Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) Section 629.

No appeal lies from an order granting a review of judgment, except in the cases set forth in section 629 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882). Bombay and Persia Steam Navigation Company v S S "Zuari" 12 Bom, 171.

Notes · — Ap: 16 Cal 788. Fol: 22 Cal 3 ; 24 Cal 878 ; 18 All 44.

Appeal-Contd.

18 Orders—Contd.

Ref· 22 Cal 984 , I C W N 388, 21 Bom 328.

763—Section 629, Civil Procedure Code, 1882 (=O. XLVII, rr 7, 9, present Code) — Judgment, review of—Appeal from order granting review.

An appeal does not lie from an order granting a review of judgment, except in the cases set forth in section 629, Civil Procedure Code (1882) (12 Bom 171, R.) Mahabir Prasad v Nathin Thakur. 1 C W N 338.

764.—High Court and Letters Patent, cl 15 —" judgment "—Order granting review of judgment—Civil Procedure Code (1882) Sec 629.

Two Judges of the High Court decided a second appeal in favour of the respondents on the 1st June 1888. An application for review was filed on the 24th July 1888. The two Judges were not able to sit together till the month of March 1889 on account of variouts reasons. The matter came up before them on the 6th March 1889, when they issued a rule and called upon the respondents to show cause why a review should not be granted. The rule was not made returnable on the 28th March 1889. On that day one of the Judges was out of India on furlough and the rule was heard and made absolute by the remaining Judge sitting alone ; Held, that the order was not a judgment within the meaning of cl. 15 of the Letters Patent ; and that no appeal would lie therefrom, the order being final under Section 629 of the Code of Civil Procedure. 12 Bom. 171 9 Mad 253, approved.

Abboy Churn Mohunt V Shamant Lochun. Mohunt. 16 Cal, 788.

Notes :—Ref : 9 C W N 502.

765.—Cl. 15—Judgment-Single Judge refusing application for review —Appeal.

An application for review was made before one of two Judges of a Division bench which decided the appeal, the other Judge having left the court. The application was refused, the judge holding that no case had been made out for a rehearing. Held, that the order refusing the application for review was not a ' judgment within the meaning of Section 16 of the Letters Patent and was not appealable. 12 W R, 459 ; 3 C W N 347; 16 Cal 788 Ref to; 26 Cal 193 Dist.

Appeal-Contd.

18 Orders—Contd.

Mulji Virji v Bangabashi Saja.
9 C W N 502.

Notes :—Ref : 33 Cal 1323=10 C W N 986.

766.—Order granting review of Judgment—Civil Procedure Code (1882) S. 629.

There is no appeal from an order granting a review of judgment except as provided by section 629 of the Civil Procedure Code. 12 Bom, 171, followed. Har Nandan Shai v Behari Singh.
22 Cal 3.
Mahabir Prasad v Nathni Thakur.
1 C W N 338.

Notes :—Fol: 22 Cal 984=24 Cal 878.

767.—Appeal against an order admitting review—Maintainability of review—Civil Procedure Code Section 629, cls. (a), (b) and (c).

Held, that no appeal lies from an order granting an application for review of judgement except on the grounds stated in clauses and of Section 629 of the Code.

Kedar Nath v Muasamat Mamola.
12 O C 151=2 Ind Cas 834.

768.—An order for review can only be challenged upon the grounds stated in sec 629 of the Civil Procedure Code, and that too, in general final appeal, 22 Cal, 3 followed. Baroda Churn Ghose v Gobind Proshad Tewary.
22 Cal 984.

Notes:—Fol : 24 Cal 878. Ref : 14 M L J 321 : 27 Mad 602.

769.—Further appeal from order passed on appeal from order admitting review—Act X of 1877, Section 629—Act XVII of 1877, Section 38.

Held, that as Sec. 629 of the Civil Procedure Code allows an appeal from an order admitting a review, the order passed on such an appeal and reversing that of the Court of original jurisdiction becomes itself appealable under Sec. 38 of the Punjab Courts Act, as such an order is not declared by any other law in force to be final. Mangat Rai v Khan Chand.
P R 133 of 1882.

Appeal-Contd.

18 Orders—Contd.

770.—C. P. C. S. 626 & 629. Ground.

No appeal will lie from an order granting a review of judgment except under the conditions specified in s. 629 of the Code of Civil Procedure. (12 Bom 171) followed.

Daryai Bibi v Badri Prasad
18 All 44=15 W N 151.

771.—Jurisdiction—Appeal admitted from order of Lower Court—Review by Lower Court of order appealed from—An appeal from a certain order treated as an appeal from another.

By order dated the 22nd March, the Commissioner dismissed plaintiff's suit on appeal. On the 29th May, plaintiff applied for a review of that order. On the 9th June, the case came on before another Commissioner, who first made an order to the effect that he was incompetent to review his predecessor's judgment, but on the same date he suspended action on that order, and referred the question for the opinion of the Chief Court. On the 22nd June, plaintiff filed an appeal in the Chief Court from the order of March 22nd, and the appeal was admitted on the 25th June. On July 6th, the Commissioner, having received the Chief Court's order, calling for the files, rejected plaintiff's application for review. On July 11th, on receipt of the Chief Court's reply to his reference, stating that he was competent to review his predecessor's judgment, he directed the Case on review to proceed, and on the 6th August reversed the order of March 22nd. Plaintiff took out execution of the order of August 6th. Leave was granted to him by the Chief Court to allow his appeal, admitted on June 25th, to be amended and to stand, not as an appeal from the order of March 22nd, but as a special appeal from the order of August 6th. The defendant appealed from the order of August 5th, on the ground that it was made without jurisdiction, an appeal having been admitted by the Chief Court before the Commissioner granted the review.

Held, upon defendant's appeal, that the action of the Commissioner on June 9th was to continue the application for review pending that his order of July 6th concluded the proceedings on review; and that his order of August 6th, which must have been based upon fresh proceedings commenced after the plaintiff's appeal was admitted by the Chief Court (June 25th), was without jurisdiction, and must be set aside.

Appeal-Contd.

18 Orders—Contd.

Held,—afterwards, but on the same day, on plaintiff's appeal -that the Commissioner's order of August 6th having been reversed by the Chief Court, the plaintiff might revert to his original application and treat his appeal as from the decision of March 22nd, and this notwithstanding that he had taken out execution of the order of August 6th Jey Gobind v. Ram Pershad P R 6 of 1870.

772—Appeal–no appeal lies from an order granting review of Judgment except in cases specified in S 629 of the Civil Procedure Code; Bom; 171, Followed 22 Cal; 3 and 22 Cal; 984, referred to. That the Court which has granted the review has done so without sufficient reasons is not a valid ground of appeal under s. 629. Munni Ram Chowdhry v Bishen Perkash Narain Singh 24 Cal; 878.

Notes—Ref 28 Mad 557.

773—The Tahsildar decreed plaintiff's claim, and defendant applied for review of Judgment. Notice was issued to plaintiff, and after hearing the parties, the Tahsildar recorded "decree as before. Application rejected ".

Held (Melvill, J., dissenting) that an appeal lay from the Tahsildar's order on review, as it was a Judgment, on review affirming his previous judgment, and not a mere order rejecting a petition for review— Sowaya v Pir Bakhsh P R 31 of 1875.

774—Order Granting a review in a suit of the nature of a Small Cause Court valued at less than Rs 500—

An order granting a review was passed by an appellate Court in a suit of a nature cognizable by a Court of small causes and valued at less than Rs 500, without recording any reason for it. An appeal which was preferred against the order the High Court under s. 629 of the Civil Procedure Code:-Held that the order was bad being contrary to the Provisions of s. 625 of the Code of Civil Procedure. It was also further Held, upon the objection of the respondent that no appeal lay against the above order that the appeal was allowed under S. 629, the provisions whereof are not controlled or superseded by S 591 of the Code. Questions raised in a review application are quite different from those raised in a suit; a review can only be granted on special grounds and it may be well that although an appeal is not allowed from the final decree in the suit an appeal is allowable from an order granting a review, which could reopen the case after it had been disposed of.

Gyanund Asram v Bepin Mohun Sen 22 Cal 734

See Manicka Mudaliar v Gurusami Mudaliar 23 Mad 496.

Notes—Ex: 23 Mad 496.

(15) Order amending decree.

775—Review—Final order on review as to Costs Appeal— —Civil Procedure Code (Act X of 1877) section 206.

On the 28th July 1878, a decree was pronounced by the Subordinate Judge in favour of the plaintiff except as to portion of his claim. Subsequently on the 3rd February 1879 the defendant applied by petition for review of judgment on a number of grounds and inter alia, on the ground that he was entitled to costs in portion to the amount of the claim of the plaintiff which had been disallowed. The Court disallowed all the grounds upon which the review was sought save that as to costs upon which it passed the following order;—" the last ground as to proportionate costs seems to be valid. It was a clerical mistake. No reason was given for disallowing the costs. I allow this ground."

Held, that the order must be treated as a final order in the suit and not as an order rejecting an application for review but allowing the amendment of a clerical error which might have been rectified under section 206 of the Code of Civil Procedure without granting the review and an appeal will lie from it if brought within the time prescribed for bringing an appeal against a similar decree.

Joykishen Mookerjee v Ataoor Rohoman 6 Cal 22=6 C L R 575

Notes— Ref 28 Cal 177; 5 C W N 792; 22 Mad 364; 9 C W N 605. Fol; 3 C L J 188.

Appeal-Contd.

18 Orders—Contd.

776—C P C O 20 r. 6 (1882—S. 206)—Order disallowing amendment of decree—Appeal.

No appeal lies from an order either granting or refusing an application under S. 206 C. P. C. If the original decree is wrong, parties should appeal They cannot get it set aside by applying unsuccessfully for its amendment and then appealing against the order disallowing amendment.

Kishen Pershad v Radha Madho Pershad 1 A L J 701=24 All 268

777—C P C O 20 r 6 (1882 Sec. 206)—Decree—Appeal—amendment.

A Decree, an appeal against which has been dismissed, cannot be amended by Court which made it. The application for amendment must be presented to the Court of appeal.

No appeal lies against an order amending a decree but if such order has been made without jurisdiction, the High Court can set it aside on revision.

An appeal may lie from the decree as amended.

Kumar Rameswar v Bhaba Sundari 11 C L J 81=5 Ind Cas 304

777 A—S. 206 C. P. C.—An order passed under s. 206 of the Code of Civil Procedure is not appealable under s. 588 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Raghunath Das. v Raj Kumar 7 All 276=5 W N 256

Surta v Gangu. 7 All 411=5 W N 256

Notes—Fol 15 All 121; Dist 14 All 226 F B; Con 7 All 411, Ref 3 All 661 F B; 8 All 492 519; 10 All 51, 21 All 140.

777 B—S. 152—(1882 C P C S 206)—Amended decree appeal—An order directing amendment of a decree is not appealable but an amended decree is appealable Brojolsl Rai v Tara Prasanna 3 C L J 188

777C C.P.C. O. 20 r, 6 S 115: (1882 Ss. 206,622 623)—Order amending decree—Appeal—Second appeal Review.

An order under S. 206 C P. C. amending a decree is not a decree and no appeal lies against such an order, and the proper remedy is by an application under S 622 C P C 7 All 875 ref to and foll; 6 Cal 22 ref to, 25 Cal 268 dist; 8 All 377 and 11 All 814 explained.

Nalinakshya (Raghu Nath) Ghoshal v Nabakshar Hossain Chowdhry. 5 C W N 192=28 Cal 177

Notes—Ref· 31 Bom 477=9 Bom L R 547; 3 C L J 188 Dist 3 C L J 188

777D—"An appeal shall lie from the decree" —Finding not embodied in decree.

In a suit to obtain possession of certain property and to set aside a deed, called a deed of endowment (wakfnama), on the ground that the defendant had fraudulently obtained its execution, the defendant pleaded (i) that the deed was a valid one and (ii) that she was in possession of the property in satisfaction of a dower debt, and her possession could not be disturbed so long as the debt remained unsatisfied. The Court of first instance held that the deed was invalid but that the defendant was entitled to remain in possession of the porperty till her dower-debt was satisfied, and the Court passed a decree which merely dismissed the suit, without embodying the finding as to the deed. On appeal by the Plaintiff to the District Judge, the defendant filed objections under s. 561 of the Civil Procedure Code in regard to the first Court's decision that the deed of endowment was invalid. The Judge dismissed the Plaintiff's appeal, affirming the finding as to dower, and, refusing to decide the question of the validity of the deed, as being unnecessary for disposal of the claim, disallowed the defendant's objection. The defendant appealed to the High Court. Held by the Full Bench (Oldfield and Mahmood, JJ., dissenting) that if a decree is upon the face of it, entirely in favour of a party to a suit, such decree being the thing which by law is made appealable and nothing else, that party has no right of appeal therefrom. If, in the judgment of which such decree is the formal expression, findings have been recorded upon some issues against that party and he desires to have formal effect given to them by the decree, so as to allow of his filing objections thereto under s. 561 of the Civil Procedure Code, or of appealing therefrom under s, 540, he must take steps under s. 206 to have the decree properly brought into conformity with the judgment, so that there may be matter on the face of it to show that something has been decided against him; but if he fails to take this course, the decree, though in general terms will stand good at finally deciding the issues raised by the pleading upon which the ultimate determination of the cause and the decree itself rested. The findings in a judgment upon matters which subsequently turn out to be immaterial to the grounds upon which a suit is finally disposed of, as to the Plaintiff's right to any portion of the relief sought by him as declared by the decree, amount to no more than obiter dicta and do not constitute a final decision of the kind contemplated by s. 13 of the Civil Procedure Code. Held also that, in the present case, the question as to the validity or otherwise of the deed of endowment of Straight, J., in 2 All 497 approved and followed.

Appeal-Contd.

18 Orders—Contd.

Per Oldfild, J.,—contra, that the decree, to agree with the judgment and fulfil the requirements of s. 206 of the Civil Procedure Code, should contain the material points for determination arising out of the claim and material for the decision thereon; that if this has not been done, the defect is a good ground of appeal, notwithstanding that the decree, on its face, may be altogether in favour of the appellant, and notwithstanding that he may not have applied for amendment of the decree under s. 206, or for review of judgment; and that in the present case, the defect in the decree would afford a good ground.

